Balanced run/pass offense leads Lions to victory

T.C. TUCKER

Quarterback Sam Hightower connected with receiver Roger Flores for 145 yards passing out of 162 to lead the Ozona Lions to a lopsided 21-0 victory over the Eden Bulldogs Friday night.

As fans continued to fill the stands the Lions received the opening kickoff, returning the ball to their own 33 for good field position. Then backs James Sanchez, Butch Gonzales, and Valdo Galindo pushed it upfield to Eden's 31.

Sam Hightower put the ball up for the first time then, and Roger Flores caught the beautiful pass and scored an apparent touchdown. However, the referees claimed he had been brought down at the one yard-line. On the next play, Galindo drove in for the first touchdown of the night. Oscar Payne added the extra point.

When Eden took possession of the ball, they ran into a brick wall formed by the Lion defense. Flores at safety foiled one attempted pass as he would do throughout the night.

Thus the Lions gained control for the second time and found themselves in good field position. However, Ozona slipped from Eden's 34 to the 42 yard-line. It was when Ozona needed 18 yards for the first down that Hightower hit Flores with a great pass and the Lions had their second touchdown. Payne's conversion attempt failed.

In the second quarter, four penalties smothered one Ozona drive. Penalties would make more trouble as the night went along. Over all, the Lions had 16 such penalties for 135 yards. Just minutes after Ozona's third possession ended, the Lions intercepted one Eden pass and returned it for a TD which was called back due to a penalty.

With 3:54 remaining in the first half, Flores cleverly intercepted a Bulldog pass and scored Ozona's third touchdown after returning it 19 yards. The two-point conversion attempt succeeded as Hightower connected with Gonzales, who had 32 yards total offense.

Light sprinkles begin to come down during halftime and continued on-and-off during the second half.

Even though the Lions drove the ball into Eden territory several times in the last two quarters, they could never capitalize as penalties often drove them back.

"We hurt ourselves with mental mistakes (penalties)," said Coach Jim Green. "We'll have to work on cutting down those mistakes."

Sanchez and Galindo continued to shine in the second half and they eventually tallied up 69 and 36 yards offense respectively. Hightower also kept throwing, ending the night with 14 attempts and eight completions.

Defensively, Armando Fierro and Gonzalez led the way. The Lions' defense proved itself in the fourth quarter when Eden gained access to the ball on the Lions' 16 yard line. Ozona held them and even pushed them back several yards.

"The boys were ready to go," said Coach Green. "Even though things were a little tacky, being in the winning column sure feels nice."

Green also commented on how the lines, backs, and specialty teams gave their best effort.

This Friday, Sept. 12, Ozona will travel to Wall as the non-district season continues. Coach Green noted that although Wall runs a wishbone offense, the backs spread out a little more. Their fullback also causes much trouble on defense as the noseman.

Commissioners finalize 1987 budget

Setting the tax rate and accepting the budget for 1987 occupied little of the Commissioner's Court time Monday. The total county tax rate of $0.475 per $100 valuation remained the same as 1986. The school tax rate of $0.78 per $100 is up $0.05 from 1986 bringing the total tax rates for 1987 to $1,255 per $100 valuation. Revenues and balances for 1987 are estimated at $4,878,505 with expenditures expected to be $4,839,132.

"The budget is down about $800,000 from last year because of money we had left over," said County Auditor Dick Kirby, 98.4% of taxes due last year were collected, and 97% of current taxes have been paid.

Four or five have applied for indigent health care according to Judge A. O. Fields. Only one of the initial applicants is expected to meet the guidelines. Statistics indicate that Ozona could have as many as 70 eligible for the program.

Commissioners raced through a light agenda and had to wait an hour until the designated bid opening time of 11:00 a.m.

Discussing bids for vehicle fuel, Sheriff's Department cars, labor and materials for the Hwy. 1973 fencing project occupied the remainder of the morning.

Two Ozona firms, House Fuel and Buttery Motors, were low bidders. Sonora-Ozona Oil and Shelton Oil also bid on vehicle fuel. Buttery Motors' low bid on three 1987 Caprices bested those of Iraan Motors and Jim Bass Ford of San Angelo.

Twin Mountain Building Supply of San Angelo was low bidder for labor and materials for seven miles of fence in South Crockett County. Also bidding on labor and material were B&R Fencing of Fort Stockton and KH&F of Mertzon. Materials only bids were submitted by South Texas Lumber of Ozona and Mueller Supply Company, Inc. of Ballinger.

County employees should be able to start preparing right-of-way for the project as soon as rain and a broken dozer permit. Twin Mountain Building Supply estimates a 70 day completion time once their work begins.

The fencing by Crockett County is a preliminary step in a widening project by the state. County employees will lower water lines and clear right-of-way. H-braces for the project will also be manufactured by the county.

Damage to a county dozer resulted last weekend when the machine hit a pipe while pushing the dump ground reported Eddie Moore, Road Department Supervisor. Damage was being determined Monday at the county barn.

Moore also said that the motor is out on a water truck. He was instructed to try and find a new motor for the tandem vehicle which has more than 100,000 miles but "is still a good truck, body-wise".

