Library celebrates grand opening

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

After much work by a volunteer Ozona Library board and extensive renovations to the former Paul Perner home, the Crockett County Public Library held its official grand opening celebration at 2:00 p.m. Sunday.

Sherry Scott, chairman of the library board, welcomed the crowd of 200 persons to the Crockett County Library dedication and open house.

Pauline Montgomery, spokesperson for the Perner family that donated the home to the county, outlined how Marilyn Cox, library board member, had approached the Perner family and asked about the possible use of the home as a public library. The home was given to the county by Pauline Perner Montgomery, Elizabeth Perner Wilson of Odessa, P. C. Perner of Lubbock and Mary Perner Daniels of Atlanta, GA.

The push for eventually getting a public adult library for Crockett County started in 1966 when the late Miss Mildred North began receiving funds from Crockett County to provide books for the public in conjunction with the high school library. Miss North, longtime high school librarian, set aside one room in the new high school library as a public adult room. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Puckett and Mr. and Mrs. Dow Puckett furnished the adult room in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Massie. The Massie Memorial Foundation provided funding for the books given to the adult room for five years. This collection eventually grew to approximately 4,000 volumes.

The library, under the direction of librarians Mrs. Earline Jones, Mrs. Mary Helen Parks and Mrs. Sherry York, continued in this direction until 1982. Mrs. York and Mrs. Sherry Scott appeared before the Commissioners Court in 1982 and presented a proposal for a separate public library. A second proposal, the building of a new museum-library complex, was also discussed. The ladies were instructed by commissioners to submit names for a library board at the next Commissioners Court meeting. Plans were also drawn up to create a new Crockett County Public Library. Several sites were considered, but nothing worked out until the Perners donated the home to the County in 1984 for use as a library.

Mrs. Montgomery told of how her parents first came to Ozona as children. Elizabeth Odem Perner moved to Crockett County when she was three years old, and Paul Perner moved to Ozona when he was eight. "They would be so happy, as we are, with the reception all Ozonans have given us. We are so proud to be a part of this momentous occasion."

The contract deed for the home was then presented to Crockett County Judge Al Fields by Mrs. Montgomery. Judge Fields accepted the contract on behalf of "all of Crockett County citizens." He told of how, 50 years ago in the Commissioners Court minutes, there had been talk of building a public library for Crockett County. "We finally have a building for our public library 50 years later."

Sherry Scott recognized the contribution and endless efforts of the library board members: Elliott Barrerra, Marilyn Cox, Mary K. Skains, Chesta Stuart, Sherry York, former members Katharine Russell, Mary Helen Parks and Thomas DeHoyos and Big Country Library System lay representative Lou Deaton.

School board president Jeffrey Sutton then presented Mrs. Scott with a check for the Crockett County school-held library funds.

Librarians Louise Perner Ledoux and Ninfa Cervantez cut the blue ribbon and the throng outside the pecan shaded building surged inside to see the new Crockett County Library.

Among the congratulatory messages was a mailgram from Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby expressing congratulations to Mrs. Ledoux on behalf of the state. "The new facility reflects the growing interest in the use of your library.

The library is a repository of information necessary for business, education and pleasure," Hobby said.

The opening of the library has become a reality due to the donations and memorials from the

"I am very pleased to be associated with such a strong bank. This beautiful facility makes me doubly proud. I hope to continue to work to make the bank as good as possible and promote the community for the betterment of all concerned," Long said.

Body of missing hunter found

The body of missing hunter Leonard J. Jensen Jr. was found Saturday in north Val Verde County eight to 10 miles from his hunting camp. ## Jim and Jill House distributorship owners

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

Moore Oil Company, longtime wholesale distributors for gasoline and diesel products, was sold last week to Jim and Jill House, and the company officially became known as House Fuel Company.

The business was originally founded by Kirby Moore and later sold to his son and daughter-in-law, Douglas and Cathy Moore.

"I had been interested in the company for many years and told the Moores if they ever decided to sell it, I would buy it," House said recently.

House worked for L. D. Kirby for six years and for Shelton Oil and Gas for one year before purchasing Moore Oil.

"The market is fairly stable," said House, "unlike the oil field chemical end of our business."

The 10 year Ozona resident said "some people want to own their own business. I am that type person. When I give a person my word, the buck stops here. I want things done the way I say. Owning this business will give me that chance."

House Fuel will be a two man operation, with House serving as manager and overall boss and Ray Elkins serving as the driver for the concern.

"I hope we can provide the best service we can. If someone has a special need, we will try to service that need," House said.

"We are starting on the ground floor, and we hope eventually to expand the company and hire more employees. Buying an existing business with a strong customer base is a big plus," House explained.

Prices will not fluctuate much in the next five years, and possibly will remain stable until the turn of the century according to industry figures," House said. "Our company is not affected by the overseas markets unless there is a major shortage."

House's silent partner and co-owner in the company will be his wife, Jill Graves House. Mrs. House plans to continue her work as a dental assistant to Dr. Steve Sessom.

One frustrating area of the business concerns the many government regulations. "Everything is decided before it gets to the local wholesaler. I don't like that. There are many costs over which you have no control. This is true of all types of businesses," House noted.

House and his wife have one son, Terry, an 11 year old fifth grader. Most non-job related activities revolve around 4-H and other youth programs that involve their son. House was a Little League manager last year and has served as the Youth Rodeo announcer for the last six years. He is also an active Lions Club member.

Holiday fashions delight onlookers

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

A Crockett County Hospital Auxiliary benefit style show featuring something for all ages was held Saturday morning at Circle Bar Motel Solarium. Approximately 150 persons were entertained by the lovely fashions from The Teacher Store and Small Fashions.

Becky Childress, master of ceremonies, started the show with beautiful separates in red and black solids and tweeds. All dress lengths are in fashion this season, Mrs. Childress said, and the style range from almost floor length to the shorter mini skirt above the knee fashions.

Designers are using shorter jackets to go with the longer, flowing skirts. Sweaters of all sizes, shapes and colors are among the hot accessory items this fall. Some of the sweaters emphasized the kid in all of us -- Mickey Mouse -- while others were softer woolen and rayon blends and pastels.

