Expanded First National Bank's On View Sunday

Muleshoe's First National Bank Sunday at 2 p.m., celebrates its fifth anniversary and completion of a $50,000 expansion and remodeling program.

The bank has expanded its floor space by 60 per cent. "This will enable us," M. D. Gunstream, president, says, "to offer even more effective and complete banking service to our customers."

Added to the bank's building at the corner of First and Avenue C is a new office for the president, officers quarters, and a directors' and community meeting room.

The former director's room has been converted to a coffee room, with a lounge adjoining. "This is provided," Gunstream says, "for any of our customers that may want to take a moment off to relax and chat with friends."

Remodeling has changed the original portion of the building. A teller's window has been added, to make five windows now. The bookkeeping departments, teller's windows and lobby, too, have been completely redecorated.

Space in the safe deposit and vault area has been increased. Additional parking, background music, and a very attractive new sign are other features of the bank's renovation.

Walnut panelling has been used for the walls of the newer part of the bank. A vinyl floor has been put down in the lobby and vault-safety deposit areas.

New drapes were hung during the week, adding the finishing touch to the refurbished First National building.

Eight among the registered visitors to the bank Sunday will receive $40 gift certificates which will be honored by any Muleshoe business. This eight will be named Monday.

Some 900 acres in the county are reported in tomatoes.

Meanwhile, Bailey sorghum remains in its healthy condition.

Cotton seems to be doing well with the critical period for trips damage having passed.

The A&M College Extension Service reports no thrip problems being reported the past week. With the appearance of blooms in the cotton fields, thrips begin feeding on the pollen where no evident damage occurs to the cotton yield.

Some blooms were reported in this county as early as July 2 on the early-planted cotton that survived from April and May. The June-planted cotton will likely bloom in another week or so.

Fleahoppers, however, have taken up in Texas where the thrips left off. Heavy infestations are reported in Swisher, Midland, Childress, Lubbock, Terry, Collinsworth, Wheeler, Howard, Dickens, and Crosby Counties.

The heavy rains this year have produced an unusual condition. Little difference exists in the state's dryland.

Three Muleshoe FFA Boys Given Farmer Degrees

Honors Received At Houston Convention

Ronald Julian, Maurice Jones and William Howard, members of the Muleshoe FFA Chapter, were awarded the coveted Lone Star Farmer Degree at the Texas State FFA Convention in Houston July 20-22, attended by over 4,000 FFA members and teachers.

The boys' trip to the convention was made possible thru the assistance of the Bailey County REA and Southwestern Public Service Company. The trio was accompanied to Houston by Bill Bickel, vocational agriculture teacher.

Approximately 720 Texas FFA members received the Lone Star Farmer Degree at the convention. There are over 36,000 FFA members in the 900 local FFA Chapters in Texas.

Only two per cent of the total state membership may receive the degree. Those awarded the degree must meet certain requirements which include, among others:

(1) Must be an active member of the FFA and have a record of satisfactory participation in the local chapter;

(2) Must have completed all of the Voc. Ag. courses offered in the school which he is attending;

(3) Be able to lead a group discussion for forty minutes;

(4) Must have earned by his own efforts from farming or other agricultural work and deposited in the bank or otherwise productively invested at least $500; and

(5) Must have participated in an outstanding way in activities for community improvement and the development of agriculture.

Ronald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Julian of Route 3, Muleshoe. He has built his farming program around livestock projects which include hogs, sheep, and beef cattle.

He has served on several chapter committees and also has served the local chapter as sentinel during his junior year in high school.

He will be a senior the next school term and will serve the local FFA Chapter as their president.

Maurice is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Jones of Pleasant Valley. His farming program includes hogs and milo.

He has been an active member of the Muleshoe FFA chapter for the past four years.

He is a 1960 graduate of Muleshoe High School and plans to enter Texas Tech this fall to major in Agricultural Education, which will prepare him in becoming a vocational agriculture teacher.

William, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Howard of Needmore, has been an outstanding vocational agriculture student and FFA member for the past three years. His excellent farming program was instrumental in his being selected as the Star Chapter Farmer of the Muleshoe FFA Chapter and also Star Farmer of the Littlefield FFA District.

Howard's farming program has included beef cattle and cotton. He has served on numerous chapter committees and participated in leadership and judging contests. He was a member of the 1960 Muleshoe FFA Dairy Cattle Judging team which placed sixth at the State FFA contest.

Howard has been elected to serve as treasurer of the local chapter this next year. It is the opinion of FFA Advisors, Jerry Adams and Bill Bickel, that Howard has an excellent opportunity of being awarded the American Farmer Degree, highest degree awarded by the FFA. Only a tenth of one per cent of the national FFA membership at present, 386,000 members, may be awarded this degree.

MRS. BOB OWENS WITH DANNY AND DONNY ... or is it Donny and Donny?

AND THEY'RE ALL BOYS

Danny, Donny Join Other Owen Twins

When twins were born to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Owen of Progress earlier this month, the parents weren't quite so surprised or excited as you might expect them to be.

Excited of course, but not as much as usual. You see, Danny and Donny Owen are the third set of twins born in the A. H. Owen family in recent years. And all have been boys.

So accustomed to multiple births is grandfather A. H. Owen that, when he learned in advance of the coming twins, he simply promised the parents $40 if the children were girls; but only $20 for boys.

Something new in the family would be a set of twin girls. The older Mr. Owen was the father of twin boys — Corie and Arie, born June 18, 1923.

In turn, then, Arie and his wife had another set of boys June 3, 1950—named Dale and Gale.

Danny and Donny were doing very nicely this week when visited by The Journal.

Danny, 4 pounds and 8 ounces at birth, has gained a couple of ounces since then. Donny, who was 4 and 9, has gained 5 ounces.

They have an older brother, Jo Bob, who is 2½ years old. Danny and Donny were born July 8 in the Muleshoe Hospital under the care of Dr. G. H. Chambers.

Jodie Kay, the latest twin boys' mother, seemed to be keeping up with them with ease.

All the twins but one will be visiting the newest pair this weekend to compare similarities, weight progress, and so on.

Jodie Kay says she can tell the difference between her twin boys, but to an inexperienced eye, the boys appear alike in most every respect.

