4-H in District Contest

Each year during the first week of May, 4-H members from the twenty counties of Agricultural Extension, District II meet in Lubbock on the Tech campus to compete for top prizes in skills and methods related to their many projects.

Twenty-five Bailey County members participated this year in both the junior and senior divisions.

Laverne and Jole Carpenter, of Progress won top honors in the Junior Horse Demonstration contest with an illustrated lecture on "How to Groom a Horse for a Show" Mrs. Jimmy Carpenter was their coach.

Linda Mason of Progress Club took a third place in the Junior Foods and Nutrition Educational Activity. Mrs. Clarence Mason was her coach. Belenda and Danita Trockmorton, of Muleshoe coached by Mrs. Joe Harbin, were in the Junior Electric team contest with a method demonstration on "How the Electric Light Works".

Flag Given In Memory of the Late Col. Alsop

Muleshoe Jaycees erected a permanent flag pole at the Mule Memorial Site last Friday afternoon. To adorn this pole, Mrs. J. G. Alsop, mother of the late Col. Herschel Alsop has presented the Jaycees the flag which was given her in memory of her son. This flag is a regulation military flag and will be flown at the site each day following the ceremony which was held at 7:45 Wednesday.

The pole was placed at the site in order that Muleshoe might have a flag flying every day, Jaycee president Jim Berry said.

Jaycees helping to raise the pole were Jim Berry, president, Community Development Director and Bob Stovall, First vice-president.

Mills Machine Inc, constructed the flag pole, with the Southwestern Public Service drilling the hole and Ready-Mix concrete Company pouring the cement, all at no cost to the Jaycees. The employees of Santa Fe Railroad will raise and lower the flag each day. The Jaycees join the community in expressing their appreciation for these firms and their support of this project.

Social Security Prompt Filing Claim Important

"Filing social security claims promptly has never been more important than it is now," John G. Hutton, district manager of social security in Lubbock, said today.

"While benefit claims may be retroactive for a year or more, the enrollment period for medical insurance is greatly restricted," he said. "Protection under the 'doctor bill' part of medicare can start on the first day of the month you attain age 65 only if you apply for it in one of the three months before the month you reach 65."

"This restriction, incidentally does not apply to hospital insurance; it applies only to medical insurance," he added. The first enrollment period set by law covers seven months: the three months immediately before the month of attaining age 65, that month, and the three months immediately thereafter. However, if the application is filed in the month of attainment or later, the effective date is postponed one to three months.

If application for medical insurance is not filed during the first enrollment period, protection cannot be obtained until the next general enrollment period, which will be the last three months of odd-numbered years. Premiums for these delayed enrollments will be higher, and coverage is not effective until July 1 of the following year.

Even though the applicant is still working, a claim for hospital and medical insurance can be approved whether or not any retirement benefits can be paid. Moreover, with the increase in allowable earnings, many applicants will receive some cash benefits as soon as a claim is filed.

Information and help in preparing the necessary application forms may be had from the social security office at 3428 Avenue H.

Ballots Mailed To Area Farmers

Ballot May 15 through May 19 in a special referendum to determine whether they will be able to sell or lease their cotton allotments to farmers in other counties of Texas, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office manager Charles Daniel announced today.

Ballots to farmers and their wives will be mailed May 12, Daniel said. To be counted, the ballots must be returned to the ASCS office in Muleshoe on or before May 19. Mailed ballots must be postmarked before midnight of May 19, he said. "The referendum will decide only the question of whether cotton allotments may be transferred by sale or lease to another farm outside the county within the next two years, Daniel said.

"The vote will not affect the transfer by sale or lease from one farm to another within the county. This is already permitted by law.

Neither will the vote effect transfers by farm owners from one to another owned by him, which now can be made across counties lines, within the state. If at least two thirds of the voting growers of the upland cotton in the county mark their ballots "yes" transfers outside the county (within the state) can be made during the authorized period for 1968-69 crops.

A lease is for any specified number of crop years—a sale is a permanent transfer of allotment. If more than one-third of the growers voting mark their ballots "no" transfers of cotton allotments by sale or lease outside the county cannot be made for the 1968 crop year and, under the present law, another referendum will be held next year.

Ballots will be mailed to all eligible cotton producers listed on the ASCS mailing list. "All cotton farmers are urged to vote and return the ballots during the May 15 through 19 voting time, said Daniel.

Should any eligible cotton farmers fail to receive a ballot, he is urged to contact the local ASCS office and a ballot will be issued, continued the official. The voted ballots received will be counted publicly by the ASCS Committee. The time and place for counting the ballots will be announced in advance and anyone wishing to witness the count may do so, Daniel said.

Timing of Soybeans Important To Yield

Proper timing of irrigation of soybeans is one of the more important factors in producing good yields and quality. This timing is governed by the stage of growth or plant development. The High Plains Research Foundation has been conducting a study on timing of irrigation for the past four years under the direction of James Vaillant, Soil Scientist.

In 1966, three irrigation methods were studied at two separate planting dates on the HINN and HILL varieties. The particular planting dates were May 20 and June 10. The May 20 planting did as expected in producing higher yields.

A method of irrigation which consisted of a preplant irrigation, plus another at eight weeks followed by a final watering at twelve weeks after planting produced the highest yields for both varieties under observation on the May 20 planting. Although the difference was not significant, the HINN soybean did produce the highest yield under all three systems. Of course, a record rainfall of more than ten inches in late August and early September, 1966, eliminated the need for any irrigation after the bloom stage of growth. There was generally a lack of response due to planting date or irrigation method, which is partially attributed to this heavy rainfall in 1966.

Valliant said, "An irrigation at pod set (about 16 weeks after planting) is normally very valuable and should be applied unless there is adequate rainfall eliminated the need for the 16 week irrigation. In 1964, a fourth irrigation at pod set was applied, producing the highest yield of the three irrigation methods. Again, in 1965, rainfall replaced the necessary fourth irrigation.

The PATTERSON soybean, planted on June 10, was studied under three irrigation methods in 1966, with no significant difference in yields. The heavy rainfall in August and September also affected this test.

on earth. We must make it understood that celestial bodies are to be the preserve of all mankind and that their use is intended for the benefit of all mankind.

The role to the United States in this endeavor is to continue to take the lead we assumed at the beginning of the space age in efforts to guide space activities in the direction of peace.

The Outer Space treaty represents no departure in the space policies thus far pursued by the United States. Rather, it represents a further step in their evolution.

In the interest of national security, we could afford to wait no longer for a space treaty. Time is running short. To attempt to impose the rule of law in outer space after a dispute or conflict had arisen there, or a territorial claim had been made, would be an exercise in futility.

The reasons for not waiting until some nation has landed on the moon or the planets to draft a treaty are obvious. By claiming sovereignty any nation might thereby claim the right to control access to these bodies for scientific exploration or for any legitimate use.

