

LICENSE TAGS--The 1968 license tags have arrived in the office of tax assessor-collector Jean Lovelady. They are black with white numerals and instead of having 1968 across the top where 1967 was placed, the numbers '68' appear in each corner with the word 'HemisFair' in the center of the bottom of the plate. They go on sale February 1. Mrs. Lovelady is shown with the new type plate. This is the first number to be sold.

License Plates Go On Sale February 1

License plates for vehicles to be sold to Bailey County residents have arrived and will go on sale February 1. The plates are black background with white numerals and have the word "HemisFair" on them.

State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall announced today that Texas will register approximately seven million vehicles during 1968. "This is the largest number in our history," Dingwall said.

All 1968 Texas license plates have been delivered to the 254 County Tax Assessor-Collectors for issuance during February and March of 1968.

Tommy Parker, formerly of Muleshoe, and son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Parker of Carlsbad, was wounded for the third time in action in Vietnam. Parker will be hospitalized for approximately six months due to severe leg injuries received when he was hit by a rocket. He expects to be hospitalized at El Paso when he reaches the States in March.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Short attended the funeral for her grandmother, Mrs. Watson, in Haskell.

Mrs. Lottie Moore visited with her daughter, Mrs. Mabel Cobb in Portales recently.

Joe Adams Earns Rare College Award

Joe H. Adams, a student at Dartmouth College, was the recipient of a citation which is said to be a rare thing to occur at the college.

Thaddeus Seymour, Dean of the College, said "Such citations are rare and you can take justifiable pride in the hard work and the achievement which this represents."

The citation was issued in the Engineering Science program. It was awarded after a team, which Adams heads, built a fire device which will be kicked off from dense smoke or actual fire and will eliminate persons from being burned in homes during the night.

The citation was signed by Edward S. Brown, Professor of Civil Engineering, and S. Russel Stearns, Professor of Civil Engineering.

The construction of the device was not all the accomplishment. Money was given to the youths to finance the project and had to be used in a manner which would allow its completion.

Adams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Adams and graduated from Muleshoe High School in 1966.

Employers' Tax Deadline Near

Employers are facing an important tax deadline Wednesday, January 31.

This is the due date for reporting and paying withheld income tax and social security taxes for the calendar quarter ended December 31, 1967, according to Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas.

Employers who receive a pre-addressed Form 941 should use this form to report their tax liability and should attach to the return a calculated depository receipt for the months of October and November. If you made a deposit for December, that receipt should also be attached.

Employers who made deposits in the Federal Reserve Bank or authorized commercial bank sufficient to pay their full tax liability for the quarter ended December 31, 1967, have until Monday, February 12, 1968 to file the Form 941.

January 31, 1968 is also the due date for reporting and paying Federal Unemployment Tax for 1967. Employers liable for this tax should file Form 940 for 1967.

United Fund Drive Drive Short $2,359.09

The 1967 United Fund drive is lacking $2,235.09 reaching the goal of $14,800.00 which has been set as the goal. A comparison of the funds collected in different divisions for 1966 and 1967 are as follows:

Have YOU made YOUR contribution to the United Fund? A meeting for all United Fund workers has been scheduled for Tuesday, January 30, at 8 p.m., to be held at the Muleshoe State Bank Community room.

Gentle Rains Soak Soil: Moisture Boon to Winter Wheat, Alfalfa

Gentle rains continued to slowly soak the soil over the area for several days. Total over Bailey County range from one and one-half inches in the Needmore, West Camp, Progress and Lazbuddie communities to almost two inches in Muleshoe.

"This will greatly reduce the amount of moisture needed for spring planting and the winter wheat and alfalfa which is practically dormant has received a great boost from the rainfall," County Agent J. K. Adams said.

The slow fall caused a more effective penetration to the subsoil where a hard rain would have tended to seal the topsoil at this time.

Adams said "it has softened the soil where land has been broken, dissolved the clods and has put the soil in a much more workable condition."

The rain has been considered "unseasonal" both at the time of year and the temperature which maintained an above freezing mark throughout the period. This is the first sizable amount of moisture to cover the area since last September.

All over the area, county agents say "the rains could not have been better timed or

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hughes, Farwell, lost a 75-mile-per-hour race with "Mr. Stork" at 9:15 a.m. Sunday, January 21, in Clovis.

