Football Season Opens Friday

It's football time again! Tomorrow, Friday, September 13, the Muleshoe Mules will play their first game of the 1968 season against the Dimmitt Bobcats.

Last year, on September 8, the Mules won their game against the Bobcats by a last-ditch score of 14-13. Held scoreless going into the fourth quarter, the Mules, led by Terry Field, scored the first touchdown with Bobby Julian kicking the extra point. Then, with only seven minutes to play, Field passed to Julian and tied the score at 13-13. Julian saved the night and the game, with a powerful kick that brought the Mules out in the winning slot, 14-13.

Although Terry Field and Bobby Julian are both graduated from school now, eleven lettermen are returning for the 1968 season.

Athletic Director Dick Stafford told the Journal that he is 'hopeful' for a better season than last year. He said, "the boys have worked hard and their attitude is outstanding."

According to Stafford, Dimmitt has nine starters back from last year and should be a strong team. He expects another real close game with them.

Two new teams have been added to the roster this year to see action with the Mules. On September 20, Abernathy will be here for a non-conference game at 8 p.m. Portales, previously not in the AAA class will play the Mules in a conference game here on October 11 at 8:30 p.m.

Roger Swint, Charles Beamon and Roe Pat Riley are captains of the Mules.

Ronnie Barrett, who has been out of practice much of the time since it started with a leg injury, has now resumed practice and will be offensive quarterback when the season starts Friday. Other offensive players will include:

Ford Supports Standard Time

Campaigning in Friona and Lazbuddie this week, State Representative candidate Frank Ford pledged to seek to return Texas to standard time on a year-around basis.

"Daylight savings time is highly unpopular in this district and in this state," said Ford. "And it is much more than just a nuisance to our people."

"There is physical danger to school children who are forced to get out on the bus routes in the dark on early mornings after having to go to bed often with the sun coming in the window. Farmers who work by the sun often need parts but find supply houses closed with the sun still high in the sky. Also, many businesses have been severely hurt by this foolish legislation."

Ford charged that "The le-

TOMATO PICKING--This is fast becoming a familiar sight around Muleshoe as several hundred acres of tomatoes are reaching the gathering stages. This truck is being loaded from a field of Roma tomatoes grown by Kenneth Hanks, pictured in center on the truck. The crop of tomatoes has been contracted to Schmieding Bros. and will be sent to Plainview Canning Company. Hanks said this was one of the best crops of tomatoes he had raised. Workers shown with Hanks are from Sudan. They are Oscar Hernandez, Joe Trevino and Isreal Hernandez.

Deadline for History Sunday

For several months now staff member of the Muleshoe Publishing Company have been compiling information and records to chronicle in hard-back book form, a history of Bailey County and its pioneers.

With the September 15 deadline approaching for submitting personal histories to the Journal, many pioneers have not submitted their stories.

In an effort to secure all histories possible, the Muleshoe Publishing Company has had interviewers working, seeing as many people as possible and securing all information made available to them.

Each telephone number listed in Bailey County has been called in an effort to contact every pioneer, or descendant of a pioneer, for their own story. Hundreds of questionnaire forms have been mailed, both in the county and far away. Interviewers have driven many miles and contacted many people. . . but we still don't have all the histories.

Perhaps it does not mean so much now, but in years to come, as the pioneers are dwindling more each year, it becomes more and more important to have this history chronicled for your children, your grandchildren and your great-grandchildren. Otherwise, how can they realize the joys and the hardships of great-grandfather in his effort to pioneer virgin land and tame it into the great irrigation farm land our country is today?

Dimmitt Lions Welcome Mules

Chief Boss Lion of Dimmitt Bo Bryant, a former Muleshoe resident, announced that Dimmitt Lions Club is issuing an invitation to all Muleshoe Mule boosters to attend their 'honored' Pancake Supper Friday night before the Muleshoe-Dimmitt football game scheduled for 8 p.m. kickoff.

Muleshoe-ites are especially invited to come to the South Grade School cafeteria, just east of football stadium. The meal starts at 5:30 p.m. Tickets are $1 for adults and 75¢ for students.

Tickets may be bought at the

If your story is not at the Journal office by September 15, it will not be possible to include it in the book. If you have not been contacted, either in person, by telephone or by mail, call the Journal for information as time grows short.

Rep. Clayton On Law Committee

State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake, Texas, has been named to a special committee to study Texas Liquor Laws pertaining to the financial involvement between establishments that serve alcoholic beverages and their suppliers.

Clayton was a member of the State Affairs Committee panel that recommended reforms to the State Liquor Control Act to the special session of the Legislature in June. The measures were approved in the House of Representatives, but failed to pass in the Senate.

Clayton's appointment was announced in Austin by House

Speaker Ben Barnes and Representative Dick Cory of Victoria, Chairman of the House State Affairs Committee.

After his appointment to the committee, Clayton said it was his hope that the study would result in recommendations to the 61st Legislature, which meets in January, of liquor control laws that would provide much stronger controls on the consumption of alcoholic beverages, particularly pertaining to sales to minors and that would prohibit or ganzed crime from entering the liquor and beer industry in Texas.

COMPLETES TRAINING--Joel Young has been stationed here with the Texas Department of Public Safety as a Highway Patrolman after completing 17 weeks schooling at Austin. He was formerly with the Clovis Police Department before entering training school for the Texas Highway Patrol. The new state patrolman moved to Muleshoe recently with his wife, Pat, and they attend the Trinity Baptist Church. The couple live at 406 Avenue F. Apartment B. Young joins Texas Highway Patrolman Gene Sisemore on duty here.

Bailey Taxpayers Place Stamp of Approval

Both city and county resident voters gave the "green light" to all bond issues put before them for a vote in the city-county elections held Tuesday, September 10.

The most outstanding voice of opinion was noted in the passage of the county issue for a new law enforcement center to house all departments of county, city and state officers, dispatchers, Drivers License Division and a new county jail.

The vote totaled a fraction over 6 to 1 in favor of the construction of the proposed county center.

Total tabulation shows that 675 persons voted for the issue while 168 voted against it. The issue carried all boxes within the county with the exception of Bula where the vote was 17 for and 20 against the jail bond issue.

Other voting boxes were Precinct 1: For, 412; Against, 76; Precinct 1-A: For, 164; Against, 28; West Camp: For, 25; Against, 18; Mays: For, 9; Against, 2; Three Way: For, 23; Against, 8; Needmore: For, 13; Against, 12 and over all absentee voting totaled 12 for and four against.

Mrs. Wiedebush Injured in Wreck Sunday Night

Mrs. Roudolph Wiedebush remains in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, where she was taken for treatment following an accident which halted a blockaway from the first impact late Sunday night in Lubbock.

