Bonds Sold to Bank for Law Enforcement Center 109-Acre Option Signed for City Park

Agreement Signed For Law Center

Bailey County Commissioners found a full day of work facing them at their meeting Monday. First and foremost on their agenda was selling the bonds for the proposed law enforcement center which is to be built on the courthouse square.

The First National Bank purchased the bonds at an interest rate of four and three-fourths percent. In the event the county can find a better rate, the bank provides an option for the resale of the bonds. First National Bank also serves as the Bailey County depository.

In his letter to the County Court, M.D. Gunstream, president of the bank states, "Within the last few days, some cities and counties have had to pay as high as six percent interest on the issuance of bonds. As County Depository and as a citizen of Bailey County, I am naturally concerned about the county receiving the very lowest rate possible under the circumstances and want to aid and assist in every way possible to assure the county that it will receive the best rate possible on the sale of these bonds."

The bank has purchased the bonds in the amount of $175,000 and there is now a call for bids for new construction. In this issue of the Journal a legal notice calling for bids has been issued. The bids will be opened at the County Commissioner's meeting on January 9, 1969. The bonds will be paid off between approximately February 1, 1969 and 1984, a period of 15 years.

Commissioners received final plans for the proposed law enforcement center. The floor plans call for about 3000 square feet of space on the ground floor and another approximately 2000 square feet in the basement.

County Judge Don Cihak has a copy of the plans and specifications.

Rotary Members Hear Coaches On Basketball

Preston Mills, Texico-Farwell Rotary Club, was a special guest at the Muleshoe Rotary meeting Tuesday noon, as was Mervin Wilterding.

Ben Yeager was in charge of the program and presented Coach Raymond Schroeder and Coach Kerry Moore who talked on the 1968-69 basketball program.

Coach Schroeder said the boys' basketball team has 26 boys out to play, three of the players are seniors and only three are over six feet tall. He told the Rotary that they have to depend on speed and quickness.

Their weakness is in rebounds and inexperience and they have to press a lot man to man and use the zone press.

Bonds Discussed; Action Tabled At This Time

An option was taken for 109.4 acres of land to be improved for a new city park, at a meeting of the City Council Monday afternoon. The option calls for the land to be purchased for $450 an acre for a total cost of $49,230. Location of the land under option is bounded by Avenue D on the north; Avenue H on the south; 17th Street on the west and approximately Eighth street on the east. The option will be for a period of 18 months, from October 28. It was made between the City of Muleshoe and Muleshoe Developments, Inc.

A bond issue in the amount of $90,000 was voted on and approved by Muleshoe citizens to be used for parks and improvements.

At the previous meeting of the city council, it was taken into consideration an amount to be used on the existing city park for improvements.

Some trees have already been removed to prepare the ground soon for planting new grass. Councilmen also discussed the possibility of selling the revenue and general obligation bonds. However, no action was taken at this time. It was decided to wait until January or February for improvement in the bond market. This was recommended by Joe Smith, Muleshoe financial advisor.

In other action, the 1969 budget was amended to add an additional $10,000 to be used for the purchase of new pipe for water improvements. In the budget, $10,000 had been allotted under capitol water outlay. The amended budget shows $20,000. It is

Labor Housing Plans Submitted

The Board of Directors of the Muleshoe Area Farm Labor Housing complex met Monday night, December 9, to go over final plans for the proposed Farm Labor Housing complex to be built in Muleshoe.

Irvin St. Clair, chairman of the board, said, "We decided to put on all efforts and push now to complete the project."

"The reason for the delay in completion of the project," he continued, "has been because of the integrity of the Muleshoe people in not wanting to accept Federal give-away or grant money. But seeing the advantages to the area, economically, they decided to complete the project."

"We wanted to improve our own livelihood and decided unanimously at the meeting to go full speed ahead with plans." Revised plans, which were submitted for consideration Tuesday morning, showed all single-story construction; and the board approved reducing the size from 96 apartments, down to 72 two-bedroom apartments, one dormitory, one manager's residence and an office for Texas Employment Commission. Total cost of the construction is expected to be $584,000 and the Commission is asking for a Federal grant of $294,000 and submitting a loan to FHA for $290,000.

Option on the land to build the complex is across the street east of the Boy Scout grounds.

St. Clair said they still would like to have more members. He stated, "The more members we have to work on the complex, the more likely it is to be worked out. The sooner we can get everything underway and worked out, that much sooner our area will be benefited."

Other than St. Clair, vice chairman is W.Q. Casey; John Smith is secretary and board members include Horace Hutton, Harry Lee, Houston Hart and T.R. White.

Cotton Researchers Study Production Cost

The excellent support growers are giving the $1-per-bale program will enable the 1969 Cotton Producers Institute research program to be one-third larger than that of 1968, according to Texas CPI trustees.

Texas has 12 trustees on the 51-member CPI board and each member has an alternate. Trustees from the High Plains area are Joe B. Pate, Jr., Howard Alford, and Roy Forkner, all of Lubbock, J.D. Smith of Littlefield, and L.C. Unfred of Tahoka. Mr. Alford is vice president of CPI.

Major research attention will be focused on lowering cotton production costs and on developing all-cotton durable press fabrics. Cotton farmers spend nearly $300 million annually combating diseases, weeds, and insects; and durable press is a prime consideration in markets involving 4.2 million bales of cotton. Ranking high in priority are projects aimed at modifying the cotton plant to adapt it to low

Sondra Harris, Barry Wilson Marry in Western Setting

Mrs. Barry Wilson

Miss Sondra Helene Harris and Eules Barry Wilson were united in marriage December 7 at three o'clock in an unusual western setting at West Camp Baptist Church. Rev. Dean Harris of Lubbock, uncle of the bride, officiated, wearing a suit which was a replica of the preachers circa, 1860.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Glen D. Harris of the West Camp community and Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Wilson, of Muleshoe.

The couple stood under an archway of emerald, silvered tumble weeds, white and silver horseshoes with a lariat rope entwined forming a loop above the Running W. brand (brand of the groom's parents.) Two seven-branch candelabra were also used to decorate the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a Spanish Colonial gown of candlelight Shantaski, featuring a bateau neckline. The Empire waist, and leg-o-mutton sleeves were of Banbury crocheted lace. The A-line skirt and panel were appliques with lace.

Framing her face was a mantilla of silk illusion, lace trimmed and encrusted with seed pearls and crystals. Illusion formed her train, the edge of which was applied with lace. The bride carried a plumed fan of white carnations, centered with an orchid, and streamers of white wedding bells attached.

Miss Cynthia Harris, sister of the bride, served as her only attendant. She was dressed in a street-length dress of red velvet, featuring an Empire waist and an A-line skirt. She wore

THEY BURNED THE MORTGAGE--Appearing on program for that long-awaited day at First Christian Church Sunday were Glen Maltby, elder emeritus and charter member; Mrs. T.R. White, church treasurer; Bobby McGee, chairman of the Church Board; Dr. Dudley Strain, Lubbock, minister of First Christian Church and principal speaker; Rev. Walter Bartholf, Sr., minister of the Muleshoe church.

First Christian Church Makes History

Using the story of Noah and his trials in building the ark, Dr. Strain told of how faithful to God's directions Noah was through all the time he built the ark and endured ridicule of the people, went through the flood under God's care and after it was all over, he allowed himself to become drunk and the object of ridicule of his own family. He urged members of the church to continue on the high road they have followed rather than to slip into being irresponsible church members.

