425 Attend Cof C Program

Some 425 persons attended the 17th annual Chamber of Commerce banquet held Monday evening in Muleshoe high school cafeteria.

Burely Lee Roberts, Enoch, was named "Conservation Farmer of the Year," during the program.

Roberts, chosen for the honor by the board of directors of Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation Service, farms 102 acres of land which he owns south of Enoch and is engaged in farming other land in the area.

To earn this outstanding award, Roberts has used parallel terracing, practiced contour farming and kept all idle land under cover crops for soil conservation purpose.

Also, Roberts rotates crops to preserve the organic matter of the soil.

He and his wife, Carolyn are parents of three children, Timothy, Brnet and Melonie, ages 6, 4 and 2 years.

The "Farmer of the Year" plaque was presented to Roberts by George Sultemeier, local Soil Conservation Service representative.

Sultemeier also introduced the Black Water Valley Soil Conservation board of directors, Sherman Inman, E. N. Mc Call, Lewis Scoggin, Willie Welch and Carl Pollard.

Robert Hooten was master of ceremonies for the program which was opened by Walter Buice, associate pastor of the First Baptist Church, singing "The Lord's Prayer."

Guests from numerous surrounding towns were introduced by Hooten. Among them were representatives of Santa Fe Railway, Southwestern Public Service, Pioneer Natural Gas, and Texas A & M industrialists.

Miss Muleshoe, Sherri Smith and her escort, Airman William Russell, Cannon AFB, Clovis, were special guests seated at the head table with Chamber of Commerce officials, their wives and guests, Rev. and Mrs. Walter Buice, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Benedict, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hooten, speaker Melvin Munn and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis.

Incoming officers and directors were introduced by Benedict. They are Robert Hooten, vice-president and directors Don Harmon, Eddie Faust, and Bob Jones.

Melvin Munn, "Life Line" commentator and noted public speaker chose "Somehow Different" as the topic for the keynote address.

Munn, in his address, told of the trend of the nation and the universe, today along with prediction highlights of the near future. These trends included government, wars, religion and other segments of living. The peacemakers, the beatniks, the demonstrators, the race problem, and in conclusion "Somehow Different" was stressed as the means to an end of the present day situations existing in view of the fact that the nation and universe has become "Somehow Different" than it was when our forefathers first began this great land.

Mr. Buice gave the benediction by singing "God Bless America."

Background music was played by Mildred Andrews at the organ supplied by Mrs. Spencer Beavers. Buddy Pool was banquet chairman and Rheata White was in charge of decorations.

Austin - Highlights of Senate Bill No. 10, an act providing for the regulation, licensing and taxing of horse racing and pari-mutuel wagering, introduced Monday, January 23 in the Texas Senate, were released by Jim Bates, state senator from Edinburg, author of the bill.

Bates emphasized that the bill is not a gambling bill and does not provide for legalized gambling in any form. It does not provide for dog races, as had been reported erroneously yesterday.

The bill does provide for: a. Creation of Texas Horse Racing Commission of three members appointed by the governor with approval of the Senate. This commission will have control over the who, what, when and where of racing in Texas. The commission may issue a license to conduct a horse meeting with wagering if it finds such meeting in the public interest.

b. The licensee may deduct 13% from the pari-mutuel pool (the money wagered on the races). From this 13% the licensee must pay a license fee to the state of Texas in the following amounts:

1. 4% of the pari-mutuel pool money not in excess of $10,000,000.

2. 5% of the pari-mutuel pool money between $10,000,000 and $20,000,000.

3. 6% of the pari-mutuel pool money in excess of $20,000,000.

c. The balance of the pool 87% will be paid to patrons with separate pools for win, place and show or daily doubles and quinella when applicable.

1. The license for a race track in a particular county may be issued only after voter approval in a local option election, with the final decision for a license permit resting with the state Racing Commission. The bill also provides for the local option election set-up.

d. A maximum of 75 racing days will be allowed in counties with population in excess of 300,000, or when adjoining counties each have a population over 150,000.

e. A maximum of 14 racing days shall be provided for in other counties.

f. One race each day of a meet shall be limited to Texas bred horses.

g. Quarter horse racing will comprise 1/3 of all racing during a meet.

h. Provision has been made for county stock shows and fairs to conduct 14 day racing meets where no other license has been issued.

i. The bill strictly prohibits its night or Sunday racing.

j. The county and city in which the track is located may tax the track $100.00 per racing day and 10% on admission tickets.

k. Annual licenses will be required for all persons connected with the race track in any way whatsoever. Fees for such licenses will range from $5.00 to $50.00 to be set and payable to the racing commission.

