Schildknecht Retains District Judge Seat

Lynn County voters followed suit with Dawson, Gaines and Garza county voters in re-electing incumbent 106th District Judge Carter Schildknecht for a second four-year term over challenger James J. Napper. Schildknecht (R) had 4,949 votes in the four-county district to 3,399 votes for Napper (D), and Schildknecht carried each of the four counties individually. In Lynn County, she had 790 votes to 635 for Napper.

The District Judge race was the only locally contested race, with all county officials who were on the ballot running unopposed. Lynn voters chose Republican Rick Perry to continue as Texas Governor with 527 votes, with Democrat Chris Bell following with 395 votes. Perry carried the election statewide as well.

Republican Jim Landroop marginally carried Lynn County with 694 votes for State Representative, District 85, while Democrat Joe Heflin had 682 votes. Heflin claimed a narrow victory throughout the district, with 48.97 percent of the votes to 48.31 percent for Landroop, which amounted to a 193-vote margin with 14,361 votes to Landroop's 14,168.

There were 1,469 ballots cast in Lynn County, of which 242 were straight-party tickets for Republicans, 246 were straight-party tickets for Democrats, and 4 were straight-party tickets for Libertarians. Early voters cast 425 ballots, with 1,044 ballots marked on Nov. 7.

IN THIS SOCIETY where youth and thinness are worshiped, they finally have come up with a couple of more good reasons why skinny is better than fat: you get better gas mileage and you can remember things better.

Those benefits of being slim and trim were heralded in a couple of stories in the daily newspapers, both on Oct. 26. Of course, we've been told for years that being overweight is bad for your health (although a few anti-diet people have dared to suggest that a little bit overweight won't hurt you), but all that does for most of us is make us feel guilty about enjoying a good meal or a tiny snack, like a gallon of Rocky Road ice cream.

The medical profession and the pharmaceutical companies have invented things like cholesterol, triglycerides and body mass indexes to make us feel miserable while the drug makers get rich off our misery. Most of us just pig out every chance we get, anyway.

But now, says the news reports, studies show that fat drivers with fat passengers get fewer miles per gallon of gasoline than they do if their vehicles are carrying less weight. So being lightweight and making sure that your passengers are lightweight, too, can save you money at the pump. Now they have got my attention, which just shows where most of us put our priorities.

The studies also mentioned that airplanes use more fuel than they used to because the passenger loads on airliners tend to be heavier than they once were, meaning that the average American traveler is expanding his horizons in more ways than one.

A few days earlier, I recall reading something about the dangers that many parents in the U.S. may someday outlive their children because so many overweight mothers are giving birth to obese children, whose fat tendencies will stay with them throughout life.

Another story reported that overweight people cannot remember things as well as their contemporaries who are not overweight. They gave some tests which showed the overweight people could not remember as many numbers from a given sequence as those hateful skinny people. There was something else the fatter folks couldn't remember as well, but I forget just what it was.

All of this just reaffirms that fat is bad for us. Of course, I knew that all the time. I just don't want to hear about it.

Richard Kinnett, Owner of Echo 87 Motel since 1978

Echo 87 Motel Changes Hands

The Echo 87 Motel, located at the northern edge of Tahoka, has a new owner and a new name this week. The name is changed to the Tahoka Motel, according to Dr. David A. Wesloh of Midland, new owner of the property. Dr. Wesloh purchased the motel from Richard "Dick" Kinnett of Idaho, who has owned the Echo 87 Motel for 28 years, since 1978.

"I was still crop-dusting when I first bought the motel, so I had someone else managing it for the first ten years or so, and when I quit crop-dusting I took over managing the motel then," said Kinnett, who says he will be returning to Idaho.

"I appreciate everything he did at the motel and the good he has done for the community," Dr. Wesloh said of the former owner. "We are going to continue that, and we have already started remodeling the office and will upgrade all rooms considerably with new furnishings and new phone systems," he added.