Shades of mauve, purple, turquoise, red and black were among the popular colors. "The word casual defines a look, but you polish it," said Mrs. Childress when she introduced the at home and sporty fun clothes.

Multicolored and solid pastel dresses emphasized the softer side of sophistication. "The more sophisticated something is, the simpler it will be," she advised her listening audience.

Bold silk solids on the Maggie

London label by Jeanine Booher, former Ozonan and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson, showed the all purpose use for the silk material.

Audience members were reminded of a cozy fireplace with the showing of delightful monogrammed and appliqued at home jogging outfits. Bedtime clothes for all ages emphasized both fun and frolic materials.

Children's fashions featured corduroy jumpers; the old standbys, jeans, with beautiful scaled down child size sweaters. Mickey Mouse was on everything from high school age jumpers to infant size sweaters, each with overall durability.

The Crockett County Hospital Auxiliary is using this style show fund raiser to help purchase a Whirlpool for the Crockett County Care Center. Auxiliary members served green punch and cookies to the fashion conscious Ozona women and children. The tables were decorated with mum centerpieces furnished by Maxine's Flowers.

Mrs. Childress extended a thank you to all those who participated: the Circle Bar for the use of the solarium and motel dressing rooms; The Crockett County News for the style show tickets; Maxine's Flowers for the table centerpieces; and the Care Center Hospital Auxiliary for the punch and cookies.

Road signs must be registered

D. R. Watson, district engineer of the San Angelo District of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, has announced that the owner of each off-premise advertising sign which was erected before September 1, 1985 along a road outside a city or town in Texas is required by recent legislation to register the sign by December 30, 1985 or remove the sign. The new law is known as House Bill 1330 and refers to an off-premise sign as a sign which advertises a service or product not principally sold on the premises where the sign is located. Mr. Watson stated that forms are available in the San Angelo District office for use in registering a sign and that a form would be sent upon request. He also said that a $25 nonrefundable fee is required with the filing of the registration application.

Mr. Watson pointed out that there are only two exceptions to the State registration requirement. If the sign was allowed under the Highway Beautification provisions of the Texas Litter Abatement Act or if the sign is in the extraterritorial jurisdiction of a city or town which is controlling signs in such extraterritorial jurisdiction, the sign does not have to be registered with the State.

In enacting House Bill 1330, the Legislature also authorized the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation to regulate on-premise and off-premise signs which are erected after September 1, 1985. A permit for each such sign is now required. Permit application forms are available in the San Angelo District Office, Mr. Watson said.

The San Angelo District Office is located at Loop 306 and Knickerbocker Road, and the telephone number is (915) 944-1501.

the banker and the customer at a small town bank."

Banking has changed markedly since Long first entered the field. The banking industry is more heavily regulated and more complex. "What goes on in this office is not just what the banker wants. The day is gone when a banker can decide what he wants to do," Long said. Banking examiners are doing a good job, but the industry is so complex now, says Long.

This area has been influenced by the present agricultural and oil industry slowdowns. "The bank and customers must work together to get out of this situation the best way possible," Long said.

He believes a banker must be involved in local organizations and support community activities.

Long and his wife, Marcille, are the parents of two grown sons. One son, Lance, manages an Austin gift shop. Their second son, Wayne, is a banker at the Bank of the West in Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. Long, both Presbyterians, enjoy traveling and raising horses and cattle in their spare time.

Senator Bill Sims was the guest speaker during the Annual Crockett County Program Building Committee and Information Day Tuesday, November 12, at the Civic Center. Senator Sims discussed the recent passage of two water amendments and their future effects in Crockett County. He stressed the importance of local persons becoming involved in their government and water conservation issues.

Residents will have an opportunity to decide if a water conservation district should be formed here following a presentation November 21 by Drew Durham, consulting attorney for several newly formed Conservation Water Districts in West Texas. Durham will discuss newly passed water legislation and the implications to water in the local area at a 7:30 p.m. meeting at the Civic Center.

A delicious chili supper was served to some 37 members, their spouses and guests by the Central Planning Committee. Beth Boyd, chairman of the committee, was Master of Ceremonies.

Littletons host slide presentation

Slides from a 1985 summer archeological dig in Israel led by Hardin-Simmons University Bible Department professor Dr. George Knight, were shown Saturday night at the Lowell Littleton home following an informal dinner.

The dig, which has been led for many years by Dr. Knight, led to the discovery of an important cache of uncirculated second and third century coins under a smooth "wash-pot shaped large rock. The floor and the walls of the building had already been found when they decided to move this rock," Mrs. Littleton explained. Around 40 students from different colleges and universities throughout the United States went on the five week dig with Dr. Knight.

Also attending the slide presentation was Raimondo Penaforte, a senior at Hardin-Simmons University. Penaforte, originally from Brazil, has been sponsored by the local First Baptist Church during his schooling. He hopes to continue his studies in music on the graduate level. He plans to investigate scholarship possibilities at Julliard School of Music in New York later this year.

Other out of town guests included Tina Hames, Stan Minchow and David Haley, all students at Hardin-Simmons University, Ron and Pat Hartberger of Houston and Mrs. George Knight.

Graves strive to help preserve family heritage

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

By raising Texas Longhorns the past seven years, Lee and Joycelyn Graves are continuing a family tradition started by W. P. Hoover in 1881.

"Grandpap and Grandmammy Hoover came here in 1881 with 200 Longhorn cattle. They traveled over the Old Government Road from the Llano River through the Beaver Lake area to what became the Hoover headquarters west of Ozona. I finally have a chance to preserve my heritage. It has taken 104 years for us to have a chance to ranch here."

The Longhorns are a hardy breed of cattle. "When we started, registered longhorns were rather scarce in this area. They are adaptable. We don't feed them, except occasionally some mineral blocks, which are used to keep the cattle gentle," the tall, lanky rancher said.

"We have never bought more than two bags of cake at a time. We visit with the cattle. I can't believe that anyone wouldn't love the Longhorns if they raised them. They are so easy to handle," he said of the hardy breed.

