

They Deserve To Go - Let's Send Them!

PRACTICE SESSION—Here band director Bob Breckenridge leads the Muleshoe High School band, in sections, preparing special numbers for the Buccaneer Festival in Corpus Christi. The festival will be held in late April.

IN ACTION—Another part of the Muleshoe High School band is shown playing in the classroom under direction of Bob Breckenridge. The band and choir needs $1,500 to go to the Corpus Christi Buccaneer Festival. A fund raising campaign is underway.

Within our school system, we have some 150 deserving students who are needing the support of citizens to accomplish something very important to them...something which they have worked for and toward day-by-day during this school term. They have sold magazines and newspaper subscriptions, concessions stand maintained, operated Halloween carnival booths presented concerts, and just about everything the school approved for them to do to raise funds to reach this goal on their own...the goal is to attend the Buccaneer Festival in Corpus Christi.

As one parent so aptly stated "The work hours and hours of dedication which went into the presentation of 'The Sound of Music' alone gave them the 'earned' right to go and now at this point when we ask for contributions, we do not feel that we ask something for nothing for these students." This trip was forfeited by the student last year.

An area-wide campaign has been launched to raise the remaining funds needed to send the Muleshoe High School Band and a Capella Choir to this festival. A $10 contribution sends one student.

more interested parents and citizens than any previous meeting held by the boosters, said Fine Arts Booster president, M.F. Blackman, "which indicates that the general public is behind these students and feel that they have earned the right to attend this festival and will help them get there and back."

"The band has played in parades, football games, and numerous other functions for the town and it's people as well as the school...the choir has always been available to perform at any function when they were called upon and have always done an outstanding job with their combined voices," another citizen said.

A financial report was given by the band and choir with a total of $2,112.28 on hand for the Corpus Christi trip. To this, the Fine Arts Department added $1,500, which left $355, in their fund which will be used toward sending band Discussion was held on the use of a purchase Order system on all purchases and the manner of how to establish the system will be decided upon by the steering committee.

Plans were also made to continue to honor the "most courteous sales person each month." Instead of the Jamboree held during 1966 once each month, the Business Activities Committee will schedule two or three large attractions, possibly big name performances as "ways and means" projects. Several attractions, including the Harlem Stars, are being considered.

Consideration was given to the possibility of the members of the Business Activities Committee visiting committees of other trade areas. These visits would be goodwill tours to the towns in our area to promote a better relation with businessmen and customers. The project will be taken under consideration by the steering committee.

Note was made that children from different schools and groups visit Muleshoe by train

Election, Lab, Bus on Agenda

Several important business matters were handled at the regular meeting of the Muleshoe Independent School Board held Monday evening.

A school board election will be held April 1, 1967 at the Muleshoe Junior High School. The board designated Mrs. Hazel Gilbreath, County Clerk, to hold absentee voting in her office starting March 13 and ending March 28.

Terms of office expire for Joe Embry and Horace Edwards, March 1 is the last day for candidates to file for these posts. Votes will be counted and tabulated within 24 hours after closing of polls or earliest date practicable. The board will canvass election returns and declare the results.

Tax collections are 82.09 percent complete. $408,98 has been collected and taxpayers have until January 31 to pay these taxes without penalty.

Enrollment reports were heard with a total enrollment, all schools standing at 1966. This is 123 students less than one year ago and 81 students less than two years ago.

Enrollment by grades are as follows: High School, 12th grade, 96; 11th grade, 124; 10th grade, 123 and 9th grade, 172 with a total of 515.

Junior High, 8th grade, 162; 7th grade, 175; 6th grade, 186; and Special Ed. 10, with a total of 533.

Mary BeShazo Elementary, 5th grade, 79; 4th grade, 92; 3rd grade, 89; 2nd grade, 102;

1st grade, 122 and Special Ed. 22 with a total 496.

Richland Hills Elementary, 5th grade, 92; 4th grade, 87; 3rd grade, 85; 2nd grade, 82; and 1st grade, 106 with a total of 452.

