ON A NEW LONG RANGE BILL

Sugar Beet Hearing In House May 18, 19

Representative Harold D. Cooley, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee today announced that hearings on a new long-range sugar bill will begin Thursday, May 18, 1961, and that the first two days, Thursday and Friday, May 18 and 19, will be set aside for spokesmen representing new growers and new areas in the continental United States.

After opening the sugar hearings, Chairman Cooley said the committee will return to consideration of the Administration's farm bill which is the subject of hearings now being held before the committee.

Hearings on the farm bill are being recessed for the week beginning Monday, May 15, so that the Gathings Subcommittee on Equipment, Supplies, and Manpower may conclude its study of high farm machinery costs and for the start of the sugar hearings. The Gathings Subcommittee will hold its hearings on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 15-17.

In announcing the opening of sugar hearings, Chairman Cooley said he wanted to make it clear that the farm bill is the pending business before the committee and that the scheduling of further days for consideration of sugar will depend upon the progress made in hearings on the farm measure. He said that the resumption of sugar hearings would be announced as far in advance as possible of the hearing date.

No. 1 and Grady No. 2, Henderson said

Henderson said Sanders was to be congratulated. "He was sure the stone was a meteorite from the very moment he found it. He is correct! It's the real thing," Sanders said. "I knew it was a strange object from the moment my plow hit it. It had a ring like metal, not like any stone."

"We never find rocks that size on our land. Usually we'll disclose small nodules of calcite," Sanders continued. "I knew the object was strangely out of place the moment I hit it."

Henderson said there may be some connection between all the meteorites discovered in Curry County, but extensive checks will have to be made. In the event the Clovis meteorite is associated with the Melrose meteorite it will take the name of the first discovered, i. e., it will be referred to as part of the Melrose meteorite.

"The Melrose meteorite was discovered at the surface and was considerably weathered," Henderson said. Positive connection of the meteorites will be difficult.

Mr. Sanders plowed into the meteorite while deep breaking his New Mexico farm land about 4 weeks ago. A preliminary test at Texas Tech in book indicated the possibilities of the iron-rich stone being chunk of matter from outer space. Weighing 620 pounds it is the largest known meteorite in the world, and replaces in size the 500 pounder found at Vienna, Austria.

Sanders' immediate interest is to determine how rich a find this stranger mineral from his farm will prove to be. He has not definitely determined if he should sell to the highest bidder or to donate the extraterrestrial visitor to a museum for furthering the advancement of knowledge and science.

Mrs. Sanders called The Journal Wednesday to report that the 620 pound meteorite was being shipped that day to the Smithsonian Institute where it will go on display after further study there.

MISS CHILDRESS

Teacher Fifty Years Retiring

Very few teachers have taught in the public schools for fifty years. This record has been achieved by Miss Effie Childress, first grade teacher in the Richland Hills Elementary School. Miss Childress will retire from teaching the public schools of Texas this year with a total of fifty years of service.

A review of her teaching career shows four years in Stocum in Anderson County, three years in Frankston also located in Anderson County. She taught two years in Plemons in Hutchinson County, one year in Canadian and for twenty-three years she served the schools in Wellington, Texas. While in Wellington, Miss Childress served as principal of West Ward Elementary School. For the past seventeen years she has taught in Progress and Muleshoe.

Miss Childress was honored with a tea given by the Local Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association last Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. Miss Childress has truly been an inspiration to all who know her. She will be missed in our schools by everyone who knows her.

Virginian Opens Bank Account Here

First National Bank of Muleshoe has a new depositor who lives at a considerable distance, and it's all because of the name "Muleshoe". M. D. Gunstream, president, reports having received the following letter from Albert W. Francis, of Francis Bros., Inc., Marion, Virginia: Gentlemen:

The writer would like to open a small checking account with your bank, that is if you are willing to accept same. The idea is legitimate and above board, and I thought it would be nice to give checks for birthdays and special occasions on a bank at a great distance, and with so unique and charming a name.

Mr. Francis followed with a list of references; his account was accepted and now people we never heard of, in places not telling where, will be getting checks on a Muleshoe bank.

Farmers Home Offering Loans For Conservation

This week special emphasis is being given to conserving our soil. Farmers Home Administration encourages soil and water conservation by making loans to carry out these practices, according to John C. Kennedy, Bailey County Supervisor.

These loans, called Soil and Water Loans, are made to drill irrigation wells, for pumps, motors, underground pipe, and sprinkler systems. These loans are also made for land leveling and benching.

Soil and Water Loans are generally made only to land owners and are secured by a first or a second mortgage on the farm. Loans can be made in amounts up to $25,000 and twenty years.

More information about these and other types of loans can be obtained from the local Farmers Home Administration office.

COSMIC SEES:

Dry Spell Will Drag Into July

Muleshoe's current dry spell is scheduled to hang on into July. Only scattered showers and isolated thunderstorms will dot the plains during the last half of May and through June. The isolated showers should break out giving spotty rains due to greater abundance of moist air making it into our region from the southeast.

Muleshoe's May rainfall total stands at a trace as no measurable moisture has fallen in over a month. The total for the year holds fast at 3.06 which is near normal of this date.

No significant relief in the moisture prospect is in sight until July although local showers may get some areas out of the rough temporarily. July is anticipated to be a good producer in rainfall bringing Muleshoe and vicinity in excess of three inches.

Meanwhile June looks like a disappointing month for the West Plains. Moisture is expected to amount to only about 1.50, near one inch below normal.

In the week ahead look for warm, sticky weather Friday with isolated showers. Drier Saturday but continued warm. Sunday will be humid and warm again in unstable air with big white clouds, but little or no rain. Monday is figured to be downright hot.

Tuesday and Wednesday will continue warm and unstable with cloud buildups, but little rain activity. Winds are due to shift late Wednesday making Thursday only a little cooler.

