Hail Loss Total Staggering

Hundreds of homes were heavily damaged in Saturday's hail storm, which also damaged a large number of automobiles and wiped out thousands of acres of young crops.

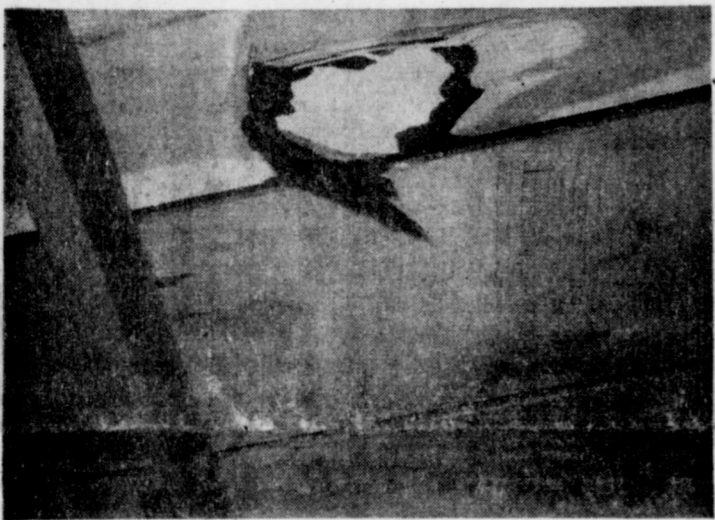

Every available adjuster has been in the area since that time and they still have lots of work to do. Staffs at Muleshoe insurance agencies have had their hands full filling out claims and accompanying adjusters.

Hail stones ranging in size up to 14 inches circumference devastated an area northeast of Muleshoe and around the West Camp. Progress Lariat area. Accompanying this storm are two pictures showing what happened at the Jinks Meyers farm, 7 1/2 miles northwest of town.

These big stones broke through roofs, broke out window lights. Strangely, more homes were damaged on farms than in the city where mostly small stones fell, but an occasional oversize stone fell in Muleshoe. Only a light rain fell in the city, elsewhere there was a heavy precipitation.

Damage was so widespread that the full story of the loss can never be told. This storm, likely the most devastating in the history of this area, was a real shocker.

Near Y. L. a woman was stuck on the head by a huge stone. Six stitches were required to close the wound. A Mexican worker on the same farm also was struck on the head by a stone and 20 stitches were needed to close his wound.

MUST HAVE BEEN a sizeable chunk of ice that knocked this hole in the roof and attic decking in the Jinks Meyers home, 7 1/2 miles northwest of Muleshoe during the hail storm Saturday afternoon.

Jinks pitched his cap on the ground near a big crater made by another big slug of ice. These must have been like the fish that got away — bigger than the 14 inch in circumference that got measured. —Photo by Mrs. Meyers

City Seal Coating

Contract Awarded

Centex Paving Company was awarded the contract for the 1961 seal-coat program for the city's streets on their low bid when the City Council met Tuesday. This is the same firm which recently was awarded the contract for repairing paved farm to market roads in district 1-A.

The Council has adopted a program of sealing most streets at least once every five years. In other action the council purchased a new street sweeper from Plains Machinery Co. on their bid for a Mobil Sweeper. City officials said an advantage of this machine is that parts for the chassis can be obtained locally, which will save time and money on repairs.

The Council also agreed to an amendment to the nuisance ordinance which would provide for a council hearing for any person who feels that he has a complaint against the operation of the ordinance.

Rep. Osborn Is Back Home

Representative and Mrs. Jesse Osborn, of Muleshoe are back home after a long set-to in the Texas Legislature, which ended the regular session without accomplishing very much of what they had hoped to do.

Mr. Osborn is not too optimistic about the possibility that the special session, called by the Governor to convene July 10 to work out a new tax law, will come to any agreement, either on the sales tax, favored by many of the Legislators, or any alternate plan proposed by the Governor. He feels that most people in the Plains area, realizing money must be raised to carry out obligations of the state, would go along with the sales tax, even though reluctantly. So far the Governor has limited the special session to the tax issue.

