

SCOOP SEZ

By J. M. Forbes

A good friend of this column suggests that we bring up here a situation that he thinks is unfair and not to the best interests of Muleshoe. He says brick houses take a 1 1/2 rate on city and school taxes over houses with different construction. You know they grade houses as to stucco, board siding, shingles and brick, perhaps not in that order.

The tax man also considers how many square feet of floor space a house has, but to this my friend does not object. He thinks that, to grade up a house that has brick walls over the next class of construction by 50 per cent is not cricket.

He happens to have a brick residence, all right, but still he is willing to face a suspicion of self-interest, in the general view of all brick house owners. The city council, we understand, has the power to change the method of rating; they may be bashful about doing it, principally because nearly all of the members live in brick houses.

If you live in a brick house, you might talk to members of the council and express your opinion. My friend thinks that besides being unfair, the grading method might tend to deter prospective home builders from using brick, but he thinks brick construction helps to improve the appearance of the residence section.

The late Charlie Long was once offered a cigarette by a friend of his and, mine, he took the cigarette, rolled it in his fingers, then told the friend he believed he would "put off smoking a while." Ray Keeling, the slick man in those days, was present and said: This has been going on for 10 years.

Arvel White, one of the brass down at St. Clair's, said he hasn't quit smoking at all, but he hasn't smoked a cigarette in seven months. He just sort of puts off smoking a little longer.

They say that's the way men drop the habit of drink, by just putting it off for a while longer. I have heard Alcoholic Anonymous speakers say that the man on the comeback trail just prays each morning that He will keep him sober for that day—just for that day.

Psychology is pretty wonderful. I am going to try that "putting it off" routine on my income tax; I might be able to wean myself entirely, just by postponing my indulgence for a time in the national April 15 habit. To become a slave to a habit is terrible unless that habit is to tend to business and make money.

Wettest Spring In Years Is Mixed Blessing, Threat

March came in like a wet lamb in 1958 with more moisture being added to the soil, bringing both feeling of welcome from dryland farmers and a little feeling of impatience from irrigation farmers.

A total of 1.67 inches of moisture, from rain and snow has been recorded in Muleshoe thus far in March, with considerably more than that in the south part of the county where snows have been heavier.

Moisture for 1958 to date has been 3.07 inches, an all time high for several years.

Since September 1, 1957, the area has received in excess of 42.79 inches of ground moisture, marking one of the longest wet spells in area history.

Dryland farmers have been gleeful over the amount and manner in which the moisture was received. Slow, soaking rains and slowly melting snows have stored much sub-surface moisture for the 1958 crops.

However, irrigation farmers, most of whom have their lands listed, are anxious to water their beds, and many have expressed a desire for clearing skies and dry weather.

Snow fell again this week in the area, heavier in the south country, but measuring an official two inches in Muleshoe. The snow was preceded by fog and drizzle, and a half inch rain last Thursday morning.

The Muleshoe Journal is authorized to announce the candidacy of C. P. Calvert for the office of County and District Clerk of Bailey County, subject to the Democratic primary election in July.

TO THE VOTERS OF BAILEY COUNTY:

I would like to take this means of formally announcing my candidacy for the office of County and District Clerk of Bailey County, in the forthcoming Democratic Primary election which will be held July 26, 1958.

I am 39 years of age. I moved to Bailey county with my parents in 1926, near Bula. I have lived most of my life in the south part of the county except for two years of World War II and a short period of ranching in east Texas and Oklahoma. I married Lillie Mae Weed of the Enochs community. We have three children; one daughter, Elyone of Gainesville, Texas; and two boys at home, Dwayne, 11, and Gordon Lee, three years old.

I feel I am qualified to serve you in the position of County and District Clerk of Bailey county. I attended Bula and Morton high school, and Draughton's Business College at Lubbock. I have held various positions in business and office work since leaving school. I have been engaged in farming some of the new farm land west of Muleshoe the past two years. If elected to the above mentioned office I will honestly, sincerely and humbly serve you with the best of my ability and strive continually to carry out the duties of the office pleasing to all.

It is my desire to see each and every voter in the county and talk with you personally, but being just another human being, I am sure I will fail to contact some of you before the primary election. If I do, it will not be intentional. I will sincerely appreciate your vote and any influence you may have in my behalf.

Sincerely yours,
C. P. CALVERT

Muleshoe Boy Chosen Editor Tech Yearbook

BILLY ELLIS

Billy Ellis, 1955 graduate of Muleshoe high school, was chosen editor of La Ventana, Texas Tech yearbook, in a special meeting of Tech's Student Publication Committee. Billy was chosen over one opponent, Junior Martha Watson, who had been assistant editor for this year's annual.

The appointment of Billy to the Ventana post marks the second top editorial position the Muleshoe junior has held with the Tech publications, and the fourth staff title. He had been Managing Editor for The Treador, student newspaper, and previously Sports Editor.

His application for the Ventana's editorship came as a mild surprise to department officials, and leaving a wide-open fight for the editor's job on the Treador. Billy is the first male student in five years to be chosen Ventana editor, and is only the fourth male journalism student to edit the Tech annual in its history.

In the Treador race, Ben McCarty of Brownfield was chosen editor, while James Hamm of Oilton was picked to fill the managing editor's position.

Ellis was recently elected president of the Tech Men's Press Club, an organization that is petitioning for a student chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary journalism fraternity.

