

Big Celebration Has All-Day Activities

With the Fourth of July Celebration fast approaching, Nancy Kidd, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, has released the following information:

If you have a booth or activity on July 4th, please call the Chamber office at 272-4248 for information on your location.

The day is scheduled full, but if you would like to set up an art and craft booth, coordinate an activity, or put an entry in the parade, call the Chamber of Commerce, or come by and fill out an entry form.

A new category in the parade is "Ugly Ole Pick-ups." If yours fits this description, let us know. It will have to be driveable. Information on the pickup is also needed. Don't let that ugly ole' thing just set there; drive it in to the parade.

There will be a quilt display in the St. Clair Building. You will have to furnish your rack and be responsible for your quilts.

If you are a runner, you need to sign up at 7 a.m. at Winkler Meat Co. parking lot. The registration is $8 and this will get you a tee shirt. The runs are the 10K and 2-mile.

You mule shoe pitchers get in shape. There will be a great mule shoe contest. But, the Champion Pitch Off will be on Mule Days, August 11. The registration for this event is $5, and the CofC is not real sure what you will get!

The Young Homemakers are sponsoring videos for the kids starting at 1 p.m. The videos will be loaned by Feature Attractions, with the location to be announced later.

And, don't forget the radio controlled planes that will be flying all day at the new city park. Then, at 5:30 p.m., there will be a fantastic demonstration of these planes. There will also be concessions at the park all day.

Scheduled is an UGLY LEG contest at 11:30 a.m. So get yours (legs) there. Who knows, you might win.

Golf Scramble Tee Time is 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. (Everyone knows where).

At 2 p.m., everyone will stand at attention while State Senator John Montford leads the pledge to the flag and gives a salute to our country.

After the MAC drawing, we will be graced with Muleshoe's Granny Horsley's grandson, Lee Horsley!! We will have pens for him to use to autograph his name on the shirt or poster you will have purchased with his picture, and then you can have the pen.

Just about anything you would want to do that day, will be there.

Open House at the Janes Ranch House is 4-6 p.m.

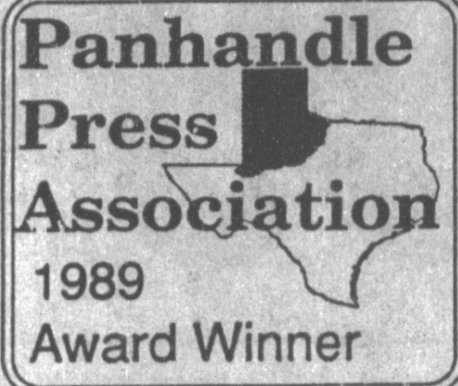

Buy lots of tickets from the Rotary Club. They want you to go to Hawaii.

We need for people to dress for the heat. Hopefully, it will rain by then. If you have a booth, or you're just sitting in your chair, you may want to have an umbrella handy. Please do bring your folding chairs. There will be events on the street all day that you can sit and enjoy.

There will be food; Rotary at the south end of Main Street, the Spanish Assembly of God in the middle section of the street, and Larry Winkler on Joe's Boot Corner. There will be lots of beverages, but if you feel that you may need more, carry it with you.

Lack Of Moisture Hurting Crops

As the area continues with no rain, Bailey County Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley has some 'good' news and some 'bad' news.

He commented on Tuesday morning about the current crop situation in Bailey County.

"A month ago, when I spoke about crop conditions in Bailey County, we were very concerned about moisture and other related weather conditions, and how it was going to affect crops," he said.

"Now, another 30 days has passed and things haven't changed too much.

"It's not too hard to see and realize what the lack of rainfall, with extreme heat and wind can do to all agricultural crops, horticulture and the ornamental plants," he continued.

"My records show that since 1972, the lowest rainfall totals for May and June have been in 1980, when we had 1.09 inches of moisture, and basically, we haven't had one-half inch this year during these two months. We are in an extremely hot weather system, with continuous wind that depletes soil moisture at a very high rate."

He continued, "These weather conditions are starting to show extreme effects on crops in the county.

"It is very amazing that some dryland cotton continues to hang on, where other fields have an extremely thin, poor stand, with plants dying. On the western side of the county, many fields have been lost due to weather extremes.

"As we look at each different crop, it is apparent that corn producers are doing an amazingly good job in keeping the crop in very good condition. However, some fields do show moisture stress due to lack of water."

Tanksley said that this past Sunday, some corn leaves did scorch due to the extreme heat and salt type conditions that can occur to a leaf surface after an irrigation system goes by.

"That is a major concern," added the county agent. "Another concern for corn producers is the 100# weather. When corn reaches the tassel stage, heat will kill pollination. Poor pollination will result in empty ears, or 'skippy' ears.

"Many fields of irrigated cotton may look as good as it has ever looked at this stage," he continued. "Cotton, being a desert plant, has thrived in this heat and is making excellent growth."

Tanksley said farmers have had to irrigate cotton early, where normally they have not had to irrigate until it bloomed, but said cotton is generally, in excellent condition.

He also said the extremely high soil temperatures at this time have probably reduced the potatoes from being able to 'size up.' The county agent said the ground is just "too hot." Some potatoes were beginning to be harvested this week.

He said other vegetables are being irrigated very heavily in order to get stands and allow the plants to grow and develop. Most vegetables are expected to be later than normal, added Tanksley, because of the type of weather conditions we are having.

"There are still many acres of dryland crops that need to be established to grain sorghum," he said, "but farmers are unable to do this until we see two to three inches of rainfall."

Deadline for planting grain sorghum is around July 1st. But, said Tanksley, producers can still select a very fast producing grain sorghum that will 'make' in 75-90 days, but

Patriotic Speaker Has Rotary Program

"Revisiting The American Vision" was the title of the program for the Muleshoe Rotary Club on Tuesday. Herb Parks introduced his brother-in-law, Mort Cross, who presented the patriotic/religious program, depicting how religion has always played a part in the freedom's sought, first by the pilgrims, who found and established America, and all those who have followed.

Using tapes depicting first the voices of Queen Isabella of Spain and Christopher Columbus, then, various patriots in the ensuing years since Christopher Columbus discovered the new country -- America -- Cross talked about how the nation had gotten away from the principles on which the country was founded, and how much the country needed to return to the basic principles -- christianity.

His narration began 370 years ago, aboard the Mayflower, and to the discovery of America on November 9, 1620.

He said the newly discovered land was named El Salvador by Christopher Columbus -- which translates as The Savior.

