Thieves Loot Two Haskell Business Houses This Week

Thieves paid their first visit in more than a year to the Haskell business district Monday afternoon when they looted two establishments, and entered more where nothing was missing.

Entry was made through a window into a hallway, after the culprits climbed through the window into the office. A hand store of "Red" building was through a window into the building, and the thieves took two shotguns, two rifles, automobile radio, an automobile jack, several raquets, and other items.

District Court Term Opened Monday At Clairemont

District Judge Ben Charlie Chapman and District Attorney J. H. Banks were in Clairemont Monday, where the current term of district court for Kent County was opened.

Grand Jury for the term was impaneled, but have only a few minor matters to investigate, the district attorney said.

Principal cases on the docket are civil and divorce actions, and these will be set for hearing during the second and third weeks of the term.

Tuesday, Judge Chapman was in Throckmorton where he presided in hearing of a civil case involving a considerable amount of oil land property. Judge Chapman will return to Throckmorton Friday for final disposition of the case, and also has a divorce case set for hearing on that date.

Wednesday Judge Chapman presided in district court here in hearing of a civil case.

Throckmorton Grand Jury Indicts Youth

A Throckmorton grand jury, in session last week, returned a murder indictment against John Ed Miller, 18, in connection with the slaying of the youth's father, Ed Miller, on August 10. Young Miller has been confined in a hospital since his arrest in connection with the slaying. He will be sent to a state hospital in Wichita Falls for observation, officers indicated this week.

E. A. Meyer, administrator of the act, says agriculture in the past six years has increased production of milk by 13 per cent; eggs, 23 per cent; chickens, 33 per cent; cattle and calves, 43 per cent; wheat, 49 per cent; and fruit, 57 per cent.

The American people are eating 16 per cent more food than they did before the war. And Secretary of Agriculture Anderson had said they would like to buy—and eat—more.

Apparently the only way farmers can sell more products at a fair price and consumers on the other hand can buy more without upping their food budget is to overhaul the marketing system. And that is the mandate Congress made to the U. S. Department of Agriculture when the Marketing and Research Act was passed.

Farmers are working on the problem too. County Agent E. A. Spacey says Wood county farmers consider marketing of farm products their No. 1 problem. Wood county delegations have visited and studied every major farm market in East Texas.

The encouraging thing to Spacey is that the farmers are also interested in improving the quality of their products, in offering a more attractive package and in stabilizing local prices.

Veterans Collect $41,000 on Terminal Leave Bonds

Approximately 200 World War II veterans in Haskell County took advantage of the opportunity to cash their terminal leave bonds Tuesday, Sept. 2, but the anticipated "rush" of the estimated 2,000 veterans in the county to cash their bonds as quickly as possible failed to materialize.

In Haskell, approximately 150 veterans cashed bonds totalling $30,294, officials of the Haskell National Bank reported.

In Rule, the Farmers National Bank reported that 65 veterans had cashed bonds amounting to approximately $11,000 up to close of business Wednesday.

Bonds ranged in amounts from $100 to $600, the banks reported.

Most of the veterans planned to use the extra money for home payments or furnishings, or to retire outstanding obligations, with very few drawing the money to invest in new purchases, a survey revealed.

David (Tom) Johnson, 47-year-old negro man, was fatally wounded in a shooting affray in the colored section of town Tuesday morning about 4:30 o'clock, and died six hours later in the Haskell County Hospital.

Another Haskell Negro, Minion Hogan, was taken in custody by Sheriff Mart Clifton and charged with assault to murder in connection with the slaying. Hogan, described as a reputable colored resident, was released under $750 bond Tuesday morning to await action of the Grand Jury.

Sheriff Clifton, Deputy Fuller and City Marshal Allen, who investigated the affair, were told that the shooting followed an affray between Johnson and Vernilla McDonald, Haskell negroes, during which she was severely beaten with a pop bottle. The woman ran to the home of Hogan and his wife for protection, and was followed by Johnson, who carried a double-barrel shotgun. Hogan related to officers that he shot in self defense, firing four times with a 45 caliber revolver. One bullet struck Johnson in the right side just below the ribs, and penetrated his body. Another bullet grazed his right wrist. The injured negro went back home, and had fastened the screen doors of the house before officers arrived.

Johnson was carried to the hospital by Sheriff Clifton, and at first attendants did not think his injuries were fatal.

