Accident dumps hazardous waste

An accident involving a tractor/trailer truck and another vehicle early Sunday morning resulted in injuries for two individuals and a hazardous waste spill. The accident occurred about 5:15 in dense fog 19 miles east of Ozona on I-10.

Ricky Tyrone Jackson, 44, and his wife, Adalicia Jackson, 31, both of Houston, were taken to Crockett County Memorial Hospital for treatment of back and neck injuries.

Dan Logan, 28, of Deweyville, was not injured.

Reports indicate that Logan was traveling east when his car stalled while going up a hill. The truck was also traveling east and collided with the rear of the vehicle, then struck a rock wall to the right of the roadway.

A report filed at the Ozona Fire Station indicated that 14 55-gallon barrels filled with solid hazardous waste burst when the drums struck the ground.

Traffic was delayed for about half an hour until the extent of the danger was assessed. The material, a flammable solid used to break down crude oil in the manufacturing of gasoline, was found to be hazardous only upon direct skin contact. The material was being hauled by a flatbed owned by Chapperal Trucking Company of Houston.

Western Company of Fort Worth was contacted to clean up the spill. The cleanup was reported complete about 9 p.m. Sunday.

Fifteen firemen, EMS and Sheriff's Department personnel were all at the scene. Investigating officers were DPS trooper Arnold Ramos of Sonora, license and weight trooper Archie Crenwelge of Sonora and Sgt. M. J. Shaw with the License and Weight Division in San Angelo.

Fish kill attributed to algae

A yellow-brown algae has secreted a poisonous toxin that has caused at least 70,000 fish to be killed and up to 100,000 fish may have been involved during the past two weeks in the Pecos River, Jack Ralph, a chemist with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, reported Tuesday.

The yellow-brown dinoflagellate is similar to the red tide algae that caused a major fish kill in Florida last year, Jackson said.

This particular algae simply ran out of room in its own natural habitat, and a change in the environmental conditions on the fresh water Pecos River caused the dinoflagellate to take over this particular section of the river. "This is the first known case in a fresh water environment in Texas," the San Angelo chemist said.

"This algae is always around in small numbers in this area, but something triggered the rapid multiplication of the poisonous algae."

Samples from the river were sent by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to the United States Environmental Protection Agency lab in Houston. Some samples were also examined by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife lab in Columbia, MO. The Texas Water Commission samples were sent to the Texas State Department of Health in Austin.

An International Boundary Water Commission meeting with Mexican officials was held Monday in Del Rio to discuss this major Pecos River fish kill. The Mexican authorities flew Tuesday over the Erby Chandler Ranch attempting to determine what had happened.

One of the ranchers affected by the fish kill, B. B. Ingham Jr., said officials from various state agencies had been working all week to determine the cause of the disaster.

The kill started on the Julian curve near Liveoak Creek and continued north past the Highway 290 bridge.

The investigation by state officials started October 30 with an on-site evaluation by Game Warden Don Jackson and ranchers Jay Munsell and B. B. Ingham. "The investigation is still continuing," Ralph said.

"When the algae die, the toxin will also die out. Most species will repopulate that area quickly. All that is needed is a good rise on the Pecos River. It will take years to repopulate the larger trophy size yellow and channel catfish that were killed.

"Some fish were smart and escaped from the toxin by swimming down stream away from the advancing toxin.

"We are all totally mystified by this," Ralph concluded.

Commodity sign-up this week

Three to four hundred are expected to register for surplus food commodities Wednesday and Thursday says Ozona Chamber of Commerce Secretary Beth Boyd. Registration will be at the Chamber office from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Wednesday and from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Thursday.

Missing hunter sought

A Mart, Texas man, missing from a hunting camp on the Pie Pierce Ranch, since Sunday, still had not been located late Tuesday. Leonard J. Jensen, 62, left his hunting stand, got in a pickup and drove away Sunday morning. He was reported missing later in the day after members of his party were unable to locate him on the ranch.

Roads in South Crockett County were searched Monday by Crockett County deputies, and Sammy Pierce flew all the way to Pandale in a careful air search of the area.

Jensen, who was hunting with his two sons, a son-in-law and other hunters, has a history of health problems and memory loss.

He is described as being 5'8" tall weighing about 250 pounds. He walks with a slight limp and uses a cane. When last seen, Mr. Jensen was driving a tan and bronze 1983 Chevrolet Silverado with Texas tags WX3841.

Family members have remained in the Ozona area and planned to drive out the roads in North Val Verde County with deputies on Tuesday.

Court sets holidays

Crockett County Commissioners held a low-key session Monday hearing routine reports from department heads and canvassing votes.

Civic Center Director Garland Young told the court that the center had 30 bookings last month. The pool tables for the Youth Center have been recovered and material selected to cover card tables. Young also told the court that the exhaust fan in the kitchen is inadequate.