Cranes Foil Wes Tex Plot To Cut Size

AUSTIN -- Crafty sandhill cranes, exposed to legal gunfire as a means of controlling the vast flocks, are taking very good care of themselves, according to reports to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The estimated Texas kill of the big birds dropped from 1-315 in 1965 to 890 last fall. The 1964 bag was set at 1,260.

Observers say approximately 150,000 of the sandhills stop over in West Texas grain fields for food and rest each fall enroute to wintering areas.

Farmers' complaints of crop depredation influenced the decision to permit a 30-day harvest of the cranes, described by wild game buffs as "good eating."

Game wardens reported no problems in enforcing the two-crane-a-day or four-in-possession limits. This was despite the fact that 1966 harvest regulations were relaxed to permit hunting one-half hour before sunrise conforming with liberalized waterfowl shooting rules.

It's all because of the big birds' built-in suspicion of human contact, say the wardens.

The sandhill cranes are only slightly smaller than the rare whooping crane, with which they sometimes mingle. But they have a slate color instead of the primary Whoopers' white. Their size generally spooks the hunter, tempted to fire before they're in range.

Hunters generally are circumented by the spooky cranes' shyness of fence rows or other areas of dense growth. Coupled with this inherent vigilance is their ability to drop almost straight down into a water rendezvous beyond nimbards' guns around shorelines. Also they are capable of making a near perpendicular take-off for a feeding area, likewise approached with rare flying maneuvers.

The veil was a pearl white satin rose attached to a shoulder length veil of imported silk illusion. The bride carried a white Bible covered with chintilly lace attached to a bouquet of white carnations and pom pom mums.

In the tradition, the bride wore something old, the lace covered Bible; something new, bridal attire; something borrowed, a strand of pearls belonging to her mother; something blue, a blue garter designed and made by Mrs. Fleeta Webb, Lubbock, and wore a penny in her shoe for luck.

Carole Stubblefield served her sister as maid of honor. She was attired in a street length dress of imported ice See VOWS on p. 8

Teachers Attend All-day Clinic In Lubbock

Mrs. Albert Eggers, Mrs. G. A. Beddingfield and Mrs. Joe Costen attended the all day Regional Teachers Education and Professional Standards Drive in Clinic at Smylie Wilson Junior High School in Lubbock, Saturday. The meeting was sponsored by the Texas State Teachers Association and the Texas Classroom Teachers Association.

At the general session Betty Buford, President, TCTA, spoke on "What TEPS is all about." Sam M. Anderson, President, TSTA, spoke on "A Professional Practices Commission."

The initials - TEPS - means Teacher Education and Professional Standards. TEPS refers to a nationwide movement organized and dedicated to the improvement of education of children and youth through the promotion of higher standards for the teaching profession. This movement was initiated by the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards of the National Education Association in 1946. It has gained strength throughout the nation as a result of the efforts of the National Commission, working in cooperation with state education association and other organized education groups interested in the improvement of teacher education.

This movement involves each person in the profession regardless of his position in the educational family. A professional Practices Commission is a legally recognized dignified, state-level body of teachers and administrators nominated by the responsible segments of the teaching profession and charged with the promotion of those desirable professional practices that have been officially endorsed by the profession it represents.

John H. Lovelady, Director of Professional and College Relations, said "When doctors violate their code of ethics, they are ostracized by the medical profession; when attorneys violate their canons of ethics, they are ostracized by their peers; but when a teacher violates his code of ethics, someone outside of the ranks of teaching takes action if, indeed, action is taken. This fact could be very significant and may contribute materially to the degradation of teaching as a profession."

The ten group meetings discussed ways of recruiting teachers and the need in Texas of a Professional Practices Commission.

Editorials Lottery For New York

Governor Nelson Rockefeller and legislative leaders at Albany recently reached agreement on mechanics for the new New York state lottery. The lottery will be run four times a year.

Tickets will be sold for two dollars only in banks; all banks in the state will be permitted to sell them. For each contest there will be several thousand relatively small winners and a few large winners.