Scientists have warned us that space can be used for belligerent purposes in a number of ways. They have warned that any nation which controls Outer Space can thereby gain control of whole continents or of the entire Earth itself.

With this in mind, I have paid special attention to the reasons given by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Secretary of Defense for their support of this treaty. We have been assured there will be no defense disadvantage to us as a result of ratification and particularly that our Manned Orbiting Laboratory program can continue.

Our military experts have in fact said that the treaty enhances our national security by offering a real possibility of limiting the kinds and numbers of weapons that can be aimed at the United States.

In any case, the United States intends to continue development and improvement of its technological capabilities to determine the presence of any orbital weapons and to keep abreast of the relevant activities and capabilities of other nations. No surrender of our right to defend ourselves is involved in this treaty.

No curtailment of either our military or non-military space programs is required. Development and refinement of our weather, navigational, communications, scientific and mapping satellite systems will continue.

I believe, therefore, that the United States has everything to gain and nothing to lose by participating in this great international undertaking. Similarly, I feel that considerations of enlightened self-interest outweigh the possible advantages which any other party to the treaty might expect to gain by its violation.

I shall go even further and express the hope that this treaty, by preventing the creation of an atmosphere of fear and distrust in outer space, may encourage nations to channel their energies and ambitions into constructive and cooperative activities designed to meet its fascinating challenges.

Washington Report

From Congressmen
BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1322 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 225-3706

The Armed Services have done a commendable job in helping indoctrinate new Congressmen in the defense posture of our country for a better understanding of the need for authorization and appropriations for present and new weapons, systems and methods.

A group of us were recently flown from Washington to a submarine base in Connecticut early one Saturday morning where we boarded one of the new Polaris submarines for a test run. These nuclear-powered submarines are one of our greatest deterrent systems in that even should an enemy nuclear missile attack knock out some of our launching installations, the long range submarines are still capable of a massive retaliation instantly from wherever they might be.

This is undoubtedly the mightiest submarine force in the world in spite of any numerical superiority the Soviet Union might have.

The Polaris force is augmented by a fleet of fast nuclear-powered attack submarines.

The Air Force has also conducted inspection and acquaintance tours for the new Congressmen in groups. As a former Air Force pilot myself, these tours were extremely interesting and informative especially because I would like very much someday to serve on the Armed Services Committee in addition to the Agriculture Committee.

On the weekend Air Force tour, we visited the Strategic Air Force Command Headquarters at Offutt AF Base, Nebraska, the nerve center of SAC. We were briefed there on AF capabilities of countering an attack by a foreign country, the role of SAC in the Viet Nam war, the types of ordnance employed in Viet Nam and the effects of bombing in Viet Nam and future plans in that war.

The second stop was at Vandenberg AFB, California, where we witnessed a regular scheduled launching of a ballistic missile in a test firing to a distant Pacific range. We were able to follow the pinpoint accuracy of the shot by radio communications with the target area. We also inspected some of the missile silos and discussed their capabilities.

We visited the First Stramore to come (tegie Aerospace

Division at Vandenberg AFB, where we were briefed on the mission of the Space Systems Division, launch and orbiting vehicles, unmanned satellite programs and advanced planning and technology of the program.

At the Tactical Fighter Weapons Center at Wells AFB, Nevada, we observed and were briefed on the latest types of aircraft and ordnance now being used our fighter and attack bombers in Viet Nam as well as new type trainers. In as much as I have kept my hand in flying, I arranged for a later check-out in one of the newer Phantom F42 fighter-bombers used by both the AF and Navy in Viet Nam. Earlier this year, I checked out in one of the new tactical jet trainers. The F42 is a much faster and more versatile plane than the F100's I flew in Korea and the one by which most of the Russian-built MIG's have been shot down in Viet Nam. The Navy version operates from carriers as well as land bases.

The stop-over at the Air Force Academy on the way back to Washington was also most interesting and especially because of the appointments each Congressman is allowed for outstanding applicants from his district. The AF curriculum is impressive as both a liberal education and the making of AF officers and pilots.

Although I have been critical at times of the conduct of the war in Viet Nam and some Department of Defense decisions, I am greatly encouraged with what I have seen and learned of our military preparedness and defense capabilities and confident that the United States can meet any aggressor at any time.

We were assured that there is no shortage of pilots for fighters, bombers or other types of aircraft nor of any type of ordnance, material or supplies necessary to present or

Education Service Center New Texas Development

Education Service Centers -- a new development in Texas education--will move a step closer to establishment this month with a series of organizational meetings in 20 regions across the State.

The first of these Joint Committee meetings was held April 13, reports Dr. J. W. Edgar, Texas Commissioner of Education.

When established, these Education Service Centers will (1) provide for the establishment of the Regional Media Centers authorized by the Fifty-ninth Legislature (2) coordinate and encourage development of supplemental educational services and centers under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 in accordance with State law and policies of the United States Office of Education and (3) provide a locally-oriented base for statewide educational planning.

Through the media services, these regional centers will provide participating school districts with such visual aids as motion pictures and slides, a magnetic tape duplicating service for audio and video tapes. In addition to providing schools in a region with instructional media services, a center will provide an opportunity for resources of the region -- metropolitan and rural -- to contribute to educational planning.

Still additional services will be developed by each center in answer to regional needs. And as needs vary from region to region, so will services. Through participating on the Joint Committee, local schools will help to determine what those services should be.

The Fifty-ninth Legislature, with its enactment of Senate Bill 408 paved way for these media services of the Education Service Centers. This bill provided for a State program for educational media for Texas schools and authorized the State Board of Education to establish needed plans and procedures to facilitate media services.

Under provisions of this law, the State should be ready to implement such centers by September 1, 1967, says Dr. Edgar.

As a first step toward establishment of the centers, the State Board of Education last month approved the State Plan for the Establishment of Education Service Centers including Regional Education Media Centers authorizing the 20 regions. In taking this action, the State Board of Education took into account such factors as pupil population, geographic area, and educational and cultural resources.

Although the 20 regions have been identified and approved, location of the Education Service Center within a region has not been designated, Dr. Edgar says.

During the early months of operation, the Boards of Directors of the Education Service Centers will have as one of their major tasks deciding on the locations of the centers within respective regions. In making this decision, the boards will consider, of course, many of the factors considered previously in drawing regional lines, Dr. Edgar says.

"Membership of service centers will be drawn from schools within the region, but membership is permissive," Dr. Edgar explains. "A school may or may not choose to participate. Anticipating future services to be provided by the service center, such as those just described, local districts may wish to become an active participant in regional planning for such services."

To participate in the planning, each local school district in Texas may select a representative to the Joint Committee through its board of trustees, Dr. Edgar points out that, under the State Plan for the Establishment of Education Service Centers, the Joint Committee has four major responsibilities. To wit:

(1) To determine the size of the Board of Directors for the region (it may have either five or seven members) (2) to elect members of that board (3) to serve the Board of Directors in an advisory capacity, and (4) to evaluate the program of the education service center, perhaps suggesting changes to be initiated in center programs or recommending new services that should be planned.