Are you looking for short cuts to save time in your kitchen? You can save time and money by using Master Mix. The home-made Master Mix is a little cheaper than most commercial mixes. It takes only a few minutes to mix a quantity. It does not require refrigeration if you use a shortening that does not require refrigeration. The recipe is as follows:

- Master Mix
 9 cups sifted all purpose flour,
 1/3 cup double acting baking powder,
 1 tablespoon salt,
 2 teaspoons cream of tartar,
 1/4 cup sugar,
 2 cups shortening that does not require refrigeration.
 Stir baking powder, salt, cream of tartar and sugar into flour. Sift together 3 times into a large bowl. Cut in the shortening until the mix is the consistency of cornmeal. Store in covered containers at room temperature. To

REMEMBER WHEN?

by JOHN CROW

He was the most beloved American humorist of this century, the homespun philosopher whose warmth and wit had won him a permanent place in America's heart. He was a star of stage and screen, and a newspaper columnist read by millions. His name was Will Rogers.

On that August day the smiling comedian took off in a plane flown by a man almost equally famous, the pilot with the familiar eye patch, Wiley Post, one of the pioneers of aviation. The two men were flying from Fairbanks, Alaska to Point Barrow. En route over the wild country of the frozen north, tragedy struck. The small plane crashed, and both Rogers and Post were killed.

It was a moment of national mourning, for in the troubled times of those years the unruly hair, twinkling eyes and broad grin of Will Rogers, actor and comic, had endeared him to millions. He would be sorely missed.

Remember the year?
 Those were days when smiles were sometimes scarce . . . and so were dollars. Any man who bought a car then shopped for a dealer who would give him the best buy.

The year was 1935.
 These are better days . . . but it still pays to shop for the best buy in a new car. We'll save you money on a brand-new 1958 Chevrolet. And you'll have the added security of buying from an established, reliable dealer at—measure the mix, pile it lightly into a cup and level off with spatula.

 I like to mix this with an electric mixer. The blades of the beaters do an excellent job of cutting the fat into the mixture.
 Many recipes have been developed for the use of the mix. Be sure to try the following:

- Biscuits
 3 cups Master Mix,
 2/3 to 1 cup milk.
 Add milk to the mix all at once, stirring about 25 strokes. Knead 15 to 18 times on lightly floured board. Roll 1/2 inch thick. Cut. Bake on baking sheet in hot oven (450) from 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 18 two inch biscuits.
- Hot Cakes or Waffles
 3 cups Master Mix,
 1/2 cups milk,
 1 egg.
 Stir the combined milk and beaten egg into the mix until blended. Bake on hot griddle or in waffle iron. Makes 18 hot cakes or 6 waffles.
- Coffee Cake
 3 cups Master Mix,
 1/2 cup sugar,
 1/2 cup milk,
 1 egg.
Topping For Coffee Cake
 1/2 cup brown sugar,
 3 tablespoons butter or margarine,
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon.
 Stir sugar into the mix. Combine milk and beaten egg. Stir into the mix until blended. Put into shallow greased pan. Spread topping over batter and bake in a hot oven (400) about 25 minutes. Makes one 9"x9" cake.

Vast Research Attack to Probe Theory That Viruses May Cause Human Cancer

Minute particles so small that the most powerful microscope can scarcely reveal them may hold the secret of cancer, according to new clues in the greatest research attack ever mounted against a disease.

Scientists are actively interested in viruses as a cause of cancer today. This year larger sums of money than ever before will be spent to probe this theory, according to the American Cancer Society.

The ACS so far this year has awarded 35 grants totalling more than $1,000,000 for this one aspect of the cancer research problem. This is almost ten per cent of the total the ACS will devote to research this year.

Already some good clues are turning up that may indicate viruses as human cancer causes. For years it has been known that some forms of cancer are caused by viruses in chickens, rabbits and mice.

VIRUS-TESTING—A skilled technician in one of the ACS-supported laboratories prepares a membrane of living human cells which are used for virus studies. Scientists are testing to find out if some viruses can cause growth abnormalities in the cells which could lead to cancer.

Mice Play A Part
 Now a mid-western scientist has been able to induce leukemia, a form of blood cancer, in mice by injecting a substance filtered out from the brain tissue of persons who died of leukemia. Another investigator has obtained a virus-like substance from a strain of mice which spontaneously develop leukemia and has induced the disease with it in a non-susceptible breed of mice.

Lung Cancer Is Studied
 Viruses as a cause of lung cancer in man are being investigated. A west coast scientist is exploring the possibility that repeated respiratory virus infections induced in mice eventually will cause cancer. In humans, it has been observed that lung cancer frequently is first detected after an onslaught of a bronchial infection which cannot be attributed to the usual cold, flu or gripe.

MOLECULE MODELS—A scientist who is probing the causes of cancer has fashioned models of basic molecules of nucleic acids which are believed to be the growth controlling substances in living cells. These substances, known as DNA and RNA also occur in viruses which are being studied for their possible role as a cause of cancer.

Viruses too may play a dual role—both villain and hero. There have been classic cases of cancer halted or slowed down when the patient was stricken by a virus-caused disease. Now a mid-west scientist has found that human cancer cells injected into rats will grow but, when mixed with a type of virus, no cancer growth occurs. Transplanted tumors, injected with this same virus, decrease for a time as much as 50 per cent.

Will the cancer problem finally be solved because a specific vaccine is developed to prevent the disease? Or because a chemical will be found that will halt cancer virus growth? No one is yet willing to go this far but the first concerted push to find out is now underway.

Bula Girls Lose Heartbreaker At Canyon On March 8

Bovina captured the Class B Region I girls' basketball championship at Canyon March 8 with a thrilling 56-54 victory over Bula to earn a trip to the state basketball tournament.

It was Bovina's 29th victory of the season against eight losses, while Bula absorbed its seventh loss as compared to 22 triumphs for the season.

