Mary B. Obenhaus Attends TCTA State Convention

The adoption of a new constitution and by-laws that propose sweeping changes in the organization and operation of Texas Classroom Teachers Association was the main order of business at TCTA's 12th annual state convention in San Angelo, April 5-6.

More than 1000 delegates from various schools in Texas attended the convention. Mrs. Jack Obenhaus, president-elect of Muleshoe Classroom Teachers Association, was a delegate from the Muleshoe TCTA.

The delegates to the convention were given the opportunity to hear three dynamic speakers. They were: Miss Dorothy V. Meyer, vice chairman of the national TEPS Commission, Dr. Donald C. Roush, dean of the college of education at New Mexico State University and Judge Jack Pope, associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

During the current year, Texas Classroom Teachers Association has added 14 new affiliates of 4321. As of March, membership reached 47,238.

The aims and objectives of the Texas Classroom Teachers Association are to promote the highest professional practices and to foster greater aid in the development of local classroom teacher groups.

Through direct services, TCTA makes it possible to encourage development of professional pride and group morale, based upon mutual respect for honest, sincere purpose, and intelligent activity among its members.

AAUW Regional Conference Held In Houston

Mrs. Elizabeth Watson, AAUW State Fellowships Chairman, attended the 21st Biennial Conference held at the Rice Hotel, Houston, April 5-7. This was the Southwest Central Regional Conference of the American Association of University Women with representatives from five states, Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas.

"Organizational Renewal - All Systems Go" was the theme of the conference set by Mrs. Elmer A. Stuck of Arkansas, vice president of the Southwest region. She presented the five state presidents at the opening session: Mrs. Marie Jackson, Arkansas; Miss Deanna McClure, Kansas; Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Missouri; Mrs. T. W. Coover, Oklahoma and Mrs. Marvin Pedlar, Texas.

Dr. Blanche Dow, immediate past president of the Association, gave the keynote address, "Design and Direction for AAUW," and challenged her contemporary colleagues to take strong positions, become seriously involved and take positive action in today's affairs at all levels of values in homes, community, state and nation. Simulated branch meetings, arranged according to branch size, highlighted some desirable and meaningful suggested branch practices. Program development, membership, education, cultural interests, world problems, Fellowships and legislation were on the agenda of each of the mock branch sessions.

Each of the five states had a luncheon on Saturday and former AAUW Fellows were the speakers. At the Texas luncheon, Dr. Browning, a virologist, presently associated with Rice University reviewed her work with the Vio-Satellite project at NASA. The purpose of her research is to determine the effect of weightlessness and other space phenomena on fruit flies.

Mother, Three Daughters Wed

The Rev. James P. Sandefur has performed thousands of marriages in his 30-year career as a Primitive Baptist minister, but probably none so efficiently as the one he performed Friday night for a woman and her three daughters.

Mr. Sandefur owns the Bride's Choice Wedding Chapel, and there during a business-like, eight-minute ceremony, he joined in Holy Matrimony, four Norwalk (Calif.) couples.

That's two minutes per couple. The quadruple wedding, attended by twelve relatives and thirteen newsmen, was conducted in Sandefur's tiny, jammed living room chapel.

As a tape recorder played "I Love You Truly," the minister joined Mrs. Margaret A. Smith, 38, of Norwalk and her three daughters, Carol, 16; Laura, 18 and Rachael, 19, to their respective choices.

Mrs. Smith, a waitress, married oil rigger Minifred Arluis McCoy, 38, of Muleshoe.

New Venture In Church Education

"A New Venture in Church Education" will be the theme for a meeting at First Presbyterian Church, Sunday, April 21 at 6:00 p.m. The three hour meeting will be geared to the needs and responsibilities of the Sunday School staff, Christian Education committee, and members of the session.

The Rev. Murray Travis, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Tulsa and the Rev. Charles Teykl, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Plainview, will present the program. Mr. Travis and Mr. Teykl will represent the Christian Education committee of Plains Presbytery.

