County Harvest Festival To Offer Fun, Food, Prizes

A wide variety of entertainment is expected to lure county residents to the 11th annual Lynn County Harvest Festival Saturday, an event which offers games, contests and other activities all day long on the Tahoka square.

Drawings will be held on the hour for prizes donated by county merchants, and food and crafts booths will draw much interest. The Harvest Festival Princess contest will be held at 1:30 p.m., followed by the Queen contest at 2:00. The drawing for the Dallas Cowboy weekend, Tech weekend, and two bicycles will be held sometime during the day, with the lucky winners drawn from ticket sales conducted by the queen and princess contestants.

A $50 "Earlybird" prize will be given away at 11 a.m. by the Harvest Festival Committee, and a $300 grand prize will be awarded sometime during the day. A $200 prize will be drawn from entries in the bubble gum toss at the Homecoming football game, and will be awarded sometime Saturday.

Lee Sears and The Drugstore Cowboys will be on stage throughout the day, and will entertain at the street dance from 8 p.m. to 12 midnight. The dance is sponsored by Tahoka Rotary Club, who will open their sausage booth during that time.

Among scheduled activities are an arts and crafts fair at the old Anthony's building on the west side of the square, pet show, frog jumping, turtle race, slipper kicking, stick horse race, roller roning, organized games, hairy leg contest, and a sidewalk sale by many local merchants. A schedule of activities can be found on page 8 of this newspaper.

Merchants who are planning to have sidewalk sales or special inside sales on Saturday are C&M TV-Video, Balloons and Flowers, Perry's, Parker Pharmacy, Genny's, Paris Cafeteria, Jennings, and Tahoka Daisy.

Frustrated Bulldogs To Host Wilson Friday

BY DALTON WOOD

There were two spontaneous standing ovations by the good crowd at last Friday's first home game of the season for the Tahoka Bulldogs. One was for former head coach A.D. Shaver, who has been hospitalized in critical condition for several months with meningitis. Coach Shaver was well enough to be let out of the hospital for a few hours and was brought in his wheelchair to the game.

When it was announced that the former head coach was at the north end of the field accompanied by Mrs. Shaver, the crowd stood and applauded.

The crowd applauded again, on their feet, as the Bulldogs came off the field at the end of the game, a tribute to the determined effort of the football team to win a close game. It was a note of appreciation to the Bulldogs who lost the game 26-20 after twice coming from behind to go ahead, but who never quit, and were back down to the Hale Center 16 when time ran out.

It was, like so many other games over the last four years, a hard one to lose after a good effort. The loss left Tahoka at 0-2 for the year and facing another tough football team in the Wilson Mustangs, who will be here Friday night for Tahoka's homecoming. Wilson gave highly-rated Sudan a mighty tussle last Friday before finally going under 27-11. The Mustangs won their opener against Petersburg, so come into Friday's contest at 1-1.

Tahoka showed some punch on offense last week, especially in the running of Todd Nance and big Mike McDonald, who at 220 is sort of a paleface Earl Campbell at the high school level. Nance gained 96 yards in 14 carries and McDonald muscled his way for 131 yards in 18 efforts, including runs of 29, 33 and 20 yards. Nance's longest was a burst of 30, but he scored touchdowns on runs of 1 and 8 yards.

Hale Center scored first, on a run of 23 yards by Tim Silva, but missed the point and it was 6-0 midway of the first quarter. But after the kickoff, Tahoka drove 85 yards to score, with the big gainers a 22-yard pass from QB Randy Taylor to McDonald, and runs of 20 and 33 by Tahoka's Big Mac. Nance scored the TD from the 1 and McDonald kicked the point to give the Bulldogs a 7-6 lead.

In the second quarter, the Owls regained the lead as Silva scored from the 3, but a running try for points was stopped by defensive end Rusty Jennings. Tahoka went ahead again as McDonald waded 3 yards, and it was 13-12 after the PAT missed, with just 2:01 left in the half.

It was at this point that Tahoka's pass defense broke down badly and Hale Center completed three quick ones, the last going 13 yards from Shane Steen to Chris Cannon for a TD. Steen then passed to Silva for 2 points to make it 20-13 at halftime.

Things calmed down in the third, with the teams exchanging short drives and fumbles, but early in the fourth Nance scooted 30 yards and then went 8 for a touchdown on a well-executed pitchout from Taylor, running the option. McDonald's kick tied it at 20 with 11:44 left.

