The Forestry Camp is one of the new innovations in the council's total camping program. It will be operated with Dipping down from billowing thunderclouds Monday night and Tuesday, tornados danced and roamed all over the High Plains area and eastern New Mexico. After one tornado menaced Sudan late Tuesday afternoon, snaking down for awhile and pulling back up in the clouds, the tornado cloud reversed after passing over Sudan to the northeast and made another run at that community. However, the cloud passed without hitting Sudan after baring its swirling teeth.

Law enforcement officials tracked the cloud to near Earth, watching the white tornado dipping in and out of the clouds and bouncing over the countryside.

Earth citizens had been alerted that a possible tornado was approaching and at 8:11 Tuesday night it finally got down to business setting down near the south city limits of Earth where it first struck an implement company warehouse, and did damage in a gin yard.

Bouncing across the highway the tornado hit three houses, doing various amounts of damage then a TV repair shop and some garages and barns before lifting back into the clouds at the west edge of Earth and moving on.

Officers had tracked the tornado from southwest of Sudan where Bailey County Deputy Sheriff Corky Green and County Judge Don Cihak first spotted the swirling mass near Joyland on the county line.

Although there were houses and businesses damaged in Earth, there were no injuries to the alerted citizens. One resident, Mrs. L.H. Randolph, was hospitalized with a possible heart attack.

Baseball Delayed By Weather

Grass is turning green, the trees are all leafed out in their new summer green... and the boys are all decked out in their new baseball caps and uniforms. The 1969 version of summer entertainment in the Muleshoe area is off to a flying start with summer baseball.

For some time now, since the very first signs of a spring warm-up, every postage stamp sized temporary playing field has been used in the area to practice baseball. With a major league and minor league both in Little League and four local Babe Ruth teams, managers and coaches have been hard pressed to find any type

High Plains Says Cotton Weather Good

Can weather, the nemesis to many High Plains farmer's profit-book, be charted to indicate trends for what can be expected during the coming farming season?

This is one of the questions that could be answered in the extensive weather recording and reporting data compiled annually by the High Plains Research Foundation.

Weather "record keeper" at the Foundation, Jim Valliant, Soil Scientist, said charted graphs of weather conditions over the past years seem to indicate some patterns that follow similar trends through each season.

"It has been my observation that in years we have a warm February and a cool March, we've had good cotton weather during the summer," Valliant said. If this holds true, this should be a good cotton year due to the snow and cold weather occurring in March.

And if such trends can be accurate, then farmers could plan their farming program and cultural patterns to take advantage of weather.

Among the hardest decisions to be made by the farmer is the proper planting time. Rule of the thumb is when the soil temperature reaches a 10-day average of 60 degrees. However, if the farmer knew approximately when this temperature could be reached, he could plant five days earlier while the average was being set.

The charted temperature graphs from 1952 to 1968 show that the last cold spell for the season occurred between April 26 and May 12 in six of seven years. A study of the weekly weather forecasts during this period could pin-point this last spring cold spell and permit the selection of a more optimum cotton planting date.

Valliant said the weather records could provide a key to weather trends that could pinpoint dates of unfavorable weather and farmers knowing this could take advantage of special cultural practices to produce more income.

HIGH WATER--With heavy water-laden clouds hanging low, a wall of water rushed down a draw at the south city limits of Muleshoe Tuesday, inundating the area. Water was inside Chapman Supply Company, surrounded McCormick Upholstery and flooded several houses in the low lying area. Most of the water had run down and only a few inches still poured over the highway by Wednesday morning.

TORNADO!--At 8:11 Tuesday evening, a tornado dipped down at the south edge of Earth and among the damaged buildings and homes was this TV Repair Shop. Also receiving damage were a warehouse, an implement company, several homes and barns. No injuries were found from the tornado, however, one woman was hospitalized following a heart attack. Law enforcement officials, civil defense workers and fire department personnel from many areas converged on the community to assist.

"Dear," asked the little woman, "is my hat on straight?"
"Yes, yes," her husband replied impatiently. "It's absolutely straight. Now do hurry, we're late already."

early Tuesday morning which dumped up to six inches of water in the West Camp community. A wall of water roared toward Muleshoe Tuesday morning and a draw south of Muleshoe at the city limits could not handle all the water as quickly as it came down. By mid-morning, highway department crews had blocked off Highway 214 south from the raging torrent and allowed only trucks and pickups through. Flooded were State Road 1760, Highway 214, both north and south, Highway 84 east and was threatening Highway 70 east. Water swept several vehicles off the highways, both on 1760 and 214.