Dr. Wesloh says he has formed a partnership with two other local people to help run the motel, including Katy Martin of Tahoka, and Mr. and Mrs. Marcelo Resendez of Tahoka, a couple who will live onsite and manage the property.

The motel has 11 guest rooms and a manager's quarters, and four hookups for RVs.

"Our new Tahoka Motel sign will be erected soon, and we are working on the remodeling. We will offer daily as well as competitive weekly rates at the motel," said Dr. Wesloh.

The phone number of the Tahoka Motel is 806-561-4525.

The region's most advanced cancer treatment methods

When Paul's doctor told him he had lung cancer and would need to begin treatment immediately, Paul agreed, without thinking twice. But before long, he began to doubt his decision and sought a second opinion from the Joe Arrington Cancer Research and Treatment Center (JACC), home to the region's most comprehensive cancer program. The moment JACC's team of expert oncologists finished outlining an alternative treatment plan with much higher odds of success, Paul knew he had come to the right place. He began chemotherapy and radiation the next day—at JACC. The staff took care of his every need, even wiring his room with high-speed Internet access to keep him from falling behind at work. Thanks to JACC, Paul has achieved complete remission—a victory he celebrates every evening when he returns home.

After his diagnosis, Paul worried the odds were stacked against him.

The Banks Family

by JUANELL JONES

When Japan declared war against America with the bombing of Pearl Harbor in 1941, America called its sons to protect and serve, and one Lynn County family responded with every male in the family – six brothers and their father – joining the U.S. military to serve their country during World War II.

All seven served during the war, enlisting in every branch of the Armed Forces except the Marines. Six returned safely to their families. The seventh, one of the brothers, was never seen again.

His is the first name listed on the War Memorial in Tahoka honoring those who lost their lives during America's Second World War. His name is Earl D. Banks.

This is the story of the Banks family, in what must surely be an extraordinary service of patriotism from one rural west Texas family. Today, Edwin R. Banks is the sole survivor of the male members of the family, living in Florida, and he has a sister in Lubbock, who is the only surviving female sibling.

The Banks family lived on a farm in Lynn County since 1930. William L. Banks and his wife Birdie made their home on the farm located approximately six miles east of Tahoka, working the soil to make a living for their family, which grew to include six sons and two daughters. The boys were named Clyde, William, Cecil, R.L. (Bob), Earl and Edwin, and the girls were named Irene and Sylvia. Most of the children attended school at Grassland. Irene and Edwin started school at Edith and then attended Grassland school, and Edwin graduated from Tahoka High School in 1944.

Edwin remembers the moment when he first heard that Japan had bombed the United States at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

"I remember being in the kitchen at the old home place... I must have been about 13 years old, and I remember hearing someone tell my mother about the Japanese bombing Pearl Harbor," Edwin recalls. "We just could hardly believe it."

When America called its sons to enlist in the war against Japan, it changed the course of life for many Americans, including the Banks family. However, the family's life changed in more ways than that after the "Day of Infamy" that steered America into its second World War. The Banks family lost Birdie, the mother, who died shortly thereafter. The family broke up and subsequently followed the eldest son to Florida, except for the two youngest children, Edwin and Sylvia, who remained with their sister, Irene Greer (married to Douglas Greer) in Grassland. Soon after, William, the father, along with the boys all individually joined the service to defend their country.

WILLIAM H. (WILLIE) BANKS

William H. Banks was the first to enlist, and was in the first group of Army Air Corp to deploy to Europe where he was an aerial gunner flying on B-17 and B-24 aircraft for the entire period that two of his brothers, Cecil and Bob, served in Europe and Africa with the Army Air Corp. The oldest brother, Clyde, was in the Army Infantry and participated in the European invasion. William H. Banks served 20 years in the Army Air Corps, retiring in 1961. Clyde, Cecil and Bob all entered in 1942 and received discharges after VJ Day in 1945.

