Completes business in record time.....

School Board hires substitute teachers and awards insurance coverage bids

The Crockett County Consolidated Common School District Board of Trustees completed agenda items in record time during their regular monthly meeting Tuesday, August 12.

Two bid items were considered and accepted by the Board. The Meadows-Fisher and Cleere Insurance Agency of San Angelo was awarded the low bid for school property insurance coverage, and M-B Spraying of Ozona was the low bidder for school spraying services.

The Board also approved substitute teachers for next year. Substitute teachers approved include: Judy Adams, Tina Bean, Karen Bishop, Cathy Carson, Janie Chandler, Kathy Duncan, Patsy Hester, Kala Longoria, Olga Perez, Kay Vargas, Jodessa Barton, Pam Coates, Leroy Dragoo, James Gray, Roxanne Hailey, Susie Harrison, Mary Hillman, Mary Hufsteler, Kala Longoria, Adelina Martinez, Blanca Martinez, Diana Martinez, Lorelei McMullan, Nancy Moore, R. O. Moore, DeNeil Payne, Olga Perez, Sandra Perez, Peggy Phillips, Bridget Sewell, Linda Usner, Brenda Weeks, Marilyn Chalmers, Martha Weant, Noemi Gonzales, Griselda Borrego and Katrece Hale.

Superintendent Garland Davis gave the members information concerning a new University Interscholastic League requirement which requires all school districts to have a local school board-approved physical examination procedure for students who participate in U.I.L. sponsored athletic activities. In response to this requirement, the Board approved a district policy which requires physical examinations for each student prior to their participation in athletic programs in junior or senior high school. Physical exams will be required in grades 7, 9 and 11, and a physical examination will also be required of students who are new to the district or begin participation for the first time at a grade level not listed above. Students in grades 8, 10 and 12 who are not required to have a physical exam must complete a medical history form acceptable to the district.

The members approved the participation of Superintendent Davis on the Texas Educators Advisory Committee to the State Commissioner of Education. The twenty-member committee is made up of superintendents representing various size school districts across the state. The members serve at the invitation of the Commissioner of Education for the purpose of advising the Commissioner on school legislation and implementation of rules and regulations by the State Board of Education and the Texas Education Agency.

The remainder of the meeting was spent in a Board review of the proposed operating budget for 1986-1987. The budget will be presented on Tuesday, August 26, for hearing and adoption.

Community Center ready for children

School days are coming soon, and the Ozona Community Center is preparing to open its door again. Kiddie Klub will be held each morning from 8:00 until 11:00, and Tineyville will meet in the afternoon from 1:00 until 3:00. Registration for these classes will be held on Thursday, August 21, during the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. until 4:00 p.m.

Parents wishing to enroll their children are reminded to bring the child's birth certificate and immunization records. Monthly charges for these classes are $35 for Kiddie Klub and $30 for Tineyville. A limited number of scholarships are available to those who meet the qualifications.

The preschool program offered by the Center will enrich your child's life with new experiences and give each one a chance to make new friends while learning and playing says a spokesperson for the center. Plan to go to the Center on August 21 and enroll for the 1986-1987 school year.

On proposed pipeline route Environmental hearing invites public comment

Another chapter unfolded Monday night in the story of American Pipeline's attempt to reach Webster on the Texas Coast. An informal hearing (the sixth of 11 scheduled across the state) at Crockett County Courthouse offered area residents a chance to comment on the 450 mile stretch of the project which remains to be completed.

Work on the All American pipeline stopped March 14 after a federal judge, James Nowlin, ordered a temporary halt. Suit was filed March 11 by Attorney General Jim Mattox to stop construction and acquisition of right-of-way pending a Supplemental Environmental Impact Study (EIS).

The 30-inch, $800 million pipeline will extend 1700 miles from Santa Barbara, CA to Webster, bringing a surplus of California and Alaska oil to Texas for refining.

The environmental impact of this project was initially studied and received public comment as part of the original EIS, which was approved in December 1984. However, CELERON, parent company of the pipeline builder, and the Bureau of Land Management have entered into an agreement with the State of Texas to further evaluate the environmental impact of this Central Texas segment with additional study through this Supplemental EIS.

Construction will begin on this segment of the pipeline following approval of the Supplemental EIS. Meanwhile, construction nears completion on the remainder of the underground oil transportation system, with approximately 1200 miles of pipeline already laid in West Texas, Arizona, New Mexico and Southern California.

