CC alumni reunion to be this Saturday

The 2011 Clarendon College Ex-Students Association reunion will be held this Saturday, April 16. Honor classes for the reunion will be graduates from 1960, 1961, 1985, and 1986.

Activities for the day include a brunch at 10 a.m. and reception for honor classes at 4 p.m. An art show also at 4 p.m. will feature the work of CC exes as well as work from other local artists. A banquet will be held at 6 p.m.

In addition to recognizing our honor classes, the banquet will recognize the donors and recipients of endowed scholarships, and three alumni will receive the association's Distinguished Alumnus Award.

If you plan on attending the reunion, please RSVP for tickets by Thursday morning, April 14, by calling Darlene Spier at 806-874-4801.

Community Easter service is April 17

The community Easter service will be held April 17 at 6 p.m. in the First United Church. The Palm Sunday Service is open to the public, everyone is invited.

Passover to be held next Monday night

The Body of Christ Ministries is celebrating Jesus in the Lord's Feast "PASSOVER" Monday, April 18, at the Body of Christ Ministries building at 6:30 p.m. There will be a Potluck side dish meal with the main course provided, live band, and a Passover Seder ceremony. Everyone is invited. Please RSVP to 662-7650.

CC to stage 'Mixed Doubles' this week

The Clarendon College Drama Department will perform the play Mixed Doubles, a comedy in two acts, by Fred Carmichael Thursday, April 14, and Friday, April 15. Curtain each night will be at 7 p.m. in the Harned Sisters Fine Arts Center Auditorium.

The story: Two interwoven one acts, "Love Means Never Having to Say You're Forty" and "Leonard," these plays feature flexible casting since three characters appear in both plays. In the first, a separated, middle-aged couple are in the connecting suites of a Mexican motel to have a fling. Their accidental confrontation makes them realize the importance of their years together. In the farcical second act, a golden age couple, unmarried because of tax benefits, is in one suite and a group of inept heroin smugglers is in the other.

Baseball signup set

Clarendon Baseball League will hold a sign-up for boys and girls ages 5-8 for T-ball and Machine Pitch League.

Sign-up will be held at the Bronco Gym on Thursday, April 14 from 5 to 7 p.m. Fees are $35 per player. Players must be 5 by August 1 to sign up.

Chilling symbol

One hundred and eighty-four shoes are hanging in front of City Hall this week, one for every child who died from child abuse in Texas last year. The Donley County Child Welfare Board prepared the display as a way to call raise awareness for Child Abuse Prevention Month during April. Next year the display will include a shoe for four-year-old Chance Jones of Clarendon, who died January 5, 2011, after suffering severe physical abuse. His father, Robert Babcock, remains in the Donley County Jail, charged with capital murder.

County renews burn ban

Donley County Commissioners renewed a "Red Flag" Burn Ban during a called meeting last Wednesday.

The resolution bans outdoor burning on days labeled as a "Red Flag Warning" by the National Weather Service and the Texas Forest Service. No burning may occur within 24 hours of a forecasted Red Flag event. All existing fires should be extinguished 24 hours prior to a Red Flag event.

County Judge Jack Hall on April 1 had issued an emergency executive order banning all outdoor burning, including barbecue grills, in the unincorporated areas of the county. That order is no longer in effect, and the commissioners' resolution does not include barbecue grills, the judge said.

The Donley County Sheriff's Department is issued statements from the National Weather Service in Amarillo concerning fire weather and they are updated as needed as fire weather conditions change. Dispatchers have at hand information regarding Fire Weather Watches and Red Flag Warnings to be relayed to the public as needed. This information is also available on the web at <http://www.srh.noaa.gov/ama>.

All fires must be reported to the Sheriff's Office prior to ignition. Violation of the burn ban can carry a fine of up to $500.

As dry conditions continue, the Eastern TX Panhandle Chapter of the American Red Cross urges everyone to be cautious with open flames. It only takes a spark for a fire to get started and then driven by winds to create a wildfire.

Prepare your home against wildfire. Create a 30 to 100 ft safety zone around your home. Within this area here are a few steps to take to reduce potential exposure to flames and radiant heat.

Rake leaves, dead limbs and twigs. Clear all flammable vegetation. Remove leaves and rubbish from under structures. Mow grass regularly. Clear a 10 ft area around propane tanks and the barbecue. Place a screen over the grill.

County officials will announce critical information about evacuations and where to go if necessary. Wildfire is a life-threatening event. Follow officials' directions for your safety.

Panhandle Press names Estlack to Hall of Fame

Ruby Dell Estlack, former co-owner of THE DONLEY COUNTY LEADER, was inducted into the Panhandle Press Association Hall of Fame during the PPA's 101st annual convention in Amarillo last Friday.

During a banquet at the American Quarter Horse Museum, Estlack was recognized for 38 years of service and commitment to the newspaper industry in the Texas Panhandle. Doug McDonough of the PLAINVIEW DAILY HERALD was also honored.

Estlack began working at the LEADER shortly after she married George Wayne Estlack in 1936. She was assigned the job of collecting on accounts, which she did in person in order to improve goodwill between the paper and its customers. She later would take on the role of Society Editor as well before she and her husband became the paper's sole owners in 1958.

Estlack was not able to attend the convention, but her daughter, Jackie Patterson, accepted the award on her behalf. In an acceptance letter, Estlack wrote:

"At the age of 19 when I married and became a member of the Estlack newspaper family, I never dreamed of seeing this day. I found myself working in all departments of THE DONLEY COUNTY LEADER - except Linotype. And now - to see my name among so many noted newspaper people, I am humbled."

Estlack and her husband were very active members of the Texas and Panhandle Press Associations. As secretary and president of PPA, George Wayne published the association's magazine, and Ruby Dell was responsible for reading all the area papers to provide content for that publication.