The negro woman was also admitted to the hospital for treatment of severe scalp wounds, but was released Wednesday.

Johnson had lived in Haskell for about a year, coming to this section from Coryell County. Body of Johnson was taken in charge by Holden's Funeral Home and funeral arrangements were incomplete Thursday pending arrival of relatives.

Haskellites Have Taste for Sweets, Baker Learns

When they decided to locate their pastry shop in Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Flint figured that the people here had a "sweet tooth" and would provide a good market for the wares of their Sweet Shop. But they had no idea it would be on so large a scale as was demonstrated on their opening day last Saturday, when stacks were almost "cleaned out" by a steady stream of customers. Within a few hours after opening, Mr. Flint declared they had sold 100 cakes, 96 dozen cookies, 4 dozen pies and 36 dozen sweet rolls. He lost count there, and went back to his ovens to turn out more pastry goods.

The Money Men

Just where is all the nation's money? Probably we've all asked that question at some time. However, we don't have to go far to find a multitude of "experts" eager to point out the answer—their answer. These might range from the old wheeze about "90 per cent of the wealth in the hands of 10 per cent of the people" to other outdated adages just as economically unsound.

The real answer is simple enough. In investigating the possible culprits who command the nation's economy, most of us fail to consider the most important individuals—ourselves. Yet many people think only of wealth as being controlled by a few. These usually are pictured as pompous capitalists exploiting the masses for their own gain. A more untrue picture could hardly exist.

Equal Shares

Actually, the distribution of the nation's money constitutes the most striking argument for freedom of endeavor in our country. Together with more than 50 million of his fellow employed workers, Mr. Average Citizen in 1945 took home some 114.5 billion dollars—71.1 per cent of the national income. As members of the largest group they received the largest share of the country's money. This is the natural consequence of democracy.

Wide distribution does not stop here. In the same period 15 per cent of the national income went to the proprietor class—the farmers, small businessmen, doctors, dentists, and other professional people. It is difficult to think of the local farmer, the corner grocer, or the family doctor as greedy exploiters. Through their own work and training they have provided themselves with a livelihood.

More Sharing

The remaining 12.9 per cent is again distributed. Rents, interest and dividends account for the major part, with corporate savings amounting to only 2.8 per cent of the national income. Included in that income are large numbers of small property owners, whose rent-bearing holdings might be only a home or building. Then, too, thousands of small stockholders account for a good share of the interest and dividend income.

The 4.5 billion dollars earned as corporate savings is a far cry from the "profiteer" pictures painted by those who would change our way of economic life. For the most part, this is the source of the laboring man's income. This 2.8 per cent return to corporations is their share of a system which puts 71.1 per cent into the pockets of the employed man. As a minority group, corporations receive a minority share.

Despite these sobering statistics, there are many who would call for a change. There are those who would take the responsibility away from the individual and vest it in a central authority. It is paradoxical that these interests would "give the wealth to the people" in a nation where the majority of the people now receive the majority of the income. They would junk our successful economy to institute an unproved one—all to achieve an ideal which we have achieved already in greater measure than has any other country.

Comparison

When one reads that the industrial output of the United States is half of the world total and that this country, with only seven per cent of the world's population, has eighty per cent of the automobiles, fifty per cent of the telephones, fifty-four per cent of the refrigerators and forty-two per cent of the radios, one wonders at the rest of the people have.

Look around, however, in Haskell County. We find a part of the population without automobiles, telephones, refrigerators and radios. We find houses unfit for habitation and without the ordinary conveniences of life. We find human beings inadequately clothed and improperly fed. We find bodies suffering from disease despite the known fact that modern medical science restores health.

If such things exist in the United States, the wealthiest region in the world, and they do, how much worse conditions be in countries with less industrial production? How badly must the people of the war-devastated areas suffer, with agriculture and industrial production shattered and without financial and other resources necessary to life the standards of living?

No Ugly Woman Slain

From a reading of all the news stories that tell us of the killings that take place in the nation, we have come to the conclusion that the best protection a woman has is to be ugly.

So far as our investigator has been able to discover, no ugly woman has been killed anywhere. The victims are all either attractive, lovely, beautiful, handsome or

Soon As The O. P. A. Died

The president of a radio manufacturing company recently told his stockholders that "as soon as the O. P. A. died, our business was able to raise our prices five per cent."