The twins are only the third born in Bailey County this year, and are the first born to county residents in 1960. Families from Hale Center and from Littlefield have had twins born here earlier.

Little Rain Is Seen In Next Month Or So

by Vern Foltz

Lemonade and iced tea sip-in proved to be in order the past week. Sunny skies and warm days were marred only briefly Sunday evening as windy thunderclouds skimmed across Bailey County depositing a meager .05 of an inch of precipitation.

Sunshine mingled with soft breezes to produce warm crop growing temperatures. This is the type weather required for growing North America's native grain — maize.

The old adage states it poetically, "the nights are so still you can hear the corn growing."

It should be noted that corn grows best where nights remain hot as well as the daytime.

Temperatures for the period just passed are given here as recorded by R. J. Klump, Muleshoe's weather observer.

Monday we swing into August. Briefly let's review the climatic history of Augusts gone by.

With respect to temperatures the average minimum for August is 61 degrees. The average low temperature for early August being of degrees and tapers to 58 degrees for late August. The median being 61 degrees.

The average maximum is 92 degrees. It ranges from a 94 early to 90 late in the month.

The hottest temperature ever recorded for August was 110 degrees on August 3, 1944. This is also the highest ever recorded in the city of Muleshoe.

July 31 of that same year was also 110 degrees.

The really hottest August for Muleshoe was in 1943 when 20 August days reached or exceeded the 100 degree mark.

The average maximum for that month was 100.2 degrees.

The coldest ever recorded for August was a snappy 31 degrees in the wee morning hours and for a very brief period of August 29, 1940. The mercury then bounced back up to 90 degrees that same afternoon. Aside from this stray and questionable reading it has never been known to freeze in August in the U-Bar City.

With respect to precipitation we have never witnessed an August without at least a quarter of an inch of rain. The driest August on record was in 1949 with a mere .28. Most August months bear reasonable precipitation with the wettest amounting to only 6.27.

The Journal's long range weather outlook calls attention to the amounts of rainfall due for the remainder of 1960. August will be drier than June or July. It will have some fairly warm days with a half dozen readings reaching the century mark. The amount of precipitation called for is just a shade below normal. We are seeking two inches whereas normal for August is 2.19.

September will continue on the warm side with maximum readings reaching to 98 degrees. There is a chance of 100-degree readings early in September. (Continued To Page 7)

Approval of 1961 wheat acreage controls and marketing allotments was expressed last Thursday by the nation's farmers in the 39 wheat states. The vote nationally was 148,766 to 21,631; in Texas, 6,539 to 842; and in Bailey County, 13 to 1.

Two-thirds approval of American wheat farmers was necessary. The measure won 87.3 per cent passage.

The Bailey County vote was termed light by the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. Some 200 in the county were eligible to cast a ballot in the referendum.

But the day of the vote was a good, pretty day for farm work, keeping many away from the polls locally.

Wheat acreage in the county will be substantially the same next year, both across the nation and in our county. This year some 15,000 Bailey acres are planted in wheat, 5,000 of those irrigated.

The national vote expressed a greater approval than the one last year. In 1959 the '60 quotas were okayed by 80.8 per cent.

Price supports for next year have been set at $1.78 a bushel, 75 per cent of parity — the same minimum percentage as 1960.

Farm officials have estimated the supply of wheat for the 1961-62 marketing year which begins July 1 next year at 1,349,000,000 bushels and the total supply expected, 2,645,000,000.

The normal supply figure 1,349,000,000 is based on an estimated 1960 crop of 1,349,000,000 bushels. (Continued On Page 3—Section II)

RECIPE LADY OF THE WEEK

Mrs. W. Q. Casey Offers Two Cakes For You To Try In Your Kitchen

Editor's note: This is the first in a series of articles giving some favorite recipes of ladies in this area. We're proud of all our good cooks around these parts and what's more, would like to tell you a little bit about them along with the vital facts.

Besides being a wonderful cook, Mrs. W. Q. Casey also has some ideas on how to battle the elements and come out the winner. She told us that every time a sandstorm approaches she declares a holiday for herself from housework and does just what she wants to all that day. "Cleaning up doesn't do any good until it's over with so there's no use worrying about it."

Mr. and Mrs. Casey have been residents of Muleshoe for 11 years. They're originally from Haskell and both attended college in Abilene. They have a son, J. W., and a married daughter, Beverly Heathington.

Products of Mrs. Casey's hobbies, painting and ceramics, decorate her charming home, and each piece shows time and patience. The figurines of a coach and angels picture took about a month to complete.

Mrs. Casey is president of the Muleshoe Study Club, a member of the Ladies' Golf Association and also finds time for bridge.

Mr. Casey is president of the Muleshoe State Bank and a member of the Lion's Club. They're members of the Muleshoe Country Club and the Church of Christ.

We are very pleased to offer two of Mrs. Casey's recipes. She has had many requests for the white cake with little sugar, which she discovered during the war when there was a shortage of that precious item. The second, layer fruit cake, is bound to be a favorite with all those who try it.

WHITE CAKE (With Little Sugar)
3/4 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups sweet milk
3/4 cup sugar
1 1/2 cup white Karo
4 1/2 cups cake flour
6 teasp. baking powder
3/4 teasp. salt
7 egg whites

Mix as any cake. Add egg whites last. Bake in layer pans and frost with any icing. Coconut is good.

LAYER FRUIT CAKE
2 cups sugar
1 cup shortening
1 cup sweet milk
6 whole eggs
1 teasp. vanilla
3 cups flour

Muleshoe? Where's that? Now please forgive the folks where we come from, but as you know Texas is so big that people in East and West Texas think they're in two different states. And that's what people down on the coast, south of Houston, said when we told them that we were moving here.

We knew where it was. We had worn out several maps with our fingers and pencils tracing the path from West Columbia to our new home 629 miles north and west.

But as we neared our destination several weeks ago, (it seems years now), although we didn't mention it, we were wondering about Muleshoe.

What kind of place was it? Were the people nice? Friendly? Was it a progressive town? The first thing we saw was Muleshoe's skyline. No pioneers were more excited to get to their goal than we were that Thursday afternoon.