"This advisory role of the Joint Committee," Dr. Edgar says, "will help ensure that the local point of view is reflected in the program of the center. Communication between the local school board and the center can be a two-way street through the representative on the Joint Committee."

HOMBRE

From the title, Hombre, one can conclude that this is "a western dealing with Mexicans and Indians."

The story involves an assorted group of men and women heading west in a stagecoach. The characters are Paul Newman (a tough guy with a gun), Diane Cilento (a widow of questionable repute), Fredric March and his wife Barbara Rush (March an ex-Indian agent) Richard Boone (anything but a gentleman), and Peter Lazer and Margaret Blye (a young couple planning marriage).

Traveling in this manner affords enough hazards, but defending themselves from marauders seems almost hopeless until Paul Newman makes the heroic gesture to save the passengers.

Steve McQueen became the 153rd actor to place his footprints and handprints in the forecourt of Grauman's Chinese Theater in a recent ceremony.

The Friendship Club met in the home of Mrs. Lola Bryant, Thursday, May 4, 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Lola Bryant was hostess and Maude Young was co-hostess.

A delicious buffet supper was served, following the invocation given by Mrs. Hattie Griffith. Following the supper, Mrs. Griffith brought a wonderful lesson Bible Study from the book of Deut.

Members present were, Mae Busbice, Farwell, Blanche Johnson Irma Ray, Audie King, Lois Witherspoon, Sammie Moore, Jackie Tate, Hattie Griffiths, Mary Young, Ruth Shaffer, Mildred Andrews, Billie Mathis, Inez Kennedy, and three guests, Mae Shuster, Mrs. Darsey, and Mrs. Adalyn Swaford.

HIS OWN EMERGENCY
BHOVAL, India (AP) — A village doctor who responded to an "emergency" call found himself in the clutches of bandit "patients" who held him 20 hours until he could arrange for payment of ransom.

The Dorcas Sunday School Class of the Trinity Baptist Church, met Monday 3 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall of the Church for a business and social hour.

Prayer was given by Lois Brewer and the devotional read by Mrs. H. T. Peugh from Luke 18: 1-14 on the subject "Prayer."

Minutes were read and approved and poems "Junk It", and "Mote and Beam" were read by Mrs. Morris. Hymns "Farther Along" and "In the Sweet By and By" were played by Odessa Slayden on the violin, accompanied by Mrs. A. M. Bradley.

Cake, coffee, and cokes were served to Vivian Morris, Alma Hinley, Odessa Sladen, Opal Peugh, Chellie Bradley and one visitor, Mark Slayden, by the hostess for the afternoon, Lois Brewer.

State President Speaks

Mrs. Ruby Lee Lafferty, Alpha State President of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society, was guest speaker at the Founders' Day Dinner Saturday evening, May 6, in the Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Gamma Iota and Delta Xi Chapters from Plainview and Dimmitt were guests of the Epsilon Delta Chapter. Special guest were Dr. Lola Beth Green, Lubbock, State Scholarships Chairman and Miss Dimple Watson, Lubbock, State Constitution Chairman.

Mrs. E. W. Johnson, president of the Epsilon Delta Chapter, introduced the guests and presided during the meeting. Mrs. Jack Obenhaus gave the invocation, and Mrs. B. M. Wilson, Mrs. R. L. Brown, and Mrs. Kenneth Wiseman, Sudan, gave a special "Tribute to Founders." Mrs. John Watson led the music with Mrs. Faun Welker, Dimmitt as accompanist. Mrs. Lenton Smith, first vice-president of Epsilon Delta, introduced Mrs. Lafferty who spoke on "What Did You Say?"

Mrs. Lafferty reviewed the purposes of the Society, namely, 1. "To unite women educators of the world in a genuine spiritual fellowship."

2. "To honor women who have given distinctive service in any field of education."

3. "To protect the professional interests of women in education and eliminate unjust discrimination."

4. "To sponsor and support desirable education legislation and initiate legislation in the interest of women educators."

5. "To endow scholarships to aid outstanding women teachers pursuing graduate study."

6. "To initiate and develop a continuous program of teachers welfare designed to improve the economic, social and political status of women."

7. "To inform the membership of current economic, social, political and educational issues to the end that they may become more intelligent functioning members of a world society."

Neil and Nelda Finley, children of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Finley, furnished the dinner music.

Approximately seventy-five people from the Panhandle and South Plains area were present.

Muleshoe hostesses were: Mrs. Jack Beddingfield, Chairman, Joyline Costen, Owetha Finley, Bee Miller, Mary B. Obenhaus, Elizabeth Watson, Robin Taylor, Lois Witherspoon, Blanche Johnson and Hattie Boling.

NEW OFFICERS--New officers for the Llano Estacado Civic Club were installed during services Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Don Harmon. They were installed by Skeet Bliss and those installed were: L to R, Alva Lee Peeler, Treasurer; Wanda Harmon, Parliamentarian; Diana Jacks, Corresponding Secretary; Sandy Turner, President; Pat King, Recording Secretary and Reporter; Nelda Hunt, Vice President and Polly Oliver Historian.

New Officers Installed

Installation services for the incoming officers of Llano Estacado Civic Club were held in the home of Mrs. Don Harmon, Tuesday May 9, 8 p.m.

Also the Outstanding Club Member for the Year was revealed and honored. This year the Outstanding Girl was Polly Oliver. Polly's husband Derrell Oliver is a coach in the Muleshoe School and Polly is employed by Southwestern Public Service here in Muleshoe. Polly was elected for her outstanding service and work for the club and the community. She has been a member of Llano Estacado for two years and has served as Co-chairman for the float committee in the Christmas parade. She was installed as Historian for the coming year.

Polly is very active in all phases of the work the Club endeavors each year. She also helped put her husband through college, which in itself is a great achievement. They attend the Church of Christ.

The new officers for the coming year were installed by Skeet Bliss, who used as her theme colors and their representation to the offices to be held. Each new officer was given a large paper flower, and as she presented the flower, she gave the duties and responsibilities of each office held, and why each represented a different color.

Officers installed were: President, Sandy Turner; Vice-president, Nelda Hunt; Recording Secretary and Reporter, Pat King; Corresponding Secretary, Diana Jack; Treasurer, Alva Lee Peeler; Parliamentarian, Wanda Harmon and Historian, Polly Oliver.

This was also the first meeting for new members, Pat Kirk, Kay Lehr, Nan Pool and Sharon Agee.

A salad supper was served to those present.

A special guest, Dorthea Harris, Lubbock, was present to promote a drive for Mental Health. She encouraged each one to think of the meaning of this drive and urged everyone to help in all ways.