The lunchroom program was studied by the board in detail, which included five parts: the financial statements of the first 80 days of school; the minimum requirements of a type A lunch as required by the National School Lunch program; comparison of costs of food products between years 1963-64 and 1966-67; comparison of commodities received from Federal Government during the school years 1963-64 and 1966-67 and a study of the quantity of food it takes to feed 1,116 people per day. For example: requires 16 cases of green beans for 3 1/2 meals, requires 29 cases of sweet potatoes for seven meals and requires three cases of peas for one meal.

Superintendent of Schools Neal Dillman said all information concerning the lunchroom is on file in the School Administration office and patrons are welcome to look it over and ask questions concerning this operation.

The following schedule was set up by the board to rehire school personnel for the next school year, 1967-68. Superintendent of Schools, February meeting; Principals, coaches, fine arts, counselors and curriculum director, March meeting and all teaching personnel in the April meeting.

The board passed the requisitioning of one new 60 passenger bus for the next school year, 1967-68 through the State Board of Control. This is the second new bus requisitioned for 67-68 school year.

The State Board of Control is asking for early requisitions because of the shortage of materials and prolonged delivery dates. Normally, schools order three new buses each year, but after checking the condition of the buses it is felt by the board that the two new buses for next year will be sufficient.

New Federal Wage-Hour law which goes into effect February 1 in the school for Auxiliary personnel was discussed.

Basically, all auxiliary employees will receive a minimum of $1. per hour and can work a maximum of 44 hours per week and will receive time and one-half overtime for all hours over the maximum of 44. Time sheets will have to be kept daily for each employee to sign in and out of work. Payrolls including number of hours worked will have to be figured weekly rather than monthly. This will more than double the clerical work on payrolls in the business office.

Purchase of a Language laboratory was approved by the board for the High School Foreign Language Department. This will include 26 listening booths and a teacher console. This will be purchased through the National Defense Education Act and will be 50 percent reimbursed by the Federal Government.

The award was presented to the Poyner brothers at the recent meeting held in Dallas.

The presentation was made by W. Erle White, president of White Stores, Inc.

Reading Center Preparing Term

The Eastern New Mexico University reading center is currently preparing for its third spring program for public school children from the first grade through high school.

Parents in the area who "don't know where to turn" because of children with reading problems, are turning to this reading center where their youngsters get clinical help tailor-made to their difficulties.

The center program is designed to provide remedial reading help and developmental reading guidance, explains Dr. Mario C. Di Nello, assistant professor in education.

With sessions scheduled on Saturdays, the spring program for both remedial and developmental readers will begin January 28 and end June 1. West Texas and Eastern New Mexico children qualify for application.

Youngsters with reading problems come to the center by way of referrals for their parents or public school teachers, Dr. Di Nello said.

"We cannot accept every student referred to the center," he added. "We test each youngster and evaluate all the information we have on him. The child may or may not be placed on the waiting list for remedial or developmental reading help." Teacher limitations govern the number of remedial readers accepted by the reading center, he said.

Problems attacked in the remedial program range over a students to All-State competition in Austin later in the year. It was pointed out that each band and choir student will be taking $21.00 of their personal money on this trip to pay for their own meals. The $4,730 expense account for the trip does not include meals, only transportation by charter buses, housing and entry fees. Boosters and those attending feel that while some students and parents were financially able to provide an additional $10.00 above the $21.00 meal ticket, for their child to make this trip, it would create a financial hardship on many others and in many cases an impossibility. So with a $10 contribution, one student goes to Corpus Christi. The ball started rolling in the Corpus direction during the Monday night meeting with contributions being made on the spot by Mrs. Bob Glass, Joe Embry, M.D. Locker, Kerry Moore, Nova Dorsey, M.F.

Blackman, R.A. Bradley, W.B. Little, Davis Anderson, W.H. Lee, Herbert Griffiths, and L.B. Hall. Contributions made during the Jaycee Day broadcast over KMUL were: Harvey Bass, Mrs. A. M. Bradley, Howard Cox, Good Luck Laundry and Carl Ellington. Plages may be made by calling KMUL or Mrs. George Haskins Phone 272-4903. Fund raising campaigns are also underway. A bridge and 42 game tournament has been scheduled for Thursday, January 26, 7:30 p. m. in American Legion Hall. Entertainment there will be provided by the band and choir. The hall will be open at 6 p.m. that evening for those who are supplying refreshments to leave them. Band and choir students or members of the Boosters will pick up money pledged by telephone before the deadline February 1. This deadline is necessary as reservations must be made to insure the students of adequate housing and buses must be chartered well in advance. The Fine Arts Boosters urge the citizens of the area to back these students and see that they get to make this trip which will be work as well as play...educational in the music field and other fields. The members of the choir and band are preparing numbers they are to present at the festival.

