The second annual career day conference for area high school students has been scheduled for April 16 at Muleshoe high school, under the sponsorship of the education committee of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce.

Last year more than 200 students from 10 area schools attended the first conference held here, which was considered an unqualified success.

Queries have been sent to senior classes in the area on 45 vocational choices about which they would like to have more information. Top selections will then be put on the agenda for discussion and explanation.

Schools which have been invited to send senior and junior students to the conference include Muleshoe, Friona, Farwell, Lazbuddie, Olton, Springlake, Bula, Three Way, Sudan, and Spade.

Production Credit Association Expects 1958 Loans To Surpass $18 Million Mark

Plainview Production Credit Association expects its 1958 loans to total about $18 million, approximately four and a half million more than it lent out in 1957. An estimated 1,000 borrowers are expected to be served by the Association.

About 650 stockholders and members of their families were present for the annual meeting held last Saturday in the Plainview high school building. Clay Henry, secretary-treasurer, said Saturday's attendance represented about 30 percent of the total stockholders and their families.

Last year, the association which has offices at Muleshoe, Dimmitt, Floydada, Littlefield, as well as its headquarters in Plainview, lent $13,586,812, as much as it lent in the 13 years following its organization in 1934.

Car Tags, Safety Stickers, Income Tax Deadlines All Loom Before U. S. Taxpayer

The next few weeks are important ones for every official American taxpayer.

Between now and April 15, every salaried person who drives a car must, under penalty of the law, do three things.

First, automobile license tags must be on cars and trucks by April 1. Already the tax assessor's office reports long waiting lines, and personnel there are bracing for a big rush of last minute tag buyers as the deadline nears. As of this morning 2667 persons had secured their tags for 1958.

April 15 is also an important date. Car owners must have their vehicles inspected and bearing a safety inspection sticker on the windshield by that date. There are several inspection stations in Muleshoe, all of whom report only sporadic inspections. They too, anticipate a long line of waiting cars just before deadline time.

Early this month, only about one-fourth of the cars registered had been inspected.

And for every wage earner, whether he owns and operates a vehicle or not, April 15 is the

High Moisture Points Way To Best Crop Prospects In High Plains Area Since 1949

The 1958 crop year is being faced with a mixture of highest optimism tempered with plans for diversification and new crops other than cotton and grain sorghum. With the highest moisture storage content in the soil recorded since 1949 for this time of year, farmers in the dryland area south of the sandhills have been placed on an almost equal footing with irrigated land farmers. And some of the dryland farmers are planning vegetable plantings, which in itself is an indication of the unusual early season crop situation.

City, School Elections Occupy Early Season Political Interest Locally

Early season politics began to take the spotlight this week as the date for two important elections looms nearer. Election of three city officials is slated for Tuesday, April 1, and school trustee elections in three districts within the county are scheduled for April 6.

Although no opponents filed for places on the ballot, the names of three incumbent city officials will be offered for re-election next Tuesday. Incumbent Mayor W. T. Bovell, and aldermen Ernest Kerr and Morris Douglass will seek re-election ballot.

There is quite a different picture insofar as school trustee posts are concerned, with 16 candidates seeking seven board posts in the April 6 balloting.

In the Muleshoe school district the terms of David Anderson and Vernie Towns are expiring, and neither are seeking re-election. Candidates for the two posts include one woman, Mrs. Bennard Phelps, and four men, B. R. Putman, Robert Blackwood, Don Moore and James Leigon.

C. F. Jones has filed for re-election as precinct 1 county school board trustee.

Bula

In the Bula school district trustee election Archie McBee and John Hubbard are retiring board members, with McBee seeking re-election. Other candidates are Paul Young and DeWitt Tiller.

Jim Claunch has announced for re-election as county trustee from precinct 4.

Three Way

At Three Way, the terms of three trustees expire this year. Retiring terms are held by Carl Pollard, Pete Tarlton, and Willie Welch. All three have filed for re-election. Other candidates for the three posts are Horace Huteton, George Tyson, Jack Furgeson, A. G. Taylor, and Roy Tunnell.

Holdover members of the Three Way board are Charlie Byars, Morris Gaat, Earl Bowers, and Ed Latimer.

Vegetables in South County

Several farmers in the Maple area are planning to plant potatoes this spring, both Irish and sweet potatoes, the latter being relatively new crop in the county on large scale production. At least one farmer is installing equipment for growing sweet potato seedlings for commercial planting.

