AREA MEN MURDERED ★★★★★★★★★★ Muleshoe Man Gunshot Victim, Sudan Man Dies of Beating

Investigation continues into two murders, one in Muleshoe and another in Sudan, both which occurred Sunday night, March 3. Joe Martinez, 28, a former Muleshoe resident who was residing in Morton has been charged with the murder of Guadalupe T. Gonzales, 26, Muleshoe.

Justice of the Peace Joe Vaughn set $15,000 bond for Martinez, who has been taken to Lubbock jail.

The shooting took place at the home of Juan Aguilar, Sr., located near Union Compress in the northern edge of town. Gonzales was employed by the Compress.

According to reports, the families of Juan Aguilar and Lupe Gonzales had gone to Lubbock Saturday and bought two cases of beer and returned to Muleshoe.

The Martinez' had been invited to the Aguilar home the day before the shooting occurred.

The two men, according to witnesses, were arguing and drinking beer.

A .22 pistol was recovered as the possible weapon. Investigating officers said several Latin Americans were at the residence at the time of the shooting. City Police received a call from West Plains Hospital about 11:13 p.m., advising them of a patient which had been brought in with gunshot wounds.

The men gave many of the fish away before they came home, which amounted to several pounds caught and not in the 800 pound tally returned here.

It is 1,050 miles from here to the fishing site, but the men seemed to think their experience there and the fishing luck they had was well worth the miles.

Deputy Sheriff Buddy Black returned Monday from Phoenix, Ariz. where he picked up a man being held there for Bailey County on charges of theft.

Fred Crider allegedly took an automobile from Goodwin's Service Station along with a deposit which he was to have taken to a local bank. The car was a 1959 Ford belonging to Claude M. Gann.

In other activities, one has been arrested and is being held here for Lamesa on charges of escaping jail. The suspect, Juan Flores, is reported to have escaped from Lamesa jail and has lived here for some time.

That department also placed one in jail on charges of drunk and another for worthless check.

City patrolmen have arrested one on a drunk charge and two on a DWI charge.

City Patrolman Ray Cline went to the hospital to investigate the incident. Patrolman Cline called for Chief of Police Harold White and deputy sheriff Bob Henderson.

Martinez was arrested at the hospital where he had taken Gonzales after having allegedly shot him and remained there until taken into custody by officers.

Gonzales died in West Plains Hospital at 2:15 a.m. Monday.

Services for the gunshot victim were held Wednesday afternoon in St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Mason. Burial was in Mason Cemetery directed by Earnest A. Haufman Funeral Home. Local arrangements were by Singleton Funeral Home.

Born April 7, 1941 at Mason, Gonzales had been a Muleshoe resident about six years. He was a member of the Catholic Church.

Survivors include his wife, Virginia; two sons and four daughters; his father, Richard Gonzales of Mason; two sisters and four brothers.

Monte Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Barnes, Lazbuddie, was injured last Friday night in an accident 3/4 of a mile east of North Lazbuddie Gin.

Monte, accompanied by Gary Elliott, both students in Lazbuddie High School, came upon a parked car which did not have its lights on. As he tried to miss the car, he was caught in the loose dirt on the shoulder of the road when he swerved and hit a highline pole. As he

Lt. Gov. Smith Speaks

Lt. Governor Preston Smith, a candidate for Governor of Texas, was honored at a coffee at L. B.'s Restaurant at 7 a.m. Monday, March 4.

Campaign manager Lee Pool introduced the candidate to interested citizens who attended to hear his comments concerning his views of the duties of the Texas Governor.

"If elected Governor," he said, "I will continue to work for the improvement of education, industrial development, job training, clean air and water, human relations, law enforcement, state spending, highways and safety and tourism."

Concerning education, the candidate said "There are four divisions, public schools, junior and senior colleges and vocational schools. During the 1969 legislature the topic of teacher pay will be discussed. Texas is big, rich and proud and if raising teacher pay to the national level will mean good teachers, then it should be done."

"The vocational schools and colleges is a technique in which

A 71-year-old Sudan man, John E. Knox, who lived alone was robbed and died of a beating suffered during the robbery at his home there Sunday night.