"History has not changed," said the speaker. "We've left out God."

Cross said America was first founded on 'Hope,' 'Love,' and 'Freedom.'

From Christopher Columbus' book, he used the words 'gospel' and 'faith,' on showing the reason for establishing a new country.

He went through history, giving highlights of activities that kept a 'faint glow' of hope and faith alive.

Monday night, four resignations were accepted by the board of trustees for the Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees.

Two executive sessions were held by the board, and following the first executive session, MISD Board President Cindy Purdy read a letter of resignation from Muleshoe School Superintendent Dr. Lawrence Ward.

The letter started out, "I hereby voluntarily submit my resignation..."

According to the letter, Dr. Ward's resignation becomes effective at 5 p.m. on Saturday, June 30, 1990.

At the same time, a resolution was presented giving Dr. Ward's resignation, as well as the decision of his wife, Carolyn, to not sign a teaching contract for the 1990-91 school year.

Although the letter of resignation did not give future plans for the Wards, The Journal learned that the Wards are moving to Anson where they have accepted teaching positions with the Anson ISD.

On a motion by Sam Harlan, and a second by Frank Saldana, the resolution accepting the resignations was approved unanimously by the board.

Other resignations accepted by the board included MHS band director Mark Heidel, who is moving to Levelland; Jennifer Short and Coach Paul White.

Four new teachers were hired by the board during the meeting.

Meeting with the board were Bill Adling, school architect and Dwayne R. Agnew, school engineer, both from Lubbock.

They discussed a possible addition to Watson Junior High School, and renovation of a wing of Muleshoe High School.

The new addition to junior high school would encompass three science labs, a computer lab and a new media center (library).

As proposed, the new addition would cost $650,000. Also on the proposal was a new P.A. system at $14,000; new lockers at $10,000; repaint lockers for $5,000 and remodel dressing rooms and add lockers at $15,000, for a total cost of $694,000.

Following a discussion as to whether or not a clock was needed in each classroom, it was decided that only the halls, or corridors needed clocks, with a master clock and bell.

Also discussed was the possibility of closing Avenue G between junior high and high school, and building the new addition to the south side of the school.

Italian cream anniversary cake, decorated with fresh flowers between each layer was served from a pair of large serving tables, draped in ivory brocade with gold trim.

Each table was centered with a large arrangement of mixed garden flowers in shades of yellow, gold and peach. Brass and gold appointments were used for serving.

Serving the cake were Mary Graham of Lubbock, Betty Johnson and Ece Benedict of Muleshoe.

Carol Reese of Dallas, Martha Naples of Amarillo and Dee Ann Basden of Rogersville, Missouri served the coffee. Serving the punch were Greta Rigney of Midland, Druscilla Hutton of Muleshoe and Sue Carrol Terry of Rogersville, Missouri.

Local Artist Paints Lee Horsley's Picture

Misti is an artist who particularly enjoys the brilliance of color that can be achieved on sanded pastel paper. She enjoys southwest art and this influence is prevalent in most of her work. She has achieved acclaim for her ability to portray feeling and emotion with the use of a great deal of color in her portraits. She has an unusual ability to capture character even in young subjects. Her clowns are outstanding in that the white faces are infused with color while still seeming to be white.

She has studied under local and nationally acclaimed artist Rheata White, and Ben Konis and Jack Sorensen of Amarillo. She has always enjoyed the use of strong color, but through her studies under Ben Konis she has refined her basic knowledge of color into a fine art. She has won several awards, and her paintings can be found in private collections in several states.

An original pastel portrait of Lee Horsley can be seen at the Muleshoe State Bank or during the July 4th festivities at Joe's Boot Shop. Some of the artist's work can also be found at the Country Junction in Muleshoe.

Artistic abilities are apparent in many areas other than painting as she is accomplished in matting and framing of art, cutting specialty designs and mounting unusual items in frames. She does original designs on clothing, and many other craft projects.

At a very young age Misti became an EMT with West Plains Medical Center. She first worked as a volunteer, and then later was a full time employee. Many people of the local area will remember a tender and competent helping hand during that time. She went on to become a Paramedic and worked for Life Star Ambulance in Arlington, Texas. She is still certified as a Paramedic, but is currently pursuing certification as a Registered Nurse by attending the nursing program at Amarillo College.

Misti is the daughter of Arnold and Pat Prater of Muleshoe, and is married to Bob Wilbur, who was originally from Dalhart. She has one brother, Derek Prater; and is a granddaughter of Agnes Wolf of Muleshoe and Grace Prater of Chocotah, Oklahoma.

Candle Light Ceremony Unites Miss Curry, Dent

MRS. MONTY RAY DENT
[NEE Debra Kay Curry]

Miss Debra Kay Curry of Littleton, Colorado became the bride of Monty Ray Dent of Abilene, Texas in a double ring ceremony at 4:30 p.m. on Saturday, June 16 at the Littleton Church of Christ, Littleton, Colorado. Mike Myers and Steve Watson, ministers of the Littleton Church of Christ read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. James Curry of Littleton, Colorado and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Dent of Muleshoe.

Classical music was played as the guests to the ceremony were seated. Mike Partain of Littleton sang "You Fill Up My Senses".

Grandmothers of the bride, Mrs. Lloyd Luckie of Abilene, Texas and Mrs. Walter Curry of San Antonio, Texas were escorted by cousins of the bride, Mike and David Curry of Plano, Texas. Grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Ray Stansell of Muleshoe was escorted by Dale Dent of Ft. Worth, uncle of the groom. As the grandmothers were seated the bride sang, "Wind Beneath My Wings", dedicated to her parents.

The church was decorated with potted silk Ficus and Magnolia trees. In the center, a heart shaped candelabra was trimmed with flowing greenery and teal silk carnations, Lady Di Roses, white doves and bows of white. The bride's center isle was lined with silk bouquets of pastel teal carnations, Lady Di Roses, bridal white roses, babies breath and white doves.

Char Latta of Littleton, Colorado and Walter Curry of Plano, Texas sang "Sunrise, Sunset" as a slide presentation was featured of the bride and groom.

As the attendants entered, Mike Partain sang, "Ice Castles".

Serving as maid of honor was Cindy Curry, sister of the bride from Littleton. She wore a pastel pink satin tea length dress and carried a nosegay of teal carnations, pink and white roses and babies breath. She was escorted by Sean McNeil of Lubbock who served as best man. He wore a light grey tuxedo with teal accents.

