JAMES J. NAPPER

Napper Seeks Judicial Seat In 106th District

James J. "Jay" Napper is giving up one elected position in hopes of gaining another.

Napper, who has a law practice in Lamesa and serves as county attorney for Lynn County, is seeking election as district judge for the 106th Judicial District of Texas.

The lone Democrat for that position, Napper will be challenging Republican incumbent Carter T. Schildknecht in the November general election.

The 106th Judicial District consists of Dawson, Gaines, Garza and Lynn counties.

"I believe I can serve as a fair and impartial judge," Napper said.

He said that, if elected, he hopes to reduce the cost of operating the district judge's office.

"The counties in our district have been asked to increase their funding of the district judge's office substantially over the past four years," Napper said. "I believe that I can do a good job as district judge without spending as much."

A licensed attorney for 13 years, Napper said he believes his experience in the legal profession qualifies him for the post. He has served as county attorney for Lynn County the past six years.

"I've tried a variety of cases in that time and I believe that qualifies me to hear a variety of cases," Napper said.

He is giving up the county attorney's position to run for district judge.

Under state law, Napper said, filing for judge automatically triggered his resignation as county attorney. However, he said the state constitution requires him to continue serving in that post until the Lynn County Commissioners Court appoints a successor.

Having grown up in Lamesa, Napper graduated from Lamesa High School in 1985. He earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Texas in 1989 and graduated from the University of Texas Law School in 1992.

Napper worked for the Austin law firm of Martinec, Hargadon and Wise for two years before returning to Lamesa to open his own law practice in 1994.

While noting that most of his legal work has been in Dawson and Lynn counties, Napper notes, "I have practiced in all four counties in the district."

He was initially appointed as the county attorney for Lynn County when the previous county attorney vacated that office. Napper has since been elected twice to that position.

Napper has been a resident of O'Donnell for the past six years. His wife, Gina, is a teacher in the O'Donnell school system and they have a daughter, Chesney, who is in the fourth grade there.

A member of the Lamesa Bar Association and the Lamesa Area Chamber of Commerce, Napper also is a member of First Baptist Church of O'Donnell.

JUDGE TERRI WALKER

Judge Terri Walker Seeks Re-election As Justice of Peace

Incumbent Judge Terri Walker has filed for re-election as Lynn County Justice of the Peace, Precinct 1. The daughter of the late Charlie M. Mason and Wanda Mason, Judge Walker was born and raised in Lynn County and is a longtime resident of Tahoka.

Judge Walker has seven years of experience in the position of Justice of the Peace and has an additional four years of experience as a Court Clerk in the Justice of the Peace's office, both in Lynn County and in Wichita County, Texas.

She has performed the duties of Justice of the Peace, which also includes the duties of a Magistrate, the duties of a Coroner and for over five years she was also the Municipal Judge for the City of Wilson.

"During the last six years, I have been instrumental in updating office procedures and have been responsible for many improvements in the operation of the office of Justice of the Peace, which has resulted in a large increase of funds to the county," says Judge Walker. With the constant requirements for greater efficiency through technology, Judge Walker has seen that new computers and software have helped her office keep pace with the increasing requirements of her office.

"I have attended many varied training classes, totaling 480 hours in the last seven years, to keep up to date with this position, and I am well-versed in handling the duties of Justice of the Peace. I am dedicated to continuing to serve the people of Lynn County, and will appreciate your continued support in the upcoming Democratic Primary election," added Judge Walker.

Pay Property Taxes By Jan. 31 or Pay Additional Interest Fees

Lynn County property owners who have not yet paid their 2005 property taxes have slightly more than two weeks left if they plan on getting by with no additional fees, interest or penalties tacked on their original bills.

January 31 is the deadline to pay property taxes. After that, the late payment fees, penalties and interest amounts begin to add up quickly.

Those who wait until February will pay an additional seven percent in penalties and interest. Every month following that, the penalties and interest go up by two percent through June when the penalty fee remains at 15 percent.

Property owners have until 5 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 31 to pay their taxes in person (without additional interest) at the Lynn County Appraisal District office, located at 1615 Main Street in Tahoka. If paid by mail, taxes must be postmarked by Jan. 31.

For more information, contact the Appraisal Office at 561-4057.

JOE HEFLIN

Heflin Announces Candidacy For State Representative

Former Crosby County Judge, Joe Heflin, has announced his candidacy for State Representative, District 85, which is being vacated by the retiring Pete Laney. Heflin, who has served as County Judge for the past five years, was required by Texas law to resign to run for the post. Before serving as county judge, he was elected to two terms on the Crosbyton city council. He believes that his experience in both county and municipal government has prepared him to represent the citizens of District 85 effectively.