Hospital Administrator Don Hopkins presented a list of bad debts and told officials that the Hospital Board had voted to pursue collection of the bad debts which amount to $31,495.

At their November 7 meeting the Hospital Board voted to ask for an formal meeting with the Com-

A written proposal from St. John's Hospital is expected to be available at the December meeting of the Board, Hopkins said.

Judge A. O. Fields reported that the annual inspection of dams in the county was held last Tuesday by C. H. Sinclair and Gene Perry. The areas look better than they every have, Fields said, with good grass cover and 95 percent of weed kill on every dam except one. More pellets to kill out undesirable weed growth will be put out in the spring.

Fields also updated the court on steps toward solving water problems from rain. A Soil Conservation report will be forthcoming.

Property and liability insurance bids were opened at 11:00 a.m. with a bid from The Baggett Agency being accepted pending the outcome of a Texas Association of Counties meeting on insurance November 14 in Midland.

Commissioners voted to accept a trailer bid from Associates of Odessa as the only one fully meeting the specifications for a low boy trailer which the court voted to buy last month.

Fire destroys mobile home

The newly purchased mobile home of Claro and Antonia Quiroz and their five children was totally demolished around noon Tuesday. Mrs. Quiroz reported that she was cooking lunch when the hot water heater popped and caught on fire.

The family had just moved the home to their lot in Chandlerdale West two days ago.

Mrs. Quiroz received a slight burn on her arm during the tragedy.

Eleven firemen worked one hour and 12 minutes with three trucks and 3,450 gallons of water to contain the fire.

Volunteers responded to a fire at the V. I. Pierce Ranch at 3:39 Monday. A trash fire got out of control according to Fire Department reports. There were no injuries.

Pandale Pannings

by Jonny Johnson

Bang! population explosion at Pandale, nearly as many hunters as there are deer.

The Pandale Study Club presented a very nice historical program last Thursday at Pandale in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mills. Val Verde County is having its centennial, and presented the Study Club with a flag.

There was a very nice crowd attending from Del Rio, Pumpville, Comstock, Ozona and other towns. As Sonny Malone aptly put it, "I am proud to live in the suburbs of Pandale."

Cynthia did a full report on the event.

In last week's paper, I reported that the Earl Hokits were moving back to Sonora, I was mistaken. They just moved to Grimms Trailer Park in Pandale.

We have lots of hunters at the ranch, one group is GECO Geophysical Co. of Norway (U.S. Division) Inc.

Don Meek of Wiley, Texas is Manger of Land Operations, over sees the hunting.

This week Reidar Michaelson, the president of GECO from Oslo, Norway and Svein Stromman, V.P. Charisma Systems, also of Oslo Norway were hunting. Also hunting was Butch Barrie, Tom O'Neal and Ed Woodruff, all of Midland.

Calvin and I enjoyed a steak dinner with them at Grimms Barbecue Sunday evening.

Jim Green of Frisco, Texas and his bunch of hunters at Tent City were enjoying hunting and being in the country in general.

Wood Canyon hunters that were here were Moe Wisdom, his son Randy both of McKinney, Tom Wisdom of San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cahill and Carri of Katy, Texas that have the Game Management next door with their crew, seem to have a full camp of hunters.

The fish kill was terrible, but I have no information on details.

Efficient forage production

According to the Soil Conservation Service, the efficiency of forage production is dependent on the health of the plants on the rangeland. Landowners and operators can help increase their forage production through planned grazing systems.

Plants capture solar energy in their leaves and use this energy to manufacture their own food. If these leaves are continuously grazed short, the plant will use all its stored food reserves, reduce forage production and die.

Livestock are highly selective in what plant species they graze. They graze the best first and the worst last. They also like to come back to the same plant and graze it again because of the young tender regrowth. This is why the better plants have been killed off our rangeland, reducing forage production on much of it by up to 75 percent.

The loss of these better plants that the livestock prefer can be stopped and the process reversed if the rancher desires to maximize grazing efficiency.

To maximize grazing efficiency, the better plants must be made as healthy as possible. To accomplish this, they need a chance to grow without continually being grazed. Animal numbers need to be balanced to forage produced.

A planned grazing system, tailored to meet the needs of plants, the livestock, and the rancher is the best way to maximize grazing efficiency.

You can't tell livestock what to eat, but you can limit the length of time and when they eat, using a tailor-made planned grazing system. Planned grazing systems can be applied using a rotation between as few as two pastures.

If you are interested in maximizing grazing efficiency and improving your rangeland, contact the local Soil Conservation Service office. They give technical assistance to landowners and operators through soil and water conservation districts and can help ranchers design a system to meet their needs.