Earl enlisted in the U.S. Navy in 1942, serving aboard ship. He was declared missing in action in May 1944, and Lynn County later honored his memory by including his name among those on the War Memorial, located on a triangle of ground just west of the courthouse in Tahoka.

The family has a certificate from the United States President that reads:

"In grateful memory of Earl Derwood Banks, who died in the service of his country at Sea, Pacific Area, attached U.S.S. LCT (Landing Craft, Tank) (6), 15 May 1944. He stands in the unbroken line of patriots who have dared to die that freedom might live, and grow, and increase its blessings. Freedom lives, and through it, he lives – in a way that humbles the undertakings of most men. — signed by Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America."

An article in The Lynn County News' archives (May 15, 1944) noted that "Earl D. Banks, 20, born and reared in Lynn County, was reported missing in action in the South Pacific since May 15, according to relatives. Earl was born June 28, 1924, attended Tahoka schools, and for a while worked in The News office. He joined the Navy as a cook, and was a cook-second class. Earl's father and five brothers, which is, no doubt, a service record for this section, are in the Service. The father, W.L. Banks, 54, is a cook in the U.S. Coast Guard stationed in Florida, and formerly was a farmer in the Edith community."

Because of some previous duty with the Texas National Guard, the brothers' father, William L. Banks, was accepted by the U.S. Coast Guard in 1942 and served on active duty until 1946.

The remaining son, Edwin, anxiously awaited his turn to serve his country. He graduated from Tahoka High School in May of 1944, turned 17 in June, and finally got approval to enlist in the U.S. Navy.

Edwin's duty was aboard ship as a Quartermaster, in the South Pacific. He returned to the United States in October 1946 and was placed on inactive status. He remained inactive until January 1951, at which time he was able to terminate his Navy status and enter the U.S. Air Force during the Korean War.

Edwin remained in the Air Force for 26 years and flew as a crewmember in Korea and Vietnam. He flew as a flight engineer on tanker aircraft, refueling B-47s in flight for a period of eight years in support of the air defense effort during the cold war period. This involved flying out of bases located in England, Spain, North Africa, Azore Islands, Goose Bay Labrador and Newfoundland.

Edwin was then selected for a special assignment and spent seven years performing duties as a Command Performance

Engineer. He flew on a VC97 aircraft on flights made by the Commanding General and Staff to units in 25 countries, and requiring frequent trips to Vietnam where usually five bases were visited.

With the completion of that assignment, Edwin was given another special assignment, this time to the Department of Defense. He was assigned to a Defense Contract Service Office in San Antonio, Texas, where he was responsible for safety and flight operations pertaining to test flights for overhauled aircraft at five locations in South Texas. He was required to fly in some position in all test flights with contractor flight crews, including five types of Naval aircraft, two types of Air Force aircraft and two types of Army helicopters. That assignment resulted in an award of a Joint Service Medal. This completed Edwin's military career and he retired in 1974 with 30 years of service to the USA as a Senior Master Sergeant.

"The Banks family had a father and six sons all serving in the military during World War II, which may be a record," said Edwin Banks. "Recognition should also go to our sister, Irene Banks Greer, who during this period maintained a center point and core for the family home while all of her brothers and father were in service," he added.

World War II directly affected the course of the lives of the Banks family members, as well as for thousands and thousands of other Americans – not just during the 1940s, but forevermore. The freedoms that Americans enjoy more than 60 years later were hard-fought by the men and women who served their country, in WWII and in all the battles since, and continuing today in the war against terror. On this Veterans' Day 2006, remember to say a prayer of thanks – and to voice that appreciation to the families who fought for those freedoms.

On The Wings of a Memory
Dedicated by Jacque Domingez

On the wings of a memory,
I saw a vision of you there,
With rainbows in your eyes,
And Heaven's light in your hair,
I reach for your hand
Just one more touch,
Is it asking a miracle?
Is it asking too much?
I feel your presence on the wind,
I smell you on the rain just one more time -

To have your laughter ease the pain,
To see that wonderful little grin on your face,
To have your smile light up,
Even the darkest place,
If it were possible, I pray you're
Back home with the dawn,
But then again -
On the wings of my memories,
You're not really gone.

