Football Contest

There has been a constant switch since the annual 'Back the Mules' football contest began five weeks ago. This week, two new names moved into the winner's circle. First place winner was Clifford Buckner of Muleshoe. He missed one game and had a 10 point-spread in the tie-breaker.

Second place winner was Mark Long, who also missed one game. The game Mark missed was the Muleshoe-Portales game and he had a 47 point spread in the tie-breaker. Young Mark could truly be called a 'Backer of the Mules.'

NFO Continues Grain Hold: Seeking $2.30

Don Kimball, State president of the National Farmers Organization, said Monday that the holding action on grain sorghum will continue until the grain demand produced a market price of $2.30 a hundred.

The announcement confirmed an agreement among some 800 grain farmers who met last Thursday night. They agreed to place in storage all the grain they had not contracted to sell.

One Injured In Wrecks On Monday

Two accidents within 35 minutes early Monday night sent one person to West Plains Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment.

The first accident was reported at 8:25 p.m. and was 3.8 miles from Highway 84 on the West Camp Road.

County Agent Adams Says 'Some Damage'

An early freeze, which saw the thermometers dipping into the lower 20's Monday morning, left behind blackened tender vegetables and moderate damage to other crops, according to a report by County Agent J.K. Adams.

Adams said, "The only crop not affected would be the corn which is already harvested. Grain sorghum will be affected very little as some 90 percent of the grain sorghum crop is in."

The county agent said from preliminary reports, he estimates as much as a 20 percent loss on cotton in the county. Most of this is caused by loss of late cotton. Adams said most farmers replanted cotton after the June 13 hail storms which wiped out much of the cotton, especially in southern Bailey County.

Enrollment In Schools Is Steady

Following the first six weeks of school, enrollment remains steady at 2,040 students. After the first six weeks of school in 1968, enrollment for the four Muleshoe schools were 1,964 students.

Muleshoe High School has picked up 53 students over the same time last year with a total of 581 students. There were 528 students enrolled in high school in 1968 following the first six weeks.

Enrolled in high school are 114 seniors, 124 juniors, 150 sophomores and 193 freshmen.

Carroll's Grandson Improving

Forty-six days ago Tuesday Danny Spies, the seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Spies of Littlefield, was a spectator at a motorcycle race at Littlefield. Suddenly a motorcycle went wild and crashed into the crowd, injuring Danny and another small boy.

Danny has been in intensive care unit at Methodist Hospital, Lubbock since that time, and still is. He has undergone plastic surgery and about two weeks ago had brain surgery.

Water Meeting To Be Held Soon

Tom Williams of Water, Inc., Lubbock, was in Muleshoe Monday to meet with several members of the Bailey County Water Association.

During the meeting, which was held in Joe Harbin's office at Bailey County Electric Co-operative Association, Williams told those present that the by-laws had been changed recently by Water, Inc. The by-law change authorizes county units to be set up under the new policy.

Williams said with the change, three committees should be set up; business, industry and agricultural with the entire county represented. He suggested from 30-35 members on a county board. He also stated that with the new system, if Bailey County would accumulate 100 members in a county organization before December 15, they will be allowed to nominate and elect their own director for Water, Inc. He said that the county presently has a membership of 53 and that an additional 47 members will be needed in order to have a director on the board of Water, Inc.

In the event the additional 47 members are secured by the county organization by December 15, ballots will be mailed to all members to nominate and elect their own director.

The yearly meeting of Water, Inc. is slated for February and at that time, the ballots will be counted and the new director acknowledged.

Cochran County was the first county organized as a part of Water, Inc. and Williams said that at the present time, 17 counties are either organized or slated for organization within the next month. Williams said the next water vote will come up in 1971 and cited an educational program which would have to be carried out extensively, especially in the metropolitan areas.

He said, "Most people are not aware of the fact that water

It is expected that those who have completed seventh or eighth grade will be able to successfully complete the work toward passing the General Education Development Test during the year.

Anyone interested in enrolling in the class may do so by attending the next session of the class which will meet at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, October 16.

Mrs. Horace Blackburn is the teacher for the class.

Lazbuddie Slates Homecoming Friday

Plans are all completed, and everyone is waiting for the big night at Lazbuddie, Friday night is Homecoming for the Lazbuddie School.

To begin the evening of activities, a barbecue will be served in the school cafeteria. Tickets are available for the 5:30 p.m. dinner for $1.75 for adults and $1.25 for children.

At halftime, the homecoming queen and football hero will be crowned. Vying for queen are Raygena Treider, Lee Ann Harlan, Elaine Jesko and Delayne Steinbock. Hero candidates are Monte Barnes, Larry Hodges, Terry Scott and Derrell Matthews.

This year, the Longhorns will lock horns with Amherst in the homecoming game. The Longhorns will be going into the game with a 3-1 record, their only loss to Bovina for the year, was the first time the 'Horns had lost a game in two years of regular season play.

The Longhorns downed the Amherst team last year, 46-19.

In 1968, Lazbuddie amassed and 11 win, one loss record. Their solitary loss was in the Freeze...

"Right now," he concluded, "we have no way to make an accurate estimate, as there is no way anyone can tell what will happen."

"All tender vegetables, such as tomatoes, peppers, and others are gone with the freeze except for a little salvage work being done in tomatoes," said Adams, "carrots have not been affected by the freeze, however."