Knox, who was retired, lived long enough to give Lamb County Deputy Sheriff Homer McLaury a description of his assailants.

Knox told Deputy McLaury before he died that he was struck and robbed by two men, one tall and one short. They were both Anglos, Knox said.

McLaury said Knox related the following to him:

"About 9 p.m. Sunday, two men knocked on the door and told him that their car had broken down and they would like to borrow a flashlight.

Knox let the men in the house and then they started beating him on the head and face. They took his money and apparently left him for dead.

Knox stumbled out of the house and apparently tried to walk to his son's service station which is near his home. He fell as he crossed the railroad tracks between his home and the service station."

Neighbors heard Knox crying for help and called McLaury, who is stationed in Sudan. McLaury called an ambulance upon arrival at the scene and Knox died enroute to a hospital.

Deputies in Littlefield said early today that the investigation continues.

Monday night in a special meeting called by the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, the Muleshoe Independent School Board and Muleshoe Industrial Foundation, Muleshoe City Council, Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, as well as the American Auxiliary of University Women, endorsed a proposal made by Dr. Marvin L. Baker, president of South Plains Junior College, Levelland, to annex Bailey County into the South Plains Junior College District.

Dr. Baker explained that upon acceptance into the South Plains Junior College District, Bailey County would be provided with the following facilities: a $100,000 plant would be constructed to house technical training, vocational training, occupational training, continued education and counseling.

In addition, this will assure Bailey County students two years of college at low cost tuition.

The steps for Bailey County to become a part of the South Plains Junior College District are as follows:

Art. 2815h. Junior College districts - Sec. 21.

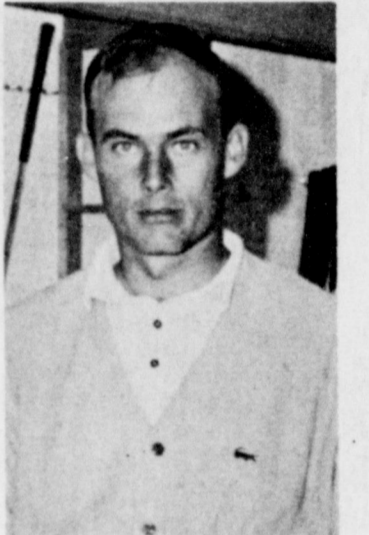

1. - The petition must be signed by at least five percent of the property tax paying voters of Bailey County.

2. - It must be presented to the County Board of Education together with a certified copy of an order by the Board of Trustees of the South Plains Junior College District, approving the proposed annexation.

After it has been determined that at least five percent of the property tax paying voters of Bailey County have signed the petition, and before the petition is presented to the County Board of Education, an order should be passed by the Board of Trustees of the South Plains Junior College District approving the proposed annexation. The petition then should be dated and presented along with a certified copy of the order of the Board of Trustees of South Plains Junior College District, approving said annexation to the County Board of Education.

3. - The County Board of Education then should issue an order for an election to be held in Bailey County, not less than

A five pickup and boat convoy of fishermen, and sure enough fishermen, returned Sunday from Naojoa, Old Mexico, with approximately 800 pounds of black bass and channel catfish. Making the eight-day trip were Kenneth Nesbitt, Gene Caldwell, Bill Warner, Billy Bell, Vernon Puckett, Bill Darnell, Don Harmon, Aubrey Heathington, Arvis Grogan, Lewis Wayne Shafer, Delbert Watson, all of the Muleshoe and vicinity and Weldon Garnett, Lubbock.

The largest 'catch' weighed something over five pounds and the fish were caught in a two and one-half day period of time. One day, three men caught 82 fish, some two at a time.

"We caught so many fish," one man said, "that we actually were run off from one point on Naojoa Dam."

The men gave many of the fish away before they came home, which amounted to several pounds caught and not in the 800 pound tally returned here.

Money from the sale will not be turned over to Mrs. Lewis from the different troops until after the March 14 conclusion of the campaign, so the actual dollar figure made to date is not available.

Some of the original order has not been sold, however, a number of the Troops have already requested additional boxes to sell.

Mrs. Alvin Christian, Lubbock, chairman of the Council Cookie sale, said the Scouts will continue their sales until March 14.