Profits will go to the public schools. What they will be is anyone's guess, though some experts have estimated income of the state at between fifty and a hundred million dollars annually. Thus New York, like New Hampshire before it, turns to a state-run lottery for worthwhile purposes in times of expensive government and already high taxes.

The lottery is certain to do two things. Since it will be state-operated, many will prefer it to illegal games now controlled by the underworld and it is sure to deprive gangsters of millions of dollars.

Secondly, it will provide a wind-fall in operational funds for the public school system. It is also certain to exert influence on other states and to attract participants (and revenue) from other states.

If the present trend continues, it may not be long before many states have some form of lottery to supplement state government operations. There are many who believe—despite heated protests of those who consider lotteries immoral—that they offer some states the only possible source of sufficient revenues without new tax increases.

The Three Rs

GUEST EDITORIAL—

IT IS BECOMING plainer by the day that dissatisfaction with welfareism in the United States is at a point never before reached in this decade.

Conservatives who see this as the beginning of a public renunciation of the state paternalist concept, however, are only allowing their hopes to cloud their judgement. America is knee deep in the idea that government should help those who can't—or won't—help themselves.

But the fact that such liberal lights as columnist Walter Lippmann and Sen. Abraham Ribicoff are calling for a pause and a new look at the Great Society can be taken as evidence that, as a nation, we are now possibly ready to attack the problems of poverty, sickness and ignorance with more realism and responsibility.

Sen. Ribicoff says our welfare approach is "programmatic, not systematic, in nature. For 35 years we have acted as if each individual problem in our society—large or small—could be solved by passing a new program."

Rep. Gerald Ford is more specific. "There are now," he said, "over 400 federal-aid appropriations for 170 separate aid programs administered by a total of 21 federal departments and agencies, 150 Washington bureaus and 400 regional offices, each with its own way of passing out federal tax dollars."

It is time for the politicians to quit trying to buy votes. As the President would put it, it's time to reason together.

Its time to realize that we can never eradicate poverty. But we can take aim at selected pockets of poverty and help those who want to help themselves.

It's time to admit that we can't help everyone at the same time and achieve any success.

Above all, it's time for responsibility. Washington must learn to live on its own income. It must reverse its drive to perform all functions of government, many of which could be done better and cheaper at the state and local level. It must reduce the load it has strapped on the backs of the productive for the benefit of the nonproductive, before frustration and disgust cause the productive to curb their industriousness.

Realism, rationality and responsibility—these three Rs could result in real progress, good health and good will in America.

BRIDGE OUT! February

The name "February" comes from the latin verb, "Februare", which means to purify. The Romans formerly held a festival at which a goat was sacrificed, after which the priests struck the hands of women with a strip of the skin of a goat, which was supposed to insure fertility and safe delivery.

In United States history February is notable as a month of birthday anniversaries. The foremost birthday anniversary of the month is that of George Washington, the founder of the country, whose reputation has grown by leaps and bounds in recent years. It is also the month of the birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln. Washington's birthday comes on February 22nd and Lincoln's on the 12th.

Other birthdays of interest include those of Charles Dickens, born February 7th, 1812 at Laodport, England. The anniversary of the chartering of the Boy Scouts of America falls on February 8th. The chartering took place on February 8th, 1910.

The birthday anniversary of William Henry Harrison, ninth president of the United States, is February 9th. Harrison was born in Charles County, Virginia in 1773.

An often-forgotten anniversary is that of the Spanish peace treaty, which occurred February 10th, 1899. By that treaty Spain ceded to the United States the Philippine Islands, Guam and Puerto Rico. In consideration of a payment of $20,000,000 Spain also agreed to withdraw from Cuba.

On Discipline

Miss Mazie F. Rappaport, chief of the Protective Service Division of the Department of Welfare in Baltimore, Md., some years ago told a study group they should express anger when children's behavior displeases them. The social worker said children have a right to know when parents or teachers are angry with them and that this will enable them to build normal personalities. Countering some of the hokum currently peddled about never saying no to children, never disciplining children, and so on, Miss Rappaport and others who have followed her, believe children must learn other people get angry because of their behavior and realize they must share the responsibility, or part of it, for their acts.

It should be kept in mind that anger does not necessarily warrant precipitate or harsh action on the part of either teachers or parents.

Nevertheless, it conveys to the child the adult's displeasure with his action and if that anger is translated into a constructive correction, or admonition, the child will learn proper modes of conduct and responsibility.