Sugar beets are not expected to be harmed by the freeze, commented Adams, as he said the sugar content is supposed to rise as cold weather approaches. He said that the hot nights during the past summer had kept the sugar content low for this year.

Castor beans were not apparently ready for the freeze, commented Adams, and said there will be considerable "pops" which are hollow shells. He said it is doubtful at this time that county farmers would make the record crop formerly expected. "Time will tell the extent of damage," he added.

Not too much alfalfa was expected to be damaged as the county agent said a recent large number of acres were harvested. He said he did not several farmers 'windrowing' their alfalfa on Monday following the 24 degree temperature.

Soybeans are almost all harvested or mature for harvest. The peanut crop was apparently not harmed. Practically all the county peanut crop was all tuned up and will be ready for thrashing shortly.

Adding to the overall picture left behind by the early freeze, was the fact that cotton harvest will be over definitely earlier than in past years. Strippers will be moving into fields as the green leaves on the cotton will soon drop off following their 20 degree exposure.

importation will not mean a tax increase, but the funds used for the project will be paid back by those who would use the water.

"It is expected to be a 40 year program to pay back the funds allocated for importation, and more than enough water would be made available for the next 50 years."

A tentative date is scheduled for the meeting in November, and the date will be released as soon as a few details can be worked out.

Williams emphasized that for more effectiveness in attempting to secure water for the High Plains area, water organizations should combine their efforts toward a common goal, obtaining surplus water to keep the economy alive in the High Plains area.

These are some of the statistics, with many others not related here, run up by Coach Pat Casey's football team during the year.

gain in the marketplace." He said he estimated the sorghum crop to be as much as 10 to 20 percent less than last year.

Representatives of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., on October 9 in Dallas took part in naming three trustees and three alternates to Cotton Producers Institute from the Texas High Plains area, in nominating two Plains members and two alternates to CPI's Cotton Board, and in electing seven cotton producer delegates and seven alternates from the Plains to the National Cotton Council.

Representing Plains Cotton Growers in the caucus of cotton producer and other farm organizations were Board Chairman J.D. Smith of Littlefield and Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President, Lubbock. They were authorized to represent the organization at a meeting of the PCG Executive Committee September 30, at which time the committee made its suggestions for each position.

CPI trustees and alternates from Texas, of which there are 12 each, are selected by 13 cotton producer, cooperative and general farm organizations, all certified as legitimate interest organizations by the Secretary of Agriculture under the terms of Cotton Research and Promotion Act passed in 1967.

The five Texas Cotton Board members are nominated by the same organizations, two for each position. The nominations go to the Secretary who makes the final selection of members and alternates.

Texas has 12 producer delegates to the NCC for the coming year, up from 11 in the current year. They are elected by the five major cotton producer organizations in the State, plus the Texas Farmers Union and Texas Farm Bureau.

The three year terms of CPI trustees are staggered and the terms of three of the five serving from the High Plains were scheduled to expire this year. All were reelected, as were their alternates.

They are, trustee and alternate, respectively: Joe B. Pate, Jr. of Lubbock and Donnell Echols of Lamesa, J.D. Smith of Littlefield and Don Marble of South Plains, L.C. Unfred of Tahoka and Joe, D. Unfred of New Home.

Remaining on the Board of Trustees of CPI from the Plains is Howard Alford of Lubbock and his alternate, Jay Cannon of Hale Center, and Roy Forkner of the Canyon Community, with his alternate, W.L. Edelman of Friona. Their terms expire in 1970 and 1971, respectively. Alford is Vice Chairman of CPI trustees.

Cotton Board members from the Plains whose terms were to expire this year are Roy B. Davis, member, and Donald Johnson, alternate. The Secretary requires that two names be submitted for each position. Davis and Johnson were re-nominated as first choice for board member and alternate. Ray Joe Riley of Hart was nominated as second choice for board member, with J.B. Kirklin of Pecos as alternate.

In recent years the High Plains has had four of Texas' 11 producer delegates, of which five will be from the High Plains.

Elected to fill the new spot was J.D. Smith. Bill Reid of Lamesa was named his alternate.

Of the four current producer delegates, the terms of L.C. Unfred and Don Anderson were expiring this year, but both were reelected along with their alternates, Paul Bennett, of Amherst, and Don Marble.

The other two producer delegates from the Plains are John Pugh of Lubbock and W.L. Edelman. Their present alternates are Joe B. Pate, Jr. and J.D. Smith. Pate will continue as alternate to Pugh, but Lloyd Cline of Lamesa was elected alternate to Edelman, replacing Smith.

Producer delegates to NCC will take office at the NCC annual meeting in January, 1970.

SST Money Stays Home

BY PAUL HARVEY

President Nixon, economizing, seeking to curtail federal spending, has nonetheless asked Congress for $662 million to develop a supersonic airliner. It sounds like a contradiction. It isn't.

What the President asks is development money, to be spent over the next five years, for a passenger plane which will fly almost 2,000 miles an hour and will carry 300 passengers. Boeing promises to have the first one flying by 1972 and to be carrying you on regular airline schedules by 1978.

Government would pay 90% of the cost of developing the first two prototypes; about $1 billion.