Of the total 340,000 acres in cultivation in the county, less than 100,000 acres are expected to be planted to cotton this season. With moisture conditions as they are, probably more than 200,000 acres will be planted to grain sorghums, with the new hybrids getting the most play this year, following several years of testing in the fields.

About 2,000 acres are expected to go into vegetables, with potatoes and tomatoes the major crop in this division. Organization of a vegetable growers association and plans for a new packing shed here, have spurred interest in vegetable growing on a commercial scale.

The county ASC office reports an estimated 40,000 acres in the various soil bank programs. Their figures also show an estimated 111,000 acres in cotton and wheat allotment land, with the balance of the 340,000 in grain sorghum, vegetables, sesame and other crops.

A not inconsiderable acreage will go into the various soil bank acreage reserve program, also. The remainder of the cultivated land will be put to wheat, pasture, sudan and an increasing amount of sesame will be planted this year.

Seed Shortage

This year, more than ever before, most farmers will be cautious about planting cotton until they are sure the ground temperature is warm enough for a good stand. A critical shortage of high-germination seed is in prospect for the farmer who plants too early and must plant over to get a good stand. Most recommendations from government agricultural sources are for planting seed from the 1956 production, which has good germination factors.

A regular check of soil temperatures will begin in late April, with first plantings expected in early May. Last year, the Lubbock Experiment Station reported mid-May plantings gave best yields in that locality.

More than 13 inches of moisture from snow and rain have been recorded here since mid-September, 1957. Most of this moisture has been retained due to high humidity and little wind and blowing so far this spring. Deep moisture has been stored, changing the farming plans of many farmers in the area.

Because of the deep moisture, there is little deep plowing expected in this area, and farmers are more concerned with moisture conservation this year than in previous times because of this factor.

Banquet Honoring Commissioners To Be On April 3

Mutual Security Program

Farm Bureau policy for 1958 supports the Mutual Security Program. Under present conditions, the security of the United States depends in large measure upon strong, dependable partners.

However, proper safeguards should be taken to avoid waste and the disruptive effects of projects not geared to the economies of cooperating nations and to prevent the initiation of projects which encourages socialism and stifle free enterprise.

FB WILL URGE that Mutual Security Program be separated into three distinct categories: (1) economic aid, (2) military aid, and (3) technical assistance.

In the budget the Administration has requested $3.9 billion for the Mutual Security Program. Farm Bureau will recommend that this amount be reduced by at least $620 million. We recognize that the total cost of this program is but a small fraction of the expenditures required should we fail in the effort to secure lasting peace. Nevertheless, waste must be avoided.

Agents Get Detailed Report On Hybrid Grain Sorghums At Lubbock Station

Dr. Nick Kramer, of the Lubbock Experiment Station gave county agents of this district a thorough briefing report on Texas hybrid sorghums in use at the present time at a meeting held Tuesday at the station.

Dr. Kramer's comments, in brief, follow:

"RS-590 is considered a cool weather hybrid, and is not so well suited to early planting. When planted about June 25 shows good results.

"Texas 601 is most like Martins in growing habits and harvesting efficiency. It is better than RS-590 for early planting and can be harvested earlier than Texas 610. It is considered a good bet for dryland with ample moisture.

"Texas 610 is typical in that makes all it can on available moisture, while Texas 611 is more like Kaffir in that it will wait for rain and produce good yields after late rains. It is rated number one on standability.

"Texas 620 is as good as the best under ideal soil and moisture conditions.

"RS-650 and Texas 660 are similar, and are classed together as green headed, slow maturing, extra high producers. 650 has better standability following the freeze last fall.

Dr. Kramer stated that R-10 hybrid is not suited for High Plains growing.

"Texas 630 is a poor pollinator, and seed breeders probably will drop it from production."

Propose Plan To Acquire More Game Refuge

In a new approach to the problem of preserving key wetlands for waterfowl management, Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton announced the Department of the Interior has proposed that all net proceeds from duck stamp revenues be used for acquisition of lands for National Wildlife Refuges.

The proposal also calls for an increase in the price of the duck stamp from $2 to $3 to make possible an acquisition program at the pace necessary to offset the disappearance of these waterfowl areas in the face of expanding demand for new sites for home, farm and industry. This part of the proposal already has the endorsement of the International Association of Game Fish and Conservation Commissioners and the Secretary's Advisory Committee for Fish and Wildlife.