Bridesmaids were Kari Phillips of Arizona, escorted by George Saltsman of Abilene, Michelle Dent of Muleshoe, sister of the groom, escorted by Dale Dent of Ft. Worth, uncle of the groom, and Jr. Bridesmaid Kimberly Rees of Florida was escorted by Daniel Ross of Abilene. The bridesmaids wore matching tea length dresses of polish cotton in white, pink, teal and yellow.

Ring bearer was Matthew Rees, cousin of the bride from Florida. He wore a grey tuxedo with teal accents. Flower girls were Sara Hackney of Denver, Colorado, and Haylee Moudy of Earth, cousin of the groom. They wore matching tea length dresses of pink polish cotton and carried white baskets filled with pink and teal flowers.

The groom entered with the ministers wearing a formal black tuxedo with tails and black accents. His boutonniere was pink rosebuds with babies breath.

Melissa Curry of Plano, Texas cousin of the bride, served at the bridal registry. The table was laid with a white cloth and accented with the bride's book and a Precious Moments figurine, which was presented to the bride by the groom at their engagement party. Also an arrangement of teal carnations, pink roses and babies breath. Greeting the guests with the ceremony program was Barbara Partain of Littleton.

As the bride was escorted down the isle by her father, she sang "Endless Love" to the groom. The bride wore a formal A-line silkovette dress of white satin and embroidered lace. The fitted bodice featured a basque waist, pearl and sequin trimmed lace. The Victorian neckline of lace and pearl drops softly framed the face. Modified leg of Mutton sleeves enhanced with soft gathers, scrolls of pearls and sequins finished the bridal silkovette.

The lace trimmed full length skirt swept into a softly gathered Chapel length train decorated with lace applique.

Following with tradition, the bride wore a add-a-pearl necklace for something old and the wedding gown was something new.

The headpiece complemented with white satin leaves and pearls and a tulle lace veil, was made by the mother of the bride.

The bride carried a full flowing cascade bouquet of three Star Gazers surrounded by Lady Di Roses, bridal white roses accented with ming fern, ivy, Queen Anne lace and white freesia.

Welcome to the wedding service was presented by Steve Watson and the wedding service was presented by Mike Myers.

As the bride and groom lit the unity candle, Char Latta sang "In This Very Room" Mike Myers led the congregation in a prayer and then introduced Mr. and Mrs. Monty Dent. As the bride and groom exited down the bride's isle, Char Latta, Mike Partain, Walter and Judy Curry sang, "The Lord Bless You And Keep You".

The ceremony was coordinated by Marge Morton and Margaret Fowler of Denver. The reception was coordinated by Margaret Fowler, Brenda Rees, aunt of the bride, Carol Myers, Connie Moody and Danny Williams.

A reception was held at the Valley Country Club of Denver. The theme for the reception was a luau, since the bride and groom was to honeymoon in Maui and Oahu, Hawaii. The club was decorated with silk floral arrangements of teal carnations, pink and white roses. Each table had a centerpiece of teal, pink, and white balloons tied to a pineapple with leis to draw the theme together.

A second buffet had tempura vegetables, beef-chicken kabobs, cheese platters, vegetables, egg rolls with sweet and sour sauce and peel your own jumbo shrimp with a coconut monkey centerpiece.

A white three-tiered bride's cake was decorated with silk flowers topped with a Precious Moments bride and groom, given to the bride by her grandmother. Three heart shaped cakes with silk flowers of pink, teal, and white were placed around the base of the bride's cake. The groom's cake was a dark chocolate cream decorated with the groom's initials. Serving the appointments included Carol Myers, Margaret Fowler, Connie Moody and Doris Birdwell. As the couple left the reception they were showered with birdseed from teal bags. The bride was presented with a leis by her mother and the groom was presented with a leis by his mother.

Members of the houseparty were: Judy Warren, Marge Morton, Reba Sain, Jeanette Machisic and Wylene Arnold.

The bride is a 1990 graduate of Abilene Christian University where she received her BSED degree in Reading and Physical Education. She is a member of Alpha Chi National Honors Society and Alpha Delta Phi. She will be working for the Silvan Learning Center in Abilene.

A rehearsal dinner was given on June 15 in the fellowship hall of the Littleton Church of Christ by Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Dent of Muleshoe. The meal was catered by Danny Williams of Denver. Hors d'oeuvres of Crab meat on crackers with hot mustard sauce were served. ## Big Celebration

What we don't want -- is any cars on Main Street. If you are unloading for the bazaar, do it very early and move your car so we can get the street barricaded. The city will have dumpsters at each intersection.

If you have a food booth, be sure to have plastic trash bags and twisties. There will be containers and then the dumpsters. Should not be any reason for a trashy street.

There will be lots of things for the little guys and gals to do. They are our future citizens and we want them to remember the fun time at July 4th Celebrations in Muleshoe.

Y'all Come!! Officially kicking off the Fourth of July activities will be the Mule-Plex Production Co.'s Family Fun Night, scheduled for July 2-3 at Muleshoe High School auditorium.

Included will be variety acts, the annual comedy play, with local talent and the ever-popular candy sales, with more than 250 prizes to be given away.

On Wednesday, July 4, registration begins for the 10K and 2-mile runs will be held on the Winkler Meat Co. parking lot and the Jennyslippers will be serving a sidewalk breakfast in front of the old Western Auto building.

At 8 a.m., the 10K and 2-mile runs begin and at 8:30, registration for the mule shoe pitching will be held at the old Chevrolet Co. parking lot.

Mule shoe pitching starts at 9 a.m. and the parade line up starts at the Boy Scout grounds on south Main Street. Also a golf scramble gets underway at the Muleshoe Country Club.

At 10 a.m., the parade begins, and it will go north to Highway 84, turn left for one block and back down South 214 to the Boy Scout grounds.

Kids activities get underway at 11 a.m. in the first block of Main Street.

The Ugly Leg Contest will begin at 11:30 a.m. in front of the old Cobb building; and square dancing starts in front of Damron Drug, while Cow-Patty Bingo will be held on Perry's parking lot.

Rotary Club, Spanish Assembly of God Church and Larry Winkler will be serving food at 12 noon, followed by a watermelon seed-spitting contest in front of Higginbotham at 1 p.m.

At 2 p.m. Senator John Montford will be at the entrance to the old Cobb building; the MAC drawing will be held; Lee Horsley will sign autographs and a golf scramble gets underway at the Muleshoe Country Club.

This will be followed at 2:30 p.m. by square dancing in front of the old theater; a karate demonstration on E. Ave. B; a gymnastics demonstration and a 3-legged sack race in front of Higginbotham.