Mrs. Hughes is the former Gwen Roberts, Muleshoe.

Andy Pat Hughes was born in the family automobile in front of the Clovis Trails Restaurant at that, while the excited father was attempting to get to Clovis Memorial Hospital before the seven pound boy made his official debut into the world.

Reports concerning the incident say "It was hard to tell just who was more badly shaken, the father or the policeman who provided escort to the hospital."

Andy Pat is said to have de-

Registration Count Increases

Approximately 2,450 persons have registered to vote in the coming elections in Bailey County at the six registration stations.

Other places where voters may register are Claunch Gin, Bula; Goodland Cafe, Goodland; Farmer's Cooperative Gin, Enoch; Smith Seed Company, Maple and Three Way School, Three Way.

Wednesday, January 31, is the deadline for registering and the tax office will remain open until midnight that night for the convenience of those who are unable to register before that time.

of a better type as far as South Plains crop outlook for the year is concerned."

There was no water run-off and no evaporation, thus all the moisture soaked into the ground.

Some scattered areas in Bailey County measured more than two inches of rain over several days period.

Skies remained overcast for five days and the sun shone Tuesday afternoon.

J. K. Adams announced that an interesting moisture installation had been placed in five different locations within the county and weather researchers were very pleased with the moisture tests from them.

The installations were alumi-

The tests show an excellent moisture content now.

Locations of the installations are on the farms of John Gunter, Lewis Scoggin, Jack Obenhaus (Needmore farm), Homer Richardson, east edge of Maple and W. T. Thomas farm.

Adams said some cotton was still in the field in the county and farmers caught with this situation are more than anxious for the clearing skies again.

About one percent of the cotton is left in the fields, it has been estimated.

Harlem Stars Play Faculty at JHS Gym

The undefeated eighth grade team will play LaPlata of Hereford at 6 p.m. Thursday, January 25, preceding the famous Harlem Stars clash with the members of the Muleshoe School system faculty.

The Harlem Star-Faculty game will start at 8 p.m. in the Muleshoe Junior High School gym. Tickets are on sale for $1.50 for adults, $1 for students and 50 cents for children.

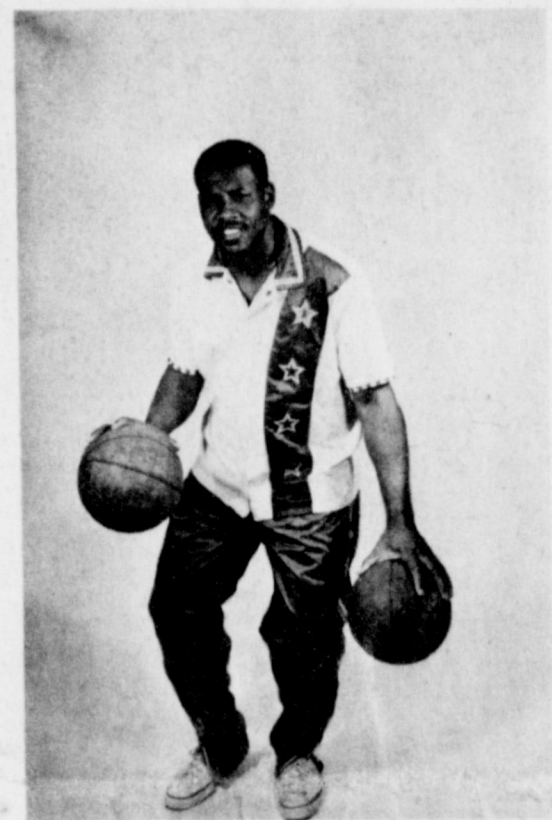

When the Harlem Stars are mentioned, hoop fans get ready for an evening of entertainment. Fans will see a fancy exhibition razzle-dazzle ball handling, intricate routines, both planned and impromptu comedy and all sorts of 'shenanigans.'

The Harlem Stars are unique in the fact they never try to run up a huge score against opponents. It is their policy to keep the game close, devoting much time to comedy stuff.

The Harlem Stars enjoy playing basketball every day even if they have to travel hundreds of miles to do so. The Stars began their season in Alaska the last week in September and will hit between 36 or 40 states and the following other countries: Mexico, Canada, Australia, Japan and some parts of Europe. The round horsehide is the magic carpet that has taken these basketball jesters to all parts of the world.

