Youth Week Again Planned In Haskell

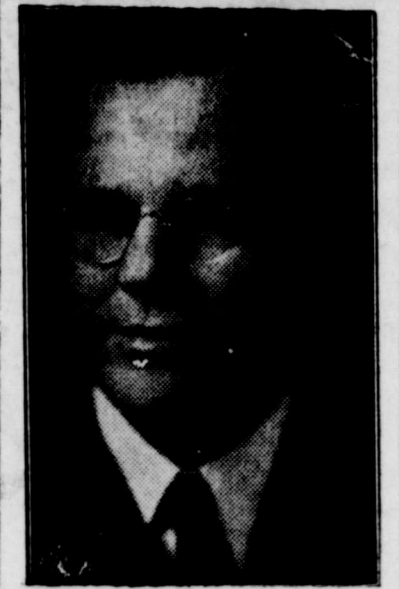

Because of the success of last year's observance, "Youth Week" will be staged in Haskell again this year from April 14 through April 20. Wanda Dulaney and Tom Clifton, co-chairmen for the 1946 activities, have designated Kenneth Tooley and Catherine Davis to be their successors with Nancy Ratliff as secretary and Eddie Bess Fouts as treasurer. Plans for this second observance include a Gay Nineties Show, "My Album of Memories" to be presented by a cast of 61 business men and women and high school students on April 14. Immediately following this presentation a contest will be held to determine the Most Beautiful Girl in Central West Texas, for which invitations have been mailed to 58 towns inviting them to send representatives. The winner will be given an expense-paid trip to the Ice Capades in Fort Worth. On Wednesday, April 16, a Hawaiian Feast will be given in all the atmosphere of a tropical isle. The food will be served in island fashion, with beautiful girls, Hawaiian music, flowers, palm trees and a roast pig! Friday night's activity is to be a gay and colorful Costume Ball with $10 first prize for the best costume, $6.00 for the second and $4.00 for the third. As was the termination of last year's observance, the week will end with the Youth Activity Service on April 20 for which all of the churches are invited to unite. The program will be held by candlelight with the traditional All Boys Choir from Haskell, and the remainder of the service to be presented by young people from surrounding towns. The activities of "Youth Week" will be planned by the young people, assisted in the execution of their plans by the men and women of Haskell. All four activities are planned for every age group to participate, and, as was obvious last year, the whole town joins in the celebration.

Dr. Vredvee, in presenting the viewpoint of the school administrator, declared he had little sympathy with the people who use the term, "juvenile delinquency", so freely, and said he was very much concerned with the "adult delinquency" which has too long been the underlying cause of juvenile delinquency which may happen to exist. Printing out the underlying motives that guide youth of high school age, he cited their desire to "belong to something" and the development of their social consciousness into a pattern which is likely to endure for life.

Native of India Here To Study Soil Conservation

The California Creek Soil Conservation District had distinguished visitor Sunday, February 23, in the person of M. K. Shirole who is with the Agricultural Service of Bombay, India. Shirole plans a six months to a year visit in this country to study soil and moisture conservation activities as carried on from the sub-humid to the arid regions. These are comparable to conditions in the area of India for which he is responsible. Terracing, soil building legume crops, and other conservation practices were shown to Shirole by Soil Conservation Service technicians on the Hiram Olson farm east of Stamford and the use of these were explained by Olson. Shirole stated that the average size of farms in India is 4.5 acres and that the majority of the land has been in cultivation 4000 years. The average annual rainfall varies from 3 1/2 to 450 inches. Twenty five per cent of the cultivated land is under irrigation. Eighty per cent of the cultivated land is planted to grain crops and 64 per cent is in grain sorghums. The grain sorghum is used to make flour for bread with the stalks being utilized as feed for livestock. According to Shirole there is a great need for soil improving practices since everything that is produced by the land is consumed and has been for many years. The density of the population demands that all edible crops be utilized. Some legume crops are grown such as alfalfa, peas, beans, and pigeon peas. At the present time much of his country is terraced. These terraces were run with a three foot fall between them and are approximately three feet high with ten to twelve foot base. They may be as much as thirteen miles long. Considerable damage is received by these terraces during the monsoon season each year.

