Cotton Breeders Handed Challenge

Less Water-More Money For Each Cotton Acre

A challenge to breeders of quality cotton has gone out as farmers on the South Plains become more discontent at being classified as producers of poor-quality cotton that is unfit for anything but the Government loan. So the push is on to plant cotton varieties that do have the fiber length and quality characteristics that mills want.

At a recent meeting of the South Plains Development Program members held in Plainview, some of the problems were discussed at length and facts and figures on estimated economic effects of cotton quality improvement were outlined by John J. Seibert, Area Farm Management Specialist, Texas A&M, Lubbock.

This "quality consciousness" is taking two forms. A sizable number of cotton-growers will plant some of the newer varieties adapted to the area that have the potential to produce fiber of 1-inch staple or better. Plains Cotton Grower, Inc. reports that about one-third of the areas total cotton allotment, or 500,000 acres, will be planted to these better varieties. It is hoped that this would double the amount on one-inch and longer cotton produced on the Plains during the short growing season from 120,000 bales in 1966 to 340,000 bales.

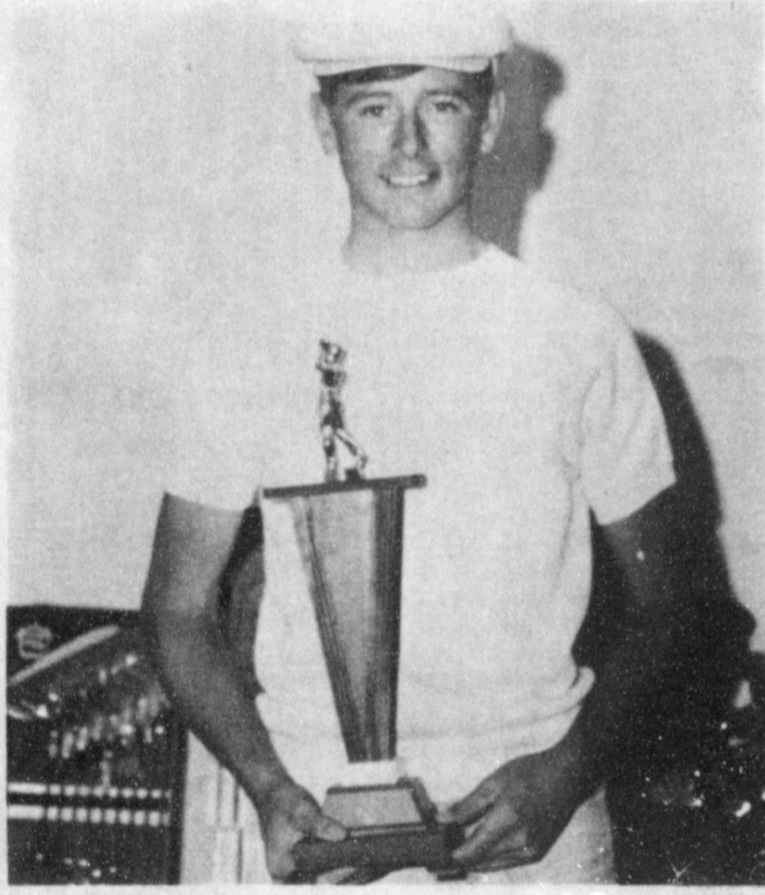

But small groups of growers are embarking on an even more ambitious undertaking, that of planting the long-staple, open boll varieties that have been getting 10 to 11 cents per pound premiums for western U.S. growers. They vow not only to rid the area of its tarnished image for producing poor cotton, but to reverse the tables completely; get the South Plains recognized for the superior quality of its cotton.