At the present rate of duck stamp sales, the proposal would make available $66 million in the next ten years for the preservation of important wildlife lands before they are lost through development for other purposes. The present law contains no requirements for any specific portion of the revenues to be spent for acquisition. The only earmarking now is that not more than 15 percent may be used for law enforcement and printing and distributing the stamps. Much of the remainder has been spent for refuge operation and development, surveys, and investigations. Under the new proposal, these items would be handled by direct appropriation by the Congress. The relatively small cost of printing and distributing would be the only charge covered by Duck Stamp funds, except acquisition.

Plans for a stepped-up sales campaign were revealed by Jack Morris of Muleshoe Motor Co. following his return from a meeting of Mercury dealers in Dallas—one of a series of more than 60 such meetings being held throughout the nation to develop intensified new-car promotions. Morris reported that sales executives headed by Joseph E. Bayne, general sales manager, George S. Coats, field sales manager, and Robert J. Fisher, Mercury marketing manager, announced new merchandising programs. Mercury regional and district sales managers conducted the sessions.

The meetings were an integral part of an expanding multi-million dollar advertising and promotion campaign which features Mercury as the Performance Champion for 1958.

"You men here now have provided that there is nothing wrong with the economy that cannot be cured by confidence—and in the auto business nothing generates confidence faster than a few more sales", Mr. Bayne declared. "We at the factory have developed a merchandising program which will help you if you help yourself by following up these nationwide promotions with some equally aggressive selling at the hometown level", Mr. Bayne said.

BABSON DISCUSSES

YOUR POCKETBOOK

Babson Park, Mass., March 27
 —Bread lines which have now sprung up in some of our cities only six months after prosperity was booming along last summer suggest that something is pretty radically wrong with people's economics. What really is the matter? How Big Is Your Pocketbook?

 For several years, I have been warning that we could not continue to live it up forever without one day paying the piper. I often wonder when I am driving around in an eight-year old automobile how the average factory worker could afford his one or two shiny new cars.

Strong appetites have been whetted for housing and cars and appliances and luxuries; and consumers have jeopardized their family finances by overbuying. Don't get me wrong, I am in favor of as many new homes as TV's and cars as the family pocketbook can stand. All these represent a higher standard of living. But I am for these things only after the worker has first set aside a portion of his weekly pay check in some form of liquid savings.

Bad Lines vs. Bad Accounts

When are you spending too much and not saving enough? When you have extended yourself to the point that you don't know where next month's rent is coming from if you lose your job this week, then you have obviously overextended. Unemployment insurance, or tax cutting, or any form of "pump priming" is like relieving pain with a mustard plaster when a surgical operation is really needed.

From the stories of bread lines in places like Detroit, Michigan; Saco and Biddeford, Maine; Long Island; the West Coast; and a number of other areas where major industries have slowed down, it seems that consumers have greatly overextended themselves. Frankly, this kind of situation scares me to death. I have talked with merchants in some of these areas. One, a typical hardware store operator who gives the outward appearance of being very successful, says that he could be folded up very easily. All that has to happen is for a few of his creditors to press him for the payment of a few bills and he is done. The situation in many areas of our country parallels the old game you used to play with dominoes. Remember how you used to stand the dominoes on end next to one another in a long line, then knock the first one down, and away went all? A business depression is like many an illness; only a change in our habits and attitude toward life can permanently cure it.

Who Is To Blame?

Without doubt much of our current recession was precipitated by our labor leaders. I believe in labor unions and once was Assistant to the Secretary of Labor in Washington. We could count on full employment as long as wages and production kept in balance. When, however, wages were dragging behind production, we had severe strikes; but when production did not keep up with wages, we had recessions. Both labor and management will now take a licking until prices again come down and we consumers get a fair deal. This is nature's cure; government plasters will not help the situation.

It is easy to blame our present difficulties on Mr. Eisenhower, or the Republicans, or the Federal Reserve for their attempts to balance our economy. But I personally believe our problem goes back a lot further than the Eisenhower Administration. It started when labor leaders were exempted from the Anti-Trust Laws. Economic trouble was also spawned for us all at the point back in the thirties when we demanded "womb-to-tomb" security. When we shrugged off the responsibility for our own welfare and held the government accountable for our jobs, the education of our children, and what happens to us in our old age, we are headed for trouble. We have lost our sense of values and justice. We don't save for that "rainy day" any more; we don't bother about a nest egg for the education of our children; we don't purchase adequate life insurance, but depend instead upon social security. Perhaps this present reversal in business conditions could turn out to be a blessing in disguise for many. Let us all do a little sound searching into the question of how we got into this situation, both individually and collectively.