Tuesday reports show that Mrs. Wiedebush was in collision with a car occupied by four members of a church youth choir.

The impact of the first accident threw the injured driver to the floor, pinning her against the accelerator. The car raced out of control across West 34th Street and Salem Avenue and following that, the Wiedebush car went into its block-long course.

Mrs. Wiedebush, southbound, veered to the east side of Salem and onto the Furr's No. 2 parking lot. It smashed a Goodwill Industries collection box and scattered clothes and toys over a 100-yard strip.

Then the car swerved back to the right, crossed 34th Street and went into the parking lot of the Imperial automatic laundry and Mr. Pronto Restaurant, 4533 West 34th Street.

One of the four cars it hit, a station wagon, was knocked into a plate glass window of the laundry, breaking it.

Mrs. Wiedebush was still pinned to the floorboard when the run-away car came to a halt. She was taken to Methodist Hospital for X-rays and treatment.

Farmers Union Voice Concern

An official in the state Farmers Union office at Waco has expressed concern over what he considers "widespread misunderstanding" by farmers and the general public which confuses National Farmers Union (NFU) with a midwest-based protest movement, because of similarity of names.

The spokesman for the Texas affiliate of the National Farmers Union, its state president, Jay Naman of Waco, issued the following statement:

"Texas Farmers Union is an affiliate of National Farmers Union which has been a spokesman for farm and ranch producers for over sixty years. It is not a secret organization. Both state and national organizations are legally chartered and the number of members which compose our state and national organization is public information.

"Our program objectives are developed by our membership through democratic process at the state and national convention. The officials of the Farmers Union must be responsive to what the policies adopted by the membership. Farmers Union is an organization--not a protest movement.

"We do not make any exaggerated claims as to what we accomplish for our members or offer panaceas for the troubles in agriculture.

"We do not offer any quick, simple solutions for the com-

Field Day Set For Thursday

Cliff Chamberlain, Executive Director of Water, Inc., will be guest speaker during the evening program at the 12th annual Field Day on September 12 at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway.

This portion of the program has been scheduled from 5 to 6 p.m. and will include a drawing for door prizes, a welcome from Harold Hinn, the introduction of guests and trustees. Frank Moore will be in charge of introductions.

Staff members will be introduced to the group attending by Dr. T.C. Longnecker and the conclusion of the day of events will be the drawing for a 1968 Plymouth Roadrunner.

Homer Garrison will act as Master of Ceremonies.

Called the West Texas "Farm Fair", activities will unroll with the crowd expected to number around 4,000 area residents as it has in the past. The

14 Million Bales Set As 1969 Cotton Goal

Current indications are that the goal for cotton production in 1969 will be set by the U.S. Department of Agriculture in the neighborhood of 14 million bales, according to Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Johnson commented on prospects for increased cotton acreage and production at a meeting August 22 of the Plains Ginners Association Board of Directors.

He pointed out that if projections of 1968 production and 1968-69 consumption prove correct the carryover of cotton on August 1, 1969 will be down to below 4 million bales.

The carryover of cotton on August 1, 1968 was 6.3 million bales, and USDA is estimating this year's production to be in the neighborhood of 10.9 million. This total of 16.2 million, plus the normal "city crop" and imports of about 100,000 bales, would give a total U.S. supply of 17.3 million bales from which to satisfy domestic and export demands to August 1, 1969.

Many observers in the trade and at mills are guessing 1968-69 consumption by domestic and export markets at around 13.5 million, which if correct, would bring the August 1, 1969 carryover down to 3.8 million.

The big factor determining the level of plantings in 1969 will of course be the provisions of the 1969 cotton program.

USDA must declare marketing quotas and announce major details of the 1969 program by October 15 of this year.

"And unless something unexpected happens between now and that time to change their thinking, officials are certain to be shooting for increased acreage and production when they make their announcement," Johnson said.

There are two areas in which the Secretary of Agriculture has authority to make changes in the cotton program that would be calculated to bring about increased plantings.

The simplest change and the one that can be made without affecting other payments or provisions of the program, and therefore the most likely, is a lowering or elimination of the payment made for acreage voluntarily diverted from cotton production.

This payment was 6 cents per pound times projected yield times acreage voluntarily diverted in 1968 when producers across the belt diverted 22 per cent of allotments.

In 1967, when the voluntary diversion payment was 10.78 cents per pound, the national average diversion rate was 33 per cent.

Also, the Secretary of Agriculture

Muleshoe Cheerleaders and members of Muleshoe high school met at the Corral Drive-In Sunday at 2:30 and left to gather wood for the bonfire which will be held prior to the Friday night football game with Dimmitt to be played in Dimmitt.

Muleshoe Art Association donated money to Muleshoe high school to buy a painting that won first place at the 1968 Art Association exhibit sponsored by Muleshoe Art Association. Mrs. Bernard Phelps' painting won first place and the title of her painting is "Picked Just for You." Mrs. Phelps presented the painting to the school last week in general assembly before the student body and faculty. Mrs. A.S. Stovall accepted it on behalf of the school. Mrs. Stovall is High School librarian.

Culture has the option to reduce or do away with mandatory diversion. This year producers were required to divert at least 5 per cent of their allotments in order to qualify as cooperators under the program. The maximum mandatory diversion under the present law is 12.5 per cent and that was also set in 1967 as the minimum diversion level for cooperators.

But if the Secretary requires no diversion at all he will be forced by the so-called Ellender amendment to raise either the price support payment or the loan level. The Ellender amendment specifies that the price support loan plus the price support payment, which is made only on the domestic portion of each producer's allotment (65 per cent), must equal 65 per cent of parity on the "permissible" acreage.

If parity at the time provisions are announced in October remains at the current 44.66 cents, and if the Secretary requires no diversion of acreage the price support payment for 1969 with a 20.25 cent loan would have to be 14.3 cents per pound as compared to the 12.24 cent payment rate for this year.

The law also requires a mandatory diversion payment of not less than 25 per cent of parity, and if there is no mandatory diversion in 1969 the Government would save the 10.76 cents per pound paid on the 5 per cent diversion that was required this year to help offset the additional cost of price support payments.

Even if growers are required to divert 5 per cent of allotments, the higher parity in 1969 would push price support payments up to 13.6 cents per pound, assuming that the loan level is not raised.

Johnson was recently appointed to the National Cotton Advisory Committee which met prior to the announcement of cotton program provisions in 1967, and is of the opinion that this committee will be called together again next month for a discussion of 1969 provisions.

