William Tells
BY BILL SALTER

I RECENTLY learned a new word which describes the way I feel when I sit down to write this column each week.

The word is "newsmanphobia" and stems from a survey made by a psychologist from the University of Illinois. He says that newspapermen have the highest anxiety level of any American occupational group he has studied.

They are even more anxious, he said, than Navy frogmen, pilots in training and business executives.

So, by deductive reasoning, the fear of drowning, flaming death in an air crash and bankruptcy is less than the fear of sounding like an idiot in print!

AN OPTIMIST and a pessimist went into business together. Trade flourished.

"Well," said the optimist, "we've had a wonderful month. It's been one constant run of customers."

Dourly the pessimist agreed. "We have had some good business. But look at those front doors! If people keep shoving through them, the hinges will be off in a week!"

I SUPPOSE everyone's heard the old saying about the best laid plans of mice and men "sometimes going astray, but the old quote got kinda' turned around the other day at the News office.

In fact a quote similar to "The best laid mouse of a of a woman sometimes causes a few surprises", would have been more appropriate.

Let me explain the situation.

First, the "mouse." In this case, a scary looking rubber rodent most likely purchased at a local variety store.

Second, the "woman." In this instance, a certain reporter-bookkeeper-sales girl-ad compositor-proofer etc., who is employed by this firm.

Third, the "surprises." Initially, the "dirty rat" (the rubber one, not the employee) was purchased for the purpose of putting into a certain boss's desk so that a certain employee and or employees, could get a big laugh when the boss developed.

33rd Lynn County Pioneer Reunion Held On Saturday

Lynn County's 33rd annual Pioneer Reunion here Saturday, attended by about 350, was another in the series declared "the best yet" by many of those present.

At any rate, the crowd seemed to enjoy the food, the program, and most of all visiting with old friends.

Mrs. R. B. McCord, 88 received the trophy for the eldest lady; and L. H. (L.H.) Moore Sr., 83 was the oldest man honored.

Clint Walker, serving as master of ceremonies, declared a tie for the honor of coming the greatest distance and awarded trophies to both Mrs. Ruth Knight Atkins, Fresno and Cecil Loyd, Pico Rivera, both in California.

According to rules of the organization, no person can win one of the awards twice.

Milt Draper was elevated from vice president to president, succeeding George McCracken, and Jimmy Bragg was elected the new vice president. Jimmy's wife, Joye, was elected secretary to succeed Florine McCracken.

Especially pleasing was an outstanding program of music presented by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Edwards and Mrs. Karen Calhoun, all of New Home. Larry is the grandson of two pioneering couples, the Burton Edwards and the J. R. Strains.

His wife, Mary, and her sister, Karen, presented piano duets, and Mrs. Calhoun presented the trumpet imitation number which she gave on the recent Ted

Giants Clinch Top Spot In Tahoka Little League

Tahoka's Little League Giants nailed down the championship of the four-team city loop Monday night in their next-to-last game of the regular season, a remaining tilt meaning nothing in terms of first place standings.

But, the settlement of the of the league could have easily went down to the wire and into a playoff between the winners and the second-place Yanks.

A loss Monday night instead of the 2-0 win over the Cards, coupled with a loss Thursday night (tonight) to the Yanks in the final game of the season, would have thrown the loop into at least a two-way tie.

As it is, the Giants sport a 9-5 season mark, compared to 7-7 for the Yanks and 0-8 for both the Cards and Cubs.

In winning the league crown, the local team earned a berth in an invitational starting July 4 in Lubbock. First game for the locals in the meet is at 7:30 p.m. that night against the Lubbock Dixie Little League champs.

Eight teams are entered in the single elimination tourney which is being conducted at the Elk-Seals Park located just off 19th Street at Slide Road in Lubbock. Completion of the meet will take about a week.

League Managers, coaches, president and vice-president were slated to meet at 8 p.m. last night (Wednesday) to select the Tahoka Little League Tournament Team which will play O'Donnell in first round action later this month as area and regional playoffs begin.

Fifteen boys from all three age levels will be selected for the tournament team. Section of the group was made after final press deadline.

A doubleheader Thursday night pitting the Cards vs. Cubs and Giants vs. Yanks will end regular season play for Tahoka Little League.

Bids Will Be Opened July 6 For Grassland Water Project

Bids will be opened July 6 at 2 p.m. at the Methodist Church Annex, Grassland, on a project that is an entirely new concept for Lynn County... a rural water cooperative.

When bids are opened and the contract is awarded, construction will begin on a water supply project which will initially serve 25 customers in the Grassland area, 13 miles southeast of Tahoka.

Administering the project upon completion will be the Grassland Water Supply Cooperation, a board which was chartered in November of 1965 and since that time, with the assistance of the Farmers Home Administration, has been working on the realization of the cooperative water project.