Cubs have undefeated season

By T. C. Tucker

The Ozona Junior High Cubs finished the football season by beating Sonora and remaining undefeated.

The 7th Grade Cubs finished the season with a perfect 8-0 record and high hopes for next year.

The Cubs jumped out to an early 22-0 lead in the first half. Ruben Borrego returned a kickoff seventy yards for the first touchdown of the game. He was quickly followed by Mingo Perez who scored two additional touchdowns.

Sonora put eight points of their own on the board with seven seconds left in the half, scoring on a 45 yard pass play. Then they began the second half with a long drive that put them in the end zone.

With Sonora now only eight points behind them, the Cubs desperately needed to score.

On the first play from scrimmage in the second half for the Cubs, Martin Urbina responded to that need with a 46 yard touchdown that involved cutting back and around Sonora defensive men. Borrego added the extra two points.

With 1:19 left in the ball game, Perez, who had 75 yards rushing for the game, shot 18 yards to cap the game with a 36-14 win.

Jay Haire and Albert Talamantez led all tacklers with six apiece. Cubs with five tackles included Michael Ybarra and Gilbert Rico. Jason Vitella and Borrego followed with four each. Urbina had three as well as Anthony Vasquez.

The 8th grade Cubs finished their junior high careers with an undefeated 1985 record of 7-0.

The Cubs drove the ball from Sonora's 44 to the end zone in five plays. George Ybarra rambled 28 yards for the touchdown. Lalo Rodriguez kicked the extra point.

On the Cubs' very next possession, Chris Denman connected with Phillip Munoz for a 75 yard touchdown.

Then a minute and a half later, Ybarra returned a punt 55 yards for a touchdown. Denman then hit Ybarra for the two-point conversion and a 21-0 lead.

Munoz returned an intercepted Sonora pass, forty yards, with blocking help from Issac Leal, for the Cubs' fourth touchdown. The PAT failed, but the Cubs held the lead for the remainder of the half.

After a scoreless third quarter, Rodriguez trampled in from two yards out for the Cubs' last touchdown of the year.

Hopes of a shut out were shattered when Sonora's quarterback scrambled 49 yards for their only touchdown.

Offensive leaders included Ybarra with ninety yards, Rodriguez with 65, and Roger Martinez with 37.

Rodriguez had an outstanding night defensively also, having nine tackles. He was followed by Mark Fierro with seven and Scott Carson with six. Gus Garza, Pete Ramirez, and Ybarra all had five tackles each. Other Cubs with four or less included: Robert Dominguez with one, Ricky Burger and Pipito Porras also each with one, Randy Judd with two, Issac Leal with three, and Moe Cruz with four.

Myers loves coaching job

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

Assistant football coach and physical science teacher Brant Myers is a man who totally enjoys his job and his new hometown.

Myers, a first year coach here, grew up with a football in his hand. "My father, Wilkie Myers, coaches in Rankin, and I just never wanted to do anything else."

Preparing for a Friday night football game starts the Saturday morning following the game. Junior high coaches Jim Payne and Jerry Graham go scout the upcoming game and look at films of the upcoming opponent. "We try to find strengths and weaknesses of our opponents. A two hour thinking workout is held on Monday."

Tuesday is a day for group work. Wednesday a short one hour workout is held to polish offensive plays and set the defense. Thursday, the special teams have a short workout, and Friday all our work is judged by how well we play.

New state legislature provisions limit the workouts after school to eight hours a week. A one hour workout is held every day during school. Additional coaches help the head coach get a better view of what is happening, Myers explained. "We can give each team member more individual attention."

"To the kids, winning is very important. To the coaches, if the team gives a 100 percent effort and we lose, we don't complain. We won't know if we win until later on down the line, until we see what sort of men these players become. The won loss record is important, but it is not a matter of life or death," he said.

The physical education graduate enjoys "everyone associated with sports. They will help a person if needed." Myers adheres to the old, but tested rule of "being the best that you can be at everything you try. The high school athlete won't have to worry about his grades if he has that attitude."

The Angelo State University graduate has started three new ventures this year: he is in his first year teaching physical science and his first year coaching and he is a newlywed. "I try to do better every time I go in the class and learn more about the subject. I have to teach the essential elements, but I hope to find out what works in the classroom and keep the course interesting."

Myers plans to continue work on his master's degree at ASU next summer. His wife, Karrie, is attending ASU hoping to graduate with an elementary education degree in May.

Myers enjoys hunting and fishing during his spare time.

Lions lose to Sonora

"I was terribly disappointed for the seniors," Head Lion Coach Jim Green said after the Sonora game. "Teams usually get rewarded for the effort put forth, and this team has had too few rewards in the win column," he said.

Ozona offensive mistakes and an opportunistic Sonora defensive unit led the broncos to a 34-6 victory over the Lions during the last regular season football game in Sonora Friday night.

