Commissioners . . . . . Budget adopted, tax rate set

Commissioners adopted the budget and set the county tax rate at their meeting Monday. A tax rate of .475 was set to generate funds for the Fiscal Year 1986 budget of $5,536,000.

The tax rate has been reduced by 17 percent from .556 last year. Surplus funds of $870,000 being carried into the new year make the cut of the tax rate possible. The 1986 budget is "cut down a couple of hundred thousand dollars" from the 1985 figure of $5,744,944 commented County Auditor Dick Kirby.

The good news of the decreased tax rate at the county level is expected to be offset by an increase for the school after that entity held its budget hearing Tuesday night. Commissioners will meet at 1:30 p.m. Friday to set a tax rate for Crockett County schools.

During the budget hearing portion of Monday's meeting, no taxpayers appeared to question the planned expenditures.

Court members heard and approved an emergency request from Eddie Moore for a hot oil heater for county paving equipment. Paving cannot be continued until the heater is replaced. Moore also presented the one bid which has been received for a fuel system for the chip spreader. Other bids will be forthcoming.

The court was told that written personnel guidelines are needed for the Road Department employees. "I need some guidelines that I can hand them," Moore said. Judge A.O. Fields promised to "bring something back" for the court to consider at the October meeting.

Hospital Administrator Don Hopkins gave his monthly report and told commissioners, "I don't feel that we're going to have any problem at all meeting our budget."

Hopkins, Judge Fields and Dick Kirby will be in Austin Wednesday and Thursday of this week to attend a Texas Association of Counties meeting regarding indigent care.

John L. Henderson, representing Big State Electronics, appeared before the court to outline an immediate communications need for the county. Sheriff's Department personnel and other county radio frequency users are unable to communicate when Parker County is on the air Henderson explained. A subaudible tone which is a code for Crockett County needs to be changed out in all county units to correct the problem.

Commissioners approved repairs at an estimated total cost of $1,125 for all county units, including the Sheriff's Department, hospital, ambulance and walkie talkies.

A plan for a remote control station to be placed on a tower at Lancaster Hill was also presented by Henderson. The equipment would enable local law enforcement officers and officers called to the Pecos River area to be in radio communication. The proposal was taken under consideration by the court.

Applications for two city crew and one Road Department positions were received by the court. Three to be hired are Gordon LaBarre, Ismael Lujan and Danny Ramirez.

Reports from Garland Young for the Civic Center and Louise Ledoux and Marilyn Cox, law and their family, Mae Lay Young stated that the back to school dance held Saturday night at the Civic Center was a huge success with 160 young people in attendance.

The court approved purchase of eight new card tables for the Civic Center.

Two names were submitted for approval as new library board members. Elliott Barrera and Mary Kay Skains were appointed by the court with a request that the library board change its membership period from September - August to January - December to correspond with all other county appointed boards.

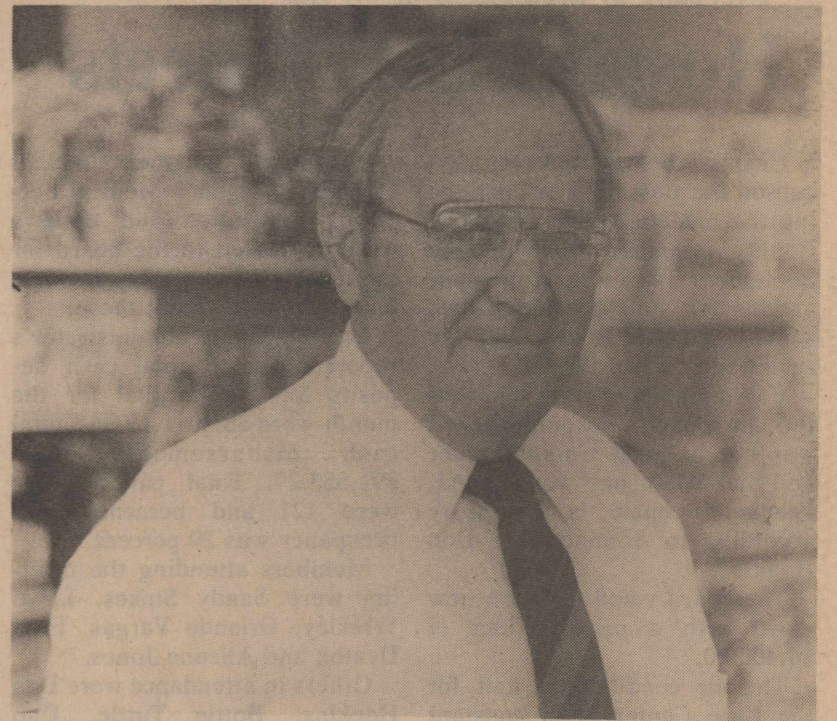

Appointment of election judges was discussed with the following names submitted: Stella Valadez, Pct. 1; Arlene Clayton, Pct. 2; Bobbie Fatout, Pct. 3; Concha Zapata, Pct. 4.

The court approved a request from American Pipeline to place a pump station within Crockett County one-half mile south of the Upton County line.

No easements have been filed yet for the corresponding pipeline through Crockett County which is to be built by American Pipeline said County Clerk Debbi Puckett.

The court went into executive session to hear complaints from former employees.

