800 Spaniards From Torreon At El Paso.

Exiles Stripped of Property by Villa But supplied With Funds--Settled Rebel Policy.

El Paso, Texas, April 8--Eight hundred members of the Spanish colony of Torreon expelled from Mexico by General Villa after having passed through the recent battle that resulted in the capture of Torreon by the rebels, entered the United States today. They had been stripped of their property, temporarily at least, but supplied with temporary funds. They expressed relief as they crossed the wooden bridge over the Rio Grande into American soil.

They had refused to leave the train in which they and their baggage had come from Torreon to Juarez until George C. Carothers, special agent of the Department of state, arrived to advise them. They sent word of a newspaper reporter to Carothers who left his breakfast and went to the train.

Although the Spaniards have been deported from Mexico because of their alleged activity in Mexican political affairs it is not the intention of the Constitutional Government to confiscate their property or to molest it in any way, and the property will be left intact until the Spaniards are either permitted to return to Mexico or make whatever provisions for its disposition they desire.

Acting for General Venustiano Carranza, Senior, Isidro Fabela, in charge of the department of Foreign relations in the provincial cabinet of General Carranza said today regarding the Spaniards property.

"I have been authorized by General Carranza to say that the Constitutional Government will take no steps whatsoever to confiscate or injure the property of the Spanish subjects who have been deported from Torreon and Mexico, and all reports that the property has been or will be confiscated are false."

"The Old Time Southern Negro."

"The Old Time Southern Negro" is the title of a new book just off the press. The author is Judge Frank B. Earnest of this city, widely known lawyer. The first edition is put out in pamphlet form and later the Judge expects to issue the book with a more elaborate cover and fully illustrated throughout. Judge Earnest was born and reared in Tennessee and the opportunity was his to come in contact with the old time darkey and the characteristics of this type of negro is interestingly portrayed in his book, which is worthy of a place in the library of every home.

The San Antonio Express of last Sunday makes the following comment:

"The Old Time Southern Negro" is the title of a neat booklet issued the past week by the Passing Show Printing Company. The author is Judge Frank B. Earnest, the well known lawyer, politician and after dinner speaker. Born in Tennessee and reared upon a plantation where as a boy he came in touch with the best type of the ante bellum negro, Judge Earnest fully comprehends the merits, weaknesses, eccentricities, faithfulness and childish simplicity of the old time slave. For the "old time" negro, the author evidences an affection which could only have been born of actual knowledge of the people.

The old negro mammy sustained to the white children of the South. The character of the old-time negro is keenly analyzed and each trait is illustrated by an apt story, which adds interest to the sketch and makes the booklet all the more pleasing. The religious life of the old time negro, his belief in real fire and brimstone, his love of the banjo and possum, his affection for his old master's family and his contempt for "poor white trash," his shrewdness in extricating himself from an awkward situation when caught in some petty offense, his childish forgetfulness of sorrow, and his loyalty and faithfulness to the women and children of the South during the war when the men in grey were away at the front under Lee and Jackson, are traits which the author attributes to this fast disappearing product of Southern civilization. The booklet is worthy of a place in the library of every person who wishes to know the real old time negro, especially those who revere the institutions and traditions of the Old South."

drift of our best blood to the cities? What can the University do to help?

Community life and really help the 75 per cent of the population of Texas who make their living on the farm? These are some of the big questions that Professor F. M. This bulletin contains the purposes and plans of the University Home and School League which Professor Bradley hopes to see organized in every country community in Texas. ### Ought to Paint.

I ought to have painted last year, but I hated to pay $2 a gallon.

I've got to paint this year; it'll take a little more paint; I suppose I gallon in 10; and a little more work, I suppose 1 day in 10.

My job would have cost last year about $50; it is going to cost this year $55.

$5 gone. I suppose it'll be the same again, if I wait again.

What if paint goes down to $1.75 a gallon? $2.50 on the job!

I shan't wait; what a fool I was.

DEVOTE sells it.

You will find that it does not cost much more to use printed stationery than it does the other kind.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one divided disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

All Texas Shivers From Wintery Blast.

Light Snow Fell Over North and West Texas--South Texas Barely Escapes Freeze.

Tuesday night a genuine Northern swept this section of Texas and the temperature fell rapidly for several hours, going down to nearly forty before it stopped. The day previous had been very warm, so warm that we had forgotten all about winter, and to say that the cold wave came as a surprise, puts it mildly. Over North and West Texas a light snow fell and ice was plentiful. The freezing line reached down the state nearly to San Antonio. All of South Texas escaped a freeze and crops were not damaged beyond being set back. In Kansas City and other parts of Missouri the coldest April weather ever known was recorded.

The wave held on until yesterday when the sun came out and warmed things up and today it has begun to look and feel like spring again.

AT THE
San Antonio
Week of April 12th

A bill that it is promised will be one of the season's best is booked for the Majestic Theater next week.

Scott and Keane.
Agnes Scott and Henry Keane are headliners on the bill in an offering entitled "Drifting," a classic little gem of simple, but direct appeal. Devoid of noise or blare, with the daintiest of plots, it has the unhesitant guarantee of the management to please all. With an elaborate stage setting the little production has not failed in its Eastern travels to make the highest kind of a hit.

Trovato, Violinist.
A close second on the bill is Trovato, a temperamental violinist. Trovato plays as the mood strikes him, from the old masters or from the recent writers—and he plays all equally well. He takes his audience through the dignified measures of the great operas and with equal facility into the mazes of the syncopated modern dances.