The large crowd of Ozona Lion fans did not have to wait long for the first score of the game. On the first offensive play from scrimmage, Sam Hightower was intercepted by Alex Duenes, who scored on a 25 yard scamper. The Broncos had a six point lead, and just 11 second had elapsed off the game clock. Esau Ramirez kicked the PAT and Sonora led 7-0.

The Bronco offense was finally introduced to the crowd. On its second possession, Sonora started a scoring drive at the Lion 42 yard line. Junior halfback Steve Love darted to the Ozona 15 yard line. A two point conversion attempt failed, and left the score 15-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Incomplete passes caused by a ferocious Bronco defense thwarted the next Lion drives. Ozona finally mounted an offensive drive at the midpoint of the second quarter. Starting at the Bronco 30 yard line, Fierro unleashed his accurate passing attack. James Sanchez scored on a 21 yard pass reception for what was to be the only Lion score of the evening. The two point conversion PAT failed, and the Lions briefly narrowed the margin to 15-6.

The Broncos lost no time in regaining the momentum. In the waning moments of the first half, scampers by senior wingback Esau Ramirez led to a three yard run by Martinez for the touchdown. The PAT was blocked, and the score stood at 21-6 at the 2:49 mark of the second quarter.

The Lions attempted to get something on the board, but Hightower was intercepted by Bronco senior guard Wayne Collins, who scored from the 20 yard line. Ramirez kicked the PAT and the halftime score stood at 28-6 Sonora.

In the third quarter, a fired up Lion defense held the Broncos. A promising Lion drive was halted by a Thomas DeHoyas interception. The broncos were unable to capitalize on this error. Ozona Guard Abel Lara recovered a mishandled Bronco ball and temporarily stopped a Bronco attack.

Ozona was unable to move the ball, and punted away to Ramirez who scampered 55 yards down the sideline for the final score of the evening. The PAT was no good, and the score at the midpoint of the third quarter was 34-6 Sonora.

The Broncos had a final scoring opportunity late in the fourth quarter, but time elapsed had the final score left the Lions 2-8 for the season and 1-4 in district play. The broncos ended the season with a 3-2 district record and a 7-3 season record.

The kids had a lot of fans, and they justly deserve any and all attention they can get," Green said in a tribute to the players.

Harvey Fierro was outstanding in his last game. Chuy Hernandez and Art Gonzales played a strong defensive game, as did James Sanchez, Abel Lara and David Adams.

"I am so proud of all of them, as players and as men," Green said.

If stacked on top of one another, checks written annually in the U.S. would form a stack 3,156 miles high, equal to 17,326 Mt. Everests.

J. V. closes season

By:Cople Davis

Last Thursday the Ozona J.V. went in to the season final against their archrivals from Sonora feeling upbeat and ready to play. Ready to play, but not ready to win as Sonora outlasted Ozona 8-7.

The Lions, playing true to form, beat the Broncos all over the field in the first half, but forgot to show up for the 2nd half, and consequently lost the football game.

Danny Sanchez, who has been the Lions offensive squarplug week after week, opened the scoring with a 73 yard punt return. Oscar Payne booted the PAT straight through the uprights and Ozona took a 7-0 1st quarter lead. The Lions threatened again in the second quarter when they drove from the Ozona 26 yard line all the way to the Sonora 19, only to have the 57 yard drive shut-off by an interception thrown by quarterback Cople Davis. Time ran out on Sonora in the 1st half but the Broncos stamped in the second half for a 65 yard scoring drive. The two point conversion was good and the Broncos took an 8-7 lead that they would not relinquish.

The Lions stormed right back and moved the ball down to the Sonora 9 yard line, but on 4th and 4 from the 9 with 3:07 left on the clock, running-back Derold Vargas was stopped a yard short of the 1st down by a tough Bronco defense.

Ozona got the ball again with 0:32 left on the clock but couldn't make an 87 yard drive in only half a minute. Time simply ran out on the Lions as the game ended Sonora 8 Ozona 7.

Statistically, Derold Vargas led all rushers with 186 yards on 24 carries for 8.5 yards a carry. Landon Duncan followed Vargas by pounding out 32 yards on 8 carries for 4 yards a pop.

The Lion's rushing game was outstanding as they tallied over 250 yards in the game but Ozona's passing attack was obliterated by a fierce Bronco pass rush which sacked Ozona passers 9 times. The Bronco secondary also intercepted 2 passes.

The contest Thursday night marked the end of the J.V. football season. Coach David Porter stated, "I am very pleased about what I saw this season. Our record may not show it (3-7) but I expect great things out of these young men next year. They are a talented group of athletes that will succeed later on."