OUTSTANDING GIRL--Polly Oliver was elected Outstanding Girl, of the Llano Estacado Civic Club, Tuesday night.

Marsha Aduddell

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. John Aduddell of Lazbuddie announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marsha Ann, to Sammy Ronald Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Barnes, Lazbuddie.

Miss Aduddell is a 1967 graduate of Lazbuddie High School. Her fiancé is a graduate of Dumas High School and a senior student at West Texas State University.

Vows will be exchanged at First Baptist Church in Lazbuddie, June 10, at 7:30 p.m.

Invitations are not being mailed locally and friends and relatives of the couple are to attend the wedding.

Womens' Pavilion

You'll see no pots and pans at the Woman's Pavilion for HemisFair '68.

No demonstration booths. No technological displays. No futuristic models of the experimental appliances of 1982.

The Woman's Pavilion is about Woman. It is an exploration of her roles and accomplishments in the development of civilization. The interior exhibitry will contemplate woman's beauty from the ancients to the present; explore her mind and echo its victories; probe her heart which she gives to home and family; and finally, proclaim the work of her creative hands.

This unique venture will be housed in a $1.2 million building which will be financed partially by women themselves. Women of the world are invited to participate: $1.00 for Junior Memberships and $5.00 for Charter Memberships. Charter Members' names will be permanently recorded in the building.

True to the female syndrome to the very last, the Woman's Pavilion will not wither away when the exposition closes. Instead, it will remain as one of the permanent buildings of the Inter-American Educational Center, a living university of cultural and educational exchanges among the New World nations.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson has said "There is no finer testimony to the role of women in our hemisphere than the knowledge that this pavilion will remain as a permanent fixture of the Inter-American Educational Center and as a continuing symbol of the interest of women in international understanding and education."

The individual participation goal is 200,000 memberships. During the next 90 days, various industries will be approached and asked to co-sponsor the building exhibit along with the 200,000 women. In return for their investments, the industries will receive certain "sponsor identification" and exposure to pavillion members and, of course, to all visitors during the fair.

A total of two million people are expected to tour the pavillion during the six months of HemisFair. World exposition surveys have shown that these visitors will spend 30 to 40 minutes each touring the exhibit.

The Woman's Pavilion was designed by San Antonio architect Cyrus Wagner. The four-level building, with an interior that is to be an "explosion of color, sunlight and texture," dotted with natural skylights,

NEW X-RAY AT FIELD MUSEUM

CHICAGO (AP) - Field Museum of Natural History has a new X-ray machine geologists can employ to study prehistoric animals fossilized in stone. It was donated by a West German firm after Dr. W. Stuermer of the Siemens-Reiniger Works in Erlangen visited the museum two years ago and learned its new. Dr. Rainer Zangerl, chief curator of geology at Field Museum of Natural History, mentioned his department's X-ray was worn out and would not be used much longer. Dr. Zangerl's paleontological work with X-rays for over 30 years has resulted in unusual discoveries.

If you're planning A WEDDING

THANK YOU NOTES

A bride can make a beautiful beginning by sending a personal thank-you note. To make the bride's job easier, here are a number of suggestions on bridal thank-you notes.

First, write your notes as soon as gifts arrive. Those arriving too late to answer before the wedding should be acknowledged promptly on return from the wedding trip. Small, conventional note-size paper is preferred. White, cream or delicately hued paper is in good taste.

The only excuse for a type-written note; that you've broken your arm, or suffered some other disability that forces you to shun the pen.

Spell out street, avenue and Boulevard.

"If you receive a duplicate gift, don't breathe a word of it, even in conversation, as it may get back to the donor."

Make the notes to your husband's relatives especially warm and personal. These help to build future friendships with them.

Another important role in a smooth marriage production is played by the mother of the bridegroom. Although seldom in the limelight, her behind scenes part calls for tact, patience, and a bit of wit.

Once the type of wedding ceremony has been decided upon, wedding invitations and announcements will then be ordered by the bride's parents. The invitations will then be divided equally and the bride's mother will inform the bridegroom's parents of the number of invitations or announcements they can send.

The mother of the bridegroom prepares a neatly typed or printed list of guests, not exceeding the specified number, using full formal names and complete addresses so that the bride's mother can issue them. (It is a thoughtful gesture for the mother of the bridegroom or one of the bridal attendants to offer assistance on addressing the invitations if they have a clear and legible handwriting.)

How the two mothers dress for the wedding depends on the type of ceremony but it is suggested they consult each other to avoid a clash in color or style. The mother of the bride has first choice and should be allowed to set the precedent. She then informs the bridegroom's mother as to the style and color of her selection. The bridegroom's mother is invited to pre-nuptial courtesies for the bride. She is not expected to take gifts to showers although she can do so if desired. Usually, a wedding gift is all that is given. If the bridegroom's parents live in another city, it may be that the mother would care to give an introductory coffee or tea co-hosted by close family friends or relatives for the bride.

The bridegroom's parents usually host a rehearsal dinner or luncheon.

Parents of the bridegroom are seated at the ceremony after the mother of the bride has been seated. Both mothers are escorted by ushers. Following the ceremony, the bridegroom's parents will depart after the bride's mother, again the mothers escorted by ushers and the fathers walking behind.

The mother and father of the bridegroom are included in the receiving line at the reception.

ONE MONTH AHEAD

Mail wedding and reception invitations three to four weeks prior to the ceremony. Make two appointments with your beauty salon--one prior to the wedding portrait setting and one for the wedding.

Order the wedding cake and carefully plan the reception menu. The bride should also plan a bridesmaid tea or luncheon which she will host for her attendants.

Consult with the organist and list selections for the wedding music. Plan church seating arrangements and ask friends to be in the reception house-party. If music is desired at the reception, engage musicians and decide on the selections. Make an appointment for a medical checkup and blood test. Arrange out-of-town guests accommodations. Buy your fiance's ring.

TWO WEEKS AHEAD

Pick up your wedding portrait and full out wedding blank information. Submit to local newspaper.

Take blood test for marriage license. Tests are valid for 15 days. If going abroad on a wedding trip, take immunization injections.

Take wedding trip clothing to cleaners if needed.

ONE WEEK AHEAD
Complete reception arrangements. Entertain the bridal attendants at the tea or luncheon previously planned. Squeeze in several home beauty treatments and make a check list of luggage and traveling wardrobe. Pick up attendants' gifts.

THE DAY BEFORE

Finish packing uncrushable clothing and beauty aids for wedding trip. Keep appointment with beauty salon and attend the rehearsal and party.

Pavilion

will be nestled among trees on one of the waterways of the HemisFair '68 site. It is located adjacent to the Federal Pavilion and just a short distance from the Texas Pavilion.

The exhibit will be designed by Robert P. Gersin and Associates of New York City. According to advance information the actual theme of the pavilion will be carried out in photographic essay, with pictures, slides, film and screens as components. It is described as a "joyous expression of the essence of what women really are--not a commercial message at all." It should prove to be educational and entertaining as well.