William Haigh of the BLM office of Riverside, CA, and moderator of the Monday night hearing, told listeners that the meetings across the state are the start of a year-long process to identify the issues for the Supplemental EIS. Specific issues and concerns raised in the meetings will be assessed for inclusion in the statement.

The original route of the pipeline would carry it across the Edwards Aquifer which provides the source of drinking water for much of Central Texas.

An alternate northern route being considered would go east from McCamey to north of Temple, then southeast to the coast. A second alternate route would take the pipeline from McCamey to south of San Antonio through Yoakum and then east to the coast.

C. M. (Mac) Hoffman of Austin, area superintendent for All American Pipeline Company, described the pipeline project. According to Hoffman, reduction of dependency on foreign energy and long-range economic benefits to the areas crossed would be among the benefits of the pipeline. More than 300,000 barrels of surplus domestic oil production will be moved daily from the West Coast to existing and currently under-utilized oil refineries along the Gulf Coast.

Five pump stations will be constructed on the Texas leg of the pipeline, including one planned in Crockett County near McCamey if the northern route is not used.

A draft of information gained from a detailed look at effects of the pipeline will be available by January according to Haigh. He explained that the California office is doing the Texas portion of the study because it did the original EIS. A public hearing before an administrative law judge should take place around January. The final EIS is expected to be completed in May.

Only two persons asked to address BLM representatives Haigh and Valerie Randall. Dr. Joe David Ross of Sonora spoke as an individual and as a member of the Sutton County Underground water District. Citing previous work with the USDA and FDA, Ross raised the question of cleanup should a spill occur. "The Sutton Underground Water District wants the same protection as the San Antonio area," Ross said. "Modern machinery depends on the people who use it," Ross said regarding x-ray of the pipeline.

The pipeline, which is scheduled for 1988 completion, will be 100 percent x-rayed as a safety measure, according to Hoffman.

Health concerns from contaminated water and area caves were also mentioned by Ross. "If the water is polluted, what recourse do we have?" he asked.

Martin Woerner, Ph.D., represented Travis, Hays and Gillespie Counties and the City of New Braunfels at the meeting. Woerner asked the BLM to consider in its study:

- alternate routes
- water use dependency in the area traversed by the pipeline
- requested statistics of probabilities of spills
- requested an analysis of effects of spills in the aquifer
- a description of methods to detect, locate and fix leaks
- a contingency plan should oil reach the aquifer
- potential for surface contamination and cleanup
- specific cleanup methods
- characteristics of crude oil.

Anyone wishing to make written comment on the proposed pipeline may do so by writing the Bureau of Land Management, 1695 Spruce St., Riverside, CA 92507.

winning team.

The Ozona Lions will take to the field for the first time this 1986 football season at 5:00 p.m. Saturday in Fort Stockton. Coach Jim Green is anxious to see how the Ozona players fare against Fort Davis.

The enthusiastic turnout last week for the first two-a-days showed much promise for Ozona. The foremost players showed that they could handle the game of football while others surprised the coaches, exhibiting their desire to be part of the

At Wednesday's second workout, the players found themselves at the pool. Even though they had to go through several hard drills, the coolness of the water helped ease the fact that they were working out.

"Usually on the third day, the players are more sore," commented Coach Green. "We (the coaches) felt the pool exercise would give the players a physical and mental lift. The event proved both fun and hard."

Two-a-day workouts ended Tuesday due to the availability of time caused by school registration and senior portraits. Only one workout will take place Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

After Saturday's game, which will be played in Fort Stockton against Fort Davis, Coach Jim Green says the Lions will have to buckle down next week. After all, who wants to be out played by Sonora? The scrimmage with Sonora will take place Friday, Aug. 29, on Ozona's home ground.

I Hope You're Satisfied

By Rev. Ken Harrison
 Ozona United Methodist Church

What would you do if you unexpectedly received a million dollars? Several states now have legalized lotteries, and they have created a number of instant millionaires. Have all these people been blessed with satisfaction in their new wealth? Some have, others have not.

In Baltimore, a man thirty years old worked in a bakery. For hours every day he shaped dough to make doughnuts. The day he received word that he had won a fortune he did what some of us would do; he fainted. When a reporter talked to him about his new wealth, he said the money had not made so much difference. He kept working at the bakery, and he didn't even move away from the small house where he lived with his wife and family.

A coal miner won a million dollars in another state. He and his wife stayed on in the same house in the same small town where they had always lived. They were able to pay their debts, and they did buy some new furniture. But life for them is much the same as it has always been.