Ozona represented at Baptist Convention

Four Ozona residents were among the 4,000 registered messengers who attended the Texas Southern Baptist Annual Convention in San Antonio last week. The messengers representing Ozona First Baptist Church included Rev. and Mrs. Jim Gray, Ted Turnley and Terry Racher.

One local citizen, Mrs. P. L. Childress III, was elected by registered messengers of the convention to the Board of Trustees at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

The primary theme of the conference was "Mission-Texas -- Just the Beginning".

"This is part of a five year program, starting this year, and lasting to 1990," Rev. Gray explained. State-wide, the goal is to establish 2,000 new churches in Texas during the next five years.

According to the last 1980 census, there are over 14 million persons living in Texas. By 1990, there will be over 20 million persons in Texas.

"Less than 50 percent of Texans profess to believe in Jesus Christ. The unchurched population of Texas is more than the total population of 42 other states," Gray said.

Southern baptists have missionaries in 102 countries around the world, and there are more non-believers in Texas than in 68 of those 102 countries we sent foreign missionaries."

Gray said the leadership at the Convention feels this is a staggering figure. "There is much work to do in Texas in the mission field.

Keith Parks was elected president of the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board, and Paul Powell, pastor of the Green Acres Baptist Church in Tyler, was elected new president of the Convention.

The 4,000 registered messengers, representing churches all over Texas, were welcomed by Henry Cisneros, mayor of San Antonio. Among the speakers at the convention were William Pinson, executive director of the State Baptist Convention, Winfred Moore, past president of the state convention, D. L. Lowry, pastor of First Baptist Church in Lubbock.

A featured event at the convention was the lighting of the centennial candle brought from Dallas by a special Royal Ambassadors relay team. The Royal Ambassadors are a Baptist boys' youth organization.

Featured music included the Amarillo First Baptist Church choir, the Southern Baptist men's choir and the Agape Singers.

Who is greatest?

Rev. Ken Harrison
United Methodist Church

In Matthew 18:1-6 there is a very important message offered. We have there a word portrait of the disciples, probably with tremendous personal interest, asking Jesus, "Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?" Jesus answered their question with a living illustration. He called a child and put him in the midst of the disciples, saying, "Truly, I say to you, unless you turn and become like children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. Whoever humbles himself like this child, he is greatest in the kingdom of heaven." Undoubtedly the disciples were taken aback by such a puzzling statement, for they were well aware that children are inept at most things, unskilled and untrained and unready for work in the world of theology and law.

Jesus had used the word humble to describe the nature of the child in their midst. The word that he used carried much more meaning than the word that we find in our dictionaries today. It was a word which meant modest, innocent, accepting and dependent.

A child is humbly modest in understanding personal weakness and inability. Children know that there is little cause for arrogant pride, for they are limited in so many ways that their lack of ability is clear, even to them. Children are innocent until they become corrupted by the intercourse of conversation and commerce. Perhaps because of their innocence, children are accepting. They seem to know and care little about the differences between races, political parties, economic status, religious affiliation and national allegiance. They are able to accept people as people, and they accept what people say as truth. They, necessarily, live by faith. Children also learn early on about their dependence. They have to rely upon others for nearly everything. There is no feeling within them that they are self-sufficient. It was this kind of humility to which Jesus alluded when speaking of characteristics befitting entry into the kingdom of heaven.

Henri Troyat, biographer of Leo Tolstoy, wrote of him, "One spring day when he (Tolstoy) was walking in the forest, his mind suddenly felt lighter and his whole body began to move more freely through the light-spattered dimness. Intrigued, he observed that he was always sad when he rejected God with his reason and always cheerful when he accepted Him like a child."

"At the thought of God, happy waves of life welled up inside me," he wrote.

"Everything came alive, took on meaning. The moment I thought I knew God, I lived. But the moment I forgot Him, the moment I stopped believing, I also stopped living...To know God and to live are the same thing. God is life."

Tolstoy was offering evidence of the fact that, at times at least, he was able, in faith, to take on the characteristics of the humble child about whom Jesus spoke when He told the disciples who would be greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

Pandale Study Club receives centennial flag

Val Verde County celebrating 100th birthday . .

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

An area celebration at the Henry Mills home November 7 marked Pandale's participation in the Val Verde County centennial year. Members of Pandale Study Club shared their "Population Varies" community with Pandale neighbors and guests from Del Rio, Comstock, Juno

The pay scale for the postmasters rose with the times. During Postmaster Ed Smith's tenure, he received $68.70 for the year, based on the volume of business. In 1974, when the post office shut, the salary was $2,864. "No one trusted the postmaster,"

Sonny Malone gave a brief history of the Pandale Sunday School, which was organized November 12, 1928. Again, the late Mrs. Henry Mills Sr. was instrumental in organizing this aspect of Pandale community life. Included among the early Sunday School students were H. A. Mills, Al and Mrs. Ed Winslow. The group originally met twice monthly, but later decided on once a month meetings. "We sold pies, held bake sales, put on a powder puff minstrel and published three cookbooks. The first edition came out in 1958 followed by an equally successful second edition in 1963. A new cookbook was published in 1982. Funds raised from these projects went to various charities, including Easter Seals, the San Antonio Volunteer Service Center and High Sky. "The spirit and love for Pandale has kept us together," Mrs. Malone said.

