Florida Men Arrested Here

An errant U-Haul trailer, another man's furniture and the attempted sale of a color television lead to the arrest of two Florida men Wednesday on a grand larceny charge. With the men was one of their wives and a three-months old baby.

The group left Eau Galle, Fla. with the trailer of furniture, supposedly destined for Jackson, Fla. and due there August 11, so far as the U-Haul company knew. When it did not arrive, they became concerned to put it mildly.

The group being sought were arrested here, parked behind the Fifth Street Gulf Station and the men placed in Bailey County jail by investigating officers, City Patrolman Larry Hensley, Sheriff Dee Clements and Deputy Buddy Black.

The men told the sheriff that they had been authorized by the owner of the furniture that they could sell it if they needed funds on their way to California. The furniture owner, however, is said to have told them not to sell the color television which they were allegedly attempting to do.

But, the fact that they were enroute to Merced, Calif., and not Jackson, Fla. was not in the U-Haul agreement.

The woman and baby were permitted to continue on to California while the men are being held here for Florida authorities.

In other reports, city police arrested three for vagrancy and two for drunk and another was arrested by the sheriff's office for drunk.

Changes in the marriage policy for those attending school were made.

When a married student enrolls in the Muleshoe Schools or when a student marries during the school year, he/she must report the marriage to the building principal immediately and assume his/her married name. Failure to report to proper authorities will subject student to suspension from school.

A conference with the counselor or principal to clarify policies of conduct, conversation and relationships with other students will be held immediately.

Married students, students who have been divorced, or students whose marriages have been annulled are excluded from participation in interschool extra-curricular activities such as all sports, music, speech, drama, F.H.A., F.F.A., D.E., Student Council and F.T.A. They shall not make any trips away from Muleshoe representing the school or any school activities.

They shall not be eligible for the following: pep club, class favorites, rodeos, king and queen, football queen, most handsome and most beautiful, powder puff football game, FFA Sweetheart and shall not hold office.

Married students, divorced students, or students whose marriages have been annulled may participate in extra-curricular activities that take place on the school campus such as class banquets, school

A New Twist To Cooling Hot Radiators

You are driving up a long grade on a hot day pulling a trailer, maybe behind a slow truck, and the red light flashes when the radiator boils. At this point you have two choices, says County Agent J.K. Adams.

1. Stop beside the road. With no more forward motion, the radiator boils harder. You may get scalded if you are not careful. The sun blisters you as you stand by the car, and you may have a problem getting water. The stop may take 20 minutes or so.

2. Try the easy way. At the first red flash, open all windows wide, turn the heater on HIGH and turn the blower on HIGH as well. For about one minute everyone will be uncomfortable, but the temperature plays, intramural sport, annual, journalism, school clubs, national honor society, Bailey County Stockshow, etc. They are eligible for academic awards, but may not participate in any activities away from the campus.

The above mentioned students have assumed the role of adults and will be treated as such in all matters concerning discipline. In requirements regarding attendance and course offerings, they will be treated as other students.

PREGNANCY
If a girl becomes pregnant while in attendance at school, criticism and adverse comments arise when her pregnancy becomes obvious; and is questioned by many whether she should be permitted to attend school. Health and safety factors are important as they relate to her attendance at school, and maternity dress is not considered appropriate for high school girls.

Girls who become pregnant while enrolled in school shall have a conference immediately with the principal or counselor. In this conference a decision shall be made as to the time for her to withdraw from school. The girl may not re-enter until the first of the semester which begins at least sixty (60) days after the birth of the baby.

A letter from the "Governor's" Committee was read telling about the state wide tax evaluation study. A total of 190 districts have been studied in the first survey and all other districts will be surveyed including the Muleshoe district.

All board members were invited to attend the Texas Association of School Board Members Convention to be held at 7 a.m., August 30 for the purpose of approving the amended budget for the 1966-67 school year.

Annual Records Those School Day Memories

Monday morning many students registered in the cafeteria of Muleshoe High School for the last time for they are seniors and with the termination of this term, they will no longer be familiar faces in the halls of MHS. This will be the dividing line and as the curtain rings down nine months from starting date, August 30, they go their separate ways... many to colleges, others will be homemakers while others will fill a bunk with branches of the Armed Services... Others... who knows?

In the meantime, as each day during this term passes, events and special honors will be recorded in the school annual.

Many memories remain vivid while others seem to slip from the mind, especially when there is so much to remember.

