1968 SPRING DEBUT---This is how it was . . . the first day of Spring, Wednesday, March 20, 1968. More than two inches of snow had covered the ground by daybreak. Roads were all reported hazardous and all area schools were closed. Livestock warnings were issued and temperatures took a drastic drop from the day before when it was recorded in the high 70's. Rain fell before the skies poured out the 'all white' spring dress which ushered in the Spring season. This is Spring and WEST TEXAS.

SPRING...HERE TODAY, GONE TOMORROW!

UNAWARE---Pretty Miss Cindy Davis stands among spring blossoms on a tree which was unaware that Spring would announce the calendar date in such an unseasonal manner. But, seldom do things go according to plan with people and nature. But true to form, it will change again, as so goes the story of West Texas weather. Cindy is a senior at Muleshoe High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Davis. She is shown posing here in a setting which 'should' have been that beautiful Spring day.

Halsell Grant Awarded

A program of dedication was held at Trinity University, San Antonio, Thursday, March 14 at 4 p.m.

The ceremony was to acknowledge the grant given by the late Ewing Halsell which was used to erect the structure which contains 23,000 square feet of floor space.

James W. Laurie, president of Trinity University, presided during the ceremony. The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. Raymond E. Judd, Jr., minister-in-charge, Margarite B. Parker Chapel.

Mrs. William McDonald, trustee of the Ewing Halsell Foundation, made the grant presentation and the acceptance was by Forrest M. Smith, chairman of the Board of Trinity University.

Bruce Thomas, Trinity dean, made the dedicatory address and the prayer of dedication was by the Right Rev. Everett H. Jones, University Trustee. President Laurie pronounced the benediction.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held, then tours of the newly constructed educational center was conducted by the Trinity faculty. Computer specialists demonstrated the new IBM 360 Model 44 computer.

The Halsell Center, the 41st building to be constructed on Trinity Hill since the early 1950's, is entered from a two-story entranceway finished in the traditional Trinity brick and containing an end-grain oak flooring.

The main feature of the entranceway is a large mural by artist Peter Hurd of San Antonio, N.M., created especially for the Halsell Center and depicting the Texas cattle industry. One of the figures in the scene is recognizable as the late Ewing Halsell.

The ground floor of the Halsell Center contains the computer center with its attendant offices and storage rooms.

The remainder of the building includes classrooms of various sizes, academic offices, and seminar rooms. The third floor will not be finished immediately, thereby allowing for future design to meet the experimental programs in administration.

The interior of the Halsell Center is finished with acoustical ceiling, wool carpeting and pre-finished gum paneling over

A true harbinger of spring has just arrived. As a preliminary to sign-up for minor league baseball, a meeting was held at L. B.'s Restaurant, Monday night, March 18.

With President Ed Edmiston in charge of the meeting, many discussions were held concerning the sign-ups, equipment needed, managers assigned and repairs needed to the fields, fences and various things needed to be completed before beginning the 1968 Little League season.

During the discussion on finances, it was brought out that additional donations are needed to enable lights to be set up on a badly needed presently unlighted field.

May 6 was designated as beginning date for the season, with the tentative endings set for July 1.

Sign-up for minor league will be on April 1 at Mary DeShazo Cafeteria for Muleshoe. This team will be called the "Shorthorns," and increases from eight to nine, the teams in minor league.

Dr. Marvin Baker

Time of Decision..For Youth

Dr. Marvin L. Baker, president of South Plains Junior College, spoke to Rotarians and guests at the noon meeting, Tuesday.

Dr. Baker explained the benefits of the proposal for annexation of Bailey County to the South Plains College District and outlined the tax rate increase which it would incur for the benefit of the general public.

In his talk, he told of the "Time of Decision . . . a time to make an investment in the youth of Bailey County.

"For more than two years, interested people in the Muleshoe area have been studying the possibility of locating a junior college in Muleshoe. All possibilities have been thoroughly explored and Muleshoe and Bailey County do not have the potential to attain this goal alone," he said.

Those groups who endorse the annexation of Bailey County to the district said in so doing "We cannot economically foot the financial burden without the help of some one outside Bailey County. We have sought the help and advice of South Plains College, and they have agreed to accept us and make us a part of their junior college district. "With our acceptance of their invitation, we could provide the following services for high school graduates, and adults interested in furthering their education: technical training, occupational training, pre-professional training, training facilities for industrial firms moving to our area and educational closed circuit television training."

