

Record Crowd Swarms To Pool

Soaring temperatures sent a record crowd to the City swimming pool opening day, Monday, June 5.

Byron Hardgrove, manager of the pool, said more than 300 swimmers were in the pools between the opening hours of 1 and 8 p.m. This is the largest crowd in any given day since he took over management of the pool four years ago.

During the week, the pool will be open from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Hardgrove said "Daylight Saving Time has created some problems for us. For instance, we are going to have to play this thing by ear' this year as far as the usual swimming lessons are concerned. In the past, classes of instruction began at 10 a.m. and concluded at 11 a.m. This gave time to clean up the swimming area and get ready for the public opening at 1 p.m."

"At 10 a.m., now, the water is much too cold for the youngsters to be in and it is not possible to set the time later."

Two qualified life guards are on duty. They are Clarence Jones and Lawrence Green.

The Country Club pool opened Tuesday, June 6. Complication with the pumping system delayed the scheduled opening of the pool. Regular hours are yet undetermined, however, will be announced in the near future. Dick Pylant is lifeguard at the Country Club pool.

SUMMER RECREATION -- The swimming pool will highlight the activities of many area youths. A record crowd took the first dip of the season Monday. Shown here are Debbie Bruns, life guard Charles Jones and a visitor in Muleshoe, Cora Holloman, Albuquerque.

COUNTRY CLUB DIP --- These are four of the younger set who was on hand to try out the water at Muleshoe Country Club Swimming pool when it opened Tuesday. They are Cynthia Wrinkle, Sharon Wrinkle, Scott Bliss and David McVicker. Looking close, you can see a head bobbin' out of the water. He is Bruce Chapman.

SMALL FRY --- This young man is trying out the wading pool at the City Swimming pool. He is Clifford Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Watson.

Four Airmen from Cannon Air Force Base were fined $75 and court costs and given a 30 day jail sentence, suspended to 6 months, growing out of a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minor girls. The juvenile hearing for the local girls is pending.

A called meeting is slated for Thursday, June 8 at Masonic Hall for Master's Work.

history and progress and what had been programmed for the future.

"Up until 1964, a small construction program to augment and replace some of the World War construction were given including the 1956-57 building of 364 homes followed by the erection of two dining halls, and four brick barracks, among many other things.

About 1963, the status of Cannon as a permanent base became formed after a rather turbulent history of closings and near closings.

"Credit, in large measure, for the existence of the base goes to the people of Clovis and New Mexico and Cannon now enjoys as stable a future as is possible for any military facility," he continued.

Lt. Col. Kirkaldie explained the procedure of obtaining additional improvements which has made Cannon what it is today and is to be in the future. He also explained the ways and means of the operations and

Construction Crew To Need Housing

A crew of some 250 will be moving into Muleshoe around July 1, Fup Vaughn, an associate of H.B. Zachery Co., San Antonio announced.

The construction crew will be putting in a pipeline, 86 miles of pipe extending from eight miles north of Hereford to west of Morton.

The line will be a 24 inch natural gas line.

Vaughn stressed the need for furnished rooms, houses and apartments for the construction crew which will headquarter here for approximately three months.

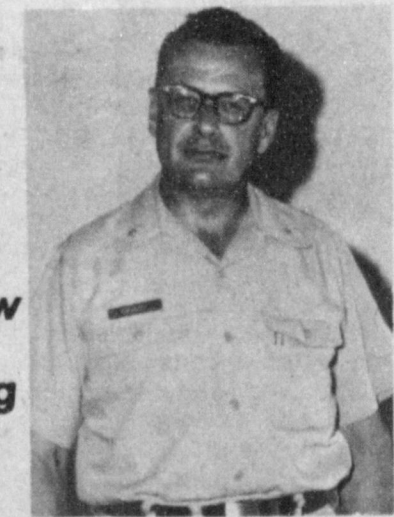

Anyone having available housing facilities are requested to call the Chamber of Commerce office.

The line crosses Bailey County to the west of the city.

He also covered the recreation program such as theaters, libraries, the golf club house and other vital programs of this nature important to the moral of the servicemen.

In presenting the picture, both present and future he said "In the next two years, we can conservatively expect an increase to 3,200 families or 1,000 more than we have now. "Deducting the 150 new houses will begin construction on shortly which will be finished about a year from now, still leaves an additional 850 homes to be found in the local area, mainly Clovis.