The local legislator had just finished a tour of the south half of the county when The Journal man caught him for a short talk. He was "shook up" by the poor crop conditions that he saw, saying that drought in some areas is adding to the adverse conditions that rain, hail, and wind have brought about.

We hope to have more from Mr. Osborn in a future issue. The Muleshoe representative is always ready to discuss state and district affairs with any one who is interested.

Ferguson, Hughes Springs, Texas; one nephew and four nieces. Only one relative was able to attend the services, a cousin Mrs. S. C. Massengill, Electra, Texas.

He was 77 years of age January 17. He had been in ill health since 1955, having suffered a stroke November 6 of that year.

He had been bedfast and helpless since April 1. He entered West Plains Hospital at Muleshoe, April 25 and was a patient there at the time of his passing, Monday, June 5, at 12:55 p.m.

Pallbearers were Emil Birkelbach, Edwin Coffman, Tom Mc Kinnon, M. T. Emanuel, Fred Lichte and Curtis Christolm. Honorary pallbearers were Earl Hobbs, Otho Key, Arthur Billingsley, and M. J. Wilson of Lubbock; Roy McQuatters, Frank Lehman, Charles Heathman, L. L. Dunn, Judge E. A. Bills, A. E. Mann, C. O. Stone.

Clyde Hilban, Ellis Foust, W. H. Cunningham, Walter Martin, Troy Armes, W. E. Heathman, Stilwell Russell, Jack Farr, H. C. Roberson of Littlefield;

Roland Gibson, Troy Page, Judge C. H. Tate, Byron Griffiths, Arch Fowler, Jeff Peeler, Clinton Kennedy, Verney Towns, Sherman Inman, Myron Pool, Eddie Lane, Dr. B. O. McDaniell, and Dr. W. F. Birdsong, all of Muleshoe.

An election will be called by the City of Muleshoe to determine whether the city shall issue $36,000 in water and sewer revenue bonds and $85,000 in tax bonds to defray cost of a water, sewer and drainage capital improvements program.

Tentative date for the election is July 12 but official notice of the date will be continued in an election notice to be issued soon.

The Council proposes to use $145,000 to retire old revenue bonds on the sewer and water system, with the $366,000 bond issue, saving some $10,000 in interest. The balance of $221,000 would be used for improvements and additions to the water and sewer system, these bonds to be retired with water and sewer revenues.

The $85,000 bond issue would be used for drainage purposes, storm, sewers, etc.

Officials agreed that the present sewer system is greatly overloaded and further extensions are just about impossible. The overload could be relieved by enlarging trunk lines.

Increases in water connection will inevitably lead to dangerously low water pressure. And the officials said additional paved streets will increase flooding on Muleshoe streets.

The bond issue proposals will be explained more fully in issue of The Journal between now and election day.

LOGGING SILT A PROBLEM

Water Recharging Only Partial Success

Rainfall runoff that collects in wet-weather lakes is the only known economic source of surface water for use in replenishing the ground-water supply in the southern High Plains of Texas.

Attempts have been made for many years, by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District and others, to reclaim a part of this runoff water by draining it through wells into the fresh-water bearing underground formation. These attempts have been only partly successful. Complete success has been deterred primarily due to clogging of the water-bearing sand.

The recharge well, usually a normal production well with minor modifications, clogs and eventually will neither take recharge water nor give up production water. The clogging results as the lake water, laden with suspended solid particles of silt and clay, drains into the underground formation through the well. The formation acts as a filter and extracts the solids from the lake water. Over a period of time, the formation adjacent to the recharge well filters out such a tremendous amount of silt and clay that it ceases to function in the efficient manner necessary to recharge an appreciable quantity of lake water.

In an effort to overcome this problem, it was suggested that perhaps an irrigation pump should be installed in the recharge well and pumped at intervals to recover the particles causing the clogging. This helped to prolong the useful life of the recharge well.

Tests have shown that not all the solids drained into the well during recharge can ever be pumped back out that same well. It can, therefore, be assumed that even a well that apparently functions trouble-free will in time become inefficient. The High Plains Water District has recently installed a combination recharge well and filter system near the Allmon Gin in southwest Floyd County, Texas.

This project is an experiment to determine whether the major portion of silt and clay can economically be filtered from the lake water before using it for recharge.

