"The tightest that I have ever written" said Superintendent Davis

Board approves bare-boned budget for '85-'86

Faced with a significant loss in state funding and increases in state-mandated programs and salaries, Supt. Garland Davis presented the Ozona Board of Trustees with a "bare-boned, no nonsense" 1985-86 school budget at the September 10 meeting. The budget calls for cuts in almost every budgetary category except those in which House Bill 72 requirements call for spending increases. In the budget hearing, Supt. Davis called the 1985-86 budget "the tightest that I have ever written."

Following long and careful deliberations by the Board members, the trustees voted to approve the budget as presented and to adopt a tax rate of $.73 per $100 of taxable value. This is an increase of 3.5 cents over last year's tax rate, and even with the additional revenue, the district will still have to use remaining 1984-85 fund balances to meet the estimated expenditures for 1985-86.

Revenue generated from the $.73 tax rate is expected to be $4,489,500.

The $5,650,408 budget for the 1985-86 school year includes a total payroll of $2,085,065. There are 131 people employed at the school with an additional 10 in part-time food services.

Estimated state funding for the year amounts to $259,920.

Federal funds in the amount of $75,000 are anticipated.

Ron Barbutti, architect on the Ozona Junior High Renovation Project, reported to the Board that the conflict between the district and Security National Insurance Company in regard to the roof on the historical building has not been resolved, although he is still meeting with company officials in an attempt to reach settlement on the question.

Barbutti also presented preliminary plans for the construction of a dressing room building addition to Davidson memorial Gymnasium. The plan includes additional dressing rooms for basketball players and officials during games and tournaments, and it also includes a storage area. Following Board discussion, the members authorized Barbutti to continue to draft more detailed plans on the proposed addition. If construction of the addition is approved, funds will come from already existing bond money which must be used or converted.

Jerry Lay and Mrs. Terry Adams appeared before the Board to report on the organization and activities of the Lions Booster Club. Mr. Lay explained that the objective of the club is to promote interest and enthusiasm for all competitive sports programs in Ozona schools. He went on to say that various fund-raising activities are held each year by the club, and proceeds from these activities are used to sponsor the Ozona All-Sports Banquet.

Mark White, insurance broker for the district, met with the members to discuss school employee health insurance. Two proposals, one from Great West Life Insurance Company and the other from Corporate Risk Counselors, were presented for Board consideration. Following a lengthy discussion of the advantages and disadvantages of each plan, Great West Life received Board approval. Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Texas, the district insurance carrier for many years, had earlier presented an insurance proposal which called for an unfavorable 50 percent rate hike to the district and its employees.

The Board approved the hiring of two employees, Miss Vicki Jackson and William Thompson. Miss Jackson, a 1985 graduate of Angelo State University, will teach first grade in Ozona Primary School, and Thompson will be a school bus driver.

Assistant Supt. Ted Cotton reviewed new student discipline policies, and they were approved as presented. The meeting was adjourned after Mr. Davis discussed plans for the dedication of the Ozona Heritage School on Sunday, September 22.

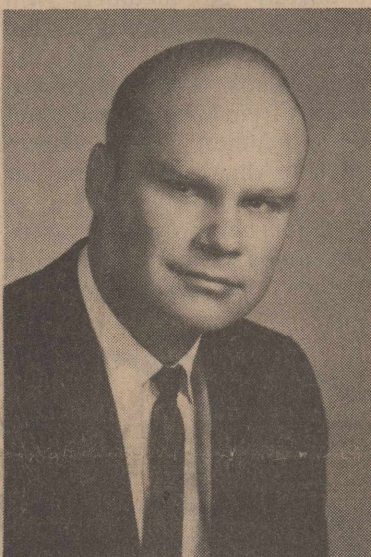

Henderson named to Board of Directors at ONB

John Lee (Sonny) Henderson Jr. has been named to the board of directors of Ozona National Bank.

Henderson, a 16 year employee of the bank, started out as assistant cashier "filing checks in the bookkeeping department". He has served as assistant vice-president, vice-president, executive vice-president, and is presently executive vice-president, chief executive officer of the bank. "I am responsible for the day to day management of the bank," Henderson said.

Henderson credits the staff at the bank with "helping make my job easy." Dan Pullen, the operations officer of Ozona National Bank, and the remaining 30 employees all do their jobs well.

"A banker must be more than a banker - he must be a counselor, advisor, friend and lawyer to the persons he serves. If you do all those things well, then you'll be a good banker," Henderson said.

Banking has changed a lot since Henderson first entered the field. It is "more sophisticated, and there are many more regulations and requirements."

Henderson is following in the footsteps of his great-grandfather, J. W. Henderson, who was one of the founders of the bank and served as Ozona National Bank's first president.

Being a rancher as well as a banker enables Henderson to understand the needs of those engaged in the livestock industry. He is currently president of the administrative board at United Methodist Church, is a member of the Lions Club, and is a past president of Ozona Rotary Club (which has disbanded). Henderson also is a past president of the Ozona Volunteer Fire Department and served as campaign manager in Crockett County for former Gov. Bill Clements and present Sen. Phil Gramm.

"Experience is the best teacher," Henderson said. Before going to work for Ozona National Bank, "All I knew about banking was that I had a checking account at the bank and that the bank loaned money. I have learned everything on the job."

Henderson received a ranch management certificate in 1958 from TCU. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree in history and government from Angelo State University in 1967.

He is married to Glenda Henderson and is the father of two grown children, Virginia Henderson Howell and John Lee Henderson III.

Heritage Building Dedication Set

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

The official opening and dedication of the Ozona Heritage Building will be at 3:00 p.m. Sunday, September 22.

The program will be held in the high school auditorium followed by an open house and reception in the restored facility.

The program will begin with music by the Ozona High School Band under direction of Kelly Glaze. The invocation will be given by Rev. Ken Harrison of United Methodist Church followed with a welcome by Jeffrey Sutton, president of the Board of Trustees.

Supt. of Schools Garland Davis will introduce guests Mrs. Geniece Childress, chairman of the Crockett County Historical Commission, and Brock Jones Jr., president of the Crockett County Historical Society.

An award presentation will be made by Mrs. Lucile Harrell, vice chairman of the Crockett County Historical Commission.

"The Building That Was" will be related by Ted White, a former teacher and coach. "The Building That Is" will be described by Ron Barbutti, architect for the renovation and restoration project.

The Heritage Building, the first permanent school building in Ozona, was constructed from 1910-12 of native limestone, when Ozona was 21 years old.

The movement to build the old junior high was started in 1909 when school enrollment had increased to a number which could not be accommodated by the one frame school building being used. The plan of the building was taken from a school building in Bridgeport, Conn. A famous architect of the period, Oscar Ruffini, oversaw the plans. C. E. Davidson, county school superintendent and judge, was the general foreman of construction. Walter Kyle oversaw the stonework on the building.

The heating and ventilating system in the building had never been used in Texas when it was installed in the building. Known as the Wheeler direct and indirect heating system, it was invented by the same man who also patented the Wheeler and Wilson sewing machines. It is a cooling system by which air is drawn out by a draft causing fresh air to come in the windows.

The two story building featured a complete basement, high ceilings, large windows and wide, twisting iron stairways. A belfry with a bell at the top of the stair signaled the end of each class. Large fans above each wooden doorway cooled the rooms.

The original wide concrete floors were later covered with tile. A small office is immediately inside the large double doors at the top of the concrete steps leading into the building.

The Early American style building was financed by the people of Crockett County who voted $85,000 worth of long term bonds (only $75,000 of these bonds were ever issued). The fireproof building has no open stairways.