"A prime factor in the Secretary's decisions with regard to the 1969 cotton program will almost certainly be the overall cost to the Government," Johnson said, "but we will do all we can to prevent that factor from over shadowing the well-being of the U.S. cotton industry and its tremendous contribution to the U.S. economy."

licated problems of agriculture.

"We do not ask our members to wastefully destroy their commodities or create bitter local disputes that result in violence.

"We do not ask our members to sign contracts committing them to the performance of acts which they might find unwise or undesirable. We do not obligate them for the payment of fees or assessments in the future."

The Farmers Union spokesman warned farmers and ranchers who might be approached to sign contracts or so-called "marketing agreements" to question the content carefully and consult with professional legal counsel before signing. Naman said:

"I am afraid that farmers and ranchers may sign documents that will impose on them certain legal obligations and they might be unaware of the implications involved should they be in violation of anti-trust laws."

Field...

Field Day offers farmers, businessmen and industry officials a first hand opportunity to see results of the Foundation's work in more than 50 areas of research study.

Other features will include product and agricultural improvements displays showing the latest advancements in producing, harvesting and utilization of area agriculture products.

New displays will be an exhibit of cotton wardrobes arranged by the Hale County Cotton Promotion Association and a plan of water importation of the West Texas Area by Water, Inc. and area supported water importation organizations.

Other exhibits of area oil seed crops, grain sorghum, cotton and agricultural chemicals are being prepared for Field Day by members of the Foundation's special advisory committees.

LONGHORN CHEERLEADERS--Lazbuddie Longhorns will be backed by these cheerleaders as they meet New Home on the New Home gridiron Friday night. The cheerleaders are Ray-gena Trieder, Kathy Coker, Leatrice Gallman and Lee Ann Harlan. The girls are all ready for the season of play with their routines and attire.

Field Day activities begin at 1 p.m. with guided tours through Foundation research plots with members of the research staff describing results and programs of work underway at four stops during the tour.

The Mules have not been plagued with injuries this early in the season. They have been in daily practice sessions for some time now, and except for minor injuries, are all ready for the 1968 season, which they hope will be the biggest season for them in some years. Football coaches for the varsity team are Head Coach Dick Stafford, Royce Barnes and David Gibson.

gislators who forced this time change through were apparently more responsive to five weeks of lobbyist pressures than they were to the people who elected them and pay their salaries. "The people of this district were amazed", he continued, "When our incumbent representative became the chief sponsor and strategist for daylight savings time in Texas."

"Working in harmony with other responsible members of the Legislature, I believe we have a good chance to abolish daylight savings time in the coming session".

Anaplasmosis Found In Cattle

Anaplasmosis, a severe blood disease in cattle, has been reported in wide-spread areas of Texas by veterinarians. Dr. Milton Risinger of Kaufman, near Dallas, and Dr. Joseph Bitter of Edna, on the Gulf Coast, both reported numerous cases in their area of the state. Other veterinarians are seeing cases of anaplasmosis, including instances in east and central Texas counties, a Texas Veterinary Medical Association spokesman in Austin said.

The disease causes extreme anemia and death, if not detected early. The most effective safeguard against anaplasmosis is immunization with a recently released vaccine. Veterinarians are also able to use medication and blood transfusions for severely affected animals, according to T.V.M.A.

Cattlemen are urged to inspect their herds and immunize all animals since the disease is transmissible from one animal to another and is spread by flies, mosquitoes and ticks. Cattlemen are also warned that the vaccine must be used under completely sterile conditions to prevent spreading the disease.

Tarrant County Jail Launches Innovative Rehabilitation

Tarrant County Jail in Ft. Worth and Sheriff Lon Evans is being widely commended for a new, innovative rehabilitation effort in the Tarrant County Jail in the Tarrant County Jail.

The new education program being launched in cooperation with the Texas Employment Commission and is a vocational training which is believed to be one that merits the attention of the general public.

In the Vocational and academic training program, the first four weeks is devoted

Encephalomyelitis Outbreak

The Texas Veterinary Medical Association, citing findings by a veterinarian in West Texas, reports that equine (horse) encephalomyelitis has been discovered. The cases were reported in West Texas near Seminole by Dr. A.J. Mabry, a large animal practitioner in that area.

The disease, sometimes called sleeping sickness and Blind Stagers, is a virus perpetuated by small birds that carry a high concentration of the virus in their blood. The culex mosquito transmits the disease from the birds to horses and can also transmit it to man. Horses do not transmit the disease the Veterinary Medical Association says.

Encephalomyelitis is often fatal and may cause permanent brain damage to surviving animals. The T.V.M.A. said horse owners should vaccinate their animals and take mosquito control measures. August and September are especially critical months for the disease in all of Texas since mosquito population are found during these months. Vaccination of horses now and immediate mosquito control measures will help keep the disease from reaching epidemic proportions as was the case in 1967, the Veterinary Medical Association said.

Conservation, Big Business

Conservation is a big business. In fact it is one of the largest industries in Bailey County. It is estimated that at least $150,000.00 per year is pumped into the local economy as a result of earth moving, grass seeding, improved irrigation systems, and similar projects to protect and improve our land.

The Great Plains Program alone has quite an impact upon Bailey County. This program administered by the Soil Conservation Service is spending help install conservation measures about $67,000.00 per year to ranches. This figure is just the Federal cost share paid directly to the producers. It does not include costs the producers themselves will pay to the contractor, which will amount to well over $90,000.00.

Impressive as these figures are, they represent only a small part of the total benefit the community receives from conservation. It would be hard to estimate the value put on such things as lengthening our water supply, preventing wind and water erosion, and keeping our soil productive. All these activities help boost the income potential for Bailey County.

graduates of the County Jail's training programs. Hopefully, each inmate will have a good job waiting for him the day he is released.

The National Council on Crime and Delinquency congratulates Fort Worth on the step as everyone can benefit from this. The employer gets a well-trained employee, . . . the inmate has a second chance in life. He can learn a new trade so that he can successfully support himself and his family.

The council points out that each time a man is restored to a self-supporting man, it saves the tax paying citizen money.

Cotton Council Outlines 1969 Research Program

Reporting to the fall Board meeting of the National Cotton Council here today, staff members outlined a $10-million cotton research and promotion program for 1969.

The program will be executed by the Council for the Cotton Producers Institute and will be financed primarily by growers contributing $1 per bale under the Cotton Research and Promotion Act.

About 200 cotton industry leaders from the Lower Rio Grande Valley also heard the presentations.

Ernest Stewart, New York, the Council's director of promotion, said the CPI promotion budget for 1969 will be $6.6 million, as compared with $5.3 million this year.