Paving is at a standstill because of rains. "We've mainly been blading roads to try to stay up with these rains," said Moore.

Commissioners voted to table advertising for bids on an enlargement to the Care Center Dining Room due to excessive cost. An estimate from an architect indicates that the added space would cost $20,000.00 rather than the $5,000.00-$6,000.00 originally expected.

Carolyn Wortham of San Angelo addressed the court on behalf of the Family Shelter. Last year Crockett County allowed $3,000.00 for its share of the shelter's budget. Four local families' (13 individuals) were served by the shelter which provides refuge for abused adults and children. The county was asked to renew its donation or pay on a case by case basis.

Judge Fields asked for records of expense for Crockett County before a decision would be made. Monthly reports were made by Youth Center Director Garland Young, Librarian Louise Ledoux and Interim Hospital Administrator Bill Boswell. Written reports were received from Onecimo Ortiz, Parks Department supervisor, and Janet Hill of Helping Hands.

The Helping Hands program served 846 meals in August with a daily average of 40.28. Meal donations amounted to $794.50, an average of .93 per meal.

A leaking hot water heater at the hospital was a priority item in Boswell's report. He was asked to get two estimates before replacing the 100 gallon unit.

Commissioners voted in favor of the hospital board's promotion of Jacquie King to assistant administrator and Mannie Galvan to head bookkeeper.

Mrs. Ledoux reported that the Crockett County Library Board has a new president. Sherry York, Ozona High School librarian, is filling the position vacated by Sherry Scott. Mrs. Scott remains on the board but has resigned as president because of duties as the new principal at Ozona Intermediate.

The back to school dance Sept. 6 was the largest in a number of years according to Garland Young, director of the Youth Center. There were 202 teens in attendance.

Midway Lane plant bought by Apache Corporation

Sale of the El Paso Natural Gas Midway Lane Plant to Apache Corporation of Midland is expected to be completed this week according to John McFall of the firm's public relations department in El Paso. The plant, the Clara Couch Compressor Station and the gathering system which feeds the plant are being sold.

Some of the 10 plant personnel will be transferred and some will retire according to McFall. Two families presently live at the plant site. All El Paso employee housing will be phased out over the next two to three years said McFall.

The Midway Lane facility began operating in August of 1952 and has had subsequent additions to increase capacity. Full capacity for the refinery, which is located 14 miles north of Ozona and six miles west on Hwy. 163, is 40 million cubic feet per day.

C. F. Lawrence is president of Apache Corporation of Midland.

Sgt. Redmon new at Ozona DPS office

SGT. GLEN REDMON

A new job in a new town made September an eventful month for Sgt. Glen Redmon of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Redmon began his duties here last week as supervisor of seven troopers in a four county area. He replaces Sgt. Kenneth Hailey who transferred to Austin after two years in Ozona.

The new sergeant says he has been training for this job while in Big Spring. "Basically, I've been on the road driving a black and white. I'm working my way into it (the sergeant's position); I'm going to get my feet wet."

Sgt. Redmon has been with the department 16 years. After completing his training in Austin, he was stationed in Odessa for six years before being transferred to the now defunct Turnpike Authority in the Dallas/Fort Worth area. After two years there, he returned to West Texas by way of the Big Spring office of the D.P.S.

Duties of his job will include overseeing the actions of troopers in Irion, Schleicher, Sutton and Crockett Counties. Irion and Schleicher each have one trooper. Sutton currently has two troopers and Crockett three. The shortage of two in Sonora will probably be cut by one after summer class recruits graduate in October. Ozona also should have four officers, but the shortage here may not be filled, according to Redmon. The summer class of troopers has 84 recruits, and there are 100 vacancies statewide at this time.

The shortage of officers was, in part, created by higher wages in the oil field, said Redmon. Now that jobs are scarce in the petroleum industry, fewer troopers leave the department. This may lead to the elimination of next year's summer class. The Department of Public Safety has been conducting classes in January and June.

"I have enjoyed coming to Ozona," said Redmon. "People here are more than willing to help us out." Redmon and his wife, Claudia, are searching for a home here. Mrs. Redmon will remain in Big Spring for a short time. She is employed there as an office manager.

Square dancing is a hobby the Redmons enjoy. Although their varied work schedules have left little time for square dancing in recent years, they are looking forward to having the opportunity in Ozona.

The Redmons are the parents of four grown children and proud grandparents to eight.

Land Bank offers loans

Jack B. Smith Jr., president of the Federal Land Bank Association of Sonora, has announced that the Federal Land Bank of Texas now offers a fixed interest rate on farm and ranch loans and rural residence loans.

"In essence, the program will allow eligible variable rate borrowers to lock in a five-year fixed repayment as part of their long-term variable rate loan," Smith said.

Smith indicated the bank would offer this new program to everyone on a first come, first serve basis. He added, however, that the total amount of money available for converting existing variable rate loans to a fixed rate is limited to $250 million at this time. The local SFLBA's portion of the statewide total based on loan volume is $3,583,271.00

According to Smith, interest rates on these fixed rate loans are subject to market fluctuations. The Land Bank will begin offering fixed rate loans at 10 7/8 to 11 1/8 percent on farm and ranch loans, and 11 3/8 to 11 5/8 percent on rural residence loans based on an individual borrower's financial strength and repayment history.

