Dict Favors Sheriff in Suit

Dict favoring Sheriff Mart entered in District court today, in which the Haskell officer was defended by C. S. Gay of this city. The suit was called for trial in District Court Thursday afternoon by the plaintiff represented by Judge Ben Charles Chapman and Anderson of Wichita Falls. Judge P. R. Ratliff of Haskell presided for the defendant. The hearing testimony in the case was submitted to the court's attention and the court's decision was given in the afternoon by Judge Chapman on special issues and the jury. The jury found in favor of the plaintiff, C. S. Gay failed to establish the extent of malice, but as an essential element of action for malicious prosecution the court further found that the plaintiff had no damages, and was liable for all court costs in the suit, in view of the answer to the special issues.

Sagerton School Is Fully Affiliated

Rumors have been prevalent recently to the effect that Sagerton School is not an affiliated high school. Mrs. Iva Palmer, County Superintendent, said this week and explained that the local board of trustees had asked her to make the necessary correction. Sagerton is a fully accredited rural aid school under the supervision of the State Department of Education, and according to the latest bulletin of regulations, standard and activities published by the State Department, Sagerton school is fully affiliated in all basic subjects and has a variety of electives which are affiliated. The board asked Mrs. Palmer to say further that ex-students of that school are now holding efficiently responsible positions in the business world. In April of 1946 the Flat Top District was grouped with Sagerton Independent School District making it Sagerton Rural High School District No. 53, and this action has not raised taxes for school purposes in the original district.

The books given by the Progressive Study Club were: "Short Stories from The New Yorker," "The Man in Lower Ten," by Mary Roberts Rinehart, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough, "Colonel Effingham's Raid," by Berry Fleming, "Western Star," by Stephen Vincent Benet, "They Were Expendable," by W. L. White, "The Thurber Carnival," by James Thurber, "The Hash Knife Outfit," by Zane Grey, "The Drift Fence," by Zane Grey, "The Human Comedy," by William Saroyan, "Thunderhead," by Mary O'Hara, "My Friend Flicka," by Mary O'Hara, "Young-un," by Herbert Best.

Conservation Helps Crop Yields

"The use of conservation methods has increased my crop yields by 15 to 30 per cent" says Jim McCulloch, chairman of the board of supervisors for the California Creek Soil Conservation District. McCulloch, like the other four supervisors, "practices what he preaches when it comes to farming with the conservation way. Although he has not lived on the farm since 1931, he keeps close tabs on the operations of his 360 acre farm in the Sunnyside conservation district. Terracing, contour cultivation, crop residue management and crop rotation are among the practices being used by the chairman. For a crop rotation system adapted to the gently rolling heavy dark soils on his farm he uses a complete rotation of all crops every three years and grows cotton no longer than two years in succession on the same tract of land. Deep breaking is applied in the summer only, in order to give ample time for the soil to become restocked with moisture. Applicable crop residues are kept in the surface layer of soil through shallow tillage with the one-way plow. McCulloch made his first crop in 1919 and has farmed each year since then. He applied terraces to some of his land as early as 1924 and in 1940 completed terracing both the Sunnyside and his Haskell farm county farms. The Haskell farm, which was sold in 1945, made use of the "syrup pan" principle of terracing to utilize runoff from an outside supply. The district was organized in 1941 and McCulloch has served as chairman supervisor since that time having been re-elected in 1944 for a five year tenure. His and the work of all other supervisors is on a non-pay basis.

Mahon Backs Crop Insurance Benefits

In a letter to Joe S. Harper, ACA secretary of Haskell county Thursday, Congressman George Mahon explained his efforts to help West Texas cotton growers as follows:

When the Secretary of Agriculture announced last week that the cotton crop insurance program was out of money, I got in touch with the Director of the Crop Insurance Corporation and other officials with the hope of being helpful to West Texas cotton producers who had participated in the program. Mr. Gus Geissler, manager of the corporation, explained that on account of heavy losses, funds to redeem the certificates of those who participated in last year's program had been exhausted. Of those entitled to collect on their 1946 cotton insurance, 4 per cent remain unpaid. To pay additional payments, it is estimated that a total of 18 million dollars will be required. Mr. Geissler says that a Congressional appropriation of this amount will be necessary before outstanding certificates can be honored. The corporation will continue to accept certificates, but checks will not be issued until further funds are available.