It seemed as though we had passed Sudan about 50 miles back and I kept searching the map for the wrong turn we had taken when I glanced up to see dark shadows of what looked like several skyscrapers.

"How big did you say it was?" I asked Greg.

As the shadows turned into grain elevators and the Chamber of Commerce sign assured us that this was Muleshoe, we began inspecting the town as only newcomers can. For about 10 minutes we were objective before we became part of you. We drove up and down the streets and noticed the well-kept lawns and pretty houses.

We searched out the churches and schools as we have found that these institutions reflect a great deal of a town's attitude and ambition. We were impressed beyond our hopes.

As we toured the business district we noted the town's stores, banks, the substantial looking courthouse.

SHAFERS RETURN FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shafer and son, Larry, returned Saturday from a week's trip that included stops in Dodge City and Atchinson, Kans., Kansas City, St. Louis, where they enjoyed seeing one of the world's finest zoos, the Onondaga Caves at Leasburg, Mo., the Ozark Mountains, and many other interesting sights.

And we were to quickly learn in the next few days, the people are the best part of Muleshoe.

The first thing most of you said when we met was, "It's a nice town. You'll like it." Such pride in a community is not necessarily the usual thing.

Our first letter back home said, "The people out here are different. There's no doubt about it. They're much friendlier."

And we found that the Journal reflects Muleshoe's spirit and vigor.

We're very proud to be a part of all this.

over, in case a great number to enter, only work from each entrant will be accepted.

An out-of-town judge, as yet unnamed, will evaluate the submitted works and declare first, second, and third place winners.

Each entrant will also submit this name, medium, and title of the picture. Works must be original in subject matter, that is, not an interpretation of some painting of another artist.

Further details have yet to be worked out, but will be announced as they materialize.

One official of the Muleshoe Art Association points out this to be a fine opportunity for anyone who has been considering joining the organization to do so.

Quoted from the group's by-laws, their object is "the promotion of the creative arts in the Muleshoe area by exhibitions, lectures, classes in arts and crafts; and the elevation of the level of art appreciation by educational means"—which pretty well sums it up.

In other Mall Day news, Don Peoples, weather forecaster for Amarillo's KVII-TV station, has been invited to demonstrate weather instruments for the Mall visitors and will adjust local barometers for accuracy at this altitude.

A homemaking show is also being planned. Displays of domestic arts will be featured in this, again with cash prizes for outstanding exhibits.

Mrs. Thurman White is in charge of this. She says that any civic or non-profit organization will be donated space. Included in the homemaking exhibits will be handwork, canned goods and the like, which will be offered for sale, proceeds going to the individual club.

If your club wants to enter this, call Mrs. White at 3-3700.

Commercial space is being handled by Norman Thomas Muleshoe State Bank. He reports good response so far, but many merchants haven't been contacted yet, though in time, they will be.

A beauty contest for young ladies from 4 to 8 will be conducted. Vern Foltz and Bob Cheek are handling this. They have asked Peoples of Amarillo to judge the contest. Entries for this may be made by calling Foltz at 7220, or Cheek at 3-2230.

Entrants should make arrangements to supply The Journal with a recent photo for publication. Or, if one is not available, call the office and make an appointment for one to be made.

Another feature, an Indian village of local Boy Scouts will likely spring up in one of the Main Street's intersections.

Other plans include rides for the kids on Main's adjacent side streets and a taxi service courtesy of the Ladies' Golf Association.

For this reason, the service continues, it will in most cases be economically sound to carry out any needed cotton insect control programs.

Bollworms continue to be a problem in counties south of Lubbock, but not here. Some cotton that Adams recently sent to A&M for examination of a wilting condition has been diagnosed as suffering from fusarium wilt.

Hematodes caused the condition to be extra severe wherever it struck because of the holes they caused in the plant roots, making entry of the wilt condition easier.

Adams said, however, he feels the fusarium problem to be a year.

"However," he added, "more and more we're having trouble in this county with our cotton."

"It wouldn't be a bad idea in the future for farmers to rotate the crop more and to use acid delinted seed."

Weather...

(Continued From Page 1) Late in September West Texas will begin to be buffeted again by generous rainfall. Precipitation for the month will total about three inches with most of this coming in the last half of September.

October promises to be a big producer. It will rival our fat July total which, thru July 27, is 6.08. We look for about 5 inches of rain in October which draws the month's average of 1.61.

As autumn weather encroaches upon the U-Bar City our November precipitation will constrict back to about 1.50 inches. Normal for November is only .62.

December will dry to a trickling one inch. This is still favorable to the December average of .58.

Reviewing the months outlined above we see that another 12.50 inches of precipitation is being summoned for the duration of the year 1960. Add this to the 13.63 we already have and it shows an impressive 26.13.

This also compares favorably with our normal average of 17.60.

Other hostesses were Mrs. David Wier, Mrs. Jack Lenderson, and Mrs. Ray Daniel. The coffee table was laid with a pink linen cloth and centered with a stork and baby centerpiece standing in a floating arrangement of pink phlox and greenery.

Miniature cinnamon rolls and coffee were served along with a tiered arrangement of fresh fruit, including frosted grapes, watermelon and cantaloupe balls and pineapple chunks.

Favors were miniature baby dolls standing in colored marshmallows with a ribbon band around the dolls labeled "Powers".

Mothers of Mrs. Powers' primary choir of the Methodist Church were invited, along with other friends of Mrs. Powers. Many lovely gifts were received by the honoree.

Mrs. Woodley Is Honored By Muleshoe MYF

Sunday evening the Methodist Youth Fellowship honored Mrs. Noel Woodley, a former youth counselor, in a "This Is Your Life" program.

Mrs. Woodley was presented a lovely picture of the church sanctuary as well as a beautiful corsage. Others participating in the presentation were her mother and father, the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Jameson from Odessa, a retired minister, and her sister from Muleshoe.

Janita Burkett and Jack Roubinek acted as narrator for the occasion.

The Rev. M. Horace Brooks, pastor, said, "I want to thank everyone for their attendance and cooperation. We heard some fine speakers and enjoyed a good time. We had an average attendance of 110, very good."

"A week like this is not only good for those in attendance, but strengthens our fellowship and association with our surrounding area churches."