Bovina jumped into a quick lead and had to stave off a rally by Bula in the late stages of the first quarter to hold a 16-15 margin going into the second eight-minute period. Bula took its first lead with 5:35 left in the first half when Betty Hallford hit a basket to make it 21-20 in favor of Bula.

Bula maintained the lead and had a 32-30 halftime margin. Both teams traded baskets in the third quarter until Bovina's Nancy Compton hit near the end of the period to tie the game at 45-45 at the buzzer.

Janice Richards hit a crisp shot to put Bovina in front for good, 49-48 with 5:19 left in the game. Bovina was ahead by four points, 56-52 when Hallford hit a field goal with 54 seconds left to cut the margin to 46-54.

However, at that point, Bovina stalled out the remaining seconds.

Bovina was paced by Miss Richards with 33 points, while Joan Ezell added 13 and Miss Compton 10. Miss Hallford led Bula with 29 points, while Carol Cooke had 13 and Jeanette Seagraver 12.

"ALL I KNOW IS WHAT I READ IN THE PAPERS"

America's best-loved humorist also was one of the best-informed persons in his time. Nothing, it seemed, escaped his notice. His comments on the passing scene were applauded and repeated by millions the world over. "All I know is what I read in the papers" became his trade-mark. Will Rogers recognized that newspapers, more than any other media, are the common source of information of all the people. The simple fact that everyone knew immediately what he was talking about provided an important basis for his fabulous popularity.

That same simple fact is just as true today. It doesn't matter how far you are from home. If you read your hometown newspaper, you are in touch with the news of your hometown.

For Lt. Governor

BEN RAMSEY

BEN RAMSEY of San Augustine today announced for reelection as lieutenant governor, advocating continued support of essential state services and additional safeguards against hasty, "scatter-barrel" blasts at Texas taxpayers.

The public services of the veteran small town lawyer have been recognized by an unbroken string of four political victories for lieutenant governor—once by a record-setting Democratic majority.

Ramsey said, "The coming years will be crucial. In addition to the national tensions and problems of a sagging economy and a 'Space Race', Texas also faces a financial squeeze in their state government.

"As everyone knows, our expected state revenue has been sharply reduced by cutbacks in Texas oil production. The oil market is glutted with foreign imports. Moreover, living costs are still rising, unemployment is mounting, and high interest rates add to the squeeze on the average citizen."

Lions Looking For Crippled Children To Send To Camp

Southwestern Life policyowners and beneficiaries received a record $25,215,156 in benefits during 1957. Policy benefits paid by the Company since its organization nearly 55 years ago reached a total of $266,832,104.

On December 31, 1957, assets amounted to $1,615,486,922, the financial statement reveals.

For the protection of policyowners, surplus funds, including capital, surplus and contingency funds, totaled $48,530,216, equivalent to 13.8 per cent of total liabilities.

Clergymen Can Qualify For Social Security

Public Law 239 has given clergymen another chance to come under social security according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock district office of the Social Security Administration.

Hutton stated that under the Social Security Amendments of 1954, clergymen could come under social security as self-employed persons by filing a waiver or certificate with the Internal Revenue Service. This certificate was due on or before the income tax return due date for their second taxable year after 1954. This group includes Christian Science Practitioners and members of religious orders who had not taken the vows of poverty and were performing duties required by the order. For most clergymen, the 1954 Social Security Amendments created an April 1957 deadline for filing the necessary tax waiver.

According to Mr. Hutton many ministers failed to elect coverage in time—probably due to lack of knowledge or a misunderstanding of the tax law. By amending the law again in 1956, Congress extended the deadline for filing the necessary tax waiver. For most clergymen, this new date is April 15, 1959.

Hutton stated further that the value of meals and lodging furnished to a clergyman is counted in figuring his gross income for social security purposes. Hutton advises ministers desiring more information to get in touch with the nearest social security district office or Internal Revenue Service office.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Muleshoe on March 20, at 9:30 a.m. at the Courtroom, and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to Social Security.

Fourth Grader Writes of Trip Into Outer Space

Editor's Note: The current emphasis on science in education has been the subject of much discussion lately, and cause for concern in some quarters. Some educators feel that more science must be taught in American schools in order that we may keep up with Russian scientific advances. The following article, written by Don Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Douglas, a fourth grade student at Mary DeShazo Elementary school, seems to refute the need for too much scientific emphasis, since obviously, the interest is already present. In addition to being interested in space problems, Don is also interested in other fields of science.

Home Gardens Save Food Costs To Average Family

A good home garden can mean a sizeable saving in the family budget and can provide a source of high quality, "garden fresh" vegetables for which there is just no substitute.

The county extension workers of Texas reported 499,910 home gardens in the state in 1957, of which 268,000 were grown in towns or cities, according to Blueford Hancock, extension horticulturist.

Growing a garden is a way to relax—a hobby that can have pleasant and satisfying results to some people, while to others it is an important part of the family food budget, points out Hancock. But regardless of the purpose of growing a garden, there are then it was gone! I realized I was past the atmosphere in a matter of minutes. Then I slowed the ship and watched seven sections of it fall off.

Then I turned to my controls to turn the ship around to land on the moon in the right fashion and avoid crash.

I turned the ship around and then got into my spaceship. I slammed on the rocket motors and used the germanium diode selector to stop the rocket motors when I landed. I looked out the door and saw two tiny greenish-purple creatures that didn't talk earth talk.

I asked "What are your names?" One said Mars, the other Neptune."

Then I saw people and I soon found out they were Russians. I let them have the moon."