She was on hand for several innovations at the LEADER, including the moves from a flat bed, hand-fed press to a roll fed press in the LEADER shop and then finally to an offset press in Childress. She was always involved from start to finish with the paper. After the printing operation moved to Childress, she drove the proofs to Childress each Wednesday - often late at night - and then returned it for Thursday's mail.

In 1974, George Wayne and Ruby Dell sold THE DONLEY COUNTY LEADER to THE CLARENDON PRESS, but the Estlacks remained in the office supply and printing business into the mid-1990s. At 93, Ruby Dell still maintains her independence in her home in Clarendon.

"I have many happy memories from my association with PPA," Estlack wrote. "This award means a lot to me. The many years of newspaper publishing have been my way of life and most rewarding. I've been so blessed."

Estlack's late husband, who passed away in 1994, is also a member of the PPA Hall of Fame, having been inducted in 1998.

Texas Homecoming Queen

Clarendon's Ashlyn Tubbs was named the 2011 Texas Homecoming Queen Sunday in Irving. Tubbs competed against 24 other high school homecoming queens from around the state. She now moves to the national competition this July in California at Disneyland. Shown here are runners-up Lauren Cook and Amber Morrow, 2010 Texas Homecoming Queen Courtney Reed, Ashlyn Tubbs, Clarissa Colen, and Stephanie Addison.

Farmers, ranchers may be eligible for tax relief

Farmers and ranchers may be eligible for property tax relief on their land, and they may apply to the Donley County Appraisal District for agricultural productivity appraisal, a lower appraisal of their land based on what it will produce, rather than what it would sell for on the open market.

There are two types of agricultural productivity appraisal, 1-d-1 and 1-d, named for the sections of the Texas Constitution that authorize them. Most property owners apply for 1-d-1 appraisal. To qualify, the owner must use the land for agriculture or growing timber.

This form of appraisal does not restrict ownership to individuals and does not require agriculture to be the owner's primary business. The land's use in a qualifying agricultural or timber purpose must meet the degree of intensity generally accepted in the area. Owners must show that the land has been devoted principally to the qualifying use for at least five of the preceding seven years.

The deadline to apply for productivity appraisal is April 30. Owners of land qualified as 1-d-1 need not file again in later years unless the chief appraiser requests a new application.

For more information about productivity appraisal and application forms, contact the Donley County Appraisal District at 806-874-2744. Information is also available on the state Comptroller's Web site at www.window.state.tx.us/taxinfo/proptax/ or by calling the Comptroller's Property Tax Division at (800) 252-9121 ext. 2.

Money can't buy economic prosperity

By Dr. Shawn Ritenour

Defenders of the Federal Reserve have been out in force recently declaring the triumph of Money Printing 2. James Grant's suggested more truthful term for "quantitative easing." Some pundits point to an 18-percent increase in the S&P 500 since last August, when the Fed's policy was announced. They also laud a significant increase in inflation expectations. Nominal GDP is on the rise again and official unemployment is lower. All of these are seen as positive economic signs, indicating that Fed policy is working. Don't believe it.

Behind the talk is the notion that monetary spending makes the economic world go round. It does not. Increasing money supply does not magically increase the quantity of land, labor, or capital goods available for production. Creating money out of thin air does not produce more consumer goods, and there is the rub. We cannot eat money. We cannot wear money. We cannot live in money. Even the Beatles knew that money can't buy you love.

Increasing the money stock can, however, result in higher overall prices for goods, including shares of equity stock. It should not surprise us that when the Fed increases money supply, stock prices rapidly increase. As it drives interest rates down, the Fed encourages investors to put their money anywhere they can get a better than average return. If this be in stock investments, so be it.

The trouble is that such inflation-fueled spending does not result in true economic prosperity in the form of more goods to satisfy our ends. It might encourage more spending, but not investment that reflects the wishes of society. Investors are encouraged to invest in industries that are too capital intensive relative to the wishes of savers in society. Such malinvestment fuels investment bubbles. The Federal Reserve inflated the M2 money supply by 48 percent from February 2001 through September 2008, and what does it have to show for itself? The worst economic debacle since the Great Depression. Monetary inflation via credit expansion generated malinvestment in the housing market as well as in the financial derivatives market. Distortions in investment and consumption took place until, due to shrinking capital stock being stretched in too many directions, the commercial paper market found itself "in difficulty;" interest rates began to increase and entrepreneurs were forced to begin liquidating investments that seemed good during easy credit, but were revealed to be unprofitable by real economic conditions.

Regarding current macroeconomic statistics, no one is disputing the facts, but the happy interpretation leaves much to be desired. In the first place, while official unemployment has fallen a little over 1 percent from its height of 10.1 percent during the Great Recession, if the Fed's expansive monetary policy is really that wise, one might think the unemployment rate should be much lower. In fact, much of the drop in the unemployment rate is related to a drop in the civilian labor force relative to its December 2007 level. A low official unemployment rate is not per se an indication of a flourishing economy. In May 2007, the unemployment rate was 4.4 percent. Was the economy strong? No.

Additionally, high stock indices are not necessarily signs of a healthy economy. On October 9, 2007, the Dow Jones Industrial Average closed at 14,164 and the S&P 500 closed at 1,565. These were the highest they have ever been. Were they a sign the economy was strong? No.

Real GDP, likewise, hit an all-time high in October 2007 and then proceeded to contract 4.1 percent during the Great Recession. Similarly, nominal GDP was at an all-time high in July 2008 and then decreased 3.1 percent in less than a year. That monetary spending is up does not necessarily mean the economy has healed. It is just as likely that remaining economic problems have merely covered over with a monetary Band-Aid.

Rising inflationary expectations are not good either. In fact, they are the first step toward hyperinflation. We should not be shocked that more people are expecting overall prices to rise. Expanding the monetary base from $1.7 billion to $1 trillion tends to do that. If people expect continual higher prices, they are likewise expecting a continual loss in the purchasing power of the dollar. People will not want to hold dollars if they think that while they do so, the quantity of goods they can buy with their dollars is shrinking daily. Increased spending increases demand for producer and consumer goods, which raises their prices even more, fueling even more intense inflationary expectations, which encourages people to spend even faster, driving up prices even more sharply, which ... you get the picture. It is a recipe for economic disaster. Ask the Zimbabweans.