McMillan and Company.
Lida McMillan and company present "The Saleslady," a serio-comic playlet giving opportunity to Miss McMillan for a display of versatility in her histrionic talent. Four performers make up the cast and the action is quick throughout the offering, situation following situation until a climax is reached.

Six Abdallahs.
The six Abdallahs, a sextette of Arabians in whirlwind acrobatics, is another number on the bill. These men have perfected themselves in a series of sensational aerial feats, performed without mats or mechanisms, that are said to be remarkable. They work very rapidly and wind up in an ensemble tumbling match that keeps the stage literally covered with a whirling tangle of arms and legs.

Shriner and Richards.
Shriner and Richards present a clever little singing, talking and dancing act of the type that has become so popular in recent years on the vaudeville stage, finishing with a special "twenty-first century" costume worn by Miss Richards, indicative, apparently, of her forecast of the fashions will be at that time.

Carl Rosini and Company.
Rosini and company claim to have some brand-new tricks. Of course, as Rosini says, he would not deceive anyone—but the facts are that he does nothing else. Modern magic on a full-lighted stage, with light-colored back grounds, away from the stereotyped act of his advance notices credit him with some very flattering successes.

CAMPAIGN IS WAGED AGAINST HOOKWORM

Sixteen Per Cent of School Children in Counties Visited Infected With Them.

The Hookworm Commission of the Texas State Board of Health reports the following extract from a report on the work completed since Jan. 1, 1914: "The hookworm campaigns have been completed in Colorado, Galveston, Kaufman, Sabine Counties, and are now in progress in Freestone, Wharton and Washington Counties. In none of these counties has hookworm been found in prevalent or a great many other counties surveyed by the commission. The combined land areas of the above counties is 5,557 square miles, the combined rural population approximately 100,000 people. In the last three months dispensed for free examination and treatment for hookworm disease has been conducted in over 5,537 miles and at the dispensaries persons, or one-twelfth of the rural population, have been examined microscopically. Of the number examined, 1,144, or 20 per cent, had hookworm disease and were microscopically examined. Of the school children 745, or 16 per cent, were infected with hookworm. To all of these persons 1,286 free treatments were dispensed.

During the campaign in Colorado, Kaufman, Sabine and Galveston Counties, in addition to examining and treating patients, seventy schools and 2,481 rural homes were visited and inspected as to their sanitary condition. The printed literature was also used for giving instruction for improving sanitation, and 1,023 pieces were distributed.

Since Jan. 1, Hunt and Anderson Counties have each appropriated to defray the local expense of campaigns and the work will be completed in these two counties at an early date.

Again it seems expedient that the final purpose of the work of the Hookworm Commission is to examine a few thousand more persons in each of the rural districts of the state, well as in the cities and towns, for the final eradication of a single individual is of less importance than the establishment of permanent sanitary conditions.

The State Board of Health early solicited the active support of the physician, school teacher, county official and newspaper in Texas in carrying on this health campaign during which hookworm disease is used as a practical demonstration.

TWO TEXAS COUNTIES VOTE TO REMAIN DRY

Limestone County Gives Majority of 648 and Lampasas County Majority of 106.

GROESBECK, Tex., April 7.—Limestone county remains in the dry columns by a majority of 648. The vote for prohibition was 2,473 and against prohibition 1,825. The pros carried four of the largest boxes, as follows: Mexia by 15, Kosse by 154, Thornton by 71 and Coolidge by 160. Groesbeck was the only large town in the county to go wet, the majority being 39. The prohibitionists are celebrating tonight and ringing the church bells.

In the last county election, held nearly five years ago, the county went dry by 576 votes and in the State-wide election the county went dry by 481 votes.

Lampasas County Stays Dry.

LAMPASAS, Tex., April 7.—The prohibitionists won the election in Lampasas county by a majority of 106 votes. The total vote cast was 1,663, the heaviest vote ever polled in this county. The antis had a majority in only two boxes. The pros won here in 1910 by a majority of 194. Lampasas precinct gave a pro majority of 42 as compared with a majority of 30 in 1910.

SCIENTISTS EXPLODE OLD THEORY OF EARTH

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PROFESSORS SAY IT IS NOT MOLTEN.

They Also Claim That, Although Solid, Tides of About a Foot Are Caused on Surface.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 7.—Ancient and proper beliefs that the core of the earth is a molten mass have been investigated by scientists of the University of Chicago, who today announced that the planet is more rigid than steel, that it could not explode nor be destroyed by a fire within itself.

The results of their experiments were published in the Astrophysical Journal and the Journal of Geology, which were issued simultaneously by the University of Chicago press.

The experiments were designed by Prof. Albert A. Michelson, head of the department of physics, at the instigation of Prof. T. C. Chamberlain of the department of geology, and Prof. F. R. Moulton of the department of astronomy.

"The experiments," Prof. Michelson said, "show that the interior of the earth is not a fiery mass, but resists the tidal forces of the moon about as it would as if the earth were solid steel. Nevertheless, the earth, in spite of its rigidity, behaves as an elastic body; not liquid, of course, but still subject to the same influences as are the oceans which are a part of it.

"That the solid surface of the earth is subject to the same ebb and flow of tides as is the ocean, although to a lesser extent, is a statement that will astonish the average person who is prepared to assert, with all the assurance of conviction, that the earth is an immovable body. The fact that there are tides of about a foot in the surface of the earth has been demonstrated as a scientific fact."

