

Pilot...Man of Steel and Velvet

Sometimes, when one means to accomplish something important to someone... there is another trick left in that old proverbial bag of tricks! In case you've lost some of your fervent belief in this statement, it could be wise to watch the Howard Splawn family for the next few days to see just what they are in the process of doing. Could be your faith would be restored.

Up on the top floor of the Bailey County Courthouse... on the desk of Sheriff Dee Clements is a tape on a recorder belonging to his Deputy, Irene Splawn.

The Splawns are parents of First Lt. Arthur Charles Splawn, a native of Muleshoe, who is with U.S. Combat Air Forces in Cam Ranh Bay, Vietnam.

It seems that sometime ago, Lt. Splawn bought a tape recorder for his family, gave it to them and asked they tape family happenings and words of encouragement and send them to the lonely base in east Asia as a moral builder and that personal contact with those he loves...his family.

The Splawns are no different than any other American family. They work, Splawn at Western 66, Mrs. Splawn at the Sheriff's office and prior to her forthcoming marriage, this Saturday, Pam, the young sister, of the Lieutenants spent long hours operating the Just-O-

Writer at Muleshoe Publishing Company and brother Kenneth is busy preparing for a teaching-coaching position at Olton... plus the fact that two marriages have been 'in the mill which takes considerable time in planning.' Kenneth is to marry December 22.

All-in-all, as most all Mon's do, Mrs. Splawn had the usual letters in the mail with regularity to their successful fighter pilot.

But, no voices sounded from the pages of the letters and that is important to Lt. Splawn between dangerous missions over North Vietnam.

So, this week the family received a tape to play on the recorder from their loved one, made one lonesome, dark night at the jungle base just after a gruelling mission...the next day was his day off!

The recording, which this Journal reporter had the privilege of hearing, started with sort of a comical 'Slapstick' type of thing which only a son would administer in kindness to parents...explaining the operation of a thing as simple as a tape recorder (as if they didn't know) ... the gentle hint sort of pitch for the much desired recording from his family.

Lt. Splawn told something of entertainment for servicemen with time off. It consisted mostly of touch football, swimming and sunning on the beach and a lounge which was fairly comfortable, but sparsely furnished, even after much hard work to accomplish that much. Sometimes, he said, food could be arranged for, for cook-outs on the beach.

Abraham Lincoln, oft referred to as a man of steel and velvet is still prevalent in our men of America today. Men strong enough to endure the danger, heartache and loneliness of war, yet maintaining the velvet touch of love for those for whom they fight.

Undertones of the recording revealed the loneliness of this man with a tremendous responsibility, and one he must have faithfully fulfilled as only recently he received an Air Medal at Cam Ranh Bay for his outstanding airmanship and courage on successful and important missions under hazardous conditions. He is a member of the Pacific Air Forces which provides air power to maintain the U.S. defense posture in the Pacific and conducts a i r operations in Southeast Asia.

In a reminiscent fashion, Lt. Splawn recalled his grandfather, Arthur Askew, leaving his shiny red car parked at the family home when he was only a youngster and how, when the family was all off visiting relatives, it required two pillows to make him high enough to reach the steering wheel for those 'sneak' solo flights as a land lubber... a proud one, testing his skill at maneuvering Grandfather's car. He added his doubts that he ever fooled the 'sage' of the family with his antics.

His only sister's wedding came into the picture, wishing her and her future husband luck and the same to Kenneth and his future bride, Sandra Dalton, Levelland.

He told of the expected arrival of another jet fighter pilot due sometime in February and of a pending leave to visit with his wife Cristy near Christmas time in Hawaii, and of the time he looks forward to when the youngest arrives. "WAR IS HELL!" was his strongest statement concerning his life in that strange, foreign land. Lt. Splawn touched briefly on some of his experiences, one in which he lost a buddy.

The jet was shot down, the pilots were in contact with helicopters and the last message before their parachutes touched down was "Don't land.. we are being captured."

Well, from the overtone, following the undertones of the recording, Lt. Splawn will not be able to attend his sister's wedding, but the Splawn family has included, among many other plans, a tape to send to this loyal member of their family, another young service man hailed as a loyal American... a man of steel and velvet.

A request for an increase of 11.5 percent increase in Pioneer Natural Gas General Service Rate was rejected by the city council in a meeting held Monday afternoon.

The rejection came about around muleshoe with the journal staff

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ellington, Carla and Eddie have returned after a two weeks' vacation to Eugene, Oregon and other points of interest along the route.