Henry Mills, a longtime director of the Rural Electric Administration, then explained how REA hookups forever changed life in Pandale. "Juno was always ahead of us, and they received electrical hookups in 1947. We had to wait until 1956."

The Rio Grande Electric Coop serves a large area ranging from 20 miles north of Del Rio to 20 miles east of El Paso. "My first bill was $6 per month and the last was over $200. Less than one person per mile is served by this branch of the Co-op. "They told us we would use more electricity all the time. We turn on the lights sometimes when the sun is shining," Mr. Mills said.

Loueta Wilson, chairman of Val Verde County Centennial committee, presented a Val Verde County Centennial green flag to Mrs. Malone. The opposite side of the flag showed the Texas Sesqui-centennial emblem.

Sonny and Jess Malone closed the program by leading in the singing of the hymn, "Amazing Grace". Celebrants then walked next door to the sparkling clean community store and viewed the many antiques on display.

Among those signing the guest book at the historical celebration were: Del Rioans Rev. Carl Rohlf, Ima Jo Fleetwood, Laura Wilson, Joy Thomas, Dora Whitehead, Mayline Schofield, Elizabeth and Robuck Daughtry, John and Ruth Stein, John Seawell, Dan Buss and Topsy Taylor

And from Ozona, Ginger Perner, Rebecca Young, Vonnie Womack, Jewell and Bill Baggett, Geneice Childress, Cynthia Hodges, Linda Moore, Lee and Joycelyn Graves, Aleane Jones, Herbert Kunkle, George and Wanda Bunger, Ema Taylor, Hilda Dysart, Ann McCartney, Tomasa Ramoz, Alice Ola Mills, Inez Biggs, Edna Wallace, the Lions.

Debra Brown of Langtry, Jim Malone of Iraan, Rev. John Henry Cash of Comstock, Alice and Bob Cauthorn of Juno

Members of the Pandale Study Club posing proudly with their Val Verde Centennial flag are: 1 to r, Vonnie Womack, Ginger Perner, Sara Hargraves, Josephine Mills, Lou Deaton, Sue Arledge, Lela Bunger, Becky Young, Judy Norsworthy, Lara Sue Baggett, Barbara Malone, Opal Everett.

Langtry, Sheffield, Iraan and Ozona. The celebration was held in the Mills home, long the center of Pandale activity. The home, built in 1926 by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mills, Sr., is located next to the combination post office and community store, long the official Pandale meeting spot. The store and post office closed April 6, 1974, but was reopened for this special event.

The afternoon program started with the singing of the hymn, "Mine Eyes Have Seen the Glory". Leading the singing were guitarists Sonny Malone and his son, Jess Malone.

Barbara Malone, president of Pandale Study Club, served as master of ceremonies ending the brief songfest with the introduction of Mrs. Josephine (Mrs. Henry) Mills.

An entertaining history of the Pandale Post Office was presented by Mrs. Mills. The Pandale Post Office had nine postmasters. "It went through the Mills family three times," she said. "The first postmaster, Mrs. Ida J. Bates, arrived in 1909. When we filled out the first form for the government, we said the post office expected to serve 150 persons. The next form stated we expected to serve 100 people. The number just kept decreasing."

Tim Longley served as the first mail carrier. "We received mail three times a week from Comstock and every day from Ozona," Mrs. Mills said.

One day a postal inspector came to the post office. "Henry was in the pasture, and he was serving as the postmaster then." The inspector wanted to know where the United States Flag was. "I didn't like the way the flag was flying," Mrs. Mills explained, "and I told him if they couldn't fly it right, not to fly it at all." The postal inspector informed Henry that the "flag must be flown, regardless of what the postmaster's wife says."

Mrs. Mills said. "We did read all the cards."

Debra Arledge Brown of Langtry then presented a brief history of the Pandale school system. Mrs. Brown, a third generation student who attended the Pandale school, said the school was moved several times but never very far, just mainly from one side of the road to the other. The late Mrs. Henry Mills Sr., who served as a guiding force for many Pandale activities, served as the first teacher. Mrs. Mills arrived at the first one-room schoolhouse in a Model T. She drove 12 miles to the sotol walled, sachuista roofed building each school day.

Finally in 1915, Ed Arledge deeded some land to build a schoolhouse. This school was later moved to another site.