RECOVERING FROM SURGERY

Helen Stroud is reported recovering from surgery March 10 in Otton Memorial Hospital. She is home now, and enjoying a visit from her mother and family, Mrs. V. E. Garland and children of Colorado Springs.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Journal staff enjoyed receiving recently the letter we are printing below (without the writer's express permission). The staff was encouraged to intensify their efforts to produce a better and more representative paper; and we think the letter is worthy of printing because of its accurate appraisal of what we have here in the Muleshoe and Bailey county areas. —Editor, Muleshoe Journal, Muleshoe, Texas

March 17, 1958
 Gentlemen:

I read your Journal with much interest. It is noteworthy. To me the most outstanding thing about Muleshoe and surrounding country is the production of young men and women who have been inculcated with the value of education. Almost all your issues mention numerous of the youth of your section attending colleges and universities.

The production of crops and the savings reflected in bank deposits are truly formidable, but the stored up wealth in these young people who pursue learning will, if continued, create more wealth than can be reckoned in future years.

I knew Muleshoe as a hamlet, from 1922, principally because it had a railroad station, well operated for the surrounding community. Muleshoe and territory represent a real accomplishment, as does your newspaper.

I am not writing to you for publication. If anything suggested is to be reprinted, do it without my name please. But the thoughts expressed are pertinent observations for an observer.

Very truly yours,
 A. X. ERICKSON

MISFIRE!

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has some advice for cities this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:
 I was out here on my farm last week watching spring arrive. I know spring will arrive whether you watch it or not, so will a flooded river rise if it keeps raining, but the same argument can be used on any night's television run, although I understand there are people who believe just the opposite, on the theory I guess the set will explode if they don't turn it on and let the programs out, and some of the programs I've seen ought to be let out, with the windows thrown open to boot at any rate, I was out here feeling pretty confident that eventually spring will work its way around to being here without any help on my part, which is one of the things I like about the season, when I noticed a newspaper caught on a bush, and while some people claim buds busting loose on a bush is a wonderful sight, a good newspaper in the same spot is hard to beat.

So I left the buds to nature and took the paper home and read it. According to an article I read in it, a city planner was worrying over the plight of big cities, saying it's going to take a tremendous amount of work to keep them abreast of modern times. "Too many city street patterns are obsolete," he said. "Mass transportation systems are unwieldy, makeshift or patched-up water and sewer systems are prevalent", etc., and he thought something ought to be done about it.

But I'd like to suggest to him that it's surprising how long you can keep patchin' up things and still get by. I've got one fence that's moved 30 feet east in the last 20 years, just by fastening the wires to a different tree when the one I had them fastened to rotted and fell over. If I did anything that ought to be done on this farm out here, I estimate it'd take 15 years, and by the time I finished with the last one, the first one would be as run-down as when I started. I know a man who is doing everything he can without letting up, night or day, to get his farm, all his fences, all his equipment, all his furniture all his appliances, exactly like he wants them, and the way he's going I figure he'll do it, and will have possibly 2 or 3 years on the tailend of his life to enjoy them, if he's not in the hospital at the time.

I learned long ago whatever is modern today will be old-fashioned tomorrow, and if the system you've got works, let it.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

Your Opinions Please

This is No. 2 of a series of questions asked the citizens of Texas in the Hale-Aikin state-wide study of the Texas public schools. If you cannot attend the county committee meetings in person, you are invited to write your own answers, clip out this questionnaire, and send it to the Study Chairmen for your County, Judge Glen Williams.

- In your opinion, would a longer period of time in school result in a better instructional program? What are your suggestions?
- What do you recommend be done by the State and the districts to insure effective guidance for every pupil?
- What can be done at the State and district level to assure that vocational instruction is meeting the present needs?
- What do you believe should be done by the State and local districts to meet the needs of the gifted child?
- Are the handicapped children in your county now provided for adequately? If not, what should be done?

This questionnaire is printed by your newspaper as a public service to the Hale-Aikin Committee in Bailey County.