In Eugene, they were guests of her brother and family, the J.C. Alexanders. Part of the vacation time was spent fishing and camping and relaxing on the beach. The Ellingtons began counting license plates just past Clovis and recorded at least one from 41 different states.

A total of $22,897.02 has been set aside for lateral road funds by the state for Bailey County, County Judge Don Cihak said.

Bailey County Sheriff's office have arrested two for drunk so far this week. Highway Patrol arrested one for DWI and City Police have arrested a Spanish for illegal entry; one drunk and two for drunk and disturbance.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Stewart and son, Houston, are visiting here in the home of his brother and family, the Charles Stewarts.

after City Councilman Rudolph Wiedebush made a motion to reject the proposed rate and a unanimous rejection vote of the councilmen followed. Councilman Irvin St. Clair said he would like to have detailed facts on the gas rate increase pertaining to Muleshoe presented to the council.

Present for the council meeting were: Mayor W.B. LeVeque, councilmen Irvin St. Clair, Rudolph Wiedebush, Matt Dudley, City Manager Albert Field, Norman Bays, City Attorney and Ralph Douglas, city engineer.

Field gave a report on delinquent paving accounts. All delinquent accounts have been contacted and a number of the accounts paid and other partially paid.

The soot problem stemming from the National Alfalfa Dehydrating plant was discussed and a letter from the plant vice president, George Polony was read. The letter stated they had gone to considerable expense to stop the soot problem and he stated that he would stop by and discuss the situation on his next visit to Muleshoe.

It was brought out by the Grand Jury Indicts 15

Worthless checks headed the list of 'true bills' returned by the Grand Jury which met here Monday, August 14 with District Judge Pat Boone presiding.

From the list of 15, five were indicted for worthless check, four for theft; one for child desertion; two for burglary. One for DWT, second offense; one for removal of mortgaged property and another for forgery.

Jurors were: Jake Diel, Archie Sowder, Edward Crume, Ernest Ramm, E.T. Ford, Clifford Mardis, Buck Ragsdale, Troy Atkinson, Jerry Damron, T.H. Clem, Ernest McNatt and Lewia Embry.

The council decided to wait until Morgan Locker returned from Florida before attempting to work out a new airport contract. Renewal date of Locker's airport contract lease is January 31, 1968. The lease contains a renewal option for 10 years.

Haberer Wins Invitational

Russell Haberer's two-foot birdie par on the second extra hole clinched the crown for him, concluding the three-day ninth annual Men's Invitational Golf Tournament here Sunday.

Haberer's putt came just after Lubbock's Housty Brewer narrowly missed a 10-foot birdie putt.

Haberer and young Ricky Botkin carried a one stroke lead over Brewer into Sunday's final round, which Brewer and Haberer finished at a 211 dead-lock.

Jim Wilcoxson, Lubbock, fired a 72 Sunday to take top honors in the championship consolation round.

David Tucker, Slaton, won the first flight with a total of 217. Sam Fox took third flight with 242 and the fourth flight winner was Jerry Gleason with a 265.

In resume of the tournament which began Friday, Muleshoe golfers displaced defending champion Housty Brewer as leader of the tourney as the Play went into final rounds Friday.

Haberer and Botkin fired 70s in Saturday's second round to tie for the lead with 130 totals. Brewer, who had fired a 68 Friday, carded a 72 Saturday and was a stroke behind the leaders. Steve White, Morton, was fourth with 141. White had a total Saturday of 70.

The council decided to wait until Morgan Locker returned from Florida before attempting to work out a new airport contract. Renewal date of Locker's airport contract lease is January 31, 1968. The lease contains a renewal option for 10 years.

Ralph Douglas informed the council that the group who had submitted the land west of town to the city for a park were considering accepting a one-year lease on the acreage under consideration by the city. The leasee intends to use the land for raising corn, it was explained. The group had been contacted for a second lease for a 10 year term with the leasee planning to raise alfalfa.

Mayor LeVeque expressed his opinion that a one-year lease seemed alright on as-much-as the county would probably need that much time to determine the amount of land they would need to acquire and to make financial arrangements. However, should the group consider a 10 year lease on the tract of land, the city would like some time to consider the park aspect.

St. Clair explained that the city would have to decide how much land would be needed for a park and the Comprehensive Plan now being prepared for the city should assist in making that decision.

Fields pointed out that applications for park money could be made the Department of Housing and Urban Development and to the State Park and Wildlife. Douglas recalled that the City Planning Commission had previously recommended a 125 acre acquisition for a park which would include space for community athletic activities and municipal facilities.