The 1966-67 school year was a busy one and for the most part a combination of seriousness, both at work in the classroom, on the athletic field and during the hard work to accomplish the fabulous production of "Sound of Music" in addition to many other special occasions.

In the pages of the annual, the Muletrain, 175 days from September's lift-off to May's splash-down the diary of the year is recorded.

Pictures reveal how students discover abilities in leadership showing senior cheerleaders Debbie Bryant and Jeannie King in action of spirit at football games and Lana Moore, dressed western, doing a routine for a talent show as she discovers individual talent while three others find their talent in "on-the-job-training" working as distributive education students. They are Curtis Watts, LaVon Williams and Gene Mason.

Creative beauty took place during the year as the members of the student council planted shrubs around the campus, a part of the Student Council Beautification Plan.

Officers of the Student Council were Larry Meyers, president; Stan Johnson, vice president; Debbie Bryant, secretary; Terry Bryant, chaplain; David Davis, reporter; Debbie Burrows, parliamentarian and Beth Black, historian. Many accomplishments were credited to this organization.

Burel Block was chosen "Teacher of the Year." The announcement was made at the close of the FTA Faculty breakfast. Block is Spanish and Latin teacher.

Then there was the annual staff. It all began with selling advertisements to finance the annual. This accomplished, the work began and continued until sponsor Wayland Ethridge said "Mission Accomplished" and the final pages were off to annual has won "A" ratings for the past seven years plus five consecutive trophies. The annual was not compiled by a small group, but contains the work and brilliant ideas of many students with the help of art instructor, Mrs. J.A. Black and others.

The Fine Arts Department, much to the surprise of theatergoers, presented "Sound of Music" in all its splendor. It took the combined efforts of many from the departments of art, speech, drama, band and choir and was directed by Elizabeth Black, Mr. Harris, Leasel Richardson, Kerry Moore and Bob Breckenridge.

Officers for the Mighty "M" Band were Gail Locker, secretary-treasurer; Tom Jones, drum major; Hal Anderson, president; Marsha Blackman, reporter; Don Huff, librarian; Lindell Wilson, head librarian; Pat Malone, historian and David Dillaman, vice president.

Lindell Wilson and Marsha Blackman were elected by popular vote as band favorites and were crowned during a home football game. Candidates from each department of the Fine Arts Department entered their king and queen choice in the contest. Winners of this contest were Tom Jones and Val Moore.

Neil Finely was named outstanding tuba player for the year. He was first-chair player in the All-Region and made area tryouts for the All-State band.

The band and the A Capella choir made a memorable trip

Sorghum Midge On Increase, Official Warns

Sorghum midge activity is on the increase in many High Plains counties, reports Don R. Rummel, Extension area entomologist at the South Plains Research and Extension Center.

All grain sorghum which blooms from now on will likely suffer some degree of midge damage, says Rummel.

In areas where midge are active, the entomologist recommends an automatic spray program starting when approximately 70 percent of the sorghum heads have emerged from the boot stage. A second application should be made three to four days after the first application. Continued midge activity may call for a third application.

Where midge activity is light or where potential yield does not justify an automatic spray program, Rummel suggests checking the field carefully every day for about 10 days after heads begin to emerge. Treatments should be applied if midge are found among the newly emerged heads. An average of one midge per head will probably result in an economic loss.

Since midge can migrate into field and complete their egg

Luncheon Set For Teachers

The annual Teachers' Appreciation Luncheon, sponsored jointly by the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and the men's civic organizations (Lions, Rotarians, and Jaycees) is scheduled for Tuesday, August 29, at noon in the High School Cafeteria.

The speaker will be Dr. Berlie Fallon, a professor in the Education Department of Texas Tech, Lubbock.

Approximately 120 faculty members, administrators, school board members, and secretarial personnel from the Muleshoe school system will be the guests of the sponsoring groups in this annual event.

Members of the Muleshoe Area Women's Service Organization of the Chamber of Commerce are also helping to coordinate plans for the luncheon.

to Corpus Christi where they participated in competition at the Buccaneer Festival.

Sweepstakes were captured by the famed speech and drama departments. The speech department participated in several tournaments including those at Texas Tech, Floydada, Seminole and the District contest at Canyon. Six students qualified to represent District 1-AAA at the Region I contest at Odessa College.

Participating in various riding events were members of the Wrangler club which of the Wrangler club which Billen by popular vote as Wrangler Sweetheart.