Bailey County Agent J.K. Adams said the farmers hit hardest by the heavy rain were the dryland farmers who had planted early cotton and grain sorghum. He said that most farmers who had cotton up had lost their cotton to the swift water running down turnrows. Adams said he did not expect corn to be damaged to any extent and said the irrigated farmers did not seem to have received extensive damage in their fields.

Rains fell in varying amounts in Bailey County, with from two to six inches being reported during the three-day storms. Numerous tornadoes were reported from Portales to Clovis and points west and through the Littlefield, Merton, Sudan, Amherst, Muleshoe, Friona, Bovina, Dimmitt, Sunny-side areas. More areas were threatened by tornadoes dipping down from clouds.

Most of the tornadoes tracked by law enforcement officials, fire men and civil defense personnel touched down in open country and did negligible damage.

Marsha Blackman, Eddie Douglas Marry

Rocky Point Baptist Church, a small rural chapel four miles from Stephenville, in a wooded area with the song of birds forming background music, was the scene of a quiet twilight ceremony at eight o'clock May 3 which united in marriage Miss Marsha Lynn Blackman and Eddie Dwain Douglas, both students at Tarleton State College. Rev. Paul Tatum, pastor of the church and a classmate of the groom, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. M.F. Blackman of Muleshoe, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Douglas, of Fort Worth. The wedding was performed as the party stood before an archway of greenery and white daisies, with baskets of mixed flowers and flanked by seven-branch candelabra. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of gardenia silk crepe, fashioned with long sleeved and small turnover collar, with matching fingertip coat which had three-quarter sleeves and matching accessories. She wore the traditional penny in her shoe and carried a lace handkerchief she had given her grandmother, Mrs. Arnold Morris. Her bouquet was yellow roses and white daisies, surrounded by white gladioli flowerlets, with yellow satin streamers. Maid of honor was Miss Patty Pennell of Cross Plains roommate of the bride. She wore a lemon yellow sheath of dacron, A-line, with matching accessories, and carried a nosegay of yellow roses and white daisies. Best man was Joe Mullins of Stephenville. Wedding selections were played by Miss Nancy Lee, formerly of Muleshoe and now of Cransfill Gap, near Stephenville. Guests were registered by Miss Linda Strother, of Sweetwater and Tarleton State College, also a roommate of the bride. A reception was held in the church parlor after the ceremony. The table was laid with ecru lace and decorated with the brides bouquet and yellow tapers. A two-tiered wedding cake, topped with china bride and groom, was served by Mrs. Eugene Black of Muleshoe, Mrs. Mike Rice of Fort Worth, sister of the groom, served punch, assorted nuts and yellow mints. Accessories were of silver and crystal. Attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. M.F. IT'S IN THE BAG!

By Martha Moore
"I did it and I'm Glad." That's what many a plastic bag might say if it could talk. For ingenious home economists are coming up with a delightful variety of jobs that the "Glad" plastic bags can do. -Make hamburger patties in advance, slip into plastic sandwich bags, place six or eight in an airtight plastic food storage bag and freeze. They will be easy to separate when needed and will keep in the freezer for about three months. -For added protection when working with poison ivy, slip plastic food storage bags over your gardening gloves. Dispose of the bags when you are through. -Before packing sweaters and woollens away for the summer, place them in plastic bags and store overnight in the freezer. The low temperature should kill all moths. -Take extra plastic bags in your suitcase. They will come in handy for wet washcloths, bathing suits and laundry. -Keep matches in waterproof plastic bags on camping and fishing trips. -Keep plastic bags in glove compartment of car for accidental sicknesses.

Skirts are coming down a bit and some heels on pumps are a trifle higher. Jumpers are smart with attractive blouses. Scarfs may be worn around the throat or used as a sash around the waistline. Chains are still very popular for waistlines or as necklaces.

