Lower Rates Ahead For SPS Customers

Customers in Texas cities served by Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) soon should receive their second electric-rate decrease of the year. Also, SPS's rural customers should have their rates lowered to match rates within city limits, SPS announced this week.

The decreases in effect and proposed total $20.6 million, or 4.3%, and reflect lower SPS expenses resulting primarily from federal tax reform, said Sam Hunter, SPS vice president of rates and economic research.

The proposed decreases were agreed to Friday, July 8, by SPS, the staff of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUCT), the state's Office of Public Utility Counsel, the Texas Industrial Energy Consumers and the U.S. Dept. of Energy.

Details of the agreement are being worked out, and once approved, the reduction would be considered effective as of July 8, Hunter said. Approval from city and state regulators is expected within 35 to 60 days. A customer's first bill on which the reduction is calculated would include a credit recognizing the effect of the lower rate since July 8.

"This timing allows our customers to, in effect, receive lower rates even before the regulatory process is complete," Hunter said. "We worked out this arrangement in order to extend lower rates to all of our customers as soon as possible."

Because of an earlier agreement between SPS and the Texas cities it serves, customers within city limits received a 3.1% decrease effective March 28. Upon approval from the cities, these customers will receive an additional 1.2% decrease, Hunter said, to match the rural reduction of 4.3%.

In Texas, cities have original jurisdiction over rates within their city limits. The PUCT regulates rates in rural areas. SPS will file with the PUCT for approval of the rural rate decrease and with 74 Texas cities it serves for approval of the rate decrease within city limits.

The percentage of rate decrease varies slightly among types of electric customers. Residential customers will receive a net 5.2% decrease compared to rates in effect at the first of the year.

A monthly electric bill for a rural residential customer using 1,000 kilowatt hours would drop $4.09, from $73.51 to $69.42. The bill for a customer within the city limits using 1,000 kilowatt hours dropped $3 on March 28 and should decline another $1.09, resulting in a bill of $69.42.

County Okays New Contract On Juveniles

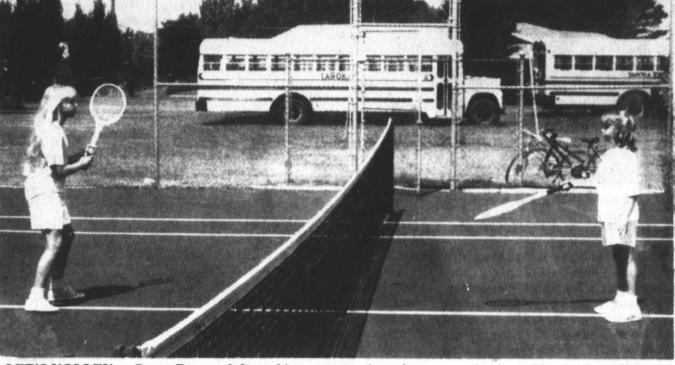

Lynn County commissioners Monday approved a new contract with the Lubbock Youth Center to house juveniles from Lynn County who must be confined. The court also approved payment to the Youth Center of $1,518 for 92 days.

Adult probation officer Jerri Akard appeared in regard to her program, and commissioners were authorized to appoint election judges and alternates for the November general election.

All commissioners were present, plus Bobby Cox, commissioner-elect for Precinct 3.

Judge J.F. Brandon presided for part of the meeting, and Commissioner Bart Anderson presided for a portion of the time when the judge was attending a

THERE IS A secret society to which all males belong. There must be. Why else would they sometimes act like the dummies we wives know they couldn't possibly be? Let me give you an example.

of Ave. P.

Just last night, I asked my husband to follow me when I led him into the bathroom, where I explained, I was going to show him something amazing. He came willingly, but when I pointed to the toilet roll dispenser (empty) and the toilet paper (sitting on top) and tried to explain how to operate the re-loading device, he immediately rolled his eyes to the ceiling, clutched his newspaper, and hurriedly back-peddled into the hallway. He must have remembered his secret pact (in his secret society) whereby it is a sin punishable by death to re-load the toilet tissue device. This is known as the "Tissue Amendment to the Rules of Conduct for Married Men."

The first commandment in this secret society reads: "Trash" is not considered quality dumpster material until there are at least three bags full sprawled in the corner of the kitchen, emitting foul odors at consistent frequencies." My husband religiously upholds this rule, and in fact has commented that I can load the toilet tissue manufacture trash faster than anybody he ever saw. He groaned when he said it, but I know he was proud.

I know there are many more commandments and rules of conduct, but they are so secret that the only other one I'm really sure about is the "Bathroom Law" which specifically states the time required to stay behind closed doors is 43-minutes or the time it takes to read Sports IIlustrated, whichever takes longer.

It is also permitted to take a newspaper in, as long as one reads the sports section, Ann Landers and the comics before leaving. For men who are really champions at staying in the bathroom for lengthy periods, it may be advisable to pack a lunch. And the Lysol

I suspect some of the other laws in the society contain the penalties a man can suffer when seen wielding a dust cloth, operating a vacuum cleaner, wearing pink socks, making a bed, and watching a ballet.