He started his playing at Fremont High School and was acclaimed player of the year. He spent two years at San Francisco University and was compared with "K. C. Jones" of the world champion Boston Celtics as one of the best defensive players in the nation. Boid Buie discovered this player and signed him and proceeded to make him a great pivot man. Buie teamed him up with "Youngblood Williams" to produce a great and laughable combination. Johnson's expression is constantly changing from hambone pomposity to outraged innocence. He is forever snatching things from the spectators in the first and second rows - hats for his head, glasses for the referee and other things to make the "Harlem Stars" the most unique and different and entertaining show in basketball.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm attacks the spending problem this week, but not too successfully.

Dear editor: According to all the newspapers that have turned up on this Johnson grass farm out here during the past two weeks, some members of Congress are saying we've got to have more spending cuts, we've got to economize, shaving the budget is the first order of business. I have run across one idea which might help in this direction in a small way. A Harvard University economist has come up with a plan to eliminate subsidies to farmers, now running into millions of dollars a year, almost but not quite as much as subsidies to airlines, shipping companies, manufacturers, etc. He says the government should give marginal farmers a subsidy to leave the farm, and after they all get safely into jobs in town, all subsidies would stop, to them and to the farmers left in the country.

On the other hand, other economists are contending the answer to the crowded conditions in cities is to move people out of the ghettos, even at government expense. Here's where my idea of saving money comes in. Don't use two sets of buses. When the government hauls a bus load of farmers to the city, why couldn't the same bus be turned around and into the haul city people out into the country? Any time you can solve two problems with one bus, you're saving money. I don't know how big a dent this would make in the budget, but even if it's only a few million dollars, it'd be that much, and if you and every other citizen would come up with one idea apiece saving a few million dollars, it would add up. Of course I can hear somebody saying now, but you haven't solved anything if you take the country people into town and the town people to the country. That's because he doesn't understand modern government. The purpose of government is not to solve problems, it's just to shuffle them around. Even when they demand and get a new deal, most people will forget they're still playing with the same cards.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Young had 2 points and Rex Black had 1 point.

The seventh grade team may have been jinxed by an incident that happened immediately prior to Monday night's game.

Coach F. D. Harris had his boys in the dressing room and really fired them up and ready to play before leaving the dressing room.

A little later he called for substitute player Danny Blaylock. Blaylock didn't appear and Coach Harris was unhappy as none of the boys knew where Blaylock was.

During halftime, Coach Harris was going over the developments of the game with his boys. As he looked over the dressing room, he saw Blaylock sitting among the other boys and listening. Coach Harris asked Blaylock where he had been and Danny answered, "Coach, you locked me up in the dressing room when you left before the game."

Danny said he just sat down and waited for the half to end and made sure he got out of the dressing room before Coach Harris locked him up again.

Coach Graves' ninth graders didn't have any luck at the Monday night game with Morton as they were defeated by a score of 54-38.

Jerry Putman was high pointer for the ninth graders with 11; followed by Lewis Morris with 10; Keith Turner 7; Jerry Scoggin and Kenneth Carpenter 3 each and Terry Gunter and Dana Cockrell each had 2 points.

passenger car and commercial truck registration will increase about three and one half percent, motorcycle registration is expected to increase 16 percent. This follows a 25 percent increase in motorcycles in 1966 over 1965 and another 17 percent increase last year. Motor vehicle owners can avoid long lines by registering during the month of February, rather than waiting until the March rush.

Owners should bring four items to the Tax Collector's office when registering vehicles: certificate of title, 1967 license receipt, current resident address and zip code. State law requires each owner to register his vehicle in the county in which he resides and to present his certificate of title as evidence of ownership. During the 1967 session the Texas Legislature amended the Texas Registration Law by changing passenger car license fees and establishing a minimum fee of $5.30 for all vehicles, including boat trailers. The Bailey County Irrigation Gas Users held their annual meeting at L. B.'s Restaurant, Monday night, January 15. B. H. Black, president of Bailey County Gas Users, presided.

