STANDING ON THE CORNER

With P. J.

With the beginning of the last 40 days before that memorial dawn when a cross was a silhouette against a sky clouded by the anguish of an oppressed nation, Christian people over the earth are again turning their thoughts to the hope and promise given them on the day of resurrection.

What better time than today could we join with others across the face of the globe on this World Day of Prayer in one great un-repeating prayer for peace? You can join the millions of others while carrying on your everyday task, whether it be on the seat of a tractor or before a sink full of dishes.

Whatever this world needs, knowledge of space or food for the hungry, more than anything else—it needs peace. And peace begins within each individual and each home. Pray for Peace.

A disappointed crowd came home from Abernathy Tuesday night, but they shouldn't have been down-cast.

Tahoka teams and school students proved again, as they have many times, that they won the most important game of all—the game of sportsmanship.

As the Tahoka boys came onto the court Tuesday night, the cheers of Tahoka fans were drowned out fans boosting Abernathy as well as the maddening boom of drums, tin cans, garbage lids, etc. A feeling of pride for our own students and fans swelled in many of us for their truly remarkable behavior toward the opponents, as the game went on, drawing boos from Abernathy at frequent intervals.

Some boos were heard from the Tahoka section in the third or fourth quarter, but—Fd like to point out that it came from the adult section—not from the students.

So, boys and girls, no matter how many games you win or lose, you show your real character when you practice your principles of fair play and good sportsmanship. (Cont'd. from Page 1)

Mrs. Anderson of O'Donnell Buried

Funeral services for Mrs. John A. Anderson, 70 year old resident of route 3, O'Donnell, were held in the First Baptist Church in O'Donnell Tuesday at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. Anderson died Sunday at 9:22 p. m. in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. She had been in ill health for about one year and had been seriously ill several months.

Officiating at the services were Rev. Bill Burton, pastor of the O'Donnell church, Rev. Wayland Edwards of Lubbock, and Rev. W. A. Brooks of Tahoka. Burial was in Tech Memorial Park in Lubbock under the direction of Stanley Funeral Home.

Ethel Edwards Anderson was born Aug. 2, 1887 at Crawford Texas. She was married to John A. Anderson on Jan. 12, 1908 in Crawford and the couple celebrated their 50th anniversary last month. They came to Lynn County on Sept. 5, 1915 and settled near the Three Lakes community and moved to O'Donnell in 1924 where Mr. Anderson still operates his farm.

She was a member of the O'Donnell First Baptist Church and the Eastern Star.

One daughter, Mrs. Vernie Gary, of O'Donnell preceded her in death in September, 1957 as a result of an automobile accident.

Survivors include her husband; two daughters, Mrs. F. A. Wyatt of Tahoka, and Mrs. Hollis Hunt of Irving; one son, Bart Anderson of route 3, O'Donnell; seven brothers, Carroll Edwards of Tahoka, Travis Edwards of Dallas, John Andy Edwards of Lamesa, W. M. Edwards, J. W. Edwards, W. O. Edwards, and Troy Edwards, all of Lubbock; and eight grandchildren. Nephews were pallbearers.

Wilson Voters Approve Bonds

Wilson voters approved a school bond and tax evaluation proposition Saturday in an election called by the independent school district.

The vote on the $80,000 bond issue passed 107 to 35 and made possible the construction of a home-making cottage, the remodeling of the present homemaking department into a science laboratory, the remodeling of the school gymnasium, and the construction of several teacherages.

Under Senate Bill 116, the Wilson school may now assess taxes for $1.50 per $100 evaluation for maintenance after voters approved the issue 100 to 35. The school has previously been allowed to tax property owners $1.50 for both maintenance and bond retirement.

CITY HAS NEW WELL
Pat Hines, water superintendent says the City of Tahoka recently drilled a new water well north of town, but the well tested only 50 gallons per minute and a submergible pump will likely be installed in it.

E. W. (Pat) Patterson has been in Tahoka Hospital since Thursday of last week with a severe case of the flu.

Tax Collections Are Good Here

Collection of 1957 taxes up to the deadline without penalty on January 31 was very good, local tax collecting agencies report.

State and county taxes collected amounted to 94 percent of the roll, or a total of $144,935.69, according to J. E. (Red) Brown, county tax assessor and collector.

City of Tahoka collections totaled $26,834.21, or 91 percent, reports J. M. Uzzle, city secretary and tax collector.

Tahoka School District Tax collections were even better, J. M. Small, district secretary and tax collector, says. The percentage was 95.3 percent, and the total amount was $101,453.74.

Some tax money still is coming in by dribbles in order that the payer may save as much as possible a penalty and interest.

City Election Set For April 1

The annual Tahoka City election has been set for Tuesday, April 1, as provided by law, according to H. B. McCord, Sr., mayor.

Three Aldermen are to be elected, the terms of Winston C. Wharton, Everton Nevill, and Albert Curry expiring at this time.

Holdover aldermen are Dr. C. Skiles Thomas and Meldon Leslie. The mayor's term also runs another year.

Also in the election, a poll will be taken of Tahoka voters on their desire in regard to the proposed Housing project. The Public Housing Administration has proposed to build 30 to 50 modern and substantial housing units here for low income families with no direct expense to local taxpayers. Under the proposal, the financing would be underwritten by the Government and rents would be required to pay out the units in 40 years or less.

