City Elections Are Set Next Tuesday

Next Tuesday, April 6, is city election day, and there will be voting on officials at New Home, Wilson, Tahoka, and O'Donnell.

Tahoka has only three men filed for three offices and there will be no competition unless a write-in campaign were to develop, which is seemingly unlikely.

Mayor Meldon Leslie is a candidate for re-election as the result of being petitioned by a number of citizens to file again.

Two alderman posts are to be filled. Jack Jaquess is a candidate for re-election, but Charles Oliver decided not to seek re-election, and the name of H. B. McCord Jr. was filed for the post.

Holdover members of the City Council are W. T. Kidwell, R. W. (Randy) Rutherford, and Alton Cain.

Wilson

Wilson has a contest as two are filed for mayor, and six have been filed for three places on the City Council.

When Clarence Church resigned to become county commissioner, A. N. Crowson, a council member, was elected by the council to fill out Church's term, and is a candidate for a full term as mayor. Also filed for the position is A. L. Holder, Wilson banker.

Clarence Nelson and D. J. Hutcheson, seeking re-election as aldermen, are opposed by Ira Clary, Alfred Krause, Thad Smith, and Oscar Follis. There are three to be elected.

Holdover members are Harold Key and Victor Steinhauser.

New Home

New Home, newly incorporated as a town this past year, has an unusual situation wherein all five councilmen and the mayor are to be elected. But, following this election, council members will draw for terms of office, in order to stagger the election of a mayor and two councilmen one year and three councilmen the next.

J. W. Edwards has filed for re-election as mayor, and filed for aldermen are Robbie Gill, Orville Ray Phifer, J. B. Mayfield, W. W. Davies, and Dick Turner. All are present council members. Dick Turner having been selected recently to serve out the term of Morris Renfro when the latter moved to Missouri.

O'Donnell

City of O'Donnell will elect three aldermen—Shag Garrett, Hugh Lott, and Norman Shaw, current council members, are candidates for re-election. Also filed are Oscar Veach and Claude Morris.

Rural Telephone Meeting Is Held

Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Cooperative, Inc., had a fine turnout for the annual membership and business meeting here Thursday of last week at the firm's offices, Manager W. D. Harmon reports.

Officers and directors were meeting this Thursday for re-organization of the board, all three directors up for election being re-elected.

At the membership meeting, Joe D. Unfred served as master of ceremonies during a brief program and during the awarding of about twenty door prizes.

Derrell Moore, representing Darrell Knight & Co., CPA; Abilene, presented the auditor's report.

Poka-Lambro now has 2,500 rural telephone connections in Lynn, Garza, Dawson, Borden, Terry, Gaines, and small portions of Yoakum and Lubbock counties.

Mrs. J. T. Miller was released from Tahoka Hospital Tuesday after undergoing major surgery there on March 23.

Help keep Tahoka clean!

Church Mission Near Completion

The congregation of the Mision Bautista Gethsemane will use the new mission church building for the first time this Sunday. Members of the mission with their pastor, Rev. John Pistone, will meet at 9:45 a. m. at the old building one block east of the court house and go in a group to the new building located four blocks south of the court house at the corner of South Fifth and Ave. H. All Latin American people in the community and any others interested are invited to be present for this occasion.

There are still a few things to be done—to complete the building such as putting down walks, landscaping, installing folding doors, etc. As soon as these are finished the mission will hold a dedication service and open house, probably sometime in May.

The mission is sponsored by the First Baptist Church in Tahoka, which started plans nearly three years ago for this move made necessary by the right-of-way for the new highway.

Walthall Littlepage has served as chairman of the construction committee; Everton Nevill was chairman of the plans committee; Mr. E. O. Hartwell, pastor-builder for the Baptist State Convention, directed construction. Many members of the church and mission have helped in the construction, painting, cleaning, refinishing of pews and other things.

Little League Officers Named

New officers have been elected for Tahoka Little League, and plans are being made for the summer baseball program.

H. B. McCord Jr. succeeds George Glenn as president, and Glenn will continue to work with the program as secretary-treasurer and purchasing agent.

Leighton Knox is vice president, Dayton Parker is player agent, and Mrs. J. D. Atwell will be in charge of concessions.

Directors are Morris McCleendon, R. E. McElroy and Frank Hill. Wiley Lee-Curry was a director, but has resigned to move to Dallas.

New uniforms have been bought for this year's play, and Mr. Glenn thinks these will be much more durable than those used in the past and will last longer without replacement.

Sponsors of the four teams over the years have been Piggly Wiggly No. 1 and No. 2, Tahoka Auto Dealers, Collier-Parker Drug, and First National Bank and Lynn County News.

Women Attend Federation Meet

Several Tahoka ladies attended the annual convention of Caprock District of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs held in Friona Tuesday.

Mrs. W. E. Cantrell, "mother of the year" in 1964, made the award to the new 1965 "mother", a Mrs. Caldwell of Bovina.

Others attending from here included Mrs. Harold Green, Mrs. Truett Smith, Mrs. G. M. Stewart, and Mrs. Warren Cantrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Lee Curry and two children moved to Dallas last week where Wiley Lee will attend an IBM school.

Miss Nellie Richards was admitted to Tahoka Hospital Sunday as a medical patient.

Mrs. John Slover is a medical patient in Tahoka Hospital. She was admitted Tuesday.

Spelling Bee Here Monday

The Lynn County Spelling Bee will be held at 9:00 a. m. Monday, April 5, according to J. P. Hewlett, county superintendent and director of the county event, in the Tahoka High School auditorium.

This week students were undergoing class eliminations. Each school in the county will be represented in the county contest. The county winner will receive a plaque and each school winner will receive a blue ribbon and the ball point pen from the Avalanche Journal, sponsor of the regional event.

County winners will participate in the Lubbock Bee on May 1 and that winner will receive an expense-paid trip to the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D. C. in June.

Students who have not passed above the eighth grade are eligible to enter the event.

Debating Team District Winner

Tahoka High debating team, ready-writing, and typewriting entries took first place in literary events of District 5-A Interscholastic League competition at Plains Saturday. These and several other students qualified for entering the Regional meet at Lubbock later.

Tahoka's debating team, composed of Carla McNeely and John Huffaker, took first place district honors by defeating Plains in the first round, drew a bye in the second, and nosed out O'Donnell, which was second, in the finals.

Each time, the Tahoka pair had the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved that there should be an international organization to control nuclear weapons."

Deadline Extended For Domestic Cotton Sign-Up

Deadline for sign-up on the Domestic Allotment Cotton Plan has been extended two weeks, from March 26 to April 9, according to Don Saverance, Lynn county ASCS office manager.

Farmers seem to be "skittish" of the plan, Mr. Saverance says, and only 323 out of the 1475 cotton contracts have been signed for the plan.

This plan offers a sort of insurance program in that a farmer agreeing to reduce his planted acres of cotton to 65 percent of his allotted acres, or a cutback of 35 percent, will receive about $16.00 per acre for this 65 acres planted.

Under the plan, a farmer has until August 15 to plow back his Domestic Allotment acres. Therefore, should a farmer sign up to reduce his acreage, fail to receive sufficient rain or get a destructive hail before August 15, he could plow back to comply. But, if he did leave in all of his allotted acres he would not be eligible for the 29-cent loan price and would have to sell his cotton on the open market. Open market price, however, may be equal or slightly above the loan price.

March 26 was the deadline for sign-up on the Feed-Grain program. Contrary to some reports, this date was not extended along with the Domestic Allotment extension.

There were 1162 farms signed up out of a total of 1435 for the Feed-Grain program, Mr. Saverance says.

Lynn county's cotton allotment for 1965 is 185,483, including the 8,186 acres recently added by reason of release of acreage by farmers down state.