Spearheaded by cotton co-operatives and local ginners, the program is called LSM -- for length, strength and micronaire, the fiber properties upon which all the specially grown and ginned cotton will be marketed. The objective is to make LSM synonymous with quality. Sponsors hope to build a market image for LSM comparable to the highly regarded Acala type grown in California. The program will work like this: Participating growers will plant small acreages of the long-staple open-boll varieties. Then they will pool their production to get enough volume to permit efficient marketing. It is expected that 30,000 to 50,000 bales of the choice fiber will be produced in 1967.

Planting only a small acreage this year is being recommended because production of present open-boll varieties is somewhat hazardous on the South Plains where stormproof types are better adapted. Better to plant on 10 percent to 20 percent of their total cotton allotment at first until they gain experience in growing these new types, program leaders say. In the meantime, a concentrated program of breeding, selection, testing and multiplication will be carried out by research to find long-staple varieties best adapted to this area.

Cotton in the LSM program will be ginned separately in 40- to 50 bale lots under conditions designed to preserve purity of seed and lint. The use of heat will be cut to a minimum to prevent breakage of fibers, and lint cleaners will be used sparingly since mills can remove trash cheaper and with less fiber damage than can the gins. The cotton will be tested on instruments in the marketing association's laboratories in Lubbock for length, strength, micronaire, color and trash. Growers will get cash advances on their cotton based on these instrument readings rather than on the conventional green card data issued by USDA classing offices. When cotton is sold, growers will participate in any earnings made from sale of the quality pool after expenses and overhead costs are paid.

Regional Education Center Organized

The State Board of Education, under provisions of the media legislation, has designated 20 regions in Texas, each to be served by an Education Service Center, and has adopted broad policies for establishing the centers. These policies are designed to ensure the local voice in implementing and operating the service center. Representatives from approximately 40 school districts in District XVII which encompasses 20 counties and over 70 school districts, met at the Smiley Wilson Junior High School in Lubbock, Thursday, April 20 and elected officers and the Executive Committee. The officers are as follows: Nat Williams, Superintendent of Lubbock Schools, President, O.R. Douglas, Superintendent of Brownfield Schools, Vice-Chairman; Dr. Lee Vardy, Superintendent of Slaton Schools, Secretary. The Executive Committee of the Joint Committee are: Delwin Webb, Superintendent of Abertown Schools, Neal Dillman, Superintendent of Muleshoe Schools, Vic Bearden, Superintendent of Lamesa Schools and Sam Hawkes, Superintendent of Crosbyton Schools. This JOINT COMMITTEE elects the membership of the Board of Directors of the center and serves as an advisory body to that board. The BOARD OF DIRECTORS is the policy-making and appraisal body of the Education Service Center. The seven member lay group, elected by members of the Joint Committee, names the Executive Director of the center. The Executive Director is the Executive Director of the Education Service Center. The Regional Science Fair was held in the Mechanical Engineering Building, Texas Tech, Lubbock, Friday and Saturday, April 21 and 22. The winners were announced at the Annual Awards Banquet, Saturday evening at 6:30 at the South Plains Electric Coop. Building.

UNIVERSITY -- Bobby Julian has been advised that he was selected as a first choice participant in the National Science Foundation Program "In The Science In The Engineering of Air, Land and Water Public Facilities" to be held in Syracuse University June 26--August 4. Julian's selection for this honor resulted from his academic record and recommendation from Muleshoe High School where he is rated as one of the outstanding science students.

Planning Meet Slated By Water Group

Final plans leading toward the organization of a water association for the High Plains of Texas and adjacent areas will be the subject of discussion at a meeting of regional leaders in agriculture, business and education to be held May 3 at 9:30 a.m. at the Lubbock Club in Lubbock, R.C. Godwin said. Formation of a water association is generally considered to be the first step necessary to the importation of water to the area. The organizational meeting to establish the association is slated to be held on May 26, with time and place still to be selected. At that time it is hoped that several hundred interested persons will put the proposed association into operation. Presiding at the planning session in Lubbock will be K.B. Watson of Amarillo. Watson, who is chairman of the water committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the West Texas Advisory Board to the Texas Water Development Board, was selected as temporary chairman of the organizing committee for the proposed water association at a meeting held in Lubbock in March. Highlighting the May 3 session will be reports of committee chairmen who have been drafting a proposed structure for the association. George Mc- See WATER on Page 2

