CONVERGE ON TEC OFFICE . . .

Mass Meeting Of Farmers Held Monday To Place Orders For 741 Field Workers

One hundred and twenty-five farmers temporarily blocked streets around the courthouse square here Monday morning, as they met in front of the Texas Employment Commission office and signed requests for 721 farm workers to take care of their needs within the next five days. Although the TEC office was closed in observance of the Memorial Day holiday, the group signed requests for the laborers and transmitted their requests to the TEC office in Littlefield.

Joe Sooter, representing the Bailey County Farm Bureau, said, "We are going to prove that we have the jobs available, and we want TEC to prove they have the workers available."

Stanley Williams of State Line Farms told of his experience in trying to get farm laborers for "stoop labor" in his vegetable fields. Williams said that of 40 laborers delivered to him by the Muleshoe TEC office, only six would consent to do stoop labor.

He then stated that on May 28 he was notified that he was paying sub-standard wages, and was told that he must pay 75 cents per hour instead of the 60 cents he was paying, or could get no Bracero laborers.

M. D. Meyers, president of Muleshoe Vegetable Growers, then pointed out that unless labor is supplied, not only will the field crops suffer, but the young vegetable industry will be badly hurt just as it is getting started.

The men at the meeting raised enough money in contributions to send four men to Washington to the Agricultural Labor users meeting June 8. Those going are Joe Sooter, Bill Millen, E. K. Angeley and Bud Williams.

Following the meeting, Sooter and Millen called the Littlefield office of TEC, talking with office manager Edward D. Vaughn. Vaughn told them he had projected their order for 721 domestic workers to every TEC office in Texas.

Vaughn also said he had talked with Henry LeBlanc, chief of the farm placement division of TEC in Austin, who said he would make every effort to recruit laborers and get them into this vicinity.

Vaughn pointed out that his office would continue their recruitment program to get laborers into the Muleshoe area, which has been underway for the past two weeks. But, said Vaughn, he could make no promise that the laborers would work for 50 to 60 cents per hour, once they got here.

Braceros Halted Monday morning, Vaughn said.

all authorization and certification of bracero laborers was halted, pending an investigation of the local area situation by personnel of the Department of Labor.

Mr. Vaughn concluded with this statement, "We will offer jobs to every laborer we can contact, but we can only wait to see what the outcome will be."

With the arrival of domestic labor here this week, TEC officials report the labor situation is becoming less critical. The Muleshoe TEC office sent out 90 hands Tuesday, 70 Wednesday, and 60 Thursday, and expect several other large crews in this week-end.

William Willis, TEC office manager said he did not know if the domestic laborers are all going to work, but some of them have accepted jobs in the area.

Willis also reported that the Bracero "freeze" was lifted on a limited basis Thursday morning, allowing some Braceros to come into areas where they are badly needed and domestic labor is in short supply.

This course is designed to help experienced personnel to become better salespeople, and many communities throughout the state have found it profitable to business in general as well as profitable to those being served.