Then, at 3 p.m. will be the Old Settlers Reunion at the Civic Center; the Great American 'Mule Plop' on Perry's parking lot; and a tobacco spitting contest on the vacant lot between the Fair Store and Western Drug.

A tractor pull for ages 6-10 will begin at 3:30 p.m. in the vacant lot between the Fair Store and Western Drug; and at 4 p.m. Water Polo will start on the street in front of Winkler Meat Co.

4-6 p.m. will be time for the Open House at Janes Ranch House and at 5 p.m., it will be clean up time on Main Street as all activities will be moving to the city park.

A radio-controlled plane demonstration is scheduled at the new city park, followed by music beginning at 6 p.m. Also, the 4-H exchange students will be selling hamburgers. There will be drawings for the Rotary's Hawaiian trip as well as for the 4-H club.

At 8 p.m. Crystal Creek Band will play, followed by fireworks at 10 p.m.

Winding up the day will be a free street dance at KMUL AM-FM on West Eighth Street.

There will be a lot of all day activities, which will include videos for kids, Roadriders bike show, car show at the bank lot, dunking tank, hop scotch, ring toss, horse shoe pitching, fishing, arts and crafts, pop-a-shot, Boy Scout Town, Jennyslipper's Bazaar, radio controlled planes, quilt show, clowns 'n stuff, and train rides for the kids.

Plan for a full, busy day on July 4, 1990, says Nancy Kidd.

Superintendent Resigns

After a lengthy discussion, the school board trustees opted for additional information from the architect and engineer.

They discussed the possibility of constructing the science labs, to conform with state requirements, as well as a computer lab, to give more room.

However, it was tentatively discussed enlarging the library to the west, encompassing a current classroom.

Three classrooms will be freed when the new science labs are constructed.

At Muleshoe High School, the wing proposed for renovation was the wing currently housing the auto mechanics, ag dept. and the art department.

It was suggested that a metal building be constructed to the west of the current wing for the auto mechanics and ag department, and remodeling the wing into classrooms.

Dr. David Wyer, MHS principal talked about the possibility of adding horticulture and a greenhouse for the ag department, as well as bringing industrial arts back to the Muleshoe School system if a teacher could be found. "It could be a viable program with a good teacher," he said.

Renovation of the wing could cost as much as $144,000 according to figures presented by the architect and engineer.

Bob Graves, principal at Watson Junior High School, said the school needs more classroom space, as well as space for bookrooms.

Jeff Newland also visited with the school board members on the current health policies for school employees.

He gave several options for the board to consider as far as costs are concerned.

Board members also discussed the findings of the career ladder committee, finding that 80 Muleshoe teachers qualified for Level II or Level III.

Also discussed was the possibility of air conditioning for the schools, with an estimated cost of some $4,000 per classroom.

New computers will be purchased for administrative use, but Dr. Tom Alvis reported that the administrative offices are not ready to make a decision as yet.

A brief report was given by Superintendent Dr. Lawrence Ward; by Board President Cindy Purdy; by Assistant Superintendent for Instruction Elizabeth Watson, and by Dr. Tom Alvis, Assistant Superintendent for Business.

Also discussed were recent burglaries at DeShazo Elementary School, where several VCR's were taken.

NEWS VIEWS

George Bush, President, setting 2019 as target for Mars walk:

"It's time to open up the final frontier. There can be no turning back."

Crops...

The yield potential is not very high, he cautioned.

"We have been trying to make estimates about where we will be at harvest-time," said Tanksley, "but at this time, the situation does not look very good."

"First of all, dryland producers are in extreme need of moisture in order to realize any type of crop."

"If we go to the 15th or 20th of July without rainfall, I would be nearly willing to predict that there would be no dryland crops as they would be droughted-out."

"The irrigation farmer is having to put so many extra dollars into this crop for irrigation fuel and water, that his profit margin is starting to become very tight."

Tanksley did have a brighter note, however. He said markets for commodities have gained strength during the last 30 days and continue to look bright at this time.

"I would say," continued Tanksley, "that our native range condition is probably at an all-time low. There is very little to no grasses for producers. We may start seeing them marketing livestock if we don't get some help on our native range pastures."

He also noted that city water wells are pumping at capacity. He noted a word of 'caution' to everyone about conserving water. He said, "We must conserve water by using it to the best advantage to maintain the horticulture and ornamental-related plants. We believe people should water early in the morning, or late in the evening. Many plants can be damaged if water is applied during the extremely hot hours of the day. This can be seen by scorching and burning of leaves."

He also said that for crops, the growth of the plants will reach the critical stages in July and August. This will be when corn reaches the tassel stage, cotton is in the bloom stage and fruit starts growing on vegetables. At this point, their water requirements will double," he said.

DPS Will Conduct Operation Motorcide

The Texas Department of Public Safety has estimated that as many as 15 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the brief July 4th period in Texas.

DPS Director Colonel Joe Milner reminded motorists that the traffic volume increases during holidays, raising the chances for fatal collisions.

"Even though July 4th falls on Wednesday this year, we believe additional patrol hours are necessary," Milner said. "All available Troopers will be on duty, closely watching for the most life-threatening violations--DWI and speeding overthe-limit."

the-limit." Milner said that the DPS 30-hour fatality counting period will start at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, July 3, and continue until midnight on July 4th.

Last year, the Independence Day driving period ran 102 hours. Thirty-four traffic fatalities were reported during the extended counting time, far below the DPS estimate of 52.

"We're hoping for the same result this July 4th," Milner added. "And we're relying on the motorists who respect Texas officers and traffic laws to help us meet the challenge."

For those individuals whose VA loans were assumed prior to that date and who have since received notice of a default on the assumed loan, it may be necessary to seek a "release of liability" from the Veteran's Administration, and your congressman's office can be of assistance to you in this regard.

Federally guaranteed loan programs have helped millions of Americans become "contributing members of society". Like all financial commitments, they are a big responsibility. Be sure to read the fine print before you sign on the dotted line.

Texas State Aquarium Opens

Corpus Christ, Texas.... A severe hurricane threatens the Texas Coast. When should Corpus Christi residents begin evacuation?

Visitors to the Texas State Aquarium, opening July 6 in Corpus Christi, will find out as they participate in one of four interactive video games that will be part of the new facility. The videos offer an entertaining way for visitors to learn about the plants and animals of the Gulf Coast and Caribbean Sea, as well as such natural phenomena as hurricanes. They were produced in both English and Spanish.