DON'T SHOOT AT POWER LINES!

NEVER SHOOT AT POWER LINES or the insulators that hold them, because the result could be a dangerous downed electric line. A severed line could cause a serious electrical outage, and the downed line itself could be extremely hazardous.

ADDITIONAL SAFETY TIPS:
• Use Power Tools Wisely
 Be sure wiring is in good condition and all circuits are grounded. Never use electric tools in the rain or on wet surfaces. Also, when buying new equipment, look for the "UL" seal of approval from Underwriters Laboratories.

• Keep Children Away from Electrical Outlets
 Don't let small children play near electrical outlets. A child could put some object in an outlet when you're looking away. A wise safety precaution would be to put safety caps in all wall outlets.

• Always Disconnect Cords by Pulling on the plug
 When disconnecting electrical items, be sure to pull on the plug — not the cord! If you pull on the cord, you'll eventually wear it out and expose hazardous wires. Also, don't overload extension cords or outlets.

READ: Luke 7:36-50

Jesus, the invited guest at a meal, finds Himself between two people. He loves them both but one of them loves Him more than the other. Simon the Pharisee is Jesus' host who was supposed to greet Him with a kiss of peace, give Him water to wash His dusty feet, and provide oil for His head. Simon does none of these things but is cold toward Jesus and keeps his distance. The other person, an uninvited woman, is known in town as a sinful woman, probably adulterous or a prostitute. She stands behind Jesus as He reclines for the meal, lets her tears fall on Jesus' feet, wipes them with her hair, and even kisses them.

We'd probably be embarrassed today by such an emotional outpouring, but we can't fail to see how deeply this woman is moved. Simon's reaction is quite different, he can't get over the fact that she's a known sinner. He thinks any "true" prophet of God would know what kind of woman was touching him and sending her away. When Jesus doesn't her away show any embarrassment, but accepts her service as an act of love, Simon is sure that Jesus doesn't know that she's a sinner. And so, in Simon's eyes, Jesus has failed the test.

Knowing what Simon is thinking Jesus responds by letting Simon put himself to the test by telling him a parable in verses 41 and 42. It's a simple question, so Simon answers casually and says he "supposes" that the man with the bigger debt will respond with more love. With Simon's answer Jesus has the basic to evaluate the actions and motivations of both Simon and the woman. It is also the basis for testing our own lives. Where there is little or no love, there's been little forgiveness received. Where much has been forgiven it shows up in much love. Then Jesus evaluates Simon as a host. He'd treated Jesus rudely, not even offering the simple courtesies expected of a host. Simon didn't love Jesus much. Why not? Jesus says it's because he'd been forgiven little. That doesn't mean that Simon had no sin to be forgiven, that he'd lived his life as God intended. No, Simon was a sinner - just as we are - and needed a Savior. The problem was that Simon didn't see himself as a "debtor". But before we pick up stones to throw at Simon, perhaps we should evaluate ourselves as well.

Why is it that our love for the Lord is so imperfect? Why is our worship so cold? Why is it that so many descriptions of the Christian life overflow with statements about what a person has done, or has to do - but show little or no thanks to the Lord and no particular love for the Lord? When that kind of lovelessness appears in our lives, when our worship, prayer live, and hearing of His Word becomes cold and thankless - then we need to get down on our knees in confession and sorrow for our sins. It's then that we need the light of God's Word to expose our sin, wherever it may be hiding. Then we need to let the judgement of God's Law bring our sins, in all their ugliness, out into the open.

So our Lord calls us, in our lovelessness, to repent - to confess our sin without excuse or defense - and to believe still more strongly in the forgiveness won by our Savior. When Jesus Christ said on the Cross: "It is Finished", the payment for all sins was made in full. Trust in the Lord who's provided for the full and complete forgiveness of all your sins. You can depend on that - with your life! If you want an example, the sinful woman is our model. The knowledge of her sins drove her to tears, but the knowledge of her Savior drove her to love. She didn't come to beg for forgiveness or to try to earn it. She came as a real life debtor who had been forgiven much. Jesus says her love came because she was forgiven.

Up to this time Jesus had been speaking to Simon about the women's love and Simon's lack of love. Now, finally, He speaks to the woman personally the absolution she'd heard earlier in Jesus' teaching and says to her: "Your sins are forgiven". Notice there is no condemnation, no test, no further requirements. The forgiveness Jesus gives to the woman will cost Him His life, yet He forgives her and sends her on her way with a blessing. Jesus said her faith had saved her. She believed Jesus, trusting in His promise of forgiveness, and with that faith held onto her Savior.

Don't ever think her forgiveness or salvation came because of her work of service. And don't ever think that your own forgiveness or salvation depends on your works or service. A lifetime of our goodness could never earn what Jesus' blood gives us as a gift. All our prayers, service, and works can never earn what Jesus' blood gives us as a gift. All our prayers, service, and works can never be enough to take the place of trust in our Redeemer. So throw away any question of "What do I have to do?", or "What do I have to give the Lord"? Why even ask how much you have to love the Lord? Instead, ask how much you've been forgiven, and trust in the Lord who's provided that forgiveness. Your faith in Him saves you - your love will follow.

