

Tornado Hits Sudan Compress, Mars City

SALVAGE OPERATION--Workmen are cleaning up the wreckage of the Central Compress warehouses, filled with baled cotton which was blown away as a twister dipped to the ground during Sunday night's storm there. The cotton, not damaged is being moved to other storage buildings from beneath some of the building framework left standing.

Lightning-laced thunderstorms, accompanied by high winds, hail and rains lashed portions of the Panhandle-Plains Sunday night leaving a path of destruction across the state.

Sudan was hardest hit in the immediate area when a tornado struck Central Compress and completely demolished one large storage building filled with baled cotton and severely damaged another building of the same type. All other buildings on the compress yard were damaged from minor to major range.

Guy Nickels, Muleshoe, compress owner said damage was estimated at $80,000.00 to the building and cotton contained in them was not damaged.

Nickels said winds were clocked at the Compress at 100 miles per hour. Sheet iron from the demolished building was strewn for miles to the south. Some of it was piled against box cars at the edge of the compress yard while other pieces could be found for several miles away.

On the south side of Highway 84, to the west of the Compress, considerable damage was done to the Nix-Grigsby Delinting building. Winds created a freak condition, blowing out the brick fronting at the base of the building and leaving the sheet iron building in waves, sus-trailers in that vicinity were overturned, while others remained upright parallel to those overturned.

Around the square in downtown Sudan, the age-old elm trees were riddled as if scores of persons had chopped them from top to bottom at random. Limbs covered the immediate grounds and were scattered around the streets.

Many other buildings, out-buildings and fences were blown down or otherwise damaged. City-wide damage is estimated to total more than $100,000.00

With the storm's passing evident all over the town, a two ton truck belonging to M.C. Mason, Muleshoe, was blown from where it was parked on the west side of the City Square, across the intersection on a block off Highway 84 on Main Street and hit a car moving slowly down the street. Sudan City Marshall E.L. Hatfield said the occupants of the car were also from Muleshoe, however, the name was not immediately obtained as the storm was so severe and units were busy in other emergency capacities at that time. Owner of the car informed Hatfield that there were no injuries and they wanted to get in out of the storm.

Hatfield said on FM 303 north of the city, crops were extensively damaged with cotton leaves and bolls beaten off and grain blown down.

Approximately one inch of rain fell in Muleshoe following the blast of wind accompanying the storm which knocked out electricity in parts of the city for approximately one hour. Other area towns where power was knocked out for periods of 10 minutes to an hour was Dimmitt, Earth, Hart, Morton and Sudan. Each of these towns report about an inch of rain and some hail.

Muleshoe was near the western edge of the storm which came in from the north with towering clouds and brilliant lightning illuminating the northern skies.

Enochs received one-half inch; Needmore, .07 and Bula and Three Way, one and one-half inch.

MINUS FOUNDATION--Nix and Grigsby firm at Sudan is minus the brick foundation to the front of their building. The twister, in its mysterious way of upsetting things, left the building standing, but took away the foundation.

YOU..The Chamber of Commerce

Despite all the difference of opinion to be found in a community of this size there is one area on which everyone seems to agree. That is the need for industry.

The truth of the matter is that there are many different types of industry and most of them do not have smoke stacks. We are too often prone to think of an industry as a large group of people at machines turning out products. However, here in Muleshoe there are many industries that do not fit this description.

The sad fact is that in order to attract outside interest to this community by industry there must be a climate that is attractive to these outside interests. This climate must exhibit interest in the progress of the community by its citizens. This climate must pro-

Millard M. (Ikey) Bayless, life-long resident of Muleshoe, was found dead about 2:30 p.m. Sunday, September 3, six miles east and about one mile south of town at what is known as Horseshoe Bend.

"Bayless, 42, was laying underneath his car with the motor running and lights on. A shovel lay nearby indicating that he had been trying to dig the car out of the sand where it was stuck," Justice of the Peace Joe Vaughn said.

Bayless was found by three youngsters, sons of Mr. and Mrs. J.R. King, as they were driving around looking for birds in the sandhills. The boys, Ricky, 9; Gary 13 and Kenneth, 16 noticed the car with the headlights burning and stopped. After seeing Bayless, they went back to the home of their grandfather, Delton Gilliland, where the King family were visiting and told their father and grandfather about the incident. The men went to the scene, then notified authorities, Ricky told the Journal.