Girl Scouts in the 18-county council will be selling the cookies for 50 cents per box. The

Crop Sign-up Reaches 50 Percent in County

Farmers are reminded that March 15 is deadline to sign into the 1968 cotton, feed grain or wheat programs.

As of March 1, after four weeks of the sign-up period, only 50 percent of Bailey County's farms were enrolled in the program, Charles Daniel, ASCS office manager said.

As of the same date, 666 cotton farms were enrolled to divert 31 percent of the 1968 farm allotment.

A total of 594 feed grain farms elected to divert 46 percent of the feed grain base acreage and 194 farms had signed into the program.

Farmers who wish to have measuring service for their farms after crops are planted may file application for this service through May 15. The charge for this service is $12. per farm plus 10 cents per acre measured, Daniel said.

Castor bean producers who intend to plant castor beans on diverted acreage in skip row patterns are asked to contact the ASCS office for information on payment reductions and number of acres eligible to be seeded to an alternate crop.

Daniel reminds farmers of five other important dates other than the March 15 sign-up deadline.

March 8 is deadline to request or release cotton acreage allotment.

April 30 is deadline date to place cotton in the loan.

Measuring service request deadline is May 15.

Deadline to place Grain Sorghum under loan is May 31 and the deadline to place corn or soybeans under loan is June 30.

Gas Users Meet Held

Burel Black, president of the Bailey County Irrigation Gas Users Association, presided at a meeting held Monday night in the county courtroom.

Bill Millen gave a resume of the work and accomplishments done by interested farmers toward securing cheaper gas for irrigation.

"Irrigation Gas Users was organized in 1961," Millen said, "and up to that time, we had consistently been getting gas rate raises every few years."

"A few farmers in the Y.L. community, called North Bailey Irrigation Gas Users, started the cooperative and after obtaining permission from the Federal Power Commission in Washington, were able to obtain gas wholesale for 22.44 cents from El Paso and charge 26 cents flat rate to the farmer."

"One well or 10 wells, makes no difference in the flat rate price," Millen pointed out.

Dimmitt Complex Dedicated

A dedication ceremony was held in Dimmitt Friday, opening an all-new pioneer housing project there for farm laborers.

The Pioneer project in East Dimmitt, first and largest of its type in the US, is expected to serve as a prototype for migrant workers' housing of the future.

The 23-building complex will house 190 workers' families in two-bedroom apartments. It includes nine two-story apartment buildings for migrant laborers, 12 one-story quadruplexes for both migrant and permanent workers, a three-chair barber shop, a coin-operated laundry, a large equipped playground, outdoor benches and clothes lines, and paved and curbed streets and parking areas.

In the center of the complex is Manager William J. T. Robertson's separate quarters, the offices of the County Migrant Health Unit and the Texas Employment Commission substation, and a maintenance and storage building.

Constructed of concrete block and steel, the buildings are painted beige brown, with bright colored doors. Inside, the four-room apartments are painted in pastels and have built-in ranges.

Total project cost was $966,820, financed mainly with a $570,000 insured loan and a $387,380 grant from the Farmers Home Administration.

Providing the balance of funds was the Castro County Agricultural Housing Association, Inc., a group of farmers and businessmen who spearheaded the project. The association will own the project when the $570,000 loan is paid off.

Officers and directors of the association are Allan Webb, president; Truman Touchstone, vice president; Goldman Dyer, secretary-treasurer; and O. T. "Slim" Vardell, William "Judge" Baldrige, Jimmy Presley, Ray Pool, Rayphard Smithson and Edd McLeroy, directors. James Horton is the association's legal officer.

Profits from the sale are divided between the troops and Council. Council profits will be used for building and improving Camp Rio Blanco.

Camp Rio Blanco is the camp for the entire Council. It is located northeast of Crosbyton. Summer sessions will begin in June. Each session will be based on the Girl Scout program out-of-doors.

Camp activities include crafts, hikes, swimming, songs, campfires, cook-outs, nature study and star gazing.

Six sessions are scheduled for girls of various age groups.

