S. S. CONVENTION HERE ON 25TH.

Committees Expect Large Attendance and Prepare to Handle Crowd

The La Salle County Sunday School Association is making great preparations for the state District Convention to be held in Cotulla Jan. 25-26-27.

The convention will be held at the Methodist Church and Sunday School workers of state prominence, in addition to delegates from all over Southwest Texas will be here. The first session of the convention will be held Sunday morning.

The publicity committee of the Association this week sent out several thousand folders giving detail information regarding the convention, railroad rates, accommodations, etc., and with the folders went return post cards, so that those who expect to come will furnish the committee with their names in advance in order that an estimate of the attendance can be arrived at and arrangements made accordingly.

Mr. H. C. Fullerton, President of the La Salle County Association said yesterday that the convention would be one of the most important and best attended that has been held in this district, and that the delegates and visitors would be made to enjoy their stay here.

UNION MEETING

There will be a Union meeting at the Methodist church Sunday night consisting of the various congregations of the city, the services to be in charge of representative laymen from each church. The pastors of the city feel sorely the great need of the utilization of the strong stalwart laymen in connection with all church work, and it is their desire to enlist the laymen in a meeting of this kind occasionally, at which time they will be permitted to express views of church work from the standpoint of the laity.

On account of this meeting there will be no services at any of the churches, all having given away to join in the great rally, and it is the attendance at this meeting that will decide as to the advisability of having future meetings of the kind.

Come one, come all and give to your fellow business men, community and church associates a rousing cheer of enthusiasm on their initial appearance, and approval of your pastors, idea of enlisting the men of the churches in their affairs of instruction.

Everybody is invited to attend the Laymen's meeting at the Methodist church Sunday night at 7.30 o'clock.

Co-operation of the Laity in the churches of our city is needed very much. XX.

NEW TELEPHONE MANAGER

F. W. Snare of Fredericksburg is the new manager of the Telephone Exchange at Cotulla. Mr. Shepherd, who has been here for several months will go to San Antonio as soon as the removal of the exchange is made to the Stockmens Bank building. Mr. Shepherd has given the best service of any manager the Company ever had here, and we hope his successor will come up to his standard.

Roy Claunch, Now Sailor Boy Writes From Mazatlan.

Mazatlan, Mex., Jan. 3, 1914.—COTULLA RECORD: Well, I have a whole afternoon before me; no prospects of work, so I'm going to spend a little while with you all. We left for Mazatlan last week, got in next morning and are still here. When we left Toluampco we didn't expect to return, but now I hear we do. Don't care much one way or the other, although Toluampco is a very much nicer place, one thing it don't take so long to go to the city; and another, there is a bumboat comes out every meal hour with fruit, eggs, etc. The fruit is pretty reasonable but when it comes to paying 10 to 15 cents for hen fruit, it is hitting us pretty strong. And a' that you stand a chance of picking a few over ripe. But we should worry, so long as we are not put on a roast beef diet.

"You ought to have been down here last night; some thrills, saw the greatest thing yet. You know President Wilson advised all-Americans to leave Mexico, well there were about 400 of them here at Mazatlan, waiting for some means of transportation back to the states. Very few passenger steamers touch this port, so the government chartered the steamer Peru and sent her down to take off all that she could, and last night she left. The band was playing concert at the pier and as we were going on deck, the steamer passed on the starboard side, coming in at an angle and crossing our bow not 20 yards away; she was jammed with refugees. The Captain of [our home] gave orders to the band to stand by and play every patriotic piece they had and to blow off their heads. They did not quite do that but they surely made noise. The band on the Peru! Lord! they were wild. Then our band played "Home Sweet Home." Just imagine what it must have meant to those people. It made them ramble around my ship, and you can bet I wasn't only one to wish I was on the steamer. The crew was very quiet. I guess they all thought a lot and cursed the bandmaster for playing such a piece that made the boys think of home. Even I, a shiftless wanderer, was touched. Oh, I admit it, came in my throat something that seemed to choke me for an instant. But the best part of all came last. The crew cheered some when five bugles sounded, "Attention!" of course like trained animals, that we are like quieted down and stood at attention instantly. "The people on the steamer heard it two, then we quit yelling our lungs out they looked to see what was the matter. For a second or two it was absolutely still, and it seemed the more intense, because of the bugler sounding "colors." I've only heard it equal on New Year's eve, in Cotulla. People can talk all they want to about Americans losing their patriotism but, take it from me, if they once heard that bunch they would change their minds. I don't know how the soldiers are along the border, but all I can say for the men here, is God help the Mexican if ever we get ashore armed. Some are not well educated and refined, but nobody after last night can't say they are not men. Blame it, I

SCHOOL CHILDREN BEAUTIFY GROUNDS.

Spent Yesterday In Planting Out Trees And Shrubby.

Following out pre-arranged plans Superintendent Wilson excused all pupils of the public schools from their studies yesterday and the day was spent in planting out trees and shrubbery on the school grounds. A shipment of different shrubs was received from the Ramsey Nursery Thursday and to this was added numerous oleanders and other hardy plants which were put out by the teachers and pupils. The boys were organized into squads, each squad having a leader, and they went to the river where some thirty or forty Weesatche trees were dug up. A wagon was secured for transportation and as soon as a load was dug, it was brought to the grounds where the planters set them out.

Care was taken in putting out the trees, the work being supervised by Mr. E. E. Scoggins of the board of trustees and the teachers. A number of ladies were on the ground during the day and assisted in the work. Baskets were brought and when the noon hour came a picnic spread was made.

The day was made one of pleasure as well as one of work and the result will be very noticeable in a year or two. An annual report will be made of the trees.

got so excited I fell over the anchor chain and sprained my elbow. The band played, "Here comes my Daddy now, Oh Pop." and then the movies were shown. After that I went down to the "sick boy" to get my arm painted with iodine, and then hammocks were sounded, and I will close.

SALAZAR CAUGHT AT SANDERSON.

Mexican General Wanted for Violation of Neutrality Laws.

Ynez Salazar, Mexican Federal general, who disappeared when the Federal arms evacuated Ojauana, was captured at Sanderson yesterday morning. He was taken from a Southern Pacific train by deputy sheriffs and placed in jail to await the arrival of Federal authorities.

Salazar was dressed in civilian clothes and when arrested was playing cards in the drawing room of a Pullman car with two other Mexicans.

He said he did not know the whereabouts of Orooco, who is also wanted by Uncle Sam.

THE TRAFFIC.

The Traffic, which opens at the Grand, Sunday, Jan. 18, for six nights, is a play of the most peculiar type. Today white slavery is the imminent and vital problem of the thinking world, and the awful truths about it are depicted, told, stated in so genuinely dramatic and amazing a manner in Rachael Marshall's four-act play, The Traffic, as to cause astonishment. The success doesn't necessarily mean the public's approval of the piece, but rather their enthusiasm, their attendance at every performance, their eagerness to see it, their unlimited interest aroused by the naked truth of its teachings—and they have been all of this, in Seattle, where "The Traffic" was produced for the first time; it was only a matter of two performances and the play became the "talk of the town" in San Francisco and Los Angeles, what it caused can fairly be termed a great sensation. Rachael Marshall, the playwright, is discovered. The millionaire's daughter is engaged to be married, and her intended husband, though she is ignorant of it, is also a victim of the same morbid mania that possesses her father. The day before the wedding the young man calls, and being shown a valuable collection of wedding gifts that has arrived, is immediately obsessed with the inclination to steal them, as is also his father-in-law to be, who has already been caught exercising his mania and compelled to put the stolen articles back. The younger man, to curb his desire, phones for a detective to come and watch him. In the meantime a real, hope-to-die sneak thief, is let into the house by a maid, and when discovered in the act of leaving will haul the valuables he can carry, is mistaken for the expected detective and introduced to the family as the bridegroom-to-be's best friend. Unexpectedly thrust into this queer situation, the real thief proceeds to loot the house at his leisure, and as one valuable after another disappears the father and son-in-law cease themselves of the thefts, though they have no recollections of having committed them. Carlyle Moore, the author of "Stop Thief," has shown consummate skill in devising situations that seem to be accomplishing the result, however, and his manner of doing it is productive of a number of thrilling climaxes, any number of dramatic surprises, and much hearty laughter.

MME. PAVLOVA

The Famous Russian Dancer Is Coming.

Do you read the virile verse of Massfield? Do you know the workings of the Mendelian law, and do you otherwise well posted on eugenics? Are you a "modern high brow"? Or are you a "classic high brow"?—reading Aeschylus and Sophocles, Epictetus and Horace? Well, modern or classic in your culture, you cannot help being delighted by the art of Anna Pavlova, the incomparable. The dancing of this Russian and her company is as old as Mount Parnassus, and as modern as the painting of Boris Anfield. But perhaps you aren't a high brow at all—but just a seeker after amusement—one who with due respect to the other fellow's riches, and the welfare of the community, wants to get all possible enjoyment out of each day. Funny thing Pavlova and her troupe will enrapture you, too. You may not try, nor want to get a meaning out of the ballet, the solo dances and the character dances, the wondrously and the richly the gorgeous scenery, and the rich costumes, and troubles you may have. The dancing of Anna Pavlova and the Imperial Russian Ballet is the most popular form of real art ever known to this country. That's because dancing is the most primitive form of artistic self expression. And as Pavlova as her Russian dance, it is

THE BLUE BIRD'S ADVENT.

Harbinger of Happiness Brought Here for the First Time.

The Grand announces the engagement for February 2, 3, 4, 5, of The Blue Bird, Maurice Maeterlinck's fairy fantasy of happiness, which has been the dramatic sensation of all the European capitals and of London and New York recently. In the English version used, none of the beauty of the Belgian poet's great work is said to be lost, while the production offered here is described as the most elaborate that has been made anywhere of his play. It is, in fact, the New Theatre production which was the big emphatic success of the New Theatre two years' experiment in New York City. Altogether there are more than 100 persons in the cast, and the production consists of eleven sumptuous scenes, the staging of which cost a fortune to the prodigal directors of the New Theatre, known popularly as the "Millionaires' Playhouse." The story of the beautiful spectacle-drama tells of a little boy and girl's quest for the Blue Bird, the finding of which means happiness. In this quest they visit the Fairy Beryllune's palace, the Land of Memory, the Kingdoms of the Past and the Future, the Palace of Night and the Vale of Happiness. "The Blue Bird" is described as both a children's and a grown-up's play. There is the highest poetry in it, and the most elemental humor; the most the highest artistic form of self expression. Everybody likes dancing, witness the present craze. Everybody likes inspiring music, beautiful girls, brilliant costumes and gorgeous scenery. That's why Manager Wells is going to have a record breaking house when Pavlova, her company of Imperial dancers, and his orchestra come to the Grand on Feb. 23 and 24.

SIX MONTHS BRIDE, KILLED

Her Husband, W. H. Kiser of Houston Seriously Injured When Train Hits Their Automobile.

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 12.—Mrs. Della Kiser was killed outright and her husband, County Commissioner W. H. Kiser, was seriously injured when an inbound passenger train on the Houston East and West Texas railway struck their automobile in a crossing near Mount Houston, six miles north of Houston, about six o'clock last Thursday evening. Mr. Kiser and the body of his wife were picked up by the train crew and brought to Houston, the body being turned over to C. J. Wright & Co., while Mr. Kiser was conveyed to the Houston Infirmary, from which place he was later removed to the St. Joseph Infirmary. Mr. and Mrs. Kiser were married June 26, 1913, at Mexia, where Mrs. Kiser's parents reside.