You may not be washing the feet of your Lord, but whose feet can you be washing? Jesus says anything we do for others is done for Him. Let's show Him our love. Parents can show that love in the way they care for their children, and in the way they treat each other. All of you can be a friend to the person others turn away from. You can speak well of the person others only talk about. You can even be the one who heals the bitterness between yourself and your neighbor, between a Christian brother or sister. That's the power we experience as we join the sinful woman in adoring our Savior. That same forgiveness and love is the power for our service to others - our forgiveness to those who've hurt us, our tears of compassion for those who need us.

You see, we don't come to confess our sins and enjoy God's forgiveness only to act as if our faith is entitled to sit back and be as useless as a stone. No, Martin Luther said that faith is a 'living, busy, mighty, active thing.. It's impossible for it not to be doing good works continually. It doesn't ask if good works are to be done, but before the question is asked it has already done them and is always doing them.

So remember that the sinful woman is our model, who shows us the service, the devotion, and the love that overflows from a heart that's forgiven. She is our sister, and we take our place beside her, kneeling at our Lord's feet, and hearing Him say: "Your sins are forgiven. Your faith saved you. Go in peace". (verses 48,50)

Cholesterol Update

Much information has been circulating recently about dietary cholesterol and its link to arteriosclerosis and heart disease. Research finding by the National Institute of Health and Framingham Heart Study and similar studies were reported in the 1985 issue of the New England Journal of Medicine. All of their studies indicate that a diet low in cholesterol and fat can reduce heart attack risk.

WHAT IS CHOLESTEROL?

Cholesterol is a substance found in all foods and animal origin. Cholesterol is used by the body mainly to build cell walls and nerve fiber sheaths, and produce hormones. Cholesterol is not only consumed in the diet, but also produced by the body. It's important to note that even with an almost cholesterol-free diet, the liver manufactures all the cholesterol our body needs for life-sustaining functions.

But just as important as the amount of cholesterol in the diet is the amount of saturated fat consumed. A diet composed of high percentage of saturated fat can raise the level of cholesterol in the bloodstream, regardless of how much or how little cholesterol actually is consumed.

Saturated fats tend to be hard at room temperature and are found primarily in foods of animal origin, such as bacon, butter and beef. There are exceptions: Some vegetable fats--coconut and palm oils and cocoa butter--are also highly saturated.

Desserts lovers will be pleased to note that cocoa contains low fat and can be used in recipes in combination with unsaturated shortenings. Cocoa is, in fact, allowed in the American Heart Association diet. Yet diet is only one piece of the cholesterol puzzle. Exercise also plays an important part. According to National Institute of Health researchers, regular sustained part. exercise--at least 20 minutes four times a week--raises the level of protective HDL cholesterol.

So what's the best way to protect yourself without giving up all your favorite foods and living in a gym?

The American Heart Association recommends moderate, not drastic dietary changes. The key here is moderation; it is not advisable or even possible to eliminate cholesterol and saturated fats completely.

RECOMMENDATIONS INCLUDE:

Limit consumption of red meat to three ounces of lean, well-trimmed portions on an occasional basis;

Eat more poultry (skin removed) and fish;

Eat no more than two to four egg yolks a week (the yolk of one large egg contains 252mg of cholesterol);

Limit consumption of hard cheeses (three-fourths of the calories come from fat, most of it saturated);

Avoid fried foods and limit use of fats in cooking;

Eat more fruits and vegetables;

Eat more meatless meals and moderately increase consumption of complex carbohydrates. Pasta is an excellent meal choice, since it contains no cholesterol and combines well with protein sources, such as fish, as well as herbs and vegetables.

All of the experts agree that the earlier in life diet and fitness are made a priority, the greater the benefits are likely to be, since the artery-clogging process begins in childhood and gets progressively worse over the years. But "older" Americans take heart, there is much encouraging evidence that adopting a "healthy" lifestyle even in midlife may prevent damage and partially reverse it.

Square dancing has it all

Through the ages dancing has been a necessary element in people's lives. Dance has been used to celebrate the harvest, pray for rain, prepare for battle and as a pure form of rhythmic expression. Dance is older than spoken words, for it has described man's hope, joy, grief, and despair.

The Spanish Hour of Praise ended the day's activities with a large number of visitors attending.

Pauline Clinton won the Westerman gift certificate in Friday's bingo. Other winners included Jesus Hernandez, Juana Hernandez, Theo Burns, Emma Taylor and Aice Ross. Volunteers were Dorothy Doll, Lillian Tambunga and Anna Bell Patrick.

Sunday's worship service was presented by Rev. Ken Harrison of the United Methodist Church. A short visitation followed.

