Schools Week Is Termed Big Success

Public Schools week was a big success in Muleshoe this year, according to school officials, as parents and friends by the hundreds came "back to school" to see exhibits, skits, and programs by the youngsters.

Superintendent of Schools Neal B. Dillman said he was well pleased with the enthusiasm shown by the general turnout this year.

Both high school principal H. W. Callan and Junior High School principal R. E. Everett joined Dillman in saying that the crowd attending their open house on Tuesday night was the best since they had been in Muleshoe.

The Elementary schools' annual Science Fair was praised by both Richland Hills principal Milton Oyler and Mary DeShazo's Fred White for the quality of entries, and the number of parents attending. (Winners from both schools listed on page 2B)

"The school really appreciates the interest shown by virtue of the turnout. We enjoyed having the parents and hope they will come back to visit with us," said high school principal Callan.

AT MIDLAND

Area Farmers Visit Farm Labor Hearing

An overflow crowd attended the Labor Department's public hearing on Mexican agricultural labor last Wednesday in Midland which Assistant Labor Secretary Jerry Holleman heard arguments for and against Public Law 78.

Holleman told the group that the use of braceros was adversely affecting domestic labor, and the pay scale for such workers would have to be raised to 70 cents per hour to prohibit this.

Holleman made no new statements regarding the law, explaining that he is to meet with representatives from throughout the nation Thursday, March 8 to discuss the situation, as well as Senate Bill 1139, which would make the bracero program apply to domestic labor.

"We expect the final interpretation of the amendment to come from this meeting," said Elvon DeVaney, manager of the Western Texas Farm Labor Association in Muleshoe.

DeVaney said approximately 50 people from the immediate area attended the meeting in Midland last week, including two plane loads. He estimated that 2,000 persons crowded into Midland's National Guard Armory, which has a capacity of 1,500.

Holleman asked to hear testimonies for and against his law. About 63 testimonies were heard, DeVaney, said, of which, only about 13 or so supported the measure.

A sister, Mrs. Tom Neighbors of Granite, Oklahoma, also survives, along with two brothers, A. A. Ewalt of Carnegie, Okla., and W. J. Ewalt of Wichita Falls, and her step-mother, Mrs. Stella Ewalt of Granite, Okla.

IN MEETING

Jail Needs Cited

The Civic Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce met last Friday with the Bailey County Commissioners and discussed with them the need of humane jail facilities as well as court house improvements for the county.

The commissioners agreed that action was definitely necessary, and agreed to undertake a study of the situation and have an architect make an estimation of what the cost might be, after it is decided what action needs to be taken.

"I think it's apparent that something needs to be done to provide humane jail facilities," Rev. J. Frank Peery, member of the Chamber Committee, told the meeting.

The inadequacies of the jail and courthouse in general have been discussed in recent years, but nothing concrete has ever been done.

The commissioners are to meet with the City Council March 12, and probably will discuss the possibilities of getting the city's participation in the jail maintenance on a more businesslike basis.

Those present at the meeting from the Chamber committee included L. B. Hall, chairman, Charles Alsop, J. Frank Peery, and Harvey Bass. Chamber president Frank Ellis and director Carroll Pouncey also attended the meeting.

All the members of Commissioners Court were present, in addition to Judge Williams, commissioners R. P. McCall, W. H. Eubanks, Ike Stinson and W. W. Couch.

Only two men filed for the two city council posts in the city election Tuesday, April 3.

Farris Heathington and T. L. Timmons announced for the spots being vacated by Horace Blackburn and Earl Harris, according to City Manager Al Fields.

The Mule Memorial Association received a letter this week from the Travel and Information Division of the State Highway Department, expressing interest in the project.

The letter, from Tom H. Taylor, stated that the department was very interested in the movement, and pointed out that the monument could become a tremendous tourist attraction for the city of Muleshoe.

The writer commended the organization and the "fine people in Muleshoe for your efforts in getting the monument," and pledged their help wherever possible.

Mrs. J. W. Fain Spoke Tuesday To A.S.C. Workers

The American Cancer Society opens its annual Crusade here on April on a hopeful note.

"By the end of the year, about 1,100,000 Americans will be able to say they have been cured of cancer," said Mrs. J. W. Fain, Littlefield volunteer told a meeting of Bailey County cancer leaders Tuesday afternoon here.

"This is nearly seven times as many people as were cured of the disease in 1937."

"That's the bright side of the cancer problem," said Mrs. Fain. "On the other hand, there are many thousands who die of cancer needlessly. About 87,000 men, women and children will probably die in 1962 who might have been saved by earlier and better treatment. A much greater effort must be made to urge people to see their doctors in time."

To emphasize this point, Mrs. Fain announced that the familiar slogan of the American Cancer Society, "Fight Cancer With a Checkup and a Check", will have a companion slogan in 1962—"To Cure More, Give More."

"To cure more," Mrs. Fain said "more funds are needed to give people life-saving facts about cancer and to keep physicians informed of latest methods of diagnosing and treating cancer."

"To cure more," Mrs. Fain said "needed to support scientists in their search for cures and, let's hope, preventives for all types of cancer, including leukemia."

"To cure more, more money is needed for broadening the Society's service program to ease the burden of cancer patients and their families."