In the Fall of 1968, the United Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., will begin introducing a new concept in Christian Education which will include new resource material for the church school. Thus the program will deal with the reasons for this New Venture, the nature and purpose of church education, teacher education, and lay education, as well as introduce the new materials which will be available this fall.

My home is ALL ELECTRIC!

Chickens need to be warm in winter and cool in summer which calls for "all electric" chicken houses. Electric heating in the brooder house in winter months is clean and safe. Electric fans in the hot summer months keep the air circulating and keep appetites hearty. Later on, electric lights will wake these future fryers early and keep them eating later toward a faster more tender maturity. By furnishing low-cost dependable electric power, the member-owned Bailey County Electric Cooperative has made many commercial and industrial pursuits feasible for rural areas that once were impossible. The Bailey County Electric Cooperative is thus strengthening the rural economy.. helping provide more jobs in the rural areas and Helping Texas Grow.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Worm Sanford

AUSTIN—Gov. John Connally has accepted invitations of supporters to actively seek designation as Texas' favorite son Democratic presidential candidate.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough also has been urged by anti-Connally and pro-Robert Kennedy and pro-Eugene McCarthy forces to make a fight against the governor in precinct conventions for the favorite son role. Although critical of Connally, Yarborough has not responded to the call.

Labor leaders were among those pushing Yarborough as favorite son, but AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education failed to place its stamp of approval on this recommendation. COPE administrative committee opposed commitment of the Texas delegation to Connally as favorite son, and recommended Yarborough for vice president.

Issue may set off a major fight in precinct conventions May 4, only place where the average Texas voter will have anything to say about the choice of a presidential nominee.

COURTS SPEAK—Law enforcement officers are swooning over the potential far-reaching effect of a new federal court decision here declaring Texas' disturbing-the-peace law unconstitutional.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin will file a motion for rehearing and take his appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court if necessary. He called the decision by a three judge federal panel in the case which originated with Vietnam war protesters displaying signs during a speech by President Johnson in Killeen "a tremendous blow to law enforcement."

Federal judges stayed their mandate pending an opportunity of the state legislature to redefine "disturbance" offense within their guidelines.

They concluded that the exguments May 8 over former State Savings and Loan Commissioner's denial of application by Oak Cliff Savings and Loan Association for a branch office in Fort Worth. District court struck down the commissioner's ruling.

Liquor Control Board had authority to cancel a Monaville (Waller County) grocery store's wine and beer permit, Supreme Court agreed.

TEACHER PAY RAISE PLANNED—Governor's Committee on Public School Education will recommend "large and substantial" teacher pay raises with built-in cost-of-living escalation plans, Chairman Leon Jaworski says.

Jaworski indicated the Committee also will recommend (by August 31 deadline) free public kindergartens, summer schooling, expanded vocational training, new course programming, tax equalization among districts and school district reorganization.

Committee will hold a public hearing here April 26 to preview some of its findings in areas of enrollment projections for the next decade, school dropout study, analysis of school courses and service offerings, evaluation of Texas Test for Educational Development and results of an adult and teacher opinion poll.

Jaworski also announced that the Committee contracted with a Dallas company to produce a filmed version of its report and recommendations to the Legislature in January, 1969.

BUDGET BOARD VOTES—Legislative Budget Board recommended a $2,200,000 special session appropriation to help build and equip new vocational and technical training facilities at Odessa College. Board also approved $86,900 and $46,245 requests of Angelo State College and Midwestern University for associate science degree offerings in nursing.

Members went along with request for $150,000 supplemental appropriation to help build new facilities at Washington-on-the-Brazos State Park and $10,000 for Higher Education Coordinating Board participation in a study on college education opportunities for Negroes.

Passed over for the time being was a request of the Liquor Control Board for an additional $2,300,000.

