Farmers Cautioned On Cotton Insects

As the threat of thrips to cotton gains prominence, County Agent J. K. Adams directed farmers to bulletin number L-508 by the Texas Extension Service.

Title of the pamphlet is "Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects in the High Plains and Trans-Pecos areas of Texas."

It is now available without cost. It is available without cost from the county agent's office.

For control of thrips, the guide recommends "Begin control measures as soon as damage is apparent on seedling plants. Damage is characterized by wilted, deformed and blackened leaves. Silvering of the lower leaf surface also is common. Apply sprays at seven-day intervals."

Adams cautioned against the use of Parathion in ground rigs without masks and protective clothing. "It can be very harmful to the human body."

Seven sprays are recommended for the control of thrips. They are Dieldrin, Guthion, Strobane, Sevin, Toxaphene, Heptachlor and Endrin. All are used with the addition of DDT except Guthion and Sevin.

For those still planting, it is pointed out that four to six weeks protection from planting date can be obtained from thrips, aphids, spider mites and leaf miners with phorate (Thimet) applied to the seed or placed in the furrow in granulated form at planting.

One-fourth to one-half pound of the active ingredient per acre may be applied as a seed treatment or one-half to one pound per acre in the furrow. Seed may be treated at the rate of one to 1 1/2 pounds per 100 pounds of seed to accommodate planting rate.

One pound of actual Di-syston applied in granular form at time of planting is also effective. Over-dosing with seed treatments may retard early growth especially under weather conditions unfavorable for emergence. Use extreme care in handling treated seed or granules because they are toxic to man.

The bulletin points out that all insecticides are poisonous, and encourages that precautions on labels be followed strictly.

Special precautions should be taken in handling parathion, Trithion, demeton, Di-syston, Guthion and phorate (Thimet), to avoid prolonged contact with the skin or breaking the vapors or drift from either spray or dust.

Be mindful of insecticidal drift that may contaminate neighboring vegetables or forage crops at the time cotton is sprayed or dusted. Crop locations should be planned in advance to eliminate this problem.

Dusts should be applied when the air is calm or nearly so. Dew on plants is not necessary. Dusts are more easily washed off by light showers than are sprays.

Dust nozzles on ground machines should be placed four to six inches above the plants.

Spray applications should not be made when wind velocities exceed 10 miles per hour. Apply spray when leaves are dry. Poison "run-off" may occur if leaves are wet.

Ministers Are Guests Of SCS On Annual Soils Tour

Some eight Bailey County ministers participated in the annual ministers' tour Monday sponsored by the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District, in preparation for Soil Stewardship Sunday, May 20 and/or May 27.

The ministers were shown several samples of how farmers take care of their soil, ranging from a state of no particular care at all to costly programs which were paying off big dividends for farmers who believed in caring for their soil.

They saw various cover crops designed to protect the land and prevent blowing during the winter season; bench leveling and terracing programs designed to get the most out of moisture, both irrigation-wise and dry-land; and irrigation systems designed to get the most possible benefits from the water available.

The group saw an example of labor-saving techniques in moving irrigation techniques in moving irrigation pipeline by the use of wheels.

The annual event was concluded by a luncheon at Cox's Restaurant, with special remarks from Dale Fishgrabe and Coy Garrett of the Soil Conservation Service, Sherman Inman, of the Blackwater Valley District board, and County Agent J. K. Adams.

The pastors attending included the Reverends Ron Crosley, of the Church of the Nazarene, Muleshoe; Tommy Gleaton, Progress Methodist Church, Jerry Haley, Three Way Baptist; Earl Hord, Progress Baptist Church; Bobby Lacey, Longview Baptist Church; Don Murray, First Baptist, Muleshoe; J. Cotton Production Contest Sponsored

A cotton production contest for the Muleshoe area is being sponsored by Edwards Company in Muleshoe, open to 4-H Club or FFA students exclusively.

Prizes will be offered for both irrigated and dryland cotton, although a contestant may enter in only one division.

To be eligible for the contest, boys must be a member of the FFA or 4-H club, and enrolled in or between the eighth and twelfth grades for the 1962-63 school year in the Muleshoe Schools or south of Highway 145 for students at Lazbuddie.

The contest will be open to boys only, stated Horace Edwards.

There must be three acres of cotton, the location of which must be declared by July 1. The location of the contest cotton should be turned in to the FFA teachers or County Agent.

The correct acreage will be determined by measuring the length and width of a field from a given point. Rules of the ASC will be used for skip row planting.

Prizes offered in both dryland and irrigated divisions are: First—$100; Second—$75; Third—$50; and Fourth—$25. In case of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded, but the next division will be eliminated.

The winner of the contest will be determined by the gross dollar per field, using gross amounts for cottonseed & lint to arrive at the total. Price of the cottonseed will be determined by the price of the seed on the date the cotton is weighed across the scales.