Other winners have had a worse life than they had before. In one family, the wife almost had a nervous breakdown, and she did get an ulcer. Another winner left old friends and bought a new house in a new neighborhood. In the new place, the neighbors were not friendly. Some winners have gone on shopping sprees and spent their money in a short time. One couple, who won two hundred thousand dollars, went across the country buying everything they wanted, only to return home broke and disillusioned.

What it amounts to is that those who were satisfied before they won the money were satisfied afterward, and those who were not satisfied before they won the money were not satisfied afterwards. A great deal of human dissatisfaction comes out of the tendency to define satisfaction in terms of getting something or being somewhere else. A job, a spouse, a car, a home, a warmer climate, the list goes on. Yet, when these rainbows are chased they do not satisfy to the extent we might have imagined.

Do you remember how you used to badger your mother or father for something and when you finally wore them down they would say in exasperation, "Well, if I give it to you will you be satisfied?" We would quickly agree, but usually, we learned, often very soon, we weren't really satisfied at all. Long ago Oscar Wilde had one of his characters say: "In this world there are only two tragedies. One is not getting what one wants, and the other is getting it."

For the person who trusts in God, satisfaction is found inwardly. Along with Paul, it can be said: "I have learned, in whatever state I am, to be content" (Philippians 4:11).

Vacation Bible School at First Baptist Church concluded Friday night with a program for parents.

Knights donate time, money during 1985

Nationwide, members of the Knights of Columbus donated more than $66 million and logged more than 23 million hours in volunteer service during 1985 says Ozonan Orlando Vargas. The information comes from a survey conducted by the Supreme Council.

Texas was one of five jurisdictions to top the $2 million mark and led the list in donations for seminaries, schools and scholarships with $297,839. Texas was also first with 1,739,366 hours of community service and with 221,003 visits to the sick and bereaved.

Since the beginning of the survey in 1970, the amount distributed has totaled more than $465 million and 140 million hours.

Survey information indicated that $16 million went to the sick, needy, disabled and handicapped; $9.3 million for church and community activities; $9.2 million for welfare organizations, community projects, scouting and other funds; $5.7 million for scholarships, schools, libraries and other educational purposes.

The $66 million represented an increase of $11 million over 1984.

Knights of Ozona's Council 8572 hold several fund raisers annually to help the needy and to be used by Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church. This past year, the Knights awarded a scholarship, said Vargas, financial secretary of the organization.

Owens celebrate anniversary

Fun and laughter are a way of life for Laura and Jeff Owens. The couple celebrated their 63rd wedding anniversary August 19, and they say they have fun with all they do.

Married in Big Lake at 23 in 1923, they have seen their share of hard work and tough times during their years together. "I don't feel sorry for kids today," says Miss Laura, remembering the work involved in being a ranch wife sixty plus years ago.

The couple moved to the Owens Ranch on Live Oak Creek and lived there for 50 years before turning things over to their children and moving to Ozona in 1972 when his father became ill.

Country life is still best says Mrs. Owens who loves the out-of-doors. They both garden although "he does most of it," says Miss Laura. She cans and freezes much of the produce from their home garden at 206 Ave. J.

Both the Owens were born in Crockett County; he finished school in Ozona. Miss Laura's family moved to Big Lake when she was six months old. Her father, W. W. Pittman, was judge of Reagan County for many years.

James Wilson (Wise) Owens and Tiny Miller Owens, Jeff's parents, made their home in the rock house on the old Hat Ranch in 1899, and their descendants still live in that location today.

Miss Laura's career as a teacher and bookkeeper was cut short in favor of the life of a ranch wife.

She entered college at 15 and was a teacher at 18. "I made $65.00 a month and had to cash a voucher to get it," says the educator of Big Lake and Mingus students.

She also taught E. G. and Douglas Cauble at their ranch home, and she still enjoys reminiscing with their mother about those times.

A bookkeeping job at Barnhart where her grandparents had settled in 1886 was occupying Miss Laura's time when she married Jeff Owens. Four years later they began their family, and both children, Amos and Wanda, are in the ranching business today. "We gave the land and stock to the kids. We gave both of them a ranch and left out," says Jeff Owens. Wanda and her husband, C. J. Watts, make their home between Iraan and Fort Stockton. Amos and his wife ranch the Live Oak Creek place where there are now three man-made lakes which satisfy his mother's love for fishing.