Package improvement is part of the plan too. Sampling holes on bales will be closed and LSM bales will carry an identifying symbol of quality. Although this is the first year the emphasis on cotton quality improvement will be conducted on so large a scale in the South Plains, grower centered around gins in the Canyon community in Lubbock County have already tried their hand at growing the long-staple cottons and have been rewarded for their efforts with premiums of See BREEDERS on Page 2

The results of this test could well be a great aid to the water depletion situation. In resume, Wedel planted Rillcot 90 on May 10 with fertilizer applied being 50 pound Anhydrous plus 0-48-0-S, Rain-fall from planting date to June 13 was 1.5 inches and on August 20 another .8 fell and another 8.5 inches between that date and harvest November 21. with five hour sets covering quarter mile rows, watering every other row. Then Wedel watered every row on July 25, August 5 and August 15. Lint per acre was 752 pounds; staple 30/32; micronaire stood at 3.0 and income $116.9. Test Plot 11 was watered July 6 and July 25, every other row and every row on August 5 and August 15 every row. Jaycees meet in regular meeting at 8:00 Monday night at the PCA building with Jim Berry presiding. Special guests attending were Carrolyn Rennels and Dixie Huffman of Springlake. Miss Huffman brought a very informative program on the Peace Corps of which she was a member. Miss Huffman spent two years in the Peace Corps in the Dominican Republic working with orphans. She gave a slide presentation of the training a person goes through to become a member of the Peace Corps. It looks more like the Ranger training that our special forces receive than what a bunch of girls should have to go through in order to pass the examine in the Peace Corps. Also in her program was slides of her living quarters and various pictures of the people and conditions that she lived with during her two year term. Another guest present was Bill McDonald who has just moved to Muleshoe from Farwell. Bill is now employed as a salesman for the BMG Motors here. A report was heard from Franklin Mann on the upcoming kite flying contest to be held Sat. May 16. Members named to the committee to help See REVIEW on Page 2

Small Towns Retail Sales Trends

The average small town is losing many retail sales of the local people. Fast transportation enables these buyers to go some distance to cities with more and larger stores for greater choice in shopping. The effect of lost sales in the small towns has been somewhat disguised by the fact that inflation has kept dollar volume at a high or even rising level. Many retailers have not viewed the situation with alarm until conditions became catastrophic. What is the true retail trade situation in a typical agricultural trade center? Take for example, Muleshoe. It is the principal town in a highly stable agricultural county. It is also the county seat and has several small industries which utilize agricultural raw materials. The population of Muleshoe increased from 2,477 in 1950 to 3,871 in 1960. Apparently the town was prosperous and a number of fine residences were constructed during that period. Several civic improvements were made and outwardly there seems to be no cause for worry. But, is a feeling of complacency justified? Can Muleshoe business support the increasing demand for more schools, street and utility extensions and recreational facilities? A superficial examination of retail business done in Bailey County appears to be reassuring. Dollar volume of retail sales rose from nearly $12,556,000 in 1955 to $20,966,000 in 1965. These figures apply to the entire county; however, it is safe to assume that the bulk of trading occurred in Muleshoe. Can it be safely assumed from these figures that businessmen in Muleshoe can face the future with complacency?

A comparison of retail business done in Muleshoe with total business of the state indicates a possibility that problems may arise. Specifically, retail trade in Muleshoe has not increased in dollar volume in keeping with total retail sales in the United States. In 1955 Muleshoe did approximately .0068 percent of the U.S. retail business while in 1965 its share had dropped to .0051 percent.

