YE EDITOR MIXES AND MANGLES—GETS NEWS!

Other day, when Bobby Smith Muleshoe air force pilot, flew his Jet Super Sabre F102A from Salt Lake City to a landing in Clovis, it took 43 minutes to do so! Must have had to make a comfort stop. He said it probably would take him 35 more minutes to fly home—New Orleans.

Bobby is the son of D. O. Smith, brother of Captain John Smith, of Muleshoe.

Now, at Lubbock today, the Air Force thrill team is demonstrating precision flying. If my saw bones hadn't said beware of your nerves and heart, I would be down there Thursday p.m. watching. Must be nerve wracking. These dare devils fly Jet Sabre 100s, I think, and make speeds of 750 MPH, in their intricate, close knit maneuvers.

I note a new firm: Krebs and Son, it's Klyde K. and son, Dale, who are growers and contractors of fine planting seeds.

Blondy Ray, Sergeant Ray to you, will have a business announcement to make very soon now.

Jim Ferguson, then Governor of Texas, in a squabble with giant, majestic, storied University of Texas, declaimed to the rabble in his campaign: "Texas has gone hog wild about higher education". I won't say the people of Texas have gone hog wild, but I will say they're showing some interest in bowling. This is a Johnny come lately participating sport that is growing by the proverbial leaps and bounds; but it is costing us, this community, no less than four families at a time when we need every family we've got.

Investment in new bowling lanes in other communities will cause four families to leave our fair environs this spring. Leave us, as Gardner said on the radio, have no more of this hehira.

When Carl Case and his enumerators get through with us they'll know more about us than we do. They'll be around asking questions shortly after April 1. They'll want to know how many pigs you got, how many boats and how much HP in the motor, how often you bathe; go to church, the movies, how much time for TV. Now thoroughly you read The Journal. On that last point be as liberal as you can, for the business men who advertise with us will be watching.

Wayland Selects Muleshoe High As Test Center

Plainview, Mar. 23—Muleshoe High School has been designated as one of seven testing centers in Wayland Baptist College's search for 10 outstanding high school seniors.

Competitive examinations will be administered by Maurice J. Sharp, Wayland dean of students at 4 p.m. on Apr. 1 at Muleshoe High School. Graduating seniors from area schools in Texas as well as New Mexico, may take the intelligence type examination for which seniors can make no special preparation.

Ten 1960 graduating seniors who rank highest on the tests and who meet the entrance requirement to Wayland, will be given $200 scholarships. These will be awarded $100 in the fall semester and $100 in the spring semester if the student maintains the scholastic average required of all holders of scholarships at Wayland.

The test may be taken only once, although tests are being given at seven locations during the months of March and April. Students in the Muleshoe area who are unable to take the scheduled examinations may report at Wayland College, Plainview, at 8 a.m. on April 2, High Schools Senior Day, when hundreds of area high school students are expected on the Wayland campus. Campus tours, a chapel program, lunch in Slaughter Memorial Center, a choir concert and a talent show are planned for this year's visitors.

Wayland also gives scholarships to valedictorians and salutatorians in the amount of $100 a semester for four semesters and to the highest ranking Baptist boy and Baptist girl in each graduating class in amounts of $109 for three semesters if scholastic average is maintained. A student may receive only one of these scholarships.

Local Men Invest In Bowling Lanes

Construction is to begin next week on a 16-lane bowling installation in Childress, in which two Muleshoe men are interested.

Unfortunately the new enterprise will cause the moving of the Sooter family and the Meyers family from Muleshoe to the greenbelt city at the termination of the present school term here.

Mrs. Todd Takes First Plane Ride

Mrs. Agnes Todd, 81, of Las Cruces, N. M., took her first plane ride Monday, March 21, in the Muleshoe Flying Service's Piper Comanche, piloted by her great-niece, Jeri Crawford and assisted by flight instructor Harold Locke. Mrs. R. H. Bradley, mother of Jeri Crawford, was also a passenger.