The Woman's Pavilion will pay honor to specific women and do honor to the "eternal woman."

Gersin, head of the exhibit design firm, called the project "an exhibit as a communication although quite different from other types of communications." The Woman's Pavilion will definitely have something to say---through a merging of sounds, sights and smells.

One of the most unusual aspects of the exhibit is the "Mind Tunnel" through which visitors walk, enveloped on all sides by electronic displays of a woman's "thoughts."

Whose idea was this eclectic tribute to women? It came from a group of women, of course. They have since incorporated and set upon a course to make it a reality. Thirty-seven women comprise the officers and board of directors under the leadership of Mrs. Winfield S. Hamlin of San Antonio, president and chief executive officer, and Mrs. E. Lee Ozburn of Fort Worth, general chairman and head of the National Advisory Council.

David Nelson Wins Contest In State Track

Congratulations to David Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Nelson on winning state in the mile run at Austin track contest the past weekend. This is Nelson's fourth time in the state contest. He ran the mile in 4 minutes 27 4/10 seconds. He is a senior student at Lazbuddie school and has attended the Lazbuddie school all of his 12 years.

Financial Ten Commandments For Young Couples

Young couples who follow the "Financial Ten Commandments" will have more success for happiness.

We are referring to the "Commandments" listed by Dr. Milton Huber, associate professor at the University of Wisconsin's Center for Consumer Affairs.

I. You shall have no more children than your income will permit to maintain the standard of living you want for them. Do not forget that the older the children become, the more expensive they are. Financial planning and family planning must complement each other.

II. You shall not make the mistake of buying all the modern conveniences and comforts that your parents have taken a lifetime to accumulate. Ignore this, and the new baby will arrive amidst a bombardment of debts--which the wife's income can no longer cover. Base your budget on the husband's income, primarily.

III. You shall not take for granted that your mate has the same idea about spending money. Couples who don't work out spending plans together can end up with poor credit.

IV. Remember to save for the unexpected. Plan for medical and household emergencies. Set aside in savings, from the tip of the paycheck, the equivalent of income from six months labor to care for emergencies.

V. Honor your credit rating. Pay your debts on time. Beware of merchants who advertise "easy" credit, but specialize in harsh and expensive payment contracts.

VI. Do not buy impulsively. Beware of door-to-door salesmen and the lure of "something for nothing." Compare merchandise and prices for furniture and appliances.

VII. Do not commit yourself to any installment contract without reading it completely. Be sure that all blanks have been filled in and that all verbal agreements have been put in writing.

VIII. Do not cheat yourself by securing new loans at higher interest to pay off old bills. This is an expensive way of buying time--not a way of paying bills.

IX. You shall not bear the responsibility of purchasing a car or major appliance on the installment plan without requiring into the true annual rate of interest, dollar charges, and other special fees. Interest rates vary considerably. Shop for your credit as well as your merchandise.

X. You shall not covet a house of your own if you move frequently. Financing, selling, and closing costs increase the cost of home ownership prohibitively for families who move every few years. Neither shall you compare the costs of renting versus the costs of buying without including all of the costs of home ownership besides monthly mortgage payments. This include depreciation, taxes, hazard insurance, mortgage life insurance, closing costs, upkeep and repair, and income from interest lost on savings used as down payment on a house.

Dr. Huber wrote his "Ten Commandments" for young families after a study in depth of over-indebted couples. He says that if families will honor the list, their marriage can be harmonious, even prosperous, whatever the income.

Recommendations Made For Texas Agriculture

COLLEGE STATION, -- Creation of a state board for "optimum development of agriculture" was one of 12 recommendations to come from Agriculture Study Rendezvous here Monday.

The governor - appointed board would be composed mostly of persons in agriculture and agrribusiness.

About 400 industry leaders and A&M personnel attended the rendezvous, which climaxed a year-long look-see at the state's agricultural conditions and aspirations. The Texas A&M University System Board of Directors requested the study.

The 12 recommendations were listed by Fred Wulff, Jr., of Brady and general chairman of the agriculture study steering committee. In addition to the state board, other recommendations were:

--Set up a method for Texas agriculture to provide some of its own funds to help market food and fiber.

--Establishment by the A&M System of an Agricultural Planning System of Texas to develop long and short term objectives.

--A study of A&M organization, with the possibility of more coordination of natural resources activities.

--A re-examination of the A&M, College of Agriculture to assure top coordination in a dynamic agricultural industry.

--Emphasis on A&M's program to staff and equip Reese Young.

search- Extension Centers in the state.

--More emphasis on the humanities in college level curricula for undergraduate students in agriculture.

-- Expansion of vocational training for teenagers and adults not attending college.

--Extended study leaves for professional staff members of state educational institutions.

--Endorsements of the Agricultural Extension Service specialist concept.

--Strengthening of the Agricultural Extension Service area specialist program to enable county home agents to better serve the public.

--Teaching and research facilities in wildlife ecology (environment) and management should be bolstered.

The overall study was made by five task forces. Subject areas and chairmen of each were livestock, poultry and animal products, V. A. (Bill) Clements of Longview; crops, Norman Moser of De Kalb; sup-

High Altitude Training Course Set At Reese

The Texas Aeronautics Commission, in cooperation with the Commander, Reese Air Force Base and the Federal Aviation Administration, will sponsor a High Altitude Training Course at Reese AFB, Lubbock on June 23.

Pilots interested in attending this one day course should contact: Texas Aeronautics Commission, 204 West 16th Street, Austin, Texas 78701.

This training course will be limited to 32 pilots. Applications must be received not later than June 16.

The class will begin promptly at 8 a. m. in Building 1239 at Reese AFB. The Air Police at the main gate will give directions to Building 1239.

When training is to be accomplished at Air Force facilities for general aviation pilots, a training fee of $5, is required. Participants should bring pilot certificates and medical certificate dated within the past twelve months. Lunch will be "Dutch Treat". It is suggested that those who "fly in" plan to remain overnight due to the fatigue factor associated with the high altitude chamber "flight".

NO GATE CRASHERS HERE

NEW HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP) - When Long Island Railroad signal engineers decided to test a new crossing gate with an impact-resistant fiber glass-reinforced plastic arm, they chose the main track crossing here. Reason: motorists had been snapping off crossing arms at the rate of one every three and a half weeks.

On past experience, the railroad's signal engineers felt some driver would put the new fiber glass arm to the test in short order. But there hadn't been a gate accident at this station in the first three months after the experimental gate was installed.

