WEATHER PERFECT FOR ONION HARVEST.

Crop Being Sent Out in Excellent Condition—123 Cars Shipped up to Last Night—Prices are down.

The weather for the past ten days has been perfect for the harvest of the onion crop, and about ten cars a day have been sent out. Up to last night the shipments amounted to 123 cars. It is estimated that the crop is about half out.

The onions are coming out clean and the quality of the product is said never to have been better than it is this season.

The Association is handling the bulk of the stuff, although there is two independent buyers here and several sales have been made to them. The prices have not changed for a week but there is every indication that the low mark for the season has been reached and an advance is expected in all markets soon. The price on the markets run from $1.10 to $1.40 per crate, which net the growers from 70 to 90 cents per crate.

Fine Plums And Peaches.

Dick Knaggs was out at the Maltberger ranch Thursday and brought in a few plums and peaches from Mr. Maltberger's orchard. Mr. Maltberger has 400 trees which are loaded with fruit this spring. The trees are five years old and have withstood the severe drouth; ground is kept thoroughly clean and a dust mulch kept on the surface.

Moisture has been kept in the ground and the trees made to thrive during the very dryest years. This orchard is a great demonstration of what can be accomplished by dry farming methods.

Flourishing Crops.

Joe Robbins was here from Woodward yesterday. He said the cotton crop was coming fine. Rain would be beneficial to the forage and corn crop.

Henry Robuck says he has a field of corn at the May place eight miles above town that will make fifty bushels to the acre if has a shower in a short time.

E. A. Keck from up the river reports that his corn crop is as fine this year as he ever saw. Regardless of futher rainfall his yield will be heavy, as he can irrigate it.

M. L. Bone brought to this office last Friday evening seven onions of the Crystal Wax variety weighing from 24 to 28 ounces each. Mr. Bone said he put the sets out on January 25, and they had made without irrigation and on the poorest piece of land in his field. He had one row 200 feet long and said he had sold $5 worth, besides getting three crates when they matured.

News From Woodward.

Woodward Texas.— Mr. Thomas May, an Engineer on the Santa Fe of Cleburne, was here one day this week looking at some property, with a view of buying.

Mr. McCutcheon in charge of Mr. Hagelstines property here has just finished laying over 300 feet of ten inch pipe to use for irrigation.

A nice lot of flowers blooming in the yard at the hotel makes a pleasant appearance.

The Woodward Vichy Co. is kept busy these days making soda water.

Austin Man Says Irrigation Will Make Land Valuable.

John H. Grist of Austin was in Cotulla this week and in speaking of the big irrigation project, said to the RECORD.

"A few years will see a wonderful change in the value of land in La Salle county, that lies within the proposed irrigation district. I have kept up with the project and am confident that it will be a go, although there are some obstacles to overcome and it will take time to put it through. My confidence in it is such that I am now making arrangements to move here and contracted this week for the clearing of some of my land and other improvements. The survey proves that the project is entirely practicable. It is greater than dreamed of when the work was begun. In working out the figures of the engineers it has been found that several thousand acres within the boundary of the proposed district are too high to be irrigated, and the plans of the district will necessarily have to be altered so as to take in other land to make the fifty thousand acres, but it will be done in due time." On a project of this kind it is necessary to proceed slow and legally, but every detail is being carried forward, and just as surely as the sun shines today the big dam will be built and the great floods of the Nueces river stored, and thousands of acres of rich La Salle county land reclaimed.

Judge Earnest Will Race For State Legislature.

At the urgent solicitation of friends in Frio, McMullen, Atascosa and La Salle counties Judge F. B. Earnest yesterday gave out the statement that he would make the race for representative of this 93rd Representative district. The district is composed of the counties of Atascosa, Frio, McMullen and La Salle.

For some time past friends of Judge Earnest have been urging him to make the race, but it was only this week that he gave his consent. Formal announcement of his candidacy will probably appear in the papers of the district next week.

Bought Six Hundred Yearlings at $3.00

J. W. Sutton bought six hundred head of yearlings in Karnes county last week and will have them shipped to Cotulla within a few days.

DIFFICULTY CONFRONTS TEXAS RAILROADS.

E. P. Ripley, President of Santa Fe System Talks Before Welfare Commission.

Ft. Worth, Texas, May 23.— Mr. E. P. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe Railway systems appeared before the Welfare Commission in this city Tuesday and gave his views on the railroad situation of Texas from a practical standpoint.

In a plain, straightforward manner and with a frankness peculiarly his own, the noted railroad man pointed out the difficulties that confronts the growth and progress of the railroad industry in Texas.

Mr. Ripley contended that railroads should be permitted to issue bonds for improvement purposes; that railroad investments were not bringing a fair

from Cotulla

Millett, Texas, May 24—The past 10 days have been busy ones for the farmers as the rainy spell had caused the weeds as well as the crops to grow. Most of them however are about through going over the ground.

Yesterday W. H. Jacobs shipped the last carload of onions to leave this place this season; eleven cars have been shipped. Mr. J. M. Ellison and C. O. Harris both had fine crops, several of the other growers got lice in them and were most a failure.

Tyne Harr celebrated his 21st birthday with a party at his father's Monday night.

Mrs. J. H. Stuckey who attended the Confederate Reunion at Macon Ga., is expected home today.

Ollie Johnson of San Antonio is out on a visit and with one eye open for business.

W. E. Earnest left for Asherton on business last Wednesday. Cotton blooms have been reported and roasting ears, Potatoes and other vegetables are making up a good bill of fare.