Soybeans May Follow Wheat Crop on Plains

The wheat picture does not look too good for the High Plains of Texas this year. In addition to the damage already done, most observers feel that the wheat crop will probably be harvested earlier this year than most years in the past.

Many farmers have never considered a double-crop system, but for those who have been hurt by the freeze and drought, this might be an ideal year to consider planting soybeans following wheat. No accurate data has been collected, but it appears that farmers who have tried double-cropping in a normal year have been averaging about 20 to 25 bushels of soybeans after wheat.

Most of these seed have been planted in the first or second week of July. However, according to tests at the High Plains Research Foundation, it appears that if soybeans could be planted approximately 10 days earlier, a farmer could expect from an 8 to 10 bushel increase in yield, and should be able to expect better quality beans.

There does not seem to be an abundance of good quality soybean seed available this year, and it is very possible the wheat problem, coupled with possible hair - out on cotton, may cause the supply to be even shorter. For these situations, the early maturing varieties are recommended, such as the PATTERSON, CLARK 63, and WAYNE.

If a farmer can foresee a need for soybean seed for any purpose, he would probably be wise to seek out a source of supply in the near future, because a poor quality seed can only result in less net-dollar return for himself.

unity as part of the 1967 Texas Farm to Market Program.

The Road to be improved is FM Road 1731 located in Precinct No. 2 from FM 1760 south to FM Road 746.

District Engineer Oscar L. Crain of the Texas Highway Department District Five Office in Lubbock said estimated cost of the work is $166,000.00.

The work authorized for this county is part of 949.3 miles of Texas Farm and Ranch to Market Roads earmarked for development in the new program.

Plans call for an eventual FM - RM system of 50 thousand miles. Originally conceived to move agricultural products to market, the FM system has contributed both to the social and economic well being of rural areas.

The program lists 228 projects in 166 counties.

New mileage included in the program totals 623 miles. Other mileages was previously designated or is being constructed in stages.

For example, 69 percent of the mileage included in the program is on school bus routes. Sixty-three percent of the new mileage is along rural mail delivery routes.

According to the Texas Education Agency, 7,800 school buses travel almost 450 miles daily to transport 473 thousand students to school and back home. Many of these students make all or part of their daily trips to school over FM roads.

It is estimated that rural mail carriers travel almost 50 thousand miles a day over FM roads.

Area Cotton Crop Bleak... Rebound Seen

"Pretty bleak ... pretty bleak," is the way ASCA manager, Charles Daniel described the cotton crop outlook for Bailey County.

"With June 1 passed, the date after which producers are permitted to abandon cotton, Daniel said, "a number of applied for approval of planting other crops on cotton acreage and others are yet trying to decide which would be the most profitable route to follow. Date for replanting the cotton is up to the individual farmer and his particular situation, land and chances of making it pay.

In every case farmers must secure prior ASCS approval before planting non-allotment crops on cotton acres if federal cotton payments are not to be lost. Soybeans are considered the most attractive of the substitute crops.

Donald A. Johnson, executive vice-president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., said some cotton leaders have expressed concern that many producers may base decisions on this matter on conditions in 1966 rather than on a "normal" rains and cool temperatures in August and September last weather pattern.

Johnson pointed out that heavy year were a boom to soybeans and a setback to cotton. Then an early mid-October freeze brought heavy cotton losses.

But these conditions were "far from normal," Johnson noted. "Soybeans, given a normal, dry, hot summer, will require at least two and possibly three irrigations," he said. "On the other hand, June-planted cotton from both a yield and quality standpoint, would need only one irrigation at most."

Johnson said some authorities has predicted that prices for the 1967 soybean crop "may rest right on the support rate of $2.50 per bushel." He said these predictions have been based on earlier projects of a record billion-bushel U.S. soybean crop.

"There is now an increasing possibility that soybean acreage was expected," Johnson said, "setting a potential for the first 'surplus' of soybeans." Reports indicate that the heaviest cotton losses were in a region extending from Lubbock north and northeast into Floyd County area and across wide portions of Bailey, Hale, Lamb and Hockley counties. Damage outside these areas are somewhat more spotted.