Those desiring to file names of candidates for the Council posts may do so by securing the proposed candidates permission and filing same with City Secretary J. M. Uzzle at the City Hall on or before Saturday, March 1.

He is married to the former Margie Ethridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Ethridge, Route 1, Tahoka, and is the father of three children. He is now residing with his family at 335 Cadwallader Road, El Paso, site of Fort Bliss, "The World's Foremost Guided Missile Center."

Salvation Army Drive Near Goal
The Salvation Army Drive in Tahoka is winding up this week, according to J. M. Uzzle, drive chairman, and New Home, Wilson and Grassland communities were expected to begin theirs.

Total amount contributed in Tahoka is reported to be $1,081.88. Mrs. George McCracken, treasurer, said. This is comparable to the amount collected last year.

Contributions from the three other communities are expected to bring the total over the approximately $1200 raised last year in the local drives.

Chairmen of the rural drives include Mrs. Wilmer Smith, New Home; Rev. Billy Wilkinson, Wilson; and Mrs. Roy LeMond, Grassland.

Seismograph Crews Move Into Town
Another seismograph moved into Tahoka early this week, making four now doing exploration work over this area.

The latest crew to move here is the Continental Geophysical Co. Others now working out of Tahoka are the Dana, Burton, and Republic exploration companies.

Extensive leasing of lands in the east part of the county and also west of New Home as reported last week is now reported to be further increased by other companies becoming interested in getting leases outside of the blocks already signed up.

Herman Heck is in charge of the program arrangements, and Robert Edwards is in charge of ticket sales. Tickets are $1.00 per person.

Every man of the church is being urged to bring his wife and enjoy the wonderful fellowship of the church.

Coach Jake Jacobs' Bulldogs are in the process of a play-off with Floydada to determine who represents the district in a bi-district game against Dimmitt to be played either Monday or Tuesday.

The teams were playing their first game in the Tahoka gymnasium Thursday night. Tonight they meet in Floydada at 7:30 p. m. If a third game is necessary in the two out of three series, the game will be played Saturday night at 7:30 p. m. in Idalou, a location about half way between each town.

Floydada and Tahoka, as co-champions of the district, will split the money allocated by the district for the championship trophy. Each school may make up the difference to purchase a trophy for each team if it so desires.

In 1956 Tahoka and Abernathy tied for the championship.

Tahoka and Floydada became co-champions of District 2-AA Tuesday night when Abernathy defeated the Bulldogs 55 to 44 in a game played there. Previously tied for the lead, Tahoka broke the tie in defeating Floydada last Friday night, only to become tied again with each having a 10-2 conference record.

Floydada lost a game early in the season to Post. Their second loss came from the hands of Tahoka last Friday night.

Walter Gasper Jr. Writes Second Place Essay In Soil Conservation Contest

Following is the second place essay in the SCS-Chamber of Commerce contest. Walter Gasper, Jr., of New Home was winner of second place in the event. Garene Harris, first place winner had her essay, published in The News last week, and the third place essay by Bob Nunley will be published next week.

"We Are Stewards of the Land"

By Walter Gasper
That statement, "We are stewards of the land," bears a truth that a great many of the farmers of our nation fail to realize. We are the keepers of the most valuable natural resource on earth—the soil. Man was created on earth to give it meaning and a purpose in being here. He was meant to use this land to raise food, materials for making clothing, and other necessities of life. What have we done with it?

When our forefathers crossed the ocean from Europe, they found the Indians practicing little or no conservation. The Indians used a very small amount of land. After they farmed a plot for a time, they would simply move to another place close by.

Our European ancestors were at first so few in number that they could move from place to place. Surely they knew that the soil must be cared for and replenished regularly if it is to retain its fertility. Many of them had farmed in their old countries; but when they saw the abundance of land America had to offer, they found it much easier to simply move to new land as the Indians had done. It seems that this tradition of taking all from the soil and giving back nothing has survived to the present. Some farmers use their land as if they expect the world to be destroyed in the next few years. However, most farmers are now realizing that by fertilizing and conserving, they can not only keep our land in good condition for future use, but also increase production. Yes, we are the keepers of the most valuable of our natural resources. Our duty to the people of the present and the future is sacred. Let's do it!

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

Sooner or later, Congress is going to have to face the issues created by the widespread use of trading stamps.

It's a ticklish problem, too. When trading stamps first sprang into prominence in the postwar period, many an independent merchant found them helpful in stimulating his business, especially in competition with the chains.

But as more and more trading stamp promoters set up shop, more and more merchants have felt forced to take on stamps for self-protection, either absorbing costs out of profits, or adding to prices.

Thus, there has developed a system whereby the advantage anyone had from the use of trading stamps is largely negated by everybody offering stamps.

Due to lack of clarification of many legal aspects of matter, Federal Trade Commission more or less backed out of hassle.

The latest body to take a seemingly confused position on this issue was the Supreme Court of the State of Oklahoma. This state has what is called an Unfair Sales Act which requires a minimum markup of 6% above the cost to the retailer including not only the invoice cost, but also subsidiary items such as freight, taxes, and other items.