David Hull, Memphis, the Council's market research director, reported on a study of 294 ads run by retail organizations cooperating in the CPI campaign. He said 85 percent of the buyers had increased sales and almost half sold out and had to reorder advertised items.

George S. Buck, Jr., Memphis, director of research, said results can be expected quicker as impact of 1968 and 1969 research expansion is felt. He pointed out that CPI's program for 1969 is almost $1 million greater than 1968 and that the effort this year was triple that of 1967.

Dr. M.K. Horne, Jr., Memphis, the Council's chief economist, said the low crop estimate and carryover of 6.7 million bales add up to the smallest U.S. cotton supply since the Korean War. The tight supply was described as the principal reason for cotton's exceptional losses to synthetic fibers.

"Except for this factor," Dr. Horne noted, "cotton has advantages which could score large market gains."

He listed comfort, versatility, favorable consumer attitudes, progress in research and promotion, and expanding consumption as advantages for cotton.

Read P. Dunn, Jr., Washington, executive director of the International Institute for Cotton, said many of the most experienced chemists and physicists in Europe are conducting fundamental research to overcome abrasion and strength loss in chemically finished cotton textiles.

Carl Campbell, Washington, director of foreign operations, emphasized that U.S. cotton must be competitive in price, quality, and availability on a continuing basis if a return to normal levels of exports is to be realized.

Earle Younts, Lubbock, southwest area supervisor, explained how industry members, representatives of allied groups, suppliers, and educational services have joined forces in an effort to get more cotton products stocked by retailers and sold to consumers.

Members of the Board toured the area, viewing agricultural and industrial operations in the Valley and in Mexico.

Abandoned Tunnel Looked

"That tunnel looked as though it hadn't been used in years," said the young soldier. "But it led way back into the hills where the Viet Cong shoot at the highway below."
 Specialist Four Gary L. Rudd, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Rudd, and wife, Sylvia, live in Sudan, was a member of a search team that discovered the tunnel that came right up beneath the barbed wire surrounding the compound of his 19th Engineer Battalion. The 21-year-old soldier is a demolitions specialist in the battalion Headquarters.
 Strange noises coming from the ground prompted the tunnel search. Some men said they heard scraping and bumping sounds beneath their bunkers. Other attributed the sounds to rats and one sergeant put his ear to a coke can on the ground and claimed he heard muffled voices.
 A large room was found in the tunnel but there was no sign of recent use.
 Spec. Rudd's team blew the tunnel with a case of high explosives. The noises were heard no more.
 The politicians are busy men this year saving us from the politicians.

Vice Admiral Charles K. Duncan, Chief of Naval Personnel, has announced that the 23rd annual national competitive examination for the Regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps (NROTC) will be given on 14 December 1968.

The Regular NROTC Program prepares a young man for a Navy or Marine Corps commission while he is studying at one of 53 civilian colleges. All tuition, fees, uniforms, and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives $50.00 per month subsistence allowance for not more than four years. During the summers between academic years, the student participates in interesting as-sea training periods as a Midshipman. After successfully completing a baccalaureate level college course and all military requirements, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps.

Eligible high school seniors and graduates should submit their applications before 15 November 1968. Application forms are available from high school counselors and Navy Recruiting Stations, or from Chief of Naval Personnel (Pers-B6411), Department of the Navy, Washington, D.C., 20370.

Defoliation Can Be Worthwhile

COLLEGE STATION,-- Bottom defoliation of cotton can prove to be worth the time and expense, as it may increase both the yield and quality of the crop, says Fred C. Elliott, Extension cotton specialist at Texas A&M University.

Timing of defoliant application to the entire plant for high yields has to be a compromise between top crop maturity and bottom crop deterioration. Thus, while the top bolls are maturing the bottom bolls may be exposed to four to six weeks of weathering before it is finally picked.

Little benefit is obtained from bottom defoliation if there is a small bottom crop. But in the case of a heavy bottom crop, there is a consistent advantage of preparing for early bottom harvesting, says Elliott.

Best time for application and height of spraying depends on the purpose of the application. Bottom defoliation to prepare for early bottom harvesting should be delayed until 20 percent of the cotton opens and green bolls are firm and mature up to a height of two feet. For boll rot control the best time is just before the early bolls start to open if humid conditions exist in the lower plant zone. Spray should be confined to the zone of mature, firm bolls. Speed in rank cotton should be slow, otherwise you will break plants with resulting loss in yield, cautioned the specialist.

Bottom harvesting can be done within 12 to 20 days or as soon as bolls in the treated zone open. Harvesting may be by hand picking or by modification of the picker drums on spindle harvesters so that the undefoliated top of the plant passes through the picker head with little or no damage while the lower spindles pick the open cotton underneath, Elliott pointed out.

Artists Alerted of Gigantic Show Slated by Chamber

Local artists may be interested in knowing that five hundred dollars will be the top prize at the first annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce West Texas Art Show in Snyder next February, according to an announcement made this week by Harlan Bridwell, chairman of the Tourist Committee of the WTCC.

The all West Texas show is slated for February 18, but announcements are going out this week to artists in all parts of West Texas so that they will have sufficient time to prepare special work for the show.

There will be three divisions: oil, watercolor and other media. First, second and third prizes will be awarded in each division in the amounts of $100, $75 and $50.

Wacil McNair, Snyder, who will serve as chairman of the art show, says that entries will be limited to 600 because of the lack of proper space to display any more than that. He pointed out that in a recent Snyder art show which was restricted to an area of 125 miles there were more than 300 entries, so this West Texas show will be limited to 600.

Artists may submit only two pictures each, according to the chairman. Entry fee is $3.00 per picture and all work must have been done within the past two years. Too, the work must be original, no copies allowed, no class work accepted and competition is open to all artists 18 years of age or older.

The art show is being held in conjunction with the annual Tourist Development Conference, which will be held in the Snyder Coliseum. Full details of the tourist conference will be announced later by Harlan Bridwell, Bridgeport, WTCC committee chairman and Tom Barnett, Fort Worth, chairman of the Cultural Affairs Committee of the WTCC, joint sponsors of the conference and art show.

Subject matter for the art show must be related to West Texas scenic, historic or tourist attractions. Participants in the competition must also be residents of the 132-county area served by the WTCC.

McNair stated "Inasmuch as we expect an avalanche of entries I would suggest an early return of the entry blanks because we must accept entries on a first come, first served basis. Entries may be made immediately although the work to be entered may not yet be completed by the artist."

The prize winning work which received the "Best of Show" award will become the property of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and it is anticipated that this work will form the nucleus of the WTCC art collection, which will be placed on permanent display in the offices of the regional organization.