HOOK WORM BEING CURED IN TEXAS

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 12.—Splendid showing of work done by the Hookworm Commission is made in a report filed today with State Health Officer Ralph Steiner by Assistant State Health Officer M. H. Boerner, who is the director of the commission. The report follows:

Dr. Ralph Steiner, President State Board of Health; I beg to submit a report on the results of the investigations made in the rural districts, towns and villages of Texas, during 1913, by the Hookworm Commission of the Texas State Board of Health. Personnel of the commission: Dr. Hubert Ferrell and Dr. O. H. Judkins have been continuously in the service during the entire year. Dr. C. H. Brownlee assumed his duties on March 1, 1913, and has served continuously since that time. The above three physicians constitute the corps of field directors of sanitation. The microscopists and clerical assistants to the field directors are as follows: D. A. Huddleston, appointed July 13, 1913, to succeed W. E. Huddleston, resigned; Eugene Moore, appointed September 1, 1913, succeeding Merit Reagan, resigned; J. C. Adams, appointed September 22, 1913, succeeding E. K. Cochran, resigned. Miss Grace F. Brown remains in the service as secretary to the commission.

Since January 1, 1913, systematic investigations have been made to determine the prevalence of hookworm disease in the following twenty counties: Harris, Liberty, Polk, San Jacinto, Walker, Houston, San Augustine, Grimes, Panola, Waller, Orange, Smith, Brazoria, Robertson, Shelby, Brazos, Austin, Henderson, Navarro. In each county the field directors have made two accurate surveys: (1) An infection survey, based upon the microscopic examination of at least 200 children of the ages 6 to 18 years inclusive; (2) A sanitary survey, based upon the inspection of at least 200 rural homes and rural schools. In making the infection surveys of the above twenty counties children were chosen at random and from all parts of the county, regardless of their present physical condition and past servitude; in many instances an entire rural school was examined. During the year 10,785 children were microscopically examined and 46.3 per cent or 5,001 were found infected with hookworms. The lowest infection found in any one county was 4.9 per cent; the highest infection was 85 per cent.

Schools and Homes Graded. In making the sanitary surveys, the sanitary conditions around 8,295 rural homes and schools were inspected and graded. In no county could a grade higher than 53.9 per cent be given; while the lowest grade was 9.75 per cent. The average sanitary grade for the twenty

The County Health Officers of the following twenty counties have each appropriated $300 to defray the local expenses of the investigations and treating of those found infected with hookworms: Orange, Brazos, Robertson, Shelby, Brazos, Smith, Henderson, Austin, Navarro, Colorado, Sabine, Fort Bend, Wharton, Freestone, Kaufman, Cass, Galveston, Cherokee, Washington and Burleson, making a total of $6000 appropriated by the County Courts to supplement the State's funds for this work. This financial co-operation is more valuable to the work than the actual number of dollars making up such a large total, because it means that the layman is now converted to the belief that hookworm disease is not a joke and that the parasite is not a myth. The old proverb, "actions speak louder than words" is true, but often it is equally true that dollar will shout when a promise only whispers. The county officials are helping to educate the rural people in sanitation for the officials are themselves learning that good sanitation is necessary for good health.

At the free county dispensaries during the year 36,178 persons of all ages, all colors, both sexes, and all occupations have been microscopically examined and of that number 28 per cent or 10,267 were found infected with hookworms. These 10,267 infected persons have received 11,209 treatments for hookworm disease, for the small total expenditure of $4,989.40 of county money, or 44 cents per treatment.

People Are Instructed. The above represents the part of the work that can be measured, but it does not as plainly show the phase of greatest importance and with the most far-reaching effect. In addition to the microscopic examinations made and the free treatments dispensed the field directors of sanitation have delivered 483 public lectures on hookworm disease and sanitation.

By this means more than fifty thousand people have received some instruction in sanitation and preventive medicine. At the free county dispensaries 10,267 have been treated free for hookworm disease, and each one of these persons is a walking, talking, living advocate of a movement toward sanitary ideas, the establishment of which is the final aim of the Hookworm Commission. Besides free examinations, free treatments and illustrated lectures, the printed page is used to give instruction on sanitation and hookworm disease. At the county dispensaries 98,587 bulletins and pamphlets have been distributed. At 132 schools, villages, towns and cities free dispensaries of from one to six days duration have been conducted.

General summary: Since the hookworm investigations were begun on August 6, 1912, the field directors have thoroughly surveyed twenty-three counties of the State. The combined rural population of these

EVIDENCE OF MOVING PICTURE TRUST FOUND

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 12.—The State of Texas is to be aided in the prosecution of its suit against the so-called moving picture trust by the Federal government, by supplying the Texas attorney general with a complete transcript of the testimony taken by the representatives of the Federal government by the prosecution instituted against this so-called trust by the general government. This statement was made by Assistant Attorney General Sweetwood, who declared this will enable the State to try the case at an early date. The suit is pending in the District Court at Beaumont.

SUBMARINE BOATS WILL VISIT GALVESTON

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 12.—The submarine flotilla, now in dry dock at the Navy yard, will sail Monday conveyed by the monitor Tonopah on a cruise of the South Atlantic seaboard and Gulf ports, its itinerary including twenty-three ports to call. The flotilla consists of the E-1 and E-2, the D-2 and D-3. Among the ports to be visited are Charleston and Georgetown, S. C.; Brunswick, Ga.; Key West, Galveston, New Orleans, Mobile, Pensacola, Tampa and Savannah. The flotilla will return to Norfolk next spring and is due to be in New York April 29 at the time of the assembling of the combined fleet.

Counties is approximately 21,000 square miles. Of this one-half million people inhabiting 21,000 square miles, 40,200 persons of all ages, both sexes, all colors and occupations have been examined and 13,642 or 31.4 per cent were found infected with hookworms. To these 13,642 infected persons 17,014 free treatments for hookworm disease have been dispensed. In other words over an area of 21,000 square miles of Texas soil better sanitation has been taught, besides examining one-twelfth of the total rural population. In these twenty-three counties there are approximately 140,000 school children between the ages of 6 and 18 years inclusive. Of this total school population microscopic examination of one-ninth or 15,701 have been made and 49.7 per cent were found infected with hookworms. This means that 8463 children carried teaching for better sanitation for their homes to their parents. Respectfully submitted, M. H. BOERNER, Assistant State Health Officer.

ANATURAL INFERENCE.

A school teacher was reading a story to a class of very small folks, and paused at the words "lay brother," to explain their meaning. "Does anyone know what 'lay brother' means?" she asked. For a moment a row of perplexed little faces looked up at her. Then one face brightened suddenly, and a shrill voice piped: "Yes, ma'am—it's a rooster!"—Youth's Companion.

"STOP THIEF."

"Stop Thief" is the unusual title of a new funny farce that Cohan & Harris will present at the Grand Opera Saturday matinee and night and Sunday night, Jan. 24, 25.

The story of "Stop Thief" has to do with William Carr, a millionaire several times over, who is a kleptomaniac. His immediate family know of this morbid inclination to steal and are constantly worried for fear the closely-guarded secret will be naive simplicity and the utmost magnificence; the deep symbolism of the philosopher and the realistic wonderworking of the stage craftsman. On account of the great demand for seats and with a wish to accommodate everybody, the management has consented to receive mail orders now.

MME. PARLOWA

The Famous Russian Dancer Is Coming.

Do you read the virtue verse of Masfield? Do you know the workings of the Mendelian law, and do you otherwise well posted on eugenics? Or are you a "modern high brow?" Or are you a "classic high brow?"—reading Aeschylus and Sophocles, Epicurus and Horace? Well, modern or classic in your culture, you cannot help being delighted by the art of Anna Pavlova, the incomparable. The dancing of this Russian and her company is as old as Mount Parnassus, and as modern as the painting of Boris Anisfeld.

But perhaps you aren't a highbrow at all—but just a seeker after amusement—one who with due respect to the other fellow's rights, and the welfare of the community, wants to get all possible enjoyment out of each day. Funny thing Pavlova and her troupe will enrapture you, too. You may not try, nor want to get a meaning out of the ballet, the solo dances and the character dances. You don't have to. The wondrous dancing, the lively music, the gorgeous scenery, and the rich costumes will make you forget all cares and troubles you may have. The dancing of Anna Pavlova and the Imperial Russian Ballet is the most popular form of real art ever known to this country. That's because dancing is the most primitive form of artistic self expression. And as Pavlova as her Russian dance, it is

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 12.—Splendid showing of work done by the Hookworm Commission is made in a report filed today with State Health Officer Ralph Steiner by Assistant State Health Officer M. H. Boerner, who is the director of the commission. The report follows: Dr. Ralph Steiner, President State Board of Health, I beg to submit a report on the results of the investigations made in the rural districts, towns and villages of Texas, during 1913, by the Hookworm Commission of the Texas State Board of Health. Personnel of the commission: Dr. Hubert Ferrell and Dr. O. H. Judkins have been continuously in the service during the entire year. Dr. C. H. Brownlee assumed his duties on March 1, 1913, and has served continuously since that time. The above three physicians constitute the corps of field directors of sanitation. The microscopists and clerical assistants to the field directors are as follows: D. A. Huddleston, appointed July 13, 1913, to succeed W. E. Huddleston, resigned; Eugene Moore, appointed September 1, 1913, succeeding Meritt Rozano, resigned; J. C. Adams, appointed September 22, 1913, succeeding E. K. Cochran, resigned. Miss Grace F. Brown remains in the service as secretary to the commission.

Since January 1, 1913, systematic investigations have been made to determine the prevalence of hookworm disease in the following twenty counties: Harris, Liberty, Park, San Jacinto, Walker, Houston, San Augustine, Grimes, Panola, Waller, Orange, Smith, Brazoria, Robertson, Shelby, Brazos, Austin, Henderson, Navarro. In each county the field directors have made two accurate surveys: (1) An infection survey, based upon the microscopic examination of at least 200 children of the ages 6 to 18 years inclusive; (2) a sanitary survey, based upon the inspection of at least 200 rural homes and rural schools. In making the infection surveys of the above twenty counties children were chosen at random and from all parts of the county, regardless of their present physical condition and past servitude; in many instances an entire rural school was examined. During the year 10,785 children were microscopically examined and 46.3 per cent or 5,091 were found infected with hookworms. The lowest infection found in any one county was 4.9 per cent; the highest infection was 86 per cent.

Schools and Homes Graded. In making the sanitary surveys, the sanitary conditions around 8,452 rural homes and schools were inspected and graded. In no county could a grade higher than 53.9 per cent be given; while the lowest grade was 0.75 per cent. The average sanitary grade for the twenty counties was 23.6 per cent.

The County Commissioners of the following twenty counties have each appropriated $300 to defray the local expenses of the investigations and treating of those found infected with hookworms: Orange, Brazoria, Robertson, Shelby, Brazos, Smith, Henderson, Austin, Navarro, Colorado, Sabine, Fort Bend, Wharton, Freestone, Kaufman, Cass, Galveston, Cherokee, Washington and Burleson, making a total of $6,000 appropriated by the County Courts to supplement the State's funds for this work. This financial co-operation is more valuable to the work than the actual number of dollars making up such a large total, because it means that the layman is now converted to the belief that hookworm disease is not a joke and that the parasite is not a myth. The old proverb, "actions speak louder than words" is true, but often it is equally true that dollar will shout when a promise only whispers. The county officials are helping to educate the rural people in sanitation for the officials are themselves learning that good sanitation is necessary for good health.

At the free county dispensaries during the year 36,178 persons of all ages, all colors, both sexes, and all occupations have been microscopically examined and of that number 28 per cent or 10,267 were found infected with hookworms. These 10,267 infected persons have received 112,097 treatments for hookworm disease, for the small total expenditure of $4,989.40 of county money, or 44 cents per treatment.

People Are Instructed. The above represents the part of the work that can be measured, but it does not as plainly show the phase of greatest importance and with the most far-reaching effect. In addition to the microscopic examinations made and the free treatments dispensed the field directors of sanitation have delivered 483 public lectures on hookworm disease and sanitation. By this means more than fifty thousand people have received some instruction in sanitation and preventive medicine. At the free county dispensaries 10,267 have been treated free for hookworm disease, and each one of these persons is a walking, talking, living advocate of a movement toward sanitary ideas, the establishment of which is the final aim of the Hookworm Commission. Besides free examinations, free treatments and illustrated lectures, the printed page is used to give instruction on sanitation and hookworm disease. At the county dispensaries 98,587 bulletins and pamphlets have been distributed. At 132 schools, villages, towns and cities free dispensaries of from one to six days duration have been conducted.