A 19-year-old Mrs. Mary Jordan arrived at the school house in 1915. She taught grades 1-8 in the one room building with approximately 30 students attending classes. Tents were erected surrounding the school so families from outlying areas could ensure that their children could attend school during the week. The tents came down on weekends, and the tent city was erected early Monday morning.

There was no public school in Pandale from 1919-25. Students learned from governesses or attended boarding schools, Mrs. Brown explained.

It was a big day when the school house finally added two rooms, a restroom and a kitchen. Before that time, in 1957, outhouses were used.

Josephine Mills taught at the school in 1957. Judge Brock Jones of Ozona was one of the cutest teachers we ever had, Mrs. Brown said, blushing. The school finally closed in 1969, when Pandale residents voted to consolidate the system with Comstock.

Mills, Moss Mills, Ruff Everett, Emmett, Laura and Jeff Cain, Hazel and Larry Arledge, and R. J. and Tom Everett.

The Sunday School was reorganized May 12, 1940, and has been held every Sunday for the last 45 years. Mrs. Z. C. Dameron and Henry Mills served as the first Sunday School teachers. The first collection garnered $2.72 the first Sunday in 1940. Sunday School quarterlies costing $3.67 were ordered following the second collection, which netted $1.27. The organization had banked .32 after two weeks, and has been in the black since that time. Malone said. A supper is held each evening after the Sunday School classes. John Henry Cash of Comstock comes to conduct services on the second and fourth Sundays of the month. "Meals are always served," added Malone with a twinkle in his eye.

A short history of the Pandale Study Club, organized in 1957, was presented by Barbara Malone. The original charter members included Mrs. Elmo Arledge, Mrs. Larry Arledge, Mrs. Welton Bunger, Mrs. Terry Gries, Mrs. Laura Malone, Mrs. W. O. Mills Sr., Mrs. Gaines Ballew, Mrs. Al Mills, Mrs. Don Murrah, Mrs. Bob Richardson

Turland has dream come true

Charles Turland with employee Laurie McManus

Former Ozona resident Charles Turland realized a dream come true Wednesday with the opening of an exclusive jewelry store in Austin.

Turland, an Austin resident for the past ten years, had been working toward opening the store during this last year. "He has traveled all over the United States--New York, Dallas, California, Chicago--to obtain the jewels for his store," brother Billy Turland said.

Turland worked for Richard Eisman Jewelry for six years. He also worked briefly for Frost Brothers in the jewelry department before striking out on his own, selling jewelry person to person.

The former Ozona Care Center activities director and Brown Furniture employee will participate in the KLRU auction in February 1986. He plans to donate a Charles Turland original to the auction.

Turland is hoping to make a name for himself in the jewelry business, Billy Turland said. He has advertisements in the November issues of Ultra and Austin Homes and Gardens magazines.

Care Center News

By Ann McCartney
Director of Activities and Social Care

If all of November proves to be as busy as this first week was, we may already be in the busy holiday season and just not know it.

On Monday morning Pauline Clinton, Hilda Dysart, Ola Mills, Moriama Perez, Bertha Miller and her sitter, Elodia Zapata, all met in the Day Room for reading. From the "Good Housekeeping" magazine donated by Ann Mayo we read and discussed "The Reagan's Untold Love Story."

Monday afternoon yours truly had her first chance to drive the van on a field trip to Clayton's Drug Store. Residents Tomasa Ramoz, Pauline Clinton, Jean Beardmore, Edna Wallace, Hilda Dysart, Alice Ross, Inez Biggs and Doris Robnett all went out on this treat. Volunteers included Marie Pierson and Glenda Henderson.

Tuesday afternoon Janet Wilson came and directed dominoes. Hilda Dysart, Ola Mills and Pauline Clinton were all present to try their hand at winning. Janet played the piano for the enjoyment of all residents after their game.

And, speaking of winning, Maggie Crawford was our big winner at bingo this week. She won a certificate from Western Drug. Moriama Perez was second place winner, and Edna Wallace won the El Chato's dinner for two certificate. Volunteers included Bonnie Warth, Mattie Cooper, Dorothy Doll, Elodia Zapata, Lelia Tambunga, Anna Bell Patrick, Gwen Nelson, Elvira Martinez and Sophia Tijerina.

As promised last week, here are the names of all those nice students who visited on Halloween, brought a program and Halloween decoration favors. The students included: Shelia Berry, Andy Borrego, Julie Childress, Leigh Ann Coates, Michelle Gonzales, Juanita Guerra, Yvonne Harrison, Jennifer Jones, Connie King, Jacob Lara, Matthew Marshall, Jose Mendoza, Jim Bob Moran, Toni Moreno, Connie Perez, Christy Porras, Emily Ramirez, Jesus Ramos, Robbie Rodriguez, Keith Sessom, Tim Wheeler and Karmen White. All were accompanied by their teacher, Debbie Glasscock, Sara Hignight, who played the piano, and their principal, Bob Wallace, who drive the school bus.

