Lynn Seventh In Cotton Ginnings

Lynn county had ginned 106,884 bales of 1954 cotton prior to February 16, according to the Bureau of Census, U. S. Department of Commerce.

Thus, Lynn county with a rank of seventh was back in the high ten counties in Texas in cotton production after a very dry 1953. Lubbock led the state with 220,499 bales, and Hale was second with 204,376. Lamb was third, Hockley sixth, Floyd eighth, Crosby 11th, Dawson 14th, Terry 15th.

Of the ten high counties in cotton production, six were from the High Plains. Many of the old cotton counties of central Texas were not even in the high twenty. Of course, on Jan. 16, there was still a small amount of cotton to be ginned in most Plains counties, but the figure will not change materially. However, it is possible that Floyd may pass Lynn.

Some of the cotton ginnings to Jan. 16 follow:

Lubbock	220,499
Hale	204,376
Lamb	178,130
Cameron	157,992
Hidalgo	157,117
Hockley	145,774
Lynn	106,884
Floyd	106,166
Neuces	106,028
Reeves	97,333
Crosby	96,872
Dawson	79,929
Terry	65,804
Bailey	58,875
Castro	52,145
Swisher	40,695
Cochran	28,219

Post, Spur Last On Schedule

With only two games to go, Tahoka basketball season comes to a close next Tuesday night.

Boys and girls teams play in Post tonight, Friday, and will close out the season here with Spur next Tuesday night.

The Bulldogs have had a fairly successful season, winning more than they have lost and taking top honors in one tournament, Seagraves and second in another, Abernathy.

In conference play the boys have won two and lost four, but District 5-AA is said to be the most evenly-matched district on the Plains this year.

The boys have been handicapped all season by a carry-over of football injuries, and basketball injuries and illness have contributed to weakening of the team at times.

The girls have played the best brand of ball of any girl's team the school has had and many of their games have been lost by from one to a few points.

Loss To Abernathy
The Bulldogs lost a heart-breaker here Tuesday night to Abernathy Antelopes 57 to 54. The Bulldogs led through the first two quarters, eight points at one point but the visitors caught up in the (Cont'd. On Back Page)

Seniors Rehearsing For Class Play To Be Presented Friday Next Week

Every once in a while a play by a new author comes along that is so unusual, charming, and entertaining that it is a pleasure to introduce his work. Such a comedy is "Curtain Going Up" by Gregory Johnston being presented by the Tahoka High School senior class in the school auditorium Friday night, Feb. 18.

It is the story of a play in high school. Among the myriad comic obstacles with which poor Miss Burgess is faced are the following: A grouchy janitor with a sharp tongue, the disappearance of the play books the first day of rehearsal, a set of comically crossed-up high school romances with a capital R, a charming young heroine who becomes stage-struck her bewildered boyfriend, a campus "actor" with a swollen head, the disgruntled athlete feeling out of place as an actor, a flamboyant professional actress with advice, a banker's daughter driven to theft and dirty tricks by her father's ambition—and, perhaps most unexpected of all, a romance for young Miss Burgess herself.

And, almost everything that can happen does happen. The solution to the mounting complications sets forth a worthwhile theme that will further satisfy (Cont'd. On Back Page)

Through January 15, a total of 106,884 bales had been ginned.

This year's crop exceeded the estimate of most people.

Mr. Davis moved to Lynn county in 1937 from Morton, and farmed in the T-Bar community until illness forced him to give up farming and he and his wife moved to Tahoka. He had also worked as an oil mill superintendent. He was born at Fort Worth Aug. 8, 1888, and was married to Miss Dannie Belle Proctor at Childress on Aug. 8, 1915. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Baptist Men Will Meet In Tahoka

"Two hundred and fifty or bust" were the words of J. T. Fulford Brownfield Baptist Association Brotherhood publicity chairman, as he set the goal for the February 15 meeting at the First Baptist church in Tahoka.

"With a speaker like Rev. W. E. Thorn to bring the message and a singer like Boswell Edwards to lead the song service the program will deserve 250," Fulford exclaimed.

Rev. Thorn is pastor of the Calvary Baptist church in Lubbock and Edwards is from New Home.

The quarterly meeting of the Brotherhood will start with supper at 7:30, Fulford said.

J. H. Key, 80, Is Death Victim

James Henry Key, 80, pioneer Dawson county farmer who resided in the Petty community of Lynn county for several years, died Monday at his home in Lamesa of a heart attack he had suffered two weeks before.

Funeral services were held there Tuesday, at the First Baptist Church, and Masonic services were held at Lamesa Cemetery.

Mr. Key was born near Corsicana Nov. 15, 1874, and moved to Erath county as a youth. He drove a herd of cattle to Big Spring in 1895. There, he married the former Lena Medlin in 1901. The couple moved to Key community, Dawson county, in 1905, that community being named for him. He moved to Lamesa in 1915, and owned and operated gins at Lamesa, Arvana, and Hindman.

He moved to Lynn county in 1937, and farmed in the north-west part of the county until about five years ago, when he moved back to Lamesa.

Ed Hamilton of Hamilton Auto and Appliance is having a formal opening of his enlarged and remodeled store at the southwest corner of the square today, Friday.

As an added inducement to visitors, he is giving away a washer, a radio, and other prizes, and will serve refreshments. Ed recently bought the adjoining service station building adjoining his original store, remodeled it with plate glass windows on the west and north and made the entire structure into a beautiful and roomy building. In the new building which is 25 by 58 feet in size, he is now stocking furniture and other household appliances, including seven lines of television sets.