Mrs. Todd is visiting in Muleshoe with her sister Mrs. Beula Carles.

Mrs. Todd agrees that air-planes are a wonderful improvement over the covered wagon she came to this part of the country and she said she thoroughly enjoyed the ride and plans to go up again at the earliest opportunity. Her only regret is that she waited 81 years to begin.

'Mom' and 'Pop' Branscum Have Million Dollar Family

In its issue of March 17, "The Chase", student publication at Eastern New Mexico U., Portales, carried a story about Mr. and Mrs. Arvel Branscum that we think all readers of The Journal will enjoy, so we are reprinting it here. Mr. Branscum, teacher in the college, is a brother of Thurl Branscum, Mrs. S. J. Black, and Mrs. Bernice English, of Muleshoe.

Incidentally, the story was written by the daughter of The Journal's Three Way correspondent, a student at the university.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvel Branscum feel they're one of the wealthiest families in the world. The reason for their feeling are the three recent additions that help make up what Mr. Branscum, associate professor in business, calls his $4,000,000 family.

"I now have three cute blue eyed blonds," Mr. Branscum said smiling happily. "Their names are Diana, who is four years old, Penny Jo, who is almost two, and Cindy who is only four months old. They are worth a million dollars apiece to me."

"They're all named Branscum, too," he continued, "we completed the papers for adoption Feb. 25."

Mrs. Branscum, who is assistant registrar at Eastern New Mexico, says her three new daughters are almost no trouble at all. "Changing diapers isn't nearly as bad as I thought it would be either," she laughed.

Mrs. Branscum said she has had no experience caring for children since she was an only child and had never been around children.

"It's a completely new experience for me," she said, "but it's one of the most wonderful ones I've ever had."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Branscum say they find the biggest difference since the children came is the fact that they no longer have time to talk to each other.

"We stay busy with the children now," Mr. Branscum said. "Three children demand a lot

Mrs. Branscum says she has already had a wealth of memorable experiences with the three children. Diana, the oldest, she said, has already started working on getting a pony.

"When she's not talking about a pony, she talks about starting to school," Mrs. Branscum said. "She is in Preschool now and thinks it so wonderful she doesn't want to come home."

The Branscums call Penny, who is just beginning to walk the "happy baby". "She's always happy and minds exceptionally well," Mrs. Branscum says.

Baby Cindy is the "perfect angel" to both the Branscums. "She sleeps mostly and hardly ever cries," Mr. Branscum said.

Mr. Branscum, whom his students call a "typical new father," gave away 700 cigars when the children came to live with them.

He seems to be preparing for what inevitably happens to fathers with teenage daughters too. "I'm building a new house with four bathrooms," he said. "They'll all be teenagers at one time," Mrs. Branscum said, "but we're looking forward to it."

The Branscums also said they were looking forward to birthday parties, Christmas, and each new day more than they ever had before. Why shouldn't they? After all they're a million dollar family.

Census Takers Take Training

Census takers who will visit every dwelling unit in the area during the 1960 Census of Population and Housing which starts April 1 will participate in four training sessions next week, District Supervisor Earl E. Kerr announced today. The training sessions, to be conducted by the crew leaders will be held on March 28, 29, 30 and 31. Each census taker will receive a total of approximately nine hours of instruction. Emphasis will be placed on the importance of a systematic, thorough canvass of every dwelling unit during the census to insure a complete count. Class room study will cover proper manner of asking questions, use of the Census questionnaire, Census definitions and map reading.

Map reading is an important census taking technique since limits of each district to which a census taker is assigned, the job would be a welter of confusion. About 250,000 maps have been prepared for the 1960 Census.

This provides an individual map for each of the 250,000 district into which the country has been divided for the census. Every census taker will be furnished with a map of his district. As they make their rounds, census takers will be required to canvass every street and road and visit every housing unit within the boundaries of their assignments shown on these maps.

we wouldn't have to do our best.