"I like to fish, but he doesn't," says Miss Laura. With a comment about non-cooperative fish, Owens goes on to tell that they have had a fishing lease on the Hudspeth Ranch south of Ozona for 45 years. All except one of their family gathered there for a Fourth of July celebration this year. There are twenty in the family, five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren, and "we all get together twice a year," says Owens.

All their grandchildren live in Crockett and Pecos Counties except Max Watts who followed his grandmother's footsteps into the teaching field. Now a principal in the Wink school system, Watts received his master's degree in Hawaii with his grandparents there for the occasion.

Three generations of Owens have attended Sheffield schools. A belief that her family needed to be together all week long led to the decision to drive the 15 miles into Sheffield for school instead of boarding in Ozona 27 miles away. The children were able to attend a country school for two years at Live Oak before the building was moved into Ozona. After that, Miss Laura and a neighbor took turns, a week at a time, driving their children into Iraan for their education.

Both the Owens remember another kind of driving that was also part of ranch life, driving livestock to the railroad. "We could go to Big Lake, Rankin or Barnhart," says Owens. The route was determined in part by which neighbors also had stock to ship. Only carload sales of stock were accepted, and uniformity of stock was important since the buyer was expected to take all. "It wasn't like it is now when you can just take a pickup load," says Owens.

"I used to drive the chuck wagon," says Miss Laura. "It was a Chevrolet truck." Stops along the trail were pre-determined, and the chuck wagon driver would go on ahead to be ready for the hungry drovers.

Owens is proud to have raised the only Texas ram to have topped the National Sale at Salt Lake City. His Rambouillet ram brought $850.00 back during the depression, says Owens.

"We're just country folks," says Mrs. Owens, who says they would still be on the ranch if they could. "We go as often as we can." A family gathering at the ranch marked their anniversary this year, a special time for a special couple.

Roadblock fails to nab suspect

A roadblock August 17 netted no suspect vehicle in a shooting on I-10 says Chief Deputy Jim Wilson. A roadblock was set up at the Pandale overpass by officers of the Sheriff's Department, Texas Highway Patrol and Game Warden after a trucker reported that someone had fired a shot at his truck while he was eastbound on I-10 between the Pecos River and Live Oak crossing.

Another trucker gave a description of a suspect vehicle. Other sheriff's units checked the interstate east to the Sutton County line, but no suspect was located.

Damage to the truck was on the driver's windshield. A large hole went nearly all the way through the windshield, but no projectile was found said Wilson.

Other Sheriff's Department activity for the week includes:

ARRESTS:

8-16 A 37-year-old Ozona man was arrested for driving while intoxicated and speeding by THP. He was released after posting a $500 bond.

8-16 A 44-year-old Florida man was arrested for escape from the county jail in Jacksonville, FL by THP. He has waived extradition and is awaiting the arrival of Florida authorities.

8-17 A 38-year-old Ozona man was arrested by sheriff's deputies for public intoxication. He was released after paying a $185.00 fine.

8-18 A 33-year-old Houston man was arrested on the interstate by THP. He is wanted in Houston for probation violation.

8-19 A 17-year-old Ozona man was arrested by sheriff's deputies for public intoxication. Subject is still in jail awaiting a fine setting.

INCIDENTS:

8-14 A citizen on Water Works Drive reported the theft of his daughter's bicycle. On Aug. 15, a THP officer found the bike near the interstate along with another bike that had not been reported stolen. The second bike had been stolen from a residence on Martinez Street about two weeks ago.

8-17 A Houston resident reported that someone had broken the passenger window of his semi-truck while it was parked at the truck stop. Some steel balls were found at the scene and it is believed that this was done by some kids with sling shots.

A leaping Lion logo on the floor of Davidson Memorial Gym will greet students this fall. The logo was designed and painted by Gary Davis for the Lion Booster Club as part of the gym renovation.

Rachel's Reviews

by Rachel O. Hall

The 4-H project is the basic ingredient in any county 4-H program. Project leaders and parents are crucial to a 4-H member's success in project work.

A 4-H project leader has an excellent opportunity to help young people grow and develop in the rapidly changing world. The most important qualities of the 4-H leader are: a strong belief in the basic worth of each child, a commitment to personal development of each individual, the ability to relate to children, parents and other volunteers, and an understanding of leadership.

Leadership by project leaders is critical to the success of the overall 4-H program. Young people need relationships with adults who will recognize their need for good feelings about themselves and their need to develop meaningful relationships with other youths and adults.

Young people also need to acquire subject matter knowledge, physical skills and decision making abilities.