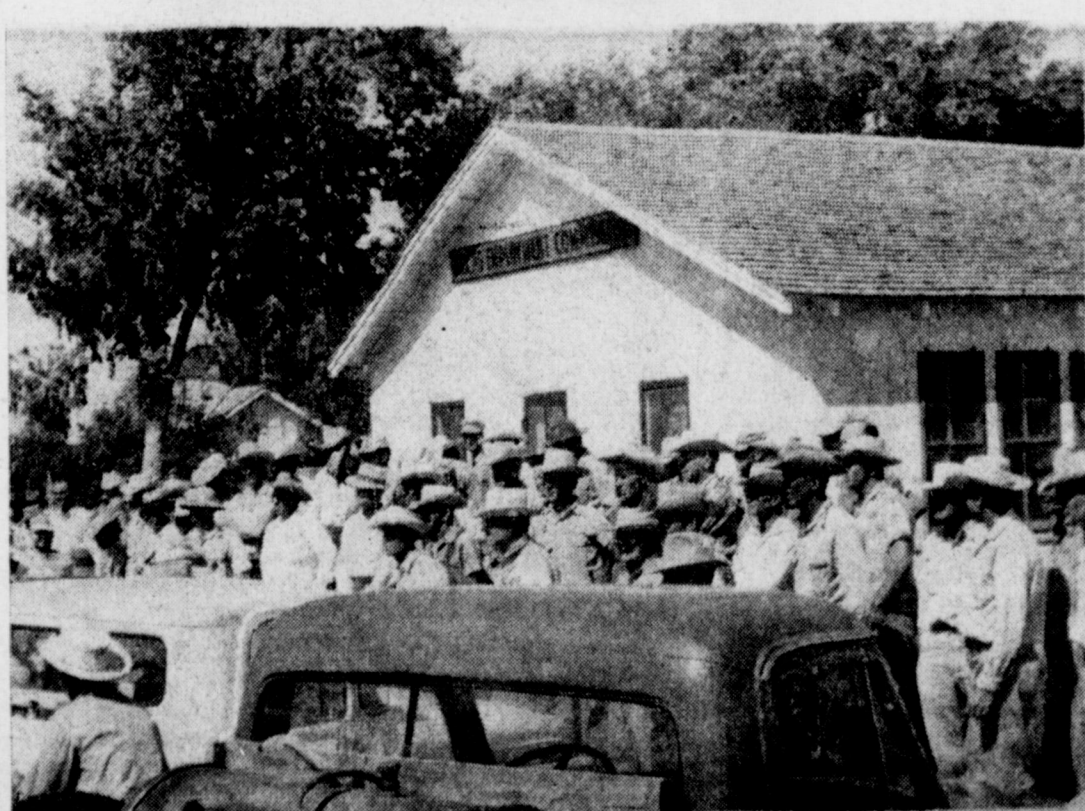

This educational program is made possible through the cooperation of Chamber of Commerce, the University of Texas, Division of Extension, and the Texas Education Agency. Enrollment is open to any person employed in the retail, wholesale, or service occupations with a small registration fee being the total cost to the employee. Additional information may be had by contacting the Chamber of Commerce. Fee for the 8-hour course is $2 per person.

CALLING ALL GOOD DEMOCRATS TO THE SPOILS

Yes, the Republicans done it for us. 100 acre farm for sale, located about four miles from Bovina. Fairly good modern improvements, including five room house, windmill, over-head water tank, and plenty of barns. 130 acres in cultivation. 30 acres good native grass. The price, "What a dirty shame", this Republican Administration has forced the price down to $15 per acre. However, it's a good buy even at $1.00 wheat and 75c maize.

Miss Jean Montgomery Pledges Vows With Robert Allen Saturday Night

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT ALLEN

Before an altar flanked with white satin with a Sabrina neckline, long tapered sleeves and a satin skirt with lace panels, A. K. Montgomery, the bridegroom and A. L. Robert H. Allen repeated their wedding vows in the First Methodist Church Saturday.

Miss Montgomery, the daughter of Mrs. V. H. Montgomery, was given in marriage by her brother, A. K. Montgomery. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Allen, Sr., of Baltimore, Maryland.

The bride wore an original gown which she designed and her mother made. The gown was fashioned of Chantilly lace and stemmed white carnation. Roland Allen of Abilene, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Kenneth Utne and Joe Rieckland, both of Abilene. Misses Carolyn and Margaret Ingle, neices of the bride, lighted candles.

A reception followed in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. Clifford Walters registered guests while Miss Elizabeth Farley and Mrs. P. B. Ramby, sister of the bride, served. The brides table was decorated with roses.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Abilene where Allen is stationed at Dyess Air Force Base. Mrs. Allen will continue her studies at McMurry College.

Allen is a graduate of Kenwood high school, Rastburg, Md. The bride was graduated from Muleshoe high school.

For traveling, the former Miss Montgomery chose a beige linen sheath dress with apricot accessories.

Flow Meter Put On Well At Wilhite Farm Near M'shoe

The High Plains Water District has added nine new flow meter installations in the district, in addition to eleven previously established cooperators.

The nine new irrigators have been supplied with rain gauges, record books, and time clocks, in addition to the flow meters. They will record amounts of rainfall and irrigation water applied to the various crops and the time consumed in making each irrigation application. The flow meter used will be to measure the amount of irrigation water which the well is supplying to the crop.