In explaining the $35,000 FHA loan (40 years at 5 percent interest) which will finance the project, Bill Stewart, County Supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration, Tahoka, noted that the project called for approximately five miles of pipeline, a well capable of producing 100 gallons per minute and a 12,600 gallon storage tank.

Pipe utilized in the system will range from three-quarter to four inch sizes with up to 80 pounds of working pressure.

In further explaining the project, Stewart added that the hydro-pneumatic water system would initially serve an area 1 mile south, 1 mile west, one-half mile north, and 2 and one-half miles northeast of Grassland, plus customers in the community itself.

All water supplied by the project will be for domestic use pumped from one centralized pumping station, and will be metered at each customer's location. Monthly minimum charge for the first year's operation is $7.50, Stewart added.

B. L. Nelson and Associates, Lubbock, are consultant engineers for the project.

Flight Radio Is Available Here

Airplane pilots passing over this area may now receive information by reason of uni-com, two-way radio having been installed at Tahoka City Hall, announces Mayor Meldon Leslie.

When tested this week, contact was found to be possible up to 50 miles away. The service will not only be of value to local flyers but may be of great benefit to pilots wishing to land at Tahoka Airport day or night and to others in flight who may be lost or need to make emergency landings.

As a result of the installation, a City pickup may be rushed to the airport on a moment's notice, day or night.

Plans are underway for installation of landing lights by local flyers in the near future.

The City also has an application in for state aid in paving the north-south runway which now has a caliche base. This runway is 1825 feet long and has a clearance of 2030 feet.

The paved east-west runway is 2450 feet in length and has a clearance of 1590 feet.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER

Innocent Passage

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm thinks he has learned something from the recent war in the Mid-East, his letter this week indicates.)

Dear editor:

As I understand the news now about the Israeli-Arab war (by the way, who doesn't the United Nations Security Council pass a resolution limiting all future wars to four days? How long do you think football would last if a game went on for days and days?) Israel was fighting to maintain its right to the use of the Gulf of Aqaba and the Suez Canal by its ships or, as it's put in international diplomatic language, "innocent passage" through those waters.

Up till now I'll admit I wasn't familiar with that nautical term, "innocent passage," but I see what it means and would like to recommend a more widespread application of it.

Why limit it to the Gulf of Aqaba and the Suez Canal? I never use those places myself and doubt if very many other people around Littlefield do, although I don't try to keep track of everybody every time they leave town. It's their business whether they're going to the Gulf of Aqaba or Olton.

What I'm saying is that what this country needs is innocent passage guaranteed to its citizens on the highway from Littlefield to Muleshoe. From Los Angeles to New York. From Washington to Philadelphia.

What the people of Los Angeles and New York and Washington and Philadelphia and dozens of other big cities need is innocent passage along their sidewalks, at least during the day time. It's probably asking too much at night.

If you can think of anybody we can declare war on to get this through, let me know.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

MRS. STANLEY PRICE

Mr. Price, Miss Oliver Recite Ring Vows

Miss Zackiann Oliver and Stanley Dean Price both of Tahoka exchanged wedding vows Friday June 23 at 8 p. m. in the First Baptist Church of Tahoka.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Womack, all of Tahoka.

The Rev. George A. Dale of Lubbock performed the Double Ring Ceremony.

The candles were lighted by Karen Kennedy, Lubbock and Henry Jack Brice Snyder, both cousins of the bride.

Tracie Brice, also of Snyder and cousin of the bride served as flower girl.

Mrs. Hazel Bennett provided the wedding music at the organ accompanying Mr. James Hollars of Tahoka as he sang, "12th of Never" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of candlelight silk tulle designed with elbow length sleeves, a rounded neckline, and an A-line skirt. Pearl trimmed re-embroidered Allencen lace circled the neckline and Empire waistline and the last appliqued removable train was secured at the waist back and fell chapel length.

Customers of pearl accented silk inen roses held the elbow length veil of silk illusion.

The bride carried a cascade arrangement of gardenias, pearls, and gypsophelia, with steamers of ivory.

As something old she wore a Cameo Ring of her Grandmother Oliver's.

Miss Zenda Kay Oliver served her sister as Maid of Honor. She wore a floor length dress of ice blue linen styled with scoop neckline, bell sleeves, and A-line skirt. Candlelight Venice lace trimmed the sleeves, and outlined the Empire bodice.

Cabbage roses of ice blue held her circular veil. Bridesmaids were Judy Reed, Charlotte Warren, Martha Nell Womack, sister of the bride, all of Tahoka. Their dresses were identical to that of the Maid of Honor and they all carried cascade arrangements of majestic and white marquette daisies.