The filter system consists of 500 feet of 16-inch steel shutter screen laid horizontally in a ditch cut in the lake bed, and backfilled with pea gravel.

When the lake fills with runoff water the gravel-covered pipeline will be submerged. The lake water will filter through the gravel into the shutter screen and ultimately drain by gravity into the recharge well.

According to the High Plains Water District, the question to appreciate to the trouble-free clay from the lake water to add filter extract enough silt and life of the recharge system an still allow a sufficient quantity of water for recharge.

SPRAYING FOR THRIPS ADVISED

Insects Adding To Cottons's Woes In Bailey County, Report

Blowing sand, wind, hail, seedling disease, and thrips have caused extensive damage to young cotton in the area, report Extension Service personnel. Billy C. Gunter, Extension Area Agronomist, states "For maximum cotton yields, healthy seedlings are essential. Seedlings stunted by wind, sand, hail, disease and insects require days and even weeks to recover; taking valuable time from our short growing season."

Thrips control, when needed, will mean continued rapid growth and maturity of cotton necessary to produce maximum yields in Bailey County, J. K. Adams added. Adams also stated, that May cotton severely injured by thrips is often surpassed by June plantings; thus losing the advantage of early cotton. With threats of hail appearing daily on the Bailey county horizon, it is difficult for some farmers to decide that it is wise to spray. It is just as reasonable to leave seed in the barn and not replant when replanting is necessary. This our farmers never do. When it is time to spray, follow directions in the Extension Service "High Plains" Cotton Insect Guide and spray.

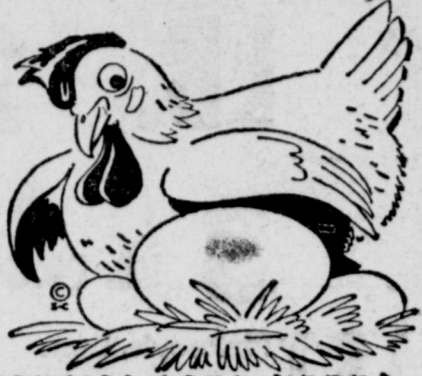

Muleshoe Golfer Leads Tourney

AUSTIN — University of Texas standout golfer Terry Dill of Muleshoe blazed over the Austin Country Club course with a new course competitive record five-under-par 65 Wednesday to lead championship flight qualifiers for the Texas state amateur golf tournament. Dill's 65 broke the old competitive course record of 66 set by Ray Stoker of Baylor University, John Paul Cain of Lubbock and George McCall of Austin in Labor Day tournaments of past years in Austin.

During his high school days here, Terry was hot as a bandit's pistol on the country club links here and in golf tourneys over the Plains country.

How To Install and Operate A Recharge Well

by James C. Valliant
High Plains Research Station
 There are 37,000 playalakes on the High Plains but only 170 recharge wells are reported to be in operation. Many of these recharge wells have been reported as failures.

Cave-ins, air locking of the pump and reduced pumping of the well due to clogging of the underground sands are the most common reasons for recharge well failure. All three can be prevented by the proper installation and operation of a recharge well.

Installation
 Four things are very necessary in the installation of a recharge well if it is to function properly. These are: (1) a concrete packer around the top 30 feet of casing, (2) perforate the casing beginning at the static water level, (3) install a vent pipe through the concrete packer and (4) the installation of an intake control valve.

Some recharge wells are ruined by surface cave-ins. These are caused by water seeping in around the base of the pump and recharging outside the casing. If this recharging outside the casing continues, the seepage channel enlarges and finally causes the well to cave in. Recharging faster than the sands can absorb water results in water rising too close to the surface and this contributes to cave-ins. A concrete packer 30 to 35 feet deep and approximately six to eight inches thick around the top of the casing will prevent surface seepage and washing from beneath and reduce the danger of cave-ins. The well should be drilled with the top 30 to 35 feet approximately 12 inches greater in diameter than the casing. This spacing is to allow for six inches of concrete outside the casing.