Laredo Crop 2700 Cars.

Up to last night 2240 cars of onions had been shipped out of the Laredo district, and it was estimated that there would be 300 more cars, making the total 2700. Some of the growers are storing their onions and will hold them a week or two with the hope of the market advancing.

Here From Mexico.

J. F. White of El Oro, Mexico, is here waiting for conditions to simmer down in the Republic. Mr. White came out of Mexico last week and said conditions were really bad, and very unsafe for foreigners outside of the cities. Mr. White has some land near Cotulla and expects to improve it soon.

M. T. Davis returned last night from an absence of several days in Mexico, where he bought a bunch of cattle. Mr. Davis crossed eleven cars over the Rio Grande Wednesday.

Miss Carrie Knaggs visited Mrs. W. N. Young at Laredo this week. Before returning home she will also visit her cousin, Mrs. Frank Rieser, at Rieser, Texas.

Matthew Cartwright, was here looking after his ranch interests during the week. He says the rains of April and the early part of this month have put the country in fine condition. Mr. Lon Cartwright of San Antonio accompanied his father on the trip.

Dr. J. W. Hargus of Asherton stopped off here a day this week to shake hands with his many old time friends. He had been to San Marcos with his mother. The doctor says conditions are thriving in the Asherton country this year and the town is taking on a new growth. The onion yield in that vicinity is very heavy and fair prices are being obtained.

TEXAS STATE NEWS

Bronson.—The Kirby Lumber Co. engine was wrecked, killing Burton Rhodes instantly, one of the woodmen. The tender jumped first, wrecking a car that several men were riding on, and throwing Rhodes against a log. The jar of the wreck caused the fire box to open and the oil in the cab took fire but was soon extinguished.

Waco.—Consolidating the two great revivals which had just started in Waco, and putting the whole machinery under the leadership of Rev. M. F. Ham of Kentucky, Waco has launched what is expected to be by far the greatest evangelistic campaign in her history. A tabernacle is being built right downtown to seat 5,000 and a choir of 500 will be in charge of W. F. Ramsey. Every Protestant church here is co-operating.

El Paso.—The El Paso city council passed a resolution requesting President Taft to promote Col. E. Z. Steever, Fourth Cavalry, to a brigadier generalship. Colonel Steever is now in temporary command of the Department of Texas as a result of the death of Gen. Joseph W. Duncan.

Laredo.—W. O. Starver, who for the past five years has been the inspector in charge of the United States immigration service in Laredo, resigned his position last evening to become effective immediately and retired from service. He announced he would make his home in Laredo and resume the practice of law. He resigned rather than be transferred to a station in New Mexico. The immigration office here is temporarily in charge of J. E. Trout.

San Angelo.—In a lonely spot on the Divide between the Concho and Devil's Rivers, in Schleicher County, ninety miles west of here and four miles east of Eldorado, an unsuccessful attempt was made to hold up the Sonora mail automobile. One shot was fired by the would-be robber. Sheriff Jim Craig of Schleicher County and two other men were

Corpus Christi.—The immense truck crops offered for shipment from the Lower Rio Grande sections has caused considerable congestion of railroad traffic in the vicinity of Corpus Christi. Hundreds of tons of cabbage, cucumbers and melons are said to be waiting transportation facilities. President B. F. Younkum and other officials of the Frisco system are on the ground endeavoring to relieve congestion.

San Angelo.—Forty-seven delegates from various towns throughout West Texas held a joint meeting here to enter a formal protest against the change in the boundary of common point territory to a distance 100 miles east of here. The towns that had delegates present were Brady, Ballinger, Brownwood, Winters, Sweetwater, Coleman, Snyder, Big Springs, San Angelo, and proxies were sent from a number of other towns in the territory. Resolutions were unanimously adopted that every town would lend both financial and moral aid to fight the change from the line as it exists at present.

Houston.—For the first time since the great floods, Harriman line officials here are badly worried. The Hymelia crevasse, it is said, jeopardizes a large section of track and at any moment a break in the line that may cut off direct travel between Houston and New Orleans is feared. President Fay and others are keeping in momentary touch with the situation.

Paris.—Major F. H. Bailey, former president of the National Cotton Seed Crushers association, died suddenly here. He was formerly mayor of Paris. He was a native of Houston.

Houston.—Monday next is designated as the day for the examining trial of John O'Neil, who is charged with attempt to murder and carrying a pistol as a result of the four ineffective shots he sent after Frank Terrell the other day.

Houston.—When a fuse on a La Branch street car blew the other night a stampede followed and all efforts to quell a panic among the passengers failed. In the scramble to get off the car, Leona Harris, a negro, was knocked down, trampled upon and injured so severely that her death is feared. Passengers were absolutely in no danger but they did not know it.

WACO.—Dave Chapman, about 35 years old, was so badly injured the other afternoon late, near Mart, by an I. & G. N. passenger train, northbound, that he died about 3 o'clock at Mart.

Burnett.—Some twenty citizens of the town met at the Baptist church and shingled the roof in less than ten hours. The shingles were delivered there the other morning and the work was done gratis in order to assist the church. The ladies spread a fine dinner and at intervals during the day as many as thirty men were on the job. The Baraca and Philathea classes have recently added rooms to the church building and the church proper has made an extensive addition thereto. A memorial window at a cost of $100. The total work and cost of the new additions to the church aggregate something like $1500, the greater part of which has been raised by the church members of the two classes. The same now presents a fine appearance and the town is proud of it. The Methodist minister, Rev. Mr. Brandon, worked on the job, showing that there is no rivalry in carrying on the good work.