General summary: Since the hookworm investigations were begun on August 6, 1912, the field directors have thoroughly surveyed twenty-three counties of the State. The combined rural population of these

EVIDENCE OF MOVING PICTURE TRUST FOUND

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 12.—The State of Texas is to be aided in the prosecution of its suit against the so-called moving picture trust by the Federal government, by supplying the Texas attorney general with a complete transcript of the testimony taken by the representatives of the Federal government by the prosecution instituted against this so-called trust by the general government. This statement was made by Assistant Attorney General Sweeton, who declared this will enable the State to try the case at an early date. The suit is pending in the District Court at Beaumont.

SUBMARINE BOATS WILL VISIT GALVESTON

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 12.—The submarine flotilla, now in dry dock at the Navy yard, will sail Monday conveyed by the monitor Tonopah on a cruise of the South Atlantic seaboard and Gulf ports, its itinerary including twenty-three ports to call. The flotilla consists of the E-1 and E-2, the D-2 and D-3. Among the ports to be visited are Charleston and Georgetown, S. C.; Brunswick, Ga.; Key West, Galveston, New Orleans, Mobile, Pensacola, Tampa and Savannah. The flotilla will return to Norfolk next spring and is due to be in New York April 29 at the time of the assembling of the combined fleet.

County is approximately 21,000 square miles. Of this one-half million people inhabiting 21,000 square miles, 40,200 persons of all ages, both sexes, all colors and occupations have been examined and 13,642 or 34.4 per cent were found infected with hookworms. To these 13,642 infected persons 17,914 free treatments for hookworm disease have been dispensed. In other words over an area of 21,000 square miles of Texas soil better sanitation has been taught, besides examining one-twelfth of the total rural population. In these twenty-three counties there are approximately 140,000 school children between the ages of 6 and 18 years inclusive. Of this total school population microscopic examination of one-ninth or 15,701 have been made and 49.7 per cent were found infected with hookworms. This means that 8463 children carried teaching for better sanitation for their homes to their parents. Respectfully submitted, M. H. BOERNER, Assistant State Health Officer.

ANATURAL INFERENCE.

A school teacher was reading a story to a class of very small folks, and paused at the words "lay brother" to explain their meaning. "Does anyone know what 'lay brother' means?" she asked. For a moment a row of perplexed little faces looked up at her. Then one face brightened suddenly, and a shrill voice piped, "Yes, ma'am—it's a rooster!"—Youth's Companion.

The Methodist Ladies Missionary Society, met last Wednesday afternoon, the 7th inst. at the home of Mrs. Lacy. There were present at this meeting 9 members and three visitors. Mrs. Wickman, the President, presided, conducting the devotions and business. Mrs. Thacker assisted in the devotions with an earnest prayer. After the prayer Mrs. Wickman made a splendid address on the New Years work. This address was appreciated by all who heard it.

After the Roll Call which was responded to by New Year resolutions from the members, Mrs. Wickman read a communication from Mrs. Drawn of Austin, urging the society to take early action as to their pledge for the New Year. It was decided to pledge $50.00, the Foreign Mission Society to give $25.00 and the Home Society to give $25.00. It was also decided to set apart Friday the 9th as a day of prayer and to meet at the Methodist church and invite other societies to take part on the program. The next regular meeting will be with Mrs. Coleman and the Bible lesson will be the last 8 chapters of 1st Samuel.

The Baptist Ladies Aid Society had an interesting meeting Tuesday afternoon with the Misses Shaw as hostesses, in the home of Mrs. Edd Cohenour.

Mrs. Davis, the President opened the meeting by reading the 146 Psalm followed by prayer, after which the song, "Sweet Bye and Bye" was sung in chorus.

There were present 13 members and 1 visitor. The visitor was Mrs. Samples of San Antonio. Each person present responded to Roll Call by quoting a verse of Scripture.

A collection was taken on this occasion for the local Mexican work. The lesson for next week will be from the 5th to the 10th chapter of Job, and the society will meet in the church.

After the business and lesson, the Misses Shaw served refreshments of frozen cranberry frappe, chicken salad and sandwiches, coffee.

The Presbyterian Ladies decided at the last meeting of the society to do some renovating on the inside of the church.

The choir stand will be removed to the rear of the church, the furniture and seats brightened up, and carpet strips laid in both aisles. The pulpit stand will also be recarpeted.

The Presbyterian Ladies had an enjoyable and successful meeting at the church Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Fullerton opened the meeting by giving a splendid instrumental number on the organ, followed by a sweet sacred solo by Miss Jessie Copp. The Scripture reading and prayer was conducted by the President, Miss Burwell. The Society was glad to greet Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Holman as guests and to add their names to the "Roster" as members.

The President conducted the business session and afterwards gave a short recess. During the recess hot coffee, chocolate, whipped cream and cake was served, while the members enjoyed a few exchanges in conversation.

After the recess, the Bible lesson was well taught by Miss Annie Zachry. Mrs. Windrow teaches the next lesson in the home of Mrs. Wickman.

Bible Class No. 2 of the Presbyterian church had a full meeting of the members with their teacher, Miss Kate Burwell in her home last Tuesday night.

This class is made up of young men and young ladies of the younger set, who have gone into the Sunday School with enthusiastic zeal and who expect to make their class a Banner class in every particular.

This new class will meet regularly at the home of Miss Burwell on the 1st and 3rd Tuesday evenings of each month.

The teacher hopes that her zealous pupils will not be distracted by any outside event, but always remember the date, place and time for these meetings. She would remind them that, "It is the Soul's unwearied steady trend, That builds the deed of Nations and of men."

Why be constipated when you can buy LIV-VER-LAX from N. C. Windrow. adv.

'LIV-VER-LAX' FOR SICK HEADACHE.

It is Your Inactive Liver and Clogged Bowels, Liv-ver-Lax is the Panacea For all Liver Troubles and Constipation.

You are bilious, your thirty feet of bowels become clogged up, poisonous gasses are generated in the bowels and thrown out in the system, your head aches, you have chills and fever, you are nervous and ill tempered, your system is full of bile not properly passed off, your disordered stomach and biliousness cannot be regulated until you remove the cause.

It is not your stomach's fault Your stomach is as good as any. Try Liv-ver-Lax, it is purely vegetable, do not resort to harsh physics and calomel which ruins the system and softens the bone.

Liv-ver-Lax acts gently, yet positively on the liver, stomach and bowels, it is pleasant to take, and does not gripe or sicken.

It is recommended for grown ups and babies alike.

AT THE MAJESTIC
 San Antonio
 Week of Jan. 18th to 24th

Manager Raymond makes the following announcement regarding the bill to be given at the Majestic Theater this week, beginning tomorrow afternoon and continuing through the week, with performances each afternoon and night:
 "The headline of this week at the Majestic will be of unusual character, entitled 'Gus Edwards' Kid Kabaret.' This act is written and produced by Gus Edwards, the most prolific song writer of the present day. This is as its name indicates a cabaret, and has no set plot. It is just thirty minutes of singing, dancing and quick-fire comedy, and is built to amuse and entertain one, and this it most certain does. There are eighteen juveniles in the act, each one (judging from their present performance) destined one day to become a star. Each has a specialty during the act and this specialty is performed by each youngster in a manner befitting artists of much ripier years. Probably the chief charm of this act is the utter lack of 'staginess' of the younger people. They go through their work with a nonchalance and abandon as if they thoroughly enjoyed it. It is interesting to note that several of them have their mothers keep a watchful eye on those who have no one traveling with them."
 "Dora Early and Carl Bial will appear in refined and a somewhat eccentric singing act. Miss Early has an individuality of her own, tuneful voice and a manner of singing her songs which is quite her own and distinct from any one else. Carl Bial has a pleasing personality and was recently a member of Geo. Evans' Honey Boy minstrels."
 "Pietro, the great accordionist, an acknowledged master of this instrument, is performed by each youngster in a manner befitting artists of much ripier years. Probably the chief charm of this act is the utter lack of 'staginess' of the younger people. They go through their work with a nonchalance and abandon as if they thoroughly enjoyed it. It is interesting to note that several of them have their mothers keep a watchful eye on those who have no one traveling with them."

"A CHANCE AT 60 PRIZES"
50 Rolls of Films Given Away FREE TO OUT-OF-TOWN CUSTOMERS ONLY

Anyone making the greatest number of English words which can be found in Webster's Dictionary from this sentence:
"The Eagle Picture Co. Make The Clearest Kodak Pictures By Careful Hand Work." will receive a prize as offered below:

All you have to do is take the above sentence and see just how many words you can make out of it. No one letter is to be used in making up a word oftener than it appears in the sentence. The first thirty most successful persons will get a Twelve exposure roll of guaranteed fresh film to fit their camera, postage prepaid. The next best twenty answers will get a six-exposure roll. For the following ten best answers we will develop and print their next roll of film free of charge.

Now try and win one of these prizes. You will find it worth your time spent these long evenings. Be sure and enclose your name and address, and mail to Eagle Picture Co., Box 888, San Antonio, Texas. All replies must be in by February 1st, 1914, and your work will be carefully judged and winners notified.

NOTICE—To have your work entered in this contest you must send your answer in with a roll of film to be developed and printed, or with an order for a dozen pictures from your own negatives. All words must be in alphabetical order and neatly written.

We are going to give away Cameras and Films each month after this contest closes, should it interest our mail order customers, so write to us for information of other contests.

Our Prices are very Reasonable, considering we do all our work by hand, and do not use Tank Developers and Machine Printers to get out a large quantity of Cheap Work.

We pay postage on all films ordered from us.

TALKATIVE OFFICERS WILL LIKELY BE MUZZLED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Officers of the United States army in future will not be permitted to discuss publicly "army matters of a debatable nature." New regulations to cover this point will follow an exchange of memoranda today between Secretary Garrison and Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, in regard to a published article telling of "free press matter furnished to newspapers by Arthur W. Dunn, a writer in the employ of the Infantry Association."

Some of the matter referred to is said to have dealt directly with the Mexican situation, though much of it was made up of interviews with officers about the movement for a larger army and certain reforms in the organization—the objects of the Infantry Association. In his memorandum to General Wood, Secretary Garrison said:

"Please look into the case sufficiently to ascertain whether officers of the army are furnishing matter to the newspapers concerning questions of policy under discussion between the department and Congress or any other matters not strictly within the line of duty of such officers."

"I feel that the best interest of the country and of the army would be served if officers would not indulge in public debate or discussion or in any sort of a public propaganda with respect to army matters of a debatable nature."

"I would like to suggest the formulation of some regulation that will advise officers of the proper attitude I think they should assume toward this matter."

General Wood replied:

"I have made inquiry of Major Johnson, editor of the Infantry Journal, with reference to the work of the Infantry Association and find that it has and is employing Mr. Dunn as an agent in the publication of data relating to the army with a view to spreading abroad what it believes to be valuable information—information which should be in the hands of the people. I am informed by Major Johnson that they have limited the material to that embodying the approved policy of the War department. Major Johnson has indicated in his report that he will take the necessary steps to bring about this end."

"I will take immediate steps to present to you for your consideration regulations which will advise officers of the army of what the department considers to be their proper attitude with reference to discussion of matters pertaining to the service or publication of articles concerning the same."

BANKS ARE WILLING TO JOIN SYSTEM

Treasury Department Has Received 1280 Notifications.
 WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—At the end of the second week since the approval of the Federal reserve act, the Treasury department had received from National banks in forty-five states, 1280 notifications of intention to enter the new currency system. Assistant Secretary Williams announced that the New England States had presented 106 notifications, the Eastern States 314, the Southern States 280, the Middle Western States 419, the Western States 109 and the Pacific States 62.