The Halsell Center was provided by the Ewing Halsell Foundation, endowed by the late Ewing Halsell, one of the Southwest's most famous and colorful cattlemen and philanthropists.

He devoted his entire life to cattle ranching.

As a boy of 10, he rode in the saddle with his father across the Cherokee Indian Nation which the Halsells had leased for grazing.

Growers bought every pound of Planavin® Herbicide they could get their hands on last season. Read why.

Planavin® is the cotton-soybean herbicide that gives you more than your money's worth.

Shell's Planavin® Herbicide gives you more than just excellent preemergence control. Nothing on the market does a better job.

It had to be more than just another good weed killer in order to break in against established competition. Growers found out how good last season. Planavin proved itself under the worst weather conditions in years. It held the fort against most annual grasses and many broadleaf weeds—right through the early period when control really counts. Growers got what they paid for—freedom from weed problems during the time when weeds can strangle young cotton and soybeans. Plus a sound control base that makes season-long control programs simpler and more economical.

Planavin also gives you a bonus. It frees you from immediate incorporation. Takes the pressure off. And it can save you hours of application time.

With Planavin you can spray by ground or air. You can use large rigs, wide booms. Covering large acreage fast saves you hours. There's no waiting for incorporation equipment to catch up. No downtime for custom applicators. The reason? Planavin doesn't require immediate incorporation. You can take your time. Even a few hours of exposure to air and sun won't wipe out your weed control when you use Planavin. Note: When you do incorporate, keep it shallow—no deeper than 1 to 1½ inches. Don't bury your Planavin below the sprouting weeds.

50th Anniversary Observed

In observance of their 50th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. David Bates were honored with a reception from 3-5 p.m., Sunday, March 17, in Fellowship Hall of First Methodist Church, Levelland.

Hosting the event were the couple's daughters and sons-in-law; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Spain of Olton, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Barnett of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Lynskey of Maple, Mr. and Mrs. Newell Matthews of Artesia, N.M. and their son and daughter-in-law,

Mr. and Mrs. David W. Bates of Alpine. The couple has sixteen grandchildren.

David Bates and the former Miss Norma Wrightman were married March 13, 1918, at Wellsville, Kan. Following their wedding, they moved to Hale Center, where they made their home until 1943 when they moved to Muleshoe. While they lived in Muleshoe, Bates was manager of the Federal Land Bank Association. They have lived in Levelland since 1946.

Mrs. Snow Davis and Mildred Davis of Muleshoe attended the anniversary celebration.

TOPS Club

Jenny Tops had their regular meeting Thursday, March 14, in the Bailey County Electric community room at 7 p.m.

Nineteen members weighed in with four guests present. Nancy Gray of Lubbock presented the program on Tuberculosis Association and showed a film. In her report, she said, two cases of T. B. were right here in Muleshoe.

Queen for the week was Ernestine Vernon with Mae Province as first runner-up and Lauranette Mason as second runner-up.

In closing, "The Good Night" song was sung.

State to Name 4H Home Manager For Chicago Trip

SPECIAL - Tupperware of Orlando, Fla., for the third year will sponsor a state 4-H Home Management project delegate to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago the first week in December.

The 4-H'er also will compete for one of eight national scholarships of $600 each. Winners will be named by the Cooperative Extension Service.

For most of the youngsters, winning a 4-H Congress trip is a once-in-a-lifetime experience. They spend a week in the second largest city known for its scenic lake front, modern skyscrapers (including a 100-story giant) art centers, museums, the unamed Picasso sculpture, and the world's largest hotel and airport. The trip is an education in itself, and the Congress program the greatest, former delegates say.

In Chicago, Tupperware officials will again be hosts to about 50 home management program participants and their 4-H leaders. The sponsor also hosts an evening of entertainment for the 2,100 persons in attendance at the Congress.

President Joe Hara, last year in addressing the 4-H'ers said, "Your sphere of influence is such that you sold us individually, and as a company, on spreading the word... why 4-H... can become one of the major positive forces in America today."

The pursuit of home management projects is already a force in the U. S. economy, because 4-H Club members are taught to use personal and family resources to best advantage. Thus they influence product choice and market trends.