Larry Price of Tahoka served as best man. Serving as groomsmen were Mark Martin, Hart, Jack Jaques, and Mike both of Tahoka.

Ushers were W. T. Brice, Snyder, cousin of the bride and Cal Womack, brother of the groom. Mark Todd of Houston, cousin of the bride was ring bearer.

Following the ceremony the brides parents were hosts for a reception in fellowship hall.

Miss Suzann Kennedy, of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, registered guests.

Serving at the tables were aunts, Miss Johnnie Anderson, Houston. Mrs. D. K. Kennedy, Lubbock. Mrs. Wile Brice, Snyder. Mrs. Truman Balch, Mineral Wells and Mrs. Rhonda Reid of Tahoka.

For the wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, the bride chose a light blue silk suit and hat which she made with black patent accessories.

The bride and groom are graduates of Tahoka High School. The bride attended Texas Tech last year. The groom has attended A&M and Tarleton State. He plans to enter Texas Tech this fall as a junior.

They will reside at 1617 18th street in Lubbock.

Also named as officers were Bill Brock, vice-president; Mary Beth Kiser, secretary-treasurer; Barbara Wharton, publicity chairman, and Cliff Thomas, fellowship chairman.

All of the new officers are students at Thoka High School.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Womack, over the weekend were Mark Martin, Hart, Richard Gugginsberg, Vernon, Stanley McGowan, Baird, Lynn Hammonds, Stephenville, and Diane Nibe, Waco.

Miss Ann Duncan, C.H.D. A. Agent, will demonstrate flat-pattern designing Thursday, June 29 at 2:30 p.m. at the Lyntegar Meeting Room.

Flat-pattern designing is the change of darts, seams, neckline of a basic pattern to a more detailed or different design of the garment. The program should be of interest to women throughout the county.

HOW TO STITCH A RICH LOOK

No matter what her bankroll, every woman needs at least one dress that makes her look and feel like an heiress.

Any number can play, if it was designed by an "in" stylist: say, Donald Brooks, or Jacques Tiffau. Many such blue-chip fashion names are represented in the New York Desingers' Collection Plus 1 of high fashion patterns. That "rich girl" look is as accessible as your nearest pattern counter.

Donald Brooks, who has successfully designed for the theater as well as for a large audience of smart women, is the man to put drama in your clothes life. This he does with Pattern #8540, a supple little shift that makes a big fashion point of long cuffed sleeves flowing gracefully from a yoke. The bateau neckline and the front-slit skirt are closed by demure rows of buttons—more drama. In a crepe or challis fabric, this dress could well be the life of the next party you attend.

Geoffrey Beene, twice winner of the coveted Coty American Fashion Critics Award, contributes another dream of a party dress. The sleeveless, long-waisted top skims the body lightly; the dancy, deep-pleated skirt flares out below a ribbon tie belt. Devastating in black faille or crepe. Pattern #8408 also works well in colorful jerseys or silks.

In a different mood is Beene's daytime skimmer, #8004 (not shown) artfully constructed along vertical lines that slim the wearer with the greatest of ease. Front seams and pleats join to create a flattering paneled effect; a hip-riding tie belt is just the right accent note.

From Jacques Tiffau, known for marvelously wearable young styles, comes a slim sleeveless dress that could go on almost forever. Against its sleek, pared-down shape, every detail shows up: the V-neck with concealed zipper closing, the jaunty high patch pockets, the back belt. In plaids or Tattersall checks, it's sporty; in a clear pastel fabric, it could take you wining and dining. The Tiffau dress is pattern #8565 from the New York Desingers' Collection Plus 1, available wherever McCall's Patterns are sold.

Endlessly versatile is Londoner Digby Morton's dress and jacket costume, a masterpiece of understated British tailoring. The gently cut-away jacket of pattern #8460 has curved front seaming; curved seams also shape the matching A-line dress. Good show, Digby!

With such a wealth of high fashion at your fingertips, who needs money?

Delegation Of Lynn County Youth Will Attend Austin Conference

Quite a delegation from Lynn County will attend the Fifth Annual Texas Youth Conference, slated for August 17-20 on the University of Texas campus, Austin.

At present, the record shows a total of six students slated to attend the conference, several in higher capacities than that of the delegates who compose the majority of the 1,020 outstanding Texas youth leaders.

Named to the highest post of the group was Miss Marla Bray, 18, salutatorian of the 1967 Tahoka High School Senior Class. Miss Bray is one of only 14 top youth leaders from throughout the state appointed to serve as a member of the conference staff.

Selected as Junior Counselors for the conference were two other Tahoka Students, Lexi Adams and Debbie Wright, both of whom will be Seniors next fall.