More than 600 National banks have notified the department of the passage by their boards of directors of formal resolutions approving the new law, and Mr. Williams said a large number of State banks and trust companies throughout the country have forwarded notifications of their acceptance of the provisions of the new act.

A report from the acting Comptroller of the currency shows that since December 23 State banks in seventeen States have notified the department of their intention to nationalize. The only States from which the department has not received notifications from banks of their approval of the new system are Arizona, Florida and Nevada.

"MONA LIZA" IN PARIS

Return of Picture After an Absence of Two Years and Four Months Was Ceremonious Occasion.
 PARIS, Jan. 12.—The return of Da Vinci's "Mona Liza" to Paris after an absence of two years and four months, was made into a ceremonious occasion by the French government. The picture was under the care of Henry Marcel, conservator of the French National museum, who arrived here with a staff of assistants. "Mona Liza" was enclosed in a thin oak case bound with straps and with a light handle.

When the train drew into the station Eugene Guillet, director of the French National Museum took the box containing the painting from the hands of Marcel and carried it to a waiting automobile amid the flashlights of a group of photographers.

The portrait was then taken to the National School of Fine Arts, where Leon Bonnat, head of the school, and several of his colleagues, officially verified its genuineness. It was afterward carried to the hall of honor of the Louvre museum, where it had been hung with priceless gobelin tapestries belonging to the government.

Newspaper men and high officials were then permitted to obtain a private view of the picture, which is to be placed on public view for several days. An admission fee is to be charged and the money thus obtained is to be distributed among the Italian poor of Paris in recognition of Italy's part of the recovery of the masterpiece.

FARMERS COMING STRONG

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 12.—Forty-one cars of Northern farmers and bankers passed through San Antonio yesterday and last night in search of investments in Southwest Texas. An other car of bankers from Muskogee, Okla., arrived in San Antonio this morning on the Katy Flyer. This is not only the largest number of homeseekers that has come here this season, but it is likewise the greatest influx of prospective investors that has come to Texas in one load within the last two years. It was reported that a party of twenty special trains coming by way of San Antonio to the Lower Rio Grande country, a train of 250 persons came to visit the Lone Star State over the Frisco, being routed by way of Houston.

The first train arrived in San Antonio last night shortly after midnight. It was made up of fifteen train sleepers. Trains of nine and fourteen sleepers each followed the first at forty-minute intervals. After a stop of about three hours the trains were transferred to the tracks of the National Antonio & Arkansas Railway and dispatched to the coast country. In addition to the special excursion, special cars were attached to three of the Katy's regular trains. The bankers' special car from Muskogee will arrive this morning on the Flyer.

Two special cars from St. Louis were brought down by the International & Great Northern. These cars were hauled to Falfurrias, their destination, last night by the Sag. Jay M. Jackson, president of the Jackson-Vreeland Land Company, who arrived yesterday and said that he probably would make arrangements for running homeseekers' excursion to this territory to settle the Medina lands. Mr. Jackson had a conference with T. B. Palfrey yesterday. He said he would make a report to the National association for its approval of the project.

That the trains were late yesterday was due partly to the condition of the tracks as a result of floods and partly to the fact that all of them were from an hour and a half to two hours late in getting away from Kansas City.

CHICKENS—SHALL WE RAISE THEM?

At this season of the year when eggs are from three to five cents apiece, and when a chicken for the table is beyond the reach of the limited purse, many persons are turning their thoughts toward poultry raising, either with an idea of profit from sale of produce or with vision, as results of their efforts of supplying their tables with a casual dish of savory eggs, or a tender toothsome fryer or a juicy baked fowl.

To these persons I wish to give a word of encouragement. The outlook is promising, the high price of meats, the decrease in the supply, with our ever-increasing population is fast making the industry of poultry raising an important one.

To those who aspire to raise an efficient for their own use, there is the saving of purchase price of eggs and meat besides the satisfaction of providing better served tables for their families.

Advice to the poultry raiser is given lavishly through the many poultry journals devoted to that industry, as well as through daily and weekly papers, so that the beginners need not lack for information on poultry housing and the general care necessary to poultry, in order to obtain best results.

The greatest hindrance in nearly all localities to successful poultry raising are the insects.

Mites, lice and in many instances blue bugs must be constantly fought. Statistics show that seventy-five per cent of the annual loss to the poultry raiser is due to the ravages of these pests. Various insecticides for getting rid of these insects are used more or less successfully. Such a machine, in practice of greasing the fowl on head and under wings has perhaps proven the most successful.

A device for applying oil known as the "Chicken Life Saver" has recently been invented and is now being used by well known poultry raisers as well as the small producer. This machine is simple and is used with the Chicken Life Saver oil which has proven effective in the extermination of various insects which infest poultry, and also cures sore head. Such a machine will doubtless be welcome to the average raiser, as it is a time saver and does away with the tedious and disagreeable work of greasing by hand. Just whether the light is made by machine or by hand, the insects must be gotten rid of, if you will have chickens to sell or keep.

Blotches—They say young Gotrox made his money in oil.

COLQUITT PROPHECIES U. S. INTERVENTION

President Must Go Forward Ultimately by Intervention, or "We Must Back Squarely Down and Out of Controversy"—Present Meddling Causes Bitterness.
 AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 12.—Before leaving for Brownsville, where he goes on a pleasure trip, Governor Colquitt, discussing the Mexican situation, said he was convinced "that the United States government is neglecting its duty to the world in permitting the continuance of the butchery and uncivilized warfare that is now in progress in Mexico."

He made the prediction that since President Wilson has seen fit to involve this government in the political affairs of the republic to the south of the Rio Grande, he must go forward ultimately by intervention, or "we must back squarely down and out of the controversy."

"Under the Monroe Doctrine, the United States owes to the world a moral obligation in dealing with questions affecting Mexico. Mexico has been in a state of revolution now for more than three years. Lives of foreigners have been ruthlessly taken, their property confiscated, pillaged and burned, and American as well as Mexican women outraged."

"From my point of view, it matters not whether Huerta, Carranza, Villa or some other Mexican becomes president. Conditions are such that revolution and anarchy will continue. After looking diligently after the protection of Texans along the 900 miles of Mexican border for three years, I am convinced that the United States Government is neglecting its duty to the world in permitting the continuance of the butchery and uncivilized warfare that is now in progress in Mexico."

Favors Firm Policy.
 "I reiterate the opinion which I have many times expressed: Had a firm policy been adopted some time ago, with notice to the Mexicans that must themselves restered order within a certain time, or submit to the restoration of order by the United States, practical peace would long ago have been restored in the unhappy republic south of us."

"We say what we will, but the President, having taken a hand in Mexican politics and involving the government in the controversy, must go forward ultimately by intervention, or we must back squarely down and out of the controversy."

"So far as the race prejudice is concerned, the meddling with Mexican politics has really increased as much feeling as actual intervention would produce."

Situation Is Difficult.
 "I am not an alarmist, but have had to deal with an actual situation, more or less difficult and perplexing on account of our 900 miles of frontier on Mexico."

"It will be exceedingly unfortunate if present conditions in Mexico are to continue until a presidential campaign in the United States forces the Mexican question into American politics. When the American people thoroughly understand the situation in Mexico, as I believe I know them to exist, they will demand the exercise of the authority asserted under the Monroe doctrine, and demand that steps be taken to pacify conditions and restore order and protect the lives and property in the Mexican Republic."

CANAL WILL BE READY IN 70 DAYS

High Official at Washington Talks Regarding Work at Panama.
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The Panama Canal will be in condition to pass steamships all the way across the isthmus within the next seventy days, it was learned today, unless unexpected obstacles are encountered. This is the judgment of a high canal official, who declines to fix the date more definitely.

The only remaining obstacles to prevent the passage of vessels now are the Cucaracha slide, which blocks the cut at Culebra, and other small slides in the same locality. Dredging is progressing satisfactorily at those places.

In view of uncertain conditions surrounding the work it has been deemed impolitic to attempt to fix a definite date for the opening. Even after a passage is possible several months must be spent in training the operating force before the waterway is opened to commerce.

ORVILLE WRIGHT'S INVENTION.

Orville Wright's announcement of the invention of a stabilizer is the more welcome because America has steadily been falling behind in aviation. Invention is the point at which we are strongest, and the death of Wilbur Wright was the greatest blow because we had been looking to those gifted brothers for another forward step as decisive, if not as epoch-making, as the production of the first flying machine. It was known, despite their reticence, that their attention was being given mainly to automatic stability, and there was reason to hope that they were on the right road, but one could hardly be expected to follow it as rapidly as two; it is good news that the surviving brother now thinks that he has success within reach. Several stabilizers have been brought forward, notably one in England and one in France, of which much has been expected. But little has been heard of them lately. If they had proved completely successful it is not likely that the secret could be kept, yet each seems to have valuable qualities, and it may be that completion will prove as close as it was in the case of the original invention, in which the Wrights had but a slight priority in what many were trying to do. It need hardly be said that with the attainment of automatic stability aviation will begin a new phase; all that holds it back now is the great hazard involved. If safety could once be demonstrated within ten or perhaps five years the sky would be full of flyers. As a sport it would be more fascinating than automobiling, and when aeroplanes were made on a great scale the cost would be no greater. All this waits on safety, and the stabilizer, which Mr. Wright thinks he has achieved is the biggest factor.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

GOATS CAUSE PANIC.
Inhabitants of San Luis Potosi Greatly Excited by Fear of Attack from Constitutionnalists.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 12.—Such a state of excitement has been brought about in the city of San Luis Potosi by the reported imminence of an attack by Constitutionnalists that a panic broke out among the inhabitants on New Year's day, when a herd of goats approached the place, according to a correspondent, writing to the Federal capital.

The writer says the rumors of the proximity of Constitutionnalists' columns, the news of the dynamiting of trains and the bringing into the city of a number of wounded Federals, had worked the people up to a high pitch of expectancy. Suddenly, on January 1, a cloud of dust appeared on a suburban roadway and practically everybody in San Luis Potosi believed the hour of attack had arrived. Stores and houses were hurriedly closed and the doors barricaded and detachments of troops and armed police with cannon were rushed through the streets to points chosen for the defense.

Soon afterward it was discovered that the alarm had been caused by some 500 goats being driven to market. Tension immediately relaxed and the New Year's day bull fight parade and other festivities proceeded as usual.

Actual danger of attack on the city is not, however, minimized by the Federal commander, and serious preparations have been made by the garrison and the police, numbering together about 1500 men, to meet the onslaught of the Constitutionnalists, whose strength is variously estimated at from 2000 to 2000.

Will Not Retreat Says Castro.
"We'll never retreat, but all of us will die right here in Ojinaga if our ammunition gives out," said General Castro, himself garbed in a torn and dusty uniform, as evidence of the recent fighting.

Reporters' headquarters at the battle early Monday the Constitutionnalists had not only been strengthened by reinforcements from Chihuahua, but that they also had obtained quantities of ammunition. The Federal army has only what ammunition was left after the battle and has no means of replenishing its stores.

A story of the death of Colonel Luis Cully, relative of the rich Terrazas family, who joined the Federal army as a volunteer, was told today by a priest. The priest said Cully, accidentally shot by his own men in last Sunday's engagement, had requested when dying that rumor of his shooting be kept from the Constitutionnalists, as they might consider the Federals had become unmanageable.

A & M MODEL FARM

One Blooded Jersey Bull and Three Fine Registered Heifers Added.

College Station, Tex., Jan. 12.—With the acquisition of an exceptionally well bred young bull to be placed at the head of the Jersey herd of the Agricultural and Mechanical College dairy farm and the recent purchase of four fine young registered Jersey heifers from Jackson, Mich., dairy experts at the college say that the herd will soon be superior to practically any herd in the Southwest. The herd now is composed of good Holsteins and Jerseys, and cowboys are not making money as rapidly being weeded out.