Goliad.—Simon Dikes a young white man of this county, was given an examining trial this week on a charge of stealing a horse and saddle from Wesley Thigpen of Fannin, and was placed under a $500 bond to await the action of the grand jury. A local firm, Casswell & Smith, had resisted the payment of the tax and the State sued for penalties. It recovered judgment in the trial court where the law was sustained and today the Court of Appeals affirmed the judgment. The opinion has not been handed in as yet, though the affirmation was announced from the bench.

San Antonio.—E. J. Fisher, a Carrier of United States mail in the downtown district, fell from his bicycle and sustained a broken arm. ## BACK IS NEW FEDERAL HAVE OROZCO ON THE RUN FOR FAIR

THE DEFORMITY AMERICAN BY BECAME GENERAL.

As a schoolboy his one ambition was to be like other boys. Repeating the handicap of being a pugilist, he set himself to the attainment of an ambition far above that of any of his schoolmates who were more blessed in body. He would be a great general. He drilled an army of smaller boys as the first step toward the attainment of this desire. He entered Leland Stanford Junior University in California, gave some time to his classics, but with the strength of a great determination gave his best thought to the careers of the world's greatest warriors.

In 1899, he made his first trip to China, and his purpose then was as clearly defined as when a boy in Denver years before he announced his intention to become a military genius. "I'm going to be a big commander over there," he shouted back to his friends as he leaned against the rail of a Pacific liner. "I'm going to play an important part in overthrowing the present Manchu dynasty and making China a really advanced nation."

General Huerta has been receiving many telegrams of congratulation on the outcome of the fighting. The rebels abandoned ten cannon and much ammunition in their retreat. General Joaquin Torres, who had been stationed in the rear of Huerta's vanguard, was sent around to the eastward to flank the rebels and cut off their retreat. The general headquarters claim the rebels are completely surrounded and the second day of fighting will be equally decisive. Towns Riddled With Bullets. This town which has been occupied by the vanguard of the rebels, riddled with bullets when the rebels galloped into it at sunset. Over the foothills to the north the insurgents could be seen retreating.

Odd Organization Incorporated Under the Laws of New York.

NEW YORK, May 21.—The next organization to apply for incorporation under the New York State laws is the American Society for the Protection of the Alleged Insane, which aims to save sane folk from being held for insanity. The incorporators state that "many cases where sane persons were pronounced insane, committed to institutions and ultimately discharged after legal fights, prompted clergymen, lawyers and physicians to organize this society for the purpose of preventing such miscarriages of justice." GENERAL YOUNG HONORED

MACON, GA., May 21.—Gen. B. H. Young was chosen head of the Confederate Veteran organization here last week at the annual encampment at Chattahoochee, Tenn., was chosen as the city of the next encampment. One of the chief features of this year's reunion was the acceptance of an invitation from the G. A. R. veterans to join them in a semi-centennial anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg in 1913. A committee at first refused the invitation, but the assembled veterans voted to accept with such enthusiasm that this celebration promises to be an historic gathering.

SPARROWS KILL A MAN
West Virginia Holds Record Now as to Strange Deaths.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., May 21.—From Huron, comes news of one of the most peculiar deaths ever chronicled. Jacob Doll, a prosperous farmer, who owned and operated a farm of 117 acres near that place, was the victim and two fighting English sparrows were the unusual cause of his death. Mr. Doll was sitting asleep in a large old-fashioned hickory rocking chair on the front porch of his house, with his head tilted back. Suddenly the sparrows, which had been fighting in mid-air, swooped violently across the porch and either a beak or talon of one caught in the flesh of the sleeping man's neck, tearing a large jagged wound and cutting the jugular vein. By the time Mrs. Doll came to the porch from the kitchen, her husband lay unconscious on the floor. Efforts to check the flow of blood were futile, and Mr. Doll expired before a physician arrived.

Unknown Heroes

By L. K. Wells.

How true it is that many of the world's heroes are unknown to fame. Lacking education, or fettered by poverty, or limited in talent, or no opportunity coming to their hand, they did not win conspicuous place in the world's theatre. Nevertheless, they did their task so worthily, bore their burden so patiently, fought their battles so bravely and so sacrificed for those they loved, as to deserve the hero's brightest laurels.

The frail pallid girl who toils from year to year to support an invalid parent, the engine driver who dies with his hand at the throttle to save the lives of his passengers, the mother whose sole thought and pain are for the success and happiness of her child, are showing a heroism of spirit equalling, often surpassing, that which has made some names so ringing down the corridors of fame.

These unknown lives have not been without power nor without blessing to mankind. As Horatius held the bridge in the critical hour of Grecian story, so many deeds have saved the else lost day.

In the many cemeteries where sleep the nation's martyred dead, we see endless numbers of stones and shafts inscribed with the touching word "Unknown." And yet because these fallen patriots are undiscovered and unrecorded did they die in vain? Who can tell but in the fiercest shock of conflict it was these very lives which poured out on the crimson field of battle, and turned the wavering diadem of victory that a nation dedicated to freedom might live.

How the world would be enriched had we more biographies of obscure persons! These silent lives, these unknown heroes, were the salt and savor of the earth. Epochs of history are made and the world is moved onward not so much by single great deeds nor by a few illustrious personalities as by the great army of quiet, patient workers and fighters. Upon these rather than upon brilliant leaders and learned scholars rests the security of society, State and Nation.