He challenged the Muleshoe church to (1) be a New Church as it looks into the future ramments of the past. His second challenge to the members was that they be New Christians in the sense of increased motivation and goals.

Darrell Turner, choir director of First Baptist Church, was guest song leader. Special music was presented by Miss Joan Harper and Miss Debbie Wagon, of the high school department of the church. Glen Maltby read the history of the church. Bobby McGee lead the service of kindling of the fire. As church treasurer, Mrs. White lighted the match. Rev. Bartholf read scriptures and letters from the former ministers and charter members who were not present.

Mrs. Harold C. Weimer

Tanner, Weimer Vows Repeated

Miss Brenda Joyce Tanner became the bride of Sgt. Harold C. Weimer in an afternoon ceremony, Saturday, November 30, in the Progress Baptist Church with the Rev. J.M. Jordan, Dallas, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V.T. Tanner, Muleshoe. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Provia Weimer and the late Mr. Weimer, Akron, Ohio.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride entered the church amid lighted pink spiral candles and greenery, highlighted with two large baskets of hot pink gladiolas and pink mums. Centering the archway of greenery and gladiolas were three large white wedding bells. A white velvet kneeling bench used for both the ring exchange and a symbolic ceremony was immediately behind the archway.

The bride was dressed in a floor-length white velvet gown of her own design. It was accented at the empire waistline with an applique of seed pearls and white velvet lace. Her petal-point sleeves and cathedral length train were of white velvet lace. She wore a veil of white tulle which was attached to a crown of satin petal points outlined in seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink and hot pink rosebuds centering a white cymbidium orchid atop a white Bible.

Completing her ensemble of tradition, something old was her paternal great-grandmother's wedding band and a locket given to her mother on her 21st birthday. Her wedding gown was something new, something borrowed was a Belgium lace handkerchief from her sister and for something blue she wore a blue garter. A sixpence in her right shoe added the finishing touches.

Suzi Tanner, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Marsha Blackman of Muleshoe and Stephenville, was bridesmaid. They wore identical floor-length gowns of hot pink velvet, trimmed in pink velvet at the empire waistline, and carried bouquets of pink and hot pink rosebuds.

Bill Weimer, Akron, Ohio, served as his brother's best man and S/Sgt. Jim Sibley, San Diego, Calif., was groomsmen.

Bill Tanner, brother of the bride, and Johnce Seaton were candlelighters. Mrs. W.T. Watson provided wedding selections and accompanied Leasel Richardson, Dallas, who sang, "Our World" and "Ave Maria."

Seating guests were Brent Tanner, brother of the bride, and Sgt. Chuck Maxey, Reese AFB, Lubbock.

Gail Locker registered

guests and other members of the houseparty included Lynn Hoffman, Andrea Irwin, Lin Smith, and Mrs. Vickie Jenkins.

The bride's mother wore a pale blue double knit suit with black accessories and a pale blue orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a pink knit suit with black accessories and a pink orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, the couple greeted guests at a reception in the church, leaving the church for a short wedding trip. Mrs. Weimer wore a gold wool two-piece suit accented by dark brown alligator shoes and wore an orchid lifted from her bouquet. They will be at

Hosts Party For Guild Dec. 9

The Christmas meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild was held in the home of Mrs. George Haskins, with the president, Mrs. K.K. Krebbs, presiding.

After a short business session the devotional was given by Mrs. Ray Edwards who chose for her subject "A Gift of Love."

The program, using a Christmas theme, was given in three parts: the Story of the First Christmas Tree in America was given by Mrs. Francis Gilbreath; Christmas in Other Lands, by Mrs. W.C. Colbert; and How to Keep Christmas, by Mrs. Krebbs. The program closed with prayer by Mrs. Waid Griffin, after which the group gathered around the organ and sang carols. Jean Haskins, daughter of the hostess was organist and led the singing.

Gifts were exchanged and a large hamper was filled with food to be distributed by the Goodfellows.

Fourteen members were present.

Youth listed as being present were Helen Sharp, Bill Crow, Leona Bartley, Dorris Churchill, Lucille Bartley, Cecil Spense, Alvin Farrell, Billy Beavers, Wanda Farrell, J.E. Sharp, Willis Farrell, Clarence Thomas, Gerald Churchill, Connie Dale Gupton, Horace Edwards, Holly Ann Bucy. The sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Claudie Gallman, Mrs. R.N. Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. Gaede.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mathis of Muleshoe are proud parents of a son, born at Clovis, N.M. Christmas.

THEY HAVE WORKED HARD--Much thought and effort has been expended in planning and overseeing details necessary to make the Home Tour of Llano Estacado Civic Club such a success this year. Pictured, left to right, are Mrs. Max King and Mrs. Glen Watkins, co-chairmen of the project, and Mrs. Robert Hunt, president of the Club.

Music Workshop, Recital Held

Mrs. Sam McKinstry's Intermediate piano students and their mothers met in the Music Arts Studio December 7 from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m., for a music workshop and recital.

A music quiz followed the playing of the students. Those who played were: Susan Murray, Belinda Nickels, Prynness Parkman from Baileyboro, Jim Allison, Jana Oyler, Scott Baker, Faith Free, Jana Bruns, Karen Scott from Lazbuddie, Judy Dearing, Jimmy Wisian, Bruce Peterson, Mike Wisian, Craig Baker, Tim Jinks, Roger and Terry Swart from Sudan and Vickie Hobbs from Farwell.

Quite a surprise was in store for the group when three of Mrs. McKinstry's more advanced students did a selection of Christmas Story, with Treena Bryant and Cynthia Gable playing their saxophones. They were accompanied by Sue Darsey. They were so well received they were asked to play a second time. Hostesses serving fruit punches and Christmas cookies were Mrs. Bob Clodfelter, Mrs. Bobby Free and Mrs. B.A. Dearing.

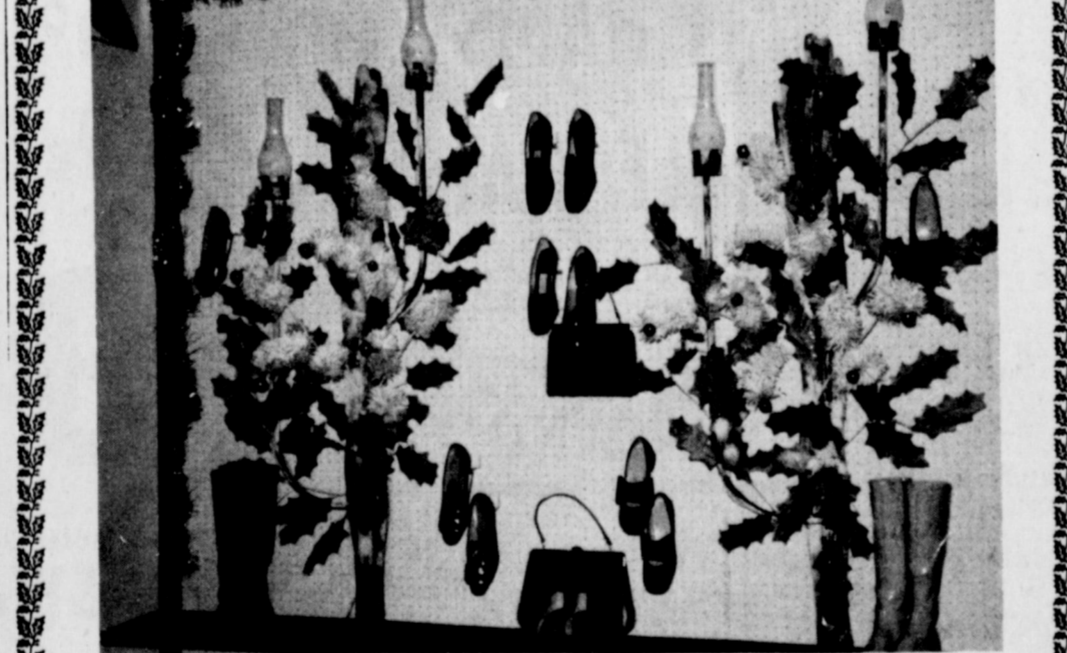

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert Wisian, Bob Clodfelter, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Swart of Sudan, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Oyler, Mr. and Mrs. Jacque Baker, Bobby Free, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jinks, Mrs. Beulah Hobbs from Farwell and Mrs. J.A. Nickels, Benny Bruns and Mickey Logan from Sudan.