Wise Leaders Bolster Retail Trade How can this affect the future of this town? The conclusion must be obvious that many other towns are doing relatively more retail business than Muleshoe and at the same time improving. See TRENDS on Page 2

Farmers in the Canyon community pioneered the effort in the South Plains to grow a single high-quality variety and establish a market for it. Under the leadership of Roy Forkner, a grower and independent ginner, some 50 farmers will grow 5,000 acres of Acala 1517BR-2 this year.

For the third year, cotton from this acreage has already been contracted by a well established mill which will take the entire production at a pre-arranged price. The cotton will be ginned to the mills specifications. Last year, 2,000 acres were grown; the first year, 1,000 acres were planted.

County Agent J. K. Adams points out the importance of the wise use of irrigation water and planting high in the beds, using vigorous germinating seed in this colder ground to take full advantage of the short growing season.

At the Plainview meeting it was revealed that based on a 10 percent increase of 1/32 inch staple length in all counties of the South Plains would result in a $6. per bale for 1/16 inch and $3.50 per bale for 1/32 inch increase.

Based on a 10 percent increase, from 2.6 and below to 2.7-2.9 micronaire will bring a $6. per bale increase.

Based on a 10 percent increase form 2.7-2.9 micronaire, $5.50 per bale.

With the improvement in cotton quality the 1967 estimated production increase for Bailey county would be as follows: Values of staple increase, $94,259; value of Micronaire increase, $183,557; with total increased value standing at $277,816.

Cleskey of Lubbock will give the report of the organization and legal committee, with J. D. Smith of Littlefield outlining plans for the May 26 meeting. A. C. Verner, Lubbock banker, headed the committee to consider nominations for officers in the permanent organization and will present the recommendations of that group. Public information and publicity plans will be suggested by R. C. Godwin of Hereford, Russell Bean of Lubbock will present the recommendations of the finance committee.

The planning group for the proposed water association will also consider adoption of a permanent name for the organization. Western Water Development Association (WWDA) and Water Association To Expand Resources (WATER) are among the names under consideration.

"Importation of Water, with surface water and groundwater working together to solve our problems and broaden our economic horizons, calls for an entirely new approach. The first step in this program is establishment of a water association which encompasses the interests of every group in our region. The biggest water meeting that has ever been held on the High Plains should be the one to organize a water association on May 26. There has never been a more important meeting for the future of this area before and may well never be another of this importance again," Watson concluded.

Wise civic leaders will carefully analyze the local situation before it is too late and take the necessary steps to bolster retail trade. While some benefits can accrue to retailers from artificial encouragement the fact remains that it takes more people with more money to retailers from artificial encouragement the fact remains that it takes more people with more money to really do the job. Manufacturing brings in the money from outside sources and provides jobs for more people. Increased retail trade automatically follows.

House Committee Acts On Safety Bills To Strengthen License Law, Education

AUSTIN -- A great strengthened driver license law and an expansion of the State's driver education program have been recommended by the Highways and Roads Committee of the Texas House of Representatives.

Under the proposed law, regular driver licenses will be issued to persons 15 years of age when the existence of an emergency or hardship can be proven. Instruction permits will be issued to teenagers who have completed the classroom portion of driver education. Operators of motorscooters and motorcycles with five horsepower or less will be licensed at age 15.

Regular driver licenses will be issued at age 16 to teenagers who have completed driver education courses or who present a certificate from their superintendent of schools showing that driver education is not taught in their school. This provision will apply until June 1, 1969 in order to permit schools to gear up for the vastly expanded driver education program.

The minimum age for the issuance of chauffeur and commercial licenses will be 17.

Other provisions of the proposed driver license law contained in House Bill 354 will require that all motorcycle operators be licensed; that a birth certificate, thumbprints, and a description of the applicant be submitted with all original applications for driver licenses; and that provisional driver licenses be issued for all persons under 21. Regular tests must be passed before new drivers can be licensed.