D. L. Carmichael, president of the Plains Irrigation Gas Users (the parent organization) gave a report from the directors of 15 counties. He reported they were pleased over a recent decision of the Federal Power Commission rendered December 15, 1967, directing El Paso to sell Tri-County Gas Company in Lamb County, gas at 22.44 cents, and directing Trans-western Pipeline Company to make nine additional taps to Plains Gas Farmers Cooperative Society over the strenuous objections of Pioneer Natural Gas Company. Pioneer has made a motion for rehearing which was denied by the Federal Power Commission. "This," he said, "means that a good number of farmers will buy gas at a much cheaper price than they have been paying Pioneer."

He stated "prior to the organization of the Irrigation Gas Users in 1961 we had consistently been getting gas rate raises every few years, since this date we have not had a raise, although we were promised a gas raise in about two years by C. I. Wall, president of Pioneer Natural Gas. Due to our efforts it has not materialized."

"Also," he continued, "proportion of leaks has been reduced from a high rate to the low rate of 27 cents MCF. Also the company has rendered the farmer better services, built extension lines, making gas available to farmers that otherwise could not afford gas and has offered to take over leaky lines."

"Carmichael warned against the farmers turning over their leaky lines to Pioneer, as it would ruin their bargaining power. He told how smoothly the present co-op of Plains Gas Users at Black, Texas is operating and how this proves that farmers are capable of running and servicing their own gas company efficiently at a great savings to the farmer users."

Bill Millen gave a report on how a few farmers in the Y. L. community, called the North Bailey Irrigation Gas Users, had started a cooperative last summer to buy gas at wholesale 22.44 cents from El Paso and sell it to themselves at .26 flat rate whether they had one well or a dozen, whether they used it one day or thirty days. "That way we do not penalize the small one well farmer," he stated.

John D. Aiken, the Gas Users attorney from Hereford, gave a report on the present status of the condemnation suits of Natural Gas Pipeline of America against farmers in four counties. He stated that prior to the organization of the Gas Users, nowhere except in very rare occasions had farmers ever received over $1 per rod for their land and damages. Due to our efforts, the cheapest has been $6 and up. Some hope to receive as much as $75 per rod.

This alone has brought thousands of dollars to the farmers. He announced that there will be one case in Bailey County Court on January 29 between Natural Gas Pipeline and Bud Williams, and he urged that all should attend as spectators.

Dick Godwin from Water Inc. spoke at the meeting. This organization is involved in an attempt to get water for irrigation transported from areas with excess water to arid and semi-arid areas. He presented maps being made by the Bureau of Reclamation and Corps of Engineers of the possible routes to bring this water to these areas. He explained the methods of obtaining water and financing such. He estimated water might be delivered in 15 years. Many questions in regard to the project were answered.

President Black then called for an election. Bailey County directors re-elected were: Ed Little, Omer Kelton and Bill Millen.

President Black reminded gas users to send in their $2 per well dues.

Two From Bailey Among Draft Delinquents

AUSTIN--The number of cases of draft delinquency in Texas increased from 959 to 1,028 in the last quarter of 1967, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said here Thursday.

But the number of these cases involving failure to report for induction into the military service decreased from 547 to 511, the summary of delinquencies to the director of Selective Service showed.

The local Selective Service board reports two delinquencies, Samuel Palma Arenivar and Herculano Zamora Galaviz, both for failure to comply with Draft Board regulations.

Analysis of the reports from the state's 155 draft boards revealed that 569 men were listed as having been reported to United States attorneys for various failures to comply with the draft law and its regulations. All these were not reported in the final quarter of 1967, as the list is cumulative.

A total of 889 names was on the delinquent lists from Houston-Baytown, Dallas and San Antonio, with 321 of these cases having been referred to federal attorneys.

Twenty boards, located at Lufkin, Pleasanton, Coleman, Van Horn, Eastland, Fairfield, Sulphur Springs, Benjamin, Lampasas, Groesbeck, Bowie, Robstown, Clarksville, Henderson, Abilene, San Angelo, Canton, Graham, Gainesville and Calvert, reported no delinquencies.

The Selective Service regulations define a "delinquent" as "a person required to be registered under the Selective Service law who fails or neglects to perform any duty required of him under the provisions of the Selective Service law."

President Black then called for an election. Bailey County directors re-elected were: Ed Little, Omer Kelton and Bill Millen.