While girls are selling cookies, they will wear their Girl Scout Uniforms or pins. They will be giving each customer a window sticker indicating purchase and the scout's name and address. A two-week campership for Camp Rio Blanco will be awarded to Girl Scouts who sell 350 boxes of cookies, or more.

Girl Scouts selling 100 boxes will receive a "Cookie" patch for their uniforms. Those selling 25 boxes of cookies will receive a "Certificate of Merit."

Minister Addresses Rotary Club

Rev. J. W. Farmer, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church, gave a talk at the Tuesday meeting of the Rotary Club.

Israel was used as his topic as he related the Biblical prophecy concerning the present condition existing in that land today and recent occurrences there, along with the noted growth and expansion. This, too, was a Biblical prophecy.

Rotarian Myron Pool arranged for the program which was presented.

John Crow, heading a membership team "Roughnecks" reported that they were leading over the other team which has been named "Good Guys." At the conclusion of the competition, the winning team will be guest of the losing team for a special event.

Soybean Date of Planting Studied

Date-of-planting on soybeans may be far more critical than most farmers realize. Results of research at various locations for the past several years has indicated that a 4-5 bushel decrease in yield can normally be expected for each 10 day delay in planting beginning with May 20, especially with the full-season varieties.

On the newer, short-season types, such as Patterson and Clark 63, it appears that the same rule will generally apply beginning with June 15.

A test at the High Plains Research Foundation in 1967 was conducted to determine the effect of planting date on the Hinn, Hill, Patterson, Clark 63, and Wayne varieties. Six planting dates were planned beginning May 1 and continuing every two weeks until July 15. Rain and wet field conditions prevented the June 1 and July 1 plantings. The planting dates average yields were: May 2-24.4 bushel per acre; May 15-27.1 bushel per acre; June 14-27.3 bushel per acre; and July 12-16.6 bushel per acre. Oil and protein content are also being checked in this test, but results have not yet been obtained.

All varieties received a pre-plant irrigation. Subsequent irrigations were applied as each variety reached bloom and pod-set growth stage. Rains provided adequate pre-bloom moisture. Previous soybean irrigation studies at the Foundation have determined the best timing to pre-plant, pre-bloom, bloom, and pod-set. One quart of Planavin per acre applied in 20-inch bands over the row along with conventional sweep cultivation of the middles gave adequate weed control.

Headquarters for the gas users cooperative is in Hereford and meters are being read by Elmore Rains of that city.

Applications were taken at the conclusion of the meeting for additional farmers to join the group. A deadline for signing up is to be set.

Those on Pioneer Gas lines must give three months notice before they can disconnect, plus the time it will take for individual groups to obtain the permission of the Federal Power Commission in Washington.

Directors are Bill Millen, Ed Little and Omar Kelton.

Membership fees are $40 per well and $200 for meter fee. Farmers who fail to pay their bills will have their meter taken out and a $50 re-connect charge much be paid before it will be re-installed.

"The citizens of Texas should be given more for their tax dollar; this can be done with experienced, efficient leadership," he said.

Concerning basic values of today, the candidate said "We in government must apply to the present and the future our basic values such as pride in our state and nation, honesty, integrity, and a sense of right and wrong in our children, as well as in the rest of our citizens. Tea to Honor Teachers

Much Obligated

A tea honoring the teachers of Richland Hills school will be given Tuesday, March 12 in the school cafeteria. The tea is sponsored by the P-TA of the Richland Hills school.

Abner, on one of his infrequent visits to town, carries a jug under one arm and a shotgun in the other. Walking up to his neighbor Lem, he levels the shotgun at him and orders him to drink.

Coughing and whooping, Lem says, "Tarnation, that's horrible stuff!"

"Ain't it though?" concedes Abner, "Now hold the gun on me while I take a swig."

Earth News

By Beulah Newton

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Foster over the weekend were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Elam and Cherri of Lubbock.

Our community has been saddened by the passing of a long time resident, Arthur P. King, King (as he was known to everyone) died in the South Plains Hospital at Amherst, 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. King would have been 75 February 28. He survived by one sister and several nieces and nephews. Services were held in the First Baptist Church at Earth, Thursday the 29th. Rev. M. B. Baldwin, pastor, officiated, assisted by Rev. Walter Driver, pastor of the Methodist Church at Earth. Burial was in the Earth cemetery, under direction of Parsons-Ellis-Singleton Funeral Home.