The building, which has lasted for many generations, is surrounded by native pecan trees and grass.

The cornerstone of the building tells in part the persons involved in constructing the building: "Erected by the Property Tax Payers of School District No. 1; Laid by Ozona Lodge No. 747, S. E. Couch, DDGM

The Heritage Building, first used in 1912, evokes many memories for generations of educators, administrators and school children.

The building originally housed all 11 grades (the 12th grade was not added until later). Younger children were in the basement, while the older junior and high school age students used the

Lions host Owls Friday

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

"The weather was a tremendous factor in the Ozona Lions' 13-6 loss to the Eden Bulldogs Friday night," said Jim Green, head football coach.

The teams both were strong defensively, and played to a 0-0 tie at the end of the first half. "We made mistakes with the slippery ball. We could have broken the game wide open three or four times on a dry field."

The Lions scored first on a 63-yard run by Valdo Galindo, with 10:53 left in the third quarter. Following a missed PAT, Eden got the ball on the 50 yard line. Unable to move the ball, Ozona again received the ball on its own eight yard line. Eden intercepted and started a drive on the 20. The strong defense stopped the Bulldogs on the 12 yard line. The ball slipped through the Lion's fingers, and Eden recovered a fumble on the 14 yard line. With 3:55 remaining in the third quarter, the Bulldogs fumbled, and Ozona recovered the ball on the one yard line. Ozona attempted a quick kick, and the ball was fumbled and recovered by Eden in the end zone by Mike Ellis. Stacy Dillard's PAT put the bulldogs ahead by a score of 7-6 at the end of the third quarter.

The only drive of the night, a six play, 42 yard march by the Bulldogs, ended the scoring for the night. A 17 yard run by Bulldog Ray Torres led to the score by Jason Dillard. Dillard scored on a two yard run, with

Fields and Kirby report on indigent care

County tax rate drops a nickel

Judge A. O. Fields and Dick Kirby reported on last week's indigent care meeting in Austin at a September 13 session of Commissioners Court.

The program, which must be implemented state-wide September 1, 1986, will involve screening of applicants who must meet stringent guidelines, says Fields. Few persons in Crockett County are expected to qualify according to the judge. The program is designed to serve males 18-64 years of age and unpregnant females. State guidelines will be released in April of 1986.

Counties will have to contract with other medical facilities for services not available at the local level, and doctors will be paid by Medicare standards said Kirby. County obligation will be $30,000 per qualifying individual per year not to exceed ten percent of the county's budget. The state will pick up 80 percent of the amount above the ten percent of budget costs.

Hospital Administrator Don

Hopkins also attended the Austin meeting.

The Friday court meeting was a continuation of Monday's regular session. The meeting had been adjourned to allow the Crockett County School District opportunity to establish a tax rate Tuesday.

The school's tax rate of 73 cents per $100 valuation was accepted by commissioners on a motion by Jack Williams seconded by Byron Stuart.

Supt. Garland Davis was in attendance to answer any questions from the court.

Tax rate for the entire county is down five cents.

Paul Shacklette presented a plan for proposed cemetery expansion under consideration by the court.

Commissioners voted to allow supervised students to use designated baseball facilities for hitting golf balls. The golf program has too many students to be accommodated at one time at Ozona Country Club.

Commissioners will meet at 1:30 p.m. 1:30 Thursday to consider equipment purchases.

upper floors. When first used, going to school was a luxury for many of the students. "All students had daily chores and many had to work, some from the time they were seven years old," R. A. Harrell recalled. For this reason, many students did not attend school regularly. Many others had to drop out in order to work.

Many students would drop out of school before finishing. "When I wanted to drop out after completing the ninth grade, my father, Tom Gilbert, went to the office and was told that since I would not be attending college, I had enough schooling," Mrs. Ross said.

Among those who were in school when the building first opened were Lucy Mae Augustine, Homer Tippett Smith, Eddie Dixie Friend, Frank Burley Parker, Homer Adams, Edna Bennett, Richard Flowers, Jessie Lynn Cox, Alvin Harrell, Josephine Nolen, Albert Bailey, Edelle Cox, Allie Bosworth, Charlie Davidson, Helen Augustine, Harry Joslin, Rebekah Baggett, Herbert Mims, Mary Elizabeth Childress, Dixie Rebecca Davidson, Agnes Deland, Hillery M. Phillips, Leta Graham, Jessie Lou Kersey, Mina Aminda Montgomery, June Perner, Alice Louise West and Florence Wiley Smith.

More than one class was in each room. A large room was partitioned into the different grades. "It was hot or cold all the time," Mrs. June (Roy) Henderson said. Teachers controlled the classes with strict discipline. "We were afraid to even move," Harrell said of his third grade teacher.

"One teacher would make us hold a rock over our heads for punishment," Mrs. Henderson said. "If the rock was dropped, we would really be in trouble," Harrell said.

Football and basketball were the sports of the school. Tom Gilbert, Mrs. Alice Ross' father, served as janitor of the building.

"My father left before day-break each day to light the furnace in the basement boiler room of the building," Mrs. Ross said. "He first lit wood, and then later kept the furnace going with coal. We used a sweeping powder everyday to clean the floors. All the stairways had to be cleaned daily."

B. R. Grissom, the principal, would sing as he came up the iron stairs. The superintendent, J. B. Smith, provided strict discipline to those with errant behavior. The bell was rung to signal the beginning and end of recess as well as each class. "You could hear that bell all over the place," Mrs. Ross said.

Bloomers were the fashion of the day on the gravel basketball court. The tops of the uniforms had large Bertha collars.

Many of the girls wore their hair in plaits. The boys delighted in pulling the girls' hair or sticking their hair in the ink wells that were on each desk. "We got real quiet when J. B. Smith came clogging up the stairs," Harrell said.

The students would do pantomimes on the large auditorium stage. Mothers would make crepe paper costumes for the plays, Mrs. Vera Baker said. Mrs. Baker, Hollis Weaver and Albert Bailey shared a study hall under the watchful eye of a teacher named Miss Harris. "We were funsters. We would climb the windows. J. B. Smith would attempt to restore order in our study hall."

Roy Killingsworth, principal at the building for many years, starting in 1954, remembered one of the many pranks involving the belfry. One morning an outdoor toilet was found in the belfry. "We never knew where it came from, for no one claimed it." The outdoor toilet, many animals, including goats, cats and dogs, all ended up at the top of the stairs. "Kids would go up to the top of the belfry, and we would have to get them down," Killingsworth remembered. "I loved working there. I have many pleasant memories of the old historic building -- of the students, of the parents and of the teachers."

Ranch Day

Ranching as it was lived in the old days will come to life September 21 during annual Ranch Day activities at the Ranching Heritage Center of the Museum of Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

The theme of "A Family

Reunion" will tie together the day's events when descendants of several pioneer families represented through structures restored at the center gather with the public for special activities.

Ranch Day is sponsored by the Ranching Heritage Association in conjunction with the National Golden Spur Award to be presented September 20 to Marie Tyler of Mismarck, N.D. for a lifetime of achievement in the livestock industry.

The industry's colorful past is celebrated each year during Ranch Day when working cowboys, story tellers, crafts workers and volunteers re-live ranching for the public.

Activities will begin with a flag-raising ceremony at 8:30 a.m. The exhibit site will open at 10 a.m. with ranch demonstrations and musical programs scheduled until 4:30 p.m.

All events are free except for the barbecue luncheon which costs $6 for adults and $3 for children's or small portions.

Ranch Day is the concluding event of National Golden Spur Award weekend. The award is presented annually to an individual for outstanding support of the livestock industry. Sponsors are the American National Cow-Belles, American Quarter Horse, National Cattlemen's, National Wool Growers, Ranching Heritage, Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers and the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers associations.