Luncheon Honors Miss Kerr

Mrs. E.O. Baker honored her granddaughter, Miss Lindy Kerr, a graduating senior, with a luncheon at twelve noon, April 26. Attending were Charlotte Davis, Kay Coppedge, Cindy Crane, Vina Bass, Kathy Williams, Sue Pylant, Debbie Burris, Annette Williams, all graduating from Muleshoe high school, and Miss Brenda Wyer, of Lubbock and a former Muleshoe resident. The serving table was decorated with Hallmark Graduates and other similar decorations were used throughout the house, reminding the guests of the Big Event forthcoming. Favors for the girls were make-up bags wrapped in MHS color and decorated with black graduate's caps. Pictures were taken, inside and outside, and the afternoon spent in 'lots of conversation'. Long hair with soft waves or tendrils near the temples give the girls a feminine air. Add to this a frilly blouse or easy pants with frills around the bottom of the legs and one has the new look. Make-up is also more natural this season. Heavy eye make-up is definitely out.

Rocks Are Fascinating Needmore News

By Evelyn Darling

By Mrs. F.O. Warren

Did you ever stop to think how special rocks are? Mrs. Floyd Dutton, commonly known as "Mutt" to her friends, did, and as a result she has created a beautiful rock garden for many tourists and other interested people to stop and admire.

Mrs. Dutton says she and her friend, Faye McMan, formerly of Friona, has collected rocks and petrified wood from Utah, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, South Texas, and Oklahoma.

Mrs. Dutton and her friend dig up and load these rocks themselves and some are given to her. She told of one instance where they loaded 3,820 pounds of various rocks and wood.

Mrs. Dutton has many thrilling experiences and she told of one near Nosquero, New Mexico. A guide took them about seven miles out of town and showed them some dinosaur tracks down in the side of a canyon. I marveled along with her as she told me that their hunts sometimes took them into the most dangerous snake-infested places and they have yet to see a rattlesnake!

She has made a lighted waterfall with many rocks and little animals surrounding it in front of her home, and in the summer months it works. Around back she also has a lily pond filled with lily pads surrounded by cactus and more rocks and is guarded by a cute little colored boy.

Mrs. Dutton has several rocks that are of special interest, but one that is very unusual was found in a riverbed. It is a clay formation with animal teeth, mouths of fish and parts of frogs rolled in it over the years.

Although her garden is over two years old, all of her rocks aren't in her garden. She has some beautiful specimens in her house. These are the more delicate ones which weather tends to ruin.

Mrs. Dutton says she has had many people inquiring about her unusual creation. She loves her hobby and is an interesting person to talk to. When asked what she liked most about her hobby, she replied, "I have really enjoyed getting out and finding these rocks." She adds, "It's a real mystery to see what you find."

Mr. and Mrs. Dutton have three children and four grandchildren.

The children are Wynell Radford, of Lazbuddie, Joe Mac, of the Ray community, and Billy Dean of Hub.

Mr. Dutton has farmed near Hub since they moved there fourteen years ago from Earth, Texas.

The Dutton's beautiful home and rock garden is located four and one half miles east of Hub.

Patriotic colors are used in many of the new spring clothes and combinations such as pink and green or navy and gold were seen.

Mr. and Mrs. Odie Duncan had as their house guest this past week his sister from Dallas, Tex. She said this dryer country looked good to her as they have had so much rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mathis of Amarillo, Texas spent the night with the F.O. Warren family. She is Warren's sister. They went Saturday to Maple where they spent the night with her brother, Bud Warren and family, Sunday the F.O. Warren family went to Maple picked up Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mathis, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Warren and then went to Artesia, New Mexico to visit their brother and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Warren. While there they visited the Phillips Petroleum Plant where Calvin works. All returned Sunday night.

Bennie, Leta and son, Stan from Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. Francis Evins Sunday. Mrs. Maye Evins and Barbara Warren went to Littlefield where they met their sister, Mrs. Dean Favor had lunch together and did some shopping.

A Spanish influence is evident in some of the new styles. Colorful prints, full sleeves and very long pants that flare are some of these signs.

Frills and scallops around the hemline of dresses are good style this spring.

SOIL STEWARDSHIP WEEK--Bailey County Judge Don Cihak is pictured signing a proclamation for Soil Stewardship Week. The week will be from May 11-18. Shown looking on are Willie Welch, Harry Stoneham and Sherman Inman.

Soil Stewardship Week May 11-18

COLLEGE STATION.--In recognition of the importance of our natural resources of soil and water, Governor Preston Smith has designated the week of May 11-19 as Soil Stewardship Week in Texas.

In many of Texas' 187 Soil Conservation Districts, observations will be held in cooperation with local churches to recognize the duty man has toward preserving the life giving land.

