ON MY DESK there always are two or three stacks of things which I receive in the mail, or which were brought into the office by someone, which I put to one side so I can attend to them later. I have three classes of stacks: one for things I intend to do something about (check them out, run in the paper, order some of those, etc.), things I may possibly do something with, and things I probably won't do anything with, but I hate to throw them away this soon.

Periodically I go through these stacks and usually discover many of the things are outdated and some others make me wonder why I didn't throw them away in the first place. Today I sifted through one stack of stuff (classification No. 2) and here's what I came up with:

A "tear sheet" of a page ad, from some unidentified newspaper, and mailed to me from California, and entitled "How a new discovery from Asia seems to burn off body fat for almost everybody who tries it!" I guess I'm so fat they have even heard about it in California. Whoever sent it wrote in pen across one corner: "Dalton. Try it. It works!"

The page was crammed full of small type, so I never have been able to read it all. Probably if I would read it all, without stopping to go eat, I'd lose a pound or two.

A news release about some African Zulu warriors who will perform tribal songs and dances at Ringling Bros. circus in Lubbock June 16-18. I may try to miss that one. We watched some African natives doing chants and dances on TV just the other day and the music was about as boring and repetitious as a rock song.

A publicity release from a group called "Keep Texas Beautiful" about some newspapers and radio stations winning awards. I can't imagine why I kept that one.

An IRS release which says if you have trouble you can't resolve through normal channels, whatever that means, that you should call 1-800-424-1040 and ask for Problem Resolution, which is one of the strangest names I ever heard, even for a government worker. What the release doesn't tell you is that if the toll-free number is like most government 800 numbers, it will take you about six days of uninterrupted dialing to get through. And by then, Mr. Resolution likely will be on vacation.

The same envelope contained another story about how people can take an IRS enrollment examination for a mere $50. If you can't lick 'em, join 'em.

A story from a group called the "Texas Consumer Assn." in Austin, ripping into our state representative, David Counts of Knox City, claiming that he cast the deciding vote which killed insurance reform legislation described by the Texas Consumer Assn. as badly needed. I didn't use the story, mainly because I haven't heard Rep. Counts' side of it. (Now I probably will).

Something from Bob Bullock, claiming that projected motor vehicle sales taxes were lowered in the latest state estimate of tax take "because interest rates have caused a slowdown in new car sales." I kept that because I want to say that it's not high financing rates that discourage people from buying new cars nearly as much as the high state tax levied on them. A person buys a new car costing $15,000 and he has to pay the state $900 tax. That's about three times what it ought to be, and six per cent on major items like cars and trucks is not fair to the public or to the car dealers. What's worse is that you trade it in two years later and then the dealer resells it for $8,000 and the buyer then has to pay another $480 state tax, on a vehicle which already has had state tax paid on the full value of it.

So now I have taken care of that stack, and I can throw all that stuff away. Except for the last item, four blank sheets of paper, representative of all the constructive ideas I had last week.

Wind, Hail Cause Damage, But Rains Good For County

Lynn County residents experienced storms every afternoon or night for four straight days last week, and then more storms came over the weekend, bringing good rainfall on cropland, but hail caused some damage to crops already up and to vehicles. There was very little damage to roofs and cars in the city of Tahoka, however, except for some reported on the west side of town.

High winds caused damage on several occasions and last Thursday plate glass windows were blown out at Star Video and at the former Anthony's and Marrier Furniture building in downtown Tahoka. Also, the roof of the former Lankford Variety Store collapsed, apparently from the weight of water. Numerous trees were snapped off or otherwise damaged in the city from the storms, and some fences were blown down.

The rains totaled about two inches in Tahoka during the last week, and added to an earlier 2-inch rain pretty much ended the drought, both in the city and in much of the county, where rainfall amounts varied. The official Weather Service total for the city in the first four days of June was 1.92 inches. Officially, 1.82 fell on May 16 and another .08 was recorded May 30. Official total for the year in the city to date, as of Tuesday, was 6.82 inches.

Throughout the county, the crop outlook mostly benefited from the rains, according to Jimmy Woodard, executive director of the Lynn County ASCS.

"Quite a few dryland acres had been planted, but were not up, and these acres will benefit from the rains," he said. However, with most irrigated cotton land already up when the storms came, a lot of that cotton—but not all—was destroyed and will have to be replanted. Irrigated cotton in an area north of Wilson and in a strip from West Point north through New Home was pretty well hailed out, Woodard said. Rainfall totals in the last several days varied from about an inch and a half to as much as six inches (in the Gordon vicinity).

MRS. KIRK J. BYERLY
(nee JANA HAMMONDS)

Hammonds-Byerly Wedding Vows Are Exchanged In May 27 Ceremony

Jana Hammonds and Kirk J. Byerly were united in marriage on Saturday, May 27 at 7 p.m. in a formal ceremony held in the First Baptist church of Tahoka. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was Jim Turner of Haskell. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. EM Hammonds Jr. of Tahoka and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Byerly of Seminole, Oklahoma.