$3,945 Raised For March of Dimes

Light Showers Some Benefit

Scattered showers Thursday afternoon and night of last week helped put additional season in the soil for the 1955 crop year. Tahoka received .33 inch in showers, bringing the year's precipitation of 1.25 inches. Farmers report that the soil is in better shape than it was at this time last year, but all would like to see some more moisture soon to wet the land down deep.

City Election Date Is Set

Tahoka City Council, at its meeting Monday night, officially set the first Tuesday in April, which comes on April 5, as the day for the annual City Election. Names of Candidates must be filed 30 days before the election, or by March 5.

Terms of the mayor, E. R. Edwards, and two aldermen, Herman Heck and Lewis Allsup, expire at this time. Each has said he does not wish to run again.

Geno Jones Sells Firm Interest

The deal became effective on February 4, but Mr. Jones will remain with the firm until March 1, he told The News Wednesday. On March 1, Jones will become associated with Shambeck Motor Co., local Ford Dealer.

Twin Sons Born To R. M. Thomas

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thomas of Grassland, who have three daughters, were hoping their next arrival would be a boy.

Their dream came true Sunday—but in a double dose—to the surprise of the Thomases and of their doctor. Twin sons were born to them in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock. Everybody is doing fine, and R. M. is wearing a big grin!

The first son, named John Robert, made his arrival at 3:03 P. M. Sunday, and weighed 5 pounds 1 ounce. The second arrived at 3:13 p. m., weighed three quarters of an ounce more and has been named James Martin.

The boys' three sisters are Jan, age 13, Judy, 10; and Joy, 6.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. (Luther) Thomas of Grassland and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Parker of Post are the grandparents.

MARVIN WOOD IMPROVING

Marvin Wood, who suffered a heart attack a few weeks ago, was able to leave the hospital for his home Monday. He will have to remain in bed for quite a while yet, but is improving steadily. Mrs. Wood asks The News to convey their thanks to the many friends who have been so nice to them during his illness. Marvin may have a very limited amount of company.

Mrs. Gladys Offield, former secretary of the Farm Bureau office, is the new secretary of Ross Smith in the Tahoka-Post National Farm Loan Association office. She succeeds Mrs. Lester Adams, who resigned on Feb. 1 when she and her husband bought the Adams Grocery.

Lynn county did not reach its high quota in the recent March of Dimes for fighting Infantile Paralysis, but it exceeded all previous drives by about $700.00. Clint Walker, county chairman, reports.

The county had been given a quota of $4,600.00 this year. Total funds received to date amount to $3,945.88. Of this amount, O'Donnell has reported $1,716.51, Tahoka $1,577.92, and Wilson $519.08, and all other communities, $132.37.

Of the total, half of the fund will remain in Lynn county for local use in assisting polio victims, and half will go to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. However, most years, Lynn county receives more than the total amount collected this year for treatment of Lynn county victims of the disease.

The Lynn County Soil Conservation District Supervisors met in their regular Board meeting Friday afternoon, February 4, 1955. Fred McGinty and Alton Cain, members of the Chamber of Commerce, met with the Board to discuss plans for the Farmer-Business man Banquet to be held in March. The Chamber of Commerce and the Soil Conservation District will jointly award prizes to the winners in the Soil Conservation Essay Contest. The awards will be made at the banquet.

Stubble Mulching

Kay Moore stated at the meeting that he had contacted a couple of implement companies who are interested in cooperating with the Lynn County Soil Conservation District to carry on some stubble mulch trials. These trials are to be carried out on cooperators' farms under the direction of Soil Conservation Service technicians. The purpose of the trials is to arrive at a cropping which will utilize all crop residue on the ground surface up to and including planting and cultivation of the following crop. "Our most critical period is when crops have just been planted and there is no protection to prevent crops from blowing out."

Moore stated, "If we can retain the stubble, or other crop residue, on the surface until the plant is up large enough to afford its own protection, then much of the expense of replanting blown out spots may be avoided."

Another idea to be carried along on these stubble mulch trials is that of planting sorghum in close space rows. That is, rows spaced 20 inches to 24 inches apart. However, the normal amount of seed per acre will be planted, thus making just half as many rows. This will give even plant distribution on the ground and thereby a more uniform area for root development.

Many farmers have indicated their interest in these trials and will want to watch the outcome. Progress will be reported in this column from time to time.

Grass Clinic

The Lynn County Soil Conservation District will sponsor a Grass Clinic next Thursday, February 17th. The meeting will be held in the County Court House at 2 p. m. Farmers, ranchers, and business men who are interested in grassland agriculture are asked to attend. J. C. Ebersole, Agrionomy Specialist for The Soil Conservation Service, will show slides and discuss grass production for grazing, seed production, and grassland revegetation. Mr. Ebersole has had considerable success in establishing grass in depleted ranges. The clinic will cultivate fields, and reseeding of be interesting and informative to those interested in grasses.

Essay Contest

Essayists who are intending to compete in the Fort Worth Press Save the Soil and Save Texas Contest should get their essays in to the S. C. S. office today, February 11. These essays should be mailed in to the state headquarters February 12. The title to use this time is "Why We Must Conserve Our Soil and Water." This is an interesting and appropriate title, and as such, will be an easy essay to write. Get yours in now! The prize for the winner will be a wonderful vacation trip. Other prizes will amount to $250.

However, for those who will not have time to get their essay in by February 12, the Lynn County Soil Conservation District and the Chamber of Commerce are going to award a $13.00 first prize, a $10.00 second prize, and a $5.00 third prize. The dead line for the local contest will be around the middle of March.