AUSTIN--They're off and running!

With a hearing Tuesday night on a bill to legalize horse-race betting in counties where voters approve, the Legislature got into full swing. Committee actions soon will lead to final decisions.

Organization of both houses is complete. To date more than 400 bills have been introduced and referred to committees. Meetings will be scheduled mornings, afternoons and evenings to hear sponsors and objectors. . . to listen to those who think the bills should or should not be passed.

Floor action soon will begin in earnest and the pattern of the session will quickly take form.

CROSS-CURRENTS
One pattern emerging early has been widening difference between the Senate and House leadership.

Senate majority seemed determined to pass a $5,200,000 bill to give 20% overall pay raises to the 40,000 state employees by March 1. Speaker Ben Barnes and the House leadership seem equally determined to prevent it, and likely will succeed.

Gov. John Connally is reading his tax program. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, noting that spending from the state's main checking account can be $217,000,000 higher for the coming two years from currently expected revenues without new taxes, suggested that the line be held on taxes.

These differences point up the conclusions being drawn by Capitol observers that Smith will go for governor in 1968, even if Connally tries for that unprecedented fourth term.

BILLS, BILLS, BILLS

All 181 legislators have been busy introducing bills they feel should become laws. The range is wide, as always.

Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio thinks his bill to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink (labeled the LBJ bill—liquor by the jigger) has a fighting chance. His poll of House members shows 67 for, 41 against and 21 undecided. He's thus only 9 votes shy of the 76 votes needed, with 21 members yet to poll.

Rep. James Sluder of Naples has one to make Texas eligible for highway beautification money from the U. S., and to allow the Highway Department to buy scenic easements to move billboards and junkyards off the roadsides.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria wants to repeal the new Code of Criminal Procedure lawmen are fussing about, and to restore the old law. Others are proposing changes in the new law, and Rep. James E. Nugent of Kerrville, chairman of the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee, invited everyone with ideas for improvement to let him know.

ELECTION CODE
That exemption from annual voter registration, which citizens over 60 years of age, living in towns of less than 10,000 now enjoy, would be removed from State law, under a bill by Rep. Gene Fondren of Taylor. This to clarify the election law.

Fondren's proposal would also mean that if you forgot your registration receipt, you would have to go back home and get it or get a duplicate, because voting officials would not be able to accept your signature in lieu of that receipt.

MORE SALES TAX
Under a bill by Rep. John Treager of Seguin, any city in the state would be able to collect a one-per-cent sales tax, if a majority of its qualified voters approved this method of financing city services.

The local-option sales tax proposal, which would be levied in addition to the existing two-per-cent state sales tax, was recommended by Governor Connally at the request of the Texas Municipal League.

LILY TRAP REMOVAL BILL
Relief for waterways clogged with prolific water hyacinths, would be in sight if the Legislature passes a bill by Rep. Leroy J. Wieting of Portland. It would make possible State Parks and Wildlife cooperation in their removal.

P & W would be able to contribute 30 per cent -- in money and/or man hours -- to match 70 per cent in federal funds to remove the lily and other insidious water plants where they fill up lakes and river reaches.

RIGHT-TO-WORK LAW
Rep. Don Gladden has filed a bill to repeal Texas' right-to-work law. and Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake has filed a bill to strengthen the right-to-work law. So the House Labor Committee should be kept pretty busy.

Other labor proposals provide a state version of the Taft-Hartley labor-management delete last line . . . . . Taft - Hartley labor-management relations act, and set uniform determination of prevailing wages for workers on public projects.

CATTLE FEED LOTS
Reps. Tom Holmes of Granbury, Alonzo Jamison of Denton,

Delwin Jones of Lubbock and Bill Rapp of Raymondville are authors of a bill to require licensing of cattle feed lots and regulation of their operation. They said, "The Act is designed to protect and promote the public health and welfare by the establishment and enforcement of certain standards in the maintenance and operation of beef cattle feed lots."

It was recommended by the cattle feed lot division of the Southwest Cattle Raisers Association.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm interprets the agricultural situation in his own way in his letter this week.

Dear editor:

I was sitting at home out here on this Johnson grass farm the other afternoon reading a newspaper which was explaining how China is in turmoil and if one side doesn't win the other one will, unless there's a stalemate, when an energetic friend of mine from town drove up.

