Teams of workers from the various churches will call at every home and will try to contact each resident of the community in a short time.

Less Than Fourth Autoists Have Inspection Tags

Residents of Bailey County were reminded today that the 1959 deadline for having their motor vehicles inspected is midnight, April 15.

Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, Texas Department of Public Safety, stated today there are 5,200 motor vehicles registered in Bailey County; of these 21% have been inspected.

Drivers are urged to have their vehicles inspected early to avoid a last minute rush. This time of the year is noted for adverse weather conditions which may predominate during the next two and one-half months. As a result the number of inspection days will be cut down since stations cannot inspect vehicles under these adverse conditions.

"Passenger cars are inspected for brakes, lights, reflectors, horn and windshield wipers; while commercial vehicles are inspected for the above plus additional items required by law," said Johnson. "In 1958 approximately five out of every one hundred accidents were caused by a mechanical defect; therefore, owners are urged to have their vehicles inspected as soon as possible."

MILLEN, SOOTER REPORT

Farm Labor Situation For '59 Looks Bleak, Say Area Growers

"The farm labor situation looks much bleaker for '59." This statement sums up the combined opinion of the committees representing the Plains Cotton Growers and the West Texas Agricultural Employers Group who returned Saturday from the farm labor hearings in Washington.

At the hearings, which started on the 5th and ended on the 12th of February, the Plains Cotton Growers was represented by W. T. Millen, Muleshoe; J. D. Smith, Littlefield, and Jake Fudford, of Brownfield. The West Texas Agricultural Employers Group was represented by Joe Sooter of Muleshoe, Noah Lemley of Brownfield and Oscar Famm of Stanton.

In making a report to the farmers of the area on the proceedings and results of the hearings, Millen and Sooter, who were chairmen of the committees issued the following statement:

"The hearings were divided into four parts. The first consisted of two days of elaborately staged testimony dramatizing the deplorable plight of the farm worker. Large charts, pictures, motion pictures and dramatic skits were used to portray a medieval type exploitation of human labor. William F. Schmitzler, AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer, delivered what might be considered the "keynote address" in which he stated:

Chamber of Commerce to Support Bond Issue for Road Widening

Directors of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously Monday evening to support in every active way possible, a bond issue to secure right of way for widening US highways 70-84 west from Muleshoe to the Parmer county line. The vote came after president Jeff Peeler explained that unless a bond election is called and funds secured, appropriations for the widening project will be transferred to other counties where right of way problems have been solved.

Peeler and board member Jack D. Young told other members of the board that funds have already been set aside by the Highway Department for widening the stretch of Bailey county road, but the county must pay half the cost of right of way.

Right of way costs are expected to be higher than for the east bound strip of U. S. 84 due to the large number of irrigation wells situated near the highway right of way. The cost of right of way has been estimated at more than $300,000 by highway engineers.

When the widening project is completed, it would give Bailey county a four lane continuous highway from the eastern to the western boundaries. It would also link up proposed four lane highways through Parmer, Lamb, Hockley and Lubbock counties on the high plains.

Peeler also explained that a bond issue must be backed by an active educational program to insure its success, and urged the directors to support the issue.

Farmers Seek Soils Lab At Hi Plains Site

Bill Millen and a committee from the Bailey County Farm Bureau attended a meeting Monday night at Halfway, to discuss the need for establishing a soil research station for the High Plains at Halfway.

Millen addressed a group of about 30 from five counties, telling the need for a soil research laboratory, with a program designed for this area exclusively, and operated without government aid.

Millen praised the efforts of the Extension Service, and urged support of the Service's plea for more funds to expand, but he pointed out that a laboratory owned by and operated for the farmers would be more effective from a local economical point of view.

His plan would entail charging farmers a fee for each acre of land, to raise an estimated $20,000 to pay for the laboratory.

The group then elected a committee to meet with the directors of the High Plains Station. Lester Howard was named on the committee from Bailey county.

Others attending from here were Randy Johnson, James Wedel and Joe Sooter.

The sight of a window full of green foliage, cheerfully blooming plants on a dreary winter day can mean a lot to the average person, and make the dark days of winter easier to bear.

Window plants, or house plants, have a real psychological effect on many folk and make the days until spring seem fewer.

But in return for the cheer they bring, house plants ask for a reasonable amount of care and feeding. Like any living thing, they must be given certain basic needs in order to survive and grow.

House plants may be roughly divided into two broad types. Those which require high light intensity, and those which grow best in dark spots.

One should first of all remember that all plants grow in earth, regardless of how much we might consider them domesticated. With this in mind, we should try to give them conditions as nearly like their native habitat as modern conditions permit.

African Violets

Perhaps the most popular house plants are the Saint-paulia, commonly called African Violet, and the ivies, including philodendron. Geraniums do not enjoy the popularity they so justly deserve, in this writer's opinion, for they are the cheeriest indoor plant we can imagine, as well as being well suited to outdoor culture when the weather warms up.

But the African Violet, undoubtedly the most popular plant in the U. S., is also deserving and requiring the most particular care in one or two instances.

African Violets are members of the Gesneriad family, growing in cool, filtered light locations, with high humidity and ample moisture.

Therefore it behooves the African Violet fan to provide a pan of gravel or peat moss on which the pots may rest and draw moisture from the air through the leaf pores. Watering should be done during the early hours of the day, and care should be taken so that no water remains on the leaves, as they will spot and become discolored. Water should be at room temperature, never cold, and ample drainage should be provided through the use of crockery or charcoal in the bottom of the pot to prevent sour soil.

Saint-paulias are particular about their light requirements, and many folks here find that placing them in an east window, but not touching it, is sufficient. Others have found the use of fluorescent lighting effective in supplying only artificial light to the plants, in areas where it is not convenient to offer them natural light. There are several good books on this subject, notably the one by Peggy Schulz.