A favorite Longhorn snack are the sotol, which grow abundantly in this area of the Edwards Plateau. The cattle can pull the heart out of the sotol with their horns. Longhorns are also able to digest prickly pear. "A more exotic breed can get poorer from eating pear, but Longhorns have pear as part of their daily diet, especially during droughts."

The adaptable breed that represents Texas to the rest of the United States is a "lean beef cow and a prolific breeder. The heifer will hide her calf and will leave it for days at a time. She will finally bring the calf to the rest of the herd eight to ten days later. Some of the others in the herd are jealous -- but they eventually welcome the newborn calf -- they each have their own personality," Graves said.

Graves is the only registered Longhorn breeder in the county. "We are getting a lot of inquiries about the cows. The small calves are a plus to many ranchers for their first year breeding heifers."

Graves plans to maintain his herd as a tribute to his mother, Elmer Hoover Hatton. "My goals are continuously changing. I now want to keep and maintain the pure breed. I also want to make a name for myself. Having a good reputation is my greatest tribute to my mother," Graves said.

His wife, Joycelyn, does the paperwork to keep the herd registered. "A good ranch wife will make for a better rancher," Graves said of his lifelong partner. Mrs. Graves, an avid Garden Club member, particularly enjoys the native plants and uses some of the plants in spinning and dying wool.

This is the Graves' second time to ranch. While ranching on leased property in the Eagle Mountain region near Fort Stockton, a severe drought started in 1949. The ranch was four miles wide and 20 miles long, and "it was poor ranching country," Mrs. Graves said. Finally in 1956, the Graves "went broke. It took us 25 years to pay off the debts incurred by that drought," Graves said, "but we finally were able to pay everything back."

"We could have taken bankruptcy, and lawyers and bankers advised us to file for bankruptcy. We just believed that the bankers had loaned the money to those with integrity, and we felt we had that. My indebtedness doubled in size before it was finally paid off."

In 1956, the Graves moved to Lubbock and started to work for Texas Tech University. Graves was in charge of the restoration at the Ranching Heritage Center. Mrs. Graves worked as a secretary in the anthropology department.

Four of the Graves' five children graduated from Texas Tech. Finally in 1978, the Graves decided to leave the city and return once again to the ranch life they both loved. "We had gotten used to the city life, and the first year, we often returned to Lubbock. With each passing year, we return to Lubbock less," Mrs. Graves said.

Their children have scattered to various parts of the United States. Jackie (Mrs. George) Crane lives in Memphis, Tennessee and has three children, Cara, Shannon and Krista. Arthur Graves lives in Central Texas with his wife, Flo, and their six week old son, Arthur Cannon. A second daughter, Laura, lives in Flagstaff, Arizona with her husband, Brice Allen. Their other daughter, Joyce, and her husband, Bill Bain, have one daughter, Kelly. Their youngest son, Lee Jay, is a senior at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos.

The Graves feel that the oil and gas industries have helped save ranching. "Today's ranchers are much different from the past generation. Yesterday's ranchers could tell what condition the livestock were in by just riding through the pastures. Today, ranchers must be not only a full fledged vet, but must also know tax laws and how to take advantage of legal tax breaks," Graves said. "Today's ranchers live in town and often use computers to help them in the business. Times have changed and you have to change with the times."

A successful rancher must keep up daily with what is going on, but he must be able to be a manager and let others help him.

Smokeout enters ninth year

By T. C. Tucker

Because of diseases linked to smoking, about 320,000 Americans will die prematurely this year.

The editor of the Monticello Times in 1974 had an idea to fight smoking and the diseases it caused. After he personally led the first mass movement called "D-Day", the idea quickly spread throughout Minnesota and then jumped to California. In 1977, Lynn R. Smith's "D-Day" was recognized nationwide as the first annual Great American Smokeout.

The Smokeout has spread to Canada, France, Norway, Sweden, Finland and numerous other countries in less than a decade. As of now, the names and dates vary from country to country, but there is a chance that the Smokeout is evolving into a world-wide no-smoking day.

Thursday, November 21, is this year's date for the American Cancer Society sponsored event, held on each Thursday before Thanksgiving. It is considered to be the smokers' day. The event is to encourage smokers to give up smoking for 24 hours from midnight to midnight Thursday. (The 24-hour period may be extended as long as necessary past the midnight deadline, in order to get in a full day for those starting late on Thursday.)

Larry Hagman, National Chairman for the 1985 Great American Smokeout and now in his fifth year as Chairman, urges people in television spots to "adopt" their friends who smoke. The goal for this year's Smokeout is to get one out of every five smokers to give up smoking for the one day. And to increase the percentages from last year's Smokeout.

Last year, 33.6 percent of Americans who smoked attempted to give up cigarettes for the one day. Ten percent succeeded for 24 hours and five percent were still not smoking one to five days later.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING TO THE CARE CENTER SOON

Thanks to Christmas head elf, Maudie Couch and her endless supply of Christmas decoration creative ideas, residents of Ozona Care Center will enjoy festive door decorations for their rooms.

Mrs. Couch has been assisted by Bonnie Warth, Marie Pierson, Mary Lee Jones, Ann McCartney and Lola Rios. "Many of the ideas came from my trip to Tennessee this summer," she explained.

Mr. and Mrs. Graves work continually on improving their ranch home. A fence, "as near snake proof as I could build it" is the current ongoing project.

Graves also has barbados sheep. These meaty animals are similar to a small deer and are a bit unusual in this county, but that is another story.

Carolyn Pennington to leave Ozona schools after 18 years

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

Ozona Public Schools will lose a friend, confidant, secretary, nurse, teacher's helper, bookkeeper, computer operator, lost and found agent, and small change banker when Carolyn Pennington leaves December 20 to join her husband Ronald in Hobbs, New Mexico.

Pennington was transferred last month by his company, Mesa Petroleum, following a slowdown in the economy here. The Penningtons have lived in Ozona the past 22 years, and Mrs. Pennington has worked for the Ozona School System for the last 18 years.