Second Debut for Mother

Now Mother can smooth out her facial lines right at home--thanks to a new non-surgical face-lift discovery called 2ND DEBUT. It contains skin-smoothing CEF-600 (CEF-1200 for the face over 40). 2nd D but is a moisturizing skin lotion that smooths out facial lines... helps return eyes, mouth, chin and neck to firm, more youthful tone and softness. The process is simple: it's based upon resupplying the skin with the natural ingredient through which the inner cells obtain and retain much-needed water moisture. This ingredient is called CEF... Cellular Expansion Factor. 2nd Debut is a non-surgical face lift that gives Mother a more youthful look fast. Get it at your drug or department store today.

BOYS DECLAMATION--Taking the four top honors in the recent Interscholastic League events for eighth grade boys were Stan Hickerson, Rusty Peery, C. L. Myers and Mark Dillman.

Members of the Area-wide and Steering Committees of the High Plains Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program have unanimously endorsed continuation in 1967 of the fall spraying operations which began in 1964 and have reduced overwintering populations of boll weevils in 9 infested counties to about two per cent of previous numbers.

At the same time the group voted for increased efforts toward perfecting eradication methods which would remove the weevil threat from the Plains once and for all. There is a possibility one or more of these eradication techniques could be ready for a test run in the spring of 1968.

"There is no acceptable alternative to continuing the program," according to Ed Dean, Field Service Director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the High Plains cotton producer organization which initiated the program.

"If left alone weevils would immediately build back to the huge numbers present in the 1964 growing season and would shortly overrun the entire High Plains area," Dean said.

He also said that if this area is to be in a position to take advantage of male sterilization or other eradication techniques, it is necessary that weevil numbers be kept down to the current low level. Entomologists estimate that no more than an average of three or four weevils per acre will emerge from hibernation this spring, and it is estimated that the release of sterile males would require a ratio of about 100 to 1 to disrupt the reproductive cycle.

The release of 400 sterile male weevils would not be enough to do serious economic damage to crops. But if weevil populations were even 100 per acre, the 4,000 sterile weevils that would have to be released would make the technique prohibitive.

Some 30 people will be used in surveys this June, July and August to both study weevil population dynamics and delineate the area to be sprayed this fall, Dean stated.

In 1964, the first year of the program, base acreage to be treated was almost 300,000. Last fall, it was necessary to spray only a base area of about 185,000 acres, and it is hoped this can be reduced to an even smaller acreage in 1967.

"This fact, together with other economies effected in the program, will make it possible for Plains producers to meet their obligations without an increase in the 40 cents per bale contribution," Dean said, "and the committees agreed that this figure would not be changed this year."

The program is jointly financed by the State and cotton producers in the area, with matching Federal funds.

Cuthion, newly approved for use in ultra low volume form, may be used this year in a pilot project. If it proves satisfactory for use in the entire program, an even more economical and effective program might be possible in 1968.

Low volume Malathion is the chemical used for the past three years. It will be used for the bulk of spraying in 1967 pending proof that Cuthion would do a better job, Dean reported.

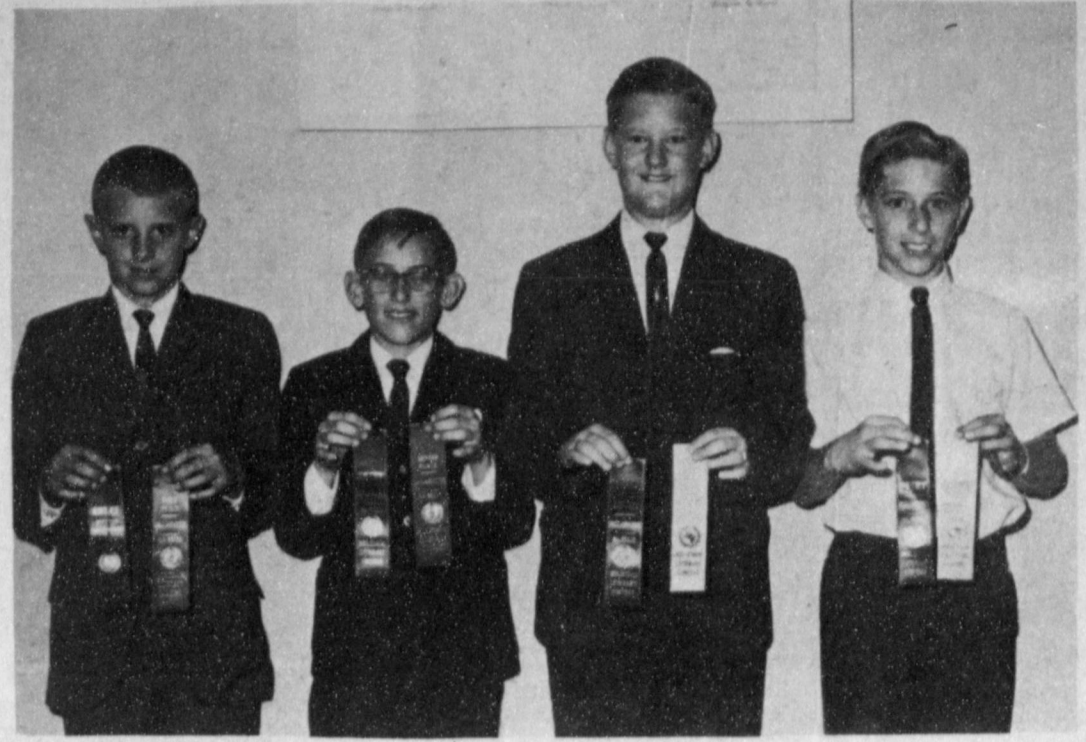

"I have never been associated with anything so exciting, stimulating, or offering greater potential for the South Plains than the prospect of importing water to the area for agricultural and other uses," says J. D. Smith of Littlefield.

Smith is President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and a member of the organizing committee for Water, Inc., the formation of which is one of the first steps toward bringing water to West Texas from areas of surplus.

"Engineers and others who have studied the situation have convinced me that imported water for this area is not only possible, but practical," Smith said, and added "It has often been said that with plenty of water the Plains could be the garden spot of the world, and I now expect to see it become just that."

The organizational meeting of Water, Inc., will be held at the KoKo Palace in Lubbock at 2:00 p.m. May 24, and members of the organizing committee are urging that people from all walks of life be on hand. A charter and by-laws for the organization have been drawn up and approved by the organizing committee and these will be submitted for membership approval May 24.

"Too many people are looking on imported water as a pipe-dream," according to Smith. "They just don't realize how close we are to the day when the Texas Water Development Board, the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation and the U. S. Corps of Engineers may say 'the water is available, we can get it to you at a reasonable cost, and if you want it sign this contract to pay for it.' And if we are going to be ready when that day comes, we've got to start now."

SIXTH DECLAMATION -- In the Sixth grade boys declamation event of Interscholastic League winners were Terry Burchel, Brent Blackman, Bill Chapman and David Faver.

Veterans Q's and A's

Q -- The college catalog states that 12 semester hours is considered full time. Is this considered full time by the VA?