Max Blakney Wins Washington Trip, Takes David Unfred

Max Blakney, accompanied by his friend, David Unfred, both of New Home and freshmen in Texas Tech, have been in Washington, D. C., this week seeing the sights and meeting a number of top officials.

Max, who is chairman of a Young Democrat club of Lubbock, won the trip last fall during the Presidential election campaign by selling the most Democratic lapel pins. He took David with him. Max is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Blakney and David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Unfred.

They flew to Washington last Saturday, and were to fly home Thursday night. They had lunch with Congressman George Mahon one day, met Senator Ralph Yarborough, and a number of other people.

Andy Bray, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bray of Tahoka, is currently working for Mr. Mahon, and he joined in showing the boys around.

Incidentally, Andy was a guest of Mr. Mahon in Congress when President Johnson delivered his Civil Rights message to the joint session recently.

School Trustee Elections In All Four Districts Saturday

March Weather Records Are Set

April dawned Thursday with very light mist falling but one of the worst droughts in the history of the area still prevailing on the Plains while most of the rest of the state and nation has been receiving moisture.

Only .12 inch was recorded during March in Tahoka by the U. S. Weather Bureau gauge, bringing the three month total for the year to .66 inch, about one-third of normal.

But, rainfall is seldom heavy here during these three months, and rains usually come in April and May. Most people are naturally apprehensive, but know chances of rain in the next few weeks are good.

Tahoka has recorded only 17.09 inches in the past 21 months, whereas in the fabled 1917-18 drought 21 inches fell in 24 months.

However, there have been worse years for winter rainfall. None fell the first three months of 1950; 1945, .02 inch; 1936, .54; 1959, .27; and 1962, .25.

March this year did set a record for cold weather of 7 degrees below normal, 16 days on which the temperature was freezing or below, and the lowest temperature of the month was the morning of March 20 when the thermometer dropped to 10 degrees.

Also on the bright side, there have been fewer sandstorms this year than normal. Although wind and sand has blown to some extent on many days, there have been only five sandstorms classed as severe, two as bad, and five as mild.

Junior Athletic Banquet Held

The Junior High Athletic banquet was being held Thursday night in the school cafeteria honoring all girl and boy athletes in the seventh and eighth grades.

Scheduled to speak at the event was Charles (Chat) Johnson, elementary principal at Seagraves and former basketball coach.

The banquet was being planned and arranged by mothers of the local junior high athletes.

Rett Patterson was released from Methodist Hospital Saturday where he underwent surgery last week.

Rail Crossing Light Rejected

Texas Highway Department in Austin has rejected the request of City of Tahoka, Tahoka Young Farmers and others for installation of a flashing traffic signal at the crossing of US 380 Highway in east Tahoka with the Santa Fe railroad, where there have been a number of serious traffic accidents over the years.

This information was relayed to Mayor Meldon Leslie last week by District Engineer O. L. Crain of Lubbock, who had taken the proposal up with the state office.

"After a very careful study of the accident record and the various accident exposure factors, including volume of rail and vehicular traffic, prevailing speeds, highway alignment and degree of visibility, they are unable to recommend a signal for the crossing," Mr. Crain wrote the Mayor.

He promised to give further consideration to this crossing in Tahoka later if other more hazardous could be properly protected.

Dallas Man On Rotary Program

"Automation and a Changing World," will be subject of a talk at Tahoka Rotary Club next Thursday, April 8, by Sam W. King of Dallas, field director of the Office of Manpower, Automation and Training, U. S. Department of Labor. The program is being arranged by Rotarian Clifton Gardner, high school principal.

Mr. King is a native West Texan, reared at Lelia Lake, B. A. and M. A. at West Texas State University, graduate work at other universities, was a teacher 12 years, and has had wide experience in vocational-industrial education both in government and private industry.

He served in the U. S. Marines during World War II, and is presently a lieutenant colonel in the Marine Reserves.

He is said to have a message of interest to business and professional men, and is an outstanding man in his field.

Former Citizen Dies At Troup

Mrs. Susan Rutledge, 89, who lived here with her daughter, the late Mrs. Nettie Jackson, for 14 years, died unexpectedly Saturday at 12:30 p. m. in Troup, Texas.

She had moved there last year to make her home with another daughter.

Funeral services were held at 10:00 a. m. Monday in the First Methodist Church in Paducah. Burial was in Garden of Memories Cemetery.

Mrs. Rutledge was born in Smithland, Tenn., Oct. 14, 1875. She came to Tahoka in 1950 and was a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Walter Chalk of Lubbock and Mrs. Edgar Pace of Troup; two sons, Jack and Max, both of Lubbock; 10 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren. Two of her grandchildren are Johnny Jackson of Tahoka and Mrs. Gay Jackson Levitt of Hayward, Calif.

Dewain Lee will undergo major surgery on his back either in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, or in Galveston, according to a report this week.

Mrs. Ella Kimbrell, 90, of O'Donnell entered Tahoka Hospital Sunday as a medical patient.

Spirited school trustee elections are set in Lynn county's four school districts this Saturday, April 3rd. Three members are also to be elected to the county board.

Tahoka voting will be at the City Hall, and there are eight candidates for three places on the board.

Names appearing on the ballot are: Otis Hillhouse, a barber; Johnny Wells, druggist; Wes Owens, Lyntegar engineer; J. T. Miller, farmer; Elmer Owens, farmer; Dr. Gerald Wood, dentist; Cleve Littlepage, farmer; and Edward Bartley, farmer.

Littlepage and Miller are present board members seeking re-election and the former is the present board chairman. Wilton Payne, also a present board member, is not a candidate for re-election.

Holdover members are: Clifton Hamilton, vice chairman; Roy Stephens, James F. (Sonny) Roberts, and Martin White.

O'Donnell

O'Donnell have five candidates for three positions. Seeking re-election are B. B. Vestal, Willard Emerson, and W. H. Cook, and also filed are Wayland Taylor, a former board member, and J. C. Harris.

Wilson

Nine men are in the race at Wilson for three board positions. These include Lloyd Mears, Walter Ray Steen and Cecil Wied, president members of the board up for re-election; T. H. Stone, E. C. Stabeno, Dale Zant, Reuben Sander, Roy L. Kahlich, and Weldon Meador.

Holdover members are Edmund Maecker, A. C. Crowson, Jiggs Swann, and Jim Lane.

New Home

There are five candidates for three trustee posts at New Home. Up for re-election are George Sealy and Luke Halford, and others filed are Billy Ray Smith, Dwight Corbell, and Carl Armes. N. B. Hancock, a present board member, is not seeking re-election.

Holdover members are Dick Turner, chairman, Charles Louder, Elmer Schoppa, and A. C. Filington Jr.

County Board

Three members are to be elected to the five-member county board of trustees. H. B. McCord Jr. has been filed for trustee-at-large succeeding Aubrey Smith of New Home, who is not seeking re-election. T. B. Mason has been filed for re-election from Precinct 1. From Precinct 3, O'Donnell, term of Homer Hardberger expires and no one is filed for this position but a successor will probably be named by write-in.

Holdover members of the county board are Graham Hensley of Precinct 2 and Harlan Dean of Precinct 4.

G. H. CHESTNUTT SUFFERS SEVERE HEART ATTACK

G. H. (Shörty) Chestnutt suffered a severe heart attack at about 4:00 p. m. Wednesday at his service station south of the square, but a specialist at Methodist Hospital said he was resting fairly well and would recover this attack.

He was taken first to Tahoka Hospital, where he received treatment, but was sent on to the specialist because of the nature of his attack in an oxygen-equipped White ambulance.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The question is often asked "Do government economists know what they are talking about?"

It would appear that they do know what they are talking about insofar as they can see, but they also appear prone to have a major blind spot.

There would seem to be evidence that they do understand some of the problems of Big Business, and what is needed to build and maintain monopolies.

