Senator Hitchcock Declines to Consider Caucus Measure as Unaltearble.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—The final assault on the detailed provisions of the Administration currency bill was begun in the Senate last week. Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska leading the attack. In a lull in the flood of currency oratory, which has occupied the Senate by day and night for almost two weeks. Senator Hitchcock began the presentation of his amendments to the bill, declaring in a dramatic speech, that he declined to consider as unalterable the measure completed by the Democratic concern.

caucus.
Senator Hitchcock quoted from President Wilson's book, "The New Freedom," to show that the President was on record against caucuses and committee legislation, and was in favor of the consideration of reform measures in "the full light of publicity"."

Gallinger Has Suggegation.

This brought a rejoinder from Senator Gallinger, the Republican leader, who suggested that the President had approved the caucus en the tariff bill and also approved the caucus on the currency bill.

cock. "I shall not believe until I hear the votes cast here that men who have assured me they would not be bound against their convictions by any contract will stultify themselves and come in here to vote against the things in which they believe."

The Hitchcock amendment to section 2 of the bill was the first presented today. It provides for the organization of four regional reserve banks instead of eight or twelve, and for the sale of the stock in the regional banks by public subscription underwritten by the banks.

Senator Burton of Ohio occupied the greater part of today's session wit han argument favoring a great central bank as against the regional bank plan.

Amendments Presented.

Two important amendments to the administration bill were presented late in the day by Senator Root, One proposed to eliminate entirely the provision that a portion of the earnings of the new system should be impounded in a fund to guarantee the deposits of member banks. The other would provide a new reserve section under which the reginoal reserve banks would be required to hold a reserve of 50 per cent against all demand liabilities, deposits as well as note issues.

The amendment would further require that after teh new currency with outsanding national bank notes should reach $900,000,000 no further issues should be made unless covered by 100 per cent gold reserve, or unless a tax of 11-2 per cent was paid on teh additional issue. When the issue reached $1,200,000,000 the tax would increase to 5 per cent.

Would increase to 5 per cent.

While no formal attempt was made to secure an agreement fixing a date for a final vote on the bill, the matter was the subject of considerable discussion among Senators. It took definite form in a proposal advanced by Republicans to vote next Wednesday or Thursday if night sessions could be discontinued. No action is contemplated, however, un-

ARMY NONE TOO LARGE

Could Not Be Any Smaller in Times of Peace, Garrison Tells Congressmen.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 15.—Sectary of War Garrison told the House Committee of Military Affairs today that the total strength of the that the total authorized strength of the army was 85,000, against a total population of 100,000,000 people under the American flag, and that he could not see how teh Government could get along with less than that number of soldiers in times of peace.

He was explaining the estimates of army appropriations for the coming fiscal year. Asked why there was a necessity for a large force on the Isthmus of Panama, the secretary said that if any foreign nation should land a force in the vicinity of the canal it could destroy wit hexplosives $375,000,000 of United States property and a valuable military asset. He pointed out that nowadays nations are not giving notice of beginning of operations against another nation, and cited the instance of Japan, which he said gave no notice to Russia, but sent a landing force without notification of its purpose.

Mr. Garrison said his large justified inasmuch as those this could not be manufactured overnight. He denied that men were enticed into the army and asserted there were thousands of patriotic men who owuld gladly come in the army for a short time for the sake of the disciplinary training, but not for the long enlistment term.

TAFT PLEADS FOR WILSON

People Must Uphold President in Dealing With Mexico, He Says.

New York, Dec. 15.—"We are internal trustees of the prosperity we have and the power we may enjoy, and we are in duty bound to use them when it is both civil and proper to help our neighbors," declared former President William H. Taft in a lecture before the New York Peace Society on the Monroe Doctrine, which he held should be continued in full force, despite the hostility to it expressed in some quarters.

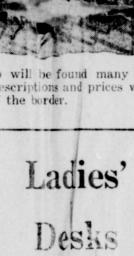

"When we come to Mexico," he continued, "where charchy seems now to reign, the question is a most delicate one. Intervention by force means the loss of lives and a most tedious guerrilla warfare. All those of us who are not in the Government can do is to support the hands of the President and the Secretary of State and to present to the powers and the world a solid front. Despite the discouraging conditions in Mexico, the present situation illustrates the beneficient influence of the Monroe Doctrine on the attitude of the European Powers, which, in spite of the injury to the property and persons of their nationals, look to the United States as a guide whom they are willing to follow in working out a solution."

as a guide whom they are willing to follow in working out a solution."

Mr. Taft alluded to Theodore Roosevelt's visit to South American countries, and said he was glad to see that Mr. Roosevelt had sought to impress them with the view of the Monroe Doctrine that the speaker expressed, alluding particularly to the call of the United States under that doctrine to mediate for peace when war between a European power and a Latin-American republic was threatened."

ened."
"Indeed." said Mr. Taft. "we would have helped them and us, too, far more if he had confined his teachings and lectures to explanations and limitations of the Monroe Doctrine and had not sought to destroy the independence of the judiciary and demoralize the sense of justice in two continents."

Mr. Taft hoped that "a consistent course on our part may, after some years, convince the South Americans that the United States desires none of their territory."