Plant Before You Want Is Advice for Gardeners

Plant before you plant" is a rule for successful vegetable gardening. So says B. G. Cook, extension horticulturist.

For instance, many vegetables grown in the home garden are wasted because too large a quantity of one vegetable matures at the same time. With few exceptions, vegetables remain edible for only a short period after they reach maturity. Top quality is even more transient. One way to avoid having too large a crop at once, then nothing is to make succession plantings of the same vegetable, suggests Hancock. Plant only enough seed of crops like sweet corn, radish, and beans to provide the amount that can be used within a short period. Then, after two or three weeks, plant another lot to mature after the first harvest has been exhausted. Or, if the variety used will not do well later in the season, plant other varieties that mature later.

This kind of planning calls for a careful study of seed varieties and must be done well ahead of planting time. It also may require the purchase of more seed, therefore a somewhat larger investment. But these things pay off in greater satisfaction at harvest time.

Another thing to look for in studying the seed varieties is the height to which they will grow. Tall-growing crops should be planted together and low-growing ones together (preferably to the south of the taller ones) to avoid shading the lower plants. Vegetables need about 8 hours of full sunlight to produce well.

Storm Cellar Plans Available At A&M Or Agent's Office

If you were to see the destructive, black funnel of a tornado rushing directly toward your home, where would you and your family go for protection and safety?

No, this question is not far-fetched. In fact, many Texans have experienced this and other similar disasters from time to time. Many of them had never realized the value of a safe place just as we never miss the water until the well goes dry.

But, why not construct a storm cellar before a tornado strikes to remind you that you need one? It can be constructed easily without any special skills and only a few special tools.

Since tornadoes generally move from southwest to northeast, the storm cellar should be located southwest of the house. Its entrance should face northeast. It should be located far enough from the house that a falling wall, large trees or other debris will not block the entrance. Too select a well-drained site which can be landscaped to harmonize with the home surroundings.

Storm cellars should be constructed strong enough to withstand the impact of falling debris. It should also be watertight, economical and relatively easy to keep.

The size of the cellar depends on expected use. For an extended period of comfortable occupancy, allow about 10 square feet of floor area per person. Short occupancy requires only about two square feet per person. Adequate ventilation should be provided.

Instructions on constructing a satisfactory storm cellar plus other information, such as other uses for the cellar, food, storage, for example, is contained in a Texas Agricultural Extension Service leaflet, L-388, "The Disaster Cellar." It may be obtained from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

HERE FROM CARLSBAD

Grain Sorghum Men Name Frank Moore As New President

Frank Moore, Hale county farmer and agricultural leader of Plainview, was elected president of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association at the annual election of officers in Plainview, Monday, March 17. Mr. Moore succeeds R. G. Peeler, Deaf Smith County agricultural leader of Hereford, who has headed the 17 county research market development and legislative organization since its founding three years ago.

In requesting that he not be re-elected, Peeler pointed out the strong leadership available from the various counties served by the Association. Peeler remains legislative director for the group. Moore, an active leader in the Grain Sorghum Association's activities since its founding, has served on various committees in the interest of sorghum producers and has been to Washington in connection with the National Association of Commodity Organizations several times in recent months.

The area directors retained Elbert Harp of Abernathy, as secretary-treasurer, and Sam Gilbreath, Castro County director, of Dimmitt as vice-president. Bill Nelson, 3320 Patterson, Amarillo, serves the Association as executive vice-president.

Vegetable Men To Employ Shed Manager Soon

The Chamber of Commerce manager, Senn Stimmmons, has informed The Journal that no plans are being made to lease a vegetable shed to any one, in a fashion similar to deals made last year in Dimmitt. Stimmmons said the vegetable growers group is planning to employ a manager to operate the shed for the owners, composed of farmers and business men in this area.

A fund raising campaign is in progress now to secure money to build the shed for this season.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

by Raymond Euler

Your county president, Gilbert Kaltwasser was guest speaker at Olton last week. The occasion was a kickoff breakfast for their community Farm Bureau membership drive. He was accompanied by Mose Glasscock, director from Farwell.

This reminds us to remind you of the names of other directors of Parmer County Farm Bureau. Besides the two mentioned above, they are: Jack Patterson, vice-president; Dennis Williams, chairman of the commodity committee; Donald Christian, member of the legislative and resolutions committee; Roy V. Miller, secretary-treasurer, and member of the service committee; L. F. Bruns, John Range, members of service committee; J. D. White, member of membership committee; John Henderson and Ernest Anthony, and H. P. Hamilton, chairman of the legislative and resolutions committee.