MASQUERADES 60 YEARS AS MAN

Woman Who Came to America Clad in Boy's Clothing Served Through the Civil War.

QUINCY, Ill., April 7.—After masquerading as a man for sixty years and serving as a soldier in Gen. U. S. Grant's army during the Civil War, "Albert" Cashier, whose sex was discovered at the soldier's home recently, today was committed to an insane asylum.

The woman was born in Ireland seventy-three years ago. She came to America as a stowaway, clad in boy's clothing. When the war between the States broke out she, having enlisted in Company G, 95th Illinois Infantry. She participated in some of the bloodiest battles of the war and behaved with gallantry.

When the war closed she resumed civil life as a workman until age and the results of exposure during the war made her helpless to support herself. She then entered the soldier's home, where her sex was discovered. She refused to tell her family history.

Federal Government Starts Inquiry Into Proposed Pilgrimage of Negroes Back to Africa.

PORTLAND, Maine, April 7.—Federal investigation of the proposed pilgrimage to Africa by followers of "Chief Sam" to the "back to Africa" movement was begun today in response to instructions from Washington.

Alfred Charles Samm, the leader, and Capt. L. S. McKenzie of the steamer Curityba, on which it is proposed to make the trip, were questioned at length by Assistant United States District Attorney Arthur Chapman. The officials were told that the steamer was expected to leave soon for Galveston, Texas, where about 200 negroes would be taken on board for the trip to Africa. Sam said that while many of his followers were converts to the religious teachings of the Holy Ghost and Us Society, his movement was in no way connected with that institution.

Torreon Falls Before Villa's Attack

FEDERAL FORCES ROUTED AND FLEE FOR THE SOUTH

VILLA'S REPORT OF VICTORY.

JUAREZ, Mexico, April 7.—The translation of the message received by General Carranza from General Villa, telling of the fall of Torreon, is as follows:

"TORREON, Coahuila, Mex., April 7.—Gen Venutiano Carranza, supreme chief of the Constitutionalists: "At this moment the remnants of the Federals are leaving Torreon in flight after eleven days of terrible fighting, in which we lost 1,500 wounded and 500 killed and the Federals, from the enormous number of bodies burned, must have had over 1,000 killed, and their number of wounded I am unable to estimate, our forces have full possession of Torreon. I regret to announce that among the wounded were Gen. Yzabel Robles and Gen. Calisto Contreras. I congratulate and salute you with respect and esteem that I have always had for you. Your subordinate, "GENERAL FRANCISCO VILLA, "Commander in Chief of Constitutional Forces in Chihuahua."

JUAREZ, Mexico, April 7.—Torreon fell completely into the hands of the Constitutionalists at 10:20 o'clock tonight, according to announcement made here tonight by General Carranza.

The news was announced first to the world when the bugler in front of Carranza's residence blew the staccato notes of victory. The paen Carranza said, was sounded here even before it was heard in Torreon, Villa delaying out of compliment to his chief.

The meager bulletins excitedly announcing victory after the bloodiest series of battles known to modern Mexico said that Villa captured a large number of prisoners and that the fleeing Federal remnant was being pursued.

The fate of General Velasco, Federal commander at Torreon, is unknown. At first it was reported he had escaped with an escort of a few men. Now it is thought he may be the head of the remnant of the army, which is being pursued by the rebel cavalry.

There was heavy fighting today, it is understood, when after capturing the three remaining barracks held in the city by the Federals, the Constitutionalists stormed the trenches and barbed wire entanglements of Canyon del Guarache.

The prisoners captured are believed to have been the defenders of the barracks, while the troops in the canyon, which forms an ingress from the hill-girdled city, were able to escape.

The campaign against the Federal stronghold of Torreon, the main object of the rebel campaign, began suddenly two weeks ago after General Villa had spent months in making the most careful preparations.

The rebel loss in this campaign is said to be more than 2,000 killed and wounded. Trains leading with wounded have been arriving daily at Chihuahua for the last week.

The rebel commander moved with a rapidity heretofore unknown in Mexican warfare. He worked his men in shifts and as one shift became exhausted, he sent fresh hosts against the enemy.

A number of small towns of lesser importance in a military sense fell first—Mapimi, No and Sacramento, where a bloody battle was fought.

Next came Lerdo and Gomez Palacio, populous suburbs of Torreon and all three connected by a belt line of street cars. Lerdo was not defended, but it took three main assaults in which the Constitutionalists lost heavily, to take Gomez Palacio.

In the final attack on the city, troops were withdrawn from Lerdo, whereupon the Federals occupied it and another sanguinary conflict was necessary to retake it.

The First Dash Upon Torreon.

Last Friday General Monclova Herrera, with his own brigade and part of Benavides' Zaragoza brigade of veterans made the first dash against Torreon. He entered by the east and penetrated to the bull ring, north center of the town, before he was checked. Street fighting, in which hand grenades were the most useful weapons, followed.

General Villa, then at Gomez Palacio, announced he would join in the attack, assuming supreme command. He announced also that the newspaper men with him would not be allowed to send out any news whatsoever until the town was completely in his hands.

To the thousands whose very living hinges on conditions in Mexico, here followed a period of anxious waiting. Rumors were everywhere and from time to time the Federals asserted Villa had been routed, but Villa let out just enough of his official report to bewilder the public.