Prof. J. W. Ridgway of the dairy department and H. C. Hols, superintendent of the dairy farm, are laying the foundation for a registered herd. There are now 204 head in the college herd.

Three cows have just qualified for "registry of merit," a distinction that is reached by only 2 per cent of the Jerseys in the Nation. These are all young cows and one of them, whose sire was Wanderer of St. Cloud and whose dam was Applause Phedora, has established an exceptionally fine record. She started her record at the age of three years and two months and has produced in eleven months of lactation 7600 pounds of milk, testing 4.9 per cent butter fat or about 445 pounds of butter. She has one more month to work and probably will make about 475 pounds of butter as a four-year-old.

The college authorities are planning to make the college dairy farm a model to be studied and followed as nearly as possible by students of the dairy husbandry department. To that end, only pure bred stock will be bought in the future. Three young calves bought from a Michigan farm cost $150 per head; his own men.

The young bull is sired by a son of Champion Flying Fox and is out of a daughter of Foxhall's Jubilee that will make 825 pounds of butter on registry of merit test with this, her third calf. The dams of the two young heifers both were registry of merit cows.

Although the milk from the college dairy is sold to the mess hall at 25 cents per gallon, this department of the state institution is accumulating a good surplus each month after all expenses are paid.

The dairy farm has two big 100-ton silos and experts attribute much of the success of the farm to that fact.

REVOLUTIONISTS GATHER UNDER GENL. VILLA
Orosco's Scouting Force Encounters Outposts of Constitutionnalist Army.

OJINAGA, Mexico, Jan. 12.—Returning today to Ojinaga from a reconnoitering trip ten miles inland General Pascual Orozco, commander of Federal volunteers, said he encountered only the outposts of the Constitutionnalist army. The enemy were believed to be concentrating under the personal direction a soldier front when they again march on Ojinaga.

Delay Is Valuable. All nine generals who remain in the trenches here with the 4000 Huerta soldiers said every hour of delay gave them opportunity to make greater preparation to resist an attack. They said General Villa would have had to increase the Constitutionnalist force greatly to repeat the six days' battle of last week, when the Constitutionnalists came within 400 yards of the Ojinaga trenches without being able to take them.

General Francisco Castro, commander of the Federal regular army said he was confident his army never would be beaten by Villa. He said he was well aware that the impending conflict was momentous to the Huerta regime. It would settle, he said, a question whether the City of Mexico government was to maintain its authority in the north or whether the lawless rabble which goes by the name of Constitutionnalists will have full sway.

The Federal commander said his soldiers had endured hardships, had gone without food for days, raged and footsore, they had marched over the waterless desert as a token of their loyalty and he did not believe they would run at the sound of battle.

HUERTA FURGING LOAN
Morelos, Center of Zapata Activity Expected to Raise 1,000,000 Pesos.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 12.—Two officers, five non-commissioned officers and three bluejackets from the Japanese cruiser Izumo are still in the capital and cannot join their ship until it returns from Guaymas to Manzanillo. This gave rise to a report that this contingent was intended as a legion guard. The Japanese minister points out that they brought no arms or uniforms and says that when they return to the Izumo other officers and men will come to the capital as sight-seers.

The problem of supplying fuel oil has grown more serious. Although Constitutionnalists have not entirely cut off the supply, it is realized that at any time they may destroy the wells in the Tampico districts. Work is being rushed to convert locomotives into coal burners and cargoes of coal are being hurried to the Republic from outside points. The Mexico mines are located in the Constitutionnalist territory and the coal being imported is from the United States, mostly from South Carolina.

The shutting off of this supply likely would embarrass the government, as it would necessitate application to markets further removed and thus delay receipts.

In line with President Huerta's announcement that he would get money where and how he could, reports of forced loans are being received with greater frequency.

In Morelos, the center of the Zapata activities, it is said business firms have been notified they are expected to raise more than 1,000,000 pesos. In Zacatecas the quota has been fixed at 270,000 pesos.

Citizens of Michoacan also have been notified to contribute. In all these cases a warning accompanied the notification that failure to comply would be regarded as proof of unfriendliness to the government and that enforced service in the army would be the penalty.

FRENCH LOAN PERFECTED.
Mexico Gets $5,900,000 to Pay Interest on Outstanding Bonds.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—The loan to Mexico arranged here by an international group of bankers for the sole purpose of meeting the January interest on the Mexican government and the City of Mexico bonds, amounted to $5,900,000. Of this total, New York bankers took $930,000, London $3,450,000 and Paris $1,505,000. The negotiations were conducted by Albert Turretin, general manager of the Banque de Paris et des Pays Bas, who was assisted by the Mexican minister of finance, Adolfo de Lama.

Some curious points of view developed at the conferences of the bankers here as to what might happen in the event of a default in the interest on the Mexican debt. One view, strongly supported by financiers who disapprove of Washington's policy, was that as the loan of 1912 is secured by 62 per cent of the Mexican customs and the loan of 1915 by 38 per cent, it would be the duty of the European governments whose subjects hold the bonds to seize the customs houses and to collect interest themselves.

Bankers holding this opinion also affirmed that "the United States government could not blockade the ports of Mexico without destroying the value of the customs receipts mortgaged to foreign bondholders." These arguments will be presented again when the next interest and installments fall due unless the situation is much changed. At the French foreign office it was said that the government has no sympathy whatever with these views.

COMPETITION REDUCES PRICE OF NAVY PROJECTILES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Secretary Daniels announced today that bids submitted for the manufacture of projectiles for the navy showed a decrease of $89,825, compared with prices paid last year. If the department takes advantage of the right to increase orders by 20 per cent, Secretary Daniels said, a saving of $1,067,790 for the government will be the result of the restoration of open and real competition between bidders.

Contracts to be let call for the manufacture of 3500 14-inch armor-piercing shells; 1500 12-inch shells and 20,000 4-inch and 5-inch common shells, the annual "food" supply for the navy's guns.

Competing firms include the Hadfield Steel Foundries Company, Ltd., of England and the Krupp of Germany.

The Bethlehem, Crucible and Midvale Companies underbid all others, including foreign firms. The 14-inch shells were quoted by the Crucible Company this year at $315 each. Last year's price was $490.

Secretary Daniels was highly pleased with the reductions. "The figures speak for themselves," he said, "I am delighted that American bidders are able to hold their own so well against foreigners. I have always believed the American manufacturer would be able to take care of himself against the markets of the world."

NUMBER OF AUTOS DOUBLED.

Cars in United States increased from 523,900 to 1,128,000 since Year of 1911.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 12.—The number of automobiles registered in the United States has more than doubled since 1911. In that year, according to compilations made public today by the Secretary of State here, the number was 523,000.

Last year 1,128,000 cars were registered. New York State leads with a total registration of 125,000.

AT THE MAJESTIC

San Antonio
Week of Jan. 18th to 24th

Manager Raymond makes the following announcement regarding the bill to be given at the Majestic Theater this week, beginning this afternoon and continuing through the week, with performances each afternoon and night:

"The headliner this week at the Majestic will be of unusual character, entitled 'Gus Edwards' Kid Kabaret'. This act is written and produced by Gus Edwards, the most prolific songwriter of the present day. This is an act of unusual character. It is just thirty minutes of singing, dancing and quick-fire comedy, and is built to amuse and entertain one, and this it most certain does. There are eighteen juveniles in the act, each one (judging from their present performances) destined one day to become a star. Each has a specialty during the act and this specialty is performed by each youngster in a manner befitting artists of much riper years. Probably the chief charm of this act is the utter lack of 'staginess' of these young people. They go through their work with a nonchalance and abandon as if they thoroughly enjoyed it. It is interesting to note that several of them have their mothers keep a watchful eye on those who have no one traveling with them.

"Dora Early and Carl Byal will appear in refined and a somewhat eccentric manner. Dora has an individuality of her own, tuneful voice and a manner of singing her songs which is quite her own and distinct from any one else. Carl Byal has a pleasing personality and was recently a member of Geo. Evans' Honey Boy minstrels.

TALKATIVE OFFICERS WILL LIKELY BE MUZZLED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.—Officers of the United States army in future will not be permitted to discuss publicly "army matters of a debatable nature." New regulations to cover this point will follow an exchange of memoranda today between Secretary Garrison and Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, in regard to a published article telling of "free press matter furnished to newspapers by Arthur W. Dunn, a writer in the employ of the Infantry Association.

Some of the matter referred to is said to have dealt directly with the Mexican situation, though much of it was made up of interviews with officers about the movement for a larger army and certain reforms in the organization—the objects of the Infantry Association. In his memorandum to General Wood, Secretary Garrison said:

"Please look into the case sufficiently to ascertain whether officers of the army are furnishing matter to the newspapers concerning questions of policy under discussion between the department and Congress or any other matters not strictly within the line of duty of such officers.

"I feel that the best interest of the country and of the army would be served if officers would not indulge in public debate or discussion or in any sort of a public propaganda with respect to army matters of a debatable nature.

"I would like to suggest the formulation of some regulation that will advise officers of the proper attitude I think they should assume toward this matter."

General Wood replied:

"I have made inquiry of Major Johnson, editor of the Infantry Journal, with reference to the work of that paper and in the course of which I have been advised that it is the publication of data relating to the army with a view to spreading abroad what it believes to be valuable information—information which should be in the hands of the people. I am informed by Major Johnson that they have limited the material to that embodying the approved policy of the War Department. Major Johnson has been informed of your wishes that all activities of this sort be terminated and he has assured me he will take the necessary steps to bring about this end.

"I will take immediate steps to present to you for your consideration regulations which will advise officers of the army of what the department considers to be their proper attitude with reference to discussion of matters pertaining to the service or publication of articles concerning the same."

"MONA LIZA" IN PARIS

Return of Picture After an Absence of Two Years and Four Months Was Ceremonious Occasion.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—The return of Da Vinci's "Mona Lisa" to Paris after an absence of two years and four months, was made into a ceremonious occasion by the French government. The picture was under the care of Henry Marcel, conservator of the French National Museum, who arrived here with a staff of assistants. "Mona Lisa" was enclosed in a thin oak case bound with straps and with a light handle.

When the train drew into the station Eugene Pualet, director of the French National Museum took the case containing the painting from the hands of Marcel and carried it to a waiting automobile amid the flashlights of a group of photographers.

The portrait was then taken to the National School of Fine Arts, where Leon Bonnat, head of the school, and seven of his colleagues, officially verified its genuineness. It was afterward carried to the hall of honor of the museum, the walls of which have been hung with priceless gobelin tapestries belonging to the government.

Newspaper men and high officials were then permitted to obtain a private view of the picture, which is to be placed on public view for several days. An admission fee is to be charged and the money thus obtained is to be distributed among the Italian poor of Paris in recognition of Italy's part of the recovery of the masterpiece.

FARMERS COMING STRONG

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 12.—Forty-one cars of Northern farmers and bankers passed through San Antonio yesterday and last night in search of investments in Southwest Texas. Another car of bankers from Muskogee, Okla., will arrive in San Antonio this morning on the Katy Flyer. This is not only the largest number of homeseekers that has come here this year but it is likewise the greatest influx of prospective investors that has come to Texas in one body within the last two years. It was reported that coincident with the special trains coming by way of San Antonio to the Lower Rio Grande country, a train of 250 persons came to visit the Lone Star State over the Frisco, being routed by way of Houston.

The first train arrived in San Antonio last night shortly after nine o'clock. It was made up of thirteen sleeper cars, trains of nine and fourteen sleepers each followed the first at forty-minute intervals. After a stop of about three hours the trains were transferred to the tracks of the San Antonio & Arkansas Pass and dispatched to the coast country. In addition to the special excursion, special cars were attached to the ends of the Katy's regular trains. The bankers' special car from Muskogee will arrive this morning on the Flyer.