National Executive of Camp Fire Girls to Visit This City

Miss Edith M. Kempthorne, National Field Adviser for Camp Fire Girls, will be in Haskell on March 7, according to an announcement made this week by Mayor John A. Couch, vice president of the Camp Fire Girls organization in this city. Miss Kempthorne will discuss the purpose of the Edith M. Kempthorne Extension Fund which will be augmented during the anniversary celebration in March, when every Camp Fire member will contribute to the fund a penny for each year of her life. Miss Kempthorne has said: "The extension of the Camp Fire program and the promotion of global goodwill and friendship have always been important objectives of our organization. These can be accomplished in part by the Extension Fund which provides for training courses for more leaders, increased program helps and additional material for members. It is a great joy to me to see the nation and worldwide interest in the program of our organization, for Camp Fire is my life's work."

A native of New Zealand, Miss Kempthorne received her early education there, and later was graduated from the Royal Academy of Music in London. After giving up a promising career as a concert pianist, her pioneer spirit took her to Alaska, where she became interested in youth activities. After forming Camp Fire groups in Juneau, Alaska, and conducting the first girl's camp at Sitka, she was invited to join the national organization in 1915 by one of the founders and Camp Fire's first president, Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick. For more than 30 years she has initiated and developed hundreds of activities for Camp Fire Girls, and has also written many of their ceremonials.

Trice Hatchery Has Been Purina Dealer For Ten Years

The Trice Hatchery, Haskell, marks its tenth anniversary as a dealer for the Ralston Purina Co. on March 1. Founded in 1929 by W. P. Trice, the hatchery was originally operated in connection with the Porter, White and Trice feed business. This firm was sold in 1932, and the Trice Hatchery moved to a new location. In 1937 the hatchery became a dealer for the Ralston Purina Company in order to supply farmers and feeders of this area with the products bearing the familiar Checkerboard label. Ralston Purina products brought to this area by the Trice Hatchery are the result of an exhaustive research program conducted in laboratories and on farms, including Ralston Purina's 733-acre Research Farm at Gray Summit, Mo. Through its many years of leadership in nutritional research, Ralston Purina has been responsible for many of the advances in the science of feeding which have helped to bring about the tremendous increase in the production of milk, meat, and eggs, per animal unit, over the years since the company was founded.

Veterans' News

Q. Before his death, my husband received a pension from the Veterans Administration. Am I entitled to this pension now that he has passed away?

A. You may apply for a widow's pension. Your eligibility will be determined on application.

Q. My son has been totally disabled for the past five months. I would like to know if he must pay his National Service Life Insurance premiums or is a waiver on these premiums granted automatically?

A. No automatic waiver of premiums can be granted. A veteran must be totally disabled for six months before he is entitled to apply for a waiver of premiums. He may also file claim for refund of those premiums paid from the date on which the waiver was made effective. A beneficiary of an insured veteran likewise is entitled to file a claim for a refund if the insured had been totally disabled for six months or more before his death.

Q. If a veteran and his wife are separated and she receives a portion of his compensation, would she be entitled to widow's pension at his death?

A. A widow may be eligible to full widow's pension even though there was a separation during the veteran's lifetime. If she desires a pension or compensation, she should make application to Veterans Administration.

Q. Is it true that certain types of souvenir weapons must be registered with the Treasury Department?

A. Yes. The Treasury Department states that veterans must register: Any weapon capable of firing more than one shot with one continuous pull of the trigger. A shotgun or rifle having a barrel length of less than 18 inches except .22 or smaller caliber rifles or .22 caliber rifles of less than 16 inches in barrel length. Any other weapon, except a pistol or revolver, from which a shot may be discharged by an explosive, if such weapon is capable of being concealed on the person. A muffler or silencer for any firearm. A pistol with an accompanying shoulder stock.

Failure to register firearms according to the law lays the veteran open to prosecution and severe penalties.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like aches and nervous strains of functional periodic distress. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "blues" to come. Started 2 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try it!

The Church of Christ is a divine institution built by Jesus Christ upon the foundation truth that He is the Christ, the Son of God. The Plan of Salvation was revealed through the New Testament writer by the Holy Spirit and requires people to hear the gospel, believe, repent of every sin, confess Jesus Christ as Lord and be baptized for the remission of sins. Thus one becomes a Christian and must live faithful to the instructions of the New Testament.