The weed committee met a few days ago and reorganized. They elected Raymond Schuler chairman for another year, and Vernon Symcox is secretary. Other members of the committee are V. F. Wilcox, R. D. Dale, Reinhold Steinbock, A. R. McCutchan, Joe Jasko, Gus Schlabs, Vocational Agriculture instructors from most of the schools cooperate, too.

Although Farm Bureau does not have all the answers to obstacles to the successful future of agriculture, we believe it is the best tool you have to use in that direction. If you are not a member, it will be that much better if you join, because it will then have one more opinion to consider on each objective sought. You may have the answer the membership is looking for.

He recently gave his address, "Man on the Way Up" before Muleshoe Lions Club and enthralled his listeners. Sgt. Lackey last week addressed the Chamber of Commerce in Littlefield and made quite an impression there, too.

SOYBEANS HAVE FOUND A PLACE IN WEST TEXAS AGRICULTURE

AN ESTABLISHED LOCAL MARKET FOR YOUR SOYBEANS

A point that generally plagues a new crop in a new area is one of markets. This problem has been removed for West Texas growers, since there is an established daily market for soybeans through Western Cottonoil Co.

Western Cottonoil Co.'s Lubbock Mill has new, modern facilities to process both cottonseed and soybeans, thus providing a ready local market for the soybean growers of the Plains of Texas. This program was instituted in 1957 and is designed to serve West Texas agriculture, both present and future.

The rotation of "sorghum-soybeans-cotton" appears to have established a firm foothold in West Texas irrigated agriculture. The major contributing factors have been that soybeans reduce the cotton production costs in hand labor required to hoe the crop when compared to following cotton after sorghums, and increased cotton yields following soybeans. These factors, plus the general improvement of soil tilth, make the rotation of "sorghum-soybeans-cotton" appear to be a permanent part of the farming economy of the High Plains of Texas.

"Dust storms sure were bad news—till I switched to AMALIE L. P. G.!"

That old common-grade oil I used to use in these irrigation engines sure did let the dirt and dust and cut cake up in those engines! But worse than that, with butane or propane, it thickened up when it looked almost like gear-grease! Man, what a change with this AMALIE L. P. G. Oil!

AMALIE L. P. G. is more than just a good oil, it's a super oil. When you burn butane or propane (Liquid Petroleum Gas), ordinary oil won't do. It must be ENGINEERED for L. P. G. And AMALIE L. P. G. is just that. 100% pure Pennsylvania—no other crude like it on earth. Special additives, to hold that dust, grit, etc. in suspension—so they filter out. And above all, it holds its viscosity—its "flowing" qualities. Give YOUR engines—and your bank balance—a break!

TODAY'S MEDITATION

Read John 1:14-18.
Of his fullness we all received, and grace for grace. For the law was given through Moses; grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. (John 1:16, 17, ASV.)

We were at prayer meeting in the lean-to chapel back of the church in Cheng Tu, West China. A hymn had been sung. The Chinese pastor had read a few verses of Scripture and commented on them.

At my left, in the end of the seat, sat a poor man. I had never before seen him. He followed several others in prayer. One sentence in his prayer in Chinese has clung to my memory through the years as a real blessing.

To express the same idea in English requires more words and also loses some of its force. Using Chinese words of strength, he said, "Most earnestly we beseech God to add grace to grace."

That poor man may not have been well-versed in the classics, but he certainly knew God and the Bible and practiced the grace of obedience.

PRAYER
Dear Lord, we thank Thee for the inspiration of prayers we have heard. Some of them have been abiding blessings to us. Add grace to grace in our lives that we may be a help to others, as others have been a blessing to us. In Christ's name and for his sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
This day I will pray and practice the grace of obedience.

WAC Junior College Training Offered

The Women's Army Corps offers a limited number of college junior coeds the chance to live the life of a WAC commissioned officer for four weeks this summer. M/Sgt. Cecil Garrett, U. S. Army Recruiter announced today.

Sgt. Garrett explained this WAC Junior Training Program will be conducted at the WAC Center, Fort McClellan, Ala., to afford college women a first hand look at the Army in both class room studies and outside practical application.