Attending the meet as delegates from Lynn County will be Billy Brock and Elva Edwards, both members of last year's THS Junior Class, and Gid Moore, New Home. Sponsors of the three-day

Bill Griffin, County Agent Says.....

Cotton production in the United States in 1966 was the smallest since 1946. Cotton producers in the United States signed up to direct about 4.5 million acres of their cotton allotment to soil conservation uses instead of producing cotton.

According to planting intentions on March 1, cotton acreage was expected to remain small for the 1967 crop. Cotton acreage in the United States may very well be the smallest since the 1870's.

This is somewhat alarming when mill consumption of cotton during the present marketing year will increase from last year's usage and would be the largest since 1950-51. It is also somewhat alarming when world consumption of cotton in 1966-67 may very well total about 52 million bales, a new record!

In 1924-26, the average annual production of cotton in the United States amounted to 15.9 million bales. Production in foreign countries amounted to 11.5 million bales, less than that produced in the United States. During 1967, the United States produced 9.6 million bales - considerably less than in the 29's, and foreign countries produced 37.6 million bales. This is real competition!

United States imports of cotton textiles (raw cotton equivalent basis) ran at record levels during calendar 1966. Since 1946, imports into the United States of cotton textiles manufactured in foreign countries have increased over 18 percent per year, while exports from the United States of cotton textiles have dropped 5 percent per year.

In summary, cotton is faced with two competitors. These are foreign grown cotton plus the exports of this cotton, and man-made fibers.

Reunion Sidelights

BY FRANK HILL

Buford Powers, 1911, and wife, 1905, have a new sign over the gate to their ranch up east of Tahoka Lake which reads "Hungry Hill, Z-Bar Ranch." Mrs. Powers parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Wise, moved to the ranch from Dimmitt in 1905. She is the cousin of John and Rufus Slover.

There were many others from nearby towns.

N. D. Leavitt, 1907; Maurine Farris, 1909; and Mrs. V. D. Leavitt, 1910, all of Causey, N. M., were here. Early settlers in the New Home country, Mr. Leavitt, in spite of his age, still manages to get back "home" for the reunion almost every year.

Some of those present from out of town who date "away back yonder" were Carlce Edwards, 1906, Denver City; Dyer White, 1911, Lubbock; Mrs. Laura Lewis, 1903, Lubbock; Mrs. Callie George, 1903, Lubbock; Nate Thomas, 1904, and Dell (Cotton) Thomas, 1902, Lubbock; Henry McDonald, 1902, Seagraves; Mrs. J. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heck, Plainview, were here for the first time to attend a Pioneer Reunion and said they "had a ball."

Mrs. Ben Moore of O'Donnell was here when the county was organized. Her dad, H. E. Baldridge, helped organize the county, was a first commissioner, and was instrumental in organizing O'Donnell. In fact, he laid out the O'Donnell town plot and helped name the streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer St. Clair, some more "firsts", were here from Weatherford. Rescola's dad, S. N. McDaniels, helped organize the Texas Horse Thief Association and ran down thieves back in Jack County before deciding to settle down in Lynn, and was this county's first county clerk. Mrs. McDaniels was his deputy.

Belton Howell says that picture in The News of the big fire which destroyed the north side of the Tahoka square was the last day of December, 1915.

Mrs. Harold Edwards of Houston and daughter, Mrs. Earl D. (Janice) Moore of LaMarque, have been visiting their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Kate Poer, and attended the Pioneer Reunion Saturday.

Jack Street Is Rotary Speaker

Stepped up work for agriculture and ranching and development of a long range plan for West Texas are two of the current objectives of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, stated Jack Street in a talk before Tahoka Rotary Club last Thursday.

Street is the projects director in charge of state affairs, industrial development and is "trouble shooter" on special projects for WTCC. The speaker outlined history, objectives, and accomplishments of the organization since its organization in 1918. He said WTCC represents 132 West Texas counties covering 58 percent of the land area of Texas, has 153 affiliated local C. of C.'s and 225 directors.

First objective of WTCC was securing Texas Tech for this area, the second was establishment of a Texas Board of Water Engineers, and third and continuing objective has been equitable freight rates for this area. Other projects are as varied as is life and industry in this part of the state.

The western half of the state has shown great development largely through group action in cooperation of towns with WTCC; and the future offers greater possibilities.

Farming, ranching, industry, and the importation of water are now receiving major attention.

Street announced Harold Roberts is the new WTCC director from Tahoka.

The speaker was introduced by Maurice Small, program chairman.

Indioles To Play Weather Cards Monday

Fun is the name of the game for Monday night, when the parents of the Indians and Orioles get together to play two baseball games against parents of the Weather Doctors and Cardinals at 8 p.m. at Wilson Little League Park.