If you want to stop a fire, do not throw gasoline on it. Likewise, if we want to solve an economic problem caused by monetary inflation, we should not throw more money at it. To the extent that there is any economic recovery, it is due to real savings wisely invested in productive enterprise, none of which is made possible by government spending and inflation.

What should we do then? We should stop inflating, cut government spending, and reduce government regulation of the economy. Only such a policy will restore our economic footing. Doing so will allow the natural division of labor to develop and encourage capital accumulation and wise investment necessary for economic prosperity.

Buckner leaves legacy of compassion

On a hot July day in 1877, Baptist minister R.C. Buckner gathered concerned citizens around an old oak tree in Paris, Texas, to ask for their help in meeting a local need: a home for orphans in North Texas. From a humble collection that day of $27, Dr. Buckner began his mission to build the Buckner Orphans' Home in Dallas—one of the oldest orphanages west of the Mississippi River. Dr. Buckner visualized a home that would meet the needs of children whose families had been displaced or broken by war, poverty and other burdens. He centered the orphanage on the biblical principles of James 1:27: "Religion that God our Father accepts as pure and faultless is this: to look after orphans and widows in their distress and to keep oneself from being polluted by the world."

In its early years, Buckner Orphans' Home provided a roof over the shoulders of hundreds of orphaned children, as well as a number of elderly individuals who could not take care of themselves. But more than just shelter, Buckner Orphans' Home sought to provide an environment where these children could learn, grow and be loved. The earliest record of adoption services rendered by Buckner Orphans' Home dates back to 1884. Those services continued well into the 1900s, as Buckner placed orphaned infants and children in permanent homes. In 1998, Buckner also partnered with the State of Texas to provide foster care for children and assists foster families that wish to adopt foster children in their care.

Today, Dr. Buckner's dream has developed into Buckner International—one of the largest and longest-operating social services organizations of its kind in Texas and the United States. Buckner International serves more than 400,000 people each year through family and community programs, empowerment programs and humanitarian aid in 17 Texas cities and 10 countries worldwide. Dr. Buckner's original vision and principles continue to guide the organization as it expands and adapts its services to meet ever-changing needs in the community.

texas times by sen. john cornyn

One facet of Buckner International is the Buckner Family Place program. This program provides homeless mothers and their children a better future through low-cost housing, counseling, child care and financial support when enrolled in an approved higher education program. Collaborations with universities and community colleges lay the groundwork as the mothers enrolled in the program strive to achieve something they thought might not be possible before—a college degree. Buckner Family Place helps women in Texas all the way from the Panhandle to the Coast in seven cities.

This month, Buckner will celebrate more than 132 years of service in Texas, helping children and families find safe, loving homes and hope for a better future. I'm proud Texas is home to this remarkable organization that sets an example for all of us on the power of compassion and the life-changing benefits of a second chance.

Congress should follow Aggie example

Amidst bitter negotiations in Congress and with the White House on a long-term budget for the federal government, I can't help but think that Washington could use a lesson in teamwork these days. I was reminded of the remarkable power of a well-functioning team working in synchronization toward a lofty goal on April 5 as I watched the heart-stopping national college championship game between Texas A&M's Lady Aggies and Notre Dame's Fighting Irish. I was inspired to watch the Lady Aggies fight to surmount an obstacle that seemed impossible.

Ultimate victory for A&M's women's basketball team was never a sure shot. But they played with determination and teamwork throughout the season and ended with an impressive 33-5 record. All along they focused on the ultimate goal—the 2011 Women's NCAA Basketball National Championship game. They survived the opening rounds, made it through the Sweet Sixteen and the Elite Eight, dominated the Final Four, and at last met their final competitors on the gleaming court of Consco Fieldhouse in Indianapolis, Indiana.

And on the 30th anniversary of the Women's NCAA Championship, our Texas athletes beat their formidable competitors, 76 to 70, in a game that was exciting to the very end. It was a historic event for A&M's women's basketball team as well, because this was their first-ever attempt at winning a National Championship. After a hard-fought contest by both teams, I congratulate the Aggies and the Fighting Irish on excellent seasons.

All of the skilled athletes on A&M's team played their hearts out; their staunch defense and Danielle Adams' All-American performance were instrumental in the victory. But we know that the key to teamwork and victory is leadership. Running up and down the sideline, throughout the game—indeed, throughout the season—was Coach Gary Blair. Without his instruction and motivation, A&M's win might not have been possible. During his successful 8-year career in the program he has turned the Lady Aggies into a nationally recognized team. And he made history himself by becoming the oldest coach to ever win a Women's National Championship. The Lady Aggies worked as a team, and I hope they will celebrate as a team, always treasuring this joint accomplishment. I was proud to join with my colleague, Senator John Cornyn, in offering a resolution on the Senate floor to honor this victory.

The remarkable achievement of the Texas A&M women's basketball team follows in the footsteps of many other great Texas teams whose commitment to hard work, preparation, and teamwork has led them to major victories.

In 2005, the University of Texas Longhorns won the National Championship in football against the long-standing football dynasty of the University of Southern California Trojans. The Longhorns finished their season as the only undefeated team in NCAA Division I-A football that year, with thirteen wins and zero losses. Last year the undefeated Texas Christian University Horned Frogs beat the University of Wisconsin, 21 to capitol comment by sen. kay bailey hutchison

19, in TCU's first Rose Bowl appearance. TCU's performance in that game proved that they are truly a national championship-caliber team. And one of our state's most historic victories came in 1966, when Texas Western (now UTEP) was the first school ever to win the NCAA Men's Basketball Championship with a racially integrated team.