Mrs. Ashley Hosts Sewing Club

The Sunshine Sewing Club held their last meeting in the home of Mrs. Claud Ashley. A short business meeting was held and gifts were given to all members from their secret pals. The members quilted a quilt for Mrs. Ashley. A birthday cake was presented to Lula Smith and a delicious covered dish luncheon was served to: Mesdames Nerva Oates, Mary Fouts, Wilma Brown, Lela Lowe, Hazel Tyler, Lottie Cook, Freddie Ballard, Delia Ash-

Determined to make Texas a national bulwark against invasion of the foot and mouth disease from across the Rio Grande, Gov. Beauford Jester's first days in office saw him call for, and receive, emergency action by the state legislature. When Gov. Jester signed an emergency appropriation bill he set in motion a program engaging full resources of all available state agencies, and supported by all allied interests. Realizing that such a program required full support from the national government, Gov. Jester immediately laid the problem before authorities in Washington, including President Truman, with an urgent request for quick action intended to forestall an epidemic which would result in "an economic loss of millions of dollars if this disease gains a foothold in Texas." Without waiting for assistance from Washington, all Texas agencies have been thrown into the critical fight against the threat of disaster to the nation's livestock industry. Pictured above with Gov. Jester (seated) when he signed the bill are, left to right: Rep. O. E. Cannon, Corpus Christi; Rep. S. J. Isaacks, El Paso; Sen. James E. Taylor, Kerens; Sen. Jimmy Phillips, Angleton; Rep. Tom Martin, Fredericksburg; and Roy Loventhal, chairman, State Livestock Sanitary Commission.

Smart Rooms Wear Stripes

FASHIONABLY important and drawing special recognition in today's scheme of decoration is wall paper. Whether you are furnishing a new home or redecorating an old one, one of the cleverest ways to start out is to settle the wall problem. Once this has been decided, it is smart to coordinate the rest of your furnishing plans to the background the walls provide. For example, choose a stripe in a wide, rich green and white, to accent the mood of a living room. This type of wall paper furnishes a dramatic background for the classic simplicity of the decor. There are variations on the stripe theme—the width of the stripes should keynote the quality or informality of the scheme. Striped paper can be used in a myriad of ways—use it on plain papered walls, either wall of the room, or on all walls. Stripes can be used to coordinate with the paper. There are so many styles available today, in all sizes and colors that it is possible to choose which will contribute to your room's charm and life.

SUNDAY SLEEPER

There is little justification for the habitual Sunday morning sleeper. Man's creation was such that it is necessary for him to gain his strength and encouragement for the battles of life from the influence of the church and the teachings of Jesus.

Jesus said that "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God."

A comfortable bed on Sunday morning with radio, cigars and a newspaper, wonderful as they are, cannot tone up and sweeten a life like an hour of worship in the church of your choice. You need something luxuries cannot give.

There is a certain reassurance that comes from the toll of the church bell and singing of the choir. Be a worshiper in the pew every Sunday. You need the church. The church needs you. You'll find her doors ajar.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministers are molding religious character. State leaders today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then let us with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good.

Agent Gives Hints For Keeping Fresh Vegetables

Root vegetables such as carrots, turnips, beets and radishes will be fresher and have more nutritive value if their leaves or tops are trimmed off before they are stored in home refrigerators.

Louise Newman, county home demonstration agent, advises to cut off these leafy tops before storing the vegetables in your refrigerator. The tops draw moisture and nutrients from the vegetables, as well as take up a lot of space in storage containers.

While the vegetable is growing the leaves manufacture sugar, starch, protein, and other nutrients and pass them on to the roots for storage. When the vegetable is harvested, the process works the other way. The leaves draw on the roots for moisture and nourishment to keep alive. So for fresher and better root vegetables, get those tops off when you bring them in. Root vegetables will keep better in the refrigerator than in an open vegetable bin. Warm air of the kitchen will soon cause the products to dry and wilt away, Miss Newman declared.

Olin Ashley of Haskell is on the honor roll at McMurry college, Abilene, according to a recent announcement by Dr. H. S. Von Roder, registrar of the college. Only the highest 12 per cent of the student body, those with a scholastic average of 90 and above, were on the honor roll.

Grasses Helping To Solve Soil Erosion Problem

Texas is literally being washed away, and eventually depleted grasses must be replenished to save the land, a University of Texas scientist says.

Dr. W. G. Whaley, director of a new project tentatively known as the Plant Research Institute, said that a study of grasses of Texas will be undertaken by the Institute after other projects are well under way. An aerial view of Texas shows the tremendous losses of soil, and the need for conservation of grasses, he said.

The Institute is an enlargement of the Cotton Investigation and Research, which is supported by a grant from the Clayton Research Foundation.