King, a native of Elgin, moved to Earth in 1935 from Fletcher, Tex. He was a veteran of World War I.

Mrs. Harvey Hickman was admitted to South Plains Hospital and Clinic late Thursday. Mrs. Hickman suffered a light heart attack. She is improving, but will have to be confined to her bed for several weeks after returning to her home.

Those visiting with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hyde in the South

Plains Hospital in Amherst on Thursday afternoon were, Mrs. Bulah Coker, Mrs. Nannie Ginn and Mrs. Ida Allen. Hyde is much improved and will be resting at home soon.

Mrs. L. T. Smith is much improved in the Methodist Hospital, Lubbock and if she continues to improve will be at home in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hudson visited Hudson's mother and sister in Lamesa last week. They also visited in Leveland with Mrs. Poteet and Mrs. Dora Bulls.

Joe Miller, nephew of Arthur Miller, has been discharged from the U. S. Army after serving two years. He is now engaged in farming in this area. Miller's wife is the former Miss Veta Rudd, they are the parents of twin boys, three months old.

Leaving Monday for Germany were Mrs. Jeral Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Taylor.

Mrs. Jeral Taylor will spend about three months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Donningbury and other relatives of Amsterdam, Holland, and also with Mr. and Mrs. Billy Taylor and family in Germany.

The C. O. Taylors will visit their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Taylor in Germany, also the Donningbury family in Holland. They also plan to do some sight seeing and return home after two weeks.

Mrs. Ross Middleton was admitted to the Littlefield Hospital Friday. Polly is suffering from fatigue and is improving.

Mrs. R. L. Drake and Mrs. Cecil Parish are patients in the Medical Arts Hospital in Littlefield. Mrs. Parish took her mother to the doctor and the doctor admitted them both to the hospital.

"World Day of Prayer" programs were held in the chapel of the Methodist Church Friday night, approximately 25 women attended.

A program of "Prayer" was led by Mrs. Orville Cleavinger, and girls from the Chancel Choir sang, "Sweet Hour of Prayer." Second leader, Mrs. Roy Neal, scriptures were read by Mrs. Bulah Coker, Mrs. C. T. Richardson and Mrs. John Welch. Offerings were laid on the altar and dismissal prayer in unison.

Lou Lou McBride, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill McBride of Corpus Christi and a former resident of Earth, wrote this poem about her two little brothers who were killed in a go-cart accident a year ago.

The boys were a year apart and real close pals. One was dark and quiet and filled with care, The other was lighthearted, gay and fair, Both were loving, happy and young,

Both had a song, now unsung, But do not feel sad to hear no song, For they live with God in a place of no wrong, Picture them running, laughing and free,

Just as they always used to be, For it is much better, this new home of theirs, Without any worries, or troubles or cares, They are living there, always to be

In God's loving arms, through eternity. Pat Bobo of Muleshoe held the lucky ticket for the 200-pound black steer the Catholic Church sold tickets on. The church is trying to raise enough money to buy a vacant lot adjoining the present property on the west. The total receipts from the sale were $1096. Bobo gave the steer back to the church to do as they pleased.

This is public school week. There will be considerable activity on the campus and off campus ball games.

It has been reported to us that Johnny Bob Lawrence, U. S. Navy, has been killed in Vietnam. Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence who were former teachers of Springlake-Earth schools. Bob attended school here. He is married and has a son. His wife and son are living in Fort Worth with her parents. The Lawrences are teaching in Pawnee, Okla.

It is not known at this time where the burial will be held. Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Cole last weekend were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cole, Olton, and Jessie Cole, Lubbock.

Local Committee Irrigation Farmers Selects Textbooks To Secure Cheaper Gas

The Textbook Committee met Monday afternoon, February 26, and made recommendations of books to be available for use in the Muleshoe Schools beginning September 1, 1968.

The final approval will be made by the Muleshoe Board of Trustees before March 31.

Books recommended for adoption were Spelling, grades 2-8; Science, grades 1-6; Math, 7-8; Physical Science, Short-hand and Bookkeeping, high school.