Citizen Cooperation Ask on Solicitors

The Business Activities Committee of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce aware of the increase of house to house solicitations, as well as frequent calls on business places by individual persons both local and out of town, has asked all housewives and businessmen to demand from the solicitor his or her solicitation card from the Chamber of Commerce. The small Blue pocket book size card from the Chamber authorizing solicitation in Muleshoe is given to those persons, clubs or organizations who appear at the Chamber and ask for such a card. The card is not given until the party asking for this authorization has been looked into and checked out in several ways over a period of two or three days to almost guarantee it is legitimate and worthwhile. But bear in mind the system is not fool proof and sometimes a card is given when it should not have been and that all solicitors do not check in at the Chamber to ask for the authorization card. This system is designed to keep solicitations to a minimum and to try and keep the shady or illegitimate sales people out. But it can only work if the citizens and business people demand to see the Solicitation card.

Machines Cut Carrot Labor Harvest Cost

COLLEGE STATION-- A Texas A&M University study shows that machinery harvesting of carrots can bring considerable savings per acre compared to costs for hand labor.

Dr. Harold B. Sorensen of the A&M Agricultural Economics and Sociology Department said that by substituting machinery (capital) for harvest fields hands (labor), a saving of $18.72 per acre can be realized by the producer without affecting carrot quality.

Carrots are major crops in the Rio Grande Valley and the Texas High Plains.

Sorensen said the research is designed to help carrot producers solve the two major labor problems: Increasing minimum wage rates and availability of workers.

"It must be remembered that manual operation is more flexible, and more units can be harvested in a given time because labor supply can be increased or decreased, depending on conditions," the economist explained. "The machine can harvest 2.3 acres during an eight-hour day, while a crew of 58 workers can harvest 5.6 acres. The machine requires a crew of four workers."

He said the cost is $21.21 for labor to harvest one acre of carrots (9 tons or 450 forty-pound sacks) mechanically. For manually harvested carrots, labor costs are $57.21.

Nematodes take their cut off the top.

Once nematodes get at your cotton, yields go down and so do profits. But with FUMAZONE® 86 soil fumigant applied at only 1 to 2 gallons over-all an acre, you can take care of root-knot, sting, meadow and other nematodes—those tiny soil pests that attack plant roots, suck away profits. FUMAZONE 86 soil fumigant increases yields up to $200 an acre. Many High Plains ranchers just like yourself tell us that's exactly what happened to their yields after their soils were treated with FUMAZONE 86. It can be applied rig, rig from the drum. No mixing, no diluting, no nozzles clogged with foreign material. You can use the chisel method, the plowsole method or inject FUMAZONE 86 into your irrigation water. Could you ask for greater flexibility? Sure you could. So here it is. Apply FUMAZONE 86 before planting, at planting or after planting. It's the only type of soil fumigant that can be used on living plants. Ask your Dow Farm Chemicals supplier about it. Yellow and white, chosen colors of the bride, also graded the registration table, presided over by Mrs. Rodney Blackwood, in which approximately 40 guests registered. Many lovely and useful gifts were placed in rooms of the home including the hostesses gift of a platter and bowl from the bride's china, and an heirloom silver pitcher.

Stuffing green peppers? Before you do so, cut a slice from the stem end of each and scoop out the seeds. (Chop the good part of the slice and use in a salad.) Cover the peppers with boiling water and boil for two minutes, then drain upside down. After stuffing, the peppers will need about three-quarters hour in a moderate oven.

Women - Your New Year's

"Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing," declares the Book of Proverbs (18:22). High praise indeed, especially when you consider the source: the sayings of King Solomon, who reputedly had a thousand wives!

Though the man in your life may not have as many blessings to count as Solomon, you can make him feel like a king if you adopt these ten resolutions compiled from a recent survey in which men told what they wished women would—and wouldn't—do.