Girl Scouts To Observe 46th Birthday With Party In Lubbock Coliseum

The 3500 member of the Caprock Girl Scout Council in 95 counties and seven districts are celebrating National Girl Scout Week with a birthday party March 14 at 7:30 p.m. in the Lubbock Coliseum.

The occasion marks the 46th anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scouts of the USA by Juliette Gordon Low in Savannah, Ga.

The program at the party will highlight the eleven program fields of Girl Scouting, according to Mrs. Sam Dial, program chairman.

Scout programs throughout the year include arts and crafts, music and dancing, literature and dramatics, community service, health and safety, homemaking, agriculture nature, camping, sports and game, and international friendship.

"You Can Count On Her", is the theme for 1958 Girl Scout Week. Each Girl Scout learns that citizenship starts in her own family and her own community; that citizenship entails a willingness to serve, and that by giving service to their communities, children too can be good citizens.

Girl Scouts is a nationwide organization for girls from seven through 17 years of age.

BABSON DISCUSSES

EDUCATION

Babson Park, Mass., March 13— Since the launching of the Russian Sputniks, there has been much hue and cry about our educational deficiencies. Many people, especially frightened Administration officials and Congressmen, now want us to concentrate on scientific subjects in our elementary and high schools, as well as in our colleges. In their eagerness to restore our lost prestige, they forget that economics and merchandising are as important as physics and chemistry.

What About Teachers' Salaries? Many voices are being raised in Washington in favor of federal aid to schools. It is pointed out that this aid is needed because local communities cannot pay today's high costs of maintaining proper schools. Those who want Uncle Sam to dole out funds for school purposes cite the need for higher salaries for teachers. I think Washington should proceed cautiously in the matter of federal aid to schools. Such a program, though started on a normal level, would grow to such proportions as to hurt rather than help the over-all economy.

We should remember that our ability to pay is limited. If every request for government aid is granted, we shall hurl ourselves into an economic disaster that could easily mean the end of our way of life. As for teachers' salaries: I am in favor of hiking salary levels to get better education. But I do not think it fair to the tax-paying public to give teachers large increases in pay simply for acting as baby-sitters for our children and grandchildren during school hours.

Scholarships Alone Are Not The Answer
Uncle Sam is being asked to grant scholarships to pupils as an incentive for them to do better work generally and to understand studies in scientific fields. It is a sound idea to give scholarships to exceptional students; but why expect Uncle Sam to finance them? Local business interests and local governments should partly carry the ball here. However, scholarships alone are not the answer to what ails us educationally.

What we need—and what I have been advocating for a long time—is a complete overhaul of our educational system. For the past couple of generations, we have been growing "soft" in our attitude toward teachers and pupils. "Progressive education" has been envying but progressive. With its emphasis on self-expression, it has destroyed discipline in many of our schools. Today, respect for teachers is the exception rather than the rule, as is respect for the rights of others.

Our Children Are Our True Wealth
Teachers and educational theorists should not be blamed for all the troubles that beset our schools today. We parents and grandparents are also to blame. In our eagerness to avoid controversy regarding religion in public schools, we have forced school administrators to avoid teaching ethics and morals,—or at least we have sat idly by. Our children and grandchildren are our true wealth. We need their brainpower and moral fiber to meet the serious problems which we will face in another decade or two. Yet most of us do not spend as much time with our young in a month as we spend working out the details of a single business agreement. And when we are with these young people, do we know how to talk to them, how to capture—and hold—their interest?

Restore Discipline and Study
The first thing we must do for the next generation is to restore their respect for discipline and study. To do this, we must take an interest in our young people. We must teach them ourselves by example, as well as by precept. As for study: The blame for lack of proper study habits among children today should be laid squarely upon the shoulders of parents. Lax fathers and mothers push their children into adult pursuits too early in life. The result is that boys and girls have such a demanding social life that they may not be able to give sufficient time to study. As they grow older, these social "obligations" increase and study gets still less attention. Failure to correct this trend can one day make us easier prey for some sturdier civilization.

What About Teachers' Salaries?

Many voices are being raised in Washington in favor of federal aid to schools. It is pointed out that this aid is needed because local communities cannot pay today's high costs of maintaining proper schools. SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER ISN'T WORRIED

Because Agricultural Graduates Don't Farm

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has found a new angle to the farm problem, his letter, this week reveals.

Dear editor: With a lot of the experts claiming there are too many farmers as it is, you wouldn't think there'd be any problem to a piece of news I read the other day in a newspaper. I found blown against a fence out here which I removed in a hurry as the fence just barely can stand up now without any additional wind resistance, but there's apparently no limit to how hard some people will hunt to find something about the farm problem to worry about.

According to this news item, only 17 per cent of the nation's agricultural college graduates return to the farm when they finish one of the 50 agricultural colleges scattered throughout the United States, and some experts were worrying about this. What would happen, they asked, if only 17 per cent of medical school graduates stayed with medicine? I guess it does seem odd to have 50 agricultural colleges teaching agriculture and have only 17 per cent of the graduates go into farming, but this is because some people don't understand the situation.

For example, I was talking to a neighbor of mine who has a boy in an agricultural college and I asked him about this.

"Is your boy going to come back and farm when he gets out of college?" I asked him. "Are you crazy?" he asked me. "I'm sending him to college so he won't have to farm." I hadn't thought about this, but it may make some sense and if the experts are worrying because only 17 per cent of the agricultural college graduates take up farming, think what they'd have to worry about if 90 per cent of them did it. Talk about an agricultural surplus.