Any boy or girl in elementary school, junior high or high school can enter. The essay must be original and not over 300 words in length. Turn in your essay to your local Supervisor or to the Soil Conservation office in the Courthouse.

Malathion can be used safely on dogs to control fleas. A five-tenths percent spray or four percent dust give the longest control. A two one-half percent spray or a four percent dust will get the pests in garages or other infested spots.

Marlin Honors Former Tahokan

Hubert C. Davis, son-in-law of Mrs. E. S. (Nettie) Davis of Tahoka and himself a former resident of this city, was honored in some special feature stories in the Marlin Daily Democrat of Monday, Jan. 24.

Hubert is district manager of the Lone Star Gas Company, with offices in Marlin, and the occasion was the opening of the new company building in that city.

Starting work for the company in 1949, Hubert was a salesman in the Cleburne, Mexia and Handley districts until 1940. He went to Abilene as dealer supervisor, became sales supervisor of Waco district in 1941, and district manager at Ennis in 1943. After another "hitch" at Abilene, he moved to Marlin in 1949 to his present position. Prior to joining Lone Star, he was manager of the Eastland Chamber of Commerce.

Hubert and his wife, Veda, have two sons, Joe Bob, the eldest, is a graduate of West Texas State and has a responsible position with a big firm at Pampa. Hubert Edwards, a graduate of Texas Tech, is in electrical engineering at Hobbs, N. M. The family has many friends in Tahoka among the older settlers and also among the newer-comers by reason of frequent visits here with Mrs. Davis' mother.

Incidentally, Mrs. Nettie Davis and her son, Otis, are "happy as two kids with a little red wagon" over two new irrigation wells, one a six-inch and the other a four-inch, recently drilled on their farm a mile north of Tahoka.

Over 300 had been enrolled through Tuesday night in the Brownfield Baptist Association Group Training Schools.

One is being held in Brownfield Baptist Church and one in Tahoka First Baptist Church. Tuesday night, the Brownfield group was a few ahead of the Tahoka group, Rev. Clifford Harris reports.

About twenty different classes are meeting in the two churches, with about twenty different churches cooperating.

Rev. Sid F. Martin, district Missionary from Wichita Falls, spoke in the Tahoka school Wednesday night on the work a Sunday School can do in a revival.

YOUR Buick probably steers so sweetly on the road, it's hard to realize that thousands of travel-miles and millions of bumps may have put the front-wheels out of alignment.

Yet a little misalignment can scuff a lot of mileage off your front tires—and make control less sure.

It's an easy matter for us, with our special equipment, to give your whole front-end assembly the checkup it should have periodically. Drive in soon, why don't you, and let our experts make sure your Buick is tracking true?

1955 POULTRY OUTLOOK

DOAN'S AGRICULTURE DIGEST gave the following predictions in January:

1. Egg prices will be low and soon high for the next 3 months.
2. Poultrymen will cut back baby chick purchases for layer replacements as much as 15 percent—far more than necessary.
3. Egg prices will begin to rise as early as March. From May on egg prices will be away above 1954.
4. A good profit year always follows a poor profit year, such as 1954.
5. Food prices will be lower after harvest of record acreage of grain crops.
6. To cash in on 1955's higher prices, get chicks early and have pullets in laying house by September.

Actually there were 430 million layers in the U. S. Oct. 1st, 1954, which is not many. Because of low fall egg prices, especially many layers in the north, many layers were marketed by Jan. 1, 1955. The number of layers was already reduced to 382 million.

Doane's prediction of 15 percent less pullet chicks sold and raised could put the number of layers next fall at a seriously low figure, and his prediction is definitely true as reports from hatcheries all over the country indicate less chicks being hatched and sold. There will probably be a rush for chicks late in the season as egg prices go up in April and May. However, hatcheries will then have trouble filling the orders, and April and May chicks enough to cash in on good fall prices.

We were checking feed prices the other day. Purina Chick Starters is 94c less per 100 pounds today than it was two years ago (1943) and about 40c cheaper than last year. Come in and book your chicks and get ready for a profitable poultry year.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

"Let George Do It" has long appeared prevailing philosophy at 10 Downing Street, London.

Fight in current Congress over wrecking U. S. tariff protection for independent American business, labor and agriculture got big push about two years ago when Downing Street coined slogan "Trade, not Aid."

All kinds and titles of English officials deplore materialistic crassness of U. S. Congressmen refusing to open U. S. for flood of cheap products. To be sure Rep. Dan Reed, (Rep. N. Y.) who almost single handedly stopped drive last session will never be considered as a Knight of the Garter, or even a Knight of the Suspender.

All anyone needs do to penetrate British "free trade" smoke-screen is secure from Irish Consul list of English import duties on Irish goods.

England depends on food imports. Bulk of imports from across Irish Sea is farm produce. Yet despite need for Irish food, England slaps a duty on Irish imports.

About two years ago Washington tried to give England surplus butter for only paying shipping charges of 5 cents per pound. But despite being eager recipients of billion in U. S. aid Britain turned offer down. That was due to fact England has rigged deal with Denmark to lake Danish butter at British controlled prices, and Denmark takes British made goods. A flood of free American butter would upset this agreement. So

The way of the violator is hard and the wages of accident is death.

England saw American aid continuation leading to embarrassing situations. Thus slogan "Trade, Not Aid" was coined in cartel controlled nation without least idea of free trade.

In current tariff wrecking drive Administration is supported not only by England, but also by a few big steel, motor and rubber firms in U. S. with plants all over world who would like to flood U. S. with products of these plants made by near slave labor.