Ivies

The ivy family, including the Philodendrons, require varying amounts of light, with the philodendrons generally requiring less than the ivies. Regular feeding of a liquid plant food in dilute solutions should be given all house plants, but withheld right after flowering, as it is then that the plant is "resting", in preparation of producing more flowers.

The worst enemy of most house plants is the dry heat to be found in the modern home. Most plants will appreciate a bath by gentle spray under the kitchen sink in tepid water from time to time. Any way additional moisture can be put into the air will also be of benefit to most house plants.

Repeat house plants only when they show signs of need. Stunted growth, yellowing leaves, and failure to bloom are often signs of the need for repotting.

Farm Labor—

the Department of Labor met with the Domestic Farm Labor Sub-committee.

In this meeting the Department proposed that anyone using State Employment Service in the recruitment of domestic labor would be required to comply with certain standards of housing, transportation, wages and conditions of employment. These were new proposals and constituted an attempt by the Department of Labor to specify the conditions upon which a farmer could utilize migrant farm labor and would change the Texas Employment from a service agency into a regulating and controlling agency.

The above regulations were to be applicable to farmers or Associations who did not use foreign workers but did use the recruitment services of the Employment Commission for domestic farm workers, ("domestic" indicates American citizenship). For the employer of foreign farm workers these requirements were to be mandatory.

In addition to the above requirements, the Department of Labor proposed that the employer of foreign labor would be required to go a "reasonable distance" to recruit domestic labor and pay transportation costs to point of employment.

On completion of the job or contract the employer would furnish return transportation. The unbelievable gimmick in this was the fact that they defined "reasonable distance" in a way that would mean anywhere within the United States.

Refuse Endorsement
After the above proposals were presented to the Domestic Sub-committee, they were presented to the Mexican National Sub-committee and then in revised form to the full National Farm Labor Committee. All three committees refused to endorse the proposals in their entirety and requested that they be deferred for further study. The Department of Labor agreed to this but requested that the Mexican National Sub-committee meet with them in Los Angeles on February 28 to continue action on the proposals.

When you consider the combination of pressures and proposals being focused upon agricultural employers, to state that the prospects look bleaker for '59, may seem quite an understatement.

Coronation of Royalty Highlights Future Homemakers Banquet

Amid a setting of stars, moons, and cloud illusions, the Muleshoe Future Homemakers of America held their annual Sweetheart banquet Tuesday night.

The theme this year was "Twilight Time in '59". Colors of blue and silver were used to carry out the theme. Upon entering the banquet room all eyes turned to the royal throne where later in the evening the for Area I first vice-president. This is the first time a girl from Muleshoe has ever been a candidate for an area office.

On the program was an instrumental by Jesse Hodge, a duet by Dessir and Bessie Pope, a solo by Lyndall Fletcher, and Linda Millen presented a trombone solo. The stage band presented several numbers. Bill Sheehan, District Attorney from Friona, gave an interesting talk.

The high point of the evening was the crowning of the Queen and King, Prince and Princess. Queen Nell Moore and King Ross Langham were escorted to the throne by Linda Landers and Dorothy Hickman. Crown bearers were Kippy and Carolyn Brock. The King and Queen were crowned by Mary Gross.

Princess Leland Dean and Princess Doris Gregory were escorted by Louise Stinson and Rhonda Johnson and they were crowned by Glennis Lowe. A piano solo was presented by Coralyn Hicks and the benediction was given by Charles Merritt.

Area Talent Viewed Sunday At Study Club Silver Tea Art Exhibit

More than 60 entries in painting form, a nice selection of china painting, including one place setting of bone china, several chop plates, and plaques, a group of oil painted photographs, and one group of water colors and charcoal work were viewed by many interested art lovers of this vicinity at the Silver Tea and Art Exhibit in the Muleshoe Country Club on Sunday afternoon sponsored by the Muleshoe Study Club.

The highlight of the showing was a collection of paintings of the late Alice Pinkney of Chester, N. J., sister of Carl Crawford. All the paintings were done in Europe in the 17th and 18th centuries.

Mrs. Lonnie Arnold had an interesting exhibition of two groupings—one group of paintings that would appeal to the feminine art lover and another grouping that was entirely masculine. Her talents vary from a sensitive Madonna to the West Texas scenery of windmills and cattle.

Bobby Myers and Jerry Mayo entered two entries each that were well received. Mrs. Ray Edwards showed a lovely hand painted clock and also a fruit panel done in oil.

There were two out of town entries; Mrs. Reagan Looney and Mrs. D. C. Looney of Bovina showed works done in oil.

Tish Slemmons Bishop showed a charcoal sketching that had won a first prize in competition and also an oil painting of great beauty.

Mrs. Blanche Lenderson showed her talents in several mediums of artistry. She exhibited a collection of water colors as well as heavy oils and also an abstract painting which caused much comment.

Mrs. Cayle Reed won favorable attention with her painting of photographs. Mrs. G. T. Malby showed a collection of paintings done by her mother before her marriage in 1850 that were interesting.

Mrs. H. O. Barbour's entry was her china paintings. She showed one place setting of china from a whole set she has copied from imported Epaia china from Czechoslovakia in the pastel pattern.

Other entries were made by Mrs. Walter Witte who showed her wall plaques done in Dresden painting. Mrs. Arnold Gross and Miss Elaine O'More also contributed to the exhibit.

Mrs. Thurman White and Mrs. Gil Lamb presided at the silver service and served spiced tea and coffee, cookies, nuts, and mints, from a lovely table laid with a white cloth centered with an arrangement of pink sweetheart roses in a pink alabaster bowl flanked by pink tapers in crystal candelabra. Mrs. Verney Towns registered the more than 90 guests who attended, among them being guests from Tullia, Bovina, and Littlefield.