In the Hurricane Simulation Game, visitors will decide when to issue the evacuation procedure as a simulated hurricane threatens the Texas Coast. During the game, players will make their decisions based on a variety of information sources, including Corpus Christi Mayor Betty Truner and Kris-TV watherman Dale Nelson.

The Severe Weather Quiz gives visitors the chance to test their knowledge of severe weather conditions and to learn about the power of wind and waves.

Both the Severe Weather Quiz and the Hurricane Simulation Game are part of the "Living Shore" exhibit.

Using the interactive video in the "Ocean Technology and Mariculture" exhibit, visitors raise a crop of redbfish. Players learn about the controlled growth of aquatic plants and animals and the culture of salt water plants and animals. The game is particularly pertinent to the Gulf Coast since the state of Texas is working to replenish the number of redbfish in the wild through the use of redbfish hatcheries.

Also in the "Ocean Technology and Mariculture" exhibit, visitors will travel into space through an interactive satellite video presentation. Visitors will learn about satellite components and launching as well as the various ways satellite technology enables man to interact with the oceans, from navigation and emergency rescue to animal tracking, meteorology and communication.

The Texas State Aquarium opens July 6, 7, and 8 with a family-style grand opening celebration on the grounds of the facility, located on the southern-most tip of Corpus Christi Beach.

For additional information, phone the Texas State Aquarium at 1-800-477-GULF.

Research Proves Americans Need To Take Heat Illness Seriously

Experts warn that Americans do not take the proper measures to prevent heat-related illness. In a national survey sponsored by Gatorade® Thirst Quencher, Americans polled indicated they knew how to prevent dehydration in hot weather, but often do not practice what they know. According to the National Center for Health Statistics, 7,000 people were hospitalized for heat-related illness in 1987.

The survey was conducted to gauge Americans' ability to recognize and prevent heat illness caused by dehydration — one of the most preventable summer health problems.

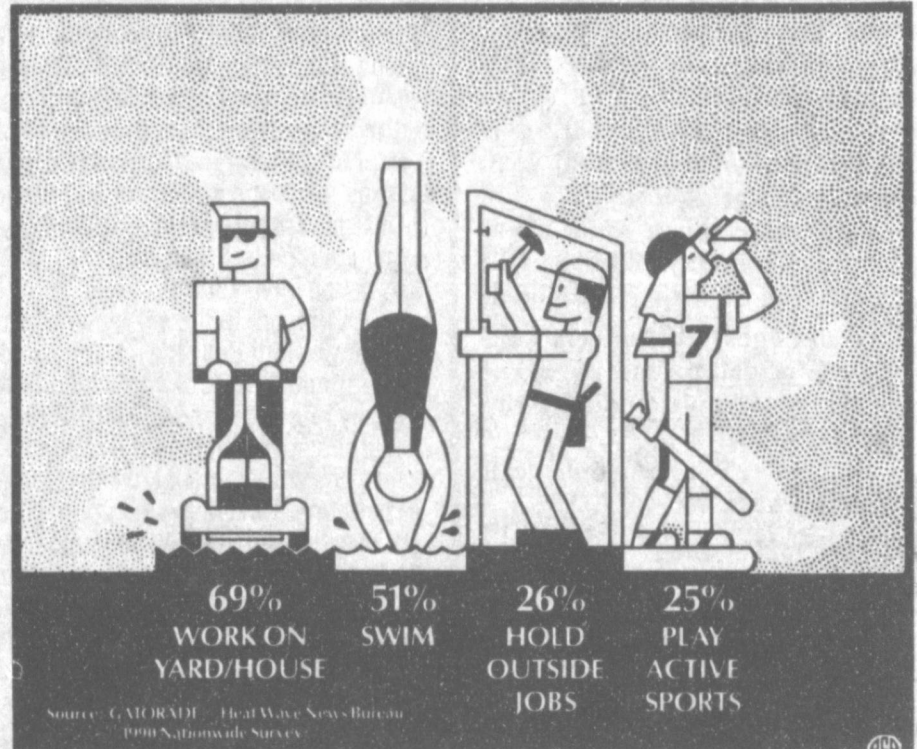

Eighty-six percent of the respondents correctly identified drinking fluids as one of the best ways to avoid dehydration. Water is used to replace fluids 89 percent of the time by those surveyed. Iced tea is used 70 percent of the time and fruit juice, 65 percent of the time.

"Drinking fluids is the most important prevention method to avoid dehydration and heat illness, especially during and after physical activity," says Robert Anzinger, M.D., president of the American College of Emergency Physicians. "But it's also important that you drink the right beverages and a lot of them," he advises.

Although experts agree that water is an acceptable fluid replacement choice, they stress that not all beverages may be effective in replacing fluids lost through sweat.

"Beverages with carbonation or excess sugar may slow fluid absorption or cause stomach upset if consumed during physical activity," explains Robert Murray, Ph.D., senior manager, The Quaker Oats Exercise Physiology Laboratory in Barrington, IL. "Beverages with alcohol and caffeine act as diuretics, which can compound the problem of dehydration," says Murray.

AMERICANS AREN'T LAZY ON THOSE HAZY SUMMER DAYS

Scientifically formulated beverages like Gatorade® Thirst Quencher contain the optimal amount of carbohydrates and minerals to replace fluids quickly.

Replenishing fluids fast is important for everyone, not just athletes. Construction workers, industrial laborers and others who spend time working or playing outdoors during the summer are at equally high risk for heat illness. When asked what outdoor activities they participate in on a regular basis, 69 percent work on the house/yard, 51 percent swim, 26 percent have an outside job and 25 percent participate in active sports. "During strenuous physical activities in the warm weather, it is best to replace lost fluids and minerals with a balanced electrolyte solution," says

Dr. Anzinger. As a result of increased activity and more extreme weather conditions, the need to watch for signs of dehydration becomes even greater. Many respondents seemed familiar with the symptoms of heat illness, with 46 percent correctly listing dizziness, clammy skin and stomach or leg cramps. Medical experts stress, however, that by the time symptoms appear, serious heat illness may have already set in.

"It is critical to replace the fluids lost through sweating, which is the body's main cooling mechanism," reports Dr. Anzinger. "Unfortunately, thirst is not a totally reliable indicator of fluid needs. By the time you feel thirsty, you may have already lost two percent of your body weight in fluid."

A & M Schedules Cattle Short Course

Texas beef cattle producers and industry leaders will want to mark their calendars for Aug. 14-15 and travel to Texas A&M University for the upcoming 36th Annual Beef Cattle Short Course.