It is impossible to predict battle's outcome. Administration seeks extension of Reciprocal Trade Act giving Administration power to slash protective tariffs. This contradicts Section 8, Article 1 of U. S. Constitution specifically stipulating it is exclusive duty of Congress to establish tariffs.

About 20 years ago Congress threw away this Constitutional power. Since then both foods imports and U. S. farm surpluses have increased.

This is not a partisan fight. Many in both parties even question legality of Congress signing away its stipulated Constitutional powers; some even feel Congressmen who have voted for Reciprocal Trade act violated oath to uphold Constitution.

This is a moot technical point, but a three-administration experience with Reciprocal Trade Acts proves following point.

The more than 500 members of Congress, in close contact with their local economies, are better equipped to withstand British salesmanship than small Administration group whose chief advisors are State Department "experts" far more familiar with economy of Bengali, Libya than that of Dubuque, Iowa.

Methodist Plan Valentine Party

In lieu of the regular meeting of the Methodist Men next Monday night, this organization and the Woman's Society of Christian Service are holding a Valentine Party in Fellowship Hall Monday, February 14, at 7 p. m.

All men and women of the church are invited to come and bring a covered dish, and to enjoy an evening of recreation.

The affair is being staged by Mmes. W. W. Hagood, J. M. Small, J. B. Stewart, and Skiles Thomas from the WSCS and H. W. Carter and A. M. Bray from the Methodist Men.

Mrs. Carl Williams of Tahoka and Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Stuart of Lubbock left Tuesday for Fresno, Calif. to visit Mr. and Mrs. John Bueerman and children. The Bueermans have a new baby boy that Mrs. Williams is especially interested in visiting.

Mrs. Stuart and Mrs. Bueerman are her daughters. Carl says he and the boys will be "batching" while Mrs. Williams is gone, and suggests that the neighbors might leave their scraps on the back steps as he's afraid his cooking will old pretty quick.

Mr. C. C. Dwight was on the sick list this past week.

B. L. Parker Gets Marine's Praise

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Parker this week received a commendation of their son, B. L. Jr., who has recently been doing some outstanding work while serving with the U. S. Marines in Korea. He is an assistant to Lt. D. R. Millard, Jr., a battalion surgeon specializing in plastic surgery.

The letter of appreciation, addressed to B. L. Parker, HM3, follows:

"Accept my sincere appreciation for your services with Headquarters Battalion, 1st Marine Division, in the Field Korea. You have been of infinite assistance to me in the Battalion as well as on voluntary humanitarian work on the Korean people. You are outstanding in personality, ability, ambition and perseverance. You are alert and energetic in your assistance and show keen application as well as excellent judgment. You can be trusted with grave responsibility and have proved this fact numerous times. You are, in fact, officer material without any question.

"A copy of this letter is being forwarded to the Chief of Naval Personnel to be made a part of your permanent record."

The work being done by Lt. Millard and Parker was recently featured in a full page illustrated story in "First Word", Marine newspaper and also over CBS television.

Faced with little work to do on Marine personnel, Millard and Parker have been doing plastic surgery on scores of Korean people. The feature story mentioned above dealt mostly with such work done on a Korean youth who was hare-lipped and had a malformation of the palate, the operations being performed by flashlight.

OUR HATS ARE OFF TO—

All the Boy Scouts and Scouters on their observance of Boy Scout Week, Tahoka has a fine bunch of Scouts who are doing a good work. Tuesday, by policing the streets, they call our attention to the many little traffic regulations we observe or fail to observe. Most citizens take this in good nature, and are reminded of their errors. Funds raised by the Scouts by "fining" citizens on this day finance worth-while Boy Scout activities.

Harry Lee Short Place Is Farmed by Claude James

Last week's "Mystery Farm" is owned by Harry Lee Short of Grassland and is farmed by Claude James. It is located four miles west of Wayside.

Mrs. W. E. Shawn of Tahoka and J. W. Edwards of New Home were the first to identify it. Others guessing correctly were Mrs. Winston Davies, Hub Young, Mrs. G. W. Turner, Mrs. Charles Armstrong, Will Harris, Loyd Mears, Bonnie Brown, John Lynn Edwards, Edwena Overstreet, and Avis Campbell Henry.

Mr. Short bought the farm from his dad, "Bert" Short, who bought the place in about 1934. The 320-acre farm has a 5-inch irrigation well, but Mr. James says they expect to drill another one.

Mr. James, who was reared northeast of Post and is the son of Mrs. Angie James of Tahoka, was married to Mary Ellen Inman, daughter of Mrs. W. P. Inman, now of Ackerley, in February, 1936. They have three children, Gloria Ellen, now Mrs. Harold Crooks of Terry county, Gayland, 13; and Wayland Lee, 3. They attend New Home Baptist Church, and he is a member of New Home Civic Club. Mrs. James operates a beauty shop in her home.

Mr. James has been farming the place since 1943. He thinks Lynn county is the best farming country anywhere and that his friends and neighbors are tops.

W. C. Harvicy, Sr. is reported to be improving by attendants at Tahoka Hospital, where he is a patient.

Johnny Ray Smally of Wilson is scheduled for induction into the Armed Forces Wednesday of next week.