A -- The law requires a minimum of 14 semester hours of undergraduate work during the regular semester in order for a veteran to qualify for full time educational assistance allowance.

Q -- Will the Veterans Administration pay for a correspondence course taken concurrently with a residence course?

A -- The VA cannot authorize payment for a correspondence course while payments for a residence course are being made.

Q -- A veteran has been suspended for a semester because of low grades. What action should he take in order to receive further training?

A -- He should request a counseling appointment with a VA Counselor. Before admissions can be authorized, the counselor must agree to re-entry into the former program or a new program.

Q -- A veteran has had one change of program when he changed from college to a vocational school. He wants to make a second change. Is this permissible?

A -- The VA may approve the second change if after counseling it is found the new program is in keeping with the veteran's abilities and interest and there is a reasonable chance he can successfully complete the program.

In your basket. Every last plump, ripe, juicy one. Just spray with Thiodan up to one day of picking. Tomato fruitworms won't get away with a one; aphids, flea beetles, hornworms, stinkbugs, yellow striped armyworms, blister beetles, Colorado potato beetles, and russet mites won't either. So count on control of all 9 of these tomato pests; and more, because it takes only one insecticide to do it. Thiodan

When you look for the most room and the smoothest ride and the best value, you'll end up with a Chevrolet wagon everytime.

Chevrolet Impala, roomiest in its class. While extra roominess is perhaps the best reason for buying a Chevrolet wagon, consider, also, these bonuses: Body by Fisher, Chevrolet dependability, flush-and-dry rocker panels and Magic-Mirror finish. Chevelle Malibu, smoother, quieter ride. A Malibu not only gives you a Full Coil suspension ride, but the body mountings are double-cushioned. And Chevelle carries plenty. It opens wide. 54.6 inches, to be exact. 28.5 inches high. Flip the second seat down and you've got 86 cubic feet of cargo space for all your gear. Chevelle was built to take a lot. Chevy II Nova, best equipped for the money. All-vinyl upholstery is standard. Flush-and-dry rocker panels that clean themselves are standard. Separate panels beneath each fender to inhibit rust are standard.

Mono-Plate rear suspension to smooth the ride is standard. Price? Below standard.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN--Redistricting bills are ready for test votes in the House.

A court reapportionment measure which would add 16 courts, eliminate two and provide for district realignment, was reported favorably by the House Committee on Judicial Districts.

Bill would provide two new courts each for Dallas, Harris, Bexar and Tarrant Counties. Single courts would go to these districts: Hidalgo County, 200th District; Comal and Guadalupe Counties, 201st District; O'Neal, Jim Hogg, Zapata and Starr Counties, 202nd District; Randall County, 203rd District; Collin County, 204th District; Gregg County, 205th District; Crockett, Schleicher, Menard, Sutton, Kimble, Edwards, Real, Kerr and Banderas Counties, 206th District; and Wharton, Fort Bend, Matagorda and Brazoria Counties, 66th District.

It would combine district courts serving Hill and Freestone Counties with other counties. It provides for abolishing 82nd District Court, effective January 1, 1971.

Candidates for the new judgeships would run for office next year, taking over on January 1, 1969.

A congressional redistricting bill, required by an order of the federal court, is complete. But it has been held back due to controversy.

Congressional redistricting as drawn by the House Committee would require no incumbent congressmen to run against another incumbent. Committee Chairman Gus Mutscher of Brenham said the bill would carve 23 new districts which vary no more than five per cent in population.

Mutscher indicated that the redistricting measure for House seats is virtually complete and will follow congressional reapportionment by about 10 days.

HORSES GALLOP AGAIN--In less time than it takes a fast stepping thoroughbred to romp a mile, the House Committee on Counties approved, on a local-option basis, a bill to legalize pari-mutuel horse race betting in Texas.

House sponsors said they are not sure when they will ask for a floor vote.

Here's what the House bill proposes: Racing would be permitted in counties where voters want it, with 85 per cent of the betting pools going to betters, two per cent to counties where tracks are operated and 13 per cent to be split between the state and the track operators. State would, in turn, divide half of its share (on a population basis) among the counties having no tracks. Bookmaking and off-track betting with bookies would be made a felony.

Senate bill has been out of committee since February but, so far, the sponsors haven't brought it to a floor test.

'open meetings'--A bill to outlaw closed-door meetings of government agencies passed the Senate unanimously.

However, an amendment would exempt departments, agencies and political subdivisions not supported by or spending tax funds.

Misdemeanor fines are provided for violations, and "any interested person" may launch court action for mandamus or injunction against closed meetings.

Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena handled the measure in the Senate. It now goes to the House where Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville is sponsor.

REVISION PLANS ADVANCED--House overwhelmingly passed a resolution proposing a method of state constitutional revision. A 20-member committee would report recommendations to the next Legislature for submission to voters.

Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria is author of the House resolution.

Senate State Affairs Committee approved a bill to establish a 45-member constitutional revision commission. Under this bill, by Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, the commission would be limited mainly to recommendations. It would offer suggestions to the Legislature for eliminating obsolete and repetitive sections.

POLLUTIONS MEASURES CLEARED--House passed the Senate bill to strengthen water pollution control and establish a new Texas Water Quality Board as a separate agency. Amendments will send the bill back to the Senate.

Meanwhile, the Senate has approved a bill to provide the mechanism for enforcing air pollution control measures. An amendment would allow the Air Control Board to set different standards for agricultural processors (including cotton gins) than are set for industries.

GRANT APPROVED--U. S. Public Health Service has approved a $315,659 grant to Texas for a statewide immunization program.

Funds will be used for immunization campaigns in cooperation with local health agencies and medical societies against measles, polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. Project will continue through April 30, 1968. An additional year has been tentatively provided for with a $325,000 grant. Supplemental budget of $35,775 for polio vaccine has been requested.

OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY--House and Senate both have passed the compromise occupational safety bill. It now awaits Gov. John Connally's signature.

As finally passed, the bill is a compromise among labor management and the governor. It would create a Division of Occupational Safety as part of the State Department of Health.

DOS would have the power to make and enforce rules and regulations on safety, plus authority to inspect places of employment. A qualified safety engineer would be hired to administer the program.

REGULATE RAINMAKERS--Senate has passed and sent to the House a licensing bill to regulate weather modifiers--or would-be modifiers--under the Texas Water Development Board.

Apparently the bill is aimed more at encouraging research and development in the field of legitimate weather modifying than at bogus rainmakers.

Board would be given full control over the entire field of water modifying including annual licensing and permits.

APPOINTMENTS--Governor Connally named Carlos Castillon of Laredo as 49th district attorney to replace Oscar M. Laurel who recently accepted a federal post in Washington.