FFA purchases lambs for feeding program

Members of the Ozona FFA purchased their lambs last week for the commercial feeding program. These lambs will be exhibited on December 7 at the Ozona FFA Project Show. Approximately 30 members will have projects competing at the local show.

The lambs were purchased primarily from Mike Womack and Fred Chandler. The chapter wishes to thank these men for their help and cooperation in getting this new program started.

The lambs will not be placed at the show, but instead will be quality graded as is done at the commercial level.

Students vaccinated, tagged and wormed their lambs last week as part of both classroom and after school assignments. The students will assist in shearing the lambs in mid-October to help in the animal's growth and pelt value for the December show.

Bishop greets parishioners

The soft strumming of guitars and voices raised in songs of praise greeted Bishop Michael D. Pfeifer, O.M.I., of San Angelo Sunday afternoon when Our Lady of Perpetual Help hosted a rite of Eucharistic Devotion and reception in his honor. Priests and parishioners from Sonora, San Angelo/Mertzon, Rowena, Rankin/Big Lake, Eldorado/Knickerbocker and Sheffield joined Rev. Richard Altenbaugh and the local congregation in making the new Fifth Bishop of the San Angelo Diocese welcome. More than 300 persons attended the reception.

In his remarks to the congregation, Bishop Pfeifer said "We're in the best business in the world as we go about building and spreading love." He urged his listeners to go about the work of building up the Christian community of love by being very sensitive to the needs of others.

Bishop Pfeifer spoke of his priorities and plans as a new Bishop. He stated that church leaders today are called to be shepherds and must know how to love the Lord and people of their flocks. Among his priorities is doing all he can to promote vocations for special service of ministries through helping young people to look at the call of the Lord.

An honor guard for the Bishop's procession in the sanctuary was formed by fifteen members of the knights of Columbus Fourth Degree from San Angelo and Ozona.

Following the meeting in the sanctuary, a reception was held in the colorfully decorated Parish Hall. Banners depicting the Bishop's coat of arms and the Diocese coat of arms were placed behind the speaker's area.

Dean of the San Angelo Deanery, Rev. Benedict Zientek of St. Joseph's Church in Rowena extended greeting to the Bishop from the clergy, and Robert Flores, Parish Council president of the Ozona Church, welcomed the Bishop on behalf of the laity.

A certificate making Bishop Pfeifer an honorary citizen of

Arledge - Higgins wedding

Leanne Arledge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Arledge of Pandale and Ozona, became the bride of William H. Higgins Jr., son of W. H. Higgins Sr. and the late Anna Talley Higgins of Coahoma, on Saturday, August 31, at Camp Whispering Oaks in Buffalo Gap. Hollis Talley, minister of Palm Street Church of Christ in Abilene, and uncle of the bridegroom, performed the late evening, double-ring ceremony in a clearing beneath an old pecan tree.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride carried a bouquet of silk flowers containing pink and white roses, carnations, gladiolas and baby's breath on Victorian lace with satin streamers. She wore a dress of white embroidered English lace. The gown had a fitted bodice, sheer yoke with high lace collar, and large, puffed short sleeves. The tea length skirt was of the lace in two deep tiers. The bride's hat of matching lace and bow of illusion was secured with a family heirloom hatpin which was the "something borrowed" from Madye Jo Humphreys of Ozona. "Something blue" was a garter, "something new" was a gold chair, gift of the bridegroom, and "something old" was French cameo which belonged to the bride's great-grandmother.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Joe L. Brown of Pumpville and her daughter Jodye. Mrs. Penn Baggett, sister of the bride of Ozona, and her daughters, Leana Sue and Whitney, and Mrs. Rick Vannoy of Midland were the other bridal attendants. Wearing lace-bordered, tea length dresses of shadow striped tulle over pale pink tissue taffeta, with fitted bodices and large, lace-cuffed, puffed sleeves, the attendants carried long-stemmed pink silk roses with baby's breath and pink satin bows and streamers.

Jimmy Campbell of Big Spring was best man, and David Higgins of Big Spring and Tim Higgins of Midland served their brother as groomsmen. The bridegroom was wearing a white tuxedo with tails and a pink silk double rosebud boutonniere. The groomsmen wore dove grey tuxedos with pink and white striped tucked-front shirts and pink silk rosebud boutonnieres.

Wedding music was provided by relatives of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Talley of Amarillo, uncle and aunt, and Mr. and Mrs. Randy Talley of Odessa, cousins.

At the reception following the wedding, which was hosted by the bride's parents and catered by Glenda Hilliard and Carlyn Smith of Abilene, the bride's table was centered against a backdrop of white imported screens decorated with grape ivy and pink and white flowers. Brass and crystal appointments were used on the table which was covered in white sheer with pink flowers and satin bow tie-ups. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with pink and white roses, carnations and gladiolas in a brass epergne. Mock champagne punch was served from a crystal punch bowl. Serving and the reception were aunts and cousins of the bridegroom. At the bride's table were Mrs. Hollis Talley and Holly, and Holly, and Mrs. Danny Leach.

The bridegroom's table, with brass and crystal appointments, was centered against a backdrop of Spanish wood screens and was covered with a burgundy floor-length cloth with white drape tied with a burgundy bow. The centerpiece was a contemporary arrangement of burgundy and pink silk lilies in a wicker basket. The German chocolate cake was topped with clusters of chocolate grapes. Coffee was served from a brass samovar. At this table were Mrs. Don Evans and Missy, and Michelle Leach.

Mary Ana Talley was at the bride's book to register guests.

The bride attended Ozona Public Schools, Abilene Christian

High School and Abilene Christian University and was recently employed by Short and Company, CPA, of Midland. The bridegroom attended Coahoma Public Schools and Howard County Junior College and has been employed with Coffman Roofing of Big Spring. The couple is now attending Texas Tech University in Lubbock where they are at home at 701 N. Indiana.

The wedding was held during the annual reunion of the W. C. and Mattie Talley family and was a first for that occasion as well as the first wedding to be held at Camp Whispering Oaks.

Henderson-Howell exchange vows

The garden at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bailey was the setting for the August 31 wedding of Virginia Leigh Henderson and John Howell, both of San Antonio. Officiating was Rev. Ron Sutto of the First Presbyterian Church in Eldorado.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Martha B. Henderson of San Antonio and John Lee Henderson of Ozona. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. George Howell of Tucson, AZ. and the late George Howell.

Attending the couple were Mrs. John L. Henderson of Ozona as matron of honor and George Howell, brother of the bridegroom, of Arlington as best man.

Mrs. Howell was graduated from Ozona High School and Southwestern University in Georgetown. She is employed in public relations with Cox and Smith Law Firm in San Antonio.

Ozona was presented by County Judge A. O. Fields.

Bishop Pfeifer was given a plaque by Elliott Barrera who represented the Knights of Columbus Council 8502.

The Catholic Diocese of San Angelo is composed of 29 counties of Southwest Texas and extends from Brady and Brownwood to Odessa, and Fort Stockton to Junction. The Bishop is the chief spiritual shepherd of this ecclesial area. It includes 48 parishes, each with a resident priest, and 25 missions which are smaller church groups attached to the various parishes.

Bishop Pfeifer will be back in Ozona for other visits, especially in conferring the Sacrament of Confirmation as well as blessing the new classrooms soon to be constructed.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Tucson High School, University of Arizona and St. Mary's University Law School. He is an attorney in San Antonio.

Following a wedding trip to the northwestern states, the couple will reside in San Antonio.