Foodway has new owners

Oscar Tumlinson, new store owner

Jim's Foodway will soon become T & T Village Supermarket, Jim Marks has announced. Marks has sold the grocery to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Tumlinson of Midland effective September 9.

"I just want to do something else," says Marks. "We are not moving. Last Christmas, we decided that by my 52nd birthday, we would do something else. We plan to travel and pursue other non-grocery store related interests."

Marks has been in the grocery business for 27 years. He moved here from Fort Stockton.

There has been a complete turnaround in the grocery business according to Marks. "Frozen foods and diapers are the fastest growing sellers in the market today. Many years ago, frozen food was not of good quality, nor was there a large variety of frozen products available. There are now more health foods, and people are more health conscious." People are interested in the fat content of foods and low cholesterol foods, he explained. Both Mr. and Mrs. Marks are health conscious. He has lost more than 80 pounds. "Poultry and turkey products are being merchandised for year round consumption," Marks said. The beef industry is being hurt by this constant merchandization. Beef in itself is good. What goes into the food to feed the beef cattle -- feed additives and growth hormones -- are what is harmful about excessive beef consumption in a person's diet. Marks said he would really miss visiting with long time customers. "Being here is a habit. Sometimes, I will wish that I was back here."

Customers come from as far away as Dryden, Sanderson, Iraan and Sheffield. "I will really miss talking with them," he says. The store will keep its IGA affiliation, and all the programs Marks has initiated will continue.

The Tumlinsons will become the sole proprietors of the business. Tumlinson has been with M-System for 42 years. Marks plans to continue his community involvement in the Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club and fire department activities. "Success in business goes hand in hand with community involvement."

Dr. Sessom receives award

Steve M. Sessom, DDS, received the Academy of General Dentistry's prestigious Fellowship Award during a special ceremony at AGD's annual meeting, Renaissance of Learning, July 26-31 in Detroit.

The Academy of General Dentistry is the second-largest dental organization in North America and is composed of 27,000 dentists in the U. S. and Canada dedicated to continued education in general practice. To earn a Fellowship Award, AGD members must complete more than 500 hours of continuing education within ten years and pass a Fellowship examination.

Dr. Sessom graduated from the University of Texas dental school in 1975 and has been practicing in Ozona since 1976.

Dr. Sessom is a member of Omicron Kappa Upsilon honorary dental fraternity, the American Dental Association, the American Orthodontic Society, the Class One Triple Plus Club of the L. D. Pankey Institute and other dental organizations. He is a member and past president of the board of directors of the Ozona Chamber of Commerce.

The Ozona Lions Band presented their first show of the 1985 football season in Greenwood last Friday. Melody Stark, drum major, leads the group to the end zone.

"The Opening" of the Heritage School, the Ozona school building constructed in 1910-1912, is scheduled for Sunday, September 22, 1985, at 3:00 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The building, more recently referred to as the "old" junior high school, has been put back into educational service following an extensive remodeling project.

Plans for the program for "The Opening" include: a musical presentation by the Ozona High School Band, welcoming remarks and introductions by representatives of the School Board of Trustees, greetings and presentations by the county's historical groups, and a time to reminisce about the building's memorable past. Also, included in the afternoon's activities will be a pictorial display of the building's past, a tour of the building, and a time for refreshments and visitation.

Mr. Ratliff was born August 21, 1906 in Juno. He was an engineer for the Crockett County Road Department before his retirement. He was a World War II veteran.

Borrego receives scholarship

Edward Borrego has been notified that he has received a full athletic scholarship to Ranger Junior College at Ranger.

The freshman student has been selected to play on the first offensive unit and the second team defensive unit of the college football team.

Members of Edward's family were on hand to see him start in the first scrimmage of the season against Tarleton State of Stephenville.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Borrego Sr.

Rangers out score the Lions 28-0

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

"The game could have been won with the elimination of simple mistakes," Coach Jim Green said after the Ozona 28-0 loss to Greenwood Friday.

"The kids gave it their best shot. The mistakes made were caused in part by a lack of preparation on my part. We had some costly breakdowns - ones that would kill a drive or would let them make large gains. These mistakes were caused by a lack of experience.

"We were not physically whipped; there was a lot of hard hitting in the game. We are prepared for Eden, which is a good solid ball club. Eden suffered a 22-0 loss to Menard this week.

"I was most satisfied with the effort of the team. They really played an excellent game," said Green.

Leading the rushing attack for the Greenwood Rangers was Brad Ross, who ran nine times for 64 yards. Mitch Russell carried the ball eight times for 54 yards.

David Adams was the leading rusher for the Lions, with 13 carries for 68 yards. Chuy Hernandez ran two times for 19 yards. The passing yardage leader was Harvey Fierro, with three receptions for 42 yards. Roger Flores had one catch for six yards.

Coach Green said, "The entire defensive and offensive units played an outstanding game."

Bret Thompson, Butch Gonzales, defensive ends, middle linebacker Chuy Hernandez and guard Abel Lara all did excellent work.

On Thursday night, the Ozona Junior Varsity game was called in the third quarter because of lightning. The junior varsity was losing to Greenwood by a 22-0 score when the game was called with four minutes left in the third quarter.

The junior varsity Lions had a strong first half against Greenwood. Coaches Gene Hood and David Porter said. The Rangers were limited to 50 yards total offense in that first half, and they got 30 of the 50 yards on one touchdown run."