This year's short course will be held in the Kleberg Center with live animal demonstrations being conducted in the Louis Pearce Pavilion on the Texas A&M campus.

The program traditionally has started on a Monday, but it has been changed to begin on Tuesday this year.

"This change will allow people to travel to the campus on Monday, Aug. 13, rather than over the weekend, register for the conference and visit with faculty and industry leaders during an open house and media day activity before the program," said Dr. Larry Boleman, short course coordinator and beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Highlights of the short course program will include discussions on:

- Expected Progeny Differences, or EPDs, including basic knowledge, predictability of next year's calf crop, use of the method to improve the herd, and a producer panel discussion on use of the method of genetic advancement in their herds.
- Research in gene markers for value-based marketing will be discussed by animal scientists.

- A cow-calf nutrition program will start with the basics and cover major mineral programs, micro-mineral programs and diagnostic techniques for identifying problem areas. An in-depth discussion of recent Texas cattle mineral problems with copper will be included.
- A total management session will use a multi-disciplinary approach of plant-animal relationships, pasture-forage-hay programs, calving season, heifer development, managing the heifer before calving and other management practices.
- One afternoon will be allocated to a live animal session at the Louis Pearce Pavilion. Topics to be covered will include ultrasound for evaluation of carcass traits and reproduction characteristics, animal identification ranging from tattoos to computer micro chip implants, DNA fingerprinting, health and vaccination techniques and live animal visual selection application.

Another feature will be a trade show that includes from 30 to 50 beef industry commercial representatives who will exhibit products and be on hand for discussions during program breaks.

In addition, educational booths and research information will be displayed by Texas A&M departments, educators and researchers. Participants will have an opportunity to visit with scientists of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station on various areas of research and education.

A registration fee of $40 will be charged for producers and $20 for spouses.

Call Boleman or Ann Moody for more information at (409) 845-2051 or write to him for registration at: TAMU Beef Cattle Short Course, 114 Kleberg Center, College Station, TX 77843-2471.

A total of $3.9 million has been earmarked to help Texas crime victims, U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm says.

The funds will be allotted by the Department of Justice to support state and local agencies that provide services for crime victims and their families.

The award is from the Crime Victims Fund in the U.S. Treasury that was established by the Victims of Crime Act of 1984. The fund is financed with fines and penalties assessed on convicted federal defendants.

Cochlear Implants For The Deaf

For much of her young life, Tracy Gentry lived in a silent world. Made deaf by meningitis while still an infant, she faced a life of isolation, with little hope for communications beyond sign language and lipreading with the hearing world.

Today, the five-year-old can distinguish the sound of her mother's voice and is learning to talk for the first time, thanks to an electrode device surgically implanted into her inner ear by doctors at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

The 22-channel cochlear implant—approved for use in adults since 1988—is now under consideration for use in children by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. Baylor College of Medicine is one of several test sites for the device, and already has had several success stories among the seven children to receive the implant.

"There are many more problems with younger patients," said Dr. Herman Jenkins, professor of otolaryngology and communicative sciences at Baylor. "With adults, the cochlear implant is more of a self-teaching process. We do the implant and they learn fairly quickly how to use it."

"Deaf children, however, often have not yet learned the most rudimentary communication skills and it is much more of an educational undertaking that can take years to master."

As in the adult surgery, the electrode is inserted into a portion of the inner ear called the cochlea, which is responsible for amplifying sound waves. The device shocks tiny nerves along the cochlea, signaling to the brain that sound is being received.

For the cochlea to detect sound, the patient must wear an external microphone connected to a transistor radio-size box, called a speech processor.

"The speech processor takes the parts of sound we need to hear and encodes them, sending them through the skin by using radio waves. The implant picks up the radio waves and translates them into electrical current that shocks the nerves in the cochlea," said Jenkins. "The brain perceives the stimulated nerve as sound."

The implant is not designed for use by patients who can function with a hearing aid or other similar amplification devices. Only the profoundly deaf can benefit from the implant.

Baylor College of Medicine was one of the first medical institutions in the world to be selected for testing the 22-channel implant when it was introduced by the Nucleus Corporation in 1983. Today, more than 2,500 profoundly deaf adults worldwide have received the implant.

Testing New Therapies

For Osteoporosis

Researchers at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston are testing promising new therapies that could significantly improve the lives of women afflicted with osteoporosis.

Osteoporosis, a crippling condition occurring almost always in postmenopausal women, causes loss of bone mass, especially in the spine, hips and wrists.

The weakened bones result in more frequent fractures, which, in the elderly, can lead to painful and even fatal broken hips, according to Dr. Robert F. Gagel, an associate professor of medicine and assistant professor of cell biology at Baylor.

"The cost of osteoporosis is tremendous both in personal and financial terms," Gagel said.

"The personal cost is the pain and suffering that osteoporosis inflicts on its victims—and on their families. The financial cost amounts to more than $8 billion spent annually in the United States to treat fractures caused by osteoporosis."

The studies at Baylor and The Methodist Hospital of Houston are concentrating on two forms of therapy.

One of three groups will undergo an osteoporosis therapy believed to be the best available.

The other two will undergo forms of therapy intended to mimic the natural process that healthy bone undergoes in renewing itself. This will be done by taking phosphate and calcitonin, a hormone. In addition, one group will be given a short course of fluoride during the treatments.

"Based on earlier studies, we are very optimistic that such therapy in some form will bring about a significant increase in bone density and a decrease in fractures," Gagel said.

HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The oil spill off the Galveston coast disappeared, but the hard-fought, expensive public school finance reform issue surfaced its ugly head.

Attorneys for poor school districts asked the court to declare unconstitutional the Legislature's hard-won school finance reform plan, and to substitute a plan prepared by the court-appointed master.

But early indications are the judge will let the plan stand for next year's planning while the lawsuit works through the court system. The first hearing will probably start in a few days.

The old system was declared illegal because of differences in money available to property-rich and -poor school districts, Attorney Al Kaufmann of the Mexican-American Legal Defense and Education Fund, argued the new bill does not correct the differences.

The court master, former Texas Supreme Court Justice William Wayne Kilgarlin, billed the state for $18,688 for his work, including time spent at media interviews.

Campaign Trail
Gubernatorial opponents Clayton Williams and Ann Richards locked horns over his campaign statement that the private sector should pay for some federally funded research.

The Richards camp targeted campus-area media with releases charging Williams' stance would hurt state colleges by implying that Williams was opposed to all research.