On the other hand, there are those who say the way to cut down on the surplus is to get more experts into farming. This group contends that the more theoretical knowledge a man has of farming, the less enthusiastic he is about going up one row and down another. This is true in a lot of fields. Most people had rather tell a teacher how to teach their child than to teach him themselves, most people had rather tell a school board how to run the school than get on the board themselves, most people had rather tell a city council how to run the town than to tackle the job themselves, and there are more people willing to tell a preacher what to preach about than to preach themselves. I don't know, but I imagine you may run into people occasionally who can tell you how to run your newspaper.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Washington News Letter
by Lydon Johnson

What is happening to farmers is shown clearly by the report made this week on cash farm income last year. The story told by the figures is not a cheerful one.

Net cash income of American farmers in 1957 was down to $11.5 billion. That is 4 per cent below the figure for 1956. It is the lowest for any year since 1942.

What happened? Cash income went down and production costs went up. There was a drop of $350 million in cash receipts from sales of farm products. And there was $600 million increase in production costs.

Prices received by farmers have gone down 20 per cent since 1951. Farm operating costs have gone up 15 per cent during that same period.

Much of the present slump in business can be traced to our depressed farm situation—just as the depression of the thirties had its roots in a long-continued unsolved agricultural crisis.

With 21,000,000 Americans living on farms, high industrial wages and booming business cannot last very long when the farmers are in a depression.

So many farmers have been put out of business by the policies of the present Administration that the unemployment problem has been greatly aggravated. When the small farmer or the farm worker is forced off the land, he goes to town looking for a job. That is one reason we now have about five million people who want jobs and can't get them.

Much of the talk about subsidizing farmers ignores a number of important facts. The truth is that a very strong case can be made for the theory that farmers have been and still are subsidizing the rest of the country.

Food absorbs a smaller proportion of the consumer's spendable dollar in this country than any where else in the world. Eight minutes of American labor will purchase a quart of milk, for example. In France it requires 16 minutes, in Russia it requires 32 minutes.

Our farmers hold the soil in trust for posterity—for the feeding of future generations. That being true, we will never solve the farm problem by eliminating farmers. We can solve it only by taking necessary steps to insure that farmers receive their fair share of the national income.

That is the basic need. All Americans have a stake in how the need is met.

Texas Tax Study Commission Reports $3.8 Billion Paid In Taxes In 1956

In 1956 Texans paid a total of $3.8 billion in taxes, a sum equal to one-fourth of their personal income for that year. Federal taxes amounted to $2.6 billion, or 68 per cent of the total. State taxes were $619 million, or 17 per cent; local taxes were $537 million, or 15 per cent.

These facts are contained in the first research staff report made for the Texas State Tax Study Commission to provide it with facts upon which to base its report to the 1959 Legislature. This commission was created by the 1957 Legislature to conduct a comprehensive study of the entire state and local tax structure. Other salient facts brought out in the report are:

The total 1956 tax bill averaged $420 for each man, woman and child in Texas. State and local taxes in 1956, as compared with $385 million in 1946 and $853 million in 1950. In 1946 the average per person was $28.90 in state taxes and $24.70 in local taxes. By 1956 the per person average was $69.30 of state taxes and $60.20 of local taxes.

Property tax collections account for about 90 per cent of Texas local revenues. The state, however, has in recent years shifted toward greater reliance on selective sales taxes (gasoline, cigarettes, alcoholic beverages, motor vehicles, etc.), severance taxes (on oil, gas and sulphur), and business taxes. Today only about 5 per cent of state tax revenues comes from property.

Over the past 25 years, the Texas tax structure has changed significantly. In 1932, local government raised two-thirds of the combined state and local revenue. By 1940, the state-local division was equal. When World War II ended, state government was collecting 54 per cent and local government 46 per cent. This ratio has continued unchanged.

Senator William S. Fly of Victoria is Chairman of the Tax Study Commission. Representative Frates Seeligson of San Antonio is vice-chairman. John McKee of Dallas is secretary. Other members are Senators C. L. Lock, Lawkin; and David Ratliff, Stamford; Representatives John A. Huebner, Sr., Bay City, and Richard Slack, Pecos; and Hugo Loewenstern, Amarillo, and John R. Stockton, Austin. Six members of the Texas Research League's professional staff have been made available to form the Commission's own staff.

Tech Agronomy Head Says Conditions Best For Crops In Recent Years

"High Plains cotton and maize farmers who are behind in their spring work because of bad weather may be better off in the end," Dr. A. W. Young, Texas tech agronomy department head, reports.

He points to moisture supplies that are far above normal, making desirable soil conditions that might not be improved by the usual tillage.

"This is the first time in several years that soil bacteria have had moisture enough to work on the organic matter during the winter months," Young says.

"Also, the freezing and thawing of the moist soil has improved its workability," he continues. "Of course, there are some soils on which this factor works to a better advantage than others." Asked whether it would be any advantage to list the ground prior to planting this year, he says, that in his opinion, it will be a disadvantage unless the farmer plans to water the ground.

Listing exposes more land surface to the winds and, consequently, more water can be lost to evaporation, he adds.

"The amount of moisture in each piece of land is the final word on whether or not to water," Young says. "How the land lies and whether any moisture has been lost to winter crops, influence the storage level."

He explains that there is no need to water if the soil already has enough moisture to decompose residues and release plant foods and the water-holding capacity of the soil already is near its maximum. These factors were taken care of with October and subsequent rains, he says.

Watering prior to planting is the big question now, Young declares. Since sandy soils cannot store as large an amount of water as the heavier soils, his opinion is that to try to get more water in the sandy cotton land in the High Plains may be a question of economic waste.

His advice to the cotton and maize farmer in the sandy area is to work the land with chisels and bring some of the leached clay to the top if it begins to blow after a rain—also, to plow just deep enough to remix the sand and keep it from moving.