Two special cars from St. Louis were brought down by the International & Great Northern. These cars were bugged to Fairbury, their destination, last night by the San. Jay M. Jackson, president of the Jackson-Vreeland Land Company, who arrived yesterday said that he probably would make arrangements for running homeseekers' excursions to this territory to settle the Medina lands. Mr. Jackson had a conference with T. B. Palfrey yesterday. He said he would make a report to the National Association for its approval of the project.

That the trains were late yesterday was due partly to the condition of the tracks as a result of floods and partly to the fact that all of them were from an hour and a half to two hours late in getting away from Kansas City.

CHICKENS—SHALL WE RAISE THEM?

At this season of the year when eggs are from three to five cents apiece, and when a chicken for the table is beyond the reach of the limited purse, many persons are turning their thoughts toward poultry raising, either with an idea of profit from sale of produce or with vision, as results of their efforts of supplying their tables with an economical dish of savory eggs, or a tender toothsome fryer or a juicy baked fowl.

To those persons I wish to give a word of encouragement. The outlook is promising, the high price of meats, the decrease of the supply, with our ever-increasing population, is fast making the industry of poultry raising an important one.

To those who aspire to raise sufficient for their own use, there is the saving of purchase price of eggs and meat besides the satisfaction of providing better served tables for their families.

Advice to the poultry raiser is given lavishly through the many poultry journals devoted to that industry, as well as through daily and weekly papers, so that the beginner need not lack for information as to poultry housing and the general care necessary to poultry, in order to obtain best results.

The greatest hindrance is nearly all localities to successful poultry raising are the insects.

Mites, lice and in many instances blue bugs must be constantly fought. Statistics show that seventy-five per cent of the annual loss to the poultry raiser is due to the ravages of these pests. Various insecticides for getting rid of these insects are used more or less effectively, but the well known practice of greasing the fowl on head and under wings has perhaps proved the most successful.

A device for applying oil known as the "Chicken Life Saver" has recently been invented and is now being used by well known poultry raisers as well as the small producer. This machine is simple and is used with the Chechen Life Saver oil which has proven effectual in the extermination of various insects which infest poultry, and also cures sore head. Such a machine will doubtless be welcome to the average raiser, as it is a time saver and does away with the tedious and disagreeable work of greasing by hand. But whether the fight is made by machine or by hand, the insects must be gotten rid of, if you will have chickens to sell or keep.

Blotts—They say young Getrox made his money in oil.

Blotts—I thought he had a sort of bored look.—Philadelphia Record.

COLQUITT PROPHECIES U. S. INTERVENTION

President Must Go Forward Utterly by Intervention, or "We Must Back Squarely Down and Out of Controversy"—Present Meddling Causes Bitterness.

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 12.—Before leaving for Brownsville, where he goes on a pleasure trip, Governor Colquitt, discussing the Mexican situation, said he was convinced that the United States government is neglecting its duty to the world in permitting the continuance of the butchery and uncivilized warfare that is now in progress in Mexico.

He made the prediction that since President Wilson has seen fit to involve this government in the political affairs of the republic to the south of the Rio Grande, he must go forward ultimately by intervention or "we must back squarely down and out of the controversy."

The Governor said:

"Under the Monroe Doctrine, the United States owes to the world a moral obligation in dealing with questions affecting Mexico. Mexico has been in a state of revolution now for more than three years. Lives of foreigners have been ruthlessly taken, their property confiscated, pillaged and burned, and American as well as Mexican women outraged.

"From my point of view, it matters not whether Huerta, Carranza, Villa or some other Mexican becomes president. Conditions are such that revolution and anarchy will continue. After looking diligently after the protection of Texas, along the 900 miles of Mexican border for three years, I am convinced that the United States Government is neglecting its duty to the world in permitting the continuance of the butchery and uncivilized warfare that is now in progress in Mexico.

Favors Firm Policy

"I reiterate the opinion which I have many times expressed: Had a firm policy been adopted some time ago, with notice to the Mexicans that they must themselves restore order within a certain time, or submit to the restoration of order by the United States, practical peace would long ago have been restored in the unhappy republic south of us.

"We say what we will, but the President, having taken a hand in Mexican politics and, involving the government in the controversy, must go forward ultimately by intervention, or we must back squarely down and out of the controversy.

"So far as the race prejudice is concerned, the meddling with Mexican politics has really rendered as much feeling as actual intervention would produce.

Situation is Difficult.

"I am not an alarmist, but have had to deal with an actual situation, more or less difficult and perplexing on account of our 900 miles of frontier on Mexico.

"It will be exceedingly unfortunate if present conditions in Mexico are to continue until a presidential campaign in the United States forces the Mexican question into American politics. When the American people thoroughly understand the situation in Mexico, as I believe I know them to exist, they will demand the exercise of the authority asserted under the Monroe doctrine, and demand that steps be taken to pacify conditions and restore order and protect the lives and property in the Mexican Republic."

CANAL WILL BE READY IN 70 DAYS

High Official at Washington Talks Regarding Work at Panama.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The Panama Canal will be in condition to pass steamships all the way across the isthmus within the next seventy days, it was learned today, unless unexpected obstacles are encountered. This is the judgment of a high canal official, who declines to fix the date more definitely.

The only remaining obstacles to prevent the passage of vessels now are the Cucaracha slide, which blocks the cut at Cucaracha, and other small slides in the same locality. Dredging is progressing satisfactorily at those places.

In view of uncertain conditions surrounding the work it has been deemed impolitic to attempt to fix a definite date for the opening. Even after a passage is possible several months must be spent in training the operating force before the waterway is opened to commerce.

ORVILLE WRIGHT'S INVENTION.

Orville Wright's announcement of the invention of a stabilizer is the more welcome because America has steadily been falling behind in aviation. Invention is the point at which we are strongest, and the death of Wilbur Wright was the greatest blow because we had been looking to those gifted brothers for another forward step as decisive, if not so epoch-making, as the production of the first flying machine. It was known, despite their reticence, that their attention was being given mainly to automatic stability, and there was reason to hope that they were on the right road, but one could hardly be expected to follow it as rapidly as two; it is good news that the surviving brother now thinks that he has success within reach. Several stabilizers have been brought forward, notably one in England and one in France, of which much has been heard. But little has been heard of them lately. If they had proved completely successful it is not likely that the secret could be kept, yet each seems to have valuable qualities, and it may be that completion will prove as close as it was in the case of the original invention, in which the Wrights had but a slight priority in what many were trying to do. It need hardly be said that with the attainment of automatic stability aviation will begin a new phase; all that holds it back now is the great hazard involved. If safety could once be demonstrated within ten or perhaps five years the sky would be full of flyers. As a sport it would be more fascinating than automobiling, and when aeroplanes were made on a great scale the cost would be no greater. All this waits on safety, and the stabilizer which Mr. Wright thinks he has achieved is the biggest factor.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

Acute Sore Throat.

There is nothing better for sore throat than Hunt's Lightning Oil. Put it on at night, and the next morning the soreness is usually gone. Rubbed on chest is fine for sore lungs, often preventing pneumonia. Hunt's Lightning Oil is sold by all reputable druggists in 25c and 50c bottles.

Volcanic eruptions in Northern Japan have destroyed much property and thousands of lives.

A cold wave of great intensity swept the North this week while in Southwest Texas there was only sunshine.

When Villa showed up at Ojanaga, Orozco and Salazar decided it was time to look for safer quarters.

The Federals are still concentrating at Nuevo Laredo according to newspaper reports. Perhaps they all think that it is safer to be on the border than in the interior.

It is tax-paying time again. Taxes for the maintenance of our government must be paid and the time rolls round without fail. Our tax rate is somewhat higher than last year but this was put on by the state and not the county. It is about 23 cents on the hundred dollars valuation more than it was last year.

The City collected a garbage tax last year and very little garbage was collected during the entire year. Such a tax has been assessed again this year and we think that it is up to the Council to provide a systemic method of collecting garbage and thus keep the town clean. People do not mind paying a garbage tax provided it is used for the purpose it is collected. There was much dissatisfaction over the matter last year. We hope it won't be so this year.

The Uvalde Leader says:—In Uvalde county we are paying a 15 cent tax for road purposes. That is, we pay that much through the tax collector. How much is the farmer or ranchman paying during this rainy weather, who is unable to get his hay, grain or produce to market, who uses double the amount of team and time to come for his supplies, or who breaks down his wagon and pulls his team to death in trying to do either? We venture the assertion that many of them are paying many times their direct tax for road purposes, and are not getting roads either.

Probably there is no other instance in history where a Nation at peace has been confronted with such a situation as Uncle Sam in the disposition of Mexican Federal soldiers forced across the border by the Constitutionalists. The Federals fled to Texas soil knowing that to fall into the hands of their enemies meant death. We could not refuse them asylum. For humanity's sake that was necessary. To even let them return to Mexico at a point where they would not be molested would be treating the Constitutionalists unfairly, and the course adopted by the government though it be a big job, is only just to all concerned. The Constitutionalists spent much time in corralling all of Huerta's men at Ojanaga and they deserved the victory. To transport the federal soldiers who fled to this side together with the women and children refugees, it would require ten trains. They will be taken to Ft. Bliss, and held under guard. It will cost Uncle Sam $1,500 dollars a day to feed them, but Mexico will pay the bill some day.

Prickly Pear Cactus as a Food For Dairy Cows.

Washington, D. C.—With a view to ascertaining the value of the prickly pear cactus as a feed for dairy cows, the Dairy Division of the Bureau of Animal Industry in co-operation with the Office of Farm Management of the Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture, conducted a series of experiments, 1911-1913, at Brownsville, Texas.

Following is a summary of results obtained: Prickly pear was found to be very palatable, and when judiciously fed was in no way detrimental to the cow or her product during the two years trial.

The most satisfactory amount was sixty to one hundred pounds of the pear per cow per day, depending upon the size of the cow and upon the yield of milk. With this medium ration the cows looked thrifty, and there was no detrimental effect upon the size and vigor of the offspring or upon the cow after parturition. Larger quantities of the pear caused a very laxative condition of the bowels and kept the stable in a more or less insanitary condition. Chemical analysis showed that the pear was low in protein, high in mineral matter, and contained from 87 to 93 per cent of water. This analysis, and also the feeding trials, indicated that the pear should be used with some dry feed containing a large amount of protein, and that the pear on account of its high mineral contents is a good feed to give with a ration deficient in mineral matter, like cottonseed hulls.

When compared with other common roughages in Southern Texas the pear was found to have the following relative value for the production of milk fat.

1 lb. sorghum hay, equal to 10.1 lbs. of pear. 1 lb. sorghum silage, equal to 3.3 lbs. of pear. 1 lb. cottonseed hulls, equal to 8.8 lbs. of pear.

The sorghum hay in these experimental rations was about the average quality, while the sorghum silage was below the standard. By substituting sixty to seventy-five pounds of pear for a portion of the dry roughage the percentage of fat in the milk was decreased forty-two hundredths per cent on an average. It also decreased somewhat the total amount of fat and the percentage of solids not fat but increased the total yield of milk. Like pasture grass, the pear produced a higher colored butter than did the dry feed. The flavor of the milk and butter was not impaired in any way.

A good daily maintenance ration for grade Jersey cows when dry was found to be as follows:

Four to six pounds sorghum hay, one pound cottonseed meal, sixty to one hundred pounds of pear.

Two dry cows were maintained for fifty and sixty days, respectively, on 113 and 105 pounds of pear per day with two pounds of cottonseed meal as a supplement. One cow fed pear alone for seventy days lost thirty pounds in weight. Another cow died from stoppage of the small intestines with balls of fiber, when fed on pear alone. Cows fed pear appeared to be more sensitive to cold weather than when fed dry feed. This was borne out by the decrease in milk production following "northers." Those receiving a heavy ration of pear decreased in milk flow 7.46 per cent, and those receiving only dry feed 1.91 per cent. Cows fed no roughage except pear, drank no water for days at a time and then only a few swallows; those fed one hundred and fifty pounds per day drank an average of five pounds daily; those fed seventy-five pounds, drank thirty pounds daily; those on dry feed drank sixty-nine pounds per day on an average. From these results it appears that pear is a valuable feed when there is a scarcity of stock water.