In her tenure with the school system, Mrs. Pennington has worked for four different principals. She started at the Primary School (then called South Elementary) under the casual, easy going Hack Leath as a teacher's aide for four years. Her next position was a move across town to work for Roy Killingsworth at the North Elementary. The Intermediate School has been her domain for the last 13 years. Mrs. Pennington served as secretary under the present assistant superintendent, Ted Cotton, for ten years. Her present boss, Intermediate School Principal Bob Wallace, has been her mentor for the last three years.

"All my bosses have been wonderful," said Mrs. Pennington.

"The children have not changed a lot over the years. You really must love children, and one needs a good pair of track shoes or a skate board at times."

The newest challenge to her job has been the computer. "It has been the most wonderful, exciting thing to occur on my job. We use it to save time, to keep classroom rolls -- it really is a new challenge after 18 years."

The cheerful secretary is reluctant to leave Ozona, but "we have to go to where the work is. My husband, Ronald, worked for ten years for J. B. Miller, and our two daughters, Peri Fenton of Ozona and Fawn Dunham of Denver, grew up here. We have lived in New Mexico before, Artesia, before moving to Brownwood many years ago. I will really miss Ozona. The people here are the greatest on Earth. My husband is just 13 years from retirement, and the oil industry here is so flat now.

"I just hope that I can survive the flatlands of New Mexico after living in beautiful Ozona. In Hobbs, there is not even a bump in the road. There is nothing between there and the North Pole."

Mrs. Pennington has reservations about the new provisions set forth by the State Legislature this year. "There is too much paperwork for the teacher. The Texas State Board of Education members have taken the joy out of teaching. Teachers no longer have time to watch children develop. Everyone is so pressured. This is just an uneducated opinion, but these are my firsthand observations."

Teachers must now teach the essential elements that have been set forth by State Board of Education members. These must coincide in every course.

"I sure hope they know more than I do and are doing the right thing. I feel they have taken away incentives for some students. Some students will drop out because of this lack of incentives."

The longtime Church of Christ member is a former member of the Woman's League and was, when her daughters were small, a Girl Scout leader. In her limited spare time, she enjoys painting canvas bags, operating a small craft shop, sewing, and "I just love television."

The void left by this energetic grandmother, secretary, and patient administrator as she heads for the rugged flatlands of Hobbs and Lovington will not be easy to fill.

Auxiliary installs officers

Officers of the newly formed V.F.W. Auxiliary were installed at a meeting Thursday, November 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the Civic Center.

Leaders for the organization are: Sue Spoons, president; Katy Maney, senior vice president; Rita Martinez, junior vice-president; Roberta Schoenhals, treasurer; and Mozelle Houston secretary.

The installation ceremony was performed by Mrs. Edith Bradley, president of District 22, and Mrs. Jo Hodges, deputy chief of staff and senior vice president of San Angelo.

Prevention best fire remedy

Ozona Volunteer Fire Chief Dorris Haire spoke recently on the preventative measures persons can take to avoid a fire, and some lifesaving things persons can do in case of a fire at their home or place of business.

Haire has worked with the Ozona Fire Department for the last 25 years. "Every fire is different," Haire says. "If we are needed, please call us. We would rather come on a dry run than get to a fire too late. The emergency fire number is 392-2626." The first three to five minutes are the most critical in trying to contain a fire.

"If you have a fire, have a common meeting place outside for your entire family. Know your escape route and have family fire drills," Haire urged. Meeting in a common place gives a person great peace of mind.

There are three elements for a fire to burn: fuel, oxygen and heat. Without any one of these elements, the fire will go out. "Every home has these elements."

"Do not let children turn circuit breakers on. There is a reason as to why they went off in the first place. No one but an adult should ever reset a circuit breaker," Haire said.

Few persons are killed by fire; smoke will kill many more. Persons should not go into a burning building without the proper breathing apparatus.

Feel the door before you try to leave. If the door is hot, do not open it as a fire ball may explode in a person's face. Close doors behind you if you have time, Haire said. This will serve to contain the fire. If you smell smoke, don't try and find where it is. Call the fire department immediately.

Ozona Fire Department members can reach a fire anywhere in town in three to five minutes. "Everyone of the 30 members of the fire department will do everything to help you," said Haire.

If you find the door is hot, stuff wet or dry towels or sheets at the bottom of the door and hang something out the window to let the fire department know that someone is in the building.

"Our first priority is saving lives, and our second is saving or minimizing property damage," Haire said. "When you are in an area of smoke, stay as close to the floor as possible. Smoke and fire rise."

Haire believes that smoke alarms are the best investment any family can make. "My home has three," he said. "They do save lives." The ionization type, which requires a nine volt battery, is the best. The electrical smoke alarms go out anytime the electricity goes out. Cost of the smoke alarms is about $10-$12.

Among those who formed the nucleus for the present day fire department were: Scottie Houston, Cleophas Cooke, Al Fields, Bill Cooper, Oscar Kost, B. W. Stewart, B. B. Ingham Jr., John L. Henderson, Dick Kirby, W. D. Haire, J. C. Schroeder, Bud Coats, Claude Montya, Jim Dudley, Weldon Maness, Charlie Applewhite, Jim Marks, Perry Hubbard, Arthur Kyle, Dick Henderson, James Semmler, James Isbell, Charles Ratliff, Joe Tom Davidson, Gene Williams, Buck Dorsey, Wesley Lyles, Aaron Bledsoe, Alan Saunders, Aaron Shackelford, Hugh Stiles, W. D. Carpenter, Bill Holden, David Allen, James Glen, Doc Dockery, Douglas Green, Grady Griffin, Dick Webster, J. H. Reed and James Conway.