Many recharge wells will not pump and recharge at the same time. This is caused by an "air-lock" in the pump. Air is carried down with the recharge water and cannot escape. Since the casing perforations are usually at the same level or below the pump, the air is held inside the casing. When the pump is started this trapped air causes an "air-lock" which prevents or reduces pumping of water. Excessive wear results, if the pump is operated under such conditions.

To prevent this "air-lock" the casing should be perforated beginning at the static water level so the air which is carried down can escape outside the casing above the pump pipe. A vent pipe must be provided to permit the air to come to the ground surface and out into the atmosphere.

Teachers Selected For Denver Program

Mrs. Fred White, a business teacher at Muleshoe High School for the past three years, has been selected to participate in the Denver University's National Office Managers' Association's Teacher Work-Experience program during the 1961 Summer Session. Under the program, business teachers are placed in office positions for the 9-week session. For their services, teachers are paid a salary commensurate with their skill and experience as any other worker. The employed teachers work out three projects pertaining to the type of work they are doing for which they receive two semester hours of graduate credit.

Mrs. White has been assigned to Western Federal Savings and Loan Association in Denver. Mrs. White states that the program is designed to enrich the background of the business teacher.

Mrs. White completed a Master of Teaching degree in Business Education at Southwestern State College, Weatherford, Oklahoma just before coming to Muleshoe High School.

Other teachers selected from Texas are Alece Carwile, Ft. Worth and Claudia Overland, Galveston.

The 25-year-old soldier is a 1955 graduate of San Diego Vocational High School and attended San Diego State College.

Parmer Co. Farm Bureau News

It appears that the bill extending time for claiming refunds on non-highway used gasolines will become law. The extension will be from six months to one year and will simplify the forms necessary for claims. It is hoped that the time will be the same time as the federal refund time for further simplification.

Farm Bureau has been promoting this change for several years. It also eliminates the need for notary on such claims.

This vent pipe should be two to three inches in diameter and placed in the concrete packer when it is poured. It should extend at least one foot below the packer and a few inches above the top. The vent pipe should be placed so it will not interfere with the pump base and be provided with a cover to keep out dirt and trash.

Operation
 The greatest hazard in recharging is clogging of the underground formation so that the well will neither pump nor recharge water.

Pumping the well one to two hours during each 24 hour recharge period has prevented clogging. This pumping removes a large percent of the sediment which is carried into the well. Surging (stopping the pump to permit the column of water in the pump to drop back into the well) every 15 minutes stirs the sediment and keeps it in suspension. This results in more sediment being removed during pumping. Where this pumping and surging procedure has been followed, there has been no reduction in pumping or recharge rates over a three-year period.

Controlling the recharge rate will also help to prevent clogging of the underground formation. If the recharge rate is lower than the pumping rate, the sediment will remain closer to the casing. As a result, more sediment will be recovered during the daily pumping procedure.

A valve should be installed in the intake line between the well and the lake so that the rate of recharge can be controlled at all times.

Developing the well to remove mud and drillings will insure the formation is free of this material and prevent the sediment in the recharge water from stacking up against any such material in the immediate vicinity of the casing. This will also speed up water movement in the formation and make the sediment in the recharge water easier to reclaim.

Chlorinating or sanitizing the well is recommended. This will prevent bacterial growths and control contamination. Pure chlorine or chlorine producing substances can be used for this purpose.

In a true luxury compact... BUCKET SEATS ARE JUST THE BEGINNING!

THE BUCKET SEATS in Futura—individually contoured and thickly foam-padded—were created by the men who designed the Thunderbird's fabulous interior. No luxury compact ever got off to a better start than this!

A HANDY CONSOLE is another Futura feature. Positioned right at your finger tips between the front seats... for convenient storage of gloves, maps, sunglasses, etc. (Only Futura in its price class offers you this!)

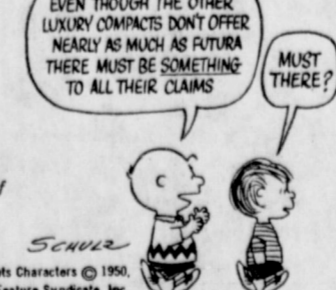

ROOM FOR 3 IN THE BACK SEAT of the Futura (as in every Falcon)... and what room! Futura gives its passengers the luxury of thick wall-to-wall carpeting, the comfort of thick foam padding in the spacious rear seat... surrounds them with rich appointments, glowing colors and gleaming trim.