But their big blind spot seems to be understanding the fact that small and independent business is still the nation's largest employer.

Last year the National Federation of Independent Business, through its field force, carried on a nationwide survey on the expansion plans, and new job development by the nation's 4,500,000 independent business firms. It was found that independent business was planning expansion to produce over 5,000,000 new jobs.

This year, with the same procedure, a survey is underway to find out what actually happened. So far the results indicate that over 1,500,000 independent firms expanded and in doing so they created 4,500,000 new jobs.

But while government economists claim it requires an investment between $25,000 and $40,000 to create a new job, the data shows that independent business creates new jobs with investments per job of around $6,000.

Thus, the clamor to reduce the work week, or to provide heavy penalties for over time work are obviously all propounded with the knowledge a few big industries are automating to be competitive in the world markets. Unable to meet foreign low wage scales, they turn to methods eliminating the need for labor. So, the only solution advanced by the economists to the unemployment in big industry is laws to require more men to do the available work.

This, of course, could be called a defeatist tactic, and on the basis of information developed by the Federation, wholly unnecessary.

However, economists are like anyone else. They like to be employed. And when employed by government, they tend to echo official line of government in office.

If tax laws were to be revised so that independent business could use its profits to expand, there would be no unemployment problem.

But currently, the Mea seems to be that it is better for the government to take, then dole out according to the way Washington sees matters. The idea of letting people keep their money to provide more employment seems to be heresy. After all, a Great Society requires Great Taxes.

Gordon News

(By Mrs. Edmund Wilke)
Well, another week has slipped by and I can't understand how and why they seem to go so fast. Seems like it was only day before yesterday that I was sitting at this typewriter trying to put a little news together. I have heard it said that the older we get, the faster the time goes, and I'm beginning to believe it!

I'm sorry to report that Buford Jones is back in Mercy Hospital. He certainly has had a bad time of it for the past few months, but hope it won't be too long before he is up and going real strong.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Wilke and Sherri visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Zieschang on Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Eddie Fortson of Dallas visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Meyers last week. Rev. Fortson was the Baptist minister here for several years. They also visited Mrs. Ruby Ellis and Mrs. Gloss Davies of Slaton.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Becker and children of Brownfield visited in the Willie Becker home last week. While they were here they took their oldest daughter to an eye specialist in Lubbock.

Mrs. Nellie Mathis, Carolyn Sue and Dee Hodges and Dee's brother, Bobby Hodges, visited with Sue's father and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kasinger, at Anson on Sunday.

We have a celebrity in our midst this week. Mrs. Robert Mock will represent District Two as well as Garza County at the 4-H Leader Forum to be held in Washington, D. C., April 5-10. She will be one of the 25 adult 4-H leaders from every section of Texas to attend this forum. She has been a 4-H leader for over 10 years.

Mrs. Mock and the other 24 leaders—12 men and 12 women—will meet on the campus of Texas A&M University for orientation sessions on the afternoon of April 1 and morning of April 2 and then depart by bus for the trip to Washington. I think that this would be a most interesting trip and we are all quite excited for Mrs. Mock and proud that her application was chosen from among many others. She has promised to call me when she returns and give me a story.

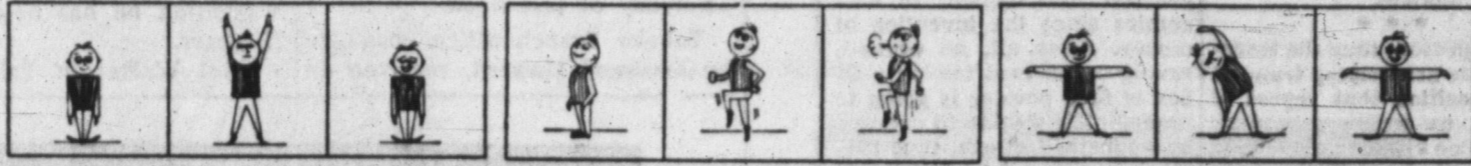

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Buchanan from Shallowater spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hargrove. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bloxom of Slaton also visited with the Hargroves in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hargrove visited with Mrs. Tom Barnes and Agnes on Friday night.

Regular Exercise Can Provide Both Physical and Mental Tonic, says AMA

Stretcher (4 to 10 times). Reach high, rise on toes. High-stepper (10 to 20 steps). Run in place, pumping knees and arms. Side Bender (6 to 15 times). Raise first one arm then the other straight over head.

Push-up (6 to 15 times). Men on hands and toes; women on hands and knees. Starting in raised position, with trunk and neck straight, lower trunk to two inches from floor and return. Curl (6 to 15 times). Starting on back with knees extended straight, touch fingers to opposite toes. Stride Squat (6 to 15 times). Hands behind head, bend, hands behind head, tuck chin and "curl" as stride forward deeply with right leg. Keep left toe in place, left knee off floor. Return and exercise opposite.

Compressor (6 to 15 times). Lie spread-eagled on back, half onto hip and with leg and arm straight touch toe to opposite hand. Return and exercise opposite. Twister (6 to 15 times). Sit with legs and arms extended straight, touch fingers to opposite toes. Return and exercise opposite. ISOMETRIC EXERCISES — The following exercises do not involve movement, but rather muscular contraction. One of their advantages is that many can be done at times and places where normal exercise would be impossible, such as in the office. Hold each contraction forcefully for six seconds. Repeating is not necessary.

There's more to physical fitness than mere muscles, but you can't be truly healthy and a bundle of flab at the same time.

To be physically fit you must be both medically fit and dynamically fit. The two don't necessarily go hand in hand, points out Raymond L. White, M.D., director of Environmental Medicine and Medical Services for the American Medical Association.

"Medical fitness means body soundness. This can be determined only by a medical examination. Dynamic fitness or 'action capacity' is a measurement of strength, agility and endurance," he said.

"A person who shuns activity may get a 'clean bill of health' from his doctor but if he can't endure even slight exertion, he's hardly physically fit. On the other hand, neither is the athlete with a chronic or undetected health problem."

In a sense it seems silly to be concerned about strength and endurance in a push-button age. But the fact is, the human body was not designed for push buttons but for work, said Dr. White.

The absence of dynamic fitness through lack of physical exertion is a detriment to health. Furthermore, muscle tone, or lack of it, can be a factor in your whole outlook on life.

Strength and endurance, developed through regular exercise, leads to skill and agility and adds to poise and grace. Not only do daily tasks become easier, you also look better and so feel more at ease in social situations.

Even more evident, however, are the benefits to physical health, Dr. White pointed out.

Since exercise is a factor in weight control, it indirectly aids in preventing degenerative diseases, such as diabetes and arthritis, which are more prevalent in the obese.

Evidence indicates that exercise also may help prevent heart and blood vessel diseases. Active people have fewer heart attacks and a better recovery rate when such attacks do occur.

The best exercise is enjoyable exercise. Activities such as hiking, swimming, skiing, tennis or gardening along with their physical benefits can provide relief from tension, thus serving as a safe, natural tranquilizer.

When there is no opportunity for taking exercise in such form, however, a daily walk and series of calisthenics can provide much the same tonic.

Above are a few examples of scientifically sound exercises, taken from the AMA pamphlet, "Physical Fitness." Used daily, they will help to increase muscular strength, body suppleness and motor reaction, and to improve circulation and other body functions.

Start out slowly, Dr. White warned, and gradually work up to the point where you can do all of these exercises quickly without stopping.

Kelley Jo Meyers, Jackie Dunn, Harvey Louis Pennell, Brenda Dabbs, and Beatrice Klesel. The Annual Mason Night dinner was held at the Southland Lunch Room on Friday night. The dinner was prepared by the ladies of the Eastern Star. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Anderson of Earth, former residents of Southland, were guests at the dinner. Harvey Louis Pennell went to San Saba over the week end with a friend from Texas Tech, Charles Williams. Donnie Pennell and Margie Harrison had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Thuet of Post on Thursday night. The attendance of the Southland

Methodist church was very good this past Sunday. Their revival is still going on and, as I understand it, will be all this week. Rev. Cooper would like to invite all of you to come and be with them.