Wiedebush recommended the proper governmental agencies be contacted in order to determine what funds would be available to assist in the acquisition and development of a park. He also suggested a park bond issue be put before the people for a vote.

A suggestion was made by councilman St. Clair that the City Council meet more often than once a week in order to make some decisions pending concerning problems of the city.

A general discussion followed with respect to size, taxes and parks in other cities. Mayor LeVeque, in summation, stated that the city was definitely interested in the submitted land for use as a park.

Her alleged assailant, James "Johnny" Peterson, 29, 1704-1/2 Sheldon, is being held there in city jail in lieu of $5,000 bond, charged with aggravated battery in the shooting.

The woman was reportedly shot in the stomach with a 12 gauge shotgun. She was discovered by a passing motorist who say her staggering from an apartment at 1207 W. Eighth and took her to the hospital. Dist. Attorney Morris Stagner said the woman had periods of consciousness, but had not been able to say much to investigating officers. He added that she was obviously shot inside the apartment, but details of the incident have not been cleared up.

Larsen is of Larsen and Associates preparing the comprehensive plan. Among items explained were city parks, ordinances and housing blight areas. Mayor W.B. LeVeque, pictured with Larsen, members of the City council and approximately forty civic-minded citizens attended.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN -- State and hospital officials are confident the far-reaching new medicare program will begin functioning as scheduled on September 1.

Program will bring medical and hospital benefits to 350,000 needy Texans. It is authorized by the same federal law which provides medicare to old folks.

Texas Department of Public Welfare, which will administer medicare, estimates benefits during the first year of operation will total $125,000,000. Federal funds will match a $26,700,000 state outlay on a four-to-one basis.

Points to remember:

Eligible for benefits are Texans on public welfare assistance rolls -- old age assistance, aid to blind, families with dependent children and the totally and permanently disabled, or those eligible for such assistance who are patients at state mental and tuberculosis hospitals. (Coverage is automatic for the latter, with no application as such required.)

Services include in-patient and out-patient hospital care, diagnostic work such as laboratory fees and x-ray costs, doctor bills and nursing home charges.

Bills will be paid through a "fiscal intermediary". Welfare Department will contract with Blue Cross-Blue Shield to handle doctors' bills (on strict basis of prevailing charges). Hospitals will be paid actual costs as shown by audit. Blue Cross-Blue Shield will be reimbursed by the state and will receive an additional service fee.

Eligible welfare enrollees will receive identification cards from the Department of Public Welfare. Cards can be presented to insure care as limited by details of the federal act (Title 19).

APPOINTMENTS -- Major legislative committee and state agency appointments have been announced.

L. Gov. Preston Smith named the Senate General Investigating Committee with Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo as chairman. Other members are Sens. David Ratliff of Stamford, V.E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio, Bruce A. Reagan of Corpus Christi and J.P. Word of Meridian. Smith also placed Sens. Charles Herring of Austin and Henry C. Grover of Houston on Committee on Preservation of the Governor's Mansion.

Brucellosis Vaccination Changes Made

COLLEGE STATION -- The minimum age for calf vaccination against brucellosis has been lowered from four months to three months, according to a United States Department of Agriculture announcement.

Research has indicated that acceptable resistance is induced with the strain 19 vaccine on three month old calves. This early age vaccination also reduces the possibility of calves producing reactors that can confuse the brucellosis test.

The early age vaccination is also expected to help the cattle producer because it will often fit better with his regular management practices.

The amended regulation defines "an official vaccinee as a female bovine animal vaccinated against brucellosis at the age of three through eight months." If the heifer calf is a beef breed on a range or semi-range area, she may be vaccinated from three to eleven months.

The vaccination of heifer calves past the age of eight months is discouraged by the USDA because of the possibility of persistent reactors.

"Producers in Texas counties yet to enter the brucellosis eradication program should continue on this vaccination program," Dr. C. M. Patterson, Texas Agricultural Extension Service veterinarian advises. "Eliminating as much infection as possible will speed up certification when the county enters the eradication program."

The Case of the Coyote-napper

Denver City has a genuine coyote-napper. Seems a strange thing to have, but, according to a story which appeared in the Denver City Sunday Press they have a real live one. The story is as follows:

A Denver City man, about 25, was fined $16.50 in City Judge Ben Gentry's court Thursday night in a charge of "Coyote-napping."

City Pound Warden Henry Berry alleged in the municipal court that the man had taken the coyote from the city dog pound, northwest of Denver City.