In FHA, Jerry Redwine was recognized as "Mr. Irresistible" after he collected the most ribbons from F.H.A. girls. Lana Moore and Nelda Finley served punch and cake at the annual Christmas card party held by the chapter. The will to succeed and build happy homes causes all future homemakers to follow their motto of hope which is "Toward New Horizons."

Jerry Redwine and Lynna Pitta were crowned king and queen at the FHA Sweetheart banquet. Debra Hayes and Bill Bruns were crowned as Prince and Princess.

The vocation group unit to enhance a greater America. This group is composed of FFA and FHA.

FFA discovers abilities through leadership by doing their work during class and progressive agricultural practices. Pam St. Clair was chosen as FFA Sweetheart. Susan Camp was Plowgirl for the year and Jerry Redwine was president.

Several awards were won by the chapter teams during the year.

Vocational training included such items as finishing hand built wooden tables to overhauling a tractor.

Diane Bryant was selected as Distributive Education Sweetheart and also won the runner-up slot in competition for district sweetheart.

The football season opened ended with a 6-6 tie. The annual classified it as having a couple of story book thrills, storybook touchdowns and ended in victory for none. The Dimmitt Bobcats was the holder of the other score of 6.

The Mule had many good moments and many bad ones. The first victory was over the Olton Mustangs with a score of 7-0 favoring the hard playing Mules of the season record, the Mule's greatest victory was over Morton with the score totaling 67 for the Mules and 8 for Morton.

Marsha Blackman was crowned 1966 Football queen with Ann Phelps and Gail Lock-er as attendants. They were elected by vote of the team.

The Mulettes won eight games and lost 15 during basketball season, but remained a spirited group throughout the defeats. Three players were chosen to all district. They were Carolyn Embry, junior forward; Jeannie King, senior, forward and Debbie Bryant, senior, guard.

During track season, teams established new records in the intermediate hurdles, the broad jumps and mile relay. Bobby Julian broke records in two places, Brownfield and Denver City. Myron Young broad jumper, broke previous records in district, which was held in Dumas. His jump measurement was 22 feet.

At Dumas and Odessa, the mile relay was broken with a time of 3:25. The Odessa record was 3:25. This relay team consisted of Ramon Gonzales, Myron Young, Terry Field, Gary Sullivan and Charlie Beamon.

And WOW! There was joyful "Senior Day." The halls were filled with seniors in every conceivable attire and the school ground looked like a mixture of beach combers, rodeo hands, hobos, Dutch girls and sailors.

Ten boys tried their luck at golf for their athletic choice. They were Bucky Taylor, Billy Kelley, Darrell Wilson, Larry Calvert, Lionel Helweg, Bobby Burge, Jeff Chapman and Ricky Botkin. Botkin was runner up for district. He also went to Odessa for regional. (Botkin is still coming on strong as a golfer.)

There are many, many more details of education, special training and outstanding accomplishments contained in the annual.

Some of the honors were Debbie Bryant and Jerry Redwine as Mr. and Miss M.H.S.; Ramsom Jones and Jeannie King were Best All-Around Students; Bert Elizarraraz and Billy Darnell received the Citizenship Award and Prince and Princess of Friendship went to Susan Camp and Jerry Redwine.

Most Handsome was Hal Anderson and Most Beautiful was Drucilla Damron, and finally the top honors were bestowed. They were to Weta Kincannon as valedictorian and Neil Finley as salutatorian.

Friday is registration day for first grade student starting the long winding trail of education, up through the grades, one by one, until they too come to the final day of high school.

laying in 24 hours or less, Rummel recommends the automatic spray program as the safest method if expected yields can justify the cost.

The entomologist stresses that proper timing and at least two spray applications are essential for good control.

Since midge populations vary between different areas, decisions will have to be made depending upon the local situation, he adds.

For recommendations concerning the specific type of spray material to use, Rummel suggests contacting the local county Extension office.

MEMORIES--Many memories from early days are likely attached to this windmill made from rough timber. The tower is of the old variety and structure. It stands north of Earth in a cotton field. Nearby is a dougout and old barn. A far cry from irrigation wells in cotton fields today, it served its purpose and is being preserved as a landmark today.

Moore, Dillman Attends Meeting

The Eighth Annual Local Unit Presidents Conference was held at the Gunter Hotel, San Antonio, August 14 and 15.

Kerry More, Muleshoe Local Unit President, and Neal Dillman, District XIII president, attended this conference sponsored by the TSTA.