Safeway decided to meet stamp giving competition by cutting prices below legal minimum on grounds giving away stamps is form of price cutting.

The big chain lost the case in a lower court, and recently lost an appeal to the Supreme Court of National Federation of Independent Business.

of the State. At the same time, the court passed on another stamp matter, and upheld a lower court decision prohibiting any merchant from giving away double stamps on certain days.

But the decision of the court seemingly was a most peculiar one stating, "We conclude the weight of the law distinctly shows that the practice of giving away stamps in the usual customary manner does not sustain a charge of price cutting." The opinion further stated that stamps amount to a cash discount rather than a price reduction.

Bearing in mind that the same court also prohibited anybody from giving away a double amount of stamps on certain days, the decision appears most ambiguous. To the average layman, the difference between a "cash discount" and a "price reduction" is like Tweedledum is to Tweedledee.

Thus, it would appear that there is needed from Congress a law defining just what the use of trading stamps amounts to in actual practice.

For example, the question is still up in the air as to whether or not trading stamps are a form of currency, which would thus make them illegal.

Probably one of the biggest interests in this issue is held by the American farmer. Obviously, cost of stamps given on many food products either eventually is made up for in form of lower prices to farmers, or in higher prices to consumers, thus cutting down farm product consumption.

There is even some thought, therefore, being given, to make it illegal to give away stamps on any product containing farm products that are being price supported by federal funds collected from taxpayers. This could have a far reaching effect.

O'Donnell Plans School Election

Patrons of O'Donnell School District in a recent meeting to study school operation expenses ordered an election for Saturday, Feb. 22, for the purpose of deciding whether or not the district will go under the provisions of Senate Bill 116 which permits a district to vote more money for the school budget from local tax sources.

Under Senate Bill 116, the bond tax rate and the maintenance tax rate are separated. Sufficient funds will be appropriated to service the bonds each year. Present bonded indebtedness takes about 40 cents per $100 to service bonds. The bill permits a maximum of $1.50 per $100 valuation for maintenance. Each year after the budget has been figured, the school board would determine the necessary tax rate for the current school year.

Supt. Welton A. Skinner points out the rising costs of school operation is causing a deficiency of funds. Additional teachers are needed in all three levels of the white school, and the district has found it necessary to add another teacher to the Negro school.

"This community can have schools only as good as it is willing to pay for," Skinner said. He further states that the district has no wasteful practices and every dollar of the taxpayers' money is being put to good use.

(By E. I. The Elder)

Even a little Negro waif, uneducated and untrained, may merit higher praise than any intelligent but unscrupulous white person. Much more is it true that millions of intelligent and kind-hearted white women in this country are each worth more to the world than a myriad goddess and vain society belles.

These are truths so obvious that I deem it useless to cite examples. We closed this column last week with the recital of the death of an old Negro man, paralyzed and helpless, with two uncouth little daughters and a fine, kind-hearted white woman standing by his bed as his soul took its flight; and there were tears in the eyes of the two little Negro children and of the good white woman alike as the soul left the body. It would have been even a more grievous death than it was had not all realized that only through death could the suffering old man be relieved of his misery. Even under these circumstances, the ordinary child, black or white will feel bereft, for he is his father as well as their care, and naturally we feel the shock and the sorrow of death when it takes the father from the home.

Veanie reports gratefully: "Mrs. Lee took us home with her to sleep on her enclosed porch that night. She made white cotton dresses for us to wear to the funeral. At the cemetery she stood holding our hand as the coffin was lowered. And she kept us with her at her home for another week before we returned to our cabin. Mingie and I now went to school together. After school we went to Mrs. Lee's, and in the evening we came home and did housework and our lessons. Mingie liked the housework better than studying; I like studying better than housework.

"Mrs. Lee naturally didn't have enough work to keep both of us busy. And I think that she was beginning to be concerned about our always being together. She knew that we were two, not just one. Each of us must stand on her own feet; each must go her own way. So, she arranged for Mingie to work for her sister, Mrs. Porter, who lived near by and had a little baby boy named Billie, who was about Edie's age. She chose to send Mingie, I think, because she knew that Mingie was less shy than I, and better able to adjust to the change. But Mingie was suddenly reluctant to leave "her" Miss Rossie. After all, as Mingie had often reminded me, when some point of conflict arose, it was she who had found Mrs. Lee. Miss Rossie was very grave, trying to explain her decision. There are many people in the world," she said. "You will have to go out on your own one day and work for other people. You have to think of the future—high school, maybe college, making a living . . . but Miss Rossie couldn't lecture. She looked helplessly at Mingie and said, 'Honey, I'm just trying to help you.' I Veanie turned to Mingie imploringly, waiting for her reply. 'I'll go if you want me to, Miss Rossie,' she said at last, still somewhat begrudgingly.

"Miss Rossie's eyes were loving, as she replied, 'But not for my sake, Mingie, not just because I wish it.'"

"Mingie smiled bravely, then, 'Please, Miss Rossie,' she said, 'I want to go.'"

"I couldn't keep back a small sigh of relief. I was going to stay on with Miss Rossie. But my relief was still mixed with a feeling of guilt, and the subject remained a sore point between Mingie and me."