The new Institute will help the farmers of Texas grow bigger and better crops, and will have a program of fundamental developmental studies, he said. A working nucleus will be material and equipment used since 1935 in research on cotton.

Corn will be the first crop for experimentation in the expanded program, and from there the Institute will progress to other crop plants important to Texas.

"We plan to take plants of known hereditary constitution and examine their development morphologically and physiologically, under different environmental conditions," Dr. Whaley said. "In this way we contribute to basic knowledge of plant development."

Competition Keen In HD Club Kitchen Contest

Competition was so close in the judging of the kitchen improvement contest sponsored by the Haskell County Home Demonstration Council that a difference of only one point in the final score determined the first and second-place winners.

Mrs. Troy Ash, kitchen demonstrator for the Haskell County Home Demonstration Club in 1946 won first place and a prize of $5.00 with a score of 95 points while Mrs. A. M. Bird of Center Point Home Demonstration Club with a total score of 94 points received $3.00 for second place.

Mrs. R. V. Hagle of the Blue Bonnet Club received $2.00 for third place.

Judges making the tour on February 18 to determine the winners were Mrs. Ollie B. Vernon, president of Lucky Home Demonstration Club, Mrs. Guy Marshall, chairman of the county home demonstration council in 1946, and Mrs. John L. Grindstaff, president of the O'Brien Home Demonstration Club.

Social Security Plans Extension For All Workers

Extension of coverage under old-age and survivors insurance to all gainfully employed workers is one of the recommendations of the Social Security Board in its eleventh and last annual report, Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration, said today.

In July of 1946 the Board was abolished, its functions transferred to the Federal Security Agency, and its organization designated as the Social Security Administration. The current report, required of the Board under the Social Security Act, is for the fiscal year 1945-46, and was submitted to Congress February 11.

Mr. Fisher pointed out that the recommendation for extension was based upon ten years of administrative experience, which had demonstrated the feasibility of extension of coverage to the groups now without the protection of the program. Persons not at present able to earn protection under the program include those employed in agriculture, domestic service, non-profit organizations and Government service, and those who are self-employed.

In addition to protecting the groups not now covered, the extension of the program would reduce the number of persons who lose their rights to benefits by shifting in and out of covered employment, he added.

Another recommendation of the board in the report calls for payment of benefits to insured workers during periods of permanent total disability, through expansion of the present Federal Government program of the old-age and survivors insurance. In making this recommendation for the inclusion of disability insurance, the Board said that the wage loss suffered by permanently disabled workers and their families probably runs from $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 a year.

A third major recommendation calls for changes in the method by which old-age and survivors insurance benefits are figured to increase the amount of benefits, particularly for low-paid workers. The general level of benefits should be raised, the report states largely because of increased living costs.

FARM FACTS

WORTH KNOWING

Q. How much head room is required for broilers raised in batteries?

A. Head room depends, of course, upon the age of the chick. We recommend 11 inches of head room for starting chicks and 14 inches for chicks from six to 12 weeks of age. Broilers should not be left in batteries after they reach 12 weeks.

Q. What is the best age to vaccinate pigs against cholera?

A. Veterinarians are favoring more and more the early vaccination of pigs by the double treatment method. At the Research Farm of the Ralston Purina Company, results on 25,000 pigs show that vaccination at six weeks of age has given complete life-time protection. The following are advantages of vaccination of younger pigs:

1. Greater freedom from temporary adverse effects of vaccination.
2. Smaller quantities of serum and virus required.
3. Smaller animals more convenient to handle.

Q. How often should dairy cows freshen?

A. For maximum production, dairy cows should be bred to freshen at approximately the same time each year. If your cow freshens in March this year, she should be bred in June so that she'll freshen again next March.

Q. What causes my hens to eat their eggs, and how can I break them of this habit?

A. The cause is unknown, but the problem is probably created by an egg being accidentally broken, the hen tasting it and developing a craving for eggs. To overcome this problem we recommend the following to keep the eggs from being broken:

1. Feeding adequate oyster shell and vitamin D in the ration to overcome thin-shelled eggs.
2. Keeping the nests well littered so the hens can't break the eggs.
3. Gathering the eggs at least three times a day.
4. Darkening the nests.
5. Clipping the beaks of egg-eating hens.

RETURNS FROM DALLAS

Lois Lemmon returned Friday from Dallas where she was the patient of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schler and a patient in a clinic there.