Hale Center scored the game-winner on a 4th and 5 screen pass to Silva, who went 40 yards to score. A pass attempt for 2 points was knocked away by John Aldus, but the Owls led 26-20 with just over 3 minutes left.

Tahoka came back strong on a drive which carried to the Owl 16 before time elapsed. In that drive, McDonald threw the halfback pass 15 to Thomas Gibson, and Taylor hit McDonald for 11 and Joseph House for 10, but the last pass fell incomplete.

Jennings and Ronnie Dunn were the leading tacklers for Tahoka in the contest, but some good luck also were made by Tackle Gary Daniell, Tackle George Morin, defensive back Aldous and linebacker David Brooks.

Man Held In Theft Of Mail At Wilson

A 29-year-old Lubbock man was arrested Sept. 11 and has been charged with possession of stolen mail after an investigation by postal inspectors, Lubbock County district attorney's officer Mike Chavez and Wilson Police Chief Bob Ray.

In Lubbock County jail this week on the federal charge was Roy Leon Follis, whose address was listed as Lubbock. No bond had been set early this week.

Postal inspector Sam Prose said more than $46,000 in checks which had been mailed by depositors to the Wilson State Bank were involved in the case. Over a period of time mostly in July and August checks mailed to the Wilson bank had failed to reach the bank, and investigators, working with Wilson Postmaster Jimmy Coleman, determined that someone apparently had a key to the postoffice. Investigators did not say how the key was obtained, but Follis reportedly was not a postal employee.

Many of the checks were mailed from Tahoka, according to Prose.

"If any persons have learned that their missing checks were cashied, we would appreciate their contacting the postal inspector's office, phone 762-7821 in Lubbock," he said.

Tahoka Police investigated a backing accident on Friday at 2000 N. 4th that involved a 1970 Chevrolet El Camino driven by Hattie Garret Beard of Tahoka. The woman was transported to Lynn County Hospital for treatment of minor injuries and later released.

Police investigated a minor accident on Tuesday in the 2100 block of North 3rd that involved a 1985 Nissan pickup driven by Joe Honeycut of Lubbock and a parked 1982 Oldsmobile belonging to Charlotte Mullanax of Tahoka. No injuries were reported.

Police Chief Gary Morrison urged all drivers to be especially careful this weekend due to increased traffic as Harvest Festival activities unfold and to watch for pedestrians.

In jail during the week were two persons for revocation of probation, two for traffic offenses, one for burglary of a habitation and one for driving while intoxicated and no drivers license.

'Tahoko' Mural Depicts Scene Of Area History

The importance of Tahoka Lake as a campsite for Comanche Indians about 136 years ago is depicted in the recently-finished mural 'Tahoko' by respected Tahoka artist Bill Craig, whose oil painting in the southeast corner of the new portion of Pioneer Museum will be unveiled and officially dedicated Sept. 20 in conjunction with the Harvest Festival.

The oil painting on plaster is 8 feet high and 23 feet 6 inches wide, going approximately 12 feet along each wall from the corner. It took Craig 300 hours to complete the work. It is his first mural, although he is well-known as a painter and sculptor of western art in the Southwest region.

'Tahoko', which is the title of the painting, is a derivative of a Comanche word generally believed to mean "fresh water", and although the water at the lake now is alkaline most of the time, the lake and its fresh water springs have a long history of being an important campsite supplying good water in a mostly arid region.

Craig did considerable research on the history of the lake and after photographing the terrain, did the painting showing his conception of what would have been going on at the site around 1850. There are Indians, horses, other animals and wildlife shown in the mural. "The terrain today is just about like it would have been in 1850," Craig said, "except it would have been clear where it now is grown up in mesquites."

David Murrh, director of the Southwest Collections at Texas Tech, provided a chronological outline of Tahoka Lake over the years, calling the lake an "important campsite for Indians, buffalo hunters, the U.S. Army, sheepherders and ranchers."

Murrh's outline was as follows, keeping in mind that the new mural comes under section "D", and that Craig has more information about that era, much of which he incorporated into the painting:

- Paleo-Indian cultures, including Folsom and Clovis, 10,000 - 5,000 BC - these were hunters of big game animals, including mammoths and giant bison which roamed this area;
- Archaic cultures, 5000 BC - 1500 AD - hunters of modern plains animals, bison, deer, antelope, and practiced some farming.
- Apaches, 1500 - 1750 - depended entirely on the buffalo, and obtained horses which greatly increased their mobility;
- Comanches, 1750 - 1874 - drove the Apaches from the plains. Always mounted while on the plains, the Comanches were warlike and loved the isolation the plains offered;
- Ciboleros, 1700-1850 - these were New Mexican buffalo hunters who frequently visited the plains to hunt. They used mule-drawn carts and made roads across the plains.