Growers have entered into contracts with the Government and they have a right to expect payment. The future of the program is uncertain, but it is unthinkable to me that Congress would refuse to appropriate the money to liquidate this outstanding indebtedness, and that is the position I am taking in my efforts here.

The Republican Party is not greatly concerned about the southern cotton producer, in view of the Republican leadership in the House and Senate, there will be difficulty in getting prompt action. However, most people with whom I have conferred agree that the necessary money will eventually be forthcoming.

Members of the Haskell Lions Club who attended the Tuesday evening supper meeting of the civic group in the Haskell High School activity building pledged concerted efforts to do a good ticket selling job for the Lions-sponsored "Cornzappopin'" presentation tonight (Thursday) and Friday night. Florence pointed out that the two-night performance will raise funds for benefit of projects at Haskell High School. The school library, athletic field and Haskell High School Choral Club will participate in the funds. Characters from outside the Lions Club were special guests at the 6:30 supper, and included Jack Hendricks, Harold Hodge, Hubert Bledsoe, E. H. Denny, Floyd Cook, Mrs. F. W. Martin and Mrs. Carlton Williams. Other club guests were Mrs. W. O. Casey, Willard Jones and Mrs. Duncan Williams, director of the musical comedy.

Vegetables at Their Best

Real enjoyment of your home vegetable garden depends largely upon proper preparation of the vegetables for the table.

Gather leafy crops early in the morning, if possible, before the sun wilts them. If they are to be kept until a later meal, wash and cover them and place in the refrigerator. Pick peas and sweet corn within an hour of getting them ready for the kettle; if gathered very long before cooking, they lose both sweetness and flavor. Gathering any vegetable too long before using causes loss of vitamins.

Scrape or peel vegetables thinly; valuable minerals are just beneath the outer skin. Young carrots, beets, and summer squash should merely be scrubbed and not peeled. Neither should vegetables be soaked in water before cooking. This, too, causes loss of minerals. Cook vegetables quickly and only until barely tender. Usually they taste better if slightly undercooked than they do if soft and mushy from overcooking. In boiling, use only a small amount of water, saving

County Farmers Receive $149,000 From Triple A

During the year the County AAA office handled payments to farmers of Haskell county totaling $149,092.20, which has been earned by farmers participating in the program, Joe S. Harper said this week. Practices carried out were listed by Harper as follows:

Terracing: 286 farms covering 5,482,794 feet. Diversion Terraces: 6 farms covering 10,735 feet. Tanking: 48 farms covering 95,917 cubic yards of dirt moved. Stripcropping not on the contour: 2 farms, 267 acres. Deep plowing of sandy cropland: 91 farms, 56,667 acres. Wells for livestock: 12 wells averaging 50 feet in depth. Summer fallowed cropland: 7 farms, 490 acres. Contour farming row crops: 403 farms, 48,629 acres. Seeding pasture grasses: Two farms.

Austrian Winter Peas cover crop: 112 farms, 50,000 pounds. Hairy Vetch cover crops: Eight farms, 490 pounds. Green manure crops, 2 farms, 142 acres. Applying 20 per cent superphosphate to winter cover crops and pasture: 50 farms, 117,900 pounds. Eradicating mesquite on pasture land: 25 farms, 1097 acres.

Much of the above work has already been paid for through vouchers under the Purchase Order Plan, and it is expected that the balance of payments to farmers will begin coming into the county within the months of March and April 1946. The 494 program is well under way, and all Haskell county producers are again reminded that Prior Approval of the county committee is required the same as last year before any payment can be made for any practice. It is anticipated that funds for all practices will be curtailed again this year and producers desiring to participate in the payments are requested to call at the AAA office and make their plans now.

The club was delighted to have as guests Betty Oates, president, and other officers of the Ivelaris Club who were, Virginia Frierson, Nancy Furrh, Chan King, Nabeela Hassen and Rose Ann Johnson, a pledge.