The cost of completing operational models for delivery to airlines will come to $4.5 billion.

Critics in Congress and elsewhere protest that's a lot of money to spend on a super-duper airplane when we still have poor people in the United States who need food.

First, let's understand this: the SST is going to be built. By 1978, if not sooner, airline passengers are going to be flying at supersonic speeds.

They may fly in the Russian version which has already been extensively flight-tested.

They may fly in the British-French Concorde which has already logged more than 100 air hours.

Despite the heavy $1.6 billion drain on the economies of those countries, they are gambling on a future market from which they may harvest many times that sum.

If we, the United States, do not build a supersonic airliner, our own domestic and international air carriers will be forced to buy their next generation of jets from the British and the French—or Russians.

If that happens, billions more American dollars will go "thataway."

And not only will we be spending billions of dollars abroad but we will in effect, be exporting the thousands of jobs necessary to the construction of those future sky fleets.

On the other hand, the domestic SST program as proposed by the President would cost the federal Treasury less than $1 billion. As the planes are sold, the Treasury would recover its investment in royalties.

That billion, plus the $3.5 billion which private industry will subsequently invest, will continue to circulate through workers' pockets in Seattle and Tulsa, Wichita and Fort Worth—and through the scores of American cities where parts from this giant and its engines will be subcontracted.

That is why President Nixon is trying to convince Congress that the United States "must continue to lead the world in air transport."

We can't afford not to.

Castro pledges to support any Latin revolution.

Folk, Countryside Enjoyed Square Dance News

"I could talk with anybody on the streets and I had a ball", said Mrs. Matilda Slemmons of her recent trip to Germany and other European countries. She and Mrs. Mary Sweatmon were part of a tour group of 46 persons, a guide and bus driver for the three weeks tour. Most of the group were from Pennsylvania and thought the name of our town amusing. Mrs. Slemmons and Mrs. Sweatmon joined part of the group at Ahlens and the others at Kennedy Airport.

Mrs. Slemmons' mother came from what is now East Germany, but Mrs. Slemmons did not attempt to locate any of her relatives there. When she told any of the German people of her ancestry she found them friendly and warm.

They had good accommodations all through their trip and ideal weather. They took advantage of whatever developed locally as they came to places and savored the beauty of the countryside, the neat little houses, "each one with a windowbox of geraniums".

At Sehoenguen, Holland they spent a night at a summer resort, a lovely place where they enjoyed a night walk. They met a young woman from Albuquerque, N.M. who is married to an Italian.

Once because of a Wine Festival, a trip down the Rhine River had to be cancelled and Mrs. Slemmons had to interpret for the bus driver - "had a circus."

Both Mrs. Slemmons and Mrs. Sweatmon just could not believe the traffic they saw everywhere, the extremely narrow streets that the bus driver manipulated their bus through without ever scraping the walls. On the streets, pedestrian traffic is just as thick, "And it's not tourists".

The European cathedrals were so lovely, they thought, and Mrs. Slemmons marveled that the arches could be built so perfectly with only manual labor that they would stand hundreds of years, but while she enjoyed their beauty, she thought them not so wonderful as "the gorgeous, gorgeous" forests and countryside of the countries they visited, "what God had made." Both of the women enjoyed the farms, the green hillsides and the sleek, glistening cattle. The Alps were beyond description, they felt, and told of seeing the farmers preparing for winter - men and women putting up hay and bringing the cows down from the mountainside. At Vaduz, Liechtenstein they watched a parade of cows (dressed up with flowers and other decorations) through the streets as they were brought down from the mountains.

In Venice they walked a lot along the sides of the building areas, and on the Bridge of Sighs where they enjoyed the little shops. Evidence of the damage done during the great flood was everywhere. Their guides told them many of the paintings had been restored but valuable books were ruined beyond repair. Being an artist herself, Mrs. Slemmons felt their time to enjoy the paintings and frescoes was too limited.

The dungeons and prison cells by the Bridge of Sighs were depressing, they thought, and were used until 1922.

Sienna, Italy, a good sized town with lovely cathedrals, was built around a cobblestone square where twice a year horses are raced in the square by allowing the spectators to whip them from the sides. When they were there everything was quiet and peaceful, with little tables set on the town square.

They spoke of the strange sensation they had when in the Leaning Tower of Pisa. The Sistene Chapel and all of the wonderful art were of particular interest to them. They happened to be there at one of the few times the Pope has appeared before the public lately and saw him. In Italy it is estimated 90% of the people are Catholic.

In Florence they saw the world famous bas relief doors on the Baptistery, each of the 28 panels on the doors depicting a story from the Bible; Michelangelo's works and the millions of pigeons in St. Mark's Square. They went into all the art galleries they could get into, they said.

Mrs. Slemmons and Mrs. Sweatmon did not enjoy France as much as the other countries they visited, they both felt the French people dislike Americans. Their trip was cut short one day and they "were glad".

Westminster Abbey in London was a memorable experience for them both. They heard part of a service, the organ service and the little boy's choir. A practice they found good was that every hour, on the hour, the tourists in the building are hushed by a loud speaker and the Lord's Prayer is recited in unison.

John Wesley's Museum was of particular interest, they even saw the robe he wore. Other interesting things were the hippies in Trafalgar Square where they were just packed in, and Picadilly Circus.