They learn to coordinate time, energy, skills, possessions and money to find a better or easier way to do a job, make a purchase, plan an event.

A recent scholarship winner believes the biggest problem of today's homemaker is not knowing how to conserve time, money, energy and space. The 18-year-old college freshman also observes that "a well organized woman will run a well organized household."

This is what the home management program attempts to teach. And once the principles are learned, say 4-H leaders, they can be applied to the home, school, business and personal affairs throughout a lifetime.

Last year alone, more than 4,000 club members from coast-to-coast were recognized in their home counties for exceptional achievement in the program. Each received a handsome gold-filled medal provided by the sponsor.

WEATHER BALLOON COMES DOWN IN SOUTH COUNTY

A radiosonde weather transmitting balloon landed on the Ethridge farm near the Bailey County-New Mexico line Saturday, and was brought in to the sheriff's office in Muleshoe to be returned to its rightful owner.

The instrument consists of a plastic package containing a small battery and transmitting equipment, attached to a large plastic balloon, and an orange parachute.

Information transmitted by the device from aloft to weather stations on the ground, allows meteorologists to plot weather trends in advance.

Personnel at the sheriff's office had no knowledge of which weather station had sent the balloon up, although the Clovis station had been notified.

Aid Available For Handicapped

"Persons with physical handicaps who need treatment and service in Bailey County may obtain it," Jimmie Crawford county representative of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas announced.

"The society offers rehabilitation services to children and adults with physical disabilities including speech and hearing problems," Crawford said.

The society also operates an information and referral service that will direct residents of Bailey County to other appropriate sources of health and welfare aid in the area, he said.

Crawford urges parents, doctors, nurses, clergymen and other individuals and organizations to refer handicapped persons who need assistance to the Easter Seal Society by contacting him at Muleshoe State Bank.

A cry has gone up from large women for more variety in clothes for the buxom types. We think, too, that the manufacturers are missing sales by not making clothes for women who wear a larger skirt size with a different top. For instance, a twelve size dress with a fourteen skirt or a fourteen top with a sixteen hip size.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN --- A federal court lawsuit filed with little fanfare may have far-reaching consequences for the state's welfare system and finances.

Suit challenges the one-year state residency requirement for eligibility to receive aid to needy families with dependent children. Actually, the issue goes considerably farther than a single class of assistance. Texas attaches this residence requirement to all major types of welfare eligibility.

Welfare outlays in the state last year totalled $257,900,000 of which $65,600,000 was state money.

Attorneys for Mrs. Angelina B. Alvarez of San Antonio, mother of six children, entered the federal court suit to require the State Department of Public Welfare to grant her AFDC assistance, although she admittedly has not lived in the state a year. Suit claims the residence restriction is unconstitutional, since 76 per cent of AFDC funds are provided by federal government.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin, in an answering brief, vigorously defends the state constitutional and statutory provisions requiring a year's residency for welfare beneficiaries. Lack of such restrictions, contends Martin, would create a "nomad" class of state-to-state wanderers.

Legislatures of 40 states and Congress recognize a residency requirement as a condition of eligibility, Martin argues. Suit, he maintains, would compel withdrawal of money from the state treasury without a pre-existing law.

A Pennsylvania federal district court has upheld a similar restriction as the one applied in Texas, but a Connecticut court threw out that state's limitation as unconstitutional restriction on free travel. Later suit now has gone to the U. S. Supreme Court for review.

Texas case soon will be heard by a three-judge court.

TAX BILL --- Legislative Budget Board staff forecasters see a $122,800,000 tax bill as necessary to finance the $468,500,000 general revenue spending bill tentatively recommended by the Board for 1969. This is about $25,000,000 above 1968's spending level of $443,800,000.

According to staff predictions, $345,600,000 in general revenue will be available for spending in 1969 after automatic deductions of money for earmarked purposes.

GOVERNORS ASKED FOR ADVICE --- State Constitutional Revision Commission panel has voted to call on Gov. John Connally and ex-Govs. Price Daniel and Allan Shivers for advice on best standards for deciding how to change the governor's powers and length of term.

Executive office committee debated at length whether the governor should be limited to one or two four-year terms and whether Texas should adopt a "cabinet" form of state government with strong governor visions.