Others who have become a part of the department through the years include: Bob Faulkner, Jene Wilton, Steve Kenley, Bobby Davee, Alonso Galindo, Felix Trujillo, James Armentrout, James Montgomery, Freddie Nicks, Joe Everett, David Cooke, Doyle Lovell, Dub O'Bryant, Don Savage, Dee Keilers, Bud Meinecke, Max Schroeder, Bud Harrison, Jess C. Marley, Larry Hensley, Tony Wheeler, Bob Harris, Greg Stuart, Lonnye Cain, Jack Gillett, Ray Henderson, Glenn Sutton, Jerry Hill, Eddie Wall, Vance Worthington, Bill Carson, Royce Hightower.

Also Bud Janes, Charles Huffman, Howard Prather, Shorty Holt, Ronnie Dorsey, Dean Scott, Tony Parker, T. R. Connors, Jack Jones, Dennis Lopez, Sonny Kirklen, Jody Callahan, Joe Miles, Randy Wilson, Bill Price, Blake Ballard, Jene Wilton Jr., Tim McMurry, David Young, Rick Pratt, James Weant, Bruce Mayfield, Steve Hubbard, Glen Capps, Roy Glen Sutton, John Crockett, Sonny Henderson and Elliott Barrera.

This roster may not be complete, but has been carefully compiled through a search of Fire Department records and the organization scrapbook.

Pandale Pannings

by Jonny Johnson

A visit to Grimm's proved there are lots of people in the area. They had been very busy.

Mr. Jensen was found dead by the pickup he drove off in, on the Mitchell ranch. He had been missing since last Sunday. There had been an intense search throughout the area all week.

Some of the hunters in the area are: Billy Howell, Dallas; Bobby Owens, Dallas; and Randy Talent of Red Oak, all hunting North Draw lease on C & H Ranch.

Carroll Vickers, Odessa, his son, Randy Vickers, Midland, and Bill Mark, Midland, are hunting on the Terry Gries Ranch. Carroll got an eight point buck Monday morning. Only one so far in that group.

W. D. McDaniel, Houston, got a small buck at the Triple M.

Not much progress is reported on Sue and Larry Arledge's ranch house.

I will be messenger for broken down vehicles for tow trucks.

Ybarra vows spoken

Mary Ybarra and Santiago Ybarra were united in marriage Saturday, November 16, 1985 in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church. Rev. Richard Altenbaugh was the officiant.

Witnesses for the couple were Edward and Elizabeth Ybarra. Juan and Elvira Vasquez and Jimmy and Janell Tambunga are godparents.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Santiago Ybarra Sr. and Mr.

and Mrs. Andres Trevino. The bride chose a street length dress in baby blue for her wedding.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the parish hall followed by a supper and dance.

Attending from out of town were Diana and Jimmy Trevino of Odessa, Ramiro and Mary Trevino of Sonora, Mrs. Juan Barron and family of Sonora and Cater Villarreal of San Angelo.

Lovell recognized for service

Former Ozona resident Doyle Lovell was recently recognized by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation for 20 years of service.

Lovell began his DHT career as a clerk typist in Ozona working for Supervisor Resident Engineer W. F. "Bill" Dixon. He has continually advanced with the Department. In November 1981 he was transferred to the District Automation office in San Angelo. He presently is District Automation Administration in charge of the computer operations for the 17 counties in District 7.

He received a certificate of service, lapel pin and a letter of appreciation from District Engineer D. R. "Doc" Watson.

Care Center News

By Ann McCartney
Director of Activities and Social Care

Another busy week is now behind us, but we don't plan to slow up much. There are just too many things to do and too many places to go now that we have our new van.

But all our activities aren't field trips. We had a good session of reading in the Day Room last week. One of the things we read was the article on Grandmothers sent by Clayton's Village Drug. Residents Modenia Coose, Hilda Dysart, Moriana Perez, Jean Beardmore, Bertha Miller and volunteer Elodia Zapata all enjoyed this time of reading and visiting.

This was birthday party week for all our November birthdays, and we had a bunch. In fact, we have more November birthdays than any other month. Honorees included: W. W. Mitchell, Moriana Perez, Floy Clare Short, Lucia Rios, Alice Ross and Jean Beardmore. Auxiliary volunteers bringing and serving the party refreshments included Joan Nicholas, Dorothy Doll and newcomer Jeanne Wellman. Polly Mayes donated the cake, and Maxine's Flowers sent a flower for all honorees.

Monday night our residents were treated to music and singing brought by George Hester, Randy Kilpatrick and Patti Racher. Some good "picking and grinning" was enjoyed by all.

Wednesday's ceramic class was directed by Marie Pierson with Jo Ann Williamson on hand to clean some greenware. Doris Karr also helped clean some later in the day.

Wednesday afternoon Katharine Russell played the piano for our residents. Some of her program included a sing-along. Her daughter and granddaughter, Susie and Courtney Childress, assisted with this part of the program.

Thursday morning's beauty shop was manned by Vivian Hughes, Alena Faye Hokit and Jo Ann Williamson.

Ted Turnley led Bible Study on Thursday afternoon. This was followed by Spanish Hour of Praise led by Maria Vitela, Paulita Leal, Carmen Vargas, Felipa Munoz, Mariana Hernandez, Victoria De La Garza, Isable Molina, Heriberto Gutierrez, Lorenza Gutierrez, Micaela Cantu and Beatriz Castillo.

Tuesday and Friday bingo winners included: Ola Mills, winner of the certificate for two dinners from El Chato's and also winner of the first place certificate from Watson's Department Store, Tomasa Ramoz, second place winner. Volunteers included Bonnie Warth, Mattie Cooper, Dorothy Doll, Alice Ross, Lelia Tambunga, Anna Bell Patrick, Gwen Nelson, Sophia Tijerina and Elodia Zapata.

Friday afternoon a group of our Auxiliary ladies met and worked on Christmas door decorations. Volunteers Bonnie Warth, Mary Lee Jones, Marie Pierson, Maudie Couch and Mattie Cooper all did a fine job. One more try and they will be all ready for Christmas.

Friday afternoon residents Tomasa Ramoz, Pauline Clinton, Bertha Miller, Edna Wallace, Hilda Dysart, Emma Taylor, Ola Mills, Moriana Perez, Inez Biggs and Modenia Coose all made cookies to be served at the style show on Saturday. Volunteers assisting with the project included Jo Davidson, Lola Rios and Linda Vasquez.