Senior Play . . .

 any audience. In short, here is a funny, unusual, and ideal play for any high school.
 The characters in the play are as follows:
 Betty Draper—Miss Irene Burdette, a young school teacher who is the star of the play.
 Lorry Fuller, a young girl with a straight forward approach to life.
 Nancy Leverage, a pretty, rather unpopular young lady because of her driving ambitions to get what she wants.
 Miss Carolyn

an, a teacher of 35 whose sweetness makes one immediately suspicious of her sincerity.
 Henrietta Rivers, a teacher of about 50 years of age and Senior sponsor.
 Elsie Hunter, a blonde, young school girl, very frank.
 Sylvia Moore, a typical girl of that age.
 Joan White, also typical girl of high school age. Both are rather uninhibited and rowdy, great friends, almost inseparable.
 Janet Young, a young school girl of about 17, a hero worshipper, a giggler.
 Kyle Rob

erts, a flamboyant, authoritative theatrical type of individual.
 Mr. Norman, in his early thirties, a journalism teacher.
 Andy Fullbright, an excitable young boy that has an outgoing charm that is genuine, a good athlete.
 Joeko Guthrie, very conscious of his charm, like to be the center of attraction.
 Mr. Sanders, an odd, likeable boy but at the same time guilty of awful practical jokes.
 Buck O'Hara, an athletic sort of type boy, very woman-shy.
 Mr. Tony Peterson, janitor of the school.
 Mr. Leveridge, Nancy's father, a dignified gentleman.
 Barbara Lewis, and another the same, Mary Alice Roberts.
 Betty Gormley, Kathryn Walker, Martha Prohl, Nina Richardson, Annabell Decker, Dolores Brown, Dolores Gage, Pauline Carper.
 This play is under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Bartley and Mr. Floyd Tubbs.
 The admission will be 50 and 75 cents.

GORDON CLUB MEETS

Gordon Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ed Denton.
 Miss Wanda Roach, agent, gave a program on clothing which everyone enjoyed.
 Those present were Meses. Etta Jones, Gus Gatzki, Woodrow Stewart, Zella Smith, George Baker, and Roy Cook, and three children.

Basketball . . .

 third quarter when they went into a press and Tahoka could score only one field goal. The last three minutes was a mad-house, with the score tied four times 48-48, 50-50, 52-52, and 54-54. In the last 35 seconds two fouls were called on the Bulldogs which put the visitors in the victory column.
 Officials allowed the game to get mighty rough, to say the least, after Abernathy went into the press especially.
 Joe McGuire of the Antelopes led the scoring with 28 points. Gordon Smith was ill with the flu, and was out of the Tahoka line-up.
 The box scores follow:

Tahoka	FG	FT	F	Pts.
Carlton Bell	6	1	2	13
G. Huddleston	1	3	4	5
Junior Pitts	8	7	0	23
L. W. Castelberry	0	0	3	0
Jerry Williams	0	0	3	0
Gainard McNeely	6	1	4	13
Totals	21	12	16	54
Abernathy	17	23	11	57

The girls lost by a wider margin to the more accurate shooting and passing game of the Abernathy girls, 61 to 43, but Susie Smith of Tahoka was the high scorer with 21 points. Shirley Ward led the visitors with 20 points.

Lose At Slaton

Tahoka boys had lost another close one, 62 to 60 at Slaton last Friday night after out-playing the Tigers most of the way, and laxness of officiating may have cost the Bulldogs this victory too.
 18 to 13 in the first quarter, and Tahoka led most all the way 31 to 26 at halftime. Slaton caught up in the third, one time 35-35, but Tahoka stayed ahead and led 48-46 at end of the third. The Bulldogs also stayed ahead until late in the game.

Then, with Slaton ahead one point, and less than three minutes to play, an official called a foul on Slaton, but failed to give Tahoka but one shot when two are specified by the rules, following which Slaton went in for a lay-up that decided the game.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to express my deepest appreciation to Drs. Thomas and Prohl, all the nurses at the Clinic, everyone for the beautiful flowers, cards, and visits while I, Sam, was in the hospital.—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Miller.

Fitts of Tahoka led the scoring with 17 points, while Harold Trout was high for Slaton with 16.

The box scores:

Tahoka	FG	FT	F	Pts.
Gordon Smith	4	5	4	13
Carlton Bell	2	0	0	4
G. Huddleston	2	1	3	5
Junior Pitts	8	1	1	17
L. W. Castelberry	2	1	1	5
Jerry Williams	0	0	1	0
Gainard McNeely	6	4	1	16
Totals	24	12	12	60
Slaton	25	12	15	62

Tahoka girls started slowly in their game and were behind all the way, 3-10, 12-24, 24-36, and 44-52. They played good ball, especially in the second half, and on two or three occasions pulled up within close range of the Slaton girls. Virginia Gable led Tahoka scoring with 18 points. Martha Allred led Slaton with 26.

B. L. Miller, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Miller, is a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital.

Miss Berta Hill Heads Pilot Club, Civic Club Work, At Seguin, Texas

Recently the Seguin (Texas) Enterprise published a sketch of the public activities of Miss Berta Hill, field worker for the State Department of Public Welfare for Guadalupe county, together with her picture, and upon our request the story and picture have been furnished to The Lynn County News for reproduction in this paper. Miss Hill is a daughter of the senior editor and a sister of the associate editor of this paper. In addition to the information given by The Enterprise, it might be stated that Miss Hill was given a trip last summer with traveling expenses paid by the Seguin Pilot Club to Boston, Massachusetts, and thence on to Quebec, Canada. Her route took her to the famous Lookout Mountain and the city of Chattanooga, Tennessee, through many historic points in Virginia, through Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and many other historic and scenic places.

The Seguin Enterprise story follows:

Miss Berta Hill is president of the Seguin Pilot Club, which is an international organization and service club.

She has been with the State Department of Public Welfare since January of 1939 (except for 31 months of military service) and has been in the Seguin office as a field worker for almost six years.