Greenwood averaged about one yard per carry in the first half. "The entire defense was excellent except for three touchdown runs," Hood explained. The first four plays of the game by Greenwood resulted in negative yardage for Greenwood.

One of the most exciting plays in the ballgame occurred when Sub Fierro recovered a fumble in the end zone for a touchdown.

The touchdown was nullified by the inadvertent blowing of a whistle by an official. This resulted in an extra fifth down for the Greenwood Rangers, who had the option of taking the previous play or rerunning the down," Porter explained.

Ben Rios led the defense with six tackles; Sub Fierro, a defensive cornerback, had five tackles; and middle linebacker Bret Hood had four tackles.

The junior varsity rushed for 60 yards and passed for 52 yards in the first half. "We were inside the 20 three times, but were unable to score," Hood said. "Will Seahorn had a 22 yard pass completion prior to a penalty which nullified a drive."

Harvey Dominguez rushed four times for 23 yards, and Sub Fierro ran six times for 26 yards.

The junior varsity will play Eden at 11:30 a.m. Saturday in Lions Stadium following the seventh grade game.

"I am not displeased with the performance of the team. There are several new boys who have never played football before. They will be an exciting team to watch," Hood predicted.

Pandale Pannings

by Jonny Johnson

It has been busy down Pandale way since Labor Day holidays.

There were a lot of people camped on the Pecos fishing; one 21 pound and one 18 pound channel cat were caught. I saw a picture of the 21 pounder, very nice.

The G. E. Finck's daughter and family of Austin visited over the holidays.

The Robert Cavness family has moved into the mobile home at the old Everett Ranch at the crossing. They have two children who will attend school at Comstock.

Leann Arledge and Bill Higgins were married last weekend.

This week it's been mostly shearing and shooting. Seems to be a lot of dove this year, and everyone is trying to get through shearing.

I'm meeting a lot of heavy equipment on the road on my way to Ozona every day, so maybe things are picking up.

Increase in medical staff on tap

Hospital Board meets

Hospital Board members discussed the possibility of increasing the medical staff at Crockett County Memorial during the September 5 meeting. Any applications for staff privileges presented to the Board will be reviewed and considered.

Board members were told that the stove in the hospital kitchen was not in good working order and that a new one was needed. Frequent repair is necessary according to Administrator Don Hopkins.

The board voted to buy a new stove with a price ceiling of $4,400.00.

The air conditioning unit for the Care Center is in constant need of repair. The board will check into the feasibility of replacing the unit.

The newly adopted Crockett County Emergency Medical Services constitution and by-laws were presented to the board for approval by Dub O'Bryant. The board voted to accept these.

Mr. Hopkins' administrator's report indicated total cash deposits for the hospital for the month were $81,091.15 and total cash disbursements were $91,553.29. Total patient days were 121 and percentage of occupancy was 20 percent.

Members attending the meeting were Sandy Stokes, Lloyd Winkley, Orlando Vargas, Fred Deaton and Alleane Jones.

Others in attendance were Don Hopkins, Dottie Tuttle, Dub O'Bryant, Elvira Caldwell, Jacquie King, Dr. Owensby and Ramona Turnley.

Former resident on national T.V.

James R. Hearne, a 1978 graduate of Ozona High School, now a Border Patrol agent stationed in San Diego, CA., was seen on CBS Special Report, "Whose America Is It" September 3.

Hearne was interviewed detaining a large group of Pakistanis and was asked what he was going to do with them.

His reply was simply, "I don't know, they don't speak English or Spanish". Young Hearne was seen briefly later loading aliens into a service vehicle. He has been in the Border Patrol two years.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hearne of Ozona.

Club year begins at Woman's Forum

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

The Woman's Forum met September 7 at the historic Emerald House for a Sesquicentennial sack lunch and program.

Hostesses for the luncheon were Mmes. Betty Perry, Jane Black and Katharine Russell. Sandwiches, grapes, chips, cookies and tea were served. Following the meal, members and guests adjourned to the Emerald House.

The indoor part of the meeting opened with a prayer for the nation by Lucille Littleton.

Lu Ingram, club president, then spoke of 1985 as a "year of changes. We are undergoing changes everywhere -- in schools, homes and government," Mrs. Ingram said. "Change is sometimes...painful, difficult, but necessary... It is the hallmark of the American experience. We must look change in the face and gain strength. We must do things that we think we cannot do."

Members were presented yearbooks by Mrs. Jane Black. She expressed gratitude on behalf of all the members to Mrs. Perry for helping type the books and print them.

The yearbooks were dedicated to the memory of Doris Bunker Moore. The late Mrs. Kirby Moore served as forum president from 1966-68 and from 1976-78.

A lectern and globe will be placed in the Crockett County Library in memory of all deceased Forum members.

Ram performance test scheduled

The Annual Ram Performance Test conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station near Sonora is set to begin September 27-30 at the Experiment Station. The Field Day scheduled at the conclusion of the test is set for March 20, 1986.

Dr. Maurice Shelton, San Angelo based coordinator for the function, said the test will be handled in a manner similar to tests of previous years. He noted that the method of obtaining fleece data, especially fleece yields, has not yet been determined. "It is expected that we will move toward scouring the entire fleece or hand scouring a core sample of the entire fleece," said Shelton. Shelton added that as a result of this, test officials are allowing an additional week prior to the field day for obtaining fleece data and preparing the final report.