"On the following Monday, Mingie went to work for Mrs. Lee's sister, Mrs. Porter paid Mingie two dollars a week, just as Mrs. Lee now paid me. Thus our income was doubled, and we both reveled in our new prosperity. One evening a few weeks later Mingie confided to me, 'I rather work for Mrs. Porter than anybody but Miss Rossie. Mrs. Porter real nice too. I knew then that we were at peace with each other and with the world.'"

"One Saturday evening about a year after Papa's death Mingie stopped by for me (Veanie) and we walked home from Mrs. Lee's together. By the time we reached the railroad tracks that marked the boundary between whites and blacks, it was nearly dusk. The smell of rain was in the air, but the grassy bank above the tracks looked cool and inviting. Mingie said what I was thinking: 'Let's stay till the Coast Line go by.' The train was due in half an hour.

"As we sat tossing pebbles, a shattering sound split the air. Frightened, we both stared into the gathering darkness. Then we heard the same sound, nearer this time. 'Shootin!' Mingie grabbed my hand, and we both bolted into the thick brush and the palmetto. Now we heard automobiles approaching; more shots!—yelling!—blaring horns!—'Get down quick,' Mingie shouted. 'It's a whole bunch of white people, and they have got guns.' We waited for the automobiles to pass, but before they reached the railroad crossing, the long Coast Line Express train thundered by, shaking the earth, raising clouds of dust. The autocade therefore had been compelled to stop; and we saw ugly muzzles of shot guns! (tiffes! Pistols!) We heard angry men shouting and swearing as they waited for the train to move on out of the way. Then the dust settled a little and they drove off toward the colored part of town, firing their guns into the air.

"Mingie and I could not move. Only one person could take away our terror, could make us believe that somehow our eyes hadn't seen, our ears hadn't heard, not really, what had been occurring. 'Miss Rossie! Miss Rossie!' I begged. 'Please Ma'am, Miss Rossie, Come and get me an' Mingie.'"

Mingie was praying the same prayer, but she was more practical-minded. "Come on," she said to me, "We gotta get home, cause if she come we won't be there."

"A light rain was falling by the time we reached our neighborhood.

There was no glint of light, no voice. Every door was closed, and every shutter, including Aunt Tiler's. We tip-toed up onto the porch of our cabin, and Mingie shoved open the door. We peered into the pitch-black room. Even Mingie recoiled.—'Veanie,' she said, 'that door don't lock. Let's don't go in, let's go under the house.'

"On hands and knees we crawled under the house and pawed out a little hollow behind the wooded props. Soon I was asleep with my head in Mingie's lap. Noises awakened me, and I coughed. 'Sh-sh-h!—Mingie clapped her hand over my mouth. —'They out there,' she whispered.

"In the glare of flash-lights, I could see boots walking toward our front steps. Not moving, hardly daring to breathe, we listened to them kicking open the door, tramping through our two rooms, ransacking, throwing things around.

"Come on, Nobody's here. The voice was impatient. The boots marched away, and there was a slamming of car doors, and starting up of motors.

"At dawn we crawled out. The world was silent and lifeless. There were none of the familiar sounds.—talk and laughter; no cry of a baby demanding attention—no housewife's slam and bang of stove and pots; not in our whole settlement. All of the houses were still tightly shut.

"We ran into our house and stood at the window, watching for something, waiting.—'Miss Rossie. Oh Miss Rossie!'—That was in our every thought—but we didn't say it. Then from a distance we again heard shots! Triumphant shouts! Blaring horns! It sounded like a celebration. Three crowded cars came into view. And then a faded green truck which was dragging behind it the slain quarry of the all night search. The men left the mutilated carcass suspended from wooden joists before a store in the small business center of the colored section of the town. We saw it there later when we ventured out, and the sight sent us flying back to our cabin to barricade ourselves once more.

"A seeming eternity passed. And then my heart gave a great leap; I saw the familiar blue car. 'Mingie, here she come,' I cried exultingly. Mingie held me back. 'Don't go out there, Veanie, we gotta make sure.'

She didn't say this rest of it, the terrible fear. What if Miss Rossie was no longer our Miss Rossie? What if she had changed, as so much else had suddenly changed?

"We watched Miss Rossie step from her car. She walked in long strides; somehow she seemed to have lost her gay little bounce. We heard her heels clicking on our walk. Her eye were straight ahead, and her brows were pinched together in an expression we hadn't seen before. She stopped and called 'Veanie? Mingie?'

"That voice, that dear beautiful voice! We scrambled to open the door, and all the coughing I had managed to suppress burst out explosively, along with great gulping sobs. Mingie was crying too. 'Oh Miss Rossie, Veanie's sick. We kot wet. We hadda sleep under the house.'

"We saw it, Miss Rossie. I managed—They—Mrs. Lee had us in her arms. 'Veanie, honey, you're awfully hoarse. They hung 'im—How would both of you like to come and stay with me tonight, so I can work on Veanie's cold?'

"Oh yessum," said Mingie. "Miss Rossie, them men—"

"Get Veanie's coat, Mingie, dear. She's shivering."