Governor Rick Perry appointed Heflin to the South Plains Regional Review Committee. As county judge, Heflin was a member of the Board of Directors of the South Plains Association of Governments, which serves 15 South Plains counties. As a member of the SPAG Executive Board, he was treasurer.

Recently, Joe worked closely with Senator Robert Duncan, during a series of town hall meetings regarding rural health care. Heflin is concerned about this issue and others affecting all of us, but especially the BACK IN THE Dark Ages, like in the 1950s, there were Little Moron jokes; later the same kind of jokes about how dumb people can get became Aggie jokes, and more recently, blonde jokes. All of these have run their course, or at least I thought so, until I heard a couple of blonde jokes last week which I had not heard before.

Does anybody except me remember the Little Moron jokes? Here's one I recall: Did you hear about the Little Moron who took his pregnant wife to the grocery store because he heard they had free delivery?

The more recent Aggie jokes were numerous and almost everybody had their own favorites. Like, How Do You Get a One-Armed Aggie Off a Telephone Pole? You wave at him. Or the Aggie football player who took a periscope to the game because he heard the coach might send him in as a sub. And about a jillion other dumb jokes.

Blonde jokes became popular in the last couple of years, but I have not heard many of them lately. I was handed a sheet of six blonde jokes last week, though, and two of them were new to me:

A Russian, an American and a blonde of undetermined nationality were talking one day.

The Russian said, "We were the first in space!"
The American said, "We were the first on the moon."
The blonde said, "So what? Blondes are going to be the first on the sun!"
The Russian and the American looked at each other and shook their heads. "You can't land on the sun, you idiot," said the Russian. "You'll burn up!"
To which the blonde replied, "We're not stupid, you know. We're going at night."

And this one: A blonde playing Trivial Pursuit rolled the dice and landed on Science & Nature. Her question was, "If you are in a vacuum and someone calls your name, can you hear it?"

She thought for a time and then asked, "Is it on or off?"

FRIDAY the 13th comes up this week, and many people will be cautious this Friday because lots of folks are superstitious and believe something bad is more likely to happen that day than on other days. I believe that bad things can happen any day, and good things, too. I don't walk under ladders (actually I don't walk anywhere if a ride is available). I do avoid black cats, because I try to avoid all cats. I just don't believe in superstitions.

If something bad happens to me Friday, I'll be sorry I said that.

Enter TISD Track From East Side

Tahoka ISD has now opened the running track for public use after the track was resurfaced and painted. The track is in excellent condition, according to school officials.

TISD would like to make the public aware of the change in location for public access. "We are asking that you enter from the east gate by the home stands. There is more parking available there and it will be easier to access the track from the east side," said Superintendent Jimmy Parker.

Additionally, school officials remind patrons of the following prohibited items: no roller skates or roller blades; rubber-sole shoes only; walk/jog in outside lanes only, 6 or 7; no bicycles; please stay off jumping mats and out of jumping pits; no glass containers and please help keep our track clean by leaving no trash.

"TISD thanks you in advance for your cooperation," said the Superintendent.

Tahoka ISD Recognizes School Board Members

January is school board recognition month. Tahoka ISD joins over 1000 other school districts in the state to recognize these men and women for their unselfish dedication to the students and patrons of the state of Texas.

"These dedicated men and women do not receive any compensation for their service to the school district. They are rewarded when they see the students and staff of the district being successful in academics and extracurricular activities and more importantly, each year as the senior class graduates to begin the next phase of their lives," said Supt. Jimmy Parker.

Tahoka ISD Board Members include Board President Math Bartley, Vice President Joe Calvillo, Board Secretary Carmen Chapa, and members Frank McLelland, Jimmy Dorman, Valton Stephens and Kent Kahl.

"Please join us in expressing our gratitude to these seven members for their service to our children," says Supt. Parker.

City To Contract With Slaton For Animal Shelter Services

Tahoka City Council voted unanimously Monday night to contract with the City of Slaton for animal shelter services, to house animals formerly held in the Tahoka city dog pound. Concerned citizens Jack and Barbara Jaquess approached city officials on the issue, requesting that the city update the animal shelter facilities to meet state guidelines. The Jacques's were present at Monday night's meeting to discuss the issue with council members.

"Tahoka's city-owned animal shelter facilities are substandard and outdated, and fail to meet state guidelines," City Administrator Jerry Webster told The News, adding that the cost of a new facility has prohibited city officials from pursuing new facilities.

"A town the size of Tahoka is not required to have an animal shelter, and so until we can figure out our options, we are going to contract with the City of Slaton Animal Shelter on a short-term basis to house any animals the city picks up," he added, noting that grant funding has been researched but no sources have been found for such projects.