One thing they particularly wanted to see at close range was the Changing of the Guards. Mrs. Slemmons found her short stature blocking her view and just loved the tall Swiss couple who pushed her in front of them and from there she found a place on a fence ledge to stand upon. From this viewpoint she saw the whole show to good advantage.

Switzerland, being a land of people who have never known war, "Seems to make the people different". Lake Lucerne was lovely.

In Geneva they visited Calvin's church and said some of the people expressed surprise that it has been rebuilt even to the stained glass windows.

Asked what they enjoyed most about the trip, the women agreed that the grasslands and fat cattle, the countryside of Switzerland and Holland were probably their most pleasant experiences. They enjoyed the hillsides out from Rome where it reminded them of pictures of the Holy Land. They saw one olive tree thought to be 1000 years old.

They both have memories enough stored up to last a long time.

BY NELDA HUNT

The big news this week was our SHINDIG IN THE BARN held Monday night, October 13, in the American Legion Hall. It was in honor of the 33 square dance graduates. The 'Barn' was appropriately decorated with bales of hay, wagon wheels, crepe paper streamers and cut-outs of square dance couples with graduate caps. The Square Thru's caller, Ed Gunnels of Clovis, did some especially good calling, with all the dancers keeping in time. Delicious sandwiches, cakes, punch and coffee were served to the following graduates: Brent Blackman, Kelly Chak, Kem and Galen Bock, Lauren Hall, Kim and Tracy Cowan, Rhonda Stevenson; Tami, Debbie and Jana Bruns; Ronnie and Brenda Scott; Lizann and Terry Gunter; Jimmy and Mike Wisian; Tani Murrath, Benetta and Jo Roming, Stephanie Brantley, Shella Hunt, Sherman Presley; Terry and Tim Wheeler, Robert and Karen Stovall; Belinda Nickels; Jennifer Estes, Jerry Scoggins, Jeanine Freeman and Joe Dan Briscoe, Mr. and Mrs. George Wheeler were in this graduating class but were unable to attend the graduation.

We were happy to have several visitors over for the Shindig from the Clovis Y-Squares Club, some of them students now taking square dance lessons in their club. Out of town guests included Mrs. O.L. Landers of Winterhaven, Calif. (mother of Mrs. Ike Wilcox), Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Perry of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Muriel Bussey of Hereford (sister of Mrs. Wisian), Mary K. Arthur of Irving (guests of Mr. and Mrs. Baker Johnson), and Hack Strevn of Summerfield.

Other guests from Muleshoe were Mrs. Howard Watson, Mrs. Derrell Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Scott, Beverly Ewins, Mrs. J.H. Ewins, Mrs. J.A. Nickels, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lamb, Walker Estes, Mrs. J.C. Arnn, Mrs. Sherman Sweatmon, Mrs. David Stovall Jr. and Mrs. Sherry, Mrs. R.C. Everett, Mrs. Ruby Garner, Mr. and Mrs. Don Chak, Mr. and Mrs. L.E. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Gunter, Cathy Mardis, Loid Rundell, Jean Freeman, Joyce and Carol Camp, Rev. J. Waid Griffin, Mrs. Harold Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Murrath, Georgia Pearson, Mrs. Don Bruns, Mrs. Betty Bruns, Mrs. Ruth Briscoe, Mr. and Mrs. Baker Johnson, Mrs. Vivian Stevenson, Mrs. Myrtle Puckett, club caller Ed Gunnels and daughter Lee Ann of Clovis, and Jimmy Littleton and Deann Brock of Earth.

Square Thru members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Monty Dollar, Mr. and Mrs. Don Seales, Liz Seales, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Shaw, Delia and Darren, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stoneham, Tommey and Trey, Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert Wisian, Mr. and Mrs. Curby Brantley, Curby Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Willie James, Tim and Bill; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Presley and Melinda; Mr. and Mrs. Ike Wilcox, Shella, Rick and Ginger, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Roming and Keve; Mr. and Mrs. John Bickel, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt, Curtis and Tori.

Door prizes were won by Miss Ronda Stevenson and Willie James. The Shindig was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone, and the stunt square dancing by the students using balloons and toe sacks added laughter. The students danced every dance, stopping only for refreshments, to receive their diplomas, and to wave goodnight.

This graduation Shindig will be remembered for a long time by the students, their parents, their grandparents, their aunts and uncles, their sisters and brothers, their friends, and by all the Square Thru members and their children. A lot will be said about the Shindig by the almost 200 persons in attendance, and we hope you feel as we do, that the future generation will know square dancing as we do - good, clean, wholesome, family entertainment.

dell, Jean Freeman, Joyce and Carol Camp, Rev. J. Waid Griffin, Mrs. Harold Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Murrath, Georgia Pearson, Mrs. Don Bruns, Mrs. Betty Bruns, Mrs. Ruth Briscoe, Mr. and Mrs. Baker Johnson, Mrs. Vivian Stevenson, Mrs. Myrtle Puckett, club caller Ed Gunnels and daughter Lee Ann of Clovis, and Jimmy Littleton and Deann Brock of Earth.