Baptists approve construction plans

Members of First Baptist Church approved an expansion plan Sunday which will include a combination fellowship hall and activities center on the lot east of the parsonage. The building will accommodate 300 people and will include a basketball court, volleyball court, shuffleboard and a place for meals. Also approved was the remodeling of the present fellowship hall into a parlor with a fireplace and small kitchen.

There are many special events planned at First Baptist for "Super September" announces Ted Turnley, youth director at the church.

"We have just completed a week of cottage prayer meetings at different members' houses for the purpose of praying for the Mary Hill Davis offering, a State Mission offering." The offering is being taken this month at all Southern Baptist Churches in Texas with a goal of starting two thousand churches in the next fifteen years. The local church goal is to double the giving from last year's total.

The Sunday School is gearing up for Celebration Sunday on September 29, a high attendance day in the local Sunday School and throughout the Southern Baptist Convention. The goal set for the Ozona church is 250. "We also are hoping to be able to enroll another 50 new members on that day," says Turnley. In Texas, the goal is 748,585 in Sunday School on that day. In preparation for that day, "we have started signing up people who are going to try to join us on that day. All out contacts and visits are in progress now," says Turnley.

October 1 begins a new year at First Baptist, and in preparation, all teachers are being urged to attend the Sunday School Convention at First Baptist Church in McCamey on the evening of September 17. There will be a State Sunday School Convention on Tuesday, September 24, at San Angelo First Baptist Church.

Members of the Golden Door-knob Club will be recognized during morning worship on September 29. To become a member of the elite club, the following requirements must be met: 20 personal visits, 20 cards or letters, 20 phone calls and 20 wayside visits.

Riders on the church bus will also receive a special surprise on the 29th.

Other church related activities include a trip by R.A. chapters first through twelfth grades to Fredericksburg to explore the caves there. The group will leave the church at 8 a.m. Saturday morning.

October 6 is homecoming at First Baptist. "We will be having a dinner on the grounds at the square across from the church after morning worship service," says Turnley. "There will be a two hour old time song fest, and the evening service will begin at five on that day. We will also be observing two ordinances on that day, the Lord's Supper and Baptism. All people are encouraged to bring any old pictures or clippings they have about the church to put on display for this day."

Little things

By Rev. Ken Harrison United Methodist Church

I picked up a book the other day entitled The 100: A Ranking of the Most Influential Persons in History, written by Michael H. Hart. I was excited as I leafed hurriedly through the pages searching for that name most familiar to me. My excitement waned as I looked and learned that the name for which I searched was nowhere to be found. Not only was my own name not listed, but there was not a single reference to anyone in Ozona, or even in the whole of Crockett County. It may be that some few of our citizens have risen to some of the lower echelons of greatness, but, evidently, none has made it into the top 100.

Today, in the mail, came an advertisement for a film which was, in 1981, awarded the title Best Film of the Year by the Academy of Christian Cinematographic Arts. Read what the ad has to say. "You've seen films that show how the Lord has used the famous athlete, famous musician, famous politician. Now see a film that shows how the Lord can use the ORDINARY GUY. He can't make the pros. He can't sing. He can't preach. Why did God put the ordinary Christian on Planet Earth?"

Not having seen the film makes it possible only to speculate on the contents thereof, but an educated guess might bring us to the conclusion that this highly touted film may contain graphic scenes of love, mercy and forgiveness perpetrated by persons of ordinary capabilities and little renown. The point being, of course, that greatness in the eyes of God may be something entirely different from greatness as envisioned by much of the rest of creation.

Perhaps you have had the privilege of viewing the Academy Award winning film Chariots of Fire. If you missed it, you must see it when you have opportunity. The film presents a true-to-life account of part of the athletic career of Eric Liddell, one of the athletes involved in the 1924 Olympic Games. Liddell is a dedicated Christian, who, even in the face of not being able to participate in the Olympics, refuses to run on Sunday. He considers the Sunday events to be an invitation to break the Sabbath. The film shows us a man who is made great, not by his athletic prowess, but, by his faith and by the maintenance of his convictions. It is a case of faithfulness pointing to the athlete and not of the athlete pointing to faithfulness.

In the book The Flying Scotsman, Liddell's biography, the author, Sally Magnusson, tells of discovering a man as good as everyone said he was. She writes of him, "Eric Liddell leaves you wondering whether perhaps he had his finger on a stronger pulse than have all the intellectuals, empiricists, and trendy theologians together."

On the day he died of a brain tumor at the age of 43, an eloquent commentary on his life was provided in the private journal of one of Liddell's companions who wrote, "He wasn't a great leader, or an inspired thinker, but he knew what he ought to do, and he did it."

We may never have our lives chronicled by some biographer in a book of the most influential people in history, but we can attain the kind of greatness to which the life of Eric Liddell points. We can know what we ought to do, and do it. We will touch the pulse of greatness every time we refuse to bow to anything beneath ourselves.

Church of Christ to host Seminar

The Ozona Church of Christ will host a personal development seminar "Learning to Love" August 21 and 22.

Guest speaker Willard Tate believes success and happiness are virtually the same. Both stem from feeling good about yourself. If you feel good about yourself, you must love yourself and people around you. People who let love motivate everything they do possess the key to successful living.

Tate teaches at Abilene Christian University and preaches for the Hamby Church of Christ near Abilene. A native of Alabama, he is a graduate of Alabama Christian College, Auburn University and Troy State University. He was a minister and elder in Alabama before moving to Abilene in 1973. He is married, and he and his wife Bobbie have a son and daughter.

Saturday's topics include: Relationships, 10:00 - 12:00; What it Takes to be Somebody, 2:00-3:15; How to Help Others Feel Loved, 7:00-9:00.

Lunch and supper at the church, an afternoon break of 30 minutes and a 30 minute singing session complete the Saturday activities.

On Sunday, Tate will speak on Putting it all Together from 9:45 to 10:30 a.m. and conclude with Making it Work from 10:45 - 11:45 a.m.

Introducing The Ozona Lions

ROGER FLORES

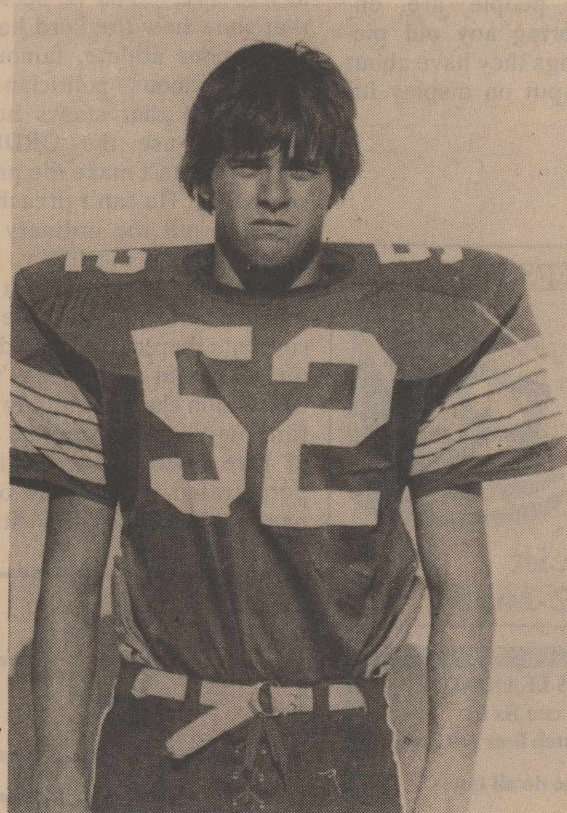

Junior Roger Flores plays football because he enjoys it. "I can improve myself physically and mentally."