Without going into the merits of the increased prices, it may have been abundantly justified, we call attention to the fact that this statement seems to indicate the O.P.A. despite its critics, held prices down.

18 Backs Drive Increased Use Cotton Goods

As leads all other cotton-producing states in the number of cotton merchants, and seed crushers supporting cotton industry program to increase cotton consumption, Geo. Chance, Bryan, chairman of the Unit of the National Cotton Council, announced this week.

Chance said that 886 of 2,180 cotton gins already supporting the Cotton Council program of research and promotion for the 1947-48 season. The Texas total is almost as great as that for the remainder of the Southwest combined.

The 188 cotton merchants in Texas, Mr. Chance said that 44 percent have joined in the Cotton Council program. He also pointed out 46 cottonseed crushing plants supporting the Council—more than the combined total of crushing mills which have to date agreed to back the industry program in the seven states of the Mississippi Valley.

Texas has built an enviable record for itself by taking the lead in the cotton industry's program to build new markets for cotton lint and seed. Mr. Chance declared. "The cooperation pledged by the National Cotton Council of Texas cotton men thus far insures that our state is fully aware of the necessity of backing cotton's fight against its competitors."

The Texas chairman said that the National Cotton Council has during the past decade conducted an unceasing program on behalf of the 15,000,000 people of the cotton industry. He said that this program already had accomplished much toward holding and enlarging cotton's established markets and building new ones.

"As excellent as Texas' record is, the cotton interests of the state have indicated that they will continue the campaign for greater support of the industrywide program until every cotton producer, ginner, warehouseman, merchant, cotton spinner, and cottonseed crusher join in the battle to assure cotton's future," he continued.

"The success of this program involves the prosperity and the very existence of the cotton industry. With the united support of every member of the industry, cotton cannot fail."

Malaria Control Advised by State Health Official

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, today issued a warning against the danger of malaria following the heavy rainfall, which has finally broken the long drought in many sections of the state.

"Malaria will remain a major public health problem as long as breeding places are accessible to the female Anopheles mosquito," Dr. Cox said. "Every householder should make sure that there are no tin cans, broken bottles, or other types of rubbish on his premises that will hold water and offer breeding places to this enemy of good health."

Dr. Cox pointed out that in our practice of mosquito control, we are sometimes like the man who locked the stable door after the horse was already stolen; we are content to wait until all our premises are swarming with mosquitoes before we bring ourselves into active warfare against these recognized agents of malaria.

Dr. Cox further stressed the importance of conserving the public health and preventing the spread of disease in our present crowded housing condition, and he also emphasized the fact that malaria is one of the more debilitating diseases, often causing its victim to lose weeks or even months from his regular employment or from school attendance.

Said Dr. Cox: "The best cure for malaria is prevention. Make sure your premises are free from any stagnant waters, in which may breed the female Anopheles mosquito that transmits the disease."

Women Ingenious In Raising Funds For Landscaping

Home demonstration club women of Crosby county have raised money to landscape grounds of the county co-operative hospital at Crosbyton through a "bushel of wheat drive."

Looking for means to raise cash to beautify the hospital grounds the club women drove pick-up trucks out in the fields where Crosby county farmers were harvesting a bumper wheat crop and asked for single bushel donations. Mozelle Reast, home demonstration agent, says that the women collected over $400 worth of wheat during the drive.

Along with $200 privately donated and another $100 made on a club play, the "bushel of wheat" money will go toward dressing the cooperative hospital up in new landscape surrounding—flowers, trees, shrubbery and all the trimmings.

With the help of the home demonstration agent, a club committee drew up a set of landscape plans, which have been presented to the hospital board of directors.

Peterson-Homesly Vows Read At Alice, Texas

The First Presbyterian Church in Alice, Texas was the scene of the wedding of Miss Alma Jeanne Holmesly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hmesly, and Raymond Clifton Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Peterson.

Dr. J. Ludwell Davis, pastor of the church, officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony which was performed before an altar decorated with white gladioli, fern, and pink and purple asters. Mrs. Jay Peterson of Kingsville played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white afternoon length silk jersey, designed with a sweetheart neckline. Her halo hat was of white shirred chiffon and her other accessories were white. She carried pink sweetheart roses.