If in our humble sphere we are meeting duty with courage and patience, we can lose lightly the ashen crown of this world's applause for the approval of conscience and for a name written in the great book of eternal remembrance.

ALLEN CASE NEARING END

Final Arguments Are Begun in Trial of Virginia Chansman.

WYTHEVILLE, Va., May 21.—Final arguments in the case of Floyd Allen, on trial for his life for the murder of Commonwealth's Attorney Foster at Hillsville have been completed. When court convened the Judge passed upon the instructions to the jury. Ten lawyers spoke in the arguments to the jury. The trial began two weeks ago yesterday.

Allen was placed on the stand in his own defense late last week. He said that Sheriff Webb fired his pistol at him, and that Clerk of the Court Dexter Goad also shot at him before he (Allen) reached for his pistol.

"I saw Clerk Goad wink at Sheriff Webb," declared Allen, "and I saw both of them take out their revolvers. Then I rose up from my chair and said, 'Gentlemen, I'm not a-going.' I started a paper in my hand and I had to put it in my inside coat pocket. Then Webb fired. He missed me. Goad fired next, hitting me in the hip, and I fell on Judge Bolch, my counsel." Allen declared he did not get his pistol out of his pocket until after he had been shot. The only man he shot at in the courtroom, he said, was Deputy Clerk Queensberry.

TAX DODGERS

A Matter You Ought to Bring to The Attention of The People and County Officials.

In a letter to the Texas State Revenue Agent, A. B. Richards Medicine Company point out that the State and counties are shy about $747,000 because of failing to collect taxes for the past two years. This sum would be quite helpful, but why is even this low tax, which permits these itinerant vendors to compete with retail stores, not collected? Ask your county attorney and tell your customers to inquire. The letter reads in part as follows:

"The reports we receive from our different traveling men and from retail people convince us that conditions are even worse in other counties, but taking Grayson county as a basis and figuring that there are ten parties avoiding these taxes here, and figuring the tax at $100 for the State and $50 for the county, it means that there are in uncollected taxes $373,500 per year. Now, these same people were engaged in this business last year, for which taxes can be collected, which runs the sum up to $747,000 in taxes which can now be collected if the matter is gone after in the right way.

"We have not had a reply to our letter of March 28th, as to whether or not it is your desire that we assist you in securing the names and addresses of these medicine peddlers in Grayson County.

"We would like to have an expression from you as to what can be done toward enforcing the collection of these taxes throughout the State, as it is our idea to take the matter up with the State Retail Druggists' Association and State Retail Merchants' Association also, and before doing this we would like to have your reply."

Oakwood.—Mrs. Lewis Scheafer of this place was burned to death. She had sent her daughter after some ice, who was away about thirty or forty minutes. On her return she found her mother dead. Supposition is that her clothing caught fire while starting a fire with oil in the cook stove.

RICHESON MUST DIE

BOSTON PREACHER MUST GIVE HIS LIFE FOR MURDERING FORMER SWEETHEART.

INSANITY NOT ESTABLISHED

Although Alienists' Report to Massachusetts Executive Points to Periodical Lunacy, They Declare Defendant Was Sane at Time of Murder.

BOSTON, May 21.—Clarence V. T. Richeson's hope to escape from the death chair next week for the murder of Avis Linell expired tonight when Governor Foss announced he would not refer Richeson's petition for commutation of sentence to the executive council.

The statement from the Governor came soon after the filing of the reports of the special insanity commission, which declared the condemned man sane, although subject to fits of hysterical insanity. The commission found that Richeson was at the time of the murder and that he is sane now.

In the death chamber the prisoner has borne himself calmly since he was transferred from the Charles Street jail Tuesday. It was apparent that he still hoped clemency would be extended to him and it was believed that this alone was keeping up his spirits.

The statement issued by Foss shows that the alienists found that Richeson's family was afflicted very generally with insanity and that the condemned man himself is a neurotic, a somnambulist and a neurasthenic and subject to hysterical insanity. The statement follows:

"Executive clemency will not be extended to the case of C. V. T. Richeson. The prisoner was sentenced upon his own confession and without trial for a crime which it appears impossible that any normal man could commit.

MAY LEAVE PINS IN WASH

Judge Denies Damages to Launderer Who Was Stuck.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 21.—In dismissing a suit for damages brought by a washerwoman because she ran a pin in her hand, Judge Seehorn of the Circuit Court said it was a silly thing to attempt to hold anyone responsible for such an accident.

The suit dismissed was that of Deborah M. Woodward against Margaret Burke for $5,000, for injuries received from a pin scratch while washing.

"It is ridiculous to hold an employer responsible for leaving such necessary instruments as pins in clothing when handed to the washerwoman," Judge Seehorn said. "It may be carelessness to leave pins in clothing, but the washerwoman should also use care in finding them."

Johnson City.—The large wingless grasshoppers have made their appearance. These pests do great damage to cotton fields. Many of the farmers fence with tin about six inches high, which keeps them out to a great extent.

ITS PURE AND DELICIOUS AS TO GASOLINE ENGINES

A Visit to San Antonio's Modern Ice Cream Factory Revealed Some New Departures.