Pointing out that the public support of the Society's attack against cancer has grown from $800,000 in 1944 to more than $36,000,000 in 1961, Mrs. Fain urged all residents of Bailey County to give generously to the Crusade to make it the best in history.

"The progress made in cancer control depends on the amount of money invested in the program to fight it," said Mrs. Fain. "Your contribution is one of the greatest investments in the world—to eliminate a disease which at present rates will strike 45 million Americans now living. Let us give more, to cure more."

Mrs. Fain is the wife of a prominent Littlefield doctor, and is a voluntary cancer worker specializing in training Crusade campaigns. She also showed a film and displays to those attending the meeting.

James Jennings will head the business and professional drive in Muleshoe. The first week in April has been chosen for the businessmen's canvas, Jennings said.

Spelling Bee Contestants Ready for County Contest

The annual Bailey County Spelling Bee, to be sponsored by Muleshoe Journal, has completed arrangements for holding the Bee Friday afternoon, March 16, at 2 o'clock in the Muleshoe Auditorium.

Five spellers from Muleshoe Junior High School, DeShazo Elementary, Richland Elementary, Bula & Three Way grade schools will compete for the county Bee Championship at that time. The county winner will go to the district Bee to be held in Lubbock April 7, where the winner will receive many honors and prizes, including a trip with a sponsor to the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D. C., in June.

Pronouncer will be Carroll Pouncey, James Jennings, Mrs. Truman Lindsey, and Mrs. W.M. Pool, II, will be judges. J. M. Forbes is director, with Mrs. L. B. Hall.

The Spelling Bee has caused many county students to give added attention to spelling, both inside and outside the classroom. One school principal, analyzing benefits of the Spelling Bee in his school cited these points: "We feel like it creates an interest in spelling and an incentive, because of the competitive angle and because the students are working on an activity which is not just routine work that they do every day in school. Another advantage that we see in it is the fact that these children in the Spelling Bee will receive additional help and practice at home with their parents."

The Journal will offer county prizes of $15.00 for first prize, $7.50 for second place, and $2.50 for third place.

Blue ribbons and a ball point pen are to be presented to all twelve school champions who will appear in the Bee here. White ribbons will be provided for every student participating in a bee in schools in the county.

KMUL, Muleshoe radio station, will broadcast the program. The public is invited to attend and watch the progress of the spelling.

Last year's winner of Bailey County was Susan Birdsong, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Birdsong of Muleshoe. Runner-up champion was Nelda Seagler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Seagler, Morton, representing Bula School. Bailey county schools will conduct their spelling contests this week with the top three winners from each school to be announced next week before the county contest.

"The first big advance in cultivating since the tractor replaced the horse"

Many farmers have said it, and they've said it because it's exactly what everyone immediately thinks when they see it. Some of the advantages in using Lilliston's remarkable new Rolling Cultivator:

- * it cultivates all crops, whether they are planted on the level, on a high bed, or in a furrow. In addition, the Rolling Cultivator is adjustable to virtually all row widths.
- * gangs can be angled to throw dirt toward or away from the plants, tilted to work on bedded land.
- * gangs can be angled and tilted to prepare beds for planting.
- * it cultivates up to three times faster than other equipment.
- * it requires less maintenance at considerably lower cost than others do.

We'll be glad to demonstrate the Rolling Cultivator on your farm. You've got to see it to believe it!

Wheat Seedings For State Less Than For 1961

Texas wheat seedings for 1962 harvest are placed at 3,620,000 acres by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This is 11 percent less than last year's 4,050,000 acres, according to the Texas Labor bulletin of the Texas Employment Commission.

The reporting Service also indicated the condition of the growing crop on December 1 at 92 percent which was 24 points above average and has been exceeded only three times. Their report states that based on December 1 conditions, a crop of 61,540,000 bushel is in prospect. This is 27 percent below last year's crop but 58 percent above average.

Texas rye acreage planted in the fall is estimated at 150,000 acres—50 percent above last year's 100,000 acres. Condition of the crop on December 1 was reported at 85 percent.

Of the 71 counties reporting to this office on 3,611,771 acres, the condition of the crop as of March 1, was reported as follows: Thirty-two counties with 2,611,833 acres reported in good condition. Thirty-two counties with 912,735 acres reported as average.

Seven counties with 87,203 acres reported in poor condition. Our next bulletin will be issued April 1 and will list acreage by counties as reported at that time.

Farmers in southern Bailey County are invited to attend an irrigation workshop Thursday Mar. 15 at Morton. The full day's activities are designed especially for farmers in southern Bailey County and Cochran County.

The program is scheduled at the Cochran County Activities Building, and a host of irrigation specialists are to take part in the program.

"In view of the present farm labor situation and the ever-increasing cost of farm operations, rural people need to take advantage of every opportunity to help them earn greater net profits," states Joe Harbin of Bailey County Electric Cooperative, one of the sponsoring organizations.

"We feel that anything that will help our members to a better utilization of the electric power they buy, the conservation of their valuable but depleting underground water supply and the proper management of soil crop is of prime importance to this present economy and to future generations" he said.