From December 1943 to July of 1946 she served as a member of the WAC's, chiefly doing personnel work. However, for a year she was stationed in Heidelberg, Germany, where her duties were to arrange for the return home of members of the armed services. That, she says, was a very busy time. She was released from the WAC's as a Technician, 4th grade, which is equivalent to being a sergeant.

Miss Hill's home is in Tahoka, Texas, where her brother and her father edit the Lynn County News. She attended West Texas State College at Canyon. In addition to being in the local Pilot Club work, she also takes an active part in the work of the Guadalupe County Tuberculosis Association and is serving as vice-president of that organization this year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. King of Wilson visited last week in Odessa with Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Bailey. Mrs. Bailey is their youngest daughter.

Miss Graham Hard Gets Ph. D. Degree; Is New Extension Specialist

College Station, Feb. 10—Miss Graham Hard, on February 21, will become clothing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service with headquarters here, according to Director G. G. Gibson, she replaces Miss Mary Routh, who resigned to accept a similar position with the Oregon Extension Service.

Miss Hard is a native of Tarrant county but grew up on a Lubbock county farm near Shallowater. She was a 4-H member.

Her undergraduate work was done at Texas Technological College, and she is a former employee of the Extension Service having served in 1944 as an emergency war food assistant and later as county home demonstration agent in Mitchell and Lynn counties.

In 1952 she was granted study leave to accept a fellowship to Texas State College for Women. The next year she received the master's degree in clothing and textiles and was asked to continue her studies as a graduate assistant. On January 31 she received her Doctorate degree.

Director Gibson says she was the first member of the Extension Service to receive a fellowship to T. S. C. W. and will be the first home demonstration staff member to hold the Ph. D. degree.

She is a member of the Texas and American Home Economics Associations.

Only Car at its Price*... So Smart! So Big! So Powerful!

*You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars!

Whatever you want most in a car—beauty, size or performance—you get it in extra measure in a Pontiac. In fact, when you choose Pontiac the decision comes very easily—because Pontiac alone, at its price, gives you everything!

For example, take Pontiac's distinctive smartness. Certainly there is no question on this point. Pontiac is the one car that stands apart from all the others.

If it's size and big-car sure-footedness you want—Pontiac's your car! Pontiac's long wheelbase—124 inches in the Star

Chief, shown here, and 122 inches in the 860 and 870 series—is the plus wheelbase that provides the roominess, the comfort, the satisfying road-hugging security that only a big car can supply.

As for performance—once you get behind the wheel you have all the proof you need that Pontiac is way ahead in this department, too. Pontiac's spectacular performance starts with the most modern engine of all—the powerful new Strato-Streak V-8—specifically designed for Pontiac's all-new chassis to give you balanced performance. That means smooth, eager getaway in traffic; power to spare on the open road; and even more of Pontiac's traditional economy, dependability and long life.

All this adds up to a wonderful car and—with Pontiac's remarkably low price tag—a very wonderful buy. Come in soon and talk dollars and cents. If you're in the market for any new car, you'll discover you can easily afford all the pride and pleasure of a big, powerful, luxury-loaded Pontiac.

A few days ago, my son E. I. unique book and had resolved to acquire a copy some time soon but had not done so.

Since receiving the book I have had little time to read it, but I have read enough to convince me that not only is it a most interesting volume but it is also a rich contribution to the historical literature of this country and of recent world affairs. The very first chapter in the book and a few others scattered through it, brings to my mind floods of pleasant memories.

Tom Connally and I were reared within ten miles of each other, as the crow flies, though I appeared on the scene about two years earlier than he did. Nevertheless, I suspect that he had more sense on the day that he was born than I had on that day even if I did have two years the start of him. Although we spent our childhood years with only a few miles between us, I never really came to know Tom until both of us were more than twenty years old. I knew some of his boyhood chums, however, when I was sixteen to eighteen years old, and one of them, Edgar Witt, several years earlier than that. There were few games or social events in those days to bring the young people of neighboring communities together. A baseball game between two neighboring teams, however, always brought out a large crowd, and football was just beginning to get a foothold on high-school and college campuses. Tom was the son of well-to-do parents, however, while my parents were tenant farmers until I was nine years old. From early boyhood therefore Tom was a well-polished and well-dressed kid who felt at perfect ease in any social gathering, and in fact was something of a youthful "socialite," while I was an uncouth and bashful, little yep, plainly dressed—usually in home-made jeans pants and a hickory shirt—usually embarrassed and completely ignorant as to how to deport myself in the presence of groups of cultured and well-dressed people. In other words, clear on up to manhood, he looked the part at social gatherings of a fine little patrician while I was just a natural-born plebeian.

While it was no fault of his, I do not think that I really ever came to know Tom Connally very well until I became a student in the law school of the University of Texas at the beginning of the session of 1898-99. I finished my law course—such a finish as it was—by studying at home together with another law-student friend, of mine and by reading law for a few weeks in a law office in Belton. I took the bar examination and was admitted to the practice of law on July 2, 1900.

In his book Tom tells, about his struggle to get started in the practice during the first few years after he had gotten his license to practice. I know all about that too. Like Tom, I was lucky to have a "pa" who was ambitious for his boy and who was generous in bringing in spare ribs and sausage, sacks of groceries, and even feed for "Old Bald," a buggy horse he had loaned me.

Although I was something like 18 months older than Tom Connally, he practically completed his law course and was admitted to the bar to practice law a little more than two years before I was. That was because he, after completing his high school work and studying for four years in Baylor University, he pressed right on into the law school of the University of Texas and had almost completed the two year course there when the Spanish American war broke out and he quit school to join Teddy Roosevelt's Rough Riders. He quit school in April and in June the University graduated him and gave him his license to practice law although he had not quite completed the course, for the reason that he had gone to fight for his country.