The defendant admitted taking the animal -- a pet -- because he thought that the wolf-like creature was in stir on a death penalty rap and he didn't want to see such a fine animal go to the gallows.

Warden Berry and Judge Gentry sympathized with the defendant's love for animals, but they were adamant in contending that the law is the law and that it's against the law to help canine inmates "break jail" at the dog pound.

NOW, IF A FELLOW wants to "bail out" one of the inmates by paying its fine, then that's a different matter. But crawling over the pound fence to release an animal goes against the grain of city ordinances.

Making matters worse in the coyote-napping affair was the fact that the coyote, a handsome 4 1/2-month-old dog pup, is a pet of the poundmaster and is a trusty in the canine big house. The dog coyote has a name -- Otis -- and he comes when called and he stands up to eat morsels of meat goodies offered by Warden Berry.

"Otis is just a pet," said Warden Berry.

OTIS IS SUCH a pet and such a well-mannered and smart animal that Chief of Police Arthur Mason wanted to bail Otis out of the pokey and take him home. But Mrs. Mason put her foot down firmly.

Last Rites Held For Myrtle LeBleu

Mrs. Myrtle LeBleu, 73, a resident of Muleshoe since 1948 died Monday in Clovis Memorial Hospital.

A native of Holt, San Saba County, Texas, she moved here from Comanche, Okla. She was a member of the Richland Hills Baptist Church.

Services were held at Richland Hills Baptist Church at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, August 16. Rev. Leland Callaway was assisted by Reverend Bill Felts, Officiating. Burial was in Bailey County Memorial Park, under direction of Singleton Funeral Home.

Survivors include her husband, V. V.; two sons, Leon, Longmont, Colo., and Jack, Aztec, N.M.; two daughters, Mrs. Ogle Lorance and Mrs. Lonnie Merriott, both of Muleshoe; three sisters, Mrs. Mat Edwards, and Mrs. Bert Edwards, both of Merced, California and Mrs. Alma Lynch, Norman, Okla.; six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

No coyotes in her yard, she said.

"The coyote isn't mean at all," said Warden Berry. "The animal sometimes will growl ferociously when someone offers friendship but Otis hasn't bitten anyone."

Otis has a history.

A member of a Denver City family got Otis down at Andrews before the pup had its eyes open. Someone had dug little coyotes from a den and the Denver Citian was given the pup.

THE DENVER CITIAN brought the pup home and raised it on a bottle and trained it as a pet. But, as the pup grew larger, there developed a fear in its owner that it suddenly might heed the call of the wild and bite someone here in town. The owner called Warden Berry.

Berry is a fellow who can recognize the qualities of an animal, and he took an immediate liking to the coyote pup. He got the pup about 10 days ago and put it in the dog pound where the coyote played with other dogs just as any normal regular dog puppy.

BUT LAST TUESDAY night, Otis was coyote-napped, Warden Berry began searching for clues. Sleuthing, he found a tip which led to discovery of the animal at the home of the suspected coyote-napper.

Now, Otis is back in the clink, saying hello to his old cellmates and, no doubt, bragging about his short-lived jail-break freedom.

Price Avows Agriculture Benefit Not Substantiated

"No victory for the American farmer" is what the House Republican Task Force on Agriculture has labeled the Geneva Kennedy Round Trade Agreements.

"Despite the Administration's rosy predictions that agriculture would benefit, I have seen no evidence to substantiate them," said Congressman Bob Price, a member of the committee. "In fact, the reluctance of the Office of the Special Representative for Trade Negotiations to release the facts relative to the concessions made by other Nations is a clear indication that the American farmer can expect nothing from the new agreements."

Price also noted that the U.S. agreed to cut tariffs on cotton. "These tariffs were cut on imported items worth over $300 million in 1965," Price said. "Cotton clothing alone amounted to almost $200 million, and the volume will surely increase under the lower tariff schedules.... frightening news for cotton producers as well as the American textile industry."

The Task Force questioned the wisdom of using tariffs as the sole basis for negotiation. "Our regulation of imports rests almost wholly on the tariff which we have now reduced. But this isn't true for other countries, where the tariff is only a small part of their arsenal of protective devices. The Geneva negotiations didn't touch the batch of variable import levies at all, which means such levies can still be used to offset any tariff reductions. Even the Secretary of Agriculture now has to admit that the Geneva agreements met with no success at all on lowering trade barriers on the hard-core agricultural products such as wheat, feed grains, rice, meats, dairy products, poultry and eggs. Even with the glowing promises that the new wheat agreement would help our growers, the fact remains that wheat is still about 30 cents a bushel below last year's price, and is still dropping."