OTHER SPONSORS
Other sponsors include the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Soil Conservation Service, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation, Farmers Home Administration, Rural Electrification Administration, Young Farmers' Chapters, Irrigation Equipment Dealers, Distributors and Manufacturers.

One of the objectives of the program is to bring valuable information to irrigation farmers, irrigation equipment dealers and professional agricultural workers in the area.

Olen Petty, state representative from Levelland, is to preside. D. B. Lancaster, manager of the Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association, is to give the welcome.

SPEAKERS LISTED
Those on the program include Billy C. Gunter, area agronomist of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Lubbock; Dave Sherrill, area irrigation specialist; also with the Extension Service, Shelby Newman, Agronomist, Lubbock; Harvey Walker, Agronomist, Lubbock; and Wayne Keese, Agricultural Engineer, Texas A & M.

Local persons taking part on the program will be J. K. Adams, County Agent; Harbin; C. Owen Jones of Bailey County Electric and Arch Fowler, of Farmers Home Administration.

A panel discussion is scheduled for the afternoon, moderated by John H. Shanklin of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Albuquerque.

A free meal is scheduled for the noon hour.

AT TECH SATURDAY

Mules Defend Title In Whirlwind Relay

The Muleshoe Mules' track team, with two good showings behind them, will get a chance to really evaluate their strength Saturday when they attempt to defend their championship of the Floydada Whirlwind Relays. The meet, which will be run on the Texas Tech track for the second year, was won by Muleshoe last year in the class AA division, and the team will have to battle 11 other entries in their quest to win it again.

Included in the class AA teams will be all of the teams in Muleshoe's district. Battling the Mules for their title will be Abernathy, Floydada, Lockney, Morton, Canyon, Tulia, Olton, Post, Slaton, Spur and Tahoka.

This will be the Mules' first chance this year to meet schools all their own size. In meets so far, they have shown tremendously well running against teams of all classifications.

Last week they placed fourth at the Brownfield Invitational meet, behind Fort Stockton, Denver City and Lamesa.

Individuals improved their marks against a "faster company" at Brownfield. Travis Creamer was clocked in 15.4 for the 120-yard high hurdles, which would have been good enough for the record, but he was nipped by the record-holder, Howard Hurd of Brownfield and Pat Hubbard of Denver City.

Creamer also was third in the 180-yard hurdles. Rick Bell was second in the pole vault with a leap of 11-0. He finished third in the broad jump at 18-10 1/4.

Robert Seagroves tied for second in the high jump at 5-9 1/2. Seagroves jumped six feet in last summer's Junior Olympics meet.

Other point-getters for Muleshoe were Jerry Gilbreath, fifth in the 400-yard dash and Travis Bessire, fifth in the 220.

The Mules' 440-yard relay team came in fifth, and the mile relay team, which had freshman Dan Smith subbing for regular Bill Gilbreath, finished fifth.

Miler Mike Cabrera, who had been hospitalized with influenza, again missed action, was working out with the squad this week.

Auto Inspection Deadline Won't Be Extended

AUSTIN—Col. Homer Garrison Jr. Director of Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today there will be no extension of the April 15 deadline for inspection of all motor vehicles in Texas.

"The April 15 deadline this year falls on a Sunday, a day when most inspection stations are closed," Garrison, noted. "We are not asking these stations to remain open on that day, and, under the law, there can be no extension of the deadline." He said approximately 2,000,000 vehicles in the state remain to be inspected during the remaining 10 weeks of the 1962 inspection period. He urged motorists to get their inspection stickers early, pointing out that as the deadline approaches waiting lines will be forming.

PURPOSE NOTED
"We would like to point out that the purpose of motor vehicle inspection is to discover any defects that might become a chain of events leading to an accident," the DPS Director said.

"It is encouraging to note that since the inspection program began in 1951, vehicles having a defect that was a causative factor in fatal accidents, decreased from 13 per cent to three per cent."

Under the law, persons operating vehicles without the 1962 inspection sticker on and after April 16 are subject to arrest. Authority to enforce the provisions of the Texas Motor Vehicle Inspection Act is vested in the patrolmen of the Department of Public Safety, Sheriffs and their deputies, city policemen.

Animal Comments

By JERRY GLEASON

CARE OF THE PUPPY

Once the puppy has been carefully selected, the next factor is how to care for man's best friend in his new and strange home. Change of ownership and home will put a great amount of stress on the puppy. During this stress period the animal is extremely susceptible to gastrointestinal disorders. It is the owner's duty to reduce this stress to a minimum.

First, one must consider the diet of the puppy. The first few meals are of paramount importance. The puppy will be on a diet when he obtained from his previous owner. It is important to obtain specific directions concerning what the puppy has been fed.

Do not change the pup's diet or schedule for the first three days. In general the puppy should be fed small meals at frequent intervals. The diet should be gradually changed to what ever food you as the new owner intend to feed for the years to come. (canned food, meat, or table scraps).

Too many of us spoil the new puppy by catering to his whims. Most anyone would refuse hot dogs if by doing so T-bone steaks could be obtained. Dogs use the same psychology.

A good schedule to follow is a meal at 8 a.m. (or before), noon, 6 p.m. and at bedtime. A rule of thumb as to the amount to feed is one ounce of food per pound of body weight per day. (Divided into four meals). And last but not least, DO NOT feed bones to the puppy at any time during his life.