Soil Stewardship Week gives each individual an opportunity to stop and evaluate his duty to the land, said Clarence Carter, Extension soil and water conservation specialist at Texas A&M University.

"The earth is the Lord's and all things therein. All people are dependent upon our soil and water for their livelihood," said Governor Smith.

"The conservation and development of Texas soil and water resources are essential in the maintenance of the economy of the State. We cannot afford the loss of land, waste and pollution of water and other abuses to our natural resources.

"Soil and Water Conservation

Districts are committed to improving our State through the wise use and development of our soil and water resources and are sponsoring Soil Stewardship Week.

Carter said tours, special meetings and other events in addition to the local church observances would be held. Too, he noted that 4-H Clubs in some conservation districts would have a part in the local programs.

All citizens have a special invitation to attend the Stewardship Week event in their area, Carter said.

If adults set the proper example, it might be possible for young people to following their lead.

The fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church of Earth was the scene of the Llanos Altos Associational G.A. Banquet Friday night, May 2.

Theme for the evening was Spring Bonnet Affair. Mrs. R.S. Cole was mistress of ceremonies; Mrs. Lillie Wuerflein gave the welcome; Mrs. Jerry Hawthorn and Mrs. John Varnell gave a skit, "The Flea"; the Kelley trio, Annita, Denitta, and Connie, gave a skit in song; a sing song was led by Mrs. Hawthorn accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Varnell. They sang, "My Hat" and "When We All Get Together", these were acted out by every one; the G.A. theme song, "We've A Story To Tell", was sung by all. Rev. Baldwin showed slides of the Churches work in the Rio Grand area and Old Mexico, closing with a devotional, "What am I Doing Here? and Where Am I Going?". The entire group sang "Bless Be The Tie That Binds".

A dinner consisting of fried chicken, green beans, cheese potatoes, strawberry congealed salad, pickles, olives, hotrolls, butter and tea was served from table laid with a white cloth centered with an arrangement of daisies with green candles on either side. Streamers of green and gold were on the tables. Place cards of print sun bonnets and daisies on the G.A. theme on a white card were placed at each plate.

Holding Back Helps Johnny

(Editor's note: The story below was taken from the Amarillo Globe-News and was brought into the Journal by a local school teacher, Mabel Wolfe. Mrs. Wolfe felt it explains why 'Johnny' should be retained in his present grade instead of being advanced with other students. With the end of the current school year near, it is thought the explanatory article will assist some person who may have a child who needs to be held over for another year.)
By Max Rafferty

SACRAMENTO - The Harrison City, Pa., school system has been studying the problem of nonpromotion of pupils in the 50 states. It recently announced that 5 percent of America's school children fall each year, and that it costs the taxpayers $1 billion annually to hold the kids back. This accord the Keystone State researchers, is uneconomic, inhuman and downright medieval.

Twaddle.
Although I may seem somewhat cavalier with old John Q.

Taxpayer's money, I don't really care if it costs $1 billion or $2 billion extra to give children a proper education. We're spending umpteen billions on things a lot less important than helping children learn. And Harrison City to the contrary notwithstanding, the only reason for making a youngster repeat a grade is to make sure he masters the subject matter and the skills he will need in order to succeed in the next grade.

Let's look at a fairly typical case. Johnny has been sick and out of school a lot while he was in second grade. He's missed out on most of his number combinations, and he's fallen behind in his reading. His teacher knows he'll be lost and unhappy in the third grade next fall, so she decides to have him take second grade over again.

Sole object: To help Johnny. Sole alternative: To make Johnny completely miserable next year and a probable high school dropout in about seven years.

Question: What else would you have the teacher do?

Oh, I'm familiar with the progressive education litany of old slogans and moth-eaten shibboleths: "Nonpromotion places the child in a failure stereotype."

"Johnny isn't falling school; the school is falling Johnny."

"More money for education will eliminate the need for retention of pupils."

All the slogans are benevolent in intent, all are popular and all are demonstrably preposterous.

A child does not become a pariah because he needs to stay with the same teacher for two years. If this happened to him frequently, of course, the "failure stereotype" would take on validity, but not on a one-time basis.

Retention doesn't imply "failing" anything or anybody, either. It simply means that Johnny, for one of a dozen reasons, needs more time to learn than the other kids.

And all the school money in the world isn't going to make a sick child well enough to master subject matter as effectively as a healthy child. Even a full-time home instructor can't help too much if the youngster is feeling rotten most of the time.