To qualify, coeds must be currently enrolled in an accredited college or university and must be in the junior year. Accepted applicants will receive transportation, pay, meals, lodging, and uniforms.

There is no future obligation for persons electing to spend this four weeks in the WAC. Sgt. Garrett pointed out, however, that the purpose of the program is to acquaint those who participate with the later advantages which are possible for college graduates.

"It's really an excellent way for college juniors to actually see if they would like an executive career in the Women's Army Corps after they earn their degree," the Sergeant said.

Evening and weekend recreation at the center includes extra-curricular activities such as movies, dancing, golf, tennis and swimming.

Due to the limited number of openings available, interested persons are urged to submit applications without delay. For further information contact M/Sgt. Garrett at the Selective Service Office in Muleshoe.

These cancelled checks sure saved me some money!

"I found some items that were deductible that I had completely forgotten about. Cancelled checks are good evidence, too, and I know Uncle Sam is particular about that."

You would be wise to open a checking account before another week goes by

Lone ★ Agriculture

By JOHN C. WHITE, Commissioner

The "between-crops" period in farming is always a time for weighing prospects both on the farm, at the market place and in the country. Probably even more people have been set to wondering what's in store for them this year, considering unusual weather, uncertain legislation, and nervous economic conditions of which much has been said and little done. Following are a few brief sketches concerning late happenings in agriculture, dealing variously with commodities, weather, economy, and time developments in farm progress.
WET WEATHER has blessed many and burdened many others. Plains-West Texas wheat prospects look generally good, having already attained enough moisture to carry the crop well into spring. This is good news to Texas farmers if not to surplus-minded government chiefs who have been having some trouble marketing their goods abroad lately. Farther south, in the Rio Grande Valley, farmers are less happy with the weather. Onion harvesting has been seriously delayed, by as much as a month in some cases. During the delay, old-crop onion prices climbed higher in commercial trade.
THE RECESSION, along with better supply prospects, is expected to help lower beef prices somewhat from the present healthy level. Some livestock men say prices probably have reached their peak and will gradually drop by as much as 20 percent by early summer.
TEXAS POULTRY PROCESSORS are keeping an eye on the California state legislature which is considering bills to discourage imported chickens. Although California produces only a fraction of the broilers needed to satisfy the brisk local demand, home growers are fighting hard to keep out Southland competition, not a small part of which is Texas competition. A sample proposed bill would require retailed chickens to bear a "date killed" stamp, hinting that shipped-in products become stale in transit.

HYBRID COTTONS, crosses between older strains which offer higher yields and better quality — are becoming feasible on a larger scale. Researchers say spraying cotton with chemicals produces a no-pollen plant which can be then fertilized with pollen from another variety, resulting in a true hybrid. Hybrid cottons up to now have been possible only through tedious hand-pollination.

Christian Science Services

God's supremacy and all-power will be explained in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Reality", at Christian Science services Sunday.
From the Bible will be read the following (1 Chronicles 29:11): "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty; for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all."
Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (472:24-25): "All reality is in God and His creation, harmonious and eternal."
The Golden Text is from Psalms (33:11): "The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations."

Men of the church have been working on the new parsonage for the past few weeks and now have it about completed. Ladies of the church held Monday afternoon to wash windows and clean inside in preparation for the pastor and wife to move in this week.

The new parsonage is an attractive two bedroom home recently purchased by members of the church and men of the church have done the plumbing and most of the inside work. This project is something for the church to be happy about.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Thomas of McCamey, Texas, spent the weekend in the home of her parents, the Leon Kesslers.

Ladies of the Bula Church of Christ met Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the church building and plan to continue meeting each week now after several weeks of not meeting. Their study will be a six month study or review of the book "Christian

Representative Of Social Security Here On April 3

In counting your earnings for the year in which you reach age 72, include what was earned after your 72nd birthday, as well as what was earned in the months before, John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock social security office declared.

Mr. Hutton gave the following example to illustrate this statement: "John Doe celebrated his 72nd birthday on May 31, 1957. He was working as a watchman at $200 per month. John thought it was unnecessary to file an annual report for 1957 because he had earned only $1,000 from January until his 72nd birthday on May 31. We had to ask him to file an annual report for 1957 because he had earned more than $1,200 for the calendar year 1957. Also we had to tell John that he would have to return his social security payments for January through April—the four full months in 1957 before his 72nd birthday." John's earnings of $2,400 were high enough to cause him to lose all his benefits for 1957 but since he became 72 in May, only benefits for January through April have to be repaid.