Of equal importance with the diet of the puppy is gaining his confidence. The puppy should be handled often and in an easy manner. Talk to the new dog in a soft tone of voice.

Do not allow the children to "take the dog in" before he is well established in his new home. A warm draft-free bed should be provided and daily grooming should be practiced. These comforts should be practiced. These comforts should be practiced. These comforts should be practiced.

In summary, proper food at regular intervals and good fashion loving will reduce the stress on a puppy during his transfer to his new home. If one will help this bundle of joy in his time of need he will be repaid many times fold in the future.

Steps Taken Toward Creation Second City Park

Another step toward creating a second city recreation area or park, was taken last Thursday evening when members of the City Council, school board and Commissioners Court met with the Chamber of Commerce park committee at the Production Credit office here.

Tentative plans were set to remove stock pens from an area south of the high school, and to convert the area into recreation facilities. The project will be a joint effort of the school and city officials, working with the Chamber's park committee.

Another meeting, of related interest, was held Tuesday evening, of stockholders of the Muleshoe Vegetable Grower's Cooperative. This meeting was to discuss the possibility of disposing the vegetable shed on the Clovis highway.

There was some talk of converting the shed into a site for the annual junior livestock show. However, no action was taken at the meeting. Several present proposed that the shed be used for its original purpose, that of onions.

Eddie Arcaro's mounts earned $1,303,844 at the three New York thoroughbred racetracks in 1961. Manuel Ynaza was second his mounts winning $1,031,382.

Price, spice and everything nice!

Who ever thought a car that saves like this could have so much sizzle? Chevrolet engineers, that's who! Liveliness and luxury for a low, low price were exactly what they had in mind to begin with. And they began from scratch with a whole carload of ingenious new ideas designed to give you more for your money. That spunky 6 with gas-sipping stinginess is just one example. Another: a new unitized Body by Fisher that's fit for a full-size family inside, easy to park outside. Still another: tough but gentle one-piece Mono-Plate rear springs that outdo many a bigger car for quiet comfort. County Needs A Showbarn

As we go out to see the Bailey County Junior Stock Show exhibits and winners this week at Muleshoe High School, let us think about the need for a possible county showbarn.

This possibility has been discussed at length recently but the possible location for such a showplace, along with its cost and the method of meeting the cost, has been the snag in any definite moves.

Bailey County is basically an agricultural community. It has been made that it is by agriculture. We feel that the achievements by the county's 4-H and F.F.A. boys are as good as any other county on the South Plains.

The boys (and girls) deserve a nice place to show off their achievements. The school has been more than cooperative in allowing them to use the bus barn, but it is rapidly becoming too small.

It has been said that the students from schools in the south part of the county are beginning to favor the shows held in Morton's new showplace to their own county show.

We feel that Muleshoe and Bailey County can and should provide a place for showing the animals which would be a credit to the county.

Perhaps someone has a nice plot of ground they would donate for such a project, or make a good deal for. Anyone on the city commission, school board, county commissioners or chamber of commerce would be glad to discuss the matter.

By next year's show, we need to have a top-flight place to have the exposition, so if we start now to make the arrangements, we could have it ready by 1963.

CAPITAL GAINS AND LOSSES

Gain from the sale of a capital asset is given preferential tax treatment on your income tax return. In general, this capital asset treatment applies to any property held by a taxpayer except property which the taxpayer is engaged in the business of selling.

Normally, when you sell a capital asset you either sell it at a gain or you sustain a loss, both computations being based upon the difference between the cost you paid for the item being sold and the selling price.

Generally, capital assets sold by you at a loss, which are in nature of personal, non-business property used by you for your own benefit do not result in gross income to the extent of the gain. An exception to this rule regarding gain is in the case of the sale of a personal residence. This will be the subject of a later article in this series.

Muzzling Review In Order

A review of the controversy over muzzling is in order, now that the smoke has cleared, from the battle between a Senate subcommittee and the Secretary of Defense, Robert McNamara.

Some time ago, President Kennedy ended the running fight between Senators and McNamara by invoking the trump card he held—executive privilege. This letter from the President was read just as the chairman of the Senate subcommittee was ordering the chief of the Pentagon's speech censors to answer a question pertaining to the censorship of a speech.

So the President came to McNamara's defense, and the Senate subcommittee lost the battle even to get the first answer from the chief of the Pentagon's censors. The arguments given by McNamara and the President sounded convincing — that they were not going to allow subordinates to bear the brunt of policies of their superiors.

If the witness has been mistreated, if they were held accountable in the subcommittee hearings for the actions of their superiors, then the Kennedy Administration would have been on firm ground unquestionably. But there is a strong suspicion that the subcommittee would not have mistreated witnesses. The subcommittee was well aware that it was being closely scrutinized and was well aware of McNamara's ability to bring the President into the battle on his side.

It is not impossible, of course, that some mischief or evil was involved in the censorship. It is not impossible that there were some fuzzy censors in the State Department (which was the eventual goal of the subcommittee for most of the speeches censored had gone to State) or in the Defense Department. It would not have wrecked the country, or the lives of the censors, if they had been called upon to testify—so long as they were not abused.