The committee is composed of the following: Owetha Finley, Edith Henderson, Jane Rudd, Mary Crane, Aileen Siewert, Faye Chapman, C. E. Fox, Royce Barnes, Doris Brown, Tom Jinks, R. E. Everett, Bill Taylor, Milton Oyler, Elizabeth Watson and Neal Dillman, Chairman.

A report has just been received that approval has been received from the Federal Power Commission allowing 178 farmers to purchase gas from a new source, according to Bill Millen, director, Plains Irrigation and Gas Users.

Extension of the Federal Power Commission authority for Plains Gas Farmer's Co-operative Society and Tri County Gas, Inc., to purchase gas from Transwestern Pipeline Company for 26.5 cents per mcf, and from El Paso Pipeline Company for 22.44 cents per mcf, was made final February 16, when Pioneer Natural Gas Company chose not to file an appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals from the order issued December 14, 1967.

D. L. Carmichael, president of Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association states, "This is a major breakthrough for farmers in securing cheaper agricultural gas."

Castro and Parmer County farmers are in the process of ordering metering equipment to get approximately 174 wells tied on to nine additional taps gained from Transwestern Pipeline Company. Approximately 150 wells in Lamb County are being prepared for connection to two taps onto El Paso Pipeline Company.

Four major pipelines cross the Panhandle and South Plains offering a new source of gas. In addition to Transwestern and El Paso, Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America crosses Bailey, Castro, Parmer and Deaf Smith Counties with a 24" pipeline, and Northern Natural Gas Pipeline Company crosses Lubbock, Hale, Swisher and Armstrong Counties. "This assures eventual competition in securing natural gas for irrigation," pointed out D. L. Carmichael.

The original order of the Federal Power Commission granting Plains Gas Farmers the authority to purchase gas from Transwestern was issued February 16, 1965, and service was connected June 15, 1965, to four group lines serving 87 wells.

The expansion order makes possible 178 West Texas farmers to purchase irrigation gas at reduced prices, and fixes a precedent for other farmers to secure gas from competing sources.

Marketing Man Job Not Easy

COLLEGE STATION—Farmers like to blame the marketing man for low prices and small checks, says W. E. Black, Extension marketing economist, Texas A&M University. But, he adds, the marketing man has no easy job.

He is the man who has to come up with new ideas, new products, and new consumer services. With about 200 million people in the Nation, and many more abroad, any idea, farmers believe, should be easy to sell. After all, we have figures on everything. He should know what to shoot at -- the average city dweller, the average farmer, the average American, the average this, and the average that. He should simply appeal to this average, so it would appear.

However, it doesn't work quite this way, says Black. Averages cover up a lot of things needed in good market planning. There is not one thing everyone eats. If you start planning in terms of averages, you may end up planning for no one.

The only thing consumers have in common is that each is unique. No one person is exactly like any other single person. Incomes differ, likes vary, family size and composition vary, location, education, age and health vary -- you can go on and on.

As a result the poor marketing man is in quite a quandary, says Black. To whom should he appeal for best results? How should he go about making this appeal? The answers he comes up with to these questions mean life or death to his idea, his new product or new service. There are numerous examples of fine products or services that seemingly had great promise but failed because these two questions were inadequately answered.

Today's marketing man does not shoot for averages. Instead, he shoots for a group of people who have many things in common. The 200 million people in this country, although unique, can be grouped by age, or by where they live, or by occupation, or by this or by that. Then, they appeal to this specific group. They make the product or service to meet the needs of this group. This may seem like he is doing his job by bits and pieces, but if he has a lot of bits and pieces going for him, it can be said he is doing his job well. Probably, he still does not appeal to everyone, but he will come closer to it than if he started out to appeal to the average American. It pays to keep your eye on groups when it comes to marketing, says Black.

Farmers, themselves, says the economist, can do something about marketing. But to make it pay, they will have to apply proven techniques . . . the same that smart marketing men have been using for a long time.

"No Appointment Necessary."

Planavin[®] is the cotton-soybean herbicide that gives you more than your money's worth.