1. Keep a neat, well organized handbag. You may look terrific from head to toe. But scrambling around for a lipstick in a pile of old tissues often spoils the illusion of an immaculate you.

2. Have glowing hair. If you're timid about harsh dyes, use a color toner to give your hair both body and beauty.

3. Be on time. Perhaps five minutes won't make much difference in his anticipation of seeing you... but 15 minutes will likely change his mood to irritation... and 25 minutes can spoil a whole evening.

4. Wear a light scent. A purse size stick cologne can go on just before you meet your date after work—will last and last—and carry a light note of excitement all evening.

5. Smile when you see him coming. In a crowded public place such as a theatre lobby or street corner, how good a genuine smile from you looks amid all those strangers! Smile even if you've only been separated for 15 minutes.

6. Give him a small present now and then. Commemorate his new promotion and raise with a pair of cuff links -- a trip he enjoyed with a small memento like a keyholder. Show him these events are important to you.

7. Write him notes occasionally. The old-fashioned love letter is anything but passe—but it may occasionally be written on a memo pad or shopping list. Let him know he still has that romantic glow.

8. Offer to do small favors—like shopping for him or even washing the car when he's overloaded with other chores. Helping ease his schedule makes more time for you!

9. Be friendly with his friends. Overlook minor irritations in old buddies -- show him that if he thinks they are tops, you think they're tops too. It's a subtle flattery of his good judgement.

10. Don't top his jokes with a better one. Rare is the woman who can just laugh and not say "Oh, that reminds me." If you have a real screamer, wait and tell him in private so he can tell the crowd later!

ACTORS COLLABORATE—STRATFORD, Ont. (AP) — Three Canadian theatrical groups are collaborating on drama productions this winter in a first-time experiment.

Two acting companies are being assembled, one to be directed by Michael Langham and the other by Jean Gascon. Both versions will be exhibited first at the Manitoba Center, then shown next summer at the Stratford Festival.

MULESHOE, TEXAS

Average staple length of the Texas High Plains cotton crop increased to 30.4 thirty-seconds of an inch in 1966. The amount of cotton stapling one inch and longer climbed to 13.3 per cent of the crop according to the final quality report from Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

In 1965 the average staple on the Plains was 30.2 thirty-seconds and 8.2 per cent reached the one inch or longer category.

Other quality factors, including grade, micronaire and tensile strength, declined in 1966 as the result of abnormal weather conditions.

The drop in grades was perhaps the most drastic. In 1965, white cotton accounted for 60.8 per cent of the crop as compared to only 9.3 per cent in 1966. The increase in light spotted cotton in 1966 was from 36.4 per cent to 51.7 per cent, and full spots in 1966 made up 32 per cent of the crop, up from 1.9 per cent the previous year.

Tinged, yellow stained, light gray and gray cottons together made up 7 per cent of 1966 production. This figure in 1965 was only 1 per cent.

Micronaire average dropped from 3.4 in 1965 to 3.2 this year. Only 27.6 per cent of the 1966 crop carried a "mike" of 3.5 or above. The corresponding figure last year was 45 per cent.

Tensile strength, or pressure, in 1966 came to an average of only 73,000 pounds per square in as compared to 78,000 pounds in 1965.

Officials at Plains Cotton Growers point out that unusually heavy and untimely summer rains, plus a crop-killing freeze on October 15 are responsible for the severe declines in grade, micronaire and fiber strength. Normal frost date for the area is about November 5.

The increase in staple length continued a trend set in 1964.

Staple for the High Plains crop in 1963 averaged only 29.8 thirty seconds of an inch, with 2.7 per cent one inch and longer. In 1964 these figures, respectively, were 30.1 thirty-seconds and 5.8 per cent.

Cotton scientists agree that the length of cotton fiber to be produced in any crop year is determined during the first 18 days of boll life, and it is for this reason that the early freeze and other adverse weather on the Plains had no significant adverse effect on staple as it did on other quality factors.

"The staple improvement seen on the Plains this past year is far from being all that is needed in this area," said Donald Johnson, PCG executive vice president, "but it is a step in the right direction and indicates an increased awareness on the part of our producers of the urgent need for growing longer cotton."