SHERIFF REPORTS A PRETTY QUIET WEEK

Things were pretty quiet in Muleshoe the past week. Only 3 were jailed, 2 by the City, 1 for drunk while in control of motor vehicle, 1 for drunk. The Highway Patrol jailed one for traffic violation.

Deputies Garland Freeman and John Moore made a trip to Big Spring to take one subject. The Sheriff's department have been busy serving subpoenas for the coming Grand Jury May 17.

One was arrested by the Sheriff's Department for worthless check. It was filed on for forgery, which they have been unable to locate.

NEW MANAGEMENT

Beginning Monday, May 15, Campbell's Coffee Shop will be under new management. Mr. and Mrs. John Bruton have leased the cafe from Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Campbell. The Brutons invite all their friends and customers to come by to see them. The cafe is located across the street from West Plains Hospital and Clinic.

The Great Plains Conservation Program went into effect in September, 1957. The primary aim of this program is to assist farmers and ranchers in applying all the conservation measures necessary to keep their farms or ranches at the maximum productivity level, to conserve their soil and water and to protect the land from erosion.

A time schedule for a period from three to ten years is worked out by the farmer or rancher in which he schedules application of all the conservation practices needed to complete a basic conservation plan on the entire farm or ranch.

For the permanent type practices such as terrace construction, pond construction, waterway development, grass planting, installation of irrigation pipeline, brush control on rangeland, range reseeding, cross facilities for livestock water, and farmstead windbreak planting, cost-share assistance is offered under the Great Plains Conservation Program.

This cost-share amounts to 50 to 80 per cent of the total cost of applying the practice. No cost-share is paid for management practices or practices which must be reapplied at frequent intervals.

Application for participation in the Great Plains Conservation Program can be made at the Soil Conservation Service Office or by contacting any of the Soil Conservation Service personnel.

After an application is received it is reviewed by a committee composed of representatives from the SCS, FHA, ASC and Soil Conservation District board of supervisors and given a priority rating. The priority assigned to the application is determined by the erosion hazards of the land and its capability. The greater the erosion hazards on a farm or ranch, the greater are the needs for conservation practices and the higher priority assigned to the application.

Talent Hunted For July Fourth Program Here

An area-wide hunt has been launched by the committee of activity for Muleshoe's massive Fourth of July party.

Mrs. Thurman White is chairman of the talent hunt committee and is assisted by Mrs. Katherine Sanders. Any talent seeking a place to happen may contact a First Aid and Baby Sitting station at the scene of activity. Other booths or stations of civic service will be set up. Those having such stations at the event should contact Frank Ellis or Red Simmons.

Folks from all over the West Plains are encouraged to participate in the July 4th event. Bring your box lunches. Refreshments will be on hand at the big jubilation at Benny Douglass stadium. A big fireworks display will top off the Independence Day Celebration.

Bumper strips advertising Muleshoe's gala free party are available from any of the committeemen or at the Chamber of Commerce.

Susan Gayle is the name of the new baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Connie Dale Gupton. She was born in the West Plains Hospital and she weighed 6 lbs., 7 ozs. The Guptons have a son, David, age 10, who is very proud.

Lazbuddie, a ball of fire on the cinder tracks the whole year, racked up 40 points to go ahead of Luaders in the state Interscholastic League meet held in Austin Friday and Saturday, and became the first team to win the state championship in B class in the 51 year history of the League.

Lazbuddie took only five boys to the state meet. In the 400 yard relay the four Longhorns won first place in the fine time of 43.6. The team was composed of Fred Savage, R. L. Porter, Billy Hardage, Odie Bradshaw. The same four ran the mile relay and came in second with a 3:24.7. Hardage added 4 points by coming in fourth in the 440 yard dash, in the time of 50.4.

SCIENTISTS VISIT HERE: Pictured left is F. P. Henderson, of the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D. C., who pronounced the huge object discovered by C. W. Sanders, of Muleshoe, standing at right, a "real meteorite." The boy is Roger Sanders. Mr. Henderson left yesterday after visiting in the Sanders home Monday and Tuesday (Journal Photo)

See Gary Cooper at the Moeller Theatre Friday and Saturday in "The Wreck of the Mary Deare," his last movie before he became ill from cancer.

Gary Cooper Gives His All To Fans Before His Illness

See Gary Cooper in his last role before he became deathly ill. Gary is in a coma and not expected to recover, but he was up and at 'em when the "Mary Deare" was filmed.

Gary Cooper, in one of the most virile roles of his career, and Charlton Heston, in his first screen portrayal since "Ben-Hur", are pitted against each other in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's spectacular sea drama, "The Wreck of the Mary Deare."

The action picture (in CinemaScope and color) is based on the best-selling novel by Hammond Innes. It was filmed partly off the Southern California coast and also in London, Southampton and on the English Channel. Guest stars in the impressive cast include Michael Redgrave, Emyln Williams, Cecil Parker and Alexander Knox, with Virginia McKenna, Britain's top feminine star, playing the picture's sole feminine role.

Filmed in the tradition of such memorable sea stories as "Mutiny on the Bounty" and "Captains Courageous," the new picture unfolds a drama of conflict and suspense played against a background of storm-swept seas, shipwreck, mutiny and murder.

A mood of foreboding mystery is established in the very first scenes taking place at night in the English Channel on a raging sea when the freighter Mary Deare, out of Hong Kong, rams the small salvage boat, Sea Witch.

Immunization Made Compulsory

Muleshoe school board at its May 8 meeting approved a compulsory immunization policy for the local schools.

As a result of several requests by interested groups, and the recent diphtheria epidemics in neighboring communities, in which several lives were lost, the board approved the following policy:

All children, before enrolling in the first grade, must have a signed statement from their physician certifying that they have been immunized against smallpox, and diphtheria, polio, whooping cough, and tetanus.

Forms for this immunization record may be picked up in the Principal's office or any physician's office in Muleshoe.