"Mrs. Lee shepherded us into the car. At an intersection I craned my head out the window, Miss Rossie, if you look down that street, you might see him hangin'—"

Her eyes never left the road. She said, 'who is it that's so crazy about grits and sausage? Because that's what we're going to have.' Mingie and I were both silent the rest of the way I knew my sister was thinking as I was: Why doesn't Miss Rossie explain about the killing? Why won't she even let us talk about it?

The subject was never mentioned again—and slowly Mingie and I digested a fact that we must sooner or later know: There were some things in the world that even Miss Rossie couldn't fix.

"As an aftermath of that night of terror, I spent nearly two weeks in the Hospital with pneumonia. I remember little of the first feverish days when I fought through nightmare after nightmare. Though mystified and bewildered, yet I knew that every day, and sometimes more than once a day, Miss Rossie came. I'd feel her cool hand on mine, hear her gentle voice, and then I'd know that I was safe. Nobody was going to hurt me; I was only sick.

I think that right here is a good place to say that a mob is the meanest, craziest, sorriest, wickedest, dumbest, most diabolical, most abominable body of animals that can be gathered together. It's a devil in the flesh that the mob usually gets, but in getting him the mob usually becomes as crazy and abominable as its victim. Poor little Veanie and Mingie, but we thank the Lord for the presence and ministrations of good women like Miss Rossie in many an emergency.

FLMER BLANKENSHIP

Cotton seedlings are often injured by excessive amounts of fertilizer. Phosphorous has little or no adverse effect on the seedling but too much nitrogen can inhibit seed germination to the point of ruining a stand and injuring seedlings to generally cause unhealthy plants. This can be eliminated if precautions are taken to keep the banded fertilizer far enough from the seed. When using large amounts of fertilizer it may prove advantageous to broadcast part of it; then later band the rest in. Bands should be placed three to four inches to the side and two inches below the seed for cotton in this area. Under normal conditions, no noticeable difference has occurred from banding on one or both sides of the row; however, in this area skip-row irrigation is popular and precautions should be taken to correlate fertilizer bands with irrigation practices. Since the plant will send roots to the wet middle, the fertilizer should be placed in the same middle.

point, that before beginning your fertilization program, seek technical advice from your county agent. Further recommendations and individual problems should be discussed with him.

Farmers using rye as a soil building crop on dry land should watch their moisture conditions under that crop especially now as rye will soon begin using moisture when it starts jointing. There are several ways of stopping the growth of rye and conserving the moisture and preventing wind erosion. One of the most popular and effective methods is shallow listing that land, followed by a knifing operation to completely kill the remaining rye and any young winter weeds. Farmers using irrigation can allow the rye to grow until March 15 to April 1st since water can be replaced by irrigation in case rainfall is not ample. Rye being used as a cover crop on conservation reserve land should be killed by the above method or by using sweeps from March 15 to April 15. This will accomplish a seed bed ready to plant perennial grasses.

It should be emphasized at this

HOW TO GET WHAT WE NEED
(A distinguished Texas judge offers pointers on combating our rapidly increasing juvenile delinquency problem.)

By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

Texas like to brag — and we have much reason to be proud. But we can't brag about our facilities for handling juvenile delinquents. They're inadequate.

The state institutions are heavily overcrowded. There are no state parole officers for children released from them. Many counties have neither institutions nor parole officers.

While the Legislature provided for some additional facilities, the buildings will merely permit less crowding and replace unsafe structures. No more children will be accommodated. No probation officers were authorized.

There is, however, something that can be done, and it is up to us, the people, to do it. Public officials respond to what the voters want. On the county level it is the Commissioners Court, and for the state the Legislature has the responsibility.

The Hurry Call Of Our Youth

W. A. Brooks, Pastor
First Baptist Church

I have seen a significant change in Youth the last five years. They are more serious about vital issues than I have ever witnessed. This can be a great asset or disastrous liability. It certainly requires immediate action.

Many are turning to various escape devices. Their inner seriousness due to the impact of world tensions drives them into either good causes or false ideologies or dissipation. Churches, schools and especially our homes must wake up to Call of our Youth today.

The advocates of communism, false religions, and dangerous philosophies are losing no time. The profiteers in vice, liquor, and gambling are letting no grass grow in their tracks. All are hot after Youth.

Our churches must speed up their quest. We are doing much but not enough and certainly not fast enough.

Our approach needs to be deepened and elevated. Its message and activities must have substance and significance. It must not be watered down. We dare not accommodate our challenge to the ordinary concept of youth. It must be more profound than that which we usually beam at adults.

Youth is interested in the great doctrines of the Word of God such as Theology, eschatology, and providence. They are very much interested in the injustices and inequalities among men and the best way to resolve the tension is society.

Youth can reach youth. The right kind of adults can teach and lead them. They are ripe now. They can be rotten tomorrow if they are not garnered today. The time of the crises is exceedingly short. Remember—the Future of our World will depend upon our Youth of today. Let's encourage our Young People.

Tahoka Loses At Abernathy

Abernathy Antelopes walloped Tahoka Tuesday night 55 to 44 in a game played there to throw the Bulldogs into a tie with Floydada for the district championship. Under district rules, the teams are declared co-champions. Had Tahoka won over Abernathy, the team would have been outright district champions.

Tahoka girls lost to an undefeated Abernathy team 57 to 19.