The flow meter program was started by the District in an effort to establish that good water management depends to a large extent on the tools employed, and to substantiate research data on moisture and yield relationships.

"A $5.60 Investment Netted Me $54.85 in Cotton."

Jack Shelley, Hale Center, Tex., says: "I put down Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia on my irrigated cotton and got an average of 847 pounds of lint per acre. This compared to a yield of 633 pounds on a check plot. My increase netted me $54.85 an acre. I got more well matured, five-lock cotton bolls, too."

Other Southwestern farmers have discovered that the 82% nitrogen in top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps them to get more profit per acre, through higher yields and lower production costs.

They have found that, by using Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia, they get more cotton that grades out higher at the gin; yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased; more marketable vegetables are harvested, and profits on wheat are increased through better forage, and higher yields of grain.

Babson Discusses

Stocks And The Threat Of A 48-Hour War

Babson Park, Mass., June 5— I am convinced that international developments and the threat of World War III will have a great influence on our economy during the next few years. Events occurring abroad will be increasingly important factors in determining business, economic, and investment trends here in the United States.

Likelihood Of World War III

I do not expect a "World War III" in the near future. But the threat of a "48-hour War" between Russia and the United States is very real. A Korean-type war could also come at any time. So explosive are international conditions that a 48-hour War between Russia and the U. S., if it comes, would most likely start from accident or unauthorized shooting. Under such circumstances, it is folly not to be well prepared for any fighting that may occur and for the atomic "fallout" that would accompany it. I predict that a "48-hour War" with Russia would be fought from atomic submarines and airplanes. If we are to survive it, we must be economically as well as militarily strong.

The "cold war" cannot continue indefinitely. The possibilities in new nuclear weapons make a negotiated "peace" or "arms limitation" probably impracticable. Of course, we could make an agreement with Russia on existing weapons. But could we be sure the Soviets would respect such a pact? And how could we forestall new nuclear developments in and by other nations? I do not believe either Russia or the United States will abandon such research and development

What Are The Alternatives To A 48-Hour War?

Some observers contend that the present stalemate will resolve itself by Russia becoming more conservative and the U. S. and Great Britain becoming more socialistic. Logically, such a course would result in these three nations federating. It all sounds fantastic to me. If it ever comes, I forecast that such a "federation" is far in the future. Another alternative to war would be the emergence in Russia of a less ruthless, though probably still leftist, form of government. In my opinion, there is no immediate hope of this happening. Still a further alternative to war would be the appearance of a strong coalition of nations other than Russia and the U. S., as a third formidable world force. Nations federation of Arab states is not nearly big enough for such a task, but it is possible Britain, France, and West Germany together might eventually exert a new commanding influence.

Period of Uncertainty Will Persist

None of the alternatives to World War III or a 48-hour Russia-U. S. War, or to a continued "cold war", are likely to happen soon. So we must be prepared to make the best of what will be a more or less prolonged period of uncertainty in international affairs. At home, I predict we shall endure more inflation, with the value of the dollar trending steadily, though not rapidly, downward toward 25 cents. In the light of these conditions, I favor wide diversification in stock market investments at this time. Certain retail chain store securities look good to me due to geographical distribution; but I would hold only two or three of the big transcontinental railroads. Railroads generally are faring poorly and will probably do worse except, of course, if war comes. I expect doubling of electric power output in coming years. But I would not care to invest heavily in public utilities stocks because they could suffer from inflation and/or war.

Bond Outlook Less Favorable

Since the underlying trend is toward more inflation, I do not favor long-term investments in bonds generally. This does not necessarily apply to those U. S. bonds which the government will accept at par value for payment of estate taxes. Of course, I do not mean bonds would not pay off—but it would be in depreciated currency.

I repeat, the best investment policy today is a wide diversification in common stocks. Some land holdings in America's "Magic Circle" and a reasonable cash reserve are also desirable. The diversification in stocks could, of course, be obtained by purchasing some shares of mutual funds, but I do not advocate this. With mutual funds, your eggs are all in one basket. In a rapidly falling market, you might find it impossible to sell before it was too late. There could be a run on mutual funds as there was on bank deposits in 1933.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

By Senator Lyndon Johnson

Dear Friend: The cure for anti-Americanism in the world is not to be found in anti-worldism in America.