Dancing is open to all people, but the joy in experiencing relationships with others comes with close unity in square dancing. A square is like a small community: each person giving and sharing his feelings with others through participation. This superb exercise can and does build self-confidence by developing individuality through creative happy movement. Square dancing helps to give people a sense of belonging and personal worth, plus an awareness for learning consideration of others and accepting responsibility in a group situation.

The body's systems function better when it's in good physical condition. Dancing is not the only body action that contributes to good physical fitness, but it is adaptable to any age and facility.

Learning to dance together also helps give people a feeling of unity, especially when overcoming shyness and clumsy moments.

Levis and Lace is the local club, dancing twice a month at the United Methodist Church. Since September is National Square Dance Month, classes are being offered. Visit open house Saturday, Sept. 13, at 8:00 p.m.

BACK TO THE BOOKS

Most of you who've ventured out into the county for a little dove shooting have found exactly that - a little. The rains have turned every flat rock into a water hole, thereby scattering the birds to the point that there are virtually no concentrations to speak of. There were some early arrivals from the north right at the beginning of last week, but for the most part, we're still seeing more native doves than big, fat, grain-fed birds from the Panhandle and points north.

The only near limits I found opening day were out on the Pecos River south of McCamey, and they came in late in the day to a waterhole nestled in heavy salt cedars. (All the rain in the valley runs off into the river; hence, not much standing water in that area.)

A cool front or two should bring in some more action, and I'll try to keep you posted if the picture changes.

Remember last week's column about the replacement value/restocking fees charged to people illegally removing wildlife from the State? Well, that isn't restricted to deer poachers and game hogs.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and the State Attorney General's Office recently sent a bill to the Southern Pacific Railroad for $117,049.29 to cover the cost of restocking 22 miles of fish population in the Medina River that was wiped out due to a train derailment and subsequent release of harmful chemicals into that public tributary. No doubt the train derailment was accidental, (though negligent), but apparently their solution to the problem (dumping lime into the stream to neutralize the acid spilled) only aggravated an already bad situation. Obviously, nobody is exempt from responsibility where depletion of our natural resources is concerned. The outcome of this case should be very interesting. I'll report as things progress, but don't expect to see any settlements real soon.

Hoo Boy! - If I found a bill like that in my box, you'd hear me all the way to the Civic Center!

Lots of Ozona folks were wondering last week what the fire truck was doing on 11th Street three evenings in a row, so for those who did the right thing and kept on driving, I'll tell you.

Those tall pecan trees seem to be a favorite place in the area for buzzards to spend the night. A few buzzards in a tree aren't any real problem -- till a few turn into 30 or 40. Then the mess and the smell get to be a health hazard. Knowing that buzzards are protected by state and federal law, some of the residents wisely turned the problem over to You Know Who.

Now two years ago when we had this problem, 'ole You Know Who, aided by the Crockett County Sheriff's Department, was able to move out the unwanted tenants with three or four nights of noise-makers. But this year the noise-makers seem to bother the lessors more than the lessees, so we had to try something new. The good 'ole Ozona Fire Department came to the rescue with their version of a lawn sprinkler, a cannon that puts out I think they said about two tons a minute. Seems buzzards (like some other folks I know!) don't like mid-week baths, so they relinquished their perches in search of more hospitable accommodations for the night. Time will tell if they'll realize they've worn out their welcome and stay away, but at least Mrs. Humphreys got her lawn watered!

In all seriousness, there's a point that needs to be made here. The wildlife of this State was here long before most of us. And whether we're talking about buzzards in the trees or deer in the flowerbeds, we need to accept our responsibility as stewards of the land and find ways to live with the creatures that live around us - not annihilate them when they get in our way. Look at legality and morality, call me if I can help, and let your conscience be your guide.

Many thanks to the boys at the Fire Department. I hope you all know they do the things they do for us out of the goodness of their hearts and on their own time. By the way, Doris Haire just had one comment: "I heard of the fire department getting a cat out of a tree, but this deal takes the cake!" Jim Gray from First Baptist Church had a solution to the problem: "I'll just preach a sermon to those birds, and when they fall asleep, we can put 'em in boxes and ship 'em out to Australia." Come to think about it, Bro. Jim, that just might work!

WTU customers receive refunds

West Texas Utilities customers this month are receiving refunds and also paying less for the electricity they use.

The double-barreled relief comes from a continued decline in the Company's boiler fuel costs, which by law are passed on to the customers. The Company is refunding over $5 million--an average of about $11 per customer--in retail revenues collected in excess of actual fuel costs over the past several months. At the same time, the amount charged customers for fuel is being reduced.

The fuel cost refund is the third within about a year for WTU, thanks mainly to the decline in the price of natural gas, WTU's main boiler fuel. A further decline in fuel costs is expected when WTU's new coal-burning Oklaunion Power Station goes on line late this year.

"The cheaper coal should partially offset an anticipated increase in base rates necessary to pay the plant's construction costs," Don Welch of Abilene, vice president and director of customer services, said.

Welch said the new fuel cost factor, which was set by the Public Utility Commission at WTU's request, brings WTU's standard residential summer rate down below average for investor-owned utilities in Texas.