...but we make it for you

We grind Gladiola Flour just for Texas and our next-door neighbors. This presents a bit of a problem. The ladies around here are the choosiest flour buyers in America (as well as the best home bakers).

All we can do is make our flour so good that these ladies have no other choice. That's how it's been for a long time. Year after year, snow-white Gladiola Flour outsells every other brand.

Folks in Slippery Rock, Pa., have to settle for less—but you don't. Gladiola quality is your best bargain in flour. Costs your family only about 1/2¢ a day more than the cheapest little old brand on the shelf.

BAWSON DISCUSSES

RAILROAD STOCKS

Babson Park, Mass. The railroad stocks have not been acting well recently. The Dow-Jones "rails", which sold at an average high of 155 at the beginning of the year, now sell at 145. The main point of this week's column is to emphasize that it is a mistake to think of the railroads as a whole. There are four distinct groups and these should be recognized by every investor.

"Commuter" and Short-Haul Railroads

Practically all railroads are losing money on passenger business; but the so-called commuter roads—which haul passengers from the suburbs to the big cities in the morning and take them home again at night, with their employees and equipment idle a good part of the day—are very unfortunate. A campaign is now on to eliminate this business and switch to buses, giving the buses preferred terminal facilities and certain traffic preferences in order to increase their speed.

The second group consists of roads which operate less than two hundred miles of track.

These are losing both passenger and freight business. The shipper can load his goods on trucks at his factory door and these trucks will deliver at the dealer's or customer's door. For this reason the securities of these short-haul roads are not attractive to investors— with certain exceptions, such as the coal roads of West Virginia. These I like to call "gravity" roads because the loads from the mines go "downhill" to the seacoast with great saving in the use of power, and in fact some of them generate electric power en route which helps the return of the empty cars.

Transcontinental Railroads

These are roads operating from Chicago to the Pacific Coast and, as yet, they are not affected by competition from trucks. Recently, on the Santa Fe Super Chief, I was a passenger on a beautiful train having eleven cars and a total of only seventy-six passengers. The "piggy-back" experiments are successful in certain localities, while the automatic switching yards are helping such roads as the St. Louis-San Francisco. The transcontinental rails appear to be about the best holdings.

My favorite group of railroads, in fact, are those transcontinentals which also own large acreages containing forests and minerals. This especially is true of the Union Pacific, the Northern Pacific, the Canadian Pacific, and the Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe. I have been told by the president of one of these roads that all passenger business and a proportion of the freight business could be eliminated and the road could continue to pay its present dividend from oil, mining, and forest royalties.

Future of The Railroads

I have no discussed competition from airplanes, which are a factor in the decline in long-haul passenger business. It will be a long time, however, before freight-carrying airplane will be severe competitors. The weather, moreover, is a factor and a great friend of the railroads. This means that comparatively few railroads will be given up, because of the fact that they are able to operate, while airplane travel is undependable. However, much duplicate track and some competing rail lines will be eliminated.

All of the above means that a large percentage of the railroads will become government owned and operated under the Department of Defense. I believe that the railroad bonds will be indirectly assumed by the government and that the preferred stocks will be treated fairly. As to the common stocks: The government will buy prices for these on their average quotations during the preceding year.

I close by calling the reader's attention to my opening paragraph, that the railroads should not be considered as a whole, but that each railroad should be considered separately when deciding whether its stocks should be sold, or merely held for further developments, or, in a few cases, actually bought.

The bride was given away by her father. She was wearing an aqua blue sheer woolen dress with a corsage of pink rose buds, surrounded with white lily petals.