Withdrawal from the troubled affairs of the world offers an obvious temptation to the United States. But any effort to hold ourselves aloof from the world would be foredoomed to failure. The promise of this temptation could never be realized.

There is a great challenge to the American spirit in these times. It is to take the initiative in finding new and effective ways of fostering understanding between our nation and other nations of the world.

Since World War II, we have done much to try to perfect a system of defense guaranteeing our country against surprise enemy attack—the kind of attack the Japanese launched on Pearl Harbor in December, 1941.

This effort is both sound and necessary. We need, and the cause of freedom must have, an ever-ready, ever-alert, ever-strong defense. We have spent and are continuing to spend many billions of dollars to provide such a defense.

But is protection against surprise enough?

The threat of military aggression is not the only threat a nation such as ours has to face. When we impose the total burden of American security upon military men, we are asking them to bear a greater load than they can or should carry.

Nor can we rely solely on science and technology to safeguard our security. Russia has put into the air a Sputnik many times heavier than any of ours. That is a stunning and shocking fact, and we are rightly disturbed by it.

Even more distressing is the fact that only a closed, bullet-proof car kept our Vice-president from death on the streets of a city in South America. The shameful incident holds a lesson that should be driven home to all of us.

It is important to teach physics and engineering so we can produce Sputniks that are second to none. But it is just as important —and perhaps more important—to teach humanities and the social sciences, so our people will know how to talk with other people and there will be no more throwing stones at the representatives of the United States.

The task we face is not easy. We cannot buy understanding simply by placing a production order. We have to work to attain understanding—work hard and patiently and without ceasing, both in government and out of government.

The real challenge to the American spirit now is to give our country a spiritual strength even greater than its military strength. This is our first order of urgent business.

Leonard Carney Is New President Of Christian Science

Humanity's emergence into the space age should be greeted with firm assurance of God's unerring direction and supporting care, The Christian Science Board of Directors said today.

Some may view this new age with fear and trembling, but Christian Scientists welcome it and the opportunities that accompany it, they declared.

More than 7,000 church members from many parts of the world heard the directors message at the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. Scientific reliance on God's power is showing the way, the Directors said, to bring peace and harmony both to the individual and the world.

In spite of the material progress being made, it is becoming evident that material discoveries "are not really solving the basic problems confronting humanity, but seem, in fact, to be increasing them," they said.

Stressing the challenge of the new age, they added: "While the constructive uses of modern inventions promise much, their destructive possibilities—would threaten the very existence of our present civilization. Consequently, thoughtful people are beginning to realize that only by availing themselves of a higher power, a force far more powerful than that obtained through nuclear fission or fusion, can men hope to hold in check and nullify the evil elements of the human mind which would threaten to misuse the inventions of the space age."

Named President of The Mother Church was Leonard T. Carney of Boston, Mass., a Christian Science teacher and practitioner active in the healing work of the denomination for many years. He will serve a one-year term.

In a ringing address, Mr. Carney told the assembly that vast new opportunities for service to humanity are at hand. "It is yielding to materiality that blocks our progress," he declared.

"The shackles of materiality fall away as we advance spiritually." Healings through wholly spiritual means of tuberculosis, cancer, blindness, epilepsy, and other disabilities were reported at the meeting.

Three anniversaries were celebrated during the year by The Christian Science Publishing Society, it was reported—the founding of The Christian Science Journal seventy-five years ago, the Publishing Society sixty years ago, and The Christian Science Monitor fifty years ago.

Sandhills Philosopher Detects Sure Signs

That Recession About Over And Things Getting Normal

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm apparently is feeling optimistic this week. His letter indicates:

Dear editor: Everybody in the country has been wondering when things are going to get back to normal, and I wish to let you know I have now found an unmistakable sign that normal times are about here.

Last night I read an article in a newspaper which I picked up in town earlier in the day—it was blowing along the street and any time a man can help beautify the town and get a free newspaper at the same time he has to be mighty lazy not to do it—that convinces me things are now approaching normal.