Our reporter happened to drop in at the Crispie Ice Cream factory the other day to sample some of the cream made by this up-to-date factory. He was introduced to a delicious helping of the purest cream over other varieties. Noting the superior flavor of their cream in the past eaten elsewhere, he became inquisitive to know what composed the ingredients of this exquisite morsel.

Mr. Crispie personally conducted him through the plant and explained to him their up-to-date methods of manufacturing Crispie Ice Cream. He explained the cleanliness was the first order of the establishment, next he saw to it that none but the purest cream and sterilized and aerated, entered the formula, the purest unadulterated flavors and fruit juice were only used, in fact he said that the very best materials were created in the making of this ice cream. He said that being stricter than the pure laws himself in the manufacture of his ice cream, he was enabled to furnish the public with the best man could produce in his line. Judging from the hum of activity and bustle in the place, and the large and small shipments of numerous flavors of cream, the writer concluded that the public appreciated honest made high grade goods, especially when costing no more than inferior brands of ice cream. The man that does one thing, and does it well, is the man who succeeds.

Whenever you think of ice cream hereafter, call for "Crispie's."

QUEER ITALIAN LAW

ODD DECISION RENDERED IN CARUSO CASE.

Evidence Showed that Famous Tenor Had Broken Promise to Marry Italian Girl, but Judge Declared That as She Had Maintained Her Virtue She Could Claim Damages.

To an American way of thinking there is something wrong in Italian law. Thus do our illusions vanish and our ideals suffer the blight of disenchantment.

Take the case of Caruso, famous tenor singer, whose warm and loving heart has led him into the first time. Caruso has just been prosecuted for breach of promise to marry, a promise solemnly professed by the mass of American ladies. There was no doubt about the promise. There was no doubt at all about the breach.

Caruso Clearly Guilty. Now note the issue. He is the words of the court. "There is no doubt whatever that Caruso had promised Signorina Canelli to make her his lawful wife, and not merely take her as mistress or maid, as he would make believe, and there is no just motive for failing to fulfill his promise."

It remains a morally deplorable act on Caruso's part that with the outlook of an imperishable love and a life abounding in splendor and ease he should have inveigled an inexperienced, ingenuous, upright girl, afterward to abandon her without any reason to her fate.

How Judge Rendered His Decision. "But whereas it is clear that notwithstanding Caruso's blandishments and gushing love letters she succeeded in maintaining her chastity and source of wealth, the honor of a spotless life intact, she cannot claim reparation for any damage."

Oh, just judge! Oh, wise law! This girl has been so immaculately virtuous that the law can give her no redress for her injuries. So long as she remains virtuous there is entire impunity for whoever wishes to play fast and loose with her affections. But if only she had departed from the straight and narrow path the court would have recompensed her by substantial damages. Perhaps Signorina Canelli will henceforth have her doubts as to whether honesty is, after all the best policy.

An improperly designed and unbalanced engine must be bolted down and still it shakes and eventually crystallizes the crank shafts and other moving parts, causing breakage and other expensive delays and repairs. Correct balance is one of the big essentials which few engines possess, even the experienced can easily tell the difference. There are still some old style, obsolete gasoline engines on the market, which are so complicated that an attendant must everlastingly be making adjustments and watching closely to keep them going. The modern engine if once supplied with lubricating oil, gasoline and a spark, needs no further attention, except stopping and starting.

The crank shaft bearing should be of generous proportion set at an angle of thirty degrees, fitted with high speed, anti-friction metal. To cheapen construction many engines are designed with the cylinder frames cast in one piece, except in smaller size, this should never be done as the bed cannot properly support the cylinder in such construction. The cylinder should be bolted to the frame by six or more heavy stud bolts and should overhang enough for free and unobstructed expansion of the cylinder bore. The water space surrounding the cylinder walls must also have careful consideration to insure an absolute and positive circulation of cooling water. To do this the design must provide more water space on the one side than the other. This insures perfect circulation and uniform equal expansion of the cylinder walls. The cylinder head should be a separate casting, thoroughly water jacketed, and fastened to the cylinder with heavy stud bolts. The hopper cooled type of cylinder should be designed so that the hopper covers the entire length of the cylinder and correct design puts the cylinder wall slightly nearer the water jacket on one side than on the other. The advantage is positive circulation, the hot water rising rapidly in the widest space.

To do this the design must provide more water space on the one side than the other. This insures perfect circulation and uniform equal expansion of the cylinder walls. The cylinder head should be a separate casting, thoroughly water jacketed, and fastened to the cylinder with heavy stud bolts. The hopper cooled type of cylinder should be designed so that the hopper covers the entire length of the cylinder and correct design puts the cylinder wall slightly nearer the water jacket on one side than on the other. The advantage is positive circulation, the hot water rising rapidly in the widest space.

By means of a heavy machine and unusually cheap crank shaft can be made by merely heating a piece of round shafting and bending it into the shape of a crank shaft. This method, however, injures and partly destroys the grains of the steel and the danger is that the crank shaft will soon be out of line, causing heating and cutting out of the bearings. On small engines the connecting rod can safely be made of round shafting and made of iron of "I" beam design, as this is the strongest section possible to obtain with this kind of material.

The piston should be of ample length, and made of close grained iron. For small engines it should have not less than three compression rings and on engines of say twenty horse-power, there should be at least five rings, one of them located ahead of the piston, to insure uniform distribution of oil. As defective valves are the source of expensive repairs, it is well to note that they should be made of one piece only. Valves made of two pieces are liable to break, allowing part of the valve to get into the cylinder. The exhaust valve especially should be large, for example a six-horse-power engine should have not less than one and one-half inch exhaust pipe.