VETS LAND POLICY

CHANGES—New veterans land policies have been ordered to limit veterans' purchases to no more than 10 percent of any one sub-division.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said interest in the revised program -- through which qualified veterans can buy land on long-term, low-interest rate arrangement--has been "overwhelming," but too many applications have been coming in on sub-divisions.

"We cannot spend all our money in a few isolated areas," said Sadler in announcing new restrictions. "We have large sub-divisions that have put prices on their land far above market value in the area . . . All veterans (should have) a chance to buy throughout the state and not spend our money in a few large sub-divisions."

NEW FORMULAS—Coordinating Board, Texas Colleges and Universities has adopted new formula rates for submission to the Legislature for the state fiscal years 1970-71.

Board also approved a second election for creation of a junior-college district in Jefferson County, adopted criteria for the creation of such districts, approved a uniform financial reporting system for junior colleges and okayed a $50,000 research project by the University of Houston on continuing education.

POLLUTION STUDY—State Health Department's three year old solid-wastes survey has been completed in 71 Texas counties that hold some 40 percent of the state's population.

Department will draw up a state plan based on information from the study (about a year away from completion) for solid-waste collection and disposal, with specific emphasis on regional planning commissions and councils of government.

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated four accidents on rural highways in Bailey County during the month of March, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in an estimated property damage of $2,000.

1967 marks the first decline in traffic deaths and injuries since 1960. The Sergeant stated, "With new traffic laws and the willingness of the public to drive defensively, traffic deaths and injuries can be further reduced in 1968."

GenTel Head, L. Grey Beck Visits Here

L. Gray Beck, executive vice president, and R. E. Paulsen, vice president of General Telephone Company, from the company's general office in San Angelo, accompanied by W. A. (Dub) Leigon, western area manager of Brownfield are visiting in Muleshoe and nine other towns in the western area according to Leigon.

Purpose of the tour, according to Leigon, is to give company officers an opportunity to visit first hand with customers and employees and to view field operations and facilities.

Stops include Lubbock, Ralls, Abernathy, Littlefield, Muleshoe, Levelland, Brownfield, Lamesa, Lovington and Hobbs. Other officials touring Muleshoe include G. F. Kehoe, District Manager of Littlefield and R. E. Saunders, Division Commercial Supervisor of Brownfield.

"Sometimes customers indicate that officers of a company live and work in an ivory tower and are not interested in the day to day operations and problems," Beck commented. "We have qualified people at all levels of operation; however, visits such as this to the field give us an opportunity to supplement conversations, meetings, reports, and visits by field personnel to the area and general offices with on-the-spot information. We can really feel the pulse of the customer and the community during visits such as these. You might say this is one way of indicating throughout the company all of us are interested in individual customers and service," Beck stated.

Former A & M Students Mark Passing Comrades

Former students of Texas A&M in Hale, Floyd, Lamb, Swisher, Bailey, Castor and Briscoe counties will Muster Saturday, April 20 to mark the passing of comrades and honor Texans who won independence at San Jacinto.

The 7:30 p.m. meeting will be held at Southwestern Public Service Reddy Room, 6th and Baltimore Sts., in Plainview. Muster Chairman Carl Weidenbach reported.

Wives, families and guests are to attend.

The Aggie Muster began in 1903 when the 300-member Corps of Cadets paid homage to the Texans who defeated the Mexican Army in 1836. Musters have been held since -- wherever A&M might find themselves on that day. Aggies have Mustered on board ship, in foxholes on the battlefield, in the Swiss Alps, and even on Corregidor, shortly before the Japanese captured the island in World War II. More than 500 Musters will be held around the world this year, including several in zones of war. For some A&M men, this will be their last Muster.

The ceremony is the same in every location. Aggies pay respects to those who are absent. When the names of honored dead are called from Muster rolls, a friend of the deceased answers, "Here."

The program ends with a poem:

"Softly call the Muster Let comrades answer: Here, Their spirits hover 'round us as if to bring us cheer Mark them present in our hearts We'll meet some other day. There is no death, but life eternal For old friends such as they."