According to this article, the Secretary of Commerce in Washington said he saw "some fairly rosy prospects ahead for the economy." He said the "economic picture" will be much brighter later this year. Employment has been rising, business indicators are a bit better, and a spirit of revived confidence is beginning to appear.

In the same article, the Director of the Budget said beginning July 1 the government will go in the red about two billion dollars.

If this isn't prosperity—business picking up and the country going further in debt—I've never seen it.

What this proves is that in this final analysis there's nothing wrong with installment buying. It's only installment paying that keeps a man's nose to the grindstone.

Personally, I don't know whether the recession is disappearing or not, probably it is, and that suits me fine, but what I have decided after considerable thought is that economics is like the human body. A man can get sick occasionally for no reason at all, and while the doctors stand around stroking their chins and calculating what's wrong with him, he suddenly starts to get better and nobody knows for sure what caused him to get sick in the first place and what got him well whether it was the medicine or just the natural course of events or the thought of a long hospital bill.

There may be people in this country who really know what causes a recession and what cures it, but if there are they're sure keeping quiet.

Yours faithfully,

Today's Meditation

Read Philippians 2:5-12.

He was named Jesus. (Luke 2:21, Moffatt.) Isaac was a Chippewa Indian. He got into trouble with the law. As a result, he came into my custody for eight months.

Isaac knew only four words of English; namely, wife, son, home and Jesus—the latter learned from his Chippewa prayer book.

While with me, he was a thousand miles from his home. Since there was no one with whom he could speak his language, Isaac became depressed.

Meantime, I used my best efforts to get him a parole. At last his release was authorized.

How to give him the good news was now my problem. First, I arranged for his thousand-mile flight home. Then I had him brought to my office. Not having a picture of a plane, I pointed to a picture over my desk showing some wild geese in flight. I said, "Isaac... home... wife... son."

Immediately Isaacs face lighted up. He put his hands together, as in prayer. With tears rolling down his cheeks, he said, "Jesus." Putting my hands together, I, too, said, "Jesus."

Farmers Union President Outlines Stand On Cotton Pricing Problem

Alex Dickie, Jr., president of the Texas Farmers Union, said today he wanted to set the record straight on the stand taken by at least one farm organization in its fight for holding the price line on cotton to the producers. "We Texas Farmers Union are not in favor of sacrificing the price to producers, and we intend to fight for an extension of the present minimum acreage now in effect for cotton to expire this due date."

Dickie stated that he agreed cotton had to be in a competitive position with synthetics but he did not have to be done at the expense of cotton farmers. He should be sold in the normal channels of trade both at home and abroad and if the price received by the producer is less than a parity of income price, the difference should be made up by compensating payments.

The Texas Farmers Union believes that the cotton farmer has had all and more of the price sacrifice that he can. If the ginners, spinners, weavers, and handlers are worried about the competitive price of cotton, our price is down to 84% of parity; how much are they willing to take off for their services? This idea that the farmer is the only one who has to be competitive is nothing but some more Republican, big business, hog wash designed to confuse the public and even some farmers fall for it.

The Texas Farmers Union stands for a parity of income price for cotton to the family type cotton farmers in Texas.

Dickie said he could not understand why the Eisenhower Administration was so opposed to the direct payment approach on cotton when it is what they have used on wool for several years now, and only last week Secretary of the Interior, Fred A. Seaton, urged Congress to adopt a five year plan of price supports involving the use of deficiency payments to cover copper, lead, zinc, flourspar, and tungsten.

Final Plans For 4-H Roundup Are Being Completed

The chuck wagons have been greased and the cooks have their equipment in top shape to handle the feeding of an estimated 2,200 4-H boys and girls, their supervisors, leaders and friends who will attend the State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M on June 10-12.

The chuck wagon supper, always a program favorite, will take place the evening of June 11 and will be a fitting climax for the hard day the 4-H club members will have devoted to judging and demonstration team contests.

The evening program on June 10 will commemorate 50 years of 4-H club work in Texas. President M. T. Harrington of the Texas A&M College system will welcome the 4-H members to A&M and Director John E. Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will speak on "Where From Here". Several 4-H members of the past and present will also have a part in the program.