The more advanced students will have their recital December 14 from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m.

Watchbands are rather wide this season--one of the basket weave gold is attractive.

Lazbuddie Schools' LONGHORN STAMPEDE by Junior Class

The Lazbuddie Longhorns are getting warmed up for their basketball season. The teams have traveled to Bula and Pep, with a victory at both places for the girls. A neck and neck game was the outcome of the contest with Bula, with a score of 44-43, Lazbuddie the victors. Theresa Seaton took scoring honors with 16 points, Vicki Robinson and Marilyn Barnes have 14 each to their name. On the opposite end of the court, Elaine Jesko, Brenda Johns, and Linda Hodges played an outstanding defensive game.

How to Build a School With Eggs

First thought to come into mind when one hears "How To Build a School With Eggs" - eggs are fragile. If, however, the eggs are converted into cash with which to purchase more durable materials it is possible, as the school children of our neighboring city of Clovis have demonstrated.

A story from the Peace Corps headquarters in Washington, D.C. tells how it was done.

WASHINGTON--Going from house to house, junior high students in Clovis, New Mexico, asked for eggs. These they sold for a nickel apiece next door, and so on. Egg by egg they were helping build a school for the Pulap Islanders of Micronesia.

Since the Peace Corps School Partnership Program was started in 1964, students at over 1,000 schools across the nation have done a lot of things--some pretty unusual--to help the children of developing countries. They've washed cars, collected soft drink bottles, staged faculty "slave auctions."

And it's worked: more than 700 Partnership schools have been built in 41 countries.

NO CHARITY
Definitely not a charity program, School Partnership helps those people who want a school for their children so badly they'll build it themselves--but who can't pay for the bricks or cement. When villagers join together to do the work and raise at least a fourth of the construction costs, usually about $1,000 of outside aid is all that's needed for a one- to four-room schoolhouse.

The people of San Francisco de la Cruz in Peru, had bigger plans, though. They wanted to build a ten-room schoolhouse for their "barriada" near the capital of Lima, to replace the existing hodge-podge of bamboo and straw matting used by split sessions of 415 boys and 300 girls.

FINES FOR SHORTS
By holding dances and showing movies, the people of San Francisco de la Cruz raised about $500. They also secured title to a government-owned lot. Then, with the help of Peace Corps Volunteer Richard Bloom, 24, and the School Partnership Program, they received $850 from high school students in Plymouth, Michigan--enough for the bricks.

Some of the money was raised by fining Plymouth girls 25 cents for wearing Bermuda shorts to class. Sound silly? Not to the people of San Francisco de la Cruz with their new schoolhouse.

Scoring honors for Bula went to Sheila Medlin, with 17 points for the game.

Our next journey was to Pep where we again came on strong, with a victory of 42-21. Scoring honors in this game went to Mickie Broyles, who started for her first A team game of the season, netted 16 points. Also in the double figures were Vickie Robinson with 12 points and Theresa Seaton contributing 14 points. Pep's high pointers were Theresa Dueterhouse and Terry Gerrels with 7 points each.

The B boys have lost their first games of the season, to Bula and Pep. The score in the game with Bula was 59-54. Charlie Lee contributed 24 points for the Lazbuddie team. Gail Morris had 17, Mike Richardson had 5, Curtis Norman had 4, Clay Mimms and Roland Delgado had 2 each.

In the Pep game the score was 42-33. High point was Curtis Norman with 13 points. Charlie Lee had 12, Gail Morris had eight.

Both teams travel to Anton this weekend where they will see action in the tournament being held there. Their first game is to be played against Floydada B, the girls game scheduled to start at 2:30 Thursday.

Draft Call Hits College Grads Hard

According to the latest Selective Service estimates one out of every four men drafted next spring will be a college graduate. The oldest men will be drafted first so graduate schools will be hit particularly hard.

It is likely that there will be far more college graduates subject to draft than there will be vacancies in the various officer training schools.

For this reason the Air Force has designated a special program for college graduates who desire to join the Air Force enlisted ranks. Called the College Delayed Enlistment Program (College DEP) this program offers the college graduate the opportunity to work in his field of specialization. College degrees and transcripts are analyzed with the assistance of the Air Force's manpower computer at Lackland AFB, Texas. The graduate is assigned to a specific job where he may utilize his college gained skills.

Assigning college graduates by this method aids both the Air Force and the college graduate. The Air Force gains by having a qualified man in a job where he can put his knowledge to use.

South Plains Cotton Harvest Nears End

The three Cotton Classing Offices of the USDA in this area classed 194,000 samples of new crop cotton last week ending Friday, December 6, 1968. This brought the total for the entire season to 888,000. Seven hundred sixty six thousand (766,000) samples had been classed on the South Plains this time last year.

Predominant grades were Strict Low Middling, Middling Light Spotted, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, and Middling Spotted. These four grades represented 85 per cent of the total classed.

The average staple length from the South Plains area last week was 1-inch. Micronaire readings by percentages were: 3.5 - 4.9 22 per cent, 3.3 - 3.4 19 per cent, 3.0 - 3.2 37 per cent, 2.7 - 2.9 18 per cent, and 2.6 and below 4 per cent.

The average Pressley tests, which is the breaking strength of the fibers, for the Lubbock area was 84,000 pounds per square inch, for the Lamesa area was 83,000 pounds, and for the Brownfield area was 85,000 pounds.

Prices reported to the Consumer and Marketing Service of the USDA at Lubbock ranged from $3.75 to $8.75 per bale over the Government loan value for White grades, and $75.00 to $100.00 per bale over the loan for Light Spotted grades in the 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire range. Average cottonseed prices paid to producers was $49.00 per ton.

Choosing a Good Day Care Center

COLLEGE STATION,--As a growing number of Texas mothers work outside the home, the problem of child care increases.

A day care center may be the answer, according to Jeannie Kitching, Extension family life education specialist.

Day care centers offer group care for the young child, three to five years old. As one of a group, he can play, work and grow under the guidance of a trained teacher, says the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

She says a professional director runs a center, and it is inspected and licensed.

Centers also offer group activity for older children after school and on vacation days. Each youngster receives guidance from an interested, understanding group leader.

When you shop for day care, Miss Kitching suggests visiting at least three centers in your neighborhood or near where you work. Ask to see the center's license. Licenses are issued by the Texas state Department of Public Welfare to all fully qualified Day Care Centers in Texas.

Ask to be shown around the center, and carefully observe the buildings, the yard and personnel caring for children.

The admission procedures indicate the nature of the center, says Miss Kitching. A good center with conscientious, well-trained personnel will insist on an introductory interview to discuss the child's individual needs, health history, interests and his development and habits.