He went on to say that the higher average came largely from increased acreage of varieties with the potential of producing a longer staple, and that there is ample evidence that acreage of such varieties will take an even bigger jump in 1967.

Normally, these same varieties which turn out a longer staple also have greater tensile strength than the short staple varieties. So on an average year an improvement in staple length would mean an increase in tensile strength as well.

Quality reports on each year's crop are compiled by PCG every two weeks during the harvest season, using the computer facilities at Texas Technological College. They are distributed without charge to members of the cotton trade, textile industry and others, providing a current, detailed account of the quality and fiber relationship of Plains cotton.

The Cotton Committee of the American Textile Manufacturers Institute will meet in Lubbock on February 27, 1967, and will participate the following afternoon in a High

Plains Grower-Spinner Cotton Quality Forum to which all area cotton producers, ginners and other interested parties will be invited.

This announcement has been made by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the High Plains cotton producer organization which arranged for the Cotton Committee of ATMI to hold its 1967 meeting in Lubbock. The committee is headquartered in Charlotte, N. C., and is composed of about 25 cotton mill executives from throughout the Southeast.

Donald Johnson, PCG executive vice president, said this is a part of the overall effort being made to produce a product on the Plains which will more nearly coincide with mill needs, bring higher net returns to producers and expand markets for Plains cotton.

Johnson said the exact time and place of the forum will be announced soon, and urged cotton people in the area to set aside the afternoon of February 28 for the meeting.

"We will have a much better chance of meeting mill demands for cotton when all growers and ginners are fully aware of what textile mills look for in cotton from this area and what mills expect growers to do to meet their requirements," Johnson said, "and this will be an excellent opportunity to get answers to these questions."

Also on the forum program will be a slide presentation showing changes in mill requirements over the past several years and a general film on the textile industry starring TV comedian Wally Cox.

Nematode Tolerant Cottons Yield Well in Rolling Plains Test

Two Oklahoma developed cotton varieties have produced good yields on nematode-infested land here in Bailey County, Texas, reports County Agent J. K. Adams.

The new stormproof varieties are Lankburn and Westburn which are crosses of Lankart and Auburn and Western Storm-proof and Auburn as indicated by their names.

The Oklahoma experiment station is expected to release the nematode and Fusarium wilt tolerant varieties next year to certified growers for increase, the county agent said.

Auburn 56, an open boll variety with nematode and Fusarium tolerance was also included in the Bailey County Extension Service demonstration. Yields of the three varieties are as follows: Westburn -- 674 pounds of lint per acre, staple length 1-1/16 inches, micronaire 4.3 and 24 percent turnout; Lankburn, 456 pounds per acre, length 1-1/16, micronaire 4.3 and 21 percent turnout; and Auburn 56, 633 pounds per acre, length 1-1/32, mic-ronaire 4.2 and 24 percent turnout.

No non-resistant varieties were included in this year's test which was conducted on the S. D. Jones farm, in Knox County, Knox County Agent, Joe Doby said the farm has had a severe nematode infestation for several years.

He said in a test last year on the same farm Auburn 56, the open boll variety, produced 836 pounds of lint per acre compared with only 422 and 443 pounds per acre from two adapted but non-tolerant varieties.

Researcher Dr. Levon Ray of the South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock, visited and helped evaluate the Extension Service result demonstration.

Ray says the test indicates the Oklahoma varieties may have a place in the Rolling Plains, where nematodes have become a major problem.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm comes out stoutly in defense of the President of the United States on a particular issue this week.

Dear editor:

I'm not going into the politics of it, I've had about as many droughts and frozen water pipes under the Republicans as the Democrats, but I have decided to come out squarely in defense of the President of the United States on a certain matter.

According to a dozen or so articles I've seen in the newspapers the last couple of weeks, some historical outfit in Washington hired an artist to paint a picture of President Johnson, and when the picture was shown to him he blew his top. Said it looked awful. Wasn't him at all.

Now some people have questioned the President's artistic taste in this matter, in view of the fact the picture was painted by what is called a recognized artist.

I don't know what the President's artistic tastes are, doubt if he ran on that platform, and I know he wouldn't have to have much to beat me hands down and possibly a few others around here I could name, but that's beside the point.

Because, if there's one freedom that ought to endure in America, it's the freedom not to like a picture of yourself, to throw it in the waste basket if you want to without explaining to anybody.