Success as a leader is not measured by blue ribbons or the number of times an individual places in competition. The good things that happen will be visible in other ways - feeling good about the things accomplished, improved relations with other youth and adults, and having fun.

The single most important quality an individual can bring to the job of a 4-H leader is caring about young people and a willingness to give time and knowledge to help each youngster develop his or her greatest potential.

A 4-H leader sees many things created or planned - cookies, lambs, dresses, horses or gardens. The quality of the finished product will always be second to how the young person grows in a project.

UPCOMING EVENTS

4-H re-enrollment will be held in conjunction with the August 20-22 school enrollment at the various schools. Youth who are in the third grade through age 19 are eligible for 4-H participation. Youth must re-enroll for 4-H projects each August. Re-enrollment places a member's name on the new mailing list of current 4-H news and information.

4-H Foods and Nutrition Projects will begin in early September. Anyone interested in teaching a foods and nutrition project is encouraged to contact the County Extension Office for more details. A Foods and Nutrition Leader Training and planning session will be held Aug. 25 at 5:15 p.m. at the County Extension Office Meeting Room.

Fall vegetable planting time approaches for gardeners

Although there is still plenty of hot weather ahead, it's time to start getting things in shape for your fall vegetable garden.

Much of Texas is well suited for year-round gardening, and fall vegetables generally have better quality and flavor than those grown in the spring, says Billy Reagor, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Many popular warm-season vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, pole beans, potatoes, okra, cucumbers and squash can be planted during the coming weeks.

Also, the so-called "winter" vegetables such as broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, greens, parsley and carrots can be planted now for early harvesting. Later plantings of these cold-hardy crops will supply fresh vegetables well into winter.

What are some of the important aspects of fall gardening?

First of all, get the land into good shape, suggests the agent. If you had a garden this spring and fertilizer was applied, little if any additional fertilizer will be needed before fall planting.

For new gardens, apply two to three pounds of a complete fertilizer such as 10-20-10 per 100 square feet and work it into the soil. If plants make slow growth, apply a light amount of fertilizer between rows and water it into the soil.

Adequate water is vital for a successful fall garden, particularly for seed germination and early plant growth. The agent suggests "pre-irrigation" before planting followed by subsequent, light waterings three or four times a week to keep soil from drying and crusting. Water stress during early growth of plants can reduce later yields.

Transplanting is a good practice in the fall since this allows seed to be started in areas sheltered from high temperatures and drying winds. Check at garden centers for recommended varieties of vegetables and strong, vigorous, healthy plants. Or you may want to grow your own transplants.

4-H lamb distribution August 25th

4-H lambs will be distributed Aug. 25 at 5:00 p.m. at the 4-H feeding barn. Goats will be distributed Aug. 26 at 1:00 p.m. at the County Show Barn. Any youth from third grade up to age 19 interested in feeding lambs or goats should call the Extension Office before Aug. 25 to enroll in the livestock project.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

CROCKETT COUNTY OUTDOORS
by Rod Chalmers

Dove season opens Monday morning, Sept. 1, and runs through Oct. 30, and your local Game Warden thought you might need a refresher on hunting rules and regulations to try to prevent a black spot on an otherwise enjoyable day afield. A Texas Game Warden gets no pleasure out of filing a charge on an otherwise law-abiding sportsman for a negligent violation that resulted from ignorance of the law, so I hope this will be a measure of prevention of such an occurrence.

First, I'd like to cover licensing requirements, as there are some changes here from years past. Everyone will be required to have on their person a valid hunting license, issued to them, while hunting anywhere in Texas this year. In the past, those hunting small game in their county of residence were not required to have a hunting license, but not anymore. This rule follows the line of thinking that anyone participating in the sport should pay their dues, and I don't think anyone would argue that point. Those under 17, or 65 or over, and certain disabled veterans, can still hunt on a reduced fee license, but that's still a hunting license and they still have to have it while hunting. Also, each hunter is required to have a current drivers license, or personal identification certificate issued by the Department of Public Safety, on their person, to show along with their hunting license. This was no doubt caused by a growing number of people using someone else's license. Another case of all of us having to pay for the abuses of a few, but it's the law and a citable offense for failure to comply.