Tahoka does not have an animal control officer, but when the city receives a call they send out an employee to pick up the animal, and it is taken to the dog pound across from the city warehouse.

"If we pick up an animal that is obviously neglected and no one claims it within three days, the animal is euthanized. However, if the city employees pick up a puppy or an animal that is well-cared for and obviously is someone's pet, they try very hard to find the owner or adopt the animal out if no one claims it, and we don't always adhere to the three-day rule," explained Webster. "They're very compassionate about these animals. We realize our facilities are outdated, but we do try to take care of the animals," he added.

With the new contract with Slaton Animal Services, city employees will still handle calls as before, picking up animals as requested and holding them at the dog pound until the Slaton Animal Shelter officer can pick it up and carry it back to Slaton. Cost to the City of Tahoka will be $3 per day for food and water for each animal and $0.45 cents per mile for transporting it to Slaton. An owner wanting to retrieve their pet from the shelter must travel to Slaton Animal Shelter and pay the fees before picking up the dog there.

At the Slaton Animal Shelter, all animals will only be held for a period of three days, and if not claimed by the owner, the animal will be euthanized on the fourth day. Euthanasia services will cost the City of Tahoka $5 per animal.

In other business at Monday night's council meeting, a resolution was approved for the city to participate in the TexStar (Texas Short Term Asset Reserve Program) financial pool. Another resolution to join with other West Texas cities in the Oller Engineering Inc. Sealcoat Project for 2006 was also approved.

A request was tabled from the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority asking the city of Tahoka to join in a 2006 bond issue to purchase additional water rights, with city officials seeking more information before a decision could be reached.

Jimmy Woodard presented a report on the Tahoka Volunteer Fire Dept., and Steve McKay presented the monthly Police Dept. report.

Present at the meeting led by Mayor Mike Mensch were council members Jay Dee House, Ray Box, Rudy Fuentes and Amy Preston, as well as City Administrator Jerry Webster and City Attorney Cal Huffaker. Councilwoman Clara Calvillo was absent from the meeting.

Wagon Train Reunion ... The Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train 20th year reunion was held Jan. 2, 2006 at Billy Bob's in Fort Worth, where the wagon train left on Jan. 2, 1886 and traveled 3,000 miles around Texas. It camped in Tahoka on May 8, 1886. Attending the reunion were, standing from left, Dana Hartey of Bilhary, OK, Mary Bess Edwards of New Home, Molly Franklin of New Home, Nelda French of Whiteface, and seated, John Edwards of New Home. Nelda, Dana, John and Mary Bess were all part of the Wagon Train.

TONI BAYLEY Sunday Morning Worship - 9:15 a.m. Sunday School following	Message From: Pastor Dave Parker, Grassland Nazarene Church A few years ago in a Cincinnati paper was a story about a poorly dressed woman who went to Dr. George Herman. She asked him to do an X-ray of her heart, free of cost. She claimed that she was very poor and could not pay. The doctor consented to do the work. He brought her into the room and placed her behind the machine. He got her situated and when he turned on the machine, it revealed a small purse hidden underneath her clothes. That purse contained many gold Kruggerand, worth THOUSANDS of Dollars. "Your heart is very bad," he said. "You lied when you said that you were poor." God also brings things to light... and if we will refocus, we will discover that we are truly rich! Rich in His blessings and favor. As I look around town, I see such misery... such need so let me ask you to reach out with the Love of God this week and bring some light to a needy soul. "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Cotton Gins May Operate Thru March

Lynn County area cotton gins are still operating at full speed to process this year's abundant cotton crop, with some gin officials estimating that work will continue through March and into April before the 2005 crop is ginned.

The total for nine area gins this week surpassed the 300,000 mark, up to 324,776 bales reported as of Tuesday afternoon. Texas Star Cooperative Gin in Wilson/Union has reported 90,207 cotton bales ginned to date, with approximately one more month of ginning remaining, officials estimate. At New Home Coop-Lakeview Gin, it is estimated that ginning will continue up until mid-March, and their bale count is up to 56,643 this week.

Farmers Coop Gin in O'Donnell has ginned 54,720 bales to date, and estimate another five weeks of ginning. The Farmers Coop Assn. #1 in Tahoka estimates 50 days remaining for gin processing, with 35,141 bales ginned as of this week. Woolam Gin in O'Donnell is close behind, with 34,507 bales ginned, and an estimated 60 more days of ginning.

Wells Coop Gin officials figure it will be into April before they finish processing, with a bale count this week of 25,000. Lynn County Gin has 6,600 bales ginned to date, and estimate they will finish ginning in two weeks. Grassland Coop Gin has processed 13,324 bales, with a goal of 19,000 bales ginned before the season finishes.