What a person looks like to himself, after years of confrontation in a mirror, is altogether different from what he looks like to others, and especially to a camera or a painter. A man's face may look like a delapidated barn, but it's what he's used to, and even a delapidated barn, if you've been away from it a long time on a long trip on unfamiliar ground, looks good when you return home.

My theory is that most people, after looking at their face for 40 or 50 years, are fairly well satisfied with it. Oh, they might make a minor change here or there, but on the whole they rather like it, they've concentrated on the good points so long and looked around the bad it's a shock to discover it may look to others like the north side of a craggy mountain.

If a man doesn't like a picture of himself, whether he's a busted farmer or the President of the United States, he's got an inalienable right to say so. There are some freedoms still left in this country.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

New Tomato For Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Nematex, a tomato resistant to most species of root know nematodes, will soon be making its appearance in Texas.

The variety was developed for the fresh market and home gardens by Dr. A.L. Harrison of the Plant Diseases Experiment Station at Yoakum. The station is a unit of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Nematex also is resistant to Fusarium wilt, grey leaf and Alternaria collar spot. It is productive under a wide variety of conditions, the fruit is round, attractive and crack resistant, and has a small blossom end scar. Fruit sizes are usually slightly smaller than the well known Homestead 24.

While still under test, Nematex gave top marketable yields of 20,400 pounds per acre at Weslaco, 15,859 pounds at Yoakum, 39,387 pounds at Lubbock, 5,203 pounds at Prairie View, 17,600 pounds at Quincy, Fla., and 10,436 pounds at College Station in 1964-66 trials.

The variety is adapted to most conditions in Texas.

Seed of Nematex was released to commercial seedsmen last spring. Growers should be able to obtain the seed in time for the 1967 season.

Oldsters Have Claims Checked: S.S. Representative Comes Here

Older people in the Lubbock area who have paid doctor bills but have not yet claimed their medicare doctor bill insurance payments are invited to have their claims checked by the Lubbock Social Security Office or the Social Security Representative in their community before mailing them to the medicare carrier according to John G. Hutton, district manager. "In the first six months of the medicare program some benefit payments were delayed because the applicants did not include all the necessary information with their claims," he said. Hutton believes that most people will need this help only the first time they make a medical insurance claim. "The Medicare Handbook, which is given to all beneficiaries, explains how to make the claim," he said, "and the form is relatively simple, but most people can use some advice the first time they apply. We're glad to offer assistance, and we believe we can help many people to avoid some delay in their payment."

the patient pays the bill, and then the patient sends the completed request for payment form to the medicare carrier. A statement from the doctor showing the treatment given and the charges already paid by the patient must be furnished either on the request for payment form or in a separate receipted bill. In the Lubbock area, medicare doctor bill insurance is handled by Group Medical & Surgical Service (Blue Shield) in Dallas, Texas. If the beneficiary leaves out his medicare identification number, for example, it is impossible to verify that he is signed up for the doctor bill insurance, or how much of his deductible amount has been paid. Some elderly people with failing eyesight are unable to make legible entries. And some do not get adequately itemized receipts from their physicians, or forget to enclose the receipts with their claims. If the request for payment form is incomplete or improperly filled out, the medicare carrier has to write back to the beneficiary thus delaying the payment.

The Lubbock Social Security Office is located in the Family Park Shopping Center, 3428 Avenue H. The phone number is PO-58541, Extension 384. A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Administration will be in Muleshoe at the County Courthouse at 9:30 a.m. each Wednesday in the month.

Sorghum Hybrids Included In Research Irrigation Test

Twenty-eight grain sorghum hybrids were included in the limited irrigation performance test at the High Plains Research Foundation during 1966. This test, which was conducted by Loyd Langford, Associate Agronomist, consists of standard varieties of grain sorghum hybrids receiving only two irrigations during the growing season, i.e. preplant irrigation and one summer irrigation.

Limited irrigation on sorghum varieties became of major importance to many farmers when it was realized that in some cases water table was dropping and in other cases where a farmer had too much land for the number of wells involved. The High Plains Research Foundation initiated this new phase of the research in 1965 when the area farmers of Texas and New Mexico requested that a project of this nature be conducted.