The "Indioles" mothers will play the "Weather Card" mothers, followed by the fathers' teams of the same names. This annual event is held after the completion of the regular little league season, so the kids can watch from the sidelines, and tell the "Old Folks" what they should have done.

Concession stand will be open and everyone is invited to come out and enjoy the baseball ?? games. You will never see another like it! (They may not be able to come back next year.) Mrs. Lloyd Anders is in charge of arrangements.

Facts About Farm Labor Unions Listed By Texas Farm Bureau

The unionizing of farm labor will not be accomplished without the aid of the U. S. government. Recent attempts have been to apply enough pressure to join a union in order to work. The procedure is for the union to obtain a contract from the employer and then include in that contract requirements for union membership and services such as health, retirement, etc. When this is accomplished, farm labor is forced to buy their jobs and services from a union.

There are at the present time two contracts in existence between the unions and employers in California. With regard to the California situation the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee has a contract with the Schenley Industries. The other contract in California is between A. Perelli-Minetti Company and the Teamsters' Union Farm Workers. There is another corporation in California, the Di Giorgio Corporation, that has agreed to negotiate a contract for three of its ranches. The Christian Brothers' Mont Lashalle Winery has also agreed to negotiate a contract. In Texas, Virgilio Guerra has signed an agreement indicating that the Rancho Las Velas Farm

Eddy Arnold To Be Featured

LUBBOCK - The Kids Next Door, who thrilled fairgoers here last year as the Young American Singers, will return to the Panhandle South Plains Fair this fall as part of the featured Eddy Arnold all-star show.

The 18-member singing group will be appearing on stage in Fair Park Coliseum with Arnold and Jimmy Nelson throughout the week-long engagement, slated September 25-30. Nelson also will bring his dummy pals-Danny O'Day, Humphry Higsby, Farfel and Flatatea-to the golden anniversary edition.

The 50th annual renewal will salute A. B. Davis, Longtime general manager. The show will be presented in the round.

Duplicate Bridge

Winners in masterpoint play at T-Bar Duplicate Club Tuesday night were: Mrs. Meldon Leslie and Mrs. Bill Lumsden, first; Mrs. A. N. Norman and Kent Jones of Lubbock, second; and Mrs. Johnny Wells and Mrs. Winston Wharton, third.

Because of the Fourth of July holiday, there will be no game next week.

Mack Amateur Hour, Larry sang some numbers, and finally led the group in a patriotic song. The program drew several rounds of spontaneous applause.

Post cards were signed by a number of people praising Karen's performance to Ted Mack.

Elmer Sproles and his helpers were given a round of applause for the fine meal, which many termed the best he had ever served.

Most of all, the 350 people present seemed to enjoy immensely visiting with friends they had not seen often. Many were present from a distance, and a few were here for the first time at a reunion.

Tribute in silent prayer was paid those who had passed away during the past year, including Mrs. R. C. Forrester, buried here that morning.

Mr. McCracken requested The News to thank the many workers and donors whose help made the reunion a success.

It is worth noting that all the California groups signing with the union have one thing in common: all of their products are marketed in the form of a consumer package with a readily identifiable label or brand. The Schenley and Di Giorgio are both publicly owned corporations whose major activities are something other than farming. These two corporations are divesting themselves of their farming activities as fast as they can. It is reported at the present time that less than 10% of these two corporations' business is farming.

The Christian Brothers' organization in California is a Catholic Church organization whose funds from its winery and distillery sales go for the support of church schools.

In Texas the 79th district court judge, Woodrow Laughlin of Alice, Texas, issued a temporary restraining order stopping all picketing at La Casita Farm property in Starr County as of Friday, June 2, 1967. The basis of this injunction was that the farm laborers on the farm have not struck but indeed are still working in the fields each day. Further proof of the fact that there is no strike of the farm laborers is that most of the crops have already been harvested and the growers are generally paying more than the minimum national farm wage.

In order to perpetuate this movement it is now developing into a "civil rights" affair. It is a fact that the leaders of the organizing effort in the Valley of Texas and California are trained primarily in the area of community development, which is indeed a part of the civil rights and poverty program. It is also worth noting that the NAACP representative Richard L. Dockery of Dallas, director of Southwest region, has made his appearance in the Valley.

The United Workers (Obreros Unidos) is being organized in Wisconsin. One of the activities reported by this group has been a march between Waucoma and Madison, Wisconsin. This group in Wisconsin is reported to be led by a Jesus Salas. Salas was originally from Crystal City, Texas.

The Campus Americans for Democratic Action and the Student Peace Union are reported to have joined in the formation of a new organization, Independent Student Union. One of the first projects for the Independent Student Union is to aid in the organization of migratory farm workers in New York. The new organization's other immediate task is to serve as a coordinating center for anti-drift activities.