Diphtheria, polio, whooping cough, and tetanus, can be given in one combined shot; while smallpox requires a vaccination.

If there are those who cannot afford to pay for these immunizations, they should check with Mrs. Gorrell, school nurse, or Dr. Ray Santos at the West Plains Hospital, and proper arrangements will be made to have the shots administered free.

Although the Board felt that this policy could only be started in the first grade because of the large number of students, they are encouraging all students, and parents to get these immunizations, if they don't have them in an effort to prevent epidemics in the future. Contagious diseases usually start in the schools.

There is no sure cure for smallpox, and statistics show that one out of twenty people die, who contract diphtheria.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to express my appreciation for all the kindness that has been shown to me during the death of my husband, Sam Johnson, and during my recent illness in the hospital. Again, thank you for all your deeds and prayers.

Mrs. Jim Reece (Jayne Damron) Is Named Jaycee-Ette of Year

MRS. JAYNE REECE

Mrs. Jim Reece of Odessa was named recently as 'Outstanding Jaycee-Ette of Year'. Her husband is serving as Jaycee president. She is the former Jayne Damron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Damron of Muleshoe.

As second vice president, she worked a minimum of 208 hours on Jaycee-Ette activities and 272 hours on Jaycee relations, excluding conventions attended. Probably her most notable work during the year was organizing Jaycee manpower for the March of Dimes telethon drive, dismissing sleep for 30 hours to have a hand in the most successful of all MOD drives in Odessa.

As the wife of a pro-tem Jaycee president, she was hostess to visiting wives for the winter Tri-Regional held in Odessa.

Her public relations and coordination duties with Jaycee-Ettes included work on her uniform committee, serving the Woman's Forum as representative and also on the committee to entertain newcomers with tea; she was active on the poll tax drive, playhouse committee, heart fund and helped supply gifts to the Terminal Tri-County Foster Home for underprivileged children.

Mrs. Reece was a delegate to the State Jaycee-Ette Convention held in Houston and also attended the Lubbock board meeting.

Some of her many duties as second vice president were to work stuffing 534 stockings for the Boy's Club and also to aid with Christmas party for colored children.

She helped serve coffee to trap shooters at the annual Jaycee prize shoot, and was chairman of the Oberammergau Passion Play project.

As hospitality chairman she led such activities as a style show for wives of Jaycees; planned the Rimrock City ex-

"Enco" New Humble Trademark

Your Ad On This Page Costs Little Pays Big

Today Humble Oil & Refining Company unveiled its new Enco trademark to motorists of Texas and the Southwest. Announcement of the new brand name was made last week.

Enco comes from the company's slogan, "America's Leading Energy Company", adopted after the merger last year of domestic affiliates of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) into the new Humble Oil & Refining Company.

The new trademark will identify Humble gasolines, motor oils and other products throughout the West, Middle West, and Southwest, except in Texas, where Enco will also be used in the oval sign identifying service stations selling Humble products. In Texas, service stations will continue to be identified by an oval Humble sign.

By replacing 12 different brand names and four different service station identification signs established before the merger, Enco is expected to end a confusion of brand names among the company's customers as they travel from state to state.

Off the Runways

Doings At Muleshoe Airport
By MRS. NOAH KINSER

The J-3 is again ready for flying and student training after having been under repairs for the past few weeks.

Fred Boyd, A&P mechanic, repaired the wings, rudder, and the engine which were damaged when it flipped over in a field near West Camp during a forced landing.

The small plane, used primarily as a trainer plane, has been put through rigorous flight tests by Boyd, executing aerial maneuvers of all types and he reported that the plane performed perfectly in all phases of testing. An inspection of the craft was also made by authorized inspector from Clovis, N. M.

Boyd uncovered and almost completely rebuilt the left wing, replacing some ribs, the front spar and the wing tip bow. He removed the covering from the first three ribs of the right wing and spliced the front spar, then recovered the wings with new fabric and did the finishing work. The propeller and the windshield were replaced along with some of the engine parts. Repairs on the wing frames have to be done with extreme accuracy to maintain uniform weight and balance and the splices, when completed, appear to have been originally made that way. Covering of the wings is also quite a work of art. Fabric is cut and sewed to perfectly fit, then slipped over the wing frames. Spray guns are used to make the several applications of dope for the finishing of the wings.

Local people watched with interest the step by step procedure of the first major aircraft repair job to be done at the Muleshoe Flying Service.

Boyd trained at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical Institute in Miami before coming to Muleshoe in February.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Locker flew to Newton, Kansas Monday on business.

Mrs. Locker piloted the Comanche on the flight, flying by Omni with Locker instructing. Mrs. Locker is checking out in the plane and she, accompanied by their children will fly the Comanche to Florida this summer for a vacation at the resort home on Little Torch Key.

The Amphibian, the ideal plane for fishermen, has been checked over and is ready for trips to any points on land or water.

Mechanic Fred Boyd checked all mechanism of the plane and then the flight check was made by Morgan Locker Saturday.

Morgan Locker, Don Locker and Mr. and Mrs. Noah Kinsler took over the controls after the plane Sunday, flying around over the area.

From the Co-Pilot seat Don took over the controls after the plane was airborne and did a wonderful job of piloting. On returning to the airport, young Don lowered altitude and lined the plane up with the runway, then Locker took over the controls for the landing.

Don, a 3rd grader at Richland Hills School spends most of his spare time working at the airport. He flags field for spray planes, drives the pick-ups over the airport grounds on errands and taxi service and helps care for the planes.

Don is anxiously waiting for

MAKE YOUR KITCHEN MORE CONVENIENT

Does work in your kitchen tire you? If so, why not check your storage arrangement for equipment and supplies. Convenient storage can save you lots of time and energy.

Plan for the best use of space inside your kitchen cupboards. Here are suggestions offered by the specialist:

Get rid of (or store some other place) all utensils and supplies you are not using.

Store together the things you use together.