Representation

All Americans had reason to be jubilant on August 2. Not because an unruly monarch had abdicated. On that day the 78th Congress adjourned, and its members would soon sweep through the pre-election countryside—reporting to the "constituency."

Our founding fathers who decried the making of laws "without representation," could have complimented our wartime Congress. Serving through a most trying period at the very beginning of our reconstruction, after courageously displaying a people's will through the most debilitating war in our history, the 78th Congress faced all manner of complicated problems.

Deliberate. That's a word our Congress properly exemplifies. We want our legislators to be studious and careful in preparation of laws, in this government of the people. Only in this way may we have the best representation. Remember that when you hear the alarm: "Why doesn't Congress do something?"

No Rubber Stamp Remember too that political expediency makes deliberation necessary, as Congress attempts to work out a pattern of harmony with other departments. If some things were bungled by the 78th Congress, in many instances the bungling may be chalked up to other branches of government. But this Congress did demonstrate that it was no "rubber stamp" Congress, and it made parliamentary history in this respect.

It was a people's Congress. It took definite steps in the direction of a balanced budget, for many legislators put themselves on record in an attempt to preserve the integrity of the nation's finances. No budget legislation was passed, but much was done to prepare ground work for future budget-balancing legislation.

SIDELIGHTS

By GEORGE MAHON

I was rather pleased to read in a Texas newspaper today that George Mahon is one of the hardest working men in Washington these days. I don't want to enter into a controversy with the press and cannot therefore deny the statement.

Speaking of denials, we were having a hot argument in the Joint Senate-House Budget Committee the other day when Congressman Knutson, a blustery Republican leader, shouted that if the Republicans didn't do so-and-so they could be rightfully accused of talking through their hats for the last ten years.

My main work lately has been in connection with the effort of Congress to slash the budget and reduce Government spending, an essential requirement for our national well being. As a member of the Joint Senate-House Committee to do the spade work on the job and report to Congress, I have attended all the meetings. At the final meeting last Friday, I voted against the 6 billion dollar cut which was proposed and approved by the Committee. I made a speech in opposition to the action of the Committee, asserting that the Republican members had concealed from the Congress and from the American people the facts and figures as to just where the cuts were to be made. I said that the report would be meaningless and ineffective unless backed up with an itemized list of the major cuts.

Senator Taft agreed with me on this point and to demonstrate his good faith, he himself gave some specific figures as to where he would support certain reductions, but the figures were inadequate and inconclusive. As to the Armed Forces, he thought a cut of one billion dollars would be in order. My thought is that some cut in military appropriations can safely be made, but not that much. Cuts in the military should be made in civilian personnel and in Army construction, but not in such matters as military personnel, research and development, and aviation.

At any rate, it is estimated by those best acquainted with the facts that if the 6 billion dollar cut actually goes into effect, the Army and Navy will be decidedly reduced, the Federal road program will be curtailed, the school lunch program for next year will be abolished, the administrative expense of the Veterans Administration will be reduced, by 200 million dollars, authorization of REA loans to local Co-Ops will be reduced by more than 125 million dollars, the Soil Conservation Service will be pared down, support prices for agricultural crops will be jeopardized.

The Department of Agriculture on a percentage basis would take the most drastic cut of any agency. I have said to my colleagues here that Government economy was in the interest of Agriculture but that it was poor economy to try to balance the budget out of the hide of the farmer, and I could not go along with the Republican sponsored plan for Agriculture.

In the meeting last Friday, 102 members of the House and Senate were permitted to participate. We made a motion to permit members of the press to listen to the proceedings so that a full report could be given to the people. The motion was voted down. A motion was made that 3 billion dollars of the 6 billion dollar expenditure reduction be applied on the public debt. This motion was likewise voted down. Senator Barkley, on behalf of three Members of the Senate, and Cannon, Doughton and myself of the House, offered a motion that no income tax reduction be considered by Congress until we had passed the major appropriation bills through the House and had actually demonstrated that the proposed savings would be made. This motion was likewise rejected.

The whole controversy has now gone to the floor of the House and Senate. It will be confusing to try to follow this controversy. But I hope that many needed economies will be made and Government spending reduced, without the impairment of essential Government operations. Everybody wants to cut expenses and reduce taxes. The argument comes over the extent of the cuts and where they are to be made. The Bureau of the Budget has recommended the spending of 37.1 billion dollars next year, but Congress thinks that's too much and we feel the people agree.