COURTS SPEAK --- State Supreme Court and Third Court of Civil Appeals in two recent decisions concluded that a former State Savings and Loan Commissioner should have granted authority for loan-savings concerns in downtown Houston and Richardson. Applications had been denied by the Commissioner.

Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a Harrison County jury verdict of life imprisonment for a man convicted of drowning his wife.

Same Court affirmed a 20-year sentence of a San Angelo man for the slaying of a cab driver in 1966.

CRIME ON RAMPAGE --- Texas Department of Public Safety reports that Texas crime increased 11.8 per cent in 1967 over the previous year, for a new all-time high number of criminal offenses -- one every minute and a half.

An estimated 332,986 major crimes were committed in Texas during 1967, compared to 297,810 offenses the year before, said DPS Director Homer Garrison Jr.

All major categories of crime -- murder, rape, robbery, burglary, aggravated assault and theft -- were up 10 per cent or more. Only 27 per cent of known offenses were cleared by arrests during the year.

APPOINTMENTS --- Attorney General Martin has named former State Rep. Pat Cain of Austin to head his anti-trust and consumer protection division. Division handles anti-trust matters as well as enforcement of the new state consumer credit code.

O. N. (Newt) Humphreys, Austin, moved up to acting administrator of the State Liquor Control Board after the Board accepted the resignation of veteran Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr.

W. A. (Dub) Cowan, formerly of Coryell County, succeeds Humphreys as agent-in-charge of the Department of Public Safety intelligence section. Maurice Beckham of Hallsburg took over Cowan's old job as assistant agent-in-charge.

Garner E. Jones, Wylie, has been designated senior planning engineer in the hearing and planning section of the Texas Water Quality Board's central operations division.

John E. Gray, Beaumont bank president, will serve as state chairman of the 1968 National Library Week Committee.

Earl J. Cantrell, formerly of Dalhart, will head Texas State Teachers Association's new division of research and data processing.

PARK SITE SELECTED --- State Building Commission has picked the site for the long-delayed museum building at Washington - on-the-Brazos State Park in Washington County.

Museum building will be of five-point star configuration.

Legislature appropriated $500,000 to build it, matched by $200,000 in private contributions. Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham indicated an additional request for $150,000 to $200,000 may be made to the legislature next year.

Park is located where the Texas Declaration of Independence was signed on March 2, 1835.

SHORT SNORTS --- Agriculture Commissioner John C. White warned Texas dairymen to proceed with caution when considering mandatory laws regulating prices of milk, saying "Price stabilization laws can be harmful if they are hastily written and poorly administered."

Texas Industrial Commission reports that seven new industries have located in West Texas since the first of the year -- three in Abilene, three in Odessa - Midland and one in Fort Stockton.

Texas Aeronautics Commission will hold a hearing March 12 on application of Charles E. King of Wichita Falls for a permit to provide airline passenger service between Wichita Falls and Dallas.

Governor Connally has approved a $5,500 planning grant for Smith County - Tyler area Council of Governments and a $6,500 grant for Heart of Texas Council which includes Waco, Woodway, West, Lacy-Lakeview and Bellmead.

Attorney General Martin has held that a witness required to testify before a House committee studying liquor laws would gain immunity from criminal prosecution for unlawful acts he had to tell about.

In another opinion, Martin held that the Rio Grande Independent Rehabilitation District for exceptional children is an independent school district entitled to payment of state aid for its buses.

A record 20,684,000 out-of-staters visited Texas last year and spent $1,200,000,000, reports Texas Highway Department.

A $400,000 chair in Civil Jurisprudence has been established at the University of Texas law school as a 51st "birthday present" to Governor Connally.

Application for Citizens State Bank of Irving has been filed with the State Banking Department.

Soybeans And Fertilizer

Do soybeans respond to fertilizer? A better question might be, "Do some varieties or strains of soybeans respond to fertilizer better than others, and, if so, which one and to which fertilizers?"

Dr. Douglas Owen, agronomist at the High Plains Research Foundation is attempting to find some of the answers to these questions. A preliminary study was started in 1967 to evaluate a total of forty varieties and experimental strains under both fertilized and non-fertilized conditions. Two identical test areas were planted, with each containing all varieties and strains. One area received no fertilizer, and the other received a total of 147 pounds of nitrogen and 96 pounds of phosphate. The sources of fertilizer included a pre-plant application of 8-16-0 and a side-dress application of Ammonium Nitrate.