Store utensils, dishes, and supplies at places where you first use them.

Use the easy-to-reach and easy-to-see spaces for things you use most often.

Place utensils, dishes, cutlery and food supplies so that moving one to get another is not necessary.

Put only like kinds of things in front of each other on a shelf. Stack together only things of the same size and kind.

Plan to keep on the same shelf only things of about the same height.

Use your measuring stick, pencil and paper to fit storage space to things you store. Allow for clearance at the top and sides. One to two inches are needed at the top.

Make storage space easy to clean. Shelves and partitions should be removable and surfaces should be smooth.

Keep in mind that you will need storage space for future purchases.

Store mixing bowls, platters, plates and pans of different shapes singly on shelves and in drawers.

To see some of these storage ideas sketched and illustrated, get a copy of Extension Leaflet 348, "Arrange Your Kitchen For Convenience And Comfort," from my office.

LET'S MAKE A HAT

There are no startling style changes this year but the doll hat is the newest look. There is an indication of trend toward a more ladylike elegance in styles in the shops.

Silhouettes vary from tall crowned, rough textured straw cloches, broadbrimmed sailors, rolled Bretons, new looking sweepbrim cartwheels and profile framing rollers. The flipped up brim adds dash to some of the most exciting spring hats.

The brims can be of any size, the upturn at any point. Sailors also lead the way in fashion.

For dress occasions you will find hats made of flowers, laces, organdy, taffeta and straws of many kinds.

The hat best suited for you will be determined by your hair shape, your features (big bones or delicate bones?), your build and height and the costume you plan to wear with it.

Always check your overall silhouette in a full length mirror. Achieve the new younger look by wearing your hat set back at just the right place. The dates for the hat making workshop are May 24, 25, 26, 29, and 30. I have a supply of hat frames, straw, straw-cloth and flowers that are of fine quality and the prices are reduced to 1/2 and more. If you plan to be in the workshop be sure to see these supplies. They belong to Mrs. Marie Hamilton of Clayton, New Mexico who let me bring them here for your convenience.

Out of This World Kitchen

When it's mealtime in outer space here's where the crew of an American space vehicle could have it. This mockup of the Space Kitchen recently constructed by Whirlpool Corporation for the Aeronautical Systems Division, Air Force Systems Command, shows how all foods and beverages required by a three man crew on a fourteen day space mission could be stored and prepared.

Canned and dried foods will be stored in pull-down pivoted bunks, one of which is shown swung down for demonstration purposes. Bunkers run the entire length of the kitchen. Below bunks at far left with door open is the freezer. Door of freezer contains racks of bite-size sandwiches. Immediately above head of the make-believe spaceman is a three cavity heating oven. Canned foods are placed in oven, automatically heated to 170°F in approximately 30 minutes. Partially visible below oven is rack of feeding nipples. Nipples are attached to canned foods, then cans are attached to food expelling devices shown fastened in place in feeding tray located in front of the man. Would-be spaceman is reaching for polyethylene tube containing coffee.

To his right is the cold water nozzle for reconstituting liquids such as milk or fruit juice. Next to nozzle is water transfer pump. Stored within the interior of the refrigerator shown at far right are tubes of reconstituted liquids, sandwiches and canned foods which the astronaut has removed from freezer, placed in refrigerator to thaw. Below refrigerator is hot water nozzle, disposal areas for wet and dry waste. Although containing versions of most appliances found in American homes, the Whirlpool Space Kitchen weighs only 800 pounds, is 7 1/2 feet high, 10 feet long. Following delivery to the Air Force, the Space Kitchen will undergo extensive ground testing by Aerospace Medical Laboratory personnel at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio.

Bailey County Has 500

Business Eyes Trade Of Plus-65 People

NEW YORK, Apr. 25—Emerging as an important element in Bailey County's economy is the portion of its population.

This group, which has been growing steadily in number as well as in financial strength, now represents 5.5 percent of the local population.

As a result, it is becoming the sales target of merchants, manufacturers and others, who are making a deliberate effort to cater to its particular wants and, in the process, boost their own sales volumes.

A wide range of goods, designed especially for that age group, is now on the market.

In the Bailey County population, which was set at 9,090 in the recent census, were 500 people of 65 or over. This is based on data just released by the Census Bureau.

In 1950, when the previous tabulation was made, there were only 311 in that age group locally.

The rise, which amounts to 60.7 percent, was greater than that experienced in most sections of the United States, where it averaged 34.7 percent. In the State of Texas, it was 45.2 percent.

As a result of the rapid growth of this age group in Bailey County, the current ratio shows that one in every 18 local residents is 65 or over.

Nationally, there are now more than 16.5 million of these senior citizens, a dramatic increase from the 12.3 million that were counted in the previous census.

Although they have much less cash to spend than they had before graduating into the over-65 class, they have much more than the previous generation had at that age.

Their comparative well-being is due principally to private pension plans, social security payments, personal savings and investments and that most common and valuable asset of older persons—ownership of their own homes.

As to income from employment, only a fourth of them are in the labor force.

All in all, the Department of Commerce finds, the median income of American families of that age is $2,831 a year. Many families enjoy much more than this but an equal proportion fall below that figure.

Despite the modest buying power of the individual family, as a group they are now able to make their influence felt by weight of numbers.

Irrigation Results Affected By Skill of System Operator

Sprinkler Irrigation System on J. D. Cates farm eight miles west of Muleshoe.

Results obtained from irrigation are greatly affected by the skill of the operator of the irrigation system in determining when to irrigate and how much water to apply, and in operating the irrigation system to apply water efficiently. The design of the irrigation system sets the limit within which it will operate efficiently.

Irrigation water should be applied by the time it is needed, to prevent loss in crop production. However, usually irrigation should be delayed until there is sufficient storage capacity available in the soil to hold an amount of water that can be applied efficiently.