To my grandpa Silberio Peña ...

by Ryan Peña

Many thanks to my grandpa for being the great man he was. Thank you, Grandpa, for being the best role model to me. He was a Vietnam Hero. He earned the Bronze Star by sacrificing himself for our freedom. He was a graduate from Texas Tech and a hard working man all of his life. He was happiest watching his favorite team, the Dallas Cowboys, and cooking Peña burgers.

I remember playing baseball and looking to the stands and seeing my Grandpa looking at me, proud of what I was doing. Every season he'd buy me my baseball bag and try to make every game. He'd always have plans for us to be successful. He opened a restaurant and made it family-owned.

When my Grandpa was diagnosed with cancer he tried to keep it from us, cause he knew we would be upset. I never knew how much cancer could effect a person as much as Grandpa but, being the man he was, he tried to fight this disease, just to stay with his family. He said he had unfinished business before he passed. So, Grandpa, I guess you'll have to watch me from above, become the man you've showed me to be. I love you and I'll miss you very much.

Questions and Answers of the Day

Psalms 35:27-28; Psalms 37:3-4; Psalms 47:1-7; Exodus; Romans 1:21; Psalms 22:22-26; Psalms 30:1-5; Psalms 34:1-13

Question: How thankful are we?

Don't get me wrong, there are just times we have to talk about what bothers us. I had a thought one day, that if I had a little spiral notebook with me at all times, and prayed for God to make me aware of every time I complained, then I would make a mark on the page. How many marks would I have? In Romans 1:21-32, these people were not thankful. Because they were not thankful, God gave them over to horrible lifestyles they created for themselves. Eventually, they even hated God. They came to a point that they didn't know the difference between right and wrong. They eventually became numb to God's voice and gave into all kinds of sin. That, in turn, affected their children and their behavior. Complaining becomes a habit. All through the Bible, people chose to complain instead of being thankful. God blesses us, we complain. Some people complain so much they lose their blessing. It is God who gives blessings and it is He who can turn the thankless over to the enemy. If you want to be strong, be thankful. If you want blessings, be thankful. If you want to have a good relationship with God, be thankful. If you want the enemy subdued, be thankful. Be thankful to God for the blessings He has given.

Lord, I pray for mercy for your people. I pray you will give them your sight and understanding to see your blessing. Let us praise you, let us be content in you. Forgive us, in Jesus name, Amen.

The Bulldogs traveled to Denver City last Thursday, Nov. 2, to play the Mustangs. The Dogs had a tough time and really couldn't get any offense going in their 8-42 loss.

On defense, Nick Aguirre had an interception and the defense caused three fumbles. However, they were unable to recover any of them.

Offensively, Ricardo Delgado had 90 rushing yards and Taylor Abell had 29.

The only Bulldog touchdown was made by Delgado on a 42 yard run late in the game.

Letter To The Editor

Volunteers Boost Bulldog Spirit

Our vision was simple - we wanted to show school spirit and support for our wonderful BULLDOGS. On October 10th, we began with a six-foot full size bulldog, two six-foot paw prints and three four-foot paw prints. And throughout the month of October our vision grew, now up on the fences surrounding Kelley Field are THREE six-foot full size bulldogs and I believe more than THIRTY six-foot and four-foot paw prints. I don't believe there can be any doubt as to who are the biggest fans - they are Bulldog fans - yes, indeed!

The Athletic Booster Club would like to extend a HUGE thank you to both the Tahoka Band Booster Club, as well as the anonymous donor who purchased the full size bulldog placed on the north end of Kelley Field and one of the full size bulldogs placed on the south end of Kelley Field, respectively.

The Athletic Booster Club would like to extend another HUGE thank you to Star and Todd who purchased 300 blue put-in-cups allowing us to complete the row of four-foot paw prints displayed on the fence on the east side of Kelley Field.