The National Honor Society member also has high goals for himself academically. "I want to remain on the National Honor Society and graduate with a relatively high average."

Flores, who is starting his fifth year playing football, would like for the Lions to reach the playoffs.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flores has enjoyed his junior year "because it has been interesting and has proven to be challenging already."

His other interests include computer science, typing, listening to music and reading.

PETER SHACKLETTE

Becoming a meteorologist and joining the United States Air Force are long range career goals for Peter Shacklette, son of Paul and Jackiline Shacklette.

The two year veteran of the football program wants to become a first string center. He participates in sports to "get in great shape and sharpen my skills in self achievement and discipline."

Shacklette, who wants to get an advanced high school diploma, works on his jeep and enjoys restoring old cars. He also enjoys listening to heavy metal music.

BUTCH GONZALES

Butch Gonzales, son of Mari and Bobby Vargas, simply "enjoys life."

Gonzales would like to have a career in football, and plans to stay in the best physical condition. I like sports because I enjoy it . . . I enjoy competing with Gonzales has high goals athletically: to perform to the best of my ability achieving district honors or higher . . . to take my team to the playoffs."

Passing and doing his best academically are important to Gonzales. He enjoys hunting, fishing, playing baseball, lifting weights, riding around and listening to music.

Should a career in football prove impossible, Gonzales plans to follow in his father's footsteps and become a painter.

Cubs skunk Rangers

By T. C. Tucker and Copie Davis

Junior High head coach Don Payne had a few pre-game doubts last Thursday before the opening game of the 1985 Cubs football season. After three quarters of play, those doubts were replaced with almost 300 yards total offense, 39 points, and a defense that allowed only 21 yards total offense and zero points for the Greenwood Rangers.

"The entire tempo of the game was set on the opening kick-off when Lalo Rodriguez made a stunning tackle that put Greenwood's running back out of the game," said Payne. "With only six workouts under our belt, I believe we played pretty well."

The Cubs stifled their opponent on the Rangers' very first possession, forcing them to punt. After the Cubs took control of the ball, George Ybarra rambled 48 yards for a touchdown. The extra point attempt failed, but the Cubs held a 6-0 lead. The Cubs soon scored again. Chris Denman, who finished the night with five completions in seven attempts and 81 yards passing, hit Ybarra for the extra two points, and the Cubs found themselves with a 14 point lead. After the Cubs recovered a fumble early in the second quarter, Ybarra caught a pass and darted into the end zone for an eleven yard T.D. Minutes later, Ybarra scored again with a seven yard pass to make the score 27-0 at the half.

Lightning from a passing storm seemed to heat up the Cubs even more as they rolled up twelve more points in the third quarter. Rodriguez scored both times in the third quarter with runs of two and 34 yards. The game was called at the end of the third quarter due to lightning, making the final score 39-0 in favor of the Cubs.

27 left in the fourth quarter. The PAT was not good. Torres finished the night with 10 rushes for 51 yards.

Both teams had chances to score before time ran out, but fumbles killed the drives. Neither team completed a pass during the game.

Hit man Bret Thompson led the Lion defense with 12 tackles and four assists. Abel Lara, a linebacker, had four tackles and four assists, and linebacker Art Gonzales had four tackles and six assists. Defensive guard Blas Vargas had a strong game.

Harvey Fierro had two punts for an average of 30 yards and one interception. Sam Hightower had two punts for a 30 yard average. Blas Vargas, Brian Norrow and Valdo Galindo recovered fumbles for the Lions.

The Reagan County Owls of Big Lake, the Lions' next opponent, has a strong team. The Owls have a strong senior quarterback and a large defensive and offensive line Coach Green said. Big Lake defeated Robert Lee 59-7 the first week of the season, but lost Friday 14-12 to Crane.

The Ozona Junior Varsity and seventh and eighth grade games were cancelled because of rain Saturday. "We were very disappointed to call the games off, but we felt we had much more to lose if we played. On a wet field, there is an increased chance of injury and sickness, which we wanted to avoid." The junior varsity missed games with Sterling City and Eden, and the seventh and eighth graders were to play Eden.

Mark Fierro with six tackles, followed by Roger Martinez, Issac Leal and Ybarra each with five tackles. Offensive rushing leader, Rodriguez had a free for all night against the Rangers, finishing with 131 yards and three touchdowns. Ybarra had fifty yards rushing on two carries, fifty-two yards receiving, and three touchdowns. The offensive line, led by Mark Fierro, opened up gaping holes for the Cubs' backfield and 290 total yards offense.

When asked about what he thought of the Cubs' performance, Coach Curry responded, "I think we played well from top to bottom."

Coach Glenn Graham had these comments. "The Cubs are pretty sore from the game, but practice should work most of that out. Timing and specialties are a problem right now, but we are looking for good things to happen in the future."

Coach Payne reviewed the film Friday and stated that there were a few weaknesses and that there was room for improvement.

The Cubs' next game will be against Big Lake. Payne says, "We'll be running against ourselves both defensively and offensively. They will be a little tougher this year, but if we play well we should be able to handle them."

Due to the excessive rain last Saturday, the seventh grade and J.V. games were called off.

LEARNING TO RECOGNIZE CHILDREN'S FEELINGS

By William L. Hogan

Parents who learn to recognize and interpret their children's feelings possess a powerful skill that will help prevent many problems in the future. This understanding is the cement that bonds families together, promoting strong relationships. However, parents must invest time in developing the ability to recognize different emotions.

Understanding the basic process of communication is a vital part of learning to recognize feelings and how they affect behavior. When people talk to each other, their words are filled with facts as well as feelings. Generally, we pay more attention to the facts than the feelings. With children, the opposite should be true. Pay attention to the feelings first. Feelings determine whether or not a child can respond to the facts.

If your daughter says, "Nobody likes me at school," be careful. The parent who responds to the facts may begin to discuss the other kids at school or ask why she thinks nobody likes her. The parent may even disregard the whole message by saying things like, "Don't be silly, you'll feel better tomorrow." These responses deny the girl's feelings.

The parent who responds to feelings will recognize right away that the child may be feeling lonely or left out. It is the "feelings" part of the message that is clearly more important. Parents should deal with the feelings before trying to help the child learn about friendship. When a child feels that the parent hears his feelings, he feels "understood". Feeling under-

Two appointed to Library Board

By Louise Ledoux, Librarian

The Crockett County Public Library Board met in regular monthly session on Monday, September 9, in the Ozona High School Library. The board welcomes two new members, Mrs. Mary K. Skains and Mr. Elliott Barrera. They will each serve three year terms. Mrs. Skains and Mr. Barrera were formally approved by the Commissioners Court in their regular monthly meeting.

Reports on progress of the new library were presented. It was reported that all is in readiness except the book shelves. They are scheduled to be delivered in the next few weeks. After they are assembled, the books can be moved from the Adult Room at the high school to the new building, and the library will be open for business. Mrs. Sherry Scott and Mrs. Louise Ledoux were to formulate a "Master Moving Plan" to make the move easier and smoother. Tentative plans were also discussed for a grand opening celebration to be held after the library is opened in October.

Mrs. Lou Deaton and Mrs. Ledoux gave the board a report on their trip to Abilene to attend the annual meeting of the Big Country Library System. Our library is now a full-fledged member of the system. Programs and policies of the BCLS were discussed, and Mrs. Deaton detailed how they will effect our library.

In other business, the board heard a progress report on the memorial plaques being made for each of the donated rooms in the library. It was reported that the portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Perner and the dedication plaque for the house to the library were ready and were very lovely. The bookshelves and display for the Wahl Memorial are almost ready to be installed in the library, also. Mrs. Ledoux reported that circulation of books during the summer months was greatly increased over past records. Longer regular hours and increased publicity were cited as contributing factors.