Judging of the first West Texas art show will be done by noted artists of the Southwest, whose names will be announced in the near future.

"Interested artists should contact the WTCC offices at Box 1561, Abilene, for full details of the show and entry blanks, if they are not readily available through their own art group", McNair said.

He'll Find Out

A little boy attending his first wedding asked his mother why the bride was dressed in white. "Because," answered the mother, "white stands for pretty and joy."

"Then why," was the retort logical, "does the groom wear black?"

Autumn Weather Sparks

Driving Problems in Areas

During the past summer we had much beautiful weather to enjoy, but from now until Christmas we can expect some of the worst. Rain is sure to ruin many autumn outings, many trips to games, many routine drives to and from work.

Rain quickly slows traffic to a crawl. Worse yet, it causes streaky windshields and obscures drivers' vision. The Highway Visibility Bureau points out that 90% of driving decisions depend on sight.

If you wear glasses, be sure they're clean when you drive. Be sure your windshield is clean and your windshield wiper equipment - arm, blades, and washers - is in top condition.

Wiper arms should exert a pressure against the windshield of an ounce to each inch of blade length. If pressure is right and wiper still streaks, it means the blade is dead and calls for replacement or refill. Headlights should be accurately aimed and all lights in working order.

Area Girls Are College-Bound

SUSAN CAMP, who is preparing to leave soon for West Texas State University has chosen a brown bias-cut sleeveless plaid to wear on campus. It is offset by a large, loose white bow. She has chosen brown pattina low-cut shoes to wear with her frock. Susan thinks the dress will be 'just right' to wear from class to class on the campus.

With increasing excitement, first year college students are frantically preparing for that big day...the day of departure for their new school.

Some of the girls have been working at the sewing machine, making those 'mod' clothes that are expected to make an impression when they make their entrance, whether it will be at South Plains College, Levelland; Texas Tech, Lubbock; West Texas State University, Canyon or one of the many other colleges where area girls are planning to enroll this fall.

For instance, Val Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Moore, and quite an able seamstress, has been busy making many of the frocks she will be wearing at Texas Tech this fall. Val plans to major in some field of home economics.

Mrs. Blondie Pickett has been busy making college clothing for her daughter, Joyce. Joyce will be a freshman student at South Plains College, Levelland and has been working at Muleshoe State Bank through the summer.

Jane Branscum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurlo Branscum was spotted browsing in Anthony's looking for those 'certain' dresses to wear to classes at Stephens College in Columbia, Mo., this fall where she will be a freshman.

Another student to be in an area college, West Texas State University at Canyon, is Susan Camp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernis Camp. Susan, who was active during all her years in high school, has also prepared to leave soon for her first year of college.

With classroom attire much in the forefront for this budding year of college, styles are varied for the different individual tastes. They range from plaids, in wool and cotton blends, to lightweight wool dresses and suits, as well as the now-popular banded knits for comfort of wear and ease of care.

Dormitory styles are not to be forgotten as the range of choices for leisure wear is large and different types are chosen by the college students.

With mixed emotions, mothers and fathers view the new venture for their daughters. There is relief that their 'child' can continue her education and perhaps a little fear within them at the thought of their 'child' going away from home. Most parents do not give in easily to the thought that their 'little girl' is no longer a little girl, but an appealing mixture of child and adult, who knows everything and nothing, all at the same time.

For many parents, this fall is the initial time their daughter has ever been away from home and out from under their wing for the first time. There will be words of caution and words of encouragement, as parents realize through an understandably broader scope of life, what the young ladies can expect when they are away from the influence of home and family.

So, as the day approaches... the day of departure for a new home for the next several months, the same girls who were both elated and saddened upon finishing their high school years, are now deep in concentration and preparation for a new day, a new school, and new studies.

JANE BRANSCUM, talented area soloist and dramatist, was spotted browsing in Anthony's for her college wardrobe. Jane, who left last weekend for Stephens College in Columbia, Mo., will be majoring in the field of drama. Jane is wearing a two-piece gold plaid suit with self-covered buttons. To compliment her attire, she is wearing dark opaque hose and brown loafers.

VAL MOORE, who is an able seamstress, made this red plaid, long-sleeved dress to look 'dressy' at college. She has chosen low black shoes with gold chain trim. Val plans to major in some field in home economics and will enter Texas Tech as a freshman this fall. She began rush week activities at Tech Friday. Classes begin September 23.

JOYCE PUCKETT, who will be attending South Plains College at Levelland as a freshman student this fall, has chosen a red and grey plaid as one of the sure hits when she leaves soon for her first college year. The dress has a solid grey top and is doublebreasted with silver buttons and silver buckle. Her black shoes are offset by pearl buckles. Joyce plans to major in secretarial science. She has worked for Muleshoe State Bank and her picture was snapped while she was in the process of selecting fabrics at Dot's Shop.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex. --A blue-ribbon governor's committee has recommended a monumental 10-year plan for improving Texas public school education that will triple costs and require a $300 to $400 million tax bill next year.

The 15-member panel said its plan would lift schools out of "mediocrity" and "inefficiency."

Highlights of the report include recommendations for more and better-paid teachers, free kindergartens, expanded free education for adults, required consolidation of small school districts, additional benefits for teachers and encouragement of educational innovations and experimentation.

Committee, named by Gov. John Connally and authorized by the 1965 Legislature, also urged programs to point up the cultural heritage of minority groups and to encourage human dignity.

Altogether the proposals of this Committee on Public School Education would increase local, state and federal school costs in Texas from $840 million to $2.1 billion at the end of 10 years. Under the plan about four per cent of the state's income would have to go to schools. Some $503 million more would be required, bulk from state sources, for 1970-71.

Committee recommended simplification in the complex finance formula to figure local school district costs, to provide that the local districts' 20 to 25 per cent share would be based on taxable property values. Local share, of course, would go up along with the state's. School building would remain a local responsibility.

Key recommendations include:

- *Increasing basic allotments from $23 to $50 per pupil, plus additions for transportation, materials and vocational teachers.
- *Providing "basic foundation program" to replace 20-year old minimum foundation program.

*Adding 16,000 teachers, even though enrollment may decrease slightly (by about 22,000). This would provide a pupil-teacher ratio of 21 to one instead of 24 to one.

*Increasing teacher pay from $4,734 minimum to $5,400 in 1969-70 and $6,300 the following year. Maximum pay would go up from $6,912 to $8,800 by 1970-71, as covered by state guarantee.

*Incorporating 17-step pay scale in 1971-72. This would provide $3,000 for teacher aides and go up to $28,567 for administrators.