The highlight of the week's activities was a Drama Trail program presented by the Muleshoe MYF at the sand Hills. Several town merchants graciously consented and loaned tractors and trailers for this event.

"We would like to thank son Implement, Morris Douglas Implement, and Edwards Fry & Cox Bros., A. J. Lender-Gin for the use of their tractors and trailers."

"We would also like to thank the Muleshoe Police Department for escorting us to and from the sand hills," he concluded.

Griffin Guilty, Judge Suspends 5 Year Sentence

Al Griffin, one time Bailey County District and County Clerk, was found guilty of murder without malice in the slaying of Grover Tapp September 13, 1959 after four hours and 12 minutes of deliberation late Tuesday evening by a Littlefield jury.

The jury recommended that Griffin's sentence be suspended and Judge Bills released Griffin "under his own recognizance."

As the trial opened Monday witnesses testified a dispute over gambling stakes precipitated the death of Tapp. Griffin testified Tuesday that he was afraid of Tapp and shot him after a gun. He pleaded self defense.

According to a recent survey, two-thirds of the people who fish never eat fish.

When you stop to think about it, that's not too surprising. In the first place, fish is brain food. People who eat fish have large, well-developed brains. And people with large, well-developed brains don't fish.

It's that simple.
Kidding, of course. But we've gotta admit that we've wondered more than once what we were doing out in a boat on a hot, blistering, summer day, getting a whale of a burn and landing not one keeper.

But what about the fisherman who does catch them, and doesn't eat 'em? He has a problem too. But it's a different one.

His problem is how to get rid of them.

Our Pilgrim Fathers solved this problem by burying a dead fish in a hill of corn. It made good fertilizer and the corn grew—tall and bountiful.

Some fishermen try to palm off their catch on friends and neighbors.

However, it doesn't take most folks long to learn that a dead bass, lugged around all day on a stringer until it is as stiff as a board, is poor competition for a tantalizing T-bone steak.

So, fishermen who don't eat fish must find other ways to dispose of same.

We heard about one fellow who stuffed his fish in a corner mailbox, when nobody was looking. But that's not a very satisfactory method. Besides, it's illegal.

Then there was the fellow who checked his in at a bus station—then threw his check away. That was in bad taste.

Read not so long ago about a fellow who couldn't get a loan from the local bank. It made him so mad he rented a safety deposit box—put a dead fish in a paper bag and deposited same in the bank box, then and there. He was a stinker. And so was the fish!

Don't know that he ever got his loan, but I do know that it wasn't but a few days until the bank started looking for him.

There are lots of fishermen, who don't eat fish, who just fish for the fun of fishing.

Any true sportman, if he doesn't plan to make good use of his catch, turns them loose. He eases them gently into the water, after carefully removing the hook, so as not to injure them in the least.

He sees to it that they are put back into the water, to grow larger, for other sportsmen to enjoy.

Just the other day I talked to a local fisherman who had been to the Gulf for the weekend. He and his party of four landed at least 50 King Mackerel. That's a lot of fish!

When we commented that he could look forward to some wonderful eating, he said, "Oh, we didn't bother to bring any back. When we got done fish-

New Law Effective To Aid Vets, Families

Several hundred widows and children of deceased veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict will receive their first pension checks from the Veterans Administration on August 1.

These persons have not been entitled to assistance from the Veterans Administration in the past, but became eligible for benefits beginning July 1, because of the passage of a new law, known as the Veterans Pension Act of 1959.

This information was released today by Joe Vaughn, Veterans County Service Officer in the Courthouse.

In addition to those who will receive their first checks on August 1, Joe said that many other widows and children in Texas are eligible for benefits. Neither the Veterans Administration nor the local Service Officer, knows who all these persons are, or where to find them.

Prior to passage of the new Pension Act, survivors of deceased World War II or Korean Conflict veterans were entitled to pension only if the ing, we just dumped the entire lot back into the Gulf."

Each of those Kings had been giggered and subdued. Of course, all of them were dead.

David Shepherd Is Named Editor College Paper

Appointment of David Shepherd, Muleshoe, as editor of the Wayland Baptist College newspaper, "The Trail Blazer", has been announced by Miss Ailese Parten, chairman of publications.

A junior English major at Wayland, Shepherd is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. E. K. Shepherd, 322 W. Ave. E., and a 1958 graduate of Muleshoe High School.

Shepherd served two years as sports editor of The Trail Blazer. He is a journalism minor and assistant in public relations, where he has mainly handled sports.

A feature story which he wrote in the spring has been purchased by "Upward", the weekly publication for teen-agers put out by the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board. This is to be published next year.

In addition to his journalistic work, Shepherd has been active in a number of college organizations. He has served as Senator in the Student Government Association, president of the Circle K Club, sports editor of the college yearbook, and has been an active participant in the Speech Club.

Also, a large number of Texas veterans who have disabilities resulting from service in the Armed Forces may now receive compensation from the Veterans Administration for these disabilities.

If the service-connected condition is disabling to a degree of 50 per cent or more, additional allowances are payable to the veteran on account of his wife, dependent children and dependent parents.

Prior to passage of the new law, this additional allowance was payable on behalf of only three of the veteran's children.

The new law provides for an additional allowance for all dependent children of the veteran, if the veteran has disabilities of service origin evaluated at 50 per cent or more.

Those disabled veterans who are receiving compensation at 50 per cent or more, and who have more than three dependent children are also advised to contact Joe, at his office, or any office of the Veterans Affairs Commission of Texas, for additional information and assistance in obtaining these additional benefits.

OOPS! END OF THE LINE—A Santa Fe diesel engine—no cars attached—ran off of track on a siding at Muleshoe in the early hours of Wednesday last week. The engineer misjudged the end of the track and bumped into the mound of sand shown here and slipped off the tracks. The mishap, which caused no injuries—except perhaps to the engineer's feelings—occurred just south of the Santa Fe station and north of Ray Griffiths elevator. A few hours later a crew from Clovis had the engine back on the tracks and ready for business. —Journal Staff Photo

A representative from Lubbock's Social Security office will be in the courthouse, Muleshoe, Thursday at 9:30 a.m., to advise and assist local folks on SS matters.