A tour of Eastern Europe and the Norwegian countries, with time to enjoy the paintings of the old masters was an enjoyable experience for one with an artist's eye and an appreciation of beauty in many forms. Mrs. Myrtle Vaughn Steinbock and her nephew, James D. Vaughn of Fredrick, Okla., have just returned from a three weeks tour of northern Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Denmark, Norway and Italy.

They landed first in Stuttgart, Germany and from there they flew to St. Gallen, Switzerland where they stayed two days and did a lot of sight-seeing and shopping. Lake Laguna, near the Italian border, was a beautiful sight, they thought. In Zurich they enjoyed a Japanese show of priceless art objects, including Japanese paintings, Buddhas and some landscapes made in 1513. They saw some of the original paintings of Jacob Van Ruisdale, Jan Stein, Hobbema, Claude Lorraine, Frans Hals, Rembrandt's "Apostle Simon", Peter Paul Reuben's painting of the Spanish King Phillip. There were many wood carvings painted in gold which had been taken from ancient churches and moved to museums.

Back in Germany they enjoyed seeing men wearing wooden soled shoes made with leather tops, and the homes and churches made with thatched roofs (almost a lost art now). The many, many rose gardens, at the homes and those where roses are grown for commercial use, the apple orchards and cabbage fields were beautiful, as were some trees similar to oak.

The real purpose of the trip for Vaughn was to visit his ancestral home at Westerland on the Isle of Sylt, one of the Frisian Islands along the coast of Denmark, but a part of northern Germany. They visited in Westerland with his relatives and hired a car to go to outlying villages, saw the country churchyard where his great grandmother was buried.

Vaughn spoke German and the native language of his maternal ancestors which added to their pleasure and enabled them to travel with more ease.

Land is scarce there and crowded so that every fifty years it is necessary to destroy cemeteries and build new ones on the same site. Mrs. Steinbock thought it interesting that in contrast to our need for irrigation here, the farmers build ditches for draining excess rainfall away. The houses built in combination with barns were also unique.

While in Germany they saw the home of the Krupp family (munition makers since World War II and imprisoned as war criminals) and drove near Hitler's hideout (Eagle's Nest). In this country Mrs. Steinbock was interested particularly in

German Ancestors Traced

The bells set in towers above the homes. They are used to call the cows from the mountains and hills. She did a lot of sketching of the different types of bells and their mountings. They enjoyed the good food at Innsbruck and all through the country. Outstanding among the sights in Florence, Italy were the art treasures of St. Mark's Square where they saw Michelangelo's "David" and one of the four statues of "Pieta" which he carved. Mrs. Steinbock said the pain depicted by his mouth made tears come to the eye. The perfection of anatomy of the statue "David" was marvelous, she thought, showing the vigor of youth. The Pieta they saw was made when Michelangelo was 78 years old and was more simplified than others, and she liked it better than others. They also saw the marvelous tapestries of Bernado Van Orley in the Orley Academy of Art.

Evidence of the damage done by the overflow of the Arno River was everywhere. The many, many vineyards and retaining walls in Italy were not unexpected but were more beautiful than they had thought possible.

Although they did not travel in East Germany, they saw the iron stakes of the Wall, electrified, which divide East Germany and West Germany. The beautiful flowers and the old, old castles in Austria were enjoyed by the travelers, also the many church steeples. Everywhere they went people were carrying flowers, petunias, asters and a trailing flower resembling geraniums. Waiters served meals everywhere they went, never waitresses.

Mrs. Steinbock and Vaughn spent two days in New York City en route home. They saw the Empire State building and went up to the 80th floor. Metropolitan Museum was very interesting to them - the paintings of Old Masters and the limestone sarcophagus (graves found in Cyprus and dating back to 540 B.D.) lifted and brought to the United States.

Mrs. Steinbock hopes to do a lot of painting from sketches made during her travels.

Following a luncheon, Mrs. Head and Mrs. Chaney concluded the meeting by reading from the booklet, "A Quiet Day".

Mrs. Beavers is one of the four national floral designers asked to participate as a guest artist.

She is owner of Beavers Flowerland in Muleshoe. The Beavers expect to return to Muleshoe next Monday.

YL WSCS met October 13 in YL United Methodist Church to observe A Call to Prayer and Self Denial. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. D.B. Head and roll call answered with a Bible verse.

Attending were Mrs. John Bickel, Mrs. Leon Lewis, Mrs. Bobby Newman, Miss Dottie Wiltterding, Mrs. Nora McCormick, Mrs. Bobby Chaney, Mrs. J.C. Gatewood, Mrs. Kenneth Powell and Mrs. Head.

Mrs. Lewos explained how the money collected in the special offering is spent. A discussion was held on a special project and a selection of project will be made at the November 3 meeting.

Save Afternoon Cotton Seed For Planting

COLLEGE STATION,--Texas cotton growers are advised by Fred C. Elliott, Texas A&M University Extension cotton specialist, to save planting seed from afternoon harvested cotton.

It has a lower moisture content and usually can be stored without loss until planting time next year.

Storing cotton seed with more than 12 percent moisture, Elliott explains, after results in heating and other quality deterioration. This means a lower germination when seed are planted next spring, resulting in poor stands.

Cotton gins best at a lint moisture content of about seven and one-half percent. Tests show the high-moisture content of seed cotton during the early morning is below 60 percent and should not pick or strip if the moisture content of the seed cotton is above 8 percent.