A week from this Thursday, which will be April 8, there will be a meeting at the Southland Methodist Church at 7:00 p. m. to organize a Boy Scout troop. Mr. Leon Miller from Lubbock will be in charge of the meeting. Rev. Ralph Cooper has volunteered to act as Scout Master and he is hoping that all of you will give him your support. We haven't had a troop here for several years. Southland has, in years past, had some very successful Boy Scout troops, so if any of you have boys that would like to belong or any of you men who would like to work with boys, contact Rev. Cooper or come to the meeting on April 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pennell brought Mrs. Lee Fredrickson home on Thursday from the Reese Air Force Hospital where she had been a patient for several days. Mrs. Arville Ferguson and Mrs. Carl Cederholm from Post, both sisters of Mrs. D. D. Pennell, visited in the Pennell home on Monday.

Miss Jewel Long and Miss Margie Harrison, both of Post, visited in the D. D. Pennell home on Saturday night.

"The bill is a legal vehicle which the state can use to process every possible form of service in prevention, control and treatment of this dreaded disease that has been so potent in the past.

"Coordinating the program within the Texas Department of Health will speed our progress. "The people of Texas now may have much needed services through a new contract system within which the State Board of Health can provide care in most regions of the state."

FORT RICHARDSON

... a long time between paydays!

Across the western face of Texas, the brooding ruins of forts... here and there a restored barracks or hospital bring back a bloody page in history. A history that tells of marauding redskins thundering southward from Indian Territory, killing in their wake, pushing on to the Mexican border. A history that tells too of the hard and lonely life of the U.S. Army troopers who manned these strategic forts.

Fort Richardson, near Jacksboro, was one of the more important of these outposts. Here Kiowa Chieftains Satanta and Big Tree were incarcerated before their trial for a bloody massacre. But life in all frontier posts was much the same... best expressed by the soldiers themselves, "a long time between paydays."

BUT IT ISN'T SO FAR BETWEEN PAYDAYS NOW
... with U. S. Savings Bonds!

Today, there can also be a long time between paydays for those who have not established the thrift habit. But through the U.S. Savings Bonds program you can take care of this situation quickly and effectively.

For example, with as little as 63¢ a day you can buy an $18.75 Savings Bond every month. Keep this up for 40 months and you'll own a stack of Bonds worth $1,000, at maturity, which cost you only $750 in easy installments.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

It is interesting to observe how a government's group of economic advisors can be seduced to carry the banner for political motives.

At the present time the learned savants are helping trumpet the proposition that repeal of certain excise taxes will keep the economy rolling in high gear.

The nationwide membership of the National Federation of Independent Business has voted in favor of excise tax reductions largely as a matter of equity.

It is important to keep in mind that the proposed cuts are not on such heavy volume items as gasoline, tires, but rather on what might be termed, from standpoint of the overall economy, marginal items.

But many of these taxes rate far higher as irritants than as economic factors. Every woman who realizes she is paying a tax on the purchase of cosmetics, or a handbag, or a piece of luggage, or a fur, becomes irritated, and justifiably so, especially if she realizes that this is made necessary to continue foreign give away programs.

Now, as every married man knows, an irritated woman presents a problem. It is easy then to understand the problem of much greater magnitude posed to politicians by an irritated women's vote.

Without question these excise taxes should be repealed, but the benefits of such action should not be ballyhooed as the greatest development in economics since the invention of money. After all, no woman, saving a ten cent tax on a $1 box of face powder is going to immediately decide to use two boxes instead of one, thus creating an expansion of the market. The tax on handbags has not caused women to carry their belongings in a paper sack instead of some sort of a bag. So, it can be asked, who's kidding who, and why?

However, if the learned economists ever get around to promoting the so-called "plow-back allowance" to allow a business to put back into the business for expansion up to 20% of a year's profits, or a maximum of $30,000, there would be encouraged the growth of the independent business economy which would provide jobs.

A continuous field survey now being conducted by the Federation shows that last year over 30% of the nation's independent business enterprises apparently expanded and each one that did created almost 3 new jobs.

And what was the principal reason given for expanding? The general cut in income taxes in 1964? No. The major reasons given are the tax revisions made which permitted an independent business to more rapidly charge off depreciation on new equipment to expand. There is going to have to come about a realization that politics is politics and economics are economics and never the twain shall meet.

Tahoka's P.C.A. Office Honored

Biggest crowd in the 31 year history of Lubbock Production Credit Association, about 1,100 farmers, attended the annual stockholders meeting in Lubbock Thursday of last week.

Tahoka Branch office, managed by Derwood Howard, received an engraved plaque for having the highest percentage of attendance, 68 percent, present for the meeting.

C. E. Hicks of Meadow was re-elected president, and Cleve Littlepage of Tahoka was elected vice president. Alton Strickland is the nine-county area secretary-treasurer, and Derwood Howard is the manager of the Tahoka office, a position he has held for about 13 years.

Clint Walker of Tahoka served as master of ceremonies during the program, on which the famed Cecil "Stuttering Sam" Hunter was the feature entertainment number.

Speakers pointed out loan volume last year exceeded the previous year by $5 million, there will be no increase in interest rates this year, dividends paid totaled $48,000, but that there has been a necessary tightening up of credit because of the price squeeze on farmers.

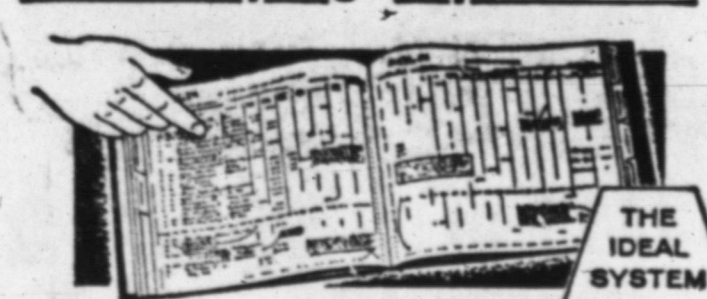

Texas forests provide Texans with many products for everyday living such as lumber, paper, chemicals, and plastics. They also provide many opportunities for recreation: as a place to hunt, fish, bird watch, or just enjoy the out-of-doors at a picnic.

More than 41,000 Texans work in Texas forests and mills to produce an annual payroll of $138 million and products worth $500 million per year.

The Texas Forest Service, now celebrating its Golden Anniversary, is dedicated to the perpetuation, protection and utilization of this natural resource. The following sponsors salute the Texas Forest Service on its 50 years of service to forestry in Texas.

Outstanding FFA Members Are Honored At Parent-Son Banquet

About 130 boys and their parents attended the annual Parent-Son FFA banquet Tuesday night held in the school cafeteria when Calloway Huffaker, local attorney, made the principal address.

"The Seed of Life" was the theme of his talk, and Mr. Huffaker compared sowing seed in the soil to the importance of agriculture and education in the life of a high school boy. The seed is sown during his high school years, but it must be cultivated and nurtured to grow into a healthy plant in later years.

B. L. Miller, president of the Tahoka FFA chapter, acted as master of ceremonies. Phil Adams gave the welcome address.

Terry Harvick recognized guests, teams and individuals. Entertainment was furnished by the talent team composed of Ronnie Hodge, Freddie Pierce, Tommy Kidwell and C. J. Womack.

The invocation was given by Eddie Howard, who also introduced the speaker.

Special guests were eighth grade boys who plan to enter the agriculture department next year.