In 1966, the twenty-eight grain sorghum hybrids received a preplant irrigation of 4.5 inches on April 15 plus a summer irrigation of 5.2 inches on July 6. The summer irrigation was applied at the first plant stress period for moisture which occurs at or after the preboot stage of plant growth. All the varieties in this test were planted on May 16 and harvested on September 28, 1966 and were side dressed with fifty pounds of nitrogen from anhydrous ammonia on June 10. A total of 20.66 inches of rainfall was received on the test from May 1 to September 15.

Top yield in the test was 4,993 pounds per acre and the low yield was 3,678 pounds. The over-all average of the twenty-eight hybrids was 4,269 pounds per acre. Yields in the 1966 test were slightly higher than the test in 1965, probably due to the more timely rainfall in conjunction with the one summer irrigation applied. It was reported to the High Plains Research Foundation that some farmers in the Goodland-Maple, Texas area used the 1965 limited irrigation test results in selecting grain sorgum varieties for their 1966 planting and enjoyed significant yield increases over other varieties when produced under similar conditions of limited irrigation and fertilizer.

The full report on the limited irrigation variety test will be included in the 1966 Research Report of the High Plains Research Foundation which will be sent to all members of the Foundation in February. In addition to yield data, this report will also include plant height, percent stand, percent lodging, head compactness, exertion, head length, bloom date, and moisture percent at harvest along with chemical analysis. Yield and other data will also be included for 1965 in comparison with the 1966 test.

Chemical analysis of the varieties was conducted by Foster Yeager with the Harvest Queen Mill & Elevator, Plainview, Texas. Included in his report were crude protein, crude fat, mineral matter and crude fiber for all the grain sorghum hybrids in the 1966 limited irrigation performance test.

Dr. T.C. Longnecker, Director of the Foundation stated that, "this research project on limited irrigation on grain sorghum was conducted by the Foundation to assist farmers with limited irrigation to secure the best income from their grain sorghum."

SUICIDE FINDINGS
LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Contrary to popular opinion, suicide is not always preceded by visible flood or dejection. Psychiatrists working at suicide prevention centers have discovered that attempts by patients to take their own lives frequently are preceded by "smiling depression"—a covering-up of inner fears of failings with an air of good humor.

Once the suicide has made up his mind to take his life, he may suddenly seem relaxed, even happy and relieved, because he has decided a way out of his agony," according to Dr. Robert E. Liptman of the Los Angeles Suicide Prevention Center.

Bailey Rural Accident Total Four in December

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated four accidents on rural highways in Bailey County during the month of December according to Sergeant Thurman Keffler, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person injured, and an estimated property damage of $2,500.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the calendar year 1966 shows a total of 66 crashes resulting in five persons killed, 51 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $84,200.00. "When the final reports are tabulated, we will find that more people were killed in Texas traffic accidents during 1966 than in any prior year in the history of this state," the Sergeant stated. The final count is expected to be about 15% more than the 3,028 traffic deaths in 1965. This increase should be a challenge for every individual to put forth his best defensive efforts to prevent accidents during 1967.

The veteran Patrol Supervisor cautions all motorists to beware of ice spots at bridges, underpasses and in shadows. Reduce speed before you reach these slippery areas.

LIBRARY News

It all begins when George swallows a piece of jigsaw puzzle. Next thing he has to go to the hospital for an operation.

Like the rest of us he is scared; he cries when his friend, the Man with the Yellow Hat, has to leave him at night; he is miserable when he wakes up after the operation—and he quickly becomes his own self again the moment he feels better. He is the favorite of the children's ward and his curiosity leads him into an hilarious train of events. He nearly goes too far this time, but in the end everything comes out all right, including the piece of puzzle that started it all.

Millions of children know and love this endearing little monkey. They have shared his troubles and triumphs in the six other CURIOUS GEORGE books. Now they can share with him the experience of going to the hospital for an operation.

This book is done in collaboration with the internationally known Children's Medical Center of Boston. It is a fast and funny story and, in addition, it is an excellent way to prepare a child for that first visit to a hospital.