Saturday morning it took two runs with the van to get everyone who wanted to go to the style show there. Helpers included: Janet Wilson, Marie Pierson and Melinda Galindo, aide. Residents included Ola Mills, Hilda Dysart, Pauline Clinton, Inez Biggs, Tomasa Ramoz and Emma Taylor. (Wasn't the style show nice?)

Thanks also go to Margaret Coates, secretary of the Baptist Church, for her help in getting Hilda's picture made at the church for their church directory.

Seven members of First Baptist Church accompanied their pastor, Jim Gray, to the Care Center for Sunday afternoon church services.

Dinner honors Lion Cubs

The seventh and eighth grade Ozona Cub football players were honored Thursday night by their parents with a fajita dinner at the junior high school cafeteria.

Speakers at the dinner included Coach Jim Green, Coach Don Payne, Athletic Director Rip Sewell, Junior High Principal Jack Probst and Superintendent of Schools Garland Davis.

The eighth graders were challenged "to continue their winning ways and help produce a winning season on the high school level. Be successful in all that you do," Payne urged all the honorees. Both the seventh and eighth grade teams finished the season undefeated.

Members of the 1985 eighth grade Cubs' team are: Robert Dominguez, Chris Denman, George Ybarra, Roger Martinez, Lalo Rodriguez, Tommy DeHoyos, Isaac Leal, Luis DeLa Garza, Andy Stokes, Bruce Beasley, Mark Fierro, Randy Judd, Moses Coy, Ricky Burger, Gus Garza, Danny Vasquez, Pipito Porras, Martin Childress, Phillip Munoz, Moe Cruz, Pete Ramirez, Scott Carson and Gabriel Flores.

ASU team scrimmages here

By Isabel Benitez

The Angelo State University "Slammin'" Rams came to play at the Ozona High School Gym Monday, November 11. The basketball team from San Angelo, headed by Coach Ed Messbarger, scrimmaged themselves in an exhibition game.

"What we do is go to small towns, do 30 minute drills, and divide the team in two and play against ourselves. This gives coaches and other basketball players a chance to get an idea on what a college basketball team is like," said Messbarger.

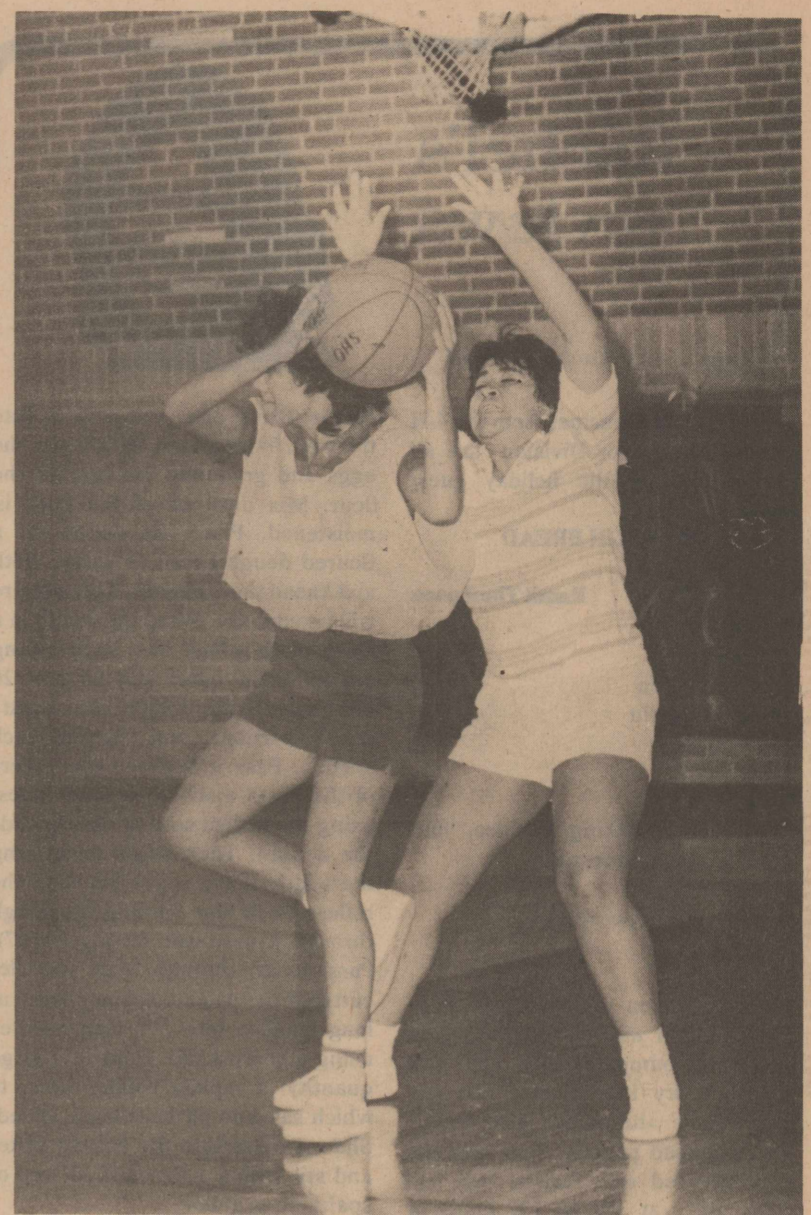

Coach Messbarger also said that they started going to towns in rural areas three years ago.

The ASU Rams are in the NCAA, division two. Because of a certain rule they must follow, the team has a limited number of games to play, so they scrimmage themselves and hot other teams. Messbarger said that he then decided to take his team out-of-town for the benefit of themselves and their spectators.

"We enjoy coming down to play and getting good responses from the audience," said Messbarger.

John Curry, varsity basketball coach, was present to see how the Rams played. "It was great because we hardly get to see that level of basketball," said Curry.

James Cox, special ed teacher, was the referee for the game. He said that the difference between high school and college basketball is that the college players are quicker and more skillful. Cox, who likes to referee, said, "My philosophy is 'if you don't like it, don't do it.'"