On June 11 State winners in 22 different judging and team demonstration contests will be determined. Winners in several contests will qualify to represent Texas in national events later in the year.

In commenting on 4-H club work, the youth phase of the Agricultural Extension Service, Director Hutchison said an estimated 2,000,000 Texas rural boys and girls had been 4-H members during the past 50 years. "We have letters from some of the first clubs in the State," he said, "and they have recalled for us how valuable their 4-H training has been through the years. We know that present day clubs are different from those of half a century ago, but then as now, our major effort was to help the boy or girl to help themselves." Members of 50 years ago will attend the Roundup and participate in planned activities.

Weather Calls For Changes In Rose Garden Sprays

It is time to change rose fungicides for disease control. Sulfur compounds used in cool weather can cause burns in hot weather, say Harlan E. Smith, extension plant pathologist.

For black spot control, he says to change to captan, zineb, or maneb, and for powdery mildew control to Karathane or Millex. Applications should be made each week especially during rainy weather.

Smith says to avoid wetting the foliage when watering the lawn or roses and that spraying will give better control than dusting. A spreader sticker should be used with the spray for best results.

Black spots is characterized by large, roundish, black spots with irregular or frayed margins. The spots may occur on either or both surfaces of the leaves, and frequently develop unnoticed on the soft twigs and branches, and also on the leaf stems. When severely infected, the leaves may turn yellow and drop off. This weakens the plants and makes them more susceptible to dieback, drought and winter injury. It also results in smaller flowers that lack color and fragrance.

Farm To City Exodus To Slow Down, Is Predicted By A & M Economist

A Texas A&M agricultural economist has predicted that Texas exodus from the farm to the city will be slower in the future.

Dr. Robert R. Skrabanek says that it is highly probable that the farm population will continue to decline but at a much slower rate than the 26.5 percent—about 369,000—who have moved to the city from 1950-57.

In the survey made by Texas A&M, in cooperation with the USDA, Dr. Skrabanek said also that the farm population declined more slowly in Texas than in nearby Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana where the loss was 30.2 percent during the same period.

However, compared with the nationwide farm to city movement, Texas' 26.5 percent has been much higher than the national average of 18.6 percent.

The Texas farm population—1,018,000—made up 11.1 percent of the state's population in 1957, with five out of every 100 farm residents in the U. S. residing in Texas.

There was much migration to and from farms during the 1950-57 survey period, Dr. Skrabanek added. An estimated 815,000 moved from Texas farms during that period, but at the same time 314,000 moved to farms.

There were an estimated 199,000 births among farm populations during the period and an estimated 67,000 deaths.

The migration from farms was heavier in areas of prolonged drought than in areas where the drought was less serious.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

by Raymond Euler

We hope you will have an opportunity to read the Farm Bureau's cotton, feed grain and rice proposals to the Senate Agricultural Committee. A brief explanation will be presented to the papers this week. This proposal has been mentioned parenthetically in several news items in comparison with other proposals. In these articles, it has been stated that milo would be priced at $1.35 per hundred. This statement is in error. It is known that the price under the Farm Bureau proposal would have been approximately $2.18 per hundred in 1957-58 and will be about that figure in 1959 if the program is adopted by this session of congress.

You will be sure to note that, unless a program similar to Farm Bureau's is adopted, regarding cotton and feed grains, under the Agricultural Act of 1949 cotton farmers will be drastically cut in acreage for 1959, and in Texas alone it is likely that three million acres more will go into grain sorghums. Anyone can guess what would happen to the grain sorghum market if that should happen.

The agriculture committee has already stated that it will not give serious consideration to any single commodity program. That is because they can see that circumstances regarding one, will inevitably effect some others. This has always been the case since acreage allotments have been in effect on "basic commodities". A tying together of the program is necessary to maintain a balance.

Your weed committee would like to remind you to see someone at the ASC Office if you find a farm? An eight-page booklet is available telling how to find a farm, where to go, advise, and how a farm can be financed. This may be old stuff to most farmers, but is worthwhile reading for any would-be farmer.

bindweed on your farm, and see your county agent if there is bindweed in barrow pits on roads adjoining your farm. Any member of the weed committee would like to know of these locations, too, so that they can mark them on maps for future reference. You could tell one of the FFA boys of your school district, as he is interested in completing a map of locations, too.