Usually it is desirable to have the soil reservoir filled to field capacity in the anticipated root zone depth prior to the time for planting a crop. This depth will vary from 3 to 6 feet for cotton and grain sorghums depending on the type of soil. This irrigation may be applied as late as just prior to planting, or as early as several weeks prior to planting. The amount of water to apply should be sufficient for the purpose of irrigation, with allowance for limitation imposed by the irrigation system. If the amount is too small, the purpose of the irrigation may not be accomplished. If the amount is too large, water is wasted and excessive leaching or crop damage may occur.

The operator of the irrigation system must know the available moisture capacity of the soil, be able to estimate the amount of soil moisture present at the time of irrigation, and obtain by difference the amount required to replenish soil moisture.

Most irrigations are made to replace moisture used by growing crops. Water should not be applied before there is sufficient storage space available in the soil to accommodate the application, but should be completed before a recession in plant growth occurs. Irrigation should be completed before the available moisture content drops below 40 per cent. Normal irrigation should be discontinued when the crop reaches the stage of maturity at which time no further vegetation growth is desired.

Blackwater Valley SCD Has Had Important Role Since '41

In 1941 landowners of Bailey Valley Soil Conservation District voted in the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District. This District is a legal subdivision of the State of Texas. The first board of supervisors was composed of E. L. Smith, N. C. Moore, D. V. St. Clair, W. L. Patton, and Mervin Wilterding.

The first District work plan was compiled in January 1942. Since that initial plan in 1942, the District has enjoyed a continuous growth in numbers of cooperators and in amounts of conservation practices applied. At present there are 869 district cooperators operating just over 372,000,000 acres, which represents 71% of total land in the district.

The present board is composed of Sherman Inman, Virgil Nowell, Dan Dorsey, E. N. McCall, and C. K. Corbell. These supervisors serve without salary. They are conscientious men carrying out an individual service to their fellow farmers. The Board provides needed equipment to cooperators, as well as plant materials. For the past several years, the board has published a booklet, each year giving a summary of its operations. The report is sent to each cooperator.

Others who have served on the Board in the past are B. H. Black, Jack Henderson, H. E. Schuster, P. M. Carmickle, W. R. Carter, and W. H. Eubanks.

Recirculating Pumps Salvaging Water

Many irrigators throughout the southern High Plains area are using recirculating pumps to salvage water that in the past was lost to roadway bar-ditches and dry lake beds.

There are many other irrigators, not using such a system, who could learn a lesson in economics from these men. The irrigation water that runs through the fields unused is not only water that cost money to pump and distribute to the fields, but also it cost money initially, as is reflected in the price of an irrigated farm compared to the price of a farm where no irrigation water can be developed.

If, then, irrigation water is valuable, who not use it to the best advantage so that the maximum amount of money is realized from every gallon produced.

Some irrigators seem to feel that the amount of water that runs from their fields is not sufficient quantity to worry about. In some cases, from an economic standpoint this may be true, but one Hookley County irrigator recently related a story to an official of the Water District that indicates a considerable amount of water is sometimes wasted.

Madison Newton, who farms east of Anton, installed a system with which he catches runoff water from his fields during the irrigation season and returns it to ditches at the top of the farm where it begins the trek back down thirsty crop rows. He still irrigates as he did before he put in the recirculating system. He states about the system, "I can irrigate for three days, cut off my wells, then irrigate only with 'tail water' for an additional day and a half". He says, "I just wear the water out by using it over and over again."

High Plains Water District that when landowners come to recognize the fact that underground water has a definite monetary value they will put a stop to the waste of this most precious of all natural resources.

For landowners to continue allowing underground water to be ditches and lakes is not good business. In fact, it's pure folly. Surely, our people are smart enough to figure out adequate methods of taking care of a bad situation, especially when it means so much to the area's economy.

Babson Discusses Unexpected Events

UNEXPECTED EVENTS

Babson Park, Mass., May 11. There have been eight important unexpected events since 1860 that have affected U.S. markets. The first was the election of Abraham Lincoln and the beginning of the Civil War. This caused a great break in all markets.

EIGHT SEVERE MARKET DECLINES

In addition to the above, let me describe the seven other severe market declines which have come from wholly unexpected events. (2) Directly following the Civil War there was a tremendous impetus given to railroad building, which resulted in great speculation. This collapsed in the 1870's. (3) Up until the 1890's politics had not affected business; but at this time William J. Bryan, probably the greatest orator America has seen, started a campaign to go off the gold basis and to use silver. This raised havoc with the stock market.

(4) After Bryan's complete defeat, the stock market became then relatively steady until the Spanish-American War suddenly came upon us in 1898, with the sinking of "The Maine" in Havana Harbor. This first caused a panic, after which the stock market began to pick up around 1900 when all went well. (5) Among the various financial moves favoring trusts and other investments was a proposed merger between the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific, and the Burlington Railroads. To the great surprise of everyone, the Supreme Court forbade this merger and trusts in general, resulting in another stock market decline. (6) Speculation again increased in the early 'twenties, reaching an all-time (to that date) stock market high in 1929 with the panic which many of my readers can remember. In a few years, however, this was largely forgotten when business and speculation revived. (7) Soon after that, we get into World War 2. This gave business a boost until the war came to a sudden end in 1945, after which it took us three or four years to readjust. All these events were unexpected at the times they occurred.

UNEXPECTED EVENTS WHICH MAY BE AHEAD OF US

Today the Government is providing many cushions which should protect us against a repetition of the foregoing unexpected events. I, however, wish to suggest a few new possibilities, with which readers may not agree, but which are possible: (1) Great Britain may go Communist. France certainly could go Communist at the death of DeGaulle. (2) There may be some unforeseen effect of all this space exploration and of the satellites now revolving in orbit around the world. These may slow the revolving of the world Scientists do not now understand why the world keeps revolving as it does; and any noticeable slowing up of this revolving could raise havoc with business, investments, and welfare. The recent severe winter may be succeeded by worse ones each year, with unexpected results. (3) The present turn for the worse in the Cuban situation has been a complete surprise to President Kennedy. We must both keep Russia out of Cuba and also avoid having any more Latin American countries go Communist. Unemployment can be retarded and business is supposed to be improving; but a sudden permanent turn to Communism by any Latin American country would be both unexpected and very serious.