*Requiring districts with fewer than 2,600 average daily attendance in 12 grades to consolidate by June 1, 1972. (Some exceptions would be allowed for remote countywide districts, special districts and schools on military bases.) Redistricting recommendations will be provided in six weeks, committee said.

*Encouraging districts with more than 50,000 enrollments to decentralize into community school systems with incentive payments of $10 a student.

*Abolishing county school superintendents as terms expire.

*Creating free public kindergartens for five-year-olds by 1980, summer programs with priority for the poor and free adult courses for those over 18 who have not finished high school.

*Offering wider selection of textbooks and materials and extra teachers and aides for districts with large numbers of low-income families.

*Replacing 20 regional educational service centers with fewer regional branch offices of Texas Education Agency.

*Districting of the 21-member Board of Education to conform with 23 present congressional districts.

*Establishing new program for 25,000 student teachers and another for interns in school administration.

*Setting up variety of teacher benefits including continuing contracts, professional consultation, teacher aides for every 100 students, and 10 free hours a week for teachers to grade papers, plan lessons and study. Non-teachers would be used for routine supervisory duties in some cases.

Although the immediate pay raise is less than the $1,000 sought by Texas State Teachers Association, Committee said recommendations would provide "nation's best state-guaranteed salary plan."

FOUR STATE CONVENTIONS COMING UP

Four political conventions of just about every complexion of politics extant in Texas are coming up. Saturday (September 14), a frankly illegal convention of liberal Democrats unhappy with their party majority will be held in Austin.

On the legal day for all official state party conventions--Tuesday (September 17), the regular State Democratic convention will be held, also in Austin. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, the party's nominee for governor, will present his campaign platform planks then, for adoption by the whole convention.

On that same day in Fort Worth, GOP gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers and his platform will be featured in the State Republican convention. Keynote for the day will be the Republican vice-presidential candidate, Gov. Spiro Agnew of Maryland.

Additional convention excitement is expected to emanate from Dallas where the American Party will convene Tuesday, and hear its presidential candidate, George Wallace. There, recently ousted party officials intend to challenge that party's state committee.

APPOINTMENTS

Governor Connally named Travis County Dist. Atty. Tom Blackwell judge of the 167th district court in Austin to succeed Judge Tom Reavley, recently appointed to the Texas Supreme Court. Travis County Atty. Robert O. Smith succeeds Blackwell as D.A. All three are Democratic nominees to the posts to which they were appointed.

Connally selected Edgar Britton Hart of Electra, Marvin L. McCullough of Wichita Falls, Louis Pitcock Jr. of Graham and Hugh T. Marshall of Quanah to Midwestern University Board of Regents.

James H. Harwell, Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce manager, will become executive director of Texas Industrial Commission on October 1.

AUTO INSPECTION TIME HERE

Its auto inspection time again The 1969 inspection period began September 1. Deadline is April 15, 1969.

More than six million vehicles will receive compulsory inspection during period at 5,500 authorized inspection stations. Minimum fee is $1.75. DPS urges early inspection to assure safe fall-winter driving.

CRIME RATE UP

Crime rate in Texas for the first six months of the year was 15 per cent over 1967, according to the Department of Public Safety.

DPS noted increases in all seven major crime categories. Murders and homicides were up nearly nine per cent, rape 14 per cent, robbery 14 per cent, aggravated assault nearly six per cent, theft about 12 per cent and auto theft nearly 24 per cent. DPS Acting Director Wilson E. Speir said that means a major crime every minute and a half or a murder every seven and a half hours.

AID GRANTED SMALL AIRPORTS

A total of $765,513 in grants have been authorized by the Texas Aeronautics Commission for construction and/or improvement of 44 airports. Largest grants, $27,500 each, went to airports at Canadian, Edinburg, Fort Stockton, Jasper, Kingsland, Mineral Wells, Morton, Smithville and Taft.

TAC at same time said it may recommend eliminating aviation fuel exemption from state gasoline tax. Unclaimed refunds of tax payments finance TAC aid to small city airports.

POLLUTION

It is almost certain that some state agency will take over regulation of salt water discharges from liquefied petroleum gas storage caverns near oil refineries and gas plants, but a public hearing by the Texas Water Quality Board did not settle the question of which agency.

WQB called a "show cause" hearing for LPG underground storage cavern operators with the idea of regulating brine-water waste discharges itself. But when the hearing opened, chairman Howard Rose of Austin said the Texas Railroad Commission had expressed an interest in handling the problem.

As it stands now, both agencies apparently will be involved in this area of pollution control.

DRAFT QUOTA CUT

State's draft quota has been reduced to 523 men for November, lowest since April, 1965. Quotas have been dropping off since May when call reached 2,131. Call for August was 895. It's 683 for September and 774 for October.

RETARDED ASSESSMENT Parents of children under 21 in state schools for the retarded soon will be billed for their care under a graduated fee system based on the family's net income.

Under the state school student payment plan, a maximum of $170 per month would be charged to parents of mentally-retarded persons under 21, and that ceiling would apply to the family netting $20,000 or more after deductions.

'Car Capital of The West Plains' At The Crossroads - Muleshoe

The fifth year of the giant High Plains Bow Weevil Control Program got off to what officials described as "its best start yet" on Tuesday, September 3 as 10 spray planes took to the sky just after dawn.

Despite high winds on Tuesday and Wednesday, by Thursday night over half of the 75,000 acres mapped by entomologists to receive the first application had been sprayed with low volume technical malathion.

"We couldn't ask for a much better start," said Ed Dean, Director of Field Services for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the organization that conceived and put together the massive program in 1964 and continues to direct its progress.

Spraying will continue until harvest, a frost of chemical desiccation of cotton fields removes the weevil's food supply in the control zone. Infested fields below and along the rim of the Cap Rock are currently being treated in Eriscoe, Hall, Motley, Dickes, Crosby, Kent and Garza Counties.

Later, if weevil populations develop fast enough to make it necessary, parts of Floyd, Dawson and Borden Counties may be included in the control area.

Entomologists in 1963 recognized the fact that weevils from this eastern section of the Plains would invade the entire area unless stopped. The control program initiated in 1964 has driven the weevil back over 15 miles eastward, greatly reduced weevil numbers and cut the base control zone from about 300,000 acres at the beginning Lauterbach of Albuquerque, N.M. These two units combined contain about 41,500 base acres. The contract on these two units went for $2.10 per gallon of material applied.

Unit Three, which covers an estimated 42,500 base acres went to Roane Flying Service, Jeanerette, La., at $1.59 per gallon. This was the same price at which Roane was awarded a contract for the whole area in 1967. But Roane's bid on the other two units this year was well above Lauterbach's bid of $2.10.