The move in Washington is to pass H. R. 4769 amending the National Labor Relations Act to include farm workers. If farm labor comes under the provisions of the National Labor Relations Act farm workers will be added to the labor union monopoly. This means that those working will be required to belong to the union or not work. The union will be used to lobby in Washington, D. C., and Austin. The union's forces will also be used to elect candidates and to lobby them while in office. Nothing is quite as disturbing as to receive a letter from a labor union indicating that unless you cooperate with their program your local labor union leaders will be informed of your non-cooperation. The simple fact is that a person may be free to vote as he chooses but if his non-voting, or "inactive voting", denies him the right to earn a living he is a complete slave to the situation. To illustrate the point, leaders of the AFL-CIO United Farm Workers Organizing Committee recently testified in Washington before House Labor Subcommittee with regard to H. R. 4769, who were these people testifying in Washington? (1) Cesar Chavez, from California who spent six years in Chicago studying in the "Allinsky School of Revolution," (2) Dolores Huerta, from California, (3) Joe Serra, from California, (4) Mack Lyons, from California, (5) Gilbert Padilla, from California, (6) Domingo Arrendondo, Rio Grande City, (7) Larry Hihong, Phillipino American from California.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS INC.

Gross value to farmers from 2,122,770 acres of cotton allotments in the 23 counties surrounding Lubbock and represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. came to $257,922,510 in 1966.

This is the figure arrived at by John J. Seibert, Area Extension Farm Management Specialist, working with the PCG staff. It includes producer income from lint, seed, and both price support and acreage diversion payments under last year's cotton program.

In calculating lint value, Seibert used quality statistics published for each of the High Plains counties each year by PCG. Per-bale prices for lint, on a 500-pound basis, ranged from $72.76 to $94.62 or from a little over 14.5 cents to 19.3 cents a pound.

Setbert says varietal differences plus the varying effects of adverse weather from county to county in 1966 accounted for the difference in prices received.

Total lint value of the 1,293,700 bales (500 pounds gross weight) in the area was $149,885,258.

To that figure the value of cotton seed added another $33,375,000 based on an average of 800 pounds of seed per bale at $65 per ton.

Government payments finished out gross income with another $108,037,252 in the 23 counties. In this figure were included $68,897,682 of price support payments and $39,275,560 of payments for diverted acres.

Seibert says these figures are to be used in connection with the South Plains Development Program launched last year by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The program seeks to build producer income from all crops through yield and quality increases, reduced production costs and maximum diversification.

Another step toward improvements in cotton classing procedures was taken June 15 when representatives of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and other cotton producer and ginner groups met in Dallas with U.S.D.A. officials.

Discussion centered around instrument classing of cotton in future years, but there were also assurances that USDA in 1967 would place added emphasis on the accuracy of its human classing, especially in the High Plains area where quality improvement is on the upgrade.

Stanley Rademaker, Director of the Cotton Division of USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service, said extra care would be taken in the assignment of classers to the Lubbock, Brownfield and Lamesa offices and that current plans call for double the number of classing supervisors.

A report on work in the field of instrument classing gave hope that instrument classing of cotton is closer at hand than many people realize and could be effected in the near future, according to Donald A. Johnson, PCG Executive Vice President, who represented PCG at the meeting along with J. D. Smith of Littlefield, President. Johnson reported that at least one, and possibly as many as three, instrument classing "lines" will be set up this fall in Memphis, Tennessee to evaluate both individual instruments and the system. He said all instruments which are sufficiently developed at that time will be tested in the lines.

Machines likely to be included are a combination colorimeter-trasher, length analyzers, improved micronaire testers and possibly strength and uniformity instruments.

Another meeting with these same USDA officials and others is being planned for next spring when the results of this fall's operations, as well as the latest developments from other sources, are known.

"At that time," Johnson said, "we will be in a much better position to determine which, if any, of the instruments can be put into actual classing-office operation in the fall of 1968."

He pointed out that use of instruments to more exactly define the spinning value of cotton fibers will eventually be of great benefit to cotton producers. "And, incidentally, the use of instruments will have to be the result of producer and ginner efforts. No help at this time at least can be expected from other segments of the industry," he added.

Four people with definite interests in the future of High Plains cotton are now members of a USDA Agricultural Research Service committee named to evaluate and make suggestions concerning the work of the Southern Regional Research and Development Laboratories at New Orleans.

Most recent additions to the committee are Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and James S. Parker who was Textile Consultant for PCG from 1962 until the beginning of 1966.

Parker is now Director of Technical Services for the American Textile Manufacturers Institute, Charlotte, N. C., but his experience with and knowledge of the High Plains cotton situation would prove valuable in his new appointment.