Receiving special recognition were Mike Huffaker and Phil Adams as having the two outstanding Chapter-Farmer supervised farm programs; John Tyler, the outstanding freshman having a supervised farm program; the first place district livestock judging team composed of Huffaker, Jim Wells and Adams;

The junior chapter conducting team, Tommy Kidwell, Tyler, Buz Owens, Chris Roberts, Doyle Schneider, Gary Brooks; the quiz team composed of Kidwell, Tyler, and Owens; the senior chapter conducting team, Terry Harvick, Jack Edwards, Jim Crawford, Gary Thomas, A. G. Cook and Jim Wells.

Senior agriculture students who will not be back next year were recognized. Also receiving a voice of appreciation were several businessmen who have helped make FFA successful. Albert Holder of Tahoka Feed and Seed, Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Knox of Tatum Bros., Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hale, Jr. of Goodpasture Grain, and Pete Hegel of the First National Bank.

Andra Carroll, FFA Sweetheart, who represented the chapter at several livestock shows, was introduced with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Carroll.

Officers of FFA this year are Miller, president; A. G. Cook, vice president; Mike Huffaker, secretary; Phil Adams, treasurer; Jim Crawford, reporter; Milton Edwards, sentinel; and Lester Adams, advisor.

The program was opened and closed with the regular FFA ceremonies.

National FHA Week April 4-10

Over one-half million Future Homemakers of America in states throughout the nation observe National FHA Week April 4-10, announced Ruth Huey, Director of Homemaking Education, Texas Education Agency.

The 60,423 members of 1,314 chapters in the Texas Association FHA are celebrating their 20th year of nation-wide affiliation.

"In 1945 Texas was the fifth state to receive its charter and adopt their motto, Toward New Horizons," reported Josephine Pazdral, State Adviser.

FHA Week will find junior and senior high school chapters spotlighting their programs on family living and stay-in-school activities.

One Future Homemaker said it for all her sister-members this way, "To me, FHA means more than just an organization because I feel it is a part of me that I will still have when I have a home of my own."

FHA is sponsored nationally by the U. S. Office of Education and the American Home Economics Association, and guided by home-making teachers. As part of a large national organization of teeners concerned with good home and family life each girl grows through new experiences, new views and new friends.

Members will celebrate FHA Week by attending church together, sponsoring style shows and faculty teas and participating in home and community service projects. Many FHAers will wear the traditional red and white colors to remind their classmates of FHA Week.

The national program of work this year includes (1) You and your values; (2) Focus on family friendship; (3) Marriage calls for preparation; (4) Stay in school; (5) Action for citizenship.

Three hundred Texas girls were awarded their State Degrees at the State Meeting last May.

Officers, delegates and sponsors of the Texas Association will convene for their 1965 state meeting in Dallas April 23-24.

Tahoka Had State FHA Officer In '49

In reference to a statement made by The News last week, the first state FHA officer from Tahoka was reported this week to have been the former Miss Velma Ruth Howell, now Mrs. Willie Shambeck, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Howell of Tahoka.

Mrs. Natt Park said that Velma Ruth served as the State parliamentarian of FHA about 1949 when Mrs. Gravel Ayer was homemaker teacher in the local schools. Mrs. Park (then Peggy Pat Sherrrod), Velma Ruth and Mrs. Ayer attended the state convention in Galveston that year.

Therefore, Tahoka has had three state officers, Carol Smith being the second and Maria Bray the third.

Mr. and Mrs. John Freyburger and children of Seminole were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Hanes. Mrs. Freyburger is a daughter of Mrs. Hanes.

Methodist Youths Attend Institute

Four local members of Methodist Youth Fellowship attended the Mid-Winter Institute on Stewardship of Northwest Texas Conference of Methodist Youth held in Lubbock Friday night and Saturday.

Accompanied by Mrs. A. M. Bray, those participating were Jill Edwards, Chloe Jan Huffaker, Pam Roberts and Leah Short.

Mike Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reid, underwent knee surgery in a Lubbock hospital Wednesday morning.

Lynn County Soil Conservation District News

E. E. BLAKNEY HAROLD PAYNE
WARD EAKIN BOYD BARNES
JIGGS SWANN

The "terracing season" is almost over in the Lynn County Soil Conservation District. Almost all of the terracing in this district is done from November to April, says Larry Dobbs, local soil conservationist. With a special emphasis this year on parallel terraces, it will be interesting to watch the several jobs of parallel terraces that were constructed this season.

Producers constructing parallel terraces this year were: Willie Becker, J. Dudley Martin, A. A. Rinne, H. B. Rinne, T-Bar Farm, and Harold Payne. Others planning parallel terraces next year are Carl Sanders, Charles Brookshire, Draper Bros., and T. D. Bishop.

The main emphasis in any terracing system is water and soil conservation. Parallel terraces afford a third merit—ease of operation. The elimination of point rows is especially attractive in view of larger equipment and higher labor costs. There were approximately 50,000 feet of parallel terraces constructed in this district this year.

There are still some jobs of standard terraces under construction. With the completion of these jobs there will have been approximately 350,000 feet of standard terraces built in the district this year. Also there have been several diversion terraces built.

It is too late to conveniently terrace this spring, but now is the time farmers should make plans to terrace this fall if their farm needs terracing, Dobbs says. The local Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the district will be happy to work with you in planning a terrace system for your farm or help you work out water management problems that you may have.

Lynn Spends More For Schools Than Average

(Special to The News)
New York—How does the cost of education in Lynn county compare with that in other parts of the country?
What proportion of local spending is for school construction and maintenance, for teacher salaries and for other school costs?
As is the case in every community in the nation, from the largest to the smallest, local officials are struggling with the problem of how to provide enough educational facilities to take care of the ever-rising tide of young people.

A Federal study of expenditures for education, covering every section of the United States, shows that such costs, in general, are more than twice those of any other single function of government.

In Lynn county, approximately 67.0 percent of all public spending is for education. In some communities the proportion is somewhat less than that and, in others, much more.

The average nationally is 44.1 percent. In the State of Texas it is 51.3 percent.
The study of local expenditures, made every five years, is based on data compiled by the Census Bureau for its current Census of Governments. The previous one was in 1957.

The report shows that total spending in Lynn county for all public purposes amounted in the year to $155.64 per local resident. Some $104.21 of this was for education.

The per capita cost of education in other counties across the country averaged $96.58 and, in those of comparable size, $89.61 per capita.

Enrollments in the nation's schools have been growing by leaps and bounds in recent years. Not only has there been this sharp rise in school population but there has also been an increase in the number of years of schooling per person. More youngsters are staying to complete their high-school training. Compared with 1950, when only 34 percent of the adult population went through high school, 42 percent are doing so now.

The new Federal budget proposes financial assistance to alleviate the burden. With strong feelings in Congress both for and against a Government role in edu-

World War II Days Are Recalled By News Item

Joe D. Unfred, the personable farmer who spends most of his time in public relations for New Home farming area and Lynn county in general and for Gifford-Hill-Western in particular, was flat on his back in Tahoka Hospital Tuesday with a virus, or something, and chanced to read in the Lubbock Avalanche "20 Years ago" column the following little item:

"Paris—Thanks of the U. S. First Army, scattering resistance on a dazzling, 55-mile sweep, roared up within 186 miles west of Berlin yesterday . . ."

The item brought back memories, for Joe D., then known locally as Durward, was right there chasing the Nazis as a first lieutenant with the 33rd Armored Regiment, 3rd Armored Division, the spearhead outfit, right in the midst of the drive into Germany from Marburg to Paderborn.

Joe D. had sweated out the invasion in England, missed the initial landings, but went into France on D-Day Plus 3, fought across France and into Germany. Through a fellow Army officer, he managed to wangle a photo-static copy of his battalion's complete official record of its World War II campaign, which he loaned The News editor to peruse. Although detailed and in a military language, one can by reading the pages, (which list even the slightly wounded, the dead, and the missing) sense some of the horror, tragedy, hardships, pathos, a bit of humor, the hurry to get the thing over, and the joy of victory connected with the war.