But he did not hang out his shingle as a lawyer and enter into the practice of law immediately. He did make the adventure in Waco on January 2, 1899, but the same year moved to Marlin. Tom had always wanted to make politics his life work, so in January, 1900, he announced as candidate for a seat in the legislature. He was elected and served two terms, or four years, as a member of that body. Then he retired, resumed the practice of law at Marlin, and by that time he had become well-known politically, and clients flocked into his office in Marlin. He was laying up nest eggs by the bushel for future use. That was the year in which I made my first race for county attorney of Bell county. While Tom Connally had been in law school, in military service, and in the legislature for seven years, I had been alternately going to school and teaching studying law, serving as justice of the peace in Temple, etc. So just at the time that Tom Connally was quitting politics temporarily and turning his attention to the private practice of the law, I was running for county attorney of Bell county. Also about that time, Pat Neff was running for county attorney of McLennan county. His term of office might have begun two years later than mine—I am not sure.

One more sidelight item. I had married in 1900, the same year in which I got my license to practice law; I think Pat Neff had already married; Tom Connally had not married but had fallen madly in love with a girl, but it took him four years to talk her into the notion. He finally married her, and then ran for county attorney of Falls county and was elected in 1906. His service as county attorney of Falls county began just two years after my service as county attorney of Bell county had begun. Both Pat Neff and Tom Connally had each served a couple of terms in the legislature, however, and each had served as speaker of the House. Both were politically prominent. As for me, I never was sentenced to a term in the legislature.

Now, while I have never claimed to be in a class with either Tom Connally or Pat Neff as a lawyer, I believe that my service as county attorney of Bell county was far more hectic and was fraught with greater difficulties than was the term of service of either Tom Connally or Pat Neff in that office in their respective counties. I think I shall give the readers of this column at least a part of the story this week. I have a double purpose in doing so: First to enlighten the people somewhat as to the tactics that many slick criminal lawyers are a guilty client, however base the ready to employ in order to clear crime may be; and second, to lead our readers to see how important it is to elect strictly honest and the very ablest lawyers available as prosecuting attorneys in our courts. Now, in an off-election year, is the best time to begin "wising" people up on these matters.

Last summer, when I was undertaking to make a vigorous fight on that corrupt gang of south Texas crooks who had been resorting to all sorts of chicanery and even to the commission of murderous attacks on men in order to be able to continue its domination of a number of south Texas counties—I refer of course to the George Parr gang—and when my own official conduct was called in question, I think that some of my good friends decided to check up on my charges and on my official record as county attorney of Bell county in the long-ago to see if conditions there and my own official activities had been as I represented. That was all right, and I was glad it was done. I think investigations of officials holding responsible positions should be conducted—fairly, of course—more frequently than they are.

So now, I am going to give you the story of one or more of the hectic experiences which I had as a public official in Bell county, and I invite investigation on the part of any body who may be doubtful in order to find out for themselves the facts of the matter.

Up to the time about which I am writing, the little city of Temple, for the most of its life, had been a wide-open town. It was founded in 1881 when the Gulf, Colorado, & Santa Fe Railway built through Bell county, established the city of Temple, built its shops there, and made Temple a division point. From its founding up till about 1900, Temple had been a dripping wet town. Saloons flourished and gambling houses were conducted in connection with most of them. Much of Temple's trade territory, however, lay in dry territory. I believe that it was in 1901 or 1902 that the people voted the county dry. In 1902 I was elected one of the justices of the peace in Temple. The Temple precinct contained about a third of the people of the county, and there were two justice offices there. I could sit at the window of my office in the Walcox building in Temple and see men entering a stairway or emerging from a stairway that led from the sidewalk up to the second floor of a building situated on south First Street that had been operated for years as a saloon. The up-stairs compartment, before prohibition days, had reputedly been operated

HOTTEST BUICK IN HISTORY
No wonder you see so many 1955 Buicks on the highways—they're rolling up bigger sales than ever in history—tapping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three."

in the '55 Buick ride

To be honest—there are some bumps which nothing will level out completely. Yet even the real rough ones turn out a lot smoother when you're in a 1955 Buick. And that's not just our say-so. New owners of these bright new beauties keep telling us that. So you may wonder—how come? What's different about the Buick ride that makes it such a marvel? The answer is—plenty. Most cars have coil springs on front wheels only. Buick has them all around—and this year they're newly calibrated for even deeper smothering of jounce and jar. So here your ride is balanced, buoyant, level, serenely smooth. Most cars drive through the rear springs. Buick drives through a torque-tube that takes up all driving thrust, wipes out rear-wheel wiggle and wag, steadies your going to a sure and solid track. And no other car in all America has these great comfort extras plus the backbone of a massive X-braced frame plus both direct and lever-type shock absorbers to snub after-bounce plus a special front-end geometry to stabilize "cornering" plus tubeless tires on extra-wide rims for softer riding and greater stability. Surely, you owe it to yourself to try this great Buick travel, just to judge things for yourself. You'll find it the nearest thing to velvet on wheels—and made even more so by the silkiness of record-high V8 power and the absolute smoothness of Variable Pitch Dynaflo.* Come visit us this week—for sure. *Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

sale of intoxicating liquor in that and other buildings situated down on First Street or in other buildings situated elsewhere.

It was a big one-man's job, especially since such a procedure had never been practiced by any justice of the peace who had gone on before me, even though justices of the peace were clearly authorized by statute to resort to this procedure. Most of the witnesses however had wretchedly bad memories when brought before me.