Rams may be entered individually or in sire or ownership groups. Animals may be registered or non-registered. The test is open to all breeds but based on the type of data collected it is tailored more toward the Fine-wool breeds. Animals must be lambs at the time of entry; those showing yearling teeth will not be accepted. To be eligible for the American Rambouillet Sheep Breeders' Association Registry of Merit Program, rams must be registered and born on or after October 1, 1984.

Rams will be examined by an appointed committee between the delivery and the first official weigh-day. A note will be made of any unsoundness and breeders will be given an opportunity, but will not be required to remove these individuals before the first weigh-day. After the animals are officially on test, breeders are expected to leave the rams except for reasons of health as determined by station personnel.

Shelton said an initial deposit of $135 will be required per head. Any unused funds will be returned after the test is completed.

For further information, contact: Dr. Maurice Shelton, San Angelo, 915-653-4576; Dr. George Ahlschwede, San Angelo, 915-653-4576; or Donald Spiller, Sonora, 915-387-3168.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter out of concern for the town that has been so good to so many. For years we have been at a loss as to what we should do about our hospital situation. Should we let another group manage it? Should we cut the staff? Should we vote on a hospital district? For some reason or another, all of these have been shoved around and let lay until they died of natural apathetic death.

We have cut hospital services to the point that there is no reason for people to stay here and later be sent out of town for the simplest of tests. It is a lot easier to start out at a San Angelo Hospital and be done with it.

Want to have a baby? Drive to San Angelo. Want to have minor surgery? Drive to San Angelo. Want registered inhalation physical therapy? Drive to San Angelo. Our town loses thousands of dollars annually because we do not have people willing to perform or are not allowed to perform these services.

We have always had a doctor problem in Ozona, but because of social and political problems, we have been afraid to discuss it in public. Put a petition in a store concerning bringing in another doctor and watch some nut tear it up and take it out of the store in a rage. When we get a physician in town that everyone likes, he leaves town because of the turmoil that exists in our medical community.

The hospital board is doing an excellent job, but I feel they are limited in their decisions because of the social and business atmosphere in this town.

If everyone knew how close we are to losing the hospital, we probably would be more concerned. It would be nice if we could get together and ask the hospital board members to bring in doctors the town would support, but we can't, so they don't, and nothing will change except we will lose our hospital service to more progressive towns.

From a Concerned Citizen (Name withheld by request)

DEAR EDITOR:

We are writing to show our gratitude for all the concern people showed when our four year old son was injured on August 29. As everyone knows, Chad slipped and fell from the high diving board at the North Pool.

The EMT's that immediately came to the scene were excellent. We are from a fairly larger town than Ozona and thought the volunteers for the ambulance service were probably amateurs and not as efficient as professionals. We were proved to be wrong, Ozona's EMT's are not only professionals, they are also caring people who have been thoroughly trained. Thank you to all that helped that night.

The hospital staff was also very good with Chad. They showed just how well they are trained. They are also professionals doing a great job! Thank you nurses and Dr. Carlisle.

We also want to thank Janet Henry. She just happened to be at the party. Apparently, she has had EMT training. She knew just what to do with Chad until the ambulance got there. Thank you, Janet.

Thank you to all, friends and strangers, who showed us their concern in our time of need.

By the way, Chad is doing fine. He had a cut on his forehead and suffered from a concussion. We especially thank God for only these slight injuries. The accident could have been much worse.

Thank you again, Ray Don, Barbie and Chad Myers

Introducing The Ozona Lions

BRET THOMPSON # 77

Cars, sports, being with friends, and spending money are the interests of Bret Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson.

Thompson, a five year veteran of the football program, wants to make the all district teams in football and basketball. "I want to give 100 percent while I'm reaching for that goal," says Thompson. "I participate in sports for the challenge of it."

The future construction worker plans to attend trade school after graduating. He enjoys working on cars and is learning about them in auto mechanics class.

ANDY DEWS #21

Andy Dews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dews, plans to attend Angelo State University and major in physical education.

Dews, who has played football for four years, wants to be a member of the all district team. He enjoys sports because "in school they aren't able to teach you the important things, such as responsibilities to be dependable...to endure life."

One act plays and computers are among his outside interests for this future West Texas high school football coach. Dews said he hopes to graduate in the top 20 in his class.

SAM HIGHTOWER # 12

Sam Hightower, son of Royce and Donna Hightower, wants to make all state both defensively and offensively in football and basketball. "I enjoy sports," he says. "It's fun. I have learned to become mentally disciplined in the things that you do -- to help out a team."

Hightower, a football player for the last five years, also wants to pass his classes with high honors. "I want to get the most out of school," he says.

He is striving to become well educated and make enough money to have a good life. Hunting, fishing, swimming, listening to music and riding with friends are what he enjoys doing in his spare time.

Prayer-Communication with God

Rev. Richard Altenbaugh
Our Lady of Perpetual Help
Catholic Church

For some folks: "I enjoy prayer very much"; "I like to pray" -- for others: "I don't pray. I've tried and don't get anywhere. I don't seem to accomplish anything."

Prayer, an event of a person's presence and communication with God, has been a source of joy and difficulty for us as well as generations before us.

Here are a few insights that may help in this personal contact with our good God. I've found them helpful and others have also. Hopefully, they may be beneficial for those reading this article.