This demonstration of support for our Bulldogs is unqualified, cannot be quantified - and is simply - tremendous.

The Athletic Booster Club would also like to thank the dedicated and enthusiastic volunteers who spent not only one warm Sunday afternoon, but several evenings, ignoring the cold, the rain, the wind, and let's not forget those swollen thumbs, pushing and popping in hundreds, more likely thousands, of blue, white, black and gray put-in-cups. They are: Robbie Autry, John and Suzanne Baker, Bianca Baker, Jim and Christy Bingham, Dr. Donald and Tonda Freitag, Lisa Hawthorne, Paul and Cara Henderson, Shon and Kim Overton, Amy Preston, Cathy Ross, Odelia Sastre, Cassandra Tillman, Mark and Tina Wuensche, Kordell Baker, Jacob Bingham, Jamie Bingham, Caley Bingham, Alan Henderson, Laura Henderson and Heath Ross.

I am especially proud to be counted among these special and terrific people - these Tahoka Athletic Booster Club volunteers!

DC Overcomes Bulldogs 21-14

With just over 4 minutes left in the game, Denver City scored a touchdown to break a 14-14 tie with Tahoka last Friday, giving the hometown Mustangs a 21-14 win which left Tahoka, 1-3 in district play and 5-4 for the season.

The Bulldogs will wind up the season here against Roosevelt this week. The Eagles lost several times early in the season, but have come on in the last two weeks to beat Slaton and then Post in district, and will have a chance to be in the playoffs if they can beat Tahoka. The Bulldogs, on the other hand, have a chance to go 6-4 for the year and have a rare winning season.

Jay Tillman ran 5 yards for a touchdown and then kicked the point for Tahoka in the second period at Denver City, tying the score at that point. In the third quarter, Tahoka took the lead 14-7 after QB Damon Moore scored from the 1 and Tillman kicked point again. But the Mustangs scored on a pass play before the third quarter ended, and then won it in the fourth.

Tillman rushed for 115 yards in 26 carries, bringing his total for the season to 941 yards. Moore gained 64 yards in 16 carries. Britt Wuensche gained 27 yards in 5 carries, and Lance Murphy carried 8 times for 27 yards. Tillman's longest run was 37 yards, and Wuensche had one run of 25 yards.

Wuensche, Moore, Mitchell Chapa and Josh Deleon played well on defense.

Thank you." We didn't know who Jennifer was, and of course we had no idea her kitten had been missing. Yet my family was happy to know that her kitten was home safe. Jennifer's family wanted the whole town to know their good news. The sign was lettered as much with love as with ink, and I'm sure we weren't the only passersby whose morning was made brighter by this unexpected proclamation. In the same way, each of us has joyful news to share, news of a Savior who found us when we were lost and is bringing us home safe to a joyful reunion with him. Are we as quick to share this news as Jennifer was the story of her kitten? Jesus told the man whom he cleansed of many demons to proclaim his news all over town. Too many times, the greatest story of our lives doesn't merit even a figurative hand-lettered sign by the side of the road. Each one of us found by Jesus has good news to spread where we live. People in our hometowns need to know. Prayer: O God, help those lost in this world to find their way home to Christ. In Jesus' name we pray. Donate Items For 'Christmas For Kids'

Want to donate a new toy or clothing item for children in Lynn County for Christmas? Wilson State Bank in Wilson now has a donation barrel in their lobby to accept new toys/clothing for the Lynn County "Christmas For Kids" program, which provides gifts for children up to age 14 who qualify in the county.

Lynn County parents who need help providing Christmas gifts for their children may sign up for the Lynn County "Christmas For Kids" program at the Lynn County Courthouse during three remaining signup periods to be conducted in the basement courtroom at the courthouse.

Signup dates are as follows: Thursday, Nov. 9, 5:30-7:00 p.m.; Thursday, Nov. 16, 5:30-7:00 p.m.; and the final signup date is Saturday, Dec. 2, 9 a.m.-12 noon.