Other provisions of the proposed law provide for the establishment of rehabilitation schools by the Department of Public Safety to be attended by persons whose driver licenses have been suspended or revoked and the creation of a four-year driver license plus two-year commercial and chauffeur's driver licenses.

The Highways and Roads Committee also recommended passage of House Bill 353 to permit offering of driver education to all persons over 15 years of age.

Earlier the Highways and Roads Committee recommended passage of House Bill 357 which provides for strengthening the State's vehicle inspection program.

Safety legislation recently passed by the Texas House includes the requirement that all motorcycle operators wear approved types of helmets and that the State Department of Health study the medical aspects of driver licensing, enforcement of traffic safety laws, and accident investigation.

Consideration by the Texas House of Representatives of the bills passed by the House Highways and Roads Committee this week is expected within a few days. The Senate has yet to act on the traffic safety program.

"The 60th Legislature can go down in history as the one that helped save the lives of thousands of Texans," Robert F. Miller, President, Texans for Traffic Safety, said in commenting on the action taken by the House Highways and Roads Committee.

"A total of 3,406 persons were killed in Texas traffic accidents last year. This was an increase of 12 per cent over the previous year. The dollars-and-cents cost of traffic accidents in our State last year exceeded $550 million. The remedial legislation now being considered by the Texas Legislature can be the first step in checking our State's terrible traffic toll.

"I hope that all Texans who believe that we should slow down the slaughter on our highways will let their legislators know how they feel.

"If the 60th Legislature will give the people of our State good, modern traffic laws and if these laws are enforced and obeyed by Texans, I am confident that our traffic accident rate will nosedive. When this happens it will mean that the lives of hundreds of Texans will be saved, thanks to the enactment of forward-looking laws and their enforcement," Miller concluded.

A.D. Parr Rites Pending Here

Parr had been a resident of Oakland for 45 years where he was a retired caretaker and chauffeur for an elderly couple. He was born December 4, 1885 in Texas.

He is survived by two nieces, Mrs. Ross Goodwin, Muleshoe and Mrs. Henry Tucker, Grayson, Ga.

Sisters United After Thirty-Four Year Span

A reunion of five sisters took place in Blythe, Calif. after a span of 34 years had elapsed.

The home of Mrs. Clyde Stephenson and Pearl Askew was the scene of the reunion.

Some of the sisters had visited each other at intervals during the past 34 years, however, some of the sisters had not seen Mrs. Stephenson in 26 years.

To attend the reunion, one of the sisters, a local resident, Mrs. Ester Magby, accompanied by her niece, Mrs. Howard Splawn left here April 14. Enroute, the women spent the first night in Albuquerque with Mrs. Donald Morgan, a daughter of one of the Askew sisters, now Mrs. Dock Stevenson. They were joined by Mrs. Stevenson for the Blythe trip.

They arrived in Globe, Arizona where another sister joined the traveling party for the remainder of the trip. She was Mrs. Alvin Clary.

The group arrived in Blythe

Traffic Safety Laws Considered By Legislature

AUSTIN--The Texas Legislature is now considering 22 bills designed to put into effect Governor Connally's Highway Safety Program.

The proposed legislation would provide for universal driver education for all teenagers; strengthen the vehicle inspection program; raise the minimum driver's license age to 16 with driver education and 18 for those teenagers who have not taken driver education.

The penalty for conviction of driving while a license is suspended or revoked would be increased under new laws and rehabilitation schools to train problem drivers would be established by the Department of Public Safety. All drivers would be required to take a road test in the type of vehicle they will be licensed to operate.

Traffic Courts of Record would be established if the pending legislation is passed. Motorcycle operators and passengers would be required to wear protective headgear and commercial driver schools and driver training instructors would be licensed.

"The Texas legislature has within its power to take a giant step forward and help save the lives of many of our State's motorists," Robert F. Miller, President, TEXANS FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY, said in commenting on the bills being considered.