The hot Abernathy quintet took an early lead over the low-temperated Bulldogs and held it throughout the game with Tahoka only being able to tie the score twice. The score stood at 16 to 11 at the end of the first quarter and 27 to 24 at halftime. Not until the second half did the Antelopes pull far enough ahead to feel comfortable. End of the third period score was 40 to 30.

Jerry Brown led Tahoka with 17 points while Jay Gurley had 11, but the entire team was off and not hitting up to par. Three Abernathy players scored in double figures, Jimmy Dye with 15, Lane Tannehill 12, and Bob Heath 10.

In the girls' tussle Abernathy held a 39 to 15 halftime lead. Scoring for Abernathy were Jodie Phillips with 17, Brenda Shipman 15, and Margie Guinn 13. Jan Thomas made 9 for Tahoka.

The Tahoka eighth grade girls team, coached by Tom Bartley, won the consolation trophy Saturday in the Wilson Grade School basketball tournament.

Both Wilson girls and boys teams won first place in the event. The local girls lost their first game 20 to 13 to Wilson, putting them in the consolation bracket. They won over Southland 20 to 9 and over Slaton in the consolation finals 22 to 17.

The eighth grade boys team lost to both Wilson and New Home, but the scores were not available.

Bulldogs Take Floydada Here

The Bulldog basketball quintet played a "whale of a game" last Friday night when the local team defeated Floydada 40 to 33 to break the tie for the district lead. No girls game was played after Floydada forfeited.

Playing without the services of starter Marlin Hawthorne, who was benched with bronchitis, the five hustled to victory from the starting minute of the game. The win gave the Bulldogs a 10-1 record and Floydada a 9-2 conference slate.

The lead changed hands at least a dozen times, but the score was always close. The Bulldogs led 12 to 11 at the end of the first quarter but the Whirlwinds had overcome the deficit to lead 25 to 23 at half time. Both teams were comparatively cold in the third quarter, each scoring only five points, and Floydada continued to hold the lead at the end of the third, 30 to 28.

Before a raucous crowd that packed the gymnasium, Tahoka took the lead early in the fourth quarter when Jay Gurley began hitting the basket consistently, making 12 of his total 22 points during the period. Tahoka had a seven point lead with 25 seconds left in the ball game, but a free throw and field goal by Floydada narrowed the margin to four points when the final whistle blew.

Gurley was high point man of the game, with Jerry Brown close behind with 18 points. Playing a terrific defensive game were Jerry Adams, who fouled off in the second half, Karl Prohl and Weldon Calloway. Also seeing action and doing a fine job holding down Floydada scorers were Jackie Applewhite and David Bray.

Leading the Floydada scoring attack was Bill Patterson with 12 points and Teague with 9. Patterson also fouled out, as well as Richardson, hurting the Whirlwinds considerably.

The game saw possibly two of the more evenly matched teams in the area play a hard defensive game with Tahoka opening the important battle with a combination press and zone defense, which Floydada also used during the game.

Letters From News Readers—

(The News welcomes letters from its readers on any current subject, not libelous, of course. All communications must be of reasonable length and must be signed. On request, the signature will not be printed. The Editor.)

Editor, The News:

I'm sure that reasonably close around New Home there are plenty of people who don't know what a fine community building this community has.

You'd wonder where the money came from. I'm going to guess that to build and furnish it, the cost was $8,000 or $10,000.

I may be as wrong as the fellow that started to jump the Mississippi. He got half way across and saw he couldn't make it, and he turned around and went back.

New Home is sure a fine community to live in. Everybody seems to know and like everybody else. Frank, if this lands in the waste basket, I've just lost a little lead in my pencil.

A friend, E. S. Brown.

New Home Boys Win Final Game

New Home Leopards ended their 1958 basketball season on a pleasant note Tuesday night by winning both games over Wellman.

The boys won their only conference game of the season by defeating the Wellman boys 36 to 32. Nick Ford was the high point man with 12 points, but "Skeet" Poer was right behind him with 11 points.

New Home girls also came in with a victory, taking Wellman girls 51 to 42. Virginia Renfro was high scorer with 25 points, while Linda Harmonson had 18 points.

Friday night, New Home girls defeated Union 38 to 24, with Renfro scoring 19 points. However, the boys lost 57 to 31, with Ford scoring nine.

A NEWSPAPER WAS A RARITY IN MANY AMERICAN COMMUNITIES!

Then—a newspaper was a thing to be marveled at—for memories of the Press' fight for freedom were fresh in mind. Although newspapers are common in our country today, their existence should not be taken for granted. It is a wonderful fact that almost all of our modern communities have their own hometown newspapers, freely edited by members of their own communities—spreading the news, stimulating the business of the community, and keeping their readers informed of important events elsewhere. It is well to keep in mind that a free press and a free people are an unbeatable team.

Parents of the bridegroom are Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Gage, formerly of Redwine, of the Bethel Baptist Church in Lubbock.

Accompanied by Miss Myrick, Jack Christie sang "Whither Thou Goest," "Because," and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported lace and tulle designed with a round neckline and accented with silver beads and rhinestones. Her fingertip-length veil of silk illusion was showered with flower embroidered in silver. She carried a bridal bouquet of gardenias and carnations atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Mickie Faust was matron of honor and wore a gown of ice blue antique taffeta and a shoulder-length veil. Her bouquet was a cresent of carnations.