Lady Lions 1-1 after two scrimmages

The Ozona Lady Lions defeated the Junction Eaglettes 42-41 at Junction in a scrimmage on November 5 on a last second shot by Patty Sanchez. "The team played well in spots but failed to keep Junction off the offensive boards," said Coach Rhonda Yarborough. "We did not block out well; however, we did play good, aggressive defense and ran our fast break well. We still have a long way to go. But we're moving in the right direction," Coach Yarborough stated.

The Ozona Lady Lions played a much tougher opponent, Fort Stockton, at home last Tuesday night. The Lady Lions led 10-8 at the end of the first quarter and narrowly trailed the Pantherettes by one point at the half, 21-22.

Lydia Pena went out of the game in the first half with a dislocated index finger on the left hand. Zelda Munoz missed the first scrimmage against Junction with a similar dislocation to the pinkie finger on the right hand. Playing without both starting posts, the Lady Lions struggled to score as they could manage only five points to Fort Stockton's 17 points. The final score was 37-46.

Statistics for the Fort Stockton game were:

- Vickie Reagor - 3 forced errors, 2 steals, 1 offensive rebound, 3 pts.
- Janet Diaz - 1 steal
- Kristina Martinez - 1 steal
- Diane Sanchez - 1 steal, 1 def. rebound, 1 off. rebound, 2 pts.
- Vanessa Miller - 2 forced errors, 4 steals, 2 def. rebounds, 2 off. rebounds, 4 points
- Sharon McCrohan - 1 forced error,

- 5 steals, 2 off. rebounds, 6 points
- Julie Reagor - 1 assist, 5 steals, 6 def. rebounds, 2 off. rebounds, 11 points
- Roni Navarrette - 1 steal
- Stacy Lay - 1 forced error, 1-off. rebound, 1 def. rebound, 7 points
- Patty Sanchez - 2 forced errors, 3 steals, 1 def. rebound, 2 off. rebounds, 2 points

"The girls played good defense, and we held our own on the boards the first half against a much taller Fort Stockton team. We looked pretty good until they wore us down. We're not in good shape yet, and having two players out is making it tough. Overall, we are continuing to improve," Coach Rhonda Yarborough stated.

Roster for the girls includes: Bianca Cervantez, Regina Cervantez, Kriss Corley, Shannon Curry, Ophelia DeHoyos, Janet Diaz, Judy Flores, Vicky Flores, Dottie Gonzalez, Dawn Hanson, Griselda Hernandez, Martha Hernandez, Stacy Lay, Kristina Martinez, Sharon McCrohan, Lacy Miller, Vanessa Miller, Cathy Moran, Eileen Moran, Zelda Munoz, Veronica Navarrette, Lydia Pena, Chantelle Pesson, Sandra Ramirez, Julie Reagor, Vickie Reagor, Rita Rios, Diana Sanchez, Maria Sanchez, Patty Sanchez, Annette Turner, Melissa Vallejo, Cindy Villarreal, Kim Williams, Adriane Wilson, Stacie Winkley and Melissa Ybarra.

The girls will host Eldorado November 22 beginning at 5:00 p.m.

Rachel's reviews

By Rachel O. Hall

Prize winning recipes from the 4-H Food Show Senior Division are all appropriate for the holiday guest season.

PUMPKIN BREAD

Randi Thompson

- 3 c. sugar
- 1 c. salad oil
- 4 eggs, beaten
- 16 oz. pumpkin
- 3 1/2 c. flour
- 2 tsp. soda
- 2 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. each baking powder, nutmeg, allspice, cinnamon
- 1/4 tsp. cloves
- 1/2 c. chopped pecans
- 3/4 c. water

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Cream sugar and oil together. Add eggs and pumpkin; mix well. Sift together dry ingredients; add dry ingredients alternately with water. Add chopped pecans. Pour into two well greased and floured 9x5 loaf pans. Bake at 350 for 1 1/2 hours or until tests done. Let stand 10 minutes. Remove from pan to cool.

HOLIDAY BROCCOLI

Summer Shacklette

- 1/2 c. unsalted butter
- 3/4 c. coarsely chopped, unsalted cashews or pecans
- 3/4 c. fresh bread crumbs, toasted
- 3 lbs. fresh broccoli
- 2 tbsp. fresh lemon juice
- 1/2 c. thinly sliced green onions
- 2 tsp. chopped pimento

Melt butter in a heavy skillet over medium heat; add cashews and cook until butter is golden brown and cashews are toasted, stirring frequently (watch closely; butter can burn if cooked too long). Remove from heat. Remove 2 tbsp. butter from skillet, and add to bread crumbs, mixing well. Wash broccoli; remove tough ends and leaves. Separate broccoli into flowerets, leaving 2 inches of stalk. Cook broccoli in boiling water 4 to 5 minutes or until just tender; drain well, and place in a serving dish. Keep warm. Add lemon juice, green onion and pimento to cashew butter mixture in skillet; heat thoroughly. Pour evenly over broccoli; sprinkle with bread crumb mixture. Yield: 8-10 servings.

PASTA WITH VEGETABLES

Treble West

- Pasta Machine Pasta:
- 2 c. all purpose flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 3 eggs
- 1 tbsp. salad oil

Mix flour and salt in a large mixing bowl and make a well in the center. Break eggs and pour oil into the well. With a fork, lightly mix the eggs and gradually incorporate the flour. Mix until all of the flour is moistened. Place the dough on a floured dough board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth. The mixture will be very dry. Wrap the dough in a clean cloth which has been wrung out in warm water and let rest 20 minutes. Divide dough into eight equal portions and flatten each portion. Pass it between the rollers of the pasta machine several times, using the widest setting (this kneads the dough). Then begin decreasing the width of the space between the rollers, each time passing the dough through a narrower setting (to #7). Pass dough through large (noodle) cutter of the pasta machine, then cut long noodles into 2 1/2 inch noodles using a sharp knife. Cook in a large quantity of rapidly boiling water to which salt and oil have been added. Slide noodles into the boiling water and stir with a long handled fork or spaghetti grabber.