College baseball in Texas also has a long, proud history of achievements. Two teams in particular come to mind, the Texas Longhorns and the Rice Owls. The Texas Longhorns are the winningest team in college baseball history and hold the record for most appearances in the College World Series (33). For years, Rice University has also been nationally known as a baseball powerhouse, and in 2003 the Rice Owls won the College World Series, the first national championship win in the school's history.

There is much we can learn and celebrate about the achievements of the many great Texas athletes who, by working as a team, achieved far more than they could have as single individuals. Congress could certainly take a page from the Lady Aggies' playbook when it comes to teamwork and coming together to achieve a common goal. A prosperous future for our country is something we all want, but in order to get there, we must work together to put our country back on a fiscally responsible track.

This paper's first duty is to print all the news that is fit to print, honestly and fairly to all, unblinded by any consideration even its own editorial opinion.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing, or reputation of any person, firm, or corporation which may occur in the columns of The Clarendon Enterprise will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the management.

Clarendon Elementary will hold a meeting for all parents and guardians who are interested in their child attending pre-Kindergarten for the 2011-2012 school year.

The meeting will be held April 28 at 6 p.m. in the Clarendon ISD Videoconference Room. The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss the pre-K program, schedule, fee structure, and other pertinent information.

Please contact other parents you know who might be interested in their four-year-old or five-year-old (if not enrolled in Kindergarten) to school.

Juniors hold joint recital at Wayland

PLAINVIEW — Wayland Baptist University students Andy Roberts and Carlos Saldana presented a joint music recital at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, April 12, in Wayland's Harral Memorial Auditorium.

Roberts, the son of Debbie Roberts of Clarendon, presented several works for clarinet, including Brahms's First Sonata Op. 120 and Tanze Aus Korond by Laszlo Draskoczy. The recital meets part of the degree requirements for Roberts, who is majoring in music education.

Friendship Club to meet

The Howardwick Friendship Club will meet Friday, April 15, at 6:30. Everyone is invited, bringing a covered dish and a friend.

High temperatures, wind keeping county dry

Still no rain, and, folks, it has been miserable around here with heat in the 90s and wind gusting up to 60 mph with dust obscuring the sun. As far as I know, we have not had any wild fires in Donley County lately, but they have been so common in the Panhandle, I may have missed some. Please pray for measurable moisture. We are going to blow away if we don't get some rain soon.

Do you remember the first Earth Day on April 22, 1970? Rachel Carson had gotten our attention with her book Silent Spring published in 1962 about the dangers of over-use of pesticides and pollution of the land and predicting their continued use would one day mean all the birds had disappeared. Her book led to the law that banned the use of DDT in the US in 1972. Many people were working on projects in their own community to clean up the environment, but it took the idea and resources of Senator Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin to bring everyone together. He saw how rallies and sit-ins brought people together to protest the Vietnam War, so taking that idea, he proposed a nationwide teach-in to educate people about the environment.

On that day in April, about 20 million people joined the effort. Woody Owl made his debut saying "Give a hoot, don't pollute." That motto began with Earth Day and continues with updates.

All four children were in school in Wichita, Kan., and everyone was meeting on the campus of Wichita State to learn how to save our planet. I loaded them all up early that morning and spent my time looking for a parking place. I'm not sure we have saved the planet. Global warming had not been heard of in 1970, but they had a great time and still talk of the experience. Earth Day has been expanded to Earth Week and is always April 16-22 worldwide, but there will only be one first, the one I remember.

The old story says you can predict the last freeze by watching the mesquite trees, well they are greening up at our house. Keep our fingers crossed.

Everyone is invited to the Howardwick Friendship Club this Friday, April 15, at 6:30 p.m. at City Hall. Don't think of tax day, bring a favorite food, and share with friends and neighbors.

Hedley town meeting to be April 19

There will be another town meeting to discuss the Spring Fling on Tuesday, April 19, at the Hedley Senior Citizens at 7:00 p.m. We need everyone there who wants to participate in getting the Spring Fling done. All proceeds will go towards the Cotton Festival. We need the community's help to pull this off. Please be at the meeting.

Don Blanks wants to thank everyone for sending him cards while he is at the Veteran's Home in Amarillo. He enjoys receiving cards from all his friends and family. If you want to write his address is Don Blanks, 1020 Tascosa Rd., Amarillo, TX 79124.

The City of Hedley and the Rowe Cemetery Board would like to remind you that donations are needed for the maintenance and up-keep of the cemetery. Mail a donation to PO Box 185, Hedley, Texas 79237 to support the Rowe Cemetery.

Recipe: Ham & Noodle Casserole: 6 cups water, 4 cups uncooked egg noodles, 1 onion, chopped, 1/2 cup sour cream, 1 (10.75 ounce) can condensed cream of chicken soup, 2 cups diced cooked ham, 2 cups shredded Swiss cheese, salt and pepper to taste, 1/4 cup dry bread crumbs. Preheat an oven to 350 degrees F (175 degrees C).

Grease a 2-quart casserole. Bring water to a full rolling boil in a pot. Cook the egg noodles in the boiling water, stirring occasionally, for 3 minutes; remove from heat, cover, and let stand until the noodles are tender, about 10 minutes. Drain. Stir the noodles, onion, sour cream, chicken soup, ham, and Swiss cheese together in a large bowl.

Season with salt and pepper. Spoon into the prepared casserole. Sprinkle the top with bread crumbs. Bake in the preheated oven until the casserole is bubbling and the bread crumbs have browned, about 40 minutes.

PPHM begins renovating 'Pioneer Town'

CANYON — Since it was opened in 1969, Pioneer Town has been a favorite exhibit at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum for a majority of visitors. But in order to maintain the museum's tradition of providing optimal, engaging visitor experiences and to make the town ADA compliant, PPHM will be renovating Pioneer Town during the next few months.