Hutton stressed the fact that all beneficiaries of old-age and survivors insurance must file an annual report if they reached age 72 after January 31, 1957, and earned over $1,200 during the calendar year.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security office will be in Muleshoe on April 3, 1958, at 9:30 a.m. at the courtroom, courthouse and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to Social Security.

REMEMBER WHEN?
by JOHN CROW

His name was Bill Bevens. He was not a well-known pitcher on the Yankee roster . . . but he almost reached the pinnacle of baseball fame on that October day.
Bevens had not pitched a perfect game. In fact, he had allowed one run, and there were two men on base in the ninth inning, with two out. But the Yankees were leading the Dodgers 2-1 . . . and Bevens was hurling a no-hit game.

Then came one of the most dramatic moments in World Series history. Cookie Lavagetto, a veteran Dodger third baseman nearing the end of his playing career, was called off the bench to pinch-hit with two down. He was the last man between Bevens and the Hall of Fame. Cookie ran out the count . . . then caught hold of Bevens' last pitch and drove it out for a double . . . two runs and the ball game! Bevens not only lost his no-hitter . . . but he lost the game.

Remember the year?
That was a year when many a man was trying to keep the old car going. New cars were scarce, and it wasn't very easy to make a good deal.
The year was 1947.
You'll find it's easy to make a good deal today with us on a brand new 1958 CHEVROLET. You won't want to limp along in the old car when you find out how much it's worth right now in trade, at—

Washington News Letter
by Lydon Johnson
Dear Friend:
Many questions come to me in letters I receive from friends in Texas. They are questions about unemployment and what can be done to provide more jobs for our people—questions about the possibilities of reducing taxes—questions about the Social Security program, the farm problem, and many other subjects.
Many of these questions are of general interest. I have therefore decided to answer some of them in this News Letter—although, of course, I reply directly to people who write to me. The answers given are based on the best information available from Congressional committees and Executive Agencies—and, when they involve a question of personal opinion, on my own views.
Is the present business slump likely to turn into a depression? All of us naturally hope not. Personally, my confidence in the future of our country is strong. I do not accept the theory that our nation is foredoomed to "boom and bust" cycles. I believe the American people have the initiative, the energy, and the courage to tackle any problem, no matter how big.
Between five and six million people are out of jobs. What is the Government doing about unemployment?
Approximately two million potential jobs could result from enactment of various measures pending before Congress.
The accelerated highway program would create a potential of 600,000 jobs. The bill providing this has been approved by the Senate Public Works Committee and will be taken up by the Senate in the very near future.
The Housing Bill could create a potential of 600,000 jobs.
A speed-up in expenditures of money already appropriated for civil and military public works would create a potential 480,000 jobs. The resolutions I introduced calling for such speed-up have been approved by Congress.
The $1,500,000,000 omnibus

River and Harbors Bill approved by Congress would create a potential 300,000 jobs if the construction were accelerated and compressed into six months.
Is anything being done to help the farmers?
We have passed a farm bill that would prevent further reduction in acreage allotments and keep farm prices from being forced down further. This is not all that needs to be done to meet the farm problem, but it is at least a step in the right direction.
Your own questions about current issues will be welcomed. So will your comments, your suggestions, your criticisms.

King-Size Multi-Level Is Regal Inside and Out

Here is a home that befits the Imperial Crown it has been awarded—"the country's most beautiful split-level." So breathtaking in appearance, this house by designer Don Scholz rightly belongs to those who appreciate the advantages of multi-level living. Its interior, too, so exciting in magnificent proportions. Nine rooms, 2 1/2 baths, four bedrooms. The enormous living-dining area is imposing with its sloping ceilings and massive beams. Extravagantly-spaced master suite has its own bath. The kitchen, designed and equipped for convenience with eye-level built-in oven, counter-top range, dishwasher, disposal, and ventilating fan, is combined with a delightful dining nook.
At the lower level, the fourth bedroom can become a maid's room with private bath. The paneled recreation room, 25 by 22 feet of family relaxation area, opens to the lower-level patio. A covered porch at the front, a main patio to the rear, and deep protective roof overhangs, climax the design.
To obtain more information about this award-winning home, write to Don Scholz Design Associates, Dept. 109, 2001 Westwood, Toledo 7, Ohio.