(4) Every so often a great earthquake has taken place, usually in the ocean. Geologists tell me, however, that such an earthquake may some day take place and swallow up New York or some other large metropolitan city. Like the San Francisco earthquake, this would come wholly unexpectedly and possibly be followed by a great conflagration. (5) Geologists and chemists also tell me that a substitute for gold may be discovered at any time, a synthetic material made metal which could not be told from the gold now in Fort Knox. If so, other nations would also have the formula. (6) A great epidemic ravaging the United States and their countries is an unexpected possibility. (7) Finally, let me add two other possible unexpected events—namely WW3 with atomic weapons or total disarmament. Certainly, either of these would raise havoc with most of our investments. What should we do? Diversify, diversify,—and again I say, diversify.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dee and Art Stone Want To Come Home

Dear Editor
 The C. A. Stones (Dee, Art, and children) are thinking of "moving back home". As you will probably recall, Art had a small blacksmith and welding shop on East Third Street until a heart attack forced him to sell and look for less strenuous work for his livelihood. After due consideration, a small combination was purchased in Big Spring it has proven, however, to be very confining on a seven-day-a-week basis, and Art does so much "fretting" it is doubtful if his health is benefiting from this type work. They are disposing of the store and are looking forward to returning to their "old home town" providing they can locate suitable employment. Since the Stones are not in a position to check themselves, living out of town as they do, we (Dee's father and sister) check with the various firms to see if there was an opening which either Dee or Art could fill. Dee is an extremely good typist (she averages eighty-odd words per minute) and at the present time is taking refresh short-hand. She is presently employed by Goodyear as an "all-around girl"—she does the bookkeeping and general office work and also fills in as sales clerk. Here in Muleshoe, among other things, she was employed as cashier for a number of years by the Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association and as bookkeeper for the D. H. Sneed Supply Company.

Art has spent most of his years in the business world in either the farming industry or welding and blacksmithing. His heart condition is not considered serious but he does have to exercise some caution in his every-day life to avoid excessive strain. He could do most any type of work that a position might demand as long as heavy lifting and tugging were not constant factors. If you think you might have a position to offer either Art or Dee and would be interested in interviewing either, or both, of them, please call Joe D. Vaughn (Office Phone 3-3770, Residence Phone 3-9898) or Goldie Roberts (Office Phone 2170, Residence Phone 3-9891). We shall be glad to contact the Stones and arrange for the interview. We shall certainly appreciate any efforts on your part.

LIKES CHURCH POSTER

The Editor of the Muleshoe Journal: The undersigned and congregation wish to thank the benefactors who have published the poster listing the churches and hours of services for the city of Muleshoe. This helpful poster came to my attention in West's Cafe here in Muleshoe. We also wish to thank the proprietor of West's Cafe for posting this valuable information for the general public, and we feel very fortunate to have our Immaculate Conception parish listed.

Soil Stewardship Week

Soil Stewardship Week, observed annually and sponsored by the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts in cooperation with church groups, is scheduled for May 7-14. The observance is aimed primarily at pointing up the importance of good soil stewardship to the economic well-being of the United States today and in the future.

Commenting last week on the observance, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said, "Soil stewardship, as applied to passing our productive land on to future generations in as good or better condition than we received it, cannot be over-emphasized when one is aware of the demands from home and abroad that will be placed on our land in the future. As we think of President Kennedy's Food for Peace program, relief for distressed areas in our

LIQUID FERTILIZER
 DIVISION OF GOODPASTURE GRAIN & MILLING CO., INC.

MARVIN GREEN... Muleshoe county farmer... had this to say about Solutions: "I really gave Liquid Fertilizers a test last year. After all the heavy rains we had, I went back and side-dressed my cotton with Liquids. I saw a big increase in production in comparison to what some of the other county farmers gathered who didn't use another application of fertilizer."

This is Green's second year to use Solutions. He uses the tool-bar mounted applicator-cultivator with front-mounted saddle-type barrels. With this type rig—Green added: "I was able to apply 50 acres or more per day of fertilizer. And another thing, I have never been able to get the results from other types of fertilizers that I have received from Liquid... with the saving in labor expense, plus the low initial cost of SOLUTIONS, I don't know why everyone doesn't use Liquid Fertilizers."

Money Order, Special Delivery Fees Hiked Effective July 1

Proposed increases in money order and special delivery fees starting July 1, 1961, were announced today by Postmaster General J. Edward Day. No changes in special delivery fees for first class mail are planned.

These proposed changes can be put into effect by Postmaster General Day under his existing administrative authority. Similar action was taken recently to adjust postal rates for mail going to foreign countries.

Money orders up to $5 and 50 dollars will be increased by 5c. The new money order schedule will combine the present 15c and 20c fee brackets into one at 20c. It also splits the present 30c bracket at the $50 level, raising to 35c the fee for denominations up to $100. These changes will affect over 100 million money order transactions. Based on this volume, new revenues would total about $5 million.

The Postmaster General is also requesting the Congress to take legislative action with regard to first, second and third class mail to eliminate the revenue deficiency gap of $641 million.

Babe Ruth League Has Four Teams

The Babe Ruth League Board wishes to take this means of thanking Muleshoe Journal, Radio Station KMUL, the high school principal, H. W. Callan, and junior high school principal, R. E. Everett for publicizing the call for boys to join the Babe Ruth League Teams. Through your help, we were able to get more than enough boys to fill the Rosters of four teams and all of this was done in a very short time.

We also want to thank our County Commissioner, the City Council, and the city manager and George Washington in behalf of their efforts to get the Babe Ruth League field in shape and to keep it running through out the coming season.