The day by day account, on March 30 tells of the advance stubborn resistance, some tank warfare, and merely states, "2nd Bn. (Joe's outfit) reached 896258 where it was stopped by heavy bazooka and SA (small arms) fire."
But, the war was nearly won, and the Nazis were on the run. The 2nd Battalion went out of action on May 2. The war was over on May 5.
But, in between D-Day Plus 3 and war's end Joe D. had, as indicated by the voluminous 33rd records, been through a lot. There was a lot of mopping up and sporadic fighting between March 30 and May 2. In fact, in this period, Joe D. says he got his first shot at a German airplane with a .50 calibre machinegun.

Then, there was April 17, 1945, when 2nd Bn. was overrun with 150 infantry with bazookas at Thurland, and this was when Joe D. barely escaped with his life. Prisoners of War later indicated, the report says, that the enemy had been reinforced from Ulrich von Hutten Division.
In this engagement, Lt. Unfred's close friend, Capt. David L. Aldinger was killed in action. This notation in the report means little to most people but to Joe D.—well, he wouldn't take anything for these records—for Capt. Aldinger is the man who introduced the Lynn county farm boy to Betty, the Pennsylvania girl he married after returning home.

There's a lot behind just one little paragraph printed in a newspaper 20 years later. There's a lot that could be read between the lines of the 33rd Armored Regiment records, stained by tear drops here and there.

caution, a drag-out fight is expected.

Joe Brooks, Tahoka Native, "Young Farmer Of Month"

(By Donald Williams)

Joe Brooks, native of Tahoka and son of Mr. and Mrs. Neely Brooks, was chosen "Young Farmer of the Month" for April by Tahoka Young Farmers.

Joe graduated from Tahoka High School in 1953 and attended Texas Tech for a year. In 1953 he married the former Miss Jerry Aldridge, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Aldridge of Tahoka and Hubert Aldridge of Connerville, Okla. They have two children, and attend Sweet Street Baptist Church. She is a member of Young Homemakers and he is president of the Young Farmer chapter.

Joe began farming in 1955 at Draw. He had no previous farming experience, so he had to learn how on the trial and error basis, watching his neighbors, and plenty of hard studying.

In 1961, after having made some good crops, he bought a section of land at Seminole and began improving it. He farmed it two years. Then, after having made many improvements, he sold half of it and rented the other half out and moved back to Draw to farm.

At the present time, he farms 780 acres of land. He has 305 acres of dryland cotton which he plants two-in and two-out skip-row fashion to help boost yields and to build up the soil. He has 140 acres of feed grain and pasture land and 20 acres of midland Bermuda grass.

Joe has five head of registered Angus cows and the rest are mixed breed cows and calves. Because of the drought, he has sold part of his cattle to cut down on the feed bill and to prevent overgrazing his winter pasture.

He has a four-inch irrigation well which he uses to water his Bermuda grass and his winter pasture. He uses a sprinkler system to water because it gives him better use of his limited water supply.

Usually, Brooks breaks a portion of his land, but because of the lack of moisture this year he has chiseled and listed it. He has done this to conserve moisture and to break up the hardpan for water and root penetration and to help gain higher yields.

Joe has gone to the use of larger equipment this year to cut his labor costs. He has sold his old tractor and bought a larger tractor with eight-row equipment. He is building his cultivator and knifing rig out of the old equipment. All of his land is close together and farmed so that the larger equipment will not present many, if any, problems. He figures that the larger equipment will cut his labor enough to pay for it in about two years.

He is planning to use chemicals to control weeds this year. He is going to put the chemical down in a 10-inch band on the cotton row after he has a stand of cotton up. He will use treflan and pull a gang rotary hoe behind the spray rig to incorporate it with the soil. By waiting until the cotton is up before putting down the chemical, he will not be taking so much chance of losing the chemical because of hard rain and having to replant.

The Young farmer machine harvests all his cotton to help cut expense, and he defoliates when he feels it is necessary and profitable in harvesting his crops.

He is planning to build a shop and barn to keep his equipment in some time during the next two years. He feels the proper care and maintenance of equipment is a vital factor in having an efficient farming operation.

TONY ROMEO

Football Star At Youth Rally

Tony Romeo, star player for the Boston Patriots of the professional American Football League, will be featured speaker at an area-wide evangelistic youth rally at 7:30 p. m. April 2 at Southcrest Baptist Church, 4810 Ave. P.

The program, which also will include an appearance by the Hardin-Simmons University Concert Choir, is another in a series of activities leading to a mass "Lubbock Area Crusade" May 9-15 in Municipal Coliseum. The crusade is sponsored by Lubbock Baptist Association, which is composed of 84 Southern Baptist Churches and missions.

Romeo, 27, tight end of the Boston team, is a graduate of Florida State University where he played football and was named to several All-America teams.

After completing the year of graduate study, Romeo joined the Dallas Texan's professional football team where he completed a successful 1961 season. Then he moved to Boston and immediately began to set team records. He holds records for the most pass receptions in one game (10) and most yards in one game by receiving (150).

A regular speaker before youth groups and civic organizations, Romeo is a student during the "off" season at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. Although he still is working toward a Bachelor of Divinity degree, he has preached more than 500 times since being ordained in 1960 by Dr. Harold G. Sanders of the First Baptist Church, Tallahassee, Fla.

The 50-member Hardin-Simmons choir is conducted by Edward H. Hamilton of the Abilene university's School of Music. The organization is widely-known for its spiritual selections and travels extensively.

Also scheduled to appear on the program are the Rev. Boyce Evans, general crusade chairman and pastor of First Baptist Church, Abernathy.

The Theodosian Code of Rome specified the maximum loads that could be carried by the various vehicles in use in A.D. 438.

Savings Bond Sales Go Well

The citizens of Lynn county purchased $23,450 in Savings Bonds during the month of February according to F. B. Hegl, chairman of the Lynn County Savings Bonds Committee, bringing sales for the first two months of 1965 to $27,654,850 in United States Savings Bonds. This represents 18 per cent of the state's goal of $152.8 million.

"If you have not already filed your income tax return for 1964, we would like to remind you to get your tax refund in the form of U. S. Savings Bonds. You will be more apt to hang on to your refund if it is taken in Savings Bonds and you will also have the satisfaction of helping your country," Chairman Hegl stated.

MRS. SWANN NOW "OK"

Mrs. Pat Swann of Wilson, who has been seriously ill so long, recently went back to her doctor for a check-up and was told she is now "fit as a fiddle," her husband told The News last week end.

The cotton textile industry was started in Lancashire, England, about 1621 by Flemish immigrants.

Secretaries Are Rotary Guests

Thursday was "Secretaries' Day" at the Rotary Club, as Rotarians had as their guests their secretaries, other employees, or wives. The occasion was in keeping with National Business Women's and National Secretary's Week.

Supt. Harold Reynolds presented a fitting talk in which he paid high tribute to the women "who see that the boss does his job."

He declared human relations play a vital part in the lives of all of us, and employer-employee relations are important too. The secretary must maintain a cheerful disposition, carry out many difficult tasks, and keep the office moving smoothly.

Too much credit can not be given the working women for their places in our busy life.

Mrs. G. H. (Frances) Chestnut, member of the National Secretary's Association, in which she has held many offices, presented the side of the business woman, whose position has advanced to a high standard and merited new recognition.

For a bit of humor, she listed the many little details her boss, A. M. Bray, told her he expected her to attend to when she was first hired 16 years ago.

She also presented a sort of high standard goal or code for business women.