Slight increases in yield were obtained from most varieties and strains tested. However, two specific varieties did show better-than-average response, and several experimental strains showed definite promise. Yields of up to 59 bushels per acre were very encouraging, and the test will definitely be continued. No recommendations can yet be made as yet, but complete results of the 1967 test will be printed in the Annual Research Report of the Foundation.

Roy Emmons With Group

WITH U. S. COMBAT AIR FORCES, Vietnam - Technical Sergeant Roy C. Emmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Emmons of Rt. 1, Littlefield, is a member of the 1964th Communications Group that has earned the U. S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award for a third consecutive year in Vietnam.

Sergeant Emmons, a telephone installation supervisor, will wear a distinctive service ribbon to mark his affiliation with the organization.

The major Air Force Communications Service (AFCS) unit in Vietnam, the 1964th is headquartered at Tan Son Nhut Air Base and has 10 subordinate squadrons operating throughout the country.

The organization was nominated for the award by General William W. Momyar, commander of the U. S. Seventh Air Force, Vietnam, for its "Yankee ingenuity" and outstanding proficiency in providing direct communications, navigational aids and air traffic control in the combat zone during a period of greatly expanding tactical operations. The general cited the 1964th for its high degree of professionalism in spite of "extreme difficulties associated with living and working under field conditions."

Group achievements included handling nearly 350,000 takeoffs and landings by AFCS air traffic controllers during a single month. During the year they also prevented the possible loss of 48 aircraft and their crews through expert guidance during inflight emergencies.

In addition to operating an in-country communications network to support combat operations, group personnel inaugurated telephone service between theater USAF Military Affiliate Radio System (MARS) stations and field hospitals, enabling American patients to talk with their families in the states.

Sergeant Emmons is assigned AFCS duty at Phu Cat Air Base. The sergeant is a 1958 graduate of Littlefield High School.

Accidents In County Investigated

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated two accidents on rural highways in Bailey County during the month of February, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area. These crashes resulted in five persons injured and an estimated property damage of $1,465.00.

The rural traffic accidents for this county during the first two months of 1968 shows a total of eight accidents resulting in no persons killed, eight persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $4,043.00.

"With the April 15 deadline for obtaining inspection stickers drawing near, only 55 per cent of the registered vehicles in this county have been inspected," stated the Patrol Supervisor.

In order to avoid the inconvenience of the last minute rush and the possible shortage of seat belts, motorists are urged to get their vehicles inspected promptly.

Any driver operating a vehicle registered in Texas, that is required to be inspected, on public roads after April 15 without a valid 1968 inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law and is punishable by a fine not to exceed two hundred dollars.

4-H'ers Try for Top Honors

Not for a good many years have clothes been so exciting for the Junior Miss. Color, imagination, comfort and durability have been built into designs and fabrics. And such wonderful accessories! Buttons, beads, boots, belts, hosiery and bags give no end of ways to enhance the costume.

That is why planning an outfit is such fun for girls enrolled in the national 4-H Dress Revue program. They not only make and accessorize their clothes, but learn how to wear them becomingly.

This year about 335,000 girls from coast to coast are learning tips on sewing and modeling from professionals. Their teachers are local 4-H leaders, extension specialists in clothing and representatives from the educational department of Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc., the program sponsor for 22 years.

Any girl between nine and 19 years of age can join 4-H, says the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H programs and activities throughout the state.

Numerous activities are connected with the dress revue project. One of the most constructive from the standpoint of learning how to be well dressed is the 4-H fashion clinic.

The clinic serves as a "proving ground" for inspecting accessories, fashion trends and grooming. The clinic covers hairstyle, makeup, posture, care of hands and feet, foundation garments and modeling.

Some clubs arrange visits to local department stores to confer with buyers of fabrics and findings. The young dressmakers compare fabrics for wear and cleaning qualities, and get pointers on trimmings and fastenings. Most important, they learn why it is necessary to buy fabrics that suit the pattern.

In addition to gaining the confidence and poise that comes with being smartly attired, 4-H girls win merit awards provided by Simplicity.

This year, six national scholarships of $600 each will be presented to the top dress revue members selected from among all the 1968 state award winners. The state award is an expense paid trip to Chicago and the National 4-H Club Congress, December 1 through 5. Dress revue medals are presented to the county blue award group.