"PPHM's renovation of Pioneer Town demonstrates our commitment to providing high-quality learning environments for the enrichment of our visitors.

It will be interactive, exploratory and engaging for visitors of all ages allowing them to better understand the past and show the common threads of the human experience. We are grateful to our supporters for making these important improvements possible," PPHM Director Guy C. Vanderpool said.

Renovation plans call for the removal of the old floor tiles and asbestos abatement. New flooring will look and feel appropriate to a turn-of-the-century town. The new exhibition will create a dynamic, immersive learning environment that includes authentic sights and sounds, many fully-accessible structures and hands-on interactives. These will encourage visitors to reminisce, make connections between generations and discover differences and similarities between "then and now."

Once completed, visitors will enter the pioneer town through a railroad depot façade, like the early settlers who rode the rails to the region for the first time. From there, they will be encouraged to enter the land office, where they will find reproduction maps of historic Panhandle-Plains towns as well as advertising for goods and services available in town.

Hands-on activities at the residences located on the east end of town will offer additional opportunities to walk in the footsteps of settlers. A horse-drawn hearse parked next to the furniture dealer/undertaker's shop will not only show visitors that multi-tasking is nothing new, but also that, to the settlers, life and death were every-day occurrences. Fronts for a barber shop, photographer's studio, drug store, jewelry store and feed and seed store, along with signage for other enterprises will round out the turn-of-the-century town.

"Pioneer Town is going to be transformed with this renovation. It will be like comparing the old black and white reruns of Gunsmoke to Lonesome Dove.

They both were entertaining, but Lonesome Dove pulled you into the story and wouldn't let you go," said Carol Lovelady, Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Board President.

While an opening date has not yet been set, you can find information on the renovations and pictures of the project as it progresses on www.panhandleplains.org. The project is generously sponsored by the Canyon Economic Development Corporation, M.S. Doss Foundation, the Mary E. Bivins Foundation and Amarillo National Bank.

Broncos add to winning season

By Sandy Anderberg

The Broncos are rolling along as they continue their regular season schedule with only a few more games to play before their post season begins.

Last week, the Broncos slid past Electra 11-7 at home.

The Broncos were full in control in the first two innings of the game, but let Electra back in it in the third. But great defense and steady offense aided the Broncos in their four-run win.

Troy Chambless and Johnny Gaines shared time on the mound and Gaines got the win. With the win, the Broncos stayed perfect in District play.

Clarendon was on target in the opening innings as they racked up seven unanswered runs. Braden Phillips singled and Gaines hit a huge homerun in the first to get the Broncos going.

"This was a closer ball game than it should have been," coach Brad Elam said. "We jumped on them early and got up 7-0 but had to hold on."

After a Chambless single and a walk by David Roberts, Cole Ward hit them home on a single.

"Chambless then got all three out in the second inning before we struck for three more," Elam said. "Gaines doubled and we walked four in a row to take a 7-0 lead."

But the Broncos lost temporary control of the momentum in the third inning when they allowed walks and had too many errors.

Electra took advantage of those errors and was able to close the gap to 5-7 according to Elam. The Broncos gained back the control in the third when Gaines hit his sixth homerun of the season to score two. After a walk by Bradley Watson and an intentional walk to Gaines, Chambless slammed a big two-run single to seal the win.

"Gaines finished the game with nine strikeouts and was three for three for four runs," Elam said. "Watson, Chambless, and Roberts each scored two."

On Saturday, the Broncos defeated Childress at home 7-5.

"We played a really good game against a good Childress team," Elam said. "Chambless started the game and went three strong innings."

He came back in to get the last out and recorded seven strikeouts in all.

Phillips relieved Chambless and according to Elam, threw three good innings. The Broncos were able to put together some great defense behind Chambless to limit the Bobcats.