One day last week General Omar Bradley came down and said he needed 2 billion dollars in additional funds for the Veterans Administration. We are going to provide part of the money now and more later when he needs it. The OPA has 14,000 employees and plans to spend 28 million dollars for operating expenses between now and July 1st. But we are asking Congress to reduce this expenditure by one-half, recapturing some of the funds appropriated for OPA before the President lifted most controls last November.

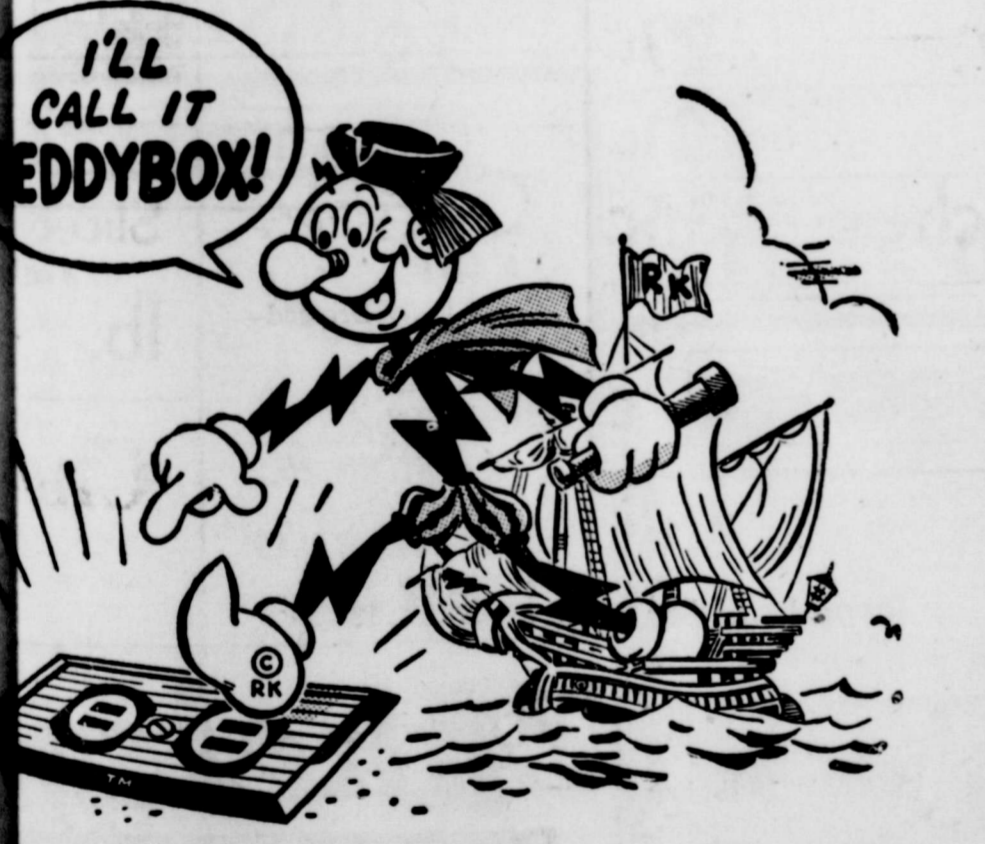

One of the Members of our Committee said he got a letter from a man in his District in Missouri a few days ago which began like this, "I'm so mad at the OPA that I am shouting to my stenographer as I dictate this letter."

As this session of Congress gets under way, clashes between Democrats and Republicans become more pronounced, but this is understandable because we live in a Country where men in and out of public life are permitted to have different opinions and freely express them. This is unlike Russia where Joe Stalin in his District recently was elected by a vote of 110,691 to nothing.

W. G. Ammons Is Honored on 70th Birthday

On February 14th W. G. Ammons had the pleasure of having all his children home to celebrate his 70th birthday.

They gathered in the home unexpectedly Friday night, his children from Pampa, Texas, bringing the huge 28x8 inch birthday cake weighing 28 pounds. It was white with beautiful red rosebuds and green leaves as the trimming, and lettered "Happy Birthday, Dad."

Mrs. E. G. Graham had the pleasure of presenting the cake to her father. She entered the room carrying the cake while the other children and their families gathered in the room. The cake was not cut until the next day when the main birthday dinner was given in the home of his oldest child, Mrs. E. G. Graham.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ammons of Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ammons and William G., Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ammons and two children, Derry and Dianne, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ammons, Mr. and