All teams are now practicing and our season will open in the very near future. A formal date will be announced later.

AVERAGE IS 93.769

Mary Ann Greene, valedictorian of Muleshoe's graduation class this year, did not have quite the average The Journal gave her last week, but she did finish the four years with a fine average of 93.769. Inadvertently we wrote the average 97.69 so you can see what the typesetting machine can do to you when a 3 fails to fall.

Each one carried a paper sack lunch and enjoyed the outing.

40 Miles Terraces This Year

un-terraced, but extra time will be offset by increased production. Terraces are constructed wide enough so they can be worked.

S. M. Ethridge, east of Coyote Lake and I. L. Kitchens in the Longview community had terraces constructed this year. Their terraces were built with a motor grader. Dr. Green's farm, west of Coyote Lake, E. N. Darsey of Longview community, S. H. Russell near Bula, and E. D. Jackson west of Stegall, all had terraces built this year with elevating terracer.

Motor grader terraces were also built on the Dickey farm east of Needmore. Prior to building these terraces, the remains of some old terraces were leveled.

The terraces were built with GPCP or ACP assistance which pay 70 per cent of the average cost of construction. With assistance available, it costs a farmer very little to have a complete terrace system on his farm.

In order to eliminate point rows on the Elmer East farms west of Bailyboro, small grains are planted on the terraces and in "odd areas" between terraces.

Over forty miles of terraces have been built in the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District this year. These terraces will benefit farmers by helping to prevent erosion and by preserving the water that falls on the land. Working terraced land does that a little more time than

LIQUID BEAUTY AIDS MAY HARM FABRICS

Permanent wave solution, perfumes, colognes, deodorants and nail polish often contain substances which are harmful to fabric.

Stains from some permanent wave solutions, rinses and tints are almost impossible to remove when the garment is sent to be laundered.

Perfumes and colognes lose some of their enchantment when they've caused spots. These liquids should never be applied directly to clothing. The alcohol content tends to bleed some dyes and stains are easily formed.

Many liquid deodorants which are quite acid in nature are likely to disintegrate fabrics with which they come in direct contact. Cotton, linen and rayon are especially susceptible to acid deterioration. To minimize or prevent this type of damage, follow carefully the directions for use which appear on the containers, or use only deodorants that are harmless to fabrics. A number of deodorants bear the Certified Washable Seal, indicating that the product is harmless to fabrics.

Since stains have a tendency to "set" the longer they stay on fabrics, the harder they are to remove. Textile experts advise that most ordinary stains should be rinsed at once with cool or warm water. New synthetic fabrics and their reaction make stain removal risky. Unknown stains and those which have been set over a period of time should be left for the commercial laundry man, who is an expert in textile maintenance.

Several types of specialized equipment are available to farmers and ranchers in this area. The equipment is made available as one of the many services of the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District. The district members and supervisors felt that they could be of assistance and aid conservation by having for farmers, some of the more specialized tools that ordinarily would not be found on the average farm, land floats, grass drills, legume seeders and fertilizer spreaders are a few of the specialized tools. In addition to these are soil movers, stubble-mulch sweeps, power sprayer, brilliant seeder, cyclone seeder, and farm levels.

These tools are located at the Vocational Agriculture Building of Muleshoe, Bula, and Three Way High Schools.

A very interesting program on "Problems in Dry Cleaning" was given last Wednesday in the District Courtroom. Woody Lambert, Charles Alsup and Howard Elliot of the three dry cleaning plants presented the program. After the program the group made a tour through the Lambert Cleaning plant and learned of its operation.

WORK SMARTER NOT HARDER

Doing a job in less time does not mean working harder or faster to get it done, but leaving out unnecessary motions and trips.

To learn to shorten the hours requires interest and effort on your part. Observe your body motions, your trips in doing a job and make a plan to make better use of body positions and movements. By "seeing" a job through from its beginning to end you will see where details can be omitted and many jobs can be combined.

Work areas and equipment well chosen, arranged and used reduce energy and time spent on jobs are your work areas conveniently arranged?

A sure way to make your work easier and faster is to organize work centers arrange everything within easy reach, use the best tool for the job, keep a comfortable position, wear comfortable clothing and take a rest break at intervals to keep up energy and morale.

Crow's Corner

June 1 is almost upon us and while many people have obtained their thirty gallon trash cans, I've noticed that quite a few people have not. It will help smooth out a very difficult transition period for everyone if we can all have our new trash containers by the first of June. We've had quite a few questions over what kind of containers to buy. The Ordinance calls for not over 30 gal. covered containers and each family should have enough containers for twice a week collection. Just a suggestion but if you can tie your lids to something substantial and fix up a rack for the cans. It will save lots of headaches in bent or turned over containers.

The City Council had a very productive meeting last Friday. Alex Williams and Carrol Pouncey met with the members and presented a very persuasive argument on the need for an additional City Park together with a possible solution. I'll report more on this as additional work is done.

The council voted to instruct the City Engineer, Ralph Douglas, to prepare plans and specifications and to advertise for bids on the 1961 Seal Coat Program for the City Streets. Approximately 20 per cent of the city streets will be sealed and much of the damage of the very destructive winter corrected. The council also voted to set aside Thursday, May 18 to look at heavy equipment as demonstrated by various dealers in the Area. Of special interest are a four wheel drive loader or track loader and a street sweeper. Any local dealers wishing to participate in the demonstration are urged to do so and may make all necessary arrangements through the City Manager's office.

I am happy to announce three promotions on the City Staff this past week. W. E. (Wendy) Young has been promoted to Director of Public Works, Elmo Owens to Street Superintendent and L. M. Bell to Water Superintendent. Elmo and L. M. have been showing a willingness these past few months to take responsibility and get the job done and Wendy had recommended to Arch that the promotions be made. Arch and the council did him one better—they went along with the promotions and gave Wendy one too. Congratulations.