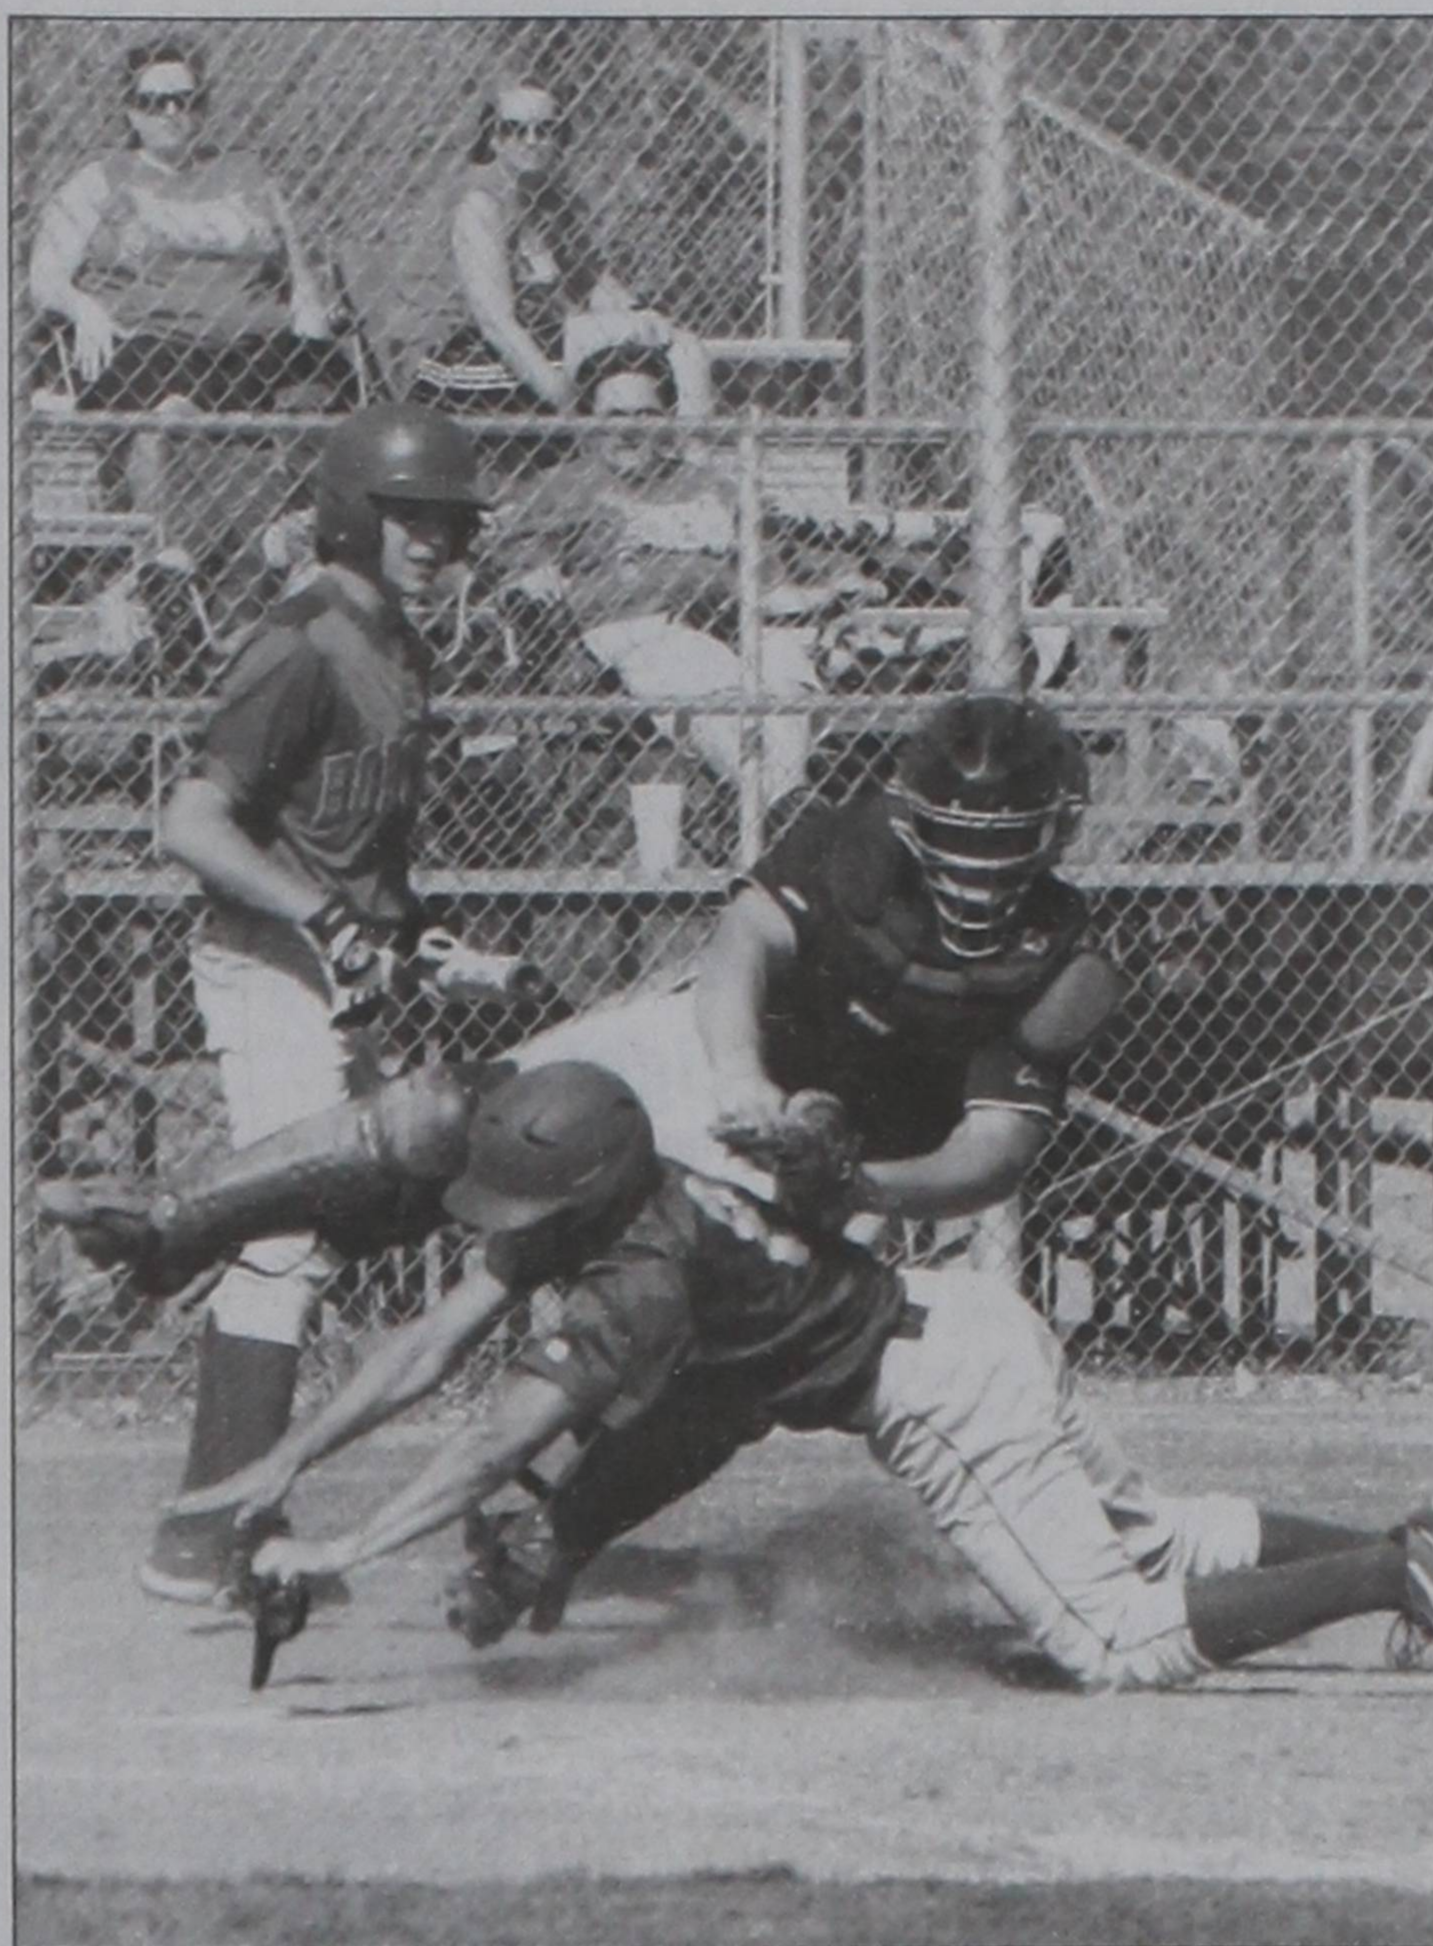

"Offensively, we put the ball in play and got several big hits," Elam said.

"Phillips scored in the first inning for a lead and then we scored two more in the second on a Watson two-run homerun for a 3-2 lead."

Gaines and Chambless added to their total and Phillips hit a homerun in the sixth.

"Gaines followed Phillips with another homerun for back to back jacks," Elam said. "We held on for a 7-5 win. This was our best overall game against a good team."

The Broncos will play Dimmitt at home at 4:30 p.m. Friday, April 15, and host Wellington at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday. The Bronco junior varsity will play Shamrock at home at 4:00 p.m. on Thursday, April 14.

Lady Broncos take big hit from McLean

By Sandy Anderberg

The Lady Broncos traveled to McLean to face a good Lady Tiger team and struggled somewhat at the plate. It was the team's first meeting and Clarendon took a 2-8 loss.

"Their pitcher is one of the best pitchers in the state," head coach Gary Jack said. "We had some that hit the ball well, but overall they handcuffed our hitting. Miranda Miller, Haley Ferguson, and Jentry Shadle hit the ball pretty well for us."

The Lady Broncos found themselves in unfamiliar territory, as this was the first District loss the ladies have suffered this season and only the second District game lost in the last seven years according to Jack. They will have a chance to redeem themselves later in the season when they face McLean again.

"We had a couple of errors, which allowed them opportunities," Jack said. "We're doing fine; we just ran into a tough pitcher."

The ladies will travel to Claude on Friday, April 15, and play at 4:00 p.m. They will play West Texas High at home on Tuesday, April 19, at 4:00 p.m.

CJH begins new COLTS program

Clarendon Junior High has begun the COLTS Club program this year to recognize the academic and leadership accomplishments of CJH students.

The "C" in COLTS stands for Challenge- I know that success does not always come easily, but I am willing to work to win.

The "O" is for Opportunity- I take advantage of the chances I get to help my teachers and fellow students.

The "L" stands for Leader in Excellence- knowing and practicing the Seven Habits of Highly Effective People.

The "T" stands for Take Responsibility- my grades and my conduct are mine. I accept the consequences of the choices I make.

The "S" stands for Success- I look forward to becoming a part of Clarendon High School and work to prepare for the tasks ahead.

CJH students become a member of the COLTS Club by earning points.

They gain points by making A's and B's on their report card, being on the A honor roll, winning first place in UIL individual competitions, passing all TAKS tests, having no office referrals for misbehavior, and for being selected by the teachers as a "Leader in Excellence." Each six weeks in the spring, teachers select students who have best represented what the COLTS Club stands for.