"Censorship by Taxation" Is Controversy Started By IRS

For some years there has been much controversy over a "censorship by taxation" ruling imposed by the Internal Revenue Service. It holds that a businessman, in making out his tax returns, cannot deduct as a business expense the money he spent trying to influence legislation. It was applied to many businesses—notably the investor-owned electric industry which, for obvious reasons, has extensively used advertising and other legitimate agencies of expression in presenting its side of the life-and-death public-private power issue.

Now a House Committee has tentatively decided to take steps to guarantee the right to speak without incurring heavy tax penalties. And the danger is that people may come to believe that the Committee recommendations properly and adequately take care of this manifest injustice.

They do nothing of the kind. They go only a part of the way—and a small part. Specifically, they would allow the deduction only of expense incurred in connection with "legislative appearances"—that is, in giving formal testimony before legislative bodies. Such appearances, obviously, are a relatively minor means of reaching the public with one's views pro or con to legislation. Still non-deductible, for example, would be newspaper advertisements, a businessman might take out to discuss such matters as zoning ordinances and taxes, or letters and pamphlets mailed to employees and stockholders about some issue with legislative overtones.

One bill—the Boggs Bill—would revoke the IRS ruling and really assure freedom of speech and petition. Until such a bill is passed, we will continue to have "censorship by taxation".

Sandhills Philosopher Wonders If Journal Has Enough Zeroes To Report Full National Debt

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm seems a little worried about us this week, but we can handle his problem.

Dear editor: I was looking over a stack of bills which arrived on the first of the month and to get my mind off the subject I opened up a newspaper and the first article I noticed said that the cost of living stayed the same last month, it didn't go up or down.

What I'd like to know is where does the government get its figures?

The cost of living, as far as I can tell, has been going up every month for the past twenty-five years, and sometimes it doesn't even wait thirty days, it goes up right in the middle of a month.

It's my theory that the experts in Washington who read the economic index and what ever else they read to get these figures on the cost of living are sort of like meter readers. If a meter reader misreads your meter one month and your bill is a little lower than you figured it'd be, that doesn't mean the cost of living has dropped, it only means the error will be corrected on the next reading and the cost of living will get back up high where it's always been.

Since that article on the cost of living didn't get my mind off my bills, I turned a page and ran into an article that made me feel better.

According to it, the United States government now owes a trillion dollars, which, if The Journal has got enough zeroes on its typesetting machine, reads $1,000,000,000,000.00, and if you haven't got that many zeroes you better buy some more as the chances of the figure getting smaller are mighty slim and you've got to keep abreast of the times. Just to be on the safe side, maybe you ought to order a dozen or so more.

The reason I felt better about this is that if the Federal government can live apparently cheerfully under this load, why should a few monthly bills bother me?

By the way, if you can find anybody who can prove his cost of living is less now than it was the last time he looked, I wish you'd get hold of him and bring him into town. I'd like to talk to him, if he's able to have visitors.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Experts Back Versatile Youths

When 400,000 men and women volunteer their time and know-how to help 2.3 million 4-H Club members "learn, live and serve," the results are no less than spectacular.

For instance, the Head, Heart, Hands and Health youths finished nearly 4 million projects in more than 40 different categories just this past year.

In almost every instance, the completed project benefited the entire family and in many cases, the community as well.

The information comes from the Cooperative Extension Service which directs 4-H Club work.

Further proof of the far-reaching effect of 4-H was found in 1,900 record books maintained by state award winning club members. The records were reviewed in the headquarters of the National 4-H Service Committee last November, said Norman C. Mindrum, director, for the purpose of selecting boys and girls for scholarships and trip awards to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Miss Sheila Nixon, 20, of Pomona, California, winner of a $400 Ford scholarship, commented: "The awards we win in 4-H work aren't totally ours. Many people have helped us win them."

Another national champion, who won a Sears-Roebuck Foundation scholarship for leadership, is 20-year-old Hoosier farmer Wayne Buck. He has a 4-H record so long "it would fill a book." Now a student at Purdue University, Buck credits 4-H training with teaching him how to accept responsibility, and to better understand the world and the people in it.

President Kennedy expressed a similar feeling when he said in a recent message to 4-H members: "I would commend you especially for your constructive and worthwhile efforts in learning to live and work cooperatively with others."

In the beginning, 4-H Clubs were intended for farm youngsters, and offered only projects in crops, livestock, home canning and cooking. The present program embraces a wide range of agricultural, home economics and scientific programs. With the exception of a few such as livestock, tractor and field crops, the projects can be carried on in town as well as on the farm.

4-H Moves to Town
Today, membership in 4-H Clubs is about equally divided between farm and non-farm boys and girls. The main reason for this shift is the disappearance of the small farm from the American agricultural scene.

Meanwhile, more and more business people are participating in 4-H as it moves into suburban and urban areas. Mindrum points out. National 4-H Club Week, National 4-H Club Congress, Farm-City Week, achievement days, county and state fairs, Farm-Safety Week and the like are but a few examples, he said.

Director Mindrum, who is a former 4-H member and state extension official, has this to say: "To sum up 4-H achievement one should call special attention to the concurrent efforts of many which, over the years, have made the 'learn by doing' program the success it is.