Congressman Price said the office of the Special Representative for Trade Negotiation supplied him with a list of concessions made with foreign nations that would be of interest to the Congressman's home State of Texas. "It was a list of inconsequential items such as tallow and 'edible offals'... with no mention of commodities that really constitute agricultural production in our State. And in case anyone wonders what an 'offal' is, my dictionary gives it two definitions: (1) trimmings of a butchered animal and (2) rubbish. That last word is an apt description of the nonsense that has been circulating about benefits from the Geneva agreements for American agriculture. The fact of the matter is that the U.S. farmer gained nothing."

Huff was found shot to death Sunday near his pickup on his farm three miles east of Earth. Justice of the Peace L.A. Glascock ruled death from accidental gunshot wound from a .22 caliber rifle.

He had been a resident of the Earth-Springlake area for 27 years prior to moving to Muleshoe three years ago.

Survivors include his wife Winnie; one son Don, Muleshoe; one brother, Loyd, Midland; two sisters, Mrs. L.A. Warden, Andrews and Mrs. A.E. Wheatley, Earth.

Forage Testing Suggested For Profits

COLLEGE STATION -- A forage test is a valuable tool in developing economical livestock feeding programs. And Dr. J. Neal Pratt, Extension agronomist at Texas A & M University, says forage testing not only lets a livestock producer know the quality of the forage he is feeding but also can serve as an aid in evaluating forage production practices and methods of fertilization. Pratt said that forage samples received at Texas A & M's Agricultural Analytical Laboratory last year showed a tremendous variation in the quality of samples tested. Several grass samples contained 17 percent, he said. Without a forage test, the livestock producer is simply guessing as to the quality of his forage. The result -- many producers feed too much or too little supplemental feed -- a costly mistake either way. Pratt lists the major factors influencing forage quality as the amount of plant food the crop received and the stage of maturity when it was harvested for hay. The agronomist says that local county agricultural agents can supply information on how to take forage samples and where to send them for analysis.

Higgins, Mabry Wedding Held in Durango

Mrs. Johnny D. Mabry (the former Carole Higgins)

Miss Carole Jean Higgins and Johnny D. Mabry were united in marriage Saturday, July 22, 8 p.m., at the Fort Lewis College Chapel, Church of Christ, in Durango, Colo. The Reverend Hunt Zumwalt performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oris D. Higgins, Walsh, Colo. and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Mabry of Lazbuddie.

The bride given by her father, wore a long white empire gown of satin with long sleeves and a train flowing from the shoulders with tiny covered buttons down to the waist. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations.

Linda Ruth Higgins, sister of the bride, Walsh, served as maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of yellow eyelet embroidery emphasized by a square neckline and bell shaped sleeves and carried one long-stemmed yellow rose.

Mrs. Markema Harris, Ridgeway, Colo. and Miss Linda Wellman of Walsh, bridesmaids, wore identical dresses to the maid of honor and carried the long-stemmed yellow rose.

Jimmy Mabry, brother of the groom, Friona, served as best man to the groom. The groomsmen were Mal Carthel of Lazbuddie, brother-in-law of the groom; and Steve Furlow of Durango, Ushers were Kirk Kimble, Cortez, Colo. and Darrelle Ehmann of Golden, Colo.

One basket of gladiolus and two candelabra completed the setting for the ceremony. Terri Sue Carthel of Lazbuddie, sister of the groom, served as candle-lighter and Margaret Gleason, sister of the groom, Muleshoe, presided at the guest book. Mrs. David Campbell of Ignacio, Colo. provided traditional wedding music.

The mother of the bride wore a turquoise two piece lace dress and her corsage was of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige two piece dress with matching accessories. Her flowers were white carnations.

Reception followed in the class room building of the Church of Christ. Assisting in the reception were Mrs. Mary Loomis, Stinnett, Tex., aunt of the bride; Mrs. Betty Mabry, sister-in-law of the groom, Friona; and Meredith Drew, now attending Fort Worth College in Durango.

The bride wore a sleeveless yellow crepe dress for going away, accented with a corsage of yellow roses. Following the wedding trip to Farmington, N.M., the couple will reside at 1022 1/2 Main Avenue, Durango.