The price of the cotton will be based on the government loan using the ASC Cotton Division classification. Compress weights will be the cotton, but twenty pounds, for bagging and ties, will be deducted from each bale to arrive at the net weight.

A complete record of expenditures and income must be kept. Cotton may be gathered in any manner, and is to be ginned at Edwards Gin Company in Muleshoe.

New Law Gives Flexibility In Using Diverted Acreage

The U.S. Department of Agriculture today announced program changes which permit farmers greater flexibility in using acreage diverted from wheat and feed grains under the 1962 programs. The changes are authorized by recently enacted Public Law 87-451 (approved May 15, 1962).

Flax, rapeseed and mustard seed have been added to the list of crops that may be grown on acres diverted from production of wheat and feed grains, following the required review of the current supply situation with respect to all of the crops eligible for consideration. Production of guar, sesame, safflower, sunflower, and castor beans on such acreage was already permitted.

The new law amends the Agricultural Act of 1961 by authorizing the Secretary of Agriculture to permit acreage diverted from wheat and feed grains to be used for other crops when the supply of those crops is not in surplus supply and if produced on the diverted acreage.

The new law also empowers the Secretary, if further justified by the supply situation of a permitted crop, to establish a partial payment for that crop up to one-half the rate which would otherwise be applicable if the acreage was devoted to conservation uses.

Accordingly, a determination has been made to provide partial payment for 1962 on diverted acres planted to guar, sesame, flax, rapeseed and mustard seed which will be computed by taking 20 percent of the applicable commodity rate for minimum diversion for the farm.

The partial payment rates for castor beans and sesame will be computed by taking 30 percent and 40 percent, respectively, of the minimum regular rate for the acreage involved.

Safflower, flax, rapeseed and mustard seed may be grown on diverted acres but no payment will be made. Flax produced on the diverted acres will not be eligible for price support, but any other flax on the farm may qualify for support.

The Department's revised regulations for administering the amended Agricultural Act of 1961 will include the following provisions:

- Signup will not be reopened and previously stated intentions to divert may not now be increased.
- Producers may redesignate diverted acreage only for the production of one or more of the permitted crops. This redesignated acreage may already be planted to the permitted crop. However, the producer will be required to pay the performance cost of any such redesignation.
- Permitted crops disposed of as a green manure, or destroyed by natural causes by a deadline date (not later than 30 days prior to the normal harvest date for the applicable permitted crop as determined by the ASC State Committee) may be considered as conserving use provided other conservation measures are carried out, if necessary, to protect crop season. The original program payment rate will be reestablished in such cases. If the permitted crop fails or is disposed of or not harvested after the disposal date, no upward adjustment will be made in the program rate.
- If a producer elects to plant the entire diverted acreage to a permitted crop for which no payment will be made and an advance payment has been made, he will be required to refund the advance, but no interest would be charged.
- Participation under the new provisions shall not serve to extend the compliance deadline date for wheat, barley, corn or grain sorghum.
- Each producer who wishes to take advantage of these provisions should go to the ASCS County Office and request a change in his intentions not later than June 29.

Walnuts and pecans add delightful flavor and texture to plain muffin batter, but if there are no nuts in the house and caraway or poppy seeds are on your kitchen shelves you can use one of these for a change.

Four Accidents Investigated In Bailey In April

The Highway Patrol investigated four rural accidents in Bailey County during the month of April, according to Sergeant D.S. Lawson, Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for an estimated property damage of $2,660.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for Bailey County from January through April of 1962 shows a total of 11 crashes. As a result of these crashes, one person has been killed and four persons injured. The estimated property damage amounted to $10,285. Memorial Day weekend at the end of the month will mark the beginning of the vacation season. Also, many schools will be out for summer prior to Memorial Day Weekend or shortly thereafter. Residential neighborhoods which were quiet between 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. will now be alive with children.

Streets and highways which lead to and from recreation areas and parks will have children and vacationers going to and fro. The patrol supervisor pointed out that with the beginning of the vacation season it presents all of us with a stern challenge to be more alert and take special precautions to watch out for children afoot and motoring vacationers.

WHICH OF THESE SENIOR CITIZENS NEEDS HELP TO PAY FOR HIS MEDICAL CARE

Citizen A is A Well-To-Do, retired executive. Citizen B is No Longer Employable, Is not Wealthy and is not Protected by a Private Medical Plan. Both Are over 65.

Obviously Citizen A should not receive federal medical aid. Citizen B, who needs this aid, should get it. Yet the King-Anderson Bill, now before Congress, would treat them as equally in need of help . . . would supply them both with medical care at your, the taxpayer's, expense.

We physicians believe that those in the over 65 age group who need financial help should get it, which is why we supported — and continue to support — the Kerr-Mills Law now on the books. We do not believe that 17,000,000 older Americans have identical needs or financial capabilities — any more than we believe that the needs of Citizens A and B are identical. That's why we urge you to oppose the King-Anderson Bill, and write your congressman and senators about it.