Business Gives Cash
"Besides the paid and volunteer workers who carry out the teaching-training aspect, there are business people who contribute know-how and money," he added.

Approximately 60 different business concerns provide funds for 4-H through the National 4-H Service Committee, he said.

Donors of awards for the last 25 years or more include: International Harvester, Montgomery Ward, Westinghouse Educational Foundation, Kerr Glass Mfg. Corp., Cudahy Packing Co., Armour and Co., Livestock Conservation, Inc., Wilson & Co., Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen. Also, Santa Fe, Chicago and North Western, Illinois Central and Burlington railways.

Newer 4-H backers are the Sperry and Hutchinson Co., Ralston Purina, Moorman Mfg. Co., General Foods, E. I. du Pont de Nemours and John Deere. Also, Pyrofax Gas and International Minerals & Chemical corporations. These firms have supported the program for five years or less, according to the 4-H Service Committee.

TODAY'S MEDITATION

PUTTING THINGS TOGETHER

On one occasion a girl asked a man, "What do you do for a living?" His answer came, "I put things together." That is a job fit for anybody. Putting things together is a contribution, it is something constructive, it is positive.

See how it applies to the ordinary round of life. The bricklayer puts brick upon brick 'til the building is completed. The carpenter nails board upon board 'til a house is completed. In the science of writing there is the art of putting words together 'til a poem, story or book is written.

What a dangerous and yet a hopeful thing it is for human beings. A man and a woman stand before a minister and he "joins this man and this woman in holy marriage". Is he putting together personalities that will make a home?

Consider the matter of the church. It is a holy yet a human institution. People are put together to carry out the will of God on earth. The people put together time, energy and resources to build human life in the likeness of Jesus Christ. As the human nature conforms to the divine nature the church becomes the body of our Lord to do His work among men.

Know the Rules Before You File Your Tax Return

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

HIGHLIGHTS on filing an income tax return for 1961:
Deadline—midnight, Monday, April 16, 1962.
Income to report—only the taxable kind. Some, like Social Security payments, is nontaxable and should NOT be reported.
Refunds—If your 1961 income tax was too low for the amount of tax you paid, you may get a refund but only by filing a return.

You must file a return, whether or not you owe tax, if:
1. You were under 65 and your 1961 income was $600 or more.
This includes children. Their parents are responsible for their filing.
2. You were 65 on Jan. 1, 1962 or blind by Dec. 31, 1961 and had $1,200 income or more.
A self-employed person of any age with net taxable income of $400 or more must file a return and pay a self-employment tax, really a Social Security tax, of 4 1/2 per cent on income up to $4,800.

Thus a man over 65, even though drawing nontaxable Social Security payments, would have to file a return and pay this tax if he had net taxable income of $400 or more from self-employment.
W-2 withholding statements—Enclose with your return all these receipts for tax withheld from your pay during 1961.
Help—You'll get a lot by reading the 14-page instruction sheet sent every taxpayer by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). It has tax rates and tables.
You'll get even more information in the 14-page booklet, "Simple Federal Income Tax," which the IRS will sell you for 10 cents.
In making their returns, individuals will use either 1040 or 1040A. The latter is a much simpler card.
If there was a third party on the 1961 IRS, trying to simplify things, scrapped that one and streamlined 1040. Anyone can use 1040A only if your income was under $10,000 and was entirely in wages from which tax was withheld (plus NOT more than $200 in dividends, interest or wages from which tax was NOT withheld) and if, instead of itemizing your deductions, you're willing to accept the standard deductions of about 10 per cent already allowed for in the table us to figure your tax.

If you don't meet these conditions, you must use 1040.
Deductions—You may save by checking the expenses you can deduct from your income before what's left is taxable. Example of deductible expenses: state income taxes, interest on the house mortgage, state gasoline taxes.
Everyone gets a standard deduction of about 10 per cent up to $1,000 for personal expenses. If yours don't exceed that, you don't have to claim or itemize them. come taxes, interest on the house mortgage, state gasoline taxes.
Everyone gets a standard deduction of about 10 per cent up to $1,000 for personal expenses. If yours don't exceed that, you don't have to claim or itemize them. They're allowed for in the table used to figure your tax.
If they do exceed 10 per cent of your taxable income, you can claim them in full but only by itemizing them and figuring your own tax.

Exemptions—Each one you can claim means $600 knocked off your income before what's left is taxable. Everyone filing a return gets a $600 exemption for himself and $600 for each dependent.
A wife is NOT a dependent. If your wife had NO income, you can file your own return, claiming a $600 exemption for himself and $600 for her.
The tax is split for husbands and wives filing a joint return. So most couples file jointly, whether or not the wife had income.
If your wife had income, no matter how small, you can't claim any exemption for her unless she files jointly with you. Then each of you claims a $600 exemption, total $1,200, on the same joint return.
If your wife had income but for some reason files her own return, she claims her own $600 exemption on her return, you claim your $600 exemption on your return.
Examples of taxable income, which must be reported:
Wages; salaries; profits from a business, profession or farm; income from estates and trusts; fees, tips, commissions; bonuses, rents, interest on savings bond, stock dividends, dividends from savings and loan associations, prizes for which you did something to win; profits from the sale and exchange of property; generally strike benefits paid by unions, gambling winnings, severance pay.
Examples of nontaxable income which doesn't have to be reported:
Gifts in money or anything of value for which you performed NO service; state or federal social security benefits; unemployment compensation paid by a state, although supplemental unemployment benefits from a company financed supplemental unemployment proceeds paid because of the death of the insured, unless the policy was transferred to you for a valuable consideration; veterans benefits from the Veterans Administration to veterans and their families, interest on state and rental allowances to members of the armed forces; public assistance payments to the blind.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

Rural Reps Didn't Defeat Urban Bill

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)— Because only two of Texas' 22 House members supported President Kennedy's defeated proposal for a Department of Urban Affairs the impression might arise that most hail from rural districts.