Miss Antoinette Miller, State Vice president, from Houston, president and Sam M. Anderson, State President from Big Springs spoke on "What Professional Organizations Mean to Me." Miss Miller was the Monday evening banquet speaker and used "Challenges That Face Our Professional Organizations" as her topic.

On Tuesday, Staff members of TSTA, served on a panel, "Presenting the TSTA Programs for 1967-68 - Review of Services of TSTA to Members and Local Units."

Charles H. Tennyson, Executive Secretary - Treasurer of TSTA set the mood for the conference by saying, "If we are to have the respect we seek from the public, we must first respect ourselves enough to respect the ability, motives, and integrity of each other. Surely this is one of the basic tenets of a profession."

The focus of the conference was "The New Look for Local Associations" and emphasized: (1) positive direction for local associations (2) how the profession serves its members (3) the strengthening of the local units (4) urban association activities and leadership.

Dillman served as chairman of two of the discussion groups in which topics pertinent to District - Local Unit relationship were discussed.

The theme for the March 1968 District Convention is "Be Concerned With Their Education."

half miles north of Lubbock on U.S. 87.

Information on such crops as cotton, grain sorghum, soybeans, castor, rapeseed and guar will be presented, says Adams. Adaptability tests of various varieties, breeding research and cultural practices will be discussed.

"Do's" and "Don'ts" concerning the use of present-day herbicides will receive major emphasis at the field day, points out the agent, since numerous weed control problems have arisen this year.

A greenhouse display is also planned for the event. This is one of the best educational opportunities of the field day, says Adams, because it gives producers a chance to learn the symptoms of various plant diseases and other plant disorders. Spotlights at this year's display will be grain sorghum and cotton diseases.

Another attraction at the field day will be a large machinery exhibit. The latest planting and harvesting equipment developed by researchers at the Center will be on display as well as machinery exhibited by commercial companies.

An additional highlight at the field day will be a farm management display with specific reference to the South Plains Development program (SPD). Management has received much emphasis in this program, points out Adams, and plays a tremendous role in the overall economic growth and development of this area.

In addition to touring test plots and displays, visitors will also be invited to take a look at the newly expanded center which now houses the District 2 Extension Office and nine Extension subject - matter area specialists. Additional laboratory space and facilities have also been provided.

The County Agent invites everyone in the county who is interested in agriculture to mark the date, September 12, on his calendar and to make plans now to attend the field day.

will fall back to safe driving condition immediately. The short discomfort is far better than nearly the same heat for the long roadside stop. Besides, maybe the traffic and road conditions will prevent you from pulling over anyway.

Use this technique with caution and make a radiator and coolant check as soon as practical, for it is possible that a broken hose may cause overheating without flashing the light as it should, Adams adds.

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1222 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 225-3704

A meat inspection bill approved Wednesday by the House Agriculture Committee contained a requirement introduced by Congressman Bob Price that will apply to foreign meat imports the same inspection standards that now apply to meat and meat products produced in the United States.

Another amendment introduced by Price was first adopted by the committee and then later defeated on a "reconsideration" motion. That amendment would have required all imported meat and meat products to be labeled as "produced in and imported from a foreign nation."

Meat importers as well as U.S. meat processors objected to the labeling amendment on the grounds that it would have raised their costs.

Price said he thought it only fair to a housewife that all meats and meat products should be identified as are all other imported products. "Even now," Price contended, "meats canned in a foreign country and imported bear the label of origin but after a chunk of frozen meat enters this country, there is no way of knowing where it goes nor does a housewife shopping at the local market have any way of knowing whether the hamburger she buys is U.S. or foreign meat."

"Much of the meat that comes into this country frozen is thawed, ground into hamburger, bought at the market and then refrozen in home freezers," Price said. "The Department of Agriculture says refreezing meat is not a safe practice but this meat is not labeled and there is no way of knowing that the meat has already been frozen."

Price blamed pressure from the State Department and the Washington embassies of the major meat exporting countries as well as U.S. meat processors for the defeat of his labeling amendment.

"And they will now attempt either on the House floor or in the Senate to eliminate even the requirement for equal foreign inspection standards," Price predicted.

"It is obvious," the Panhandle Congressman concluded, "that the State Department is not concerned with American consumer interests but only with the profits of foreign meat producers."