Mrs. Fred Monke of Weirnet was also a guest. Mrs. Stockton was welcomed as a new member.

Practice Needed In Cooking Frozen Vegetables

Research on the cooking of frozen vegetables in a pressure sauce pan has been conducted in state experiment stations shows that it is impractical to cook some frozen vegetables under pressure. For instance frozen peas may be cooked in the usual way in less time than it takes to bring the pressure up in a pressure pan, but frozen lima beans which would require 16 to 22 minutes without pressure can be cooked in only one and a half to two minutes in the pressure pan. It is just a case of finding out what vegetables cook fast enough to compensate for the extra care and attention necessary in using a sauce pan.

A MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY OF WAR

How you can help YOUR ARMY DO ITS PART FOR PEACE

With the President's proposal for the discontinuance of Selective Service on March 31, America will rely on voluntary enlistments for the maintenance of the Regular Army at authorized strength.

In view of world conditions today, this is a step of the gravest importance to every American citizen. Never before in history has any nation raised and maintained a million-man army by the volunteer system alone. Our ideals, our belief in individual freedom, our safety and our duty to promote world peace—all are bound up in this decision.

This is your Army, and voluntary enlistment is your choice. It must not fail. With your help it will not fail. The Army must continue to provide adequate occupation forces overseas, to supply these forces, and to help in keeping America strong and secure.

Your help and understanding can do much to encourage a steady flow of 3-year voluntary enlistments, necessary to sound training and the efficient performance of the Army's task.

When you discuss this subject with your sons, brothers, husbands or friends who may be considering an Army career, bear in mind the advantages offered by a 3-year enlistment. Among them are the choice of branch of service and of overseas theater where openings exist, and the opportunity for thorough training in valuable skills.

A job in the new Regular Army compares favorably with the average in industry, and has more opportunities for promotion than most.

You can help by giving your respect and support to the man who enlists voluntarily—to do his part in carrying out your country's world-wide obligations to build a peace that will endure.

ROBERT P. PATTERSON, SECRETARY OF WAR

It's Tit for Tat

The definite, dynamic relationship which prices bear to wages and wages to prices has been dramatized effectively in recent weeks. To the average American housewife, however, who counts out carefully and apportions out even more carefully her husband's weekly pay, the relationship has been real enough all along.

To Mrs. Pennythrift, the housewife, taking her change out of the crockery pot in the cupboard to exchange it for basic family needs, the fact that prices "down" represents a real "raise" in wages is well understood. With her the basic problem is: How far will the money go? When she has to take out less change to buy a loaf of bread or bottle of milk, that's as good to her as a pay boost for her husband. And cause for jubilation.

The Mass Production Way Henry Ford II, whose grandfather practiced so well the mechanics of good economy and who dealt fairly and well with the mass output system, recently started what may become a trend in the automobile industry. In making the first postwar price reduction on cars, Mr. Ford actually gave the equivalent of a wage boost to all Americans who buy Fords, and if other car manufacturers follow, it will mean a boost to all who buy automobiles. And as mass production of automobiles comes to peak, still lower prices will surely follow.

While labor leaders thought this a step in the right direction, some of them quickly stated that "price cutting" would have no effect upon their plans for wage drives. Neither industry nor labor look forward to extensive price cutting, particularly without greater production, nor should either expect to gain from continued wage drives—without better production. The key to the wage-price balance is: more output.

Bigger Pie

One manufacturer has advertised this balance thus: "If we want a bigger cut out of the income pie either as management or labor, the best way for all concerned is to bake a bigger pie." He continued, "You can't cut bigger pieces out of a smaller pie. You can't continue to raise wages, anywhere, out of shrinking production." That is right. In an industrial democracy like ours, we have a high standard of living largely because our production of goods has been brought into line with the lowest possible consumer prices. Volume production, every time, means greater value to the consumer at lower prices. It also means more to those who invested the capital that bought the tools. And it means more to labor that builds the product.