The igniter is one of the most important parts of the engine. It should be built with long bearings so that there will be practically no side thrust on the movable electrode. An igniter built with short bearings will soon wear out of line and bind and give considerable trouble in operation.

Swat The Fly.

Swat darn you, swat.
Be a swatter, not a knocker.
"Don't give up the fight"—
swat the fly.
He who hesitates is least—
swat the fly.
Meet the fly at the door with a fly swatter.
A good fly like a good Indian,
is a dead one.
What Texas needs is fewer laws
and more fly paper.
Eight billion flies were swat-
ted in Paris, France, last week.
A short life for the fly means
a long life for you.
A dog wags his tail, why?
because he has the swatting
habit.
Live each day so that you can look every man in the face and tell him to go to—swatting the fly.
Count that day lost whose low
besetting sun finds at thy hands no worthy action done. Moral—
swat the fly.
Ty Cobb missed a fly last week
but he got it on the second hop.
If Heratio lived at this day and time he would say—"Who will stand at the right of me,
Who will stand at the left of me,
and swat the fly with me?"

HOUSEKEEPERS' DEPARTMENT

By Mrs. Bessie Lee Moore.
Strawberry Ways.
The ideal way of serving berries
is fresh from the vines, unhusked and with stems on, but only a few are able to enjoy this delight. The most of us are obliged to get our berries at second or even third hand, and in this case the berries must be washed.

Put them into a colander and let cold water run over them gently until all grit is removed. Drain thoroughly and arrange them for breakfast, on pretty individual plates with stems uppermost and a little mound of sugar in the center to dip them in. Sugar should never be sprinkled over berries before serving as it draws out the juices.

Strawberry Short Cake.
Strawberry short cake is prepared in two ways, but in the minds of those accustomed to it, in their youth, the genuine old fashioned short cake made with a rich biscuit crust can never be excelled.
When the cakes baked in layer-tins come from the oven they are buttered and covered with the berries
or split, the fruit piled on the cut side of each, and one piled above
the other. The biscuit crust calls for four cups of sifted flour, one half teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonful baking powder. Chop in three tablespoonfuls of butter and sufficient sweet milk or water to make a soft dough. Do not handle more than necessary. Roll lightly and quickly into two thin sheets.
Bake in round tins, lay one sheet
on the other, having the first one well brushed with softened butter.
When done separate them. Cover the lower half with a thick layer of strawberries crushed and sweetened.
Place the second short cake on top of berries and cover with whole berries, dust with powdered sugar
and serve with thick cream.

Strawberry Sponge.
Put half a package of gelatine
to soak in half cupful of cold water. Wash a quart of strawberries with half a cupful of sugar. Boil one cupful of sugar gently for twenty minutes. Add the gelatine to the hot syrup and stir until dissolved and take immediately from the fire. Then add the berries and place on cracked ice. As soon as chilled begin to beat and continue until light and spongy, then add the whites of four eggs, beaten to a stiff froth. Pour into a mold,
and set away to get firm.

Canned Strawberries.
Pick over, wash and thoroughly drain sound ripe strawberries, then hull and weigh. To each pound of fruit allow three-fourths of a pound of sugar. Put alternate layers of fruit and sugar in a preserving kettle, cover and let stand over night. In the morning heat gradually to the boiling point and let simmer twenty minutes. Skim berries from syrup into sterilized jars, fill jars to overflowing with boiling syrup, adjust rubbers and screw on covers. Do not attempt to cook too many at a time.

The regular cake batter made sweet and tender filled and crowned with whole berries lacks the characteristic charm of the old way.

Strawberries and Whipped Cream.
Line a glass dish with lady fingers.
In the bottom of the dish place a layer of strawberries. Add a layer of powdered sugar, then a layer of dry whipped cream, then another layer of berries, sugar and cream. Have the cream heaped roughly on the top and dot with berries. Sprinkle with sugar and serve thoroughly chilled.

FARM NOTES

The Value of Mixed Feeds.

The highly concentrated character
of cotton seed meal makes it absolutely necessary that it be incorporated with other poorer feeding stuff. It stands in the list of feeding stuffs as does gold in the list of metals—at the top. But gold is worthless in the arts for money,
unless properly alloyed; so cotton seed meal must be diluted—toned down.

I shall not attempt to name all of the numerous materials at hand in the South and other states suitable for this purpose—all the hay, cotton seed hulls, all the coarse feeders, grains, the by products from rice, wheat and corn milling, those from breweries, distilleries and sugar refineries; but you have in cotton seed meal, and always will have the greatest basic stock food. It will vitalize everything it touches.

The mixing of animal foods has become a great industry and under the Federal and State Pure Food laws it is destined to become much greater, so that where a feeder is not prepared for properly mixing
the ration he will be safe in buying it from the mills properly mixed, as he orders it, on a guarantee from responsible manufacturers.
The investigator of animal nutrition today is busy compounding and balancing his ration. Animal feeding has become a fine art in the countries of Europe. Scientists undertook the problem of proper nutrition and they have simply worked miracles in the production of meat, milk, wool and the like, in that country. It is by carefully studying the composition of feeding stuffs, the proportion in which they are digested by different animals and under different conditions, that the principles of feeding have been worked out. In applying these principles in practice, the cost and special adaptation of different feeding stuffs have been taken into account; and as an ingredient of a balanced ration the universal verdict has been that they have found nothing to equal Cottonseed Meal.