They will want a statement of the child's health from his doctor after a pre-entrance examination. The parent also will be asked to give written permission to obtain emergency medical care for the child in case of accident or illness.

A good day care center will want the parent to know what the center can offer the child in training and routine care. The director may discuss the child's adjustment and development in the center.

Miss Kitching mentions two other factors of a good center: knowing where a parent and the child's doctor can be reached at all times and reaching a written agreement about finances.

Costume jewelry is popular. Locketts on chains are favorites.

Holiday Ideas: Celebrate Color

The frost on the fields. A chill nip in the air. These signal harvest time. Time, too, for bringing the outdoors indoors -- colorfully. Scarlet, Gold, Cinnamon, Pumpkin, Nut-brown. Accented with white, they make striking color combinations for any room.

Take inspiration from the country. For that's what comes to mind in harvest-time. You can capture the country feeling by painting a deacon's bench or a chair in any of the sharp autumn shades: goldenrod, tawny-red or shiny black with gold trim.

Capture that "down home" feeling of comfort and livability, too. Out in the kitchen paint a table and chairs in country colors with no-fuss enamel. Covers marks and scars. Wipes clean with a damp cloth. Child-proof!

Bring the Jack Frost touch to your very door by antiquing your front door: Bristol blue, cinnamon or goldenrod. Outline the panels in stark white enamel. Or antique an entire paneled wall.

She "Accentuates the Positive"

ALBUQUERQUE JOURNAL, move over, . . . make room for Mary Jane Crane who says that is where she will work upon graduation from Texas Tech in the spring of 1970. When asked if "they" know it, she shook her short-cropped head of hair negatively and laughed, which is what one would expect from Janey, the laugh, that is.

Jane says until this year she was unable to decide just what she would do upon graduation but this semester at Texas Tech is helping her crystallize her thoughts and goals, that she knows now she wants to be a big-time newspaper woman and she feels a city such as Albuquerque, a favorite place with her, would be a suitable place to make a start toward working for Associated Press.

Twenty, going - on - twenty-one, Mary Jane Crane, the daughter of Mary and James Crane of Muleshoe, was born a victim of the rare congenital disease of the nerves spina bifida, which meant in her case that some of the nerves from the waist down were just missing and that she has very little feeling in, or control over, the movement of her legs. She has mistakenly been thought of as a victim of polio all her life and laughs to think that she has taken all the polio shots just as anyone else.

Unable to walk, she learned to ride a tricycle at the age of 1 1/2 years which her mother believes helped strengthened her for walking, at the age of two. She walked about a year, until her "bones separated and came out of the socket". She lived in "body casts" for as long as six months at a time, for the next two years and after that her parents secured a wheelchair for her, which Janie thought quite a lark when she could persuade her little friends to push her. Although her doctors thought Janie could never walk she managed to learn to walk with the aid of braces and crutches in time to start to school in Clovis, New Mexico. The family moved to Muleshoe in May 1956.

Exhibiting a strong desire to manage without help, Jane manipulated some of the long, waxed halls of grade school in a wheelchair and later in high school scorned even this aid.

Except for a few months when she underwent surgery in the 7th and eighth grades and an operation when she was a sophomore and another when she was a junior she has been in regular attendance at school. During the weeks she was unable to attend she studied at home with the assistance of some of her teachers and was able to keep up with her class.

A flute player in the Mighty M Band, she also held office in band, worked on the annual staff her senior year and her freshman year at Eastern New Mexico University on the staff of "The Chase", where she was a student two years. Janie and two other students unable to walk negotiated their way between buildings in golf carts which had been donated by interested people. At "Eastern" the sidewalks are wide and it was not too difficult but in the fall of 1968 Jane decided she would transfer to Texas Tech. The only cart rider at Tech, here she finds the sidewalks are either narrow or non-existent, but characteristic of her optimistic thinking, she said,

"It's not bad, with a closed campus."

Her longest ride in the golf cart is from Knapp Hall, where she lives, to the Architectural building. She manipulates winding and free-standing staircases on crutches and does not even consider avoiding such places if there is reason for her to go there. During the political rallies, she managed to get through the crowds and shake hands with Muskie at the airport and is still piqued that she missed by a slim margin the chance to shake the hand of president-elect Nixon.

With her ready smile and quick wit, Janie was regarded as pleasant company by classmates. Though she could not skate, she was among those present at class skating parties and no one had more fun than she and a fellow classmate who also took his fun by watching the antics of their friends. She attended youth center dances and, when asked, "did a mean twist", on crutches.

has demonstrated that she is able to get to and from classes on the sprawling Tech campus and make a place for herself among the more than 19,000 students.

James and Mary Crane are parents of three other children; seventeen year old Cindy, a senior; Kim is the thirteen year old only son and an eighth grader; and Terri, age 11, is in the sixth grade, both in Junior high school. Mrs. Crane is a teacher in Muleshoe schools and her husband is a partner in a tire store.

Endeavoring to learn the secret of Jane's undaunted spirit from her parents, one is told only that "It is not that she has accomplished so much, but that she is able to live like everyone else." In earlier days Jane scorned being associated with handicapped persons, refusing offers of summer camps, etc. It wasn't that she was unappreciative but rather that she "Accentuates the Positive" and "Eliminates the Negative", feeling no need for special treatment. With a spirit so much larger than her

90 pound body, and absolutely no recognition of limitations, there is little doubt that Jane will indeed become a writer for AP (or anything else she sets as her goal.)
(How do you like the sign she put on the golf cart?)

- A feminine look continues in blouses. There are ruffles around necklines and cuffs or down the front of the blouse combined with small tucks. Some of the blouses have a print resembling wall paper--others have collars with bows or full ascots. Cuffs with gathered sleeves are seen on many of the blouses. Collars may be high or open in the front with rather wide corners.

maturation temperatures, at eradicating diseases such as Verticillium wilt, and at controlling weeds and insects such as the boll weevil.

Examples of CPI research include: (1) A study at Texas Tech concentrated on handling and marketing practices and aimed at reducing the cost of getting cotton to market, (2) work at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock to develop plants and production techniques to offset the problems of low temperatures and a short growing season, and (3) another project at the Lubbock station concentrated on developing the best weed control practices for cotton on the Southern Great Plains.

Altogether some 85 lines of research to reduce production costs and improve cotton products are scheduled for 1969.

Research will be concentrated in ten major areas: (1) diseases, (2) insects, (3) yield and quality, (4) weeds, (5) mechanization, (6) marketing, (7) processing and finishing, (8) durable press and other characteristics to enhance cotton textile products, (9) product development, and (10) cottonseed.

The projects will be concerned with:

*Diseases. Control of diseases causing losses of around 12 per cent of the crop -- verticillium wilt, seedling diseases, and boll rots.

*Insects. Less expensive and more effective control of the boll weevil, bollworm, and pink bollworm.

*Yield and quality. Adapting the plant to perform better at lower temperatures, reducing shedding, setting more fruit, and incorporating earliness and high yield characteristics.

*Weeds. Control of difficult perennial weeds such as Johnsongrass and nutgrass, more effective herbicidal action in problem soils, and cutting the costs and increasing the reliability of herbicides.

*Mechanization. Machine systems for cheaper and more automated production, improved planting methods, less costly and more effective application of chemicals, altering physical and chemical deficiencies in subsoils.