Nine bidders of seven states bid on one of all of the units. Cotton producers of the Plains support the program with per-bale contributions paid as a part of compress receiving charges. The per-bale rate in 1967 was 40 cents, but was cut to 25 cents this year as a result of reduced acreage in the control zone.

Second Hunting Zone Opened On Sandhill Crane

In an effort to increase sandhill crane hunting in Texas, and help decrease crop depredations, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission in a special meeting Tuesday announced the opening of another section of Northwest Texas to hunting this fall.

Two zones were created for the sandhill crane, the second opening at a later date because a whooping crane was sighted around the turn of the century in the newly opened area. The new zone will be hunted from December 14 through January 12, long after the annual southward whooping crane migration is over. This liberalization was the result of a request to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service originally proposed two or three years past and approved this year.

E.A. Walker, wildlife service director for the Department, said the new area was requested in order to give more people the chance of hunting the wily birds and to prevent some crop depredation. Hunting in the old or western zone will be held from one-half hour before sunrise November 2 through sunset December 28. This zone lies west of a line from the international Toll Bridge at Del Rio, Val Verde County, thence northward following U.S. Highway 277 to its junction with U.S. Highway 87 to its junction with U.S. 287 at Dumas, Moore County; thence northerly following U.S. Highway 287 to the point of intersection with Texas Oklahoma State line at Dallam County.

The new zone will be hunted beginning at sunrise December 14 through sunset January 12 in that portion of Texas lying west of a line from San Angelo along U.S. Highway 277 to Abilene, then along State Highway 351 from Abilene to Albany and U.S. Highway 283 from Albany to Vernon, thence easterly along U.S. Highway

IT DEPENDS ON WHOSE DEPENDENT IT IS

Rep. H. Allen Smith (R-Calif.) is seeking a way to justify Federal Form 1040's standard income tax deduction of $900 for a taxpayer's dependent with what Uncle Sam is spending to support his own dependents.

He found that Uncle Sam pays Aid to Dependent Children recipients $800 per year, spends about $2,300 annually to maintain a federal prison inmate, and provides $11,000 to train a Job Corps youngster.

The Congressman's probing drew this comment from "Washington Report," official publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States: "Rep. Smith makes a good point, but he's comparing peanuts and persimmons: How much you're allowed for a dependent, and how much it costs the government for dependents. What's sauce for the taxpayer's goose is not sauce for Uncle Sam's gander."

PROFILE OF DEMOCRACY
Community Action
Reflects Area Progress

A most remarkable and commendable story of community effort was climaxed here Tuesday, September 10, in the year of Bailey County's Golden Anniversary, 1968.

We believe the revealing area profile shown here might help others also to sustain faith in community action at the local level.

In a democracy such as in this country, community action is almost always "people" orientated.

As responsible citizens of Muleshoe and Bailey County trekked to the polls Tuesday, so toiled various 'known and unknown' individuals and groups to encourage fellow-citizens to study, then vote their own conviction on nine important issues pertaining to our town and our community.

All voters are to be congratulated for taking part in their civic responsibility and exercising their right to vote. The results of Tuesday's voting voiced a majority approval of a well-planned, carefully-studied, community-coordinated, no-tax-increased but city-sales-tax-financed issue city ballot and county bond issue.

Herein lies our story of community action and democracy at work:

This year, 1968, is a busy-for-all-everywhere, rapid-change, varied-problem, spiralling-costs-index, national and international crisis redletter time. Our votes Tuesday, as well as in November's General Election, are a record of county attitudes and can serve as a guide for elected officials at all levels. Continuing progress is always at stake in any election.

Pioneers of Bailey County have battled natural elements, braved hardships of civilization, since organization of this county on November 17, 1918. Today we start afresh together toward another 50 golden years in this Muleshoe area.

It is the American way--either old-fashioned or hippie-yippie--that individual citizens continue to feel that each small effort DOES count, . . . not for 'just a little' but for each individual's fair part in the American privileges of our democratic-republic.

The results of voting Tuesday voiced opinions of "We, the People", our pros and our cons. Nine vital matters were under consideration by voters and approved--with other victories and defeats to come from Tuesday's chart of the future.

Our votes -- today, tomorrow and yesterday -- are each a public record for all to see in the history of Bailey County and Muleshoe, its county seat.

We are thankful that in the 'good ole USA' we still have the right to express ourselves, disagree if need be, and then vote our own conscience. Around the world, other citizens do not have these freedoms. Think recently of Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, et al. We believe that we must preserve individual and community action on the local level to protect freedoms everywhere in this 20th century.

Congratulations

City and County elected officials, community leaders and appointed expert-consultants worked hard, long and cooperatively, in order that a fair proposal be brought to voters Tuesday. They deserve our sincere recognition and thanks for their productive efforts.

So do the 843 Bailey County and 601 City of Muleshoe citizens who cast their votes Tuesday.

Among the official-families and representatives who have spoken out in public forums are the following, as well as many others not herein named or known to the Journals:

County Judge Don Cihak who spoke to Chamber of Commerce, Lions, Jaycees, MAWS; City Councilmen Alex Williams, to Rotary and MHS student body assembly, and Irvin St. Clair to United Fund meetings; City Manager Albert Field to Lions and Jaycees; Public Librarian Ann Camp to AAUW; and others who discussed and explained the proposed issues Thursday night to 80 and 100 persons at the public meeting.

Chamber of Commerce manager Derrel Oliver sent out reminders to vote, as did another group of proponents. The C of C board, city council and county judge made public statements in regard to the issues. Members of county and city law enforcement and officials, including Sheriff Dee Clements, Chief of Police Harold White, County Attorney Roger Gorrell and others joined the judge-and-his charts in informal informational talks with interested citizens.

Organizations known to the Journal joining in the telephone "Get Out the Vote" campaign included: Friends of the Library, Muleshoe Study Club, TSTA, Liano Estacado Civic Club, ESA, Progress Home Demonstration Club, Jaycee-ettes, Hobby Club, Muleshoe Neighborhood of Girl Scouts, Muleshoe Art Association, MAWS, and others. Transportation to the polls was offered by the Muleshoe Jaycees and others.

Public service announcements were made in Muleshoe schools. Young people made posters. Announcements were made over radio station KMUL and the Journals have carried a number of news stories, pictures, and sample ballots.

To each of you men and women, youth and children, civic-minded organizations and cooperatively-inspired community leaders:

We thank you all and we agree with Fletcher Knebel (Look Magazine, June 23) that "somewhere in all the public oratory and compassionate concern. . . they must be told that it takes hard work by someone to make any of the good things possible. . ."