WTU customer now will pay $72.59 for 1,000 kilowatt-hours, compared to $80.01 under the old fuel cost factor, and $40.55 for 500 kilowatt-hours compared to $44.26. The average reported by the PUC for eight investor-owned utilities in August was $76.55 for 1,000 KWh and $40.72 for 500 KWh.

WTU's average rates for an entire year now are even lower. Including both summer and winter rates, the 12-month average would be $68.84 for 1,000 KWh and $38.67 for 500 KWh. The summer rates run from May 1 through October and were established by the PUC to encourage

The program on Sept. 11 will be presented by Tony Chambless with Boy Scouts of America.

Club members discussed the pancake supper that will be held before the football game on Sept. 19. Pancakes with all the trimmings will be served for $3.00 per plate or $3.25 for takeout orders. The cooks will begin serving all comers at 5:30 until 7:30 p.m.

Proceeds will fund worthwhile Lions' activities such as the eyeglass program.

Pam Duncan loves teaching sixth grade

A summer of outlining chapters and making lesson plans has been a dream come true for Pam Duncan, the Ozona schools' new sixth grade science teacher.

"It's hard to think of it as a job," Pam said. "It's easier than student teaching."

Pam graduated from Abilene Christian University in May and married Ozona's athletic trainer, Mark Duncan, in June. Her teaching fields are elementary education and math.

Although her student teaching was with second graders at Jackson Elementary in Abilene, she likes the sixth grade.

"I can remember being in junior high and thinking that moving around from one classroom to another was the neatest thing," Pam said.

A native of Santa Fe, Texas, which is located between Houston and Galveston, Pam took summer classes for college credit while she was a high school junior and senior. She planned to sail through college in three years.

The three-year plan was scrapped when the state education reforms began. "My class was the first affected by the Pre-professional Skills Test (PPST) and the EXCET requirements," she said. "I've wanted to be a teacher ever since I was in the second grade, but the new tests made me wonder for a while."

At one time Pam thought she would continue college for a master's degree before teaching, but Mark changed that.

Pam met her future husband about the time he was graduating from ACU two and a half years ago. He came to the Ozona school system immediately after graduation. "The phone bills and gas bills are a lot lower now that we are married," she said.

A master's degree may be in the future after all as Pam and Mark are both contemplating summer classes at Angelo State University. Pam will study for a counseling degree or another in education. But, for now, the sixth grade is enough.

"I love it," Pam says.

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

GENERAL ELECTION

NOVEMBER 4, 1986

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 15 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among the counties in which the property of the railroad is located for purposes of property taxation, and would delete the requirement that the Comptroller participate in making the allocation. To comply with both statutory and constitutional law, the apportionment currently is being made by the State Property Tax Board in conjunction with the Comptroller.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among counties for purposes of property taxation."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 33 proposes a constitutional amendment that would replace the constitutional requirement that the subject of a bill be expressed in its title with a mandate that each house of the legislature adopt rules of procedure that would require the subject of each bill to be expressed in its title in a manner that gives the legislature and the public reasonable notice of that subject. Determining compliance with the rule would be the responsibility of the legislature. Currently, a law is invalidated if a court finds its caption is defective. The amendment would provide that past and future enactments may not be held void on the basis of an insufficient title.

The amendment also would eliminate the suggestion that the state's laws be revised every ten years, and instead would provide for continuing revision of state laws.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment requiring each house to include in its rules of procedure a rule that each bill contain a title expressing the bill's subject, and providing for the continuing revision of state laws."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 73 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the Legislature to authorize any county, city, town, or other political subdivision to use public funds or credit to pay insurance premiums on nonassessable life, health, or accident policies. Due to the prohibition in the constitution against the lending of credit and granting of public money, political subdivisions currently are prohibited from becoming shareholders in associations such as mutual-insurance companies, in which policyholders are shareholders. A nonassessable mutual insurance policy does not allow a company to raise capital by assessing the policyholder an extra amount on a premium. This amendment will allow mutual insurance companies and stock companies to bid for life and health group policies of political subdivisions. Public liability will be limited to the payment of premiums specified in the contract.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing political subdivisions the opportunity to engage in and transact business with authorized mutual insurance companies in the same manner as with other insurance companies."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment that would repeal the prohibition against branch banking by state banks and would allow state banks and national banks domiciled in this state to establish and operate banking facilities at locations within the county or city where they are domiciled. The amendment would also authorize the Legislature to permit a state bank or a national bank domiciled in this state to engage in business at more than one place if it acquires a failed state bank or national bank domiciled in this state.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide that a bank may offer full service banking at more than one location within the city or county where its principal facility is located, subject to limitations and restrictions provided by law."

Skills for a lifetime taught by Brent Poole

Agriculture is not just "cows, plows and sows" anymore according to Brent Poole, new ag teacher at Ozona High School. The Abilene native's goal is to give his students not only something they can use now, but skills and knowledge which will stay with them.

"Just because kids didn't grow up on a ranch doesn't mean they can't get something out of this," said Poole of the four year ag program at OHS.

Electricity, plumbing, arc welding, repair of small gas engines, and surveying are some of the subjects studied in ag. Animal, plant and soil science will round out the classes for Poole's students.