This measure is a compulsory national health plan for one segment of the population — the aged covered by Social Security. Its backers claim the bill is necessary because most of the aged are in poor health; most are verging on bankruptcy; and our present methods for helping those who need help are inadequate. But these are the facts:

Surveys show that relatively few of the aged are in poor health . . . that only 14 per cent experience any significant limitations of physical activity . . . that only 5 per cent have major limitations of activity . . . that most are in good health.

Surveys also show that those over 65 are in better financial circumstances than other age groups . . . that most, like the rest of us, are neither destitute nor rich, but somewhat in between. The King-Anderson Bill would create a compulsory government program covering millions financially able to take care of themselves. The cost of such a scheme would be staggering to the taxpayer. Its administration would require the creation of an enormous bureaucracy.

* Voluntary health insurance and prepayment plans now cover 132 million Americans — including more than 53 per cent of the aged — with coverage growing phenomenally year by year.

* The intensified efforts of individual citizens at the community level contribute increasingly to the solution of the overall problem.

* The new Kerr-Mills Law is being implemented rapidly. It provides for federal grants to the individual states, enabling them to provide health care to those who need help.

We believe that voluntary health insurance, private efforts, and the Kerr-Mills Law — together — assure the aged of first-class medical care.

Again, we urge you to write your congressman and senators. Ask them to vote against the proposed King-Anderson Bill and support the Kerr-Mills Law.

WHIRLWIND DAMAGES PLANE

A whirlwind struck the Muleshoe Flying Service's Super Cub Monday afternoon at about 4 p.m. breaking the tie down ropes on the Cub. As the plane whirled around it cut the tie rope on the tail of the Tri-Pacer which was parked nearby. The Super Cub rammed underneath the Tri-Pacer. It gently nosed over and came to a rest on its nose. Damage to the Super Cub was to the elevator and the horizontal stabilizer. Fabric damage was done to the bottom of the Tri-Pacer and to the rudder.

Morgan Locker began the repair of the planes immediately and both were back in the air at 7 a.m. the following day.

Residents Spend Exciting Days At The Worlds Fair

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. "Red" Glasscock have recently returned from Seattle, Washington and the World's Fair where they viewed the many wonders of the 21st Century.

Highlights of the trip were the Space Needle, the Science Building and the United States Building. The Glasscocks waited amidst a crowd of 45,000 for approximately two hours to get into the Space Needle. Four elevators, each carrying 30 people, made trips into the observation tower of the Needle every twenty minutes. Elevators to the revolving restaurant run every 30 to 40 minutes. The dining room in the Space Needle is located in the Center of the 650 foot structure. The dining area revolves, making a complete circle every hour. From this area diners have an unusual view of World Fair scenery going past, or they may step out on a stationary enclosure to see the views below. Waitresses keep up with their customers by a system of colored lights.

Other enjoyable features of the Fair were: the plywood house designed for the 21st Century, windowless, built round with a skylight in the top and featuring circular furniture; the car of the future, 3 feet high, radar controlled; the Food Building where every nation offered native foods of their country at a concession stand; and the Ford Building where one could enter a rocket and take an imaginary orbit.

The Glasscock took the 95-second ride into downtown Seattle via the specially-built monorail. They also took a night ride over the city in a helicopter and rode the bucket lift over the Fair Ground for a night view of the 74-acre grounds.

They also traveled by boat across Puget Sound to Port Townsend but were unable to take their intended deep sea fishing trip due to bad weather.

On their way to the Fair, the Glasscocks traveled by way of snow-filled Yellowstone National Park and made a side trip to Grand Coulee Dam and Grand Tetons.

Lodging accommodations in Seattle were found fairly close to the Fair grounds and were surprisingly inexpensive except for the second night, when the Glasscocks took the only available room which was the Bridal Suite. "That cost me $25.00", Glasscock said.

On the trip home the Glasscocks stopped at a small town to get travelers checks cashed. Glasscock entered the bank alongside another man and they exchanged a few friendly words. Then the teller asked Glasscock if he was from Horseshoe. He pondered for a minute on how this teller would know where he was from, then stated, "No, I'm from Muleshoe." After he produced a business card to prove there really was a "Muleshoe" he asked the teller why she mentioned Horseshoe. She said the man that he entered the building with was from the Horseshoe which was a local club.

BROILER COST DOWN

Broiler chick placements in Texas during the first quarter of 1962 totaled 33.7 million, or an average of 2.6 million per week, reports F. Z. Beamblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist. He adds that second quarter prices to producers will average below those for the first quarter and probably will not be much higher than the greatly depressed prices of last year. Broilers continue to be a good food bargain, he said.

Controls Set on Chemicals Uses

Broadened regulations made effective recently bring under surveillance of the U. S. Department of Agriculture practically all chemicals and devices intended for destroying or repelling pests. An amendment to regulations for enforcing the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act requires fully adequate labeling of several classes of chemicals which were not previously under the jurisdiction of the USDA.