What about the child who is physically healthy but who gets held back anyway?

Well, what about him? Maybe he's immature. Maybe Mom and Pop are staging king-size rumbles at home every night and he's too nervous and downright scared to concentrate at school. Or maybe he's just plain slow.

No matter. Whatever the reason, teacher thinks Johnny should repeat the grade. She's worked with him for a whole year. She knows what he's actually been doing, and she has a pretty good idea of what he's capable of doing at his best. She's aware of his IQ, his home background and his work habits. Above all, she wants to do what's best for Johnny. And she happens to think retention is the best solution.

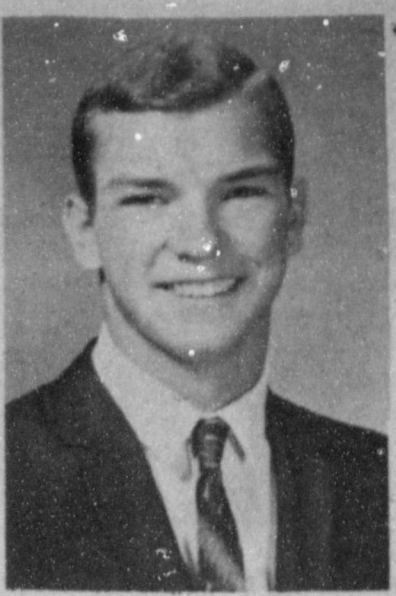

Now, friends, all this being true, who's going to argue with teacher? Not I, believe me. Or at least only so long as it takes me to make sure that teacher is qualified, trained and experienced.

Of course, my decision may be colored somewhat by awareness that the war against pupil retention is one of progressive education's pet campaigns, carried on like a Viet Cong guerrilla operation over a period of 30 years. The Dewey-eyed disciples of progressivism believe that everybody should be promoted regardless of whether or not reasonable achievement standards have been met, largely because they don't believe in achievement standards in the first place. Or tests. Or grades. Or subject matter, so far as that goes.

Money has little to do with the Harrison City findings. Ideology, on the other hand, has a great deal to do with them. And I don't like an ideology which kids people into believing that children should never do anything over again.

VETERANS Q's and A's

Q-I recently received my National Service Life Insurance dividend check. I am not drawing 100 per cent service-connected disability compensation and, because of this, the premiums on my policy are waived. Since I do not pay anything into the insurance fund, should I return the dividend check.

A-No. You need not return the check since you are entitled to this dividend. However, you should understand that the waiver of NSLI premiums is not due to your 100 per cent disability compensation rating. Rather, it is due to the fact that your disability meets the premium waiver requirement of "any impairment of mind or body which continuously renders it impossible for the insured to follow any substantially gainful occupation." If you become employed, your NSLI premium waiver may be terminated.

Tax Man Sam Sez

WHERE IS MY REFUND?

This is refund time at Internal Revenue Service. A popular question at our Internal Revenue offices is, "Where is My Refund?" The chances are pretty good that it's being processed rapidly by our Internal Revenue Service employees and the computer. The computer generally sends between 900,000 and a million refund checks to taxpayers in our half of Texas. On a good day when the electricity is flowing smoothly through the computer transistors, 15,000 refund checks will be sent out. If everything goes real well the total may go up to 25,000 or more.

Most taxpayers who sent their tax returns in early in January have already spent their refunds. Some few have been notified that their return needs audit, or they have been audited. If you belong to "The 11:59 p.m. April 15, Club" a little patience with the Internal Revenue Service employees and Internal Revenue Service's digitized record keeper is in order.

PUBLIC NOTICE Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT (HJR9)

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Section 49-d-1 to read as follows:

"Section 49-d-1. (a) In addition to Texas Water Development Bonds heretofore authorized to be issued by Sections 49-c and 49-d of Article III of the Constitution, the Texas Water Development Board is hereby authorized to issue $3,500,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of bonds. No part of such additional bonds shall be issued prior to approval thereof by the vote of two-thirds of the elected members of both houses of the Legislature. The proceeds from the sale of such bonds shall be deposited in the Texas Water Development Fund."

"(c) The bonds herein authorized and all bonds authorized by such Sections 49-c and 49-d of Article III shall bear such interest and mature as permitted by and subject to the limitations as may be imposed by the Legislature."