The committees who worked to make this affair a success were: refreshment committee, Ruth Williams, Jo White, O. N. Jennings; publicity, Ola Bell Lamb and Bernice Douglas; decorating, Morna Wagon, Jewel Anderson and Mildred Andrews; hospitality, Marie White, Morna Towns and Margaret Slemmons.

Mrs. Billy Stroud Honored Feb. 7

A bridal shower honoring Mrs. Billy Roe Stroud was given in the home of Mrs. Elmer Burris on February 7.

Hostesses for the occasion were Misses Jackie Burton, Janette Scarbrough, Charlene Volkman, Johnnie Burris, Mrs. Wilma Waddell and Mrs. Elmer Burris.

The sewing table was decorated with an arrangement of red carnations and white stock. Red hot punch and cookies were served to the 30 guests who called.

Newly-Weds Fed at Lazbuddie

Using a Valentine theme, the colors of red and white highlighted a bridal shower honoring Mrs. Jimmy Hawkins, the former Johnnie Nowell, Wednesday, February 11 at 2 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the Lazbuddie Methodist church.

Guests were registered by Miss Clo Ann White in a red velvet heart shaped guest book. Covering the serving table was a lace tatted cloth over white. Large red and white lace net hearts were arranged around the two 3-branched candelabras holding white candles. Miniature bride and groom stood in the center of the table before a large lace heart, holding the inscriptions, "Johnnie and Jimmy, January 24", the date of their wedding. Corsages of kitchen utensils tied with red satin bows arranged around the room completed the red and white theme. These were presented the honoree after the shower.

Hostesses were: Mmes. J. D. White, Gordon Duncan, Bill Brown, Willie Steinbock, Ira Wimberley, Raymond Green, Barney Floyd, Theron Vaughn, Eulan Parham, C. D. Gustin, and J. D. Carpenter.

Attending were Mmes. Ed Steinbock, Virgil Teague, Frank Hinkson, Elbert Nowell, John Gammons, Joe Briggs, Fred Gallman, Leonard Smith, and Debbie, Leland Gustin, Donald Runyon, Junior Stout and Dana of Plainview, Jack Smith and Jack Finley, N. M. McCurdy, Ray Lawhorn, James Cole, Claude Blackburn, Abe Mailouf, Ernest Nowell and Mrs. Arnold Peterson of Lubbock. Also Misses Janice Oliver, Mona Hall, Clo Ann White, Kay Ann Smith, and Jan Nowell, and the hostesses.

Many others sent gifts who were unable to attend.

WMS Entertain Seniors of '59

The Senior Class of '59 were honored with a Valentine Banquet on Thursday night by the WMS of the First Baptist Church. This is an annual affair looked forward to each year.

Dr. Henry Eason, head of the drama department at Wayland College, was the speaker. Special music was rendered by the following students of Wayland: Joe Peterson, soloist; Dan Kelly, trumpet solo, and Bob Brian, piano.

Mrs. Verney Towns, WMS president, gave the welcome and Sandra Allison, president of the senior class, gave the response.

The tables were decorated in the Valentine motif and a delicious meal was served to the 100 who were in attendance.

Mrs. Panter Entertains

Mrs. Jennie Panter was hostess for the meeting of the Half Century Club on February 12 in her home. A delicious luncheon was served followed by cards and visiting.

Those present were: Sally Harden, Birdie Paul, Hazel Farrell, Sweetie Johnson, Alice Mitchell, Mattie Duke, Lula Kistler, Tillie Martin, Anna Moeller, Lois Schoenberger, Pearl Moore, Beulah Charles, Laura Gilbreath, Molly Jones, Mary Young, Myrtle Harper, Leota Witterding, Hertha Walker, Mae Witterding, and one visitor, Yula Wiggins, a former resident of Muleshoe.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Fred Johnson on March 12 with Mrs. Lois Schoenberger as hostess.

We applied Vertagreen to test plots of cotton and maize and to 132 acres of onions. The onions yielded more than any in our area — up to 900 bags per acre. On 3.8 acres of cotton we yielded 4188 lbs. of good staple lint which sold for 10c per pound more than unfertilized cotton, which yielded only 624 lbs. per acre. On 12 acres of maize, the average was more than 7,000 lbs. on two irrigations.

ARTHRITIS

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

In 1945, I was given a medical discharge from the Army because of nervousness and arthritis. I tried the usual treatments and spent considerable time in Veterans Hospitals without obtaining relief. The arthritis affected my entire body to some degree and was particularly severe in my arms and shoulders, so much that I could hardly drive a car or tractor. I even had difficulty in feeding myself. These conditions were becoming progressively worse until in desperation, I took the advice of friends and consulted Dr. Brooke Green of the MULESHOE CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC. Dr. Green made a chiropractic examination including spinal x-ray pictures and nerve test analysis. Dr. Green explained the spinal X-rays which showed a misalignment of the vertebrae of my spine and how this was causing pressure on the nerves and spinal cord. After a few adjustments I began to respond and now after several weeks I feel that I have made very good progress toward regaining my health.

I have given the above affidavit in the hope that others may benefit as I have.

The new Piggly Wiggly supermarket in Muleshoe makes the 18th of a group operated on the South Plains by Davis and Humphries.

The firm has grown to this size since J. M. Davis and W. E. Humphries entered the grocery business in East Texas in 1911. After 12 years of operation there, the partners decided to move west and established the first Piggly Wiggly market in Lubbock in 1924.