"Some work may be necessary to level the ground for a proper seed bed", Dr. Young believes, "but extra work will only tend to tractor-pack the soil and dry it out."

In the heavier loams, more work may be necessary for the proper preparation of the seed bed. He suggests that the disc-type implements will probably work to better advantage in these soils.

"In case of having to replant, as many did last spring, the final planting leaves an area of soil moisture still undisturbed," Dr. Young points out. "This enables the farmer to 'bust the ridges' in replanting and still have moisture to get the seed up."

Every farm is a different problem, he believes, but to the economically hard-pressed farmer, land preparation that is both cheaper and better is certainly a step in the right direction.

Kress, Tex., Man Reports— "2,000-lb.-Per-Acre Increase From Irrigated Maize."

Melvin F. Walter, who farms 1,100 acres near Kress, Tex., says: "I put down 100 pounds of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia on irrigated maize and got a 2,000-pound increase in grain per acre. I also made 50 bushels of wheat per acre using 100 pounds of Phillips 66 ammonia."

Other Southwestern farmers have discovered that the 82% nitrogen in top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps them get more profit per acre through higher yields. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of grain sorghum and ensilage are increased... more marketable vegetables are harvested... and profits on wheat are increased through better forage and higher yields of grain.

Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia contains 82% nitrogen and gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of commercial fertilizer available.

By JOHN C. WHITE, Commissioner

UP-DATING AGRICULTURE BY LAW

Agriculture in Texas and the nation is going through a dramatic evolution.

If the changes we are experiencing in farming and farm life were just a bit more physically violent—it could be properly called a "revolution". No previous era in agriculture has seen such an emphatic shift in emphasis and techniques as we have since World War II.

Old farm concepts have been outmoded by new and dynamic production and marketing. As a result, laws passed 20 and 30 years ago have, in some instances, not met the needs of this new period.

This is particularly true in Texas. Some of our old laws are impractical. And even some of our legislation that is less than 2 years old already need amending.

A goal of the Texas Department of Agriculture during the next few legislative sessions will be to emphasize changes in the following fields:

1. Revision of the nursery law.
2. A marketing enabling act.
3. A new general warehouse law.
4. Dressed poultry inspection law.
5. Amending the recently-enacted egg law.
6. Amendments to the weights and measures law.

A new nursery law is needed to set up some basis of standards and to control movements of inferior nursery stock into Texas.

The marketing enabling act is necessary because our selling and transportation methods have not kept up with the giant strides made in farm production. The state farm agency needs to enlarge its work to provide data to growers and handlers of volumes of commodity movement, planting, harvesting and grading services. At present, the TDA has no authority to participate in these types of programs except that which is granted in the language of the current appropriation bill.

The present general warehouse law provides that all warehouse storage space for hire shall be bonded by the Agriculture Department. However, the penalty provision is weak and inadequate.

On poultry inspection, the federal government has made inspection compulsory for poultry moving in interstate commerce. The same type of service is needed within the state to protect Texas consumers against infer-

Cotton Week Is Set For May 19-24 By National Council

The Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. is cooperating with the National Cotton Council this year in planning observance of National Cotton Week to be held May 19-24.

To help promote National Cotton Week, the Plains Cotton Growers has already contacted most of the department stores on the Plains and told them of dates of National Cotton Week in order they might plan advertising and promotion for that time.

Also, the organization has sent out more than 100 Retail Sales Planners furnished by the National Cotton Council. This planter offers a 36-piece special planning kit designed for National Cotton Week promotion.

The kit contains posters, streamers, advertising slogans, mats and other merchandising aids for cotton and National Cotton Week.

Any department store in the High Plains area that did not receive a sales planner may obtain one by writing to the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Room 220, Lubbock National Building, Lubbock, Texas.

In Lubbock the PCG is cooperating with the Business and Professional Women's Club to sponsor an all-cotton style show to be held during cotton week. Other events are being planned throughout the area to promote cotton during National Cotton Week in May.

Service attitude toward expense accounts, depreciation, and other matters that the business man needs to know about.

He also went into a series of proposed changes in the law, but he urged his listeners to distinguish between what has been adopted and what is in the proposal stage.

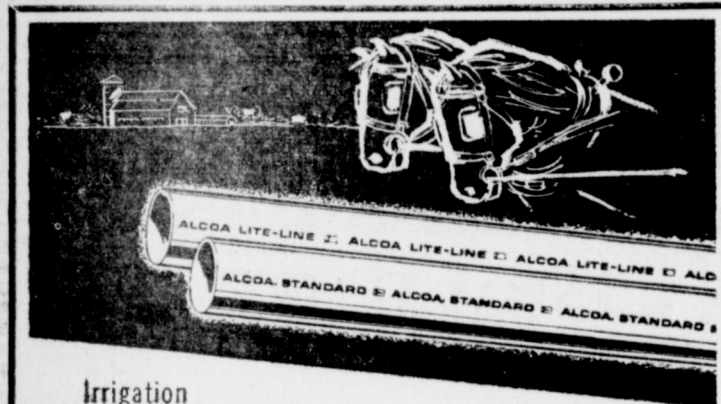

Guests included Max King, Junior Rotarian for the month; Doris Childers, club pianist; Martel LeVeque, a guest of Robert Alford; and two visiting Rotarians, Gus Shaw of Littlefield and Raymond Nix, Sudan.

Read John 16:29-33. In the world ye shall have tribulation; but he of good cheer; I have overcome the world. (John 16:33.)