Close City Gin in Post is the only gin reporting to The News that has completed their ginning season, with a total of 8,634 bales reported on Jan. 3.

Countywide Burn Ban Now Effective; Co. Treasurer Resigns

by JUANELL JONES

Lynn County Commissioners approved a countywide burn ban during Tuesday morning's regular session, in an effort to remind citizens to take special care in preventing fires during the current drought conditions. The ban is effective immediately, and prohibits outdoor burning.

Commissioners noted that there are exceptions to prohibition of outdoor burning, including controlled burns of agricultural land, but they urge anyone planning a controlled burn to contact the Lynn County Sheriff's Dept. beforehand to let officials be aware of the area of the burn, and to use common sense in determining wind strength and direction.

The ban does not prohibit fires for cooking, such as outdoor barbecue grills, and also allows rural burning of household trash, as long as precautions are taken to prevent fires from spreading from within the containers.

Fireworks of any kind are not allowed in Lynn County, and citizens are urged to report any fires that look to be untended in the county.

In other business, commissioners accepted a letter of resignation from County Treasurer Janet Porterfield, who is retiring effective Jan. 31, 2006. At the next regular meeting on Jan. 23, commissioners are expected to appoint Judy Holden, currently a deputy clerk in the treasurer's office, as county treasurer to fill the remainder of the term until a new treasurer is elected in the November general election. The newly elected treasurer will take office on January 1, 2007.

John Baker was present at Tuesday's meeting to provide information on the status of the county's grant proposal for courthouse restoration/renovation. He told commissioners that the revised grant proposal has been sent to his liaison at the Texas Historical Commission in Austin for their final draft review.

"Our contact at the Historical Commission has been very helpful, and we have made numerous changes in the grant proposal, per their request, including asking for more money," Baker said. "As it stands now, the proposal seeks $3,505,656 in grant funding, which includes rerouting the road to restore the 'square' around the courthouse, which the Historical Commission felt should be included. With this proposal, the county's contribution is roughly $580,000, of which half that amount can be in-kind contributions (including tearing down the old jail building)," he added.

"Our original cost estimate was dated August 2004 and costs have gone up since then, and after reviewing our proposal the Historical Commission contact said we needed to raise the funding request," Baker explained. He added that grant funding has not yet been addressed by the state legislature for courthouse preservation projects, and it is not known when the legislature will address the issue.

"Right now, we hope we have answered all the questions the Historical Commission put to us in June when we were there for review. This final draft review which we just sent should take about two weeks to review and then we can make any further changes they suggest," said Baker.

"I think we have a better than average chance of getting this grant, for several reasons. Our courthouse is in relatively good shape and remains true to much of its original design, and we have the backing of the Texas Historical Commission, who has been working closely with us. I understand many of the projects [in the courthouse preservation program] ask for more funding than we are asking, upwards of $6-$8 million, to restore buildings that are in much worse shape than our courthouse, so I believe we do have a very good chance of getting this grant," Baker told commissioners.

In other business, problems with internet service to county offices was discussed, and District Clerk Sandra Laws presented a request to use office space on the third floor for a jury room in order to allow expansion of her office to the current jury room on the second floor. "We are running out of room and desperately need more space," Mrs. Laws told commissioners, who said they would consider her request and get back to her. Currently, no rooms on the third floor of the courthouse are used, and there is no access to electricity, or heating/AC systems.

Sheriff Jerry D. Franklin reported on the Sheriff's Dept., and monthly bills were approved. Present at the meeting led by County Judge H.G. Franklin were commissioners J.T. Miller, Mike Braddock, Don Morton and Don Blair, and others.

Questions and Answers of the Day

Question: What are the ramifications of infidelity and adultery?

If you are about to start an adulterous affair or are thinking about cheating ... please take notice of what I am writing to you. First of all, God will not bless it. You will experience so many problems once it begins, you will become heartsick. Infidelity is a rotteness -- not unlike cancer -- that oftentimes makes misery in everyone around it. I am so thankful when a man and woman can work past a betrayal. It is very rare. You see, if we look at our spouse the way God says, they are part of us. We are no longer separate. Marriage is one of the most Holy unions that exists. Our salvation and union with God is first and our union with our spouses is second. Do you know that children who live through unfaithful parents are more likely to have the same problem when they marry? We are their role model. They trust us, so whatever we do must be alright. If you have already done this; repent and do it no more. It's not worth losing the blessing of spouses or children, not to mention respect. It's not worth the headache it produces. I pray for marriages in America. I pray we are so in love with our spouses that thoughts of adultery sicken us. Amen. GOD BLESS YOU.