A VACATION-SIZE TRUNK, TOO, with room for all your luggage. Because of this, you don't have to choose between carrying passengers or luggage in the back seat (as you do in some other luxury compacts!)

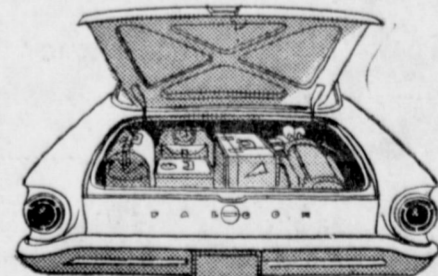

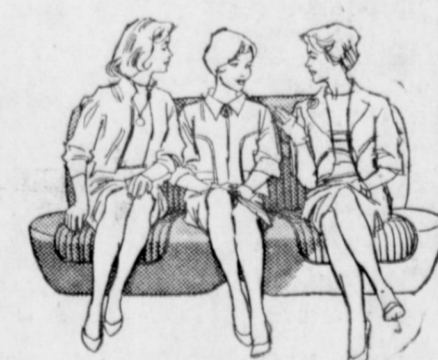

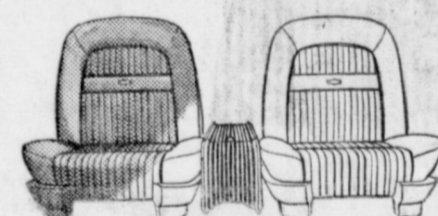

FALCON SIX ECONOMY is yours, too, in the Futura... the kind of economy that was proved when a Falcon with standard shift got 32.6 mpg under the cross-country test conditions of the 1961 Mobilgas Economy Run. Drivers of all cars in the Run were experts, but Falcon topped them all with the best gas mileage ever recorded by a "6" or "8" in the Run's 25-year history!

P. S. The new Falcon Futura—America's lowest-priced luxury compact*—is at your Ford Dealer's now. Shouldn't you be there too?

BABSON DISCUSSES

Electric Utility Securities

Babson Park, Mass., June 8. At one time electric light and power stocks were as popular as electronic stocks are today. The favorite was Electric Bond & Share, which shot way up in the stock-market boom of the 1920's and then plummeted down to practically nothing. There were so many similar cases that had Congress pass legislation to President Franklin Roosevelt take the "water" out of these stocks and dissolve electric utility holding companies.

WHY SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION
 It was at this time that the Securities & Exchange Commission was formed, with President Kennedy's father as Chairman. And it was as a result of this Bond & Share dropped almost out of sight! In fact, instead of a "stock dividend" there was a "reverse split" which forced stock owners' shareholdings virtually out of existence. I fear that the present exaggerated craze over "electronics" may later run into similar troubles for some of the companies.

Electric light and power stocks have since become both safe and popular. This has been due to the growth in population and also to the numerous new uses for electricity in every home, store, and factory. Furthermore, such public plants as the Tennessee Valley Authority's and the semi-publicly owned plants of the Northwest have served to keep rates from becoming too high and hence retarding growth. Electric rates are the lowest in history and consumption per family has increased 8 times. I believe that much more growth is ahead with the greatly expanded use of electricity for heating and air conditioning.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS AND PREFERRED
 The safest electric utility securities for the small or large investor to buy today are the

ELECTRIC UTILITY COMMON STOCKS
 If you are young and patient, the best investment may be in the common stock of your electric power company. This has no fixed or cumulative dividend; but you are entitled to all the earnings (less proper reserves) after the fixed interest is paid on the bonds and the accumulated interest is paid on the preferred stock. Such common stocks are "growth" stocks. They do not yield much income when you buy them; but the income should increase every year with the growth of the population and the prosperity of the country.

There is an exception to all rules, and it may now be too early to sell and take your profits on electronic stocks and re-invest in electric power stocks. Much depends upon the international situation. The chief present customer of the electronic companies is the U. S. Government. Electronic devices are an important part of every missile, and hence of our defense expenditures. But this wild spending race cannot continue forever. Either some form of international disarmament must come about, or else World War 3 will come. Although there would develop thousands of new uses for electronics under a peace regime; yet in the meantime there could be a terrific drop in many now popular electronic stocks.