Some years ago, two of us were walking in the city of Nuremberg, Germany. A guide identified for us some of the historical buildings. He called our attention to the large St. Sebald Church. Over the door was a statue of Christ.

"You will notice," he said, "that Christ is there represented as a strong man; prominence is given to His strength. We like to think of Jesus as a strong Saviour as well as a teacher."

Thinking on that idea, I remembered that the power of Christ is available to each of us today, even in situations where there are problems too difficult for us to solve or burdens too heavy for us to carry. He promises us that He will be with us always, even unto the end of the world. He bids us not to be afraid of tribulations since He Himself has overcome the world.

We thank Thee, our Father, for the power offered to us in our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Help us to open our hearts to this power, that we may be able to withstand temptations and to be more than conquerors thru Thy grace. We ask in Jesus' precious name. Amen.

Bailey County Farm Bureau News

by Ewing Mathis

The annual Bailey County Farm Bureau meeting is coming up this month. The meeting will be held at the Muleshoe high school auditorium beginning at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, March 27. The board of directors, Bill Millen presiding, wants to extend an open invitation to all members of the organization to attend this meeting, and further urge the members to turn out so that they may vote for the 1958 directors. Non-members are invited to attend and the board feels that this meeting is a good opportunity for non-members to become acquainted with Farm Bureau and with other Farm Bureau members.

In addition to the business session a drawing will be held for $250 worth of electric appliances purchased by the County Farm Bureau and many other prizes donated by the businessmen of Bailey county. Only Farm Bureau members may participate in the drawing.

Senator Andy Rogers and Gene Leach will speak.

Bill Millen, Sam Hopper, Joe Sooter, Louis Scoggins, Robert Hooten, Kelly Joe Barnett, J. K. Adams, W. R. Carter, and Ewing Mathis attended the District Farm Bureau meeting in Lubbock on March 5. Current agricultural problems were discussed and county officers received training in their respective fields. Bill Millen accepted a certificate for the Bailey County Farm Bureau for getting the 1957 quota of 625 members. The county had 632 members in 1957.

Bill Millen just came in and he is proud of the 1957 membership but we need to increase the membership this year so that this area will be better represented in Farm Bureau in State and National Agriculture.

More members means more representation! Let's invite that new neighbor to join!

"Dust storms sure were bad news — till I switched to AMALIE L. P. G.!"

"That old common-grade oil I used to use in these irrigation engines sure did let the dirt and dust and rust cake up in those engines! But worse than that, with butane or propane, it thickened up when it looked almost like gear-grease! Man, what a change with this AMALIE L. P. G. Oil!"

AMALIE L. P. G. is more than just a good oil, it's a super oil! When you burn butane or propane (Liquid Petroleum Gas), ordinary oil won't do. It must be ENGINEERED for L. P. G. And AMALIE L. P. G. is just that. 100% pure Pennsylvania—no other crude like it on earth. Special additives, to hold that dust, grit, etc. in suspension—so they filter out. And above all, it holds its viscosity—its "flowing" qualities. Give YOUR engines—and your bank balance—a break!

Here he is at last—just a few miles out on his maiden journey—with his hands on the wheel and his head in the clouds. It's his!

And yet, truth to tell, he does have one regret. For he knows that he needn't have waited this long, had he but realized what an easy step it is from dreaming of a Cadillac to driving in a Cadillac.

Like a great many motorists, for instance, he was not aware that a Cadillac—in view of its obvious virtues—could be so modest in price.

Nor did he appreciate, until the facts were presented, how economical a Cadillac is to maintain or how wonderfully it holds its value over the years.

And little did he suspect how accommodating his dealer would be in welcoming him to membership in the great and distinguished family of Cadillac owners.

So, if you have your heart set on a Cadillac, you should hesitate no longer to investigate this happy set of circumstances.

In fact, why not visit your dealer today? He will be happy to help you select your favorite Cadillac model with your favorite Fleetwood interior—be it the luxurious Sixty-Two Coupe or the magnificent Eldorado Brougham.

Texas Sesame Growers Set Meeting In High School Auditorium Friday Night; To Show Film

Texas Sesame Growers, Inc., will hold a special meeting at the Muleshoe high school Friday, March 14, to help farmers plan their 1958 sesame crops. Robert L. Parker, executive vice-president of the organization reported today.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. with county agent J. K. Adams in charge. Both Parker and Clyde Black, head of the new High Plains Sesame headquarters here in Muleshoe, will be on hand to discuss the sesame program.

Growers from Bailey and neighboring counties are invited to attend.

The outstanding performance of sesame in 1957, despite bad weather and low prices of other crops has resulted in more farmer interest this year than at any other time since the start of the sesame production program five years ago, Parker said.

He said the average price of No. 1 quality seed from the high plains in 1957 was 10.41 per hundred, the highest price on record. He pointed out the sesame shocked in October and threshed in January still graded No. 1 quality.

High Plains farmers averaged $80 per acre gross for their sesame crop, and some individuals grossed as much as $120 per acre, Parker stated.

Many Plains farmers cleared more money on sesame last year than on cotton. Improved machinery and harvest methods developed by farmers have greatly reduced labor costs, and further simplifying the crop, much of the High Plains sesame last year was harvested by custom operators.

Tonnage of sesame produced in Texas jumped to seven million pounds in 1957, more than double the 1956 production and 17 times bigger than the first commercial crop grown in 1953. The Texas High Plains produced six and one half million pounds of the total.

Texas Sesame Growers, Inc., has its headquarters in Paris, Texas and its High Plains headquarters in Muleshoe. The organization is now operating a new grain and sesame elevator here. The elevator opened the latter part of 1957 in time for the milo crop. The new plant, located on the north side of the Santa Fe tracks in the west part of town, is designed for buying and selling grain, for the Commodity Credit Corp., and as headquarters for Texas Sesame Growers, Inc., expanding High Plains operations.