Mrs. William Calvert (the former Pamela Splawn)

Marriage vows were repeated in Muleshoe Saturday evening, 7 p. m. at First Methodist Church uniting Miss Pamela Diane Splawn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard K. Splawn of 419 W. 9th, Muleshoe and George William Calvert, Jr., Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis, son of Mrs. John Williams of Jackson, Miss. and George William Calvert, Sr. of Bay St. Louis, Miss.

The Rev. Glenn Williams of the First Methodist Church officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she chose a gown of white peau-satin with a train. The overlace bodice was fashioned with Empire waist and long sleeves with self scallops extending to a point over the hands and closed with self-covered buttons. The veil of illusion net fell from three roses of peau-satin. She carried a brides' bouquet of white gardenias, white azaleas, natural foliage framed by white picot and tulle. For something old, the bride carried a white lace trimmed hankie belonging to her Grandmother Splawn. Her brides' ensemble was something new. For something borrowed she carried a handkerchief of white linen with crocheted trim belonging to her Grandmother Askew. Her blue lace-trimmed garter with blue wedding bell, given to her by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Jean Williams represented something blue.

Bride's attendants, Miss Sunny Mock of Abernathy and Miss Sandra Garlington of Muleshoe, maid of honor and bridesmaid, wore identical dresses of Claret peau-satin with Empire waists. Complimenting the gowns were long sleeved boleros of coin dot net. Their headresses of Claret peau-satin roses held coin dot net veils. Miss Mock and Miss Garlington carried cascades of large, open, "Forever Yours" roses and baby pink carnations accented with leather leaf ferns.

Steve Calvert, Jackson, Miss., attended his brother as best man. Dennis Lucas of Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis, Ushers included Kenneth Splawn of Olton, brother of the bride and Dennis Lucas of Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis, N.M. Randy Williams of Hart was candle-lighter.

Spiralled candles accented the church altar and enhanced a church decor of large arched candelabra and aisle fern trees. Sonja Bass, organist, of Muleshoe, accompanied the soloist, Miss Sandra Dalton, fiancée of the bride's brother, in "Because" and "The Twelfth of Never" and "Wedding Prayer."

The house party for the reception held at Methodist Fellowship Hall included Vickie Henexson and Jody Whatley, cousin of the bride, Miss Diane Brown of Wellington registered the guests.

For a wedding trip to Dallas, Mrs. Calvert chose a dress of mint green cotton Whip Cream with matching full length coat of mint green, yellow, orange and white ocean waves print. The George William Calverts Jr. will be at home in 800 Merriweather, Clovis, after a short wedding trip.

The bridegroom has been in the Air Force two and one half years; he is an airman first class. He has one and one-half more years of service, after which they plan to make their home in Jackson, Miss. where he plans on entering college to major in fire fighting.

The rehearsal party was an ice cream supper at the bride's home at 419 W. 9th.

Music Teachers Attend Study Course

Mrs. Sam McKinstry and Mrs. E.H. Kennedy, local music teachers attended a music study course for piano teachers at Eastern New Mexico University and held from August 13-18. The course was under the sponsorship of The Music Teachers' Association of New Mexico.

The course was under the instruction of Frances Clark, Louise Goss, Richard Chronister and David Kraehenbuehl, all of Princeton, N.J. In previous years courses by the teachers from the New School for Music Study have been held in Denver, Colo. and Lake Texoma, Okla.

After leaving Portales and Eastern New Mexico University, they were going to Pasadena, Calif. for another schedule of study.

Part of the expenses of the eminent teachers from Princeton was paid by the State of New Mexico. Mrs. Gillian Buchanan, head of the music department of the University is their ardent patroness of the New School of Music Study. A total of 108 teachers from all parts of the United States attended the school. The instruction involved 32 hours of instruction.

Mrs. McKinstry and Mrs. Kennedy are now enrolling piano students for the 1967-68 term of music. Mrs. McKinstry is also an organ teacher, and her classes start Monday, September 11, in the New Musical Arts Studio at 318 West Avenue J.

BEEF STROGANOFF

If you are using round steak for Beef Stroganoff, make sure that you simmer the beef until it is extremely tender. When Stroganoff is made from very tender beefsteak that is usually broiled, quick cooking is the rule.

Black, Murray Vows Read Sunday August 20

Miss Karon LaTrice Black became the bride of Charles Booth Murray in a mid-afternoon ceremony read at the First Baptist Church, Sunday August 20.

The Rev. Don Murray read the double ring vows in a bridal setting created by a profusion of yellow daisies and white summer flowers. Large archways of white candles and Jade flanked by candelabra completed the wedding scene.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Black and Rev. and Mrs. Don Murray are parents of the bridegroom. The couple are both 1966 graduates of Muleshoe High School and are sophomores at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene.