Growers bought every pound of Planavin[®] Herbicide they could get their hands on last season. Read why.

Shell's Planavin[®] Herbicide gives you more than just excellent preemergence control. Nothing on the market does a better job.

It had to be more than just another good weed killer in order to break in against established competition. Growers found out how good last season. Planavin proved itself under the worst weather conditions in years. It held the fort against most annual grasses and many broadleaf weeds—right through the early period when control really counts. Growers got what they paid for—freedom from weed problems during the time when weeds can strangle young cotton and soybeans. Plus a sound control base that makes season-long control programs simpler and more economical.

Planavin also gives you a bonus. It frees you from immediate incorporation. Takes the pressure off. And it can save you hours of application time.

With Planavin you can spray by ground or air. You can use large rigs, wide booms. Covering large acreage fast saves you hours. There's no waiting for incorporation equipment to catch up. No downtime for custom applicators. The reason? Planavin doesn't require immediate incorporation. You can take your time. Even a few hours of exposure to air and sun won't wipe out your weed control when you use Planavin. Note: When you do incorporate, keep it shallow—no deeper than 1 to 1½ inches. Don't bury your Planavin below the sprouting weeds.

Get Shell's Planavin[®] Herbicide early—to keep the pressure on weeds and off you. COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The Legislative Committee of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. met February 29 in Lubbock and reached general agreement on support for an extension of the current cotton program with refinements or modification recommended on eight points.

W. L. Edelman of Friona, committee chairman, emphasized that this was the committee's first meeting in 1968 and that the position taken was subject to review at subsequent meetings before final recommendations are taken to the full 48-man PCG Board of Directors.

The current cotton program, included in the Agriculture Act of 1965, expires with the 1969 crop year. But the agriculture committees of both houses of Congress have announced that hearings will be held in 1968, probably beginning in late March or early April.

It was the feeling of the PCG committee that a move should be made to get legislation at least introduced and if possible passed this year.

The eight points outlined by the committee as major provisions that need to be in an extended program are:

(1) Protection of producer net income;

(2) Protection against the imposition of individual program benefit limitations at any level;

(3) A more equitable procedure for determining projected yields;

(4) Elimination or modification of the current program's small farm (10 acres or less or 3600 pound projected yield or below) provisions;

(5) A "total market" concept as opposed to the "domestic market" concept now in effect;

(6) Liberalization of allotment sale and lease provision;

(7) A continuation of the 16 million acre legal minimum allotment and realistic efforts toward domestic and export consumption that will lead to a return to production from 16 million acres or more, and

(8) Adequate flexibility to allow production volume adjustments, either up or down, to keep in line with domestic and export market needs.

The PCG Legislative Committee is charged with the development of legislative principles that will serve the interests of cotton producers on the High Plains. These are then presented to the full 48-member PCG Board of Directors for adoption or further refinement.

The committee is made up of the three current PCG officers plus 12 other association members from various counties throughout the area.

The PCG Board contains two members elected from each of the 23 counties in the area plus two directors at large.

PCG President Don Anderson said "It will no doubt require several meetings of this committee and perhaps more than one meeting of the full Board to firmly develop a legislative policy, but when a policy is adopted it will represent a good cross section of thinking throughout the Plains area."

He reminded that when the current cotton program was under consideration in Washington many meetings, some of them lasting well into the night, were needed before the organization took a stand.

"Of course we are not always able to reach unanimous decisions," Anderson said, "but if we believe in the democratic process we have to believe this is the best way to resolve policy matters and we have to abide by the majority decision whether we as individuals agree or not."

Called on to review the current cotton situation for the meeting, Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President, said the U. S. carryover of cotton on August 1, 1968 is still expected to total around 6.5 million bales.

"The 1967 crop is going to fall about one-half million bales short of earlier estimates," he said, "but this will be offset by a drop of about the same amount in expected U. S. cotton exports."

He quoted USDA as saying that the 1968 cotton program is designed to raise production to about in line with 1968-69 marketing year needs for domestic mills and for export (about 13.5 million bales), and to encourage the production of longer staples.

"However," he continued, "producers across the cotton belt so far have signed up to plant only 75 percent of allotments, and if that percentage level remains constant it is doubtful if production will reach 13.5 million."