But while all of this was going on at a lively rate in other parts of the world, you will find the feeders in this country making no such progress but allowing the highest concentrated food for stock in the world to be shipped from their very doors, thousands of miles, at a great expense and being used profitably in other places.

Gentlemen, the "Relation of Cotton Seed products to the Cattle Industry" is important, and I trust will be given that prominence it deserves in the deliberations of your association to the end that a scientific knowledge of the value of such products may become well known to each of your members, and that the cordial relations that have existed so long between the members of the Cotton Seed Crushers' Association and the Cattle Raisers' Association may continue, and increase as each may find, increasing the importance of the one industry to the other.

POULTRY DEPARTMENT

LICE AND MITES.

(J. D. Carter.)
I find in your valuable paper an inquiry for a remedy to kill lice on chicks. I say that feeding the chickens sulphur will rid them of lice, and the sitting hens that have been fed sulphur will not be bothered with mites.

I have always dreaded mites during sitting time until this year. During the winter I fed my flock sulphur
and I have set 41 hens up to date, 10 of them have hatched and I haven't found a single mite yet.

I would feed about a halfpail of sulphur made up in chops or bran once each day for six days, then skip
two weeks, then repeat the dose.

AMERICAN INDIAN RUNNER DUCKS.

(Mrs. Fannie Holland.)
You can feed American Indian Runner ducks and raise them as easy,
even more so, than young chickens.
They need no water except to drink.
Keep that deep enough to cover their nostrils. Lettuce and sprouted oats are the cheapest green feeds. Bermuda, alfalfa, etc., are fine. Sprinkle eggs with warm water before they pip, or water still, immerse them in pan of warm water.
The Rhode Island Reds are the best winter and all-year layers, to my notion.

POULTRY NOTES.

Never disappoint your customers
if you expect to build up an egg trade. Fill orders promptly and be sure the eggs are fresh in both quality and appearance.

Scrub fowls, like scrub animals have no place on the farm. If it pays to keep scrub fowls, it would pay better to keep pure bred stock,
and if it doesn't pay to keep scrubs,
they should not be kept.

The best way to build up a strain
of laying hens is to keep records.
This can be done easily by the use of trap nests. Breed from fowls of known merit as layers and in a few years you will have established a strain of prolific egg producers.

Keep the young fowls up in the morning until the grass is dry. Wet grass is very detrimental to young fowls. Where the brood follows its mother there is no better way to avoid the danger of damp weeds
than to keep the mother and brood
in the pens until the dew is off.

Eggs are cheap food at present
prices in comparison with beef-steak, pork-chops and mutton roast.
A meal can easily and quickly be prepared when eggs are source of protein, and more should be used on our tables. The farmer who has plenty of eggs can thus reduce the high cost of living.

Clean nests are very essential in producing clean eggs. Change the nest material occasionally, and as a precaution against insects burn the discarded material that is taken from the nests. Too much care cannot be given to cleanliness in the poultry yard.

Feeding little chicks is a very important part of profitable poultry raising. The feeders must take an interest in his fowls, watch them and learn how to anticipate their demands. The mortality of little chicks is too high and it could be reduced by care in feeding.

Fowls are very beneficial in keeping insects in check. Where they have access to the orchard, they destroy thousands of curculio, caterpillars, bugs, etc., that infest the orchard. The orchard is a splendid place to raise a brood of young chickens, turkeys or guineas. Fruit growers have good opportunities for profitable poultry raising.

was convicted of hog theft in the District Court here and his punishment assessed at two years' confinement in the penitentiary. Jake Barefield, Gibson's brother-in-law, testified in behalf of the State, and his wife has since quit him. When the verdict was read the mournful shrieks of relatives of the defendant could be heard for blocks. Enos Gibson, a brother of the convicted man, also charged with hog theft, is on trial. This makes the third conviction secured at this term of the District Court out of three cases were Yaure Chapa, a Mexican, charged with horse theft, and Eugene Lewis, a negro, on a charge of forgery who got two years
each.

MOODY-ATCHISON.

Tuesday morning at nine thirty, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gallman, the marriage of Mr. M. L. Moody, of Aransas Pass and Mrs. Bettie Atchison was solemnized by Rev. Hamilton of the Presbyterian Church. The parlor was tastefully decorated with white roses placed upon the piano and table, which held the beautiful cut glass; A touch of color was seen upon the mantel in the American beauty rose. With Mrs. J. C. Poole at the piano playing Mendelssohn wedding march Mr. Moody and Mrs. Atchison slowly passed through the hall stopping at the arch way leading into the parlor, which was decorated with a beautiful evergreen, Rev. Hamilton meeting them, performing the ring ceremony of the church binding two hearts into one in life and purpose. The bride wore a beautiful brown messaline with shoes and gloves to match, her hat bore a touch of color which gave a pretty effect. The twenty train carried Mr. and Mrs. Moody to San Antonio where they will remain a few days visiting relatives and friends then to their home in Aransas Pass, where Mr. Moody is engaged in the grocery business.

Only a few friends and near relatives were present. The RECORD extends hearty congratulations wishing them bon voyage o'er the sea of life.

MRS. COHENOR HOSTESS.

A beautiful afternoon it was that prompted twenty eight ladies to respond to Mrs. Cohenor's invitation, the occasion being the meeting of the ladies of the Baptist Aid. The usual devotional period was conducted by the president, Mrs. Rowland, she reading for the afternoon lesson the 13th Chapter 1st Corinthians.