"We need the protection that is afforded by up-to-date and sound traffic laws. I have talked to hundreds of people about traffic safety and there is no doubt in my mind that motorist will support strict but fair traffic laws. I hope that the legislature will give us the traffic safety laws we need," Miller concluded.

Tent dresses continue to be popular and although some of them tend to make their wearers look as though they were expecting a blessed event, there are others of diaphanous materials that are most attractive. Such a long dress of chiffon over a fitted wider dress can be lovely on a slender person.

Karran Bragg is Bride Of Homer Wayne Martin

The marriage of Miss Karran Rene Bragg, to Homer Wayne Martin took place in the First Methodist Church, Muleshoe, with the Rev. J. Frank Peery conducting the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. George Robert Bragg Jr., and the late Mr. Bragg, 1814 W. Ave. D., Muleshoe and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Martin, Route 2, Portales.

The alter arrangement was made of white gladiolas and blue mums, flanked with candleabras and greenery.

The bride's brother Randy Bragg, gave his sister in marriage and her matron of honor was Mrs. Sam Powell, Lubbock, with Mrs. Bill Russell, Muleshoe as brides-matrons.

Doug Foster, Clovis, N.M., attended the groom as best man and Ray Martin, brother of the groom, Portales, was Groomsman.

Lighting candles for the ceremony were, Mike Bishop, cousin of the bride, Lubbock and Kim Bryant, Muleshoe. Ushers were, Angelo Augustinos, Clovis, N.M., Melburn Gossett, Portales, Ronnie Cox, Portales and Sam Powell, Lubbock.

Organist was Mrs. Sam Dameron, who accompanied Leasel Richardson, who sang "More" and "Whither Thou Goest".

The bride was attired in an organza gown of classic empire lines featuring petal point sleeves and a portrait neckline. The bodice and the skirt of the gown were accented by small open face flowers made of organza. The train attached to the dress by organza petal point flowers extended to chapel length. Her veil of imported silk illusion was held atop a cluster of organza flowers. Her bouquet was made of feathered carnations centered by two cymbidium orchids which were later lifted and worn as the going away corsage.

Her attendants wore floor length dresses of peau de soie contrasting blues with portrait necklines and elbow length sleeves and bell skirts. They carried single white carnations wrapped with blue streamers. For the traditional something old and borrowed she carried an heirloom handkerchief that belongs to Mrs. Ross Goodwin, and her garter was blue and new was her bridal outfit.

The brides mother wore a pink silk shantung dress with matching accessories. The Grooms mother wore a blue dress of silk with matching jacket and white accessories.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Church, with silver and crystal appointments being used. Punch and a Three-tiered cake were served.

Wedding guests were registered by Mrs. Bill Tucker, cousin of the groom from Portales. Reception guests were registered by Mrs. Keith Stephens, Lubbock.

Rotating at the serving table were Miss Janie Adams and Miss Sue Dabis, both of Lubbock and Mrs. Gary Tucker of Muleshoe.

For a wedding trip to scenic points in New Mexico, the bride wore a Magenta linen dress with white accessories.

The bride graduated from Muleshoe High School, in 1964 and attended Texas Tech.

The groom graduated from Floyd High School in 1963, attended E.N.M.U., Portales and is now serving with the U.S. Navy in Jacksonville, Florida.

After May 1, the couple will reside in Jacksonville.

Be In Style: Break Into Print

If you really want to be in style this spring and summer, try breaking into print.

Simplest way is to join the fashion parade of printed cottons. It's clearly an era when all fashions are fit to be printed—not only women's, but men's and children's as well. And this season, with the outlook for bigger prints in brighter colors than ever before, cotton with its natural affinity for color takes on new importance in the fabric world.

Primitive prints are the biggest trend. Textile designers are emphasizing the bright, hot colors and original native designs of primitive tribes in both the Old and New Worlds.