The question mark after the situation never loomed larger than tonight. Early in the evening Carranza announced that the status at Torreon remained unchanged. Then came the gleam of victory. Mexicans recognized it in a flash and the streets were thronged instantly. Out of the saloons and gambling houses the crowds rushed until all places where throngs congregated were empty and the throngs stormed up the street to Carranza's residence.

Juarez Rejoices.

Repeatedly the bugler sounded the call and a great wave of cheering rose. The electric lights strung about the Carranza residence last night to welcome him were turned on, lighting up the draped and festooned red, white and green of the Mexican national colors.

"Viva Carranza! Viva Villa! Viva Mexico! Viva Mexico!" came the shouts of the crowd.

Inside General Carranza and his confidential advisers were toasting Francisco Villa, the hero of the campaign.

Mayor Padres, realizing that some time must be calm took occasion to enter the saloons to close.

A hundred processions formed in the streets and marched about shouting and cheering.

By Carranza's orders all the town was illuminated, soldiers of the garrison parading and the military band national salute was fired, bells rung and whistles blown. Samuel Belden of San Antonio, a friend of Carranza, describing the scene in the Carranza home when the long awaited news was received.

"General Carranza had been talking with Gomez Palacio off and on for some time," Mr. Belden said, "and was chatting with members of his family. He seemed very cheerful and buoyant. At 11 o'clock the telegraph operator came into the room with a piece of paper in his hand.

"Well, muchacho, is it Torreon?" the general smiled, as one who knew well what the answer would be.

"Yes, my chief," was the reply.

"Carranza kissed his wife and daughters, then—have the bugler sound the call of triumph," he ordered and give me the telegraph. I must tell Mrs. Villa."

"This was the first news of her husband's achievements to reach Mrs. Villa.

Wires Congratulations to Villa.

"Carranza's next act was to telegraph a message of hearty congratulation to Villa. Meanwhile, friends of Mrs. Villa were calling her on the telephone with words of congratulation, while others, despite the hour, called in person, and wine reserved for the occasion was gratefully drunk to the victorious general, to his lieutenants and those who gave their lives.

"The victory gave to the Constitutionalists undisputed control of the central part of Northern Mexico 600 miles south from the Rio Grande.

Its full effect cannot be summarized in a moment, but in prestige and power it is said its value is incalculable.

It is certain to make recruiting a comparatively simple matter and holders of the Constitutionalist fiat money tonight predicted a sudden rise in the rate when business is resumed tomorrow. It was selling at 20 cents to the gold dollar today.

Whether Villa will turn aside to take Monterey, an important city to the east or to the west against Matatlan, held by the Federals, is not known. Villa habitually keeps his plans to himself.

Statistics show that there were 49 new gins established in Texas last year, which means that we are planting more cotton.

Wonder if Villa is getting a rake off from the gun and ammunition manufacturers of the United States? If he isn't then he is overlooking a bet.

Texas won one of the regional reserve banks and it will be located at Dallas. Texas has pulled down some fine plums from the Washington government.

The city election was a very tame affair and less than one-fifth of the vote of the town was polled. There wasn't any straightout and avowed candidates.

Villa routed his enemies at Torreon and is now looking for more cities to conquer. Villa is either a pretty wise old codger in the war game or carries a rabbit foot in his pocket. He may be both wise and lucky.

It seems that the winter king has no end to his surprises and the one he landed in the lap of beautiful spring Tuesday night was a dandy. Tuesday we sweltered, and Wednesday we had to call in the coal and the wood man to keep from freezing.

A good road drag used every time it should be used keeps the roads good. Every farmer who lives on a good highway should have a drag and not be stingy about using it after each rain. It pays nobody like it pays him, if he uses the road.

Some fellow probably for the lack of something else better to do has figured that it costs $800,000 to haul the Texas cotton crop one mile. That's over Texas roads as they are today. This expense will be reduced greatly in another five years because Texas is building roads.

They say the onion crop will bring a million dollars to Southwest Texas this spring. We have always found it best to count the chicks after they break through the shell. We have the onions alright, but what we will get for them is certainly an unknown quantity.

A bride's school is to be started in Cincinnati according to an exchange. Young women will receive six months training as a housewife, and those who graduate will be competent to aid their husbands and prevent that waste that is found in nine out of every ten American households.

The dailies recently gave a graphic account of a body of Mexicans "invading" United States territory on the lower Rio Grande and shooting up a town. Truth of the matter the trouble was only a few plain drunks celebrating, as they often celebrate in border towns by "shooting out the lights."

Reports say that an army of fifty thousand federals are concentrating in the vicinity of Torreon with the avowed purpose of retaking that city from the Constitutionalists. If these figures are exaggerated like that of the army of Velasco, the number will be one-third, and the fact that Villa has routed so many of Huerta's armies, he can take half the number of men and put them to flight.

The offer made by the RECORD last week to give a free subscription to Farm & Ranch or Holland's Magazine to December 1, 1914, on every new subscription received or to every subscriber who would pay one year's subscription in advance, has had numerous acceptances and the limited number of copies of Holland's Magazine or Farm & Ranch that we had to offer on this proposition will be exhausted before another week. This is an excellent proposition and we make it as an inducement for the collection of subscriptions. If your subscription is due pay it and get the benefit of this offer. We need the money.