The Bible lesson was interestingly taught by Mrs. A. F. Earnest. The lesson centered around the betrayal of Jesus. The next place of meeting will be with Mrs. Chevalier using as the watchword "Prayer". Miss Dossia Shaw will conduct the lesson.

During the social hour we enjoyed meeting Mrs. Frank Rock and Miss Anna Rock of Rockwood, Mdms. Windrow (of Fort Worth,) Hodges (of Kerville,) Mrs. Cohenour with Mrs. Jessie Falbert's assistance passed a salad course, with fried chicken ice tea and home made candy.

MRS. ATCHISON COMPLIMENTED.

Miss Burwell took this means of announcing on Friday the seventeenth, the engagement of Mrs. Bettie Atchison and Mr. J. L. Moody, of Arkansas Pass. Out upon the lawn, closely formed friends with relatives gathered to celebrate the happy occasion. Miss Burwell concealed the many attractively done up packages near by that had been brought by those present, and in a pleasing way began showering these gifts one by one until the heavier ones did weight her down. Mrs. Atchison beaming with surprise received this demonstration with happy smiles and thanks. The excitement followed the opening these dainty prepared articles which bespoke love and good wishes for her future days of happiness.

The menu card was passed as a means of diversion, in the form of a riddle, and all happily solved it to be ice cream and cake which was served, mingled with merry conversation.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS.

Mrs. Ray Seefeld named Saturday evening to perfect the organization of her Sunday School class at her home, which consist of only young men. This class gives promise of much good study, and with the assistance of their consecrated teacher, they bid fare to accomplish much as they have already evidenced by their attendance and interest.

Notwithstanding the young people's party that night seven young men responded to Mrs. Seefeld's invitation and the following officers were elected.

President, Jim Merriman, Vice President, Clint Haynie, treasurer, Frank Keck, secretary Albert Knaggs. After their plans and arrangements had been perfected Mrs. Seefeld served Ice Cream and cake.

MRS. N. C. WINDROW HOSTESS.

Thursday the ladies of the Presbyterian Union and a goodly number of visitors responded to Mrs. Windrow's invitation. The usual devotional and business period comprised the first portion of the meeting after which an interesting program was enjoyed Mrs. Gahrng read in a most impressive manner a poem "If it were I."

Miss Wildenthal contributed to the program one of her beautiful piano selections.

This is the Union's first meeting with Mrs. Windrow, but the charming manner as Miss Poole held in store the hospitality so freely lavished upon her guests. The social hour proved more than interesting, as the many invited guests lent zest to the membership.

Ice cream and cake was served by the hostess.

When the time for home going came many thanks were given Mrs. Windrow for so pleasant an afternoon.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. H. Gallman, watchword "Honesty".

SURPRISE PARTY.

A crowd of young people took Mrs. L. C. Ross by surprise Saturday night carrying their refreshments with them. They were heartily received by Mrs. Ross who is always awake to the spirit of the young. A merry time was had in frolic and games until late. These young people feel a debt of gratitude to Mrs. Ross, for this pleasant evening.

DEATH OF MRS. J. W. SUTTON.

It is with saddened hearts that we chronicle the sudden demise of Mrs. J. W. Sutton, who was sick only so short a time, yet an intense sufferer from the very beginning. Wednesday as the sun was sinking low in the west Mrs. Sutton too, passed into rest, surrounded by her husband, three daughters, two sons and many close friends. She has lived in our midst only a few years, but has formed friendship's ties that lasting, even to the putting away of her body, and her sweet christian character will ever linger in their memory. The midnight train bore the body of this christian wife and mother Stockdale, her old home, accompanied by others than her family, Mdms Will Hargus, L. W. Gaddis, C. F. Binkley, Miss Margie Rogers, her pastor Rev. Rowland. She was a member of the Baptist church, having united last year during the revival, and was ever faithful to the faith she professed. To the grief stricken husband and dear children we condole, knowing they will look beyond their vale of tears to the heavenly home where she is at sweet peace with her Savior; in her happiness she counts it joy to have been transplanted to the city of God. We miss our loved ones from this earthly home, and the separation seems more than we can bear, yet we know by faith we shall soon be reunited in a grander purified being; our tears are not in vain but are refreshing to the over-burdened heart, and God alone can heal the wound.

"There's a beautiful hand at the gateway tonight,
A face all shining with radiant light,
Eyes looking down from your heavenly home,
Beckoning up higher the waiting ones,
Beautiful hand of Mother."

Card of Thanks.

On behalf of my family and myself I take this method of attempting to express our heartfelt thanks and gratitude to the good people of Cotulla and vicinity for their kindly ministrations and sympathy during the recent illness and death of my beloved wife. Being a comparative stranger in your midst it is all the more appreciated, and had this sad event transpired in my old home where all know us it would have been impossible for any more to have been done to assuage our grief in the irreparable loss we have sustained and the remembrance of your kind sympathy will dwell in our minds and hearts as long as life shall last. We thank you more deeply and earnestly than mere words can express and pray for you and yours the richest blessings that the Almighty Ruler of the Universe can bestow.

What is the main difference between a porter house steak and a park chop?

The size.

There's nothing like a Port-house, or Sirloin if you choose, A cut of Flank, or slice of Round, To drive away the blues!

There's nothing like a tender Chop of Veal, Mutton, Pork or Lamb, to make you say, when stowed away, "Quite Satisfied, I am"