Already members of the committee were Dr. Earl Heard, Textile Professor and consultant to the Textile Research Laboratories at Texas Technological College, and Carl Cox, Director of the Cotton Research Committee of Texas.

The agricultural appropriations bill recently passed by the House of Representatives in Washington earmarked $1,018,800 for the advancement of three projects sponsored by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and of prime interest to the High Plains cotton industry.

Largest of the three was an appropriation of $502,800 for continuance of the boll weevil control program which has prevented cotton's most dreaded pest from invading the High Plains area.

Federal funds in this program are matched dollar-for-dollar by area cotton producers and the Texas Department of Agriculture. Its success has drawn nationwide interest as one of history's largest and most successful insect control efforts.

Another $275,000 was allocated for research on utilization of short staple cottons and for studies of instrument classification of cotton. Texas produces some 90 per cent of the nation's cotton stapling under an inch, and of this the High Plains turns out almost half.

Donald Johnson, PCG Executive Vice President, said "We have supported this appropriation all along, pointing out to people in Congress and USDA that such work offers the best and most equitable promise for correcting the current over-

Local Scouts Spend Week At Camp Post

Eight Boy Scouts from Troop 721 returned Saturday from a weeks camping and scouting at Camp Post. The camp, given to the Scouts in memory of C. W. Post, is almost a quarter section of land located two miles south of the City of Post. Formerly a part of the Liano or Curcomb, Ranch on which the first house, well, and grave in Garza County are located, the camp is a rugged area of steep hills and gulleys just over the caprock.

Todd Bechum, Mark Leverett, Gary McCord, Terry McCord, Jerry Meeks, Steve Miller Clyde Curry, and Wesley Boone represented the Tahoka troop at camp. Charlie Jacques, scoutmaster, helped set up camp and spent Sunday night with the boys. Charles Brock, troop committeeman, spent Wednesday night at the camp. Barry Jaquess and Terry Ayer spent Friday night with the troop and helped break camp. Rush Brock, assistant scoutmaster, spent the week at camp with the troop.

Most of the scouts completed enough requirements to allow them to advance one rank. Others completed much of their work and serving the fifty-five towns in the system are operated as a unit, providing economies not available to independent operation. Historically, since 1927, when natural gas service was first brought to the area a system-wide rate has been used in these towns. The company does not plan to change the rates for industrial or irrigation services, it was noted.

According to PNG, it is necessary to request a higher rate, as revenues are not now sufficient under the present rate which has been in effect for more than six years.

The rate would result in an increase of 11.5 percent to those customers served under this rate. It distributes as uniformly as possible the requested increase through the various rate brackets, although the increase in the minimum bill will be slightly higher in recognition of fixed costs which are necessary to maintain a meter service, whether gas is consumed in small or large quantities.

At present, the first 2,000 cu. ft. or less per month costs $1.65. In the requested general service rate, the first 2,000 cu. ft. or less per month, would cost $1.85.

The request for an increase in the General Service Rate is primarily attributable to the increase which has been experienced in labor materials, general taxes, and other operating costs the gas company concluded.

lack only a little toward advancement. In addition to advancement work, the boys had time for swimming and swimming instruction, archery, rifle range, and hiking.

Along with scout skills, the campers were taught care and conservation of the camping area. Fire is a constant hazard as the area is dry and covered with mesquite and white juniper. The boys were instructed in fire safety while camping, along with measures to be taken in case a fire got out of hand and threatened the entire camp. The boys also practiced soil erosion prevention, and worked to keep their campsite clean and free of litter.

Study Shows $1.6 Million Per Year From Oil And Gas Wells In County

More than $1.6 million a year of economic stimulation for Lynn County flows from its oil and gas wells each year, an annual study by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association showed today.

"As one of the 206 producing counties in Texas, Lynn County's economy is sensitive to fluctuations in the oil industry generally," commented W. A. Landreth, Fort Worth, Association president. "Long range, the demand for oil looks strong and current production rates continue to provide Texas a major source of its income. On the other hand, Texas operators are beset by competition from other oil-producing areas, government ceilings on natural gas prices, heavy tax payments, and a price for crude oil that is insufficient to encourage the amount of exploratory drilling that is needed to find future reserves."

Based on latest U. S. Bureau of Mines production figures, Lynn County in 1965 produced 547,500 barrels of crude oil, valued at $1.6 million and 67.8 million cubic feet of natural gas valued at $8,800 and ranks 151st among Texas counties in production.

A major distribution of income from sales of oil and gas went to county landowners in royalty payments totaling more than $203,675.