Carol Jean Mabry has attended Lubbock Christian College, and is attending Fort Worth College in Durango. Mabry has attended L.C.C. also, and will be attending Texas Tech in the fall.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

It is well to bear in mind that dangerous germs are always present in the normal skin, especially in the fold around the hair follicles and in the oil glands about the nose and back. As a rule they cause no harm, but are capable of causing serious infections if a person's skin becomes broken or abraded, or the vitality is lowered for any reason.

When the skin is kept in a healthy condition, face powder is a great aid to beauty. It helps to conceal minor defects, such as discolorations, and so forth.

The powder does not clog the pores and cause blackheads if removed at night by cream or by washing the face. In fact, it really acts as a protection or covering against biting winds and direct rays of the sun. The foundation lotion or cream prevents the powder from coming off and gives the skin a softer and more velvety sheen.

During the day if you wish to freshen your appearance, lie down for a short period, if you have time, close the eyes and relax every muscle in your body. Fall asleep if you can. On awakening, take a short, hot bath, finishing with a dash of cold water. Rub with a crash towel until the whole body is glowing from the friction. Put some fresh lotion on your face and remove the excess with a soft towel.

Breathe in all the air that your lungs will hold. Attempt to expel it with resistance. The cheeks will puff out, the lungs and throat become tense, and the blood will race through the body, causing the cheeks to flush with the glow of health.

When you are slowly letting out the breath while resisting, tap the face, neck, and throat with the fingers, playing a sharp rat-a-tap, tap on the tensed muscles. Now, put on your powder and other make-up that you choose. You will not only feel alive and rested, you will look as fresh as when you started out in the morning after a refreshing night's sleep and a good breakfast.

Cotton Knits Go To School

Little girls, decked out in brightly colored, creatively patterned cotton knits, head back to school for fall '67, reports the National Cotton Council.

Cotton knit fabrics explode in an avalanche of hot, spicy colors like orange, shocking pink and red, or cool in shades of moss and forest green. New interest is generated in the military hues...navy, olive and khaki...which look snappy combined with clear reds, oranges and golds.

Color is only part of the children's knit story... texture and pattern are it's counterparts. Clever rib, twill and crochet designs, along with plaids, stripes, dots and geometrics, give these small-fry knits contemporary dimensions.

Children's wear designers make the most of the cotton knits, using them for A-lined, flared and tented dresses, as well as sportier pantdresses and jumpers.

Lots of decorative touches like belts... placed high, low or right on target... buttons and industrial zippers are added, enhancing the great look of the new cotton "kid-knits."

Variety Creates Interest, Beauty for Local Home

Mrs. Bill Hamblin took time from her peach canning duties to show us through her home and flower garden.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hamblin, 1822 West Birch, who have made their home in the Muleshoe area since around 1925, create interest and variety by the many different kinds of plants raised in and around their home.

Oleta and Bill combine their efforts in creating a panorama of beauty in color. Each year Bill prepares the beds for the flowers and adds any special fertilizer they might need. Copper and bone meal were mentioned; the former is an iron supplement and the bone meal is a slow reacting fertilizer. When asked how the garden and grass are kept so free of weeds, Mrs. Hamblin said, "Bill is the weed killer."

Mrs. Hamblin, the former Oleta Evan, adds to her collections each year by starting new plants with starts and seeds, sent to her by friends and relatives. Her elderberry bush was a gift from her daughter, who like her mother, couldn't resist stopping beside the road, during a vacation trip, for some of the bush. She nurses the new plants in their hot house, before transferring them to the yard.

Bill and Oleta have plants both in their yard and house and the many varieties include dahlias of assorted sizes and colors such as: Park Princess, Morocco, Wanda Mead, Craydon Ace and Pat and Dee.

The flower garden is also draped in lilyacs, Iris, crysanthemum, pinks, elderberry and peach and apricot trees. The canas, glads, verbenias, petunias, and cocks comb which have measured six to eight inches, add their touch to the variety and color of the garden.

Hamblin works part-time at Higginbotham-Bartlett's and is self-employed as a gardener for many residents in Muleshoe.

The Hamblins look forward to the blooming of the crysanthemum in the fall.

Along with the many flowers grown by the couple, are all kinds of fruits and vegetables used by them in canning each year.

Legislature Reviewed By Senator Hightower

Senator Jack Hightower was guest speaker for the Rotary Club at noon Tuesday.

A number of aspects of the last session of Legislature were discussed under a number of topics.

The field of education, pay raises and the increased cost of education was one of the legislative bills included in his informative talk as well as the new emphasis placed on the Junior Colleges.