Most of the basic rights of Americans is a privilege granted by society through legislation or custom. How well opportunity is used is--or should be-- the business of individuals, beginning at the local level.

The job-at-hand Tuesday of making substantial inroads toward progress required multi-pronged work on many conditions - not as a matter of rights but of humanitarian, self-help encouraging, independence-making public programs to voice our community action.

Congratulations, Muleshoe and Bailey County.

GAS AND SHEEP DEATHS ASTRONAUT RESIGNS

Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor has authorized $5,000 as a partial payment for the death of 6,000 sheep in Utah as a result of a military test of poisonous gas. The Pentagon referred to the incident as "damages incident to the noncombat activities of the Army."

Houston -- Dr. John A. Llewellyn, 35, has resigned from the United States space program which cuts the number in the corps to 52. He is the third member of the scientist-astronaut group selected in 1967 to quit because of problems learning to fly jet airplanes.

Hopped-Up
Canaries

Health authorities in New Jersey have been busy recently destroying an estimated 20,000 marijuana plants discovered growing blissfully in Jersey meadows. Helping in the destruction, in the Hackensack River lowlands at least, were flocks of wild pigeons. They were described as getting their flying kicks from the diet--and were used by health inspectors to locate the plant. That is only part of an interesting tale. It can now be revealed that canary bird seed contained -- until federal authorities discovered it and eliminated it--marijuana seed. That's what made the canary sing. He was hopped up.

The sweepings from canary cages went into garbage cans and the contents were dumped in the Hackensack River meadows. The seed germinated and produced a fine crop of marijuana. State Health Inspector Donald Foley estimated the crop at 20,000 plants or more.

And so it is being destroyed and canary food has had the kick removed (bird dealers say canaries no longer sell as well nor sing as well). Looking back, one can hardly suppress a smile over the realization that while Aunt Tilly enjoyed her cup of proper tea, or something stronger, her canary was going her one better.

To Dream the Impossible Dream

BY PAUL HARVEY

Young people are trying to tell us something. Some, frustrated by our unwillingness to listen or our inability to comprehend what they are trying to say, deduce that there can be no communication between the generations. Some react violently; some, more patiently.

When the World Council of Churches met in Uppsala, Sweden, a group of young Christians pleaded with their elders to break with the status quo and help find nonviolent paths to social change.

Enlightened young, disillusioned by a generation of parents who too often talk one way and act another, demand re-examination of some of the tarnished old truths.

I am not sure how much of this new introspection is good; I am sure it is inevitable.

More than ever, young people are rushing on ahead where their elders fear to tread.

Granted, some of the young rebels are sick. Some are the soft, pithy, tasteless fruit which fell from an over-nourished family tree.

Others are responsible critics of contemporary mores and antiquated preconceptions.

They include young Columbuses determined to explore the unexplored, young Wright brothers, young Tom Edisons, young Tom Paines, young Ben Franklins, young men and women daring to dream the impossible dream.

And young Fidel Castros, too.

Some may rip to shreds much of the good fabric of our social order in their anxiety to prove or disprove, each to his own satisfaction.

There is enough admitted hypocrisy, pomposity and imperfection among their parents to justify some of this unwillingness to go along with things as they are.

Our performance has not always matched our nobler protestations; perhaps their won't, but let's give the responsible restless young a respectful audience.

A school-ager named Jerry Anderson of Huntington, Tenn., recently wrote:

"Ha, ha," they laughed, "he's at it again, the silly fool! Come see the show, come one and all, Watch the village idiot racing toward a fall." Out in the meadow the fool ran 'round, Leaping and jumping and flapping his arms; Trying to gain speed so's to get off the ground.

"Please don't laugh," said a little girl, "He means no harm, he's trying to fly." "He's insane!" came the haughty reply.

The villagers laughed 'til the sun was low, They were still laughing when sunset came, Tears filled their eyes, they'd been laughing so.

Then suddenly the laughter stopped, Men gaped, women fainted, the little girl was crying. . . For out there over the meadow the fool was no longer running; He was flying!

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Humphrey's Battle--
Chicago Background--
The Secret Effort--
LBJ's Role--

Washington, D.C.-- One of the critical battles Vice President Hubert Humphrey must wage in his campaign for the Presidency today is that over the war in Vietnam and his party's past record concerning it.

And one of the little known stories of the recent Democratic convention is how Humphrey tried to include a recommendation to halt the bombing of North Vietnam in the party platform. His effort was defeated by the personal power of President Johnson.

While Humphrey had loyally supported the President, on Vietnam and everything else, he felt--by the time the convention opened in Chicago--that a plank calling for a bombing halt would give him a major advantage in his election battle with Richard Nixon. Accordingly, a compromise peace plank, leaning toward a dovish view, was drafted by the Platform Committee with Humphrey's blessing.

President Johnson would have none of it, however, and called several members of the committee back to Washington, ostensibly for a briefing on the Czechoslovakian crisis, and had them briefed by General William Westmoreland. The Chief of Staff warned against a dovish plank. Johnson's influence prevailed in part because there were some who feared he would publicly depreciate the plank and even limit his efforts in the election battle if he felt the party had repudiated his Vietnam policy.

The President was so concerned over the plank he sent an aide to Chicago, who reportedly had much to do in "helping" the committee draft the Vietnam plank. And so the 1968 convention was ironic in that it was President Johnson who was maneuvering things behind the scenes, whereas in 1960 it was John Kennedy and especially party chief Paul Butler, who had openly announced for Kennedy before the convention and who was partisan toward him even as national party chief--before and leading up to the Los Angeles convention in 1960.

At that convention Lyndon Johnson, then Majority Leader, felt the helplessness of being on the outside looking in. But in 1968 it was Mr. Johnson who was on the inside, and even the party nominee--Vice President Hubert Humphrey--had to like it. So did the remnants of the Kennedy power bloc, who tried almost every avenue to gain control of a convention majority for a peace plank (and then, perhaps, a draft of someone who could run on it) but failed because of the power of the influence of the President.

Humphrey was forced to swallow a Vietnam plank that was more hawkish than he had wanted and far more hawkish than either Senators McCarthy or McGovern had wanted, with all its potential consequences in the coming months. The result could be Humphrey's defeat; or it could be otherwise, and only time will tell.

SIGNS HIGHWAY BILL

President Johnson has signed the controversial Highway Bill although he conceded he did not like some of the provisions. The President said that he believed the good in the bill outweighed the bad.

EMPLOYMENT AND ALASKA

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz has cautioned job-seekers against going to Alaska for employment unless work has been assured them in advance. At present, more persons are seeking work in Alaska than the state's economy can employ.