In 1966, a year that saw drilling in Texas fall to its lowest level since 1947, oil and gas operators drilled 10 wells in Lynn County. Of these 5 were wildcat seeking new fields.

The Association estimated that operators in the county spent more than $783,230 in drilling last year, of which $413,832 was lost in dry holes. Sharing heavily in the county's production each year is the State Treasury, which received $75,164 in production taxes in 1965 paid by the producers and royalty owners. Crude oil production paid $74,548 and natural gas production, $616.

gh to quite "scare the dickens" out of the boss, but it just so happens that the rodent somehow takes a fly through the air when the employee throws her hands up in fright.

Well, when the flying rodent (following the screech) lands in the boss's lap a heart attack almost happens! (Not that the boss is particularly afraid of mice, but who ever heard of one that could fly... other than Mighty Mouse of course!)

Oh, was it ever funny... ha, ha, and double ha. Isn't that what you say... Margaret?

WHAT A wonderful world this would be if we did as well today as we expect to do tomorrow.

SPEAKING OF animals... I was almost scared to go over to Floydada the week before last to have the paper printed after their big "alligator" scare.

When alligators can grow from 19 inches to 19 feet in about a day, it's just simply no place for persons like me who can't run so very fast!

Latest reports indicate they haven't found any more over there... only the initial which caused the big uproar.

But, the publicity the town received (the story made the nationwide wire services) was worth more than if there'd have been enough in the town to start a shoe factory.

Some straight talk about milk that is important to mothers

No one has to tell you how important milk is to a child's diet. Or that the best milk is none too good for him.

PROBLEM: With so many brands to choose from, how do you tell which milk is freshest and provides the most nourishment?

SOLUTION: Buy the milk that far exceeds government requirements and goes even further to meet its own higher standards of quality and taste.

FACT: The Borden Company has spent more than 100 years building its reputation for milk that is always better than it has to be.

Borden's quality control starts at the dairy farm and follows the milk all the way to your home or to the store. It takes 23 separate quality tests for purity, flavor and freshness to tell us we couldn't do better!

This extra care sometimes causes Borden's to cost a little more than some brands. But if we did anything less, we couldn't keep this promise:

Don't Sit On The Thorns

Jeremy Taylor, a seventeenth century minister, wrote, "Some people collect a bunch of thorns and sit down on them." Perhaps in times of stress, we all have a tendency in that direction.

Some people, though, insist on collecting the thorny aspects of every situation and dwelling in glorious agony on them to the exclusion of anything hopeful. Such an attitude breeds misery.

It reminds me of a person who cuts the roses from the rose bush and puts the thorns in a vase. After all, when God made the rose bush, He made a rose bush with a few thorns on it; not a thorn bush with a few roses on it.

"And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to to his purpose. (Romans 8:28)"

Ann Duncan, CHDA Says:

Conjure up a picture of an outdoor barbecue grill with glowing red coals.

Add a thick juicy steak, or tempting pork chops, - maybe chicken, turkey or roast, even shish kebab. The choice is yours, but the eating is bound to be delectable.

Outdoor barbecuing has fast become an American favorite. There's nothing quite like the delicious charcoal flavor. It's generally a cooking job for the man of the household takes over.

Meat preparation for the grill can be either elaborate or simple - depending on personal preference. For instance, about all that is necessary for delicious steaks are salt, pepper and maybe butter says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. If you prefer, though, you can marinate the meat to add special taste and tenderness.

When barbecuing pork, the important thing is to make sure the meat is done clear through. Pork should have no trace of pink when it is ready to eat.

Chicken usually is at its tender best when plenty of cooking time is allowed. Keep the pieces well above the fire for best flavor and tenderness.

Don't overlook fish in outdoor barbecue enjoyment. This type of cooking gives fish a flavor that can't be equalled. Just about all kinds of fish can be prepared in this way.

Beef may be your first choice for outdoor cookery this summer - mainly because it's unusually plentiful now, according to USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Steak is one of the most popular beef items. When broiling steaks, you'll find it's only necessary to turn them once. Broil until brown on first side, turn, and continue cooking the other side.

To keep a steak from curling during cooking, slash the fat edges. Always salt each side of the steak after grilling. If salted before, it may draw the flavorful juices to the surface and slow the browning process. To tell if a steak is done, cut a slit in the steak with a sharp knife. Cut near the bone, if there is one. Look at the color inside. If it's red, the steak's rare; pink is medium, and brown is well done.

Meat should be carved against the grain to give uniform slices for attractive service. Also, slicing across the grain or fibers makes the meat easier to eat.

Regardless of the type meat you select, the circular mark of federal inspection gives added assurance that the beef, pork or lamb you buy is wholesome. This mark is put only on meat which has passed strict tests to ensure that only clean, safe meat reaches you.