"Vaughn said no report had been received from the autopsy, however, Bayless apparently died from carbon monoxide asphyxiation." Pronounced dead at the scene, Vaughn said he had evidently been dead several hours before he was discovered.

FUNERAL SERVICES Funeral services were held at 4 p.m. Tuesday, September 5, at the First Methodist Church with the Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. J.L. Bass, Farwell.

School Offers Adult Basic Education Course

Muleshoe Independent School District has entered into an agreement with the Texas Education Agency whereby Adult Basic Education will be offered to those people who are beyond the required school age and have not finished the eighth grade.

There will be no tuition or fees charged and the classes will be available to the first twenty people in each of two groups who apply and promise to attend class regularly. There will be one class of students made up of those who have completed the third grade but who have not completed the sixth grade, and there will be one class for the group made up of those who have completed the sixth grade but who have not completed the eighth grade. Each of the two class groups will consist of at least 15 and not more than 20 people.

Two qualified teachers, one for each class, will teach the basic subjects for the grade levels as indicated above. Qualified teachers who are interested in teaching one of these classes are asked to contact Ralph Stevenson, Director of Special Programs, as soon as possible. Stevenson's office is located in the administrative building.

and their vested interest considered and their dues established by the board before membership is allowed. A list of present members showing their present annual dues as well as their recommended dues by this committee is attached. The committee feels that the recommended dues for each member is a minimum and is fair in all its aspects and would not cause any undue hardship on any business, individual or city government.

2. That the recommended breakdown of committees by the Texas A & M Research team be followed as is outlined in their report under "Problem Area 1, Page 18."

3. That the City of Muleshoe be requested to join the Chamber at a minimum dues of $600.00 per year since their water, sewer and garbage business is a service and it has more at stake in the growth of Muleshoe than any other service business. This was also recommended by the research team.

4. That the by-laws of the Chamber be strictly adhered to in requiring the presence of Board Members at meetings.

5. That the Board set up a meeting in the near future for the General Membership aided by telephone committees requesting their presence.

The report was signed by: Alex H. Williams, chairman; Eddie Faust, secretary; Harvey Bass, Roy Whitt, Jim Cox, M.D. Gunstream, Vic Benedict and Don Harmon.

"This meeting is for everyone who is interested in the well being of Muleshoe and vicinity and all are encouraged to attend," Vic Benedict Chamber of Commerce president said.

It is proposed that each class will meet on two nights per week (probably on Tuesday and Thursday nights) for two hours per night. Classes will meet for twenty-five weeks, making a total of one hundred hours. Qualified teachers will receive $400 each for teaching these classes.

Special equipment and materials appropriate to the grade level and the adult interest will be available for these classes under the terms of the contract.

When teachers have been selected and the beginning date has been set, further announcement will be made for the benefit of those who are interested in participating in the classes.

All of these things are here and now, in varying degrees. All of these things are created through the only organization that can create them -- the Chamber of Commerce.

This organization exists; it is here. This organization is the Chamber of Commerce is not the stucco building at 224 West Second Street; it is not the secretary nor the president of the Board of Directors nor the Manager. It is you, whoever you are. YOU ARE THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE. The fate of the Chamber of Commerce and the fate of the future progress and growth of Muleshoe is squarely in your hands. You have a choice of being a part of the growth and prosperity of this community, or of seeing the community wither and die. Irrigation Water Discussed at Meeting

Austin...Members of the Executive Committee of Water Inc. met Friday in Austin with the Texas Water Development Board. Subject of the meeting was the proposed Texas Water Plan as it pertains to the transportation of additional water resources to the High Plains of Texas for irrigation, municipal and industrial purposes.

John Kendrick, President of Water, Inc., reported after the meeting that the organization pledged support and encouragement of the West Texas people to the development of a state-wide plan. "In return," Kendrick said, "we received assurance from the staff of the Texas Water Board their cooperation and early completion of the state-wide plan, which would include the delivery of in-state and out-of-state water to the areas of the greatest need."

J. W. Buchanan of Dumas, temporary manager of Water, Inc. activities, stated that the Austin meeting was most productive with all parties freely exchanging information and ideas for the development of State Water Plan. Buchanan explained that "it appears that the quantity of water in excess of the needs in the river basins of North East Texas is not as great as was first anticipated. This means that additional studies for the importation of additional water supplies for the completion of a state-wide plan is needed." Buchanan also said, "The Austin trip gave us an opportunity to visit with some of the other agencies, both state and federal, who are assisting in the water development project."