Wednesday morning ceramic class was led by Janet Wilson and Marie Pierson. Residents Moriama Perez, Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramoz, Ola Mills, Hilda Dysart, Pauline Clinton and Nina Mayfield all appreciated their help.

Our Bible study was conducted on Wednesday afternoon this week because of our planned field trip to Pandale on Thursday. It was Mitch Mitchell's birthday, so Ruby Olson treated everyone to cookies in Mitch's honor. She also played the piano while Betty Huffman, Marie Walker and Mattie Cooper assisted with the singing. Charles Huffman gave his usual fine devotional.

Marilyn Chalmers and her two daughters came on Wednesday afternoon also. Marilyn plays the piano to the enjoyment of everyone.

Thursday morning's beauty shop volunteers were Alena Faye Hokit, Vivian Hughes, Clara Byrd, Jo Ann Williamson and newcomer Muriel Gillit. Welcome aboard, Muriel!

We had such a fine trip to Pandale in our new van. Elvira Caldwell was our driver and Melinda Galindo was our aide assistant. Residents included Ola Mills, Hilda Dysart, Edna Wallace, Tomasa Ramoz, Alice Ross, Inez Biggs and Emma Taylor. The people of Pandale made us feel welcome and had a great program.

Spanish Hour of Praise volunteers Maria Vitela, Paulita Leal, Carmen Vargas, Isabel Molina, Heriberto Gutierrez, Lorenza Gutierrez, Luisa Payne, Rosa Montes, and Micaela Cantu conducted their usual fine program for residents Moriama Perez, Juanita Hernandez and Luz Rios. They also visited with our other Spanish speaking residents.

Friday afternoon Maudie Couch directed our residents in some Christmas crafts. Residents Ola Mills, Bertha Miller, Tomasa Ramoz, Hilda Dysart, Emma Taylor and Pauline Clinton were also assisted by volunteers Linda Vasquez, Bonnie Warth, Marie Pierson, Mattie Cooper, Lola Rios and Mary Lee Jones.

Welcome to our Care Center goes this week to Modenia Coose who moved in on Friday.

Thanks this week go to the Woman's Forum for sharing their table decoration flowers, to Maudie Couch for making two more tablecloths and to Mary Logan for sharing some candy.

Our deepest appreciation goes to Nancy Gillit for managing our ceramic booth at the Arts and Crafts Fair and to the organization and these members who also assisted: Zoe Green, Jacque King, Billy Kiser, T. K. O'Bryant, Suzy King and Susan Kinley. Our resident, Alice Ross, went to the fair. Thanks again to everyone who helped.

We did not sell all our ceramics at the sale, and they are still priced, so why not come by and buy some. They make good Christmas presents. Think Volunteer!

Another satisfied reader! Jim Caldwell, owner of Village Barber and Beauty Shop, takes a break with The News.

Border Patrol reports apprehension increase

During the month of October, United States Border Patrol agents of the Ozona station apprehended a total of 159 deportable aliens in the five county area of operation. This reflects a 25 percent increase in apprehensions of aliens over October of 1984. Included in the apprehensions for last month were one Canadian and two Brazilians. All three of the subjects were arrested in Crockett County and deportation proceedings initiated.

Three cases involving the transportation of illegal aliens were intercepted last month. Four persons were arrested by Ozona Patrol agents transporting 22 aliens to various points in Texas. Of the four arrested, three were legal resident aliens and one was an illegal alien. Several cases involving the smuggling and movement of illegal aliens are currently under investigation in the Ozona station area.

One vehicle was seized last month and proceedings initiated for the seizure of four other vehicles used in the transportation of illegal aliens.

The U.S. Border Patrol is experiencing a substantial increase in the movement of aliens by vehicle and with the assistance of professional smugglers. Smuggling activity originating in and traveling through the Ozona area has increased at a higher rate than the rest of the Del Rio sector areas. Any person who has information regarding suspected smuggling activity may call the Border Patrol office at 392-2069.

This year marks the 50th anniversary of a decorative classic, M.I. Hummel figurines. The most popular collectible in the country, these charming figurines have commemorated the special moments of family living for almost three generations. Here are some facts you may not know about these beautiful collector's items:

- The figurines are based on the artwork of Sister Maria Innocentia Hummel, a member of the Siessen Convent in West Germany.
- American GI's stationed in West Germany after the war sent these figurines back home as gifts to family and friends. They were largely responsible for the collecting craze that exists today.

Fish can be susceptible to seasickness. Artificial "storm waves" made in a glass bowl, in a scientific study, resulted in seasick goldfish.