May We Recommend The WET ACID PROCESS As The Process To Be Used In Chemically Delinting Your Cotton Seed — HERE'S WHY —

1. Seed stays in contact with the acid for a period of 30 seconds or less.
2. Water is used as a neutralizer.
3. Does not eat the bags.
4. Wet and green seed can be safely delinted.
5. Seed can be safely stored and used for a period of several years.
6. Does a more thorough job on angular leaf spot and other seed borne diseases.
7. Heat is used only to dry the seed after the acid has been washed off.
8. Planting 12 lbs. per acre the cost is less than 10¢ per acre more—using wet acid.
9. More uniform planting.
10. More even stand.
11. Quicker emergence.
12. Plant faster.
13. Get bigger yields.
14. Gravity table floats out weak seed.
15. Treating prevents seed rotting even in cold damp weather.
16. No sticks, stems, or lint to clog the planter.
17. In warm soil seed will sprout in 12 hours. A stand in four days.
18. Less moisture required for germination.
19. For only 1 lb. of lint cotton per acre, you can chemically delint your cotton seed, using the safe Wet Acid Process.

Ellington is market manager. Simmons has been with the organization for nine years. Ellington for nine years also.

There is simply no more modern, nor more complete grocery market to be found anywhere.

"The most beautiful shopping area in the West"—that is what folks will be saying about the newest Piggly Wiggly. No wonder, for in this building, which will cover more than 16,000 square feet, (it measures 140 by 118), you'll find the latest in store fixtures and decorations, as well as unusual features such as sound system for store-wide paging, and mechanical air conditioning to produce an ideal year-round atmosphere.

Ultra-modern in design, the building will be bordered by a parking lot which accommodates 135 cars. The lot will be paved, marked, and mercury vapor-lighted.

Pleasing to the eye, both outside and in, the supermarket will have pastel-colored refrigerated cases in the frozen foods department; plus giant gondolas for more convenient displays; 61 feet of both self service and "butcher serviced" meat counters.

Company is the intended keynote in this store from a special station where customers may check empty bottles and collect for them before shopping to six motorized check-out stations for faster service. A continuous belt moves groceries out of the checker's way to the sack boy who takes them to the car. Also covered, lighted walkways along the building front protects against the weather. To top it all off, a superb Kiddie Corner will be provided complete with TV so mothers can bring their young ones and shop in peace.

The building is constructed by Tidmore Construction Company of Lubbock and owned by Doc Wilbite of Muleshoe.

Giant Cheese Will Provide Sample Taste

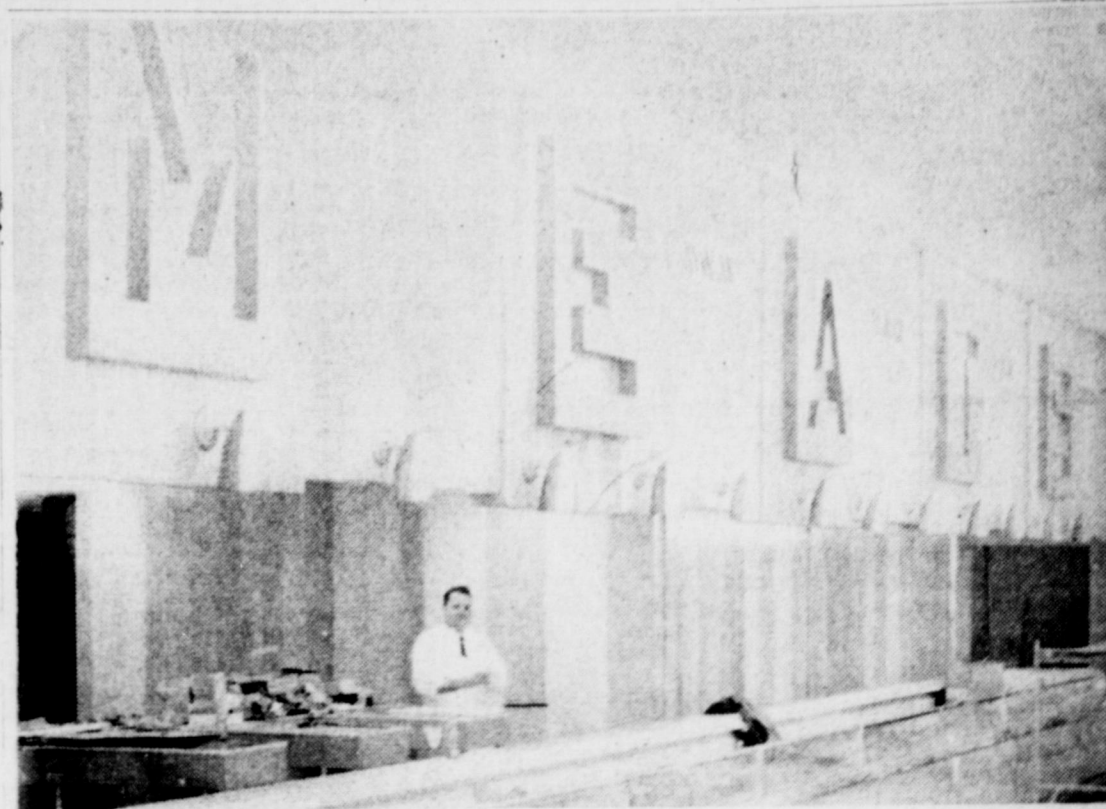

How'd you like to see a single cheese which weighs over 500 pounds? Well, there's one on display at the new Piggly Wiggly Super Market in Muleshoe. Visitors to the Piggly Wiggly opening are being invited to sample its tangy, sharp, cheddar taste. After an expected record-breaking opening-day crowd, there'll still be hardly more than a comparative nibble missing from the mammoth cheese.

The Wisconsin Cheddar Cheese was manufactured by Kraft and Company. Over 5500 pounds of milk were required to produce it. That took 286 cows belonging to 22 farmers, grazing on 1980 acres of land.