Today's Meditation

Read John 5:31-39
 Blessed is he that readeth, and they that bear the words of this prophecy, and keep these things which are written here: for the time is at hand. (Revelation 1:3.)

During the past two years in my nursing field, I have been through many temptations and hardships. It was so great a burden on me that I almost forgot there was a God. Suddenly, a change came to my mind; instead of studying my lessons one rainy night, I took my Bible and opened it to the book of Revelation. After reading that part of the Bible, I was frightened because I had forgotten God's book which is meant to be everybody's guide.

Accepting the Lord as my Savior and reading the Bible as my guide-book, I have now become very happy. Many changes have come into my life since then. I have overcome the many temptations that confronted me. The Bible is the key to all my doings. My advice is to believe in Jesus and read the Bible every day.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER: Says Efficiency Not Answer For Small Farms or Big Cities

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses efficiency this week, but we can't say with how much success.

Dear editor:
 I realize that while whole countries are disappearing these days, worrying over the disappearance of the so-called family-type farm seems like a waste of time if not a misapplication of thought, but according to an article I read in a newspaper last night, a lot of people are concerned about this matter. But I'm not as interested in the actual disappearance of the small farm as I am in what these people think will bring it about.

According to them, inefficiency is the cause. The small farmer has got to get more efficient if he expects to stay on his farm, they argue.

I don't know about this. In my own case, I don't expect to get any more efficient, and I don't expect to move off this Johnson grass farm. People confuse efficiency with bigness. To me, a four-row cultivator is something you can work your land with in half the time it took with a two-row outfit, but to other people it's something you can work twice as much land with in the same long hours.

Efficiency can be overdone. For example, in this same newspaper I was reading last night I noticed that a contest was held in New York the other day to see which was the fastest way to get across midtown Manhattan. The results showed you can cross this center of American culture and efficiency about as fast in a horse and buggy as you can in a car, and even on foot you won't be far behind.

Efficiency has produced automobiles in such numbers they're becoming useless in big cities, and cities themselves have become so efficient they're unmanageable.

and earthly things, may our worship of Thee have more vitality and our lives encourage others to follow Thee. Lead everybody to read the Bible and spread the good tidings. For Christ's sake, Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
 The Bible is my chart in the voyage of life, and Christ the captain of my soul.

Airplanes have become so efficient and numerous they have to circle around an airport an hour to find a place to land.

Government has become so efficient the tax payers can't afford it.

It was efficiency that produced a bomb that'll kill a hundred thousand times more people than the cannon ball.

The way it looks to me, inefficiency is the hope of mankind and the small farm is the last refuge of this style of operating. The last thing the world should be doing is coming out here and telling me how to get more efficient. In my case, it might not matter, but some farmers might listen.

Yours faithfully,
 J.A.

4¾ MILLION PEOPLE OWN RURAL ELECTRICS

more than any other business

America's Rural Electric Systems are outstanding examples of free enterprise. More than 4¾ million shareholders have accepted the obligation of supplying themselves with electricity. No other business in the U.S. is owned by so many individuals.

Necessity forced these rural folks into the electric business. Established electric utilities shunned the job of serving these widely scattered rural users as unprofitable. As a result, the people organized themselves into non-profit groups—usually cooperatives—borrowed money from the Rural Electrification Administration, and built their own electric systems. Best of all, they've kept their credit good.

Since 1935, nearly 1,000 locally-owned and managed rural electrics have repaid almost $1½ billion in principal and interest on over $3½ billion REA loans.

We are proud to have played a part in this enviable record of free enterprise coupled with sound business management. Our rural electric cooperative, owned by 4,100 member-consumers, has already repaid $112,955, in principal and interest on our REA loans.

Today we are busy increasing capacity of our lines to keep pace with our member-consumers' ever-growing demand for electric power.

Read Ephesians 6:1-4, 10-13

Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord. Ephesians 6:4. RSV.)