Any question you might have on your Social Security status should be checked and this will afford you a good chance to do that.

Especially, those that will retire in the next month or two should become aware of all benefits due them.

6 Cheerleaders From Muleshoe Attending Clinic

Five Muleshoe high school girls are attending the annual Galveston Isle Cheerleading School this week. They went via Santa Fe Saturday afternoon, and are to return the coming Saturday morning.

Attending are: Sandra Taylor, now to be cheerleader for the fourth year, head cheer leader; Rhonda Johnson, Shirley Henry, Joy Autry, and Mona Rucktassel. Unable to attend this year, but one of this year's cheer leaders is Donnie King.

The girls spent the night at Houston under the sponsorship of Mrs. Annie Merle Hilles, aunt of Sandra. Their headquarters at Galveston was in the Seawall Hotel.

Muleshoe ought to be well prepared for the coming football season, therefore, since the baton twirlers are simultaneously attending a school for them at San Antonio.

Local Boys Visit Mr. Don Taylor

Pat Childers, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Childers, and Neal Eubanks, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Eubanks, recently had brief visits with Donald Taylor, a new cadet at the United States Naval Academy.

They were able to visit with him Saturday afternoon a couple of hours, and again on Sunday afternoon when Donald took them on a tour of the campus.

Donald entered the academy early this month for a four-year course of study, still has no permission to leave the campus.

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Taylor, of Muleshoe.

The two friends made a tour of it while they were at it, visiting New York and Washington, D. C., and entering an assortment of states including Louisiana, Mississippi, West Virginia, Virginia, the Carolinas, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, and the Dakotas, driving a lot, sleeping little.

The Sandhills Philosopher Says Most Business Could Be Run From Underground, But Not Farming

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has found something new to worry about this week, his letter indicates.

Dear editor:
 There's a move on in the world that has me worried. It's the theory that to be safe in this nuclear warfare age, everything has to go underground.

It's a fact, I read only last night that it's possible that all homes some day will be built underground. Why not, the argument went. We've already found out buildings don't need windows, you can air-condition them the year around, so why not build houses underground.

Eliminate all the costs of style and outside architectural appearance, the need for painting, re-roofing, etc. Just build them out of concrete, cover them up with dirt, turn on the air-conditioning, and be cool in summer and warm in winter. Not even any lawn to mow.

Moreover, we've already got underground munitions manufacturing plants, underground airports for bombers, underground launching sites for guided missiles, underground government offices for emergency use, why only last week they launched some guided missiles from under water via submarine.

Now I've been thinking about this, maybe it is possible to the grocery stores, drygoods stores, highways, filling stations, churches, football fields, schools, etc., below ground level, at considerable initial expense, I'll admit, but what's money against survival?

But, it has just occurred to me there's one occupation that can't be put underground, namely, farming. Consequently, I can foresee the day when everybody else is living safely and snugly underground, while us farmers are up on top exposed to the hot sun and Russian fall-out.

This is a prospect on which I do not look with favor. Going to the added expense not only of keeping a high-priced tractor running, but also of equipping it with radar and a Geiger counter and a lead-lined radiation-safe cab, plus an anti-aircraft gun, will be more than a farmer can stand, regardless of how much help both parties are offering him during the next few months.

Farming is lonely enough as it is, but the thought of us being up here on top of the ground plowing away while the rest of you are down there safe and carefree in the ground, telling Russia and China to blast away, is highly unpleasant.

It is something which will not only get all the inefficient, marginal farmers off the farms, but most of the efficient ones too.

Can't they think of some other way to run the world?

 Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

BABSON DISCUSSES

Wholesale Commodity Prices To Remain Fairly Constant

Babson Park, Mass., July 28. Now that fears of further drastic price inflation in the U. S. appear to have temporarily subsided, this is an opportune time to check the over-all situation with regard to wholesale commodity prices.

I also venture a forecast on the outlook for a few selected groups. Although commodity prices as a whole are at a relatively high level, it is interesting to note that very little of this price inflation has occurred during the past two or three years. The Bureau of Labor's over-all price index recently stood at 119.5, compared with 119.7 a year ago, 119.2 two years ago, and 117.4 in June 1957.

Industrial prices also have been fairly stable. The 1960 June average of 128.2 comparing with 128.2 a year ago, 125.3 two years ago, and 125.2 for June 1957.

Farm products prices are slightly under the year-ago level. Despite the over-all price stability of the past several years, there have been wide shifts up and down in prices of many individual commodities. I expect such shifts to continue.

Hence, it is vitally important to buyers and sellers to study and appraise the supply-demand ratios prevailing, or likely to prevail, in individual items. These ratios will largely determine price action of group members, whichever way the group itself may be moving.

I see nothing in the near-term picture, barring war, that could exert upward pressure on prices of industrial commodities. Supplies, for the most part, will easily suffice for requirements in the months ahead.

However, allowance must be made for higher wage and transportation costs, not all of which can be absorbed by producers. Under the circumstances, I forecast moderately higher prices for industrial commodities sometimes before the year is out.

immediate future is unlikely. A fall pickup in business, and especially automobile production, could increase overall demand for metals; but such an increase may not mature. The steel makers, however, face higher wage costs on December 1, and may have to pass a part of them along.

Some supply stringency is indicated in a few new-crop canned vegetables, particularly corn and peas. This could mean higher prices. Generally large plantings of feed and food grains last spring point to a sizable total output, barring serious crop damage.

The new crops, plus generally big carryovers, should exert downward pressure on prices of most farm products over near-term months.

Prices of feed cattle may weaken further, owing to sizable marketings, but should recover moderately later in the summer. With pasture conditions generally good, ranchers are in no hurry to sell feeder cattle; but I forecast rather heavy runs by late summer or early fall, with some price weaknesses.

Hog prices are working up to a summer peak—perhaps around $20 per cwt. The next broad move should be downward, though the fall or early winter low should be above that of a year ago.

Despite the over-all price stability of the past few years, the issue of further inflation

Today's Meditation

THURSDAY, JULY 28
 Read Luke 15:11-20

When he (the prodigal son) was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him (Luke 15:20.)

As our train pulled into the station, I offered some help to the man across the aisle from me. I carried one of his heavy bags. I saw that he was in need of a dead duck. Should the Democrats win the forthcoming national election, the groundwork for further price inflation will have been laid.