It would be a wrong impression. A report by the Census Bureau issued three days after the House rejected the proposal, 264-150, shows that only four of the State's 22 districts are predominantly rural.

Districts with populations more than half rural are those of: Rep. Wright Patman (1st district) of Texas, which includes 11 counties with 54.2 per cent of its residents classed as rural; Rep. Lindley Beckworth (3rd) of Glad water, 9 counties, 52 per cent rural; Rep. Olin Teague (6th) of Bryan, 11 counties, 52.4 per cent rural; Rep. John Dowdy (7th) of Athens, 13 counties, 61.1 per cent rural.

The portion of Harris County represented by Rep. Bob Casey of Houston, is rated 97.9 per cent urban. Only slightly less urban is Republican Rep. Bruce Alger's Dallas County district, rated 97.5 per cent.

Rep. Albert Thomas of Houston represents the other half of Harris County but his district rates only 90.5 per cent urban. Thomas and Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio were the only two Texans to vote in support of the proposal for the new department.

AROUND THE CAPITAL:
A report by the U. S. Public Roads Bureau lists Texas' total of roads, highways and streets at 230,783 miles of this, 194,176 miles are rural, and 36,607 miles are maintained by municipalities. The state controls 53,328 miles of the rural roads and counties and towns the remaining 140,845 miles.

The new Washington home of the President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson contains color photographs of President and Mrs. Kennedy and their daughter, Caroline, looking windblown and standing beside a brown pony.

There's this inscription at the bottom of the picture: "To Dear Lyndon—See how we all love this beautiful Tex-Affectionately, Jackie." Below this is written: "I like the cows also—gin of the picture there is a patch of circular scribbled in and beside it the notation: "Caroline's signature."

the pony a gift from the Johnsons to the Kennedys, was NOT the one that recently pulled Caroline, her mother and brother John Jr., around the snow covered White House grounds on a sleigh.

Authority of tropical storms, his first experience at hurricane forecasting was in New Orleans. He has served in the Brownsville Beau. While stationed in Miami he made a number of flights into the center of hurricanes Simpson lives in nearby Bethesda, Md., with his wife and two children.

FARMERS INVITED

Nat'l. Labor Meet In Dallas Next Week

Ed Dean, secretary of the National Farm Labor Users Committee, urged area farmers to attend a nation-wide meeting to discuss their labor problems next Tuesday in Dallas.

In a letter to all members, Dean said:

"The growing concern among agricultural producers and related industry over the Administration's ambitions to shove certain labor reform bills, including S-1129, the Farm Labor Recruitment Act, through Congress demands, and effective action.

"Several of you have expressed a desire for a nation-wide meeting to discuss the problem and to develop strategy. The meeting is therefore called for 10 a.m. Tuesday, March 13 (and Wednesday if necessary), in the Adolphus Hotel Dallas.

"Room reservations may be made direct through Fred Brown, Sales Manager of Hotel Adolphus.

"Every effort should be made to advertise this meeting with all groups interested in agricultural labor, and we urge you to do so. This notice is being mailed to the entire User list by any other national, state or local group which you have reason to believe is not listed, please contact them direct.

"Total participation is vital." Elvon DeVaney of the Western Texas Farm Labor Association expressed the hope that at least one plane load of delegates from the Muleshoe area would attend the meeting.

4-H Team Will Share Spotlight At Convention

Fort Worth — The top 4-H Beef Cattle Business Demonstration team in the Lone Star State will share the spotlight with some of the nation's foremost livestock authorities at the 85th annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association in Houston, March 19-21.

The 4-H team members are Gary Giles of Waxahachie and Sheryl Holt of Forrester. They will present the beef cattle business demonstration which last year won them the first place award in the state. The trip to the TSCRA convention is part of an overall 4-H Club awards program sponsored by the TSCRA.

The demonstration will focus attention on progressive beef cattle practices now being used by forward-looking cattlemen in the 4-H club members home county.

"We are pleased to be associated with this practice approach to new developments in the beef cattle industry," said Dolph Briscoe, Jr., of Uvalde, TSCRA president. "The demonstration will be one of the highlights of our convention this year."

The demonstration will be presented Tuesday morning, March 20, during the general session in the Rice Hotel.

Farm Facts

American agriculture is an expanding industry in every important respect except one—the number of people required to run our farms—points out Dean Earl Butz of Purdue University's School of Agriculture.