Chemicals used to control many pests of animals and plants and certain viruses not formerly identified as pests under the law must now be registered. Manufacturers of these products must prove them to be effective and must label them adequately as to composition, directions for use and necessary precautions before they can be legally registered and marketed in interstate commerce. Manufacturers of products already on the market but not previously regulated may apply for registration at once, but they have until October 1 to comply with this requirement.

Stockmen Urged To Spray Cattle For Screwworms

Periodic spraying of livestock every two to three weeks with Co-Ral or ronnel (Korlan) will aid greatly in the prevention of screwworm infestations. County Agent J. K. Adams emphasized today.

Stockmen are urged to spray their livestock regularly to prevent as many screwworm cases as possible. Every screwworm case which is prevented or controlled by chemical treatment will also aid greatly the effectiveness of the overall screwworm eradication program.

Although several insecticides will effectively control the screwworms, County Agent Adams said sprays of Co-Ral or ronnel (Korlan) give better protection from screwworm attack. These sprays also will give good control of most other external parasites such as horn flies, lice and ticks.

Adams pointed out that there had been a couple of definite cases of screwworm in the County, so precautions should be taken.

Stockmen also are urged to inspect all livestock regularly and treat all wounds promptly. Ten or more worms should be collected from deep in each wound and taken to your local county agricultural agent or mailed to Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program, Box 969, Mission, Texas.

Working for Texas

Meet a fellow Texan: Preston Smith.

Preston Smith's story is in the best Texas and American tradition—a farm boy who worked his own way to an education and a place of honor in his business and community life.

Born in the heart of Texas, at Georgetown, he moved with his family to Dawson County in 1923 when he was 10 years old. He went to school at Sunset, Lamesa, and Texas Tech. In his adopted home town of Lubbock, with his wife Ima and their two children, he now carries out the full responsibilities of a typical Texas business and civic leader.

A steward at St. John's Methodist Church—member of the Salvation Army Board, the Kiwanis Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Texas Farm Bureau—these are some of the activities close to the heart of Preston Smith, citizen.

He did not stop there. In his daily pursuits Preston Smith came to realize that business and government are closely related in the American system—and that without good government we cannot have a favorable climate for good business. A man of direct action, Preston Smith went into the business of government. He served six years in the Texas House of Representatives and six in the Senate.

Senator Smith has supported sound statewide legislation for better schools, roads, welfare and conservation. He took the lead in establishing a permanent building program for state colleges. He had the integrity to support necessary state spending and the courage to oppose extravagance and waste. In government, as in business and at home, Preston Smith believes in meeting our obligations and paying our bills.

Having proved himself as one of the best-rounded, best-equipped, best-informed and most highly respected Texans in both his private and public careers, Preston Smith was a logical candidate to succeed Ben Ramsey as Lieutenant Governor of Texas.

Voters in 102 counties gave Preston the lead over four opponents in the First Democratic Primary. Now he is in the runoff. He got there without the support of any self-serving group or power bloc. His opponent has the endorsement of labor leaders and other special interests who want to dominate our state government. Preston Smith asks only for the votes of individual Texans who want a Lieutenant Governor without any strings attached. He is depending on independent-minded Texans everywhere to vote for him on June 2.

Elect your independent candidate for Lieutenant Governor—

PRESTON SMITH

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights By Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex.—Big news around the State Capitol is that the State finally got out of the red.
Treasurer Jesse James announced the good news. Deficit, which had existed since September 28, 1958, was wiped out by heavy income from annual insurance and corporation franchise taxes, plus revenue from the sales tax.
As of 1 p.m. May 18, there was a cash balance in the state's main checking account—the general revenue fund—of $1,233,106.
Fund will be back in the red again, from time to time, before everything gets squared away. However, about a year from now a steady surplus should be on hand.

BUSINESSMEN LOSE MILLIONS—Texas businessmen are throwing a way more than $3,000,000 a year, according to State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert. This is because they're not taking advantage of the prepayment plan under the new state sales tax.

Since small and big businessmen usually pay their bills within 10 days to earn a two per cent discount, Calvert can't understand why they waste $3,000,000 a year by failing to get this same discount from the state.
Under the sales tax law's Prepayment plan, a businessman can increase his allowable discount from one to three per cent. He can do so by rendering the tax for each quarter by the middle of the quarter to be reported. In other words, he can pay the tax in advance on a logical estimate.

Prepayment was conceived by the Legislature, Calvert said, as an incentive, with some consolation to the business that is forced to collect and report the tax. But to date prepayment has been the most neglected section of the sales tax law.

TEXTBOOK LISTS WILL BE PUBLIC—When the House Textbook Investigating Committee was holding open hearings on books recommended by the State Textbook Committee of the Board of Education, one of the most frequent complaints registered by those who protested selections was that they couldn't get copies of the texts in time to study all the content.

The newly appointed textbook committee for 1962 has set forth a system for adoption which will give every possible protestant as much time to pore over this year's offerings as the committee itself will have.