Miss Dorothy Homesly served her sister as maid of honor. She chose a two piece aqua suit and her accessories were white. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The groom's brother, Ernest Peterson, was best man. The bride's mother wore a pale aqua dress with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Peterson, mother of the groom, chose a two piece aqua dress with which she wore black accessories. Her corsage was also of white carnations.

After the quiet ceremony which was attended only by relatives and close friends, a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. The home was festive with arrangements of white gladioli, pink and purple asters.

Mrs. Edith Brock, sister of the bride, served the decorated wedding cake topped with its miniature bride and groom. Mrs. W. L. Burton, aunt of the groom, presided at the punch bowl.

The bride and groom later left on a short wedding trip to Corpus Christi. Mr. Peterson is employed by the Texas State Bank in Alice and the young couple are at home at 220 Kansas St.

Mrs. Peterson is a former resident of Haskell.

Pictured are Mr. and Mrs. James L. New York and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sloan of Haskell. The couple plan to go to New York soon. (See story on Page Two.)

Maybelle Circle Has Business and Social Meeting

The Maybelle Circle met Sept. 1st in the Annex for their last business and social together before the groups are changed.

Mrs. John Fouts and Mrs. Ed Cass were hostesses. The classroom was decorated with sweet peas and Queen's wreath, and the picture of Miss Maybelle Taylor for whom the circle is named, graced the piano.

Mrs. John E. Robison, the leader, called the meeting to order and opened by singing two hymns led by Mrs. Whatley with Mrs. John Fouts at the piano.

Mrs. Cass led the opening prayer. The devotional from the 15th chapter of Timothy was given by Mrs. Nerva Oates discussing this last letter Paul wrote to Timothy. No one admires our neglectfulness. If we study our Bibles we won't think and talk of our troubles, said the speaker. Prayer was given by Mrs. John Fouts.

The third chapter of the book, Shining Like A Star was given by Mrs. Charlie Quattlebaum describing the well as Jesus sat resting from weariness telling of the plan of salvation; how Christ brought Phillip and the eunuch together and the results. Each

The Russians Wouldn't Get It

We talk of those Russians being difficult to understand. But there are some things our totalitarian neighbors would never be able to understand about us. They just would not get it. The way we argued and fussed over the labor bill Congress just passed, for example. Then when the bill became law, we all settled down to see if we can abide by it. This is what we call majority rule, through the elected representatives of the people.

In our kind of set-up, people are given credit for being able to think for themselves. Facts are easy to get hold of. Viewpoints may be freely expressed. We make up our minds, and our representatives at the seat of government try to carry out our wishes. Things do not go like this in the totalitarian countries. Such questions would never be placed before the people in the first place. Regardless of everything else, the will of the dictator would prevail.

Labor Shows Spirit Organized labor, in its attitude toward the Taft-Hartley Bill, has demonstrated the manner in which the "people's mandate" is accepted in a land where laws are determined by the will of the majority, but where all minorities are respected. The bill was the most controversial legislation to come up in years. Much feeling was developed. Lobbying was everywhere.

Yet, when the labor bill became law over the President's veto, and when the President had stated that he'd sincerely enforce it and not sabotage the law, the top leaders of labor affirmed there would be no general protest strikes. Rightly, they declared they would test it in the courts, where laws should be tested. If the legislation is in error, time will tell. In the true American tradition of fairness and justice, we are awaiting the proving and testing of the new law.

topic brought out wayside Evangelism. Mrs. V. A. Brown dismissed in prayer.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cup cakes and cold drinks were served to Mesdames J. A. Cain, John Tinkle, Walter Rogers, Jess Josslet, Carl Scoggins, John E. Fouts, Charlie Quattlebaum, John E. Robison, Calvin Wheeler, John McMillin, H. R. Whatley, V. A. Brown, C. V. Oates, and Carolyn Josslet.

Farm real estate values for the country as a whole increased two per cent during the four months ending July 1, 1947.