Escorted and presented in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of white peau de soie fashioned with an Empire waist. The lace sleeves tapered and ending in points over the hands. Her Wateau train was secured with tiny covered buttons to the back of the gown.

Both the train and gown were accented with floral appliques. The bridal bouquet was of white azaleas and Catalaya orchids carried atop a white Bible. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion net attached to a crown of seed pearls highlighted with a pearl tear drop.

Rita Black, sister of the bride was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Courtney Maxwell, Albuquerque and Miss Farrell Jean Fikes, Robert Lee, Texas.

Don Murray, Jr., brother of the bridegroom served as best man to the groom.

Flower girl was Starla Dawn Black, niece of the bride. Candlelighters were Rex and Kim Black, brothers of the bride and Eddie Black, cousin of the bride was ring bearer. Groomsmen were Terry Ellison, Aspermont and Jerry Liles, Meadow. Ushers were Dean Black, brother of the bride; Joe Toems, Midland; Bill Nickels, Abilene and Richard Davila, Harlingen.

The bridal attendants wore floor-length dresses styled with empire waists fashioned from pale yellow peau de soie accented with moss green bows. Their shoes were dyed to match their attire. They wore head pieces of peau de soie roses with illusion net. The dress worn by the flower girl was of the same material of that worn by the attendants, styled on "A" line fashion.

The musical program was presented by Mrs. Elbert Hamilton, organist and Mrs. Arvis Grogan, pianist. Soloist was Mrs. Don Murray, Jr., Abilene. Wedding guests were registered by Mary Barnes, Hale Center.

A reception followed the ceremony in Fellowship Hall of the church. Members of the reception party were Mrs. J. Lewis Morris, Judy White and Sandra Garlington who performed serving hospitalities.

The table was draped with net cloth trimmed with satin wedding bells. An artistic floral arrangement of marigold and greenery was enhanced with silver streamers. Crystal and gold serving pieces appointed the table centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The bride chose a dress of yellow with an overlay of white net for traveling. She added yellow accessories and wore a corsage of catalaya orchids to complete her ensemble. After their wedding trip, the newlyweds will live at Abilene and continue their education. Murray is employed with Hardin-Simmons Central Receiving Service. He is a member of Sigma Delta Sigma Fraternity.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Children have delicate nervous systems. Do not give them tea, coffee, and cola drinks. Such drinks are too stimulating for them and are not only to blame for the restlessness and sleeplessness of the child, but for his not drinking milk which is so essential to his health.

Doctors are plagued by the mothers asking what to do about the finicky child who will not eat at meal time. Remember that children who are properly nourished and trained from infancy are seldom fussy about their food.

If parents won't eat certain wholesome, nutritious foods and make their likes and dislikes a topic of conversation at the table in the presence of the children, the children follow in their footsteps. Children are very imitative.

Meal time should be one of the most pleasant hours of the day. If children are scolded, threatened or frightened at meal times, it will take away their appetites, or if they eat under such circumstances indigestion will be almost sure to follow.

Let meals be served at regular intervals. Ring a warning bell that means that the children must wash their hands and get ready to come to the table.

When a child is hungry and asks for something to eat between meals, offer him whole wheat bread and butter, or milk and bread, or fruits—all wholesome between-meal foods. If children refuse them, they are not hungry and should do without eating until mealtime.

Constipation in children can usually be traced to a diet that is not sufficiently laxative and to not drinking enough water. Everyone requires plenty of water and you should make sure that the children drink it between meals.

Many persons have had health fastened upon them for life because their mothers gave them drugs for constipation instead of the right diet.

From Dew to Frost

There is a backyard and outdoor living area belonging to the Thurman Whites who live in this pink brick with iron lace house on the Plainview Highway. Until mere news pictures can reproduce dew in the early morning some black and white camera shots will have to do.

Desi, the White's poodle was excited as was Traveler, the White's brown dog. The dogs scrambled among the honeysuckle and were about as photogenic as streaks.

The weathervane on the garage roof was still fortelling happy weather. Thurman White packed the car in the garage for taking off for Ruidoso. Marie came out in crisp blouse and pants and persuaded him to stand with her for a picture.

Marie White talks of her flowers and all her plantings, with a warmth. These are her particular province and have been during the five years they have lived here. Marie drew the plans for landscaping.