First: Prayer has been described as "wasting time with the Lord." "I like this approach. In our busy day, about so many things, things important for self, spouse, family, job or community, we give God 20 minutes or so just for Him. For Him to talk to us. For Him to communicate His will... His security, His peace, to us. We are awaiting Him, like the psalmist... waiting upon the Lord" or like the prophets response "Speak Lord, your servant heareth." (1 Samuel 3:9).

To others, this seems like a waste of time. When there are so many other "important and necessary" things that one "can and should" be accomplishing or at least working at.

That's where the idea of wasting time with the Lord comes in. But to the person in prayer -- it is really not a waste, even though when they finish, they feel that they have not spiritually accomplished anything -- on the contrary; they have given that particular time to God...to be used at His disposal. And that gift itself is an accomplishment... pleasing to God.

Second: Prayer is more God's work than ours. He is the real initiator. He invites, we respond. He is more interested in us, than we in Him. He has a hundred more important things to tell us than what we have to tell Him. He is more eager to communicate with us. He wishes to communicate Himself and His goodness, love, peace, wisdom, confidence, than doing our wishes. Most of the time, as it is said, that whenever we get what we want, we always come out the loser; because He had something much

Debbi Porter-new junior high teacher and coach

"I teach to get students interested in life, and keep them involved, not just in class, but also in learning in general," Debbi Porter, new junior high history and girls' assistant basketball and track coach said recently.

Ms. Porter moved here from Mertzton where she was varsity volleyball and tennis coach for two years. She has also taught in the Fort Stockton public school system.

"This is my first year to teach history. I love it." She received a bachelor's degree in business administration in 1975 and her master's degree in physical education in 1979, both from Angelo State University. She also has a minor in English at the graduate level.

Junior high students are "easier to keep interested," Ms. Porter explained when asked if teaching junior high and high school was different. "High school students are sometimes burned out, whereas the sixth graders I am now teaching are all excited about entering junior high school."

A six year veteran of the teaching profession, Porter says she moved to Ozona to coach under Rhonda Yarborough, varsity high school basketball coach, and also because the "kids here are such super athletes".

HB 72 has lost some of the very students that it was supposed to help," Ms. Porter said. "The ones lost are the ones that need athletics the most -- it (athletics) keeps them in school, and keeps them interested in their subjects."

Students need to pass subjects to play, but before you could fail only one subject and still be better to give instead. Pray only to know His will for oneself and the power to carry it out. (cf. MT. 8:33).

With these perspectives, we should relax when praying... letting God do more of the work. Relax and enjoy the Lord. After all, isn't that a bit of what prayer is all about?

eligible. "They had some leeway, and had a chance to not be perfect in everything. Everyone has one weak subject. The all or nothing attitude has gone to an extreme," she explained.

Ms. Porter is the mother of two daughters, Lanessa, 13, and eighth grader, and Kristi, 11, a sixth grader. "We do a lot together. They are both athletes."

4-H Foods and Nutrition leaders met Thursday, September 5, to organize foods and nutrition project groups and committees for the county 4-H Food Show. There are currently 85 youth registered in the foods projects, most of which have leaders at this point.

The general objectives of the 4-H Foods and Nutrition Program are to help 4-H members develop leadership talents and citizenship; understand the inter-relationships of science, nutrition and food preparation; understand the signs of good health and food needs; develop desirable eating habits; develop skills in buying foods by studying food costs; develop skills in management involved in planning and preparation; store foods to conserve nutritional value and insure food safety; and understand social and cultural roles of foods.

4-H'ers meet in groups of 1-8 for six lessons, meeting the various foods objectives prior to the County 4-H Food Show. 4-H'ers also complete a 4-H project record form which includes a listing of lessons and objectives reviewed, leadership and community service activities and meaningful experiences during the project. A day's menu is prepared by each 4-H'er which includes adequate serving sizes and variety of foods.

Carnes-Christopher vows spoken in Richmond

Pamela Carol Carnes and Thomas Edward Christopher were united in marriage at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, August 31, in the First Baptist Church in Richmond. The Rev. John Lockhart performed the double ring ceremony.

The special wedding music was provided by pianist, Mrs. Les M. Carnes, aunt of the bride, who accompanied her husband as he sang.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip A. Carnes of Richmond. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Carnes Sr. of Andrews, parents of the bride's father, who were celebrating their 55th wedding anniversary that day; and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Carnes of Ozona, the bride's mother's parents.

The bridegroom is the son of Mary Ann Eckhart and Dr. Walter J. Christopher, both of Maumee, Ohio.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white organza and imported Alencon lace embellished with bridal pearls and sequins. The sweetheart bodice featured a shadow yoke extending into a Schiffla embroidered wedding band collar and Renaissance sleeves, heavily embroidered with silk threads. The waistline dipped into a "V" at the front waistline above a full skirt scattered with scalloping of lace and tiny pleated ruffles, which swept into a ruffled chapel train. She wore a lace-covered scalloped brim hat covered with veiling and pearl loops and carried a cascade bouquet of white gardenias and roses accented with foliage.

Lorie Michelle Carnes, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. She wore a pink organza gown in southern belle styling with ruffles at the shoulder line and finishing the hoop-extended skirt. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Keith Helminski served as best man and John Shrine seated the guests.

In the house party for the reception which followed in the Pecan Grove Plantation Country Club was Chrissy Carnes, who registered guests.