President Black reminded gas users to send in their $2 per well dues.

Q -- My wife is a veteran receiving disability pension of $119 a month as we have three minor children. I have just been retired from the armed forces after 24 years service due to service-incurred disability. If I am rated 100 percent disabled, will I receive additional compensation for my wife and three minor children?

A -- Yes, if rated 50 percent or more disabled, and if you elect to waive retirement pay and receive compensation from the VA, you will be entitled to additional compensation allowance for your wife and your three children as dependents.

Q -- I have just reinstated my Government Life Insurance policy and don't want it to lapse again. How may I use my dividends to keep my insurance from lapsing?

A -- You have two options, your credit option and your premium option. If you choose to use your credit option, notify VA before your next dividend is due and ask them to hold your dividends as a credit against a lapse of premium payment. The VA will hold your dividend until it is used. Then, if your premium is not paid at the end of the 31-day grace period, enough money will be drawn from your credit to pay your premium. If you ask the VA to exercise your premium option, your dividend will be converted to pay your premiums in advance as far as possible. You will be billed for premiums again at least one month in advance of your next premium due date.

John Tower

Because of last year's "gradualism" approaches to crime, inflation and war those same matters will be of priority concern this year.

There has been a gratifying Administration reawakening to these things within recent weeks. Some rather elaborate new policies have been suggested. Initial evaluation of the Administration's reawakening leaves me hopeful that at last we may come to grips with our nation's compound-crisis, but I have a nagging fear that in place of last year's wasteful "gradualism" policies, we now may be confronted by at least equally unwise "panic" policies.

For instance, although Texans know well my longstanding opinion that we must maintain unrelenting pressure on the enemy to close the "peace gap" in Vietnam, I would not like to see us panicked into some undefined new policy of "hot pursuit" which could widen the war in a manner military men tell me is neither wise nor necessary. I'm glad "gradualism" has been abandoned in our war effort. But, there still are plenty of useful steps we can take -- such as closure of the Haiphong port -- before the matter of widespread "hot pursuit" arises.

I expect this year's Congress will insist on vigorous prosecution of the war and much of our time will be devoted to providing money and material for that effort. But, Congress is not likely to be panicked into an unnecessary widening of the conflict.

For too many past months our Justice Department has turned a cold shoulder on the crime crisis. Lacking leadership and solid backing, a number of anti-crime bills were left unperfected when Congress adjourned in December. Then, suddenly this year we were subjected to a number of near-panic solutions such as extensive wiretapping and the mounting of citizen vigilante groups in the streets.

Here, too, I expect Congress to responsibly reject over-reaction while at the same time ending "gradualism."

Early this year the Senate will pass anti-crime legislation of a sort I have advocated for years. We will provide funds to fight organized crime and for police anti-riot training. There will be cooperative federal-state programs to improve law enforcement communications and training. We likely will over-ride the Supreme Court decisions barring voluntary confessions as evidence. It is in the field of finances where past laxity has most caught up with the Federal Administration. The cost of city living is up 39 percent since 1959. It's going on up at an annual rate that, if unchecked, will make this year's 100-cent-dollar worth only 75 cents in just 10 years.

Inflation alone cost Texans more than two billion dollars last year, and that's about the same thing a 10 percent sales tax would cost us.

But, rather than confront this inflation with a reduction in federal red-ink spending for non-defense purposes, the Administration has suggested that just another Band-Aid be applied to the sick economy -- and the wrong Band-Aid at that.

It has been suggested -- again almost in a panic -- that Americans be taxed for travel abroad and that U. S. business be penalized for overseas investment in a sort of "anti-Marshall Plan." These suggestions blithely ignore the fact that overseas investment brings us a trade profit and that tourism is only a minor factor in our financial equation.

It is overseas government spending that has caused us a gold outflow. It is government spending that must be controlled, not private spending. And, I expect Congress will insist that the government get its own fiscal house in order before uselessly taxing its citizens further.

So, this year, Congress is faced with the big job of tempering both gradualism and panic with reason.

It is a year during which Texans will want to keep a close watch on their federal government.

Wayne Nelson Young Farmers New President

Wayne Nelson of Corsicana is the new president of the 5000-member State Association of Young Farmers of Texas. His election to succeed Calvin Baker of Gonzales climaxed the 14th annual State Convention in Austin Saturday.