There are many conversation points about the premises: A garden statue cupid against dark evergreens lends a feeling of looking into a grotto. In the foreground is a "red hot poker" plant. The front walk curves around a weeping willow tree to the bright reception of red geraniums in a long planter along the porch.

Deborah Wagon, granddaughter of the Whites and who lives next door came to stand near the patio entrance. Deborah's younger sister Tyree is five. Tyree didn't awaken until later when the picture near the interesting mulberry tree was taken. At first she called to her dog to sit with her, but he was in no mood for it. In the end she sat happily alone.

From dew to frost the lawn dreams in the sun.

A Salute to the New Year of School

This Cake Comes From Kentucky

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

SOME COOKS are wonderfully generous. Not only will they "carry a cake" to a friend, but they'll also cheerfully part with the recipe.

That's exactly how we came on this utterly delicious Cherry Pecan Cake. The recipe winged its way straight from Lexington, Kentucky - where it has been in one family for years and years - to New York. When we tasted the cake, we knew the rule for its making was well worth passing along to you. Rich with glaze cherries and pecans, subtly flavored with mace and bourbon, this cake is great to have on hand when Thanksgiving and Christmas loom ahead. Because the recipe makes two large loaves, you can give one loaf as a gift, if you like, and keep one on hand to delight your family and guests.

If you don't mind having a fruit-and-nut cake on the crumbly side, you can store this cake at room temperature. But if you must have your cake slice firmly and evenly, you can store it in the refrigerator.

Now for two baking tips: This recipe calls for finely chopped glaze cherries and pecans. Use a knife, but do chop the fruit and nuts really fine. Flour them, too, as directed in the recipe, and they'll be evenly distributed throughout every slice.

We find that fruit-and-nut cakes sometimes brown differently, depending on whether we are using our gas or electric oven. If you try this recipe and find the loaves are getting quite brown before the end of the baking time, be sure to follow the recipe suggestion and cover loosely with foil.

KENTUCKY
CHERRY PECAN CAKE
1 pound butter or margarine
3 cups sugar

FROM KENTUCKY - this delicious cake chock-full of glaze cherries and pecans. The recipe makes two loaves - one for gift-giving, one for home enjoyment.

1/2 teaspoon mace
8 eggs, separated (at room temperature)
3 cups sifted regular flour
1/3 cup bourbon
2 jars (8 ounces each) red glaze cherries, finely chopped
4 cups finely chopped pecans (about 1 pound shelled)
Grease and flour two loaf pans (each 9 by 5 by 3 inches).
In a large mixing bowl thoroughly beat the butter with 2 cups of the sugar and the mace until light and fluffy. Gradually and thoroughly beat in the egg yolks. Stir in 2 3/4 cups of the flour alternately with the bourbon. Sprinkle remaining 1/4 cup flour over cherries and toss. Stir into cake batter with the pecans. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form; gradually beat in remaining 1 cup sugar; continue beating until very stiff; fold into cake batter. Turn into the prepared pans. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 hours, or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Place cakes in pans on wire racks to cool for 1 hour. Turn out on wire racks; turn right side up. Cool thoroughly. If cakes are tightly covered and stored in the refrigerator they will slice beautifully. Makes two 9-inch loaf cakes.

Note: If tops of cakes get very brown, cover loosely with aluminum foil for last 1/2 hour of baking.

Meyers Attends Conference: Youths Strive to Solve Problems

Larry Meyers attended the fifth annual Texas Youth Conference held last week in Austin. He was one of more than 1000 youths who were in attendance for the conference program which included outstanding speakers, the showing of informative films and thought-provoking seminars in which each youth participated and discussed the problems of juvenile delinquency.

The non-political youth conference was completely planned and carried out by a specially selected staff. Meyers was a member of this organizational and conducting staff.

Under the direction of Robert T. (Sonny) Davis, a young Austin attorney, the Texas Youth Conference has reached more than 250,000 youths during the past five years of its existence. This has been accomplished by making the youths a part of the solution to youth problems rather than being a problem.

Texas Youth Conference has set up 'teen juries', teen-age tutorial programs and various other youth orientated delinquency prevention programs. In this way, Texas is said to have taken a substantial step in curbing delinquency in its future generations.

Young Meyers was very active here during his high school days in the youth work of Muleshoe High School and all activities and served as president of the Student Council among many other officers and places of service. Any club or civic organization wishing to learn more about the Texas Youth Conference and the working of the organization may do so by contacting Meyers. He states that he would gladly present a program with a 20 minute film for groups.