The board adjourned after resolving to meet next month in the new library building.

stood brings children closer to their parents, building a strong bond between them.

One of the first steps in learning to recognize feelings is to learn to categorize feelings into four major "feelings groups": angry, sad, afraid and joyous. Or mad, sad, glad and scared. As kids get older, they learn a wider variety of words to describe feelings and their intensity. However, families learning to categorize feelings into these four areas have an advantage in the identification of feelings because they have a common vocabulary.

The communication process continues when the parents tell their children what feelings they see or hear in the conversation. This tells the child that the parent is paying attention to his perception. This also enables the child to learn to cope with his emotions. This helping relationship is reassuring to both parent and child - having feelings becomes a normal part of life.

When children start coping with their feelings, they often feel more in control of their lives. This understanding also leads to more productive "problem solving" behavior in children.

Myrtle Post Garden Club

Monday night, September 16, the Myrtle Post Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Jim Dudley, Vice-president of the organization, Mrs. Scottie Houston, presided. Special reports were received regarding the upkeep of the yard at the Emerald House, Sesquicentennial bumper sticker distribution, the responsibilities of the benevolent committee and plans for a mini flower show.

Mrs. Hector Gutierrez delivered the program on "The Use of Herbs in Medicine". Mrs. Gutierrez drew on her personal experiences in using local herbs as well as those she remembered her grandmother using. The majority of herbs she described were local plants such as horehound, cedar and cactus. The cures were for everything from baby colic, insomnia to fleas in the yard.

Members present were Mrs. Jack Brewer, Mrs. R. W. Bullard, Mrs. Steve Cannon, Mrs. R. W. Clinton, Mrs. Jim Dudley, Mrs. Lee Graves, Ms. Becky Herring, Mrs. Scottie Houston, Mrs. Hudson Mayes, Mrs. Richard Mayfield, Mrs. Eddie Moore, Ms. Leta Powell and Mrs. Bobby Davee.

Slob hunter beware

By Rod Chalmers,
Game Warden

Now for some of the more common violations that crop up in the migratory bird hunting field. Hunting migratory birds that are being lured to feed is a violation. This does not apply to birds coming in to a maize field or a bunch of sunflowers, or any other bona-fide agricultural operation. However, doves coming in to a deer/turkey feeder cannot be shot (at). In the same light, if you're pouring out grain in the road or trough to fatten lambs, there'd best be some lambs around if you're going to hull doves in the area. It is also a violation of state and federal law to hunt migratory birds with the aid of a motor vehicle. This applies to both public and private property. Remember to be sure your scattergun is plugged to a maximum three shell capacity, including the one in the chamber. Another problem we often run into is the daily limit in the field. Understand that this is the maximum number that a person may kill per day, not the number the whole group can have. By law, Dad cannot kill his limit of 12, plus enough to make limits for the wife and kids. Also avoid getting checked with your limit in the bag, plus a few "I picked up for the wife". She'd better pick up her own birds when Dad approaches his limit. Wardens aren't instructed to believe everything they're told by hunters; instead, we're supposed to take things at face value and write the violations as we find 'em. Help us out with this one by possessing only your birds. The last type of violation shouldn't need mentioning, but we occasionally find it, so we'll talk about it. THE SLOB HUNTER, alias THRILL KILLER. Maybe he's already got his limit, or maybe he just doesn't like to eat doves. Regardless, he's powdering 'em as fast as they come flying in and not picking up any. If this is sport, we hunters are in trouble! Anyway, MR. SLOB HUNTER is in big trouble - from $25 to $200.00 per bird he killed and failed to retrieve.

So much for what you can't do. I wish I could now tell you where and when to go get a limit, but the birds are really scattered this year. Comments from hunters indicate late afternoons around waterholes are best and that could be anywhere in the county.

Comings and Goings

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

Mr. and Mrs. John Hignight and children, Amanda and Jason, have returned from a weekend visit to see her sister and family, the Owen Wagners of Odessa.

Luis Moreno enjoyed a weekend visit with his mother, Mrs. Susie Moreno, his sisters, Tonie Moreno and Mrs. Maria Moreno Navarette and friends.

Charles and Lola Brown have returned from a two week vacation in the Western states.

C. H. (Doc) Baccus of Kerrville was in Ozona recently to see relatives, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Harrell. He reported all was well with his wife, Mrs. Jessie Conklin Baccus, a former resident of Ozona.

Bud and Marilyn Cox participated in a golf tournament in Sonora last weekend.

Linda Sherek, manager of Thornton's Supermarket, has returned from an eight-day trip to Spain. She toured many different cities in Spain.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hyde recently visited in Amarillo for several days with a good friend of many years, Jim Jenkins.

Rebecca Johnson and son, Seth, were here last weekend from San Angelo to visit her mother, Mrs. Ruth Seahorn, her aunt, Mrs. Margaret Miller, and her brother and his family, the Pon Seahorns.

Mrs. Judy Sims journeyed to Cleburne last weekend where she visited her mother, Mrs. A. L. Hasty, her two grown sons and her grandchild.

Oscar DeLaRosa of Muzkuiz, Coah., Mexico arrived Sunday for a two week visit with his brother and family, the Raul DeLa Rosas.

Joe and Jeannie Williams, former Ozona residents, were here last weekend. They live on a ranch near Brownwood.

Mrs. Bailey Post has returned home following a three-week recuperation period in Houston with her daughter.

Rev. and Mrs. Ken Harrison and children, Zach, Sarah and Becky, have returned from a weekend camping trip to beautiful Lake Oasis.

Glenda Masters of Port Willunga, Australia, an exchange student making her home with the Mark White family, was a guest in Ozona last weekend. She said she had heard about West Texas hospitality and it's true. The Ozona area is very much like the country near her home.

Davis attends TACS meeting

Supt. Garland Davis was in Austin last week for a meeting of the Texas Association of Community Schools. Davis serves on a building committee for the organization's state headquarters association building.

The association of smaller school districts represents 803 schools in the state. Membership is open to districts with no more than one high school.

TACS is responsible for looking at legislation regarding schools, promoting positive legislation and working against legislation harmful to schools.

The organization also sponsors workshop activities which enable teachers to earn in-service and advanced academic credit. This program is co-sponsored by The University of Texas and The Texas Education Association. An advisory council of TACS works with the leadership in TEA and has a liaison person employed at the agency with direct contact with the Commissioner of Education.

The Texas Association of Community Schools was in great part responsible for passage of a retired employee insurance program with co-funding by the state. The program becomes effective September 1, 1986 and will be available to all retired teachers at the initial sign-up. This program will take a financial burden off the school districts of Texas says Davis.

Birthday party honors Hodges children

Christine and Harrell Hodges celebrated their birthdays with friends at a party at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Harrell, Thursday.

Chocolate cake, orange punch, caramel corn and raisins were served on the balloon decorated front lawn.

Attending the party were Jennifer and Travis Davidson, Jason and Manda Hignight, Zach, Becky and Sarah Harrison.

Christine celebrated her eighth birthday, while Harrell celebrated his fifth birthday. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hodges.

Wilma Carson a woman of many talents

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

An accomplished artist, wild flower expert, photographer, Crockett County historian, author and world traveler are just some of the words used to describe Wilma (Mrs. Ira) West Carson.

Mrs. Carson was born here on January 29, 1901, one of four children of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. West (the others were Wayne, Massie and Alice). The family moved to Juno from 1905-08, but returned to Ozona in 1908. Mrs. Carson started school here as an adventurous first grader.