Like last year, the state is divided into four zones, and the zone you're hunting in might have different opening and closing dates than the one you're living in, so check on that before you go dove hunting. I'll direct most of this information to the Central Zone where we're located, but first I'll try to give you a picture of the dividing lines. For all practical purposes, the Central Zone is bounded on the north by Interstate 20, and the area above is the North Zone. On the south we go to U. S. Highway 90, and below that is the Rio Grande Zone. Highway 90 and IH20 come together at Van Horn to the west, where the Central Zone stops, and we go all the way across the state to the Louisiana border. The South Zone is a triangle in South Texas bounded on the north by I10, to the west by US83, and east to the coast. Of course, the Rio Grande Zone runs the length of the Mexico border from Fort Hancock to the coast at Mansfield Channel. Remember, if you hunt south of Highway 90, to pay attention to the whitewing regulations, as we are going to have a whitewing season this year.

But back to the Central Zone. Daily bag limit is 12 doves per day, with no more than 2 whitewings or 2 white fronted doves included in that number. Possession limit is twice the daily bag limit. Folks get confused about possession limits, but basically it means this: if the season has been open for a week, and you've been hunting for the past two days, and the Game Warden comes into your hunting camp, he's not going to get excited to see two day's limit in your possession. Remember to buy a Whitewing Stamp for your license if there are any whitewings in your hunting area, as even the 2 "mistake" whitewings allowed in the bag require the stamp, whether you're in a whitewing zone/season or not. Shooting hours in the Central Zone are one half hour before sunrise to sunset. True, the most action is late in the day, but the birds don't have a sporting chance after sunset, so carry your watch and check the charts beforehand. Of course, don't hunt from or across a public road. And while I'm on the subject, remember not to hunt any migratory bird from a vehicle, even on private property.

Possession of more than one daily bag limit by any one person, while in or returning from the field, is a violation. If your buddy doesn't want his birds he can give them away at camp with a document stating the name and address of the person who killed the birds and the total number, by species, and the date killed. If he gives them to you at your residence, the document is not required. We don't usually have much trouble with abuses in this area, but we (wardens) do take exception (and write tickets for) people killing their limit and someone else's, or "the wife killed 'em...I'm just picking 'em up for her". Everyone needs to keep their own birds separate so there won't be any "misunderstandings".

Shotguns, no larger than 10 gauge (OUCH!), plugged to 3 shell capacity, are still the only legal firearms for migratory birds. Rifles (such as your ole' rusty trusty .22) are OK for quail, but not for doves or any other migratory birds. Live decoys and electronic calls are still illegal, but artificial decoys and manual or mouth-operated calls are permitted. (Anyone ever called up a dove?)

Feed on the ground that's not a result of a bona-fide agricultural operation (or natural) prohibits hunting migratory birds in that area. No, you can't throw out grain and then hunt doves there, and you can't hunt doves by your deer blind, even if the corn or maize you put there is for the deer and quail. Again, the abuses of a few...

The above is intended only as a guide. If you have any specific questions, call me at 392-3972, or call the Sheriff's Office at 392-2661 and leave word and I'll return your call at the first opportunity. Remember to stress safety first on your dove hunt. A shotgun can do a lot of damage to the human animal also, and I personally disdain investigating hunting fatalities.

GOOD HUNTING!!

beauty shop with Vivian Hughes, JoAnn Williamson and Clara Byrd, residents were ready to listen to some fantastic music played by Clara B. Freeman and Clara Byrd Thursday morning. Clara B. Freeman played the organ while Clara Byrd played the piano. The harmony was beautiful.

Mid-week Bible study was presented by Charles Huffman of Ozona Lutheran Church. Hymns were sung by residents and visitors with Rebekah Shipp playing a few notes on the piano.

Spanish speaking residents received a lively spirit uplift during the Spanish Hour of Praise. Heriberto Gutierrez played the guitar and a large group of visitors sang hymns.

P popcorn was served by Anna Bell Patrick during Friday morning's bingo. Bingo winners included Grace Cotter, Juana Hernandez, Pauline Clinton, Theo Burns, Lucia Rios, Ola Mills and Rebekah West. Volunteers were Dorothy Doll and Mattie Cooper.

It may have been peach picking time in Georgia, but it was apple picking time in Ozona for the residents Friday afternoon. Residents wasted no time, put on their sun bonnets, picked up a basket, and headed for the apple tree on the Care Center front lawn after being informed by our administrator, Elvira Caldwell, that the tree had several golden apples on it. Volunteer Matthew Marshall climbed the tree and under the supervision of residents, shook just the right branches to aid in the gathering. The apples were then peeled and prepared to be frozen. A cobbler will be made at the end of the month.

Sunday's worship services were presented by Jim Gray of First Baptist Church of Ozona. A short visitation followed.