The Williams camp denied the charge by saying "she's lying," and quoted Williams as saying he was opposed to federal funding on a blank-check basis.

Instead, funding dollars should be awarded on a case-by-case basis, a Williams spokesman said. Meanwhile, other Republican candidates began TV campaigns which a top Democratic operative called "more campaign dollars than sense."

Lieutenant governor GOP nominee Robert Mosbacher started a $500,000 TV and radio campaign to boost his name identification and agriculture commissioner nominee Rick Perry hosted a satellite telecast to county Farm Bureau meetings statewide.

Ed Martin, director of the Texas Democratic Party, said the efforts were wasted during the summer TV rerun season.

Martin, by the way, was probably a Texas first when, after offending some women delegates with an off-color joke at the recent state convention, apologized and declared, "I am a feminist." All was forgiven.

Appointed Judges Endorsed
U.S. Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, speaking in Houston, said she prefers appointing judges rather than electing them.

After her home state Arizona adopted the appointive system, "the overall quality of the bench improved significantly."

She also said:
Judges should resolve cases out of court wherever possible to allow docket room for the poor to receive justice.

Legislatures should put a limit on the number of habeas corpus appeals a prisoner on death row can make, and,

Numbers are increasing for women in the judiciary. "If the hours are long enough, and the pay is short enough, someone will decide it women's work," she joked.

Other Highlights
The state's liability could total about $48 million in taxpayer dollars, money which could have been spent for public education, in policyholder settlement claims of two failed insurance companies.

The two failed companies, National County Mutual Fire Insurance Co. of Dallas and Best Lloyds Insurance Co. of Houston, were allegedly looted by top executives to finance lavish lifestyles.

A state appellate court dismissed a request for more time from Lone Star Greyhound Park, the group which was the Texas Racing Commission's apparent choice for a racing license in Galveston County.

But following a challenge by four losing applicants, a state judge ruled Lone Star had never actually won the license and ordered rehearings for all original applicants.

Four Texas banks—Centre National Bank-Farmers Branch, Peoples National Bank in Caldwell, Bank of East Texas in Tyler and Lakeland State Bank in Austin—were closed last week by regulators and reopened the next day as branches of acquiring lenders.

The U.S. Supreme Court ruled that Texas and other states cannot bring federal antitrust suits on behalf of consumers charging energy producers with price-fixing.

PEST MANAGEMENT UPDATE

Parmer - Bailey Counties

Mike D. Blanton
Extension Agent - Entomology

GENERAL SITUATION

Hot, dry weather conditions continue to dominate area weather reports. Dryland cotton is in desperate need of moisture; while many irrigated fields have their best start in years. Area corn is being irrigated almost constantly and ranges from less than knee-high to chest-high.

COTTON

Irrigated cotton in the area is still in excellent shape. A few producers have told me that this is the best early square set they can remember. Most of these fields should be out of danger as far as thrips are concerned.

The pest to be scouting for now is the cotton fleahopper. When the cotton begins to square, fleahoppers can rapidly migrate into the field or, as is the case in many situations, move over from other host plants. Alternate hosts include whiteweed (silver leaf nightshade), mintweed, and evening primrose. Fields infested with these weeds should be scouted closely for this pest. Cotton fleahoppers are light-green oval insects about 1/8 inch long. They "blast" squares match-head size and down with their piercing sucking mouthparts. We have seen no fleahoppers in the cotton at this time.

Producers in Southern Bailey County are still hoping for a rain to get their cotton going. Those fields in the area with limited irrigation are beginning to show more aphids; however this pest is still far from a treatment level.

Small spider mite colonies can be found in a few fields in the southern region of Bailey County. Keep an eye out for this pest as weather conditions are perfect for fast population growth.

CORN

A few small southwestern corn borer (SWCB) larvae are being found in area fields. These are the first of two generations of this pest. The first generation is mainly a concern in fields in close proximity to unplowed or late-plowed corn stubble from the 1989 crop. If you have fields that match this description then you need to begin watching for short-hole damage in the leaves of corn plants.

Western corn rootworm (WCR) larvae are fairly easy to find this year in untreated continuous corn. If you did not use an at-planting insecticide to control this pest and you do not rotate, be sure and scout for this insect. The only way to scout for WCR is by digging corn roots. Corn rootworm larvae are white and up to 1/2 inch in length. They have a dark head and a dark plate on the top side of the last abdominal segment. If you find this pest in damaging levels and your corn is under center pivot, you can still use a rescue treatment through chemigation. Be sure and check your fields immediately, as most fields with levels warranting treatment are being treated now.

POTATOES

Potato psyllids can be found in low numbers year after year; however, this year there are more than usual. Psyllids are small, cicadallike insects about 1/2 inch long. They are related to aphids and fleahoppers and feed in the same way, sucking plant sap through needlelike mouth parts.

The immature (nymph) of this insect injects a toxin when feeding which causes a disease known as Psyllid yellows.

Oil Production Rate Continues At 100 Percent

The Railroad Commission has continued the Texas oil production rate for July 1990 at 100 percent of market demand.

Chairman Kent Hance and Commissioners John Sharp and James E. (Jim) Nugent continued the top production allowable after reviewing oil companies' nominations to buy a total of 1,822,768 barrels of Texas oil per day. The July nomination total, a decrease of 27,652 barrels daily when compared to June purchaser nominations, estimates Texas oil production in the coming month. July 1989 nominations totaled 1,898,393 barrels daily.

The Commission first went to the ceiling level for oil production in April 1972. It applies to all fields in the state except those that are assigned lower legal rates of production so the reservoir pressures will not be depleted before the maximum amount of oil has been recovered.

Chairman Hance also reported that July nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 21,084,071 Mcf/d. July 1989 nominations amounted to 21,274,580 Mcf/d.

The next statewide oil and gas production allowable hearing will begin at 10:00 a.m., on Thursday, July 19, 1990, at The Crest Hotel on Town Lake, 111 E. First Street at Congress, in Austin.

Major purchasers filed these July nominations from the floor at the hearing: Amoco Production Company, 149,000 barrels, up 1,000; Conoco Inc., 60,500 barrels, down 500; and Exxon Company U.S.A., 153,500 barrels, down 5,000.

Chairman Hance reported that crude oil and petroleum products imported into the U.S. averaged 7,879,000 barrels per day for the month of April 1990. This was a decrease of 95,000 barrels per day from the same period a year ago.