Being a member of the COLTS Club has its privileges.

All students earning a minimum of 300 points will travel to Wonderland in Amarillo on May 26 and will enjoy a cowboy breakfast at the Bar H Dude Ranch on May 27.

The Clarendon Junior High Colt Parent Organization has been very busy this year. In addition to raising money by selling poinsettias, Bronco car emblems, and glow in the dark items for the "lights out" pep rally, they also ran the concession stands for junior high football and basketball. All their work has paid off for the students of Clarendon Public Schools. Colt Parents donated $4,000 to the PEAK scholarship fund this year. They supported the junior high students by donating funds to the Clarendon High School Library, the Colt Club awards program, and the Colt Athletic Banquet. They have also made donations to help families in need. The Colt Parents will be electing new officers in May as they look forward to another year of supporting all of the students of Clarendon Junior High.

Drugs in the News

Asthma Control Improved with Added Medication
Controlling the symptoms of asthma is important, especially among those who experience seasonal attacks. These asthma sufferers may require emergency care, that may then cause them to miss school or work. According to a recent issue of the New England Journal of Medicine, the drug Xolair (omalizumab), when added to standard asthma therapy, reduced the symptoms of asthma in inner city children, decreasing the need for inhaled steroids, and in some cases eliminating seasonal asthma attacks during the fall. The study was conducted in eight urban US cities and involved over 400 children. According to researchers who conducted the study, Xolair targets an antibody called immunoglobulin E, which appears to be responsible for allergic symptoms and asthmatic attacks. It is reported that some 9 million children in the US suffer from asthma as a chronic condition. The primary risk factors for developing asthma include a low birth weight, living in a low income environment, a family history of allergies, and exposure to tobacco smoke before and after birth.

Several athletes to compete in Area track meet

By Sandy Anderberg

The Bronco track team finished third with 85 points in the District track meet held in New Deal last week.

New Deal won that meet with 119 points.

The Lady Broncos took home second place with 125 points behind Wellington who posted 143.5 points. The Bronco JV took second place with 123.5 points, and the Lady Bronco JV came in fourth with 63 points.

Those athletes placing in the top four of their event earned the right to advance to the Area meet, which will be held Wednesday, April 13, in Abernathy.

They will compete for the right to move on to the Regional meet held May 2-3 in Levelland.