Working at the usual rate, one man using a gasoline torch could singe one ton of pear in fifty minutes with one and two-thirds gallons of gasoline. After singeing, the pear can be harvested by cutting and hauling to the feed lots, or the cattle can be turned into the field. The latter method is more wasteful of the feed but requires less labor.

Both spiny and spineless varieties were fed in these trials, but no difference could be detected in chemical composition or feeding value for milk production.

The spineless pear can be harvested more cheaply than the spiny because it does not need singeing, but in southern Texas the yield is less.

Under farm conditions the cost of establishing a field of pear will be $6.00 or $7.00 per acre. When once established and properly cared for, the field of pear will last indefinitely, the young growth springing from the old stumps as soon as the pear is harvested. In Southern Texas no irrigation is necessary, but shallow cultivation sufficient to keep out weeds and grass should be given.

The average yield at Brownsville, Texas, under very favorable conditions, two years from planting, was eighty-five tons per acre per year. The growth from old stumps is considerably greater, amounting in one test to over two hundred tons per acre for the two years growth. These yields were made under good dry-land cultivation. At San Antonio the yield of native spring cactus was twenty-three tons per acre without irrigation but with fair cultivation. At Chico, the yield of spineless cactus was about twenty-five tons per acre without irrigation but with expert cultivation. Complete details of these experiments will be published later. Further information concerning the culture and value of the thornless prickly pear cactus will be found in Farmers' Bulletin 483.

MARKETING AS IMPORTANT AS PRODUCING COTTON

The agricultural papers, for several years, have been full of interesting and instructive articles, telling the farmer how to increase his crop yield per acre; the best seed to plant, how and when to plant; how to prepare the soil, the mixture and quantity of fertilizer to use. Full descriptions have appeared, covering the breeding and raising of stock, how to treat their various diseases, what feed to use in the different seasons.

The United States Department of Agriculture has printed cartloads of bulletins and other literature regarding crop making and stock raising. Representatives of the Government in every state examine the soil, tell what it will produce, determine what irrigation or fertilization is necessary. We have, without doubt, the best equipped Agricultural Department of any nation on earth, in so far as farm production is concerned.

Our agricultural schools are everywhere. We have seen new theories taught and actually put into successful use. We have seen the "scientific farmer," once scoffed at and ridiculed,—we have seen him prove to be the practical farmer; we have seen him double his production per acre, improve his products, plant and harvest new and unheard of crops with success. Much attention has been given to the farmer and his crops, and rightly so, for on his success or failure depends, in its last analysis, the prosperity of our commonwealth. A great work has been and is being accomplished, and the results speak for themselves. Truly the farmer is being taught amply in the science of production.

But where in the pages of the Farm Press, or in the Government bulletins or literature, will you find any words about profitable selling or marketing methods? Where will the farmer find information about how to get the best price or where to ship his products?

If the average farmer could sell his crops as successfully as he can produce, he would soon be independent. The cotton grower seems to be the weakest of all as a seller of his crop. He makes a fine crop of cotton by his skill and energy. He produces well, but his method in cashing his crop is pitiful. He takes his cotton to market at the time when prices are always lowest, and he sells his cotton for whatever he can get, regardless of his cost of production. Why should he be anything but poor and in debt?

The Government has finally awakened to the fact that marketing is as important as producing. A "Bureau of Markets" has been established and investigations into present conditions are being made. A survey of cotton marketing in Oklahoma was made this fall by the chief of the Bureau of Markets. His findings have just been published in Bulletin No. 36, United States Department of Agriculture, subject, "STUDIES OF PRIMARY MARKET CONDITIONS IN OKLAHOMA." Every cotton grower should read this Bulletin. Mr. Brand and his expert classifiers visited every part of Oklahoma's cotton section. His report of market conditions reveals facts about cotton selling that every farmer should know.

For instance, on Page 6, Mr. Brand shows different prices paid for middling cotton in the same town, on the same day. In Mountain Park, Oklahoma, November 18th, one farmer received $50.25 for a 500 pound bale of cotton, middling. On the same date, in the same town, another farmer received $56.25 for a 500 pound bale of middling cotton. The second bale was of identical grade as the first bale and the two bales were of equal value. Why then the difference of $6.00 per bale? The Galveston price that day was $60.00 per bale, middling. On November 12th, in Terral, Oklahoma, there was a variation of $12.50 per bale, comparing the price on the same grade paid one farmer as against the price paid another.

A copy of this Bulletin may be secured by writing to the Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. Ask for Bulletin No. 36, Department of Agriculture.

When will the cotton farmer wake up? When will he cease to glut the market in the fall when the price is lowest? Why will he stick to a selling system that has made him poor? Has the cotton farmer no hope of prosperity?

The cotton farmer faces the same situation that the Rice Grower, Fruit Grower, and Wheat Farmer faced. They saved themselves by establishing marketing systems. Now they sell their products on a business basis. They have facilities for holding their products till they are needed. They no longer dump their crops on the market, saying, "Here is our crop; give us what you will for it." They demand and get a profitable price.

Cotton is a safe commodity for holding. In a suitable warehouse, cotton may be held indefinitely without decreasing its quality. Cotton must be held and sold as the world needs it in order to bring a fair price. Overloading the market always brings the same results, low prices. How can the supply of cotton be delivered to the world, so as to meet the demand but not exceed it? Co-operation by the growers, through a business like marketing system, will put cotton on a stable basis. The farmers must co-operate, get a living price for their cotton through sensible marketing, else they must plant their cotton fields to other crops.

Statistics from a Texas plantation, 6,000 acres in cotton, show that the cost in 1912 was 11 1/2 to 12c per pound. This great plantation has improved farm machinery, is in charge of a very capable manager, employs Mexican labor at $1.00 per day instead of negroes at $1.50; their land is probably the richest in the state. If their cotton costs them 11 1/2c, what does your cotton cost?

If cotton before ginning cost 12c and more, it is worth at least 15 CENTS. Co-operate with your neighbors. Get a profit on your year's work. Get 15 CENTS for your cotton. Hold your cotton. The world must have every pound of this crop and your cotton will soon bring 15 cents. New York has put the price down in the effort to make you sell. Hang on. Sell your cotton when they sell theirs. Their price will soon be 15c.

Many preservatives of butter and margarine have been tested in Germany in a series of experiments by K. Fischer and O. Gruenert. Common salt alone practically prevented decomposition of the fat and casein, though it did not absolutely stop all change, and specimens containing three per cent. of salt were in good condition for use after three months. Other specimens treated with benzoic acid, salicylic acid and boric acid, all of which are objectionable, up to one per cent., had rapidly become rancid.

KERMIT ROOSEVELT WILL WED IN SPRING

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 12.—Personal letters received here today from Madrid by friends of Ambassador Willard report the engagement of the ambassador's daughter, Miss Belle Willard, to Kermit Roosevelt, son of Theodore Roosevelt.

The wedding, it is said, will take place in the spring, probably here, the home of the Willards. Miss Willard, Kermit Roosevelt and his sister, now Mrs. Richard Darby, were guests of the Willards on a long motor trip through Virginia and ending at Hot Springs a little more than a year ago. Miss Willard was a guest last winter at the wedding in New York of Ethel Roosevelt to Mr. Darby, but the romance between the Virginia girl and the bride's brother was not suspected.

READY FOR CONVERSATION.

Little Bertha was invited to dinner with her father and mother. Before she left, says Lippincott's Magazine, her parents made her understand that she must not speak unless spoken to. All went smoothly at first but when, after some time, no notice was taken of her, Bertha began to get uneasy.

Finally, the hostess, seeing that something was wrong, asked her what she would like next.

"I should like to have you begin to ask me questions," was the polite reply.

The population of Belfast is slightly under 400,000, and in the entire province, some of the remote parts of which are unsuited to motor cars, there are only about 1,750,000 people.

SCIENTIFIC NOTES.

FASHIONABLE WOMAN IS DEFECTIVE TYPE

Physician Admits Women Are No Worse Off Today Than They Have Been for Many Generations—Nor Age Is Placed at 100 Years.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Jan. 18.—The imperfect or defective type of woman is that represented by the very slight, thin chested and nervous woman, at present so favored by fashion," declared Dr. Richard Root Smith of Grand Rapids, in an address tonight at the National Conference on Race Betterment which opened here today. Dr. Smith added, however, that "we have no reason for believing that woman is worse off now than she has been for many generations."

Other speakers tonight included H. H. Laughlin, superintendent of the Eugenics Record office at Cold Springs Harbor, N. Y.; Dr. Lillian South, Bowling Green, Ky., and Professor R. B. Van Kleinsmid, secretary of the American Association of Clinical Criminology, Jeffersonville, Ind.

In his address on "The Deterioration of Civilized Woman," Dr. Smith asserted that modern methods of living have not proven more disastrous to women than to men. The speaker said the most perfect type of woman is "that represented by individuals compact in build, deep-chested with steady nerves and fleshy enough for the anatomical angles to be nicely rounded out."

Dr. Laughlin urged sterilization for preventing the reproduction of degenerates and declared that it had met with great success in prisons and elsewhere.

Dr. South spoke of the hookworm disease. She recently has completed an investigation through the hills of Eastern Kentucky.

"Society by its sale of tobacco and liquor encourages mental defection which results in crime," declared Dr. Van Kleinsmid. "Whatever may be said in the way of excuse for moderate use of alcoholic beverages and tobacco among adults there can be no justification for the use of these drugs by adolescents." He urged a scientific study of criminals instead of punishment.

Man's Normal Age 100 Years.

"There is, however, a danger of excessive sentimentality in treating criminals," he said in conclusion. "I refer to ineffectual efforts of some who are trying to work reforms."

At the day session Dr. Stephen Smith, president of the conference, declared the normal age of man is 100 years, in spite of the fact that only three men in a thousand reach that age. Dr. Smith is well and active at the age of 92.

Among the other speakers today were Dr. Louis F. Bishop, Fordham University; Frederick L. Hoffman, Newark, N. J., and Cressy L. Wilbur of the census bureau.

Significance of a declining death rate apparent decrease in degenerative diseases and the causes of a declining birth rate, were among the subjects on the program for discussion at the opening session today.

Frederick L. Hoffman of Newark, N. J., on the basis of available statistics from civilized countries estimated the world's birth rate at 34.3 a thousand and the world's death rate of 25.0 leaving an annual natural rate of increase of 8.3 for each

PRAISE WILSON POLICY

Alfred Fried, German Pacifist, Says It Is Greatest Achievement of Its Kind of 1913.

Berlin, Jan. 12.—America's policy of diplomatic postponement, as exemplified by the Wilson-Bryan handling of the Mexican situation, is lauded as the supreme peace achievement of the year by Alfred H. Fried, the distinguished German pacifist, in a review of what 1913 has brought forth in the cause of amicable settlement of international differences. He says:

"The manner in which the United States government delayed rushing into precipitate action in the Calhoun-Japanese controversy, the quarrel with Great Britain over the Panama Canal tolls, and the strife with Huerta which America deliberately paralyzes.

"It has been properly recognized that it is not the main thing to settle every conflict on the strict basis of rights, but to give such conflicts a character that they can be settled by the sensible means of arbitration or compromise. The best means to attain that end is to exclude the passions which naturally arise from international differences—passions which are the chief menace to a stable settlement.

"More Sensible Conceptions.
"Hostile passions are most effectively obliterated by a policy of temporary toleration. The European powers traditionally cherish the fear that presiding over the sabers is ruffled at every possible opportunity and an 'energetic tone' is employed. The idea is propagated that it is beneath the dignity of a great power to yield. Without a history, America has more modern and sensible conceptions. They are plainly expressed in the new peace treaties which Secretary Bryan has submitted to The Hague Conference signatories.

"Secretary Bryan proposes that the principle of 'postponement' shall be made an integral feature of international law, with the sole purpose of divesting political conflicts of their inflammable character.