Mrs. Carson attended school in the old junior high (Heritage Building) and graduated as valedictorian of her 1918 class. "There were four girls in my class, and I spoke on 'Woman's Work in the War,'" she recalls. She briefly attended Baylor University, but returned home because she was very homesick. On December 29, 1920, Wilma West and Ira Carson were married in her parents' home.

The couple moved to the ranch 15 miles north of Ozona and started raising sheep. The first year was a bad one -- punctuated by dry weather, high feed costs and a 20 percent lamb crop. The second year offered some improvement, and the newlyweds purchased a Model T.

Her father, W. E. West, was of the old school of ranching. "He never owned a sheep or goat." He was a cattleman who fought the developing trend of having cattle, sheep and goats on one ranch. West remained a cattleman until his retirement from ranching. He was willing to help his daughter and son-in-law get started raising sheep, however.

"Fences then were not sheep proof -- coyotes were thick, so the sheep were kept under herd. Ira ran hound dogs to find and kill the coyotes, and we employed a trapper. I baked many ponies of cornbread for those dogs," Mrs. Carson said.

"The Carsons had three children: Crystelle Carson Childress (Mrs. James), Eloise Carson Clegg (Mrs. Bill), and Bill Carson.

The growing family moved to town in 1919, and in 1930, the Great Depression hit. Cattle were shot; there was no rain, and there was no feed. "Lambs were finally sent to Kansas, where they were sold for $2.50 per head." The total year's profit for 1930 was 50 cents.

During the years her children were growing up, Mrs. Carson was developing interests in the wild flowers which grew at the ranch and along the road sides. "I love West Texas...I love the flowers that grow here," she said.

Mrs. Carson has many books on the wild flowers and has researched information about the different varieties. Blue bonnets, for example, must have plenty of moisture in the fall, or there will be few flowers along the road sides during the spring. Blue bonnets can be grown in flower beds, but many people overwater them, she explained. Also, the seeds need to be soaked for one week before they are planted.

During one of her many trips, Mrs. Carson discovered that white lupines (blue bonnets are lupines), grow in Alsaska. "Some of the lupines there are three feet tall."

Her expertise on the wild flowers of Texas caused Mrs. Carson to put together a slide show illustrating the different varieties found in this area. She presented many programs to school children, PTA groups and women's groups. "I spoke to groups in Midland, Junction, Fort Stockton, Eldorado, Lampasas and Del Rio."

"My mother loved wild flowers, and she instilled a love of those flowers in me," Mrs. Carson said. Mother West cultivated wild hollyhocks.

Her parents moved here from Junction. Her father came to Ozona where he was 16 with Roy Henderson. He came with a herd of cattle. "The county had not even been organized" These early historical ties to Crockett County caused Mrs. Carson to have a great interest in the history of the area. Her mother was active in the church and taught a Sunday School class both at the ranch and at the church.

During the Diamond Jubilee, Mrs. Carson helped edit a book about Ozona. Profits from the sale of the book, Ozona, went to the Crockett County Museum and also to Fort Lancaster.

The late Mildred North helped nurture an interest in photography. "When Carmen was 10-years-old (Carmen Childress Sutton), she would hold the wild flowers against poster board, and I would take pictures of them." Miss North was generous with her knowledge of photography, and she taught Mrs. Carson how to take and develop her own pictures. Her grandchildren were her primary subjects. One of her pictures of Carmen won an award. "The work was fascinating. I could do whatever I wanted," she said.

Another of her talents centers around her oil paintings. "My first paintings were of flowers. A man came from San Angelo and helped us learn to paint arrangements of flowers," she said. Mrs. Carson was an active member of the art club here for many years.

Clubs afford women a different outlook. Many of the clubs to which Mrs. Carson was a member have since disbanded. "Women need to grow a little," she said. "There is more to life than children, cleaning and cooking." Mrs. Carson was a charter member of the Ozona Garden Club and the Ozona Music Club where "we sang duets and quartets".

Church was important to the entire Carson family. The late Ira Carson was a deacon in First Baptist Church for more than 55 years. Mrs. Carson is still an active member of the church.

The Carsons enjoyed traveling all over the world. One year, they drove to Alaska. "Alaska used to be pioneering, but now it is getting to be more and more like the rest of the United States, since they have learned to take care of the cold. We went in a new station wagon, one year after the Alcan highway was finished. We were advised to take plenty of gasoline (cans were placed in the car). Very few miles of roads were paved in Alaska."

In Alaska, the Carsons flew in a plane over the Arctic Circle. They also rode in a sled pulled by dogs and went down the river in a kayak.

Mrs. Carson took her trusty camera to the top of a building to get a picture of the sunset at midnight, but clouds obscured her view.

Italy was one of the most enjoyable areas visited by the Carsons. India proved a puzzle. Also visited were the Greek Isles and Egypt and various parts of Europe. One area that has escaped Mrs. Carson was a visit to the Holy Land. "I became ill on a trip to Egypt and had to return home before that part of the trip.

"Life changes whether you want it to or not," Mrs. Carson said. Ranching has not changed a lot, but the way ranching is done has changed greatly. "We used to live on a ranch, but no one moves to a ranch. Ranchers use pickups and airplanes instead of horses and dogs."

Children, too, have changed. "Those in school now have the privilege of learning so much faster. There are so many other subjects. They get to travel and develop so much faster."

Though Mrs. Carson does not travel as much as she once did, she still plots the route that will be taken by any member of her family on a trip. "When Ira went to college in New Mexico this year," Mrs. James Childress said, "Mother drew the entire route on a map."

Mrs. Carson is still active in the community and in her family. "I enjoy watching my grandchildren grow up and develop into good citizens. I also like to see the community grow and develop. Ozona needs to grow, otherwise it will dry up."

With all her interests, Mrs. Carson, too, will never stop growing as a stimulating, vital person.

Margaret Jones and her jumper, Abbey Road were awarded reserve champion, Limit Division, and first place in the large pony Equation Class in San Antonio last weekend.

Jones wins top ribbons

Margaret Jones jumped her way into top ribbons at the fall Bear Creek Hunter/Jumper Show in San Antonio last weekend. Margaret and her large pony, Abbey Road, were awarded reserve champion, Limit Division, and first place in the large pony Equation Class.

Earlier in the summer, Margaret was again reserve limit champion and a top prize winner in the Children's Division at the Gillespie County Hunter/Jumper Show.

Both of these shows are American Horse Show Association and Texas Hunter/Jumper Association accredited and had over three hundred entries.

These awards represent years of dedicated work on Margaret's part. She began formal lessons when she was five years old and has continued non-stop since then with daily riding and consistent showing.

She is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Brock Jones.

This was birthday party week, and residents Maggie Crawford, Pearl Morris and Bertha Miller, our September birthday people, were honored with their party on Monday afternoon. Hostesses for the occasion were Jo Davidson, Earline Jones, Vivian Hughes, Doris Karr and Clara Byrd. Clara played the piano, Polly Mayes donated the cake, and Maxine's Flowers donated corsages.

On Tuesday afternoon, Lisa Wagoner and Nelda Wagoner gave our residents a demonstration on flower arranging. Then they donated some of the arrangements. Now, wasn't that great!

Ceramic class on Wednesday was led by volunteers Janet Wilson, Doris Karr and Marie Pierson. Residents Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramoz, Morima Perez, Hilda Dysart, Ola Mills and Pauline Clinton all enjoyed this activity.

Thursday morning's beauty shop volunteers included Vivian Hughes, Clara Byrd and Alena Faye Hokit.