All award recipients are selected by the Cooperative Extension Service.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm comes up with an idea this week which probably requires additional study.

Dear editor:
Excusing maybe Viet Nam, riots, and teenagers, for every problem there's usually a solution and it was with considerable interest I read about a solution for the garbage disposal problem in big cities in a newspaper somebody threw out of his car near this Johnson grass farm yesterday.

According to it, cities would no longer depend on men and trucks to pick up garbage, thus eliminating the inconvenience of flat tires and strikes and banging cans around in the early morning hours. Every house and apartment would be tied into a special garbage-disposal pipe. When garbage collects, you put it in a special plastic bag, drop it in, and it's automatically shot through the pipe and right on out of town to the garbage dump 15 or 20 miles away. The whole thing is simple, and I'll bet Gov. Rockefeller wishes it had been thought up sooner.

But cities shouldn't stop there. Take the automobile problem. Everybody knows the car, with its traffic jams and sheer mathematical impossibility of finding enough parking room, is making city life almost impossible. A man can now cross New York City faster on foot than he can by car, and what the gasoline fumes are doing is even worse.

As I understand it, the car was invented to eliminate the horse, but it hasn't worked out that way; it eliminates more people in one day than it does horses in a year. How many horses were killed in traffic accidents last year?

But cities shouldn't despair. Why don't they adapt this new pipeline garbage disposal idea to people? You wouldn't want to get the two systems mixed up, but why not build a separate pipeline for people and transport everybody by pneumatic tube?

Every morning, a wife could zip her husband up in a plastic bag, drop him in the chute, and 30 seconds later he'd pneumatically appear in his office. No traffic problems, no gasoline fumes, no congestion, no waiting on elevators, peace and quiet in the streets. At quitting time, he puts his plastic bag back on, crawls in the pipe, and is shot home immediately.

The system will work. All it'd take is a little special training of wives in remembering which pipeline to use every morning. Wouldn't want the garbage arriving in the office and the husbands at the dump, except in some special cases which I won't go into.

Yours faithfully,

entered the Methodist hospital in Lubbock Monday. Hinson is scheduled to undergo major surgery Tuesday morning.

Church and Sunday School attendance in all the churches was far below the usual attendance last Sunday, due to the fact so many people went to Austin to back our girls and Coach Clinch. We hope to be back to normal next Sunday now that the big event is won. Let's count for Christ next Sunday.

New Cotton Program, Market Looms for Coming Crop Year

Plains Cotton Grower's Review states that a new cotton program is in the making, now, however it probably will not be passed until 1969, but the foundation and basic philosophy will be set this year.

The Senate committee on Agriculture will start hearings on April 3, Chairman Ellender says he does not expect the bill to be introduced, but the general impressions may be obtained to set the stage for 1969.

The House Agriculture committee wants hearings the last of April or the first of May, Chairman Poage hopes to get a bill out of the agriculture committee and onto the House floor in 1968 if at all possible.

President Lyndon Johnson, in his farm message to Congress proposed a "permanent extension of the farmer's basic charter --- The Food and Agriculture Act of 1955," which includes our current cotton program. The "extension" follows the general thinking of House and Senate Ag. Committees and of U. S. D. A. officials.

But the "permanent" goes against the grain in most quarters of Congress, the review states.

The Plains Cotton Growers Legislative committee is tentatively going along with the extension idea, but wants some improvements.

The committee would like to see new legislation include greater assurance that producer income will be maintained or improved; guarantees against limitation of payments or other program benefits; better and more equitable methods for determining projected yields; elimination or modification of "small farm" provisions applicable to allotments of 10 acres or less; a "total market" concept to replace the current "domestic market" concept; liberalization of allotment sale and lease provision; a continuation of the 16 million acre legal minimum acreage, and adequate flexibility to allow the adjustment of production to keep in line with total market needs.

The review outlined that this is not final Plains Cotton Growers policy. Committee will have at least one more meeting before recommending policy to full Plains Cotton Growers Board, which has last word on all policy matters.

The legislative committee, any board member or any staff member will be happy to hear and give consideration to your views. For this, contact committee chairman W. L. Eelmon, Friona, your county Board member or the Plains Cotton Growers office.