On or before July 1, publishers must file a statement of intent, listing all books offered by title, subject, copyright and authors. A compilation of this information will then be forwarded to all school districts, as well as interested groups and individuals who request the list from the Texas Education Agency.

Textbook publishers also have been instructed to make all considered texts available for purchase by the public from their various depositories.

Final date to file intent to protest any book offered for adoption will be August 1.
OUTSTANDING YOUTHS TO BE REWARDED—If you'd like to nominate a youngster for a distinguished service award, or for bravery, write to Governor Price Daniel. He is seeking recommendations for Young American Medal.

TODAY'S MEDITATION

JESUS DISCIPLES ACTS: 1-8
JESUS CALLED His disciples to testify for Him, saying "Ye shall be witnesses unto me." Today it is our turn to represent Him. "To what shall we testify?" we ask.

The answer is plain. To the absolute Lordship of Jesus Christ; To His sufficiency for every human need. For Christ's promise that "My grace is sufficient for thee" is just as valid today as it was for Paul in the long ago.

Being a Christian witness is a glorious privilege. It is also a solemn responsibility. Therefore to be truly effective our testimony must do more than present the major facts, and reflect the reading of doctrines of the Christian faith. It must include the element of personal experience.

"That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you," said Peter and John and the Psalmist announced, "Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what He hath done for my soul," also "Let the redeemed of the Lord say so."

Daily we are on the witness stand and in courts of public opinion, while the world waits to see the living Lord. Will men accept or reject Him on the basis of our testimony?

If our testimony is clear, true, and concise, men will acknowledge Him as Savior and Lord, if it is vague and uncertain, they may reject Him.

als for Bravery and Service awards for 1961. He asks that nominations of boys and girls under age 19, who have performed acts of extraordinary courage or achieved outstanding records of service, be submitted to him by August 15.

Act of bravery or record of achievement must have been performed during 1961. Two medals may be awarded for each category by the Young American Medals Committee of the U. S. Department of Justice, after final approval by Attorney General Robert Kennedy.

Governor Daniel will forward his recommendations to the Justice Department after he receives nominations which include facts about each youngster's achievement with supporting statements by witnesses; authenticated evidence of the time and place of the candidate's birth; a biographical sketch and photograph.

RAMPS ALONGSIDE HIGHWAYS—Fishermen and other boat owners soon will be cheering lustily for the State Highway Department.

D. C. Greer, department head, has just announced that 40 boat launching ramps soon will be made from surplus funds in the Highway Department.

State boat registration law provides that any income remaining after enforcement of the boat registration act shall be spent building public launching ramps for boats. Highway department has handled registrations and the funds since enactment of the law two years ago.

"Additional ramps will be built as money becomes available," Greer stated. "These will be located according to need, accessibility to highways, and availability of private launching facilities."

R. W. Townsley, director of the Motor Vehicle Division, reported that as of November 30, 1961, licenses had been issued for 173,300 Texas motorboats.

"We still hope for some remedial legislation to strengthen the Act," said Townsley.

SHORT SNORTS

After representatives of major oil companies gave gloomy testimony as to the demand for Texas oil, State Railroad Commission ordered another eight-day allowable for June. The 22-day shutdown means a slight production increase over May on an average calendar day basis.

Governor Daniel named Daniel Boone of Abilene and C. Herbert Cowell of Houston to the State Board of Architectural Examiners.

Miss Mildred Blair of Cisco was reappointed to the Texas State Board of Tuberculosis Nurse Examiners and C. D. McKnight of San Antonio to the State Board of Barber Examiners.

Local Boxer Dog Shows Bravery At Dangerous Quill-Point Range

It all happened before midnight Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Ethridge were peacefully sleeping at their farm ten miles south of Muleshoe.

Their sixteen-year old son Dean returning home from Muleshoe discovered a dead porcupine on their drive way some 75 yards from the house—and then he found his ten-year-old brother Gary's Boxer, Admiral.

The American Kennel Club registered boxer had performed a job well done for the Ethridges. He proved his courage and devotion worthy of his champion German heritage.

From German registration papers dated 26 June 1955, which La Nelle Boothe of 617 West Avenue D. has for Admiral's mother Lady Lou-Shaw, Admiral has quite an elite lineage. His "parents" are Riot's Riot Too owned by Mrs. Neal Eubanks, the former Doris Ann Gilbreath, 801 W. 7th, and La Nelle's Lady Lou. La Nelle purchased the mother boxer as a pup from Air Force Lieutenant James Alexander in Amarillo. And so the history reveals that Admiral has a line of German champions with names like Bajasso v. Friedenheim as "great-grandfather" and Orest v. Friedenheim as "great-grandmother. This is quite a family and Gary Ethridge's Admiral lived up to his heritage.

However, Admiral suffered a bit in the line of duty in the fight with the porcupine.

"He looked like Santa Claus" Dean exclaimed upon finding the conquering dog.