Nelson is a 27 year old cattle rancher from Navarro County in north central Texas. He owns 156 acres, leases 90 acres for beef cattle operations and, in addition, manages a 2800 acre ranch carrying 400 beef cows and 200 steers.

The new president has a long record of active involvement in the educational organization of young farmers under 36 years of age sponsored by the Texas Education Agency. He was president and secretary of his local Young Farmer Chapter in Corsicana and was named that chapter's Star Young Farmer.

Later he served two terms as president of the Area VIII Young Farmer Association.

In the community, Nelson is a member of the Navarro County Beef Cattle Committee and the Navarro County Youth Exposition. He and his family are members of the Baptist Church where he serves as a deacon and Sunday School teacher.

Elected new first vice president at the meeting was James Knight, 28 year old cotton and milo farmer from Mathis.

More than 600 young farmers from all over the state attended the Austin meeting.

No Good At All
Mrs. Skjold - Dear, did you notice the handsome fur coat worn by the young lady in front of us in church today?

Mr. Skjold - No, I'm afraid I didn't. I was dozing most of the time.

Mrs. Skjold - Huh, a lot of good it does you to go to church.

Dr. C. L. Lundell Honored by Group

For providing research to enable young farmers to stay in agriculture, and for revitalizing farm production, Dr. C. L. Lundell, director of Texas Research Foundation at Renner, has been honored by the State Association of Young Farmers of Texas.

Dr. Lundell recently was presented a distinguished service award from the state association for his contributions to the advancement of the Young Farmer program in Texas.

The Young Farmer Association noted that "farmers from throughout the state have benefited from information gained and dispensed at the Texas Research Foundation at Renner."

The association pointed out the many difficulties in getting established in agriculture. "Had it not been for the fine work carried on by Dr. Lundell and his co-workers at Texas Research Foundation, no doubt many, many farmers now on the land would have been forced to a living elsewhere. The knowledge which Dr. Lundell has made available to countless thousands of farmers has enabled them to cope with these seemingly unmountable problems and manage to develop profitable farming operations," the Young Farmers Association noted.

Dr. Lundell, a renowned botanist and agricultural scientist, established Texas Research Foundation in cooperation with Southern Methodist University during World War II years. Later, the Foundation was separated from the University in 1946.

Texas Research Foundation is visited each year by thousands of farmers looking for new and better ways to increase crop production and improve pastures. Research at the station developed the Renner Farming System and the Renner Pasture System.

Basically, the Renner Farming System is a three-year rotation of row crops, including cotton and small grains or grain sorghum, plus use of fertilizers and returning crop residues to the soil for organic matter and soil improvement. It's a "get paid as you grow" program. It returns cash to the farmer at the same time it builds up his soil.

The Renner Pasture System utilizes improved and introduced varieties such as DeSota grass, Ermelo lovegrass and Coastal Bermuda grass with the use of fertilizers.

Renner now has its own extension service, headed by Huey Whitehurst, to disseminate information in farm and pasture research obtained at the station.

Texas Research Foundation, located near Dallas, is privately financed and gets no federal money.

More than 50 demonstrations by farmers in cooperation with local business firms are now in progress throughout north, east, central and west Texas.

This past year, cotton farmers in the Blacklands in these demonstrations averaged 365 pounds of lint per acre, which is nearly double that estimated for the Blacklands by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

This is the sort of research that is paying off big for Blackland farmers and all of Texas, Young Farmers noted.

James Marrett At Da Nang AB

WITH U. S. COMBAT AIR FORCES, Vietnam---Staff Sergeant James D. Marrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marrett, of Ropesville, is on duty at Da Nang AB, Vietnam.

Sergeant Marrett, a precision measuring equipment technician, is a member of the Pacific Air Forces.

Before his arrival in Vietnam, he was assigned to Niagara Falls International Airport, N.Y.

The sergeant is a graduate of St. Anne (Ill.) High School.

Slack demand and declining cotton prices in the closing weeks of 1967 and since the turn of the year are hampering prospects for much of an increase in cotton acreage on the Texas High Plains in 1968, according to Don Anderson, Crosbyton President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Through October and November of 1967 farmers saw cotton prices advance faster than at any time since November, 1951. Depending on staple, micronaire and other factors, the market was paying out from 200 to as much as 1500 points over loan rates and almost all qualities were finding ready buyers.