"There are some 15.3 million acres eligible for planting and for the program; 75 percent of that figure is only 11.5 million, and you have to take off something like 600,000 acres for underplanting and normal abandonment which leaves only 10.9 million acres for harvest."

USDA's estimate of per acre yields under the 1968 program with relaxed skip-row rules is 545 pounds and at that rate 10.9 million acres would yield only 12.4 million 48-pound net weight bales.

"Add that to the expected carryover of 6.5 million, and total supply for the 1968-69 marketing year comes to 18.9 million bales. So if USDA's estimate of 1968-69 offtake (13.5 million) is correct, the carryover on August 1, 1969 would be 5.4 million bales," Johnson said.

He pointed out however that in terms of supplying market needs this carryover might be more adequate than the larger carryover of 1968.

"Production of the medium and longer staples in 1967 was higher, percentage-wise, than ever before, and is expected to be higher again in 1968. At the same time offtake of these staples dropped about a million bales in 1967-68 because of the wide price differences. So we can logically expect a better staple balance in the 1969 carryover," he explained.

Johnson cautioned the committee that "a small change upward in estimated acreage or yields coupled with a small change downward in offtake, or vice-versa, could significantly change the entire supply offtake-carryover picture."

Other members of the legislative committee besides Anderson and Edelman include Donnell Echols of Lamesa, PCG Vice President; Ray Joe Riley of Hart, Secretary; Clyde Crausby, McAdoo; Roy Davis, Lubbock; Roy Forkner, Lubbock; Don Marble, South Plains; Joe B. Pate, Jr., Lubbock; G. B. Morris, Crosbyton; J. D. Smith, Littlefield; W. C. Thompson, Antonio; Joe D. Unfred, New Home; J. P. Jones, Kress; A. L. Higgins, Plainview, and Wilmer Smith of Wilson.

Vietnam News

reported by Marine Corps Combat Correspondents and edited by GySgt. Bob Montgomery

To Lance Corporal Jonathan D. Kelly of Sanford, Fla., the patrol was almost like his first, although he had participated in a hundred or more.

Kelly is a new squad leader with Company E, Ninth Marine Regiment. Already a five-month combat veteran in Vietnam, he has earned his own squad - a feat of considerable proportions among Marines - and was now commanding it in the field for the first time.

"It's quite a jump from fire team leader, responsible for only three men," he noted. "As squad leader, I have triple the men . . . triple the firepower . . . and triple the responsibility in lives."

"During a patrol, the squad leader is solely responsible for each movement made and each shot fired. It takes constant alertness and you've got to be right the first time - Charlie doesn't often allow you a second chance," he added.

Moving a patrol out at dawn, Kelly aligned his fire teams, set his flankers and positioned his M-79 (grenade launcher) man close by. Through a series of spoken commands and hand signals he tells his squad: "Don't bunch up . . . keep a good interval . . . stagger the column."

He is constantly in motion, often at doubletime, pausing only to check his map and compass. A good squad leader, he says, has to be everywhere at once.

The patrol takes his squad through rice paddies and bushes, along roads and barely discernible jungle paths. His eyes are darting everywhere . . . looking for traps . . . looking for mistakes . . . looking for the enemy. For five long hours and 8,000 meters he is immersed in his work.

As the patrol progresses, a rifleman finds a bamboo trap. Kelly comes forward to investigate. He cautions his men not to touch the innocent looking device until the area around it has been carefully checked for booby traps. Whenever the patrol crosses a cleared area, he disperses his men. He insures both the flanks, the front and rear are covered at all times.

Previous combat knowledge comes into play as he anticipates probable enemy actions that may be taken against his squad at any time during the patrol. His men note his actions, and respond smoothly to his sounds and gestures.

Finally, the patrol ends. There was no enemy action and every man breathes a little easier as he enters friendly lines again. Kelly sees to his men, then goes to a debriefing.

There was no enemy contact, but the patrol has gone smoothly and Kelly is inwardly proud of himself.

"I know I can handle it alright," he says, "but it was something new to me and a lot of my men are new to Vietnam. I guess every squad leader goes through the same thing."