As you know, I have been out of town visiting for a little over a week and Horace Blackburn signed this column then. The comments on courtesy—Courtesy is Contagious—are worth thinking about. How many automobile accidents could be avoided—how many arguments would never get started if we would all be a little more courteous. As stated previously, the next time you are tempted to show your rights forcefully, try a little courtesy instead. See if it isn't contagious.

Read Ephesians 3:14-19.

I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named.

(Ephesians 3:14, 15.)

One day I heard of a school teacher where the children were extremely unruly. The teacher was at her wits' end as to how she might bring a semblance of order out of the chaos. Suddenly, a child's clear voice rose above the hub-bub: "Is this the way for a Christian family to act?"

The other children were taken by surprise. They looked wonderingly at the small girl who asked a question she had no doubt heard at home. They stopped their quarrels, their giggling, their teasing.

They began to conduct themselves in a different manner because of this child whose family worshiped together in the home every day. This girl had parents who read the Bible and prayed. The child had an altar at her mother's knee.

Waterways Are Being Seeded

M. C. Street, west of Enochs, has just completed earth work on a waterway on his farm. This waterway carries outside water through his farm to a diversion terrace in his pasture. Mr. Street plans to sod this to Bermuda grass and use irrigation to get the grass started. This waterway was designed to carry water at a rate that will not gully.

A waterway has been seeded on the Clyde and Loy Huff farm north of Maple. A diversion is planned that will pick up outside water now crossing cropland and carry it to the waterway, then into a lake. This waterway was seeded to Bluegrass.

Leon Jones, east of Stegall, is planning a waterway as a joint project with Elmer East. This will provide a route for water now going down turn rows.

Cotton Fertilizer Tests Show Role of Amount and Placement

"The 1960 cotton fertilizer tests at the High Plains Research Foundation disclosed the importance of proper amounts and placements of phosphate fertilizer," Delbert Langford, Associate Agronomist, remarked as he released the reports this week.

"Placing phosphate in bands of 3 inches to 10 inches from the seed and 2 to 3 inches deeper than the seed, produced the best results in the fertilizer placement tests with yields of 1011 to 1016 pounds of lint per acre compared with 928 pounds with no fertilizer." Several methods of placement were compared in the test.

"Eighty to one hundred, twenty pounds of phosphate combined with 40, 80, and 120 pounds of nitrogen produced significant increases over no fertilizer. The low rate of application of 40 pounds of phosphate per acre did not prove profitable with any rate of nitrogen. Phosphate applied without nitrogen was not profitable. This has been true in four years of experimentation at Halfway.

Cotton that was planted in May had to be replanted on June 16, 1960 due to wet weather blight and seedling disease. The highest yield under these circumstances was obtained from an application of 40 pounds of nitrogen and 120 pounds of phosphate. In a long-hot rolls, fried chicken, cream potatoes, green beans, tossed salad, iced tea, and cherry cobbler. The group enjoyed games until late in the evening. Ther on Vaughn was master of ceremonies.

There is another bill, HB 129 reported out favorably from the Senate State Affairs Committee, that, if passed will extend the time for filing to one year, instead of the present six months. Crop Residue Use

The use of a chisel type implement such as that pictured above greatly reduces the loss of crop residues, keeping it on the surface, and provides tillage for erosion protection.

A good cover which remains after harvest of high residue producing crops serves as an excellent buffer against wind erosion.

The use of our crop residues is a very important part of good conservation management. By leaving the residues of high residue producing crops, such as grain sorghum and small grains on the surface of the land during the critical part of the blow season which is usually winter and spring we can greatly reduce the wind erosion hazard. The crop residues left on the surface also tend to catch and hold winter moisture as well as protect against wind erosion. Residues on the surface also reduce evaporation losses. If it becomes necessary to use tillage on land with high residues remaining, then the use of a chisel type implement to perform this tillage will aid in not destroying the residues and keep them on the surface. Texture of the surface soil will influence the amount of residues required to prevent erosion. The more sandy soil surfaces require larger amounts of residues in order to control wind erosion than do the tighter soils.

Crop residues not only protect the land against erosion, but are also a good source of organic matter. These residues, as they decompose, aid in improving soil condition and tilth. Many of the high residue producing crops will produce as much as two tons per acre of residues, which are added back to the soil each year. Let's be ever mindful of the value of these residues and manage them so as to get the most beneficial results.

Social Security Man Here May 18
 "One question we hear a lot", says John G. Hutton, District Manager of the Lubbock Social Security Office "is how much social security credit is needed for people to qualify for old-age or survivors benefits." Today, this newspaper offered Mr. Hutton the opportunity to give the answer.
 Mr. Hutton not only gave us the answer, but it's news. The Social Security act was changed in 1950, and the amount of work covered by the program needed by workers now reaching or past retirement age, or who have died, is less than it was. Under the old law, the worker needed social security credit equal to one year of work for each two years after 1950 and before he died or reached retirement age.
 The new law, however, specifies that this worker now needs social security credit equal to only one year for each three years after 1950 and up to the year he reaches retirement age or dies. Under both the old and the new law, the social security credit needed can be earned anytime after 1936—no one need credit for more than 10 years work, and a minimum of a year and a half work under Social Security is always required. Because of the new law, many people who have had their claims for old age or survivor benefits rejected because of lack of sufficient work credit may now be eligible. For instance, all workers who reached retirement age (65 for men and 62 for women) before 1950 need credit for only 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ years of work under social security to be eligible. Under the old law only people who reached retirement age before July, 1950 could qualify with credit for only 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ years of work. Mr. Hutton urged people who have had an application for benefits turned down, or who have failed to apply or report because of insufficient social security credit, to get in touch again with the social security office. They may now be eligible for benefits. A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Muleshoe on Thursday, May 18 in the County Courthouse at 9:30 a.m. and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to social security.