If the Republicans should win, inflation might be held in abeyance. In either case, a small Korean-type war would be inflationary.

In conclusion, on the basis of available statistics I see little in the near-term picture pointing to further general price increases. Supplies for the most part are ample, and productive capacity in many instances is excessive.

Such conditions are now not conducive to a price spiral in either the metals or farm products. But war or certain sudden deaths could quickly change the outlook.

bags. As we left the coach and were walking into the station, I heard him saying, "I wonder if my son will know me." Then the father told me that he had been away for a while and he was wondering if his little son, eighteen months old, would know him.

We walked on. Suddenly, the man's steps quickened. He exclaimed, "He knows me!" Sure enough, there was the little fellow. He was standing in his go-cart. His arms were eagerly outstretched, and he was shouting, "Daddy! Daddy!"

Jesus gave us word pictures of the heavenly Father. From them we know that the great heart of God must beat with quickened joy when He sees our attention fixed upon Him, and our hearts lifted in adoration, saying "Father."

PRAYER

Our Father, how grateful we are for Thine eternal concern for us. May we bring gladness to Thy loving heart by the evidences of our childlike trust in Thee and our adoration of Thee. In the name of Jesus, Thy Son and our Saviour. Amen.

Phosphate, Nitrogen Value To Wheat Are Observed In Testing

The 1960 yield data from two wheat fertilizer tests have been released by Delbert Langford, associate agronomist, of the High Plains Research Foundation.

The two varieties used in the tests were Early Triumph, a standard high yielding variety, and Tascosa, a new hard red winter variety with exceptional adaptability for the High Plains area.

The following observations were made in these tests: (1) Nitrogen alone increased yield an average of 19.08 bushels per acre above no fertilizer; (2) Phosphate alone gave an increase of 16.66 bushels per acre; and (3) Potash in combination with nitrogen and phosphate did not increase yield.

While the phosphate alone was not the most profitable fertilizer application, this is the first time at the Foundation that phosphate alone has given a significant increase in yield.

This indicates that as these Pullman clay loam soils are cropped heavily year after year, there is a greater need for phosphate fertilizer.

The average yield of the Tascosa variety in fertilized plots was 61.56 bushels per acre and the Early Triumph averaged 52.17.

The fertilizer treatment which produced the highest yield in the test was not the most profitable. The fertilizer treatment giving the highest average yield was 120 lbs. nitrogen and 80 lbs. phosphate.

This returned $23.99 per acre above the cost of the fertilizer, but with only 40 lbs. of nitrogen alone, the yield was almost as high and the net return per acre was $30.55.

This year's wheat fertilizer data at the High Plains Research Foundation are good indications of what results can be expected from fertilizing wheat on Pullman clay loam soil. The application of fertilizer on winter wheat is indicated to be a profitable practice, but additional research is required to determine specific fertilizer recommendations.

NEW FARM BUILDING

American farmers can take justifiable pride in a new 11-story "farm headquarters" building recently dedicated by President Eisenhower only a couple of hundred yards from the White House.

We attended the dedication ceremonies and felt the pride that all friends of farmers must feel in the gleaming, white limestone building erected by the National Grange and housing many other agricultural organizations.

The President's remarks were significant in stressing that this is a non-governmental building, a fact which Herschel D. Newsom, Master of the 800,000-member Grange, had mentioned in his introduction of Mr. Eisenhower.

"I think," the President told 3,000 persons gathered from all parts of the Nation, as well as from Canada, "these words (a non-governmental building) are some that ought to be cherished by each of you and spoken with pride when we talk about improving agriculture and making certain that its benefits reach all of our people."

Newsom compared the modern Grange building to the Temple of Ceres erected some 2,000 years ago by Greece in honor of the farmers of that time.

"Since the Grange was organized in 1867," Newsom said, "we have dreamed of a modern 'Temple of Ceres' for American farmers that we may be able to meet not only the individual citizenship responsibilities imposed upon us by self-government, but also the group responsibilities which are increasingly important in our modern and complex economy and society."

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson spoke of "the record of outstanding accomplishments by this great organization of rural America," and praised the Grange for its unswerving adherence to the principle of self-reliant agriculture.

The story back of the building interested us, and we think it will you. Several years ago the Grange purchased an 8-story building just around the corner on Jackson Place.

Early in 1957 the Government took title to that building without consulting the Grange and offered $360,000 in payment. The Grange protested this was less than 50% of the value of that building.

It was not until almost two years later, after Congress had ordered the Government to offer a "fair price," that the Grange agreed to give up the building for approximately double the original offer.

The new building, valued at a million and a quarter dollars, is located within two blocks of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the imposing new AFL-CIO building, in the heart of a fast-growing center of office buildings.

The Grange and its members in 37 states from coast to coast are to be congratulated on the new farmers' headquarters building in the Nation's Capital.

It is a building all farmers can be proud of, whether or not they are members of the Grange.

Plant Disease Of Week Charcoal Rot Is Sorghum's Foe

Charcoal rot is a common disease of grain sorghum and corn in most areas. The fungus root rot causes more damage than head smut in many areas.

Close to 100 per cent infection may occur in susceptible selections or varieties. Losses are apt to be heaviest during years of little rainfall with dryland farming.

Damage is noticed during June and July in South Texas. The disease appears in north Texas during August and September.

Damage is easiest to detect when the plants are approaching maturity. Charcoal rot damaged plants have poorly filled heads or ears with lightweight grain. Diseased stalks ripen and dry early.

Weakening of the stalks by the fungus, in many cases, causes them to lodge. Stalks are soft and discolored at the base with the pith disintegrated and shredded. Small pinpoint, blackish, seed bodies (sclerotia) may be among the shredded pith.

Other crops affected by the disease are alfalfa, cotton, lespedeza, sugar beets, sweetpotatoes, watermelons, sunflowers, peppers, cowpeas (southern peas), beans and peas. Crops that have their seedling stages and those that mature in cool or rainy weather are not damaged seriously.

Abundant moisture from rain or irrigation water in the latter part of the growing season practically controls the stem rot form. Crops appear to resist the disease in their period of growth when they have high vigor. Work is under way in an effort to develop resistant hybrids.