The bride's cake was a three-tiered white confection, accented with pink sugar roses and topped with marzipan roses. The bridegroom's cake of German chocolate held his monogram in mocha frosting on a beige background.

Following a wedding trip to the Bahamas, the couple will reside in Toledo, Ohio.

The bride is a graduate of Heritage High School in Littleton, Colorado and attended Colorado State University. She expects to attend the University of Toledo, the university her husband attends as an electrical engineering major.

Pandale Study Club has fall meeting

Barbara Malone, president of the Pandale Study Club, presided over the first meeting of the club year September 5 at the Pandale Community Center. Yearbooks were presented by the program chairman, Becky Young. Annual donations to Boy's Ranch, High Sky Children's Ranch, and the San Angelo Volunteer Council were approved. Plans for the Pandale observance of Val Verde County's Centennial Year were made for the November meeting.

Jo Davidson of Ozona presented the program on "Life Story", the how-to of autobiographical interviewing. Mrs. Davidson told the group that "so often we have good intentions of preserving the past as remembered by our families, but fail to do so when it means writing it all down. With the 'Life Story' method, it is easy to talk it all on to a tape." Organizations as well as families can utilize the 'Life Story' plan to preserve history as well as memories.

Shortbread, fruit salad and tea were served by hostesses Vonnie Womack and Ginger Perner to members Sue Arledge, Lela Bunger, Opal Everett, Sarah Hargraves, Barbara Malone, Myrtle Malone, Josephine Mills, Judy Norsworthy, Jessie White, Becky and Audrey Young and guest Jo Davidson, and Lela Marie Bunger from Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Lion David Adams, #30, drives in to help stop a Greenwood drive.

seventh grade has unlimited potential. "I feel that this team will start slowly, but improve as the season progresses. We have a stronger defense than offense, but that is typical early in the season."

As the coaches prepare for the season, the players are also sharpening their skills before the onslaught of contests begin. Eighth grade quarterback and team leader Chris Denman, at 5'9", 120 pounds, is very confident with the eighth grade squad. "I think we are going to be better than we were last year." When asked about their first game against Greenwood, Denman responds, "If we can keep their big runningback in check, then we'll win the game. Defense will be the key."

Coach Payne states that both of the teams have several goals. Two of these are to win district and go undefeated. "Both of the teams have been practicing very hard to achieve these goals."

The junior high schedule will begin Thursday, September 12.

Cubs '85 pre-season roundup

By Copie Davis and T. C. Tucker

Ozona Junior High football coach Don Payne is full of optimism as he enters the 1985 season. Coming off one of his finest seasons ever as a coach, Payne feels that the 1985 Cubs can duplicate the enormous success of their district winning predecessors of 1984. "We're pretty strong," said Payne of his eighth grade squad, who last year went 7-1 as seventh graders and ran away with the district title.

Their only loss came from the hands of Eden, who used numerous eighth graders in their lineup.

"Our main problem will be lack of depth. We don't have as many kids out this year due to grades and kids moving away." Although lack of depth may hinder them somewhat, the Cubs should have a great year both offensively and defensively. "The entire backfield will help the Cubs offensively, and our linemen are experienced." The backfield will consist of Chris Denman, who will start as quarterback, along with Lalo Rodriguez, runningback; George Ybarra, wingback, and Roger Martinez at fullback. The same four should do quite well defensively. "Phillip Munoz will be the heart of the secondary," said Payne. "And Mark Fierro will lead the linebackers." "The game against Greenwood will probably be tough," said Payne. They have an impressive runningback. But if we play well, we should be able to take care of them."

As for his seventh grade team, Payne said, "the Eden game will basically be a learning experience for the seventh graders. We have a lot of kids (26) out this year with size, speed, and a fantastic attitude."

Mail order rights

"Just call our toll-free number, and your record of 'Music to Sharpen Knives By' will be on its way to you. Or you can save shipping charges by sending a check or money order to..."

You know those ads. The phone is so easy. However, did you know that you have more protection if you order by mail? The Federal Trade Commission notes that the Mail Order Rule, which states when products should be shipped and when you have the right to a refund, applies only to merchandise that is ordered by mail.

More and more people are shopping by mail and phone today as a way to save time. But that also means more complaints and questions about mail order companies. To help answer your questions about shopping by mail and explain your rights, the U. S. Postal Service and the American Express Company have published a pamphlet called Mail Order Rights. For your free copy, send your name and address to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 603N, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

You have certain rights when you order by mail that you do not have when you order by phone. The Mail Order Rule states that a company must ship merchandise by the promised date. If no date is advertised, the company must ship within 30 days after receiving the order.

If a company cannot ship on time, they are required to ask whether you will agree to a new shipping date or whether you would rather cancel your order and receive a prompt refund. If you don't reply, they can assume you agree to a delay of up to 30 days. But if the delay is more than 30 days or a second delay occurs, you must respond, or they have to refund your money.

In the event that you have a problem or disagreement about your purchase, contact your local U. S. Postal Service Inspector. The Postal Inspector is responsible for enforcing some of the laws concerning purchases by mail. But in most cases, the Postal Inspector cannot help with orders made by phone. And while the FTC cannot handle individual complaints, they are interested in knowing of problems so that they can determine whether a pattern of complaints is developing against certain companies.