Kenneth Gott, cousin of the bride, served as best man. Mitch Browning, a nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer and ushers were Kenneth Earley of Tahoka and Homer McNeal of Lubbock.

A reception was held in the educational auditorium of the church when the serving table, covered with a lace cloth, was decorated with white carnations and tapers. The white wedding cake, trimmed with blue roses and pink border, was served by Mrs. Doris Browning and Miss Dolores Gage, sisters of the bridegroom.

Following a wedding trip to Balmorhea, the couple will make their home at 2905 Ave. J. in Lubbock. For traveling, the bride chose a blue cashmere suit with black accessories.

The bride is a senior student at Monterey High School. The bridegroom is employed by Baker's Office Supply Co. in Lubbock.

Everyday Religion

By J. B. Thompson

Edwin Markham, in his poem "The Man With The Hoe," pleads for that "thing" to be touched again with the ennobling sense of divine vocation with these beautiful lines: "Touch it again with immortality; Give back the upward looking and the light; Rebuild in it the music and the dream."

The music and the dream! They seem to belong together. The harmony of soft music inspires the soul to look up and see the light. The martial air of a stirring march can send the lagging spirit out in quest of life. The soul that sings can rise from the minor key of despair to the swelling crescendo of victory. To sing it to dream! To dream is to live!

The songs of hope which have been sung by devout believers have lifted the race. The plaintive cry of the Negro spiritual which laments, "Nobody knows the trouble I see; nobody knows but Jesus," ends with the triumphant shout, "Glory! Hallelujah!" So does every dream inspired song that points the soul upward to God.

As music inspires dreams so do dreams inspire life. Life at its best. Sorrow, like a cloud, hovers over that man who has ceased to dream. For him the evening sunset gives back no radiant tints of beauty. For him the deepening twilight darkens into night with no noble longings or hopeful plans for his tomorrow. All great achievements have been wrought by those who first dreamed great dreams.

Man is ever haunted by the dream of life as God would have him live it. The world around may be bleak and cold but as long as this great dream tugs at his heart-strings there is hope. Dream on of a warless world; of the brotherhood of man; of the Kingdom of God! Sing the songs of hope and dream the dreams of life!

Mrs. A. M. Cade was admitted to Tahoka Hospital Monday for the second time in the past few weeks with complications as a result of the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Jack Dunlap and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Dunlap and children of Garland were here last week end visiting the boys' parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Dunlap, Mrs. B. J. Dunlap's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Roberts, and Mrs. H. E. Dunlap's parents at Seagraves. Billy Jack is employed by Coca Cola in Garland.

Mrs. Henry (Jeanette) Dixon of Akron, Ohio, arrived Thursday of last week for a visit of a week or more with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Cavness.

The annual Cub Scout "Blue and Gold" banquet will be held Tuesday night, February 25, at 6:00 p. m. in the school cafeteria.

The time of the banquet has been changed from 8:00 to 6:00 p. m. so as not to conflict with the Methodist revival then in progress, according to Mrs. Skiles (Alta) Thomas, who is in charge of banquet arrangements. Charles Reid is in charge of the banquet program.

All Cub Scouts and their parents are expected to attend the affair.

Water Meeting Is Held Here

Roy Dunlap, city manager of Snyder, was the principal speaker at a dinner meeting of the Permian Basin Section of the Texas Water and Sewerage Works Association which met in Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church Tuesday night.

Dunlap spoke to 113 members and guests attending on the operation of sewer plants. Preceding the program E. L. Burns of Midland, president, presided over a business meeting.

The association is making plans for the organization of a band made up of members of the organization from this district.

Pat Hines said that this district is the largest in Texas being bordered by Morton on the north, Plains on the west, Monahans to the south, and Colorado City to the east. It also has a record of having the largest attendance at its monthly meetings.

Dinner was prepared and served by the Eastern Star.

The next meeting will be held March 18 in Brownfield.

Ronnie Dulin Is Burned By Butane

Ronnie Dulin received severe burns on his face and right wrist late Friday afternoon when butane exploded while he was filling his tractor.

He was an overnight patient in Tahoka Hospital and is now reported by his mother, Mrs. Jimmy Dulin, to be doing nicely.

Dulin had just arrived at his home five miles northeast of New Home from plowing when the accident occurred. He assisted his father-in-law, Jim Bob Smith, and two farm hands in putting out the fire before the Smiths and Dulin's wife brought him to Tahoka to the hospital.

Mrs. Roy Vineyard was released from Tahoka Hospital Monday where she had been treated for a back ailment.

An accident is usually the only winner in the race against time. Drive safely.

HEADS RED CROSS DRIVE FOR LIFE SAVED

Donald Paris On Honor Roll At WT

Donald Paris of Tahoka was one of the 101 students making the honor roll for the first semester of the current school year at West Texas State College, Canyon.

Donald is a senior at WT and is the son of Mrs. Jim Hill of Tahoka. He is a graduate of Tahoka High School and was employed by the News several years while in school here. A brother, Tommy Paris, is also a student at West Texas.

The careless worker has a date with an accident in '58. To be effective, safety must be practiced twenty-four hours each day.