Long ago, a young man became an apprentice to a blacksmith. The master blacksmith taught him how to hold the tongs, to lift the sledge, to strike the anvil, to use the bellows to make a white-hot flame, and to shape the metal into useful tools.

After he completed his apprenticeship, he was sent to serve as the blacksmith at the royal palace. But the young man's excitement in his new responsibility soon came to an end. He discovered his teacher had taught him how to handle the tools, but had forgotten to show him how to kindle the spark.

How often we as parents teach our children skills, attitudes, health and safety rules, but fail to give them the inspiration—the spark—that gives meaning to all of life!

What better way to instruct and inspire them than in worship together as a family! Let us pray together as families, as we seek the inspiration that will brighten each life and all of life.

PRAYER:

O God, teach us to humble ourselves before Thee, to seek Thy guidance and wisdom. Guide us in all our teaching and in all our learning. Grant us the spark that can brighten each life and all of life. In the Master's name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Through our worship of God in the home, He blesses us with the spark that gives meaning to life.

*When
last*

Nothing quite compares with the exhilaration of that final day at high school.

The drudgery of note-taking, the monotony of assignments and recitation, the tedium of term papers, the nights of cramming, the toiling tension of exam week . . . it's all behind them.

And ahead . . . graduation . . . the prom . . . college . . . a job.

But as an earnest parent, pause to take stock of your son's spiritual maturity. Has the soul's growth kept pace with the mind's?

The firmness of the bond between the Home and the Church holds the answer. Strengthen that bond every Sunday. In a world that constantly tests the faith of men . . . the last exam is not over.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Troutmans Return From Long Trip

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Troutman of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hayes of Erick, Oklahoma, went on a vacation and stopped to visit his sister, Mrs. Ettie Tipton and son at Konaway, Oklahoma. Then on to Wewoka, Oklahoma and visited the Hayes daughter and family, and then on to Waggoner, Oklahoma, and stayed all night with the Hayes son and wife and then on to Tennessee and visited Mrs. Virgel Balestine at Savannah, and there they went through the button factory at the halle factory, ad visited the old James Jack-son home. Then on to Waterloo, Ala., and visited the Ernest Balentines. All went sight seeing at Muscle Shoals dam and power plant on the Tennessee River at Florence, Ala., and many other places. On Mothers Day we all went to church and then to a big fish fry with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Balentine. We sure did eat lots of fish and went back to church that night. We also visited the famed Helen Keller home where she was born and raised and went through the Cathedral Cavers at Grant, Ala., then on to Florida and to the Rainbow Springs where we rode the glass bottom boat at Dunnellon, Fla., then to Brooksville, Fla., and visited Mr. Troutman's cousin. Then we went to Weeki Wachee, Fla., and went to the underwater show then on to the Gulf, lots of water. From there to Silver Springs, then we took the coast route to Santa Rosa and back through Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana into good old Texas. In Waco we visited Mrs. Troutman's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Mr. Davis being the Vets hospital the last two years.

From Waco to Erick, Okla., where Mr. and Mrs. Hayes live. Mrs. Troutman, Mrs. Hayes, and Mrs. Davis are sisters. And from Erick, Okla., to good old Muleshoe, Texas.

... in a Medallion Home, your children will want to do the dishes!!!

Mr. & Mrs. Weldon Hammonds

ROUTE 1, FLOYDADA, TEXAS

The wonders of electric appliances are many — but you can't beat one that makes children enjoy what used to be a difficult and joy-killing task. The automatic dishwasher in the Hammonds' home has done just that for Kay, Ann and Gaye Lynn. They enjoy doing dishes — electrically.

Mrs. Hammonds loves all her electric appliances. Speaking of her range, she says, "The electric range is easier to clean, also, electric cooking is faster."

Mr. Hammonds, in addition to seeing his family so happy, says, "We wouldn't take for our electric yard light. Besides convenience and safety, it gives our home a warm welcome to friends."

One of the extra comfort, cleanliness and convenience features of a Medallion Home is electric bathroom heat. Mrs. Hammonds likes electric bathroom heaters because "curtains, flower planters and other accessories can be used above electric heaters, and the children can turn them on with a flick of the switch."

Doings At Muleshoe Airport
By MRS. NOAH KINER

Leon Smith, Jr. made a "free fall" parachute jump Sunday afternoon at Horseshoe Bend.