And during that period there was much speculation, and a few predictions, that a high percentage of growers on the Plains would plant the maximum permissible 95 percent of allotments in 1968.

But, as more and more mills acquired sufficient cotton to fill their needs well into the coming year buying interest and prices dropped off quickly in the early part of December. Not much if any improvement in the situation has been seen since the first of the year, and this is causing some second thoughts, even among producers who were the most enthusiastic about maximum plantings in 1968.

"If a farmer is going to plant the 30 percent of his allotment on which he has an option in 1968 he needs to have some indication that the price of cotton grown on those acres will justify the risks and expenditures involved," Anderson says, "and the loan price just isn't enough to do the job."

Just about everyone in the industry agrees that additional cotton production is needed in 1968 to assure adequate supplies for domestic and export market requirements. And most are of the opinion that even with high-level planting the supply-demand situation by August, 1968, will be conducive to strong markets.

"But growers will be required to make their planting intentions known to Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices between February 5 and March 15," Anderson points out, "and I fear that a majority of them will be swayed by market conditions during that period rather than by supply-demand projections that might indicate a change later in the year."

Considering what might be done to encourage more planted acres in 1968, Anderson said "Merchants and mills alike are crying for more cotton to be produced, and it would seem to me they could get more cotton produced if they would offer a few contracts to growers around the country at prices that would pay them to plant additional acreage."

The cotton futures market, too, can be a significant indication to growers of what might be expected in the way of prices for the 1968 crop, and in some instances can be used to hedge prices. But this factor, too, has been disappointing, with futures prices in a steady decline since the second week of December.

"And here again," Anderson says, "not too many producers are thoroughly familiar with futures trading, and the current market will have a much greater influence on their planting decisions than will commodity exchange quotations even if these should substantially improve before the end of the sign-up period."

He concluded by saying "It is well and good to talk of growing more cotton to protect our markets against synthetic fibers and foreign growths, but too many of our producers are in a financial position that precludes their growing more cotton for that reason alone."

"They've got to make ends meet from each year's crop, however much they'd like to promote and protect the markets of the future. And unless they can see prospects for profit out of increased plantings, many of them will be inclined to continue planting at the 65 percent level."

Improvements in both staple and strength of the 1967 cotton crop on the High Plains turned out even better than early-season predictions.

This was revealed January 17 with the publication of the final quality analysis of the crop by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Based on estimates of acreage planted to longer, stronger varieties, it was expected that about 30 percent of the crop would staple an inch or longer and about half would have tensile strength, or pressley, of 75,000 pounds per square inch or better.

The final report shows 39.2 percent stapling one inch or longer and a big 67.1 percent pulling apart at 75,000 pounds or above. These percentages are up from 13.3 percent and 37.5 percent, respectively, in 1966.

Texas Draft Board To Supply 1,165 Men in February

AUSTIN---State draft boards will be called upon to furnish 1,165 men for the armed forces in February, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday.

This compares with quotas of 1,659 for January, 924 for December, 1,159 for November, 977 for October, and 1,180 for September.

The Texas quota of 1,165 for induction in February is the state's share of a national call for 23,300, all for the army.

The Selective Service Boards will forward 4,590 men in February for pre-induction examination, Colonel Schwartz said, and they have scheduled 5,455 for this examination in January.

Local draft boards for induction and pre-induction examination in February were mailed from state Selective Service headquarters on or about January 10.

Greek King moves from Rome embassy to villa.

Average staple came to 31.6 thirty-seconds of an inch, as compared to 30.4 thirty-seconds in 1966, and average pressley was 79,100 pounds, up from 73,000 pounds the previous year.

Seed sales estimates, by variety, for 1968 planting are a strong indication that this trend will continue. Most cotton leaders believe at least half, and maybe a great deal more, of the 1968 crop will staple at least an inch, and that over 75 percent will be in the stronger pressley range.

Handicapped To Receive Special Aid

Better lines of communication to make certain every handicapped person in the South Plains region knows what services are available to him... and where, have been recommended by a Regional Vocational Rehabilitation Study Group.