With favorable drying conditions, re-planting may take a rapid pace.

Cotton officials say hot, dry weather is needed on the irrigated crops, some of which is in rather thin stands. They fear a protracted period of cool, damp conditions would facilitate development of cotton disease.

Many area farmers have sandblaster in operation where fields are dry enough to blow in order to protect the tender cotton from the sand. Other fields are yet too wet to use equipment in.

Surveying the loss, officials estimate that some 100,000 acres of cotton was destroyed by last week's rain and hail.

Over the area, it was described as the most extensive loss from one spell of weather since 1959 when a June 22 hailstorm battered 60,000 acres of cotton in a broad area stretching from Hale County to southern Lynn County.

"This farming area has a amazing recuperative powers in these situations, however and it is much to early to get pessimistic about the crop outlook," Bob Poteet, executive president of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange said.

Poteet recalled that the South Plains rebounded from the 1959 loss and came on to produce 1,849,353 bales in the 23-county area, the second largest crop on record.

the nation in cotton production has some 2.2 million acres available for planting to cotton in 1959, when the late-winter storm came too late to replant cotton, compared with approximately 1.4 million acres this year.

The picture is clouded this year, however because the current federal cotton program enables the farmers who are unable to get and keep a stand of cotton early enough to allow reasonable expectations of harvesting a crop to plant non-allotment crops on cotton acreage and still collect cotton subsidy payments.

Lubbock, The Research Committee of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., is recommending that the 23 - county cotton producer organization in 1967 provide grants - in - aid totaling $32,200 to help carry out 12 research projects on High Plains Cotton production, according to Don Jones, Committee chairman.

The committee's recommendations already have been approved by PCG's Finance Committee and will be considered later this month by the organization's full 48 man board.

The Research Committee will recommend that a major portion of the funds, $23,800, be spent on the development and evaluation of improved varieties and strains of cotton adapted to High Plains conditions and on cotton disease and weed control research.

Other studies the committee felt should get financial help include conservation and utilization of rainfall and irrigation water, various methods of modifying the cotton plant for adaptation to the low temperatures sometime prevailing on the Plains, soil fertility and the influence of planting designs and climatic conditions on cotton fiber development.

Established research institutions sharing in the grants will be the South Plains Research and Extension Center at Lubbock, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Bushland, the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway and Texas Technological College.

The $32,200 total to be spent by PCG on cotton production research in 1967 compares with $36,250 budgeted for grants last year. Jones said "Though it is felt by the committee that adequate research is no less important to producers now than in previous years, and that in fact there may now be more urgency for research in specific areas, the sharp cut in acreage and production has substantially reduced available funds."

"Accordingly, we are recommending approximately a nine per cent reduction in the budget for agricultural research. But we have thoroughly evaluated each individual project in order to make cuts where they would least affect the overall research program."

Total funds spent by PCG on cotton production research since 1956 when it was formed now come to $301,150 and Jones said the development of new varieties and improved cultural practices since that time have more than justified the expenditure.

He pointed out that every dollar of PCG grants attracts some three or four dollars from other sources, greatly completed.

enhancing the benefits received by PCG members.

Ed Dean, PCG Field Service Director, commented that "The PCG Board has always recognized that deciding which of the many requests for research grants - in - aid should be honored is a job requiring much time and study, and consequently no significant changes are expected to be made in the Research Committee's recommendation".

Weather conditions this year have brought cotton producers in many areas of the Plains up to the first week in June without a stand of cotton.

Some areas without irrigation water still haven't had enough moisture to plant. Others have gotten a stand only to see it wiped out by hail or other turbulent weather.

To some extent in both instances but particularly on irrigated farms, producers are faced with deciding whether it will be more profitable to plant for a late cotton crop or revert to the generally less profitable, but faster maturing, soybeans.

The current farm program provides that farmers unable to get and keep a stand of cotton early enough to allow reasonable expectations of harvesting a crop can plant cotton acreage to non - allotment crops, including soybeans, and still get both price support and acreage diversion payments as if cotton had been planted.

Determining which of the two crops will be most profitable requires taking into consideration a number of factors and relating each of these to specific area and individual farm conditions.

The date after which producers will be permitted to abandon cotton is set by county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service committees and varies from one location to another. But in every case it is necessary to secure prior ASCS approval before planting soybeans if cotton payments are not to be lost.