A background of green plants, fan and spiral candelabras decorated with greenery and drapes of tulle. Angel lites among greenery and babies breath lined rails surrounding the platform. The entrance isle was decorated with isle-marker candles, greenery with tulle and satin bows.

Jana, escorted and presented in marriage by her father, had selected an ivory satin gown by the designers of Mary's Brides. The open neckline bodice featured a fitted shirred Basque waistline. Double ruffling formed a unique sleeve accented with spritzie pearls and ivory silk flowers. The bodice of the gown was richly adorned with Schiffie lace, pearls, and sequins. The full ballgown floated gracefully into a cathedral train. The skirt and train were decorated with rich appliques of Schiffie lace, pearls and sequins. The train carried an ultra feminine touch of satin candy-box bows accented with spritzie pearls and ivory silk flowers. The bows cascade softly down the length of the tulip shaped train. For her headpiece, she wore a lace and pearl tiara accented with a short pouf of ivory illusion. Her bouquet was a full cascade of Bridal white roses and fushia roses, dainty Queen Anne's lace, status, ivy and white freesia filled the cascade. Her bouquet was touched with pearl sprays that matched the beading of her dress. Trails of ivy and candle-light ribbons fell in love knots to complete the romantic cascade of aromatic flowers.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Kym Hammonds of Tahoka, sister-in-law of the bride. Bridesmaids were Shara Deering of Lubbock, Katrina Stoes of Louisville, Ky., Carla Praden of Odessa, Tx., and Robin Turner of Dallas, Tx.

Miniature bride and flower girl was Kalese Hammonds of Tahoka, niece of the bride.

The groom's father, Howard Byerly of Seminole, Oklahoma served as best man. Other groomsmen were Guyle Roberson of Lubbock, Tx., Jeff Ebert of Portales, N.M., and Brad Hammonds of Tahoka.

Serving as ring bearer was Trent Tiger and lighting candles were Terin Tiger and Shelby Tiger, all from Seminole, Okla.

Ushers for the ceremony were Mitchell Hammonds of Omaha, Neb., and Martin Hammonds of Tahoka, brothers of the bride.

Registering the guests was Monica Stephens of Tahoka.

Music for the ceremony was furnished by Susie Rhodes of Tahoka. Vocalists Todd and Renee' Hammonds of Columbus, Ga., sang

"Together", "The Lord's Prayer" and "Savior Like A Shepherd Lead Us."

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception in the fellowship hall of the church. Serving guests during the reception were Janetta Pylant of Lubbock, Holly Sanders of Hereford, Tx., Amy Hardin of Seminole, Ok., Lisa Hawthorne of Tahoka, Marcy Phillips of Lubbock and Regina Long of Shallowater.

Following their wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Lubbock.

On Friday evening, May 26, the groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner for the wedding party and guests held in the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church.

Alonzo and Susie Garcia are proud to announce the birth of their daughter, Jennifer Alicen. She was born June 1, 1989 at 12 noon at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock and weighed 5 lbs. 15 ozs. and was 18-1/2 inches long.

WHAT REALLY IS DRUG ABUSE?

Although commonly used by authorities to describe the indiscriminate use of those drugs associated with "turning on," "kicks," and "trips," it also is the unwise use of any drug. Too much aspirin, constant use of a nose spray, excessive dependence on a cough syrup would all be good examples of drug abuse.

Actually, you abuse your body when you rely too much on over-the-counter, non prescription medications when you are sick. Rely instead on the knowledge and experience of your family doctor.

WILSON PIANO STUDENTS - Four piano students from the class of Mrs. Onita Steinhauser registered for membership in the National Fraternity of Student Musicians sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers. This group of hobbyist played in the National Piano Playing Auditions at the Chapel of the First Baptist Church in Brownfield. They earned National and Social Music Honors, romantic and modern pieces chosen from the Masters of piano-forte literature each student performed in the presence of an imported examiner of note from another part of the state. Shown from left to right are Amy Clem, Brooke Fillingim, Gary Chapa, and Loretta Abbe. These students along with Mindy Isham performed in Piano Recital Saturday, June 3, at 3 p.m. at St. John Lutheran Church in Wilson.

Four employees and one board member of Wilson ISD were recognized at the graduation ceremonies Friday night for 5, 10, 15 and 20 years of service to the district. Receiving five-year pins were Board member Surpy Benavidez and first grade teacher Brenda Porsch. Cafeteria employee Margaret Morton was recognized for ten years of service. Gladys Moore, cafeteria supervisor, received a pin for 15 years of service. Mary Downey, second grade teacher, completed her twentieth year and received her pin for 20 years of service to Wilson schools. Congratulation and thanks to each of these.