Immediately after the marriage ceremony a breakfast was served at the bride's home. The table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a crystal bowl of white spring blossoms. At each end of the table tall white candles were placed. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The bride is a graduate of Farwell high school and the groom is a graduate of Muleshoe high school and both attended Texas Tech in Lubbock. —1940—

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER BUFFALOED

To Discover That Even Khrushchev Can Come Down With The Flu

hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discovers a startling fact, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

There are some things you read in the newspapers that are hard to believe.

For example, I was glancing over a paper last night which I hauled off and bought when I was in town earlier in the day. That's right, I bought it, and read a headline that absolutely buffaloesd me.

The headline said: "Khrushchev Postpones Paris Visit Due To Flu."

Well, at first I thought maybe there was an epidemic of flu in Paris and Khrushchev was waiting for it to clear up and grinning at the French for being so backward, but when I read the article, I discovered it meant Khrushchev himself had the flu.

That floored me. You mean to say the Russians have common ailments just like the rest of the human race? I had been led to believe the Russians were immune to all diseases, all feelings. All they had to do was tell a bunch of scientists to whip a given problem by the first of next month, and it was automatically whipped. Want a guided missile capable of hitting a pin point 500 miles away?

All Khrushchev had to say was, "Build it and a month later they had one, which blasted off perfectly the first time it was fired. Need half a million soldiers ready in the morning to "protect" Hungary from the Hungarians? Just order them up, and by sunrise there they are. Need 20,000 more scientists? Just tell the Russian schools to produce them by the end of the semester.

But this idea—that the tireless Khrushchev, who knows everything about everything, can come down with the common flu, the same as you and me throws me for a loss. It makes a man begin to doubt that Russian science has the answer for everything and and makes him suspect that maybe somewhere back in the dark interior of that big country there are abandoned nose cones and pieces of rockets that fizzled out the first few times they were put on the launching pad.

The idea that a dictator can have the flu is positively ridiculous, but still a little encouraging.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

Last Year's Annual Cost $2,781.25, Analysis By MHS Student Shows

Do you know how much money and work go into the editing of an annual? The answer to this may be surprising. Last year the annual staff paid $2,781.25 to the publisher of the annual. The annual staff makes no money or profit from the annuals.

Into this $2,781.25 goes 100 copies of the MULETRAIN, 350 additional copies, 139 additional pages, 450 silk screen covers, special and sheets, title or heading, pages with reverse printing, 450 copies with enamel paper, 3 proofs from mats, 450 binder boards, and 4 blank pages. Many hours of work go into getting all these things together.

There are approximately two hundred snapshots in a single annual. There has to be over four times this many pictures made to get enough useable pictures. Two years ago the photographer for the annual kept a count of all the pictures he snapped and there were over eight hundred.

The reason for having to take so many pictures is because of the enormous amount of the pictures that are useless. There is just one homecoming football game and if only one picture of the game were made there is a big possibility that it will not be useable. The game cannot be played again.

There are also individual action snapshots taken of all the football players, girls' and boys' basketball players, and the boys who take track. There are snapshots of all the different organizations and activities of each, and different all school activities.

Individually four dollars seems like quite a bit of money to pay for one annual, but this amount does not pay for even half the annual. After buying over eighty rolls of film, the cost of having it developed, the necessary equipment that is needed to get the annual ready to send to the publisher, and other miscellaneous expenses, the annuals each year cost over $3,000.

The money that is needed after selling the annuals is obtained by selling ads. If there is ever any money left over it goes to buy new and better equipment for the staff to work with the next year.

So you see, editing an annual each year is not an easy nor an inexpensive project. It takes time and effort for those on the staff and the sponsor, but those working on it enjoy the work very much.

They are really looking forward for the annual to come in, which will probably be the last part of April.

111 Freshmen Take Development Tests

Goldie Lowery

One hundred and eleven freshmen of Muleshoe High School recently took a series of tests called the National Educational Development Tests or the NEDT. The three hour tests were given to students under the direction of Mr. O. E. Lumsden, student counselor.