Some cotton leaders have expressed concern that too many producers will base decisions on conditions which prevailed in 1966 rather than on "normal" condition.

They point out that the heavy rains and cool weather in August and September which was a boon to soybeans and a setback for cotton in 1966 is far from normal. The same is true for the mid-October freeze so disastrous to last year's cotton crop.

Soybeans, given a normal hot, dry summer will require at least two and possibly three waterings. On the other hand June cotton, from both a yield and quality standpoint, would need only one irrigation at most.

Of soybean prices this year, the Kiplinger Agricultural Letter says "...as for the 1967 crop, prices may rest right on the support rate of $2.50 ...if farmers produce the official goal of 1 billion bushels."

Austin, Tex. -- Six proposed changes in the Texas Constitution were approved by the 60th Legislature for submission to the voters this fall -- November 11.

These proposals are as follows:

SJR 6 authorizing counties to pay medical, doctor and hospital bills of county law enforcement officers injured in line of duty.

HJR 12 providing for a $74,000,000 parks development fund bond issue.

HJR 17 reviving the Veterans' Land Program and authorizing a total of $ 400,000,000 in bonds.

HJR 3 allowing counties to put tax money in one general fund.

HJR 27 permitting state officers and employees to hold other nonexclusive positions under the state or U.S. governments where there is no conflict of interest and where the state might actually benefit.

HJR 37 allowing cities and other units within hospital districts to levy taxes for participation in mental health and mental retardation community center.

Fourteen additional amendments were approved by the Legislature for voters' consideration on November 5, 1968. These include the following:

SJR 14 giving the legislature power to authorize cities and counties to issue revenue bonds to build industrial plants for operation by private concerns.

SJR 3 revising provisions for investment of the state employees retirement system and changing provisions for its administration.

SJR 4 providing for contributions to teacher retirement system on the basis of full salary of members (contributions now are limited to $504 a year).

SJR 24 permitting the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxes equipment used in air or water pollution control.

SJR 32 abolishing the state property tax by 1976.

SJR 37 allowing Dallas County to issue road bonds on vote of a majority of property taxpayers.

SJR 41 raising state welfare spending ceiling from $60,000,000 to $75,000,000 a year.

HJR 16 providing for ad valorem tax exemption for property in temporary custody at a warehouse.

HJR 20 altering investment procedures for University of Texas permanent fund.

HJR 22 specifying that legislators will not be ineligible for other offices because their terms extend a few days into January.

HJR 49 eliminating the requirement that the governor, secretary of state and comptroller approve contracts for printing and paper.

HJR 50 authorizing the legislature to provide for refund of tax on cigars and tobacco products sold at retail in Texas.

HJR 60 permitting consolidation of offices and governmental functions in El Paso and Tarrant counties.

HJR 61 raising legislators' salaries from $4,800 to $8,400 a year and extending per diem expense allowance from 120 to 140 days of the regular session.

SPECIAL SESSION? --- Legislators knew their job was little more than half finished when they adjourned at midnight May 29.

Governor John Connally cheerfully reminded them that he would "see them in the fall or next year", meaning that that is when the 1969 budget and a balancing tax bill must be written.

Later, Connally told reporters that it is highly unlikely he will call the special finance session before next year. He hinted that next year's tax bill may be less than the predicted $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 and he does not intend to recommend an increase in the general sales tax rate.

COURTS SPEAK --

State Supreme Court reversed a 43-year-old rule requiring a property owner to warn employees of a sub-contractor of hidden dangers on the property. Case involved a Nueces County welder injured in an accident. Court said injured worker's own employer and foreman should have warned him of threats to his safety.

In another case, the Supreme Court upheld a decision of the Dallas Court of Civil Appeals that questions of usury and unreasonable collection methods should be considered together. Case dealt with a $42-a-week yardman's suit against Pacific Finance Company.

Ward County District Court judgment that salinity content of water furnished by a water district caused $16,344 worth of damage to a milo maize crop also was sustained by the higher court.

FUNDS FOR AGING PROGRAM APPROVED --

A $140,774 program to develop community programs of direct service to the aged in Lubbock, Big Spring, Fort Worth, Mercedes and San Antonio have been approved by the Governor's Committee on Aging.