F. Comancheros, 1800-1870 - these were New Mexican traders who traded goods with the Comanche, primarily in exchange for hides or stolen cattle;

G. Comanche War Trail - Tahoka Lake was on the route Indians and Comancheros used to pass across the South Plains;

H. New Mexican Sheepherders, 1860s - 1880 - these people drove herds out of New Mexico to the plains during the summer and fall and were here when the Texas cattlemen began to push into the region;

I. U.S. Army - first penetrated the region in 1871 and completed explorations by Ranald Mackenzie and William R. Shater in 1874 and 1875. Mackenzie camped at Tahoka Lake on Nov. 4, 1874 and on Dec. 4, 1874. In July 1877, a unit of the 10 Cavalry under Nicholas Nolan camped at Double Lakes, and then chased Indians into New Mexico, only to become lost and spend 86 hours on the South Plains without water. This was the famous "Lost Nigger Expedition," so named because all of the soldiers except Nolan were black.

J. Ranchers, 1880 - 1905 - Ranchers first moved to Lynn County in 1880. Tahoka Lake was used for many years as

Mustangs Lose To Rugged Sudan

The Wilson Mustangs gave favored Sudan a rough battle last Friday night, outgaining the Hornets, but unable to halt the big running plays which led to a 27-11 Sudan win. The result left Wilson at 1-1 for the year. This week Coach Gary Lewis will take his team, large in size but small in numbers, a few miles down FM 400 to play Tahoka which is winless in two starts, losing last week to Hale Center 26-20. Wilson scored first last Friday, going up 3-0 on Justin Bednarz' 30-yard field goal in the first quarter. But Sudan scored just before the end of the period as Ronald Williams went 30 yards with an intercepted pass. Sudan's Brent Kirkland scored from the 2 late in the half to give the Hornets a 14-3 lead. Anthony Williams ran 61 yards to score in the third period, and Wilson was behind 20-3 going into the last quarter. QB Greg Spears passed 9 yards to Jeffrey Bednarz for a TD in the fourth and Justin Bednarz ran for two more points. Before that, however, Sudan's David Wood scored on a 59-yard run. The Mustangs mounted a good drive near the end of the game, featuring a 32-yard pass from Spears to Wes Earwood, but were unable to score. Statistics for the game, compiled by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, were as follows:

WATCH

UP FOR POWER LINES

Out on the job, power lines bring needed electricity to the site. But they can be dangerous... if you don't watch up! You need to be especially careful when you are handling re-bar, pipes, scaffolding, or tools that are long enough to contact overhead lines. Contact with power lines is also a potential danger to operators of front-end loaders, dump trucks and any other equipment of unusual height.

Keep an eye up for power lines. Watch up, for safety's sake.

Devotional
By Rev. Hazel House

SCRIPTURE:
St. Luke 16:19-31

Verse 31: "If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded though one rose from the dead."

There is no doubt about it: some people are hard to convince. The rich man who had died was suffering torment in hell. And he remembered his five brothers who were as indifferent and insensitive to the truth of God as he had always been. So he pleads with Father Abraham to send Lazarus to bring cool water to relieve him in his torment and then he asked that Lazarus be sent to warn his brothers. But Father Abraham said that they have already been warned, and that "they have Moses and the Prophets." But the rich man knew that in his family, religion was not a matter of great consequence. So he said, "No, Father Abraham; but if someone comes from the dead, they will repent." Now Father Abraham knew better, for he said, "If they do not hear Moses and the Prophets, neither will they be convinced if someone rose from the dead."

Some persons are hard to convince. Warning signs can be flashing in every direction and some be completely oblivious. So what is there in us that causes us to close our minds and our hearts to life's warning signs? And do we listen when we are warned?

Some 200 years ago, Paul Revere sat on his horse in the darkness on the outskirts of Boston and watched for a signal agreed upon from the old north church tower. The signals were set up like this: "One if by land, two by sea, And I on the opposite shore will be Ready to ride and spread the alarm Through every Middlesex, village and farm..."