Members of the Water, Inc. Executive Committee who were at the meeting in Austin with Kendrick and Buchanan were A.L. Black of Friona; Homer Garrison of Plainview; Charlie Verner of Lubbock; J.D. Smith of Littlefield; and G.H. Nelson of Lubbock. Another Executive Committee member, K.B. Watson of Amarillo was unable to attend.

Birth Certificate Required To Get Drivers License

Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Department of Public Safety, reminded Texans today that any person, regardless of age, must have a birth certificate or other legal document showing birthdate in possession at the time they first make application for a driver license.

"Apparently many applicants are unfamiliar with this new requirement in the law," Garrison advised, "and large numbers of prospective drivers are being turned away until they return home and get such a document. This part of the law applies only to those drivers who make application for their first Texas driver license, and not to those wishing to renew a license."

Garrison outlined the procedure to be followed to obtain a license in order to clear up any misconceptions brought about by changes in the driver license law.

"First, the applicant must be the proper age. A person 16 years old may obtain a license provided he has completed an approved course of driver education or has a certificate showing that such a course is not taught at the school regularly attended by the applicant. Persons 18 years of age or older may qualify for an Operator's License without taking driver education. Persons 15 years of age or older may be licensed to operate a 5-brake horsepower motor scooter.

The applicant, with the necessary birth certificate, goes to any examining office of the DPS. If he wishes to take the driving portion of the examination, he must provide a vehicle in which to be tested. After January 1, 1968, applicants for the motorcycle license must provide, in addition to the motorcycle, a car and a licensed driver to convey the License Examiner during the road test.

Upon arriving at the Examining Office, the applicant will fill in necessary forms and be given a vision test and a written test. If he completes

Cattle Feeding Draws Wide Interest

BEEVILLE -- Research in cattle feeding underway at the Coastal Bend Experiment Station near here may provide additional help for Texas commercial cattle feeders.

With 15 percent more cattle and calves on feed for slaughter markets in Texas on August 1 than for the comparable period a year ago, increased interest is being shown in feedlot performance.

Experiment Station Superintendent Ed Neal and his staff explained some highlights of a 120-day roughage-concentrate drylot feeding test involving 150 cross-bred steers during a recent beef cattle open house at the station. The researchers reviewed results of the first 84 days of the tests, and visitors inspected steers on the various finishing rations.

Thirty of the crossbred steers are on an all-concentrate ration. Groups of 10 steers each are being fed five levels of ground Coastal bermuda hay and cottonseed hulls, at the rates of 10, 20, 30, 50 and 70 percent. Other lots of steers are receiving 2 percent oyster shell and limestone, respectively, with their milo and guar meal rations.

Highest average daily gains were recorded by steers receiving the 50 percent ground Coastal ration, with 4.08 pounds each. Next highest gainers were steers getting 30 percent Coastal hay, with an average daily gain of 3.94 pounds. They were followed by steers being fed a 50 percent ration of cottonseed hulls, which gained 3.89 pounds each.

"All of the rations were formulated to contain 12 percent crude protein, 1 percent bone meal, .5 percent ammonium chloride and 4.4 mg. of antibiotic and 1,000 international units of Vitamin A per pound of mixed feed," explained B. E. Conrad, assistant agronomist and animal husbandman at the station.

Average daily feed intake also was highest at the 50 percent Coastal and cottonseed hull levels, the researcher pointed out. This intake decreased slightly at the 70 percent level, and still, more at the 30 percent level.

On the Coastal ration, steers receiving 10 percent of the grass hay had an average daily gain of 3.53 pounds; 20 percent, 3.67 pounds; 70 percent, 3.38. Steers on the cottonseed hull rations had an average daily gain as follows: Ten percent hulls, 3.74 pounds; 20 percent, 3.67; 30 percent, 3.72; and 70 percent, 3.74.

Two steers on the all-concentrate ration developed foundering problems. Average daily gains for the two groups receiving this ration were 2.31 pounds and 2.60 pounds per day, respectively.

Two groups of steers receiving the 2 percent oyster shell ration recorded average daily gain of 2.26 pounds and 2.91 pounds, respectively; while steers getting the 2 percent limestone ration had an average daily gain of 2.43 and 2.2 pounds, respectively. All rations were formulated to contain 12 percent protein, 1.5 percent bone meal, .5 percent ammonium chloride, .44 percent salt and 3.3 mg. of antibiotic and 1288 international units of Vitamin A per pound of mixed feed.