Keep a Balance These thoughts may explain why not all of labor has been willing to get behind the banner that "industry can afford a 25% general wage increase without raising prices." The American Federation of Labor has reported its findings that in 1946 an 18 1/2% wage increase brought increases in living costs of equal amount. The balance of wages and prices is just that close in our economic structure.

Haskell Area's Influenza Epidemic is Typical of Siege That Covers All Texas

Haskell County is not the only place in Texas where influenza has been striking.

Reports coming in to the State Health Department from various sections of the state indicate that the number of influenza cases has increased to epidemic proportions in many areas. The reported incidence this week is 11,624 cases, however, this represents only a fraction of the actual number of cases in the state since many cases are not receiving medical care, and therefore remain unreported. There were perhaps an estimated 200,000 cases of influenza this week in Texas.

Commenting on this situation today Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, in a release to the people of Haskell area through the Free Press, said that most of these cases are mild and lend themselves to treatment freely. He pointed out that two cooperative factors are essential to victims of this disease: First to call the family physician promptly when suspicious symptoms appear; and second, to take it easy for a reasonable length of time after the acute stage has subsided.

"It is essential to realize that influenza, no matter how mild the attack, calls for a period of convalescence, because serious complications can occur if this important fact is ignored," Dr. Cox said. "Influenza is not mass controllable. However, those persons who maintain the highest possible health level at all times, increasing their resistance to communicable disease germs, will have a protective advantage over those more careless persons who continually abuse their health."

The state health officer declared that living by the laws of nature, getting plenty of sleep, daily exercise in the open, nourishing foods and good personal hygiene offer the best known bulwark against all respiratory diseases, and added that avoiding habits of any and all kinds detrimental to maximum well being is a wise course to take in the pursuit of good health.

Angora goats in Texas produce about 16,000,000 pounds of mohair each year.

Yes, we say three smart men, because they insist on using only Genuine Ford Parts on their Fords. Follow them and you will save money.
I work on my own Ford, but I use only Genuine Ford Parts for it. I save money because they are made right, fit right, and therefore last longer.
A friend of mine runs an independent garage and he does the work on my Ford and of course I insist that he uses only Genuine Ford Parts. There are none to compare, so why argue.
Now Bill Wilson does the work on my Ford and he uses nothing but Genuine Ford Parts. He knows that they are made right, fit right, and last longer so that's why he says no to any other kind. P. S. He's a smart man, too.
Regardless of who does the work on your Ford, insist that they use only Genuine Ford Parts on it. They are made by the makers of your Ford so they are bound to be good.

LOOKING AHEAD

by GEORGE S. BENSON
President—Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Time Flies
Busy in the United States today are two ways of thinking—the high-brows call them "opposing concepts." Orators in both camps sound a lot alike until they get right down to brass tacks, completely away from abstract generalities. Both schools, if you listen with only half an ear to their vocal members, seem to favor advancement of the race and better living conditions.

Most of the people in America are not on either side; not yet. They haven't given the issues enough thought. That's the way with the American people, they keep out of all the arguments they can. They are busy with their own affairs and, if you interrupt them, you must state your business in a few words. Unfortunately it is not possible to state these two creeds briefly and clearly.

Serious Problem
It would not be necessary for a person of average ability to go to college and study a year in order to learn the difference. The problem is not that complicated. On the other hand, I can't cover the case in one newspaper column or in a letter of two or three pages. It's not that simple. Everybody owes it a little serious thought, however, before it is too late.

Nothing was ever more serious to the people of this continent, their children and their grandchildren, than this dispute between "Individualism" and "Collectivism." Those are the names that best describe them. The former may call themselves Democrats or Republicans or Conservatives. The latter may be Nazis, Communists, Fascist or Central Planners. Here, they are revolutionists.

Vital Decisions
Although I imagine somebody is going to call me an alarmist, I'm duty bound as a loyal citizen to say: The American people will know all about this sooner or later. If they give the matter some thought and act quickly, they still may take their choice. Otherwise they will get Collectivism like it came to the unhappy peoples of other lands who are now starving by the hundreds every day.