Geometrics are current favorites as prints appear in big new waves of shock colors. Color is what you notice first about the new prints and what you remember. Especially predominant are the purples and bright pink tones with quick contrasts of vivid lime and orange. Geometrics used in bright flowing panels look Peruvian-inspired. And when they're used in a series of blocks or squares, they take on a definite Polynesian flavor.

The African influence is notable in the interpretation of wild leaf patterns and gigantic flower motifs. Inspired by authentic tribal prints, they have the look of genuine hand-blocked fabrics. They blaze with strong earth colors: shadings of red, brown, yellow, and green, etched in exotic designs on washable cottons ranging from the coarsely wovens to the smooth cotton satins. Super stripes, circles, dots, waves, and zig-zags are all part of the new print look.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Legislature showed signs of quick response to the request by Gov. John Connally to postpone writing a tax bill until next year and to adopt a state governmental budget for only half the fiscal biennium.

Both House and Senate budget-writing committees will scrap their biennial appropriations measures and have one-year bills ready for action this week.

In an unusual night speech to a joint session of the House and Senate, Connally pledged to call a special session next year to pass a 1969 appropriations bill and consider necessary new taxes. Overall purpose was to break legislative logjams on major legislation.

State financial picture appears to be this: Under the one-year budget plan, about $137,000,000 in additional spending can be done in the year starting next September 1 out of the general revenue fund. Because in past years the estimates of Comptroller Robert S. Calvert have been conservative, there generally is a surplus left at the end of each year. Connally thinks a surplus of $50-60,000,000 might be in sight a year from now. Thus the size of the tax bill to be passed could be that much less than it would have to be if it were passed now.

This $50,000,000 or so would not actually be "saving", since Connally expects the Legislature to spend the same amount on two one-year budgets as on one two-year budget. However, the Governor figures that if business growth continues to gain, revenues from present taxes will bring in more than had been expected, and thus make it possible to get by with a smaller tax increase.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, after initial doubts on wisdom of the procedure, urged the Senate Finance Committee to go along. Smith cautioned the legislators not to take the new financial procedure as an invitation to spend more freely and to clear up any legal questions at an early date.

Lieutenant governor, who contends that no new taxes are proposed as "at least partial recognition that our financial salvation does not necessarily and exclusively lie in passing a big tax bill at this time."

Bill by Rep. Billy H. Williamson of Tyler to make more cities in Texas eligible for grants-in-aid for community mental health centers has passed both House and Senate.

State now may make such grants-in-aid to cities of 100,000 or more population. This bill would lower that minimum to 75,000. It also would allow grants-in-aid to a center serving less than 75,000 population, if the state commissioner of mental health and mental retardation declares it eligible.

EDUCATION MEASURES

House of Representatives passed two measures of the education package sponsored by Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton. One would allow some college-educated persons who did not take all the required education courses in college to qualify as teachers.

Other would allow persons already knowledgeable in American and Texas history and government to take advanced-standing exams, and if they make an A or B, receive that grade without having to take the course.

It also would exempt some out-of-state graduate students from having to go back and take undergraduate history and government courses.

RAILROAD CROSSINGS

A measure acceptable to both the Texas Motor Transportation Association and the Texas Joint Railway Labor Board now is awaiting action before the House.

Bill provides that trucks carrying explosives or inflammables stop when crossing railroad tracks within city limits but only slow down to 20 miles per hour or less when crossing tracks outside of cities.

SAFETY BILL

An occupational safety bill, subject of bitter controversy and deadlocks in past legislative sessions, was passed by the House 143-0. A compromise version was hammered out after usual friction over terms developed. Senate passage is likely.

Bill calls for Division of Occupational Safety in State Department of Health, with three-member board to formulate standards. A safety engineer would inventory all industrial accidents and advise the board on needed rules.