Neal and Conrad also reported that grazing trials involving Coastal bermuda and Klein-grass were initiated last April 27. Because of extreme drought conditions, the summer grazing trials were terminated after 63 days on June 30, however. Twenty steers pastured on the Coastal averaged .64 pounds daily gain, while 12 steers on the Kleingrass recorded an average daily gain of 2.39 pounds.

"It looks like ranchers need both Kleingrass and Coastal to do the job. And good management, of course, is essential to the success of a grazing program," Superintendent Neal emphasized.

Vows Read in Morton Saturday, August 19

Miss Sarah Ann Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Jones, Enochs, and Carl D. Jones, son of Mrs. William Shirley, La Salle, Ill., recently exchanged vows in the Morton Church of Christ. The mid-afternoon ceremony was held Saturday, August 19, with the Rev. Leon Kessler, Minister of the Enochs Church of Christ, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a semi-fitted A line gown designed with a boat neck and three-quarter length lace sleeves, the gown's train fell from a lace yoke. She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations encircling an orchid.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Bob Stout, Clovis, and bridesmaid were Linda Betts, Millansand, N.M., and Nelda Seagler, Lubbock. The attendants wore street length empire dresses of mint green with matching pill box hats.

Bill Jones served his brother as best man and groomsmen were Roger and Wedell Jones, brothers of the bride.

Flower girl was Roselyn Shields, niece of the bride. Candlelighters were Lynn and Monty Jones, nephews of the bride. Kennen Shields, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Ushers were Bonnie Archeletta and Chris, Sandaval, Fort Sumner.

Mrs. Bob Stout was soloist. She sang "Whether Thou Goest" and "Wedding Prayer."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the activity building of Morton. Members of the reception party were Glenda Hopper, and Linda Gamble, Fort Sumner. Registering the guests were Mrs. Aliene Jones, sister-in-law of the bride.

The table was covered with a white lace cloth, centered by a bouquet of white daisies and green foliage, a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom completed the arrangement.

The bride chose a two piece floral suit for traveling. She added white accessories and wore an orchid corsage to complete her ensemble. After a short wedding trip the couple will reside at Whittarrel where the bride will teach in the school system and the groom will attend South Plains College.

The bride is a graduate of Bula High School and a summer graduate of E.N.M.U., Portales. The groom is a graduate of Fort Sumner High School and has served four years in the armed forces.

Out of town guests who attended the wedding included

Mrs. M. Jones, grandmother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Woodson Campbell, Mississippi aunt and uncle of the groom.

The rehearsal party was held at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jones.

Top ranking girl in the state will receive a 34-piece set of silverware for six in a walnut chest. The winning boy will get a handsome wrist watch, appropriately engraved. The two best speakers in county competition will each receive a 4-H medal.

COLLEGE STATION -- Eating six meals a day and still maintaining weight may be an idea difficult for some weight watchers to "digest," but research reports indicate the amount and kind of food consumed, not how many meals per day is the deciding factor.

Frances Reasonover, Extension foods and nutrition specialist, Texas A&M University, said that Agricultural Research Service nutritionists have found that as long as weight-watchers control the amount and kind of food they eat, it doesn't matter whether they eat two light meals and a heavy meal, three meals of equal size or even six meals a day spaced through the waking hours.

The 20-day experiments included 15 coed volunteers, in groups of five, eating meals in three routines. Mealtimes for two groups came at 7:15 a.m., 12:15 p.m. and 5:15 p.m., with one-fourth of the diet served at breakfast, one fourth at lunch and the remainder at dinner for the first group and equal portions at each meal for the second group. The third group was given six equal but smaller meals at 7:15 and 9:45 a.m. and 12:15, 2:45, 1:15 and 7:45 p.m.

The total daily food intake was the same for all routines. Meals consisted of muffins baked from a special batter containing nutrients in specific proportions. The muffins were supplemented with orange juice, butter and jelly.

The nutritionists found that regardless of eating routines, the volunteers used protein, fat, minerals and vitamins to essentially the same extent.

Gray wool is used for an ensemble of hip line coat over the dress. Blue fox is used on the hem line of the coat.

4-H CLUB NEWS

SPECIAL - Today's youth are sometimes referred to as the "turned on" generation. They turn on televisions, radios, record players, light switches and push buttons for electronic devices.

But they also are a vocal generation. The vocal generation includes hundreds of 4-H youth throughout the state who make a special effort to become good public speakers.