As a rule of thumb, it's a good plan to harvest cotton only between 8 a.m. and about 7 p.m., but to be safe, Elliott suggests saving planting seed only from cotton harvested in the afternoons.

Holding high-moisture cotton on trailers for long periods, under crowded conditions in rush seasons, lowers the grade, price and profits. Harvest cotton as dry as possible and keep it dry, advises the specialist.

Before storing cotton planting seed, inspect it closely for damage. Store only seed with high germination (80 percent is good) of reputable varieties, advises Elliott. Seed saved for bulk storage should be less than 12 percent moisture unless good drying and cooling facilities are available.

Finally, Elliott suggests a continuous check during the winter on stored seed.

"Why, what do you do when any of you are ill? You can never get a doctor."

"Nae, sir," replied Sandy. "We've just to die a natural death."

College Top Twenty Teams in Switch

The Harmon Top Twenty took on a bit of a new look this week, though you might have to look closely to find the changes. Ohio State, Texas, and Tennessee held their positions of first, second, and fourth respectively. Georgia dropped from 5th to 11th after being beaten by Mississippi... the Rebels moved into 15th. And Alabama and Florida fell out of the good graces of the elite, the Tide because they were sat upon by Vanderbilt and the Gators because they almost stubbed their collective toes over Tulane.

Obituaries

Purdue skidded from 10th to 16th, the result of tangling with too many Wolverines. Michigan, meanwhile, came from 20th to the #12 spot. Arkansas slipped from 3rd to 8th by slow shuffling against Baylor, and Louisiana State moved from 6th to 3rd. Nebraska and California took over vacancies in the 19th and 20th positions, while Notre Dame vaulted from 15th to 9th (Army knows why) and U.C.L.A. jumped from 18th to 14th.

The bank with a million dollar bank structure Muleshoe, Texas Member FDIC

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Higher automobile insurance rates were adopted by the State Board of Insurance, but they are not as high as had been originally predicted.

Statewide, the increase in rates on Nov. 1 will be 9.9 per cent. Insurance Board's staff earlier had recommended an 11.4 per cent increase.

This smaller increase was accomplished by accepting the recommendation of Gov. Preston Smith's study committee that the percentage allowed inurance companies for acquisition costs be cut from 25 to 22.5 per cent of the premium. Another recommendation of the study committee headed by former Gov. Price Daniel was that the Board should include investment income of insurance companies in setting the rates.

Board Chairman Ned Price said the Board would give careful consideration to inclusion of investment income from unearned premium and loss reserves as "profit and contingencies." He added that "we may have further comment on this at a later date."

However, Price also warned that it may not have as much affect on the price of insurance as had been thought. He said "The Board has consistently recognized and considered in its regulatory acts that the companies have other income than that from underwriting."

Price also said that the Board will begin, "as time and circumstances permit," a detailed study of automobile rate-making formulae. He said the study of the present formula used in setting rates would be made during the coming year. The formula, he said, "will be reviewed with the objective of determining if rates can be made more precisely by another formulae."

DEMOCRATS--State Democratic Executive Committee has nominated Mrs. Carrin Patman of Ganado to serve as the National Democratic Committee-woman from Texas. She is the wife of Sen. William N. Patman and replaces Mrs. Lloyd Bentzen of Houston, who resigned the position. Mrs. Patman is the daughter-in-law of U.S. Rep. Wright Patman and the daughter of the late State Sen. Fred Mauritz of Ganado. She still has to be approved by the National Committee.

At the meeting, State Chairman Elmer Baum told committee members that Democrats have to overcome their biggest handicap--taking success for granted. He is organizing a futures committee to act as an advisory group to chart new approaches "for a brighter future."

French Robertson of Abilene, executive committee finance chairman, told members that he is dropping the "card carrying" Democrat scheme to raise money. The party had been selling gold Democratic Party membership cards for $100 and other cards for $1, but Robertson said it wasn't raising enough money to continue the program.

BILLS--Governor Smith has sent Sen. Mike McKool's voter registration bill to the Secretary of State without his signature, thereby allowing it to become law. It requires that all citizens registering to vote in person must fill out a written application containing the same information as the registration certificate in order to get a certificate.

Governor vetoed a bill that would have allowed legislators to have office space in their home county courthouses. He said office rental could be provided from legislators' expense allowance.

He also vetoed bills providing for insurance protection (through private, non-profit corporations) on bank deposits above $15,000.

Smith said he is in accord with idea of giving full protection for bank deposits but feels that the matter should have careful study before implementing legislation becomes law.

APPOINTMENTS--Governor Smith selected as new judges of the district courts just created: Robert George Scofield of Grapevine, Hollis D. Garmon of Greenville, Noah Kennedy of Corpus Christi,

Jones, Mrs. Owen Jones, Mrs. H.E. Reeder and Fred Clements. Twenty-six persons received certificates for successfully completing the 16-hour course.

J.F. Clawson Jr. of Temple, Don Maxwell Dean of Amarillo, Thomas A. Thomas of Beaumont, David Walker of Lufkin, Marcus F. Vascocu of Longview, Lee Duggan Jr., Joseph Michael Guarino, Wallace Koker Moore, George Leamon Walker, Edward Donald Coulson and Wyatt H. Heard, all of Houston.