Other jumps scheduled to be made following Smith had to be postponed, but will be made soon.

Both Smith and Howard Watson have been jumping at Portales under the instruction of George Mulchay from Alamogordo, along with members of Sky Diving Clubs from Roswell and Amarillo.

They completed their static line jumps and made their first free fall there, and are now qualified to make jumps without an instructor.

Fred Boyd flew the Muleshoe Flying Service Tri-Pacer for the jump.

Mrs. Adell Tompkins began flight training in the Super Cub Sunday.

After only 1 hour of instruction time, Locker said that Mrs. Tompkins was doing fine on level flying, and exceptionally well on degree turns.

"Students showing such capabilities on their first flights are unusual," said Locker, "and I am very impressed with her abilities as a pilot and believe she will be one of the best."

Seems like Mrs. Tompkins is going to give you men pilots some competition!!!!

The following letter was received by Morgan Locker from the Harper family of San Bernardino, California.

Mrs. Harper and Mrs. Emilie Farghan were recently hospitalized here for several days as a result of a one car accident, and were flown to California last Thursday morning by Locker, along with Dr. Ray Santos in the Aztec.

Dear Mr. Locker:

We want to take this opportunity to thank you and Dr. Ray Santos for your efforts to make our trip home as comfortable as possible.

We were amazed to find a Flying Service such as yours, with so many services available in a town the size of Muleshoe.

We also are grateful to the citizens of Muleshoe for the many kindnesses shown us while we were in the hospital there. We didn't know there was any people left who would be so kind to strangers.

We enjoyed the radio station and their coverage of local, state and world news.

Thank you again for your kindness.

BUCKET SEATS ALONE DO NOT A MONZA MAKE

■ Gee! ■ Little did we know, when we introduced the Corvaer Monza last year, that we were starting a Big Thing. We just thought it would be pleasant if you could buy a car that treats you, the driver, like you want to be treated. ■ The bucket seats, of course, are the most obvious evidence of our desire to please you. But they're not the most important thing. No sir. What's really vital is the way a Monza handles—something nobody in the U.S. has yet copied. Or can copy. Because Corvaer is the only rear-engine car made in this country, and you know what that means: steering light as thistle-down. (You even park this one more easily, it steers so briskly.) Beautifully balanced braking—the car stays level even under panic braking, which we hope you'll never have to do. Traction and more traction, so you don't become a stick-in-the-mud. The kind of cornering that's sheer joy to experience. ■ You get more: a fully independent suspension that blots out road shocks before they can ruffle you. Clean, crisp styling. Thoroughgoing economy, from purchase price to operating cost. ■ You're not going to be satisfied with bucket seats alone, are you?

CATTLE THEFT IS STILL A PROBLEM

Texans have always said there's nothing lower than a cattle thief, and Texas cattlemen have always led the nation in their fight against these parasitic criminals who brutally steal and butcher from another man's herds.

But cattle theft is still a big problem in Texas and elsewhere. Modern transportation methods, tranquilizer pellets thrust into the victimized animals, and shade tree butchering places have updated rustlers' techniques and often make them more difficult to apprehend.

The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, one of the finest industry-sponsored self-policing organizations in the world, works against these modern odds to throw fear into would-be thieves and to catch and convict a high percentage of actual offenders.

The TSCRA has 31 well-trained and coordinated field inspectors located in Texas Oklahoma who have not only a through knowledge of cattle but also a working knowledge of modern crime detecting techniques.

The association offers a high level of protection for the individual cattleman. Not only do they have men to help local law enforcement agencies to catch thieves but also they have a legal department and an attorney who is available at all times to help local prosecutors in working up cattle theft cases.

This makes cattle theft — which might be otherwise be appealing to the criminal mind one of the least defensible crimes in our state.

Cattle branding, as always, is crucially important for owner protection against thievery. This offers positive identification of ownership which will stand up in court.

Even with modern detection methods and updated ranching techniques, the age-old menace of pioneer days is still with us, however. And it's good to know that the cattle thief is being watched for, sought after, and if caught, prosecuted to the fullest for his unsavory crime.