Contact your extension agent for additional information. Ask for a copy of B-912, "Grain Sorghum Production in Texas" or B-712 "Charcoal Rot of Plants in East Texas."

Cotton Harvest By Mechanical Stripper Better

Studies conducted recently by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station indicates that on the Blackland Prairies, harvesting cotton with mechanical strippers is more economical than hiring labor to pull or snap by hand.

These studies covered the growing seasons of 1952-56. This five year period included two "good" years and three "bad" years.

During this period, the increased returns with machine stripping averaged $14 per bale, but varied from $10 to $25. The smaller return was received in seasons of poor crops and the larger return was realized in good seasons.

In both good and bad seasons the growers who used improved production methods throughout the season obtained the best results.

If a grower has 50 or more acres of cotton that will average at least 1/2 bale per acre, he can afford to own his own stripper.

This would be more economical than hiring custom stripping at $1.00 cwt hauled to the gin.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has published a bulletin which contains a complete analysis of these studies. This bulletin, B-949, may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Freeman and daughters, Donna and Kay are back home after a nine day vacation trip through the south.

They went via Dallas, Houston, and Galveston to New Orleans, where they spent three days sightseeing, visiting the old French quarter, the old plantations, et cetera.

They toured the Natchez, Miss., country, came home through Arkansas and Oklahoma. They said that contrary to their expectations the weather was very pleasant, and that they saw rain every day.

County Was 16th In West Texas Farms' 1959 Gross Income

Bailey County ranked 16th among West Texas' 132 counties in 1959 agricultural income, the Westex Chamber of Commerce magazine has announced.

Income for Bailey last year was $17,496,050. Figures compiled and released by the Progressive Farmer in collaboration with the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas placed average farm income across the state from all sources at $8,137.

Income per farm for all crops averaged $4,798; for livestock products, $3,056. The Texas total of $2,244,734,000 nearly equaled the all-time record set in 1958.

The state in '59 produced the largest cotton crop in a decade and harvested a record grain sorghum crop of 278,000,000 bushels, worth $281,554,000. The cotton weighed in at 4,500,000 bales, highest since 1949.

The 1959 totals mean that Texas has nearly doubled its farm output since 1944 when the figure was $1,154,777,000. Rounded off to the nearest million, crops in Texas yielded these figures (in millions) last year:

Cotton, $669; cottonseed, $71; wheat, $119; oats, $9; corn, $22; grain sorghum, $282; flaxseed, $1; hay, $12; peanuts, $20; rice, $72; fruits and vegetables, $80; other crops, $50.

Cattle, $457; calves, $87; hogs, $36; sheep and lambs, $22; wool, $23; mohair, $15; poultry, $71; eggs, $54; milk products, $127; other livestock,

Wheat Acreage And Marketing Program Gains 1961 Approval

limited 624,000,000 bushels for domestic consumption and another 500,000,000 to be exported during the coming marketing year, with a 20 per cent carry over allowance of 225,000,000 bushels.

The total supply on hand figure (2,645,000,000) is based on an estimated 1961 crop of 1,200,000,000 bushels, imports during the 61-62 marketing year of 8,000,000 bushels, and a carryover of a whopping 1,437,000,000 bushels July 1, 1961.

The wheat surplus has been termed the nation's number one farm problem.

As low as Bailey County's vote was last week, it wasn't the lowest by far in the area. Lubbock County mustered but a single approving vote from its 90 to 100 wheat growers.

Hale County (Plainview) lent its okay by 186 to 10, called a light turnout by the ASC office there.

Not a single cracked egg since Chevy took over the route

That '60 Fleetside pickup you see takes whatever kind of road comes along, and makes about 250 stops a day delivering eggs house to house for Mr. Harry Hansen of Missoula, Montana. "With my previous truck," Mr. Hansen writes, "I always had some cracked eggs. Cargo damage always cut into my profits. But the new Chevy eliminated that problem completely. I haven't had one cracked egg with my new truck and I've had up to a ton of eggs in it without any difficulty. . . I didn't know a truck could ride so nice."

Chevy rides nice, all right: takes good care of fragile cargoes. But that's not even the half of it. Torsion-spring suspension also means longer life for the truck, extra thousands of working miles, because the sheet metal and body components take less of a beating. You can run off-the-road or over back trails at faster safe speeds, too; get in more trips a day, make more money. Those facts are as true of the big Chevrolet heavyweights as they are of the pickups. Any model you name. Get one on your job and you've got the world's most efficient, most economical way to haul any load over any road. Your dealer will be happy to prove that statement any day you say.

"I'm getting close to 20 miles to the gallon," Mr. Hansen states, "and that's on stop-and-go delivery."

AUSTIN — Although budget some way, balancing is the most discuss. Battle will be between big ed of the problems facing the city delegations who will de next Legislature, many law-mand more representation in makers expect redistricting line with their swelling popu- wrangles may raise more relations and rural members blood pressures.

Legislature is required by the Constitution to re-define In their election campaigns, legislative districts after each many representatives promised federal census. It used to put their constituents they'd be off this troublesome task, but in their pitching for the home a 1948 law provides that if it area. Members from growth fails to act in the first session areas said they'd go after extra after a census, a Legislature representatives, state senators Redistricting Board shall take and congressmen.

This insures, as it did in people, "At least twelve 1951, that the Legislature rural districts will disappear will redistrict — somehow, in the next redistricting, I certainly do not want this district included in that twelve."

Incumbents cited their experience as an asset. Personal feeling often enters into re- districting and lawmakers are notably reluctant to "squeeze out" a popular and respected senior colleague by erasing his district.

Home Insurance Cut — Beginning August 1, premium rates on certain types of homeowner's insurance policies will be cut 10 per cent.

The State Insurance Board announced the new lower rates would apply to the "homeowners package" policies which account for about 80 per cent of the home coverage sold in Texas.

Reductions were made possible because insurance companies have had a relatively low loss ratio on the package policies, first introduced about three years ago.

Credit Rate Eyed — The Board of Insurance also is considering a further lowering of credit insurance rates.

Many loan companies require borrowers to take out insurance payable to the loan company in case something happens to the borrower before he repays.