Connally named to the Dallas-Tarrant board of park commissioners W. T. Overton, Jack Evans, David Bruton Jr., O. B. English, George A. Nicoud Jr., Vernon S. Smith and T. W. Norworthy of Dallas. Also Ernest J. Wilemon of Arlington and Murray Kyger, David O. Belew Jr., John L. Lewis, James C. Fuller and Dick Lowe of Fort Worth.

Dr. Bevington A. Reed, formerly of Cisco and Alpine, now chancellor of the Board of Minnesota State College, was named assistant commissioner of Texas Higher Education for Senior Colleges and Universities.

WATER PROJECTS ASKED--Texas Water Development Board has asked federal agencies for $40,500,000 for recreational facilities at the U. S. Corps of Engineers water projects and $2,800,000 for investigative studies of 16 projects suggested by President Johnson.

Board is seeking $55,000 from the $810,000 appropriation the president recommended for water and pollution study. Among other projects urged were these: A $25,000 study of the Red River above Denison Dam; $25,000 for the Canadian River and tributaries; $100,000 for the Nueces River and Tributaries study; and increase for modification of Lavon Reservoir near Dallas and east fork channel improvements; $750,000 to begin construction of Cooper Dam in Delta and Hopkins Counties; $150,000 to initiate planning of the Arkansas-Red River chloride control project; and $75,000 for flood control work on the Pecos River.

SHORT SNORTS

Senate passed the revised consumer credit code bill, which now returns to the House.

Wendell Bedichek, assistant to the executive director of the Texas Research League in Austin, has resigned to become executive director of the newly formed West Central Texas Council of Governments in Abilene.

Vernon McGee of Austin, former State Legislative Budget Board director, has been retained as a research consultant for the Republican Party of Texas to work with GOP's eight "task forces" on major state problems.

According to Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state selective service director, Texas' draft call is going up next month to 975 men, the state's share of the national call of 19,800.

COMPUTERS Pocket-size computers are forecast.

Industry and Small Towns

The belief is widely held that industry is the key to the welfare of many towns. Why is this belief so prevalent inasmuch as many towns have prospered in the past without industry? A listing of selected problems of the modern town may afford at least a partial answer to the question.

What are some of the problems of towns today? How can industry help in relieving them?

One of the well nigh universal characteristics of towns is their rapid growth during recent years. This has resulted in large part from the migration of agricultural workers from the farm as they were replaced by machinery. The piling up of people in town has created acute civic problems: the provision of utilities, schools, parks and other recreational facilities, etc. At the same time, the recent migrants into the town frequently were unable to make proportionate contributions to the support of the necessary civic facilities. Also, they tended to compete with earlier residents of the town for jobs, thus lowering wages. Support for civic development is indeed meager in such a situation.

A second problem facing the community is the loss of human capital as high school graduates seek livelihood in distant cities. It is estimated that the overall cost of producing a high school graduate is approximately $25,000 and the local community pays a large portion of this. Small towns can hardly afford to make an annual contribution of this proportion to the metropolitan areas.

Can industry help in relieving these, and other problems? Experience indicates that industry can help although it can hardly be expected to replace the original agricultural economy; it will however, tend to stabilize the economy of the area.

Softball Date For Registering Set May 15

May 15 was set as deadline date for registering for the Muleshoe Outsider Softball League at the meeting held Tuesday night at the Corral Drive Inn. All final plans for the upcoming season were made.

Roy Dyer presided during the meeting in which a number of new rules and policies were decided upon.

The major issue during the evening meeting was the discussion of whether the league should play lob-ball or toe continue the fast ball rule. It was determined that the fast ball rule would apply until one team was 10 runs ahead of their opponents.

At registration time, the names who have registered will be drawn from the hat to form the teams and to set up the schedule for the season. Those who sign up following the deadline will be placed on teams by the Board of directors.

Concerning the fast ball-lob opponents, at which time the team ahead will pitch lob-ball. When lob-ball pitching begins the inning will have to be completed lob-ball. If at the beginning of the next inning the team ahead has less than 10 runs ahead, they have the right to return to fast ball.

The team rosters is limited to 15 players. The board players after the season starts. The Corral Drive-Inn's registration headquarters for the League with the entry fee set at $6, to be paid at the time of registration.

All players whose name goes in the hat to be drawn as players must be 21 years of age or older and if those under 21 wish to play they must form their own team and play at their own risk.

One dollar of the entry fee will be used for upkeep of the Babe Ruth League Park.

Captains and managers will be selected by each individual team.

Spanish Teacher Selected For Institute Study

Burel Block, Spanish teacher at Muleshoe high school, is one of the 54 junior and senior high school Spanish teachers from throughout the United States who have been selected to participate in the NDEA Institute for Advanced Study of Spanish at Wichita State University and Puebla, Mexico, June 11 through August 12.

The first two weeks of the institute will be spent on the WSU Campus in orientation and will involve the use of language laboratories, audio-visual aids and some demonstration.

The last six weeks will be spent in Puebla, Mexico, where the students will participate in the "Living Laboratory." While in Puebla, the participants will live in a Mexican home for three weeks and will be escorted by natives for interviews with residents, to places of interest and to observe the Mexican culture.

Farm Bureau News...

The regular meeting of the Farm Bureau Board of directors was held Thursday, May 4, at the Farm Bureau office. Fifteen directors attended. The following activities were considered and are now being developed.

QUEEN'S CONTEST
A committee meeting was held Tuesday morning, May 9, at the Farm Bureau Office to begin plans for the 1967 Bailey County Farm Bureau Queen's Contest. Contest date was set for August 1, at the Muleshoe High School, with the final entry date on July 22. Further details regarding rules and regulations will follow at a later date and we urge all eligible young ladies between the ages of 16 and 22 to begin to consider this coming event.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN SCHOOL
As in previous years, Bailey County Farm Bureau will be sponsoring two firemen attending the Texas Firemen's Training School, July 16-21, at Texas A. & M. University. It is always our pleasure to offer this valuable experience to the men who serve our community in this capacity. Applications will be accepted after May 15.

STUDENT SEMINAR
Bailey County will be sponsoring three High School students to the 1967 High School Students Citizenship Seminar to be held on the campus of Baylor University, Waco, August 8-11. The selection of students will be made by an appointed committee co-ordinating with the county school officials to offer a splendid opportunity to qualified students.

Cattle Raisers To Expand Services For Industry

Following a meeting of its executive committee this week, the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association announced plans to enlarge and expand its services and activities related to the cattle feeding industry in Texas, Ben H. Carpenter, president of the Association, stated that the Association would announce shortly the appointment of a new staff man to head up its enlarged activities in this important phase of the cattle industry.

"The commercial cattle feeding industry has experienced a phenomenal growth in Texas during the past ten years," he said, "and we anticipate a continuation of this enlargement of the number of commercial feedlots in the state during the immediate years ahead." During the past decade, Texas, already the leading cattle producing state, moved up from tenth place to third place as a cattle feeding state. Association officials anticipate that Texas will move into second place as a cattle feeding state within two years or less.