Some 1,500 porcupine quills were embedded in his coat, tongue, mouth, ears, nose—even between his teeth—which made his face look scarily. A barrow of quills were lodged around his nails and in his front legs and pads of his feet, Dr. Jerry Gleason, local veterinarian added.

FARM LEADER CHARGES

Agricultural Welfare State Could Result By Legislation

Creation of an agricultural welfare state would result from the passage of a series of bills by Senator Harrison Williams of New Jersey, it was charged today, by Ed Dean of Lubbock, Secretary-Treasurer of the National Farm Labor Users Committee and Secretary of West Texas Agricultural Employers Group.

Army Pvt. Jimmie D. Kemp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Y. Kemp, 420 E. Fourth st., Muleshoe, recently participated with other personnel from the 1st Division's 5th Infantry in Exercise Red Arrow, a 31-day series of tactical field training maneuvers at Fort Riley, Kan.

Exercise Red Arrow, designed to maintain the "Big Red One" Division in combat ready condition, featured artillery, mortar and small arms firings and combat training maneuvers against an "Aggressor" force.

unemployed industrial workers into harvest work.

It also empowers the Secretary to regiment all seasonal workers, collect them into camps and move them from state-to-state as the government is able to find work for them.

The rest of the social program is included in nine other bills, some of which have passed the Senate and others which still are in committee.

These include: S.1122 which would establish a minimum wage of 75 cents per hour in agriculture, increasing each year until it reaches the industrial minimum wage in the fourth year. This bill is before a Senate Sub-Committee.

S.1123 prohibits the employment in agriculture of anyone less than 15 years old, with the Secretary of Labor permitted to raise this age to 18 in cases he believes to be hazardous. This bill is in the House of Representatives.

S.1124 and S.1125 have been combined. They authorize $3 million for studies and grants to states for summer and regular schools for migrant children and adults. This combined bill has passed the Senate.

S.1126 provides for federal registration and regulation of crew leaders or labor contractors. This bill has passed the Senate.

S.1127 would provide mortgage insurance up to 90 per cent of value at 6 per cent interest for the construction of farm labor housing as well as direct loans for the same purpose. This bill still is in Senate Committee.

S.1128 includes farm workers under the National Labor Relations Act. It authorizes pre-season contracts between the farmers and labor unions which provide: (1) compulsory union membership after 7 days; (2) union must be given first opportunity to fill jobs; (3) minimum qualifications for workers.

S.1130 authorizes $3 million a year to provide health services to migrants and their families.

S.1131 authorizes $750,000 to aid states to establish day-care centers for the children of migrant workers.

S.1132 establishes a council of 13 to advise the President and Congress of migratory labor problems and issues.

When taken together, Dean said, this is a comprehensive program to place seasonal farm workers under a welfare state program that could remove from them the last vestige of individual responsibility.

"Such a program of regimenting the lives of American citizens who are now free to come and go as they please may well prove to be most distasteful if not outright disastrous," Dean concluded.

When your family goes vacationing this summer, do try the special foods of the region you visit! Lime pie and black bean soup in Florida, shoofly pie in Pennsylvania Dutch country, crab cakes in Maryland and Indian Pudding in New England are only a few of the delicious regional dishes it's fun to taste.

Memorial Day

When the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, General John A. Logan, issued the order designating May 30, 1868, as a day for decorating the graves of the men who fell in the War between the States, he expressed the hope that it would be observed "from year to year while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of the departed."

The custom of this paying homage to the war dead, which had originated in the South and represented at that time only spontaneous local activity on the part of a relatively few women and children, thus came into being. The appeal of such an annual commemoration to large numbers of people was soon demonstrated throughout the reunited Republic.

By 1900, President William McKinley, himself a Union veteran, declared, "The Army of Grant and the Army of Lee are together. They are one now in faith, in hope, in fraternity, in purpose and in an invincible patriotism."

Since "The noblest memorial to a hero is not reverence for his dead bones, but the reproduction of his heroism," Memorial Day should not only be a day of remembrance but also a day of consecration for the present and future to the ideals which have made our nation great. It should be a time of renewal of our faith in God and His gracious Providence, remembering that we are not creatures of chance or blind circumstances, but that we have been led and guided by the hand of God.

Let us reverently thank God this Memorial Day for the brave men, and women, who have given their lives that this land might remain free, for those who are serving in the armed forces today to protect our nation, and for a future which we trust in His wise and gracious hands.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER WONDERS

How Candidates Can Spend More for An Office Than the Office Pays

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm explain the financial end of politics this week, how accurately, we can't say... Dear editor:

I was talking with a neighbor of mine the other day and he said there was a problem puzzling him. He said he'd been reading some figures on how much candidates spend in a big campaign and what he wanted to know was, how can a man afford to spend four or five times as much running for an office as the office pays?

"You take when a man runs for some big office, Governor or Senator, say, why sometimes he'll carry it, why sometimes he'll lose it, I don't know about this. But if there aren't any strings attached, they sure get hold of plenty of it from some place, to string us along with."