It is reported that Nebraska will trim its Legislature to fit its purse. After a year of arduous labor, the Legislature Reform Committee of that state has filed its report with the Governor. The report suggests that business methods should prevail in legislative affairs and makes some interesting suggestions in this connection. It is suggested that the Nebraska Legislature is too unwieldy and that one legislature body could be abandoned altogether and the other greatly curtailed, with great advantage to the state. The report suggesting these changes will be submitted to the next Legislature and, if passed, the committee memberships in the two houses will be reduced from 751 to 377.

COMMUNITY CO-OPERATION

Consolidated Farm and Ranch and Holland's Magazine

In small towns that are adjacent to, or convenient to large cities, there is an oft-expressed impression: "This town will never be much larger; it is too close to ——— City."

In other words, the residents of the smaller town and its trade territory make a large per cent of their purchases in the stores of the nearby city, which necessarily retards the growth and development of the home town.

This is an unwarranted condition, and as people realize more thoroughly their folly they will correct it by co-operating more closely along lines that will tend to develop and better the community in which they live. It is a fact, proven beyond the point of doubt, that no town is better than its stores, and it should not take much argument to convince sensible, right-thinking people that good stores are dependent upon liberal patronage.

I seriously doubt if the average small-town resident fully appreciates what good, live local merchants mean to him or her personally and to the community in general. If they did they would consider more carefully results that are sure to come from their failure to patronize their local stores.

I once witnessed a manufacturer's salesman endeavoring to sell a small-town merchant a high-grade line of goods. The merchant admired his samples very much, but refused to buy on the ground that the people in his territory who were able to buy this class of merchandise would shop in the stores of a large city close at hand, even though they bought the same brand of goods at identically the same prices he would ask for them.

This merchant do doubt knew what he was talking about, although it seems a shame to me that such conditions should be allowed to exist. It only goes to prove that when an appreciable number of people send or go away for the better class of merchandise with which to supply their wants and needs their local merchants will become afraid to carry stocks of high-class, standard lines.

Of course there are instances when specific brands of articles desired cannot be found in your local market, but there are several standard, well advertised brands of nearly every article in common use, and it is safe to say that some one or more of your local merchants are progressive enough to carry one of these brands. It is also reasonable to suppose that when a "good merchant" in the smaller town becomes convinced that people in their respective trade territories will patronize them on this class of merchandise—provided their prices are as low as are quoted elsewhere—that they will not hesitate to carry them in stock. This only goes to prove that you can be a vital factor in the improvement of your local stores, which in turn will greatly benefit your community, thereby making it a more pleasant as well as a more profitable place in which to live.

WHY THERE ARE THORNS.

"This world we're living in
Is rather hard to beat,
You get a thorn with every rose,
But ain't the roses sweet?"

There is an Easter legend that when the beneficent Creator prepared the earth for man causing it to bring forth herbs and trees each bearing a seed within itself propagating its kind; the roses had no thorns, and the lilies, violets and other blossoming plants were free from thistles, brambles and noxious weeds.

But sons and daughters of men in their greedy haste and eagerness to gather the flowers each one selfishly striving to secure a larger share than his fellow, seemed likely to despoil the earth of its beauty and leave not even enough blossoms to perfect their seed and perpetuate their species; so kindly Father provided the rose with thorns for self protection and sent a host of defenders of the more tender blossoms by causing briars and thistles to spring up around them like wardens of a castle or bodyguard of a queen, and this is the reason for the thorns and briars, nature's protection against human greed.

The legend has a wider application. The roses typify the pleasures of life, and the thorns its pains. A life of ease and pleasure is not only useless but satiating, it would demoralize him, who indulges in it. Safety despoils the roses of its beauty and the violet of its fragrance; hence kind nature makes true pleasure the reward of virtuous effort, and furnishes over indulgence with a penalty of suffering, to the end that greed may be restrained, and self control developed with its attendant virtues of temperance, kindness, industry and thrift.—E. L. R.

The onion harvest in the Nueces district will not begin for a couple of weeks yet. Over half of the crop here has been sold this year. The grower, with the experience of the last three years staring him in the face, is taking no chances. They all have that "I want the money" look and we predict that very few cars will be shipped out of Cotulla this season, that has not been sold.

Story of a Head of Cabbage.

The story of the adventure of a head of cabbage in New York is told by the New York Press. It casts some illumination upon the much discussed high cost of living. The cabbage is raised by a farmer in Connecticut. A comparatively small farmer will send 1,800 to 2,000 heads of cabbage to New York. For one head he receives a cent and a half. Then the head goes to the commission merchant. He lives on Riverside Drive, pays $2,000 a year for his apartment, and keeps an automobile. He spends $7,000 a year to live.

Next the cabbage is sent to the wholesaler. He lives on West End avenue. He pays $1,800 for his apartment, and keeps an automobile. His living expenses are $6,000 a year. He sends the cabbage to the jobber, who lives in an apartment which costs $1,500 a year—on Broadway, keeps an automobile, and spends $5,000 a year.

From him the cabbage travels to the retailer, who lives in a $700 apartment on a side street, has a corner store for which he pays $125 a month rent, keeps two delivery wagons at a cost of $140 per month, and spends $2,500 a year on his living. Finally the cabbage gets to the consumer. He lives in an apartment for which he pays $40 a month. He rides in the trolley car or the subway; he spends all he can make or a little more to live, and he pays 13 cents for that head of cabbage.