Back to the president, his calls for permanent farm legislation, either in the present or some other form, makes sense, the report states.

He said "the farmer should not run the risk of sudden termination of this vital protection. Only permanent authority will assure that he is never the innocent victim of a program lapse."

Plains Cotton Growers reports states the H. R. 4769, to bring agriculture under the national labor relation act is now in the House Education and Labor Committee. "This would be the first step toward a hobbled labor union boot on the back of your neck," the report declared.

In further statements the report said the best bet for stopping it now is in the House Rules Committee, where it looks like seven to 15 members may now be against it. Decision could hinge on a single vote. Only one Texan is on the committee, the report revealed.

There is a new market for short staple, low grade, low micronaire cotton: the paper industry. It took the first 100 bales of raw cotton last month at 2 and one-half cents above local value . . . $1,250 extra dollars in someone's pocket.

Plains Cotton Growers negotiated the sale after ten years of correspondence, conferences and extensive testing. Potential market is for over 300,000 bales a year.

Crane and Company, leading manufacturer of fine writing paper and a major supplier of the paper on which U. S. currency is printed was the first user. The next new dollar bill you get may be from your own cotton.

Two other companies are dickering for 100 bale lots of high plains cotton, and the whole paper industry has a close eye on Crane's operation.

Problems of paper makers is a dependable supply of cotton. Their traditional supply of all-cotton rags, mill cuttings, etc. have dwindled with widespread blending of synthetics.

Cotton future markets may become more familiar to High Plains producers in years to come. New York Stock exchange is considering initiation of a short staple contract, principally for Texas - Oklahoma cottons.

It would supplement the successful "Number 2" contract started last year on one-sixteenth inch cotton. Futures contracts on 1 inch cotton is being eliminated for lack of action.

Short staple contract could be used by growers and merchants to hedge market prices. It would be another step away from prices controlled by CCC.

The 1968 cotton production, barring unforeseen events or circumstances, does not look like it can exceed 12.5 million bales at the outside.

Through February 29 over half the cotton farmers representing over half the acreage had signed up to divert 24 percent of the allotments. With normal underplanting and abandonment that would give harvested acreage this fall of around 11 million acres, and would require an average yield of 545 pounds per acre to produce 12.5 million bales. Top yield of the past, nationwide, was 526 pounds.

Percentage level of diversion could go down in final two weeks of the sign-up, but isn't expected to go down much.

It appears, Plains Cotton Growers report shows, that high plains sign-up is running at around 25 percent diversion, too. If that percentage holds, there will be a little over 1.6 million acres planted on the Plains and expected harvest is about 1,520,000 acres of that.

Highest average yield on the Plains was reached in 1965 stands at 519 pounds per acre. That yield was in 1968.

Washington Report
From Congressman
BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS
1323 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 223-3706

A few days ago, the President delivered his farm message to Congress. Main proposals of the program are for permanent extension of the commodity legislation enacted in 1965; a three year extension of the Food for Peace or PL 480 program; and a bill to create a "foodbank" of government-held stocks of wheat, feed grains and soybeans. The President also called for Congressional hearings on "farm bargaining" and repeated earlier requests for a variety of more Great Society programs for rural areas.

By and large, the farm message was received without any great enthusiasm on Capitol Hill. Senator Ellender, Chairman of the Senate Agriculture and Forestry Committee was quoted as saying that he did not feel that Congress would or should enact "permanent" commodity programs. The Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee on which I serve, Rep. W. R. Poage, did not introduce the President's proposals.

Many members considered the message rather partisan in tone, but in a "presidential election year" this type of political appeal isn't surprising. Portions of the message were, I felt, quite misleading and I believe it is especially important that farmers understand some of the implications.

In describing the 1965 Act, the President said: "To terminate the 1965 Act would bring catastrophe and ruin to many farmers. Cash prices would fall -- and there would be no government payments to cushion the impact. Farm income would drop by as much as one-third -- back to 1959 levels." By these words the President leaves the clear implication that the refusal by Congress to extend the Act this year would cause catastrophe and ruin in rural America.

In plain and simple language, this is HOGWASH! The fact is FIRST that the programs covered by the 1965 Act run through 1969. New or modified programs aren't necessary -- at least by the calendar -- until 1970. So any changes could be made next year -- after the elections. In the SECOND place, and in the unlikely event that Congress failed to act before the termination of the 1965 Act, each of the major commodities -- feed grains, wheat and cotton -- have permanent "back-up" programs on the law books.