Yours faithfully,

Now I'll admit it doesn't seem to make sense, to spend more money getting a job than the job pays, but on the other hand, farmers do it all the time. Frequently, farming is like running a post office. It's a public service institution, you're not supposed to make a profit at it.

But the difference between a farmer spending more on a crop than he makes and a politician spending more on an office than it pays, is that for some strange reason most successful politicians wind up in better financial shape than farmers. Some of them wind up in better shape than before they got elected, which only proves they must be financial geniuses. When a man can spend $100,000 running for a job that pays $50,000, and still come out ahead, you can see he's got something that you and me haven't. Of course, what he's got may have belonged to you and me once, but I don't have the facts to go into all that.

Of course, politicians explain their knack for spending more to get a job than the job pays, by emphasizing that their friends put up the money, without, they always say, any strings attached. I don't know about this. But if there aren't any strings attached, they sure get hold of plenty of it from some place, to string us along with.

If you peel tomatoes by dipping in boiling water for about half a minute, be sure to plunge them into cold water right after the hot dip.

For weight-watchers: a half cup of shredded raw cabbage contains only 12 calories. Use a low-calorie salad dressing on this!

Lesson & Sermon Topic Announced

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength; this is the first commandment."

This verse from Mark (ch. 12) is included in the Bible selections to be read at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body."

Further emphasizing the importance of uplifting and purifying thoughts and affections is this citation to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual,—they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite,—in order that sin and mortality may be put off. This scientific sense of being, forsaking matter for Spirit, by no means suggests man's absorption into Deity and the loss of his identity, but confers upon man enlarged individuality, a wider sphere of thought and action, a more expansive love, a higher and more permanent peace."

Full Retirement Not Necessary To Get Benefits

You don't have to retire completely to get social security benefits. This point is emphasized by John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Social Security District Office. Hutton pointed out that a great many people over age 65 are losing social security benefits because they have not applied. Most of these are people who are earning over $1200 a year, but not enough over to lose all payments.

It is possible to earn quite a sum over $1200 a year and still be entitled to benefits for some months. The 1961 changes in the law put a new slant on the deduction method. For example, if a person's family benefit is $150 per month, he could earn $2400 in the year and the family would still be entitled to receive $890 in social security benefits. If this same person's earnings were as much as $3600, he would not be entitled to any benefits for the year, unless there are some months in which his earnings are not more than $100 and he has not rendered substantial services in self-employment.

This is also applicable to persons over age 62, but other factors might influence the decision. The best method, according to Hutton, for persons approaching 65, or even 62, (if earnings are not up to standard) is to come by the social security office and discuss your case with one of our trained representatives.

The office is located in the Federal Office Building at Lubbock at 1616-19th Street. Or you may contact a field representative at some other town in the area. A representative is scheduled to be in Muleshoe June 6 in the Commissioner Courtroom at 9:45 a.m.

Grain sorghum residue is low in nitrogen. Decomposition is slow if no nitrogen is added. That's why farmers in this area have been applying Monsanto Anhydrous Ammonia to their soil. Because anhydrous ammonia is a liquid when under pressure, you don't have to wait for granules to dissolve. Monsanto Anhydrous Ammonia starts right to work. You get more nitrogen (82.2%) per pound than from any other carrier. No money spent on bags or bagging costs—not to mention the handling problem. Applicator tanks are filled quickly. And Monsanto Anhydrous Ammonia resists leaching . . . remains "locked" in the soil to work when your crops need it most. Improves moisture efficiency even during drought periods. Production Allotments Are Often More Valuable Than Land Itself

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Billie Sol Estes case spotlights federal farm programs that carry production allotments which in some cases are more valuable than the land on which the crops are grown.

It was the assembling of cotton production rights that belonged to others that got Estes, West Texas financier under fraud indictment, into trouble with the Agriculture Department. And it was his activity in this field that has brought charges that Estes got favored treatment from the department.

For tobacco, production rights amount to as much as $5,000 an acre. That is, land to which such rights are attached sells that much above land of comparable value not having such rights.

The rights run lower in value for other crops to which they apply, such as cotton, rice, wheat and peanuts.

These rights are expressed in terms of marketing quotas, which in turn plant all based on acreage farm's market. Generally, a controlled crop is quota on a crop produced amount of the planting allotment.

Taking wheat as an example, the government has been apportioning 55 million acres of wheat among eligible producers. An individual farm's allotment is based largely on its production history. This means that a farm that has over the years produced a larger acreage than an adjoining farm gets a larger wheat acreage allotment. The same is true of the other crops.

A small acreage is set aside each year for apportionment to new farms.

Contrary to a generally held belief, farm law does not bar or make unlawful the production of a controlled crop by persons and farms not having planting allotments. What the law does is to say that if you plant a controlled crop on non-allotted acres, you must pay a marketing quota penalty for doing so. The penalty is designed to discourage production by those without allotments.