There are some warning signs concerning our spiritual lives that I want to share with you. How long has it been since you offered a helping hand to someone? Remember the Lord says that as often as you have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, you have done it unto Me."

We never know how God may take some word, some action, something we do and make a whole chain of blessings because we had acted.

Once a Christian woman read in the newspaper about a car driven by a lady which crashed into a house, and a baby inside was killed. Grieving over the parents' loss of their baby, the Christian also wondered about the condition of the driver of the car, and after ignoring the impulse for some time, the Christian finally wrote sympathetically telling the driver that God also cared about her in her tragedy. Then the forlorn driver called the letter writer. They met, and out of this encounter, the guilty one found Christ and the love enveloping her helped her to bring her family to Jesus the Saviour. Then she was imprisoned for involuntary manslaughter, but she went on to tell others that Jesus cared about them, even where they were. She told others about Jesus' power to save us from our sin because of His great love for all of us, and if we will believe His promises. "For the Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost."

a watering place for trail herds moving south to north. C.C. Slaughter used it frequently in 1886 when he sold 10,000 head of cattle to the XIT Ranch and drove these cattle from his ranch near Big Spring north to the XIT. Once his herd stampeded into the dry lake bed, sending up a cloud of alkaline dust which nearly cost Slaughter his eyesight. In 1898, C.C. Slaughter acquired the Tahoka Lake Ranch and operated it until he lost his leases in 1902. The Tahoka Lake Ranch was the target of farmer J.E. Ketner's suit against Slaughter and the Texas Land Commissioner which resulted in the loss of the ranchers' ability to continue leasing public lands. The Ketner suit caused the state to allow filing for title on public school land and directly contributed to the breaking up of the big ranch empires on the South Plains.

From other sources, Craig gathered more information about the lake site. He noted that the City of Tahoka was organized near the location in 1903, and that the alkaline lake is four miles northeast of town and a mile east of FM 400. The scene shown in the mural is looking to the east on the right and to the north on the left, showing an area approximately a half mile wide and three miles long. The lake is filled with runoff water and has several small springs along the west side which still are good drinking water.

The property shown in the painting is mostly now owned by Meldon Leslie and Auda Norman of Tahoka.

"Many kinds of wildlife lived in the draws, gulleys and on the plateaus surrounding the lake," Craig said. The lake water is not good for drinking, so wild life including antelope and hundreds of buffalo drank from the springs along the lake. The buffalo provided the main means of survival for the Indians, who ate the meat and used the skins for clothing and shelter.

Just a few hundred yards from the scene in the mural are definite remains of a large buffalo wallow. Numerous Indian artifacts have been found in the area and some are on display in the museum.

On top of the large hill to the left are several gravesites of Comanche Indians. In the 1850s the plains around the lake were knee high with grama grass the more arid parts were covered with mesquite grasses. Several species of cacti and a few juniper trees can be found, mostly along the upper rim of the lake. There were few, if any, mesquite trees during the period depicted; some think they were brought here by early white settlers.

Comanche tribes dominated the Plains region from about the 1650s to the late 1800s, commanding an area from Kansas south through the Concho Valley to the Rio Grande. These nomadic tribes moved from north to south in families and groups. Spanish explorers introduced horses to the Comanches in their exploration of Texas in the 1600s.

In 1800 the Comanche tribe was the largest of all and their braves rode the best mounts. Because of their numbers and skilled horsemanship, they were feared by the Apaches to the west, but these enemies sometimes would call temporary truces and meet and trade at the Tahoka Lake springs.