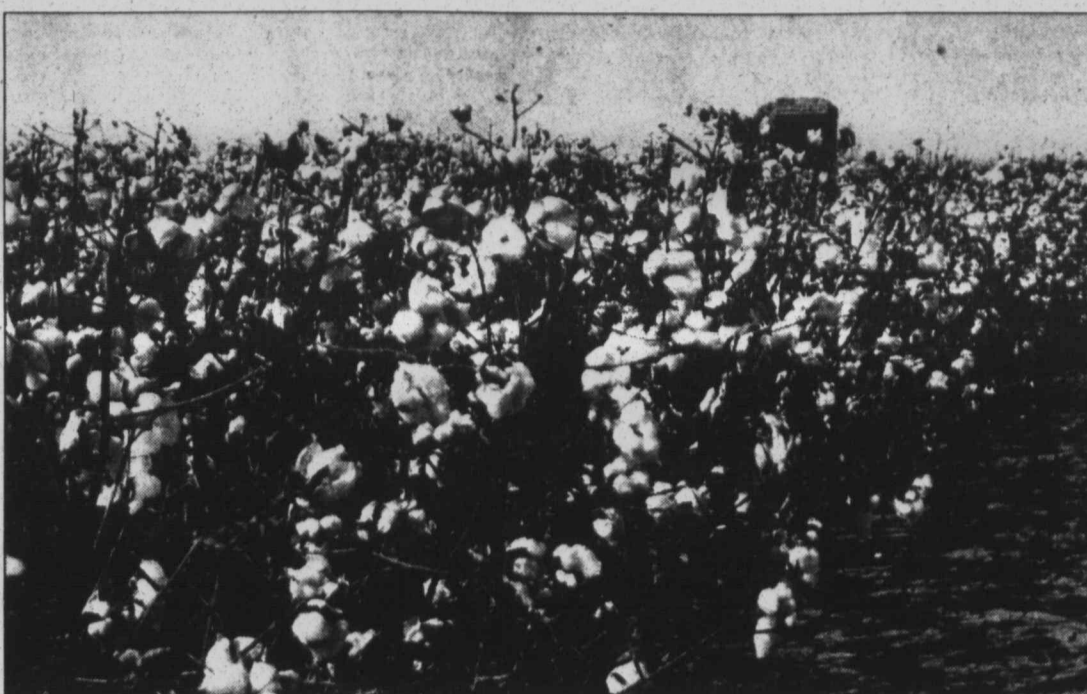

Applicants must provide WIC, Medicaid or Food Stamp card, and must be prepared to show photo identification. Proof of address, such as a utility bill, must be provided and applicants must provide both a physical address and mailing address, as well as a contact phone number. Each family must file their own application.

Only children actually living in the home will be accepted in the program, and only children up to age 14 are provided Christmas gifts through the "Christmas For Kids" program.

Parents will be contacted when their children's gifts are ready for pickup.

For more information, or to donate funding or gifts to the program, or to sign up to "adopt" a child or family of children to provide gifts for in the "Christmas For Kids" program, contact Janet Porterfield at 561-4036, or the Lynn County Treasurer's office at 561-4055.

Field of White ... A cotton stripper can barely be seen over this white field of cotton, owned by J.T. Miller of Tahoka and produced by Steve Miller. Most area gins have begun processing the cotton, and J.T. says this field north of Tahoka is producing 5 bales/acre. The cotton here was irrigated with a pivot system. Most of the dryland cotton in Lynn County was zeroed out due to the severe drought conditions earlier this year. (LCN PHOTO)

Eat Safely This Holiday Season: Physicians Offer Tips on Avoiding Food Poisoning

Thanksgiving and the holiday season are fast approaching and plans are undoubtedly under way in kitchens across America for the family feasts to come. The American College of Emergency Physicians (ACEP) wants to remind everyone that even meals prepared by the most loving of cooks can become unhealthy if food is improperly stored, handled and cooked.