7 HIGH-PRICED DOCTORS O. K. IT

All Approve Dodson's Liver Tone as the Safe Family Remedy for Constipation and Lazy Liver

There are most excellent reasons for Gaddis' Pharmacy standing back of Dodson's Liver Tone with an unconditional guarantee to refund purchase price (50c.) to you at once without in event of any dissatisfaction.

Seven of America's very highest priced physicians, who were consulted regarding Dodson's Liver Tone and who analyzed this vegetable liquid remedy carefully with all their skill, knowledge and experience, have all agreed on its superior merit, harmless and effectiveness. Dodson's takes the place of dangerous calomel in constipation, biliousness, sluggish liver, sick headache, etc.

Each of these physician's fees was heavy enough to stagger most men; but their judgement is worth all it cost, particularly if it will be the means of leading more people to refuse to run dangerous risk by taking calomel and other violet remedies. Dodson's Liver Tone not only relieves the suffering from constipation and kindred ills, but does it easily and naturally, without ache, pain or gripe, with no bad after-effects without interfering with usual duties and habits and absolutely without danger—which is one reason it can carry an iron clad guarantee. It has proved a boon to so many that it is recommended for you to try at once.

Oh, let's put away the worry and the heartaches for awhile, And look down the sunny road of life, And meet each rock and obstacle with just a pleasant smile, And forget about the trouble and the strife, Let's be glad and we'll be happy and our cares will fly away, And we'll only see unclouded skies of blue, For, remember, that a smile is worth a heartache any day, Glad smiles will cost you nothing—heartaches always do.

The Methodist Ladies met at the church Wednesday the 1st for their regular monthly business session.

The meeting was opened with the song "Pilot Me," Rev. Long followed with the regular devotional service of Scripture reading and prayer.

The report for the month of March was heard from the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Vice Presidents, also the monthly report from the Home and Foreign Missionary Treasurers.

The collection for the local Mexican work amounted to 90c. The members were urged to be diligent in their work of securing homes for the delegates to the District Conference, which convenes in Cotulla the 16th of April. At least 100 delegates are hoped for. The next meeting will be the regular Missionary afternoon, and a Missionary Program will be given. The meeting will be with Mrs. Long at the Parsonage.

The Presbyterian Ladies enjoyed an interesting and very profitable afternoon April 2nd. A very good attendance was noticed; and renewed zeal for the work in all departments was manifest.

The report from the Presbyterial given by the two delegates Misses Lizzie Gilmer and Jessie Copp, was very full and complete, and splendidly given. Nothing was overlooked or forgotten by those two zealous workers. Every item of interest and helpful suggestion for the benefit of the local society was carefully noted and as graphically given as could be. These two young ladies went to Seguin to gather material, and they came back with a store house of helpful suggestions.

It developed that in the reports from the 41 societies represented in this Presbyterial that Cotulla ranked 6th on the Honor Roll. This Society's efforts have been rewarded with considerable results for the year 1913, and now the President urges all officers, all secretaries of the different departments and all members to renew their prayers and earnest energies for a great harvest of good work for the year 1914.

The Secretary of Christian Education and Ministerial Relief work in this locality, urges a special request that this year each member of the society make a special self denial contribution for this important part of the work. Think of the struggling young man who is trying to prepare himself for the ministry at home, or the foreign field.

Think twice before you buy an expensive and useless article of luxury, of the many superannated and helpless old ministers who gave the best years of their lives in the field for Christ. Some of them invalids, some of them with invalids wives, who are living in destitution almost. God's own representatives living on less than 40c a day. We who claim to be His Children living in abundance, while His helpless ones are in sorrowful poverty.

The regular Bible lesson for this meeting was carried over until Thursday the 9th. The memory word for Bible selections is Inspiration or Inspired.

OFFICIAL PROGRAM of FIESTA SAN JACINTO

APRIL 20 to 25, Inclusive

April 20-25, inclusive, Adopted April 1, 1914.

The Fiesta San Jacinto and Battle of Flowers, the great patriotic celebration of Texas' Independence, will take place in San Antonio April 20-25, 1914. New and interesting features have been added this year, and there will be amusement features for all kinds of people every hour in the day and up to 11 o'clock at night. Kline's famous carnival shows will show night and day on the plazas. These shows have been the features at Dallas State Fair, the Illinois State Fair and other big attractions throughout the country, and are the best of the kind to be had. Thrilling free acts will be shown afternoon and evening on Alamo and Main Plazas. "Daredevil" Schreyer will make a death-defying dash from a height of eighty feet on a bicycle and dive into a tank of water. The Mexican Village will be open every day and evening on Haymarket Plaza and will be an interesting exhibition of Mexican customs. Band concerts and other attractions will make up a week of continuous performance throughout the week.

Railroad Rates.

Most attractive railroad rates have been granted by the terminal lines entering San Antonio for the 1914 Fiesta and they are probably more liberal than in many past years.

The usual convention rate of a fare and a third from points 90 miles or less from San Antonio, and a fare and a fifth from points beyond 90 miles, will be on sale for the entire week, beginning April 19 and running to April 25, with return limit to April 26.

Two "Three-Days Popular Excursion" rates have also been arranged, the rates being less than one fare for the round trip.

Tickets for the first of these will be on sale for night trains of April 20 and morning trains of April 21, limited to return on night trains of April 22.

Tickets for the second will be on sale for night trains of April 23 and morning trains of April 24, limited to return on night trains of April 26.