Wilson, Tahoka Residents May Take Classes Via Sattelite

LUBBOCK--Education history will be made this fall as university courses are broadcast to students across the state. Texas Tech University and the University of Houston-Clear Lake will teach courses via satellite as part of a pilot project with the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, to determine the feasibility of offering college-level courses through interactive satellite transmissions. Michael Mezack, director of Continuing Education at Texas Tech said that through the Texas Interactive Instructional Network (TI-IN) the two graduate education courses will be taught to students at 100 receiving sites, including Wilson schools and Tahoka schools. "Satellite education has been introduced to high school students, but the concept has not been tried for post-secondary education," Mezack said. "We need to study all the possibilities of making higher education accessible to more people and TI-IN could be a very cost-effective way to do that." Shamus Mehaffie, associate dean of the College of Education at Texas Tech, said teachers can take the courses to earn continuing education credit and to meet career ladder requirements he said. Students can enroll for the course at any of 19 participating universities and then attend the class at one of the 100 receiving sites, most located in local schools. The courses, which will consist of live as well as taped material, will be transmitted from TI-IN headquarters in San Antonio. Class members will be able to see instructors and can ask questions and participate in discussion by telephone. Courses to be offered include "Models of Teaching," taught by a Texas Tech University College of Education team. "Models of Teaching" will meet from 5:30 to 8:45 p.m. Thursdays from Sept. 18, the last day for registration in the course, through Dec. 18. The teaching team includes Mehaffie and education Professors Marvin Platten, Gerald Skoog, Alice Denham and Duane Christian. Texas Tech's course number for the class is EDSE 5335. Dr. Platten, head of the instruction, said the course will cover the four major strategies of teaching, including the information-processing, personal, social and behavioral systems models.

"So often we see that teachers use only one teaching strategy, no matter what the educational goal," Platten said. "But if teaching creativity is the goal, then the way of teaching will probably be very different than if the goal is mastery learning." Individuals interested in the courses can get more information from the Division of Continuing Education at Texas Tech or from registrars' offices at participating universities. Although the deadlines for registering for the classes are actually the first night of the class, students are encouraged to register early.

Philip Furlow To Sing In Washington, D.C.

Philip Mack Furlow, a 1986 graduate of O'Donnell High School, a Reagan Scholar at Eureka College in Eureka, Ill., will perform on Sept. 22 with the college choir "The Madrigals" in Washington, D.S. "The Madrigals" will sing at a fund-raising dinner at the Willard Hotel with President Reagan in attendance.

Philip J. Palin, director of the Scholarship Program, also chose Philip as one of the six scholars who were invited to attend the dinner.

1976 THS Class Plans Reunion

The 1976 graduating class of Tahoka High School will have a reunion immediately following the homecoming football game Friday, Sept. 19, at Clifton Clark's barn, located three miles north of Tahoka on the east side of the Lubbock highway. Any graduate not contacted should call Charlise Tekell, 998-5336, for more information.

PUBLIC NOTICE
BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 4, 1986

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 15 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among the counties in which the property of the railroad is located for purposes of property taxation, and would delete the requirement that the Comptroller participate in making the allocation. To comply with both statutory and constitutional law, the apportionment currently is being made by the State Property Tax Board in conjunction with the Comptroller. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among counties for purposes of property taxation."
PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 33 proposes a constitutional amendment that would replace the constitutional requirement that the subject of a bill be expressed in its title with a mandate that each house of the legislature adopt rules of procedure that would require the subject of each bill to be expressed in its title in a manner that gives the legislature and the public reasonable notice of that subject. Determining compliance with the rule would be the responsibility of the legislature. Currently, a law is invalidated if a court finds its caption is defective. The amendment would provide that past and future enactments may not be held void on the basis of an insufficient title. The amendment also would eliminate the suggestion that the state's laws be revised every ten years, and instead would provide for continuing revision of state laws. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment requiring each house to include in its rules of procedure a rule that each bill contain a title expressing the bill's subject, and providing for the continuing revision of state laws."
PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT
House Joint Resolution 78 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the Legislature to authorize any county, city, town, or other political subdivision to use public funds or credit to pay insurance premiums on nonassessable life, health, or accident policies. Due to the prohibition in the constitution against the lending of credit and granting of public money, political subdivisions currently are prohibited from becoming shareholders in associations such as mutual-insurance companies, in which policyholders are shareholders. A nonassessable mutual insurance policy does not allow a company to raise capital by assessing the policyholder an extra amount on a premium. This amendment will allow mutual insurance companies and stock companies to bid for life and health group policies of political subdivisions. Public liability will be limited to the payment of premiums specified in the contract. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing political subdivisions the opportunity to engage in and transact business with authorized mutual insurance companies in the same manner as with other insurance companies."
PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT
Senate Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment that would repeal the prohibition against branch banking by state banks and would allow state banks and national banks domiciled in this state to establish and operate banking facilities at locations within the county or city where they are domiciled. The amendment would also authorize the Legislature to permit a state bank or a national bank domiciled in this state to engage in business at more than one place if it acquires a failed state bank or national bank domiciled in this state. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:
"The constitutional amendment to provide that a bank may offer full service banking at more than one location within the city or county where its principal facility is located, subject to limitations and restrictions provided by law."
Estos son los informes explicatorios sobre las enmiendas propuestas a la constitución que aparecerán en la boleta el día 4 de noviembre de 1986. LOTS OF COTTON—This cotton stalk grown on property of Watson Spears near Tahoka Lake and farmed by Bill Taylor had 53 bolls on it. The other stalks in that field also appear to be unusually productive, according to Spears, who is holding the stalk here. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

OUT OF THE WOODS

By Juanell (Wood) Jones

THIS WEEK I start something I've never done before. I'm going to give piano lessons a couple of days a week, and I'm really excited about it.