AIRPORT FUNDS AVAILABLE -- Legislature appropriated $475,000 for building and improving small town airports. Big Bend National Park will get $150,000 plus federal aid for new airport; Lake Whitney State Park, $40,000, and $25,000 will go to aviation research at a higher education institution.

Texas Aeronautics Commission Director Charles Murphy estimates that 40 per cent of these applicants for state aid will share in available funds.

Abernathy, Aransas Pass, Atlanta, Bay City, Brady, Brownwood, Bryan, Canton, Center, Cleveland, College Station, Daingerfield, Dimmitt, Ennis, Fairfield - Teague, Follett, Georgetown, Giddings, Gilmer, Granbury, Graham, Gregg County, Hamilton, Harlingen, Hempstead, Hillsboro, Honey Grove, Karnes County, Kerrville, Knox City, La Porte, Levelland, Littlefield, Livingston Liano and Lockhart.

INTERIM COMMITTEES --

A record-breaking list of interim committees, some 70 in all, have been appointed to serve until the next special or regular session of the Legislature begins.

Committees will deal with about everything the Legislature considered during its recent session. In fact, there are more interim committees than there were standing committees during the 60th session. Total then was 44 in the House and 24 in the Senate. Among the special committees are those dealing with state and local tax policy, law enforcement and crime prevention, state Constitution, general investigating, slum problems and clearance, causes of poverty, renovation and maintenance of Governor's mansion, parking problem around state capitol, state college faculty pay and benefits and essential state government expenses.

Others relate to the importation and grading of eggs, prices of fruits and vegetables, industrial entertainment promotion, safety regulations for school buses and home improvements contracting.

Also, selection of a state poet laureate, and return of the Alamo flag from Mexico.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said a county officer of Harris County who is authorized to sell abandoned and unclaimed property may hire a person to conduct an auction in his behalf.

Former Atty. Gen. Will Wilson is head of a new Republican task force on crime and law enforcement.

Texas Department of Health warns that three cases of paralytic poliomyelitis have been reported in Texas to date this year pointing up the need for immunization for infants and preschool children.

West Texas Press Award Winner Announced

An 18-year-old Fort Stockton girl has been named winner of the 1967 West Texas Press Association $800, college scholarship.

The winner is Margaret Laurence, a recent graduate of Fort Stockton High School, announced Bill Turner, publisher at Littlefield, chairman of the WTPA scholarship committee. First alternate in the contest voting was an 18-year-old Snyder girl, Patsy Rainwater.

Miss Laurence, daughter of a service station operator in Fort Stockton, plans to attend Sul Ross College, Alpine, for two years, then transfer to Texas Tech to complete her training in journalism.

West Texas Press Association, which started the newspaper scholarship in 1956, had four students in college this year. One was graduated this spring.

Miss Laurence will receive $200, per year ($100 per semester) for each of the four years of college providing satisfactory academic requirements are met.

She has been active in journalism at Fort Stockton, serving as editor-in-chief of her high school paper The Tumbleweed, this past year.

The Fort Stockton school paper was chosen state champion for Class AAA this year by the Texas High School Press Association.

Her column, "Running Around," received the state "Cream of the Crop" award. She also was presented an award as Fort Stockton's "journalist of the year," during Angelo State College's Journalism Day.

Farm Bureau Records Session As Successful

WACO -- Texas Farm Bureau recorded another successful session in the 60th Legislature, according to C.H. DeVaney, president of the state's largest general farm organization.

"We were able to carry out Farm Bureau policies on 35 different legislative issues," DeVaney said. "This included helping secure passage of 18 bills in line with Farm Bureau policies and helping defeat 17 more that were contrary to farmers' interests," he added. Some of the major bills in which TFB was instrumental in helping pass included one establishing a Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory, another implementing the law on assessing farm land at its agricultural productive value, and other bills pertaining to shipment of such commodities as citrus, eggs, milk, and livestock from other states into Texas.

The TFB was the only general farm organization working to defeat the proposed minimum wage of $1.25 an hour which would have had a detrimental effect on farmers had it passed, DeVaney said.

The TFB failed to secure passage of bills providing for keeping standard time, setting up an agricultural development board and providing for mineral rights to revert to landowner after 20 years of no production.