The man-hours which went to produce this one cheese include 176 hours put in by the farmers, two and a half hours labor for trucking, and 14 hours by workers who manufactured the cheese. This particular cheese, of the Wisconsin Cheddar variety, was made last year in order that it would have the finest quality and tang.

Customers purchasing pieces of the giant cheese will get the piece they buy free if they guess the weight of it.

BABSON DISCUSSES... Missiles and Public Utilities

Babson Park, Mass., Feb. 19—The newspapers carry much news regarding missiles and rockets. This news is of interest to the many industrial plants which make parts for such missiles. A list of the leading companies in this field whose stocks are listed on the New York Stock Exchange will be sent free of charge to any reader on request. However, notwithstanding the Washington releases on missile contracts, the corporations which have the government contracts derive very little profit from such business. I am not now recommending investment in any of these.

Of course, we should all be interested in missile experiments and in space studies. It is too bad the Russians got a head start on us. It is utterly foolish, however, to state that "it will take two to three years" for us to catch up with Russia. Such reports are being put out by manufacturers as propaganda to get greater appropriations. President Eisenhower knows this and will not be fooled by them.

Importance of Anti-Missile Missiles
 It is well for us to have "surface-to-surface", "underwater to surface", and "air to surface" missiles which can hit a given target 500 to 2500 miles away. These are as important as guns, cannons, submarines, and airplanes; but they are for offensive warfare. It seems generally understood that the United States is in no mood now to start a World War. This also probably applies to Great Britain and France. Whether or not Germany will wait for Russia to strike first is another question. The above means that the important weapon, from a defense standpoint, is an anti-missile missile. This is a missile which can be fired to head off and destroy any approaching missile being fired at our cities by an enemy. Even though we would not start a war with Russia, we would immediately go to the help of any free nation—including Germany—which Russia might attack. We then would be subject to bombing. Hence, a defense against such missiles is an absolute necessity. But today we hear or read very little about such protection as anti-missile missiles.

Propaganda Is Usually False
 This is especially true of the attempt to scare the American people by saying it will take us 3 or 4 years to catch up with the Russian scientists. But let me comment on this 3 to 4 year propaganda. All research men know that TIME is an impossible factor to judge with regard to discovering the solution to any scientific problem. It may have taken the Russians four years to reach their present efficiency with missiles; but the physicists and engineers of some other nation may make a discovery in 30 days which will put them ahead of Russia. Most great inventions have come from a sudden idea. Furthermore, Russia may not now be ahead of us in anti-missile missiles. No nation yet has the protection desired from such missile attacks. Yet this is the important discovery which the world is awaiting. Some Washington friends may tell you, "We have such an anti-missile missile; but the data are 'classified or secret'." Don't believe them. The experiments by most nations with anti-missile missiles are known throughout the world. They cannot be kept secret, except possibly by Russia in Siberia. I wish to drive home to readers of this column that no country—including Russia and Germany—will start World War III until it has discovered a means of preventing destruction by enemy missiles. Our Defense Department should give priority to such work rather than to shooting around the moon.

Electricity From The Air
 Notwithstanding the above, I am greatly interested in learning more about space. My studies with gravitation make me believe that if two wires are carried up through space a certain distance, we could so utilize the atomic heat from the sun as to produce or collect electricity directly without the need of generators on the earth. I am certain the time is coming when our great public utility stations, instead of burning oil or coal, will have great "wires like lightning rods" extending up into the air. This is what Benjamin Franklin visualized over 200 years ago in 1752. The space experiments now in process will surely find the answer. Neither Russia nor Germany is talking about them; but some nation—possibly France—will find the answer.

Sir Isaac Newton (whose library we have at Babson Institute, Babson Park, Mass.) learned that gravity could bend a line or keep it upright. Space experiments are finding out what gravity will do after a missile pierces the gravity barrier. It then is pulled to the moon or sun automatically without power. Dr. Albert Einstein had all this in mind when he insisted that Electricity, Gravity, Magnetism (and in his last days he added Love) all come from some outside force and are interrelated. I wish that Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Edison, and Dr. Einstein were here today to talk this over. Surely this would result in an "atoms for peace" program, which was Dr. Einstein's daily prayer. This was based upon the sun as the universal source of energy.

Sandhills Philosopher Claims... Car Manufacturers Mixed Up On Why People Want Smaller Cars

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is talking about new cars this week, in a theoretical sort of way.

Dear editor:
 I have always contended that American business must know what the American public wants, as it always manages to keep the latter's income tied down in installment payments for months and years ahead, but I read an article in a newspaper last night that makes me wonder.

According to it, car manufacturers, winking up to the fact more and more of those little foreign cars are showing up on the streets of this country, have decided to go into the small-car business themselves. But, the article pointed out, while the cars will be shorter and generally smaller, their price won't be a lot less than present cars.

This is what I'm talking about. I don't think anybody really objects to a long car, it's the long payments that hurt. It's not the fact that riding around in a tail-finned, chrome-plated automobile is embarrassing, it's just that it's sometimes embarrassing to pay the gasoline bill to keep the thing going.

Might Cut It In Two

Tax Man Sam Sez:

The Internal Revenue Service is holding Taxpayer Assistance Day every Monday morning between January 5 and April 15 again this year. Taxpayers who have problems they cannot solve by reading their tax instructions that they receive in the mail should plan on either telephoning or visiting the Internal Revenue Service office on Monday morning if they need help. There are 20 Internal Revenue Service offices located in the major cities throughout the Northern half of Texas in the Dallas District. At most of these offices the Internal Revenue men are out of the office carrying out their regular duties (visiting taxpayers at their place of business or office) during the remainder of the week. The Revenue folks feel that most taxpayers can solve most of their problems by reading their tax instructions carefully. They are in business, however, every Monday morning for those of us who don't read so good.