The students raise livestock in a feed lot situation "to realize what it is really about," said Poole. Youngsters buy their project animals at market price, have feed lot costs, and get market price when they sell.

"Girls can get just as much out of ag as boys can," says Poole. In addition to practical knowledge, leadership training through the Future Farmers of America Chapter prepares young people to meet and work with their peers and with adults. FFA members have opportunity to compete at the district level and possibly advance to area and state in livestock and range judging, radio, and leadership competition.

Poole is experienced in training winners. During his four years on the Miles I.S.D. faculty, he had a state winner in ag mechanics, four area livestock and poultry judging teams, was advisor to 11 Lone Star Farmers, one American Farmer and four Houston Livestock Show scholarship winners.

The Abilene native is a 1982 graduate of Tarleton University at Stephenville. Poole comes from a family of teachers. His mother has been an elementary principal for a number of years, an uncle is a superintendent. He has a brother who coaches and sisters and cousins who are teachers. His father, the only member of the family not in teaching, is employed with the telephone company in Abilene.

Poole's wife, Brenda, has a degree in finance/real estate, but she, too, plans to become a teacher. She is currently driving to San Angelo daily to practice teach. Upon completion, she will have earned her certification in math and business.

Building a strong ag program at OHS is Poole's aim. "You won't get rich, but I enjoy it," said Poole of his chosen profession.

Lion J.V. throttles Iraan for 2-0 opening win

By Cople Davis

The Ozona Lion Junior Varsity took the field with a vengeance for Thursday's home opener against Iraan. With the memory of a 3-7 season a year ago still etched in their minds, the Lions proceeded to roll up nearly 200 yards total offense and two touchdowns while completely dominating Iraan on defense.

"This is what Lion's football is all about!" an elated Brant Myers, J.V. offensive coordinator said after the final seconds ticked off the clock.

The game began slowly in the first quarter, but at the 7:19 mark in the second quarter, Richard Borrego bolted 40 yards down the right sideline setting up a two yard T.D. plunge by George Ybarra who recently rejoined the team after a two week battle with a knee injury. The P.A.T. was unsuccessful, and Ozona took a six point lead.

Just when Ozona fans began to relax, Iraan marched down the field on a 61 yard drive culminating with an 18 yard touchdown pass over the Lion secondary. The extra point try was hooked left of the uprights, and the two squads entered the locker room at halftime in a 6-6 stalemate.

As the second half unwound, the Iraan Braves unraveled, turning the ball over on an interception by Oscar Galindo enabling the Lions to ice the victory.

The Lions took control as "tough-as-nails" running back George Ybarra scored his second touchdown of the night by rambling five yards at the 4:09 mark in the fourth quarter. Chris Denman then hooked up with Philip Munoz on the two point conversion making the score 14-6. This proved to be the last score of the game as the J.V. defense rose up and stymied Iraan to save Ozona's first win of the year.

The Lions' next test will be in two weeks on Thursday, Sept. 18, against I-10 rival Sonora.

SEPTEMBER IS ADULT LITERACY AWARENESS MONTH

Starting in September, with the support of approximately 100 national organizations, the Public Broadcasting Service and the American Broadcasting Corporation will launch a major media campaign designed to raise awareness and initiate new programs aimed at the problem of adult illiteracy in the United States. This joint project, titled P.L.U.S. - Project Literacy U.S., will be launched on television programs through the month of September.

In Texas, ABC and PBS, with the assistance of the State Department of Education, have formed P.L.U.S. task forces involving a broad variety of public and private entities in assisting in the awareness campaigns, and in developing local responses and solutions to the problem. Task forces in Texas are in Houston, Dallas/Fort Worth, San Antonio, Austin, El Paso, Corpus Christi, Harlingen, Waco, Lubbock, College Station and Odessa. Those seeking more information or interested in becoming involved in the effort should contact the adult education director of the cooperative serving their area, or their area PBS station.

Locally, in Ozona, we have an adult literacy program already in progress. Sponsored by the Big Country Library System and the Crockett County Public Library, and taught by a Laubach tutor, Mrs. Joan Nicholas. She has several students, and the program is working very well. More tutors are needed to expand the program and make this service available to more adults who want to learn to read and write English. A tutor workshop is in the planning stage, so all interested persons should call Mrs. Nicholas or the public library for more details.

Let's make September 1986 a month to remember. Join in and support your local adult literacy program.

Library Board has new president

Sherry York, librarian at Ozona High School, has been named president of the board of directors for Crockett County Public Library. Mrs. York replaces Mrs. Sherry Scott, new principal at the Intermediate School.

"I have always loved libraries and reading. My years of work in the educational field have convinced me that without reading, learning is very difficult," said Mrs. York.

The new board president has been a teacher for five and one-half years. She holds a Bachelor of Art in English and speech, a Master of Art in English and a Master of Education in administration, all from Sul Ross. Graduate courses have also been completed at Our Lady of the Lake in San Antonio and Texas A&I University in Kingsville.