*Marketing. Procedures and practices directed toward a more efficient over-all system of processing, handling, and marketing cotton -- including improvements in harvesting, ginning, packaging, sampling, and fiber testing.

*Processing and finishing. Reducing the cost of cotton products through new and improved treatments and techniques in textile mills and finishing plants.

*Consumer quality improvement. Providing durable press fabrics with greater strength, abrasion resistance, resilience, fire and weather resistance -- and enhancing cotton's durable press performance while retaining its other advantages such as comfort.

*Product development. Improvements in all-cotton durable press to check inroads of synthetics and blends in sheets, pillowcases, and work trousers; and treatments, processes, and techniques pointed toward increased cotton consumption in floor coverings, knitted outerwear, and disposable or limited-use clothing.

fications in his office at the courthouse for anyone to see if they are interested in checking the plans. He said these plans may not be removed from his office, but are available during office hours for interested people to see.

County Commissioners also approved and signed a contract and agreement, along with city council members, on the operation and maintenance of the law enforcement center.

As the center will be occupied jointly by city, county and state officers, one important area will be in communications (or radio operations).

The city and county will share the responsibilities and the finances for the new center when it is completed.

According to the agreement, the city will have at least 450 square feet of floor space in the center. The county will pay all utilities and provide the janitorial services for the office but the city will furnish all their own office furniture and equipment.

"The county shall have the sole responsibility and duty to provide continuous radio dispatch service at and from said Law Enforcement Center, upon such radio frequencies as are selected and required to be used."

"The County shall have the further responsibility to hire a sufficient number of personnel, who will be employees of Bailey County, Texas so that such radio dispatch service is maintained on a twenty-four (24) hour per day basis."

"The county shall further have the responsibility and duty for all supervision, training and scheduling of all personnel hired to provide continuous radio dispatch service, and shall further have the responsibility and privilege of discharging such personnel."

The City of Muleshoe will pay 60 percent of the radio dispatch service and the other 40 percent will be provided by the county. This shall include each governmental bodies' share of radio dispatcher salary, insurance, taxes and social security.

In other county business, Kenneth Martin was hired as courthouse custodian to replace Roy Bayless who will take the office of constable at the first of the year; insurance contracts were renewed and two easements were procured from John L. Birdwell.

The easements were 10 feet strips on either side of county road 1731 in the southwest part of the county. The state is taking over the road and it will be Farm-Market Road 1731.

County Judge Cihak also said, "Please note that the Bailey County courthouse has erected the old city Christmas lights around the courthouse. They were given to the county by city officials."

"Clarence Christian, Roger Correll, and Tommy Gunstream, all of the Jaycees and Roy Bayless, Bailey County custodian, put up the lights."

He further asked everyone to encourage the players as it takes a lot of work for the boys and asked everyone to attend the basketball games and back the teams.

Coach Moore said there are 42 girls from all grades in the girls' basketball program. There are no tall girls, but next year there will be several tall girls in varsity basketball. He said the girls have a good attitude and want to win.

Moore also reported that rebounding is a big problem with the girls and causes most of their problems during a game.

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Carpenter and grandson Danny Howard, attended the Carpenter reunion in McAllen, Texas Thursday of last week. They left Wednesday for McAllen. The James Carpenter family, formerly of this area but now residents of Houston, were also on hand for the reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McKenzie, of Sweetwater, are the proud parents of a baby boy born December 8 in Sweetwater. The baby weighed 7 lbs. He had not been named as of Monday morning. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, Lazbuddie and Mr. and Mrs. S.L. McKenzie of Tennessee Colony, Texas.

Freeman Davis returned Friday from Kansas where he attended The Farmers Industrial 40th annual meeting. Davis made the round-trip by plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Henson and son Jeff from Levelland visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Quinn Weaver and other relatives in the area.

Jerry Weaver was discharged from the U.S. Army and returned home. Welcome home, Jerry. Weaver had been stationed at Long Binh, Vietnam the past two years.

Many Lazbuddie Folks and Muleshoe people attended the football game in Post Friday night, the game between the Mutt and Jeff team as one person put it. The Horns looked small compared to the Throckmorton team. They put up a good fight. Their scoring was even better than the Green Bay Packers did against Baltimore Colts in the game Saturday and these two NFL games were about the same in size. Congratulations to Coach Casey, Coach Flanagan and the Longhorn team on such a fine game played at Post.

Birthday Greetings go to Brent Hall, Davis Gulley, John Gulley, Glen Morris, Dianna Stanford, Lyndon Foster, Taft Vinch, Lupe Trevino, Tomie Fox, Leroy Cox and Theron Vaughn.

The Lazbuddie school will turn out for the Christmas holidays Friday December 20, at 2:30.

I Would Like to Send a Christmas Card!
By Mrs. C.A. Watson

I would like to send a Christmas Card
To every person on sea or land;
The front of the card would read "Peace on Earth, Goodwill Toward Man."
Inside of the front of the card would show-
Three Wise Men guided by the star-so bright
Shining down on The Little Town of Bethlehem
On That Silent and Holy Christmas night,
Not in a mansion but in a lowly place
There in a manger The Christ Child lay,
Mary the Mother and other worshippers around
The familiar scene would portray.
The scripture text given would declare
Why our Saviour wasn't born in rich fame
But with capitol letters would tell
What Jesus means and why Jesus is His Name.

Now at the bottom of the card would hang Christmas Bells decked with Jewels and Gold
The symbol to ring out glad tidings and good news
The gospel story both new and old.
Inside of the back of this card would be-
Sketches of a group singing in a choir,
Then underneath would be the Mercy Seat
Showing hands folded there in prayer.
I would like to send this Christmas Card
Conveyed with the thoughts above
And say a Very Merry Christmas to all-
Then sign the card with love.

New Plan to Ease Physician Shortage

By--Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Austin.--A drastic plan to overcome the state's shortage of physicians will be presented to the 1969 Legislature.

Proposal will come from the Coordinating Board, which is responsible for administering public education in Texas beyond the high school level. Their multi-pronged program would include doubling first-year enrollments in existing state medical schools in Galveston, Dallas and San Antonio--to a minimum of 565 freshmen by 1980 -- and giving tax subsidies to the Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston so that it can educate as many doctors for the state as it does privately.

Then, if the Legislature agrees, a new state medical school would be established in the Texas Medical Center in Houston. Also, Texas Tech would be authorized to start planning for a West Texas medical school, using the facilities of the Amarillo Medical Center and the expertise of Lubbock, Midland and Odessa hospital authorities.

"Should the need for the establishment of another additional medical school develop in the future," the Coordinating Board said, it will consider putting one at the University of Texas in Austin.

Meantime, all medical educators will be urged to explore possibilities for clinical and post-graduate capabilities in medical centers in El Paso, Temple and Tyler.

To be considered also is the dental shortage. A new state dental school is proposed for San Antonio, as well as tax subsidies for the Baylor School of Dentistry in Dallas. If Baylor can't help, then expansion of the UT Dental School in Houston will be considered.

To meet North Texas' growing educational needs, a college for junior, senior and graduate students is proposed in Dallas; acceptance of South-west Center for Advanced Studies -- to be renamed The University of Texas Center for Advanced Studies in Dallas; a "federation" of North Texas State, Texas Woman's and East Texas State Universities to upgrade the quality of programs; and upper-level colleges for Houston, Midland-Odessa, and Corpus Christi, in addition to a 4-year college in San Antonio.

Campaign statements, as well as current ones, made by Gov.-elect Preston Smith and Lt. Gov.-elect Ben Barnes indicate that they will lend strong support to the recommendations.