Smith named Ellis County Attorney W. Bruce Allen of Waxahachie, as judge of the existing 40th district court, succeeding Judge A.R. Stout, also of Waxahachie, who resigned.

District attorney appointments went to Dan McCall Brazill of Lufkin, Larry Lee Miller of Greenville, and Jack Gayle Neal of Sulphur Springs.

Millard K. Neptune of Austin is the new director of the Southwestern area office of Economic Development Administration.

Governor appointed 50 members of his new Committee on Human Relations, with Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. as chairman.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher named a five-member general investigating committee, headed by Rep. R.H. Cory of Victoria.

LT. Gov. Ben Barnes named lunar landing commission members from the Senate, and committees on urban affairs, penal servitude (parole) and historical and recreational sites.

Department of Public Safety chief pilot L.A. Brandtfe resigned to accept a position as executive vice president of Rio Airways in Corpus Christi.

COURT SPEAK--Supreme Court handed down a roomful of cases after its summer recess. It declined rehearings in three major cases decided last July, reaffirming that:

Sundaco Inc. of Tarrant and other counties will not get an advisory court opinion on whether its arrangement for evading Sunday closing law is legal.

Until the Sarita Kenedy East will contest is concluded, Alice National Bank will remain as executor of the $300 million estate.

Juvenile delinquency proceedings do not require proof of guilt beyond reasonable doubt.

Travis County district court assessed a $2,800 penalty against Orange real estate development concerns for polluting the Sabine River. Penalty was first recovered under the Water Quality Act. Firms are now constructing waste disposal plant to avoid future pollution.

Supreme Court refused to order Limestone County court to dismiss bank robbery charges against a man there.

FIRST CANDIDATE EMERGES--Hawthorne Phillips, former district judge at Brownsville and now executive assistant to Attorney General Crawford Martin, has announced his candidacy for the Texas Supreme Court.

He says he will run for the seat being vacated by Associate Justice Robert W. Hamilton of El Paso, who recently announced that he will not run again, after 11 years on the bench.

CRIME--Judge Joe Frazier Brown of San Antonio, executive director of the Governor's Criminal Justice Council, has urged industry to take a technological hand in fighting "the ever-rising threat of crime."

He said, "In spite of the fact that our society has developed systems that take us to the moon, our approach to the Crime Control Act was still too much the old hit-'em-in-the-head night-stick philosophy, or the ignore-the-problem - and - it - will - go-away philosophy. This has got to change."

TO AWAKEN SMALL TOWNS Governor Smith announced a "Texas Communities Tomorrow" program to revitalize the small towns in Texas.

Aim is to provide a central source through which small towns can get information on governmental aid available to them and to help find technical and financial know-how for improvement programs.

Most "hometowns" are "becoming crowded cities" or "are decaying into nothingness," complained the governor.

SHORT SNORTS--Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. says there were 13,001 profit corporations chartered in Texas for fiscal 1969, and increase of 3,000 over 1968.

John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, announced that Texas peanut growers have approved a commodity check-off referendum (with an 84.2 per cent majority).

Parks and Wildlife Commission encountered lots of static over decisions to discontinue the late-late experimental deer hunting season in Frio County.

Texas Adjutant General Ross Ayers has called attention to a previously-unpublished poll purporting to show the National Guard in the Southwest is not as high in public esteem as units in other states and asks for increased public service activities in guard unit home cities and close review of officer efficiency and promotions by selection and retention boards.

New $360 million tax bill went into effect October 1, when sales tax rate went up from 3 per cent to 3.25 per cent and levy was extended to alcoholic beverages.

Pheasant Season Holds Promise For Hunters

SAN ANGELO-- The 1969 pheasant season in the Panhandle will open on Dec. 13 for nine consecutive days, closing Dec. 21, says Jack Parsons, wildlife supervisor for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Dick DeArment, project leader, kept careful statistics of last year's hunt for the big birds and found that they weighed in excess of two pounds each, well worth the work and walking involved.

Statistics compiled for the first two days of the hunt were conservatively expanded for an annual estimate of data on hunter and hunted in the three million acres of six Panhandle counties.

On the first two days the feathers flew, and 6,159 hunters bagged 4,248 cock birds. It might appear that some of the flying feathers were on birds untouched by the sprays of shot. The extended estimate of statistics at the end of the season revealed that approximately 26,000 hunters dropped 18,000 of the bombshell birds in the bag, a hunter success of 0.69 birds per hunter. Biologists say the birds are in good condition, and are not presently suffering from any apparent food shortage. Bag limit on pheasant this year will be two cocks per day, four in possession after the first day's hunt. Head and feet must remain attached to the carcass.

Gallop finds drastic moves favored in war.

John Tower
 United States Senate COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

I believe we have been in need of revision of our military draft laws for some time and I am pleased to be able to report to you now that major reform in our selective service system is in sight.

I proposed draft reform legislation last year and introduced my proposal again at the first of this year. Last spring, the administration asked Congress to pass legislation quite similar to that which I had introduced.

While the press of other legislative business in Congress is likely to prevent passage of a draft reform bill this year, I welcome the administration's recent decision to proceed with plans to revise our selective service system through executive order.

The administrative branch of our federal government has always had the power to make changes in our selective service system but has until recently been hesitant to act.