"Up to the end of 1913 no fewer than thirty-one states, or more than three-quarters of the civilized world, have informed the American government that they agree in principle to Mr. Bryan's proposals."

Although the year 1913 witnessed enormous fresh sacrifices to the maelstrom of militarism, including $25,000,000 each which Germany and France are spending for armaments, $300,000,000 which Russia and Austria have spent on mobilization and fresh armaments, and $1,200,000,000 which is the estimated cost of the Balkan wars, Herr Fried says that "the iron logic of facts" is making an irresistible propaganda for the idea of the world peace.

Devoted to Pacifism.
"Humanity," he declares, "is today in its overwhelming majority devoted to the idea of pacifism. Nor does it need to be proved that war does not pay. Mr. Lloyd-George's assertion that the money which England, France and Germany are wasting on armaments might just as well be thrown into the North Sea; Winston Churchill's repeated overtures to Germany for a naval understanding; the Bavarian Premier's, Baron von Herting, stentorian warning that there must be a rest from the flash of German armaments 'for years to come'; and Admiral von Tirpitz's acceptance of the 10-to-10 ratio in Anglo-German naval strength—all of these things are omens of good which must not be underestimated.

"The friends of peace need not be chagrined or discouraged even by the appalling fact that since the first Hague Conference was held and armaments in various parts of the world represent a 'wasted outlay' during fifteen years of the almost incomprehensible sum of, roughly, $5,500,000,000. The third Hague Conference will assemble in two years. It remains to be seen whether the governments of the world will again be in a position to flout the will of the people and treat these facts as unworthy of serious consideration."

1000 population.

"The present rate of increase," he said, "is certain to grow if the downward tendency of the death rate is further augmented by sanitary improvement, particularly in the case of uncivilized countries and primitive races.

"There is no doubt of a general improvement in health conditions throughout the world," Dr. Hoffman declared.

For further improvement in race betterment he said:

"Conserving of food-raising natural forces of the world, the necessity for the improved methods of agriculture, the reduction of economic waste, the pressing need of rational planning and improved methods of housing, education in practical domestic economics, rational control of marriage and divorce, improved methods of general education, the economic utility of longevity and higher educational ideals."

Not Properly Equipped.

Little Gardner of Oak Cliff, whose big brother had been presented with a bicycle, asked his mother if he could have one, too.

"You're not old enough," she replied, "but I will buy you a velocipede."

"I can't use a velocipede except on Jefferson avenue," he exclaimed. "The motor cars use the rough roads every day."

The youngster thought for a moment, then with a look of scorn remarked:

"Do you think I am filled with gasoline?"

FLOOD DAMAGE SHOWN

Damage to Tenant Farmers and Small Land Owners Along Brazos Estimated at $2,701,347.

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 12.—Recapitulation of the recent flood losses, estimates of the amount needed to rehabilitate the devastated districts and plans for helping the men and women swept from their financial feet by the flood were made in Houston today by prominent men from thirteen of the counties affected are yet to be added to this total.

As a result of the recapitulation and in which it was shown that the loss has wiped out the prospects for a 1914 crop for the great majority of the farmers affected, a committee will leave at once for Washington to lay before Congress the dire necessity for help for these people in putting in their new crop.

John F. Wolters, general chairman; Ben Campbell, Mayor of Houston; Lewis Fisher, Mayor of Galveston; H. A. Black of Galveston and B. B. Gilmer of Houston will meet in the office of Col. Wolters at 3 o'clock, Monday afternoon, to name representatives who will carry a delegation to Washington to discuss the flood devastation gathered and compiled today, and who will urge immediate action and relief by Congress through the Texas representatives. It is expected that the bill that has been introduced by Congressman Buchanan will be utilized in making the appeal, but it is a certainty that the $100,000 asked by that bill would have to be more than tripled to afford genuine relief to the tenants and small farmers of South Texas, who lost practically everything they had in the flood.

The enormous losses to the small farmers of the Brazos and Colorado valleys are given as follows, by men who have spent the last three weeks in gaining first-hand knowledge of conditions:

Austin County, $20,100; Brazos County, $268,586; Brazoria County, $120,193; Burleson County, $348,330; Colorado County, $120,193; Falls County, $75,749; Fayette County, $265,897; Fort Bend County, $418,103; Grimes County, $825,500; Waller County, $132,124; Wharton County, $132,124. Total, $2,701,347.

BEEF IMPORTS INCREASE.

Amount for October and November, 1913, More Than Triple Total for 1912, Says Report.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Frustrating of beef in the new tariff law already has resulted in a vast increase in the importation of foreign beef and meat products. In October and November, the Department of Agriculture reported today, 18,600,000 pounds of meat and its products were brought in from abroad. This is more than triple the amount imported for the whole of 1912.

Foreign meats are inspected, rigidly by agents of the bureau of animal industry, who, during the two months, 204,000 head of cattle from Canada and Mexico were imported.

WARRANT FOR MISSION WORKER

Captain of Volunteers of America Is Charged With Soliciting Funds Under Misrepresentation.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 12.—Judge Albert A. Hartzell issued a bench warrant today for the arrest of John M. Wright, staff captain of the Volunteers of America here. The warrant was issued at the request of the District Attorney's office, which is investigating alleged "missionary" here. It charges Wright with solicitation of money under misrepresentation and fraud. Capt. Wright and his wife, who was also an official of the volunteers, left the city New Year's Day.

Wright was formally suspended from the organization yesterday by Christopher C. Herron of Philadelphia, in charge of the central division, Volunteers of America. Testifying at the John Doe hearing, Herron admitted that while Wright's receipts exceeded $10,000 a year, there had been no audit of his accounts.

Testimony was also given that Wright had a French chef to do his cooking and that he made bank deposits ranging from $5 to $40 daily. As a result of the investigation thus far three arrests have been made.

Up to this time the poll tax payments in this county have been very light, but it is expected that there will be a considerable rush during the last days of the month. Politics in the state bid fair this year than for some time past and every citizen should qualify himself to vote upon the questions that will come up.

We make Cabinet Post Cards and stamp size photographs. Bring the babies and have some made. Reasonable prices. Fornan, the Photo man.

A number of farmers have given the RECORD orders for stationary the past week. Why shouldn't the farmer do business in a business like way, the same as the merchant.

Quite a number of subscribers have sent in their remittance the past two weeks, responding to our appeal to "pay up". We hope others will do likewise before the last of the month.

S. I. McKee of Anson, Texas, was among the arrivals here this week. Mr. McKee has purchased the Abstract plant of La Salle county from J. M. Daniel and will open an abstract office here.

H. B. Miller who is handling the lettuce shipments for the Holland-Texas farm stated to the RECORD this morning that the returns received on first shipments were very satisfactory.

Messrs. J. R. and Ira Black were down from San Antonio during the week in Ira's Geo. Mr. Black recently purchased an apartment house on Quincey street in San Antonio.

Some fine weather we have been having the past few days. Just like springtime, but then don't be fooled, for we always have some of the coldest weather of the winter in February.

To Cotulla belongs the honor of shipping the first carload of Bermuda onions for the 1914 season. And the San Antonio Express says other shipments will follow in rapid succession, which goes to show that the Express editor don't know what he is talking about.

Senator F. L. Marchand and wife of Monticello, Mo., and W. K. Marchand of Ewing, Mo. are at Millett spending a few weeks with the family of Wm. Graves. Mr. Graves and the Messrs. Marchand are old friends.

J. M. Ramsey was in town Thursday from Artesia Wells. Mr. Ramsey said land breaking was in progress in that part of the county, and with the good season in the ground the prospects for good crops this year were excellent.

Prof. Pollard, Superintendent of the Pearsall school, was in Cotulla last Saturday. Prof. Pollard met a number of other teachers at Gardendale for the purpose of arranging for a normal to be held in this district the coming summer.

The Presbyterian Missionary Society will meet with Mrs. N. C. Windrow next Thursday and the lesson which will include the 7, 8, 9, and 10th chapters of Second Samuel will be lead by Miss Jessie Copp.

Rev. H. W. Hamilton will occupy his pulpit at the morning service tomorrow but for the evening service requests his congregation to join him in attending the Laymen's meeting at the Methodist Church.

INFORMATION is wanted by Micaula Pena regarding her son, Ysidro, Guerra who came to Texas from Mexico sixteen months ago. The woman now lives in Cotulla, and anyone knowing of the whereabouts of Guerra will do her a favor by writing her at Cotulla.

Charlie Buckley was here from Eagle Pass this week in his car and was accompanied by F. H. Childs, brother of F. A. Childs, cashier of the State Bank. Messrs. Buckley and Childs had been to Laredo on business and returned by this route. Mr. Buckley was raised in La Salle county but has been away for nearly fifteen years.

The value of prickly pear for feeding dairy cattle has been demonstrated by the U. S. Government by an experiment of two years. On the fourth page of this issue will be found a two column article on this subject and if you will read it you will get many facts you do not know now, and they will be of value to you.

The RECORD printed this week for the Sunday School Association two thousand advertising and information folders to be sent out over the district, previous to the district Convention which will meet at Cotulla on 25 inst. The Publicity committee is making an effort to get a large attendance at this convention.

Mrs. J. N. Simpson and daughters, Misses Birdie and Dora, arrived yesterday from Vilonia, Ark., and will make Cotulla their home. They formerly lived in Cotulla but moved to Arkansas, and after living there two years decided that there was no place like Texas. They will live on the Simpson irrigated farm two miles south of town.

Shows have visited Cotulla the past few months until they had become almost a nuisance and the Carnival Company and Sunny Dixie Minstrels, which were billed to show here this week were notified by the Council that they could probably do a better business elsewhere, and they went elsewhere. The Carnival Company went to Pearsall. The minstrel just passed on.

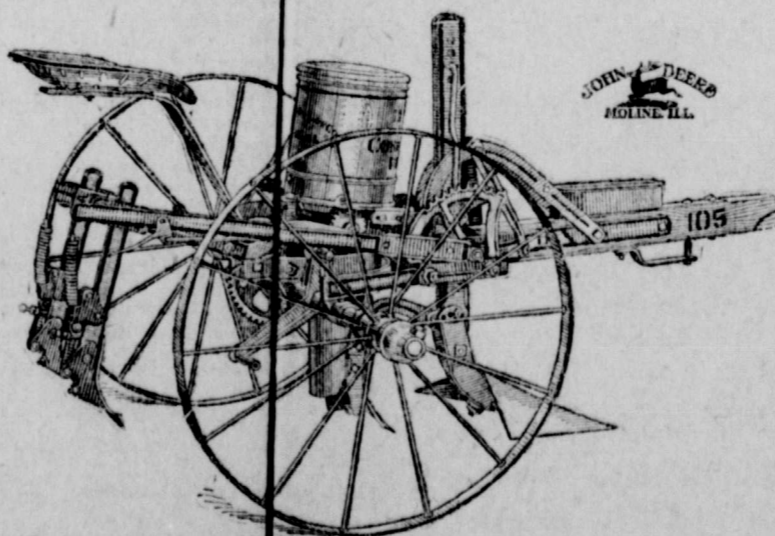

Wm. Graves of Millett was among the visitors in the city Saturday last. Mr. Graves reports that he has finished breaking his land and is just waiting for planting time to roll around. He expects to plant corn about the last of this month. The season in the ground in the Millett country is the best since he has been in the country, said Mr. Graves, and he thinks the prospects are brighter than he ever saw them for good crops.

The Cotulla friends of County Judge Geo. R. Page of Webb county will regret to learn that while cranking his auto the other day he had the misfortune to break his right arm above the wrist. When the Judge recovers he will probably do as the County Judge of La Salle. Once upon a time Judge Thomas endeavored to climb a telegraph pole while piloting his car, and when it was all over the Judge swore off from ever taking any more chances. He now has a chauffeur on whom the responsibility of cranking up and keeping in the middle of the road is placed.