The 4-H Public Speaking program supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service offers excellent materials and coaching. The 4-H'ers in classrooms, at meetings, on radio and television programs use public speaking training to good advantage.

Helpful hints on how to make a convincing speech are given in a 4-H brochure published by the program sponsor, Pure Oil Company, A Division of Union Oil Company of California.

Here are a few tips: (1) Be rested and eat sparingly before your appearance. (2) If nervous, breath deeply several times just before you are introduced. (3) Smile, stand quietly, gesture naturally or not at all. (4) Be sure you understand your subject thoroughly. (5) Talk to the audience as though you were talking to a single individual. (6) Don't read your speech; memorize or use a brief outline. (7) Never talk about stopping. Stop. (8) Close with the idea you want remembered longest.

During the National 4-H Club Congress the last week in November, two 1967 national public speaking award winners will be named. The pair will be a young

Headgear Standard For Motorcycle Operators

AUSTIN --The Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., reported today that protective headgear standards for motorcycle operators and passengers have been established.

The DPS is currently testing headgear and issuing approval certificates to helmets meeting the prescribed standards. The Department was delegated the responsibility of establishing standards by the last Legislature. Enforcement of the law becomes the duty of all police agencies.

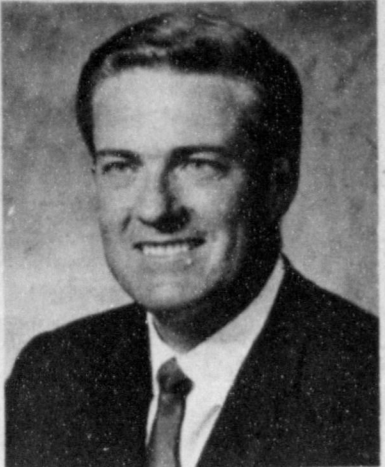

Effective January 1, 1968, all motorcycle operators and passengers will be required to wear approved protective headgear whenever riding a motorcycle. The law provides that any person convicted of riding a motorcycle without protective headgear may be fined not less than $10 nor more than $50.

Garrison cautioned parents and youngsters against rushing out and buying one of the cheaper helmets appearing on the market at the present time until it is certain that the helmet will receive safety approval.

"These purchasers are looking for an opportunity to both comply with the law and to save money," Garrison said, "But many of these helmets may fail to meet the minimum standards and will not provide for the safety of the wearer. These will have to be discarded and new helmets purchased."

"The Department will have a list of approved helmets available about October 1. This list will be furnished to all police agencies, to headgear wholesalers and retailers, and to news agencies. The list will be updated as needed to include any headgear which is granted approval.

Hicks Chapel Church Slates Dedication

Rev. Jerrel D. Gaddy, pastor of the Cockrell Hill Baptist Church, Dallas, will preach the dedication service at Hicks Chapel Baptist Church, Sunday, September 24. The day-long program will begin at 10 a.m. with morning devotion conducted by Sunday School superintendent Donnie Carpenter.

Sunday school will be followed by the morning song service under direction of Deann Carpenter, music director with Floyd and Florene Montgomery presenting special music.

The noon meal will be served at the church with afternoon services starting at 2 p.m. The Montgomerys will again sing special numbers.

Recognition of members of longest standing and newest members will be made and former pastors will also be recognized.

Rev. Gaddy will deliver the afternoon sermon before the service recesses at 3:30 p.m. for visiting and singing.

At 5:30 p.m., the evening services are slated to begin with the devotion period, training Union, special music and the program for the day will conclude with a sermon delivered by Rev. Leon Perry.

LUBBOCK -- Ten spray planes took to the air on Tuesday, September 5 for the first application of insecticides in the fourth year of the highly successful Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program being coordinated by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

According to Ed Dean, PGC director of field service, the first application this year covered about 75,000 weevil-infested acres in eight counties, less than half the acreage it was necessary to spray at the beginning of last year's operations and down from almost 300,000 acres infested at the beginning of the program in 1964.

"We are greatly encouraged by the fact that weevils have been found in only 75,000 acres, but we have to keep in mind that in -season migration could increase this acreage at a later date," Dean said.

Counties in the weevil control zone are Briscoe, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hall, Kent and Motley.

In addition to the reduced acreage, Dean reports that weevil infestations this year are much lighter than last, with very few fields exceeding 15 percent. This compares with from 90 to 95 percent infestations in the Aspermont area outside the control zone.