Earth News

By Beulah Newton

Eugene Higgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Higgins, showed films and slides and talked on the conditions in Vietnam. Higgins has just returned from Vietnam where he has been for a year, employed by the State Department.

First, Higgins told about the people and customs of the Vietnamese people. The country in its entirety is about the size of the state of Florida with about 17 million people. Of these 17 million, there are about two million who live in the high mountains. They are very poor people but highly intelligent. They grow all kinds of vegetables but rice is the main crop. Vegetation is green and growing the year round, therefore they can grow two crops each year. There are two seasons, wet and hot, and dry and hot. When it is wet in the south it is dry in the north. There is six months wet and six months dry but, hot all time.

The country of Vietnam has been continually in war since 3000 B. C. So the people seem to take it for granted. They seem to think fighting is a sacred thing and something they have to do. At this time, they have boys from 15 years of age on up. Since 1941, the country has been under nine different governments. At one time of the year called 'Tet' season, they all get cleaned up, new clothes and like to be near their families at this time. There were mainly two religions, Catholic and Buddhism. There is almost no mission work at this time except, the work our boys are doing. They are a very congenial people and when in battle are believed to be hopped up on some type of narcotic. The north has more supplies and troops pouring in all time. Higgins seemed to think the war will never be won by fighting it will have to be worked out by other means. The Buddhists are taught to fight and die for their country is an honor and when they die they will be united with all their ancestors that have gone one before.

The school system is very poor as the teachers are scarce. They go to school in shifts, one half day for each shift. High school is very poor and not many of them.

In the elections there are about 97 percent of the people who vote. The elections themselves are legitimate but the people are forced to vote or there will be no food. One village has had seven mayors in just a short time. If they don't run the village as the communist think they should, the mayor just disappears overnight and another one is elected.

Higgins is married and has five children, Traci, 13; Jacqui, 9; Jimmy, 8; Gena, 7 and Kristi, 5. At this time they are residing in Portales. Mrs. Higgins has been attending Eastern New Mexico University and will get her degree in June. Higgins is a high school graduate of Springlake - Earth and has a degree from Texas Tech. He doesn't plan to go back to Vietnam but doesn't know just where he will be as he has several offers of jobs at this time.

Conservation Planning Told

The aims of conservation planning are to use the land as efficiently as possible while protecting the soil against the elements by using such practices as contour farming, skip-row farming, parallel terraces, grass waterways, diversion terraces, crop rotation, and stubble mulching.

Using one conservation practice by itself is not enough to conserve soil and water. In fact the application of single unrelated practices may increase the conservation risk on a farm or ranch instead of solving the problems. The potential of any soil to respond to management is determined by the interactions among many soil characteristics. The response is always to a combination of practices, each complementing the other.

Any conservation plan for a farm, ranch or other area must include water management. Water management includes terraces, grass waterways, irrigation systems, and conservation drainage systems. It also includes treating soil so that it can absorb water in the form of rain or snow.

The SCS through conservation districts helps landowners and operators make a conservation plan that is tailored to fit his individual farm or ranch. A trained SCS soil conservationist meets with a district cooperator, goes over his land with him and gives him suggestions on land use and treatment alternatives according to his soil capabilities.

The land owner or operator makes all the decisions. He decides the use - crops, grass or other use - of each field, the conservation practices needed to protect and improve the soil there and when he will be financially able to carry them out. The SCS man prepares a land use map for him and a record of the conservation treatment for his land. Together the written conservation plan and the land use map show what the land owner plans to do on each field and when. Thus it is that the mechanism of the conservation district gives to individuals or to groups a wealth of research and experience that enables them to become conservationist.

Lazbuddie News

By Mrs. C. A. Watson

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Harris were in San Antonio and attended the opening of Hemis-Fair. They report seeing many interesting sights but said many scenes of attraction are yet to be completed.