Ozona Fire Department battles 2 fires

Ozona Volunteer Fire Department members answered a call Aug. 15 west of Ozona on I-10. A station wagon and two wheel trailer were completely burned according to reports.

Firemen arrived at the scene at 2:02 a.m. with two trucks and the emergency van. Terry Griffin of San Diego, CA, his wife and two children, were not injured when their vehicle caught fire after blowing out a tire and striking a guard rail.

An air conditioner fire at the Ted White home Sunday began when the machine shorted out. The fire was out when volunteers arrived at 4:54 p.m., two minutes after receiving the call.

Volunteers cooled down the air conditioner before returning to the station at 5:00 p.m.

There was smoke damage to the exterior of the home.

Accidents

No injuries reported

Three accidents were investigated by DPS Trooper Richard Barton last week. There were no injuries in any of the accidents according to Sgt. Kenneth Hailey of the DPS.

The intersection of Monterrey and Santa Rosa Streets was the scene of a 9:00 p.m. accident on Aug. 12. A 1984 Dodge driven by Phillip Vargas and a 1986 Pontiac driven by Sylvia DeHoyos were in collision as the Vargas vehicle turned north on Monterrey. Vargas had been eastbound on Santa Rosa and DeHoyos westbound prior to the accident according to reports.

There was minor damage reported to both vehicles.

Terry Griffin of San Diego, CA lost his 1973 Ford and a two wheel trailer to fire at 1:00 a.m. Aug. 15 25 miles west of Ozona on I-10. A blowout on the left rear wheel of the trailer caused the vehicle to swerve and strike the guard rail.

After leaving the car, Griffin noticed that fire had started on the left rear tire according to the reporting officer.

Griffin, his wife and two children, were not injured in the fire.

An accident at the intersection of First Street and Ave. H occurred Aug. 6 at 2:45 p.m.

A 1981 Chevrolet Blazer driven by Angela Dalby and a 1976 Oldsmobile driven by Annie Mayo resulted Both drivers were eastbound on First Street when the Dalby vehicle moved near the right curb in preparation to make a left turn after stopping at a stop sign. The Mayo vehicle was struck when it passed the Blazer as it went into the turn.