For this twentieth and final volume in the Mainstream of America series, a distinguished American has recreated an era, one that was born in innocence at the end of World War I and came to maturity in a shower of bombs at Pearl Harbor. Many of the events pictured in this book are already known, much is nostalgic, some of it startlingly new. One dramatic passage is the little-known story of the long devotion of Franklin D. Roosevelt to the beautiful, aristocratic Lucy Mercer who was with him when he died at Warm Springs in 1945.

Mr. Daniels tells the story of "the boom and the bust" years primarily in terms of people. Some of them were scoundrels, some heroes, a great many were very unusual: Bay Lodge, the rebellious poet-son of Henry Cabot Lodge; Alice Roosevelt Longworth, whose mordant observations (she described Dewey as the little man on the wedding cake) carry a sting to this day; Sinclair Lewis, who in 1928 predicted the stock market crash almost exactly the way it happened. Here, in dozens of fascinating profiles, evangelists stand by the side of bootleggers (Al Capone); demagogues (Huey Long) next of demigods (Lindbergh); and an emerging labor tycoon, John L. Lewis, rubs shoulders with Bruce Barton, one of the great pioneers of Madison Avenue.

All in all, The Time Between The Wars is a volume of marvelous reminiscence, an offer poignant evocation of an age of change which left an indelible mark on the course of American history. It is a brilliant summation and finale of the distinguished series of which it is a part—The Mainstream of America Series.

JONATHAN DANIELS is eminently well-fitted to write the history of the 1920s and '30s. As the son of Wilson's Secretary of the Navy, he was in Washington during the defeat of the League of Nations. He was reporting in the press gallery there in the Coolidge days. Later he became an early supporter of Franklin Roosevelt and a member of FDR'S "palace guard" as Presidential administrative assistant and Press Secretary. Thus he tells his story with the conviction of an observer at the summit of events. In 1938 Mr. Daniels wrote a bestseller, A Southerner Discovers the South, and in recent years he has written a number of other successful books. He lives in Raleigh, North Carolina, where he is editor of The News and Observer.

Hospitals And You

By Eddie Faust, Administrator West Plains Hospital

If you think you have trouble making ends meet at your house, consider for a moment the budget problems of hospitals. Discussing the hospital's annual budget, Eddie Faust, Administrator, said, "Our bills for heat, light and power are comparable to those for 80 homes in this area. Our telephone bill alone costs $150.00 every month and our food bill last year would have fed 328 families in the Muleshoe area." While a housewife's linens and bedding will probably last four or five years, the frequent laundering required for hospital cleanliness reduces the life span of its linens and bedding drastically. West Plains Hospital spends over $650.00 every month just laundering such commonplace items. The hospital's medicine cabinet is its pharmacy. Keeping this unit stocked with the latest lifesaving drugs and medical supplies costs whopping $120,000.00 last year. And yet with all "household" expenses, the hospital must bear some item that most home avoid. The bill for skills available at the rate employees for every bed institution makes up approximately 70% of West Plains Hospital's annual out-liner payroll figured at $264,186.40 and employ benefits in excess of $240,000 for insurance and security taxes. So next time you are fighting the battle of rising costs in your home, stop a minute and think of the struggle your local hospital is undergoing in the fight to make ends meet.

Auto Inspection Reminder Issued: April 15th.

AUSTIN--Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reminded Texas motorists today that most vehicles have not yet been inspected for their 1967 vehicle inspection sticker. "The inspection period is two-thirds over and only about one-third of the vehicles have been inspected," said Garrison. "This means that during the 14 weeks remaining before the April 15 deadline for inspections, more than twice as many persons each week must have their car inspected to avoid long lines forming at the end of the period." In urging motorists to have their vehicle inspected at an early date, Garrison pointed out that official inspection stations are easily identified by the standard sign displayed at or near the service entrance of the garage. He advised that inspection stations are being urged to request permission to inspect any vehicle brought into the garage for repairs or regular service. "In this way," Garrison pointed out, "time will be saved for the motorist as well as for the inspection station. "And if you have not had your vehicle inspected, take it to one of the 5,500 authorized inspection stations for a "check-up" and start the new year off right with a safe vehicle." In Muleshoe, inspection stations are: Crow Chevrolet, Muleshoe Motor Company, Plains Aut Parts, Brock Implement, BMG Motors, Ladd Pontiac and Mill-sap Garage.