The revival this week at Lazbuddie First Baptist Church begins each morning service at 10 and the evening services at 8. Rev. Glen Wilson from Amherst is doing the preaching and song leader is Howard Garner from Farwell. The meeting will last through Sunday, April 21. Clay's Corner feted the surrounding area children with their annual Easter egg hunt Sunday. Also, the train that carries groups of children for rides was on hand again this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clay furnish all of the eggs, several thousand of them for this event.

Area folks look forward to this each year and children have been heard to say, "We don't want to go on a vacation. We don't want to miss the egg hunt at Clay's."

Several men in the neighborhood hide the eggs in a pasture near Clay's. Kids in the area don't seem to want to grow up in a hurry for age 12 and under is the limit age to hunt.

This annual affair will be remembered by these children as long as they live. This they can't forget each Easter time. Mr. and Mrs. Clay are to be congratulated for these gestures of hospitality.

It surely was good to see the college kids back in the old home town of Lazbuddie area. Just about every kiddo came home for the Easter holidays either to just visit home folks or go somewhere on a vacation with them.

Charlie Watson visited his son, Leon, at the Palo Duro Canyon "Six Gun City," Sunday. Leon has recently been named on the cast of players entertaining tourist in the Old West Texas-looking town. The city consists of a bank, post office, Joint-Cafe, barber shop, general merchandise store-courio shop, church and of course, Boot Hill Cemetery. This city grows folks so tall that some that are make belief buried with their boots on show the toes of these boots at the ends of their graves. Some of the readings on the tombstones will make you laugh out loud in a grave yard. The printing office prints a very amusing paper. The headlines this week read "Leon Watson Guns Himself Down."

Mexican dressed guys wearing their serapes and large hats are on hand, Bank Robbers and everything that went with the old western towns of the 80's are so realistic you will want to go back to this Gun-smoke town once you have been there.

Leon, a sophomore student at WTSU and works only on Saturday and Sunday at the "Six Gun City."

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Parham and J. T. Mayfield attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Cora Mays, Monday in Anson. Mrs. Mays was a resident of Anson. The Truman Gleason family, also related to Mrs. Mays, was in El Paso when word was received here of her death and was unable to attend the funeral.

The Chili Jordan family from Lubbock visited his mother, May Mayhan, Sunday and other relatives in the area. Nora McCurdie was also a visitor in Mrs. Mahan's home Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lester and children from Lubbock, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Blackburn Sunday.

Congratulations to Jana Briggs on being a winner of a big beautiful rabbit given at St. Clair's in Muleshoe Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Briggs and children visited Thursday in Adrian and helped his mother, Mrs. W. G. Briggs, of Adrian celebrate her birthday.

Pasture Management

By Johnny Ohlenburg
SCS Office

Your pasture is just as good as you make it! With proper management, pastureland can fit into almost any farming operation. Pastureland will help diversify any farming operation.

There are several essential things that are necessary for proper pasture management. Probably the biggest single problem in pasture management is overgrazing. Grass is very similar to a car battery in that it stores energy in its leaves and roots as a battery stores energy in its cells. When a farmer overgrazes, he cuts down on the leaf surface and this in turn reduces the root storage capacity.

When a pasture is overgrazed, the grass is later in coming out in spring as it has to rebuild its food supply again. This is a major reason for removing cattle from pasture early enough in the growing season to allow proper growth for food storage during the winter. This also helps in wind and water erosion control and aids considerably in water penetration in the soil.

This growth on the grass is a big aid in breaking up the force of the raindrop in a hard rain. Some other things that enter into pasture management are rotation, fertilization and irrigation. These three things are important in that they strengthen the grass and add considerably to the nutrient value of the soil. Rotation, fertilization and irrigation are usually done in a cycle. After cattle have been removed or rotated, fertilization and then irrigation are done.

The Soil Conservation Service, in cooperation with the Blackwater Soil Conservation District, will help any farmer work out a proper grazing schedule.