As Rotarians introduced their guests, Calloway Huffaker paid high tribute to his secretary, Jane Morehead, whom, he said, had worked for him faithfully for 21 years. The only times she failed to show up for work was when she broke her arm and when she broke her glasses.

Clifton Clark and Lynn Seales were in charge of the program.

Harold Roberts announced the upcoming Rotary Conference in KoKo Palace this Friday and Saturday, and urged all club members and their wives to attend some of the sessions.

George McCracken introduced visiting Rotarians from Brownfield, and Clifton Gardner introduced the student guest, Mike Huffaker.

We believe there is a crying need in our political system for a third political party—one to which the normal middle-of-the-road American could belong—one which advocates America first, devoid of all "isms" except Americanism, one which advocates the democratic principles of our forefathers, the kind of government that made this country the greatest in the world; one which advocates justice for all, not just a political "sop" to powerful voting groups; one which puts the Bible and the Golden Rule back into use.

We are in a sad state of affairs when the President of our country, the Attorney General, and apparently the Supreme Court and many members of Congress put the stamp of approval on mobs from a certain faction marching in the streets.

We are in a terrible position when our government sends out troops to protect a group—whether they be Negroes, veterans, Methodists, or Union workers—in a protest march that violates laws and the rights of others. Violating laws to protest another law violation is not right; that's not even the way we interpret the Biblical teachings. Traffic on a busy highway in Alabama was interrupted illegally for five days on which normally 15,000 vehicles a day traverse.

We've not only got trouble now, but we've got trouble ahead when the President of this great nation parrot's the Negro radicals' battle cry, "We shall overcome." Columnist Kenneth Dixon quoted a minister noted for his civil rights work, alarmed by the "statement," who said: "When he (the President) took up their battle cry for his own, he became a follower instead of a leader."

We talked to a respected local Negro the other day who is also concerned about the situation. The things decent, thinking Negroes want is an opportunity, more education, the right to vote, more respect among their own people and from the white people. They do not want racial strife, hatreds, intermarriage, or to force themselves where they are not wanted. Many realize all this can not be achieved overnight. They appreciate the advances made, but they don't approve some of the methods. So, let's not castigate all Negroes, simply because they are Negroes—this hate business has gone too far, already.

Abraham Lincoln said: You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift. You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong. You cannot help little men by tearing down big men. You cannot help the wage earner by pulling down the wage payer.

You cannot further the brotherhood of many by encouraging class hatred.

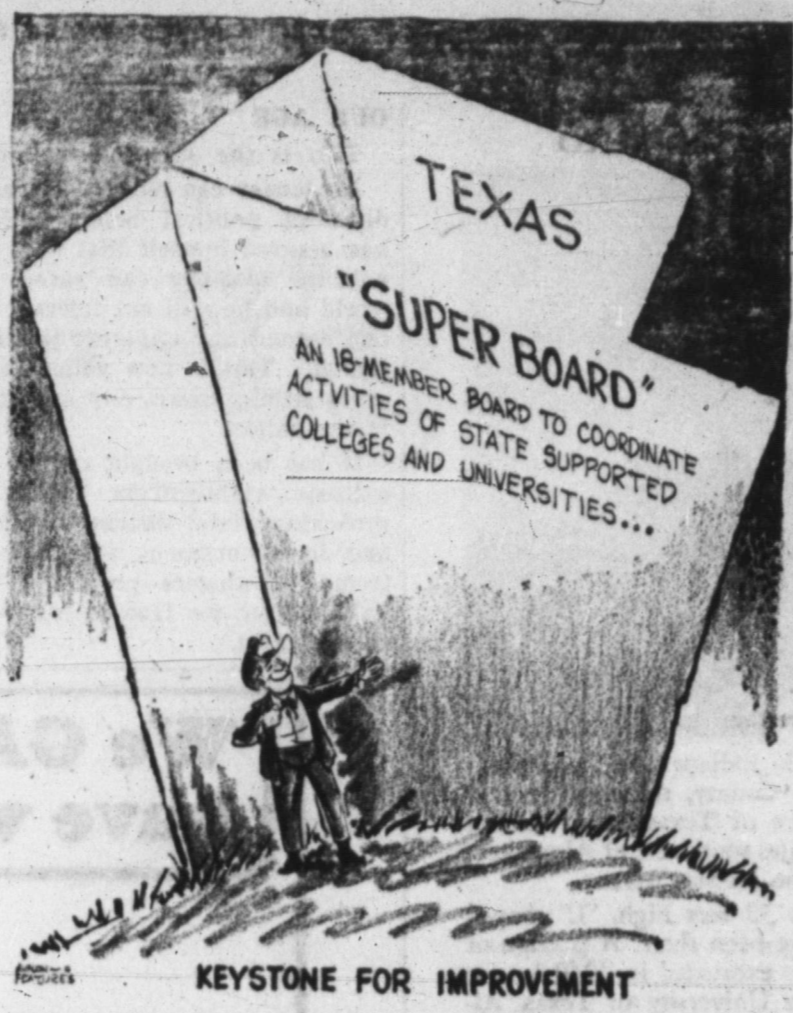

You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich. You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money.

You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn. You cannot build character and courage by taking away men's initiative and independence. You cannot help men permanently.

ently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves.

If you listen to some of the liberals, you gain the impression it is a sin to defend conservatism, the American way of life, free enterprise, individual liberty and initiative, the retention of a belief in God in our teachings and public affairs.

Last week was traveling week. We sent a guided craft to the moon. Astronauts Virgil Grissom and John Young made three orbits of the earth in a space craft at 17,000 miles an hour. Lyndon commuted between Washington and LBJ ranch. 160 Congressmen were having to walk from the new $86 million Rayburn office building to the capitol because the $7 million tunnel railway was not complete. Martin Luther King was marching on Montgomery. And Senator Bobby climbed Mount Kennedy.

For ten years, 1953 to 1963, there was an average of 72 deaths a year from tornadoes, and for the last five years the average has been 53 per year over the entire United States. Some people get very excited as every thunder storm approaches. But, the same people don't get too concerned, evidently, over the fact that there were more deaths than last year on the South Plains alone from traffic accidents. Last year, 48,000 Americans, 3,000 of them Texans died in automobile accidents. Thus, we are 1,000 times more likely to get killed in a car as in a tornado. Of course, threatening clouds and tornadoes should be respected—but it's a lot more important to respect the car in which you are riding or driving or meeting on the road.

Rep. Delwin L. Jones, representative in the Legislature from Lubbock, writes: "I wish to pass my words of compliment to your area for the fine support that your Representative Randy Pendleton has given the West Texas area during this session of the Legislature. Randy was one of the strong, active members who worked diligently in cooperation with the Lubbock delegation on House Bill 114 which authorizes a medical school at Texas Tech. I feel that without his help we would have had difficulty getting this bill passed."

Crosbyton Review:
Senator John Tower's newsletter contains some very interesting information I think the general public should see.

He expressed his unhappiness with the Administration's proposals to cut back the amount of money going into technical assistance for conservation practices on our farms and ranches, stating that this cutback would seriously impair our Soil Conservation program.

He says... "while the Administration proposes cuts in our own domestic Soil Conservation Service, it proposes, through the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, (which is the third highest spending agency in the government), to spend $22.185 to study the familial patterns of schizophrenia in Iceland; $6,240 for a study of the Mexican free-tailed bat's physiological adaptation; $24,336 for research into the na-

SUPPOSE—
Suppose every farmer and rancher was required by law to join and pay dues to a farm and ranch organization. Or suppose every parent of school children was required to be a dues paying member of the PTA. Or suppose every fisherman and hunter was legally compelled to join a game protective association.

These ridiculous ideas, as the Arizona Farm Bureau Federation has pointed out, contain the same logic as that used by labor groups and others who are now seeking repeal of that section of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits the states, if they so choose, to enact Right-to-work laws.