Bible study was conducted on Thursday by Charles Huffman and three fellow members of the Faith Lutheran Church. Phyllis Harms sent homemade cookies for all to enjoy following the services.

Spanish Hour of Praise was brought by Maria Vitela, Paulita Leal, Carmen Vargas, Isabel Molina and Porfiria Borrego.

Tuesday and Friday bingo winners included Tomasa Ramoz, winner of El Chato's dinner for two on Tuesday and overall winner for the week of the gift certificate from The Teacher Store. Second place winner was Minnie Karr. Volunteers included Susie Leal, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Martinez, Teresa Sanchez, Sophia Tijerina, Anna Bell Patrick, Gwen Nelson, Mattie Cooper, Elvira Martinez and Virginia Bishop, who was Friday's caller.

Friday afternoon a large group of residents and sitters sat out on the front porch and enjoyed "Arm Chair Travels". On this day we "traveled" around looking at the pretty fall leaves. The "Ideals" magazine, donated by Helen Owensby, helped us remember how pretty the leaves are this time of the year.

Sunday afternoon church services were conducted by Jim Gray and Terry Racher. Terry brought his guitar, and the two sang a duet which was enjoyed by all.

We would love to have some programs on the vacation travels of some of you. How about it, friends?

Cosmetology students Juanita Limon, Darlene Barrel, Olga DeHoyos and Raedene Flores practice shampooing and being shampooed.

Cosmetology teaches responsibility

Junior and senior students learn job responsibility in the new two year vocational cosmetology course, Judy Sims, cosmetology instructor, said.

Students will be able to obtain their license at the end of the two-year period of time, and will have amassed 1,000 hours of theory and practical knowledge. Cosmetology includes facials, manicures, pedicures, haircuts and styles, and chemical treatments such as permanents, colors and hair relaxing.

The students will open the cosmetology department to the general public starting January 15. The fees and hours for the various services will be determined at a later time.

Students enjoy this field of study, because it can be practiced in any state and any size area. "Also, this field of study can be completed while they are in high school," Mrs. Sims said. "Though there are no boys in the course this year, we hope to encourage them into this area."

"Students achieve their own self-satisfaction. They feel good about themselves and strive to do the job well."

This is a people oriented profession. "The students must learn to get along with everyone. With this job, they can have independence, as the demand is always constant for good cosmetologists. The course, unlike others in the curriculum, includes one hour of theory and two hours of practical knowledge each day. Time clocks, as required by state law, are punched daily.

"Hair styles are constantly changing, but the hair styling techniques are not. It is challenging to learn to keep up with the changing styles," Mrs. Sims said. The students are presently struggling to learn how to roll up hair -- this is an age of electric rollers and blow dryers.

"Persons must enjoy their work and be dedicated to it, in order to succeed," Mrs. Sims said. The former Cleburne native

Woman's League has salad supper

The Ozona Woman's League met Tuesday night, September 10, for their first meeting of the new year. Mrs. Duane Childress and Mrs. Dub Slaughter were hostesses of a salad supper in Mrs. Childress' home. The first half of the membership list provided the excellent food.

Rev. Ken Harrison, pastor of the United Methodist Church, gave a very inspiring talk on "Commitment to Club Work". His talk will help the Ozona Woman's League start the new year with a better image of what each member has to offer and hopes to receive.

Each member brought a "previously loved" toy or book which will be donated to the Ozona Community Center and the Ozona Day Care Center. This is one of the club's projects to help our community.

Mrs. Jeffrey Sutton, president, presided over the business meeting. Mrs. Dennis Clark, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting, and they were approved as read. Three new members were introduced and welcomed: Mrs. Jack Baggett Jr., Mrs. Douglas Bean and Mrs. Carl Malone Jr.

Mrs. Bill Carson Jr., first vice-president, handed out new year-books to members. She outlined the upcoming year, which looks to be very exciting. Following the business meeting, secret pal gifts were exchanged.

Members present were: Mmes.: Tony Allen, Bobby Aycock, Jack Baggett Jr., David Bean, Douglas Bean, Bill Carson Jr., Fred Chandler, Bob Childress, Duane Childress, Dwight Childress, Johnny Childress, Ples Childress III, Dennis Clark, Buster Deaton, Vince Huffman, John R. Hunnicutt, Rick Hunnicutt, Roy M. Jackson II, Brock Jones, Carl Malone Jr., Bill Mason, Van Miller, Gary Buck Mitchell, J. S. Pierce V, Wade Richardson, Lane Scott, Steve Sessom, Dub Slaughter, Jeffrey Sutton and Gary Vannoy.

Students wash and dry their own towels, and learn a sense of dedication and responsibility. Some of the students who are seniors this year will have to finish their training at a beauty college following graduation. Starting with the 1986-87 school term, only juniors will be allowed in the program.

Mrs. Sims was chosen sophomore sponsor. "I like Ozona. It is different. I want to get to know people and have people know me." Mrs. Sims is the mother of two grown sons and has one grandchild.

EMS report

Crockett County Emergency Medical Services will hold their training meeting Monday, September 23, 1985, at 7:00 p.m. at the Care Center dining room.

The program will be on seat belt safety and driving while intoxicated. It will be presented by Doug Meador EMT/SS.

All emergency personnel who attend will receive continuing education credit hours. Anyone else interested in hearing this program is also welcome to attend says Tina Moran, EMT/SS and reporter for the organization.

Pandale Pannings

by Jonny Johnson

Things have been rather quiet down Pandale way this week as far as I can find out.

We have been very busy. There was an inch of rain at Pandale Saturday night.

We had a one inch rain at the ranch Friday night and Saturday morning.

Ladies Golf Day

Winners last week at the regular Ladies Golf Day at Ozona Country Club were: Low Gross, Marie White with an 88; Low Net, a tie between Mrs. White and Ella Clegg; and Low Putts, Dorothy Montgomery.

Members of the winning team for low putts were Mrs. Montgomery, Jeanne Wellman and Mary Webster.

Other golfers were Jimmie Jacoby, Jonsey Williams, Katy Jones, Monte Sanker, Bobbie Fatout, Glenda Henderson and Sherry Holt.

Regular weekly play at the Country Club will start at 1:30.

Crockett Heights homemakers meet

The Crockett Heights Extension Homemakers Club met on September 10 in Polly Mayes' home.

Karen Huffman, Public Health nurse, presented an interesting and informative program.

Those attending were: Ora Belle Taylor, Hazel Storms, Charlotte Trull, Marilyn Chalmers, Goldia Kilgore, Doris Karr, Roberta Schoenhals, Polly Mayes and Rachel Hall.

Calvin and I went to Lubbock this past weekend to see his mother, Mrs. Ruth Carr, and his sister, Altha Mae Roller. We were met there by our sons and their families, Kerry and Carolyn Johnson and daughter Kendra Brooke. She was a one-year-old birthday girl. They are from Guymon, OK.

Our son Doby and his wife, Nancy and their children Gerenda Lea and Levi came from Andrews. We had a very nice visit.

Law enforcement wrapup

A subject stopped for speeding violations September 16 was found to be driving a stolen vehicle. A check of the VIN number by Trooper R. B. Babbitt revealed that the vehicle was missing from Baton Rouge.

Sheriff's Department personnel joined firemen in answering a call to Circle Bar Restaurant September 14. A grease fire in the kitchen had been extinguished before the four fire units arrived.

Officers investigated a report of a fence being run over at the home of Bob Harris on September 10.

Two individuals were released from Crockett County Jail Sept. 10 after serving 15 days and paying $90 each in court costs on charges of possession of marijuana.

A Florida man was released to Polk County, FL detectives Sept.