For wheat, there would be another farm referendum on a mandatory wheat certificate program with price supports on domestic and export up to 90 percent of parity; for feed grains, the Secretary could set price supports at anywhere from 50 to 90 percent of parity; in the case of cotton, there would be a marketing quota program with price supports from 65 to 90 percent of parity.

So it seems to me that the dire prediction of "catastrophe and ruin" to farmers if the 1965 Act is not extended this year is on the outer fringe of the credibility gap.

I don't believe that the major commodity programs are doing all they can for farmers and I don't think farmers are satisfied with them.

Better farm prices are certainly needed and as Committee hearings proceed, I plan to do what I can, either in PL 480 Legislation, a grain reserve bill, or more commodity programs to prevent government manipulations which depress farm prices and are responsible, along with continually rising farm operating costs, for the present low level of farm income.

WHERE DOES FOOD DOLLAR GO?

A big share goes to labor. Of the total cost of moving food from the farmer to the housewife, wage earners in the food industry get an estimated 50 percent.

FLASH-We have just received two additional copies of the book, "Christy", by Catherine Marshall, so maybe we will be able to supply the demand. It seems that everyone wants to read this delightful story of the young school teacher who went to the hill country of Tennessee, to teach in a one-room school, where no books were furnished, and some of the 60-odd students were older than she was. Much is told of the customs, feuds, and staunch loyalty of the hill people, and it will hold the interest of the reader right up to the surprise ending.

Poetry Book Published

Marion J. McDaniel, Bullock school superintendent, has published his first volume of poetry "The Realms of Gold".

Poets are being granted a day at the HemisFair and this publication may be among those items of poetry displayed that day.

The area poet is selling the 5,000 copies of his work at 50 cents each.

Although this is his first official publication, McDaniel is not new in the field of poetry writers. Several of his poems have been published in various school publications. His first poem, "Laying the Cornerstone" was published in "The Commanche Chief" a weekly newspaper in Commanche County.

Since early childhood, he has written many poems and plans to continue to publish them, volume by volume.

McDaniel will be among other poets who are to attend the Governor's Conference of Fine Arts in Austin on April 2.

MINIMUM WAGE UP

It is estimated that about 7.3 million people were among those who actually received a pay raise when the federal minimum wage rose to $1.60 an hour on February 1st.

all librarians and interested citizens of the Lubbock resource district. The highlight of the day was a demonstration of the Telex machine, which had just been installed, which will give all the libraries of the Lubbock Resource Center much better and quicker service on inter-library loan requests. More will be published on this, as it comes into use, possibly in the next few weeks.

Now all the "do it yourself" people may find help in a newly added set of Mechanics Illustrated How to do it Encyclopedia. This is a 16 vol. set which was donated to the library by Fry and Cox, Muleshoe. It has step-by-step drawings, and instructions for making thousands of things for the home, plus many, many articles of interest to gardeners, one I noticed was on weeds, and how to kill them. I am sure this set will be used a lot.

Two books were donated to the library by Mrs. Sam Fox this week. One is an autographed copy of "Campfire Stories" by Tanner Laine, a name familiar to readers of the Avalanche Journal, this book she wishes to give in memory of Mrs. Lila Melinda. The other book is a book entitled The Texas Capitol, with many color photographs of the grounds and Capitol building. This book she gave in memory of Juanita Lamb.

Eight delightful children's books were given this week to the library by Mark Benedict he wishes to make this donation in memory of Cecil Tate

For the many, many who read and enjoyed "My Shadow Raft"; we now have the new Bill Sands book which is entitled "Seventh Step"; Ex-convict Sands is engaged in prison reform work and the rehabilitation of criminals and juvenile delinquents. This is the story of his battle to develop a working program, known as the Seventh Step, which has a code which is very similar to the code of Alcoholics Anonymous whereby each one helped by the program gives a pledge to help others.

"The Iron Curtain Over America" is another book being added to the shelves. This book is unique in that it not only discusses the internal decay and the external disasters which threaten the life of our country; but diagnoses (from the author's viewpoint) the growing disease of which they are merely symptoms. This one will give intelligent people something to think about.