Now President Nixon and Defense Secretary Laird say they are willing to institute reforms which will limit the length of time our young men will experience prime vulnerability to the draft to a single year.

In brief, the administration appears ready to institute essentially the same changes I put forward when I introduced my bills.

In addition, the administration also has expressed a desire to establish a lottery to provide a system of random selection among those young men of prime eligibility when the number of such young men exceed our nation's military manpower requirements.

I am not opposed to a lottery system but current legislation prohibits the administration from establishing such a system with Congressional action even though it is free to make the other desired changes.

Secretary Laird has said that if Congress fails to act to remove the restriction against a lottery system this year, the administration will institute another selection method allowable under existing law which the administration calls the Moving Age Group.

Under this system, each young man would experience prime vulnerability to the draft for a 12-month period beginning at age 19 or upon expiration of a student or other type deferment. During the first year of operation, men classified 1-A who are 20 through 25 years of age would also be included.

Draftees would then be selected. But also, each month the day of the month used for determining the exact 12-month period of prime vulnerability would be changed administratively. Thus a degree of change would be injected into the system without the actual use of a lottery.

As you can tell the Moving Age Group system is complex and would be difficult to administer. It would be much simpler to institute a fair method of genuine random selection from a pool in which each individual would remain for only one year.

Time required for Senate passage of the military procurement bill earlier this year, the Senate Armed Services committee, of which I am a member, is only just now getting ready to begin sessions on the military construction authorization bill. This means the committee will have no time this year for an exhaustive study of a draft reform plan.

The House, however, may act this year to approve legislation which would lift the existing restriction against establishment of a lottery system by executive order. If the House passes legislation confined only to the removal of that restriction, the Senate Armed Services Committee would be able to act on it quickly and seek Senate approval as well.

I am hopeful that this limited legislation will be passed by Congress this year.

It is of primary importance of course that our draft system be revised as soon as possible to at least limit the period of prime vulnerability to a single year and I welcome the administration's announcement that it will establish the revision early next year by executive order if necessary.

The current draft system forces our young men to remain susceptible to the draft for as long as seven years. This span of years prohibits our young men from planning their futures with certainty exactly facing the most momentous choices of their lives.

I believe that a young man should be able to plan for his education, to plan for the start of his career, and the beginning of married life-free of the fear of sudden and drastic alteration due to military induction. Now that is why I so strongly favor limiting the time of prime draft vulnerability from seven years to one.

 * VETERANS *
 * Q's and A's *

Q -- I am a veteran attending college. Does the law require that I submit a monthly certificate of attendance?

A -- No. But during the last full month of your quarter, semester, or term, you will receive a certificate of attendance which must be completed and returned to the Veterans Administration as soon as possible. Failure to complete and return this form will bar you from future educational assistance.

Q -- I have a G.I. Loan on my home. I want to borrow money on my equity in the home for my child's education. Is it necessary to obtain approval of the Veterans Administration for such a loan?

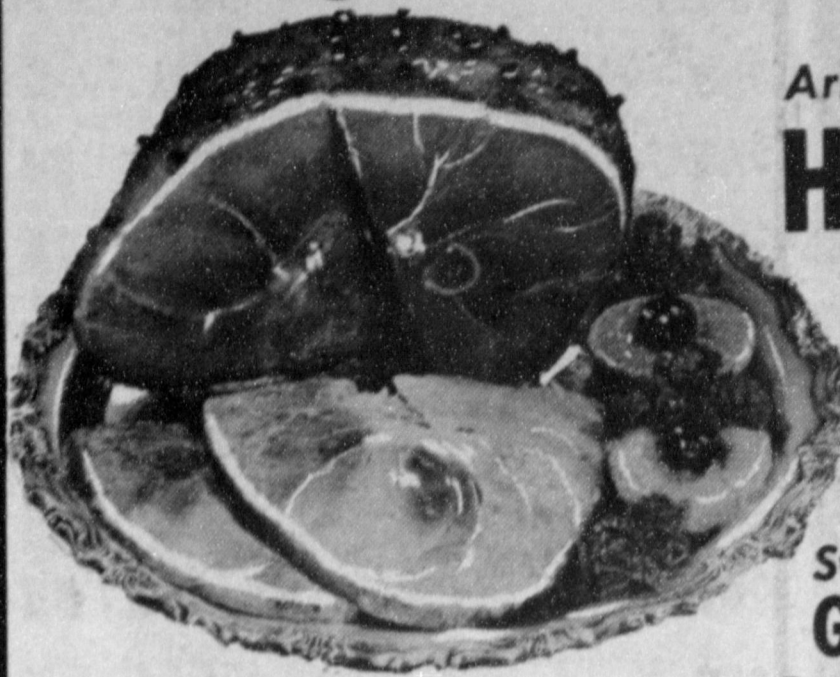

A -- No. However, a G.I. loan cannot be obtained for this purpose.

Q -- I am an eligible veteran taking a correspondence course. Do I have to submit a monthly certificate of attendance?

A -- No, but you do have to submit to the Veterans Administration a certificate of lessons completed and serviced each quarter or every three months. This card is partially completed by you. The remainder of the card is completed by the school which must certify to the completed lessons for that quarter. This card, when sent to VA, starts the checks coming.