There are a number of ways to protect yourself before you order by mail. Never buy merchandise based solely on a photograph. Study the written description and call or write the company about questions concerning service, warranty, or replacement. That's a good use of a toll-free number. Be sure to ask for a written copy of their service, warranty and replacement policies. Then place the order by mail.

Aycock nationally ranked in Masters

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

"The more I run, the more I want to set age division records," says Bobby Aycock, an organizer with Pete Maldonado, of the West Texas Masters track meet. Aycock recently learned that he is ranked sixth nationally in the 45-49 year old classification in the

The Masters Track Meet circuit is primarily for men and women 30 and older, but the meets have open divisions which include younger people. Those younger than 30 are not ranked or listed in the competition. The attraction of the Masters

The National Masters newspaper posts all upcoming meets and issues rankings for the various age divisions, Aycock explained. He competed in 11 events in 1983, and won medals in all but one event. Originally, he hoped to just win medals, but after having achieved those goals, Aycock now wants to set as many age division records as possible. Most of the meets are held in the summer, but some indoor meets start in September. He participates in four to five outdoor meets a year.

Track is a family affair for the Aycocks. His oldest son, Bo, a student at Sul Ross, participated in the 1984 West Texas Masters. Aycock's father, C. N. Aycock, 72, won first place in the shot put. Mrs. Aycock attends many of the meets with her husband, and their youngest son also attends some of the meets. He is not old enough to participate.

Aycock starts his serious training in late February for the summer meets. He does weight lifting and runs intervals - "When training for a 100 meter dash, I run 200 meters; when training for a 200 meter run, I run 300 meters" - to build up his endurance. A knee injury has temporarily slowed Aycock, but after seeing a doctor, he hopes to resume his full training schedule. "Most serious athletes run year round. For those interested in entering into competition, it is best to visit with several who have competed," advises Aycock. "Try each event and see what you do best in. Each event has a different training schedule."

Aycock has participated in the high hurdles, pole vault, long jump, 100-meter dash along with Danny Sewell. "I now hold nine different age division records in nine different events."

Conflicts with his job at Fesco, Inc. are rare. "I take no hours away from work to run," Aycock, who first came to Ozona in 1976 as district manager for Fesco, has two weekends off each month, and schedules his participation for those weekends.

The Marine Corps veteran attended Texas A&I in Kingsville for three years before his marriage. Prior to moving to Ozona, he was the assistant manager for Fesco at Refugio, a South Texas town about the size of Ozona. Fesco, which is headquartered in

Alice, is a petroleum engineering service company. "We are specialists in a certain type of testing of gas and oil wells through surface and subsurface tests."

Many oil related service companies are closing down, but Fesco is able to keep its door open because "we do a good job at the lowest possible cost to our clients," Aycock explained. "No two wells are the same, and this makes the work exciting." A certain amount of tests are required, and "we are here to do them."

Aycock predicts that the oil and gas industry will remain stationary for six to eight more years. The oil portion is coming back a little, but the comeback is insignificant. The gas industry has dropped so much, and the comeback for that industry is not in the foreseeable future.

Incorrect political decisions by past administrations have hurt the oil and gas industry, Aycock said. OPEC has little or no effect on the oil and gas industry here, but the Mexican and Canadian imports do effect the industry. Deregulation has not had a significant impact according to Aycock.

Aycock does not believe there will be another boom like in the 1960's. "The industry might be on an even keel maybe in six to eight years."

"I want to give the customers the best service for the least amount," says the Fesco manager. Fesco had to increase its prices about five percent for the first time since 1981. Athletically, Aycock wants to do a better job each time he competes. He has reduced the number of events in which he participates to set the records he cherishes. "I love the people you meet. They are generous, polite, mature and unselfish."

This too, is true of Bobby Aycock, the athlete and the oil industry professional.

Minnie Karr is sharing her "Grandparents' Day" flowers with everybody in the living room. We love holidays because someone always has something to share, and this last Sunday's "Grandparents' Day" proved to be no exception. Thanks, Minnie. (And thank your grandson for us, too!)

We also have several lovely bouquets of flowers shared by the family of D. C. Ratliff.

Dilly Dockery gave our residents a Labor Day treat by sharing the VCR "Annie". Donuts Etc. donated donuts to add to the treat.

Thanks also go to Mattie Cooper for donating two crocheted shawls and Vera Baker for donating some yarn scraps.

Tuesday and Friday bingo winners included: Ola Mills, winner of the El Chato dinner for two, Maggie Crawford, winner of the gift certificate from Clayton's Village Drug, and Tomasa Ramoz, second place winner. Volunteers included Tuesday's caller, Lelia Tambunga, and Friday's caller, Virginia Bishop, as well as Sophia Tijerina, Mattie Cooper, Anna Bell Patrick, and her friend, Gwen Nelson.

After I wrote about Minnie's flowers, some arrived from the grandson of Granny Carter. We thank them, too!

Ola Mills played dominoes on Tuesday afternoon.

Janet Wilson was our volunteer at ceramics on Wednesday. Residents Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramoz, Moriama Perez, Hilda Dysart and Ola Mills all enjoyed this activity.

Thursday morning's beauty shop was manned by Clara Byrd and Alena Faye Hokit.

Bible study was led this week by Ted Turnley. Glenda Henderson played the piano. Some twelve members of Our Lady of Perpetual Chelp Catholic Church brought the Sunday afternoon church services.