JUDY LAMBERT WRITES
 To The Journal:
 Hi!
 I received The Journal last week. I was very happy to get it. It is really sweet of you folks to send it to me. Up here it has been raining and it is really cold.

Love,
 JUDY

Judy write her message on a big postcard which pictured the beautiful surroundings of Rancho La Puerta, where she will be for some weeks. Her address, in case you want to write to her, Miss Judy Lambert, c/o Rancho La Puerta, Tecate, Baja, Calif., Mexico. We just mailed the paper to Tecate, Calif., so apparently the postal people don't know that Tecate is in Lower California.

Win Top 4-H Project Awards

Darrell Bozell
 Young forester Darrell Bozell, 18, of Mount Pleasant, Tivy County, won the 1958 state 4-H Forestry award of a fountain pen and pencil set given by the American Forest Products Industries.

He started his forestry project two years ago when he cleared a 10-acre plot. Since then, he has planted 2,000 pine trees furnished by the Texas Forestry Service. Over 75 per cent have survived, he reports, and now stand two to three feet tall.

Young Bozell hopes to improve the area until he has the 10-acre plot in commercial pine.

Miss Paula Joan Obrecht, 18, of Claude, state winner in 4-H Dress Revue, was awarded a trip to National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago by Simplicity Pattern Company.

There she modeled a rose-beige wool flannel modified chemise dress with a shirred overback, self belt in front, and a stand-up roll collar opening to a V in front.

A nine-year 4-H'er, she has won first in Armstrong County dress revue each year. For the past three years, she has been one of the top five girls in district event.

She makes most of her clothes and also western shirts for her brother. About $600 has been saved by her sewing project, she estimates.

Miss Obrecht is district representative at the State 4-H Council and president and junior leader of the Claude 4-H Club.

Now a home economics major at Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas, she hopes to become an Extension worker.

Am returning and suppose you just "jack-up" my subscription for say another 5 months and we will all call the matter closed out.

Many thanks to you for the trouble I have put you to. Our visits out there have always been most enjoyable and in our travels we have found no finer and better people than those in and around Muleshoe.

Today's Meditation

Read II Timothy 2:19-26.
 Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away; and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit. (John 15:2)

Each year on the first spring-like day in February, I take time to prune my grapevines. When we moved into our present house, the three grapevines on the arbor had been neglected and so bore little fruit. A friend taught me how to prune the vines. After cutting them back severely, I feared I would have no grapes. But in the fall I had luscious grapes in abundance!

My loving Lord comes to cut away the fruitless branches of my self-effort and feeble service to make way for His renewed grace and strength. The purging process is painful, but I know my heavenly Father is the husbandman.

As I accept His help, I feel a new surge of peace and have the assurance of His presence. Life takes on renewed meaning as I live in obedience to His will and in the hope of bearing fruit for Him.

PRAYER
 Our Father, we thank Thee that Thou dost look after each of us, Thy children, in love and tenderness. Prune away the dead branches of our lives, and fill us anew with the Holy Spirit. Keep us abiding in Christ, our living vine, that we may bring forth fruit for Thee. In the name of Thy Son, Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
 Obedience to God's way means fruitful living.

Washington News Letter

From Lyndon B. Johnson
 U. S. Senator

Dear Friend:
 Let's talk some facts of public office and private life. Specifically, as it concerns spending. No political party has a copyright on Henry Fielding's good advice: "A penny saved is a penny got." The rules of prudence and thrift apply equally well in public office and private life. We all know that. It's common sense. And as my Daddy used to tell me, "There's only one kind of sense—that's common sense."

Those same good rules apply today to the budget recommendations which came to the Congress from the President. These recommendations go to a committee... then to a subcommittee. They are studied and reworked line by line and item by item. They are gone over dollar by dollar. Then the Congress determines what it will do with the President's budget recommendations.

Let's take a look at what Congress has done in the past. It shows what we might expect in the future. Here is the record of the last five fiscal years. It shows more than $10 billion were whittled by the Congress from the budget recommendations.

83rd., 2nd., 1955, budget estimates, $60,770,315,686; appropriations, $58,160,445,563; decreased by Congress, $2,609,870,123.

84th., 1st., 1956, budget estimates, $66,023,099,195; appropriations, $63,947,281,321; decreased by Congress, $2,075,807,874.

84th., 2nd., 1957, budget estimates, $73,298,859,629; appropriations, $73,041,364,417; decreased by Congress, $257,495,212.

85th., 1st., 1958, budget estimates, $78,108,417,112; appropriations, $73,064,958,328; decreased by Congress, $5,043,458,784.

85th., 2nd., 1959, budget estimates, $81,737,060,999; appropriations, $81,119,818,276; decreased by Congress, $617,242,723.

Total budget cuts by Congress in last five Fiscal years, $10,603,874,716.

The Senate this year will take the same hard look at the budget recommendations. In some cases, the Senate will add to the recommendations. In others, no doubt, it will reduce the amount.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the President is asking this year for $925 million more for foreign aid than the Congress was willing to give him last year. That's almost $1 billion more money the Administration is asking be sent overseas.

On some recommendations, the Senate will agree. But not to simply say, "Me, too." When

General Tel. Acquires Sylvania; Adopts A New Corporate Name

A new corporate name, General Telephone & Electronics Corporation, was approved today when stockholders of General Telephone Corporation voted approval of the merger of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., into their company under the new name, at a special stockholders meeting held in the Statler-Hilton Hotel this week. At the same time, Sylvania stockholders voted approval of the merger at a meeting held in the Sheraton Plaza Hotel, in Boston.