WATER PLAN SET -- Texas' long-term, multi-billion-dollar water plan -- four years in the making -- will be unveiled at a public meeting here on December 17.

Texas Water Development Board Chairman Mills Cox announced the ceremony to explain the final version to top state officials, legislators, river authority, water district, conservation and city interests.

Long-range plan -- estimated to cost $3.7 billion for full implementation -- was revealed in preliminary form on May 30, 1966.

During the two years that followed, it was subjected to public hearings and criticisms all over the state. Most criticism came from West Texas which felt it had been short-changed by planners. Two years' work went into the proposals before the tentative draft was completed.

Backbone of the mammoth plan is a 980-mile system of lakes, channels and conduits to transport water from areas of surplus in East Texas to parched South Texas.

SCREW-WORMS GALORE -- Texas confirmed 4,400 screw-worm cases during October, compared to 4,219 in Mexico, 75 in Arizona, 29 in California and 11 in New Mexico.

To combat the disease, 456,086,000 sterile flies were dropped over Texas. Mexico got 432,254,000, Arizona 50,590,000, California, 8,300,000 and New Mexico 9,534,000.

Still, a joint report of the Texas Animal Health Commission and the U.S. Department of Agriculture said there were no cases of scabies nor no suspicious outbreaks of hog cholera in Texas during October.

PARK STUDY -- Senate Interim Committee To Study Park and Recreation Facilities has decided on at least two recommendations: (1) expediting the proposed Conquistador Highway from El Paso to the Big Bend and (2) restoration of Camp Verde in Kerr County.

Conquistador Trail has been proposed by Trans-Pecos groups at least three times but the Texas Highway Commission has pleaded a lack of money. Highway would follow the Rio Grande into the Big Bend National Park.

Camp Verde quartered that famous Texas experiment in the use of camels before the Civil War. Later, the animals were moved farther west, to Fort Davis.

LEASE SALE SUCCESSFUL -- School Land Board's last oil and gas lease sale of the year added $2,197,315 to the Permanent School Fund, bringing the total in that fund to $782,672,731.

Board leased 49,868 acres at an average price of $44 per acre.

Atlantic Richfield was the high bidder, with an offer of $186,782.40 on Marginal No. 411 covering 1,440 acres in the Gulf of Mexico, Jefferson County.

Atlantic Richfield also had the second highest bid, $149,818.40 for another 1,440-acre tract in Jefferson County.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler, who also is chairman of the School Land Board, expressed satisfaction with the average price per acre. COURTS SPEAK -- Supreme Court agreed in a little-publicized Neuces County case that Texas retired under company pension plans cannot promptly establish eligibility for unemployment compensation without making diligent search for work.

Do Something School Reaches Drop-Outs

AUSTIN--The key phrase in Lockhart Junior High School's plan to drop the dropout rate is "do something."

"We took a good look at the students we could expect to lose in a year or two--and knew we had to do something and do it in a hurry," Howard Lock, school principal, recalls.

"The school had to reach out to these children in a new way or we would fall them completely."

Lock and school counselor Mrs. Jo Nell Mohle hinged their own ideas to some of the newest classroom success stories from across the state, amending programs and juggling time to fit Lockhart, a town of approximately 6,700 population, and its children. The results? Visitors from other schools who come to Lockhart for ideas and reassurance call them amazing. Here are some examples.

One group of 20 students who had made an average academic growth of only 2.3 months in seven months of traditional sixth grade work went directly into the new eighth grade Coordinated Vocational Academic Education program, skipping the seventh grade completely. In five months these 20 children made 5.6 months growth, or .6 above average.

Another group of 44 students who grew academically only 3.9 months during six months in a standard seventh grade achieved 6.5 months growth during just five months of CVAE work.

"Eighty-six students passed our way," Mrs. Mohle said. "Some of them did not attend school regularly, but the whole group grew by a factor of six months in a seven-month period."

Lockhart Junior High had lost 156 students to the dropout route during a three-year period, 92 of them between the eighth and ninth grade. The city's high school should have an enrollment of 736 students but lists only 580 on its classroom rolls.

"Somehow we had to get these youngsters into a program they could pass," Lock points out. "We had to prepare them to enter high school, give them a feeling of achievement, prepare them for responsible citizenship, and teach them the skills necessary to get and hold a job."

Lockhart decided to do everything different for these students. It replaced traditional text books with the daily newspaper, rigid classroom periods with flexible scheduling, long study periods with field trips. In short, it gave children used to failure a lively interest in school again.

The CVAE day begins in the school auditorium where 86 students and five teachers meet to check over the morning newspaper and tie its top stories from elections to money crises to class work in social studies. Later in the day, students and teachers break up into small groups for work in English, arithmetic, homemaking, shop, and spelling.

"We try to give the student a linkup between what he's interested in and what he needs to know to function in the working world," Lock explains. "For example, if he's working with a screwdriver in shop class, he'll be more interested in learning how to spell the word. This is the ideal time to teach him."

What happens to these students when they cross the old unbridgeable gap into high school? Let's look at one boy's record. We'll call him Joe, although any name would do.

Joe started junior high school with the learning of a fourth grader. He was a tall boy and carried books from class to class like other youngsters his own age. But, to Joe education was just chunks of time between the 45-minute bells. Now he was in the pivotal seventh grade, the place dropout kids decide school doesn't show them much anymore.

Today Joe is a freshman at Lockhart High School, a middle-track student who may wear a cap and gown in a few years. His first six-weeks grades give both Joe and his teachers a reason to work: mathematics, 67; English, 88; general business, 80; and CVAE, 87.

"These children are capable of learning--if we teach them where they are," Lock explains. "Once we could do that and give them some taste of success in the classroom, their whole idea of their own worth changed. This new self-image is the key to it all."

This self-image is something real to the students. They chart their own progress on summary sheets of raw test scores, watching the lines turn up across the graph paper squares as month after month rolls into a whole school year. They're learning because they want to learn.

And their parents? Some of them know what's happening and why. Others know what's happening and don't understand why. But, all see something new--and they like it.

"I don't know what you're doing," one told a Lockhart teacher. "But, please keep on doing it."

Increase Noted 1969 Dividends

More than 4,250,000 World War I and World War II veterans holding GI insurance policies will receive $236 million in dividends during 1969, Jack Coker, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco, said today.

This is $13 million more than the 1968 dividend payment of $223 million.

The dividends will be paid throughout 1969 on the anniversary dates of the policies, Coker said.

He emphasized that veterans need not apply for the dividends since payments will be made automatically. For nearly 4,100,000 World War II veterans, National Service Live Insurance (NSLI) 1969 dividends will total $218 million. The average payment will be about $53. NSLI dividends in 1968 were $208 million.

Some 185,000 World War I veterans with United States Government Life Insurance (USGLI) policies will receive a 1969 dividend of $18 million. The 1968 dividend amounted to $15 million. Average payment in 1969 will be approximately $97, up $18 over the 1968 average of $79.

Increased interest earnings on government life insurance funds made possible the higher 1969 dividends.

These earnings will also enable VA to pay a modest, first-time dividend averaging $11 to approximately 193,000 veterans holding modified life insurance policies. These policies are issued at a low permanent plan premium rate and provide maximum insurance protection until the veteran reaches age 65. Then the face value of the policy is halved.