In addition to teaching English, speech and reading, Mrs. York has been employed as reading coordinator and Right to Read director at the Edcouch-Elsa I.S.D. She was editor of audio-visual programs at Creative Visuals in Big Spring, a division of Gamco Industries. She has been a librarian four years at La Joya High School and four years at Ozona High.

"I am very pleased to be a part of the growth of the Crockett County Public Library," said Mrs. York. "We have seen the library grow from one room in the high school to an attractive, inviting library that the citizens of Crockett County can be proud of."

This growth has been the result of much work and effort on the part of many people. The county commissioners, the library board, volunteers in the Friends of the Library, librarian Louise Ledoux, and assistant librarian Ninfa Fierro all have helped to make the library what it is today.

We will be celebrating the anniversary of our first year in operation soon. The library board looks with pride at our lovely library which is being so well used by so many people. The community response has been outstanding, and I'm sure the library will continue to grow and expand as needs arise. It is a pleasure to be part of this process."

Mrs. York is married to Donnie York, librarian and computer literacy teacher at the Ozona Middle School.

Wayne Baize exhibit at Library

Crockett County Library offers a rare treat this month with an exhibit of western prints by Wayne Baize.

The art of cowboy artist Wayne Baize has a double-edged appeal. Not only is it in a popular field, western art, but it attracts people in the East and other places who are not ordinarily interested in horse and cattle pictures.

Baize manages to capture in his art the delicate balance between nature and man as well as the simplicity of life with livestock. His success in doing this may be noted in the appeal to a wide spectrum of the art buying public.

A native West Texan, Baize now lives near Fort Davis where he ranches and draws his quiet pictures of horsemen, cattle, burros and other western subjects.

At first Baize produced only original art. He was contacted by Frame House Gallery in 1973 about making a print of one of his paintings. At the time Frame House was a leading print producer, but Wayne was skeptical. He agreed to the print production thinking that they were good advertisement for the originals.

Baize was amazed to learn that some artists make livings by producing prints. Now, he has joined the ranks of those who do.

A print entitled "Range Baby" was one of the first produced by Frame House in an edition of 500 and selling for $50. The edition took a long time to sell.

"Range Baby" is a drawing of a Hereford calf dozing in the grass in front of a blooming yucca plant. To date it is the most successful of Baize's prints. If one can find one for sale, the price is $2,200 to $2,400 now.

Frame House produced 11 other paintings in limited print editions as well. All are sold out. These sold out editions were priced from $30 to $55 per print originally and took a long time to sell. Now, they are worth many times that and continue to increase in value.

One of the things Baize enjoyed about his association with Frame House was meeting many other artists in other fields. Along the way he met and became friends with Danny Fenton of Fenton-Whitehead Galleries in San Angelo.

Fenton seemed to sell more of Wayne's prints than anyone else. Wayne wanted to keep building the print market and Danny Fenton offered some good ideas. Now, only Fenton publishes Baize's prints and markets them. Fenton does not publish prints for anyone else.

Plans are to come out with three prints per year and gradually go up with edition numbers to a stabilization point.

Interestingly enough, some art buyers purchase one of every print that Wayne produces. Some of them claim that these are investments, but they don't seem to sell them. Most of the prints are hanging on someone's wall instead of being stored in a vault.

Wayne still sells many original paintings. However, he admits that he feels more pressure when he knows the particular painting on which he is working will become a print.

Baize says that he always liked drawing. He just never knew that one could earn a living doing drawings. He still has not mastered oil painting. He works with pencils. When the public wanted color, he found that colored pencils suited his work best. Oils seem to favor a bolder style.

Now, Baize works in mixed media, colored pencils with acrylic highlights, which give the softness and subtlety characteristic of his work.

Wayne spends many hours making photographic slides on his ranch and those of his neighbors. Often he works as a regular hand on the ranches in the Fort Davis and Alpine area. He studies his reference slides until he comes up with an idea he likes. He may take the horse and rider from one slide, use the cattle from another, and a mountain from yet another.

The pictures usually take four or five days to complete. He is always hoping to get better.

Though Wayne still finds challenge in his efforts to better his art, his biggest challenge in the art world is in meeting the public. He is as shy and reserved as his art. He enjoys meeting people; however, the art show atmosphere is not a comfortable one for him.

"But, I'm getting better; that is part of the business."

WE'RE LOOKING FORWARD TO SERVING YOU.

YOUR NEW CADILLAC DEALER... BUTTERY MOTOR CO.

We feel both proud and privileged to be the new Cadillac dealer in your community. Because selling and servicing an American standard for the world requires a unique kind of responsibility and commitment.

A responsibility for giving you the extra preferential treatment you deserve as a Cadillac owner. And a commitment to Complete Customer Satisfaction, beginning the moment you walk through our door.

A prime example of our dedication is Cadillac's Gold Key Delivery System, which is unique in the luxury car field. It begins with a comprehensive inspection of your vehicle before you even see it. That's followed by an orientation drive with your sales representative. Two sets of 23-karat gold-plated keys, with a personalized Gold Key Identification Card and more.

It's just what you'd expect from a luxury leader. Visit our new dealership and take a demonstration drive in any great new Cadillac. Once you do, we think you'll agree: Best of all... it's a Cadillac.