The National Educational Development Tests are new tests specifically designed to help the student understand some of his educational strengths and weaknesses. Taking these tests will give the student the opportunity to learn how well he has developed certain fundamental skills and understandings which are basic to his success in life.

By taking these tests in the 9th or 10th grade, the student learns about some of his strengths and weaknesses early enough in his high school career to do something about them before he is ready to go to college, to enter technical training, or to enter the world of work. The student should not make the mistake of delaying plans and action for improvement. The sooner he makes his plans and the sooner these plans are put into action, the more effective the results will be.

NEWS from the High Plains Research Foundation

All wells at the High Plains Research Foundation are now connected by underground concrete lines with the addition of 2138 feet of 15-inch line. This line added to the existing 4050 feet will now service all but a small area of the farm. Also 1291 feet of 12-inch seal gasket concrete line has been installed.

Another 2800 feet of underground line will complete the system so that no open ditches will be needed for irrigation. Research has shown losses in open ditches because of evaporation, and deep percolation is very high in the High Plains. Underground concrete lines eliminates these losses and adds to ease of operation.

Formers in the High Plains are asking the question "Should I preplant irrigate?" In order to find the answer to this question, soil moisture blocks have been placed in four locations at the High Plains Research Foundation, James Valliant, Water Engineer, announced.

Three of these locations are on Pullman clay loam on three types of land surface, as follows: (1) sloping land, (2) benched land, and (3) gentle sloping land.

A fourth location is on Amarrillo clay loam in the Southwest section of the Foundation farm.

These blocks are placed at depths of one, two, three, and four feet. available soil moisture data will be released at weekly intervals with the hope that it may be helpful to farmers in deciding whether to preplant irrigate.

Grow a "Dream Vacation" in a cotton field?

It's not fantastic! And here is why:

One prominent Texas farmer used Phillips 66 Ammonia to realize an added net profit of $54.32 per acre on his cotton, after deducting the cost of ammonia. Just 50 acres of cotton like this means over $2,700 extra profit... enough to enable a family vacation in some of the world's finest spots.

Ask your Phillips 66 Distributor to help you work out a complete fertilizer program on all your crops.

WHAT SHOULD A FARMER PAY FOR DELINTING COTTONSEED?

$20 — $35 — $50 PER TON?

Five years ago when our delinting plant was built, we had only the saw delinting process. This was the safest method known and the most reasonable in price; only $20 per ton for cleaning, delinting, treating and sacking. Now five years later, the price remains the same for this process and we haven't ruined a seed yet. We were skeptical of any other method of delinting seed due to the number of complaints farmers had about ruined seed delinted by any other process.

The complaints still exist. Two years ago, we investigated a new process of acid delinting seed known as the "wet acid" process. At that time there was one other wet acid plant on the Plains, but several plants of this type in the El Paso Valley. The machine used in the "wet acid" process was patented and we obtained a franchise for one of these machines.

The advantage to the farmer in having acid delinted, using the "wet acid" process is that the method is safe. Why, over similar processes? Because the seed stay in contact with the acid only a minute or so and then are washed with enough water whereby there is no trace of acid left. The sacks will not show up with holes.

The disadvantage is that the price is ordinarily about $15 per ton higher than the "dry acid" or "gas" method. Ours, the "wet acid" process, is a continuous process. The seed are not run in batches and we use several times as much acid in any other method of delinting process.

We have a gravity table which floats out most of the light seed that do not germinate, anyhow.

In our two years of operation, we haven't had one complaint about ruining seed or that the sacks are eaten up by excess acid.

More of the certified seed growers are changing to the "wet acid" process each year. There are several "wet acid" plants on the Plains now. Their price is like ours. None have had complaints and not one has ever had to replace a farmer's seed. The $15 per ton difference amounts to about 20 cents per acre more.

We are in a position to either "saw" delint or "wet acid" delint your seed anytime.

For an appointment call Hub 2705 or bring them here.