Donald C. Power, President of General Telephone, will be chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the new corporation. Don G. Mitchell, chairman of the board of Sylvania, will become president of the new company. Sylvania will continue to operate as a separate corporate entity.

Each share of outstanding Sylvania common stock at the time of the merger will be converted into one share of common stock in the new corporation. Sylvania's non-convertible preferred stock outstanding will be converted into two shares of voting convertible preferred stock of the surviving corporation.

The merger will result in increased diversification of investment, substantially increased research and development facilities which may enable the General Telephone System to provide improved telephone service to the public and to serve better the national defense effort. Sylvania will be an improved position to finance future development, to diversify further due to the research efforts of the combined companies, and to benefit from General's experience and background in foreign manufacturing.

Largest Independent
General Telephone is the largest independent telephone company in this country, and the second largest communication system. It has telephone operating companies in thirty states, most of them in growing areas with continued prospects for sizable increases in subscribers. A major participant in a wide variety of research and development projects for the armed forces, involving extremely advanced concepts, Sylvania is engaged in multi-million-dollar defense projects involving research, development and production activities in the fields of electronic counter-measures, counter-counter-measures, weapons and missile systems, data processing, communications, radar, navigation and control systems.

Santa Fe Train Now Furnishes Meal Coupons

Inauguration of "El Capitan" Dining Club meal coupon books on Santa Fe Railway's hi-level chair car streamliner, starting February 16, was announced today by E. S. Marsh, President, Chicago.

Under the plan, "El Capitan" passengers can purchase a book good for meals for the duration of their trip at the time they buy their rail ticket.

Coupon books for five meals cost $10.00 for adults, $5.00 for children under 12 years of age, representing a saving of approximately 20 per cent under top menu prices, Marsh said.

"This plan", he declared, "permits an individual to firmly budget what he is going to spend for good, full-course meals on his trip. Unused coupons will, of course, be refunded."

"El Capitan" Dining Club coupon books go on sale in the railroad's city and depot ticket offices in Chicago, Kansas City, and Los Angeles, February 16, and may be purchased on rail travel credit cards.

Christian Science Services

Man's God-given dominion over the bondage of materialism will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon to be read, entitled "Mind", contains the account of Christ Jesus' healing of the man "whose right hand was withered" (Luke 6).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (307:25): "The divine Mind is the Soul of man, and gives man dominion over all things. Man was not created from a material basis, nor bidden to obey material laws which Spirit never made; his province is in spiritual status, in the higher law of Mind.

The Golden Text is from Romans (11:34, 36). "Who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever."

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

TEXAS SOILS AND CORN PRODUCTION

Although Texas is not commonly considered a major corn-producing state, soils and climate conditions over much of the state lend themselves favorably to corn raising.

This is particularly true of certain corn hybrids which have been developed in recent years to perform under specific soil and climate conditions. Last year, Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations in each potential corn-producing region of the state conducted crop tests with such corn hybrids to determine which were best suited for each region.

Designated as "corn performance tests", these planting experiments were conducted at 21 locations under dryland conditions and at two locations under irrigation. Weather conditions during the growing season were highly favorable for corn production in most areas of the state with the estimated 1958 average yield of 26 bushels per acre the highest on record.

For crop-testing and other purposes, Texas land resource areas—areas having related soils and similar climate—are divided into 14 sections, including the East Texas Timberlands, Coast Marsh, Coast Prairie, Blackland Prairies, East Cross Timbers, Grand Prairie, West Cross Timbers, North Central Prairies, Central Basin, Rio Grande Plains, Edwards Plateau, Rolling Plains, High Plains, and Trans-Pecos.

Corn performance tests were conducted in the Coast Prairie region at Angleton, Prairie View, and Cleveland; the East Texas Timberlands at College Station, Kirbyville, Nacodoches, Tyler, Mount Pleasant and New Boston; the Blackland and Grand Prairies at San Antonio, Martindale, Holland, Temple, McGregor, Waxahatchie, and Greenville; the East Cross Timbers at Denton, the Rio Grande Plain at Beeville (dryland) and Weslaco (irrigated); the North Central Prairies at Stephenville and the Rolling Plains at Chillicothe.

More Lone Star 4-H Members Rate Awards

Betty Gisler, Jerry Barta, Mary Taack, Richard Barkley

Distinctive 4-H achievement brought worthwhile rewards to four more young Texans. Winners of 1958 state honors in the 4-H program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, they were judged as all-around 4-Hers as well as for superior project work.

Multiple Award Winner

Miss Betty Joyce Gisler, 16, of Victoria, 4-H Health winner, was awarded a $150 college scholarship from Ell Lilly & Co.

Miss Gisler, secretary of the Mission Valley 4-H Club, has won district and county awards totaling 52 ribbons, four medals, and three certificates in seven years of 4-H Club work. Her projects included health, dress revue, dairy foods and vegetable demonstrations.

She became interested in the health project after learning of nutritional values from food demonstrations. Assisting the school physician with meal planning, helping with health fund drives, and rodent control campaigns were among her health activities.

A junior and assistant club leader, Miss Gisler has helped younger members with their project record books. She also leads troupe singing and square dancing.

Landscaping Expert

Winner of the 4-H Beautification of Home Grounds award was Jerry Barta, 20, of Marlon, who received a 19-jewel wrist watch from Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, 4 Chicago.

This Guadalupe County 4-H'er initially became interested in landscaping when his family moved from Corpus Christi to their present farm in 1949. The house was over 50 years old and needed extensive and internal improvements.

A period of drought slowed down Barta's project, but he has added a lawn, shrubs, flowers, a concrete patio, and yard furniture.

But Barta's interest in grounds beautification did not stop with his own yard. Two years ago he decided that the grounds around his church and school could be improved by landscaping. He drew the plans and made many speeches in behalf of the beautification, raising $50 toward the expense at one PTA meeting. He has since planted and cared for both church and school grounds.