Quick Outdoor Meal On A Stick

A quick, easy way to prepare the main dish for a picnic or outdoor meal is to cook on skewers. "Shish-kabobs" are delicious and different.

There are many possibilities, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists. You may have all vegetables or all meat on the skewer, or alternate the meat cubes with a combination of vegetables such as tomato wedges, chunks of carrot, mushrooms, piece of green pepper, onion, etc.

A basic "shish-kabob" is made with boneless meat, cut in 1 1/2 or 2-inch cubes. Beef, pork, ham or pork may be used.

With lamb or veal, use the shoulder or leg; with beef, use the round, chuck or rump. Allow 1/2 to 3/4 pound per person.

Prepare the meat by brushing with lemon juice and olive oil, or marinate from 2 hours to 2 days in the following mixture: 1 part of lemon juice to 3 parts olive oil seasoned with crushed garlic, salt and pepper, and if you wish, add some thyme, oregano, bay leaf or cumin.

Now string the cubes on your skewers—if you like the meat rare, push the cubes closely together. For all-around crispness, separate the chunks on the skewer.

Broil over coals. It will take from 10 to 15 minutes, depending on how well done you want the food. Serve immediately.

Weather Calls For Changes In Rose Garden Sprays

It is time to change rose fungicides for disease control. Sulfur compounds used in cool weather can cause burns in hot weather, say Harlan E. Smith, extension plant pathologist.

For black spot control, he says to change to captan, zineb, or maneb, and for powdery mildew control to Karathane or Millex. Applications should be made each week especially during rainy weather.

Smith says to avoid wetting the foliage when watering the lawn or roses and that spraying will give better control than dusting. A spreader sticker should be used with the spray for best results.

Black spots is characterized by large, roundish, black spots with irregular or frayed margins. The spots may occur on either or both surfaces of the leaves, and frequently develop unnoticed on the soft twigs and branches, and also on the leaf stems. When severely infected, the leaves may turn yellow and drop off. This weakens the plants and makes them more susceptible to dieback, drought and winter injury. It also results in smaller flowers that lack color and fragrance.

Control Methods For Bagworms Are Given By Agent

Ornamental plants infested with bagworms must be treated while the worms are small if effective control of the pests is to be achieved, says Extension Entomologist C. F. Garner. Chemicals applied after the worms are grown give no control.

The worms hatch in the late spring or early summer and the larvae feed on the foliage of ornamental plants. The young worm spins a silken sack and attaches bits of leaves to it as it

FARM LAND PRICES HOLDING STEADY

The price of farm land in Texas and elsewhere is more than holding its own. Apparently, the business recession has not had an effect on land prices any more than the recent seven-year drought.

According to a recent nationwide survey, good farm land will continue to be a scarce commodity. During the 12-month survey period, only 31 of every 1,000 farms were voluntarily put up for sale. This compares with 57 ten years ago. As recently as 1952, more than 35 percent of all land sales were made by active farmers; now only 50 percent are.

There is a possibility that social security may result in some slight easing of the tight land supply situation, however. The acreage offered for sale by retired farmers is increasing.

Powdery mildew is characterized by a white, powdery coating that occurs on the leaves, buds and young stems. Immature leaves may be curled, distorted and light in color.

ing farmers is increasing. But competition to buy land is becoming stiffer. Bulk of the demand is by farmers wanting more acres for expansion. The survey showed roughly 40 percent of all farm real estate purchases were made by active farmers for farm enlargement. And this percentage is increasing.

Not just farmers are bidding furiously for farm land. More and more city folks are in the market too. Thirty-six percent of buyers were non-farmers, up from 32 percent five years ago.

Other findings showed the average value of farm real estate increased 6 percent from the spring of 1957 through the spring of this year. And values in two regions of the country climbed substantially more—the southwest (up 10 percent, largely because of Florida) and the northern plains states (up 9 percent).

Total value of all farm real estate in the U. S. is now figured at $116 billion—up $109 billion a year ago. $74 billion 10 years ago, and $35 billion 20 years ago.