I took lessons for several years as a child, and for the most part I enjoyed my musical education. I did not, however, enjoy the recitals we were forced to endure periodically. Believe it or not, I was a very shy and cowardly child, and the very idea of actually playing the piano in someone's presence (other than Mom and Dad) gave me the shivers for weeks before the actual event.

All of my pleas to forego these twice-a-year tortures fell on the deaf ears of my teacher and parents. Dad used to jokingly tell me that I could "wear a paper sack and cut out holes for my eyes" and that way nobody would know who I was. He never realized I would have done exactly that if I had been allowed.

I remember one particular recital, I must have been about 12 years old, that I still can recall how totally and emphatically embarrassed I was. I had practiced my recital piece faithfully every day (well, almost every day) until I was sure I had it memorized. What I hadn't counted on, however, was how panic can wipe your mental abilities blank. When I sat down on the piano bench and began my piece, I kept saying to myself, "Don't forget... don't forget." Well, sure enough, about halfway through, I forgot how the dumb piece ended.

I glanced around, saw my teacher nodding at me to finish, and the agonized expressions on my parents' faces, all wishing they could help me. But, no matter how hard I tried, it was over for me -- I just couldn't recall it. My face burning, I burst into tears

Scholarships At UTA Available

Applicants must be in the top five percent of their class and demonstrate leadership ability in the classroom and/or extracurricular activities. Applications for the Texas Excellence Awards will be available from high school counselors by mid-September with a Nov. 1 application deadline.

WHAT ABOUT 'SELL BY' DATES ON EGGS?—While "sell by" or expiration dates are not required on egg cartons, they do tell the consumer something about the freshness of the product. Most companies use a two-week or three-week period (from pack date to expiration date) for Grade AA eggs and three to four weeks for Grade A eggs, notes a poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Use of some kind of dating system on eggs or egg cartons enables store personnel to keep a better check on their stock and rotate eggs so that some don't get left behind. However, just because eggs have passed their "sell by" date doesn't mean they are bad.

WOODWORK

BY DALTON

THERE HAVE been some stories lately about how many criminals are being released from jails and prison in Texas early because they have no place to put the next bunch of criminals. And it emphasized how many more crimes are being committed by people who are let out of jail months and years before they ought to be.

And folks are saying everywhere that we need to have more prisons, so these burglars, murderers, rapists and thieves will be in jail instead of turned loose to do those things again.

And all these people who are saying that we need more prisons would like for those new prisons to be about 500 miles down the road from wherever they live.

Prisons are sort of like nuclear waste dumps. Everybody knows we have to have them, but nobody wants one in his backyard.

HERE ARE A COUPLE of sports multiple choice questions for you English majors and sports types:

Who said the following: "It ain't over 'til it's over."
 (A) Jesse Jackson (b) Casey Stengel (c) David McWilliams.
 "It ain't bragging if you done it."
 (A) Tony Dorsett (b) Cassius Clay (c) Dizzy Dean.

WHEN SOMEONE comes waltzing into the office with a handwritten piece of poetry, we don't use it, even if it is unusually good, because this allows us to say honestly that we never print locally-written poetry, thus saving us from having to tell some of them how bad their poems are. For example, a woman came in once with a poem about her dog, which had died, and how much she missed him since he went to that big boneyard in the sky. And another person came in with a bad poem about a preacher who had retired after empty-six years at the same church.

However, we sometimes print something which already has been published somewhere, and here is a good one on taxes, which has been around for a long time, author unknown, and which was sent to us by the Flat Earth...er, Flat Tax committee. It is entitled "Death and Taxes."