For the past year Barta has been writing a weekly newspaper garden column. Now a freshman at Texas Lutheran College, he has a part-time job as student gardener.

Home Economist

Miss Mary Louise Taack, 17, of Hart, won the award in 4-H Girls Home Economics. She received a $150 scholarship from Montgomery Ward.

Miss Taack has successfully completed 4-H projects in foods, clothing, garden, home improvement, beautification of home grounds, poultry and electricity.

From the 157 county exhibits, 60 demonstrations, and 25 showmanship events entered, she has won more than a dozen grand or reserve championships. She received many other ribbons and awards.

Better than these awards, says this able young lady, is the satisfaction she gets from her Junior Leadership project. Since 1955 she has been a sewing leader, helping others with project records and demonstrations. She is president of the Hart 4-H Club and a member of the county council.

Recreation Leader

Richard Barkley, 18, of Irving, won the 4-H Recreation award and a fountain pen and pencil set from the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

Barkley's first venture into recreation came in 1955 when he assisted at a Tarrant County recreation school. He later became county recreation leader.

At district 4-H Camp, he planned parties, led song groups and instructed in games. Recently Barkley was elected chairman of the 1959 District IV Council.

View were curtailed somewhat because of lack of moisture during May and June and the test at Cleveland was seriously damaged by insects. However, corn hybrids named Texas 34, Asgrow 102 and Texas 30 produced the highest average yields in this section. Texas 34 and 30 are especially adapted to this area because of their superior resistance to insects and diseases.

In the East Texas Timberlands—which produce about one-fourth of all Texas corn—Funk G710AA, Asgrow 102, Texas 28 and 30 produced highest average yields.

In the Blackland and Grand Prairies, where corn production is often limited by shortage of summer moisture, tests were irrigated once at San Antonio and Martindale to insure production. Asgrow 101, Texas 28 and 30 produced highest yields in this area. In the northern area of this section, the test at Greenville was lost by lack of moisture and yields at McGregor and Waxahatchie were curtailed by insufficient moisture and at Denton by insect infestations. Asgrow 104 and Texas 28 were top yielding hybrids in the area.

RIO GRANDE PLAIN

In the Rio Grande Plain section, corn is a relatively unimportant crop except for a small area. In the irrigated test at Weslaco, Dixie 82, Texas 28 and Texas 32 gave the highest yields. The Beeville dryland test showed Texas 28, Conrad 7 and Texas 36 to be highest yielding hybrids.

Although some corn is grown on the eastern edges of the West Coast Timbers and Rolling Plains, corn is of minor importance in these areas. Yields at Stephenville and Chillicothe were curtailed by insufficient moisture during May and June. Texas 28 and 32 produced highest yields in this region.

Funds Available For Conservation Farm Practices

Is conservation being left out of your farm plans because of the cost involved? Would you include it in your plans if you could receive financial assistance and procedural advice?

If you answer "yes" to both these questions you may be interested in some programs that can help make this increasingly important practice a part of your operations, suggests Lynn Pittard, extension assistant soil and water conservation specialist.

The Farmers Home Administration has money available to lend for soil and water conservation work, Pittard explains. As much as $25,000 may be borrowed and paid back in 20 years or less.

The Agricultural Conservation Program is a cost-share program which provides up to 80 percent assistance for conservation practices.

The Great Plains Conservation program, another cost-share program, provides assistance to 76 counties in the Great Plains area of Texas. It is administered by the Soil Conservation Service.

All of these programs are designed to encourage and assist farmers and ranchers in carrying out conservation work, Pittard points out. Information on these and other programs and facilities for which you might be eligible may be obtained from the office administering the program or from your local county agent.

Fertilizer Use Up For Last Year

Fertilizer use the last half of 1958 increased slightly more than 4 percent over the same period of 1957, reports J. F. Fudge, state chemist.

This increase represents almost a 9,000 ton increase over the 213,800 tons during the last half of 1957. The big increases in the fall of 1958 were primarily in anhydrous ammonia and 16-20-0. These materials accounted for almost one-half of the total fertilizer materials sold.

The big increase in mixed goods was primarily in the 1-2-1 grades. The largest seller was 10-20-10, which accounted for about one-third of the total mixed fertilizer sales.

This large amount of fertilizer represents a big investment. To make this annual expenditure more profitable, Fudge advises getting a soil test to determine your soil's requirements. For information and assistance in taking a soil sample and submitting it for testing, contact your local county agent.

Nitrogen Makes Top Yields In Hi Plains Test

One hundred and twenty pounds of nitrogen applied to grain sorghum produced a yield of 6,056 pounds per acre while the non-fertilized plots showed a yield of 3,623 pounds. The net return after paying fertilizer cost was $30.05 per acre from the application of 120 pounds of nitrogen over the non-fertilized plots. One hundred and sixty pounds of nitrogen produced a net profit of $30.71 per acre. Dr. T. C. Longnecker, Head of the High Plains Station, reported these results on the 1958 grain sorghum research this week.

The tests were made on 4-row plots 100 feet long with each fertilizer application repeated four times in different parts of the field. Fertilizer treatments were made with nitrogen and phosphorous alone and in combinations. Nitrogen was applied at rates of 40, 80, 120 and 160 pounds per acre and phosphorous at three rates of 40, 80 and 120 pounds. Phosphorous at 40 and 80 pounds with higher amounts of nitrogen showed some increase in yield but not enough to pay for the added cost of the phosphorous.

The yield data on preplant and side-dress application on grain sorghum indicated there was no difference between the two methods of application for the same amount of fertilizer. The same results were obtained in combinations of preplant and side-dress applications.