Here is a fair question: How can anybody identify destructive, alien, revolutionist movements at sight? They wear respectable names, shout for praiseworthy aims and have patriotic slogans. How can we pick them out? The best answer I have ever heard came from J. P. Seiberling in an address he delivered in Dallas, Texas, a few months ago. He says observe how they appeal to you!

Catering to What?
When a philosophy appeals to human weaknesses it is plainly earmarked as destructive. Central Planning, for example, charms nobody but people who believe in super-men and recognize themselves as weaklings. The offer of freedom from fear is a vulgar appeal to cowardice. Freedom from want (silly as it is) was never more than a bait to catch lazy people. Collectivism offers these, which mean mediocrity for everybody.

Individualism offers opportunity, a challenge: no soft stuff like security. Its rewards are for the energetic, not the lazy. Individualism offers personal liberty and individual freedom—freedom in expression, freedom in business and freedom in worship. These appeal to man's noble traits. Individualism offers these, with the highest standards of living for everybody the world has yet known.

Reddy Kilowatt doesn't come to you direct from our large generating stations. It takes lots of briefing and screenings to send him to you as a useful household servant.

In order for him to do work so economical, it is necessary to generate power and energy for him in vast quantities and at voltages far too high for any commercial or residential use.

From Reddy Kilowatt's birth of energy in power stations, to transmission lines, to substations, to the wires to your home, it takes "know-how" for him to economically and efficiently deliver at half the wages he was paid even 20 years ago.

And he is always Reddy.

Weinert Juniors to Stage Comedy at School Friday

"Professor, How Could You?" is the title of the bewitching comedy drama in three acts that will be presented Friday evening at the Weinert High School auditorium by the junior class. Curtain time is 8:00 o'clock, officials of the class report.

The play, built around the desire of three young ladies to elope with Professor Perry, a traditional woman hater is highlighted by Vicky, one of the three would-be elopers. John, a faithful old friend, adds stability to the plot through his aversions to marriage. Grandpa and Grandma Perry, innocent bystanders to the whole thing, add hilarity and adventure to the comedy-drama.

Irene Hauran, who is director for the Weinert presentation, says the mystery of "Delivery: Rat-hole" will be clarified at the play. Characters are: Keats Perry, played by Dick Thernhanger; Vicky Randolph, Darlene Earp; Grandma Perry, Patsy Wiggins; John Appleby, Charles Oman; Priscilla Marley, Ruth Griffin; Tootsie Bean, Jessie Drennan; Butcher Boy Bean, James Carrell; Valerie Whitmer, Erma Walker; Boggins, James A. Uncle Sam Says

Have you stopped to consider that save-as-you-go is as important to you as the pay-as-you-go plan, which millions of my nieces and nephews are rediscovering this month as their best friend in meeting income obligations? When you are signed up on the payroll savings plan or have arranged with your bank for regular monthly purchases of U. S. Savings Bonds, you're on an automatic, easy save-as-you-go plan which will enable you to meet future personal and family obligations, or a business of your own, pay for a new home, travel or education for your children. As a good American, you are paying your income tax bill to your Uncle Sam to help pay for the war. As a good American, you also have the opportunity to turn the tables on your Uncle Sam. Investing in U. S. Savings Bonds regularly, your Uncle Sam will pay you $4 for every $3 in ten years.

Rodeo at H-SU to Attract Contestants From Area Schools

Rodeo-minded high school boys of the Haskell area are evincing interest this week in announcement from Abilene of a two-day collegiate rodeo to be held at Hardin-Simmons University on April 18 and 19. Several entries from this section probably will be announced within a few days.

The rodeo will feature bareback riding, bull riding, calf roping, team tying, wild cow milking and all the allied sports of the rodeo, it has been announced by President R. N. Richardson. Various schools of the Southwest are being invited to participate.

There will be four performances, two each day, at which students will vie against each other in the sport of the ranch. Only students in school will be permitted to compete. Amateur rodeo association rules will be in effect.

Events to be staged and the entrance fees are as follows: Bareback riding, $3; bull riding, $3; calf roping, $5; team tying, $6 per team; cutting horse contest, $5; and girls' balloon contest, $2. Additional events will probably be scheduled.