CRIMINAL CODE REVISION READIED

Major revisions in code of criminal procedure to meet criticism of law enforcement officers is being speeded to House floor by Criminal Jurisprudence Committee. Major changes deal with warnings of rights of accused by judges; arrests of suspicious persons without warrants; notice of pre-trial hearings; sentencing procedures; and requirement that witnesses to crime identify themselves at request of a police officer. Committee voted down effort to allow greater freedom in use of oral confessions in trials.

AG OPINIONS

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held he could not approve bonds supported by Trinity River Authority tax of 15 cents on $100 valuation as proposed in Senate bill amendment because notice of intent to introduce measure was not published locally as required by constitution.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that: A sheriff is authorized to release a prisoner "laying out" his fine in jail after he satisfies sentence and court costs at the rate of $5 a day.

Court rejected appeal of a Bryan man from lower court orders that he must clean up conditions at his egg and chicken farm if he wants to keep operating it within city limits.

Third Court of Civil Appeals upheld two rulings of James O. Gerst, state savings and loan commissioner, refusing applications for savings firm offices in LaGrange. TYLER PARK AID PROMISED

A $504,891 development and rehabilitation project at Tyler State Park soon will be undertaken, according to Will Odom, chairman of the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

State Supreme Court action overruling Tyler and Smith County motion for rehearing on suit over park ownership cleared the way for work, Odom said.

Legislature appropriated $278,950, and federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation agreed to $225,941 grant. Project includes shelters, campsites, trailer sites, picnic units, restrooms, fishing docks, nature trails and other facilities. Scenic park is near Interstate 20.

TACTFUL TIKE

BEAVER DAM, Ky. (AP) — A small boy that Dorothy Gentry knows was being kept for the day by a friend of his mother. At lunchtime, the boy had trouble cutting his meat and the hostess asked if she could help. "That's all right," the boy said frankly. "We have meat this tough at home sometimes."

SEA COLLECTION-- This is part of a vast collection of articles the Morgan Locker family has gathered from sea explorations off the Florida Keys. They were shown to Muleshoe Senior Citizens Monday when Locker spoke to the group and showed slides.

Morgan Locker Speaks to Citizens

"Marine Life" off the Florida Keys was brought to life in vision for members of the Muleshoe Area Senior Citizens Association when they gathered Monday afternoon in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church. Morgan Locker, Muleshoe Flying Service, and his family have spent time for the past nine years on Summerland Key at their summer home and have become veteran divers and learned much about life under water; it's live "residents" and the underwater plant growth.

Many of the Senior Citizens said they felt as though they had been on a Florida trip after seeing the films and hearing the vivid narration of the exploration of depth of the Gulf in the Atlantic.

Locker also had a display of sponges, various type shells, coral and things taken from beneath the water's surface. Most of the articles came from near Looe Key, a reef submerged at high tide and only about one-foot of it is visible at low tide. However some of the collection came from the waters off Manzanillo, Colima, Mexico where the Lockers spend some time vacationing.

The speaker explained the story behind the items in the collection, including the story of Looe Key which was named for the Captain of a ship which stuck the reef and wrecked the ship he captained there.

The group heard Locker tell of being reared in Bailey County and of his life-long dream to become a pilot... what he thought then to be the most exciting thing to ever be a part of his life. However that was before he began to explore the undersea. Bill Moore was introduced by Rev. J. Frank Perry and read poems to the group. Hostesses were members of the Muleshoe Home Demonstration Club who served cake, punch and coffee to about 50 guests. Those serving were Marilyn Wilson, Jaquita White and Betty Ramage.

Millions of unclaimed medals earned by World War II and Korean War servicemen are stacked up in warehouses around the country, according to the Veterans Administration.

Among the medals there are over one - and - a - half million Victory Medals, a decoration earned by almost everyone who served in World War II.

The VAManager said that veterans interested in securing medals to which they are entitled should write a letter to the military branch in which they served.

Letters should contain full particulars about their military service units to which assigned, and above all, the letter should contain the veteran's complete name and serial number.