Twenty of the states have done that. They thus have said, in effect, that it is up to each indi-

History of Llano Ranch is Traced

Editor's Note: Following is a brief history of the old Llano Ranch near Post, given recently by John F. Lott, grandson of the late pioneer ranchers, Mr. and Mrs. John Slaughter, at the recent Boy Scout Camp dedication of the Llano Ranch State Historical marker. (Courtesy Post Dispatch)

In 1875-90 years ago—W. C. Young of Fort Worth purchased 300 stock cattle and put Ben Galbraith in charge. The cattle were run in Tarrant County for a year, then moved to Shackelford County. Young made Galbraith an equal partner at the time of the move and they started the YG brand.

In 1879 they moved the herd to Garza County and made a dugout camp on Yellowhouse Creek about ten miles north of the present site of Post. In 1880 they organized the Llano Cattle Company with W. C. Young as president and Ben Galbraith manager. Sam S. Gholson turned in 2,500 cattle and received $50,000 in stock. Other stockholders were E. T. Ambler, Fort Worth; T. J. Lyon, Dallas, and S. A. Johnson, cowboy, and Ed Ryan, bookkeeper at the ranch. The brand adopted was the Curry Comb.

Jasper Hays surveyed the ranch, thumping along on his wooden leg. The original herd of 2,800 cattle had increased to 8,000 to 10,000 head by 1883, and through purchase and lease the ranch became a tract 12 by 16 miles in size, comprising 195 sections.

On Aug. 1, 1883, Rollie Burns became manager, as a permanent headquarters was completed, including a two-story frame house. The old well may be seen behind the quartermaster building, and the last building torn down was where the Scout camp swimming pool parking lot now is.

John W. Woody had a contract to fence the entire ranch. Posts and stays were cut from the cedar brakes and snaked by mules to be loaded on wagons. They were placed in the ground 40 feet apart with three stays to each panel. Four barbed wires were later partly replaced with ribbon wire because the free-rangers could not cut it with common pliers.

The free-rangers gave the Llano so much trouble by shooting at the fence riders, cutting the fence wire and driving in their own cattle that Colonel Young sent four gunmen, with notches on their guns, to protect the fence. Their pay was $100 per month, with camp equipment and chuck and a bonus if they killed a man in the act of cutting the fence. In the spring of 1884, two men were caught in the act and fired upon. They managed to get away, but the fence cutting was ended.

In October 1882, Rollie Burns bought 75 head of unbroken saddle horses in Fisher County and on the return trip through Scurry County he hired Jim McCommis to come to the Llano Ranch and break the horses. Jim had married Della Browning, one of the only two eligible young ladies in Dickens and Crosby counties, that same year. She was to keep house at the headquarters and do cooking when the wagon cook was out on the range, while Jim broke the new horses.

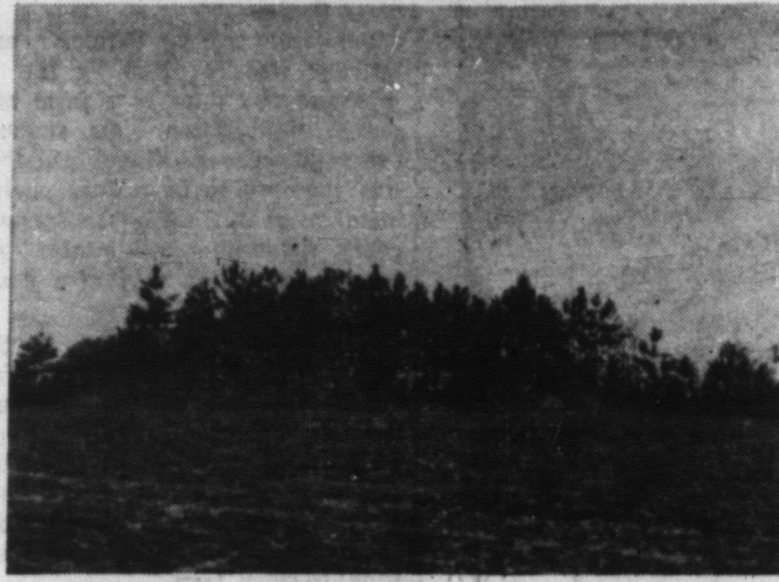

In January of 1884, Mrs. McCommis became faint one morning with the pangs of child-birth. It was 80 miles to the nearest doctor and would take 24 hours to get there. The baby was born here without medical aid, disinfectants or anesthetics to alleviate the pain, and with only the hard, clumsy hands of Jim to assist. The baby, a girl, died a few hours later, a sacrifice to frontier privations.

When the cowboys all came in, things were prepared for the burial. A little coffin lined with a sheet was made with boards ripped off the grain house. The baby was dressed in a dress made by her mother several months before. The boys dug a grave between two cedar bushes northwest of the house and just south of our mess hall. They went to the creek and found six large slabs of stone to make a vault for the coffin. This was the first burial and first burial recorded in Garza County.

C. W. Post purchased the ranch in 1907 and a gift of this part of the ranch was made to the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, in 1924.

Historic Mound Near Alto

The home site of a tribe of Caddo Indians who lived about 1000 A.D. near Alto, in Cherokee County, today supports a forest of small trees. This is the site of Texas Forest Service Indian Mound Nursery, located six miles southwest of Alto, along State Highway 21 where it crosses the Neches River.

Only a granite monument atop a 30 feet high, "L" shaped mound testifies to the Indians' having been there. A portion of the mound and surrounding area was excavated in 1940 by the Department of Anthropology of the University of Texas. Although no important artifacts were found, items of pottery, flints and sites of several houses were located. Archaeologists believe the mound was used as a place to worship their sun god. Occasionally, pieces of pottery and flints are unearthed as the area near the mound is cultivated by nursery personnel.

Presence of several constantly flowing springs nearby probably accounts for the Indians' use of the area. Availability of surface water for irrigation was a major factor in selecting the area as a state tree nursery.

To the citizens of nearby Alto goes a large amount of credit for their part in purchase of the 173 acres in 1940.

The nursery produces tree seedlings for reforestation in Texas. Initial production in 1940 was about 10 million seedlings. Maximum capacity is about 21 million seedlings which are sold to Texas landowners at cost.

Trees are to be used for reforestation and windbreak planting; none are sold for ornamentals or for landscaping.

Supplying tree seedlings for reforestation and windbreak planting is but one of the many ways your Texas Forest Service, now celebrating its 50th Anniversary, performs its obligation to Texans.

VISIT IN ARIZONA

Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Smith of New Home recently visited at Phoenix, Ariz., with their son, B. G. Smith, and family, especially the three grandchildren, a boy now 13 and the twin girls, now five. Mrs. Smith says B. G. and wife have recently bought a home, and they enjoyed picking a lot of wonderful grapefruit grown right in their yard.

The cotton plant occurs in five distinct species, some of them perennial.

OUR AGE

This is the age of intolerance. No longer can our friends have different political beliefs. Each has assured himself that only his political ideology can save the world and he will not tolerate for one second any opposing political thought. This is now going on in every hamlet, town, city and state in the nation.

It has been brought on by the extreme rightwingers constantly preaching "total distrust" of anyone in government and the extreme leftwingers preaching the only danger we face is from the rightwingers.

Old fashioned politics can no longer be enjoyed by the average layman. It has become a "life and death" struggle to those of the extreme and short tempers are the rule of the day.

Communists are quite gleeful over this turn of events as it means "divide and conquer" for them. As long as we are fighting each other, they can continue their dirty work unabated.

So, remember, the next time you attempt to discuss politics and your "discuss" happens to be of an opposing view, you are a traitor as far as he is concerned. This, the most dangerous man in the world is one who tolerates only his warped view of things.

Personally, I'd rather have friends and politics, but you can't have both anymore.—Cecil Waggoner in Claude News.