The water and air pollution bill was reviewed by Senator Hightower. In his talk, he said that the Air Pollution Board could now use their authority to shutdown or compel the operator of a pollution producing plant to curtail such pollution by mechanical devices.

The bill passed to require paramutal wagering on primary ballots was opposed by Senator Hightower. He stated that he did not feel that such wagering was good for society or income for state.

Senator Hightower said although he was opposed to the proposal of liquor-by-the-drink he was in favor of the revision to the bill. He stated that he thought the Private Clubs in operation was hypocritical and as we had such, he felt that it did not differ greatly from the open saloon.

The Texas Ranger status is one that Senator Hightower is strongly in favor of keeping and improving as well as improving the condition under which all law enforcement officers work under.

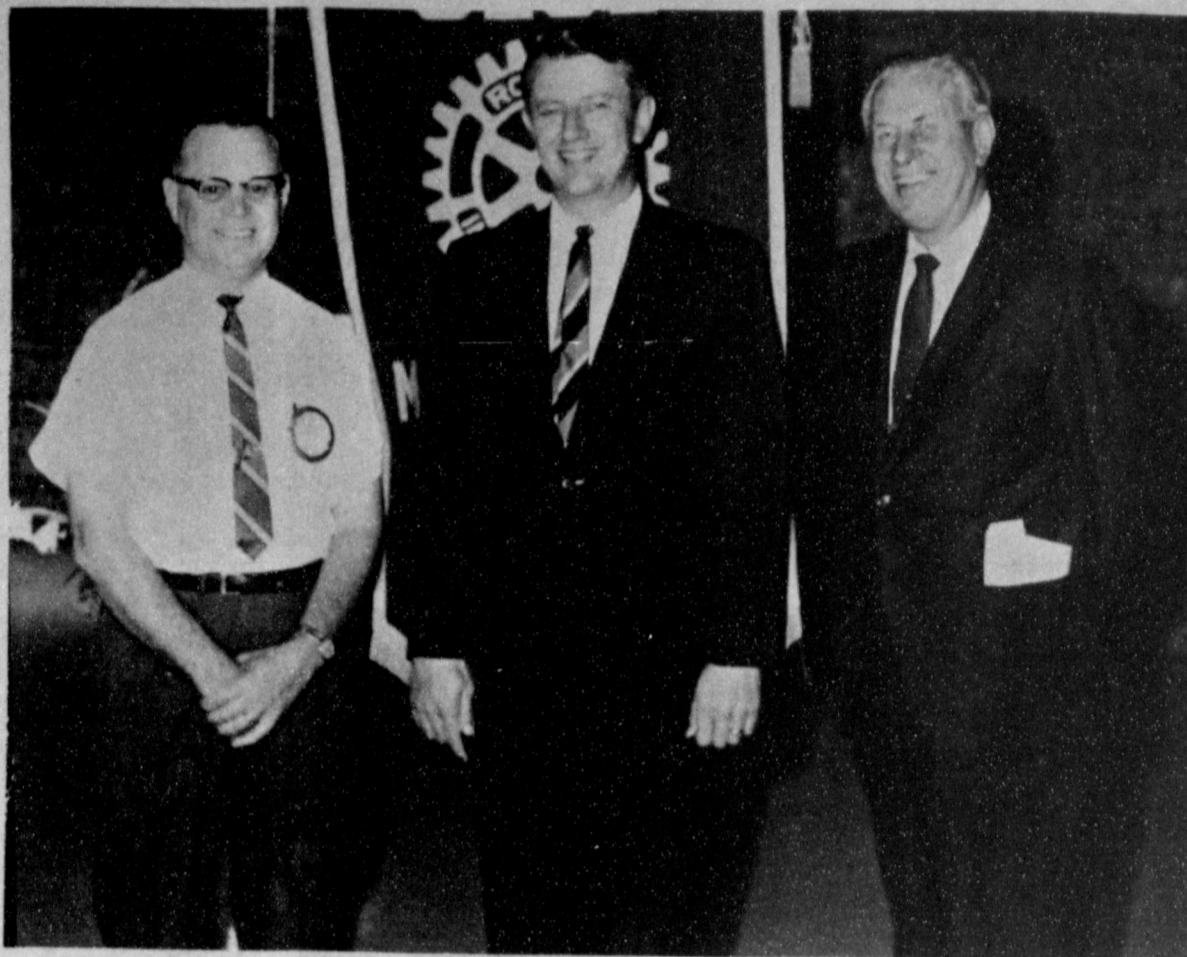

"Some of our northern cities are examples of the breakdown in law enforcement. It should be strengthened instead of broken down," he concluded.

way 84 was discussed with Matt Dudley proposing that at least, a 6 inch water line should be constructed. This motion was made and passed.