Weather Calls For Changes In Rose Gardens

It is time to change rose fungicides for disease control. Sulfur compounds used in cool weather can cause burns in hot weather, say Harlan E. Smith, extension plant pathologist.

For black spot control, he says to change to captan, zinc or maneb, and for powdery mildew control to Karathane or Mildex. Applications should be made each week especially during rainy weather.

Smith says to avoid wetting the foliage when watering the lawn or roses and that spraying will give better control than dusting. A spreader sticker should be used with the spray for best results.

Black spot is characterized by large, roundish, black spots with irregular or frayed margins. The spots may occur on either or both surfaces of the leaves, and frequently develop unnoticed on the soft twigs and branches, and also on the leaf stems. When severely infected, the leaves may turn yellow and drop off. This weakens the plants and makes them more susceptible to dieback, drought and winter injury. It also results in smaller flowers that are weak in color and fragrance.

Powdery mildew is characterized by a white, powdery coating that occurs on the leaves, buds and young stems. Immature leaves may be curled, distorted and light in color.

Bagworms Have Arrived
College Station, June 5—Ornamental plants infested with bagworms must be treated while the worms are small if effective control of the pests is to be achieved, says Extension Entomologist.

Two nationally recognized educational authorities in the field of chiropractic will be the main speakers at the three-day convention which is expected to attract more than 500 practitioners from all parts of Texas. They are Dr. Vinton Logan of St. Louis, president of Logan Chiropractic College, and Dr. Carl Cleveland of Kansas City, dean of Cleveland Chiropractic College.

One of the highlights of the convention will be the selection of a Miss Good Posture of Texas. By elimination contests both local and regional, the contestants have been narrowed to nine young ladies to compete in the finals.

C. F. Garner Chemicals applied after the worms are grown give no control.

The worms hatch in the late spring or early summer and the larvae feed on the foliage of ornamental plants. The young worm spins a silken sack and attaches bits of leaves to it as it feeds. The bag is carried by the worm as it moves about. A full grown worm may produce a bag from one and a half to two inches long and one inch wide. The worm becomes most difficult to control.

The female bagworm remains in the bag and dies after depositing her eggs. The bags should be picked from infested plants and burned because the eggs for next season's worms go through the winter inside the bags.

Garner recommends the use of either chlordane or toxaphene as a 10 percent dust. For a spray, he says 40 percent chlordane emulsion concentrate or a 60 percent toxaphene emulsion applied at the rate of one to two tablespoons per gallon of water will give good control if used while the worms are small. Lead arsenate used at the rate of one to two tablespoons per gallon of water is a good spray.

The entomologist suggests that a copy of L-199, Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants, be obtained from the local county agent. It lists controls for insects which normally cause the home gardener the most trouble.

"With the automatic timer and perfect heat control, I can always count on taking eighteen perfect cakes from my double ovens every time."

"I have baked over 4,000 pounds of cake in my electric range and not a single failure!"

"Even after baking over 4000 pounds of cake, I still get a thrill when I take eighteen 'just right' cakes from my ELECTRIC double oven!"
says Mrs. John Ward, 1907 W. 6th St., Plainview, Texas

"My double oven electric range turned my hobby into a business — thanks to the controlled heat in the ovens. The ovens are a big help in my baking business, but I use them for family meals, too. I can bake one dish at a low temperature while I'm baking bread at a higher temperature in the other oven. Incidentally, I used the first profits from my cakes to pay for my new electric range. Now they're put aside for a college educational fund for our children."

"For years I had the false impression that cooking electrically was a slower process, but my electric range proved to me just how wrong I was. One wonderful feature of cooking electrically is that it cooks clean. Pots and pans don't get that 'burned-on' look and the range itself is so very easily cleaned. I like my electric range because it is fast, clean, thrifty and dependable. In fact, I like everything about it. The deep well has so many uses from baking potatoes to making pots of soup."

Have you had your free demonstration of the electric range of your choice? If not, see your Reddy Kilowatt dealer and get your certificate for two free bug lamps. Yellow bug lamps, which fit ordinary sockets, eliminate most of the light that insects see, yet provide a soft, comfortable light for outdoor living.