Friday afternoon, residents Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramoz, Bertha Miller, Pearl Morris, Inez Biggs, Ola Mills, Doris Robnett, and Moriama Perez formed the Kookie Kookers Club and made cookies. Volunteer Jo Davidson assisted with this activity.

We are pleased to have Virginia Hoover back with us after her stay in the hospital. It was good to visit with her in the living room this morning.

We hope all clubs and organizations, as they start again meeting this fall, will remember to include our Care Center in their plans.

triple-jump. He started competing in 1983 when the track meet was first held here.

Aycock said he suffered from high blood pressure and felt exercise would be good for it. "Medication did not control the blood pressure. Also, I am very competitive with anything, and the physical part attracted me."

When Aycock attended the 4A Alice school as a student, he ran track for one year. "I was small and thin and did not do well," he said.

circuit is for the many persons who enjoy running and competing, but do not enjoy the long marathon distances.

The Masters circuit has been held for many years in Texas. Aycock and Maldonado first became interested in holding a meet in Ozona, which has over the past few years attracted the largest number of participants of any meet in Texas, after learning that Ozona athletes had to go to Eldorado to compete in the meet held there.

More than two master's

Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Pena-Alfaro have three masters degrees between them with 12 hours remaining to earn a fourth. Mrs. Pena-Alfaro received her first master's degree in 1973 from Angelo State University. She now lacks 12 hours on her second, which she is completing at Sul Ross. This degree will be in education with a diagnostician (testing) certification. Mrs. Pena-Alfaro is a kindergarten teacher in the Ozona schools.

Mr. Pena-Alfaro, also a teacher in the public school system, received his first master's degree in 1979 from Angelo State University in history. He completed work on his second master's degree in school administration at Sul Ross State University in Alpine this summer.

Spence is new secretary

Gail Spence is a new secretary in the office of Jack Probst, junior high principal.

The paperwork involved in the new job presents quite a challenge sometimes, but "I love it," says Mrs. Spence. "The job is lots of fun. Ozona is different, but I really like it."

Mrs. Spence moved to Ozona when she married. She served as a computer math aide at Lee High School in Midland for one year.

The busy secretary teaches twirling to all ages in her spare time. She and her husband, Ted Spence, enjoy tennis, swimming, skiing and "almost any outdoor activities."

Mrs. Spence said that the teachers and Principal Probst are easy to work with.

Scatter gun regulations change

Crockett County folks traditionally don't get too excited about dove season, and this year appears to be no exception says Game Warden Rod Chalmers. "Regardless of whether it's a lack of droves of doves blackening the skies, or the persistent heat wave stifling enthusiasm, fact remains we did rather quietly open mourning dove season Sunday, September 1, and we can keep it open through October 30 in the Central Zone. (By the way, the boundary between the Central and South Zones is US 90, not Interstate 10.) And if it's still too hot for you in October, you can wait till January 4 and hunt through the 13th.

"Shooting hours are from 30 minutes before sunrise to sunset. Some hunters get hung-up on this sunset thing; and if you want to be exact, look up the tables in some thick newspaper. But folks, realistically speaking, most State Game Wardens you meet in the field won't go digging out ticket books for late shooting until the sun has dropped below the horizon. If you're hunting on the east side of a high hill, better put the ole' blunderbuss away when the sun goes out of sight, or refer to a sunset table. Wardens generally recognize an honest attempt by the hunter to be legal.

"As of September 1, 1985, persons hunting small game (including doves) in their county of residence are not exempt from needing a current hunting license. This is a change from years past. The State of Texas and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission have decided and rightfully so, that all hunters who engage in the sport should help support the sport; or, pay their dues, so to speak. Those under 17 or 65 or over and disabled veterans can hunt under a Resident Exempt Hunting License. Your Resident Hunting License ($10.00) or Combination Hunting/Fishing ($15.00) license will suffice anywhere in the state, but don't forget a Whitewing Dove Stamp ($6.00) if there's any chance of taking one by mistake while mourning dove hunting. Also, while on the subject of stamps, waterfowl hunters also need the state and federal waterfowl stamps, signed and attached to your hunting license. Don't grumble, just buy it - it goes to a good cause!

"We're allowed 12 mourning doves per day this year, and the possession limit is the maximum number of birds that can be legally taken in two days. Obviously, the possession limit on opening day of any season is the daily bag limit. No person may possess more than one day's limit while in the field or returning from the field. This daily limit of 12 doves can include up to two "mistake" whitewings and up to two white-fronted doves (very uncommon in this area), but the total per person is 12 in the aggregate. However, remember to have a Whitewing Dove Stamp on the back of your license to cover those mistake birds. Most hunters are aware that the whitewing season was cancelled this year, but the stamps weren't. By the way, we do have some whitewings in Crockett County - down along the Pecos River, mostly."

Things you never wanted to know and don't care to ask about Newspapers:

Q. What is a "legal" newspaper?

A. A "legal" newspaper is one which

1. has been published regularly and continuously for not less than twelve months

2. holds a second-class postal permit in the county where it is published

3. devotes not less than twenty-five percent of its total column lineage to the carrying of items of general interest.

Material required by law (legal) to be published must be published in a "legal" newspaper.

THE CROCKETT COUNTY NEWS has applied for a second class mailing permit. The permit is pending.