Bailey County Judge Don Cihak is associated with the study group and is working toward the effecting of the plan.

In a final report adopted Saturday, January 13, as part of the development of a statewide plan, the group also called for establishment of a comprehensive rehabilitation center on the Texas Tech campus.

Other most important recommendations included a call for legislation to ease wage law restrictions which now discourage employers from hiring persons who need to be rehabilitated.

Speakers at the 20-county gathering said persons in many smaller towns now are unaware of existing resources, programs, facilities and sponsoring agencies which are available to the handicapped.

In a final report which Mrs. Jack Kastman, regional chairman, will deliver to state planning officials, the regional board urged development of a strong educational program to overcome that information gap.

The group further endorsed the proposed rehabilitation center at Tech to serve all of West Texas, plus all or parts of nearby states.

Its facilities, including the services of specialists from a variety of schools and departments at the university, would be for the benefit of all physically and mentally disabled persons in the region.

As a pilot program for other parts of Texas, the center would play an important role in the plan to make comprehensive vocational rehabilitation services available to every handicapped person in the state by no later than 1975.

HemisFair Skyride Gives Excellent Pavillion View

SAN ANTONIO---An average of more than 1,000 visitors per day to the already operating skyride at HemisFair 1968 have raised the ancient art of sidewalk superintendency to an all-time high.

Crossing the 92-acre site from southeast to northwest, the ride gives the visitors an excellent view of the many modernistic pavilions nearing completion. It soars above the web of elevated walkways, the mile-long lagoon, many boutiques of foreign nations and some of the 19th-century mansions which have been restored by concessionaires.

The ride starts just east of the $10 million Institute of Texas Cultures, the largest single pavilion on the site. It terminates between the foreign government sector and the $6.75 million United States Confluence Theater.

A highlight of the ride is passing close to the 622-foot Tower of the Americas and watching the 1,500,000-pound topchase inch its way skyward much like a doughnut sliding up a broomstick. The six-level topchase will contain a revolving restaurant, concession areas, and open and closed observation decks at its top-most levels.

Construction is either complete or nearing completion on the pavilions of Alive, Inc., The Coca-Cola Co., Eastman Kodak, Falstaff Brewing Co., Ford Motor Co., Frito-Lay/Pepsi-Cola, General Electric, General Motors, Gulf Insurance Group, Gulf Oil Corporation, Humble Oil and Refining, IBM Corp., Lone Star Brewing Co., Mormon Church, Pearl Brewing Co., Southern Baptist Church, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. (with American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and Western Electric), Radio Corporation of America and the Woman's Pavilion.

Riders have an excellent view of the already complete, three-building Convention Center of the City of San Antonio, with its 2,800 seat Fine Arts Theater, the 10,500 seat arena and the 200,000 square foot exhibit and banquet hall. During HemisFair, the 10-story, acoustical domed arena will host such shows as the Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey Circus, the Dale Robertson

South Plains Slates Registration

Sophomores will register from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. on Monday, and both freshmen and sophomores will register Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Evening college registration will also be held in the library beginning at 7:30 p.m. Monday and continue throughout the week each evening from 7:30 to 9 p.m. After Monday night Evening college registration will be held in the office of the Administration building.

Show and many others. The theater patrons will hear such comedians as Jack Benny, Bob Hope, Phyllis Diller and Bob Newhart. They will listen to Ferrante and Teicher, and they will watch Arthur Fiedler conduct. They will thrill to the heralded opera "Don Carlo."

The skyride also glides past Fiesta Island, being readied for the many rides and other amusements that are such an integral part of any World's Fair.

As the April 6 opening date of the international exposition approaches, it is difficult to look in any direction without seeing tremendous activity.

Much of it is in the foreign government sector, where some of the exhibits are already being installed. Governments which have indicated they will participate include Belgium, Bolivia, Canada, Republic of China, Colombia, Costa Rica, El Salvador, France, Germany, Guatemala, Honduras, Italy, Japan, Korea, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, the Philippines, Portugal, Spain, Switzerland, Thailand, Tunisia and Venezuela.

Soon to get started is the final job-extensive planting of ground cover, flowers and shrubs, and installation of the many fountains and sculptures that will make the Texas World's Fair as easy to experience as it will be delightful to see.