Last month, Field, Dudley and St. Clair met with Bailey County Commissioners to discuss revaluation of real and personal property.

The city received a letter from Judge Don Cihak pertaining to proportioning a revaluation cost between the city, county and school district. Field said in the event a revaluation was to be planned, this would be the most economical way for parties involved to accomplish this.

The various methods by which the cost of the county revaluation might be prorated were considered. Wiedebush expressed belief that there were some vacant lots in the city which needed revaluation.

City manager Field was instructed by the council to contact Judge Cihak for additional details.

A two hour parking zone on the north side of Avenue B, between Main Street and Highway 214 was considered upon the request of John Smith.

St. Clair said he did not feel there was a downtown parking problem. However, Wiedebush disagreed, stating in his opinion a parking problem did exist. The Journal was requested by the council to ask employees of downtown businesses to refrain from parking on Main Street and side streets leading into Main Street. St. Clair said all employees were welcome to use his vacant lot located across the street from First National Bank for parking.

LUBBOCK — The "grow-more-cotton campaigners," an almost extinct species which reappeared on the cotton scene in late 1966 with the first short crop under a new government cotton program, got more fuel for campaign campfires with the recent issuance of USDA's first crop report for 1967.

The report, received August 8 in the offices of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., set U.S. upland cotton production for this season at 8,250,000 bales, about half a million below the 8.7 million of the previous year. Sources had been estimating and about 3 million below what officials had hoped for.

Original planting intentions of U.S. cotton farmers came to a little over 10 million acres. But bad weather, both during and immediately after planting time, has reduced "standing" acres of upland cotton to 8,477,500, USDA reveals.

Harvested acres last year came to 9,476,000, from which 9.5 million bales were gathered. Production in Texas for 1967 was estimated at 2,775,000 bales from standing acres of 3,700,000. This compares with Texas production of 3,182,000 in 1966, when 3,968,000 acres were harvested.

In the 23 counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers Inc., the guess is that 1,173,500 bales will be produced. The High Plains has about 1,250,000 standing acres out of 1,430,384 acres which farmers had signed up to plant. Plains production in 1966 was 1,278,000 bales.

National, State and area production have been drastically cut in both 1966 and 1967 by the cotton section of the Agriculture Act of 1965, which required farmers to divert 12.5 percent of allotments and offered strong payment incentives for diversion up to 35 percent.

In addition, the weather has refused to cooperate during both of the years the program has been in operation.

Consequently, the production figures above compare with the 1961-65 average for the nation of 14.9 million, 4.5 million for Texas and almost 2.2 million on the Plains.

The case for increased cotton production in 1968 is built on a decline in the cotton surplus from almost 17 million bales on August 1, 1966 to about 12.4 million August 1 this year, and an expected decline to under 7 million bales by August 1, 1968.

Cotton "offtake" for both domestic and export markets, is now set by USDA for 1966-

67 at 14.0 million bales, some 500,000 below the estimates USDA had been making all year. The total, officials say, is made up of 9.3 million bales consumed by domestic mills and 4.7 million exported. Respectively, these two figures were earlier predicted at 9.6 and 5.0 million bales.

For the 1967-68 cotton marketing year, USDA is now saying total consumption will come to around 13.75 million bales, based on domestic use of 9.0 million and exports of 4.75 million.

One USDA calculator-computer operator already is saying this figure may be too high for 1967-68.

He points out that the drop in domestic cotton consumption is not an indication of declining markets, but rather a reflection of a declining inventory-order ratio in mills. This decline, he says, began in December of this year, and unless the trend reverses itself soon it will be difficult to move 9 million bales into the domestic market this year.

Excess cotton production in 1968, they feel, could begin an escalation of the cotton surplus back to the price-depressing level of 1966.

Five Accidents In Bailey County Reported in July

These crashes resulted in two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $2,285.00.

"School days" are almost here again. Many of the schools in this area will be starting classes before Labor Day. Many drivers have become accustomed to ignoring school zones and signs during the summer months with the thought, "why bother, school's out anyway." Many parents will attempt to make the forthcoming Labor Day their final vacation outing. "Don't let this outing be fatal," the Sergeant stated. Thirty-two lives were lost in traffic over the Labor Day weekend in 1966.