The first three applications are scheduled at three to five day intervals and are designed to break the weevil's reproductive cycle. These will be followed by applications from 10 to 14 days apart to prevent weevils that may not be killed earlier from entering the diapause stage and going into hibernation.

On all except a small acreage ultra low volume malathion is the chemical being used again this year, at the rate of 12 ounces per acre for the first three applications and 16 ounces per acre thereafter.

For the first time this year a small area of about 4,500 acres will be sprayed at the same rate on the same schedule with guthion as a test of that chemical's effectiveness. Guthion was only recently approved for use in low volume form, and small scale tests have indicated it may be even more effective than malathion as a weevil control agent.

Entertainment, three speakers and a five-man panel to convey information important to the successful operation of a cotton gin, and the election of nine directors will take up most of Saturday, September 9 when the Plains Ginners Association holds its annual meeting at the Lubbock Country Club.

The meeting will begin at 9 a.m. and continue until about 2:30 p.m. according to Bill Thompson of Shallowater, president of the association.

In addition to activities scheduled for September 9, a golf tournament for ginners and allied industry people will be held on Friday, September 8, with tee-off times from 10 a.m. until noon.

Featured speaker for the occasion will be Tony Price, Executive Vice President of the Texas Cotton Ginners Association, Dallas. He will bring the group up to date on latest labor and air pollution regulations as they apply to the ginning industry.

The other two speakers are Pete Brown, Lubbock field representative for the National Cotton Council, and President Thompson. Thompson will give the annual report and Brown will speak on the ginner's part in handling the $1 per bale collections under the new Cotton Producers Institute program.

The five panel members, selected for their respective knowledge of particular phases of the cotton industry from harvesting through spinning, will each speak for about 10 minutes, after which there will be a question and answer period with audience participation.

Subjects, and the panel member to speak on each are:

Harvesting - Earl Sears, sales manager for Hesston Manufacturing Company, Hesston, Kansas;

Block Ginning - Carl Cox, director of the Texas Cotton Research Committee, Dallas; Ginning - Roy Baker, now of Mesilla Park, N.M. who has been named director of the new ginning laboratory being built at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock;

Classing - S.C. Rademaker, USDA's Cotton Classing Division director, Washington, D.C., and Spinning - Charles Wilson, director of research at the Textile Research Laboratory, Texas Tech.

Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, who will serve as chairman for the panel, will open the discussion with a statement on the overall cotton situation and cotton needs in the Plains area.

Bernie Howell and his Trilions will furnish music for the affair, and door prizes, including six pairs of Tech football and eight pairs of season basketball tickets, will be given.

Lunch will be served at noon, with Plains Cotton Growers, Lamesa Cotton Oil Mill, Leveland Vegetable Oil Co., Lubbock Cotton Oil Mill, Paymaster Oil Mill and Plains Cooperative Oil Mill as hosts.

The golf tournament is an added attraction this year and offers the opportunity for winning one of four trophies. Entry fee is $2 plus $5 greens fee for those who are not members of Lubbock Country Club.

The September 1 estimate of the 1967 High Plains cotton crop jointly compiled by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., came out at 1,175,000 bales, up only 1,500 from the August estimate. Standing acreage in the estimate declined from 1,250,000 on August 1 to 1,238,000.

Estimates were increased by from 500 to 2,000 bales in Bailey, Crosby, Floyd, Castro and Hale counties for a combined increase of 6,500 bales. But these increases were almost cancelled out by Howard County, where lack of moisture to advance early prospects dropped the estimate down to 10,000 bales, one-third below the August 1 guess of 15,000.

Where to Obtain SS Information

Almost daily, some people in a given area wonder where to get reliable information about Social Security. Many talk with a friend or acquaintance and are not fully satisfied that they have all of the correct information needed to make a major decision. Retire now or later? Sign up for Medicare at or just before age 65?

John G. Hutton, District Manager of the Lubbock Social Security Office, suggests the place to get reliable and correct information about social security is at the social security office or from a representative of that office when he is in your community. People who rely on unofficial advice may sometimes be led astray by advice that can cause loss of benefits or other decisions unfavorable to the individual.

"Many explanatory pamphlets are free at the social security office," Hutton says, "or you may talk with a person fully trained on the subject of social security." Groups or clubs desiring a program on social security should get in touch with SSA Representative at Muleshoe Courthouse on August 7, 14, 21, 28 or District Office in Lubbock.