The Lady Bronco 400 and 800-meter relays were first in the District meet with times of 51.95 and 1:51.11 respectively.

Clarendon had the fastest time in the prelims in the 400 relay and second fastest time in the prelims in the 800.

They bettered their times in both relays to lock up their wins. Both relays were run by Amber Keelin, Marqueda Gaines, Sarah Luttrell, and Glory Bryley and will run in Abernathy.

Individual results: Luttrell 2nd 100-meter dash 12.75, 1st long jump 15'4 1/2"; Bryley 3rd 100-meter dash 12.98; Lynzee Bryley 13th 200-meter dash 30.66, 14th 400-meter dash; McKayla Cartwright 19th 200-meter dash 32.04, 2nd shot put 31'10 1/4",

Reynolds, Tubbs receive Cielo Wind Power scholarships

AUSTIN – Scholarships were awarded last week to local graduating seniors by Cielo Wind Power, LP, of Austin and businesses that have partnered with Cielo to build wind developments currently under construction.

Seniors Chanda P Reynolds and Ashlyn Tubbs from Clarendon High School were each awarded the 2011 Cielo Wind Power Earth Stewardship Scholarship. Awards will be presented to the students at the Earth Day Wind Ball in Vega, Texas. Other area recipients include Shandi Jade Leavitt of Vega and Clinton Andrew Gabel of Panhandle.

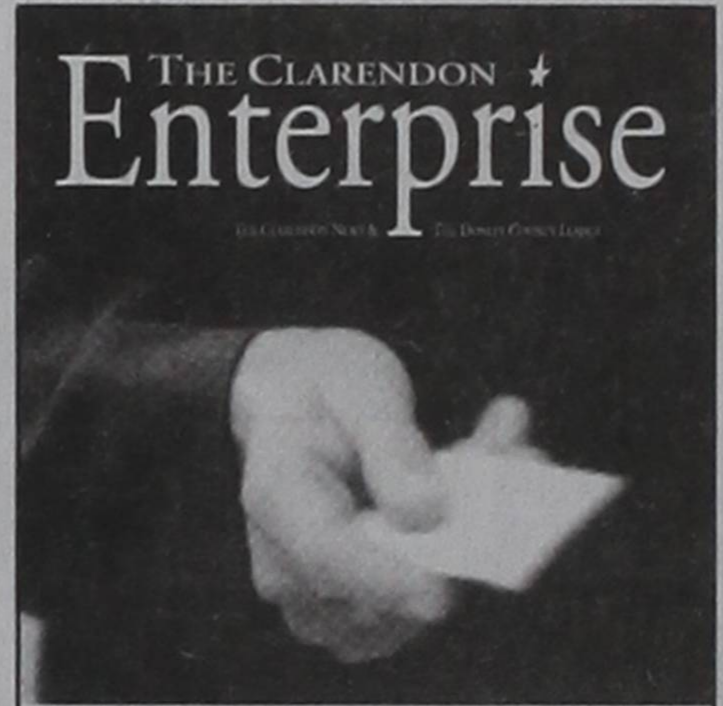

Applicants were asked to write an essay describing their responsibility as earth stewards and how they will continue to pursue that responsibility in their education and career plans.

Reynolds will be attending Clarendon College where she plans to study Geology. Tubbs has been accepted to West Texas A&M University and Texas Tech University and plans to study Mass Communications.

Leavitt will be attending Texas A&M University in the fall where she plans on studying Agricultural Communications. Gabel plans to major in Biochemistry and Pre-Med at Texas Tech, Texas Christian, Baylor or Oklahoma Baptist University.

Cielo Wind Power supports students, education and a cleaner environment by pledging $20,000 in scholarships to school districts throughout Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma. Cielo is currently in the final stages of constructing two projects, the Lubbock Wind Ranch and Golden Spread Panhandle Wind Ranch with an additional project scheduled to begin construction later in 2011.

Clarendon Church of Christ HE IS WATCHING AND LISTENING

(Proverbs 15:1-3) "A soft answer turns away wrath, But a harsh word stirs up anger. The tongue of the wise uses knowledge rightly, But the mouth of fools pours forth foolishness. The eyes of the LORD are in every place, Keeping watch on the evil and the good." This is very good advice from Solomon (of course it is wisdom from God). How many times have we allowed a situation to spiral out of control with a sharp verbal attack? We believe that we are duty bound when something is said in an ugly way that we are to return fire! The Bible tells us to answer in a soft, respectful, and thoughtful way. The response needs to come after studying the situation. Listen to Solomon again:

(Proverbs 15:28-29) "The heart of the righteous studies how to answer, But the mouth of the wicked pours forth evil. The LORD is far from the wicked, But He hears the prayer of the righteous." A good, God-fearing person will take time to study on how to respond to others. He or she will consider their words and weigh them. It is often said that words spoken are like bullets fired. You can't bring them back! An apology will not fix the destruction that some words will cause. Not only should we treat and speak to others with caution and respect, but we need to realize that God is watching and listening. As previously stated, "The eyes of the Lord are in every place, keeping watch on the evil and the good." Verse 29 tells us that God will not listen to prayers of the wicked but the righteous. He hears the terrible things we say and watches our actions, then He closes His "ears" to the prayers uttered by the wicked.

We have to realize that God wants us to treat everyone with respect, even if they really don't deserve it. Two wrongs will not make anything right. When someone fires a bullet of verbal hatred, take your finger off the trigger! (Romans 12:17-19) "Repay no one evil for evil. Have regard for good things in the sight of all men. If it is possible, as much as depends on you, live peaceably with all men. Beloved, do not avenge yourselves, but rather give place to wrath; for it is written, "Vengeance is Mine, I will repay," says the Lord" Meeting out justice is a work of God that He doesn't need or want your help with.

Let us remember the next time we are in a stressful situation, especially with people not concerned with the Golden Rule, He is watching and listening! Think before you speak or take action.