Aside from the program which is in successful operation, the Texas Youth Conference announces a worldwide travel program for Texas youths which originated this summer.

Designed to provide the finest in youth travel experiences, the program also assists the foundation in financing its statewide youth development program. Through a nominal fee, added to the actual cost of each tour, the foundation receives a limited financial profit normally accruing to commercial tour agents, while still offering travel at a minimum of cost to each youth.

Limited numbers of youths may visit Europe, Hawaii and historical points of interest in the United States by signing up to make at least a part of the major decisions concerning next year's program by mid or late September of this year. This would be after they have learned whatever it is they hope to learn from the shirtsleeve sessions, after they have a better idea of what the 1967 crop may produce, and after final determination of the quality distribution in this year's carryover.

U.S. Department of Agriculture officials and members of the Secretary's Advisory Committee on Cotton met August 14 and 15 in Washington for the first full-blown airing of their respective views on possible changes in the 1968 cotton program.

Attending the meeting from the High Plains were committee members Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers Inc., and Roy Forkner, PCG Board Chairman and immediate past president.

Johnson reported that other things were discussed, but most of the two-day session was taken up with talk of how the current cotton law can be administered next year to meet industry and government objectives.

It is a widely held opinion that an increase in the acres planted to cotton will be needed in 1968 to assure adequate supplies to meet domestic export requirements for cotton.

"The Department feels, and most of the committee were in agreement, that there should be an increase in planted acreage, but that care should be taken to prevent rebuilding of the U.S. cotton surplus above the 7.0 to 7.5 million bale carryover expected at the end of the 1967-68 marketing year," Johnson said.

In fact, the Department would like to see that figure reduced a little by July 31, 1969.

In addition to this goal, USDA, as usual, would like to reduce the government's cost in 1968, the committee was told.

"The committee," Johnson said, "was in basic agreement with the Department on the need for increased production, but was generally more concerned with maintaining the income of cotton producers than with reducing the cost of the program."

He went on to say "Greater planted acreage and higher production appear to be in the interest of safeguarding markets for cotton, and we must have these markets if the industry is to prosper. But we must also keep in mind that unless producer income is such that cotton production is a profitable business the industry will be doomed, markets or no markets."

Supplies for the 1967-68 year consist of about 12.5 million bales in this year's carryover and an estimated 8.25 million produced from this year's crop. Of this 20.75 million bale supply, USDA is predicting an off-take of 13.7 million, which would leave around 7 million bales in the carryover on July 31, 1968.

"The Department is assuming domestic and export consumption for the 1968-69 marketing year will be about the same as in 1967-68," Johnson said, "so they want to shoot for a crop of 13.7 million bales or less in 1968 to maintain or reduce the carryover."

According to Johnson, various means to achieve this end were discussed, but no definite proposal was made either by the committee or Department officials.

A series of 14 "shirtsleeve" meetings are scheduled around the cotton belt from August 21 through August 30, including one in Lubbock on August 28, at which the 1968 program will be discussed extensively with growers and other segments of the industry.

The Department now hopes

Five possible arrangements, involving changes in both the mandatory and voluntary diversion feature of the program, and one involving revision of regulations on skiprow planting, were set forth by the Department as the nucleus of studies being made by USDA.

Officials have estimated what each of the five possibilities would mean in terms of production, but Johnson was quick to point out that these are only estimates which may be subject to question.

One of the five, the one involving relaxation of skiprow planting penalties, the Department estimates would bring production up to 12.8 million bales next year, at no additional cost to the government. But Johnson reports that the Department has summarily discounted this option, and apparently only considered it as a subject for discussion, not action.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

The Texas Community Property Laws can make a big difference in the amount of tax that you owe the Federal government. In Texas the husband and wife must split the income if they file separate returns. However, the extra dividend exclusion, the extra retirement income credit and the casualty loss deduction allowed under community property law can be even more important.

Document 5192, describing the community property benefits, is available at all Internal Revenue Service offices, or you can write to Internal Revenue Service, P.O. Box 1738, Dallas, Texas 75221.

At a banquet several guests were discussing whether men or women were more trustworthy. "No woman can keep a secret," said one man scornfully. "I don't know about that," huffed a woman guest. "Why I have kept my age a secret since I was 21."

"You'll let it out some day," the man insisted. "Nonsense," she replied. "When a woman has kept a secret for 27 years, she can keep it forever!"