"Food poisoning is often the unfortunate result of some of the most anticipated meals of the year," said Dr. Brian Keaton, president of ACEP. "When you're preparing a holiday dinner for large numbers of people, sometimes the everyday safety tips people follow in the kitchen are not maintained as crowded ovens and refrigerators result in food not being prepared or handled in the safest way."

Most cases of food poisoning run their course in a couple of days, and symptoms usually begin from two hours to two days after eating the tainted food. The symptoms are similar to those of the flu and should be treated the same. These symptoms include headache, nausea, vomiting, diarrhea and abdominal pain. Food poisoning especially can be dangerous to young children and the elderly.

"It's important for those who may have eaten tainted food to prevent dehydration," said Dr. Keaton. "As soon as they are able to keep liquids down they should drink water, diluted fruit juice or weak tea. Adults can handle dehydration much better than children, so parents should keep a close eye on children experiencing these symptoms. If symptoms continue for more than 24 hours or if someone is unable to drink any liquids contact your primary care physician or visit the emergency department."

ACEP suggests the following safety tips to reduce the chances of food poisoning:

- Always follow recommended precautions for food handling and preparation.
- Check expiration or sell-by dates on food labels; don't consume food with expired labels.
- Wash hands before preparing food, and always wash hands, utensils and countertops thoroughly immediately after handling raw foods.
- Be sure frozen poultry and meat are fully defrosted before they are cooked. Defrost foods in a microwave oven or refrigerator.
- Cook meat, poultry, fish and eggs thoroughly to kill harmful bacteria.
- Never keep food lukewarm for long periods; bacteria can multiply without obvious signs of spoilage.
- Refrigerate raw foods and leftovers promptly, because bacteria multiply rapidly; Discard perishable food left at room temperature longer than 2 hours; 1 hour in temperatures above 90 °F.
- Wear protective gloves and bandages if you have cuts on your hands.

Card of Thanks

Wow, where do we begin? We have been so humbled by all the kindness shown to us before, during and after my back surgery.

First let us say a huge thank you to all of you who were our "prayer warriors" throughout this time. The prayer paper provided by our church was a constant comfort. To all of you who took time to pray for us, night and day, thank you. Sometimes, during my most painful nights, the buzzing of that pager was the only thing that kept us going. Next, thanks to Mark and Cindy Hawthorne, Pam Miller, Vicki and Charles Ashbrook, and Russell and Jolene Barnett who traveled so far, just to come check on us. God knew just when to send you our way and it helped tremendously.

To all of you who sent cards, called, brought goodie baskets for our stay and brought so much food since we've been home, we again extend our heartfelt thanks!

To Mike Braddock, Frank McLelland, Gordon and Bam Bam Tomlinson and anyone else who helped with the cattle, we couldn't have done it without you. Thanks for giving so unselfishly of your time to help.

To Tommy, Carolyn and Martha Botkin and Mary Lou Bennett, thanks for taking care of LaVerne and making sure she had everything she needed while we were gone. She, too, was humbled by your care and concern.

To Brad Hammonds who offered to come stay with me so Karen could come home for the funeral and Math Bartley who offered to rent an RV to get me home, thanks to you also. Although we didn't take you up on your offers, we were very touched by them. Finally Bryan and Paula Reynolds, what in the world would we do without you two? You have the most giving hearts of anyone we know. There are no words to adequately say thanks to you two. You have done it all, from taking care of everything at the farm, to doing our yard, watching our horse, feeding our dogs, taking care of LaVerne's yard, bringing food and so much more. All of this was done for us when both of you have such busy schedules yourselves. We can never repay, but we will never forget. We know God will pour out extra special blessings on you.

We know we have forgotten someone, so please forgive us and know how very thankful we are. Our prayer is that God will richly bless all of you. My sister said it best. She was so amazed at everything being done for us that she said, "You two live in the most awesome community I've ever heard of." We agree and feel your friendships are as close to heaven as we will get while living on earth.

We love you all,
Jay and Karen Kelln