Tax his cow, tax his goat,
 Tax his pants, tax his coat.
 Tax his crops, tax his work,
 Tax his tie, tax his shirt.
 Tax his chew, tax his smoke;
 Teach him taxes are no joke.
 Tax his tractor, tax his mule,
 Teach him taxes are a rule,
 Tax his oil, tax his gas,
 Tax his notes, tax his cash;

Tax him good and let him know—
 After taxes he has no dough.
 If he hollers, tax him more;
 Tax him 'til he's good and sore.
 Tax his coffin, tax his grave,
 Tax the sod in which he lays.
 Put these words upon his tomb:
 "Taxes drove me to my doom."
 And after he's gone he can't relax;
 They'll still be after Inheritance Tax!

VOLUNTEER WHEAT CAN HURT NEW CROP—Farmers should plow up volunteer wheat in summer fallowed fields before planting their new crop, advises an agronomist. Volunteer wheat hosts a growing number of insects and disease-causing organisms that reduce grain yields and frequently require one or more applications of expensive fungicides or insecticides. Such problems can be avoided or reduced by one or two light tillage operations or the use of an effective herbicide. Problems aggravated by volunteer wheat overwintering are rust disease, brown wheat mites, wheat curl mites, wheat streak mosaic virus and Russian wheat aphids.

Broom Snakeweed Control Stressed

Late summer and fall soil moisture is essential for controlling broom snakeweed in range and pastures. In the Lynn County area, fall application of an approved herbicide should give excellent weed control. The next 30 days is the optimum time to apply herbicide for best control.

For more information contact the Soil Conservation Service in Tahoka, 998-4622.

Deadline For Crop Insurance Nears

Oct. 31 ends the 1986 year insurance period for barley and wheat grown in Lynn County and insured by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC), according to Ross Smith, a representative for the FCIC.

"Under the terms of the policy, any acreage on which harvest will not be completed must be left intact until an inspection is made. Any claim for indemnity may be rejected if these loss reporting requirements are not met," Smith stated.

FARM SAFETY WEEK is proclaimed by County Judge J.F. Brandon. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

Farm Safety Week Proclaimed In County

County Judge J.F. Brandon has proclaimed Sept. 21-27, 1986, as Farm and Ranch Safety Week in Lynn County, at the request of Leland White, Lynn County Farm Bureau president. This is the 43rd annual observance of National Farm Safety Week, co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the Department of Agriculture. "Be Protected From The Unexpected", the 1986 theme for the farm safety campaign, stresses the need for preventive safety measures. "People who operate and work on farms and ranches suffer more than their share of personal and economic loss from accidents and work-related illnesses," White said. "Much of this loss could be avoided if people would not only work, play and drive safely, but also take the extra steps to protect themselves ahead of time from potential hazards. In other words, they should adopt the Scout motto: "Be Prepared."

In the proclamation, Judge Brandon said, "Accident prevention is often a matter of common sense and troubleshooting. Many lives and millions of dollars could be saved each year if more agricultural producers would take time to protect themselves, their families and their employees from the unexpected." Sponsors urged families to take these precautions:

When driving or riding in a car or pickup truck, always wear your safety belt.

Equip tractors (that can be fitted) with certified roll-over protection - cab or frame.

Keep all machinery guards in place.

When the hazards of the job site dictate it, use the appropriate personal protective equipment (hard hat, safety eyewear, respirator, safety shoes, etc.).

Take good care of your equipment and motor vehicles to reduce chance of failure or breakdown, and perhaps an accident.

Be alert and prepared to act appropriately to unforeseen or sudden changes in the situation or conditions on the job or the roadway.

Train new and/or inexperienced workers.

Buy quality products and take proper care of them. Read and heed instructions in operator's manuals, on labels and containers.

Tahoka 4-H To Assist CF Fund

Tahoka 4-H has been appointed by the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's Lone Star Chapter to lead the 1986 Cystic Fibrosis Penny Mile.

As chairperson of the event, Tamara Overcast, County Extension Agent, will lead the 4-H Club, whose goal is to raise money to fight Cystic Fibrosis. The Penny Mile will be held Saturday, Sept. 20, at the 4-H Harvest Festival Booth.

A Cystic Fibrosis Penny Mile is a fundraising event in which the participants try to raise enough pennies to equal one mile of pennies laid side by side. Although donations of any size are solicited, all calculations are based on 16 pennies per foot with 5,280 feet in a mile, which means that a mile of pennies will raise $844.80 for Cystic Fibrosis research and programs.

For more information on the Penny Mile, call Tamara Overcast, 998-4650.