The Cowboy Band, directed by Marion B. McClure, will give the rodeo the typical western atmosphere with its peppy and Texas music.

Students Hear Talk By Noted Speaker

Dr. H. L. Pritchett from S. M. U. spoke to the High School students last Monday. He spoke on Growing Up—and not into a lopsided person, but into one with a well rounded out personality. He stressed the need for broad mindedness in the literature we read, the music we enjoy, our friends and all we do. We grow up, not mentally, but physically and emotionally as well. We build the basis for our future health in our youth and he asked that we keep this in mind when we keep late hours, and do other things that destroy our health and character. In growing up emotionally he quoted some of Shakespeare's poetry on the subject and gave some good advice on the subject of not fooling around with love when we're too young to appreciate true love's real value. In order to grow up into a person with a well rounded personality he said "You should know a little bit about everything and everything about something."

appear before the Honorable District Court of Haskell County, at the Courthouse thereof in Haskell, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the First Monday next after the expiration of 42 days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 21st day of April, 1947, then and there to answer Plaintiffs' Petition filed in said Court on the 4th day of March, 1947, in this cause numbered 7439 on the docket of said Court and styled Ben F. Roberts Jr., et al. Plaintiffs, vs.
J. M. Williams, et al. Defendants.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows: Trespass to Try Title. Plaintiffs allege that on January 1st, 1947, they were the owners in fee simple title and entitled to the possession of the following described lots and tracts of land situated in Haskell County, Texas, to wit: Lots 5, 6, 7 and 8 in Block 16, in the Original Town of Haskell in Haskell County, Texas.
That subsequently to said date, Defendants unlawfully entered upon said property and dispossessed Plaintiffs and have since such date unlawfully withheld from Plaintiffs the possession thereof to their damage in the sum of $6000.00.
Plaintiffs plead the five, ten and twenty-five year statutes of limitation as barring any claim to said property upon the part of the Defendants.
Plaintiffs pray that they have judgment for title and possession of the above described property and for general and special relief, in law and in equity, as is more fully shown by Plaintiffs' Petition on file in this suit.
The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law and make due return as the law directs.
Issued and given under my hand and the seal of said Court at office in Haskell, Texas, this 5th day of March, 1947.
Attest:
Jesse B. Smith,
Clerk of the District Court of Haskell County, Texas. 4c

The delegates from Haskell's chapter had a very good time at Spur and went with the Rule Girls on their school bus. The program for the day was very interesting and several talks were given in the morning on things of interest to Home Ec girls. We were entertained at intervals during the day by the Spur Glee Club, group singings lead by different towns, readings, skits, and other entertainment. Everyone ate a very delicious lunch at the high school lunch room after which the house of delegates met. It is composed of one girl from each town there and 25 delegates were at the meeting.
At the meeting of the house of delegates the officers for the following year were elected, a new constitution adopted, and the place of our fall meeting voted on which was Lamesa. Afterwards the new officers were presented to the assembly and goodbyes were said.
The girls from Haskell had a very good time and met many girls from other towns. The ones from Haskell that went to Spur were Margaret Dendy, Grace Robinson, and Anne Rike.

Helen Bagby Circle Meets Monday

Monday afternoon March 17th the Helen Bagby Circle met in the annex of the First Baptist Church for a Bible Study. With Mrs. Reynolds at the piano we sang My Faith Looks up to Thee. Mrs. Reynolds gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Jark Merchant gave us a very interesting lesson from the Book of Colossians, including four chapters. All ladies present read and discussed the study.

Paul exhorts them to be fervent in prayer and watch in the same with thanksgiving, and walk in wisdom towards them that are without, redeeming the time, and set your affection on things above, not on things on earth. Whatsoever ye do, do it heartily as to the Lord, and not unto men. Mrs. Paxton gave the closing prayer and ladies present were Mmes. John Couch, Jack Merchant, R. J. Paxton, R. J. Reynolds, Arthur Mersham, Robert Graham and L. F. Taylor.

Millions of my nieces and nephews have gone through the experience of signing on the dotted line for something or other.