Nymphs can be found on the underside of leaves. It takes relatively few nymphs feeding on plants for symptoms to occur. Young leaves on affected plants are abnormally erect, their basal portions cupped. They often turn red or purple. Affected plants have shortened internodes: older leaves become abnormally thick, roll upward, and turn yellow. Potato psyllids can be difficult to control.

Hispanic Methodist Churches Welcome New Pastors

Thirteen Hispanic United Methodist churches in North and Northwest Texas are to welcome new pastors next month.

The other nine United Methodist congregations in the region that worship in Spanish are to have the same pastors for the next 12 months.

New ministers going July 1 to Texas Panhandle congregations are Jose M. Garcia, Emmanuel Iglesia Metodista Unida in Lubbock; Pedro C. Gutierrez, La Trinidad Iglesia Metodista Unida in Lamesa; and Samuel Picazo, San Mateo Iglesia Metodista Unida, Amarillo.

Garcia adds the Lubbock congregation to his pastoral duties. For the past two years he has been pastor of El Buen Pastor Iglesia Metodista Unida in Brownfield. He continues serving that congregation. In Lubbock he replaces Ramiro Lizcano, who didn't take another appointment. Lizcano served four years in Lubbock.

Gutierrez goes to Lamesa after one year as pastor of El Divino Salvador Iglesia Metodista Unida in Muleshoe. He replaces Juan G. Martinez, who served the Lamesa church and Emmanuel Iglesia Metodista Unida in Snyder for the past year. Martinez continues as pastor in Snyder and adds Northside Iglesia Metodista Unida in Big Spring to his responsibilities.

Picazo goes to Amarillo after three years at Northside church in Big Spring. He replaces Richard Jones, who didn't take another appointment. Jones served one year in Amarillo.

Bishop Ernest T. Dixon Jr. of San Antonio announced the ministerial appointments in Georgetown during the June 14-17 session of the church's Rio Grande Annual Conference.

United Methodist bishops assign ministers under their authority to posts annually. A pastor may serve a congregation for more than one year if the bishop reappoints him or her to that post.

Texas DPS Warns Holiday Motorists

Major V.J. Cawthorn, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety said, "Everyone looks forward to happy holidays, especially the 4th of July; but the sad thing about all holidays is that a number of people will lose their lives in traffic accidents."

He stated that as in years past, the Department of Public Safety will conduct "Operation Motorcide", whereby, all available state troopers will be on the streets and highways attempting to make them a safe place for the Texas traffic to travel.

Cawthorn stated, "Our troopers will be especially watchful for those hazardous drivers who refuse to slow down, run stop signs, pass in no passing zones, and who drink and drive."

He encouraged all drivers and passengers to buckle up and to reduce the chances of death or injury in case of an accident. He stated that this practice should go hand in hand with the voluntary compliance of the traffic laws.

"If you, as a motorist, would drive and treat your fellow motorist as you would like to be treated on the roadway, you can help in making this a safe holiday. Remember to slow down and "Drive Friendly, The Texas Way", stated Major Cawthorn.

Keep in mind to slow down a little and live a lot, Don't Drink and Drive and Buckle Up at all times.

SMILES

Silly Man

The woman motorist was trying to navigate a traffic jam. She rammed the car in front of her, then tried to back, and knocked down a pedestrian. Then she tried to move over to the curb and smacked into a hydrant. A policeman came up. "Okay, lady, let's see your license," he demanded. "Don't be silly," she grunted, "who'd give me a license?"

Fast Start

An owner from the West showed up at Churchill Down with an 8-year-old horse that had never been in a race before and entered him in an important event. The unknown was hardly a betting attraction, and he was off at $136.50. He galloped home by ten lengths.

The officials, puzzled, demanded, "Why haven't you raced this horse before? Why did you wait until he was 8 years old?"

"Well, to tell the truth," said the owner, "we couldn't catch him until he was 7."

Like My Dad

The Mother rushed into the bathroom to her five-year-old son when she heard him yelling some undignified words. She found him looking into the mirror.

"What in the world do you think you are doing?" the mother exclaimed.

"Oh, I'm just imitating Daddy when he shaves," the kid replied.

Not Like Mother Made

Letter To The Editor

June 22-90

Dear Journal folks:
Am enclosing the "signed clipping concerning the naming of the "New Park" for Lee Horsley". We feel honored to furnish the "Horsley Name" to (our home town of 37 years). The Horsley family have (all) been special to us over the years, Granddad Horsley was great to always be ready to come out on 20th st and help me do little carpenter jobs on our house-after he had retired from regular carpenter jobs. He and I changed doors and small jobs. He would tell me if I would do the sawing he would set on the foot ladder and mark for me to saw, so here we went, we changed some door openings one day & when Walter came in from the P.O. (working) he sure was surprised. I had told him Mr. Horsley told me (yes we can do the job so he came out & we did the job.

Our daughter went to school with Lee (Jean Witte) & (Billie Jenkins Holt also) They do hope Lee will be at the class reunion. (They already have reservation) We would love to see the gang of school kids we "feel like" we helped raise. They grew up under our feet with Sonny and Jean, Sonny plans to go for the reunion. We remember so well of the Horsley girls & their boy friend, Rue Robt Kimbrough Jimmie Pickard & S.E. Morris. Were inseperable on coming to town, buying gas at our Gulf station, & walking the streets on Sat evenings & meeting friends, Mis Chek Horsley would come to town every Sat PM and come by St Clairs store where I worked. I can just see "little" old Bruce (black Headed) I think about 4 yrs on holding on to "Mamas hand" walking up the sidewalk into the store. Our two children, both went to school, their entire school days at Mshoe. We can see now that things (new people's Names in the journal are all new to us, we left Mshoe in 65, after being there 37 yrs. My brother and Gil Wollard were Rural route carries on Route # 1 & # 2. I subed for both of them (as Needed.) Walter (Witte) worked in P.O. & I helped out as Needed, & "five months" regular after the explosion, what a job to handle with all the (Trash etc) "Our good people" raked up and bring for us to sort & work up as best we could, we had to use boxes, orange crates & just name it", Nothing to do with" 5 of the office crew were in Hosp (over the explosion; for some time) and brothers wife (Vivian McAdams) never did get over it. I was supposed to go on route # 2 that day, and Viv called me & ask if I was baby sitting "Vick Spivey" that day, & (I was) she was already there, so she said she would go in my place. So she was in the Middle of the worst part of the "deal" Walter had step'd up on the sidewalk to go in when the building blew up, He escaped: It got the ones that were already inside, Aunt "Pete" and uncle Walt, Witte "Love to