The 4-H group had their last meeting of the year on Wednesday, May 31. The main order of business was electing officers for the 1989-90 school year. Eva Gicklhorn was elected president; Jason Marshall will serve as vice-president; Jamie Mankins, secretary/treasurer; and Cody Donald will be parliamentarian. The qualification needed to hold office were revised. Officers must be at least 11 years of age and have participated in two projects this year and three projects next year. The office of Parliamentarian can be held by a ten-year-old. A committee was appointed to plan a Family Night next fall. Several dates for summer activities were discussed.

The Children's Choir of the First Baptist Church presented the musical "Down By The Creekbank" on Sunday evening, June 4. They did a wonderful job and were treated to a pizza party afterwards. Choir has been dismissed for the summer.

With school out, the Wilson news may be a little slim this summer. Please call and let me know if you have special guests in town, make an interesting trip, or any other item that might be of interest to the community.

This district's state senator John T. Montford, Lubbock and state representative David Counts, Knox City, have joined two-thirds of the Democrats in the Legislative in endorsing State Comptroller Bob Bullock for lieutenant governor.

Bullock's endorsement by 17 of the 23 Democrats in the Senate and by 63 of the 91 House members, including Speaker Gib Lewis, is unprecedented, said political consultant George Christian of Austin.

Electric safety is looking up...

On the farm, on the job or at home, you should always be aware of power lines. Touching a power line with anything... an irrigation pipe, tool, a kite string... could divert the electricity through you causing serious injury or death. For safety's sake, look up for power lines.

AND, REMEMBER THESE SAFETY TIPS

- Do not trim trees near power lines.
- Do not shoot at insulators on poles, towers or structures.
- Avoid using electrical tools like lawn mowers or hedge clippers when grass and leaves are wet.
- Be careful when digging. Call SPS to find out if there are any buried electrical lines in the area.
- Beware of exposed wires.

When choking on food or an object, and if alone, quickly lie across a bed, chair, or table, with the head lower than your chest - gravity will then work to help dislodge the object. Control Bagworms Now

Bagworms are one of the major pests of junipers and other trees and shrubs in Texas. Spring hatch began in early May on the South Plains this year. Hatching is usually completed in about three weeks. Insecticide control is most effective in late May and early June when the bagworms are small, says County Agent Brett Cypert.

In the spring, bagworm larvae emerge from hatching eggs inside last year's bags and begin feeding on leaves. They soon begin to construct their own protective bag of silk, twigs and leaves making them camouflaged and hard to see. As the larvae and their bags continue to grow, control becomes more difficult.

Bagworms feed throughout the summer months, building their bags until the bags are about 1-1/2 inches long.

In the fall, the bagworms become adults, mate and the females lay eggs inside their bags. They then overwinter in these bags in trees and shrubs. Each overwintering female bag on a tree contains from 500 to 1500 eggs. "Since the bagworm only completes one generation a year and spreads very slowly from plant to plant, picking the bags off infested plants in the winter will help a lot toward controlling this pest." "But if bagworms were present on the plant last year and control measures were not applied, chances are very good that an insecticide will be needed this spring."

Insecticides which can be used to control bagworms include sevin, dursban, diazinon, malathion, dylox and orthene. To obtain effective control, thorough coverage of the foliage is important. The addition of a small amount of liquid soap or surfactant to the spray solution will improve control because it helps adhere the insecticide to the treated trees and shrubs. Always read and follow label instructions.

SCS Urges Farmers Here To Control Weeds On CRP Land

CRP participants are reminded of weed control responsibility by Eual Davis, USDA, Soil Conservation Service, Tahoka, Texas. The rains finally came to Lynn County. "We now have a chance at producing a crop in 1989," said Davis. The rains have given CRP producers a chance at getting a stand of grass or dead litter on their CRP acres. Rains also cause all kinds of weeds to grow. It is the responsibility of each CRP producer to control the weeds and/or brush on their contract acres. Failure to do so will subject the producer to a significant reduction in rent payment.

Some producers may have used up their $55 cost share limit and all 1988 contracts are limited to only one cost shared weed control after the grass is planted. Because of these situations some CRP producers will not be eligible for cost share on weed control. However, eligibility for cost share assistance does not limit the producers responsibility to control their weeds. With good rains the weeds should be actively growing and should be easily controlled with chemicals. Do be careful with the application of chemicals. When other crops are near by, such as cotton, leave a buffer strip unsprayed. This strip may need to be shredded later. Better this than to damage your neighbors crop. SCS personnel will make field visits upon request.

At last, Something farmers can control.

You can't control prices, the weather or your banker. But you can do something about your health insurance costs.

Communicating for Agriculture understands how hard it is for farmers to buy health coverage. That's why we came up with our own health insurance plan for our members.

Our plan helps our members control their health insurance costs through a cash deductible concept* - no matter how many claims they file. It's available only to CA members.

Take control of your health care costs.