"Reading a newspaper in the middle of the afternoon" he asked, "No wonder you're always behind with your work."

"On the contrary," I said, "I'm just waiting for the rest of the world to catch up with me."

He didn't take time to digest that, said he was in a hurry, only wanted to borrow a grubbing hoe, which I would have lent him if I could have remembered where I put it last summer, or was it the summer before, and he left. Had he stayed I would have explained about farmers waiting for the rest of the world to catch up.

According to an article in the paper I was reading, a hundred years ago it took 4 million farmers to feed the people in the United States. Today, about 3 million are doing it, despite the fact the population has jumped from a few million to nearly 200 million. One time it took 70 per cent of the people to run the farms, now it takes only about 8 per cent, despite the fact a hundred years ago only 475 million acres were in cultivation, compared with over a billion acres today.

If every other phase of activity had become as efficient as farming, I estimate one governor could now handle 15 or 20 states, one Supreme Court judge could be doing the work of all nine. there wouldn't be more than a dozen members of Congress, one professor could handle 2 or 3 thousand students. Fifty years ago about 1000 mechanics produced all the cars this country needed, now it takes at least a hundred thousand. If space science had been as efficient as farming, we'd have landed on the moon in 1925 and called off the whole program in 1930. If medical science had kept pace with us the common cold would have been whipped in 1940 and no telling what companies would now be sponsoring news broadcasts. You can see farmers have an obligation to pull up and wait while the rest of the world catches up. No use embarrassing the rest of the people.

Veteran Loans Available Now: Time Limited

Time is growing short for veterans of World War II to use their eligibility for guaranteed loans for homes, farms or businesses. A. W. Stratton, Chief Benefits Director of the Veterans Administration warned today. The final deadline for application for a VA guaranteed loan is July 25, 1967. Stratton said that while over 7-million veterans had used their eligibility to purchase homes, farms or start businesses, there were many still eligible who had not taken advantage of this provision.

The Veterans Administration has guaranteed 6,370,909 home loans to veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict. There have been a total of 238-752 business loans and 71,654 farm loans guaranteed under the program. Loans insured by the VA total $62-billion.

In addition to the guaranteed loans, the Veterans Administration has made 256,962 direct loans totaling $2.3-billion. These loans are made in areas where local financing is not available.

Stratton advised veterans of World War II planning on utilizing this privilege guaranteed to them by Public Law not to wait until the last minute before selecting their home, farm or business. Loans are arranged for by the builder in most instances, but the guarantee can as well as new homes. With less than eight months remaining for veterans to use their eligibility, Stratton said there had been an upsurge in veteran loan activity.

The July 25, 1967, deadline does not apply to veterans of the Korean Conflict or veterans who have been included in the new legislation who have served since January 31, 1955. The expiration date for Korean veterans is 1975, and for veterans of the Vietnam era, ten years plus an extension for time saved, from the date of their discharge.

$11 More Per Cow From Deferred Rotation

THROCKMORTON--A deferred rotation grazing system here is boosting cattle profits about $11 a cow per year. At Texas A&M University's Texas Experimental Ranch two methods of deferred rotation are being used. Both have given outstanding results, according to Dr. Wm. (Dub) Waldrip, in charge of the A&M Experimental Ranch.

He said, "Of all treatments, the system of grazing continues to have the most important dollar and cents influence on livestock production. Both the 2-pasture and the 4-pasture systems of deferred-rotation grazing have produced more and heavier calves than continuous grazing at the same stocking rate."

Waldrip said the 4-pasture system has produced the best gains so far. Weaning weights for the past 6 years have averaged 518 pounds on the 4-pasture system, 499 with the 2-pasture system and 487 on continuous grazing.

Calf production per cow averaged 482, 454 and 438 pounds under the 4-pasture, 2-pasture and continuous grazing systems respectively. Waldrip figured the increased production of the 4-pasture system over the continuous grazing is about $11 per cow.

Calving percentage with the 4-pasture system was a healthy 93 percent, he said.

The 4-pasture system allows each pasture to be grazed 12 months, then rested 4 months. It was developed at Texas A&M's Ranch Experiment Station, Sonora, by Dr. Leo Merrill, range scientist.

Waldrip says he not only gets more beef per acre and per cow with deferred rotation—but gets plenty of range improvement too.