"(d) The Texas Water Development Fund shall be used for the purposes heretofore permitted by and subject to the limitations in said Sections 49-c and 49-d and in addition thereto for the purposes of developing water resources and facilities for the State of Texas, both within the State and without the State of Texas. Provided, however, that financial assistance may be made pursuant to the provisions of such Sections 49-c and 49-d subject only to the availability of funds and without regard to the provisions in Section 49-c that such financial assistance shall terminate after December 31, 1982."

"(e) Under such provisions as the Legislature may prescribe, the Texas Water Development Board may receive grants and, in addition, execute contracts with the United States or any of its agencies, other states of the United States, foreign governments and others, for the acquisition and development of such water resources and facilities for the State of Texas. Such contracts when executed may be secured by the general credit of the state, and if so secured shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas in the same manner and with the same effect as Texas Water Development Bonds. If facilities are acquired for a term of years, such contracts shall contain provisions for renewal that will protect the state's investment. The aggregate principal amount of Texas Water Development Bonds authorized herein and in said Sections 49-c and 49-d shall be reduced by the aggregate of principal payments committed under such contracts constituting general obligations of the state. The provisions hereof shall not be construed to limit the authority of the Texas

Water Development Board to execute contracts or issue revenue bonds when such contracts or bonds are not secured by the general credit of the state.

"(f) Texas Water Development Bonds and such contracts secured by the general credit of the state shall after approval by the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchasers, be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of Texas."

"(g) Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such Acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory character."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on Tuesday, August 5, 1969, at which election all ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment broadening the powers of the Texas Water Development Board and the purposes of the Texas Water Development Fund; eliminating the interest limitations on Texas Water Development Bonds; raising the authorized amount of Texas Water Development Bonds by $3,500,000,000; extending the maturity schedule on Texas Water Development Bonds; eliminating the procedures for curtailment and the curtailment date of financial assistance to be provided by the Texas Water Development Board."

PUBLIC NOTICE Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE ON THE BALLOT (SJR8)

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 51-a of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended, and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 51-a. The Legislature shall have the power, by general laws, to provide, subject to limitations herein contained, and such other limitations as may be deemed expedient, for assistance grants to and/or medical care for, and for rehabilitation and other services included in the federal laws as they now read or as they may hereafter be amended, providing matching funds to help such families and individuals attain or retain capability for independence or self-care, to accept and expend funds from the Government of the United States for such purposes in accordance with the laws of the United States as they now are or as they may hereafter be amended; and to make appropriations out of state funds for such purposes; provided that the maximum amount paid out of state funds to or on behalf of any needy person shall not exceed the amount that is matchable out of federal funds; provided that the total amount of such assistance payments only out of state funds on behalf of such individuals shall not exceed the amount of Eighty Million Dollars ($80,000,000) during any fiscal year."

"Supplementing legislative appropriations for assistance payments authorized by this Section, the following sums are allocated out of the Omnibus Tax Clearance Fund and are appropriated to the State Department of Public Welfare for the period beginning September 1, 1969 and ending August 31, 1971: Three Million, Six Hundred Thousand Dollars ($3,600,000) for Old Age Assistance, Two Million, Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($2,500,000) for Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled, and Twenty-Three Million, Nine Hundred Thousand Dollars ($23,900,000) for Aid to Families with Dependent Children. "Provided further, that if the limitations and restrictions herein contained are found to be in conflict with the provisions of appropriate federal statutes, as they now are or as they may be amended to the extent that federal matching money is not available to the state for these purposes, then and in that event the Legislature is specifically authorized and empowered to prescribe such limitations and restrictions and enacts such laws as may be necessary in order that such federal matching money will be available for assistance and/or medical care for or on behalf of needy persons."

Nothing herein shall be construed to permit optometrists to treat the eyes for any defect whatsoever in any manner nor to administer or to prescribe any drug or physical treatment whatsoever, unless such optometrist is a regularly licensed physician or surgeon under the laws of this state."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday in August, 1969. At the election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting "FOR" or "AGAINST" the proposition: "The Constitutional Amendment providing for assistance to and/or medical care on behalf of the needy aged, the needy blind, the needy disabled, and the needy dependent children and their caretakers; establishing Eighty Million Dollars ($80,000,000) as the maximum amount that may be paid per year from state funds for assistance only; allocating and appropriating additional sums supplementing current legislative appropriations for assistance grants; and authorizing the Legislature to enact such laws as may be necessary in order that federal matching money will be available for assistance and/or medical care."