Federal Funds Are Approved For Palo Duro

AUSTIN--A Federal grant of $12,400 has been approved for additional development of Palo Duro State Park, 12 miles east of Canyon in Armstrong and Randall Counties, according to Will Odom, chairman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

The funds will be matched by appropriations made by the State Legislature on a 50-50 basis for a total of $24,800.

The funds will be used to provide outdoor recreation for the general public by constructing restrooms, campsites, trailer units with shade shelters, roads and parking facilities, and necessary supporting utilities.

The project also includes design, layout, site preparation and landscaping.

Palo Duro Canyon is approximately one million years old and exposes 90 million years of geological formations.

The canyon was the scene of a decisive battle between Comanche and Kiowa Indians and the U.S. Army troops under General Ronald MacKenzie (1874-76).

The early history of Texas is depicted in a musical drama, "Texas" held in the park's outdoor theater.

The Federal Land and Water Conservation Fund Program is administered on the Federal level by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, U.S. Department of the Interior. Its funds are derived from the sale of the $7 Golden Eagle Passport, and other recreation funds.

Odom is State Liaison Officer for the fund and responsible for reviewing projects and proposals submitted for Federal assistance.

JOY TO THE WORLD--This, among other Christmas carols rang out in downtown Muleshoe last Saturday afternoon when the Muleshoe High School Mighty 'M' marching band dropped out of the parade as it began and played Christmas carols for the tremendous crowd during the parade. Throngs of excited Muleshoe visitors lined the streets on all sides as they watched the colorful floats and marchers officially begin the Christmas season.

It's Income Tax Management Time

COLLEGE STATION.--Farmers, like other businessmen, are provided by law with many tax management tools.

Money save, according to James I. Mallett, Extension farm management specialist at Texas A&M University, by sound income tax management is money available for investment in the farm business or for family spending.

But, he adds, adjustments in farm sales or purchases for managing 1968 income taxes must be made before December 31. Checking farm records now may be profitable at tax reporting time it's too late for some of the following legal and helpful steps.

Mallett lists these possibilities for consideration if your 1968 income is above average: Expenditures, if taxes are determined on a cash method, some 1969 expenses can be moved into 1968 such as repairing equipment, painting buildings and buying 1969 farm supplies.

Equipment and Livestock Purchases; Equipment and livestock purchases planned for 1969 may be purchased in 1968 in order to claim some depreciation and investment credit against 1968 income.

Fast Depreciation; Accelerated depreciation may give twice as much deduction as the straight line method the first year, and may be changed to the straight line method in later years when extra depreciation would not be advantageous. Some assets may qualify for an additional 20 percent first year depreciation allowance.

Delayed Sales; If your records show 1968 income to be higher than normal, sales of some livestock and crops may be delayed until after the year end.

Installment Sales; When a farm or other real estate is sold, the total tax may be reduced by reporting on the installment basis.

To qualify for installment reporting, less than 30 percent of the selling price must be received during the tax year. Taxes are paid only on the profits received from installment sales. When you find you cannot afford something the best thing to do is to do without it.

Q -- I receive a pension from the Veterans Administration. With my November check I received a questionnaire regarding my income for 1968 and 1969. Since my income is what I estimated on last year's questionnaire, must I return this new questionnaire?

A -- Yes--it is particularly important that you return the questionnaire you received in early November.

The VA will inaugurate a new pension system on January 1 which will raise income limitations $200 and key pensions to $100 variations in income. Thus, the VA must receive your completed income questionnaire in order to determine how much of a pension under this new system you are entitled to receive.

Your questionnaire must be returned to VA by January 15 if you are to continue receiving your pension.

Q -- Can I receive Veterans Administration benefits for flight training under the War Orphans Educational Assistance program? I have my private pilot's license.

A -- Flight training is not approved under the War Orphans Educational Assistance Act. Therefore, the VA cannot pay you any benefits for flight training.

A TEXAS CHRISTMAS--First place winner in the Christmas parade last Saturday in the 'fantasy' division was the TEXAS CHRISTMAS float entered by the Thespians. The young group walked off with the $100 first prize for their entry.

NOTICE AND INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS

December 9, 1968

1. Sealed bids will be received by the Commissioners Court, Bailey County, Texas, hereinafter referred to as the "Owner", for performing the work as set forth in the Plans and Specifications entitled Bailey County Jail and Law Enforcement Center, Muleshoe, Texas, on or before 10:00 o'clock January 9, 1969, in the Commissioners Court, Bailey County Court House, Muleshoe, Texas, at which time said bids will be publicly opened and read.

2. All bids must be made on the blank form of proposal furnished in the specifications.

3. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or bidder's bond payable to the Owner for five per cent of the total amount of the bid. As soon as the bid prices have been compared, the Owner will return the check or bond of all except the three lowest responsible bidders. When the contract is awarded, the checks or bonds of the two remaining unsuccessful bidders will be returned. The check or bond of the successful bidder will be retained until the contract and surety bond have been executed and approved, after which it will be returned.

4. A performance and payment bond in the amount of 100 percent of the contract price with a corporate surety approved by the Owner and Architect will be required for the faithful performance of the contract, and the bidder shall state in the proposal the name and address of the surety or sureties who will sign this bond in case the contract is awarded to him. A maintenance guarantee for the repair of all damage due to improper materials or workmanship for a period of one year after the acceptance of the work by the Owner will also be required.

5. The party to whom the contract is awarded will be required forthwith to execute the contract and a performance and payment bond within ten calendar days from the date when the written notice of the award of the contract is mailed to the bidder at the address given by him. In case of failure to do so, the Owner may at his option consider that the bidder has abandoned the contract, in which case the certified check or bidder's bond accompanying the proposal shall become the property of the Owner.

6. The Owner reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to accept any bid. Contractors' proposals shall hold firm for thirty days. Mutually agreed upon extensions of time may be made, if necessary.

7. Before the award of the contract, any bidder may be required to furnish evidence satisfactory to the Owner and to the Architect of the necessary facilities, ability, and pecuniary resources to fulfill the conditions of the said contract.

8. Prior to signing the contract, the Contractor shall submit on a form acceptable to the Owner and Architect, an overall construction schedule for the project. This construction schedule shall start with the proposed date of signing the contract, and the completion date shall be the date specified in the contract.

9. Bidders must satisfy themselves by personal examination of the location of the proposed work, by examination of the Plans and Specifications and requirements of the work.

A. Should a bidder find discrepancies in or omissions from the plans, specifications, or other documents, or should he be in doubt as to their meaning, he should at once notify the Architect and obtain clarification prior to submitting any bid.

B. Contracts to be let will consist of:
A. Turnkey Building Contract Except Jail Equipment.
B. Jail Equipment.

10. The Construction Contract and the Detailed Specifications contain the provisions required for the construction of the project. No information obtained from any officer, agent, or employee of the Owner on any such matters shall in any way affect the risk or obligation assumed by the Contractor or relieve him from fulfilling any of the conditions of the contract.

11. Proposals which are incomplete, unbalanced, conditional or obscure or which contain additions not called for, erasures, alterations or irregularities of any kind or which do not comply with the Notice and Instructions to Bidders may be rejected at the option of the Owner.

12. A bidder may withdraw any proposal he has submitted at any time prior to the hour set for the closing of the bids provided the request for withdrawal is signed in a manner identical with the proposal being withdrawn. No withdrawal or modification will be permitted after the hour designated for closing the bids.

13. Computation of quantities that will be the basis for payment estimates, both monthly and final, will be made by the Architect.

14. The Owner will be responsible for payment in accordance with the terms of the Contract.

The word "Contractor" means the person, firm or corporation to whom the award is made. Subcontractors as such will not be recognized.