Rates for these excursions are figured on a basis of 70 per cent of one-way fares from points within 150 miles of San Antonio, and 66 2-3 per cent of one-way fares from all points beyond the 150-mile radius.

Monday, April 20.

Triumphal entry of the King of the Fiesta will take place at 7.30 p. m. His Majesty and suite will arrive at the I. & G. N. depot, where they will be met by a squadron of the cadets of the West Texas Military Academy and Pencock Military School, directors of the Fiesta Association, members of the San Antonio Automobile Club, and other automobile owners of the city. The triumphal procession will pass through the principal streets and mass on Alamo Plaza, where on a specially erected grandstand the mayor and city council will turn over to His Majesty the keys to the city, making him the ruler of Carnival Week. Afterward His Majesty will hold court at the Grand Opera House, where a Fiesta Fete, with three hundred performers, has been arranged in his honor.

Tuesday, April 21.

On Tuesday morning the visiting bands from many Texas towns and cities will arrive and parade through the streets.

At 2 p. m. the Ben Hur Patrol, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine of San Antonio, will give an interesting parade.

At 4:30 p. m. the music parade will take place, showing the history and progress of music. Beautiful symbolic floats will be in this parade. Many bands will participate.

At 8 p. m., on Alamo Plaza, the visiting bands will contest for prizes. One feature of the contest will be the playing of the contesting bands en masse the prize song of the Fiesta, "The San Antonio Swing," written by J. W. Buford.

At 8:30 p. m., at the Grand Opera House, the Fiesta Fete will be repeated.

Wednesday, April 22.

The first annual dog show of the San Antonio Kennel Club will open at 117 Main avenue. One hundred prizes, including twenty-eight silver cups, will be awarded and over three hundred dogs have been entered in this contest.

At 10:30 a. m. there will be a street parade of dogs, valued at $50,000, which are entered in the bench show.

At 2:30 p. m. the Horse Show, for the benefit of the Army Widows' and Orphans' Fund, will be given at Fort Sam Houston.

At 8 p. m. the Parade of Famous Plays will take place, this being one of the most spectacular features of the Fiesta. The parts of different characters will be taken by people well known in the social life of San Antonio and Texas.

Thursday, April 23—Homeseekers' Day.

At 4:30 p. m. the Civic and Trades Display Parade will take place. This parade will have over one hundred entries of specially built floats that will illustrate the trades and industries of San Antonio.

At 8 p. m., at the Majestic Theater, the Queen of the Year will hold her court, attended by her Maid of Honor, the Princess of the Seasons, and by the twelve Duchesses of the Months. To this court will come, as visitors, the Duchesses and Maids of Honor, attended by a Knight and escort, from twenty Texas towns and cities. Celebrated court dancers will appear before Her Majesty, and a spectacular and beautiful event will be shown to the delectation of the visitors. Seats on sale.

Friday, April 24.

At 4:30 p. m. the Battle of Flowers, justly the most celebrated event of the year in Texas, will be staged. Participating in this patriotic celebration will be the Governor of Texas, Her Majesty the Queen of the Year, His Majesty the King of the Fiesta, the Princess of the Seasons, the Duchesses and their Maids of Honor, and the patriotic ladies of San Antonio in gorgeously decorated floats.

Saturday, April 25.

Traveling Men's Day will be the feature of the closing event of the Fiesta. Traveling men from all over Texas and their friends, the retail merchants, will take part in the comic parade at night. Fun, frolic and merry-making will mark the closing hours of the Fiesta and the week's entertainment will end in "A Night of Frolic."

PEACH PROSPECTS LESS GLOOMY FOR GROWERS

SHORT CROP, BUT BETTER QUALITY EXPECTED

Austin, Tex., April 7.—According to reports received by Commissioner of Agriculture Ed R. Kone, the peach crop will run not less than one-fourth of normal, but owing to the thinning done by frost the fruit will, in the opinion of Commissioner Kone, be uncommonly larger and fine and the crop will weigh almost, if not fully, as much as bumper crops of the past and bring growers as much money, with less labor.

"The other fruit crops will yield satisfactory financial returns," says Commissioner Kone. "I regard the situation as one full of encouragement for fruit raisers, who certainly have a good deal coming to them and who, I believe, are pretty sure to have it given to them this year. There can't be glutting of markets and loss if ordinary sense and skill are displayed in handling, packing, shipping and distributing, and, with the lessons taught by previous experiences put to good use, there is no reason why growers shouldn't obtain money returns that will put an intelligible smile on their faces. At the same time, the consuming public will not have to go without plenty of fruit or have to pay more for it than the quality of fruit offered will be worth."

The department of agriculture is in receipt of letters of various recent dates from over the state from correspondents that, being classified, give the following as the condition and prospects of the fruit crop at the time they were written and that Commissioner Kone says warrant the observations that follow:

North Texas—Good prospects for apples, grapes and berries. Apples will probably be somewhat less than a full crop; berries fair yields; grapes up to normal. Peach, pear and plum crops will likely be very light. Elberta and some other varieties will be almost an entire failure. Other varieties will produce, in some parts, a fifth and in others from one-fourth to one-half a normal crop.

East Texas—In most sections there will be no Elbertas and in others small yields. The total peach yield will, it is thought, run from 20 to 30 per cent. Outlook for apples, grapes and berries good but berries will be later than usual. A singular circumstance reported from Scottsville is that Elbertas on high lands are a complete failure, while those on low spots have fair settings of fruit.