"Our agricultural plant each year uses more capital, more science and technology, more managerial capacity, more purchased production inputs, more specialized marketing facilities, and more research than the year before.

"Although a smaller share of our total population is engaged directly in farming, the agricultural industry is big broad and basic. Of 68 million persons employed in America in 1960, about 26 million worked somewhere in agriculture—8 million worked on farms, 7 million produced goods and services purchased by farmers, and 11 million processed and distributed farm products. Hence, almost two-fifths of all our employed people are engaged in work related to agriculture.

"Total United States agricultural output increased by two-thirds in the past 190 decades, while the number of farm workers declined some 3 million. This remarkable increase in production efficiency can be matched by no other segment of the American economy."

Agriculture is an expanding industry.

Association officials expected to attend the Corpus Christi meeting include President L. R. Durham of Plainview, Vice President Henry Hayes of Plainview, Directors Grady Shepard of Hale Center, D. S. Anderson of Muleshoe and Don Garrison of Silverton and General Manager Olan Alexander of Plainview.

Plainview PCA Members Will Attend Meeting

Several officials of the Plainview Production Credit Association are expected to attend the sixth annual stockholders' meeting of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, to be held in Corpus Christi March 11-13. More than 1,000 stockholders and guests from throughout Texas will attend. The bank is discount and supervisory agency for the 36 PCA groups in Texas and for several other agricultural financing institutions.

Highlights of the meeting will include addresses by F. Vernon Wright of the Farm Credit Administration, Washington D. C., Texas A&M's Dean of Agriculture Dr. R. E. Patterson and L. J. Cappelman of Dallas, stated rector of the Farmer's Home Administration.

The home-owned and operated Plainview Production Credit Association serves as a source of agricultural credit for an eight-county area.

The bank provides loan funds through the sale of debentures each month on the nation's commercial money market.

Capital stock of the bank is being purchased by the 36 PCA groups in Texas. Since 1956 the associations have purchased a total of $2,974,585 of the bank's Class B stock.

Since their organization in 1933 the Texas associations have provided more than $3 billion in agricultural credit to Texas farmers, ranchers and dairymen.

New Lab Gin Installed At Halfway Plant

Installation of the new twenty-saw laboratory cotton gin at the High Plains Research Foundation was completed in February. Donors of the new gin were the Moss-Gordon Company of Lubbock, the Murray Company of Texas, and the John E. Mitchell Company of Dallas.

Motors, shafts, reducer drive belts, wiring, fans, pipe and miscellaneous items were furnished by the Anderson & Bingham Electric, Lubbock Electric, and South Plains Electric, all of Lubbock, the Morton Gin Company, Whitharral Co-op Gin, Needmore Co-op Gin, Earl Hobbs Gin of New Deal, Halfway Co-op Gin, Hodges Electric and Earl Eeds of Plainview.

The new facilities will speed up completion and release of data concerning the Foundations fifteen cotton research projects. Letters, calls and visitors to Foundation requesting cotton research results start right after harvest.

Information isroq uested on results of tests including varieties, fertilizer, skiprow, irrigation methods, flame cultivation, defoliation, insecticides, equipment used cultural practices, irrigation and planting on benches versus sloping land. They want to know the results with the costs and profits involved in each test.

Six hundred and thirteen cotton samples were ginned as soon as the gin was completed. These samples were sent to the classification office in Lubbock and the cotton testing laboratories at Texas Tech. The 1961 cotton research reports will be completed by the Foundation staff when the laboratory records are received.

Dr. Thomas C. Longnecker, Director of the Foundation in expressing appreciation of the gifts said, "The new laboratory gin will increase the efficiency of our cotton research."

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EULER

Farm Bureau President Harry Hamilton attended a President's Conference in Dallas last week. Among those featured on the program were all seven candidates for Governor of Texas.

They appeared on a "Measure which they were given equal time to answer questions regarding their views on state issues on which Texas Farm Bureau has policies.

National issues also entered into the discussions. Hamilton said it was a very informative and interesting session, and that he hopes to have candidates for State Representative & Senator appear in a county, or multiple county program held on the same basis as the state meeting for governor candidates.

Warren Newberry, an American Farm Bureau staff member also Bureau Youth Programs in other states, with a view to having a positive youth program initiated within Texas Farm Bureau.

LYNN SPEAKS
Jack C. Lynn, Legislative Director for FB of Washington, D. C. torfor FB of Washington, D. C. was a featured speaker, also. His speech centered around the proposed administration farm program proposals opposed to Farm Bureau's farm proposal, and was very interesting and informative, Hamilton said.

Accelerating Farm Bureau progress was the theme of the meeting. Even though Texas Farm Bureau has grown steadily for the last thirteen years and more, TFB President J. Harrel West of Bishop, Texas, said that no one could be satisfied with the progress made when the potential is considered.

A good number of March renewals were received in the office the latter part of February, says Mrs. Nell Davis. However, it will be a great help if many more are received prior to March 19, the date of the kick-off Banquet, after which workers will be out looking for new members and came in along with the renewals last month.

If you have not already sent in your contribution to the Stock Show Bidding Fund, please do so soon. Just a little more money can make the bidding more competitive a lot longer. So send in or bring your one to ten dollars to the FB office right away, and it will be appreciated and carefully used.