Inn of West has new owners

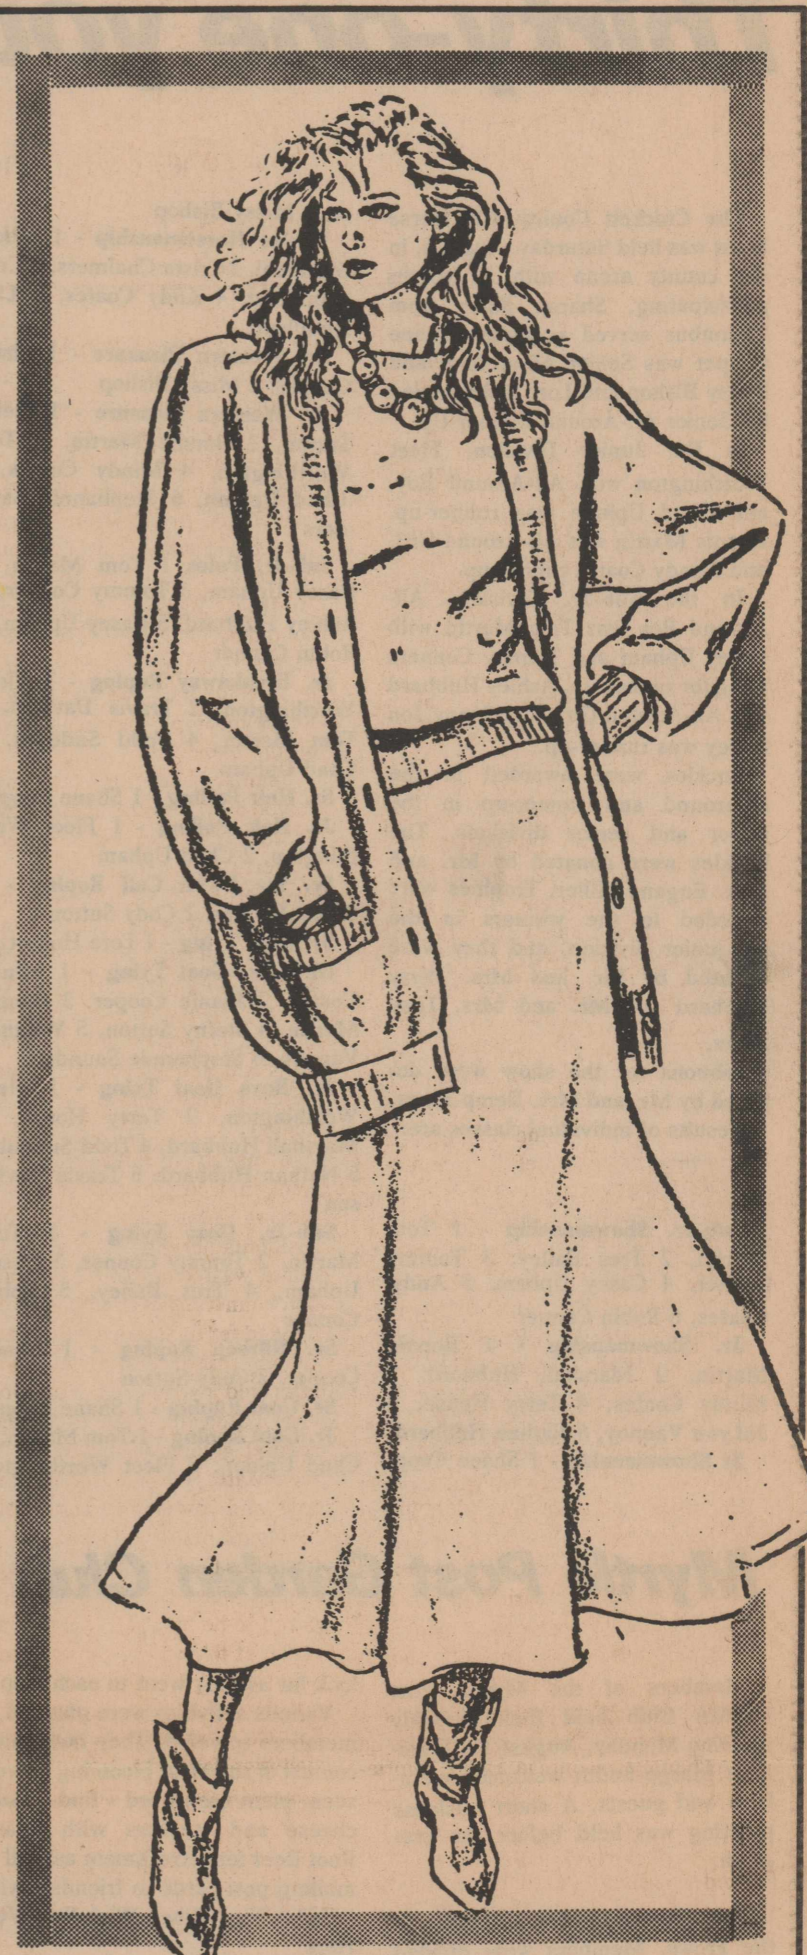

Ozona Inn of the West has new owners effective Aug. 1 according to Joe Williams, one of the buyers. Williams, Joe Clayton Jr. of Brownwood, Dr. Earl Gaston of Kingsville and Sam Vaughan of Uncertain near Lake Caddo purchased the seven-year-old business from Charles Williams, John Childress and D. E. Jackson.

Williams, who was sole owner of Flying W Motel, said that the Flying W is now owned by the same group, Trans Crockett Inc.

Trans Crockett Inc. will be the managing corporation for both motels. Dick Webster will continue as manager of the Flying W and will also manage the Ozona Inn of the West.

Charlie's Place, the Inn of the West restaurant, will still be leased and operated by Charlie Frazier.

No changes at either motel are planned at this time says Williams.

Card of Thanks

We would like to express our sincere thanks to everyone for the many prayers, food, beautiful flowers, cards and other expressions of sympathy during the illness and loss of our loved one. A special thank you needs to be given to the Crockett County Sheriff's Department, Judge Fields, Dick Kirby, Tom Cameron and the entire staff of Crockett County Hospital for their compassion and support. Your thoughtfulness is much appreciated and will always be remembered.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

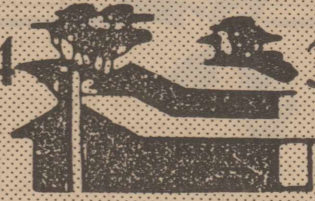

Crockett County Welfare Assn. c/o John S. Moore, Publisher

Dear Sir,
I stopped over night in your fine community. Just finished your August 6th edition of The Crockett County News where I read the letter from the Michigan couple about your town's plight. I assume due to the oil situation. Please deliver this check for me.