Southeast Texas—Early varieties of peaches have lost most of their fruit, but all standard varieties promise good yields. Plums in fine condition. Outlook for berries satisfactory. No damage to citrus.

South Central Texas—Figs good. Berries fair. Prospect of heavy crop of Satsuma oranges and figs and 25 per cent yield of peaches.

South Texas—Honey peaches a complete failure. Mamie Ross, Elberta and Rogers peaches promise 75 per cent of a normal crop. Alexander, Early Wheeler and Mayflower peaches not yet in bloom, but promising. Indications are for 75 per cent crop of Japan plums and 40 per cent crop of pears. Citrus, figs, grapes and berries in prime condition.

Central Texas—Mamie Ross peaches, 50 per cent, and Elberta, 75 per cent loss. Burbank plums all right. Happiness plums, 50 per cent decrease. Garber pears a failure. Red for pears, 50 per cent decrease. The yields of plums and pears will probably be less, rather than more, than those indicated.

West Texas—Apples promise a full crop. Peaches and plums will each give about one-fourth of a crop; plums about one-half a crop, and peaches from one-fifth to one-fourth of a crop.

Panhandle—Apples, grapes and berries, full yields. Plums, apricots, pears and cherries, largely decreased yields. Peaches, one-fifth to one-third of a crop, according to location of orchards and varieties.

Receipts at Fort Worth Stock Yards in March Greatest in Eleven Years.

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 7.—The eleven years' record of the Fort Worth stock yards for the month of March was broken last month in point of cattle and calf receipts. Marketing of grown cattle was by far the most liberal of any March on record. The calf crop was only equaled by the 1913 March receipts. The cattle run, however, was large enough to overcome the slight decrease in calf statistics. The aggregate count was the most generous on record.

The sheep supply, running over 30,000 head, was far ahead of receipts for any previous March. In fact the supply was just about double the supply of a year ago, which broke all previous records.

A beautiful wedding occurred in San Antonio Wednesday evening the 8th inst at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sale of Buena Vista St., when their daughter Ida Mae Sale, was married to Mr. William E. Keek of Cotulla [and Austin.]

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Keek father and mother of groom, Miss Cora Keek, sister, and Rev. T. G. Woods, uncle of bride, all of Cotulla, went up to San Antonio Wednesday morning to attend the wedding.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Sale was resplendent in decorations of cut roses, carnations, ferns and pot plants. The flowers together with the brilliant lights in halls, living rooms and dining room making a beautiful and harmonious background for the pretty ceremony that was witnessed only by members of the two families. Promptly at 7:30 p. m. the bridal party entered the living room, to the sweet strains of the wedding march played by Miss Flora Sale, (sister of bride.) The pretty bride attended by Miss Cora Keek, entered one doorway of the room, while the groom attended by Mr. Sale, (brother of bride) entered the other, where they were joined (in the bower of roses and ferns, formed in an alcove of the room,) by Rev. T. G. Woods of Cotulla, who read the solemn service that united the lives of these two young and expectant lovers.

The bride was lovely in going away gown of Electric blue taffeta with white trimmings and accessories, carrying an arm bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair ferns.

After congratulations and many happy felicitations, the party with guests repaired to the dining room that was a perfect bower of beautiful flowers and palms. The table containing the wedding cake as a center piece was handsome in snowy napery with large bowls of cut flowers and white ribbon streamers to the chandelier of lights above.

The wedding cake was cut by the happy girl bride and the guests given a piece "for pleasant dreams." Refreshments of ice cream and cake was served, after which the wedding party accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Keek, drove to the I. &

G. N. Depot where the bride and groom took the 9 p. m. train for Austin, where they will reside, until Mr. Keek completes his Post Graduate course in Electrical Engineering, when they expect to come to Cotulla for a visit, after which Mr. Keek expects to take a position in Electrical Engineering.

The charming young bride will be remembered by many Cotulla people, she having visited her cousin, Miss Fannie Woods two years ago. She is well known and popular in San Antonio where she has a host of friends, (especially in church circles.) She is an earnest and devoted church worker and will be missed by her Sunday School class in San Antonio.

Mr. Keek is so well and favorably known in Cotulla as a young man of sterling worth and splendid intellect that there is little to say of him that would not be superfluous. He has just about completed a Post Graduate course in Electrical Engineering in the University at Austin, where he has been a diligent student for 3 years. He is ready now to take his place in the world of workers in this profitable and splendid science.

The path of life looks rosy hued to this happy pair and it is the wish of their many friends that they may gather the roses of happiness, peace and prosperity from the "garden of Omar" (the world) and that they may with patience and perseverance, pluck out the thorns and distill the attar of sympathy, that casts its sweet fragrance over the home. The Record staff join all others in congratulations and best wishes.

Quite a party of Asherton young people chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Asherton, motored over from Asherton to Cotulla Tuesday afternoon to attend the splendid Musical treat given by the "Shuberts" Tuesday night.

The party were met at Big Wells by Mr. Zachry, Miss Zachry and Mrs. James Murray of Cotulla.

The personnel of the party is as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Brown, the two Misses Richardson, Miss Dean, Miss Hughes, Miss Duke, Messrs Thurston, Hughes, Wood, Ed Engle, Adolph Engle, Mr. Dunn and Jimmie Brawn Jr.