"We built our plant to meet the needs for additional grain storage and to meet the long range development needs of the sesame industry on the Plains", Parker said. "The plant represents the logical and necessary step for serving our large number of growers concentrated in the area of which Muleshoe is the center."

All farmers interested are invited to attend the special meeting Friday night. A documentary color film, showing how the crop is produced, harvested and marketed will be shown and refreshments will be served.

Hub Farmer Nations Top Grower Of Sesame Based On $102 Gross

Sesame helped save the day for Billy Marshall in 1957, "a crop year that was tough on everything."

Marshall was the Nation's No. 1 Sesame farmer for the year. On 400 acres in the Hub community in Parmer county he produced nearly 400,000 pounds of clean Sesame seed for an average yield of 985 pounds per acre. The oilseed crop returned him a gross profit of $102 per acre.

"Last year was a tough year for everything," Billy Marshall said as he prepared his land for his 1958 crops. If it hadn't been for my Sesame, I would really be hurting now. Cotton got so cheap and so sorry that it didn't make any money and after considering all the expenses on my maize, profits were very low."

Marshall increased his farming operation from 400 to 1,000 acres last year. With maize so cheap, he is a strong believer in Sesame and will plant 600 acres to the crop as soon as the ground is warm in May.

"This will be my fourth year to grow Sesame, and I think it is a good practical crop. If a man will do a good job of farming, he can make money growing Sesame," he declared. "My Sesame cleared more money for me than my cotton or my maize this year despite the weather. I'm going to go lighter on the fertilizer, and with a decent growing season, I believe I will make over a thousand pounds per acre."

In the case of both cotton and maize, prices and the weather were bad, Marshall said. His 170 acres of cotton produced 236 bales for an average yield of 1.39 bales per acre. The yield was fair, but 60 bales of his cotton brought only 8 cents per pound and reduced his gross on cotton to about $139 per acre. In terms of what it sold for, his maize cost too much money to produce. He averaged 5,200 pounds per acre on 220 acres. It went into the loan at $1.64 per hundred, grossing him about $85.28 per acre. The way he figures it, he had to grow 4,000 pounds an acre just to break even. He added that after all expenses are paid, Sesame has consistently beat maize by $15 to $20 an acre.

His earliest planted Sesame produced at the rate of more than 1,100 pounds per acre, but even this acreage did not have as long a growing season as it needed. He tried still another experiment with inconclusive results. He planted his Sesame in 30 inch row spacing instead of the standard 40 inch spacing after experiment station reports had indicated closer row spacing produces higher yields. The poor growing season, however, made it impossible for him to draw any very positive conclusions. He observed that the plants stood up better in the narrow spacing, and he will plant his 600 acres this year in the 30 inch rows.

Like all good Sesame growers on the High Plains, he maintains there are three basic requirements which must be met every year: 1. A good thick stand, 2. Adequate soil fertility, and 3. Plenty of water.

Marshall spares no expense in his land preparation—particularly on land he is farming for the first time. He smooths the land with tandem disc, then breaks it all with moldboard plows. Later, he floats it, then lists it into rows, pre-watering it twice. He reports that he gets better results on dry years from two pre-waterings rather than one. Before planting, he harrows and knives the beds to clean up any vegetation. With 30 inch row spacing last year, he increased his planting rate on Sesame to 2 1/2 pounds per acre. On some he got good stands the first time he planted. Other land he planted twice, and some even three times. Everything was difficult to get up last Spring.

After the Sesame came up to a good stand, Marshall knifed it twice cultivated twice and hoed twice. Some of the extra hoeing cost he charged off to the rough condition in which a previous crop of grain left the land. He pointed out that some had to be hoed twice because it was planted earlier. The earlier crop also made the highest per acre yield. During the growing season, he watered his Sesame three times. Marshall used two 10 foot binders to cut and bundle his Sesame in late September. We attended another regular meeting of the Rhea Farm Bureau local last Friday night. We found that the vitality of this community has not wavered. They had a good attendance, even though the roads were muddy and covered with a couple of inches of hail. They voted to serve a supper at their next meeting, Friday night, April 11. Proceeds from the meal will go into a fund they have been raising for benefit of the Farmer County Community Hospital. They are expecting a bunch of Friona and Bovina people to eat with them that night. Mark it down on your calendar.

The Farm Bureau weed and legislative committees met Monday night in the Friona office. The weed committee reorganized and mapped plans for the season's work. The legislative committee studied the "New Look Farm Bureau Farm Program" proposals.

We would like to suggest that if you do not file for tax exemption on fuels you purchase, you tell your dealer, and he will not fill out exemption invoices. Also, if you think it has been some time since you filed for refund, you should ask about it if your invoices are filed here. There is always the chance that through error you might not be notified. You can file as often as you wish, but should file at least every six months.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

by Raymond Euler

Six hundred fifty-nine was the Parmer County Farm Bureau membership following this year's drive. This includes a few more than sixty new members. By some statistical figures, this represents about 90 per cent of the farmers in this county. We think the most correct figures would indicate about seventy five per cent, though.

Anyway, your president and vice-president, Gilbert Kaltwasser and Jack Patterson, respectively, are well pleased with the response received by the fifty or so workers in the field. They feel that greater membership will strengthen the future of rural roads and rural electrification and telephones. These projects are being threatened by some powers that try to get their ways in legislation. Farm Bureau, according to Governor Daniel, the most influential organization in Texas, intends to protect and strengthen these services and