Two years ago the Board cut in half the rates that could be charged for credit insurance. It was charged that loan companies were making excessive profits on loans through the insurance.

Board says that even now rates seem high, with losses running 27 per cent of premiums paid in. If losses run less than 50 per cent of the premiums, rates are considered too high.

No Road Problem — Stiffened federal road inspections pose no problem to Texas, says State Highway Engineer De Witt C. Greer.

New federal standards are no tougher than those Texas has insisted on all along.

Scandals stemming from misuse of federal road building money in other states has caused the Bureau of Public Roads to tighten its inspection requirements. Greer said the new federal approach will necessitate no change in Texas procedures.

Texas who have been motoring cross-country during their summer vacations will not find this hard to believe. So noticeably superior are Texas roads to those of surrounding states that returning Texans usually give a sigh of relief when they cross the state line.

Speakers' Battle Boils — Candidates for Speaker of the House continue their month-long battle of "claimsmanship."

Rep. Wade Spilman added five to his list of House members pledged to support him and said this gave him a "rather conclusive" lead. Rep. James Turman of Gober claims a definite majority of 79.

Votes of 76 of the 150 House members are needed to elect.

Spilman also has invited the House General Investigating Committee to look into charges that members were being subjected to improper pressure on how to vote.

College Funds Sought — The Texas Commission on Higher Education will ask the next Legislature for an appropriation of $3,082,183 for the 1961-63 biennium.

Bulk of the increase asked is for meeting expected enrollment increases in the 18 state-supported colleges and universities.

In a discussion with members of the State Finance Advisory Committee, the Commission considered recommending an increase in state college tuition charges—now $100 for a nine-month term. Dr. Ralph Green suggested raising this by $50. It would bring the state an extra $5,000,000 a year in new revenue, he said.

Prison Needs Cited — Texas Board of Corrections also wants more money—a $2,654,846 increase over their present allocation for the next two years.

"If the amount is granted, Texas prisoners will cost the state $1.89 per day per man," said State Prison Director O. B. Ellis. "This is just a little more than half the national average."

Ellis and Corrections Board members regard prison needs as critical. Board Chairman H. H. Coffield of Rockdale reported that "the prison population trends indicate it will keep on multiplying."

Wilson Honored — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has been named by the National Association of Attorneys General as the recipient of that association's award for outstanding service in 1960.

He was cited as being the most outstanding Attorney General in the nation when he received the Wyman Award at the Annual Meeting of the National Association of Attorneys General recently in San Francisco.

The award is given to the Attorney General who "has done the most to advance the objectives of the association to help make the United States a better place in which to live for all."

Wilson won the honor on the basis of his contribution in strengthening state antitrust programs and in the field of interstate compacts, as well as through his service on the habeas corpus committee of the association. He also was chairman of the association's Antitrust Committee during 1960.

Christian Science Lecture Sunday On Life Problems

An answer to problems of strife, jealousy, and hate will be set forth Sunday at all Christian Science churches. Highlighting the Lesson-

Sermon on the subject of "Love" are several inspiring experiences of David which include Samuel's account of the sparing of Saul's life (I Sam. 26.)

Citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include this statement on the protective power of divine Love:

"At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself, and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil. Clad in the panoply of Love, human hatred cannot reach you. The cement of a higher humanity will unite all interests in the one divinity" (57:15).

The Golden Text is from Romans (13:10): "Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law."

 What a waste of food! A Kingfish, properly prepared, is one of the best eating fish in the Gulf.
 Same is true of the Sailfin, especially when smoked. But it is seldom so considered.
 Ling is as good as a catfish, in our book. Some say it's better.
 So is the Warsaw—and the Jewfish.
 Believe it or not, even the Ribbon Fish is regarded as good eating by some, especially when filleted, buttered and wrapped in dough—and cooked like Flounder.
 There are lots of good eating fish in the Gulf of Mexico, besides Red Snapper, Redfish, Croaker, Pompano, Snook, Sheepshead, Speckled Trout and Flounder.
 Just why didn't that fisherman bring those Kings back to land and give them to some tourists, or local sightseers? Why didn't he turn them to some ice house or locker plant, to be presented to some "offshore" fisherman? He had enough fish to feed 100 kids.
 The answer is that he was lazy, wasteful and inconsistent of others.
 We can poke fun at the va-

GRASSROOTS OPINION
West Point, Miss., Leader:
 "It's a pleasure to comment on good news now and then, though the opportunities sometimes seem far between. Today's glad tidings are that the Labor Department has turned thumbs down on the idea of setting up a new bureau to force employers to hire older workers.
 "The reason is that employers are solving the problem voluntarily at a faster clip than a new law might be expected to do the job."
Denison, Texas Press: "After studying and working with juveniles for a period of over fifty years, and having ourselves reared a family of nine, we have come to the conclusion (long ago) that a great mother, along with a fairly decent father, can get the job done without any court action, clubs to fence them in, riotous means of disposing of fish. But the true sportsman will see that his catch either is returned to the water, alive, or he will make sure that some good use is made of them.
 In the final analysis it boils down to a lack of respect for nature."

community houses or youth centers.
Danielson, Conn., Transcript:
 "In the next ten years, 26 million youngsters will enter the labor force for the first time. The outlook: Thirty per cent of them will not have a high school education. During their best years, most will be averaging less than half the pay of those who have been trained in skills.
 "Every effort must be made to encourage our young people to obtain the best education possible... for their sake and for the sake of our entire space-age society."
Lisbon, N. D., Gazette: "If people don't make proper arrangements for their mail, an otherwise pleasant vacation can be a mighty frustrating experience," says a note from the post office. "The careless preparation or handling of vacation mail can easily result in the travelers' having fewer friends when he returns than he had when he left."
 "There, that ought to explain something you've been wondering about."

Beaver Falls, Pa., News-Tribune: "The Government paid commercial storage warehouses $411 million for grain storage last year.
 Controller General Joseph Campbell said some warehousemen made a profit of as much as 263 per cent, because of the policy of setting a single rate for all grain warehouses, regardless of operating costs or capacity. The Agricultural Department has begun studying storage costs as a basis for setting future rates, locking the barn after the horse has fled."