Cook 4-6 minutes until just tender. Pour 2 tbsp. of butter over noodles. Toss gently to coat all noodles. Set aside.

Vegetables:

- 2 tbsp. butter
- 1 1/2 c. chopped frozen broccoli, partially thawed
- 1 1/2 c. frozen green peas, partially thawed
- 2 small zucchini, cut into cubes
- 6 frozen asparagus stalks, partially thawed and sliced into 2" lengths
- 1/4 c. water
- 1 tbsp. butter
- 2 med. tomatoes, chopped
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 black pepper
- 1/4 c. vegetable oil
- 1/2 c. pine nuts
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 10 fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 1 c. heavy whipping cream
- 1/2 c. grated Parmesan cheese
- 1/2 c. butter
- 1 tbsp. dried sweet basil or 1/2 c. chopped fresh basil

Place all of the green vegetables in a large saucepan with 1/4 c. water. Cover and cook 4 minutes. Set aside. Melt 1 tbsp. butter in skillet; add tomatoes, 1 clove garlic and parsley. Saute until tender. Salt and pepper to taste. Heat oil in large skillet; add pine nuts and cook until golden colored. Add 2 cloves garlic, mushrooms, and cooked green vegetables. Cook about 2 minutes stirring occasionally. Stir in cream, cheese, butter and basil. Cook until bubbly. Add 1 pound pasta and toss gently with 2 forks. Top with sauteed tomato mixture and serve immediately. Serve with additional Parmesan cheese if desired.

FFA officers elected

Library News

"I want to thank the members of the Library Board and all the Friends of the Library that worked so hard to make our Grand Opening such a successful and special event," says Librarian Louise Ledoux. "We had almost 200 people attend the dedication and open house Sunday afternoon. The weather was fine and everyone seemed to really enjoy the occasion. Thanks again to all the Perner family -- the ones who really made the library possible."

Dates to remember are: National Education Week - Nov. 18 through 22

Great American Smoke-Out - Thursday, November 21. This is especially promoted by the library. The Board voted unanimously to have a non-smoking library when the policies for the library were being drawn up. We encourage other public buildings to do the same.

RAILROAD COMMISSION OF TEXAS 2c22

Wildlife habitat important

Much of the wildlife habitat on more than half of the nation's federal and privately owned rangeland is in poor condition which is cause for great concern. Guidance on improving wildlife habitat can be obtained from the Soil Conservation Service.

Wildlife share with livestock the almost one billion acres of rangeland that is an important asset to agriculture, to the economy and to the quality of the environment.

Although some of the poor condition is caused by shallow soil and low rainfall, much of the rangeland productivity can be improved by good range management.

Often in the same general area, poorly managed rangeland provides little forage for livestock and poor feed and cover for wildlife, while well managed rangeland provides adequate forage for livestock and supports healthy populations of wildlife.

Wildlife can mean additional income from hunting fees for ranchers. The kinds and amount of plants determine the kinds and number of animals, livestock and wildlife, the area of rangeland can support.

Proper rangeland management practices will improve forage growth and protect the soil and water resources. These practices include deferred grazing, brush management, range seeding and proper grazing use.

Deferred grazing improves cover for ground-nesting birds and improves water quality and quantity. Patterned brush management provides essential cover for wildlife and increases the variety of plants that will grow. Range seeding can include plants important to wildlife. Well managed, planned grazing systems can produce the most benefits for livestock and wildlife on rangeland.

Trustees accept report

The Board of Trustees of the Crockett County Consolidated Common School District met in their regular monthly session Wednesday, November 13, with all members present. The meeting was called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Jeffrey Sutton, and minutes of the October Board meeting were read and approved, as well as the accounts payable.

Superintendent Garland Davis reported that he had accepted the resignation, effective November 8, of Mrs. Deborah Lambert, reading teacher at Ozona Middle School. The trustees approved the employment of Mrs. Lynda Falkner for Mrs. Lambert's position.

Assistant Superintendent Ted Cotton presented the Crockett County Consolidated Common School District Annual Performance Report for Board review and consideration. Mr. Cotton explained that the performance report is a document required by state law, and the purpose of the report is to give the school district the opportunity to present to the local community a comprehensive review of the district's activities for the 1984-1985 school year.

The 154-page 1985-1986 Annual Performance Report is divided into three parts. The general information section provides information on: student performance, academic course offerings, staff quality, facility adequacy, financial condition of the district, impact of 1984 reform legislation, impact of curriculum requirements, and the impact of other significant changes.

The district information section of the document contains measures of educational achievement, classrooms exceeding specified sizes, and career ladder information by sex and ethnicity.

The third part of the report contains campus information, and included in this section are: pupil/teacher ratios by educational programs; school attendance ratios; test scores, information on school drop-outs; bilingual education reports; school disciplinary activities; distribution of school year 1984-85 teachers by prior year employment; and general expenditures for instruction.

Mr. Cotton went on to explain that the 1984-1985 Annual Performance Report contains graphs that show how well Ozona's third, fifth, and ninth grade students are doing on the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills (TABS) when they are compared to other students across the state.

"In a three-year performance comparison, Ozona students have either been equal to or above the state in 175 of the 240 total objectives tested by TABS, and this excellent showing not only reflects good learning, but good teaching," he stated.

After approving the performance report, the assembled members also gave their approval for adding Mrs. Nancy Moore and Mrs. Joy Scott to the 1985-1986 substitute teacher list. They also approved the transfer of the Adult Library Fund to the Crockett County Library.

Changes in the meeting dates for the December and February meetings were agreed to by the Board. The December Board meeting will be held on Wednesday, December 11, 1985, and the February meeting will be held on Wednesday, February 12, 1986.

Superintendent Garland Davis reported that Mrs. Esmi Barrera and Mrs. Elena Ybarra have been hired to work in an educational program for children who are three - five years old and who have handicapping conditions that qualify them to receive special education services. The Early Childhood for the Handicapped program began Monday, November 18, and is being held at the Ozona Community Center.