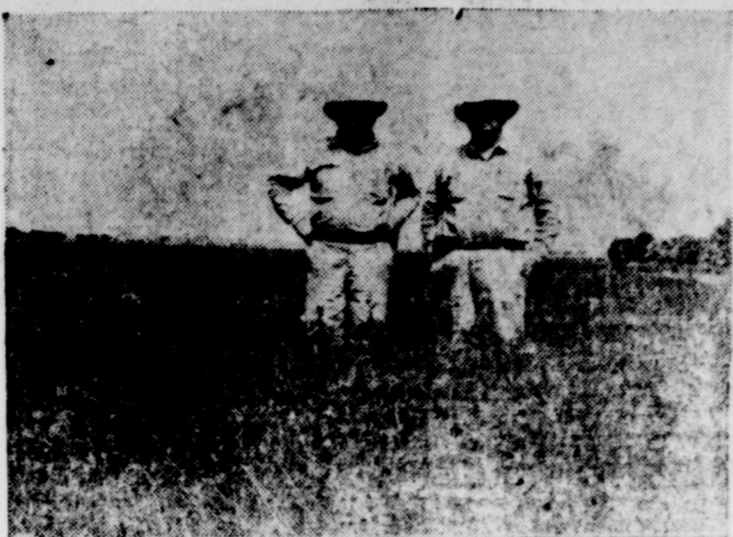

Buyers of farms have paid cash in more than half the farm purchases made in each of the last three years.

Beavers are still reported in fairly large numbers in 42 Texas counties, being found mostly along the Pecos, Rio Grande, Colorado, and Llano Rivers and other streams in the Edwards Plateau.

There will be a Stated Meeting of Haskell Chapter No. 892, O. E. S., Tuesday September 9th at 8 o'clock.

Mable Overton, Worthy Matron, Vivian Robertson, Secretary.

Men in the above picture are J. B. Haun and Mack Fisher. This is 126 acre field of Madrid Clover planted March 3, 1945—picture taken in May of same year.

In January, 1941, Mr. Paul Dunkel in charge of the Denton County Experiment Station gave Mr. John Elliott of the Frisco Community enough Madrid Clover seed to plant five acres. This is a bi-annual plant.

In its first year Mr. Elliott not only grazed 20 heads of cattle, but had a hay harvest on this five acres of Madrid clover of 912 tons. In its second year Mr. Elliott grazed it with 20 heads of cattle up to March 10th, and then allowed it to seed. (The second year of this Madrid clover is its seed year). It produced 1784 pounds of seed which Mr. Elliott sold for 40 cents a pound or a return of $142.00 per acre. From this modest start Mr. Elliott is harvesting seed from 119 acres while the neighborhood farmers are harvesting seed from 994 acres in 1947 with the yield being about 500 pounds Madrid Clover seed per acre. It is estimated that in the Frisco Community that in excess of 2500 acres will be planted in the spring of 1948.

Madrid Clover has been certified as the clover legume of all the clovers, not alone is the value of this crop its seed yield, but it has been proven that any follow-up crop, whether wheat, oats, corn, cotton, or any small grain, it produces from 25 to 40% more yield after the clover crop.

Here in the Frisco Community, Madrid Clover has been planted on all types of soil, white rock, poor eroded land, sandy soil, and deep black land. The plant has thrived and has improved the land wherever it has been planted.

There has been an association formed of Denton and Collin County growers, named Certified Madrid Clover Growers, with headquarters at Frisco, Texas. The association will mail to anyone desiring it a pamphlet about Madrid Clover, and anyone interested in soil conservation and improvement of his land will do well to investigate this profitable and beneficial crop.

The information in this report has been brought to the attention of this paper by Mr. Larry O'Bannon, manager of the Frisco Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. O'Bannon states that this is not a seed selling proposition, but an effort to help farmers or a good neighbor policy.

Here's the Answer to SHORTER-MORE PROFITABLE Cotton Harvests!

Harvesting cotton in a once-over operation is the short cut to bigger profits. Get this advantage by stripping and delivering cotton, two rows at a time, with a labor-saving John Deere No. 15 Cotton Harvester.

Designed to work with the John Deere "A" and "B" Tractors, the No. 15 is a simple, sturdy, long-lived machine that does a fast, efficient job of saving bolls after the cotton plants have been killed by frost. Many gin operators state that cotton stripped by the John Deere is cleaner than that pulled by the average hand puller.

This year, to make short work of your cotton harvest—use a John Deere Cotton Harvester. See us for complete information the next time you're in town.

Millions of my nieces and nephews are increasing their take-home pay by the simple, automatic Payroll Savings Plan. Let's take one example. Suppose you tell your employer that you want to take $6.25 of your weekly pay in Bonds. In three weeks the accumulation of $18.75 will buy one $25 Savings Bond. Merely by holding these bonds to maturity in 10 years you are raising your take-home income $2.08 every week. It is obvious that the so-called deduction for Savings Bonds is not a deduction but a way for you to store up and increase your earnings for your future use.