I did get incontrovertible evidence, however, against two physicians, who were issuing doctor's prescriptions like straw from a threshing-machine—Dr. Duncan and Dr. Hawks by name—to any and all old toppers who might be thirsting for a drink and thinking that they needed relief. Numerous complaints were filed and the cases were to be presented to the next grand jury. What I was doing speedily became a matter of general knowledge, rather sensational knowledge for all the old "soaks" in the county. Most of the people knew these two doctors also and knew that they were heavy drinkers themselves. So it looked as if the jig were up for those two pill-follers.

That was rather early in the first sensational liquor drouth that had recently hit Bell county. To the "wets," it presented a rather alarming situation. Something must be done about it. Lawyers were consulted. Here is what the wet leaders came up with, secretly at first. There were some 25 or 30 doctors in the county. Probably nearly all of them had written a few whiskey prescriptions. A large percent of these probably were not in strict compliance with the law. Both the sheriff and the county attorney were known to be wets and neither of them would probably be very enthusiastic over the prospect of having to prosecute liquor cases. So, in due time the grand jury met. Doctors' prescriptions were one of the matters to be investigated. I was called before the grand jury myself. I am still not free to say what occurred in the grand jury room, but suffice to say that practically every doctor in the county was indicated not on my testimony however. The list included Dr. Scott, Dr. White, Dr. Barton, Dr. Noble, Dr. Haley, Dr. Hudson, Dr. Anderson, Dr. Fiewallen, Dr. Christowaitte, Dr. Goddard, and others whose names I can not just now recall, but there were hundreds and hundreds of indictments. Nearly all the doctors involved were among the most honorable and most highly respected citizens of the county. The scheme of the "wet" leaders was to make a farce of the well-intentioned work that I had started. They spread the report all over the county that E. I. Hill, justice of the peace in Temple, and a "dry" as most everybody knew, had caused every doctor in Bell county to be indicted by the grand jury for issuing illegal whiskey prescriptions. Of course all the indictments later were dismissed, and Duncan and Hawks had gone scot free with the great batch of honorable doctors in the county. That was one of the victories that the "wets" had scored.

But they were after my hide too. I had been secretary of the Prohibition campaign committee that directed the dry forces in the election in which the county was voted dry and was already being boosted by some of my friends as the dry candidate for county attorney in the next primary election. So the wets started far wide in daily and weekly newspapers the ridiculous news that "drys" down in Bell county Texas as had induced a grand jury to return, I think it said thousands of bills against doctors for writing whiskey prescriptions. One such report, I remember, was published in a Kentucky daily. I think it was the Louisville Courier Journal. My father used to read that paper too, Senator Tom, way back yonder when I was just a boy, but later he switched to the Atlanta Constitution.

Well, at the next election I did run for county attorney and was elected too by a handsome plurality; but in the election campaign I had to fight that fake doctor charge all over the county. I am proud to say, however, that I got the support of most of the doctors, for they saw through the dirty trick.

Two years later I ran for a second term and was re-elected, but the vote was rather close that time, for the radical wets had put out only one candidate against me and had paid up their poll taxes closer. They hatched up a new charge against me that time too, a charge against my official record. But I printed and distributed the record and whipped their ears down on that charge. I am convinced that I received a good many conservative anti votes in that election.

So, far in advance of the 1956 primary elections, I am pleading with my little family of readers to keep your eyes skinned for the political trickster. When a man, Absalom-like, comes before you with a bag-full of promises, declaring what he would do "if he were judge in Israel," you had better look quietly for a bug under the chip. We had a lot of that sort of campaigning by one of the candidates for governor last year, you will remember, dishing out promises by the hat-full that everybody with an ounce of political sagacity knew could not be possibly fulfilled. Some of his campaign managers and boosters are still in of a free and have been pretty busy lately dishing out some of the same kind of fake political dope that those whiskey-soaked wet leaders dished out through a grand jury in Bell county many years ago, not to help in the prosecution of crime but to hinder. I do not think that they will be able to thwart John Ben Shepherd or cause him to step aside one hair's breath in his investigation and prosecution of either land frauds or insurance frauds that may have been perpetrated by a band of crooks in office and out of office. All power to John Ben in that valorous fight!

Furthermore, I think that the United States, as for that matter, people of Texas and of the whole should begin right now to gird their loins to renew the fight against crime. Back in the days of National Prohibition, Al Smith of New York, Delano Roosevelt, Jig Farley, scores and scores of newspaper reporters, radio announcers, political commentators, beer swiggers and Champagne-tippers in almost every drawing-room and road house in the country were shouting, "Down with Prohibition!" It is causing all this great sluice of crime that is flooding the country, they claimed—kidnappings, robberies, murders, hijackings; everything was blamed on prohibition.

So, they deliberately stabbed Prohibition to death. National Prohibition was repealed twenty years ago, and look what we have today; Men murdering their wives, women plotting the death of their husbands, thugs blowing up cars and blowing the occupants to bits with bombs, young fathers squeezing their unwanted babies to death, mothers beating a fretful child's head into a dying jelly, rapes, robberies, conspiracies, cruelties as horrible as any described in the Bible, boys and girls everywhere being taught to drink, dope-peddlers operating in numerous high schools and colleges, the papers filled with car wrecks in countless numbers every day chargeable to drunken drivers.

It's time we were staging another fight against crime folks, including the peddling of dope and liquor. And speedsters and road hogs should be driven off the highways.

I am omitting letters and stories from The Holy Land and Mexico this week, folks, because I am anxious for the people to do something about the crime craze that is cursing our land.

He couldn't see why most pedestrians were killed after sundown.