Cultivate a respect for safety rather than a fear of accidents.

Standing . .

(Cont'd. From Front Page) And after all, what is more important than that? YOU are always champions when you behave in such a fine manner, and we are proud of you.

The Boy Scouts were really on the ball Saturday when they patrolled the town. Before the day was half gone, they had already stopped and fined the City Police a couple of times.

The day the Scouts assess fines for minor traffic violations certainly makes drivers conscious of their bad driving habits. If for no other reason, the practice does a great service for safety.

And the Scouts ain't timid about blowing their whistles, either.

Going through some "helpful hints," to a newspaper on special days and observances in February, I came across all sorts of things such as National Freedom Day, National Children's Dental Health Week, Rare Book Week, Race Relations Sunday, National Crime Prevention Week, etc., etc.

The one that struck me as almost hysterical, after seeing that in February foods such as kraut and frankfurters, pimientos, cherries, and beef are especially saluted, is the National Weight-Watchers Week that was Feb. 3-9. Gosh, wish I'd known that in time.

Incidentally, Feb. 28 is National Bachelor's Day, a great day in the history of Tahoka. Charlie Townes won't get to celebrate it.

Take notice you budget watchers. Permanent waves, two for $1.00; shampoo and set, 25 cents; coffee, 23 cents per pound; shortening, eight pounds for 73 cents; hot water bottles, 49 cents; Dr. Caldwell's Sena Laxative, 49 cents; eight-cup electric coffee maker, $4.95; children's coats on sale for $2.98; ladies' dresses on sale for 89 cents; Fort Worth Star Telegram, $6.45 per year.

Yes, these are actual prices appearing on the pages of the Lynn County News—on December 1, 1939, in an issue found by Mrs. Welch Flippin.

Did you know? R. C. Wells helped gin Tahoka's first bale of cotton in 1906.

Seems the flu is on a rampage in Tahoka again. There may have been more cases back in November, but chances are they were not nearly as bad. For the past two weeks Tahoka Hospital has been full of some very ill people because of influenza, (apparently the old 1918 kind), which probably means there are many ill at home. The moral of the story is, keep your feet warm and your nose dry.

-In Paul Crume's column "Big D" appeared the following story:

Out at Odessa, Thad Buster, 6, was giving thanks for the food at the dinner table, as was his duty, until he noticed his three-year old sister, Jan, mumbling. He stopped.

"I know you were telling the Lord that you don't want to eat this food," he explained to her, "but the Lord doesn't know that Mamma has a switch under this table."

The greatest use of a life is to spend it for something that outlasts it.

—William James

Alert today—also tomorrow. Drive safely.

Revival . . .

Charles Thompson, son of the local pastor, was born at Wilson and is a graduate of the Albany High School and McMurry College. He served as director of education and music in the First Methodist Church in Corsicana before going to Pampa. Thompson served five years in the Air Force, two and a half years of which were spent in England.

The pastor and the church membership invite everyone to share these services next week.

In preparation for the revival services, the Woman's Society of Christian Service held a special service Monday morning in the home of Mrs. H. W. Carter. The mid-week service on Wednesday evening pointed toward the week of revival meetings, following which the Commission on Membership and Evangelism met to make plans for visitations and other details of the revival.

The men's breakfast will be prepared by various men of the church. In charge of this phase are Maurice Huffaker, A. M. Bray, and Maurice Small.

Teachers Meet At Wilson Monday

Lynn County Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association will hold a dinner meeting in the Wilson School cafeteria Monday night, Feb. 24, at 7:00 o'clock, according to Mrs. Ruth Jolly, county superintendent.

Dr. K. R. Durham of Tahoka will be the principal speaker. John Shepherd, Tahoka High School principal, is arranging the program.

Mrs. Joy Daniel of New Home is the unit president and urges all teachers of the county to be present at this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bucy of Brownfield write The News they have gone to Port Aransas to spend a few weeks.

Junior Play Is Friday, Feb. 28

The Junior Class of Tahoka High School will present its annual play, "Finders Creepers," a mystery in three acts by Donald Payton, in the high school auditorium at 8:00 P.M. Friday, Feb. 28.

The cast is composed of Jerry Hayes as Wilbur Maxwell; Benny Martin, Hercules Nelson; Dottie Harrison, Celeste; Virginia Willhoit, Nina Quigley; Janey Ware, Frankie; Mary Sue Collard, Aunt Mary; Teddy Dockery, Uncle Bob; Jolene Mayberry, Granny; Lonnie Wheeler, Mr. Quigley; Marie Potts, Madeline; Pat Polk, Dr. Brown; Falcon McAllister, Harry Schuster; Peggy Halameick, Daphne; Terry Bryan, Claude; and Roy Hinkle, Henry.

Don Young is stage manager, prompters are Linda Jones and Jerry Perkins, and usherettes will be Carol Riddle, Dortha Rector, Shirley Lauderdale, Wanda Jones, Nancy Isham and Martha Rector. Admission will be 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

Mrs. Bill Cathcart was released Tuesday from Tahoka Hospital where she had been a patient since the preceding Wednesday with influenza.

Kirk Wright, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Wright, was in Tahoka Hospital from Friday through Sunday with the flu.