Behind the Curtain

Too much misinformation has been circulated about Russia. A lot of this has been put into circulation by Russia. Some of it has come from fellow-travelers and other admirers of the Soviet experiment. There have been honest mistakes of American writers who have been unable to penetrate the mysteries behind the iron curtain. Prominent Americans who have "toured" Russia have too often become dupes of propaganda shows cleverly contrived for visiting eyes.

Gradually, however, facts are coming to light. Documented and unbiased studies are greatly needed, for they will dispose of many fallacies about the Soviets. Straight facts will set folks right who have accepted such boners as this one: There's no unemployment in Russia. It's quite true, but slave laborers have been estimated at 14,000,000. You see, unemployment insurance is not even necessary.

Facts Talk Loud

Such a factual study is the 141-page book, Communism in Action, prepared under direction of Congressman Dirksen of Illinois. Printed as a house document by the Legislative Reference Service of the Library of Congress, the book may be obtained from the U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for 25 cents. Copies are also distributed free by the American Wage Earners Foundation, Suite 605, 30 North LaSalle Street, Chicago, Ill.

Written in a simple, factual style, without the customary slanted or biased approach, the book should interest all Americans who have been confronted with the idea that "the State does the job better." The facts set forth therein do not call for elaboration or editorial bias. They talk loud enough to make a mighty good advertisement for the American way of life.

Special Privileges

Russian Communism theoretically envisions a classless society. On the basis of pay, the difference between the status of the wage earner and the manager is much greater there than in America. The many "special privileges and bonuses" that are distributed to the Soviet managers make this inequality more striking. The average wage of workers was reported in a pre-war year as approximately $10 to $12.50 a month.

What about labor? Yes, in Russia labor is active and organized. Joining unions there is a political and economic necessity. Labor leaders are appointed by the ruling group, and their duties are to speed up production, to keep labor disciplined. Wages are not a subject for discussion or negotiation. There is no collective bargaining. Most Russian labor laws, rulings, and practices would be called "anti-labor" by American unions.

There are no minorities; there is no deviation from the "party line." The final decision of the people, in elections, must conform to the "party" decision. In the party, religion is equivalent to "superstitions and unscientific processes." Profits are a capitalistic phenomenon, and therefore go to the state alone. The vast profits of the Soviet do not go to the workers whose property they are said to be, but to further the expansion of "the Soviet of the future." Little wonder this study terms Communism a "theoretical failure."

'Contest Winner "Brands" His Prize

A pioneer of the auto industry, hunted throughout the nation in a contest to discover the oldest Chevrolet truck in America, turned up, appropriately, in the possession of a Montana homesteader. The venerable vehicle, vintage of 1918, was still serving Rancher Leslie A. Storey, of Jordan, Mont., whose ranch lies 18 miles from a typical "last frontier" town. The award for owning the oldest licensed and operating truck was a new Chevrolet "advance-design" model, which Storey "brands" here with his distinctive Circle-Heart brand. It was presented to him by J. W. Burke, manager of Chevrolet's truck department, as Mrs. Storey and Montana cowgirl Merle Spears (right) look on. Nearly 7,000 old-time Chevrolet trucks were entered in the contest won by this vehicle, which was one of 384 built by the division in 1918, its first year of truck production.

Milk Necessary In Diet of Oldsters

A pint of milk a day is a must if older people are to keep healthy and active, say foods specialists of Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. Men and women in their fifties, sixties, and seventies often overlook milk in their diets, a neglect that deprives bones of necessary minerals.

To help furnish enough calcium, protein and phosphorus for the proper upkeep of their bodies, a daily pint of milk is the minimum, say the specialists. A condition of demineralization of the skeleton may come from too little calcium in the diet and often leads to broken bones in later years. Some investigators have suggested that many a fall, which supposedly results in a bone break, is actually due to weakened bones which break and cause the person to fall.

Relatively little is known of the nutritional needs of the older age group, the specialists report, and state experiment stations are now making studies aimed at correct dietary recommendations. Recent studies do show that older people have not lost their ability to store calcium and other minerals and that their diets should include milk.