"I'm not sure at what age the typical American male is introduced to this society, but I've been watching my husband and 6-year-old son closely. Any day now I expect to see him solemnly grasp our son's hand, gently lead into the bathroom (man's domain) and induct him into the society with a lesson on how not to dispenser. This will be followed with a timed test on staying in the bathroom with his Sesame Street books

Spray Rig Stolen; Four Sentenced To Prison

Theft of a spray rig off a trac- Tahoka man on Friday for tertor and sentencing of four persons who pleaded guilty before District Judge George Hansard in Tahoka headed the list of law enforcement activities during the last week.

J.T. Miller of Tahoka reported a 2-gallon pressure tank and accessories stolen off a tractor Tuesday night, a quarter of a mile north of Tahoka near a county dirt road which is an extension of Ave. P. Crime Line, 998-5145, has offered a $300 reward in the case.

Pleading guilty before Judge Hansard were the following:

Omene Montano Jr., 29, of O'Donnell, revocation of probation for burglary of the Ince Oil Co. convenience store in O'Donnell in 1983. He received a 7-year prison sentence.

Sylvester Rudolph Jones, 42, of Lubbock, four years in prison for theft of aluminum pipe from Johnny Armes on April 2.

Charles Landis Parker, 24, of Amarillo, five years in prison after pleading guilty of burglary of Haney Gin in Tahoka on Feb.

Scott Hargrove, 23, of Amarillo, 15 years in prison after admitting his part in a holdup of Allsup's in O'Donnell last Sept.

Terry Lynn Garvin reported to police that someone had damaged his 1982 Chevrolet pickup while parked in the 2000 block of Ave. L on Wednesday, July 6 between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. The driver's side door was reported

Love -- Dad, Mom and Kids

It may not seem buying a product in a retail outlet is done with personalized service. That's what it is in our community and you can understand it best at certain times and places.

Put in an order at a good restaurant and the waitress does her best to find how one prefers the food and then tells the cook to prepare it just the way each individual wants it.

Talk to a knowledgeable automotive salesman and serviceman and they will try to find out exactly what you have in mind and then try to match the request.

When you cash a check at a bank, the teller asks about the denominations you want and counts out the cash accordingly.

Accommodation is the name of business in commercial establishments. Pleasing customers individually makes clerks and managers happy as well as helping bring back patrons. It is usually done with personalized service.

A store not interested in doing business this way doesn't last too long. Sincere attentionn to what a customer needs and wants in our community is strong in that we're dealing with friends and neighbors and want to please them.

Volunteering to give personalized service takes little extra time and it is to be commended by those doing it.

MUSEUM NEWS

Meldon Leslie, President, presided over a meeting of the Tahoka Pioneer Museum Board of Directors at noon on July 11, Carl Reynolds, new board member, was welcomed.

The guest register at the museum indicated that at least 22 Old Settlers registered on June 25 Directors in attendance at the museum reported that quite a few did not register, so the actual Old Settlers and families visiting the museum was more than the registered 22.

Winston Wharton reported that there are still a few minor leaks in the roof of the Frank Hill Memorial Hall, and his committee will contact the roofer and insist that the roof be leak-proof. Bill Craig replaced many of the water damaged tiles on the ceiling and the last rain produced more damage in at least two places.

Dr. Durham reported that Belton Howell had two display cases that the museum could have if they could be picked up. Dr. Durham, Meldon Leslie and Melvin Burks will pool efforts and get these items. Dr. Durham offered to give the museum board an electric typewriter that he no longer uses, and Lottie Jo Walker and Mildred Abbe will visit the Durhams and decide whether the typewriter will be usable for the work necessary in processing ar-

Local FFA'ers To Attend State FFA Convention

Five thousand Texas FFA members and guests are expected to attend the 60th Annual Convention of the Texas Assn. of Future Farmers of America, July 13-15, at the San Antonio Convention Center Center. Attending from the Tahoka FFA chapter are Jody Woodard, Bebo Willis, Kris Belew and Cody Bailey, and Chapter Advisor Denny Belew.

The FFA is composed of students who are studying agricultural sciences in the public school in preparation for a variety of careers in agriculture and agribusiness. FFA's theme this year is "FFA - Agriculture's New Spirit." The ultimate object is to produce future leaders for American agriculture with its vital role of producing food and fiber. Texas now has more than 900 FFA chapters with over 53,000 active members and more than 500,000 former members.

During the convention, over 2,000 award winners will be recognized with more than 1,500 members receiving the Lone Star Farmer Degree, the highest level of recognition by the state association. Educational scholarships totaling more than $525,000 will be presented to many of the members in attendance.

Walter York, Executive Secretary, reports that deserving adults who have supported the FFA' and its activities will be recognized by the presentation of Honorary State Farmer Degrees, Distinguished Service Award, VIP Awards, and the Blue and Gold Award.