The word "Architect" refers to Bill W. Cantrell, Architects & Land Planners, designated by the Owner as its representative during the course of construction to make appropriate inspections and computations of payments.

15. Plans and Specifications may be obtained from Bill W. Cantrell, Architects, Land Planners. A deposit of $50.00 will be required for the Plans and Specifications. $50.00 will be returned to those returning them in good condition within ten days after the date of the bid opening.

BE A GOODFELLOW

Since the November 18 announcement of 1969 cotton program provisions, several have asked about the formula by which the price support payments plus the price support loan equals 65 per cent of parity on 100 per cent of allotments as required by law for 1969. Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says he has answered several letters and telephone calls on the matter and feels the following explanation is in order.

The formula for setting the price support payment level is a part of the law itself and is not overly complicated if the proper figures are used.

The law states that the payment rate, when multiplied by the farm domestic allotment percentage (65 per cent), divided by the permissible acreage (100 per cent in 1969), and added to the national average loan rate, shall not be less than 65 per cent of the parity price of cotton for the month in which the rate is announced.

"Where most people make their mistake," Johnson says, "is in using the loan rate for Middling-Inch cotton instead of the national average loan rate as prescribed in the law."

The loan rate for Middling-Inch cotton in 1969 is set at 20.25 cents per pound. But the loan rate for the national average of the crop figures 54 points lower, at 19.71 cents. The price support payment for 1969 was announced to be 14.73 cents per pound, paid on domestic allotments only.

So, using the formula, you come up with 14.73 cents times 65 per cent, or 9.57. Divide this figure by 100 per cent and you still have 9.57. Add it to 19.71 and you get 29.28.

Parity for November was 45.04 cents per pound, 65 per cent of which is 29.28 cents, the same figure which comes out of the formula.

More practically, consider that you plant all of a 100 acre allotment with a projected and actual yield of 500 pounds.

The price support payment will be made on 65 per cent of your total projected yield, or 32,500 pounds. Those pounds times 14.73 will give you a payment of $4,787.25.

All of your production, 50,000 pounds, will be eligible for the loan. The loan rate, assuming your crop conforms to the national average, will be 19.71 cents per pound, so you'd be eligible for another $9,855.00.

Put these two total figures together and total cotton income is $14,642.25, almost exactly the same as the $14,640.00 you get by multiplying 65 per cent of the parity price for cotton (29.28 cents) times your 50,000 pound production.

Of course the overall, or blended, price of your cotton will not necessarily be 29.28 cents per pound. This will only be true if your crop conforms exactly to the national average quality and if you produce exactly your projected yield.

Republican Congressman Bob Price of Pampa, being seriously considered for Secretary of Agriculture in President-elect Nixon's cabinet, is drawing broad support from agricultural leaders across Texas and particularly from the Texas High Plains.

"The appointment of Congressman Robert Dale (Bob) Price as your Secretary of Agriculture is one of the best possible ways to assure farm support for your new administration. His deep understanding of the problems facing major farm commodities will prove a tremendous asset to agriculture and to the nation. We congratulate you for giving him consideration and urge his appointment."

Similar telegrams went from PCG to Senator John Tower (R-Tex.) and others certain to play an important role in Nixon's choice of cabinet members.

The Texas Association of Cotton Producers (TACPO) also threw its weight behind Price with a telegram stating that "Texas cotton producers strongly support the appointment of Congressman Price as Secretary of Agriculture. This action would be a positive step toward a growing agricultural economy and would greatly strengthen Texas support for your administration."

PCG represents cotton producers and allied industry people in 23 counties surrounding Lubbock. TACPO is an organization with six cotton producer association members, including PCG, representing virtually all of the cotton producers in Texas. Its telegram was sent over the signature of Joe B. Pate, Jr., Chairman.

Price, Eighteenth District Congressman since 1966, was re-elected by a strong vote this year. He is a graduate of Oklahoma State University and a long-time rancher-banker in the Texas Panhandle.

His district covers 28 Panhandle and High Plains counties, eight of which are in the territory covered by Plains Cotton Growers.

Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of PCG, said "We would be fortunate indeed to have a man of Mr. Price's broad knowledge as Secretary of Agriculture. His background, his training and his tenure on the House Agriculture Committee make him uniquely qualified for the job."

He went on to say that agriculture is now at a very crucial point and that as Secretary of Agriculture Price would have one of the most challenging positions in the nation.

"Commodity programs of all kinds are under heavy fire in Congress," he said, "and Price's experience, understanding and vision is badly needed to devise and administer future programs that will have the support of Congress and maintain our agricultural economy."

MRS. SANTA--Mrs. Santa arrived Saturday afternoon for the Christmas parade in a most unusual manner. She drove a tractor... and pulled a float. The float was entered by the Pleasant Valley Social Club and won a special $15 cash prize as on out-of-town entry. The theme of the float was "Santa's Helpers" and was liberally covered with tiny brown reindeer who immediately scattered as soon as the parade ended at the Boy Scout grounds.

'Have You Seen Our Daughter?' Bernardino, California, phone (714) 889-0111.

Redlands, California -- Monday, March 18, 1968, began as an ordinary day for Elizabeth Lurene Ernstein when she left home for classes at Moore Junior High School in Redlands, California. But this Monday on the 19th of March was not to be an ordinary day. Elizabeth's school day passed without incident. She attended her last class, then left school at 3:40 p.m. to walk home, a two-mile route through blossoming orange groves. She never arrived home. Somewhere along the lonely street, Elizabeth Ernstein vanished.

There are no clues to her whereabouts, or even to what happened to the 14-year-old girl, other than a report from a Redlands businessman who was driving through the area. He thought he saw a girl resembling Elizabeth walking toward the corner of the street on which she lived. To her parents, Norman and Ruth Ernstein, the months of uncertainty and anxiety over their missing daughter "are the deepest anguish a person can go through. It is a shock so deep you become wooden," the mother explained.

The Ernsteins are appealing nationwide for help in locating their daughter. Ernstein, a chemical engineer at Lockheed in Redlands, and his wife, a psychiatric social worker, have posted a $5,000 reward for information that will solve the mystery of their daughter's disappearance. They have vowed: "We will not rest until we know."

Neither parent has rested since that first long night when their young daughter failed to come home. They have tracked miles through orange groves, fields, foothills, and canyons in and around the Redlands area. They have followed every lead, no matter how slight, in the search for Elizabeth.

"I can face the daytime better than the night," the distraught mother said. "At night I find myself saying: 'Is she safe? Is she warm? Is she fed? ... and finally. . . is she alive?'"

When Elizabeth, nicknamed "Liz" by her friends, left for school that March morning, she had only 25¢ with her. She was dressed in a blue dress with white flowers, tennis shoes and a dark-olive corduroy coat. Around her neck she wore a small gold chain with a pendant gold and blue star. En route home, she carried a red algebra book and a blue loose-leaf notebook. Neither has been found.

Elizabeth is five feet, five-

inches tall, weighs 105 pounds and had brown hair and brown eyes. She is one of five Ernstein children. The family lost one of these, a son, to polio in 1952.

"This, the second tragedy in our lives, is even greater because of the uncertainty," the desperate father said in his appeal to end the nightmare. "I can accept anything, even the worst, which I'm resigned to, but I must know."

Any information concerning young Liz Ernstein should be reported promptly to this newspaper or to Capt. Charles Callahan, San Bernardino County Sheriff's Office, San