These penalties run high. For wheat, the penalty is $1.59 a bushel. This compares with the government's support price of $2. The cotton penalty was 19.5 cents a pound last year compared with average market prices of about 33 cents. For tobacco, the penalty is 75 per cent of the average market price for the previous marketing year.

Hence, the penalties help give value to the planting allotments. Another factor making them valuable is that government price support aid is denied farmers who produce in excess of their allotments.

Except for rice in Louisiana, the allotments are assigned to farms and not to individual farmers. The department has interpreted the law as prohibiting the sale of allotments as such. This means they go with the land. When a farm with an allotment is sold, the new owner of the farm gets the allotment.

In the Estes case, the allotments concerned had been longed originally to farms which had been taken over by government agencies under the right eminent domain. The law provides for a pooling of such allotments and their later reassignment to the farmers on new farms they might buy.

Estes developed a plan under which he said he sold farms to these farmers who in turn reclaimed their allotments and then leased the land, with the allotments, back to him. The department contends the transactions were not bona fide land sales. It maintains it was a scheme for Estes to get title to allotments that could not be transferred legally.

Farm Ladies Discuss the Dangers Of Proposed Government Bills

A number of ladies of the Progress and West Camp Communities met in the D. O. Burelsmith home last week to discuss proposed legislation in Congress. Several bills were discussed.

Brief explanations of the bills were prepared on paper for each person attending and newspaper clippings, magazine articles and newspaper editorials were referred to, as well as reports from special sources.

The group of farm wives at first seemed most interested in present farm bill proposals, but they soon centered on proposals to require the registration of small arms—HR 613 and HR 9482, which deals with stopping mail.

The ladies objected to the proposals in HR 9482, which would authorize Federal Agents to stop any mail which might be "constructed" as being against the national security.

The bill has extremely dangerous potentialities, the ladies believe, in that it could be interpreted to include personal letters, church publications, or anything else.

It has all the earmarks of a means of stopping patriots' warnings against subversion, they warned. This was deemed ironic considering the tons and tons of Communist propaganda being shipped into this country daily, without inspection, and delivered free!

These proposals are steps in the Arms Control and Disarmament plans, the ladies believe. They pointed out the dangers of such proposals, and the "unconstitutionality" of their nature.

The ladies were urged to contact the administration's concentrated efforts in getting "Medicare" passed with letters and telegrams. They learned that a 15-word telegram costs only about 75 cents, not too much by today's standards, and very insignificant when compared to the millions in tax dollars such a socialistic medical program would cost.

The ladies wholeheartedly agreed that it definitely is not the function of the Federal Government to provide medical care for the nation and they felt that the present proposals were only the "foot in the door" for complete socialized medicine.

Those attending the meeting were: Mrs. Wiley Baker, Mrs. Virgil Nowell, Mrs. Frank Fields, Mrs. Billy Fields, Mrs. Fred Rambo, Mrs. Willard Tibbets, Mrs. N. G. Phipps, Mrs. Glen D. Harris, Mrs. Clarence Mason, Mrs. Stanley Williams, and Mrs. M. E. Little.

Several of the ladies had been requested to obtain information for friends and relatives who were unable to attend.

Mrs. Burelsmith said that although the crowd wasn't as large as she would have liked, she feels that a great deal of good was accomplished and that she was very pleased with the attitude of the ladies toward learning more about what is going on all over the nation. She encourages other ladies who may have considered this type of meeting to go ahead with their plans.

"You could hardly do anything more worthwhile for your children and grandchildren than to work to preserve freedom and democracy in our great nation," Mrs. Burelsmith says.

Mayor Proclaims May 20-26 "Highway Week" For The City

WHEREAS, one of the best known and well regarded qualities of the State of Texas is its soundly built and carefully maintained highway system, and

WHEREAS, a consistent program of highway construction and modernization has in recent years brought about a reduction of more than 25 per cent in the fatality rate on all Federal and State highways in Texas; but

WHEREAS, heavy increases in traffic endanger these advances in highway safety, since the state's population has increased by one-fourth since 1950, the state now has more than five million registered motor vehicles, and the miles traveled by those vehicles now totals 43 billion miles a year and

WHEREAS, due to this flood of traffic some 22,000 miles of the state's 25,000 mile system of US and State numbered Highways are already obsolete for the loads of traffic they carry;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, as the nation at large observes National Highway Week during the period May 20-26, 1962, that the Texas Highway Department be commended for its achievements in building today's fine highway system in the face of mounting traffic problems; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the citizens of Texas be urged to view with concern the adverse economic effects and the cost in human lives that will result if highway traffic overwhelms the capacity of our roads, and to support a sustained program of highway improvement and modernization to keep Texas growing.

THEREFORE, I, Arthur Crow, Mayor Muleshoe, do hereby designate the period May 20-26, 1962, as

AND I urge that special attention be directed to the needs of our highway system.

(Signed) Arthur Crow
